SUFFRAGETTES PLAN STILL MORE VIOLENT BRITISH CAMPAIGN

"Terrible Crescendo" Such as Not Known for Centuries Is Foretold.

Another Effort to Use Bomb Is Found—Letters Tell of Plots.

Damage Done in Last Three Months Amounts to $5,000,000.

London, May 8.—The militant section of the British suffragettes intends to inaugurate a campaign of even greater violence in order to avenge the defeat of the woman's suffrage bill Tuesday night and the prosecution of the central militant organization. Advanced members of the fighting sisterhood declared today that "the events of the last few days are to be eclipsed by worse things to come."

Votes for Women, the woman suffrage newspaper edited by Mr. and Mrs. Pethick-Lawrence, says today:

"We see before the country a period of disorder such as has not been known for decades, perhaps for centuries. We see a prospect of violence being answered by violence in a terrible crescendo. We foresee the likelihood of crimes being sympathized with if not condoned and approved by many of the most respected law-abiding members of the community."

Another Bomb Placed.

The police authorities are greatly concerned about the increase of bomb attacks on buildings. Another of these outrages was attempted at Tottenham in the northeast of London this morning. Like the one deposited yesterday in St. Paul's cathedral, the bomb was discovered before it had time to explode. It was found by a caretaker outside the door of a shop.

The authorities have secured evi-

MORE THAN 200 ARE ASKING FOR PAROLE

Leavenworth, Kan., May 8.—More than 200 applicants for parole, among them six bankers and three life prisoners, will appear before the Federal board of paroles which will meet at the Federal prison here next Tuesday, according to word received today by Warden McClaughry from Chairman Ladow of the board. This is said to be the largest number of applicants ever up for consideration at one meeting.

Under an amendment to the Federal parole law granting paroles to certain life prisoners who have served fifteen years, three will apply. Two of these are James R. Todd and Joseph S. Leach. The name of the third is withheld.

Has Served Thirty Years.

Todd, who was convicted of robbing a mail stage in Idaho, has been nearly thirty years in prison—the greater part of the time at McNeil's Island, Washington state. During this period Todd, prison officials say, never has written a letter nor received one from the outside world.

BEE ROUTS MOTORMAN AND CAR IS WRECKED

Two Wagons and Street Car Smashed and Passengers Are Hurt.

Philadelphia, May 8.—The buzzing of a bee around the face of Motorman Schlater, causing him to lose control of his car in Germantown resulted in a series of accidents. Several passengers were injured, two wagons damaged and the car itself was almost demolished, while the motorman made frantic efforts to swat the insect. The passengers were panic-stricken as the car rushed on its unguided course, the motorman having jumped from the platform when he saw a collision with a heavy wagon was inevitable. Meanwhile the conductor tried to check the car's flight by pulling the trolley pole from the wire, but the vehicle was not brought to a stop until it had leaped the track and crashed into an iron telegraph pole.

MURDER IS LAID TO TWO OF SHIP'S CREW

Sailors on Steamer Merion Kept Under Supervision Across Ocean.

Queenstown, Ireland, May 8.—Two of the crew of the steamship Merion, which arrived here this morning from Philadelphia, are being kept under close supervision until the vessel reaches Liverpool. They are under suspicion of being connected with the murder of Lindsay, the third engineer of the steamship, whose body was found in the Delaware river after the Merion had sailed from Philadelphia, April 27. No action was taken by the authorities here, but it was learned that bloodstains were found on the steamer, leading to the suspicion that the murder was committed on board and the body of the victim was thrown overboard.

TO RETIRE FROM SERVICE IN THE U. S. ARMY

GEN. FRED A. SMITH.

Washington, May 8.—Brig. Gen. Fred A. Smith, U. S. A., will retire from active service May 15. Gen. Smith was born in Craigville, N. Y., in 1849. He graduated from the military academy in 1873. He served in Indian campaigns on the Western frontier in Arizona, the Dakotas and Nevada, and served in the Philippines and in Cuba. He has been in command of the Fifth brigade, Second division, with headquarters at Galveston, recently.

SEIZE FLYER NEAR BORDER

Americans Capture Aeroplane Said to Be Bought for Mexicans.

Many Arrests Under Neutrality Law Are Expected.

Tucson, Ariz., May 8.—A war aeroplane alleged to have been purchased in Los Angeles for use by the state troops in the Sonora rebellion, was captured last night by Deputy United States Marshal Johnson and is now at Pike's ranch, thirty-seven miles south of Tucson. Two men who were in charge of the machine, both foreigners, were taken into custody on a charge of attempting to violate the neutrality laws.

When the Federal officer came upon the aviators, the machine, which was dismantled and occupied five crates, was on a wagon drawn by four horses. It was headed toward the border. One of the men gave his name as Smith and declared he was a citizen of France. The other, who gave his name as Meson, said he was an American by birth, but a British subject.

They said the machine was their

REPUBLICANS WILL OPPOSE POSTAL RULE

Senators Claim Efficiency Test for Postmasters Is Political.

Washington, May 8.—Republican senators today began to look into Postmaster General Burleson's plan to require 50,000 fourth-class postmasters, put into the civil service by Former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, to pass competitive examinations or lose their jobs. Some of the senators who have looked into Mr. Burleson's plan and have read President Wilson's executive order requiring such examinations are not certain that persons already in the service can be made to stand a competitive test to retain the positions they now hold.

Wholesale opposition to the confirmation of persons who may be chosen in such examinations to succeed those now in office probably will not be resorted to, but the Republicans will endeavor to convince the country that the order is entirely political.

LOUISIANA WOMEN AFTER SUFFRAGE.

New Orleans, La., May 8.—A campaign designed to secure equal suffrage in Louisiana was launched today by the Woman Suffrage party, organized along the lines of the major political parties. It was said militancy would have no part in the organization.

FLIES OVER AN HOUR WITH SIX PASSENGERS.

Chartres, France, May 8.—Six passengers were carried during a 75-minute flight by the French airman, Frangeois, in his biplane here this morning, beating the world's records both for the number carried and for the duration of flight.

CONDEMNS FRIEDMANN

Head of Anti-Tuberculosis Society Says Work Has Suffered.

Addresses Opening Session of Association at Washington.

Washington, May 8.—After attending numerous committee and division meetings, delegates to the ninth annual meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis gathered today to listen to an opening address by their president, Homer Folkes, and the report of the executive secretary, Dr. Livingston Farrand. Preliminary business of the convention then was on the program for consideration. Later in the day meetings of the clinical, sociological and pathological sections were scheduled and at night a conference of the advisory council.

Physicians and others enlisted in the crusade against the white plague are present from all sections of the United States. Former President Roosevelt and Sir William Osler of Oxford university are honorary vice presidents of the organization, which will be in session until tomorrow night.

One of the adverse factors that are retarding the prevention of the "white plague," was the characterization applied to Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine by President Homer Folkes in his opening address.

Friedmann Condemned.

"Nothing like the series of events," said the speaker, "which followed the announcement of the Friedmann 'cure' in Berlin has hitherto occurred in the tuberculosis campaign. Only those who have been engaged from day to day in inducing state and local authorities to appropriate funds can appreciate how vastly more difficult this task has been made in the last few months by the extremely effective press agents of Dr. Friedmann. Thus far it has not been evident to me as a layman that any of those who have had to do with the subject in this country have won much credit.

"When the Friedmann 'cure' has taken its legitimate place and, perchance, has been forgotten, we shall remember those processions coming from everywhere whom the announcement of the 'cure' summoned to our vision."

SWIMMER SAVES MAN IN MID-ATLANTIC

New York, May 8.—Chief Officer Blair jumped overboard in mid-ocean from the steamship Majestic on Tuesday last and rescued W. Keown, a coal passer, who had attempted suicide. Keown apparently regretted his act as soon as he hit the water and began struggling. Blair promptly sprang after him and held him up until both were picked up by a boat.

ASK UNCLE SAM TO HANDLE TOBACCO.

Louisville, Ky., May 8.—Tobacco growers of eight states at a meeting here, indorsed a plan looking to government control of the purchase, sale, manufacture and handling of tobacco. The meeting was called by the officers of the Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of Kentucky to perfect a national selling system.

CALIFORNIA CASE WAITS

Secretary Bryan Is Too Busy to Report to President.

Lawyers Say Treaties May Not Enter Into the Question.

Washington, May 8.—With Secretary Bryan's return from California early today, where he went as President Wilson's personal representative to confer with Governor Johnson over the anti-alien land laws which the Japanese government construes as offensive, the diplomatic stage of the negotiations between Japan and the United States over the question actually was reached.

Secretary Bryan's first move upon his return today was expected to be a conference with President Wilson, to make a first-hand report of the situation as he found it in California.

Too Busy to Report.

When Secretary Bryan got to his desk, however, he found such an accumulation of routine business that he was unable to confer with President Wilson as he had expected and the Japanese question was not taken up before the secretary left for Baltimore where tonight he is to be the guest of Charles H. Grasty, of the Baltimore Sun. Tomorrow night Mr. Bryan will attend a banquet in New York to the international commissioners arranging for the centenary celebration of the Treaty of Ghent.

The Japanese embassy has been

YOUNG MOTHER CUTS THROATS OF BABIES

Murders Them With Butcher Knife While Her Husband Sleeps.

Philadelphia, May 8.—Arising from the bed in which she, her husband and two infant daughters were sleeping at their home in the southern section of this city, Mrs. Mary Kulasa, 24 years old, early today obtained a long butcher knife and cut the babies' throats, accomplishing the deed so quietly that the slumbering man was not aroused.

The woman had been ill and it is supposed became suddenly insane. In a cell in the police station she became hysterical and kept murmuring that she had killed her babies for religious reasons.

M'ADOO PUTS LID ON OFFICE RECORDS

Washington, May 8.—Secretary McAdoo took another step today in his campaign to keep secrets of the treasury department from going to outside interests, when he forbade any treasury records being shown to anyone outside the department, congressmen included, without his written permission, and announced that he intended to deal summarily with infractions of his new order.

PEACE DELEGATES VISIT ROOSEVELT

Americans and Canadians Propose Arches Where Roads Cross Line.

New York, May 8.—Delegates to the international conference to arrange for a celebration of the centenary of the Treaty of Ghent left their hotels in automobiles this morning to visit Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

Memorial arches at the points where the proposed international highways will cross the border between the United States and Canada, a memorial bridge across the Niagara river, and historical monuments on both sides of the boundary, are among the plans formulated by Canadian and American delegates to the conference. The Canadian and American delegates agreed to urge that their respective governments erect the arches where the proposed international highways—the Quebec and Miami in the East and Los Angeles and Vancouver in the West—cross the boundary.

A plan to erect monuments at historical points upon each side of the boundary may include water gates on opposite sides of the Detroit river near the city of Detroit. It was felt that the suggestion to erect a memorial bridge over the Niagara river required the advice of engineers, and action on this proposal was postponed until it has been discussed by the entire conference.

MONEY LAW TO BE TAKEN UP JUNE 1

Underwood Makes Announcement After Talk With President.

House Leader and A. M. Palmer Confer With Wilson.

Will Organize for That Work While Senate Talks Tariff.

Washington, May 8.—Currency legislation will be taken up by the house about June 1.

This announcement was made today by Representative Oscar W. Underwood, the Democratic house leader, after a conference at the White House with President Wilson, who urged that banking reforms be considered at the present session and laws be enacted if possible.

Mr. Underwood was accompanied by Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house caucus, but the Democratic leader spoke for the conference.

"We came up to find out what the house should do," he said, "while the senate is considering the tariff bill. The president is disposed to want currency legislation at this session, so I think it will take a recess of about three weeks, during which the banking and currency committee will be organized and we will be ready for work June 1."

Special Message Planned.

Mr. Underwood said he expected the president to send soon a special message to congress urging currency reform. The president talked over with his visitors a draft of the Owens-Glass bill, which he has before him, and which it is understood will represent the administration's views when launched in the house and senate.

The president's idea is to have currency legislation at once if there is a common agreement among the Democrats as to the methods of monetary revision, but it is understood that if, at the time the tariff bill has passed the senate, there has not been a complete agreement, the whole subject will be deferred until the regular session in December.

MITCHEL WILSON'S PERSONAL CHOICE

Nobody Gets Credit for Suggesting Him for Collector's Job.

Washington, May 8.—Varying reports as to who originally proposed John Purroy Mitchel to be collector of the port of New York brought from the White House today a statement that President Wilson himself had requested Mr. Mitchel to take the office. It became known that Senator O'Gorman and Secretary McAdoo both concurred in the selection after Mr. Wilson had suggested Mr. Mitchel.

When President Wilson sent the name of Mr. Mitchel to the senate yesterday the name was spelled by mistake, "Mitchell," and this will necessitate the sending of the nomination in a second time. He will take up his new duties June 1.

Candidates for the post, which pays $12,000 and carries with it the appointment of an army of employes in the country's biggest custom house, were numerous from the start. Recently the president practically determined to appoint Frank K. Polk, a friend of Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department, but Senator O'Gorman interposed objection, declaring a more active Democrat should get the place. It is held now by William Loeb, Jr., former secretary to President Roosevelt.

KANSAS GIRL TO MARRY DE MUMM.

Seneca, Kan., May 8.—The engagement of Miss Frances Scoville of Seneca and Walter DeMumm of Paris, millionaire manufacturer and sportsman, has been announced here.

Miss Scoville is the daughter of C. C. Scoville, president of a local bank. Since her graduation from the high school here some ten years ago she has spent most of her time in travel in Europe and now is in Switzerland. The date set for the wedding is June 2, in London.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Not in session; meets at 2 p. m. Friday.

Commerce committee referred to sub-committee La Follette's seamen involuntary servitude bill for hearing during present session and ordered favorable report on nomination of Joseph E. Davies as commissioner of corporations.

HOUSE.

Met at 2 p. m. to complete consideration and vote on tariff bill.

ACTION HELD BACK BY THE REPUBLICANS

Mann Demands Provision for Tariff Commission Be Made.

Payne Says Present Law Has Been Little Criticized.

Washington, May 8.—Delayed in its passage last night by a parliamentary technicality, the Underwood tariff bill was engrossed today for presentation to the house at its hour of meeting—2 p. m.

Because of the Democratic insistence on a point of order against the Republican motion to recommit the bill to the ways and means committee with a view to forcing a tariff commission provision, the reading of the bill in its engrossed form was made necessary.

The parliamentary tacticians of both the majority and the minority prepared today for the final fray over the point of order, but the result, in view of the large Democratic majority in the house, was a foregone conclusion. Meantime the Democratic leaders in the senate were preparing for the consideration of the bill there.

There is talk among the house leaders of taking a recess of about thirty days during the senate consideration of the tariff. While there have been individual conferences on the subject, the fact that the president has not yet communicated his views regarding the question of currency legislation at this or the regular session of congress, has precluded any formal consideration so far as to what the house shall do when it disposes of the tariff.

Skirmish Over Discount.

The last skirmish on the details of the tariff measure came late last night

OPPOSE GOVERNMENT ROADS IN ALASKA

British Partners of Guggenheim Say It Would Ruin Them.

Washington, May 8.—Opposition to government aid for Alaskan railroads was expressed today to the senate territories committee by O. L. Dickinson, manager for Close Bros., and other English debenture holders of an existing route from Skagway to the interior. He declared that the companies in which his principals were interested would open a water and rail route to Fairbanks on June 1. A government line, he said, would send them into bankruptcy.

He declared under cross-examination that he was not prompted to this attitude by the fact that the Close Bros. were partners with the Guggenheim-Morgan syndicate in the Copper River railroad.

MEET TO TALK ABOUT TARIFF

Manufacturers Gather at Capital to Prepare for Fight.

Will Seek to Have Underwood Bill Amended in the Senate.

Washington, May 8.—A conference of manufacturers and producers, called by the Illinois Manufacturers' association, met here today to talk over the tariff situation and formulate plans for pressing some amendments when the senate considers the Underwood bill.

President Kirby of the National Manufacturers' association, President Wilder of the National Association of Tanners, C. A. Byers of Baltimore; C. C. Houston, Lewisburg, Tenn.; George W. Blake, Wooster, Ohio; J. R. Watson, Chicago; W. S. Thomas, Springfield, Ohio, and Paul E. Herschel of Peoria, Ill., were among those leading the movement.

The object of the conference, as set out in a statement by J. M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois association, is to deal with the general proposition of tariff revision as it is presented in the Underwood bill, and to look particularly to the working of the paragraph of the proposed law which empowers the president to negotiate trade agreements of mutual concession with foreign countries. The manufacturers contend that if the president is given power to negotiate concessions in tariff rates, he also is empowered to negotiate increases if they are warranted.

SENATE ACTS ON THE O'HARA CASE

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The senate today empowered Senators Ettelson, Jones, O'Connor and Bailey to proceed with the affidavit obtained yesterday from Deputy Sheriff R. M. Sullivan of Sangamon county, made by a Springfield woman and reflecting upon the morality of Lieut. Governor O'Hara. The resolution was offered by Senator Ettelson and immediately adopted.

The resolution was adopted after the senate had gone into executive session and heard the testimony of M. Blair Coan, investigator for the white slave committee, regarding his conversation with Deputy Sheriff Sullivan of Sangamon county. He testified as to a conversation he had with Sullivan on the night of April 28. He said Sullivan told him the investigating commission had better stay away from Springfield; if not he would produce an affidavit that would put the commission out of business and make the state minus a lieutenant governor.

Hotel Register Found.

The missing register of the Hotel Sherman in this city, which figures in the affidavit, was found today.

The affidavit, though presented by Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, was made by another person whose identity is somewhat obscure so far as the public is concerned. It was produced upon the insistence of the lieutenant governor, who declares that it is part of a conspiracy formed in the underworld by persons whose incomes were threatened by his crusade against vice.

The affidavit is said to state that last January O'Hara and a prominent young woman of Springfield registered at the Hotel Sherman as "T. E. Duncan and wife." A Springfield millionaire and another young woman had registered as "J. J. Miller and wife," and are alleged to have shared the "Duncan" suite. A handwriting expert will compare the signature of "Duncan" with that of O'Hara.

AFTER WHITE SLAVE MEN IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., May 8.—Milwaukee police and government agents of the department of justice are searching Milwaukee and Chicago for two Italian brothers, an Italian saloon keeper and two women, all of whom are said to be connected with the nation-wide "white slave" organization, and are also said to be at the bottom of the many third ward murders which have occurred here during the last year.

CONTEMPT CASE TO BE APPEALED.

Washington, May 8.—Attorneys for Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison asked the district court of appeals today to stay its mandate sentencing Gompers to thirty days in jail and fining Mitchell and Morrison $500 each, in affirming contempt of court judgments against the labor leaders in the Buck's Stove & Range case.

Counsel announced their intention to appeal the case to the supreme court of the United States. The court granted them leave to renew the motion if the appeal cannot be prepared in the fifteen days allotted by law.

NEW FIGHT MADE BY INSURANCE COMPANIES

Jefferson City, Mo., May 8.—Attorneys for the fire insurance companies that have ceased writing business in this state owing to the anti-trust insurance law, today filed demurrers to the quo warranto proceedings instituted by Attorney General Barker.

The attorneys for the companies claim that the information filed does not set forth a cause of action. They ask that the court dismiss the temporary order issued April 28, restraining the companies from cancelling existing policies, for the reason that the policies contain clauses permitting either a company or policy holder to cancel the insurance, but no way exists by which the companies can cancel policies by concerted action.

INTERSTATE RATES GIVEN PRECEDENCE

Washington, May 8.—The interstate commerce commission held today that it would not prevent an increase of interstate freight rates merely for the purpose of influencing intrastate rates.

This principle was announced in connection with an application by carriers for permission to advance the joint rate on cement from producing points in Pennsylvania to destinations in New Jersey and other states. The application was granted.

COLORED MAN SITS IN LABOR MEETING

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 8.—For the first time in the history of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers, a colored man is occupying a seat as a delegate at the national convention now in session in this city. He is Edward Harris of Covington, Ky.

Secrecy is to surround the deliberations of the convention from this time forward, according to officials of the association, who today declared their belief that the cause of the organization might be injured if announcements of the deliberations were given to the public before final decisions had been made.

ROBBERIES LAID TO POLICEMAN GUARD

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Miske, former member of the St. Paul police force, is under arrest at central police station, charged with the theft of household goods and jewels valued at more than $500, said to have been taken from an apartment house he had been left to guard after a fire in the building. Miske was arrested today on complaint of residents of the apartments, and according to the police has confessed.

MORE GULLY MEN FINED.

Doctor and Other Accused of Illegal Liquor Sales Settle.

Crookston, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hogg and Dr. John T. Bowers, doing business as the Gully Drug company, arrested a few days ago for selling liquor without a license, yesterday entered a plea of guilty before Judge Gossman, who fined them $100 and costs each, which they paid. Four others from Gully, arrested at the same time, had previously entered similar pleas and paid their fines. It is understood Gully has been dry ever since the raid by Sheriff Kelly and Deputy Holt.

"MAN WITH TWO WIVES"

Judge Puzzled By Conflicting Evidence in Annulment Suit.

First Wife Wants Divorce and Second an Annulment.

So deeply involved in complications and so closely interwoven with mystery was the "double wife" story of Antonio Vollen, aged 24, Duluth milliner, that Judge Fesler, before whom she has brought her suit for annulment of marriage to one Chris Walhood of Pekin, N. D., that the court has, as yet, been unable to straighten out the strange tangle. He told her attorney, G. W. C. Ross this morning that he would hold the case open for further evidence tending to absolute proof that Walhood had two wives instead of one.

A stranger story of love, jealousy, perjury and bigamy has not been related in the local courts for many years. A mass of letters, which have passed between Walhood and Miss Vollen, his alleged second wife, and one Clara Kittelson, his alleged first wife, copies of alleged false affidavits which are claimed to be forgeries and marriage certificates and certified records of two marriages were introduced in evidence. A peculiar feature to the case is that the purported record of Walhood's alleged first marriage gives his name as Chester Walhood. When he became the husband of Miss Vollen he gave his name as Chris Walhood.

Another strange feature in the case is that from correspondence which was produced at the trial of the action this morning it would appear that Wife No. 1 already has divorce proceedings under way out in North Dakota.

Not Contested.

The marriage annulment suit is not being contested by Walhood. He did not engage an attorney and file an answer to the proceeding, but did, however, send a letter to the "judge of the district court," in which he sets up his side of the story. In it he denied the first marriage and says that he is willing for a separation, but desires to be free from any alimony judgment.

She is 24 years old and at present employed as a hat trimmer in a local millinery shop. She met Walhood for the first time about ten years ago in North Dakota, being introduced to him through her father. Walhood is 44 years old.

She claims that the next occasion on which she saw him was on New Year's day, 1911. She claims that he came to Jacobson, Minn., where she and her father were living. Walhood, she claims, was a good friend of her father.

In July, 1911, her father died and Walhood came to Jacobson to attend the funeral. She claimed that he advanced $100 for funeral expenses at this time and that later when she offered to repay him, that he declined to accept it.

Married In Bessemer.

About Jan. 1, 1912, Walhood paid her a visit in Duluth, she claims. On this occasion, he proposed to her and she accepted. They decided to go to Bessemer, Mich., and get the knot tied. They were married at Bessemer on Jan. 3, 1912.

After spending a day in Bessemer, they returned to Duluth. Shortly afterwards, Walhood left for his home in North Dakota, with the understanding that she might join him later.

Miss Vollen denied that she had any intimation of the fact that her husband was a married man at the time and did not suspect anything wrong until about a month later.

At this time, she claims that her husband informed her that he had been engaged to another girl but that it had all been "fixed up." Then, she claims, he advised her not to tell anyone she was married.

Next Miss Vollen visited an attorney. She went to Louis Hallam, county attorney of Aitkin county, who advised her to go to North Dakota to make a further investigation, which she claims that she did.

While in North Dakota, she claims that she stopped with an uncle who conducted an investigation, which double existence story of Walhood, finding that it was true that he previously married the Kittelson woman.

Difference in Names.

A certified copy of the marriage record of "Chester" Walhood and Clara Kittelson was introduced. The difference in the first names excited the suspicion of the court and he questioned the witness as to the matter. She claimed that she knew of no Chester Walhood although she was acquainted with a brother of her purported husband, who went by the name of Ole.

In the meantime, Walhood was writing to her, she testified. During the month of December, 1912, she claims that he sent her what purported to be a copy of a sworn affidavit from his alleged first wife, denying the marriage.

She claims that she also received a heartrending letter from Walhood, in which he addressed her as "his dear young wife" and professed lonesomeness for her and that he closed by stating that he wished she would comply with one request, and that was to write back to him denying their marriage.

His "Contract."

Walhood's genius shined in this letter. He had a blank form written on the reverse side of the page which he suggested that she fill out, sign and return to him. Among other things she was supposed to forget and forgive and promise never to use the law on him.

Needless to say, Miss Vollen did not comply with the strange request.

She also told about having received anonymous letters prior to her marriage written in a feminine hand and warning here not to have anything to do with married men. She now believes that the letters were sent by the Kittelson woman, or the alleged Wife No. 1.

The letters which she received from him, she claimed, were prefixed with such endearing terms as "dearest love" and "my own dear," etc.

Shortly after the receipt of her husband's explanation about another woman, whom he feared she might believe had come between them, she received by registered mail a letter from one purporting to be Clara Kittelson Walhood, the alleged Wife No. 1, to whom, Miss Vollen alleges, Walhood was married at Hudson, Wis., on Dec. 27, 1910.

Warned By First Wife.

The letter from the alleged first Mrs. Walhood warned the second Mrs. Walhood not to have anything more to do with Walhood. It stated that the writer presumed that Miss Vollen was acting in good faith but that she was not aware of the real facts in the case. The writer offered to come to her in person and prove her claims of priority over Walhood.

Just to prove that the letter actually came from some one at Litchfield, Minn., where it had been mailed, Miss Vollen mailed a "thumray" letter by registered mail to Clara Kittelson Walhood at Litchfield. The letter was stuffed with blank paper. She received the receipt for the letter within a few days, in which Mr. Walhood had acknowledged receiving it from the postoffice.

Attorney Ross took the stand and testified that he had come into possession of a letter which had been written from Mrs. Walhood, nee Kittelson, to the county attorney in Aitken county, in which she stated that she hoped Miss Vollen would not drop her marriage annulment suit against Walhood and in which she referred to Walhood as a "dirty man."

Mrs. Walhood also wrote that whenever Walhood addressed her in his letters, he used the term "dear friend." She also stated that she was about to institute proceedings for divorce herself.

No "Other Man."

Miss Vollen was asked by Judge Fesler if there was anything to the charge made by Walhood in letters addressed to the court that there was another man in the affair. She emphatically denied this.

The court stated in connection with holding the case open that the witness Miss Vollen, did not impress him as having very much feeling in the matter. He stated that it was strange that a woman in her circumstances would act as coolly as she did.

Will Protect Birds.

Song birds in the Duluth parks must not be killed or injured in any manner, says Mayor Prince. He asserts that the practice of carrying slingshots or other weapons will be stopped. A new state law gives protection to the birds and the mayor is determined that they shall have it, even though arrests have to be made by the dozen.

Dr. A. J. Braden

Want Mor. y For Laboratory.

The state legislature failed to make provision for the maintenance of the laboratory which has been established in Duluth for several years past. The state board of health has asked the city to appropriate $1,600 for the purpose to save it. Unless that is done it is stated that the laboratory will be discontinued, which would considerably hamper local health work, according to the officials. The state board is confident that the city would be repaid when the matter is laid before the next legislature.

Money For Y. M. C. A. School.

B. C. Wade, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. returned yesterday from Winona, where he has been in the interests of a fund which is being raised for the institute and training school for boys which is to be built at Chicago. The school is to be an associated vocational institution. Mr. Wade laid plans for raising $15,000 in Winona alone.

Removal Notice.

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, Henry I. Pinneo, general agent, has taken offices in 602 and 603 Providence building.

Referee Sues Creditors.

Norman S. Marshall, trustee in bankruptcy for David Polinsky, yesterday started suit in district court against the First National bank and the Brunswick company in which he asks for a judgment of $457.55 against the bank and $514 against the Brunswick company. The referee claims that the two defendants took priority in their claims, when it was not their due.

Knutson & Ferguson
And the Mesaba Labor agency have moved from 320 W. Mich. St. to 306 W. Mich. St.

Placed on Parole.

Earl Le Flair, 20 years old, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday afternoon to having misappropriated $7.22 while in the employ of the Duluth Van & Storage company. It was claimed that he neglected to turn in the full amount of his collections. He was placed on parole for one year.

Young Man Fined.

Theodore Adams, the young man arrested on a charge of furnishing beer to minors, was adjudged guilty in police court this morning. It appeared that he procured a keg of the amber fluid at the brewery where he was employed and became one of a keg party at which several boys under age became intoxicated. He got $25 and costs or thirty days in the county jail.

Ninety Days in Jail.

Frank Comstock has failed to support his wife or child since last September, although he had several times promised to authorities to do so. In police court this morning he got a straight sentence of three months in the county jail.

A "Deaf Mutt."

Charles Ellis is a "deaf mutt," according to the pleading card which he was handing out yesterday when arrested on a charge of begging. The police declare that he is a faker and anything but an artist. In police court this morning he pleaded guilty to begging and got a straight sentence of sixty days in the county jail.

Milk Licenses.

Vendors of milk are making applications for licenses in large numbers at the health department. It is stated that many have still failed to comply with the provisions of the ordinance. Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, states that all who do not secure licenses will be prevented from selling milk or other dairy products.

Epidemic of Measles.

An epidemic of measles is prevalent in the city. Over 200 cases have been reported to the health department and it is claimed that they are not more than one-third of those in Duluth. There is some scarlet fever and smallpox but little or no diphtheria. Measles are classed among the diseases which should be reported to the health department and the officials desire that the physicians observe the rule more closely.

Married By Judge.

Miss Anna Johnson of St. Paul and Andrew Gustafson of Cook, Minn., were married yesterday afternoon by S. W. Gilpin, judge of probate. They came here yesterday afternoon from St. Paul, where their license had been issued. They will live in Cook.

Say Plant Is a Nuisance.

Residents in the vicinity of Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues east and the Iron Range tracks have sent a petition to Mayor Prince protesting against the operation of P. McDonnell's mixing plant in that vicinity. They declare that the smoke and odors constitute a nuisance which should not be tolerated. The petition had about thirty-five signers.

URGE SUFFRAGETTES TO VIOLENCE

MR. AND MRS. PETHICK-LAWRENCE,

dence that many former constitutional suffragettes have joined the militant body since the defeat of the woman's suffrage bill. There is no question that the number of militants is growing larger.

Mrs. Drummond Collapses.

"Gen." Mrs. Flora Drummond suddenly collapsed and fell in a heap on the floor of the prisoners' inclosure at the Bow street police court this morning when proceedings under the malicious damage acts were resumed against the suffragette leader. She was carried out of court by a jailer and a wardress.

The court was filled to overflowing when the "conspirators were brought in. They included, besides the "general," Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the chemist, Clayton.

"War on House of Lords."

Further correspondence was produced by counsel for the treasury in which the accused advocated "big things," such as a general raid on the public letter boxes and a war on the house of lords. It was suggested that the attack on the peers could be accomplished "by means of a suffragette typist, who could secure a position on the reporting staff."

According to Archibald Bodkin, the treasury counsel, a circular letter was found in Miss Laura Lennox's residence announcing the formation of a branch society called the "Y. H. B." Inspector Lawrence of Scotland yard explained that the initials stood for "Young Hot Bloods." No married women were to be eligible for membership.

Show Wealth of Society.

Evidence was produced during the proceedings as to the wealth of the Women's Social and Political union. From a statement by the prosecution it was shown that the rental paid for the union's office was $8,500 yearly, rising to $11,250.

The case was adjourned until May 23, all the women being allowed bail of $5,000 each, owing to their health.

"General" Mrs. Drummond had a second collapse just before adjournment.

Damage Over $5,000,000.

The damage to property in the British Isles caused by the militant suffragettes during the last three months amounts to more than $5,000,000, according to an official estimate made today by the authorities at police headquarters in Scotland Yard.

To this sum, they say, must be added the increased cost of protecting lives and property. Three detectives have been assigned to watch over each member of the cabinet at all times, while all suspected persons are shadowed by plain clothes men, and all public buildings have been placed under special guard.

Figured at this rate, the suffragette activities are costing the country at least $25,000,000 a year.

withholding its formal diplomatic protest to the Webb bill for the secretary's return, and it is now believed to be that government's plan to withhold it still longer until inquiry can be made of the United States as to just what this government proposes to do if Governor Johnson signs the bill and it becomes a law. Under such a plan of action, the protest probably will not be delivered today.

May Lead to The Hague.

The presentation of the protest will open the formal diplomatic negotiations, which may lead to a test in the supreme court of whether such a law is in contravention of the treaty with Japan. The negotiations also may lead to a proposal of arbitration at The Hague tribunal or a determination of the anthropological status of the Japanese race, to settle whether they are eligible to citizenship in the United States.

Some of the legal minds of the administration have come to the conclusion that in the event the California law is contested in the courts, the case must rest, not on the existing treaty, which they say the law does not technically violate, but on the broad principles of international law. No treaty specifically describes all of the rights which an alien may enjoy in the country of his residence, and in the opinion of some of these international lawyers the disregard or violation of a right common to all civilized peoples is as much a discrimination as a wilful disregard of treaty provision.

property and that they were taking it out to make some experiments, denying any intention of violating the neutrality laws. They employed an attorney and telegraphed details to the French and British ambassadors at Washington.

Will Arrest Violators.

Washington, May 8.—Many arrests for violations of neutrality with the United States by shipments of munitions of war to revolutionists in Mexico are expected by the department of justice as a result of the supreme court's decision on Monday that the mere starting of arms and ammunition to forbidden territory is a violation of law.

Copies of the court's decision have reached the department, and preparations were made to instruct government agents on the border to enforce rigidly the president's proclamation prohibiting exportations to the Mexican rebels.

In two cases the United States court for the Western district of Texas has decided that it was necessary for the government to prove that exportations had been consummated and the war materials landed in Mexico before violation of law could be established. Chief Justice White's opinion reversed this finding, and held the actual beginning of a shipment, intercepted in this country, was all that was necessary.

OWSLEY WILL CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Arguments Over Title to Mining Property Made at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ownership of rich mines on the Minnesota iron ranges is involved in a case argued before the Minnesota supreme court today. Two children of Marie Owsley of Virginia are trying to have set aside the decision of the St. Louis county district court, which awarded to their stepfather, F. D. Owsley of Duluth, one-third of their mother's $2,750,000 estate. The appellants are William E. Boeing and Mrs. Carolina B. Pooler, both of Virginia.

When Mrs. Owsley died several years ago she left her estate to these children by her first marriage, allowing Mr. Owsley $36,000 in cash and a life annuity of $10,000. Although the will was made in Virginia, the property was located in Minnesota and it became necessary to probate the estate in St. Louis county. Mr. Owsley, under the Minnesota law giving the surviving spouse one-third, succeeded in breaking the will and was awarded his share.

The case was taken under advisement.

ENGINE SINKING IN QUICKSAND.

Rock Island, Ill., May 8.—Quicksand is swallowing a 220-ton freight engine of the Burlington road which went into a ditch thirty-six miles from here last Friday. The locomotive is on its side and has sunk four feet into the sand, despite the continuous efforts of a big force of men and two wreckers of 100 tons capacity each. The engine is valued at $18,000.

PREPARE FIGHT ON DAVIES' JOB.

Washington, May 8.—Although a favorable report on the nomination of Joseph E. WILL BRING UNIVERSITY TO THE PEOPLE OF DULUTH

Courses in All Lines of Business Will Be Offered.

If the proper arrangements can be made, the facilities of the University of Minnesota for instruction in business subjects will be made available for Duluth people next fall.

Prof. Charles H. Preston, head of the school of commerce, which is to be made a big feature of the extension work of the university, is in Duluth today surveying the field. He conferred with B. C. Wade, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and chairman of the educational co-operation committee of the Commercial club, and representatives of various organizations which might be interested in the work.

The university has always made a feature of business courses in its extension department, but substantial appropriations by the recent legislature have made possible an expansion that should result in making the branch of much greater benefit to the state at large. Negotiations are now under way for the addition to the university staff of several men of long experience in the teaching of business subjects. It is expected that arrangements will be completed by fall for the opening of night schools of commerce at least in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth for the instruction of people regularly employed.

Accounting, commercial law, money, banking and finance, stocks, bonds and investments, economic resources and foreign trade, taxation and economic problems, public relation of business, industrial organization and business administration, psychology of business, advertising and salesmanship, fire and life insurance, merchandising, transportation, publishing and real estate are some of the courses contemplated.

University to the People.

"President Vincent it anxious to bring the university to the people, and he is intensely interested in the expansion in the branch of commerce in our extension work," said Prof. Preston today. "We will have the best men available, the best courses that can be devised by those men and a sincere desire to make young people better fitted for the battles of business life.

"If the right sort of local co-operation is obtained, we will send our men here to give the courses; we will have lectures by business men, attorneys, accountants and others with practical experience, and we will give every man an opportunity to become better grounded in the subjects with which he is to be intimately associated in his life's work."

It is expected the Bankers' institute, Retail Merchants' association, Commercial club, Y. M. C. A., Real Estate exchange and other organizations of business men and employes will be interested and will take steps to have the night school of commerce established in Duluth. Mr. Wade said today that the subject will be one of the first to be considered by the educational co-operation committee of the Commercial club, which was appointed recently and has not yet been called together.

The extension department will arrange for the issuance to those who successfully complete the courses "certificates of commerce" which will show that they are trained in the subjects in which they are interested. The plan of the school is modeled after that of the New York school of commerce and the Northwestern university school of commerce, but it will be on an even more elaborate scale.

GIRLS WILL PREPARE FLOAT FOR PARADE

Miss Irene Keyes, daughter of John A. Keyes, will prepare a float for the memorial day parade, May 31. The float will be occupied by young girls from the high school.

Permission to prepare the float was given Miss Keyes yesterday by the Citizens' staff of the G. A. R., which is now completing the arrangements for the parade. The expense of the float will be paid by the staff.

The Women's Relief corps and the ladies of the G. A. R. will again prepare a dinner for those participating in the parade. A dinner will be served only those holding tickets and these will be given to all the members of the G. A. R., the Spanish War veterans, the Citizens' staff and the various auxiliaries of these bodies.

MILLER OPPOSES UNDERWOOD BILL

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 8.—All the Minnesota members will vote on the Underwood tariff bill today in accordance with their party affiliations. Representative Hammond, of course, will vote for it, as he is a member of the ways and means committee which prepared the measure. Some of the Republican members, among them Miller and Lindbergh, said they favored some features of the bill, notably the income tax, but that they would vote against it owing to what they called discriminations against the farmers.

FILE ANSWER IN LAND CASE

Henry L. Simons, James A. Nowell, Thomas M. Paine and the Farmers Land & Cattle company, defendants in a suit for $6,000 in damages brought against them in Federal court by Ernest A. Arnold, this morning filed their answer. Judge Page Morris now has the case under advisement.

The defendants claim that they never made any agreement with the complainant, Mr. Arnold, regarding the purchase, sale or partnership in lands. They made an oral agreement several years ago, they say, whereby Mr. Arnold was to purchase land and the defendants would sell it on a commission basis. There was no partnership, the answer states, and the defendants are therefore not liable for unsalable lands.

The answer asks for a dismissal of the case. The defendants are represented by Luse, Powell & Luse of Superior, attorneys.

SILENT EVIDENCE OF A LITTLE TRAGEDY

Some little fellow, or possibly some little girl, was probably forced to tearfully explain the loss of ten cents change received at the meat market today. A note with the change carefully wrapped in it is silent evidence of the tragedy.

It was picked up by a subscriber and turned into The Herald office this morning. It reads:

"15c pork chops. Please wrap up change."

It is likely the pork chops reached their destination, but the change was another matter. The dime is at The Herald office and will be returned if called for.

OBITUARY

Charles Henry Mead, D. D., a widely known temperance lecturer, died at his home in Ocean Grove, N. J., May 7, aged 72 years. He was editor of the National Advocate in New York.

Amandus Schibsted, editor of the Aftenposten, Norway's largest newspaper, died in Christiana, Norway, May 7. Mr. Schibsted had been editor of the Aftenposten since 1879.

Dr. Louis A. Duhring of the University of Pennsylvania, famed as a writer and an authority on skin diseases, died at his home in Philadelphia, May 7. At the time of his death he was professor emeritus of dermatology. He was 67 years old.

CONSTITUTION SOON ADOPTED

Cass Lake, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chippewa Indian council today adopted a constitution by a vote of 53 to 3 providing for a president, vice president, interpreters, secretary and treasurer, an executive committee, one member from each reservation, to be elected this afternoon. The preamble states that the object of the council is to obtain full justice due the Indians.

Edward L. Rogers of Walker, the famous university football player, was elected president; John W. Carl of Mahnomen, vice president; Nathan J. Head of Redlake, secretary; John G. Morrison of Redlake, treasurer; John Brown and S. Morrison, interpreters. The resolutions committee was appointed as follows: Stone Man, Redlake; Gus H. Beaulieu, White Earth; John S. Eimmerman, Grand Portage; John S. Smith, White Oak Point; Ben King, Leech Lake; Paul Sheehy, Fond du Lac, and Mooses Moo of Winnibigoshish. A friendly contest between John W. Carl and Ben Fairbanks for vice president resulted in favor of Carl by one majority. The resolutions committee is now in session considering the pay of chiefs which under the old order was $15 per month for services, also the question of salary for the officers to be fixed by by-laws. Many resolutions are to be considered. M. N. Collo of Cass Lake was retained to assist in drafting the resolutions.

DISCUSS STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Commissioner Roderick Murchison of the division of public works, met this noon with the street improvement committee of the Commercial club at the club and friendly relations were established between him and the members of the committee.

Mr. Murchison was assured by the committee members that they stood ready to co-operate with him at any time in any movement having to do with the improvement or maintenance of the streets. Mr. Murchison expressed himself as glad to avail himself of the co-operation and advice of the committee.

No specific improvements were discussed, but some time was given to a general discussion on street improvements and maintenance.

KING ALFONSO GETS A HORSE.

Fontainebleau, France, May 8.—King Alfonso of Spain reviewed a large force of French cavalry and artillery here today. He spoke to President Raymond Poincare in such an approving manner of the magnificent Norman Bay thoroughbred which had been provided for him as a mount, that the president presented him with the horse.

FREEDOM FOR SIXTEEN

Four Judges Kept Busy With the Divorce Grist.

Desertion, Non-Support and Cruelty Are Chief Causes.

Sixteen divorces were granted in the district court this morning, four judges being kept busy correcting the mistakes of the little blind god.

One of the first divorce applicants to appear was one Bessie Newton Luce, aged 20, who sought a separation from Norman Luce, 21, to whom she was married at Superior in October, 1911. Luce, she claims, was an actor living at Superior. It is claimed that his father was a minister. She was given the divorce by Judge Dancer.

Mrs. Luce, or Miss Newton, as she is now to be known, had a double mission at the courthouse this morning. She is one of the two girl "stool pigeons" who assisted the police in securing evidence against the negro and two Chinamen who are now being investigated by the grand jury. She testified before the grand jury at its morning session.

* * *

Anna M. Hempsted was granted an absolute divorce from her husband as well as alimony and the custody of their two minor children by Judge Ensign this morning. Desertion and nonsupport was given as the grounds for the action. Mrs. Hempsted claimed that her husband deserted her in May, 1910, and that she had been compelled to go out and support herself. The defendant is a marine engineer, 68 years old. The complainant is twenty-three years his junior.

* * *

Judge Fesler this morning granted Ethel Doan, 22, a divorce from Arthur H. Doan, 23, to whom she was married at Birmingham, Ala., on May 20, 1908. The grounds were desertion. There is one child, Velva, 3, of whom the mother was granted custody.

* * *

Martin Boyle, 58, who claimed that his wife, Lizzie Boyle, 71, deserted him six years ago, was given a decree of divorce in Judge Dancer's court this morning. They were married at Stanley, Wis., on July 17, 1902.

* * *

Because her husband was a drinker and gambler and because he failed to properly support her and on the further grounds that he deserted her, Anna Morley, 38, was granted a divorce from Michael Morley, 40, in district court before Judge Cant. They were married twelve years ago at Anaconda, Mont., and are parents of two children, who have been placed by the court in the custody of the mother. She alleges that he deserted her two years ago at Scotts Bluff, Neb.

* * *

Mac Baillie, 34, was given a decree by Judge Cant from Neil Baillie, 43, to whom she was married on Dec. 12, 1894, at Ashland, Wis. The desertion is alleged to have occurred in Duluth three years ago.

* * *

John Carlton Lester Carey, 25, was granted a divorce from Pearl Edna Carey, on the grounds of desertion, in Judge Fesler's court this morning. They were married on Dec. 1, 1910. The desertion is alleged to have taken place two years ago.

* * *

Judge Ensign granted Mary J. Wooding, 43, a divorce from J. E. Wooding, 49, on the grounds of cruelty. They were married in Canada in 1884 and for a number of years kept a boarding house at West Duluth.

* * *

August Banks, 42, who charged that his wife, Clara Banks, had committed adultery with other men during his absence from home, was granted a divorce by Judge Ensign this morning.

Banks lives on a farm near Sucker river. He claims that while he was out on the road as a contractor that his wife arranged clandestine meetings with other men in Duluth and that during the year 1912 she eloped with his teamster, one McDonough. Charles Nelson, gatekeeper at the boat club, is also named as one of the corespondents in the case.

* * *

The action of Mrs. Amanda Swenson seeking separation from her husband, August Swenson, was heard before Judge Dancer this morning. Judge Dancer held up the degree pending good behavior on the part of the defendant.

The holding up of the degree by the trial judge was caused by the recent good behavior of the husband. It seems that since the action was started the husband has kept sober.

In her complaint Mrs. Swenson alleged that her husband had subjected her to cruel beatings almost daily and had used profane and abusive language. Last Christmas he is alleged to have brandished a razor and threatened the life of both and had been prevented from carrying out that threat by a minor son.

The Swensons reside at 119 Eighteenth avenue west. They were married twenty-nine years ago and have six children, the oldest 27 years and the youngest 11 years.

* * *

Nellie Taylor was granted a divorce from her husband, Albert Glenn Taylor, by Judge Dancer this morning. The action was brought on the grounds of desertion, Mrs. Taylor claiming that she had been deserted sixteen months after their marriage. They were married July 13, 1910. She was also granted the restoration of her maiden name, Nellie Johnson.

* * *

Judge Ensign yesterday afternoon granted Lizzie Fitzello a divorce from her husband, Frank Fitzello, on the grounds of desertion. The marriage took place on Nov. 28, 1908, and the desertion was alleged to have taken place on Oct. 30, 1910, while they were residing at Buhl.

* * *

Anna Tofferi was given a divorce from Matti Tofferi by Judge Ensign yesterday afternoon. In her complaint Mrs. Tofferi stated that they were married in Finland thirty years ago. For the past ten years she had resided in Eveleth. The desertion is alleged to have taken place on July 23, 1906, when the defendant supposedly left for California. She was given allmony and the custody of a minor child.

* * *

Alberta A. Thomas was granted separation from her husband, William Thomas, in Judge Fesler's court yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas testified that her husband had treated her in a "cruel and inhuman" manner, and had on several occasions beaten and choked her. They were married in 1889 and she claims to have left him in December, 1898. The defendant failed to put in an appearance.

* * *

Judge Ensign granted Mildred Elizabeth Turner a divorce from her husband, Daniel Turner, in the district court this morning. Mrs. Turner alleged desertion on the part of her husband. In her complaint she stated that her husband was addicted to the morphine and other drug habits, and had also deserted her. Mr. Turner is said to reside in Ottawa, Can. The wedding took place in Fort William Aug. 26, 1903.

FUNERAL ON FRIDAY.

Last Rites at Bessemer Then for Miss Trevarthan.

Bessemer, Mich., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of the late Miss Mabel Trevarthan, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Trevarthan of the Ironton location, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home and the Methodist Episcopal church, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith. Interment will be made in the Bessemer cemetery.

Miss Trevarthan was born at Atlantic mine, Houghton county, Mich., in 1880, and came with her parents to this city several years ago. Her death was caused by dropsy. Besides her parents she is survived by thirteen brothers and sisters, as follows: William of Crystal Falls, Mich.; Mrs. John McGowen of the Colby mine location, Mrs. Fred Hooper, Crystal Falls, and Tom, George, James, John, Annie, Janie, Eva, Alvin, Fred and Roy, at home.

TESTIFY FOR HARVESTER MEN.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Testimony indicating a large increase in the sale of independent makes of harvesters was introduced by the defense today in the hearing here of the government's suit against the International Harvester company under the Sherman law. The testimony was an attempt to show that the trade is not controlled by the alleged "trust" and that competition is free. Among the witnesses were: John Schmaus, Lake City, Minn.; H. R. Hymes, Rochester, Minn.; Carl McKeith, Galesville, Wis.

On direct examination Mr. Schmaus declared that the state fixed the price at which dealers sell state prison twine and that the International does not attempt to fix retail prices. He also declared that the state prohibits dealers from charging more than a certain commission.

Forest Henry, a prominent lecturer for Minnesota farmers' institutes, was expected to be a witness late today.

J. Q. Currier of Owatonna, and Edward Naylor of Owatonna, a farmer, testified late yesterday.

FILE STATEMENT OF ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

A schedule in involuntary bankruptcy was filed with the clerk of Federal court this morning by the State Lumber company of Gimmel, Minn., through its president, Donald Ross.

The schedule states that the company's liabilities total $161,208.98 and the assets, $23,893.00. Of the liabilities $54,317.78 is given as the total claims against the company and $91,967.16 as notes and bills now due. Among the assets is real estate to the value of $15,185 and bills due the company to the value of $5,757.40.

BANKERS FRAME CONSTITUTION.

New York, May 8.—The executive council of the American Bankers' association yesterday ended its three-day session at Briarcliff Manor. The members gathered last night in this city for a banquet.

In the closing hours of the meeting, a redrafted constitution was prepared. This will be presented to the association at its annual meeting in Boston in the fall, when Atlanta's invitation to hold the executive council meeting in that city in 1914 will be considered. San Francisco extended an invitation to meet there in 1915, but this was not taken up.

A set of blank forms for general use in clearing house and other operations was adopted. Morris Goldwater, Prescott, Ariz., was elected a member of the council, giving that section of the country representation for the first time.

Marquette Official Ousted.

Marquette, Mich., May 8.—Henry J. Koepp, for the last year and a half superintendent of city street work, was removed from office Tuesday by the park, cemetery and street commission and James Tomlinson, recently superintendent of the Marquette Stone company's quarry and crushing plant, was appointed to fill the position at the prevailing salary of $100 a month. The change takes immediate effect.

TWIN CITY-MANKATO ROAD NOW ASSURED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The building of the national highway from Mankato to the Twin Cities was assured today by the pledging of $11,500 by local organizations to the Minnesota Valley National Scenic Highway association, whose committee is in session here, and the receipt of word from Washington that the government, which originally promised $10,000, would give $25,000 or $30,000.

SAYS NAVY GUNS KILLED CRITTERS.

San Diego, Cal., May 8.—Charging that six-inch spent shells from United States cruisers have killed stock on Rancho El Rosario, a short distance below the international boundary line, H. E. Manseir, one of the owners, has indicated that an attempt to collect damages will be made. Manseir declares that during the last target practice of the Pacific fleet shells landed on the ranch, killing several animals "and making the inhabitants very nervous." He says he has the six-inch shells and that a larger one passed very close to the ranch house.

Only two cruisers that were at target practice recently have six-inch guns in their armament. They are the Colorado and Cleveland. Both are on their way to San Francisco.

GAINED 24 POUNDS

Mrs. Wilson Robinson.

Mrs. Wilson Robinson, 704 Nessle St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"I feel like a new person. I have no more heavy feeling, no more pain, don't belch up gas, can eat most anything without it hurting me. I want to be working all the time. I have gained twenty-four pounds.

"People that see me now and saw me two months ago seem astonished. I tell them Peruna did it. I will say it is the only remedy for spring and all other ailments."

Dyspepsia and Constipation.

Helen A. Maxfield, M. D., Lyman, Utah, writes:

"As to the merits of Peruna, too much cannot be said.

"I am sixty years old and have just found out a medicine that is a great improvement to my health. I have suffered for years with dyspepsia and constipation. The use of Peruna two weeks only has given me great relief."

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets

NO MORE INDIAN OPIUM TO CHINA.

London, May 8.—The government announces that no more opium will be sent from India to China this year. It says it is probable that the traffic in opium between India and China will never be renewed.

FORMER SOLDIER FOUND MURDERER.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—A jury in the Federal court has returned a verdict of guilty in the case of William Stewart, a former United States cavalryman, who was on trial for the murder of Fred Kribbe on the San Carlos Indian reservation in September, 1910. Stewart already is under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of Alfred Philpot, Kibbe's companion.

J. B. Goodwin, under sentence of death at Globe for the murder of Philpot, will be hanged next Tuesday unless President Wilson again reprieves him. His execution was set for March 12, but the president granted a sixty-day stay.

OFFER BIG REWARDS.

Seeking Highwaymen Who Killed One Butte Man and Wounded Other.

Butte, Mont., May 8.—Harry Drumm, deputy United States court clerk, is dead of wounds by two masked highwaymen Monday night.

Theodore Thomas, secretary of the Butte Mining Stock exchange, Drumm's companion, who was also shot, is not expected to live.

The local Masonic lodge offered a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of the highwaymen. The Elks and the commercial bodies of Butte will take similar action, and Governor Stewart was appealed to yesterday to offer a reward. Several arrests on suspicion have been made.

WILSON SETTLES MANY DISPUTES

President Makes His Fourth Visit to the National Capitol.

Washington, May 8.—President Wilson went to the capitol yesterday for the fourth time, and after an hour of conferences with a score of senators, came away wearing a happy smile at having cleared up a number of troublesome situations that had arisen over appointments.

In New York and Kentucky factions of the Democratic party for several weeks had carried their fights on appointments to the White House. By the nomination of John Purroy Mitchel to be collector of the port of New York, the president satisfied Senator O'Gorman, as well as anti-Tammany Democrats here, who look upon Mr. Mitchel as an aggressive opponent of the Tammany organization.

In Kentucky the president stood by JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, Named for Collector of Customs for the Port of New York.

Senator Ollie James by appointing Ben Marshall to be collector of internal revenue for the Seventh district of Kentucky. A vigorous contest had been waged by Former Governor Beckham, who supported Desha Breckenridge for the place. He is a cousin of the assistant secretary of war, Henry C. Breckenridge.

Reinstates Inspectors.

Senator Kern of Indiana brought the president's attention again to the case of Romus F. Stewart and John E. Hollingsworth, two Indiana Democrats who were removed from their positions as postoffice inspectors by President Harrison. On investigation by Postmaster General Burleson, it was found that they "were removed for political reasons" and that they were guilty of no delinquencies or misconduct. After the conference with Senator Kern the president issued an executive order reinstating both men.

The nomination of Gaylord M. Saltsgaber to be commissioner of pensions ended a long contest in which petitions and political pressure was exerted from many sides on the president.

Commissioner of pensions—Gaylord M. Saltsgaber of VanWert, Ohio.

FARMERS' CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED

Minnesota U Plans Extensive Agricultural Campaign in State.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Agricultural extension work on a scale so large that it will reach every farmer in the agricultural sections of the 1,600 townships in Minnesota, is the last plan of the authorities of the University of Minnesota.

Preliminary details of the undertaking have been completed by Prof. A. D. Wilson, director of the extension work, and Dean A. F. Woods of the college of agriculture.

The work, according to Prof. Wilson, will be done through farmers' clubs, which are to be organized in every township. There are now about 100 such clubs in the state.

In the formation of the clubs, the farm authorities will require the cooperation of the agricultural high schools, the county superintendent of schools, the county agricultural agents, and the country newspapers.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

IN LOS ANGELES, Cal., enforcement of the weed ordinance, which calls for the removal of weeds from vacant lots once in the spring and once in the fall, again is attracting the attention of the street department, and a request for an appropriation of $15,388 to start the revolving fund has been made to the council that property owners must have removed from their vacant lots all weeds in the two weeks following the third Monday in April; otherwise the work will be done by the city and the cost charged to the property owner and collected along with the taxes. Under this law the street department must begin work on May 16. The ordinance also provides for a fall clean-up, but last fall no appropriation was forthcoming by the council and the work was not done.

Duluth has an ordinance requiring the removal of weeds, but it has never been enforced with any pronounced degree of success. Perhaps the new commission may take steps which will make it operative in deed as well as in name. That Duluth has an abundance of weeds is undisputed, and that the city should be rid of them as far as possible is not questioned.

CHEAP FARE FOR MAIL CARRIERS

Contract May Be Made With Traction Company By Government.

An arrangement in effect three years ago by which mail carriers were carried on the street cars for $36 a year each may be re-established without violating the state anti-pass law, according to a decision handed down in the office of the attorney general yesterday.

The decision holds that the state has no right to interfere with contracts made by the Federal government in the exercise of the powers conferred on it by the constitution.

The recent legislature amended the anti-pass law so that cities are allowed to make contracts for the carrying of policemen and firemen for less than the legal fare. St. Paul and Minneapolis have made contracts whereby policemen and firemen are carried practically free, each city paying the company $1 in order to conform with the law. No similar step has yet been taken in Duluth.

Under the ruling of the attorney general an effort will be made by the local postoffice authorities to have mail carriers carried at less than the legal fare and the arrangement previously in effect may be restored.

WILL OBSERVE LAW.

Owners of Red River Launches to Follow Federal Regulations.

Fargo, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The owners of launches on the Red river at this point are planning to conform with a law this year and avoid a conflict with the Federal officials. Last year there were complaints that the lives of the passengers were not safeguarded and Mayor Sweet took the matter up with the Federal officials, who imposed fines on the owners. These were later remitted on the promise of the launch owners to properly equip their boats. The Federal government still holds that the Red river at this point is navigable and this position is responsible for the difficulties of the owners of the boats. There is no place where a launch can be operated except above the temporary dam, and the water there can be waded in most places.

MILL CITY TRAGEDY.

Consumptive Shoots Wife and Child Then Kills Self.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Henry Beck, aged 22 years, entered his home shortly before midnight last night, aroused his wife, who with her 7-month-old son, had retired, and when she attempted to leave the room with the baby in her arms, he fired two shots at the fleeing woman. One of them struck Mrs. Beck in the arm, the other passing through the child's thigh. The latter will probably die. He then turned the revolver and shot himself through the heart. His body was found lying across the door sill of the Beck home shortly afterward, by the police.

Mrs. Beck can give no reason for her husband's act. The police believe that Beck had become discouraged through illness and had decided to kill his wife, baby and himself. All that was found in his pockets were 10 cents in coin and a physician's certificate stating that he was unable to work, because of tuberculosis.

"WILD" MAN TAKEN.

Crazy Individual Who Frightened Minnetonka Residents Caught.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Minnetonka's "wild man" was captured yesterday. Entirely nude, he burst into the Crystal bay waiting room filled with women shoppers waiting for an early train for Minneapolis and locked the door.

The women's shrieks brought men who broke in the door and overpowered the man, who gave his name as John O'Borsky, 30 years old.

"This man," said Sheriff Langum, "has covered the 322 miles of shore line of Lake Minnetonka in ten days and has not worn a stitch of clothing in all that time. He has been seen in a dozen different places."

Asked to explain his conduct, O'Borsky said he had been pursued for two weeks by a sailor in an airship. The parents of the man have been notified. He will be examined as to his sanity at once.

Wisconsin Assemblymen Refuse to Reconsider Some Bills.

Madison, Wis., May 8.—Anxious to hurry the work of the senate, a majority of the assemblymen refused yesterday reconsideration of the three following important legislative questions: The Pfennig bill, to divorce control of saloons from breweries; the L. L. Johnson bill, to merge the state fire marshal's office with the state insurance department; and the Battis bill to wipe out an amendment in the Wolf river development project compelling the company to pay 1 per cent of its earnings to the state.

Under suspension of rules both houses put through the corrected Husting resolution calling upon congress to provide a method of direct election of United States senators.

The governor's veto of the Frederick bill, strengthening the law on cruelty to animals, was sustained by the assembly, 78 to 2.

Fewer Fake Doctors.

Fargo, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The pure advertising law enacted by the last legislature, coupled with the efforts of the State Medical society, has resulted in greatly reducing the number of peripatetic physicians in this state. Formerly North Dakota was a dumping ground for traveling medical fakirs, who widely advertised they could cure diseases of all nature and secured large sums from credulous people.

Mill City Youth Returned From Los Angeles on Serious Charge.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Orrin F. Rissman, 17 years old, arrived in Minneapolis from Los Angeles yesterday in charge of detectives. He is charged with forging his grandmother's name to a check for $2,000.

Young Rissman en route was the life of a party of six New York girls who had spent the winter in California. He was photographed with them individually and collectively. The detectives were lenient.

Youis Rissman was arrested three weeks ago. When arrested he had $1,600 in cash and two diamonds valued at $200.

Health and Beauty Hints

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Ethel: I am glad you like my canthrox shampoo recipe.

Bertha: You ask why a woman in the twenties gets crow's feet and wrinkles and what to do to avoid them. Ill health may cause loss of flesh and sagging of the skin which is no longer filled out by flesh, but more often they are caused by worry, deep thought, scowling or the habit of smiling. They can be quickly removed by using this stimulating vegetable jelly-cream which can be made at home at very little cost and will, while filling out the wrinkles, purge the skin of muddy spots and pimples. Get from your druggist one ounce almozoin and dissolve it in half-pint of cold water, adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand one day. Apply to wrinkled surface or entire face to prevent wrinkles and leave through night. Then wash off and use more of the jelly-cream as a massage. This treatment will remove the most obstinate wrinkles or finest crow's feet, while toning the skin to a velvety texture. It is greaseless and does not grow hair.

M. W.: Worry will not remove the fuzz from your chin. Get a small, original package of delatone and with water mix into a paste enough of the powder to cover the hairy surface. Apply and after 2 to 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the fuzz is gone. This is a harmless method and does not discolor the skin. Be certain it is delatone you get.

Myra: Thick, glossy eyebrows add greatly to beauty. Get a small, original package pyroxin and rub some on eyebrows frequently with forefinger. This produces the desired effect. To make eyelashes long, silky and curly, apply pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. Be cautious and don't get any where no hair is wanted.

Lucile: Face-lotions or washes are to be preferred to ordinary face-powders. Your sallow, dark and oily skin can be made white and more youthful if you will use this recipe: To a half-pint of hot water or witch hazel and 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine add 4 ounces of spurmax, let stand until cold. Apply to the hands and face with the palm of the hand and continue rubbing the skin while so applied until dry. This is a beautifier that wears on seems part of the skin, and gives it a velvety appearance.

Blandy: If your eyes feel tired and are dull and inflamed, you need an eyetonic. Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of water. One or two drops of this in each eye every day is all that is needed to strengthen your eyes and make them bright and sparkling. This tonic will not smart or burn and is a great aid to those who wear glasses. It makes the eyes appear brilliant and full of expression. A friend of mine, who is on the stage, tells me she keeps her much-admired eyes beautiful by using this tonic. I find it very strengthening to weak, inflamed, dull and tired eyes and for granulated eyelids.

Grace: Yours is only a spring complaint. At the first signs of warm weather, "spring fever," poor appetites, pale, pimply, sallow faces and that tired, drowsy, overworked feeling remind us of the urgent need of taking preventive measures to ward off sickness and give us energy and good health. No better tonic can be had than the good old-fashioned one made at home at small cost by dissolving an ounce of kardene (which you can obtain at any drug store) in one-half pint alcohol, adding one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful before each meal will do wonders for those who feel "all gone" after the strain of winter or who feel sick and yet don't know just what's the matter.

Dorothy: You can make a fine quinine hair tonic as follows: To 1 ounce of quinzoin add ½ pint of alcohol and ½ pint of cold water; let stand until the quinzoin is dissolved. Rub in well until absorbed. This will remove dandruff and stop falling hair, relieve itching scalp, keep the scalp in healthy condition and promote the growth of hair if used once or twice a week. Shampoo the hair twice a month. (See answer to Ada J.)

Ada J.: The best and cheapest shampoo I know of is made from pure, plain canthrox. Simply dissolve a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water and stir well until all is dissolved; then proceed to shampoo by pouring it on the hair and rubbing well. This makes a fine lather which makes the head feel good, and cleans the scalp, relieves irritation and makes the hair soft and fluffy—and such a shampoo costs very little. (See answer to Dorothy for making a good hair tonic).

Mrs. T.: It is true that exercising and dieting have brought about satisfactory results to many who considered themselves too fat, but if you are so situated that you cannot take exercise and find that dieting weakens you, I would advise you to try a simple mixture of parnotis and hot water. Put 4 ounces of parnotis in 1½ pint of hot water and shake well until dissolved. Strain when cold and it is then ready for use. Take a tablespoonful 3 times a day and just before meals. This is a harmless flesh reducer.

"SCARE HEADS" FOR RESTAURANT MENUS

Typographical Error in Printing of Law Will Cause Worry.

THIS initial is the size of the type with which restaurant men must announce on their bill of fare that "oleomargarine is used in place of butter."

After looking at the letter, more than an inch high, the restaurateurs may be forgiven for worrying about the space in which to put their lists of eatables, for nearly forty letters over an inch long will take up most of the space on the average size menus. Yet that is the new law, all because of an error made by engrossing clerks during the closing days of the legislature. The bill, written by H. H. Dunn of Albert Lea, named eight-point type as the size required, which is slightly larger than the size used in The Herald. The clerk, however, multiplied the required size ten times, and now those printers who have tried say it takes three lines of the narrowest 80-point type in use, clear across a foot-wide menu, to contain the notice required under the new law.

BANKERS MEET AT CABIN ON RIVER

The Duluth Chapter of the American Institute of Bankers held a meeting and election of officers last evening at Wa-Pse-Ke cabin on Lester river, and about thirty-five attended. OPPOSED TO PLAN OF H. M. HOWELL

Capt. T. H. Pressnell of Duluth, a veteran of Gettysburg, and a member of the Minnesota Gettysburg commission, is much opposed to the proposal of Henry M. Howell of New York, also a veteran of the famous battle, to have the veterans who will gather on the old battlefield for four days beginning July 4, form as they were on the eve of the conflict fifty years ago. Capt. Pressnell takes the view that it would be unwise in view of the fact that the strain of the four days' reunion of Federal and Confederate veterans with the attendant excitement will be about all that the veterans can stand and it is feared more than some of them will be able to stand. Said Capt. Pressnell:

"Mr. Howell's proposal would be a good one under different circumstances but to have us form in line as we were before the battle and walk across the field and clasp hands with our former foes would be too much for many of the veterans. Every national encampment collects its toll in collapses and deaths due to exertion and excitement, and such a proceedure at Gettysburg would be infinitely worse. Every precaution is to be taken in the way of furnishing nurses and physicians on all the trains bearing veterans to the scene of their former glory, and in the way of furnishing hospital tents and attendants on the field.

"I would like to see the national guard and regular army troops who will be present, re-stage the scene of the battle for us so that we who took part can see what the formation looked like."

HARDER TO "HANG JURY"

After July 1 a Five-Sixths Verdict Will Be Possible.

Applies to Civil Cases After Twelve Hours' Deliberation.

The old story about the foreman of the jury ordering eleven dinners and a bale of hay will become "incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial" after July 1, so far as it applies to the local jury system.

On July 1 and new law governing jury verdicts in civil actions will go into effect, all of which means that the days of the "hung juries" are passing.

After that date, it will be no longer possible for one or two men to "sit tight" against the other nine or ten as the case may be, after the jury has been deliberating more than twelve hours.

The new law, local attorneys believe, will greatly expedite the trial of civil actions in the local courts. Instead of juries being out twenty or thirty hours, a verdict may be reached anytime after twelve hours by a five-sixths vote of the jury.

The law does not change the situation as to verdicts in criminal prosecutions. A unanimous vote of the jury is required, as under the old statutes.

The law which is known as Chapter 63, 1913 laws, reads in part as follows: "In all civil actions or proceedings in any court of record of this state after twelve hours' deliberation, the agreement of five-sixths of any jury therein shall be a sufficient and valid verdict; the deliberation of the jury shall be deemed to have commenced when the officer taking charge of the jury has been sworn, and the clerk shall enter such time in his records."

"Sec. 2. Where the verdict is agreed to by the full membership of the jury the foreman only shall sign the verdict, when less than the full number agree on the verdict the same shall be signed by all the jurors who concur therein, and the clerk of said court shall enter on his minutes the number of said jurors concurring in said verdict."

MANY SOCIALISTS GET NOMINATIONS

Fifteen Will Have Their Names on Los Angeles Ballots.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Although Job Harriman, their standard-bearer, was defeated by 781 votes for a place on the election ballot, fifteen other Socialists qualified in the primary election, which assures another warm campaign between now and June 3—the date of the city election—between Socialists and anti-Socialists.

Charles O. Morgan, Socialist candidate for city attorney, won a place on the final ballot, as did six out of seven Socialist candidates for the board of education and eight out of nine candidates for the council.

John Shenk, the municipal conference candidate for mayor, who had a long lead over his opponents, lacked more than 7,000 votes of a majority, which would have meant his election. Police Judge H. H. Rose, who will oppose him in the election, ran more than 15,000 votes behind Shenk. The complete unofficial count gave Shenk 36,381; Rose, 21,137; Harriman, 20,353.

FIND TWO "SULLYS."

Paintings By Famous American Artist Discovered in Mill City Home.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—With outlines dimmed and their surfaces darkened by the dust of many years, two pictures, believed to be the work of Thomas Sully, famous American artist, have been discovered on the wall in a room at the home of John Ferguson. Dr. Louis Kelly and Reuben H. Adams, custodians of the Walker art gallery here, after making a critical examination, declared that they are genuine "Sullys."

Mr. Ferguson at one time was employed in the Philadelphia museum of art, and acquired the picture there, more than thirty years ago.

"The pictures were painted 75 or 80 years ago, I believe," said Dr. Kelly, "from the character of the pictures, the style and the texture of the canvas, the latter giving a clew to the date of production."

GETS RELIGION; ADMITS MURDER.

Murphysboro, Ill., May 8.—A confession in the Jackson county jail here by Joe Swan has cleared up a seven-years mystery involving the robbery of the bank in the Floyd store in Vergennes and the murder of Abe Kimmel. Swan was recently arrested in Oklahoma City. He made partial admissions of his part of the robbery and shooting after joining the Salvation Army.

Kimmel lived across the alley from the bank. The night of Oct. 22, 1906, hearing unusual noises, he stepped into the alley and saw a band of robbers, who had ridden in on horseback, at work in the bank. The party escaped after robbing the bank and fatally shooting Kimmel.

Swan, in his confession, admitted he fired the shot that killed Kimmel.

SULZER TO CALL EXTRA SESSION.

Albany, N. Y., May 8.—The legislature will be ordered to reconvene in extraordinary session on Wednesday, June 18, to consider primary and other legislation. Governor Sulzer so announced at a conference called to map out plans for a campaign in favor of his state-wide direct nominations bill, which was defeated at the regular session.

DULUTHIANS APPOINTED

Wilson G. Crosby Named on the Public Education Commission.

James A. Ferguson Member of New Normal School Commission.

Among appointments announced by Governor Eberhart before leaving for the East last night were those of Wilson G. Crosby of Duluth to be a member of the public education commission and James A. Ferguson of Duluth to be a member of the commission to select a site for a new normal school in Northern Minnesota.

The public education commission is one of the most important boards created by the recent legislature. Its purpose is stated in the law as follows:

"It is the purpose, and shall be the duty, of said public education commission to make careful study and investigation of conditions in this state with respect to public education, including the public school system and public educational institutions, and the relation of the educational institutions one to another and to the public school system; to revise, collate and make a digest of all laws and decisions relating to or touching public education in this state; to recommend a general plan for the organization and administration of public education and public educational institutions. The general purpose of the commission shall be to effect economy and efficiency with respect to the several branches of public education in this state and to devise plans and make recommendations for the teaching of vocational and industrial education in the high schools of the state."

The commission is created for two years and the members will serve without compensation, receiving only their necessary expenses while on the work assigned. The commission is to report to the governor before Dec. 1, 1914, and he will submit the report to the legislature.

Mr. Crosby is a former member of the board of education of Duluth and is regarded as an authority on education matters, especially from the side of the laws and decisions affecting the educational system.

Normal Commission.

In addition to Mr. Ferguson the governor named S. B. Wilson of Mankato a member of the commission to select a normal school site. The law as passed by the legislature provides for a commission of five members to be named jointly by the governor, the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house. An agreement has been reached whereby the governor named two, one will be named by the lieutenant governor and two by the speaker.

The commission is required by the law to select a city for the location of the new normal before Oct. 1, 1913, and on the location and site being selected, the normal will be established. The location must be north of the Northern Pacific railroad line from Duluth to Moorhead and west of the St. Louis-Carlton county line. Cass Lake, Bemidji and Thief River Falls are the prominently mentioned applicants for the normal.

Among the other appointments announced at St. Paul was that of Edward Totman of Duluth to be deputy state oil inspector for St. Louis county. The appointment was made by State Oil Inspector Guy A. Eaton. Mr. Totman succeeds C. A. Graves.

Other Appointments.

Governor Eberhart left for a three weeks' trip to the East last night and before leaving made the following appointments, in addition to those of the two members of the normal commission:

Members of the minimum wage commission: Eliza M. Evans, Minneapolis, secretary; A. W. Lindeke, employer member. W. F. Houk, state labor commissioner, is ex-officio member of the committee.

Educational commission: C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, ex-officio; Wilson G. Crosby, Duluth; George A. Dutoit, Chaska; John A. Hartigan, St. Paul; L. A. Huntoon, Moorhead; Marie Loosness, Ada; W. F. Webster, Minneapolis.

Rice memorial commission: Senator Knute Nelson, Alexandria; Maurice Auerbach, Washington-St. Paul; Frederick G. Ingersoll, St. Paul.

This commission is to supervise the erection of a statue to former United States Senator Henry M. Rice to be placed in Statuary hall in the national capitol. The legislature appropriated $7,500 for this purpose. Mr. Auerbach is a son-in-law of the late senator and Mr. Ingersoll is a prominent St. Paul attorney.

The following game wardens were appointed: H. C. Eldredge, St. Cloud; Mike Loso, St. Joseph; James Yates, Aitkin, to succeed John Mattison; S. B. Oliver, Walker, to succeed J. B. Spencer; Martin Felik, Winona, to succeed H. H. Felik.

Guy A. Eaton, state oil inspector, today announced the following appointments of inspectors: Norman county—Jacob Risty, Ada, to succeed C. D. Simpson. Otter Tail and Becker counties—Martin W. Odland, Fergus Falls, to succeed L. E. Davidson, deceased. Redwood county, Henry J. West, Redwood Falls, to succeed Henry Johnson. St. Louis county, Edward Totman, Duluth, to succeed C. A. Graves.

MATCH MAKERS TALK TARIFF.

Chicago, May 8.—W. A. Fairburn of this city was elected a director and vice president of the Diamond Match company at the annual meeting of the stockholders. He succeeds R. W. Rolosson, who resigned. Other directors were re-elected. It was announced that H. C. Cranz, formerly auditor of the company, had been elected treasurer; W. C. Johnson had been named auditor, and T. J. Reynolds had been appointed manager of sales. O. C. Barber, for the first time in many years, did not attend the meeting.

Discussion of the proposed reduction in tariff on matches developed the fact that officials of the company are contemplating the necessity of extending manufacturing operations abroad, in order to meet increased competition of foreign companies.

CLIMBS TO "LIBERTY."

"Human Fly" Tries to Put His Hat on Statue's Peak.

Washington, May 8.—Rodman Law, who calls himself the "human fly," created considerable excitement at the capitol yesterday while both houses of congress were in session, by scaling the dome to place his hat on the statue of liberty. He had gotten as far as the base of the statue when a capitol policeman spied him and persuaded him to come down. Upon his promise not to attempt the feat again, Law was released.

Warner's Safe Remedies

Overworked Kidneys

When your bowels do not work properly and when your skin does not throw off the waste which it should, extra work is thrown upon your kidneys. If your kidneys are pressed beyond the limit of their capacity they fail to separate the poisonous matter and throw it off. Then the poisons enter the blood and affect the whole system, the weakened kidneys become diseased and lead to much misery and suffering that could have been avoided by taking

A TREAT FOR DULUTH HOUSEKEEPERS

Duluth housekeepers are delighted with the delicious, nut-like flavor of "Minnesota" Macaroni. Many say they never knew macaroni could taste so good and be so firm and nutritious and flavory as the "Minnesota" Macaroni, now sold by leading Duluth grocers.

There is a big difference in macaroni as sold in the stores. "Minnesota" Macaroni is made from the VERY BEST DURUM wheat with ALL the wonderfully nourishing Gluten left in. It is easily digested, very nourishing, and costs only about one cent a dish.

Try the handy "Minnesota" Cut Macaroni, which is cut into uniform pieces—it cooks more evenly and is quicker to prepare.

Woman's Realm

That the employment of a trained expert as supervisor for the playgrounds and social center work is necessary for the adequate fulfillment of that work was the subject presented to Mayor Prince yesterday afternoon by members of the Duluth Playgrounds association at their regular monthly meeting held in the city hall. The association offers to defray the expenses of assistance and equipment if the city will pay a salary of perhaps $2,000 a year.

"A director would centralize the direct the energy lying dormant in the various organizations in Duluth interested in the playground and social center work," said Eugene Van Cleef, secretary of the association, "and a director would organize the children's clubs and societies, direct the work at the playgrounds, and assist the schools in outlining schedules for social center work."

A committee consisting of G. W. C. Ross, Miss Jean Poirier and Dr. A. N. Collins, was appointed to investigate the advisability of securing the old dance hall at Lincoln park as a center for the playground work in the West end.

Dance Hall Opposition.

A resolution was adopted by the association strenuously opposing all other dance halls or rinks in parks or within 500 feet of the entrances. Municipal halls were the only ones not placed under the ban.

Mrs. Seth Marshall, Mrs. C. S. Mitchell, Dr. I. J. Murphy, Miss Katherine King, Bert Wheeler and Mrs. A. E. Walker were selected as the directors for the coming year to complete the required number of twenty. At the next meeting the directors will select officers.

Those present at the meeting were: Alfred Jaques, president; E. Van Cleff, secretary; J. R. Batchelor, A. C. Warner, A. C. Pearson, Dr. Collins, Mrs. Jenswold, Mrs. R. M. Marble, Mrs. C. A. Duncan, Mrs. S. R. Holden, Miss Poirier, Mrs. Marshall, Mr. Dinwiddie, Mr. Ross and Mayor Prince.

SOCIAL EVENING.

Pictures, Talk and Music at Bethel.

A social evening with an illustrated lecture on "The Holy Land" and music and recitations will be held at the Bethel, Mesaba avenue and West Third street, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock for the members of the Bethel Sunday school and their parents. Dr. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church will give a short talk on his trip to the Holy land and will show colored pictures with the stereopticon of scenes there. His talk on this subject and the slides are especially interesting and a treat is in store for the guests. All interested in the work of the Bethel are cordially invited to attend and the entertainment is free.

CHOOSE OFFICERS.

Woman's Auxiliary Studies Missionary Work in West.

Election of officers for next year was the chief event of the meeting of the Trinity pro-cathedral branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. E. A. Le Quesne, 4217 McCulloch street. Those chosen were: Mrs. W. E. Jones, president; Mrs. Page Morris, vice president; Mrs. Le Quesne, treasurer and Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., secretary. The resignation of Mrs. H. L. Gave as vice president was accepted with regret.

The program for the afternoon consisted of the history of the missionary work done by the Episcopal church in California, Oregon and Alaska, topics of special importance and interest being the great and noble work done by Bishop Kip, Bishop Wingfield and Dr. Breck and the wonderful progress of the church in Alaska under the influence of Bishop Rowe.

MARYLAND GIRL MARRIES COUNT

COUNTESS LEDOCHOWSKI.

Baltimore, Md., May 8.—Miss Louise Warfield, daughter of Former Governor Edwin Warfield, and Count Vladimir Ledochowski of Poland were married today at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. William A. Fletcher, rector of the Cathedral. Cardinal Gibbons was present and gave the couple his blessing.

The bride has been a visitor in Duluth and is well known in society in this city.

RUMMAGE SALE.

Women of Endion Church Will Have Charge.

The annual spring rummage sale of Endion M. E. church will be held tomorrow by women of that church at 312 West First street. An unusually fine collection of garments, furniture, books and other household articles has been arranged and fumigated and women of the various circles will be in attendance all day to help sell the goods.

"EXTREME" DANCING.

Extreme dancing is tabooed at the University of Minnesota and Lawrence Jaques, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jaques, of this city, is a member of a committee of the senior class dance committee which is working with the faculty for the suppression of objectionable features in dancing at the school.

An admission of extreme dancing at the all-university ball given by the senior class at the National Guard armory May 1 was made yesterday in a statement signed by Edgar F. Zelle, president of the senior class; David R. West and Lawrence Jaques, members of the dance committee. The statement reads in part as follows:

"Among the 300 couples who attended the dance, the dancing of about twenty-five couples was conspicuous, and not more than five couples danced in such a way as to overstep the bounds of propriety."

At further length the statement expresses the disapproval by the senior class and the student body in general of the extreme dancing that occurred at the ball.

COSTUME DANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson Hosts at Pretty Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ryerson entertained at a costume dancing party last evening at their home, 2617 East Third street. There were forty guests in quaint and fancy costumes and the evening was delightfully informal.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Rathbun, who were married in April, were pleasantly surprised last evening at their home, 1123½ East Third street, and were presented with a handsome electric light. The evening was spent in playing games and a delightful supper was served to the following:

Misses—
Olga Shalgren, Vera Skoog, Anna Rehbein, Belle Ashford, Florence Mowers, Dagny Zahl, Gudrun Zahl, Helen Proesch, Sadie Mondeau, Grace Smith, Gertrude Dickey, Elsie Pearson, Lillian Grunau, Melitta Proesch, Messrs.—
Fred Proesch, Eric Johnson, Herman Bauman, Abe Taraldson, Nick Jensen, Arthur Eisele, Ernie Lade, Peter Ekrem.

Committee Named.

Mrs. M. R. Bush, who was elected chairman of the program committee of the Lester Park Literary society at its annual meeting, has appointed as the other members of her committee, Mrs. Harriet L. Carey, Mrs. Charles Jerome and Mrs. Walter Butchart. The committee has not outlined the work for next year as yet, but will commence work on it soon.

Guild of St. James.

The Guild of St. James will meet at the Cathedral hall at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Matters of particular importance will be taken up and a large attendance is especially asked for.

Farewell Party.

Gilbert Carlton entertained last eveing at the "Co-Z" club room in honor of Arthur Lyle, who will leave in a short time for England. The room was decorated in pink and white. "Meero" was played and prizes were won by James Morgan and Miss Gertrude Ives.

Solos were given by Mr. Lyle, after which a dainty luncheon was served to the following:

Misses—
Mame Olson, Hattie Ives, Mabel Christianson, Anna Olson, Inga Bolma, Nina Lund, Alma Olson, Edla Olson, Gertrude Ives,
Messrs.—
Arthur Lyle, James Morgan, Phillip Carlson, Lloyd Simons, Everett Hasting, Donld Woodbridge, Carl Pierce, Roy Conning, Glibert Carlton.

Will Go to California.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mance have sold their home at 1632 East Superior street to Mr. and Mrs. James Wanless of 1616 East Superior street and they will make their future home in Los Angeles, Cal., where Mr. Mance is now engaged in business. Mrs. Mance is in Duluth at present at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Walker, 1621 East First street.

On Mother Love.

Mother love and sympathy and its great influence in the world was the theme of an interesting talk by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits last evening at the meeting of the Franklin Neighborhood club held at the Franklin school. "There is an old Hebrew adage," he said, "that God could not be everywhere so he made Mothers."

The speaker congratulated the club on its progressive spirit and success and a musical program by children of the school completed the program.

Central W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Central W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. building.

Lodge Affairs.

The dancing party which was to have been given last evening by the Progressive Rebekah lodge, No. 121, was postponed indefinitely on account of the death of a member, Mrs. Mary G. Cade.

* * *

Duluth hive No. 1, Ladies of the Maccabees, will meet tomorrow afternoon at Maccabee hall, 21 Lake avenue north. Plans for the rally to be held in June will be made at this time.

For Visitors.

Mrs. L. S. Newton of 102 Fourteenth avenue east entertained at two tables of bridge yesterday afternoon at her home for Mrs. C. W. Bridenthal and her sister, Mrs. W. Dempster, of Los Angeles, Cal.

Cards at Hall.

Mrs. J. B. McComb entertained the U. S. W. V. club yesterday afternoon at a five hundred party at Memorial hall, with Mrs. Richard Little winning high score. Mrs. E. E. Youngren will be hostess at the meeting of the club next Wednesday afternoon at Memorial hall.

Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haburt of 608 North Sixtieth avenue west announce the engagement of their daughter, May, to William Zimmerman of this city. The wedding will take place the latter part of this month.

Have Birthday Paty.

A large number of guests enjoyed the birthday party given last evening by the Tabernacle Society of the St. Clement's church. Palms and red roses were effectively used in decorating the hall and a pleasing program was given, part before and part after a supper which was served at long tables. A huge birthday cake lighted by one large candle was the centerpiece. Admission to the party was obtained by the payment of a penny for each year of the age of the guests.

Mrs. E. Borth and Miss Lizzie Devaney, pianists; Leroy Wade and Elmer Giratto, vocalists; and Miss Mary Shesgren, Miss Mary Anglin, Miss Louise Emerson and J. R. McKinnon, readers, furnished the program.

Carpe Diem Club.

Miss Eva Sosnosky entertained the members of the Carpe Diem club last evening at her home, 12 West Fifth street. The guests enjoyed music and dancing, after which a lunch was served.

Church Meetings.

The study class of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. L. Whipple, 1215 East Third street. Mrs. A. A. Kerr will speak on "The Social Evil" and all women of the church interested are cordially invited to attend.

* * *

The branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of Episcopal Churches of St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 with Mrs. Wellbanks, 428 East Second street.

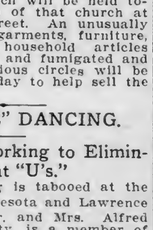
OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Pity for Those Who Must in Apartments Dwell.



It is now coming to the time of year when my heart goes out to those men and women—and especially those children who are compelled, by force of necessity, circumstances, or even preference, to live in that monstrosity of human habitations—the modern apartment house. Of course I can speak only for myself, but the apartment of today is, in one of the latest phrases, pretty much my idea of no place to live.

The apartment houses, especially the larger ones, and particularly the larger ones in the great cities, are as nearly like the habitation of the people of the stone age as I can imagine. They were the cliff dwellers of the early days, and those who live in apartment houses are the modern cliff dwellers. True the cliff home of today has some improvements that the earlier places lacked. They are not carved out of the side of a hill, nor are they caves made by nature. They are things of brick and mortar and stone, and they have electric lights and vacuum cleaners and elevators and other things that our forbears had to do without. But the principle is the same, nevertheless.

Many people, no doubt, have to live in apartments, or at least think they do. For these I have only pity. For those who prefer it, and keep on preferring it for any great length of time, my feeling is one of wonder. True, many people have never lived in any other fashion; and, having not, they know not what they have missed. But how any one who has been used to living in a real house, surrounded on all sides by God's good sunshine and air and a little patch, though ever so small, of Mother Earth, with a porch in front where one may sit and smoke and crochet, as the sex may be, is beyond me. Perhaps I have a peculiar makeup.

Apartments have advantages, no doubt, over houses. But so do hotels. When one has a house one has to look after the heat and keeping up the premises. But one having a house, has a HOME, or it is one's own fault.

It is bad enough for grown-ups to live in apartments. For children to be forced to live so for any length of time is little short of criminal in the parents. Children, like all growing things, need sunshine and light and air. Every child deserves a chance to live and grow and thrive. They cannot do so as modern "cliff dwellers."

SMART SET GASPS AT A CUBIST GOWN

Washington, May 8.—The smart set which has survived Mrs. Alice Longworth's glass heels and Count Von Bernstorff's red silk shirt succumbed when Mrs. Preston Gibson and her cubist gown, embodying all the maddest dreams of the futurist's art, burst upon the Horse Show crowd in all its dizziness.

The foundation of the gown was black and white scrolled silk, trimmed with checkerboard bands of red and black. It was made close-draped around the ankles and rose with cubist puffings all the way up to the waist.

The hat worn with this costume was of black and white scrolled straw in the same fuzzy-wuzzy design of the gown, and one light red feather was deliberately broken in the middle and bent crazily off to the side to complete the picture.

NOTES OF BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Final arrangements for the boys' department banquet tomorrow have been made and the big social event promises to eclipse all previous occasions. The following committees of women will serve the dinner: Mrs. W. J. McCabe, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, Mrs. R. E. Denfeld, Mrs. Watson S. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Whiteside, Mrs. J. L. Mullin, Mrs. A. A. Kerr, Mrs. H. V. Eva, Mrs. Henry Nolte, Mrs. J. D. Haynes, Mrs. N. D. McLeod, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. J. R. Batchelor, Mrs. W. L. Smithies, Mrs. H. F. Salyards, Mrs. L. A. Sukeforth.

The banquet will begin promptly at 6:30. H. C. Fulton will act as toastmaster and the program will open with the boys responding to the toast "Our Country," by singing one verse of the national anthem. Richard Cullum will speak on "Our Club;" Howard Sukeforth, "The Members' Part;" Charles Le Richeaux, "Summer Plans;" Edward Scriven, "The Boys' Conference;" B. C. Wade, "Other Boys;" Irving Moore, "Camp Miller;" Jacob Garon, "Athletics." Mayor W. I. Prince will be guest of honor at the banquet. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra will furnish the music and there will be a reading by Miss Agnes Johnson, a song by Stanley Lamb and a musical trio by Maurice and Henry Lavick and Miss Dorothy Close. There will also be moving pictures and presentation of the hustler emblems and medals.

CROOKSTON SPEEDER RELEASED ON BAIL.

Crookston, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto Kilen, who was arrested for speeding when he took a flyer through the plate glass front of Olds garage and was sentenced to thirty days in jail, spent a part of yesterday in jail, having taken an appeal from municipal court to the district court and being released on a $200 bond pending the appeal. As he entered a plea of guilty it is not believed the appeal will be allowed, as excessive punishment can be the only grounds, barring ignorance of what the penalty was. Kilen having exected to get off with a fine, upon which an appeal could be based. It is not believed that Judge Watts will interfere with the jail sentence.

IS RETURNING FROM WINTER IN FLORIDA.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 8.—E. B. Hawkins of Duluth is in Washington for a day or two on his way home from Florida, where he has been spending the winter.

Refuse to Praise Works.

Sacramento, Cal., May 8.—The senate voted down late a resolution presented by Senator Sanford, Democratic national committeeman from California, commending United States Senator John Works for his advocacy of a single six-year term for presidents. Six Democratic and one Taft Republican senator supported the resolution, while the entire Progressive majority in the senate voted against it. Senator Works was elected as a Progressive.

NEW DULUTH COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

E. E. MARTELL, President.

D. J. KULASZEWICZ, Secretary.

U. C. TOWER, Chairman, General Committee.

The third annual banquet of the New Duluth Commercial club will be held this evening at the Kulaszewicz hall. The complete details for New Duluth's most important social affair have been completed and a program on which some of Duluth's best speakers will appear has been prepared.

The committee has arranged to take the Duluth contingent to the affair by means of a special train to the suburb on the Northern Pacific. This train will leave the Union depot at 6:30 o'clock this evening and the West Duluth station at 6:45 o'clock. It will arrive at New Duluth at 7:10 o'clock. The special will carry the visitors back to the city arriving at the Union depot at about midnight.

Among the speakers will be Mayor Prince, Bishop James McGolrick, Dr. E. M. Rastall, secretary of the Industrial bureau of the Duluth Commercial club; Julius H. Barnes and C. S. Mitchell. The musical part of the program will include vocal selections by Mrs. C. W. Peters and Capt. W. Mahon, and instrumental selections by an orchestra.

The New Duluth club was organized in the fall of 1909 and since then has taken an active part in the development and improvement of conditions in the vicinity of the suburb. E. E. Martell is president of the club and D. J. Kulaszewicz, its secretary. U. C. Tower is chairman of the general committee, which has planned the annual banquet.

BUILDING BOOM AT WEST DULUTH

Many New Homes and Business Blocks Being Erected.

Building operations in this end of the city are beginning to assume big proportions. The building is not only that of additional industries but substantial homes and business blocks.

O. T. Strand, clothing merchant on Central avenue, will erect a one-story brick at 228 North Central avenue. The building will have a 25-foot frontage and be eighty feet deep. It will have a full basement. The cost is estimated at $6,000.

Charles Korth has plans out for a handsome brick residence to be constructed on the south side of Roosevelt street at the corner of Fifty-first avenue. The building will have eight rooms finished in hardwood, a full basement, be equipped with hot water heat and all modern conveniences. The cost of the home will be about $7,000. The contractors are working on bids for the job.

The Pillatrault building at 5411 Ramsey street is being rapidly pushed. The superstructure is being erected. The building has a 25-foot frontage on the street and will be sixty-five feet deep. It will cost about $6,000.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Colonial theater building at 321, 323 and 325 North Central avenue. The foundation will be completed within another week. It is planned to have the building completed Aug. 1. It will cost $30,000.

IS DANGEROUS TO PASSENGERS

Platform on Each Side of Track Needed at New Station.

Residents of West Duluth who have been watching the progress of the construction of the new Canadian Northern station at Central and Grand avenues say that the road will have to provide a platform for passengers on the south side of the track as well as the one on the north side. It is claimed that the road has not made any provision for this work.

A business man said yesterday that the state law requires that this provision be made in order to safeguard passengers who might by accident step off on the wrong side of the train. If passengers should do this and have no platform to step on it would mean that they would have a drop of thirty feet to the pavement which would probably result in death or serious injury.

A platform 500 feet long is being built on the north side of the tracks. E. J. Zauft, who has the contract for constructing the depot is also building the platform. It is expected that the depot will be completed by June 1, at which time it is intimated that the first regular passenger trains will be run through this end of the city.

PREPARING SITE FOR COAL DOCK

Pile Driver at Work and Dredging Will Begin Soon.

Construction work on the Berwind Coal company's dock on Grassy point between the Northern Pacific railroad and the Alger-Smith sawmill will be in full swing next week. Pile drivers are already on the property driving piles for the crib work and a sandsucker dredge will begin digging a channel to the place within a few days.

The dredging will, it is estimated, take all summer. The sand will be deposited on the site and used for filling in the location. The site largely constitutes swampy land and will require a large amount of sand for filling.

The Great Lakes Dredge company which has the contract has one dipper dredge working on the place at this time. The hydraulic dredge will start next week. About 1,000,000 yards of dirt will be removed from the channel leading to the place.

A great deal of dock work will be done in West Duluth this season. The Zenith Dredge company is completing the dredging in the vicinity of the Island Creek Coal dock. The company has about half a million yards to move. A hydraulic dredge is doing the work. Similar work will start next week at the Canadian Northern dock at the foot of Forty-eighth avenue west.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO ASSAULT CHARGE.

Charles Anderson, who was arrested some time ago on a charge of assault on Alderic Paquin, following a family quarrel, pleaded not guilty this morning in Judge Lanners' court. The hearing was set for this afternoon.

Anderson's arrest followed the arrest of Paquin, who was alleged to have assaulted Anderson with a knife and cut Anderson's arm. The fight is said to have resulted from a family quarrel in which the Paquin family and the Dellbern family on Fifty-second avenue and Wadena street were implicated. Anderson resides at the Dellbern home.

CITY WILL SET THE EXAMPLE

Will Install Sanitary Drinking Fountains in All Public Buildings.

The common drinking cup, prolific spreader of disease, is to be tabooed in Duluth on and after July 1, next.

Acting under the authority of the new state law, Commissioner Hicken of the public safety division has directed Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, to have them removed from all public buildings, department stores and lodging houses.

The danger of the drinking cup is now so well understood that little difficulty is anticipated in securing complete compliance with the wishes of the city authorities in this respect. Medical men state that the drinking cups spread more germs than any other single medium and for that reason declare that their use should be entirely discontinued.

Commissioner Hicken states that the city will set the first example. Under his orders the use of the cups is to be stopped in all the fire halls and the police station. They will be replaced with the sanitary drinking fountains. It is now possible to secure sanitary drinking attachments for fixtures which are already installed, which will bring the cost down to a small figure. In the city hall at least two fountains will be installed and it will only be a short time before the drinking cup is a thing of the past in all institutions owned or controlled by the city.

DOG CATCHER MAY BE EMPLOYED

City Will Enforce Collection of the Dog Tax This Year.

The matter of collecting dog license is receiving much consideration from city officials. For several years past the enforcement of the ordinance has been little better than a joke, less than 1,000 dogs being tagged. The city has several times that number of canines.

It appears probable that a dog catcher will be put on the job with instructions to put out of existence all dogs which are not licensed. This will reduce the numbers of stray dogs and bring more money into the city treasury. There is little doubt that the additional receipts would more than pay the cost of the dog catcher.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR EARNINGS INCREASING.

Gross passenger earnings of the Duluth-Superior Traction company have been increasing at a satisfactory rate so far this year. For April they were $99,573, against $90,303 in April, 1912. For the first four months of 1913 earnings were $373,262 against $348,181 in the same period of 1912, an increase of $25,080.

COMMON SENSE WILL BE MOTTO

Commissioner Wants Reasonable Regulations for Dance Halls.

Common sense is to govern the policy of Commissioner Hicken in the regulation of dance halls and that this may be done the present ordinance will probably be amended.

As it now reads the ordinance makes it unlawful for any person, male or female, to attend a public dance, no matter under whose auspices it may be given or how carefully it is conducted. A father cannot legally take his daughter to a dance unless she is 21 years old, as the ordinance now reads. The age limit will likely be amended to 18 years for persons of the feminine gender and a number of other changes of a minor nature will probably be made.

The last legislature passed a state law governing dance halls but practically all of its provisions are now incorporated in the ordinance, generally considered one of the best in existence.

CASS LAKE DEALS.

Homestead Traded for Town Property and Other Transactions.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. L. Carlton has sold his homestead on Little Wolf lake, two miles west of Cass Lake for $40 per acre. Mr. Carlton will live in town in the future. He took in Mr. Kennedy's town house and lot on the deal.

CLOQUET CHURCH MEET.

Annual Election of First Presbyterian Congregation Is Held.

Cloquet, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church, of which, Rev. C. W. Lowrie is pastor, was held in the parlors of the church Tuesday evening with a large attendance of members.

J. C. Campbell was chosen moderator; R. M. Weyerhaeuser, Huntington Taylor and Dr. James Fleming were re-elected to the board of trustees, and L. A. Fauley was elected to the same board. E. S. Davis, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. was elected to active membership in the session of the church.

The reports of the various departments showed the church to be in the most prosperous condition in its history, both socially and financially. New methods of church finance have been introduced and in the report of the trustees it was recommended that the pastor's salary be increased substantially.

Delightful musical selections were rendered by Miss Gladys Buck and Prof. C. E. Blume. Talks were given by Miss Riley, Miss McNitt, Mrs. S. L. Coy, Mrs. H. W. Mixsell, Huntington Taylor and S. L. Coy.

ENGLISHMAN HAS STUDENTS' JEWELRY

Hanna and Armour Youths Among Victims—Briton May Be Deported.

Philadelphia, May 8.—A well-dressed Englishman who had in his possession jewelry belonging to Andover, Mass., students, and who claims to be William E. Wellington of London, is being held at the government immigration station at this port pending the determination of an investigation whether he can be deported on the ground that he is insane. Wellington was a patient at a West Philadelphia insane asylum, where he was being treated as a "free" case.

An investigation of his belongings showed that they consisted of costly clothing, jewelry and finely bound books. Andover reported that other things, including jewelry owned by Dan Hanna, grandson of the late Mark Hanna, were missing.

Wellington was wearing the scarfpin and cuff links of D. O. Armour, said to be a member of a Western family, when he arrived at the hospital. It is said he admitted having stolen them. Both Hanna and Armour are attending the Phillips academy at Andover.

Wellington, it was learned, was deported to England in May, 1912.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON MAY 11.

Genesis xli, 25-40: Joseph Made Ruler of Egypt.

CONNECTION.

Joseph spent two years more in prison after the chief butler was released. The latter forgot him. That he should have been forgotten and that his own dreams should have been unfulfilled may have disappointed but did not discourage him. He kept right on in his cheerful and faithful and kindly way. At last the release came and came at the right time. Had he been released sooner there would have been no place for him but in slavery and obscurity. Perhaps also his patience and self-command needed a little more training as well as his sense of responsibility to God. He must have known he was an unusual man and was so regarded. When a man sees the world wonder at his greatness it will have one of two effects on him—either he will pander to that wonder and become artificial, strained, self-seeking and superficial, or he will be 'awed and steadied.' After showing his power in interpreting the dreams he has time to reflect and grow humble and dependent on God again. But the time has come for his release, and the chief butler at last remembers him when Pharaoh has a dream which none of his wise men can interpret. At the suggestion of the butler, Joseph is sent for, the dream is explained and our lesson tells how well he did it.

THE LESSON.

I.

Interpreting Pharaoh's Dream. 25-32.

"And Joseph said unto Pharaoh, the dream of Pharaoh is one: what God is about to do He hath declared unto Pharaoh. The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years; the dream is one. And the seven lean and ill-favored kine that came up after them are seven years, and also the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind; they shall be seven years of famine. That is the thing which I spake unto Pharaoh: what God is about to do He hath showed unto Pharaoh. Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt: and there shall arise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land; and the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine which followeth; for it shall be very grievous. And for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh, it is because the thing is established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass."

1. VICTORY.—At every step Joseph was the victor. In prison he controlled all things; at the right moment for him and for others he is delivered; he is prepared to act after his long and varied experience; he is ready to give all needed assistance to any one; he has the air of leadership and power even in prison and distress. The tide turns, as it always does when we have the Master at the helm.

2. PROVIDENCE.—It was wise that God forecast His purpose by dreams, as that suited the Oriental mind. God would probably prepare us for the future in another way. We need not consider whether the famine that was to come was planned, though it looks as if it was, but we simply know God knew it was coming and got the people ready to endure and profit by it. The two dreams were two different ways of saying that the seven years of plenty would be eaten up by the seven years of famine. This plague would be most awful for Egypt because that was all she produced and that was her specialty. It was to be a widespread famine. God prepares them in two ways, tells them of it and gives seven years of abundance. He prepares us for exigencies in the same ways, though He simply tells us that emergencies are coming and we have learned to be ready. The famine shall be both widespread and thorough, the double form of the dream emphasizing it.

II.

Outlining a Policy to Pharaoh. 33-36.

"Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt. Let Pharaoh do this, and let him appoint overseers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plenteous years. And let them gather all the food of these good years that come, and lay up grain under the hand of Pharaoh for food in the cities, and let them keep it. And the food shall be for a store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine."

1. MANAGEMENT.—Joseph was a born leader of men and he was a manager, as was his father and his grandmother, Rebeka, and his mother and her people. He saw at once what was to be done. It was a native gift. But there was something more. The wisdom that came to him from above, with which he saw the meaning of the dream, clarified and guided his mind in the suggestion of what was to be done. God worked through his native gifts and gave him the key to the future. The plan was simple—to save up all during the years of plenty in order to be ready for the famine.

2. METHOD.—In order that all the people be ready it was necessary that the government take it up and do it by a clear, consistent and persistent method, as nothing does itself. That method was to prevent waste during the years of plenty, lay it up in convenient places, and most of all to put a man at the head of the business who would be on the job every day for seven years, never relaxing his purpose when there was plenty and able to meet the sarcasm of the skeptical. The most important thing is to find the man.

Rewarded and Honored by Pharaoh.—37-40.

"And the thing was good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants. And Pharaoh said unto his servants, can we find such a one as this, a man in whom the spirit of God is? And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, forasmuch as God hath showed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou; thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled; only in the throne will I be greater than thou."

1. THE LOGIC.—The logic of it was that the man who was capable of forecasting the famine and outlining such a policy was the man to carry it out. Let us say that there were three arguments in favor of appointing Joseph—his character for wisdom, altruism and fidelity; his experience in handling people, for which he already had some reputation; the evident fact that the spirit of God was in him giving wisdom and goodness. It is much to the king's credit that he thought most of the latter reason for the appointment. Joseph was much surprised. He never imagined he would be chosen—he a hated Hebrew, a slave, inexperienced in affairs of state, his very fidelity to his God likely to arouse too much prejudice for such a promotion. Pharaoh may have had a mingled motive, not only a desire to have the favorite of the gods, but possibly to get rid of care and to have it done well and to annoy some of the older counselors by putting this young foreigner over them.

2. EXALTATION.—It was great and it was manifold. He was put over the palace and over all the courtiers, next to the king; his word was to be authoritative over the whole land of Egypt; he was to have the insignia of royalty, with the king's seal ring to stamp all documents with royal authority; he wore royal robes; had a new exalted name; was given a wife of the highest status. His vindication and reward are complete.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The best day for Egypt was the day the Ishmaelites bought Joseph for the slave market of Egypt. The best thing Pharaoh ever did was to put Joseph over the whole land. We are struck with the ease and dignity and self-confidence with which Joseph always acted and spoke. It was due to three things—his inborn power and sense of leadership; his conviction that God was leading him into every act and would support him; the experience of capacity is abundantly present, and a facility equal to Joseph's in dealing with foreigners, and there is also a certain grace or nobility in the Jewish vizier; but Joseph had a surplus of peculiar result of civilizing influences, knowledge of history; familiarity with foreign races and hereditary dignity. In David we find a similar flexibility and grace of character and a similar personal superiority. We find the same bright and humorous disposition helping him to play the man in adverse circumstances; but we miss in David Joseph's self-control and incorruptible purity, as we also miss something of his capacity for difficult affairs of state.—Dods.

Joseph was released, his merits recognized, and almost regal dignity conferred upon him. Whereupon we say, 'Now all is right; merit has its reward, and with this poetical justice we are satisfied.' But this is not the justice of God's world. Are these, then, the rewards of well doing—horses and carriages, the royal robe and the knee bowed before him? Is it with these things, quite earthly, that the everlasting rewards celestial qualities? Neither in this world nor in the world to come are these the rewards of goodness.—Robertson.

SENATE PASSES THE SUNDRY CIVIL BILL

Refuses to Throw Out Exemption of Labor Unions From Prosecution.

Washington, May 8.—By a vote of 41 to 32, the senate last night refused to accept an amendment to the sundry civil bill by Senator Gallinger, striking out a clause exempting labor and farmers' organizations from prosecution under the anti-trust law with funds appropriated by the bill.

Three Republican senators, Jones, La Follette and Norris, voted with the Democrats against the Gallinger amendment, and two Democrats, Pomerene and Thomas, joined the Republicans in supporting it. The bill itself, carrying about $117,000,000, finally was passed by a viva voce vote with only one minor committee amendment. It will be sent to conference probably on Friday, and should be ready for President Wilson's consideration next week. Friends of the president believe he will sign it.

Cummins Asks Separate Bill.

During the debate Senator Cummins made an effort to have congress take up the question of exempting labor and farmers' organizations from the Sherman act, directly, and not by legislation in an appropriation bill. He moved that consideration of the sundry civil bill be suspended until May 17, that the senate interstate commerce committee be directed to report on the advisability of such exemptions, and that, if found advisable, it should accompany its report with a bill for that purpose.

On motion of Senator Martin, the Cummins proposal was laid on the table, and several minor amendments proposed were beaten by a loud chorus of "noes" and without requiring record votes. Before the final vote was taken, the senate spent three days in debate on the labor clause and scores of senators spoke on the subject. Speeches on the Republican side, indicating an apparent willingness to see the Sherman law amended and made more specific, may lessen the difficulties of President Wilson in putting through his reported plan for changes in this law.

NEGRO WHO CAUSED RIOT PARDONED.

Columbus, Ohio, May 8.—Louis H. Peck, the negro who caused the Akron riot, during which two persons were killed and the city hall dynamited and burned, and who was serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for an alleged assault upon a 6-year-old white girl, has been pardoned by Governor Cox. No reason was given for the pardon.

Von Klein Gets Delay.

Chicago, May 8.—A postponement till May 15 of the hearing of Edmund E. C. von Klein of Minneapolis, charged with swindling Miss Ethel Newcomb of Fort Wayne, Ind., by means of a spurious marriage, has been ordered. The hearing will be in habeas corpus proceedings instituted by the defendant.

Hilles Calls G. O. P.

New York, May 9.—The first meeting of the executive committee of the national Republican committee to be held since the November election was set today for May 24 at Washington in a call sent out by Chairman D. Hilles, the national committee chairman.

MONEY WILL BE RELEASED

Secretary McAdoo's Treasury Funds Proposition Is Cordially Welcomed.

Money Not to Be Locked Up in the Treasury Vaults.

"Holland" writes from New York: Publicly reported opinions of a few bankers in this city, based upon the announcement that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will transfer $10,000,000 from the Federal treasury to the banks of this country and will hereafter exact interest of 2 per cent upon all government deposits, seemed to express surprise that this action should have been taken at this time. It has become known, however, that many of the national banks of the United States will gladly receive and are in fact seeking Federal deposits upon the terms announced by Mr. McAdoo.

One of the influential officers of the American Bankers' association said yesterday that there is not the slightest doubt that the proposition of Secretary McAdoo is cordially welcomed.

At least 500 national banks are understood to have made applications to the treasury department at Washington within a few months for deposits of government funds.

It has not been found practicable to accept all of these propositions. Yet the action of Secretary McAdoo is thought by prominent bankers to point to renewed deposits of government funds with national banks and continued renewals of deposits until, at least, the greater part of the funds which have hitherto been held by the treasury department almost sequestered, certainly lying idle, will be replaced proportionately upon deposit with many of the national banks of the country.

Purpose Not Surprising.

Those in this city who were associated with Secretary McAdoo in important financing recently and who knew something of the skillful manner in which he and his associates surmounted the difficulties occasioned by the panic of 1907 are not astonished that almost the first official announcement made by Secretary McAdoo should have revealed his purpose to transfer from the department to the national banks large amounts of treasury funds.

Mr. McAdoo's friends say that he has been for some years numbered among those who believe that nothing can justify the withholding from public use of enormous amounts of money which have been held by the treasury department. No important commercial nation except the United States would think for an instant of locking up in the treasury vaults vast amounts of funds collected in the form of taxation from the people.

Furthermore, some suggestions attributed to Mr. McAdoo a year or so ago justify the inference that he is of the opinion that one of the most important of the reforms in our banking and currency methods is that which would release to the people the money which they pay into the treasury department in the form of taxes.

An Important Reform.

It has long been the opinion of the men who have been carefully studying our banks and currency system with intent to discover what its defects are and how they may be cured that, first of all, there should be legislation which would prevent the miserly holding of vast amounts of funds in the treasury department. Secretary McAdoo seems to have undertaken to establish a reform of this kind under his discretionary powers. For if he gradually but steadily deposits more and more of treasury funds in the national banks there is no reason to suppose that any one of his successors would change this policy.

NATIONAL BOXING CHAMPIONS SELECTED

Amateurs From All Parts of Country Hold Tournament in Boston.

Boston, May 8.—National amateur boxing championships in eight events were decided in the annual title tournament which was finished last night. Two champions renewed their honors. Of the eight titles four were captured by Greater Boston boys, two went to New Yorkers, and another to Pawtucket, R. I. Only one championship was taken to Canada by the challenging delegation from the Dominion and half a dozen New Orleans boxers returned home without a prize.

108-pound class—Barney Snyder, Boston.

115-pound class—Thomas L. Reagan, Boston, present champion.

Heavyweight class—Alfred L. Beich, New York.

Final honors in the latter class went to Reich by default, after he had convincingly demonstrated his prowess in the semi-finals by forcing Robert McEachern, a Boston police officer to the mat in one round. Reich regarded as of "white hope" caliber, was to have met William F. May, a sailor, in the final bout, but May who had been defeated in the 175-pound class, injured his hand in winning his semi-final in the heavyweight class.

E. Koerthe of New York battled National Champion Reagan so hard in the 115-pound class that the referee ordered an extra round. The judges disagreed and the referee then was called upon to decide. He named Reagan as the winner.

In the semi-finals 135-pound class, Mike Sullivan of Boston defeated William Sehrt, Young Men's Gym club, New Orleans, in three rounds.

Summaries finals:

125-pound class: W. Hitchen, Toronto, stopped Walter Ridge, Brockton, one round.

158-pound class: William Barrett, Harlem, N. Y., stopped B. A. Lavelle, Boston, one round.

In the heavyweight class Alfred J. Rich, Irish-American A. C., New York, won through default from William F. May, U. S. N., who had injured his hand.

UNCLE SAM BUYS

About 93,000 Acres of Land for Forest Reserve Secured.

Washington, May 8.—Approximately 93,000 acres of mountain land in Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina and West Virginia has been approved for purchase by the national forest reserve commission. This will make almost 600,000 acres bought by the government up to date for the Appalachian and White Mountain forest reservation.

The largest of this new group of tracts comprises forty-six tracts containing 36,400 acres in the Massanutten region in Page, Warren and Shenandoah counties, Virginia, the present purchase practically rounding out what the government needs of the section. In the Potomac purchase, a group of thirty-two tracts totalling 32,660 acres in Frederick and Shenandoah counties, Virginia and Hardy county, West Virginia, was approved, about half of which adjoins lands already bought.

In the Nantahala purchase area in Mason county, North Carolina, thirty-one tracts containing 5,465 acres, was approved, filling out tracts previously secured there. The only purchase in a new area was in Unicoi county, Tennessee, where control of the watersheds, it is said, will benefit the Tennessee river. The six tracts now bought contain 16,460 acres.

Money already has been appropriated sufficient for the purchase of about 1,000,000 acres of eastern mountain land although it is estimated that eventually the purchases needed to protect the Appalachian and White mountain watersheds will total about 5,000,000 acres.

Studebaker

"Nearly all those Wagons and Buggies are Studebakers"

Every year over one hundred thousand Studebaker vehicles are sold.

This appreciation has been constantly growing for sixty years.

This appreciation has been earned by the determination of Studebaker to produce an honestly built wagon that will do a full day's work and keep on doing it, and not to build a cheap one.

The man who buys the Studebaker gets all the improvements gained by the experience of two generations of wagon builders.

Farm Wagons, Dump Wagons, Business Wagons; Trucks, Buggies, Pony Carts; Delivery Wagons, Surreys, Harness

THE PROBLEM OF CUT-OVER LANDS.

Now that legislative reapportionment has come about, and the northern part of the state has its just share of representation in the legislature, the next step to be taken through the legislature is to devise some means of preparing handicapped land for agricultural use. Fair and proportionate representation will make that problem easier than it has been.

Underlying the brush and stumps of the cut-over lands of Northern Minnesota is a soil as rich and fruitful as any on earth—a soil literally composed of leaf mold, for which you pay high prices by the bushel when you buy it of florists for flower pots.

That soil is not available until the land is cleared, and this costs all the way from $15 to $50 an acre. If it could be done in large contracts it could be done cheaper, of course.

The problem is to get this land cleared and available for use, and money put into that work will yield profits amounting to several times the investment.

The state owns millions of acres, and if it could be induced to clear a part of each tract, working out from community settlements, it would benefit enormously, both directly through the enhanced value of the lands and indirectly through a vast increase in population and productiveness.

The state of Washington has just enacted a law to this end which should interest Minnesota. It provides for clearing "logged off" lands, as they call them out there, through public agencies.

Ten per cent of the voters of a district, which may be a county or a smaller area, can bring about an election on the question whether an agricultural development district shall be created. If the voters approve, the district is created and three development commissioners are elected, to serve without pay and to manage the affairs of the district.

The commissioners, after a study of the district, are to issue bonds to pay the cost of such clearing as may be deemed necessary and wise, and to pay the principal and interest on these bonds taxes are to be levied on the district just as other taxes are levied. The Spokane Spokesman-Review, which furnishes us these details, does not disclose whether the tax applies generally, or only to the lands directly benefited. Properly, of course, it should apply only to the lands improved, and it should apply to them without regard to whether they are owned by the state or by individuals.

The law provides that state, county or municipal funds may be invested in these improvement bonds, thus creating a ready market for them.

Incidentally, the law gives the commissioners power to aid settlers in producing and marketing their crops.

This is a constructively progressive law, and Minnesota needs something like it.

The real test of nerve in Washington is to ask W. J. Bryan if he enjoyed his trip to the West coast.

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED."

For years an utterance by the late William H. Vanderbilt, then head of the New York Central railroad, has been taken as illustrating the old attitude of the masters of industry toward the people.

"The public be damned," said Vanderbilt; and by putting in a phrase the position of mastery which the old magnates claimed, probably he did as much as any other man to end that mastery.

The Wall Street Journal, at this late date, tells the story of how that remark happened to be made, and shows that it really wasn't so bad as it sounded.

The story is—from sources friendly to the Vanderbilts, of course—that a Chicago cub reporter was sent to interview Vanderbilt about the withdrawal of a fast express train which it had been operating at a heavy loss between New York and Chicago. Vanderbilt, the story goes, took some pains to explain the situation to the young man, "with extraordinary courtesy for a man so inclined to brusqueness as himself." After his statement was ended, the reporter blurted out an inquiry as to whether Vanderbilt was working for his stockholders or the public.

"The public be damned," exclaimed Mr. Vanderbilt, now thoroughly angry. "If the public wants that train why don't they support it?"

Maybe that's a little milder than the story that has been current for many years, but not a great deal.

And however it was said, and whatever was said, the old version truly represented the old attitude of the "magnates" toward the people upon whom they lived and waxed fat.

They were usually more careful than Vanderbilt about giving voice to it, but they had the public-be-damned mental attitude, just the same.

That they have it no longer is a matter of compulsion. The people not only refused to be damned by railroad and industrial magnates, but they insisted that these magnates shall be the people's servants, not the people's masters. Which is right.

Mrs. Belmont predicts the use of militant tactics by the suffragists of the United States. It is to be hoped that Mrs. Belmont is wrong for once.

TIDYING UP THE CITY.

It wasn't "clean-up" day. It's "clean-up" week.

So if you haven't yet done all your share toward making Duluth clean and bright and sightly, there's time yet. The week is still young.

And even if you don't finish this week, you will soon, anyway—immediately after the health inspectors get around and discover that you haven't kept pace with your neighbors.

But it's much nicer to do it now when the rest are doing it, and because you want to rather than because you have to.

Seems as if the French could make a killing by establishing gasoline stations along the border to supply wandering German airships.

THE "FULL CREW" BILL.

The "full crew" bill, which was before most of the legislatures sitting last winter, passed in several states. It failed of passage in Minnesota.

Now it is to be tried out, in one state in the courts and in another by the referendum.

The proposal should be tested, so that the public may know all there is to know about it.

The railroads say that for the life of them they don't know what they could find for the extra men to do.

The public wants the right thing done, and only the right thing. If this bill is merely a device to give employment to men who are not needed, the public, which has to foot the bill, doesn't want it. If the extra men are needed to operate trains properly and safely, the bill should become law everywhere.

But the public wants to know which is the right thing, and probably it doesn't know now.

REFORM'S ROCKY PATH.

The failure of the suffrage bill in parliament is credited to the lawless acts of the militant suffragettes.

It has been said, and well said, that the worst obstacle to Socialism is the Socialists.

And the worst thing about suffrage is the suffragette.

An Englishman has invented a lock that unlocks when you whistle. But of course you must first go through the old trouble of finding the right key.

The income tax distributes the burden of taxation according to ability to pay taxes.

There could be nothing more just than this, and that's why the opponents of the income tax are having such a desperately hard time finding arguments against it.

One of the commonest of these arguments, and beyond doubt the silliest, is that "the income tax would discourage enterprise because it exacts a portion of the fruit of effort."

Test that argument in your own mind.

If you were earning $4,000 a year, that amount being exempt from taxation under the proposed income tax bill, would you refuse to increase your earnings to $4,100 because it would mean that you would have to pay a dollar a year to the government?

If you are earning $1,200 a year, would you refuse a salary of $5,000 because it would mean that you would have to pay ten dollars a year to the government?

Would the thought that if your efforts to get ahead were successful, you would have to pay the government one dollar in each hundred over $4,000 a year, cause you to abandon those efforts?

Would you refuse even an income of $50,000 a year, because you would have to pay one per cent on $16,000 of it and two per cent on $30,000 of it, or $760 a year?

If you would do any of these things, or if, in short, you would let the fear of parting with one per cent cause you to refuse to receive ninety-nine per cent, you are a peculiar individual indeed.

Besides, even if this were a valid argument, it applies no more to the income tax than it does to any other kind of tax.

The tariff classes drum heads as "musical instruments." Classification of bone heads will be delayed pending the inquiry as to whether there is a baseball trust.

"THE WISCONSIN LAW."

Amendments to the Wisconsin workingmen's compensation act, about to be adopted, wipe out the defense of contributory negligence and put all employers under the law unless they deliberately elect to stay out.

These provisions are in the new Minnesota law, and were in it all the time.

Yet there were those who wanted to substitute the old Wisconsin law for the Minnesota bill, who demanded it as spokesmen for labor, and who declared that all who voted against the substitution were traitors to labor.

These self-styled spokesmen for labor, then, were advocating a law less favorable to labor than the law they were opposing.

Odd, isn't it?

There's really no sound economy in wishing for a million dollars when it's just as easy and effective to wish for two millions.

WANTS UNITED STATES TO RECOGNIZE HUERTA.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Theodore Roosevelt has said of President Wilson: "It's his day and opportunity. Let us give him a chance to make good." That's a fair attitude, a patriotic attitude, and it expresses exactly the sentiment of the American people.

The newspapers seem to me to show none of this square-deal spirit in their comments on the present government of Mexico. Instead of "Give Huerta a chance to pacify the country and restore prosperity," they cry: "Down with the assassin! No quarter for the traitor!"

The may not utter this in so many words, but they express the same thing by featuring news stories and editorials showing all the destructive forces at work in the Mexican republic, ignoring the constructive work projected and actually put in practice by the group of progressive Mexicans who form the cabinet of the soldier Huerta.

Admitted that Huerta is a soldier by nature and training and a man, like all military leaders, who believes in strong measures, to the Mexicans themselves this is not an undesirable trait in a ruler, though it might be to us of a different civilization. Furthermore, the impression is generally conveyed that he gained his ascendancy by the death of Madero and Suarez. This is not true. He was constitutionally president before their killing. Whether or not he had any part in it we do not positively know. At least he is entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The Mexican people will be satisfied with Huerta if he can accomplish the work he has set out to do. But he cannot accomplish anything without the recognition of the United States, which we withhold because of our self-satisfied judgment of his methods in getting power. Meanwhile a nation at our border suffers and by our attitude we make the day of anarchy and chaos in Mexico inevitable. Is that fair to Huerta? More than that, is it fair to 18,000,000 unfortunate people, human beings, even though not of our blood?

Please publish this as the earnest protest of one American against what seems to him a blot on our national reputation for fairness. Yours truly,

THOMAS O'HALLORAN.

Laddie.

'E's a bit of a vagabond, same as me,
'E's brother to beggars an' friend to a flea;
'E's a son of the 'ighroad, the old sea-and-sky road,
The road that leads out to the far an' the free!
'Ey say it's a wrong road—God knows it's a long road—
But Lor,' it's a song-road to Laddie an' me.

But 'e's gay as a man an' 'e's true as a woman,
An' twice 'e 'as followed me over the earth.

'E's only a dog; but 'e followed me true,
W'ich the flesh o' your flesh won't sometimes do;
We 'eld to the byways, the old sea-and-sky ways,
The ways that lead out to the gold an' the blue!
God knows 'ey were far ways—an' stranger than star-ways—
But Lor', they were our ways—so wot could we do?

The roads, 'ey are callin' us far, far away,
Tomorrow—we'll sleep in the sweet o' strange grasses,
Sleep long, an' wake slowly, as vagabonds may!

'E's a bit of vagabond, same as me,
'E's brother to beggars, an' friend to a flea;
'E's a son of the 'ighroad, the old sea-and-sky road,
The road o' strange fortune that leads to the free!
God knows it's a long road—but if it's a song-road,
It can't be the wrong road for Laddie an' me!

Vengeance on All Rats.

London Globe: A real romance of commerce is recalled by the death in America of E. S. Welles. In quite a short time he acquired a fortune through the invention of a rat poison, and the story goes that he was induced to study means of killing these pests because when a loaf of bread once stood between him and starvation it was devoured by rats.

A Lone Fisherman

By Sawyard.

Washington, May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Here is a true picture of matters and things in this town at this time. It is taken from a standpat organ and is designed as an appeal to Pharaoh of Egypt to come over to Canaan and help the mighty to strive against the Lord:

"Washington is fairly seething with tariff today. The hotels are crowded with business men from all over the country, attracted by the pendency of the tariff legislation. Wool men from as far west as Montana, fruit men from California, beet sugar men from the West and cane sugar men from the South; New England manufacturers, Southern cotton goods manufacturers, woolen men from Pennsylvania, and representatives of many interests are on the ground to look after their own."

It is the same old game—a swarm of men made rich by privilege beseeching congress to tax the people to swell their profits. They say they are engaged in business walks that cannot support themselves, and that to exist at all the taxing power must be invoked in their behalf.

* * *

Among others is that chronic beggar, the New England fishing industry. It is here clamoring for protection. It was here when the Dingley tariff was on the stocks. I then wandered into the rooms of ways and means where they were having "hearings." The late Henry G. Turner of Georgia was one of the committee, and beckoned me to him and asked me to take the seat of an absent member of the committee next him. I was afeared and hesitated, but he forced me into it and admonished me that something was going to happen that might do me good. And something did happen, of which I wrote.

It was printed in only one paper, some eighteen years ago, and that not a member of my present "syndicate," and as it is apropos I shall not hesitate to insert what I then writ of the scene.

I got into the committee room where fish was the theme of the beggars. We heard a great deal about cod, mackerel, haddock, and so forth. It stirred the blood to hear them talk of the Maine and Massachusetts fisheries as the "nurseries of the American navy." As they dilated on this story, I thought of Preble, Decatur, Stewart, Perry, McDonough, Porter, Chauncey, Truxton, and those old heroes who could have pressed a crew from the farm and fought their vessels to the water's edge. Those old salts would have scorned the patronage of these gentry.

There was a shrewd little fellow present who kept propounding questions—insolent or pertinent, as you viewed it. He was as persistent as a mosquito bent on business, with victims as thick as three in a bed. He was a Boston Yankee, who had supported himself since he was old enough to black a pair of shoes. Finally he asked permission to make a speech, and that is the inalienable right of every freeman in this broad and glorious land. Did you ever hear one of the bourgeois of New England pronounce the word "Boston?" In the last syllable the "o" is crushed by the "t" overtaking the "n." Neither of the senators can do it. "Rising Sun" Morse can't do it, for he carpet-bagged from Indiana to Norfolk county. Draper can't, for he is of the equestrian order. Old Joe Walker could do it before he got rich. Fitzgerald can't do it, for he's from Cork. Knox can't for he's an Amherst man, and Gillett can't for the same reason. Apsley is too rich for it, and Barrett is too contrary for that or anything else. McCall is a Dartmouth man. That settles him. Besides, he is a Scotch-Irishman from Pennsylvania.

Well, our little Yankee was bent on speaking, and he announced in no uncertain tones that he was the most extensive fish merchant this side of Billingsgate, certainly the most extensive on this hemisphere. The Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., knows a Tartar when he meets one in the big road, and he knows him without the formality of an introduction. Our fish merchant was a Tartar and as much a free trader as Francis Drake when that worthy harried the Spanish main. Dingley reluctantly gave him five minutes, and he said something like this:

"I am a fish merchant and my place of business is the Tate wharf, Boston. We now have a tariff of three-quarters of a cent a pound on fresh fish. How ample that protection is even Brother McKinley can realize when I say that I can send my smack out and catch cod and lay them down on Tate wharf for one-half cent a pound. I would like to see the Canadian that could drive me out of business under even the Wilson bill of three-quarters of a cent."

* * *

I was sitting next Moody, of Massachusetts, who is not a member of the committee, but the successor in congress of Gen. Coggswell from the Sixth district. Moody leaned over and whispered to Russell of Connecticut and Payne of New York: "That man is lying. You can see he is an importer and he has not a spark of patriotism." It instantly occurred to me that Dickens tells us that Pecksniff thought himself a pattern of rectitude.

Our fish merchant proceeded, and the longer he talked the hotter he got. Here is a sample, I quote from memory:

"The gentleman who last addressed you gave utterance to some poppycock about the 'nursery of the navy,' and he said Gloucester was the aforesaid nursery. So it was when our navy, of glorious memory, defied the meteor flag of England; but at this blessed moment, and for half a century, Gloucester has been the nursery of the British navy. Mr. Chairman, I am not an old man, but I recall that during the War of the Rebellion men of my class in Boston fitted out a man-of-war and sent it to Gloucester, that 'nursery of the American navy,' to be manned. How many do you think we enlisted there? Just one, and that after a six weeks' trial, during which we offered lavish bounties. We manned that vessel from the steamboatmen of the Ohio and the Mississippi—from men who would not know a bluefish from a saltwater tailor.

"Talk about nursery! You know, Mr. Chairman, that of the 75,000 fishermen on our coast of New England, 86 per cent of them are Canadians, loyal subjects of Queen Victoria, and when you put a tariff on fish—fresh, salt or cured—these are the gentry you protect. You know that, and so does the skipper who last addressed you. These Gloucester folk, who want an extra duty on Irish mackerel, pay such poor wages that a respectable American sailor will not ship with them; so they go to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and hire men at starvation wages and then they come down here and hypocritize about the 'nursery of the American navy.'"

You just ought to have seen Dingley squirm like a worm on a pin hook. Tawney asked the orator, "Who did you vote for last fall?" "I cast my first vote for James Buchanan in 1856, and I have voted for every Democratic candidate since, until I voted for McKinley, and you fellows seem to be bent on making me regret that," was the answer like a shot off a shovel. Indeed he was a Tartar. In my next I am going to tell something about a similar speech on wool.

* * *

But it was all fixed. Old "Pig Iron" Kelley and every other public man who has insisted on a protective tariff always vented a deal of cant about a "cheap breakfast table." Yet all they would admit free for it consisted of coffee, tea, and pepper. Everything else—the table, the chairs, the dishes, the cups and saucers, the spoons, the glassware, the cutlery, the table linen, the salt, the sugar, the milk and cream, the butter, the carpet for the room, was taxed to the hilt. The food—meats, game, fish, fruits—all, all, all paid tribute to the insatiate monster of protection.

Now you see in Kentucky or Tennessee, Ohio or Indiana, the farmer who kills hogs and turns them into bacon for the family supply pays tribute to the salt trust; but the fisherman of New England who goes out and makes a catch of mackerel gets his salt to cure his fish free.

* * *

A tax on fish is a tax on living. Let me tell you. The best fish in the world is an Irish or Norway mackerel caught in summer, preserved in salt, and eaten in November. Get one. It will cost you half a dollar or more. It is as fat as butter, a great big thing that weighs two pounds avoirdupois. Don't soak him in fresh water, put him in the saucepan, cover with fresh water, and boil, and with him two or three generous slices of a large onion. When done, add the juice of a large, rich lemon. Take up on a hot dish, put plenty of sweet fresh butter over the carcass, sprinkle with generous quantities of white pepper, have a corn hoecake, Kentucky style, and strong coffee. Then fall to.

And men who know from experience have told me it is the best thing for "next morning" ever ordered.

And they insist on a tax on that! The monsters!

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

The Day of the Bottle.

Mankato Free Press: The bibulous fellows are going around Duluth on Sunday with their "parched tongues hanging out." The new "lid" is fitted on tight.

Looking to Duluth.

Crosby Crucible: In one of our recent editorial flights we stated that Duluth was the first city in Minnesota to adopt the commission form of government, and right there we demonstrated most conclusively that no matter how danged smart a country editor may be, or thinks he is, there are a heap of things he don't know, and they crop out at about the time he thinks he knows 'most everything worth knowing.

Of course, every feller caught at it has some excuse to offer, and this is ours: We have lived the other side of Duluth so long, where the rest of the state was shut off from us, that we had kind o' grown into the habit of thinking that Duluth is about the only place in Minnesota worth mentioning. We didn't do that from choice, understand—but because Duluth is the hull pumpkin in that neck o' the woods where we hibernate most of the time, and it makes so much noise about itself and so little about other men's towns that we, just naturally slidin' along, easy like, had come to look to Duluth for about everything—except sympathy and inspiration.

Good Company.

Sauk Center Herald: The state press is divided in opinion relative to the veto of the bills in question. The leading Democratic newspaper of the state, The Duluth Herald, gives the governor its unqualified indorsement. The Sauk Center Herald, an independent newspaper free to criticize or commend without regard to party affiliations, is not ashamed to keep company in this matter with its big brother.

Disapproved.

Biwabik Times: That commission government is running wild in Duluth. Just watch about two or three of the commissioners face recall within six months. America at heart is not in favor of restrictive laws, and will eventually outgrow many of the laws now on the books.

Credit Where Due.

Wadena Pioneer-Journal: The Duluth Herald, which has been one of the most insistent and persistent opponents of Governor Eberhart, came to the front manfully and declared that the governor did the right thing when he vetoed the Nolan and Minette bills. The Herald, in common with many others who want genuine reforms, believes that the only way to regulate public utility companies is under a state law which will leave no loophole of a legal nature through which they may contest and which will treat them all with equal fairness.

War Against Vice.

Little Falls Transcript: Duluth is issuing strict orders regarding its saloons and pools halls, through its commissioner of public safety. Every establishment licensed by the city must show a clean bill of health. Protection is for those only who obey the law and no licenses will be issued to the unfit saloons. Pool rooms whose environment is unsavory will also not be tolerated. In places where violations are known to occur, even though the police are unable to catch the offenders in direct acts of violation, no license will be issued at the expiration of the present one. In all the land in the large centers of population as well as the small, the war against vice is actively waged.

Great Change.

Fairmont Sentinel: The Sunday and 11 o'clock lids are clamped down tight in Duluth. What a change. Only two or three years ago the front doors of Zenith City booze joints were without locks or bolts.

Preventing Nightmare.

Mankato Free Press: Duluth's new council is going to conduct the city on a cash basis. No more bills piling up to give the taxpayers a nightmare.

Not a Bachelor.

Chicago Record-Herald: William J. Burns, congratulated on his success in capturing the Musica family of defaulters, said to a New York reporter:

"It is all a matter of observation and analysis. To the good detective every slightest action speaks volumes.

"I, for example, was once looking for a widower. But the man I had under a surveillance stoutly declared himself to be a bachelor. One morning, however, I saw him pay a bill—and in doing so he turned his back to everybody in the room before taking out his pocketbook.

"'Come with me,' I said. 'You are no bachelor. You are a widower or a married man.'"

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Moses E. Clapp has one of those self-rising appetites. Clapp his food served in quantity, and when folks invite Clapp in to break bread with them they make special preparations. Just recently the big Minnesota senator was invited to a home, along with three or four other guests, and the hostess was not tipped off until the last minute about the wondrous appetite that Clapp packs around with him. She and her husband held a conference and they decided to have all the provisions for dinner divided into two equal parts, one half to be served to Clapp and the other half apportioned among the remaining guests.

The next day one of the other guests, whose portion had been cut down that Clapp might have plenty, asked the senator how he enjoyed the dinner.

"Well," says Clapp, "everything was served all right, and they had some pretty little tidies under the plates, and finger bowls passed every few minutes, but—well, I hate to speak of such a thing—but, honestly, they didn't have enough to eat. Didn't you think it was a little skimpy? Did, eh? Well, that shows I don't eat any more than anybody else if you noticed it, too."

At the time of Victor Murdock's first election to congress, he was working on the newspaper his family owns at Wichita, and drawing a low salary. One of the things about going to congress that appealed to him was the $5,000 a year that then went with it. The congressional salary looked so big that Victor determined to initiate a custom of carrying a little money around in his pocket. He knew that men with money did such things, and he longed to feel where he had been keeping his savings and wrote out a check to himself for $3, which he placed carefully in his left-hand trousers' pocket.

As he came out of the bank with his three, Victor met a printer who seemed to have an uncanny intuition.

"Say," asked the printer, "could you let me have $3?"

And it was several days before Victor had the courage to try carrying money with him again.

Young Austin Cunningham, now a well known political writer, set out for Alaska a few years ago to seek his fortune in the gold fields. He was asked to take part in a little Fourth of July celebration to the extent of reading the Declaration of Independence from an old torn almanac. The print was so fine that none of the others could read it and that was why they turned to the youthful Cunningham. He was introduced to the crowd by a man whom he afterward learned was James Wickersham, United States judge for Alaska.

"Hope we'll meet again some day," said Wickersham to the young man after the little celebration was over.

They did.

Wickersham later came to Washington as Alaskan delegate to congress, and Cunningham, who found that the lure of printer's ink was greater than the lure of gold, came here to write politics.

Wickersham was invited one day to the National Press club to give an illustrated talk on Alaska.

He was introduced by the acting chairman of the entertainment committee.

After his talk was over, Wickersham turned to the young man who had introduced him, and remarked: "Seems like we've met before."

"We have," said the young man; "the last time we met was when you introduced me to Alaska."

Robert L. Owen, the part Indian senator from Oklahoma, can remember the day he got the notion into his head to be some kind of a leader. It was when he was a small boy and a bunch of soldiers went by on their way to war. The captain walking out in front by himself made a hit with young Owen. He asked his mother why that fellow walked by himself.

"Because he's the captain—the leader of all the others," his mother told him.

"That's what I'd like to be," said Owen, "some kind of captain. I've always been doing just what other boys did. After this I'm going to be a leader."

The next day he organized a kid military company and put through a slate making himself the captain.

And when he went in for politics he persisted right from the start in trying to lead.

A Republican in Representative Langley's district, down in Kentucky, was opposed to Langley because he belonged to a secret order that had once shown opposition to a certain religious creed. One of Langley's friends sought to appease the man's dissatisfaction.

"Why the fellow who's running against Langley, on the Democratic ticket, belongs to the same organization," he said, "so you won't gain anything by voting for him."

"Oh, I know," said the disgruntled Republican, "but he's a Democrat and ain't supposed to have any sense; Langley's supposed to know better, so I'm going to vote agin him."

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is actually jealous of his father. He gets sick and tired having people ask him: "Are you the son of the famous Oliver Wendell Holmes?" Just as if he weren't entitled to a bit of fame himself.

Roads and Cost of Living

William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce: The inefficiency arising from bad roads makes it cost something like $300,000,000 a year merely to cart our cotton crop from the fields to the railway station. I think few people realize the immense tax put on us all by bad roads and inefficient handling.

I have said that if our farmers once realized the awful tax that bad roads imposo upon them, public opinion would demand the making and maintaining of good roads everywhere. It now costs the farmer twelve, yes, twenty or more, times as much per ton mile to move his goods to the railway station as it does to move them on the railway after they leave the station. The farmer, indeed, in bad cases and at certain seasons may have to pay as much as $1 a ton mile, while the railroad carries the freight, when it once gets it, at an average of three-quarters of a cent per ton mile.

A thorough system of good roads would strike an immense blow at the high cost of living, and this, of course, would be added to wherever motors can be substituted for horseflesh.

We Don't Believe It.

Editor and Publisher: Speaking of Cardinal Newman, the Hon. Stephen Coleridge says in his volume of "Memories" recently published:

"He came on one of his periodical visits when my boy Johnnie was about 3 years old, and about the middle of breakfast, according to custom, he was brought down, and sat as usual on my wife's knee."

R. F. Jones, secretary of the Duluth Driving Park association, arrived today from Minneapolis to complete arrangements for the summer race meeting, which takes place the second week in July.

Dean Lawrence of the Episcopal Theological seminary at Cambridge, Mass., has been chosen successor to Phillips Brooks as bishop of Massachusetts. He was the nominee of the broad churchmen.

The first vessel to leave the port of Duluth this season was the steamer James Fisk, Jr., of the Crescent line. She steamed away from the end of the Omaha dock at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and headed out into the lake, but did not get more than half a mile outside the piers, where she remains stationary in the ice. Sixteen or eighteen boats are on the outer edge trying to force their way in.

Annie Pixley will appear at the Temple tomorrow evening in her new play, "Miss Blythe of Duluth," which was written by William Gill, author of "Adonis," "In Paradise" and "Our Governor."

The retail department of the Chapin-Wells Hardware company, which was driven out of the Ferguson block by the fire last December, resumed operations today in the new Mesaba block. W. F. Quayle will continue as manager.

The dwelling house of A. L. Warner at the corner of Eighteenth avenue east and Fourth street was burned to the ground early yesterday morning. It was a new house not quite completed.

Mrs. Andrew A. Kerr of Lester Park has returned from Washington, Iowa, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. F. Palmer.

Samuel J. Levin has purchased from the Norton estate fifty feet on the northwest corner of Superior street and Fifth avenue west, paying $55,000 or $1,100 per front foot. This does not include the buildings, which are already owned by Mr. Levin.

Money Our Only Vital Thing.

Maurice Francis Egan in the Century Magazine: It is a commonplace to say that our country is still but slightly understood by Europeans, and that in turn we have very little conception of the continental point of view of us. On our side we maintain that we have no prejudices, or that, if we have prejudices, they are founded on principles, or, more briefly, that our prejudices are principles. On the other side it is held that our civilization is new and unformed, our art, literature and music are crude or exotic, and that the one and only vital thing we have is money. As a place where one may be forced to seek a wife or a fortune the United States has value. Beyond that it is interesting for its wonders, its roughness, its terrors. It is great, as unexplored Russia is great, because of its possibilities, the horror of its lynchings, and the monstrosity of its skyscrapers.

It is a settled view with most Americans that, in dealing with Europe, the outward appearance of things should not count—unless we want it to count. Unaccustomed to ceremony, we insist that the absence of ceremony on our part is proof of our superior intelligence. On the other hand, the European has the prejudice of tradition. He moves in a groove so clearly cut and carefully polished by the usage of the ages that its limitations are unperceived by him. What seem trifles to the American, who knows the interior life of the continent merely through novels and newspapers, are very important indeed to people brought up in the atmosphere of conventions which may be ameliorated, but very seldom changed. They are as immutable as their conception of family solidarity, which is founded on the assumption that the grandmothers and grandfathers, though dead, are still an essential part of the family.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS
By Dr. R. D. Scott.

Digestion.

The perfect digestion of food is a very complex process, and so many elements are concerned that to describe it in a few simple words is not possible, without the omission of some factors which are at times exceedingly important. The main process, however, consists of the reduction of substances containing the elements necessary to nutrition and growth to a semi-liquid consistency, converting insoluble compounds to readily soluble ones, and carrying this mass the full length of the intestine, so as to allow of as complete absorption by the blood and lymph vessels as possible.

Man has devised many proceedures in the preparation of food whereby indigestible substances are rendered easily soluble in the digestive juices, and has thus added to the variety and extent of his choice, but there are many natural foods needing no preparation except what nature has provided, and as these seem to be essential to the maintenance of perfect health, a certain proportion should be present in every diet.

The starches form a large part of every diet, and yet pure raw starch is an insoluble and quite indigestible substance, while with thorough cooking it becomes a food easily converted into soluble sugars by the action of the ferments supplied to the digestive organs.

It is not that cooking changes the starch in a chemical sense, but merely that it breaks open the coverings of the granules, allowing free action of solvants, that it is a necessary process in the preparation of this cdlass of food.

Foods of animal origin, on the other hand, require no cooking to render them digestible by man, but they are so apt to contain injurious organisms or germs of disease that cooking to destroy these is the only safe rule. Nevertheless, while rendering the animal foods comparatively safe substances to eat, the process of cooking makes them more difficult of digestion, and probably slightly reduces their nourishing properties. So animal foods, cooked sufficiently to destroy possible germs and parasites or other eggs, but not long enough to change the nutritive albumins into insoluble form is the ideal all scientific cooks strive for, and slightly rare meats, so long as they have been thoroughly heated through, are safe to eat and much easier to digest than when even slightly overcooked.

Preserving at all times perfect health and normal function of all organs contributing to digestion, would be a feat which, if possible, would occupy the mind so constantly about the character of food eaten, that it would almost surely result in functional disturbances which would directly interfere with the attainment of the object sought. Therefore, in attempting to apply the principles of hygiene to digestion, a few conclusions are all that need be considered. After the proper preparation of food, which has been already mentioned, the influence of disturbed mental or nervous function on the section of digestive glands is, probably, of first importance; and the partaking of food without appetite and fair mental poise is known to be the frequent cause of dyspepsias, which in turn often result in serious affections of the entire gastro-intestinal tract, or part of it. What is commonly called indigestion is more frequently a nervous dyspepsia than anything else, and this disturbance, when allowed to persist, almost surely leads to fermentation, instead of digestion of food, with accompanying injury to the mucous lining of stomach or bowel, and a more or less serious poisoning of the entire system. Thus it will be seen that the hygiene of digestion commences with mental hygiene, the remaining part being easy to accomplish, consisting as it does of proper selection and preparation of food, through mastication and complete insallivation of starches or foods depending on the contained starch for their nourishing properties.

Questions and Answers.

High Abdomen.

H. B. writes: Can you suggest any treatment or appliance which will reduce an exceedingly high abdomen in a woman of 35, who is not what might be called over fat?

REPLY.

The causes of this condition, aside from obesity, are numerous; and the person in question should have a thorough examination to determine if there is a cyst or other growth present, or if there is downward displacement of stomach, liver and intestine. Either of these conditions require surgery for their relief, but, on the other hand, there may be intestinal fermentation, causing excessive bloating, or a condition of dropsy; both of which may be relieved by medical treatment.

If it is simply due to the accumulation of fat in the abdominal cavity or its walls, the methods of reduction are those of the treatment of obesity—reduction of diet, increased exercise and avoidance of constipation.

Use of Iodoform.

H. D. writes: For what purpose is iodoform generally used, and how may its odor be disguised?

REPLY.

Iodoform is a rather weak antiseptic, but is still used by some physicians as a dusting powder, or in a salve for the healing of wounds. Its odor may be somewhat disguised by balsam of peru, but nothing will completely disguise it without interfering with its properties.

DULUTH DEANERY CONVOCATION

Annual Meeting of Episcopal Clergymen at St. Peter's Church.

The annual convocation of the Duluth deanery of the Episcopal church at the Head of the Lakes opened last evening at the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and Third street. A sermon followed by a reception was the principal feature of the session.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. F. C. Coolbaugh, D. D. At 8:30 o'clock the members of the congregation held the reception for the visiting rectors and laymen. The ladies of the church served refreshments in the guild rooms following the reception.

The principal business session was held this morning. A general survey of the work done was read by Rt. Rev. J. D. Morrison. Reports of work in Duluth and the range towns was given by laymen and the visiting pastors.

Among the features of this meeting were papers read by Rev. Wilfred Clarke of the St. John's Episcopal church of Lakeside on "The Atonement" and by Rev. Mr. Coolbaugh, who spoke on "Change of Name."

Luncheon was served in the church at noon today by the ladies of the church. The business of the meeting was completed at the afternoon session and the principal address given by Rev. A. W. Ryan, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

MISSIONARY WILL TALK TO CHILDREN.

Miss Alice Brethorst, the missionary to China who has been spending the past week in Duluth lecturing on conditions in the Orient, will give a special lecture to the children of the West end at the Grace M. E. church tomorrow evening.

Miss Brethorst is one of the most interesting speakers that has returned from the missionary fields. She spent six years in the far interior of China, a distance requiring seven days' travel between the mission established by her and that of other Christian missions.

At the children's lecture tomorrow evening Miss Brethorst will show curios, pictures and samples of the costumes worn by the people of the far interior.

This afternoon she gave a lecture before the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Grace M. E. church at a tea at the home of Mrs. Thomas B. Perry, 2833 West Third street.

Church Entertainment.

The Ladies of the St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, gave a pleasing entertainment in the church parlors last evening. The entertainment was in the nature of a "birthday" party. A program of music and readings was given.

Sund Funeral.

The funeral for Hagen B. Sund, 30 years old, 211 North Eighteenth avenue, who was killed by a clamshell in the hold of the steamer Jenkins, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms. Rev. J. H. Stenberg will officiate. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery.

Church Entertainment.

An entertainment for the benefit of the home and foreign mission will be given tonight in the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Third street and Twenty-third avenue west. A program will be rendered and refreshments served in the church parlors.

The ladies in charge are Mrs. Gust Bergquist, Mrs. Eliza Nordstrom, Mrs. August Larson, Mrs. Walker Peterson, Mrs. Lars Willner, Mrs. August Anderson and Mrs. Andrew Andrien.

West End Briefs.

The meeting of the probationers' class No. 1 of the Grace M. E. church, which was scheduled to take place tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock is postponed for a week. Rev. George E. Silloway announced the postponement on account of the lecture to be given in the church by Miss Alice Brethorst.

The Young People's Society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street will entertain this evening at a social in the church parlors.

The Young Old Timers' association will meet this evening in the Adams Athletic association clubrooms to plan its annual picnic.

Ladies of Beta Council, Modern Samaritans entertained at a dancing party at the Columbia hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street last evening.

George M. Jensen, 2117 West First street, has returned from a short visit to the Twin Cities.

ACCUSES O'HARA.

Affidavit Is Presented to the Illinois Senators.

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—The interrogation of Deputy Sheriff P. M. Sullivan of Sangamon county was taken up before the bar of the senate late yesterday regarding charges he is said to have made derogatory to the character of Lieutenant Governor Barrat O'Hara.

Deputy Sheriff Sullivan was sworn and took the stand for examination. Senator Ettleson did the questioning on behalf of the senate.

In reply to questioning, Sullivan said that last Thursday afternoon a number of newspaper men asked him if he had an affidavit regarding one of the members of the Illinois welfare commission. He told them he did not, but he had seen such an affidavit. He said a newspaper interview attributed to him was not wholly correct.

"Then you have not at this time any affidavit regarding any member of this commission?" inquired Senator Ettleson.

Produced Affidavit.

"I have now an affidavit," replied the witness. "I secured it last night for my own protection after I had been summoned to appear before this committee. I do not know the party who made the affidavit."

Mr. Sullivan produced the paper with the stipulation that it be properly safeguarded.

The executive committee and Attorney Mortimer held a lengthy conference at the conclusion of which Senator Ettleson asked that the executive committee be continued for the purpose of investigating the affidavit. The examination of Sullivan was to be resumed after the affidavit has been investigated.

HEADS FALLING ONE AT A TIME

Health Commissioner Announces First "Removal for Cause."

Dr. H. E. Webster, health director, has not deemed it wise to discharge certain employes of the department at one sweep; the civil service rules of the new charter interfere. Therefore, he will fire them one at a time.

The first official head to fall is that of W. I. Bowles, bakery inspector. He was notified yesterday that his services are no longer desired. The communication pointed out that he has some rights under the civil service regulations and may attempt to make use of them if he so desires.

Other appointees of the health department are scheduled for the same medicine. They will be informed that they have been on the city pay roll long enough, in the opinion of the director of public health, together with his reasons for his conclusions. The new charter states that all employes of the city who were working at the time of the adoption of the new charter are under civil service and can only be removed for cause. Dr. Webster believes that some of those now drawing salaries are not competent, which constitutes the grounds for their dismissal.

The department employes say that they recognize that the health director can drop their official heads in the discard but insist that he cannot make appointments as they think he proposes to do, without requiring the appointees to have first passed a civil service examination. They declare that the examinations must be held and the appointments made from the eligible list thus secured, the men with the highest percentage getting the jobs. It appears that Dr. Webster does not agree with them and the indications are that there will be an interesting clash before the situation is finally adjusted.

SCHOOLS WILL HELP IN CAMPAIGN

Will Aid Health Department to Make Duluth Spotless Town.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld of the Duluth schools will co-operate with the city health authorities in urging the school children of the city to aid in keeping the city clean.

Every principal, declares the superintendent, will be asked to convey this message to the teachers, and they in turn to the children. An attempt, he says, will be made to arouse their civic pride.

"The jurisdiction of the school cannot be extended to the school yard," he said, "and the only way that this can be accomplished is to stimulate the pride and interest of the youngsters."

SAYS CARNEGIE IS AN AMERICAN.

New York, May 8.—"Mr. Carnegie is an American citizen," said James Bertram, his private secretary. "He became so without naturalization, because he came here as a minor when he was 11 years old and his father was naturalized before he became of age.

"He is registered as a voter in Scotland; he had nothing to do with it, personally. He is a property owner there and his name probably appears on the registry list in connection with that fact. He could not vote in that country because he is an alien there."

FORMER ENGINEER NOW AN EVANGELIST.

J. P. Turner, passenger engineer on the Pennsylvania railway system, will make a trip to Duluth and Two Harbors in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association work. He is exceptionally strong in evangelistic work. He will be in Duluth from Friday morning over Sunday and will speak at the association building at the 5:30 social hour Sunday afternoon. He will be heard also in addresses in the various shop meetings. Mr. Turner was converted to the Christian life while on duty with the Pennsylvania Railway company, and has a remarkable experience to give. He will be in the vicinity of Duluth and Two Harbors for three or four weeks conducting special evangelistic services for railroad and shop men.

OBJECT TO DISPLAY.

New Ulm Women Opposed to Corset Exposures in Store Windows.

New Ulm, Minn., May 8.—The Current News club of this city, a woman's organization, has mailed letters to the dry goods merchants of the city, protesting against the practice of exposing corsets in the store windows to the gaze of men and boys. The letter says, in part:

"The Current News club has for some time felt that the window displays of corsets and the moving picture shows' advertisements of like nature have had a harmful influence on the young people. It is noticeable that the people who look at these exhibits are men and boys, the ladies not wishing to stop on the street to examine them."

Business men that replied with letters to the club, called attention to more important reforms that might be undertaken, such as the stopping of cigarette smoking and the keeping of late hours by high school boys. None is disposed to comply with the club's request.

FOLLOW NORTH DAKOTA.

Other States Are Copying Its Food Container Law.

Fargo, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because North Dakota was the first state to require the net weight of articles to be placed on all containers of food, the friends of Commissioner Ladd of this state are rather pleased with the way many other states have fallen into line, especially during legislative sessions this winter. Congress also passed a national law of the same nature at the closing hours of the last session.

Home Rule Bill Introduced.

London, May 8.—The home rule bill for Ireland has been reintroduced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith and was read the first time under the standing order of the house, which debars debate. It will come up for second reading on June 2.

Many a man and woman is to-day suffering the tortures of indigestion, a sour, upset stomach, heartburn, headaches, bloating after eating and feeling generally "rotten" who can quickly get rid of it all by purchasing at any drug store a 25-cent package of this prescription after the formula of a noted French specialist, put up in easy-to-take gelatin capsules, sealed, always fresh and unlike sickening pills and tablets.

"Yes, I've tried so many different remedies and doctors," you say, "but nothing seems to help me." That is no doubt exactly what Mr. Ellis Kritser, a well-known attorney of Milan, Ind., thought, but he now writes: "I was in such bad condition with my stomach that I could scarcely eat anything. Your '3-P' has enabled me to eat anything I want and I would not be without it for any price." The first little capsule you take will give you instant relief and they'll surely keep you feeling fine all the time.

Ask your Druggist for Samuel's 3-P. Look on every packet for the name of Samuel and our Trade Mark of the figure 3 in the large letter P.

Thousands now know it is needless to have a bad stomach. Get a package to-day, or write The Samuel Chemical Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, for a free trial box.

PROGRESS ON POWER PLANT

Few Delays Experienced in Construction of Power Generating System.

Crookston, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rapid progress is being made on the big power plant being constructed by the Red River Farm & Land company, three miles above the city. One of the big coffer dams has been pumped out, and the work of excavating for a solid foundation has been started, the dirt being used to form an abutment to reinforce a solid cement wing, twenty-two feet high which extends landward from the north side of the dam to make undermining or bank cutting impossible on that side. On the south side the bank rises to a height which makes bank cutting impossible.

The work has progressed without untoward incident barring a dirt slide on the south bank. An immense cut had to be made there, and the work is being done with a big orange peel steam shovel several thousand yards of dirt which had been moved slid towards the river, putting the shovel out of commission for a few days.

The construction will be completed by Aug. 1 and the connections will be made and the plant in operation by Sept. 1. The outlay including necessary land purchases for site, and to form the lake which will result above the dam, a half mile wide and four miles long, will have been very close to $500,000.

Many Crookston residents are planning on erecting cottages and maintaining summer homes along the lake shore. The lake of running water will be heavily stocked with fish and the nearness to the city will make the location ideal as a summer resort.

MINOT PLANS ON MUCH BUILDING

Considerable Civic Improvement on Program for This Year.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—This year will bring a large number of civic improvements to Minot judging by the plans which have already been laid by the public officials, and by private parties.

There is the paving of Main and First streets, which is to be laid this summer. At the time the paving is put in, it is also planned to make all preparations for the white way, which will probably be installed in the near future.

Plan Fine White Way.

When ornamental lamp posts have been installed along the two chief business streets, as is being planned, the business part of the city will be as well lighted as any other community of its size in the entire state.

Plans for sidewalks widening, and storm sewers are also included in the plans for paving.

The business and residence sections of the city are already well equipped with cement sidewalks. This year will also see a great advance in sidewalk building in the outlying districts of the city.

PIONEER VISITS FORMER SCENES

Minnesotan Who Used to Carry Mail in Dakotas Renews Acquaintances.

Pembina, N. D., May 8.—Special to The Herald.)—Pembina recently entertained a real pioneer in August Huord of Minnesota, who before the majority of the residents of North Dakota were born carried mail from Fort Garry, now Winnipeg, to Fort Abercrombie, for a private company. In the summer he used ponies and in the winter he traveled with dog sleds.

Mr. Huord say the first steamboat ever placed on the Red river make its initial trip. The boat was taken overland from Big Stone lake to a point where Breackenridge now is and rebuilt, making the trip to Winnipeg.

Buffalo and Elk Thick.

During the period that Mr. Huord carried the mail along the river the Red river valley was covered with buffalo, elk, antelope and deer. At times he could travel in the buffalo trails, which were deeply worn by the thousands of animals. Sometimes he would travel for a hundred or two miles and not see a human being.

In those days Mr. Huord was known as Gus Loon, the English translation of his name. He has a son living near Grafton and, despite his experiences of the long ago, Mr. Huord is still very active and strong.

KELLER CUTS SALARIES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—Because he has only $12,500 left to run his department until March 1, next, Charles E. Keller, state fire marshal, announces a big slash in salaries. As a result Samuel F. Fullerton, for years a state office holder and now first deputy marshal, will take a vacation.

According to Mr. Fullerton the vacation is only temporary and he may return to the department when its finances will allow him to draw his salary of $1,800 a year. He was cut to $1,200. E. A. Simpson was reduced from $1,500 to $1,200; L. V. Conley from $1,200 to $900, and E. J. Heimbach from $1,800 to $1,200.

Discussing the vacation granted Mr. Fullerton, Charles E. Keller, state fire marshal, said that Fullerton's stay away from the office will be only temporary. Mr. Keller says Fullerton asked for the vacation when it became known that salaries in the department would have to be cut or some of the deputies relieved from the service.

"Mr. Fullerton may be away only a month or so," Mr. Keller said. "Fullerton hasn't been discharged and isn't going to be so far as I know. Our relations have been friendly."

Next year, when more money is available, Mr. Keller says the present officials again will receive their former salaries.

TELLS ABOUT SILOS.

North Dakota Dairy Commissioner Willing to Give Information.

Ellendale, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers wishing information on dairy subjects, especially silo construction, can secure it from State Dairy Commissioner Flint, according to letters recently sent here by that official. His department and the Federal representatives have been co-operating in urging dairying and the construction of silos. He has plans for the different kinds of silos and can instruct as to the best methods of construction. Where three or more farmers are thinking of erecting silos in any neighborhood a representative of the dairy department will be sent with plans and give advice as to the best kind to be built in that particular locality.

EDITOR NEWETT SICK.

Ishpeming Accuser of Roosevelt Stakes Life on Charge.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 8.—Editor George A. Newett, whose hearing on charges of libel preferred by Theodore Roosevelt comes up May 26, is in a serious physical condition, according to his physicians. He has just returned from a stay at West Baden and a Chicago hospital. He steadfastly refuses to undergo an operation, which physicians say is imperative, until he is vindicated of Col. Roosevelt's charges.

Col. Roosevelt sued Mr. Newett for $10,000 last fall when the editor printed in his paper statements to the effect that Col. Roosevelt drank liquor to excess. Mr. Newett is staking his life, his friends say, on the chance that the suit may be short.

THREATENS HIS WIFE.

Hancock Perpetual Motion Theorist Believed to Be Insane.

Houghton, Mich., May 8.—John Huronen, aged about 60, a resident of Hancock, is held at the county jail pending an examination as to his sanity. It is said Huronen secured a revolver and a rifle and with these instruments he informed his wife he purposed to end her life. For twelve years, according to the story told the officers by his wife, he has spent all his spare time struggling to perfect a device which he believed would overcome this ancient problem which science has demonstrated is impossible. Huronen will be examined by a sanity commission in a few days.

YOUNGDAHL BRINGS $100,000 SLANDER SUIT

Wheaton, Minn., May 8.—A hundred thousand dollars for alleged slander is asked in suits by Peter J. Youngdahl, superintendent of the State Anti-saloon league of Minnesota, and his assistant, Rev. Magnus Martinson, against Otto C. Neuman, a land dealer of this city, and the cases are on the calendar of the district court, which convened Monday, Judge Stephen A. Flaherty presiding. Criminal slanders are alleged to have been uttered by the defendant regarding the plaintiff's conduct on a trip from Minneapolis to Wheaton in January this year. Trial of the case will be reached, it is believed, the last part of the week.

WANTED IN ILLINOIS.

Stearns County Sheriff Takes Man Charged With Theft.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 8.—On telegraphic advices from the sheriff of Kankakee county, Ill., Sheriff Schoener this week arrested Carl Millot on a farm near Luxemburg. In response to a telegram sent by the Stearns county official a message was received from the prosecutor of Kankakee county stating that the sheriff left there Tuesday, requisition papers having been made out. He will take his prisoner back to Illinois for trial. Millot is charged with the theft of $30 from a man in the Illinois county.

LARIMORE MAN REPLIES.

Larimore, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. Gass, whose right to hold the office of mayor is contested by Martin Nelson, in his answer denies several allegations of Nelson and contends that one vote cast for Nelson was illegal.

Concerning the charge that he induced Frank Freeland to cast his ballot, thereby disqualifying him from holding office under the provisions of the corrupt practices act, Gass declares he simply made an affidavit of the man's residence in the voting precinct when his right to vote was challenged.

SIX BOYS ARE BORN IN SHORT PERIOD.

Lehr, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. William Krickman of this place claim the championship of McIntosh county and probably of North Dakota in the addition of boys to the family within a short period. Their record is six boys in four years and nine months. In July, 1908, three boys arrived at their home, two years later there was one boy added to the triplets and recently two boys came to join the quartet.

DEAF-MUTE SERVICE.

Unique Religious Observance in St. Paul Next Sunday.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—Something unique in religious services will be held at St. Agatha's conservatory Sunday afternoon, when Rev. James Donahue will conduct a service for deaf-mutes of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Stillwater.

Father Donahue will preach a sermon and also conduct several hymns in the sign language. About 100 deaf-mutes are expected to attend. While Father Donahue gives his sermon in the sign language, one of the conservatory nuns will read it aloud, for the benefit of those who can hear. She understands the sign language and will follow the preacher.

Miss Harriet Hale of St. Paul, who also understands the sign language, will play accompaniments for the hymns which will be "sung" in unison by the deaf-mutes of the congregation in the sign language, and in the ordinary way by persons with all their faculties. Mrs. Leonard Hodgman, a deaf-mute of this city, will lead the hymn.

Father Donahue thinks more persons should study the sign language, so that they can better reach their unfortunate neighbors unable to hear.

LOCATE BANKS FIRST THEN START TOWNS.

Pierre, S. D., May 8.—Instead of going to established towns, a number of banks in the northeastern part of the state will be started on the proposed line of a railway and will await for the railroad and towns to come to them, according to plans made known here. The locations of the banks are designated on quarter sections.

McGOVERN DECLINES G. O. P. INVITATION.

Madison, Wis., May 8.—Governor McGovern will not accept the invitation of the Republican state central committee to attend the "love feast" here May 14. Sol Levitan, chairman of the committee on arrangements, stated that Governor McGovern had declined to consider the invitation.

Fatal Lepeer, Mich., Fire.

Lapeer, Mich., May 8.—An explosion yesterday in the Lapeer Gas & Electric company's plant here, resulted in the death of William F. Smith, an employe, and a property loss estimated at $50,000. Fire followed the explosion and wrecked the plant.

Shoots Out Stepfather's Eye.

Fergus Falls, Minn., May 8.—Adolph Laine, the town of Paddock boy who shot his stepfather, had his preliminary hearing yesterday and was bound over to the district court, bail being fixed at $800. The stepfather appeared in court with one eye gone, and evidences of shot having been picked out all over his face. The evidence indicated the family had been on a war footing for some time.

To Feed Stock On Silo Forage.

Center, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ranching, once dependant almost entirely during winter months on what cattle could get from the ground, is to be placed on a new basis at the Diamond C ranch, in the Killdeer mountains, near here. W. L. Richards, owner of the ranch—the largest in Dunn county—has contracted for the construction of a 200-ton silo this season, and he will sow forty acres of corn to fill it.

"Touched" Mill City Man.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—Peter Hamilton, alias Paddy Burke, was arraigned before John Lynch, police magistrate, on a charge of petit larceny, and was bound over to the county court. He is alleged to have stolen $4.50 from Arthur Bersie of Minneapolis at the Reed lodging house near the Great Northern depot early Saturday morning.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette — Mrs. Caroline Vashaw, aged 97 years, one of the oldest residents of Marquette county, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alvirna De Marce. Mrs. Vashaw is survived by three sons and three daughters: Jules of Gladstone, S. M. Vashaw of St. Paul, and C. S. Vashaw of Iron River; Mrs. Ella Miller of Milwaukee, Mrs. Eliza Belhumeur of Champion, and Mrs. De Marce of this city.

Negaunee — The crusher at the South Jackson mine, which has been shut down during the winter months, began operations Monday morning with a full force, consisting of eighteen men a shift. It is expected that shipments will be begun within a few days. The ore for the crusher is being brought from Cliff's shafts and the Moro mines at Ishpeming.

Newberry — The annual report of the Newberry water and light board shows that the plant is more than paying its way. There is a cash balance of $2,699 in the treasury, and added to this is a credit of $2,263 for services furnished the village for which no remuneration was received.

Marquette — James Maney of Duluth, general passenger agent for the South Shore railway, was a business caller in Marquette Tuesday.

Calumet — John H. Berryman left Tuesday for Detroit where he will join William Foland, the two sailing from New York May 10 for Cornwall, Eng., to spend the summer. Edgar Opie, James Andrews, Ed. Bath, William J. Satterly and Edward Rickard will leave next Wednesday for New York, where they will sail on May 17 for Plymouth.

Marquette — Supervisor George A. Leiphart of Munising has a crew of men at Big Bay, Marquette county, working on thirty-three houses which he has contracted to build for the Lake Independence Lumber company. He has about four months' time in which to complete the work.

Houghton—Game Warden St. Clair Wilson believes that the fish in Coles creek, empting into the lake near the Michigan Smelts, and of Pike river, near Chassell, are infected with the same parasites that have caused such damage in the Pilgrim.

Lake Linden—Phillip Robarge, who came here thirty years ago from Canada, died Tuesday of cancer, aged 54. Besides the widow, the following sons and daughter survive: Louise, Cordelia, Urie, Archie, Fred, Henry, Walter, Raymond, Elmer and Phillip, Jr. The funeral will be held Friday.

Negaunee — Nick Massalina, an Italian resident of Negaunee, was seriously injured by a fall of ground at the Mass mine Monday evening. Mr. Massalina was taken to the Negaunee hospital.

Gwinn — Baseball fans elected the following officers: President, A. G. Buchman; vice president, William Jory; secretary-treasurer, P. W. Herwas; manager, Arthur Brant. A committee of three was appointed to meet with members of Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette clubs to see if it is possible to form a four-club team amateur league.

Ishpeming—The funeral of the late William Sheeman, who met death at the Forbes mine, Iron River, last Friday night, was held Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ivey, Terrace street, the services being performed by Rev. Lewis Keast.

Houghton—The street railway company will shortly begin work on repairing the brick pavement on Shelden street which lies between their tracks.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Bemidji—F. A. Wilson, editor of the Sentinel, returned Tuesday from St. Paul, where he held a position at the state capitol during the session of the legislature and resumed active duties in the publication of his paper.

Crookston—Charles John Freeberg, for thirty years a resident of Kennedy, died here Tuesday, aged 75. His wife died nine years ago and he is survived by two children, Mrs. Charles Munson of Kennedy, who was here when the end came, and Miss Christine Freeberg, who is employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gilman.

Stillwater — Stella West, a young woman, was brought here from Sandstone, Pine county, Tuesday, by Constable C. Freeman and turned over to the sheriff to serve thirty days in the district jail upon upon order of Justice David Russell of Pine county, she having defaulted in paying $15 fine and costs for being intoxicated.

Rochester—H. E. Hoke of Winona, insurance inspector of this district, is in Rochester revising the city's insurance rate. It is stated that as a result of this visit Rochester's insurance rate may be a trifle higher, the present rate not being commensurate for the risk involved.

Little Falls—The ordinance raising the liquor license fee from $500 to $1,000 was given its second reading at the council meeting Monday night and again received the vote of a majority of the council. The ordinance is now up to the mayor for his approval or veto.

St. Cloud—Mrs. A. M. Frissille, aged 69 years, died at St. Joseph's home Monday evening. Death was caused from anemia. Deceased has been an inmate of the home since 1909 and came there from Minneapolis. She has no living relatives with the exception of a distant relative in Minneapolis, where the body was shipped for burial.

Moorhead—C. B. Hill, Matt Mickelson, Matt Wambach and Henry Soosen, who were charged by E. Walker with selling liquor to minors, appeared in Judge Wade's court and entered pleas of guilty. Judge Wade imposed a fine of $50 and costs in each case, which was paid.

Stillwater — The St. Croix boom started Wednesday morning with 15,000,000 feet of logs in the runways ready for sorting and with 50,000,000 feet in the Nevers dam flowage.

Minneapolis — Assistant Attorney General Stevenson has ruled that the Twin City Rapid Transit company may enter into a contract with the Federal government to carry letter carriers at a fixed price per year on its trains without violating the state anti-pass law.

Fairmont—Judge J. H. Quinn has filed a decision in the contest between the wets and drys at Easton, finding in favor of the drys. The canvassing board found 37 votes in favor of license and 35 against. The court holds that there was not a majority of votes in favor of license and reverses the finding of the canvassing board.

St. Cloud—A telegram was received here Tuesday announcing the death of Herman Smith of Waco, Texas, brother of W. W. Smith, cashier of the First National bank of this city. Deceased was for a number of years head purchasing agent for the Swift Packing company, but lately has been manager of a big mining company at Waco.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

New Rockford, N. D.—New Rockford is to have a sewer system and the cost will be assessed against the lots benefited instead of the city issuing bonds for the improvements as was originally planned. The city council has created improvement districts and Former State Engineer Atkinson and Former City Engineer Crabbe of Fargo each submitted bids for making the plans and supervising the work.

Bowbells, N. D.—Getting power and light from Kenmare is the latest plan of the business men of this city. The light question has for a long time been a problem for Bowbells. Kenmare is not far from here and there is a plant at that point with a capacity far in excess of the demands for the mines and the municipal lighting.

Williston, N. D.—Because of the unusually small amount of fall plowing done, considerable grain has been "disced" in in this district this spring. The farmers have found that they have been unable to care for all the work and have taken the long chance that discing the grain in on the last year's crop of stubble will yield a crop this year.

Devils Lake—William A. Seely, formerly foreman in the Great Northern shops here, died April 17 at La Mesa, Cal., where he went in February, suffering from tuberculosis, aged 42. He was a native of Blue Earth, Minn., and leaves besides his widow, one daughter, Florence, aged 11 years, father and mother living at Blue Earth, Minn., one brother and sister living at Fargo, N. D.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The city health officer, Dr. A. A. Westeen's report for the past month shows two cases of scarlet fever, one of diphtheria and three of measles.

Sheldon, N. D.—Six will graduate from the Sheldon high school this year: Esther Froemke, Irene Larson, Ira Herzberg, Nellie Shafer, Harold McCully, Alma Torfin.

Fargo, N. D.—Charles Knelsly died recently at Guthrie, Okla. Mr. Knelsly came to Fargo in 1880, with the Dayton, Ohio, colony, and was here until about 1887, being much of the time connected with the flouring mill. He was also interested in real estate here.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Maiden Rock—Henry Pries, a wealthy farmer living two miles from this village, committed suicide here by taking strychnine. He had been despondent for some time.

La Crosse—A prehistoric Indian graveyard was uncovered by a gang of laborers digging a sewer in the south end of this city on Tuesday. Hundreds of fragments of skeletons, arrow heads and pottery were unearthed. All the bodies lay with the heads to the north.

Madison—J. S. Stein, a Milwaukee boy, member of the class of '16, who was suspended by the decision of the student court, must stand the suspension. The faculty of the University of Wisconsin on Tuesday upheld the decision.

Fond du Lac—As a result of the efforts of Bishop R. H. Weller, the breach which has existed between Trinity Episcopal church, Oshkosh, and the diocese of Fond du Lac, has been healed. A council is to be held here on June 3 for the first time in thirteen years.

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids will be the meeting place of group six of the Wisconsin Bankers' association on May 29, and the four local banks are preparing for the entertainment of several hundred guests.

Milwaukee — Mysteriously poisoned by some food, four members of the family of John W. Gregory, 355½ Oakland avenue, were taken violently ill about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and one may die. Three others are reported out of danger by the attending physicians.

Menasha—Louis Otto, a florist at Neenah, was arrested Tuesday morning, charged with assault with intent to kill George Kemp. The examination was adjourned until May 20. Otto, it is charged, stabbed Kemp in the abdomen after a quarrel in a saloon. He was taken to a hospital. The knife had opened the intestines.

Madison—Governor McGovern has reappointed Robert N. McMynn to be member of the board of trustees of the Milwaukee hospital for the insane for a term ending May 1, 1920.

Janesville—Increasing the salary of grade school teachers to $800, and that of high school teachers to $900 per year for a minimum, the school board has averted a strike of the pedagogues.

ROWING

The Herald Sporting Gossip Is Reliable

HERDING THE SPORTING SHEEP AND GOATS INTO THE DOPE CORRAL, AS SEEN BY BRUCE

IT rained yesterday, so some of us fanned. Perry Werden, who in times that have flitted was some ball player, before passing his official verdict upon the condition of the grounds, told one or two. On this reminiscence thing Perry is great. Yes, and look at the big stuff he has been through.

"I was with Louisville, back in the days of Hans Wagner and Fred Clarke and the rest," he began, "when Rube Waddell hove into sight. Guess they had discovered him somewhere up in the mountains.

"The Rube hit the city sometime in the betimes and one of the first things he did was to wake Fred Clarke up at 4 o'clock in the morning and hit him for a two buck loan. Clarke had never seen the Rube; in fact, didn't know who he was. But a little thing like that wouldn't make the least difference in the world to the bug.

"The next day, or that day, to be more exact, Waddell comes to me and says, 'Who yer goin' to put on the slab today?' Up to that time I had never heard the expression of the slab used.

"'Don't use me today,' he went on; 'cause I want to break in against a high class team.'

"Well the next day, against Baltimore, I think it was, Waddell was used, and although they only got five hits off those snaky shoots of his, he gave something like seventeen bases on balls and we lost the game. But believe me, and I am an honest man, when I say that he was a great pitcher even then.

"I don't believe that a greater natural pitcher than Rube Waddell has ever lived. You know old Theodore Breitenstein, the old Cincinnati pitcher, was one of the greatest southpaws in the game, and it seems to me he is working down New Orleans way at the present time. But the Rube had everything, and right now he can go out and open the eyes of the fans with the stuff he pulls. If he comes up here the fans are liable to see one of the greatest exhibitions of pitching in the world, for Waddell is a genius, and in my baseball experience and the other things I have seen off the diamond, it has come to me that you can never peg one of these fellows with that genius stuff, whatever it is."

AFTER the game was called off the players of the home brigade got out and did some practice work. Henry Clay Blancke, our eminent twirler, went to right field. On the quest of a fly he ran head-on into young Muggsy McGraw, brother and heir apparent to our Frank. The ball wasn't hurt in the least, but our Mr. Blancke lay on the ground for a brief spell and they toted young McGraw off the field in sections. However (comma) it is believed that the youngster will be around today.

FROM the news that is wafted over the circuit it is safe to say that when it comes to the spending of money there isn't going to be the least hesitation upon the part of the men behind the Virginia team in endeavoring to get some players for the Ore Diggers.

We have it that "Spike" Shannon sends from fifteen to twenty wires every day and that he is on the trail of several men. But players are hard to get—always have been, in fact, and it requires patience, acumen, diligence and several other qualifications to build up a team after the start of the season.

As was pointed out in this column the Virginia management was under a handicap from the time the men behind the team put up the guarantee. Some of the other pilots had the nucleus for a ball club, but Shannon has been compelled to go out and get all of his men without any knowledge of conditions.

It is generally believed that the leader of the range club will have a swell ball team before the race is many weeks older.

LEAVING Virginia out of consideration the race in the new Northern is a close thing at the present time. Minneapolis has won but three more games than the Winona Giants, who are resting in seventh position, and but two more games than the Flickertails, who are riding in sixth place. And remember this—Minneapolis has been on the home grounds practically all of the season to date.

The Minneapolis Bronks have won three more and lost two less games than our valiant defenders, and we have played but one game on the home lot. Taking it all around the best showing to date has been made by the Superior team, and, believe us, Bill, it hurts to have to say this.

TIM FLOOD has what looks like one of the best gardens in the league. Our old friend Freer is with the Peggers, and he has for company in the daisy patch Kirkham and Kurke. This looks sweet, does this fly chasing combination, and with Clothier on third, Wilkes at short and De Haven at second the Maroons on paper look as strong as any team in the league.

We fans in this section of the country don't know anything of this Bachant behind the pad, but with Moe, Peasley, Fosberg, Thielman and several others on his hurling brigade it seems funny that the Canadians are not up there setting the pace for the league.

The fans of Winnipeg are sweet on Wilkes. De Haven is a nice ball player, and if his pitching staff behaves there is reason to believe that Timothy Flood is going to have one of the hardest teams in the league to beat.

WINONAS WIN FROM VIRGINIA

Winona, Minn., May 8.—Virginia lost the third straight game of the series to the Giants here yesterday by the score of 12 to 3. Worman and Lampman were hit hard by the locals, while Snow had little difficulty in keeping the hits of the opposition widely scattered. Rain stopped the game at the end of the eighth inning. Old Bob Worman, the former Duluth pitcher had nothing but a placid countenance. Lampman fared but little better at the hands of the Giants. Both teams played cleanly in the field.

Bresnahan Hits Homer.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 8.—Chicago stopped Brooklyn's winning streak yesterday, taking another sensational game by 4 to 3. Remarkable fielding feats on both sides kept down the runs, Cutshaw and Bridwell dividing the honors. Cutshaw prevented two Chicago runs in the fifth inning by rushing over and taking Archer's hot grounder that went through Daubert and tossing the runner out to Allen, who covered first. Bridwell saved the game for Chicago in the eighth when, with two on the paths, he made a brilliant one-handed stop of Smith's smash, which looked good for two bases. Bresnahan got a home run on a drive which hit the concrete fence and carombed away from Wheat. Dahlen brought out nearly all of his reserves in the seventh and ninth, using sixteen players in all. Score:

Brooklyn	3	8	1

Batteries — Toney and Bresnahan; Allen, Stack and Miller, Erwin. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

Continue Winning Streak.

Boston, Mass., May 8.—Boston won another extra inning game from Pittsburg yesterday, 2 to 1, the winning run coming in the twelfth. It was a pitchers' battle between O'Toole and Tyler, the latter having the better of the argument.

Pittsburg's single run was due to an error by Sweeney. Wilson scoring when the former dropped Whaling's throw to get Butler, who had started to steal. Boston tied the score in the fifth when Whaling was hit and got around on singles by Maranville and Myers.

Each team had several opportunities to make another run, but strong pitching and fielding always prevented until the final inning. Tyler began it by striking out. Maranville singled and went to third on Meyer's drive to center. Connolly put a high one to left and Carey muffed the ball, Maranville scoring. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	1	5	0
Boston	2	9	1

Batteries—O'Toole and Kelly; Tyler and Whaling, Rariden. Umpires—Rigler and Byron.

Giants Win Again.

New York, May 8.—New York again defeated Cincinnati here yesterday, the score being 6 to 4.

Benton was wild and was hit hard. He was relieved by Packard, a young left hander, who twirled a wonderful game after the third. The Giants did not get a hit off the youngster after that inning. Ames was wild and ineffective and was relieved with the bases full in the second. Mathewson stopped the Reds in this inning, but was hit fairly hard, Cincinnati scoring three runs on him on clean hitting. Shafer played a great game for New York at short, accepting twelve chances without error. Score:

Cincinnati	4	9	3
New York	6	6	1

Batteries — Benton, Packard and Clarke; Ames, Mathewson and Meyers. Umpires—Brennan and Eason.

Win in Tenth.

Philadelphia, May 8.—By playing a fine uphill game, Philadelphia defeated St. Louis yesterday 4 to 3, when Paskert scored in the tenth inning on his single, Knabe's sacrifice and Lobert's double. St. Louis took a three-run lead in the second inning on four singles and two errors. After that three double plays prevented them from scoring, while they failed to tally in the sixth inning after filling the bases with none out, through Oakes being caught off third on an attempted squeeze play. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	3	8	3
Philadelphia	4	10	3

Batteries—Griner and McLean; Seaton and Dooin. Umpires—Klem and Orth.

Chance Finally Wins.

Detroit, Mich., May 8.—Frank Chance began his first western trip as an American league manager yesterday with a victory. The score was New York, 6; Detroit, 0. Keating, the recruit, who won the only other two games New York has captured this season, allowed Detroit but two hits. On several occasions his support wobbled, but sharp fielding came to his assistance when it was needed most. Mullen was hit hard only in the second and fifth. Detroit's errors helping New York to several of their tallies. Zamlock, who replaced the veteran in the eighth, began his major league career by fanning Sweeney and he held the visitors scoreless. Cobb, who declared a severe headache affected his eyesight, struck out twice and then retired from the game. In the last half of the third Mullen collided with Midkiff at third base, knocking the latter senseless, but Midkiff returned to his post after being revived. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0	2	5

Batteries—Keating and Sweeney; Mullin, Zamloch and Stanage, Gibson. Umpires—Dineen and Hart.

Senators Win Opener.

Chicago, May 8.—Washington yesterday defeated Chicago in the opening game of the series, 3 to 2. This was the first game of the eastern teams in Chicago.

The locals took an early lead when a single and two errors gave them one run, but on a fielder's choice, an error and a triple by McBride, the visitors took the lead, and then added another run on a pass, a stolen base and a single. Chicago managed to get their second run on a base on balls, a hit, a sacrifice and Ainsmith's error in trying to catch a runner off second, which allowed Mattick to score.

Hughes was in fine form, holding the locals to six scattered hits. Cicotte retired to let Easterly bat for him and when Lange took up the pitching the visitors were unable to do anything with him, getting three scattered hits in five innings. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	3	8	3
Chicago	2	6	1

Batteries—Hughes and Ainsmith; Cicotte, Lange and Schalk. Umpires—Hildebrand and Evans

Two Home Runs.

St. Louis, May 8.—Philadelphia beat St. Louis here yesterday, winning a fast played game, 3 to 2. Brown and Mitchell pitched good ball, each having one bad inning. In the first inning Brown walked three St. Louis batsmen, but Lapp threw out three runners who tried to steal, pulling him out of a bad hole. Philadelphia scored in the first, when Murphy walked and went to third on a wild pitch and tallied on Oldring's single. Collins also walked and scored on McInnis' single. Baker scored in the fourth when he hit a home run into the right field bleachers. St. Louis scored two runs in the fourth when Austin duplicated Baker's home run after Brief had singled. Fielding on both sides was fast. Score:

Philadelphia	3	6	0
St. Louis	2	5	0

Batteries—Brown and Lapp; Mitchell and Alexander. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Ferguson.

Play Without Regulars.

Cleveland, May 8.—The Boston Red Sox were defeated yesterday, 4 to 1. Five of the Boston regulars were unable to be in the game because of injuries.

Boston's only score came in the fourth on doubles by Engle and Janvrin. In the second, with men on second and third, Falkenberg struck out three of the next four batters, purposely passing Carrigan.

Cleveland's scoring started in the sixth when Graney hit for two bases, scoring Jackson and Birmingham. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	4	9	0
Boston	1	6	0

Batteries—Falkenberg and Carisch; Leonard, Foster and Carrigan. Umpires—Connolly and McGreevy.

Play Ten Innings.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 8.—Minneapolis defeated the home club in a game featured by poor pitching, 8 to 7, the contest going ten innings. Mogridge was hit hard but double plays saved him twice with men on third base. Liebhardt relieved him with Blackburne on third in the tenth and one run needed to tie. Jones was purposely walked and Marshall hit into a double play, ending the game. The umpiring was worse than on the previous day. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	7	12	2
Minneapolis	8	11	1

Batteries—Braun, Noel and Marshall; Mogridge, Liebhardt and Smith, Owens. Umpires—Murray and Handiboe.

Senators Lose.

Louisville, Ky., May 8.—Louisville defeated Columbus yesterday in the opening game of the series, 3 to 1. After Burch had scored the tying run in the sixth, Nichoff's triple sent two men across the plate with victory for the locals. Both Woodburn and Cook pitched good ball, but Cook allowed four of his seven hits in the sixth inning, which proved his downfall. Two spectacular catches by Stansbury were features. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	3	7	0
Columbus	1	5	1

Batteries—Woodburn and Clemons; Cook and Smith. Umpires—Westervelt and Irwin.

Indians Are Blanked.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 8.—Bunching hits with Indianapolis' errors Toledo easily defeated the locals here yesterday, 10 to 0. Three runs in the first and two in the second drove Kaiserling off the mound, but in the next two innings, the visitors got two runs off Green and when Merz succeeded him, they added two more to their total in the seventh. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toledo	10	9	0
Indianapolis	0	3	6

Batteries—James and Kruger; Kaiserling, Green, Merz and Cotter. Umpires—Johnstone and Connolly.

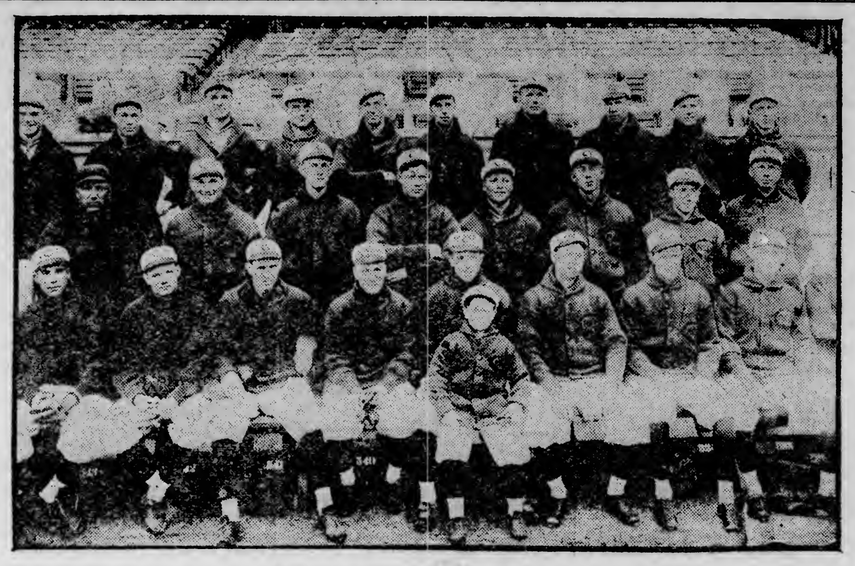
Kaws Lose Opener.

Kansas City, Kan., May 8.—With Manager Carr on the bench yesterday, Kansas City dropped the first game of the home series to St. Paul, 6 to 3. Carr's eyes were bothering him and he sent Fiene to first base in his place. The visitors got away to a safe lead, hammering Vaughn for seven hits, and scoring five runs in the first three innings. Rhodes, who succeeded him, pitched well. Kansas City got to "Dixie" Walker for three runs in the initial inning on singles by Downey, Barbeau, C. Walker, Fiene's sacrifice and Drake's hit over short, but after that the locals could do nothing with St. Paul. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Paul	6	12	0
Kansas City	3	6	2

Batteries—D. Walker and Miller; Vaughn, Rhodes and O'Connor. Umpires—O'Connell and O'Brien.

JOE TINKER AND HIS CINCY BAND



O'BRIEN LANDS A NEW PITCHER

Darby O'Brien has accepted the terms of Pitcher Leahy, formerly of St. Paul, and it is probable that the twirler will be here for the series with the Winnipeg Maroons, which starts following the present soiree with Sam Foster's Grand Forks aggregation.

Leahy is very highly recommended and is said to have a varied assortment of stuff. The pilot of the valiant Sox has wired the come-on stuff to the mound worker, and if he lives up to half of the nice things that have been said of him, the Leahy chap will prove a very valuable acquisition to the regulars of the team.

Lo and behold here is something that will prove of interest to the ladies. Tomorrow is the first ladies' day of the season and all of the fair fans of the city will be admitted to the park without being forced to deposit any silver at the little window to the left of the entrance.

It is expected that the largest number of the gentler sex in the history of ladies' day will be on hand, as interest in the new league is just as great among the fair fans as it is among the sterner sex. With fair weather it is expected that there will be a large attendance as marking the first ladies' day of the present season.

WALTER JOHNSON MAY BREAK WHITE'S RECORD.

Doc White of Chicago holds the present record of consecutive scoreless innings pitched. The southpaw veteran of the Chicago White Sox pitched forty-five scoreless rounds in 1904, Cleveland, St. Louis, Detroit, New York and the Athletics being the teams to figure in the record. The way Walter Johnson is going at the present time gives brilliant promise of the shattering of this mark, which has stood for years. To date the speed marvel of the Nationals has gone something like thirty-six scoreless rounds, and it is not in the least improbable that he will break the mark set up by the clever and brainy pitcher of the Chicago Americans.

Organizations Suspended.

New York, May 8.—At the closing session yesterday of the board of review of the National Trotting association, the following organizations were suspended until money due for premiums is paid: The Elkins Fair association, Elkins, W. Va.; the Kings County Fair association of Seattle, Wash., and the Santa Clara Fair association of San Jose, Cal.

O. I. Westcott of Milford, N. Y., who raced a horse, under the name of "Prince Medlo," was ordered suspended until he returned the winnings of $225 made in New York state in 1912, and establishes the horse's identity.

Throws Two Men.

Montreal, Can., May 8.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, champion wrestler of Poland, fulfilled conditions imposed upon him here last night by throwing two opponents within an hour. The Pole threw Vincent in 24 minutes with a toe hold and Cazeaux in 26 minutes with a body hold.

Hermann Signs Pitcher.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8.—George Betts, a local semi-professional pitcher, was signed yesterday by President Hermann of the Cincinnati baseball team and left last night to join the club in New York.

Plan Automobile Race.

Galveston, Tex., May 8.—A 200-mile automobile race on Galveston beach for a prize of $5,000 to be hung up, is to be the feature event of the 1913 cotton carnival meet, according to plans laid last night. The plans will cover three days in all, July 28, 29 and 30. It is planned to offer prizes aggregating $14,000.

Outpoints K. O. Brown.

New York, May 8.—Leo Houck of Lancaster, Pa., outfought George (Knockout) Brown of Chicago in a ten-round contest last night.

Blood Poison in Leg.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Rube Waddell, the veteran ball player, who recently announced he had quit professional baseball forever, is suffering from blood poison in his right leg. Waddell received a slight bruise on his knee while playing with the Minneapolis team of the Northern league here, Friday, but paid little attention to it. Monday his knee began to become stiff and yesterday he was compelled to go to bed. According to the attending physician Waddell is in a serious condition, but probably will not have to have his leg amputated.

TRAILING LOCAL SPORTS

Congratulations to Walter Miller on the 25th year of his life. The little Duluth wrestler today celebrates the 25th anniversary of his birth and the little chap has score of well wishers who will wish him many more happy and prosperous years.

Walter Miller is at the present time right in the very prime of his physical prowess and those who congratulate the little wrestler today on the attainment of his 25th year will wish him well for his future, for there are many who believe the greatest victories of this little chap, one of the greatest, if not the very greatest, wrestler in all the world for his weight and inches, are yet to come.

Prof. Wegener of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. declares that he has not abandoned hope in the matter of arranging for a five-mile cross-country run on the last day of the present month, and that there is a possibility that the event may yet be run off.

"There has been a lack of interest shown in the event, it is true," said Prof. Wegener yesterday, "but we are working to get some of the athletes of the various clubs interested in the contest and there is an indication that we may be able to get some of the best runners of the city out for the event."

Members of the new and progressive Lakeside Athletic club are eagerly anticipating the entertainment for the club that is to take place in the Lakeside gymnasium tomorrow evening.

President Arthur L. Ryberg and other officials of the club have labored diligently and energetically to make this the very best of all the meetings of the club members. Jimmy Brady, the clever Duluth boxer, and Jim Kelso are to meet in one of the bouts of the evening, and young Kid Azine and Abe O'Neil are also on the program. The star event of the evening will be the appearance of Walter Miller in a contest with one of the best of the local boys.

Messrs. Webb and Dunning of the Duluth Central Gun club are enthusiastic workers for the popularity of the Saturday afternoon shoots of that progressive organization. So far this season these events have been a thorough and unqualified success. Many of the green shots are taking advantage of the Saturday afternoon matinee and are gathering some of the fine points of the target work. It is expected also that the women of the club will take advantage of the Saturday meets and come out for some work at the traps.

Rowing is progressing very rapidly these days. Roy Kent is back with the eight for the time being and the return of the star of the senior boat has added both strength and confidence to the crew. With Thorburn, Kent, Lathrop, Grant and Bessenbacher in the senior eight, and with the chances that Mahan will be on deck around the first of June, the chances for an eight that will give the famous Con Riley crew a hard race are very bright at the present time.

Should the Detroit Rowing club send an eight to the annual Northwestern International Rowing association's regatta, to be held at St. Paul in July, the senior eight race should be one of the greatest in the history of regattas of the Northwest.

Detroit is moved by the desire to defeat Duluth in retaliation for the defeat at the Peoria National of last August. With St. Paul back with a strong eight, and senior entries from Winnipeg, Duluth and Detroit, the struggle for the senior cup should develop into a contest worth traveling miles to witness.

Coach Ten Eyck has the material here and it is believed that he will turn out the best senior eight in the history of the Duluth Boat club. While the Duluth coach realizes what a grand eight the Winnipeg Rowing club has, he also believes that it is possible to beat it.

Autoists Elect Officers.

New York, May 8.—The directors of the Auto Club of America yesterday elected the following officers: President, Henry B. Anderson; first vice president, Edward S. Pearson; second vice president, Henry R. Taylor; third vice president, Alexander J. Hemphill; treasurer, Dudley Olcott; secretary, W. A. Edwards. Edward S. Pearson was elected chairman of the executive committee and W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., chairman of the contest committee.

Protest Against Bill.

Chicago, May 8.—The Chicago church federation council and the Young People's Civic league here last night sent protests to members of the Illinois legislature against the passage of the proposed law permitting boxing exhibitions, and condemning the boxing exhibition given before the legislators in Springfield Tuesday night.

The Young People's Civic league declared Tuesday night's exhibition was a farce and in no wise resembled professional boxing matches.

Ban on Britton Removed.

Philadelphia, May 8.—Director of Public Safety Porter announced last night that he removed the ban placed on Jack Britton after Britton's fight with Pal Moore at the Olympia club two weeks ago. The director said that a conference with Britton's managers and a group of New York fight experts had convinced him that Britton "did not fake to any great extent, and can fight here when he pleases."

Under the director's orders Moore is still barred from fighting in this city for his part in the Britton match, but Mr. Porter said he "might lift the ban later on."

Boat Race Saturday.

Cambridge, Mass., May 8.—Varsity crews of Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania, which will race Harvard on the Charles river next Saturday, were the guests today of the Harvard Athletic association.

The Princeton crew arrived last night and the Pennsylvania oarsmen reached Cambridge in time to join the Tigers at breakfast this morning.

The shells of the visitors were rigged today for a two-hours' practice on the Charles river this afternoon.

The triangular race which will be rowed at 5 o'clock Saturay afternoon, after the Harvard-Cornell track meet is ended, will be over the regular 1¾ miles course.

Lacrosse Team Leaves.

Boston, Mass., May 8.—Harvard's varsity lacrosse team will leave today to play Hobart college at Geneva, N. Y., on Saturday and Cornell at Ithaca on Monday. The result of the game against Cornell is important, for if Harvard wins the Crimson will be the intercollegiate champion of the Northern lacrosse division and will meet Johns Hopkins, the champions of the southern division, in the playoff for the Wido collegiate title May 17. If Cornell wins the Ithicans probably will meet Johns Hopkins in the final.

World Athletes Invited.

New York, May 8.—James E. Sullivan, director of athletics at the Panama-Pacific exposition, to be held at San Francisco in 1915, yesterday cabled an invitation to the athletes of the world to take part in the athletic events of the exposition. The invitation will be extended to representatives of all nations attending the special congress of the international Olympic committee at Lausanne, Switzerland, by Prof. William H. Sloane, the American committeeman.

CHISHOLM TO GREET LEAGUE

Range Village Preparing for District Epworth League June 4 and 5.

Bishop Quayle and Other Notables Are Expected to Be Present.

Chisholm, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elaborate plans are being made by the Epworth League and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the M. E. church for the entertainment of the Epworth League Duluth district convention here, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4 and 5.

The Duluth district takes in between thirty-five and forty organizations and it is expected that representatives will be sent from all parts of the district. A number of clergymen will be present as well as members of the league who do not attend as delegates.

Bishop W. A. Quayle will deliver the principal address and there will be speeches by several other well-known speakers.

Begin With Banquet.

The convention will open on Tuesday evening with a banquet, which will be given at the church parlors in honor of the visitors, Judge Edward Freeman will be toastmaster.

The following are the committees:

Entertainment—Mrs. Leo Mitchell, Mrs. G. L. Train, Mrs. M. L. Harris, Mrs. George Neally and Mrs. James Duncan.

To receive and register delegates—Mrs. C. C. Estabrooks, Miss Pearl Mitchell and Miss Florence McKendry.

ELY WILL WAR ON STRAY COWS

Poundmaster Is Appointed and Place Secured to Impound Stray Stock.

Ely, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A busy session of the city council was held last evening, lasting until well after midnight. Two new ordinances were introduced and read, one referring to "vagrants," the other for the regulating of the liquor trade. "Bossy" will no longer be allowed the freedom of the city, as in the future all cattle roaming the city will be placed in pound. The council has rented the barn of Mr. Christopher for such purposes and also secured the services of Henry Matti as poundmaster. His salary was placed at $70 per month. Poll taxes will be collected this year from every male resident over 21 years of age. John Dinsmore was given the contract for hauling the city coal to the plant. Andrew Pello was engaged to do the street sprinkling, and Mrs. Seraphine will serve the meals to prisoners.

Voted $300 For Firemen.

The council voted $300 for the expense of taking the fire department team to Aurora at the next meeting of the Range Firemen's Tournament association. The contract for the conduits and electrical fixtures for the extension of the "white way" over the district to be improved by the cement walks was given the Northern Electric company of Duluth. The district lighted by the new "white way" will be on all streets and avenues east from Third avenue east to Sixth avenue east between Camp street and Harvey street.

FOUR TRAINS ARE EXPECTED DAILY

Canadian Northern to Give Good Service Between Duluth and Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. J. Wilson, superintendent of the Canadian Northern says Virginians will have the greatly improved train service it has expected as soon as the division of the Canadian Northern is operating in full over its own rails between Virginia and Duluth, which will be within a short time. The train schedule is not yet made, in full, but it is expected there will be four trains a day each way, two during the daylight and two at night. The full schedule is expected to be announced June 1. It is also stated that the trains will make fast time and that a large local passenger traffic will be catered to. The freight department of the road has been in full operation for two months and is doing a large local business in and out of Virginia. One of the possibilities is a direct connecton with a Duluth-Chicago train giving through mail and passenger service. The more frequent train service over the Canadian Northern road is expected to greatly facilitate the mail service into and out of Virginia.

CLAIM MURPHY HAS FORGOTTEN PLEDGES

Enemies of Virginia Executive and Supporters Seek His Recall.

Virginia, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions are being circulated for the recall of Mayor Murphy, Alderman McGhee, and all of his other supporters in the city council, because it is claimed the mayor has not carried out his pre-election pledges to acquire the water and light plant, that politics have been injected into city commissions, that the provisions of the city charter say shall be held aloof from politics. The mayor's opponents make the charge that all of the city departments are being "Murphyized" and call attention to the large expenditures for legal services for men outside of the city who have not accomplished what they were hired to do. Nearly 100 signatures were obtained yesterday. To recall, the requirement is that 25 per cent of the number who voted for the office at the last election shall sign the recall petition. The names that are mentioned as candidates against Mayor Murphy, should he be recalled, are Andrew Hawkinson, former mayor and Edward C. A. Johnson, former alderman.

COONS & BUTLER GIVEN CONTRACT

Hibbing Contractors to Pave Twenty Blocks in Range Village.

Hibbing, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for paving approximately twenty blocks at an estimated cost of about $150,000 was awarded by the council last night to Coons & Butler of Hibbing. Their bid is 55 cents for excavating; $2.33 per yard for creosoted blocks three inches thick and $2.43 per yard for bitulithic. They will begin work as soon as they can assemble equipment.

Bitulithic and Creosote Blocks.

Fourth avenue and the intersecting streets east will be paved with bitulithic, a total of about 15,000 yards, while the balance of the district to be improved, total of about 22,000 yards, will be paved with creosoted blocks.

The streets to be paved are Superior, Mahoning, Sellers, Washington, Lincoln and Garfield streets from Second to Fourth avenues; Second and Third avenues from Pine to North streets; Pine and Center streets from Third to Fourth avenues, and Fourth avenue from the railroad to the north side of McKinley street.

Hibbing, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Power bought a pair of oxen from the Burrows Packing company and they will be sent out to his ranch at Stingy lake, where J. Murdock McLean, an old time resident of Hibbing is in charge. They will be used in breaking up land and hauling timber and are the first yoke of oxen seen in Hibbing for a long time.

Mother's Day Sermon.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Sunday will be observed as Mother's day, and at the Methodist Episcopal church Rev. A. A. Meyers will preach an appropriate sermon. The 24th of May will be observed as Grand Army day, and Rev. Mr. Meyers will preach a sermon for the old soldiers, who will attend in a body.

Convention Postponed.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The convention of the Itasca County Sunday School association which was announced for Sunday, May 11, has been postponed until the following Sunday, May 18, when the program will be carried out as announced.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY FARMING BOOSTED

Hibbing, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first of the Commercial club's informal "round tables" held last evening at Zant's cafe, brought out an attendance of about one hundred and proved a pronounced success, both in stimulating the boosting spirit for agricultural improvements in this section of St. Louis county and in furthering the get-together spirit among Hibbing business men and other range towns.

President Rupert Swinnerton of the Commercial club was toastmaster and he set forth the plan undertaken by the club of having a number of social gatherings on further various matters of vital interest to the people of this section. In furtherance of this idea the banquet last evening was devoted to agriculture.

Discussed Farming.

The speakers of the evening were L. B. Arnold, land commissioner for the Iron Range railroad; Fred Ward, county agricultural agent; Judge Thomas F. Brady of the municipal court; R. L. Giffin, secretary of the St. Louis county fair, and Rev. Mr. Elayer of Hibbing. All of the talks were rousing appeals for the development of the county's wonderful agricultural resources, and all of them developed the liveliest interest.

LAKE COUNTY TO HELP CELEBRATE

Commissioners Vote $200 to Aid Two Harbors Memorial Day Fund.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake county commissioners held their regular monthly meeting yesterday, A. J. Sonju, L. C. Anderson, Carl E. Bergren, H. Good, and John Norlen being present.

A petition from the Memorial day committee was read requesting that the county contribute funds to be used in defraying expenses necessary to properly celebrate Memorial day. The committee in charge is working hard to make it a big day in Two Harbors. An appropriation of $200 was granted by the commissioners.

As a result of a request from the Lake County Development association, asking the county for aid, the county commissioners appropriated the sum of $400 to be used for developing purposes by the club.

To Help Grade Avenue.

A petition from the city council to the county asking for aid in the grading of Seventh avenue was read before the commissioners several weeks ago but the matter was laid over until such time that the county commissioners could investigate the advisability of such action. Yesterday action was taken on the matter. The county will do the necessary grading on the street providing the city will do as soon as it is graded, surface it with crushed rock. This proposition appeared to be satisfactory. The grading of the avenue will be in charge of Supervisor of Highways H. C. Hanson, and the work will commence in the near future.

Kinsella's Odd Request.

Judge of Probate John Kinsella asked that he be granted a step-ladder and a padlock, as in the future he intended to use the rear window of his office for an entrance and exit, because the air in the corridor was so foul that it would kill him in a year walking through it to and from his office. The request was granted.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN WEDS AT ST. CLOUD.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Daniel L. Shannon, a local merchant, and Miss Mollie Fox of St. Cloud were married in the Roman Catholic cathedral at St. Cloud yesterday. The attendants were Miss Louise Fisher, a niece of the bride, and Joseph Fox, brother of the bride. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Shannon will reside in Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS FIRE FIGHTERS HAVE MEET.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the monthly meeting of the fire department the resignation of R. C. Hoisington, as secretary of the association, and A. L. La Freniere as a member of the department, were accepted. William Powers was chosen as Mr. Hoisington's successor. The Easter Monday dance given by the department netted $103. A special meeting will be called soon to decide which range fireman's association the local company will join.

Will Improve Road.

Virginia, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The street committee of the city council has devised a way of avoiding the intended expenditure of about $12,000 on the Eveleth road and to make an equally good road to Eveleth by building a cut-off from the Gilbert road to Eveleth. The new plan will involve an expenditure of about $2,000.

Ely Class To Give Play.

Ely, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening at the high school auditorium the class of 1913 will give a reproduction of "The Cricket on the Hearth," chosen by the class for their class play. This will be the first of the series of graduating events in the high school.

Nashwauk to Celebrate.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local people propose to raise $500 for an adequate celebration of the Fourth to include a baseball game, horse races, foot races and athletic events of all kinds and to close with extensive fireworks display and a dance. Several committees are already at work on the affair.

Ely Woman's Nephew Dies.

Ely, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. James McCarty received word Wednesday morning of the death of her little nephew, Leo Harrington, at St. Johns, Or.

AFTER POSTOFFICE JOB AT VIRGINIA

Mrs. James Would Retain Office But J. H. Fleming Recommended.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 8.—Friends of Mrs. Mary H. James are making a strong effort to have her retained as postmistress at Virginia, Minn. Although the postoffice department will not give out any information on pending appointments, it is understood that National Committeeman Fred B. Lynch has recommended the appointment of J. H. Fleming for that office. Mrs. James' friends, however, have forwarded a numerously signed petition to Postmaster General Burleson asking for the appointment of Mrs. James. Her name was submitted to the senate last winter by President Taft, but failed of action.

Reports here also are to the effect that A. P. Ynguve or his son has been recommended for postmaster at Cambridge. It is expected that action on these and other of Mr. Lynch's postoffice recommendations will be taken shortly and nominations sent to the senate. There were about fifty postoffices in Minnesota to which Democrats were eligible for appointment when Mr. Wilson assumed office, because of the expiration of the terms of the Republican incumbents.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Half a teaspoonful of Horsford's Acid Phosphate in half a glass of water on retiring insures a restful sleep.

Interfered With Minot Officer.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Phillips, a pool hall owner, is accused of obstructing the door and refusing to permit Patrolman John Reed from entering. Reed charged that there was a fight in the hall, and that as he attempted to enter, Phillips met him in the door. The officer declares there was a general fight in progress at the time.

Feet Tired—So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, calluses, and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it."—A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and calluses. You'll feel like a new person. There are two kinds of people in the world—those that get what they want, and those that get what someone else wants to give them. Be firm—when you ask for TIZ, get it and laugh at the substitute.

TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored mammies" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

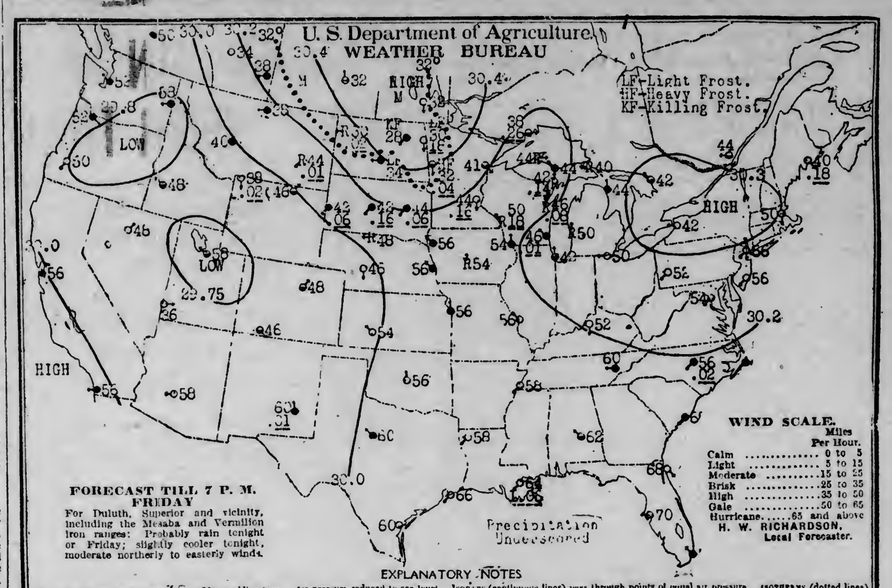
K C Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumplings

One fowl cut in joints; ¼ cup flour; ½ teaspoonful salt; black pepper; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful salt; ¼ cup shortening; milk or cream.

Cover the fowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove to a baking dish. Mix the ¼ cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the broth if necessary before adding the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Put this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this presents a most satisfactory way of serving old fowls. Veal or lamb prepared in this manner is more appetizing than when served as a stew. Try this and the 89 other delicious recipes in the K C Cook's Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending the colored certificate packed in the 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



RAIN

The high temperature yesterday was 50 deg. and the low temperature last night 36 deg., which indicates that it is still cool in Duluth. Today is fair, but rain is promised for tonight or tomorrow.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:40 and it will set at 7:27 this evening, giving fourteen hours and forty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Rain fell during Wednesday or last night over Eastern Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Western Iowa, Northern Nebraska, Maine, South Carolina, New Mexico and Southern Louisiana. The rainfall at New Orleans was heavy. Snow was falling this morning at Williston, N. D. Light to killing frosts or freezing temperature occurred last night in North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota and may be expected again in those districts tonight. Conditions favor occasional light rains and chilly weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 8.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Upper Michigan—Rain or snow tonight or Friday; colder tonight in west portion.

Wisconsin—Unsettled with showers tonight or Friday; cooler in west portion Friday.

Minnesota—Generally fair in west, probably showers in east and south portions tonight or Friday; frost in northwest portion tonight.

North Dakota—Rain or snow tonight or Friday; temperature near freezing tonight.

Montana—Rain tonight or Friday.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor Motion Pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and Talking Pictures.
EMPRESS—"The Bell Hop."

Amusement Notes.

The new Kinemacolor program, which opens today at the Lyceum and continues tomorrow and Saturday, includes "The Fashions," and scenes from Skansen, the museum town of Sweden, in which are gathered countless relics of her wars and countless mementos of the great events in her wonderful history. A two-reel Kinemacolor drama of foreign diplomacy, "Soffia, the Woman Spy," will also be shown, disclosing in realistic detail the elaborate spy system maintained by two continental powers, which are on the verge of war, and illustrating the efficiency of the aeroplane in the intelligence service.

The black and white pictures for today will include a two-reel broncho, "The Way of a Mother," which is a stirring Western dramatic subject with thrilling battle scenes. Miss Lockard will be heard in a new solo.

"Following Bernhart" might be the subject of a volume of reminiscenses by Dorothy Brenner, who is at the Orpheum this week with Joseph Ratcliff in a pleasing little singing act.

For more than fifteen weeks Miss Brenner was with the "Bernhart show" which toured part of the Orpheum circuit. The famous French actress took a great liking for Miss Brenner, and insisted that the latter "follow" her on the bill throughout the tour.

"Madame Bernhart is the easiest star to handle in the world," said Miss Brenner. "She has absolutely none of the temperament' or plain crankiness of most stars. You would hardly know she was in the theater. The managers used to await her coming in fear and trembling, expecting a week of worry and anxiety trying to please a cranky star. They were delightfully surprised to find her the most agreeable woman in the world, and she was the friend of every member of the theater staff when she left. She is just as fine a woman as she is an actress."

• • •

Opening today the Empress management offers the musical comedy success "The Bell Hop." This attraction will entertain the theater patrons for one and one-half hours with pure fun. There is nothing heavy or deep about the play. It is all airy and composed of laughs to drive away that tired feeling. The funny antics and contortions of "hurry" the bell hop as played by Dan Friendly, are a feature. Another laugh provoker is J. Everett, a tall, lean, lanky comedian with many funny stunts which he continually is performing throughout the show. In the trio, Ethelyn Grayce, Babe Hudson and Hazel McKee the "Bell Hop" has some clever singers and dancers. The chorus is large and contains many good looking young women.

Some of the song hits are: "Falling In Love," "A Little Girl From Home," "The Kid From the Bowery," "Hop, Hop, Hop, Hop," "Its Nice to be In Love on a Lovely Day," and others.

MINSTREL SHOW AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Entertainment Planned for Members and Their Invited Guests Only.

The "one day and date only" on which the Amtsbuechler & Strassburger minstrels will appear in Duluth is tomorrow evening, Friday, May 9, at 8 p. m., at the Duluth Commercial club.

Members of the club and—speak it softly!—the ladies who expect to accompany members of the club, are on the ragged edge of expectation and a big crowd is expected to gather in the assembly room of the club for the event. The entertainment will be given only for members and their ladies and the excluded public will miss something. "Only free tickets" is the notice to club members.

O. Edward Amtsbuechler and Harvey H. Strassburger, who have loaned their names to the minstrel aggregation, are actively preparing for the event, and they have an able company of supporters. Hans B. Haroldsen will be interlocutor and the soloists are the best which could be obtained in the membership of the club.

The program is being kept a profound secret, but a few hints that have leaked out show that nobody will be spared from the "hits" and that everybody will enjoy the surprises. The program has been constructed for comedy purposes, but it will be a real entertainment and it is expected that few members of the club will be indiscreet enough to remain away and miss it.

CLAIM SHORT WAS SHOT BY LA TRASSE

Kansas City Southern Affair Is Laid to Escaped Train Robber.

Kansas City, Mo., May 8.—That the robber who held up a Kansas City Southern train here last week shot Jesse M. Short of Joplin and escaped with $1,100, is none other than William La Trasse, a desperate criminal who escaped from the Wyandotte county, Kan., jail two years ago after being convicted of train robbery, was the theory of detectives today. La Trasse was said to be wanted in Chicago on a charge of murder, and in St. Joseph, Mo., for jail breaking.

La Trasse was convicted of holding up a Missouri Pacific passenger train near Kansas City, Kan., Christmas night, 1910. Detectives say his methods and those of the Kansas City Southern bandit were the same, and their physical descriptions practically identical.

A bloody shirt, found between Courtney, Mo., and Eaton's Tower, fourteen miles east of Kansas City, today encouraged the posse that since yesterday afternoon has been on the trail of a wounded man believed to be the robber. Louis Watson, another wounded man, held by the police and identified by Short as his assailant, is retained in custody pending further efforts to substantiate Short's identification.

AITKIN RECEPTION.

Woman's Relief Corps Entertains the School Teachers.

Aitkin, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—An elaborate reception was tendered the Aitkin school teachers last evening by the Woman's Relief corps in Odd Fellows' hall. Music and dancing furnished entertainment for the evening and supper was served.

Killed In North Kearsarge.

Calumet, Mich., May 8.—Richard Collins, aged 59 years, was killed Monday night by falling from the twenty-fourth level of No. 3, North Kearsarge. Collins was standing on a staging and fell over backwards, fracturing the base of the skull.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Edward of Red Jacket, John of Mohawk and William of Laurium, and two daughters, Mrs. Moyle of Laurium and Miss May at home.

IN TORTURE WITH RASH ALL THE TIME

Itched so Could Not Sleep. Burned Like Fire. Arms and Legs Raw as Beef. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

City Infirmary, Hartwell, Ohio.—"Three years ago a rash broke out on both arms from the wrist to the elbows. The rash was not larger than pin-points and watery. It itched so badly I could not sleep and I scratched my arms till they were raw. Then it broke out on my face and the calves of my legs. It itched so badly and burned like fire and I would scratch myself till I bled. I was in torture all the time. It made me sick and I began to lose flesh. My arms and legs were raw as beef.

"I tried every remedy I heard of or read of but it was no use what I took or used till I commenced to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. From the start I felt relief. I first would wash with the Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment, wrapping my arms and legs with bandages. My flesh healed up and in nine weeks from the time I commenced to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment I was completely cured." (Signed) John W. Ogden, Sept. 27, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails with painful finger-ends, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

She is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. It is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a grateful encouragement to the expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.

There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women.

This splendid remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 282 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

MARINE NEWS

CANADA DESERVES CREDIT FOR FORCING OPENING OF NAVIGATION, SAYS FLYNN

Duluth Captain Returns After Opening Channel Through Ice.

Details of the difficulties of forcing an opening of the marine season this year are given by Capt. C. O. Flynn of the ice-breaker St. Ignace, the boat that broke through the field of ice near Whitefish bay and the Soo, allowing the boats to move probably two weeks earlier as a result. Capt. Flynn arrived in Duluth yesterday from Port Arthur and is spending a few days at his home, 329 West Third street.

The St. Ignace, according to Capt. Flynn, made five and one-half miles an hour through twenty-four inches of ice, direct from Detour to the Soo. In many places the little boat encountered ice thirty feet thick and oftentimes the boat would drill a large hole in this windrowed ice, back up and go into it with the force of a battering ram. It was the only way to break up these large heavy fields of ice.

There is no doubt but that the marine season would not have opened until at least May 1, if the St. Ignace had not worked when she did. Due credit for this must go to the Canadian government, according to Capt. Flynn, who stated that the government leased the boat from Capt. Whalen, its owner, for the purpose of breaking the ice.

Grain Blockade.

The Canadian government was anxious to get the floating grain out of the Canadian ports and it was for this reason that it went to this heavy expense. Many farmers in the western provinces were overstored with grain and they were waiting to send it to the elevators. This was impossible until the grain was shipped out of the ports and the elevators partly cleared. At present the congestion is practically over and the farmers are gradually relieving their conditions on their farms.

"We did not have a bit of trouble," said Capt. Flynn in discussing the work of the St. Ignace yesterday afternoon. "The boat worked splendidly during the entire ice-breaking trip and we succeeded in finally opening it up.

"It was late in the evening when the little boat finally plowed through the last bit of ice field, meaning that the lake was clear for navigation. Never in my life have I ever heard or witnessed what occurred that night. There were two fleets of about twenty-five boats each, waiting to get away and they all lit up and began whistling. It was certainly a sight worth while."

The St. Ignace is now at Port Arthur undergoing repairs and overhauling in preparation for the fall and early winter season, when she will again be called into use.

Capt. Flynn will take charge of the wrecking boat St. Mary upon his arrival at Toledo. The boat is a sister ship of the St. Ignace.

There is still an immense field of floating ice in the lake, but it is not expected to cause much trouble, and will probably disappear rapidly.

TRAFFIC THROUGH THE SOO CANALS.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 8.—Freight carried through the American and Canadian canals at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and Ontario, in that portion of April during which navigation was open, aggregated 1,905,555 tons, the heaviest movement of freight for the month since 1910, when the total was 1,958,913 tons and in 1911 the month's record was 792,587 tons.

In 1912, the total freight movement for April was 166,918 tons and in 1911 the month's record was 792,587 tons.

MARINE POSTOFFICE IN MIDSEASON RUSH.

Detroit, Mich., May 8.—Business of the marine postoffice shows the activity of the regular navigation season, and hereafter the office will be kept open until about 1 a. m., with Clerk Norman S. Johnson in charge, while Supt. W. S. Winckler and Assistant Supt. Delmer Gowing work together through the day watch.

Working on Indus.

The Wrecker Favorite arrived Tuesday afternoon at Scotts point, Lake Michigan, where the steamer Indus is ashore. Capt. Thomas H. Hackett of the Indus sent a telegram yesterday saying Nos. 2 and 3 tanks are leaking and water is filling the cargo hold. The ship is in twelve feet of water forward and amidships, with fifteen feet under her stern. The bottom is rocky. Unless the ship ran over a boulder that punctured the shell she probably can be released without much difficulty.

DELAYS ARE ELIMINATED

Shipping Activity on Lakes Will Soon Be Normal.

Ore Moving Freely and Coal Boats Are in Demand.

The shipping season at the local port is gradually reaching normal. The many delays that have occurred the past two weeks at the ore docks are fast disappearing and the boats are beginning to have very little trouble in loading.

A number of the ore boats the past few days were compelled to wait almost forty-eight hours before being assigned to a dock. The reason for this is that the ore movement from the ranges was slow in getting started and that as a result there was a scarcity at the docks.

This condition is now changing, however, and about 4,500 cars are being received at local docks each day at the present time. This number will have to be increased before the normal movement will have been reached. About 7,000 cars each day will probably be the average receipts for Duluth and Superior docks.

It is understood that several of the local grain shippers were offered boats at 2 cents, with no guarantee, yesterday. This is not general and the regular rate of 2¼ cents still prevails.

Coal boats are still in good demand at the Eastern ports and it is expected that the movement will reach its normal in a few days.

Beacon lights have all been placed on the pilings along the Duluth side of the St. Louis river, while piles are now being driven on the Superior side. The work is expected to be finished by Saturday.

The Northern Dredge company this morning began dredging the channel above the Northern Pacific bridge at Grassy Point. The shoals will all be removed and the channel slightly deepened. The work is under the supervision of the United States engineers.

FORT WILLIAM "MOVIES."

Fort William, Ont., May 8.—Tens of thousands of persons in moving picture shows in the United States will now be able to marvel at illustrations thrown on screens which depict the opening of navigation in Fort William.

The Pathe Freres company of Jersey City, N. J., which took the pictures of the local docks and the great steamers that left this port early in the spring has advised the industrial commissioner that views will be shown in the larger cities of the republic at once. It is told that although some of the negatives taken were spoiled in the developing, a reel about 200 feet in length, will be shown in American and European theaters. It is expected that the pictures will arrive here in about six weeks.

FOLLETTE HAS TWO ACCIDENTS.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 8.—Everything went wrong for the steamer Follette yesterday. While towing the barges Commodore and Peterson near Whitefish point in the morning, her engines became disabled. She was able to go ahead, but owing to some defect in the mechanism could not reverse.

The Follette carries coal for Calumet, and leaving her tows at anchor, she returned here for repairs. After locking through, and while attempting to make the dock, assisted by a tug, she ran her bow against the pier and twisted her stem.

The iron sheeting was torn off and her bow timbers broken. This will necessitate a new piece set in, and it will be several days before she can leave the dock. Tugs have been sent to bring in the tows.

Steamer Grounds.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 8.—During thick weather which prevailed Tuesday morning, the steamer Schoolcraft, of the Fairport Transportation company, of Cleveland, went hard aground at the southeast bend, St. Clair river. The tug Mercereau, of the Great Lakes Towing company, was dispatched to her assistance.

Watching Electric Wiring.

Bismarck, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. H. COMPLAIN OF POOR FOOD

Nine Members of Steamer's Crew Quit on Arrival in Duluth.

Signed for Round Trip and Are Unable to Collect Pay.

Because they struck and refused to work after reaching the Duluth harbor at 6 o'clock last evening, nine members of the crew of the steamer Lyman C. Smith, were put off the boat by the police late last evening. The men claim they were refused their pay by Capt. George W. Pierce and they are now in the city without money.

The men claim that they have been mistreated ever since they joined the crew April 22, when the boat sailed on its first trip to Buffalo from Clevelnad. The food, they say, has been bad and at times they were compelled to get along without bread and at other times without meat. They complained several times, they say, but the captain failed to right these conditions.

The members of the crew who refused to work and who are now in the city are: John D. Hanson, Harry Moss, George Razdem, Arthur Henricksen, Walter Jonas, William Jeppert, Sam Wilson, Paul Smith and Tony Koenig. Hanson acting as spokesman for the men, said:

"The meat that was fed us was rotten. We did not object to the cook being colored, but the fact that he did not know how to cook it. It was also the captain's fault for not buying good clean meat. We were half starved on the entire trip.

"When we got to Ashtabula from Buffalo, we decided to quit and then demanded our pay from the captain. He promised to feed us better after that and said that everything would be all right. He made a similar promise once before. We decided to go on to Duluth with him, after that second promise. But on the trip conditions were even worse, and when the boat docked here yesterday we decided to quit. We went to the captain and asked him for our money. He refused to give it to us. After that he called the police and had us thrown off.

"At first he promised us that conditions would again be better and that the food would be all right, but he fell through on the other promises, so we decided to quit. We are taking the matter up with the United States marshal and we will do all in our power to get our money. There is about $175 due us altogether."

According to the rules of the association the men signed up for a return trip and consequently lose their pay by quitting here in Duluth. It is on these grounds that Capt. Pierce refused them their pay.

OWNERS MAY ASK CHANGE IN RULES

Question of Safety of Livingstone Channel Raised After Accidents.

Boat owners along the lakes are making inquiry as to the safety of navigating Livingstone channel, since the four accidents last week.

Most of the owners are of the opinion that it would be safer for the boats with tows to use the old Amherstburg channel instead of the new one just opened this year. It is understood that a request for the change is to be made of Lieut.-Col. Mason M. Patrick, government engineer in charge at Detroit.

While there was a heavy fog at the Soo last Saturday and Sunday several boats went aground on the shoal between the Livingstone channel and the old Amherstburg channel. For a time the former channel was closed for navigation and all boats downbound were compelled to use the old Amherstburg channel. The Livingstone was not opened until Tuesday.

The lighter Rescue lightered the cargo of the Pathfinder, one of the boats that ran aground last Saturday, before it could be released. She was on rock bottom from stem to stern, a very unusual case for a boat like the Pathfinder.

Several of the owners in Cleveland are to take the matter up with Lieut.-Col. Patrick and the advisability of using the Livingstone channel will be carefully discussed.

Last week Lieut.-Col. Patrick gave notice to all vessel masters that they must use the new channel in passing through Detroit river, as required by the regulations of the war department. A violation of this regulation means a fine of from $1,000 to $2,000 imposed on the owners of the violating ships, or the possible taking away of the boat's license.

ALONG THE LAKES

Recommended loading drafts for canals at Sault Ste. Marie have been received at the office of President William Livingstone of the Lake Carriers as follows: Canadian canal, upbound 18 feet 10 inches; downbound 19 feet 3 inches; American canal, 19 feet.

The steamer Cole which sank the barge Iron City last week has five damaged plates and three damaged frames on her port bow as a result of the collision. It will not be necessary to make repairs now.

* * *

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 8.—The lighter Reliance commenced work on the steamer Turret Crown Tuesday afternoon, by removing her cargo of wheat to get at the break caused by her collision with steamer W. S. Mack, Saturday night.

The injuries were found to be so extensive that a cement patch will have to be placed on the inside. Considerable of the cargo is wet. The steamer Mack got away at noon Monday in tow of the tugs Schenk and Boynton for Fairport, Ohio.

* * *

Milwaukee, May 8.—Judge Geiger in Federal court Tuesday took under advisement the libel suit which has been before him for several days, involving damages resulting from the collision of the steamers Norman B. Ream and Senator. The suit was for $110,000 and has been pending since December, 1909, when the collision took place. The steamer Senator was so badly damaged by the collision, for which her owners blame the commander of the Ream, that she was out of commission for the entire season.

* * *

Conneaut, May 8.—The first rush of the season came Tuesday when thirteen carriers were lined up at the machines. The fast dock was started in the morning and was double crewed at night to help take care of the jam. The coal dock was also double crewed at night, it being the first time that this dock has ever been worked in two shifts. The Bessemer is still holding back on cars and the work of unloading is slower than usual.

* * *

Alpena, Mich., May 8.—Steamer Cherokee and barge Nelson Holland of her tow were still aground on Sturgeon Point Tuesday night, with three tugs trying to pull them off. The Goshawk, another barge of the tow, is in the harbor here.

* * *

All the beacons on Lake Superior are now in commission for the season, the lighthouse tender Marigold having taken the crews of the lights at Huron and Granite Islands and Stannard rock to their posts, according to a Marquette dispatch last night. Frank Wittee of Detroit is in charge of the Huron light. This is his twelfth consecutive year at this point. He has been in the service twenty-one years. Knute Olson of Bayfield will be keeper of the light at Stannard. He replaces A. H. Crittenden, who has been replaced. James Wheatley has been returned to Granite rock.

AUSTRALASIAN TENNIS CAPTAIN ARRIVES.

New York, May 8.—S. N. Doust, captain of the Australasian tennis team, which will compete here next month in the preliminaries for the Davis cup, arrived in New York today on the liner Majestic. He was met by Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis association. Doust's teammates recently arrived in California from Australia. He came via London, where he had been playing.

Doust is 35 years old and slight of figure. He has been playing in English lawn tennis for the past seven years. Last year he led an English team into South Africa. With A. S. Wilding he won the English covered court tennis championship last year from Gore and Barrett, who formely represented England in the Davis cup matches.

If the Australasians defeat the Americans in the preliminary matches Doust said today that Wilding probably would take a place on their team in the final battle for the cup. He was doubtful, however, of the success of himself and his teammates.

"If the Americans beat us, though," he said, "it will be due to their fast service."

Doust expected that his teammates, Messrs. Jones and Rice, would arrive from the West today.

OLYMPIC COMMITTEE OPENS ITS SESSION.

Lausanne, Switzerland, May 8.—The congress of the International Olympic committee opened here today in the great hall of the university. Most of the countries of the world were represented, 400 delegates being present.

The inaugural proceedings took place before a fashionable audience, including many women. Formal addresses were read by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, the president of the committee, and Prof. Guglielmo Ferrero, the Italian historian.

MOORHEAD NORMAL BEATS N. D. U TEAM.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Moorhead, Minn., normal team bunched hits in one inning of yesterday's game against the University of North Dakota, putting one run across the pan and winning by that tally, the Flickertails failing to score. Carlender, pitching for Moorhead, was invincible. Batteries—Moorhead, Carlender and Bestine; University of North Dakota, McIntosh, Burfening and Helsing.

Must Furnish Seats.

Chicago, May 8.—State Senator Beall's bill demanding that seats must be furnished to all ticket-holders at baseball games, passed the senate at Springfield today.

The bill is aimed chiefly at President Murphy of the local National league team, at whose grounds Senator Beall was unable to get the seats called for by his coupon. Murphy left yesterday for New York to attend the Cub-Brooklyn games today and Friday.

Will Appear July 4.

Spokane, Wash., May 8.—Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie has set July 4 as the date of his next appearance in a prize ring, according to his announcement yesterday. Ritchie said he would begin training the second week of June on a ranch in California. No match has been arranged for July 4 as yet, but the champion expects to meet either Leach Cross or Joe Rivers.

Horse Show Over.

Washington, May 8.—The national capital horse show concluded yesterday a four-day exhibition, declared to have been one of the most successful ever given under the auspices of the Riding and Hunt Club of Washington. The last day brought out an unusually large number of spectators, among whom were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president, and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, wife of the secretary of state.

WOMAN WHO WILL NOT EAT IS FREED.

Chicago, May 8.—Paulina Armstrong has won her freedom from the house of correction by adopting the methods of the London suffragists and going on a hunger strike. Jailer Whitman reported to Municipal Judge Hopkins that the woman, who was serving a sentence for misdemeanor, had refused to eat for ten days. Judge Hopkins issued a pardon.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Commissioner Hicken moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution awarding contract to P. McDonnell for paving of Fourth street from Sixth avenue east to Fourteenth avenue east was declared adopted at the last meeting of the council and stated as his reason for this reconsideration that there had been no question as to whom the contract should have been awarded but as to the material with which the street should be paved and he wished to have the resolution divided in voting upon the same. The motion was declared lost on the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Voss.—2.

Nays—Commissioners Merritt, Murchison, Mayor Prince.—3.

By Commissioner Murchison:

Resolved, That the bid of P. McDonnell for paving of First street from First avenue east to Sixth avenue east with creosoted blocks be and hereby is accepted and it is hereby directed that the contract for doing said work be awarded to said P. McDonnell.

Commissioner Murchison moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

By Mayor Prince:

Resolved, That the following be adopted as the standing rules of the council:

REGULAR MEETINGS, TIME OF.

Rule 1. The council shall meet at least once each week on Monday at 3 p. m. and may meet daily if the press of business so warrants. All meetings shall be regular meetings.

PRESIDING OFFICER.

Rule 2. The mayor shall preside at all meetings of the council and in case of his non-attendance at any meeting the president of the council shall preside and in case both mayor and president of the council are absent, the council shall appoint a chairman from the members present.

QUORUM, ADJOURNMENT AND COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE.

Rule 3. At all meetings of the council a majority shall constitute a quorum to do business but the minority may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members as provided for by ordinance providing that no member shall be required to remain longer than one-half hour after the time to which the council stands adjourned.

ROLL CALL, ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Rule 4. At the hour appointed for the meeting the members shall be called to order by the mayor or in his absence, by the president, or in the absence of both, by the clerk who shall proceed to call the roll, note the absentees and announce if a quorum be present. Upon the appearance of a quorum, the council shall then proceed to the business before them which shall be considered in the order following:

1. Roll call.
2. Approval of minutes.
3. Presentation of petitions and other communications.
4. Reports of officers.
5. Unfinished business.
6. Introduction and consideration of ordinances.
7. Reports of commissioners.
   (a) Public affairs.
   (b) Finance.

PRIVATE DISCUSSION RESTRICTED, WHEN.

Rule 6. When a member is speaking, no member shall entertain private discussions.

MEMBERS TO BE CALLED TO ORDER, WHY.

Rule 7. A member called to order shall immediately suspend his remarks unless permitted to explain. If he does not appeal the decision of the chair shall be deemed conclusive; but if the member chooses to appeal from the decision of the chair, the council shall decide the point without debate.

MOTIONS OF PRECEDENCE.

Rule 8. The motions upon the subject under consideration shall have precedence in the following order:

1. To lay on the table.
2. To postpone.
3. To commit.
4. To amend.

RECONSIDERATION.

Rule 9. Any member who voted with the prevailing side may move a reconsideration of any action of the council provided that the motion be not made later than one week after such action was taken. A motion to reconsider shall be in order at any time except when a motion on some other question is pending.

A motion to reconsider being laid upon the table may be taken up and acted upon at any time when the council is engaged in the transaction of miscellaneous business. No motion to reconsider shall be made more than once on any matter or subject and the same number of votes shall be required to reconsider any action of the council as is required to pass or adopt the same.

ADJOURNMENT.

Rule 10. A motion to adjourn shall be in order at any time and shall have precedence over all other motions and shall be decided without debate except only that any member of the council, before such motion is put, be entitled to state what business he or any committee of which he is a member, desires to be considered.

VOTING.

Rule 11. Every member present shall vote on any question on the calling of ayes and noes.

COMMITTEES.

Rule 12. All committees shall be appointed by the mayor or in his absence by the president unless otherwise decided by the council in which case they shall be appointed by ballot.

CLOSS EAT LOW POINTS

Anticipation of Glowing Government Report Is a Factor.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 7.—Every option on the Duluth market closed this afternoon at or close to its low point of the day. The sag was gentle but uncheckable, and the bearish feeling would not down. Fine crop reports from all over the country and from Russia and Argentina were conducive to a toboggan movement, and this was aided by the anticipation of what the government crop report would show. Advance guesses were about right as to winter wheat, but the report did not come until the close of the market. Winter wheat condition is given at 91.9 per cent, as against 91.6 last month and 79.7 a year ago.

The acreage on which winter wheat will be produced amounts to 20,938,000 acres, the yield per acre is figured at 16.6 bu, and the estimated crop of winter wheat is 513,571,000 bu. Against the advance reports and other things favorable to the bears the covering of shorts which showed some influence at the beginning of the session did not prevail long.

May wheat closed after an inactive day, at 88c asked, which was ¼c under yesterday. July closed ⅝c under yesterday with not a great deal doing during the day. May durum closed 1½c off.

May flax dropped ½c during the day and July option lost ¾c. Inactivity was the key word all along the line.

Cash wheat closed ⅜c to ¾c under July. Oats, rye and barley remained unchanged.

Throughout the session the market was uninteresting. After opening hard and with an appearance of strength, it afterwards dropped into a little rut all its own and stayed there. Cables opened strong and foreign markets with the exception of Berlin and Budapest, closed higher and strong. Liverpool cabled that with the excellent reports from America, Canada and Argentina a bearish feeling developed but was checked by the shorts who tried to cover, pushing the price upward instead of downward as would have been natural on the strength of crop reports. Chicago early developed a bearish tendency and while there was but little selling, the sentiment and the fact that the bears were all prepared to jump on the market hard when the opportunity presented itself, had their influence.

May wheat had no opening figure. It closed yesterday at 88¼c nominal and the only quotation on the board in this option today up to a late hour was 88¼c bid. July wheat opened even at yesterday's close, 90¼c, went down as far as 89⅞c and came back to 90c bid.

May durum had no opening figure but was quoted later at ½c off yesterday's close with no trades. July durum had no opening either but was quoted at ⅝c off the close.

There was very little trading in any flax option. May opened at $1.29½ but fell off ¼c early and hovered around that figure for what little business there was done. July flax had a few more trades than May. It opened at $1.31½, yesterday's closing figure, and had a little rise, going up a quarter.

The government crop report, given in another column, which was issued today, shows one of the greatest, if not "the" greatest, percentages of probable yield of winter wheat of any government report yet issued in May. Winter wheat condition is 91.9 per cent, 12.2 more than a year ago this time. The acreage employed is perhaps the greatest, being 20,938,000 against 25,744,000 acres a year ago.

Winnipeg reports light trading with no wheat offering. Exporters there say that the crop is all sold and that foreign markets are still in need of hard spring wheat.

• • •

A dispatch from New York credits Vice President Sebastin of the Rock Island lines, who has just returned to Gotham from a trip over the road, with saying that he has never before seen winter wheat looking so well. He declares he would not be surprised if Kansas raised 40 per cent more wheat than last year.

Messrs. Staples and Jones, members of the grain commission of the Dominion of Canada, are at the head of the Lakes today examining the manner in which grain is inspected under the Minnesota system. The matter of establishing a Canadian grain inspection is to come up this coming fall, and some are in favor of the Minnesota system while other are opposed. The commissioners wish to have their knowledge at first hand and are therefore making the investigation today. They spent this morning in Superior, will be in Duluth late this afternoon and will return to Winnipeg tonight.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Values Are Lowered By Government Report Forecasts.

Chicago, May 8.—Expectations of a bearish government crop report today lowered wheat values. The opening was strong, unchanged to ½c up on higher cables due to smaller world's shipments, but free selling, induced by a belief that a small abandoned acreage would be shown by the government report, caused a quick reaction. July started a shade to ⅛@¼c higher at 89½@89¾c and dipped to 89¼c.

Later there was a slight recovery due to purchases by shorts, but a reaction followed. The close was weak with July at 89c, a net loss of ⅜@½c.

Report of damage to corn by rains in Argentine helped values here at the outset, but some realizing took the edge off the market and there was a decline. July started a shade to ¼c up at 55⅝@55¾c to 55¾c and eased off to 55½c.

Contradiction of damage to oats in Illinois and Indiana from dry weather lifted prices in that market at the start, July opening ¼c up at 35c, but profit-taking brought a reaction of ¼c.

A larger run of hogs in the West and a drop of 5c at the yards lowered provisions. Opening figures unchanged to 5c off. July prices: Pork, $19.25; lard, $10.75; ribs, $10.95.

Close: Wheat—No. 2 red, 99½c@$1.02¾; No. 3 red, 95@98c; No. 2 hard, 91@92¾c; No. 3 hard, 90¼@92½c; No. 1 northern, 90@91½c; No. 2 northern, 89@91c; No. 3 northern, 87@89c; No. 2 spring, 89@90c; No. 3 spring, 87@89c; No. 4 spring, 80@87c; velvet chaff, 86@91½c; durum, 94@98c.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—With the government report coming at the close, trading was light and the market in extremely narrow range. May closed ¼@⅜c lower than yesterday; July ½c lower, and September ⅜c lower. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 700,000 bu for five days. May opened 86½c, high 86½c, low 86¼c, closed 86¾c; July opened 88¾c, high 88¾c; low 88⅛@88¼c, closed 88¼c; September opened 90½c, high 89½c, low 89⅛c, closed 89c¼.

Flour—Sales were light today and scattered. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 53,555 bbl. (In wood, f. o. b. Minneapolis)—First patents, $4.50@4.85; second patents, $4.25@4.60; first clears, $3.30@3.70; second clears, $2.80@3.20.

London Stocks.

London, May 8.—American securities were quiet and featureless during the forenoon. Trifling and irregular changes following the receipt of the Wall Street opening and the market closed easy. Chesapeake & Ohio were weak.

Money and discount rates were easy.

MOVEMENT DOWNWARD

Lack of Demand Again Characterized the Stock Market.

Realizing in the Coppers and Pressure Against Pacifics.

New York, May 8.—Lack of demand for stocks again characterized trading today. Some professional selling was invited on the assumption that recent advances have been largely at the expense of the short interest, but the volume of offerings was small.

The movement as a whole was slightly downward. Less attention was paid to the character of foreign markets, as traders have given up hope of extensive European buying for the present.

Bonds were irregular.

Renewed pressure was directed against the Harriman shares when trading began today, and both Union Pacific and Southern Pacific opened at substantial fractions below yesterday's close. Canadian Pacific, which fell back a point, and Rumely, which opened 2 points lower, were the other freak features. Otherwise the list held close to last night's close. Active buying of Brooklyn Rapid Transit lifted it a point.

Depression in Chesapeake & Ohio which fell to 62½, a new low record, kept the market in check for a while, but ultimately it worked upwards. Reading and Union Pacific hardened nearly a point but the general buying waned after the average level crossed yesterday's close.

Amalgamated moved up briskly on the good showing made in the Producers' monthly statement which reported a decrease of nearly 29,000,000 pounds in stocks on hand. Elsewhere there was a sensibly firmer tone, but the buying was scant.

An easier tendency was manifested in the late afternoon, largely a result of concerted pressure against Canadian Pacific which yielded over 2 points. Recessions otherwise were slight and the general list ultimately hardened when increased buying of the copper stocks began to take effect.

The market closed easy. While the government crop figures more than sustained the opinion of private experts as to conditions and yield, the showing fell flat as a stock market influence. In fact the range of prices was lower after its publication, although the movement was manifestly due to realizing in the coppers and pressure against the Pacifics.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 8.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 4 to 6 points and sold about 5 to 7 points net higher during the early trading on continued covering and commission house buying. Realizing checked the advance and the market became somewhat unsettled following a few private reports of showers in Georgia and predictions that the low barometer in the West soon would bring showers to the belt.

REPORT DOES NOT AFFECT COPPERS

The Copper Producers' association report of copper stocks on May 1 was issued today at noon, and while it shows a much more favorable condition than was expected, showing the decrease to be almost 29,000,000 instead of 17,000,000 as expected, up to the close no perceptible difference in the stock market was noticeable. The general tone is stronger than for some days, but exceeding quietness prevails.

Amalgamated and North Butte had considerable trading and the price had an upward tendency. In the minor stocks Mayflower and Old Colony, which have been napping for a long time, awoke and had considerable trading with a slight upward trend.

Amalgamated closed after quite an active day at an eighth up. The activity continued throughout in Mayflower and Old Colony. Allouez opened at 32 and closed at 33, Chino remained steady, Allouez closed a quarter to three-eighths up and Granby closed a quarter over the close of yesterday. Other stocks were quiet. The Copper Producers' report follows:

Gay & Sturgis today received the following telegram from Boston concerning mines in which many Duluth people are interested:

W. F. Bartholomew of Thompson, Towle & Co., has just returned from a trip through the South and Southwest, which included a visit to all the big copper camps of the country, other than those of Lake Superior. He says:

"I found a general feeling of unrest apparent almost everywhere and business interests almost universally report that new business is slow. In California, real estate values have recently shown a considerable shrinkage. The effect of two years' drought in connection with the big freeze last winter has seriously crippled that state. Crop conditions, except in California, are ideal for this season of the year.

"Labor conditions are bad everywhere, but the general complaint is not so much the question of high wages as lack of efficiency which comes with the higher wages.

"I visited the Chino, Ray, Globe, Bisbee, Cananea, Yerington, Bingham and Butte camps. The latter is probably the most active camp at the present time, owing to the great activity in the acquisition of new claims. The so-called Amalgamated interests are understood to have acquired 1,100 acres at an expenditure of over $1,000,000 in the eastern part of the camp, while North Butte and Butte & Superior have added to their holdings, and as a result there is every reason to expect a considerable expansion of Butte's mineralized area. North Butte has come back strong and is opening new ore fast, so that its future seems assured.

"The Butte & Superior, under the direction of Messrs. Bradley and Jenney of the Utah Copper forces, has apparently overcome the mill difficulties and is now recovering 90 per cent of its ore values and planning immediately to place the second unit of its plant in operation. It is now earning about $2.25 per ton of ore on 5½-cent smelter, but lower milling costs are expected with a larger output.

"At Bisbee, both the Copper Queen and Calumet & Arizona are adding steadily to their rich ore areas. The latter is developing a big disseminated ore deposit in the Ajo mountains, which will probably add another big steam shovel low cost produce to the lists, with great profit to Calumet & Arizona stockholders.

"Greene-Cananea is suffering temporarily from the revolution in Mexico, but I believe the war there will eventually prove a blessing in disguise to Greene-Cananea, as when operations are resumed great economies in operation will have been brought about by the new management. With $1,000,000 worth of blister copper tied up at Cananea and the property shut down, the passage of dividends was to be expected.

"Giroux is suffering from a lean treasury and to date misplaced confidence in the Alpha ore body, following a tremendous waste of money, but it may be able to work out through the treatment of its low grade ores, but progress will be slow."

FIRST TRIP TO NORTH DAKOTA

The first trade extension excursion of 1913 will be held during the first week in June, when about 100 Duluth business men are expected to invade North Dakota to establish friendly relations with the towns along the route.

The members of the new trade extension committee of the Commercial club, with Frank X. Gravel as chairman, will start tomorrow to obtain pledges from business men who will make the trip. They expect that about 100 will be enlisted.

The excursionists will leave Duluth Sunday evening, June 1, and will return Sunday morning, June 8. They will visit the towns on all the branches of the Great Northern from Grand Forks to Minot and will return on the Fargo-Surrey cut-off via Fargo. They will visit 148 towns in the six days and will thoroughly cover the most densely settled portion of North Dakota.

The excursionists will be accompanied by the Third Regiment band, and all the old and some new boosting features will be introduced to make the visit of the Duluthians memorable in the towns they strike.

3,000,000 BUSHELS OF GRAIN MAY BURN

Fort William, Ont., May 8.—The powerhouse between Elevators A and B, the oldest at the Canadian Head of the Lakes, caught fire shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Nearly 3,000,000 bushels of grain are in the elevators, which probably cannot be saved.

REFUSES TO PROSECUTE

Victim of Murderous Assault Declines to Appear Against Assailant.

Was in Similar Predicament Himself About Two Years Ago.

Though only a near miracle alone is accountable for the fact that Charles Hill, 30 years old, a laborer, is walking about today instead of lying on a slab in a morgue, Hill this morning flatly refused to prosecute Matt Johnson, who last night tried to sink a knife into his heart.

Hill was in a similar predicament himself about two years ago. Declaring that he knew from bitter experience the feelings of his assailant, and that whiskey alone was responsible for the attempt upon his life, he flatly declined to swear out any warrant for Johnson or appear against him as a witness.

In a boarding house but a few feet away from last night's fracas, First alley and Sixth avenue west, Hill it is claimed, assaulted and killed a man, two years ago. He was captured by a policeman who traced him through the snow to a hiding place behind some bill boards several blocks away. The grand jury failed to return a true bill against him and after he had lingered in jail for a time he was released.

The affair last night was another drunken brawl such as that in which Hill killed a man. As far as the police could learn Johnson had no motive whatever for trying to murder Hill. They state that he was crazy drunk and whipped out a knife when he became involved in a wordy quarrel over some trivial matter, stabbing Hill because he chanced to be one of the crowd about him.

Had the knife gone about half an inch farther to the left the blade would have penetrated Hill's heart, according to Dr. I. J. Murphy, police surgeon, who was summoned to dress the wound which might have been mortal. As it was the knife struck the large bone in the center of the breast and inflicted but a flesh wound.

Because of Hill's refusal to appear against Johnson the prisoner was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of simple assault instead of assault with intent to kill. He pleaded guilty. Judge Cutting imposed the maximum penalty possible under the third degree assault charge, three months straight in the county jail without the option of a fine.

BEGIN WORK ON SMOKE PROBLEM

R. E. Patterson Employed By Health Department as Special Deputy.

R. E. Patterson, former member of the board of public works, has been employed by the health department to secure facts and figures about the smoke nuisance in Duluth.

He is making a personal canvas of the city, taking the problem up personally with the men who are doing the fuming. The health department believes that the trouble can be greatly abated by a campaign of education as most of the black soot which pours forth from the stacks is due to lack of knowledge of proper methods of firing. Mr. Patterson is accompanied by a photographer, and when owners or occupants protest that they are not among those who contribute to the smoke nuisance he is able to show them conclusive proof that they are mistaken. The health department will co-operate with the Commercial club and other city organizations which have taken up the smoke problem.

WOMAN WITH TWO HUSBANDS

She and Second Spouse Are Held to Grand Jury.

Tillie Walters, charged with adultery and said to have two husbands, and George Johnson, her second better half, waived examination when arraigned in police court today. They were bound over to await the action of the grand jury, which is now in session.

The warrant was sworn out by Frank Walters, who says that the woman is his lawful wife, never having been divorced. Johnson asserts that he knew nothing of Walters until he and the woman whom he thought was his wife were arrested. He showed a certificate which stated that they were legally wedded in Canada. They said at the station this morning that when they are out of their present difficulty they will be married again if the woman is divorced in the meantime. She stated that she believed that she had been divorced before she married Johnson.

STUDENTS INSURE TO HELP UNIVERSITY

Will Take Out Policies Payable to Wisconsin Student Fund.

Madison, Wis., May 8.—As a memorial of their class for the benefit of future generations of students, 600 seniors in the University of Wisconsin have decided to take out a life insurance policy of $1,000 each in the state's new life fund, the payments to run twenty years. At the end of that time the amounts shall be turned into a fund for the support of needy students. In case of the death of a policyholder, the amount of the policy shall revert to the fund. It is expected that with the interest accruing the sum of $40,000 will be available for worthy students at the end of the twenty years. The annual premiums are nominal. The plan is unique among universities, as is the state life fund itself.

THREE LOSE LIVES IN STABLE FIRE.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 8.—Three men were burned to death early today in a fire which partially destroyed the stables of the Crandall Horse company. The loss was $10,000. One body was recovered.

TENDERS HELP TO CHIPPEWAS

Government Official Proposes Government Pays Expenses of Delegates.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report of the committee on the constitution to be adopted by the Chippewas in council here, will be presented some time today. The committee worked nearly all night. It asked for aid and was permitted to engage M. N. Knoll of the Northern Minnesota Development association, and worked till about 2 a. m. It is expected there will be an extended discussion over the constitution.

Mr. Holcombe, chief Indian supervisor from Washington, last night told the Indians when requested to assist in forming an organization that his instructions were not to interfere in any manner.

Later he learned that some delegates were low on funds and that the meeting might lose delegates on that account, so he wired the commissioner of Indian affairs for permission to pay the reasonable expenses of the delegates from the tribal funds. This announcement brought out vociferous applause. He stated his instructions were to learn what the Indians want, and report. One full-blood Indian from Red Lake told the council he was fearful of the government's assistance in framing the constitution as their forefathers had frequently had such assistance, and later found there were things the Indians had not understood. He argued that the work be done without Mr. Holcombe's aid.

Rogers Is Chairman.

Yesterday afternoon after the report of the committee on credentials was adopted the council perfected permanent organization.

Edward L. Rogers of Minnesota football fame was elected chairman and Nathan J. Head of the Red Lake tribe secretary. Julius H. Brown of White Earth and John G. Morrison, Jr., of Red Lake were elected official interpreters and Miss Maud Partridge of Cass Lake was appointed official stenographer. It is proposed to furnish the Indian department of the government a complete copy of all proceedings of this council. The committee to draft a constitution and bylaws for the government of the council and tribes was appointed as follows: J. I. Coffey, Fond du Lac band; Henry H. Warren, Gus H. Beaulieu and John W. Carl of the White Earth band; P. H. Beaulieu of the Red Lake tribe; Ben King of the Leech Lake; and John Zimmerman of the Pigeon River reservation.

Walker Indian Chief.

It is expected that Edward L. Rogers of Walker will be elected chief of all the Chippewas of Minnesota under the constitution. Sentiment seems to have crystalized on him. The convention continues to be a very deliberative body. Questions as they come up are fully discussed. Motions are made and amended and substitute motions made in a manner that indicates considerable parliamentary practice. Roberts rules of order lie very handy to the chairman's right hand, but he seems not to have to refer to them. There seems to be a quiet determination to apply for and get redress of grievances long endured. The feeling among the delegates that they are on the right course to get the best hearing is uppermost in their minds and Bishop Morrison's address has convinced them that such is true. It is probable that when the resolutions are finally reached there will be a recital of all the grievances and petition for correction by the government.

Superior

May Divide Fire Force.

A referendum vote of the establishment of a "platoon" system for city firemen may be taken in Superior this summer. The plan was discussed by a committee representing organized labor unions and the city commissioners last night at the Union Labor hall. It is proposed to divide the firemen into two shifts, so that each man may have a part of the day to himself. The added cost is placed at from $1,200 to $2,500 monthly.

Body Sent to Cleveland.

The body of Charles L. Judd, the assistant engineer who was drowned at the Northwestern Fuel company's dock Tuesday night, was sent last evening for the Omaha to Cleveland, Ohio, for interment. Judd leaves a widow and an infant son in Cleveland.

Youth Is Arrested.

Sever Severson, 18 years old, is being held by the police on a charge of passing spurious checks on local merchants. He was arrested last evening by Capt. Osborne and Detective Osborne on complaint of William O'Connor, who claims that the boy had passed a check for $15 at his store. The lad was in custody since May 2 on a similar charge and was released yesterday morning on the payment of the money received from the merchants. The last charge is a new one brought yesterday afternoon.

High School Annual.

The Superior high school's annual publication, "The Echo," will go to press tomorrow. The new book will have 125 pages. The first thirty pages will be devoted to short stories and essays written by the students. The remaining pages will be devoted to the departments of the school.

New Concrete Walks.

The city commission ordered the building of twenty-two sidewalks in various parts of the city yesterday. The new walks will be of cement to take the place of old board walks.

I. W. W. LEADER TO HAVE 100 WITNESSES

Quinlan's Case at Paterson Will Include Much Testimony.

Paterson, N. J., May 8.—The prosecution had six witnesses to call today at the trial of Patrick Quinlan, the Industrial Workers of the World leader, indicted with William D. Haywood and others for inciting silk mill workers to riot, and it was not thought that the state would rest until late this afternoon. The penalty for inciting riot in New Jersey is a $2,000 fine or seven years' imprisonment or both.

The defense announced today that it purposed to call nearly a hundred witnesses.

LEADS CITIES OF AMERICA

Duluth Shows Greatest Percentage of Gain in Building Activity.

Duluth leads the cities of the United States in percentage of gain of building permits for the first four months of 1913 over the first four months of 1912.

The figures compiled by The American Contractor have just been made public and they put Duluth at the head of the list with a gain of 376 per cent. Duluth also headed the list of cities in percentage of gain for March, 1913, over March, 1912, and gains added distinction from the new compilation.

During January, February, March and April, Building Inspector S. M. Kielley issued 345 permits calling for construction estimated at $2,229,725. During the same period in 1912, 329 permits for buildings valued at $468,808 were issued.

Railroads

RATE READJUSTMENT.

On Manufactured Grain Products Sought By Twin City Concerns.

St. Paul, Minn., May 8.—Before the state railroad and warehouse commission yesterday a delegation representing the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association, the St. Paul association of commerce and manufacturers of cereals, met with representatives of the railways in Minnesota in an effort to readjust the rate on manufactured grain products.

W. P. Crickett represented the Minneapolis association, T. A. McGrath, St. Paul association, R. G. Brown, the Minneapolis manufacturers, who are not in favor of changes and J. W. Cooper, representing St. Paul manufacturers, who favor a change.

The St. Paul manufacturers now pay rates on a grain basis. Minneapolis, however appears to be favored by the present rate. The commission took the matter under advisement.

FIREMAN IS BURIED.

Ironwood, Mich., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Alfred McBain was held yesterday afternoon from the home of Charles Nyberg, Curry street, and the Salem Lutheran church on Marquette street. The pastor, Rev. S. L. Wilson, officiated. Mr. McBain, who was 29 years of age, was a fireman on the Northwestern railroad on a freight train. When five miles below Watersmeet the engine jumped the track and Mr. McBain was so badly scalded that death followed the following day at Dr. Libby's hospital at Iron River, Mich. Deceased made his home at Kaukauna, Wis., and is survived by his widow and three children, ranging in ages from 1 to 7 years.

The remains were brought to this city Tuesday. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. The funeral was largely attended, train men attending in a body.

ROGERS PASS CONTRACT.

Foley, Welch & Stewart Said to Have Captured It.

Winnipeg, Man., May 8.—It is said here that it has been practically decided that the firm of Foley, Welch & Stewart will secure from the Canadian Pacific railway the contract for construction of the Rogers pass double-track tunnel through the Selkirk mountains. The contract will also include the construction of seven miles of double track on each side of the tunnel, making a total length to be doubled tracked, including the five miles of tunnel, of about twenty miles. The number of men to be employed is not announced, but it is said that the work is to be completed inside of four years.

New Equipment.

The Southern Pacific, with the $10,120,000 equipment trust certificates recently authorized by the California state railroad commission, will purchase equipment to cost $11,429,010 as follows: 3,181 box cars, $3,719,601; 961 gondolas, $1,026,163; 700 work cars, $814,078; 850 stock cars, $850,350; 400 automobile cars, $473,600; 240 flat cars, $220,800; 200 tank cars, $273,500; 45 caboose cars, $60,660; 5 gasoline motor cars, $106,665; 84 electric passenger cars, $1,160,369; 114 locomotives, $2,548,174; 25 tenders, $75,050.

New Yards at Winnipeg.

Grant Hall, general manager of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific railway at Ottawa, announces that the Transcona yards, outside of Winnipeg, consisting of more than 100 miles of track, will be completed in time to handle the grain traffic at Winnipeg next fall. The new bridge over the Red river at that point will be completed at the same time. Appropriations have been made for double-tracking the main lines in the prairie provinces and 600 miles of branch lines are to be completed during the summer and fall.

Railroad Notes.

W. J. Gilkerson of St. Paul, general agent for the Grand Trunk road, and E. Hinckley of Minneapolis, passenger agent for the Sante Fe line, are in the city today. They have been travelling through North Dakota and parts of Montana and are on their way to the Twin Cities.

* * *

W. R. Stevenson of St. Paul, agent for the Lehigh Valley road, is spending the day here.

* * *

May Head North Dakota M. D.'s.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. M. MacGregor of Fargo probably will be elected president of the North Dakota Medical society at the concluding session of the annual convention, which will be held this afternoon.

The convention opened yesterday and has been very well attended, there being an attendance of over 100.

FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN CANADIAN LANDS?

If so, please bear in mind that Canada is 3,000 miles wide and in some respects much larger than the United States. It is of the utmost importance to you whether or not you buy land and settle in the right location. Among the half million people who are going to Canada in the year 1913, thousands will make the mistake of their lives in locating where conditions are unfavorable.

IT WILL COST YOU ABSOLUTELY NOTHING

to inquire of the undersigned where good lands, markets, much more favorable and warmer climate than here, prices, and rainfall exist.

Literature, guaranteed field notes of land, information about new towns, business opportunities, the effect for and against on the different sections by the PANAMA CANAL—all yours for the asking.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.
Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.
The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.
RATES ARE LOWEST.
The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.
A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.
This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

GOVERNMENT PROBERS OF FRIEDMANN "CURE" UNCONVINCED BY TEST

Say Results So Far Do Not Justify Confidence in It.

Warn Public Against Becoming Lax in War on Disease.

History of Tuberculosis "Remedy" Is Given at Length.

Washington, May 9.—The public health service observations, so far, into the condition of patients inoculated by Dr. F. F. Friedmann with his tuberculosis vaccine, do not "justify that confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by widespread publicity," in the opinion of the surgeons who have conducted the government's investigation.

This first authentic and official conclusion from the tests was announced here today before the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis by Dr John F. Anderson, director of the government hygienic laboratory, and Dr. A. M. Stimson, another public health surgeon, who were detailed to observe the progress of the Friedmann patients at Mount Sinai hospital in New York.

"We believe that at the present time," says their report, "we are not yet in position to express an opinion based on the present conditions under observation. The disease for which the remedy is used is prolonged, and is characterized by periods of advancement and retrogression. It is also one in which psychical influences are a powerful factor. Time is therefore

CHICAGO MEN IN ELEVATOR TRUST

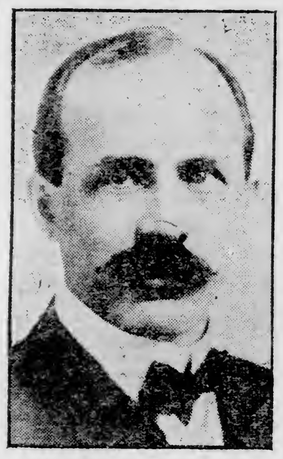
Half Dozen Control Three-Fourths of Grain Sent to That City.

Chicago, May 9.—A monopoly of terminal and country elevators by which a half dozen members of the Chicago board of trade control three-fourths of the grain shipped into Chicago, is disclosed in the answer of the board of trade to the government suit charging the board with arbitrarily fixing grain prices through the exchange "call price" rule. The board answered the charges by asserting that the rule was necessary to offset the power controlled by these few men.

The board, in its answer, charges that these unnamed men had made leases with railroads which gave them control of practically all the grain elevators in Chicago used as public warehouses, and also of country elevators in the grain districts. Each of the men, it is said, was allotted the control of grain along certain lines of railroads, and the others agreed not to compete in buying or selling.

Through this agreement, it was charged, the men were able to meet and fix a price for grain a cent higher than the Chicago dealers could pay. To meet this situation the "call price system" was devised. The rule forbade trading outside of exchange hours, 9:15 a. m. until 1:15 p. m., at prices other than those prevailing at the close of the exchange.

WAXES WROTH OVER POLITICAL DINNER IDEA



FRANCIS E. McGOVERN, Governor of Wisconsin.

M'GOVERN IS VERY BITTER

Denounces Political Dinner Plan and Scores Its Promoters.

Declares It Insincere and Hypocritical and Blames Two Newspapers.

Madison, Wis., May 9.—"If ever political insincerity and hypocrisy were at a premium, this is the time, Wisconsin is the place and the chief traffickers are the small coterie of men who give themselves the right to act for the Republican party in arranging for a so-called Republican banquet to be held May 14."

This is the leading paragraph of a statement issued today by Governor McGovern in his comment in connection with the banquet arranged by the Republican state central committee of Wisconsin. Continuing, the governor's statement reads in part:

"One moment these self-appointed leaders prate unctuously about 'getting together,' and a 'harmony banquet,' but the very next they joyfully proclaim they have succeeded in driving the head of the Republican party in Wisconsin out of its ranks and into another political organization. What beautiful consistency! In one breath they belabor him for declining to attend their gathering, and then

FIRE STARTS IN SCUTARI

Departing Montenegrins Accused of Igniting the Bazar.

Vienna, May 9.—Fire broke out in the bazar of the former Turkish fortress of Scutari this morning, and fanned by a high wind rapidly assumed huge proportions. It is reported here that the Montenegrins started the blaze when leaving the city in revenge for being compelled to evacuate it.

Russia for Mediator.

London, May 9.—Bulgaria and Servia have accepted Russian arbitration of their differences, according to a Sofia dispatch to the Times.

New Cabinet Formed.

Cettinje, Montenegro, May 9.—A Montenegrin cabinet, under the premiership of Gen. Vukotitch, was formed today to take the place of the government which resigned when King Nicholas decided to evacuate Scutari at the behest of the European powers.

The portfolios of the new ministry are distributed as follows: President, Gen. Vukotitch; foreign minister, J. S. Plamenatz; minister of interior, L. Gopnitch; minister of education, Lazar Mlyuskovitch; minister of justice, Liube Bakitch; minister of finance, Riste Popovitch.

The foreign office immediately afterward opened negotiations with the commanding officers of the international fleet which has been engaged in blockading the coasts of Montenegro and arrangements were made for the evacuation of Scutari. This began yesterday and by Sunday the last of the Montenegrin soldiers are to march out of the city.

The foreign admirals will then land detachments from the fleet and the formal surrender of the old Turkish fortress will be made to the combined international force.

Nicholas Explains Action.

King Nicholas said today in a speech to the Montenegrin parliament that in the interest of general peace and in order to save Montenegrin and the entire Serb nation, he was forced to give in to the European powers. Russia, Servia and Greese, he declared, counselled submission on the part of Montenegro. Russia, however, undertook to continue to protect the little kingdom.

FRANCO-SPANISH ALLIANCE HINTED

King's Visit to Paris Ends With Review of Airships.

Paris, May 9.—The political result of the visit to Paris of King Alfonso of Spain has not been disclosed, but the opinion is general in well-informed quarters that a close understanding between the French and Spanish governments has been attained that may develop into an alliance.

Virtually the entire press of France, except the Socialist newspapers, expresses itself in favor of such an alliance. An alliance, the newspapers say, would add 200,000 excellent soldiers to assist in the defense of France, and would make Spain a secure field for the investment of French capital and thus develop the immense latent resources of the country. Spain would be raised also, it is pointed out, to an important place in the diplomacy of Europe.

King Alfonso's visit came to an end late today with a review of France's aerial fleet.

Huerta Says Mexico Cannot Act Until It Is Recognized.

Security for Foreigners, He Says, Will Be Enforced.

Mexico City, May 9.—President Victoriano Huerta, during his conference yesterday with Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador, stated very clearly the position of Mexico in relation to the United States. The following official version of the conference was given to the Associated Press today:

"Provisional President Huerta respectfully stated to Ambassador Wilson, that diplomat having referred to official matters, that the government of Mexico was disposed to arrange the affairs pending between it and the government of the United States. It was pointed out, however, that for the time being the American ambassador should understand the necessity which the government of Mexico has for abstaining from treating any official matter, with the exception of urgent affairs or ordinary procedure, for the simple reason that while the government of the United States did not recognize the government of Mexico, all agreements would be ineffective in view of the fact that the government of Mexico has no personality before the government of the United States.

Security for Foreigners.

"This was the substance of the conference between his excellency Ambassador Wilson and the president of the republic of Mexico, Gen. Victoriano Huerta.

"In addition, however, the govern-

ILLINOIS FARMER SHOT BY EMPLOYE

Farmhand Uses Shotgun When Knocked Down By Employer.

Elgin, Ill., May 9.—Daniel O'Leary, a wealthy farmer living near Woodstock, Ill., lies in a critical condition at a Harvard, Ill., hospital, from gunshot wounds alleged to have been inflicted by John Burke, aged 18, a farmhand employed by O'Leary. Burke formerly was in the orphans' home at Feehanville. His home was in Chicago.

The shooting occurred late yesterday. Burke says that the farmer had upbraided him about some work and had knocked him down. He shot with a 12-gauge shotgun in retaliation.

Burke fled, but was taken by a posse five miles from the scene of the shooting. O'Leary is wounded in the chest, both lungs being punctured.

Republicans Are Ready to Offer Change on Each Schedule.

Five Democrats Vote Against It—Four From Louisiana.

Washington, May 9.—The Democratic tariff bill, passed yesterday in the house with a majority of 142 votes, went over to the senate today to be referred to the finance committee. Finance subcommittees have had the bill under consideration informally and they are about ready to report to the full committee on the various schedules and administrative features.

Few changes will be recommended by the subcommittees, though protests against many rates have been filed. Senator Simmons, chairman of the entire finance committee, will call a meeting at once to consider the briefs of manufacturers and other interests before the bill is reported to the senate, which probably will be about June 1.

No public hearings on the bill are to be granted, though the Republicans plan to insist upon them after the bill has been reported.

Five Democrats Voted "No."

The Underwood tariff bill, proclaimed by the Democratic party as the answer to its platform pledge to reduce the tariff downward, was passed by the house late Thursday. The vote was 281 to 139, five Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it. Four Progressives supported the measure and fourteen opposed it, while one Independent Progressive joined with the majority.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his

FIFTY-SIX ELECTRIC AUTOMOBILES BURN

Chicago Fire Department Fights Two Fires Near Together.

Chicago, May 9.—Fifty-six electric automobiles were consumed this morning in a spectacular fire which destroyed Bland's garage, 416-18 East Forty-seventh street, and the Campbell storage warehouse adjoining, causing a loss of $250,000.

At the time the alarm was given all fire companies in the vicinity were fighting a fire in an apartment house nearby, and the flames in the garage gained considerable headway before other firemen arrived.

Eight persons in the apartment house were overcome and rescued by firemen and the police. Fifteen families were driven from their flats in their night clothing. The damage at this fire did not exceed $10,000.

JAPAN MAKES FORMAL PROTEST TO BRYAN ON CALIFORNIA'S ACTION

Secretary of State Lays Document at Once Before President.

Cabinet at Meeting Discusses Situation Over Land Law.

Both Baron Chinda and Bryan Silent on Nature of Claims.

Washington, May 9.—Japan's formal protest against the California alien land bill was submitted to Secretary Bryan at the state department early today by Viscount Chinda in person. The protest will be placed before President Wilson and the cabinet by Secretary Bryan this forenoon, that an answer may be promptly returned to the Japanese embassy.

Secretary Bryan was a little late in arriving at his office, but five minutes after the appointed hour he was in conference with Viscount Chinda, who came to the state department alone. The conference lasted for half an hour, and at its conclusion the secretary and the ambassador left the department together, the former going directly to the White House to submit to the president the written communication which the ambassador had given to him, and the ambassador returning to the embassy.

Photographers snapped pictures of the two men as they came from the department, side by side. The secretary declined to make any statement as to the character of the protest he had received until after the cabinet meeting.

Met Chinda Again.

"I have no statement to make at this time," was his only reply to all inquiries.

The cabinet remained in session and there were some intimations that some statement might come from the White House later.

Shortly afterward Secretary Bryan and the ambassador again met at the state department, but their conference was necessarily short, as the secretary had to take the 12:30 o'clock train for New York, where he is to deliver an address tonight at a banquet.

Mr. Bryan said the conference with the ambassador would be resumed tomorrow upon his own return from New York. This was taken as an indication that the state department was not yet prepared, even after the brief preparation in the cabinet, to make a final answer to the Japanese objections as presented today by the ambassador.

SUSPECT PRISONER IS ESCAPED CONVICT

St. Louis Police Believe Man Who Crept Through Sewer Is Caught.

St. Louis, Mo., May 9.—Efforts were made today to further identify a man under arrest at Pekin, Ill., believed by the Bertillon superintendent of the St. Louis police department to be Clyde Stratton, who escaped from the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., March 29, by crawling through a sewer.

The man, who gave his name as Frank Williams, was arrested at Pekin, May 4, on a charge of burglary. His photograph was sent to St. Louis, and here the similarity of the pictures of Stratton and Williams was noticed.

THIEF STEALS GIRL'S HAND AND TWO RINGS

Member Cut Off in Accident Is Carried Away By Somebody.

New York, May 9.—One of the most remarkable thefts ever committed in this city is that charged against some person unidentified, who is believed today to be in possession of a hand which Felice Bournier, a French maid, lost last night when she fell in front of an elevated railway train.

In a faint she toppled from the station platform and was dragged for some distance by the train which bore down upon her. Hundreds who looked on expected to learn that she was ground to death, but her worst injury was the cutting off of her left hand. Realizing the extent of her injury she shrieked,

"Where is my hand? Don't lose my rings!"

Investigation proved that the severed hand, on which she had worn two rings, one a diamond, had fallen between the ties to the street. A policeman was immediately sent in search for the missing member, but there was no sign of it and he declared someone in the crowd below had picked it up and made off with it and the rings.

BEGS TO BE HANGED FOR OLD TIME CRIME

Murderer of Widow Gives Himself Up After Fifteen Years.

Carcassonne, France, May 9.—Tormented by remorse, Miquel Vallespi gave himself up to the police here today, declaring that he wished to go to the gallows for the murder of a widow of the name of Souroque, fifteen years ago.

The crime caused a great sensation at the time. Vallespi, then a man of 30 years, was suspected of killing the woman for her money. He disappeared from the vicinity and was not recognized again until he surrendered himself today. The trial was held during his absence and he was found guilty and condemned to death.

SWEENEY AND MATES EACH GIVEN MAXIMUM SENTENCE

New York Ex-Inspectors Show No Signs of "Squealing."

Hope That They Would Reveal Man Higher Up Is Unrealized.

New York, May 9.—Dennis Sweeney, John J. Murtha, James E. Hussey and James F. Thompson, former police inspectors, convicted of conspiring to obstruct justice in the effort to check graft revelations involving them, were sentenced today to serve one year in the penitentiary and pay a fine of $500 each. This is the maximum sentence.

Up to the moment that sentence was pronounced, the belief prevailed that one of the four would "squeal" to the district attorney on "the man higher up." If any of them had entertained such intention, he masked it under a stolid front of calmness as he faced the bar.

Hope For Confession.

Reports that one of the four was bargaining with Mr. Whitman for a suspension of sentence, and that the long sought guiding genius of the system would be brought to justice through a confession, were still prevalent about the criminal courts building after sentence had been pronounced. It is not yet too late for one of the inspectors to save himself by an

NEW LAW PUTS BAN ON SUNDAY LABOR

Newspaper Workers Among Exempted Class in Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., May 9.—One full day of rest each week is assured employes in all industrial and mercantile establishments throughout Massachusetts by a bill signed by Governor Foss today. Exceptions are made in the cases of newspaper workers, janitors, bakers, drug clerks and persons caring for fires and machinery.

PREMIER ASQUITH GUARDED FROM THE SUFFRAGETTES

London, May 9.—The apprehension of the authorities over the threats of the militant suffragettes to eclipse their destructive acts of the last week was manifested by the precautions which were taken this morning when Premier Asquith and First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Spencer Churchill, accompanied by their wives, left Waterloo station on the Southwestern railway to proceed to the coast to join the admiralty yacht Enchantress, on which they are to make a long cruise in the Mediterranean.

A large number of naval aides de camp, government departmental secretaries and railway officials surrounded the party formed by the cabinet ministers and those who had come to bid them good-bye. Beyond these there was an outer circle of detectives, to protect the ministers from any undue attention by militant suffragettes or their male supporters. So great was the protecting force in the railway station that any demonstration by the suffragettes would have been impossible.

Mr. Asquith and Mr. Churchill intend to inspect the British garrisons and naval stations in the Mediterranean.

Arson Squad at Work.

A militant suffragette "arson squad" was out this morning and succeeded in destroying by fire a large untenanted mansion near Barrow-in-Furness, Lancashire. A quantity of literature was scattered in the lawns surrounding the house.

"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette leader, who collapsed twice in Bow Street police court during yesterday's proceedings against the principal officers of the Women's Social and Political union for conspiracy, is very ill today from the effect of her privations during her "hunger strike," while under remand. Her physician has advised her to undergo an operation.

SOCIALIST PAPER'S EDITORS ARRESTED

West Virginia Governor Has Offices of Labor Star Raided.

Huntington, W. Va., May 9.—Acting under orders of Governor H. D. Hatfield of West Virginia, Maj. Thomas B. Davis, Foster Templeton and several other members of the National Guard this morning raided the newspaper plant of the Socialist Labor Star and arrested the editor, S. J. Thompson, and his two assistants, Elmer Rumble and W. H. Gillesple. The newspaper recently attacked Governor Hatfield in connection with the coal strike difficulties. The three men were lodged in jail.

GERMAN BALLOON AND PASSENGERS MISSING

Military Spherical Flyer Not Seen Since Wednesday.

Koenigsburg, Germany, May 9.—A German military spherical balloon, the Cassiopela, which ascended from this city on Wednesday, is missing with its passengers. It was last seen in the neighborhood of Pillau, about twenty-five miles from here, traversing the Frischen Ehrung peninsula in a storm. It was under the command of Capt. von Wobeser of the Second balloon battalion stationed here.

ARMY AVIATOR HITS TREE AND IS KILLED

Lieut. Park Has Fatal Accident on Flight to Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Lieut. J. D. Park, a military aviator who started from San Diego this morning on a flight to Los Angeles, was killed at Olive, nine miles north of Santa Ana, about 8 o'clock.

Lieut. Park met his death in a fall of less than fifteen feet. He had alighted a quarter of a mile from the Olive school house on account of a heavy mist that confused him as to his bearings, and after giving a message to a little girl to telephone to Glenn Martin, in Los Angeles, he rose again. Then he swooped over a low hill and crashed into a tree. He was dead when the girl and her father reached his side.

FOR WOMEN WHO WORK

New State Law Prescribes Maximum Number of Hours.

Some Readjustments in Duluth Schedules Are Necessary.

The new female labor law, passed at the recent session of the legislature, is now in effect and large employers of woman labor are readjusting their hours and operations so as to comply with it. The law applies only to cities of the first and second class.

The hours prescribed by the law for various establishments are:

Mercantile establishments, restaurants, lunch rooms, not more than ten hours in one day or fifty-eight hours in one week.

Mechanical or manufacturing establishments, not more than nine hours in one day or fifty-four hours in one week.

Telephone and telegraph establishments, not more than nine hours in one day or fifty-four hours in one week.

Retail mercantile establishments may require women to work eleven hours on Saturday, but the total hours for the week shall not exceed fifty-eight.

The law also provides that 400 cubic feet of air space must be allowed for each employer, unless the law is modified by the commissioner of labor, but in no case must less than 250 cubic feet of air space be provided. Sixty minutes must be allowed for the noon lunch hour unless the commissioner of labor shall permit a shorter time.

Employers of woman labor in Duluth will find it necessary to make some changes to come within the law. However, in recent years the hours of women in industry have been shortened greatly and few radical changes will be necessary in Duluth.

J. F. McKanna, local manager of the Duluth Telephone company, said today that a rearrangement of working periods is being made to bring all employes under the fifty-four hour limit for a week's work. The company has had a maximum of nine hours for a day's work, but on account of its operations covering twenty-four hours a day for seven days a week, some changes in the disposition of the force will be necessary to come within the fifty-four hour limit.

A. J. McCulloch, manager of the Zeneth Telephone company, said that by cutting three-quarters of an hour from the day to one set of girls and adding it on to another, the office will be brought within the fifty-four hour limit. In the future the Zenith office will have a maximum day of seven and one-half hours, and half of the force will work each Sunday. In that way, half of the force will work forty-five hours a week and the other half fifty-two and one-half hours.

Duluth retail stores will not be required to make any readjustment to come within the law. The day in the stores runs from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. usually, with an hour for lunch. With three extra hours for Saturday, the total would be only fifty-seven hours. However, during part of the year, the day runs from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and a weekly half holiday is also allowed during the summer months in most Duluth stores.

In some cases factory managers will be required to make a readjustment.

NEARLY LOST EYE.

Dwight E. Woodbridge, the Duluth mining man, has just recovered from what promised for a time to be a severe injury to one of his eyes and is now at work again in the mining country of the Black Hills, near Deadwood, S. D. The accident occurred there some weeks ago.

He was watching a workman breaking a piece of ore, when a chip from the rock struck him in the eye, cutting it dangerously close to the pupil. Mr. Woodbridge immediately went to Minneapolis where he was treated by a specialist. A few days ago the eye was pronounced out of danger and he returned to the scene of activity.

PULMOTOR FOR POLICE

New Invention Is Valuable in Restoring Respiration.

Many Lives Have Been Saved By It in Other Cities.

Commissioner W. A. Hicken is planning to equip the police department with a pulmotor.

The aparatus will be kept in the station, along with the emergency automobile ambulance, where it will be readily available on quick notice. The new car, which was ordered some time ago, has not yet arrived, but it is thought that it will be here in a short time.

The pulmotor has been found to be highly effective in resuscitating persons who have been overcome by gas, drowning, etc., and has been the means of saving many lives where otherwise there would have been no hope. That its installation would be a valuable acquisition is undisputed. The only possible obstacle might be the cost and the commissioner is now investigating with a view to ascertaining what the expense would be and the condition of the city funds.

FORTUNE BEAMS ON STORE CLERK

Captures Heiress Who Came to Buy Spool of Cotton.

Boston, Mass., May 9.—Novelists, short-story writers, playwrights and everybody!—just follow the thread of this romance, which begins with a spool of cotton, and see to where it leads. 'Tis not the tale of Montmorency Lowell Beacon Street de Plymouth entering a department store to purchase a spool of cotton for mother and falling, with a psychological slam, in love with Eleonara, the shopgirl. This is a blossom scented piece of news. It has the "reverse English" on most romances.

James Murray—sorry it can't be Lionel St. Claire—had worked hard and faithfully for the firm of Moore Bros., store proprietors of Plymouth, Mass. He was a fair lad of—er—well, 33. And she—Miss Sarah Ella Seamans of Brookline, daughter of the late James M. Seamans, was, it is herewith, without hesitation, stated, 55.

On a motor trip from her summer home in Duxbury in the sweet of last summer's season she stopped at the department store and bought a spool of cotton. Murray waited on her. It was love at first sight. After that she made many, many purchases at the store. Then she sent letters to Murray and he sent letters to her.

Murray had not had a vacation for ten years. Year in, year out he had silt silk and matched goods and sold spool on spool of cotton. But last week he went to the head of the firm and asked for a vacation. After cold water had been thrown on the boss, James explained that the vacation was for the purpose of marrying Miss Seamans. What—the heiress? Er huh! Yep!

He got the vacation and Saturday he got the bride, the marriage being held at the bride's home at No. 69 Cypress street, Brookline, the ceremony performed by the Rev. Ambrose W. Vernon of the Harvard Congregational church.

So—real life hasn't any romance, hasn't it?

EILERT BROS. 228 WEST FIRST STREET

MARKS OF AX ON PETRIFIED TREE

Showing Prehistoric Man Made and Used That Tool.

Great Falls, Mont., May 9.—Going to prove that men inhabited this part of the world in prehistoric times and even then used axes and showed judgment in felling trees, Solomon Abbott of Shelby, north of this city, has developed startling evidence in this section.

Not far from the Sullivan ranch and near the junction of Cut Bank creek and Two Medicine creek there is a butte, probably 450 or 500 feet above the surrounding country and about seven miles in circumference. It has cut banks so steep at every point that they are impassable for cattle and horses, and at but one point is a fence needed to keep the animals on top of the butte.

The butte is absolutely devoid of timber, but at one time on the summit there grew a fine straight pine tree two feet in diameter and not short of 80 to 100 feet high. This is proven by the fact that the tree now lies full length on the ground, cut into two-foot lengths, the ax marks of the woodman being plainly discernible in every cut of the wood, which is now petrified.

To fell the tree up hill, as was done, it had to be chopped on the side toward which it was to fall almost entirely, and the petrified stump shows that this was done. Every one of the cuts, which hint of commercial purposes for the wood, gives indisputable evidence of the woodman's ax.

Abbott is a pioneer and is believed to have been the first white man to have climbed to the top of the butte. He found the petrified tree just as it is today, and the wonder is in what age was the tree cut, and what sort of people did it, and with what sort of an ax.

ARMY SERGEANT

Washington, May 9.—The army has a perambulating experiment agent for the purpose of testing army shoes.

He is Sergeant John Walsh, who is back here from an 8,000-mile walk which he started on July 27 last. He is now on the last leg of his journey, which will end in Columbus, Ohio.

Walsh says that the new style of shoes is a success. He still has the pair with which he started from Washington, and they are in fair condition.

M. N. KOLL IS CANDIDATE

Cass Lake Man Would Be Immigration Commissioner of State.

Is Live Wire and Will Have Strong Support in Northern Minnesota.

M. N. Koll of Cass Lake is a candidate for state immigration commissioner to succeed H. J. Maxfield.

The news was received today with marked enthusiasm on the part of Duluth men interested in the development of Minnesota. Mr. Koll can count on the united support of this section of the state, and undoubtedly the same may be said for the whole of Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Koll is first of all a live wire. He has unbounded faith in Northern Minnesota. He has the spirit that will instill the same faith in prospective settlers. He is a capable business man, an energetic booster and a man who will put the immigration work of the state on a firmer foundation than any on which it has rested to date.

Mr. Koll has resigned from the executive committee of the Northern Minnesota Development association in order to be free to push his application for the place vacated by Mr. Maxfield. The announcement of his candidacy will undoubtedly bring him support from all parts of the state, and by the time Governor Eberhart returns from his Eastern trip it is expected that Koll sentiment will have reached a volume that will make his favorable consideration by the immigration board certain.

Although Mr. Koll is a Republican, his appointment would not be taken as a political one, but would put the immigration bureau on the firm foundation of efficiency. He has been in the land business in Cass Lake for years. He has been instrumental in putting more settlers on land in that county than perhaps any man in any other county in the state. He is extremely practical and extremely earnest, and his Duluth friends hope he will land the place, not only for the recognition to him but for the efficiency of the immigration department.

RATE CHANGES ARE REPORTED

More Examples of Gradual Readjustment of Railroad Tariffs.

The traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club has been notified of tariff changes for which the commission has been negotiating for some time. The changes will be of interest to specific manufacturing establishments in Duluth, but are of general interest also as showing the gradual readjustment which is putting Duluth on a better basis in relation to its commercial competitors.

Heretofore the rate on flax straw to Duluth has been the same as the rate on hay, while the flax straw rate to Minneapolis has been 75 per cent of the rate on hay. The Soo line has published a tariff making the flax straw rate to Duluth 75 per cent of the hay rate also.

On May 5 a new schedule of rates on hoisting machinery from Duluth to Arkansas points went into effect. The new tariff shows an average reduction of 8 cents per 100 pounds from Duluth. Considerable machinery is shipped from Duluth to Arkansas.

The rates on hoisting machinery from Duluth to Ohio River crossings have also been readjusted so as to put Duluth only 1 cent over Minneapolis. Heretofore the range has been 3 to 8 cents.

WILL CARRY MAIL BY MOTOR ROUTE.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—From April to November 30 mail is to be carried on the Brainerd-Garrison star route by automobile. The roads have been steadily improved until this section of Crow Wing county may pride itself on the good example set in road building.

RAPS ANTI-JAP BILL.

Former Grand Forks Editor Scores Recent California Legislation.

Grand Forks, N. D., 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—George B. Winship, formerly editor of the Grand Forks Herald, writing from San Diego, Cal., declares that the anti-Japanese legislation there is unfair and un-American.

Mr. Winship contends that the bill passed by the California legislature is of such nature as to drive out many Japanese who have been extremely successful in fruit growing—being more successful than the whites—and that the legislature has been asked to stifle Japanese competition by dispossessing them of their lands.

DROVE AUTOMOBILE WHILE HE WAS ASLEEP.

Burlington, N. J., May 9.—That he drove a high power automobile ten miles through Delaware river front towns while asleep, was the assertion made by W. D. King, representative of a Philadelphia soap firm, when he called upon local dealers.

King refused to consider the matter as a joke. He said he was near Riverton when he felt drowsy and the next he knew his car was just entering Burlington. He could not remember an incident of the last ten miles.

King feared that he had run down some pedestrian or caused some other accident and he was relieved when inquiry in the towns through which he had driven reported no such trouble.

Closes North Dakota Tour.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. J. Hambro, the Norwegian editor, who has been touring the Northwest in the interest of the Norwegian centennial celebration, closed his tour of North Dakota today. He made arrangements with Governor Hanna for the state exhibit in Norway during the exposition.

Devils Lake Next Year.

Cando, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next annual meeting of the District Federation of Womens' Clubs of the Second district, will be held in Devils Lake. The invitation of that city was accepted before the federation meeting of this year was ended yesterday. Mrs. N. E. Anderson of Antler, who was elected secretary, is the only new officer.

Today the district Federation of Women's Clubs of the First district is holding a convention at St. Thomas.

The divorce mill is still grinding. Yesterday afternoon and this morning several more decrees were granted.

In Judge Fesler's court yesterday afternoon Andrew Johan Johnson was granted a decree from Emma Johnson in a contested action in which both claimed desertion. Johnson is a resident of this county and his wife lives in Chicago, where she has been employed as a domestic.

• • •

Minnie A. Gulbrandson was granted a decree yesterday by Judge Dancer from Daniel A. Gulbrandson, a wealthy Freeborn county farmer, on the grounds of cruelty. She was given $600 permanent alimony.

• • •

Josephine Yrkkola, 30, was given a legal separation from Sven Yrkkola, 32, whom she proved in Judge Ensign's court yesterday was an habitual drunkard and a wife deserter. They were married in Biwabik in 1910. The wife claims that he deserted her when their child was less than one month old.

• • •

Desertion is the grounds on which the following divorces were granted this morning:

Minnie S. Holmes, 28, from H. C. Holmes, 31, by Judge Ensign.

Hulda Stickney, 34, from J. H. Stickney, 40, by Judge Ensign.

The case of Emma Pfleger against Christ C. Pfleger, a contested action, was heard today by Judge Dancer and taken under advisement.

Yesterday afternoon Arthur D. Sammons, 32, filed suit for divorce from Ada F. V. Sammons, 33, to whom he was married at Petoskv, Mich., on Sept. 17, 1904, asking for a separation on the grounds that she had deserted him in December, 1909.

GETS $24,700 FOR RAILROAD ACCIDENT

Supreme Court Upholds Verdict of Jury in Burho's Case.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the loss of his left leg eight inches below the knee and all of his right foot in front of the heel, G. D. Burho, a former railroad switchman, will get $24,750 from the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway company. The Minnesota court, in an opinion written by Justice Holt, this morning sustained the verdict of the lower court.

Burho was injured at Waseca, Minn., while endeavoring to couple cars. He alleged the coupling was defective and that he was compelled to run in front of one of the cars to open the knuckle. He stumbled and fell while doing so and the car passed over him.

The court holds that the Federal employers' liability act applies in this case and also that the safety appliance law makes absolute the duty of the railroad to provide automatic couplers without defects.

GREAT CROP IN PROSPECT

Winter Wheat Report Indicates the Biggest Yield Ever Known.

Condition Far Above the Average for Last Ten Years.

The government report, issued yesterday, in which estimates and facts concerning the various crops were given, is considered a most remarkable one. It is the largest estimate of winter wheat and of rye issued in years and so far as investigation can establish, the largest ever reported in the United States.

The report shows the condition of winter wheat at 91.9 per cent. In April's report the condition was shown at 91.6 per cent. A year ago this month the report then issued showed 79.7 per cent, two years ago this month it showed 86.1 per cent and the average for ten years previous to that was 85.2 per cent. This year's crop will be taken from 30,938,000 acres, 1,449,000 acres having been abandoned after being sown.

Rye shows a condition of 91 per cent against 89.3 per cent on April 1, this year. The following tables show the winter wheat situation from 1902 to 1913, inclusive. In enumerating the acreage three ciphers are omitted because of lack of room in the columns:

1911	32,618	3,118	29,162	430,656
1910	31,656	4,439	27,320	434,142
1909	29,301	2,168	27,017	417,781
1908	31,000	1,318	30,319	437,903
1907	31,865	3,733	28,132	409,442
1906	31,341	1,718	29,600	492,888
1905	31,155	1,432	29,864	425,463
1904	32,016	4,932	26,866	382,935
1903	34,070	964	32,511	380,867

Average abandonment last 11 years, 9.8 per cent.

Indicated winter wheat crop:

	Area.	Con.	Yield.	Crop.
May, 1913	30,938,000	91.9	16.6	513,571,000
April, 1913	32,387,000	91.6	16.6	537,600,000
May, 1912	25,744,000	79.7	14.4	370,714,000
Final, 1912	26,571,000	....	15.1	399,919,000
Final, 1911	29,162,000	....	14.8	430,656,000
Final, 1910	27,329,000	....	15.9	434,142,000

Report by States.

Acreage remaining to be harvested (last three ciphers omitted) and condition of winter wheat May 1 with the ten-year average and the condition of rye with the ten-year average by states, follow:

States—	Acres.	Winter Wheat 1913—10-Year Aver.		Rye 1913—10-Year Aver.

SAY MINE WORKERS ARE ILLEGAL TRUST

Coal Operators Ask Injunction to Halt Union's Efforts.

Charleston, W. Va., May 9.—Charging that the United Mine Workers of America is an organization in restraint of trade, a trust and a combination acting in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, the coal operators of the New River field of West Virginia have asked for an injunction against President John P. White, Vice President Frank Hays and other officials of the miners' union to prevent them from interfering in any way with the men employed by the operators The petition was filed with Circuit Judge W. L. Lee at Fayetteville. It is not believed any action will be taken by the court before June.

The action of the operators precedes a meeting next Saturday, which has been called by the miners to consider a wage scale in the New River district. All the coal operators are said to have put into effect the recommendations advocated recently by Governor Hatfield in settling the strike in the Kanawaha county field.

WIDOW SEES SLAYER OF HUSBAND HANGED

Watches Execution From Cell—Accused of Complicity.

Huntington, Pa., May 9.—Frank M. Calhoun, aged 58, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of Benjamin P. Galloup. From a window of her cell, Mrs. Galloup, accused by Calhoun of being implicated in the murder, witnessed the execution. Calhoun is said to have acknowledged the crime to his spiritual adviser and said the object was to obtain the $2,000 life insurance carried by Galloup.

FORT WILLIAM ELEVATORS SAVED.

Fort William, Ont., May 9. — Fire which originated from an unknown source yesterday afternoon destroyed a dust house and power house belonging to the Canadian Pacific railway here. The loss was approximately $25,000.

Elevators A and C, containing 3,000,000 bushels of grain and located near the destroyed buildings, were for a time threatened by the flames, but quick work prevented a spread of the conflagration.

SAYS MORGAN WAS PATRIOT

Col. Harvey Tells of Last Interview With the Money King.

Quotes Message Offering Wilson Use of His Resources.

New York, May 9.—"When you see Mr. Wilson, tell him for me, that if ever there should come a time when he thinks any influence or resources that I have can be used for the country, they are wholly at his disposal."

These, the last words of J. Pierpont Morgan spoken to Col. George Harvey, the day before Mr. Morgan sailed for Europe never to return alive, were related last night in an address by Col. Harvey before a gathering of bankers and other representative men at a dinner of the Trust Companies of America.

Mr. Morgan was a Republican and, in the words of Col. Harvey, he not only "regarded the political views advanced by Mr. Wilson with honest apprehension, but he never considered the Democratic party fully capable of governing this nation." His message to the new president Col. Harvey cited as measuring the depths of the man's patriotism.

No Lack of Positiveness.

"Because of contrary proclivities of my own as to Mr. Wilson, I frankly did not seek opportunities to discuss public affairs with Mr. Morgan during the last few years," said Col. Harvey. "As you all know, when he thought he was right in his judgment he was unaccustomed to betray any lack of positiveness, and there were times when his positive faculty so closely approached the dynamic in operation, that one of prudent disposition was inclined to be wary.

"But the election had taken place, the inevitable had happened, and, using Speaker Cannon's phrase, Mr. Wilson had become his president as much as mine—perhaps, in fact, a little more. Anyhow, there was no constraint upon our conversation when I saw him for the last time in his library on the day before he went away. He was optimistic as ever regarding the country, and I naturally spoke hopefully of the prospects of the incoming administration.

Remembered Scott's Lines.

"Then followed this curious episode. Suddenly turning those piercing eyes upon me, Mr. Morgan said: 'Do you remember that American speech you made in London?'

"I remembered very well. It was not a speech—only a few succinct remarks at the close of a private dinner in reply to an Anglicized sycophant who had mistakenly thought to curry favor with Mr. Morgan by speaking contemptuously of Mr. Bryan, whom on the preceding day, as it happened, I had introduced to him at a reception.

"'And do you recall,' he asked, 'those lines from Scott that you wrote when that man—(I can hear now the emphasis upon those two words)—when "that man" had left the room?'

"I did, of course, and began to repeat:

"'Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said—'

"I hesitated for an instant and the succeeding words came from the big armchair with odd distinctness:

"'This is my own, my native land!'

"Then, very quietly, Mr. Morgan asked if I could recall the remaining lines, and I quoted them imperfectly.

"Half a minute, gentlemen, is a long time, but for fully that period, I should say, Mr. Morgan sat perfectly still. Then, unconsciously beating time upon the arm of his chair as he used to do in church, he repeated as if soliloquizing:

"'Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land—'.

Message To Wilson.

"And rising with difficulty from his chair, for he was then quite feeble, he said, with the emphasis that only quietude can give:

"'When you see Mr. Wilson, tell him for me that if there should ever come a time when he thinks any influence or resources that I have can be used for the country, they are wholly at his disposal.'

"Barring the usual leave-taking, those were the last words I heard from the lips of Mr. Morgan."

Referring to Mr. Morgan's testimony before the Pujo committee at Washington, Col. Harvey said:

"Although mentally as keen as ever, he was sadly broken when summoned to Washington. At his age and in his condition it was the severest ordeal of his life; but it was for the best, as he himself came to realize."

ROOSEVELT IS FOR PEACE BY TREATY

Would Have England and America Agree to Arbitrate Everything.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 9.—Theodore Roosevelt would have the United States and Great Britain "agree in advance" to arbitrate any question which might arise between them. So he told the international conferees who are arranging the centenary celebration of peace among English-speaking peoples, in addressing them as their host at a luncheon at his home on Sagamore Hill. Newspaper men were not admitted to the function, but a summary of his remarks, "approved by Mr. Roosevelt" was made public.

Although it was said that he did not specifically mention the Panama canal dispute, members of the foreign delegation said that he unmistakably referred to that question as one which should be settled by arbitration, if settlement could not be reached by negotiation.

Mr. Roosevelt gave first the toast to the king and emperor of the British empire and then the toast of "peace, with justice and righteousness, between the nations and within the borders of each nation"—a toast most heartily drunk by all present.

BLAMES WOMEN.

Professor Says Fashion Fads Cause High Cost of Living.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 9.—Mad pursuit of American women for the varying fads of dress, and the acceptance of designs from the European fashion centers as mandates in technique of dress, are directly responsible for the high cost of living in this country, according to Prof. Walter Sargent of the school of education of the Chicago university. In an address before the convention of the Western Drawing and Manual Training association, Prof. Sargent said:

"The American woman should be like the Chinese woman; she should have an established style of dress, and follow that style. That is what is the matter with America today. The pursuit of foreign fashion in dress has caused this high cost of living. The French, for instance, send dress and home art designs to America which they themselves will not accept, and the American woman and home maker accepts that edict as a fashion law to be followed literally. It is no wonder that women in America make themselves grotesque in the garb they wear. One does not see those styles in Paris.

"We need in America today an established bureau of designing. I favor a national committee of artists who will study out designs by which style in dress and home furniture may be made."

MAY END MISSOURI INSURANCE FIGHT.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 9.—Judge Thomas Bates of Chicago, attorney for the fire insurance companies which had threatened to withdraw from the state as a result of the recently enacted anti-trust law, will advise the companies to remain in the state, and Attorney General Barker then will dismiss the suits filed against them.

This was the understanding reached after a protracted conference between Judge Bates, Governor Major, Attorney General Barker, Superintendent of Insurance Revallo and Former Governor Joseph W. Folk, representing the St. Louis business interests.

The companies must return to the state before the case in the supreme court is submitted by Barker, which will be in twenty days.

To Cure Corns, Callouses Bunions and Aching Feet

The following is said to be the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house.

BRYAN TALKS IN BALTIMORE

Is Guest of Honor at Dinner Given By Publisher.

Baltimore, Md., May 9.—Considerable interest attached to a dinner given here last night in honor of Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan by Charles H. Grasty, editor of the Baltimore Sun, and at which A. Mitchell Palmer, the Wilson leader in the house, was a guest and spoke.

Among the 100 or more guests were United States Senator Willard Saulsbury of Delaware; Secretary to the President J. P. Tumulty; Richard Evelyn Byrd, speaker of the Virginia house of delegates; Pleasant Stoval of the Savannah, Ga., Press, and C. S. Jackson of the Portland, Or., Journal. Dudley Field Malone, third assistant secretary of state, attended as the representative of J. E. Osborne, assistant secretary, who was unable to be present.

As this was Mr. Bryan's first public appearance since his return from his mission to California, his remarks were awaited by the diners with keen expectancy. The secretary of state, however, did not allude to his Western trip or its object in the remotest manner.

Loyal to President.

He spoke of the hopes and aims of the administration and his speech, throughout, breathed a spirit of loyalty to the president. Speaking of his own defeats, he said he cherished no enmities nor regrets.

"There is no load that will break a man down so quickly and so surely, as a load of revenge," he said. "The man who tries to get even with others, has few opportunities of gratifying his hatred, but he is all the time corroding himself."

Mr. Bryan rejoiced that he had lived to see a change take place.

"No one man," he declared, "no few men, could claim credit for what has been done. This is no local movement; it is no reform springing up in the West—it is not even an American reform. It is a world-wide movement and we are but part of it.

"I owe my office to the generosity of the president of the United States. He led us in the last fight, and if anyone thinks I was disappointed because the leadership fell to another, let him disabuse his mind of that thought. I rejoiced that there was one who could win where I lost."

The New Senate.

Mr. Bryan spoke of the long fight for the constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of United States senators. He was waiting, he said, for just one more state to send its notice to Washington, when he would "proudly attach signature to a statement that announced that this epoch-making reform has arrived.

"We will find" he added, "that instead of having the senate filled up with representatives of predatory wealth, who use their power to oppose the things that the people love, the honor of a position in that body will be reserved as a people's prize with which to reward those who have proved themselves capable of the discharge of public duties, and men to be trusted with the people's interests. Today predatory wealth stands confessing before the bar of public justice that it has disgraced the name of business, and what President Wilson is trying to do is to separate honest business from dishonest business, so that the country will not bear the odium of dishonest business."

NO CONGRESSMEN AT MARTIN RITES.

Washington, May 9.—For the first time in the history of congress, so far as capitol historians can say, a late member of congress was buried yesterday without the attendance of an honorary delegation of his colleagues.

Many members of the New Jersey delegation wanted to attend the funeral of Representative Lewis J. Martin at Newton, N. J., but the probable passage of the tariff bill kept them in Washington.

President Wilson, it is said, told them that Martin, if alive, would have counseled with them to remain in Washington and vote for the Underwood bill.

Pupils Lose Strike.

Boston, Mass., May 9.—Principals of the grammar schools in this and Cambridge, where many pupils struck for a "one-session" school day, report that the movement is pretty well broken.

The Boston school committee issued an appeal to parents to use influence with the truants. There were strike parades during the day, but the police prevented a resumption of window breaking.

DENIES HE KILLED SCORE OF PEOPLE.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 9.—Henry Lee Moore, convicted in Columbia, Mo., several months ago of having killed his mother and grandmother with an ax, and who is now serving a 99-year sentence in the penitentiary here, denies most vehemently that he ever killed any one in his life.

He denies all knowledge of any families that were killed with an ax in Iowa, Kansas and Colorado.

It is in evidence that most of his life was spent in Missouri. He admits having worked for a farmer in Iowa several years ago, but says the farmer and his wife are yet living. Moore was living at Moberly, Mo., when accused of the murder of his relatives in Columbia.

CASH FOR YOUR USED AUTOMOBILE

A careful comparison was made between the names in which automobile licenses have been issued and the subscription list of The Duluth Herald, and it was found that a remarkable duplication exists. Over 98% of the automobile owners in Duluth and vicinity were shown to be readers of The Herald.

This is a mighty important fact for you if you have a used automobile for sale—or want to buy one.

People of similar tastes are attracted by similar things. The fact that present car owners like the live, reliable news of The Herald is sufficient evidence that future car owners also read this paper. You can, therefore, be morally certain that a good 98% of the people in Duluth and vicinity who are financially able to buy a motor car are readers of this paper.

A "want" ad offering your car for sale will reach these likely buyers.

A "want" ad describing what you need in the way of a used car will go to practically every present automobile owner.

With the season of pleasant weather and good roads at hand, it will be of advantage for you to insert your automobile "want" ad immediately.

SELLS INDIAN TEA.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new style of blind-pigging has developed in Cass Lake. The authorities have been so vigilant that the business has been very precarious. Yesterday one of the Indians who lives nearby, who was hovering around the big council which is in session, met a homesteader from up north of Kitihi and asked him to get a bottle of whisky for him. "Sure," said the homesteader. The Indian produced a dollar and the homesteader started for a hotel kitchen and got a bottle filled with real tea. He then framed up a fake fight with a habitue of the local saloons and they met out on the sidewalk.

A fierce fight was put up for a few moments or long enough to give the teabottle a bad fall on the walk and the poor Indian, who saw the fight from a little distance up the street could not even protest the loss of his dollar in such a fight. Mr. Homesteader walked up the street and when out of the Indian's reach, remarked: "That's some bootlegging—saves attorney's fees and gave Bill and me a much appreciated drink or two after the battle."

ROAD WORK BIDS NEAR CASS LAKE.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner A. J. Swanberg is advertising for bids to be opened May 14, for the clearing and grubbing of the right-of-way for six and a half miles of road to be opened south of Cass Lake. One and a half miles is immediately south of town and the balance begins about five miles south of town, connecting with the so-called Swanberg turnpike road. Immediately after the grubbing and clearing is done Mr. Swanberg will let contracts for the grading and ditch and culvert work. Mr. Swanberg has built about five miles of road in similar territory near here and gets a splendid complete road for about $750 per mile for cutting, clearing, stumping, blasting stones, plowing, grading and ditching, even to including culverts.

LOOK YOUNGER! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Failing Hair and Cure Dandruff.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hai.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and it surely helps folks appear years younger. Max Wirth.

TWENTY-FIVE MURDERS LAID TO ONE MAN

Prisoner in Missouri Believed to Be Wielder of Fatal Ax.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 8.—Twenty-five murders committed in the last three years in Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa and Illinois by means of blows from an ax are ascribed to Henry Lee Moore, now serving a life term in the Missouri penitentiary, according to a theory announced today by M. W. McLaughry, special agent of the department of justice, after an exhaustive study of the so-called ax murders.

Mr. McLaughry said the strangely similar circumstances in the murder series could lead to no other conclusion. Mr. McLaughry is a son of Warden McLaughry.

Concrete Paving Best.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Concrete pavement is best suited to North Dakota cities, according to Mayor M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks, based upon the experience of this city. Mayor Murphy, in response to a request for information on the paving question, made by several North Dakota cities contemplating work of that nature, declares that plain concrete, as used here, has proved to be the cheapest and as durable as any of the several other pavements. Six different kinds of pavement have been laid in Grand Forks.

LIFE IN JAPAN ON $23 A YEAR

How the Japanese Live on Such Incomes---Why America Seems a Paradise to the Japanese Newcomer.

New York Sun: Seven thousand miles away is a nation of 52,000,000 people, whose average income is $23 a year. How do the Japanese live on such incomes? Their menu cards, if they had any, would read like this:

BREAKFAST.
Tea.
Dried Fish Soup.
Boiled Barley and Rice.
Miso. Tea.
LUNCHEON.
Tea.
Ball of Cold Rice.
Cold Broiled Fish.
Tea.
DINNER.
Sake.
Vegetable Soup. Boiled Rice.
Sake. Miso.
Raw Fish Sliced. Rice Boiled.
Sake. Radish Pickle.
Tea. Sake.

Or if you were to get a peep at the bookkeeping of a Japanese you would see something like this:

By one year's income	$23.00
To taxes	$ 4.40
To rent	1.60
To food	14.00
To clothes	2.00
To incidentals	1.00

The land of the fertile rice plains, or the mosquito breeding paddy fields, according to your viewpoint or your feeling point, is the place where a postage stamp buys a meal. If the menu offered does not appeal to you, spend your 2 cents for baked sweet potatoes or rich, juicy "udon," macaroni made of buckwheat flour; with it have a sweet orange and tea and be happy. Why strive for high soaring steak, aristocratic Irish potatoes and the white loaf? Take three bowls of rice three times a day and be content.

Delicacies From the Sea.

For the rich there are additional delicacies, mostly from the sea; lobsters, oysters and many varieties of shell fish. In season there are persimmons, loquats, figs, pomegranates, grapefruit and mushrooms. For the poor there are great hunks of whale blubber and shark octupus flesh. For the modern, there are milk, beef, pork, apples, bananas, corn and peas. Nor would his meal be complete without either beer or wine.

It is remarkable how the Japanese have taken to modern drinks. There are already three big beer breweries, and one may see the advertisements everywhere. The old-time Japanese was satisfied with sake, rice beer or rice whisky. It is a very strong liquor and he drank it in large quantities every night of his life.

A Japanese gives the following estimate of the monthly cost of living for a mechanic's family, in which the husband earns 37½ cents a day and the wife 12½ cents. In this family are two children, one 9, one 7 years old, and an old mother of 60. The wages would amount to $15 a month if both worked thirty days, so this family is slightly above the average.

Rent	$1.50
Rice	4.00
Fuel, oil	.81
Vegetables	.81
Saving	1.00
Newspaper	.12
Sugar, soy, salt, tea	.93
Liquor and tobacco	1.35
School expense	.60
Children's allowance	.60
Bath	.37
Hair dressing	.26
Clogs	.24
Paper and matches	.10
Contingency	.80

The Miyako, a Japanese journal, gives the following estimate for a family of a little better standing. In this case besides the married couple there are two children, a grandmother and a servant:

Rent	$2.50
Rice	3.50
Soy	.37
Salt, miso	.35
Sugar	.45
Milk	.55
Newspaper	.38
Vegetables	.75
Tea	.23
Oil (kerosene and vegetable oil)	.35
School expenses	.45
Stationery and books	.45
Hair dressing	.35
Bath (every other day)	.75
Fish (nine times)	.90
Beef (six times)	.60
Pickles	.21
Charcoal and wood	.90

Few Large Incomes.

In Japan there are only two men who pay taxes on an income of over $125,000 a year; there are thirteen men who pay on $19,500; sixty-seven who pay on $12,000; ninety-six who pay on $8,500, and 140 who pay on $5,500. Out of every 1,000 people theer are seven who make at least $1,350 a year. The daily wages of workmen average as follows:

Weaver, male	$ .22	Harnessmaker	.35
Weaver, female	.13	Lackquerer	.30
Tailor, native dress	.27	Jeweller	.81
Tailor, foreign	.40	Blacksmith	.53
Shoemaker	.33	Potter	.32
Confectioner	.22	Gardner	.36
Carpenter	.40	Fisherman	.25
Plasterer	.41	Farm laborer	.19
Stonecutter	.47	Papermaker	.21
Sawyer	.30	Printer	.25
Tile roofer	.47	Day laborer	.26
Bricklayer	.56	Maid servant monthly	1.48
Shipbuilder	.41	Man servant monthly	2.18
Cabinetmaker	.37
Cartmaker	.32

No wonder America seems a paradise to the Japanese newcomer. If he be a coolie he can earn as much here in a month as he could at home in a year.

SHORT CUT TO CHURCH UNITY

Make Change of Names, But Not of the Creeds.

Have One Church and Each Denomination a Department.

New York, May 9.—Into the midst of the newly acute debate in the Protestant Episcopal church over a possible change of name, and following on the heels of the series of addresses in a Boston church upon the denominations by leading representatives of each, there has been interjected a new element, by the radical proposition of the Universalist Leader that the end primarily sought in all discussions of church unity would be attained by the simple process of striking out from ecclesiastical literature the word denomination and substituting in its place the word department.

The reason advanced is that every Christian organization, at least in Protestantism, recognizes that it is but one member of the Church of Christ; that it is not the whole, but a part, and that it recognizes the membership of other bodies in the inclusive Church of Christ. The Universalist Leader asks, "How would it look—

"The Congregational department,
"The Episcopalian department,
"The Methodist department,
"The Baptist department,
"The Presbyterian department,
"The Universalist department?"

It continues, "Straightway all are united in the Christian church and serving the church through that department which gives to them the greatest efficiency. The success of one is the success of all. Competition is measurably eliminated; and even the personal relations of members are affected for the better, for both belong to the same church and are simply working in different departments."

Some Present Discussions.

There has been of late a notable revival of the discussions of the whole theme of Christian nomenclature and relationships. The high church group within the Protestant Episcopal denomination is contending for the dropping of the word Protestant at the general convention next fall. The low church body is as vigorously opposing this change.

At the same time, the movements for overtures toward church union are proceeding, as between the Northern Presbyterians and the United Presbyterians and the Baptists and the Congregationalists. Even such dissimilar bodies as the Disciples and the Protestant Episcopalians have been in conference under the auspices of the church unity federation, finding a common basis of provisional agreement.

Dr. A. W. Vernon of the Harvard Congregational church, Boston, recently opened his pulpit to a series of sermons by representative men in the leading denominations, setting forth their denominational view of church unity. The consensus of opinion, now that the series is closed, is that they do not present a very promising outlook for church union, as the speakers stressed the points of difference rather than the points of agreement. These sermons provoked considerable commotion, especially in New England.

What Is In a Name?

Meanwhile, it must be admitted that the average church member is not growing any wrinkles over the question of church names or of church relationships. He is interested in what he considers more important, the practical phases of religion. This accounts for the vogue of social service and for the desire for a political expression of religious ideals and for the extension of the world-wide altruistic works of Christianity.

That a name is merely the symbol of a church and takes its character from the organization is clear from a glance at the list of denominations. Such familiar names as the Disciples, the Christian church, the Brethren and even the Church of God recur to one at once.

Certainly, this does not mean that all of the disciples are followers of Alexander Campbell. Neither does it mean that only they who are within the membership of the various smaller sects which call themselves the Brethren can claim fellowship in Christian brotherhood. Still less would even the most ardent denominationalist think the Christian church is as limited as the name implies; or that there is only one Church of God, a minor Pennsylvania sect. These names quickly become identified with the bodies which bear them, and they mean nothing more nor less than the organizations themselves mean.

The court of last resort in this present ecclesiastical discussion, as in all other matters of general usage, is the opinion of the public. Regardless of any action by ecclesiastical conventions, the people will read their own meaning into the terminology. Thus the word Catholic is commonly conceded to be the property of the largest of the Christian communions, which technically is called the Roman Catholic church, with 100,000,000 members, must, in the eyes of the average English speaking person, surrender the word Catholic and be called the Greek church.

Many pastors have recognized this fact, and instead of contending for a scholastic interpretation of the word, they have altered the Apostles' creed, for they found that children and unlettered persons misunderstood the phrase, "I believe in the Holy Catholic church." In many congregations, especially in the Methodist denomination, one may hear the creed recited with "Holy Catholic Church" changed to "Holy Christian Church." This is an abdication of the word Catholic in favor of the great organization of which the pope is the head. In this, men are following the practice that prevails in the universal usage of words.

Fight Gone From Protestant.

The second largest grouping of Christians in the world is under the name Protestant. Militancy has almost entirely disappeared from that word. It is no longer commonly understood in an anti-Catholic sense, any more than Methodist or Quaker is regarded as a term of derision. The word Christian itself was first applied in an unfriendly fashion at Antioch by the enemies of the followers of Christ. Protestant is today merely an ecclesiastical appellation which may be used in perfectly good form and feeling in any gathering.

The Edinburgh conference showed that the churches might keep the Protestant name and yet in perfect consistency talk about the desirability of reunion with the Roman and Greek branches of the church.

The debate in the Protestant Episcopal church over the use of the word Protestant is largely ecclesiastical and does not affect the rank and file of the membership. The discussion is rather the ocassion than the cause of a struggle between the two tendencies in the Protestant Episcopal church—the so-called Catholic tendency, or High-church group, and the Low or broad-church tendency.

Church Members For Church Unity.

The fact of the matter probably is that the generality of church members never held names and forms so lightly as today. It causes no serious wrench of conscience for members to slip over from the Baptist church into the Presbyterian, or from the Methodist into the Episcopalian, or from the Lutheran into the Congregational. This is being done every day all over the land.

The mind of the masses of members of the churches upon this subject is shown by the popularity of such union movements as the men and religion movement, the laymen's missionary movement, the Christian Endeavor society, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and the present united missionary campaign. The most vigorous expressions of Christianity that this decade has witnessed have been under interdenominational direction.

Denominationalism is at a low ebb. Practical efficiency is the dominant thought of the Christian body in this country. Not only church unity, but actual church union, may suddenly come in upon an unexpected flood of desire for service.

Owls Case Appealed.

Keokuk, Iowa, May 8.—The decision of Judge McPherson in the injunction suit of J. W. Talbott and the Indiana Order of Owls, against the independent organization in Keokuk, which is conceded the right to use the word "owls" in its title, will be reviewed by the United States circuit court of appeals. An appeal was filed today.

MOTORCYCLE ON RAMPAGE

West Duluth Man Could Not Stop His New Machine.

Rode Until Gasoline Gave Out While Friends Cheered.

Riding on a motorcycle until late in the evening and being unable to get off because he did not know how to stop it, was the experience of Mike Pavich, a Raleigh street saloon keeper, yesterday.

Pavich recently purchased the motorcycle, and putting a small quantity of gasoline in the tank for the trial run, started out yesterday afternoon. After having made a trip to Grand avenue, then east to Central and down Central to Raleigh, he attempted to stop the machine in front of his place. Then he found that he could not slacken up or find the proper lever to shut off the power.

The chug chug of the machinery kept up until nearly 9 o'clock. He allowed the machine to follow the route he first went over. As he made each lap of the stretch a crowd of his friends cheered him in passing the saloon. It was not until the gasoline gave out that the machinery stopped.

"I am very glad that I did not fill the tank to its capacity," he said this morning. "If I had I probably would be going yet."

STILL OPPOSED TO THE SALOON

West Duluth Residents Will Again Try to Prevent Transfer.

Residents of West Duluth who last winter signed a petition protesting against the location of a saloon at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Ramsey street are again aroused. It is claimed that the saloon at 216 North Central avenue is seeking the transfer and that the claim has been made that the original signers of the petition protesting against it have now changed their minds.

Lieut. Charles E. Wilcox of the West Duluth police station was given a copy of the names of the original petition to investigate whether there was any truth in the statement of the saloon people. This morning the lieutenant stated that he had called up on the telephone or talked with about 100 of the signers and that with the exception of one all were still emphatically against a new saloon in that neighborhood.

The transfer of the saloon last winter was asked by Hugh Vlou. The same transfer is now asked in the name of A. L. Brewer. The request for the transfer was made at the meeting of the city commission last Monday.

Lieut. Wilcox this morning said that there did not appear to be any change in sentiment. The people were opposing the transfer on the ground that one saloon was now located in the vicinity and that allowing another grog shop on the opposite side of the street would prove a nuisance not only to the people taking the street car at this place but also to children passing this point while on their way to the Irving school.

It is expected that a delegation of the residents of that vicinity will visit Commissioner Hicken and file another protest before the subject is again brought before the board.

FAMILY CARRIED DOWN LADDER

C. O. Bergquist Saves Wife and Child When Home Takes Fire.

The family of C. O. Bergquist of Fond du Lac had a narrow escape from suffocation by smoke when fire was discovered in their home early this morning. Quick action on the part of Mr. Bergquist in breaking a window of the bedroom and carrying his wife and child down a ladder saved them from serious injury.

The fire was discovered in the kitchen at about 5:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Bergquist arose about 5 o'clock and lit the fire. After doing this work he went to the barn to feed cattle and on his return to the house discovered the kitchen ablaze.

Turning in an alarm at once, he then proceeded to get out his family. He was compelled to take a ladder to climb to the window and then break the window in order to get them out.

The New Duluth department responded to the alarm in quick time and put it out after it had done about $300 damage. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

FIRE DAMAGES VACANT HOUSE.

A fire of mysterious origin started in an empty house owned by Mike Polech at One Hundred and Fourth avenue west and Hurd street shortly after 11 o'clock last night. The blaze was put out by the New Duluth department before it had gained much headway. It is estimated that the loss was about $200.

The fire was discovered by a passerby who was returning home from the New Duluth Commercial club banquet. Investigation showed that it had started in a pile of rags and refuse located in one corner of the building. Officials of the fire department are of the opinion that it started from spontaneous combustion.

Johnson Funeral.

The funeral for Albert Johnson, 201 East Eighth street, who died yesterday morning, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence. Rev. C. O. Swan, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery. Mr. Johnson is survived by a widow and five children.

HISTORY OF FAMILY FEUD

Dellbern-Parquin Dispute Is Aired Before Judge Lanners.

The story of a family feud was related in Judge Lanner's court yesterday afternoon by the Dellbern and Parquin factions in the assault trial of Charles Anderson. The defendant was alleged to have assaulted Alderic Parquin with his fists and given him a beating.

Each side presented a strong array of witnesses. The Dellbern family, with whom Anderson made his home, was represented by Mrs. Fred Dellbern, her daughter, and son-in-law, A. Trudeau. The witnesses presented by the prosecution were Mrs. A. Parquin, Anna Buchlin and the complainant.

The history of the troubles of these families was repeated. It dates back for several years. The culmination of this trouble was said to have begun with the attack made by the complainant on the defendant. After telling their troubles the witnesses wanted to start and tell it all over again, but were stopped by the court.

Judge Lanners found Anderson guilty and fined him $10 and costs, amounting to $15.36. The defendant witnesses threatened that this would not be the end of it and intimated that further warrants would be issued. Up to a late hour this morning none of them had applied for a warrant from the city prosecuting attorney, James A. Wharton, assistant city attorney, conducted the trial for the city. The defendants were not represented by counsel.

CARPENTER JUST HELPED HIMSELF.

A warrant was issued this afternoon for a carpenter who was employed in making repairs at the home of A. Freimuth, 911 North Central avenue, yesterday. The carpenter is alleged to have ransacked Mr. Freimuth's storeroom in the attic of the home and to have stolen a hat on which were plumes valued at $25, an umbrella and a polar cap belonging to one of the children.

The man was seen leaving the house shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday carrying the stuff. Jens Daugaard, a contracting painter, who was also working on the house, noticed the man carrying off the articles and running after him compelled the man to bring the stuff back to the house. Mrs. Freimuth told the officers that every box in the room had been thoroughly ransacked and that she would not know what was missing until she had taken a full invoice of the contents.

Car Leaves Tracks.

A box car straddled both tracks on the Northern Pacific railroad between Ramsey street and Fifty-seventh avenue shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The car "jack-knifed" as it was being backed across the switch at this point. In attempting to straighten it out the wheels left the trails and it took nearly two hours to get it back onto the tracks.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. George M. Murray, 428 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, left yesterday for a few days' visit to relatives at Grand Marais and Fort William.

K. A. McDonald of the Munger row is reported ill at his home.

Watch repairing. Hurst, W. Duluth. Adv

For Rent—Modern eight-room house. W. B. Getchell, 319 Central avenue.

Rev. John Begley, pastor of the St. Elizabeth's Catholic congregation of New Duluth, will hold services Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Kulaszewicz hall. Special music will also be given.

M. H. Murray, 428 North Fifty-seventh avenue, left yesterday for Split Rock, where he will spend a few days trout fishing.

A car load of furniture, stoves, bedding, etc., just arrived. On sale tomorrow and the following week at 25 to 50 per cent off. The biggest furniture bargain of the season. Lavick's, 310 Central avenue. Your credit is good.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening.

The New Gage Models in Mid-Summer Hats Are Ready Here

Be Sure to See Them Tomorrow!

Isn't that good news? You will surely think so when you see those bewitching ratine hats — the soft chiffons and crepes. You will find many of the styles in mid-summer hats somewhat larger than the extremely small shapes prevailing for early spring wear.

We Bid You Welcome

To Come and Try on Some of These New Models

Whether you wish to buy now or not you will find here hats of pleasing distinction and prices are exceedingly reasonable. Our milliners understand the art of producing style without loading their work with superfluous trimmings. Hence the uncommon values in uncommon hats at $5.00, $6.50, $8.50, $10.00 and $12.00 And the elegance of our dress hats at $12.00 to $45.00. The charming simplicity of our hats is refreshing in comparison with the factory hats so generally seen along the street.

Attention Brides and Graduates

Here Is a Sale of Novelty Embroidery Flouncings and All-Overs at ⅓ Off

The Sweet Girl Graduate and the Blushing Bride-to-be are equally interested in this great opportunity to supply themselves with exquisite embroideries at one-third off our regularly very reasonable prices.

17 EAST SUPERIOR STREET

AUTO WILL HAUL SIX LOADS OF LUMBER

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock Mr. Obermeyer, local agent for the Carter car, and his mechanician, starting from the St. Louis hotel, will haul with an ordinary Carter touring car, six wagon loads of lumber belonging to the Scott-Graff Lumber company to Ninth avenue east and back again along Superior street. There will be on these wagons 36,000 pounds or eighteen tons of lumber. This is given purely as a demonstration of the hauling power of the Carter car.

This morning Mr. Obermeyer and five others rode in one of the cars up Fifth avenue west, between Fifth and Sixth streets, without any apparent difficulty. One of the men in the car said that it was so steep that when he sat back in the seat he felt as though he was lying down with his head hanging over the end of a couch.

BANK EXCHANGES WELL MAINTAINED

New York, May 9.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say: Bank exchanges this week are in fairly well-maintained volume, the total at all leading cities in the United States aggregating $3,066,634,475, which shows a loss of .7 per cent as compared with the same week last year. The comparison would have been much more satisfactory but for the falling off at New York, which is accounted for by the moderate volume of transactions in the stock and other speculative markets.

ARRANGING FOR GETTYSBURG TRIP

List of Those Who Are Eligible to Free Transportation.

The Minnesota Gettysburg celebration commission is sending out circulars explaining who is eligible to take part in the celebration at Gettysburg, July 1-4.

The circular states that those entitled to free transportation and subsistence are all surviving members of the First regiment of Minnesota volunteers, the Minnesota sharpshooters, honorary members of the First Regiment association of Minnesota, all surviving soldiers, Union or Confederate, residing in Minnesota, April 15, 1913, all veterans who have been awarded congressional medals of honor, the governor and his staff, the members of the Gettysburg celebration commission, the commanders of the Loyal Legion and the G. A. R. of Minnesota, and a suitable drum corps or band.

The various features of the proposed camp and the present tentative program for the encampment are also announced.

Capt. Pressnell has added two more names to the list published last week of veterans who are eligible to join the Minnesota delegation. They are Charles McNamara of Eveleth and Edmund Soper of Nickerson, Minn. This makes sixteen in all from this part of the state.

All the veterans eligible to attend the encampment will be compelled to purchase their own tickets to the Twin Cities. They are requested, however, to obtain receipts from the station agents, as the money will be refunded upon their return.

Vocal solo ..... S. Slocum.
Recitation ..... J. Laden.
Violin solo ..... H. Lavick.
Address ..... Dr. Maurice Lefkovits.
Vocal solo ..... J. Meyers.
Recitation ..... S. Meyers.
Selection ..... Choir.

LOOK OUT FOR PEACH BRANDY

Baltimore, Md., May 9.—"According to the bloom in the peach orchards there will be a bumper crop of peaches in Maryland this year," said Gen. Murray Vandiver, chairman of the Democratic state central committee. Gen. Vandiver is one of the most prominent peach-orchard owners in Maryland. In his orchards on Spesutia island, in the Susquehanna river, are 14,000 trees, and this year they have outdone themselves in putting forth buds.

"Indeed," continued Gen. Vandiver, who was jubilant over the prospects of an abundant crop of the delicious fruit, "I shall not be surprised if the crop of peaches in Maryland this year will be so abundant that the market cannot absorb the fruit at a profitable price and that the owners will not be able to take care of the surplus. The growers will then have only one recourse left, turn their peaches into brandy or let them rot in the orchards."

Gen. Vandiver's prediction of the possibility of a revival of the manufacture of peach brandy recalls that twenty-five years have elapsed since real, genuine, unadulterated, simon-pure peach brandy has been made to any extent in Maryland. Scant crops, depleted orchards and the demands of the market and the canners have placed the peach beyond the reach of the distiller. Gen. Vandiver has two gallons of the stimulant in his cellar, which have been there untouched and uncorked for a quarter of a century. It is doubtful if there are a score of gallons of real peach brandy in all Maryland, where it once was so abundant.

The seductive juice of the peach played no inconspicuous part in politics in those days, when it was freely dispensed. It is related of the late Dr. George R. Dennis of Somerset county, who was the father of Former Judge J. Upshur Dennis of this city, that he owed his elected in part to the United States senatorship in 1872 through his generous hospitality with his peach brandy. At the time of his election he was a state senator. It is said that every senator and delegate who tested his brandy fell at once under its alluring spell and voted forthwith for Dr. Dennis.

The late Governor Ross of Delaware also had an abundant supply of peach juice on hand when he was conducting his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the high office, for in those days—forty years ago—a Democratic nomination in Delaware was equivalent to an election.

Start Your Baby With Sound Health

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do—but it should be done instantly—is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative-tonic. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well-known persons as the parents of Dixie Dudley, Magnolia, Ark., the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Earl Dudley writes: Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best medicine I ever used. It cured my baby of flatulency colic when the doctors failed; it cured my husband of constipation. My home shall never be without Syrup Pepsin." It is a pleasant-tasting laxative, which every person likes. It is mild, non-gripping and contains that most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

This remedy is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and all others to whom harsh cathartics, salt waters, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact, in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headaches and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative-tonic, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

DIXIE ASKEW DUDLEY

Two generations of people are using it today and thousands of families keep it constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

Eleven Indictments and One No True Bill Are Returned.

Four Will Be Arrested on White Slavery Charges.

Eleven indictments and one no true bill were returned by the May grand jury, which made a partial report before Judge Dancer at 10 o'clock this morning. The jury is not expected to complete its work today.

Of the eleven true bills returned this morning only four may be made public. In four of the cases the defendants are in custody. In some of the other cases they are out on bonds.

The indictments which are made public were returned against:

John Miller for robbery in the first degree. Miller is accused of holding up and robbing Gust Johnson, a woodsman, of $37, a watch and a knife, on Michigan street near the Union station on the night of March 8 last. Miller is said to have had an accomplice, who escaped from the police.

Peter Johnson Guilland for grand larceny, second degree. Guilland is alleged to have stolen $10 from Ole Bordal in the Nicollet hotel on the night of March 24 last.

Axel Makinen for robbery, second regree. Makinen is charged with having robbed Gus Hermanson of about $80 while the two were drinking together in a Floodwood saloon on the night of March 10 last.

Gust Hill for grand larceny, second degree. Hill must stand trial on a charge of robbing John Thompson at the Union station on the evening of April 21. It is claimed that a policeman caught him in the act of going through Thompson's pockets and taking out $30.

A no true bill was returned against L. W. Browne. Of the seven other secret indictments four were returned against men charged with white slavery.

HUGE FLYWHEEL GOES TO PIECES

Bemidji, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big flywheel, ten feet in diameter and weighing about seven tons, in the mill of the Crookston Lumber company, about a mile from town, burst about noon today, instantly killing Charles Johnson, an edger, aged 28, and recently married.

Hans Mason, who became confused by the steam that escaped when a piece of the wheel hit a pipe, fell through a hole in the floor made by one fragment and was badly injured by a twenty-foot fall. So far as known no one else was hurt

Pieces Hurled Through the Roof.

Pieces of the huge wheel which stood about in the middle of the mill were hurled in all directions with terrible force, breaking through the roof, floor and all parts of the building. That more men were not killed is considered a miracle.

One piece weighing 400 or 500 pounds tore through the flooring, breaking the steam pipe below and causing the cloud of steam that filled the mill and confused Mosen so he fell through the hole.

The mill employs about 200 men and will shut down until the repairs are fixed.

BAD BREATH

It's Your Duty to Get at the Cause and Remove It. A Word to the Wise, You Know.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, oil the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Take one every night for a week and note the effect.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

BADGER LAWMAKER "PACKS HIS TURKEY"

Madison, Wis., May 9.—Assemblyman Carl Hansen of Manitowoc, a Democrat member, arose today and asked leave of absence for the remainder of the session. Hansen said he "would pack his turkey and go home, whether the leave of absence was given or not."

Mr. Hansen said he could not stand for "freak legislation," referring to the passage of the Linley bill for an investigation of the white slave traffic last night, when the Pierce county representative declared that Hansen had "voted against every measure for the betterment of humanity at this session."

Later in the day Mr. Hansen bade his friends goodbye and no pressure could be brought upon him to compel him to remain.

The Eau Claire normal school bill was ordered to third reading in the assembly today without opposition.

With its Friday calendar cleaned up Thursday night, the senate had little to do this morning, and after finishing up odds and ends of business adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday night.

Governor McGovern has signed the Holmes bill providing that where it is shown that an innocent man has been sent to prison, he shall be compensated.

The assembly adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

OVERDID JOB AND SAVED FROM HARM.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Walter Kelly of Bonsall avenue, Sharon Hill, would like to know why thieves who broke into his chicken coop the other night didn't take a setting hen with the rest of his flock.

The hen was industriously guarding a setting of thirteen eggs when the robbers swooped down on the coop. Kelly's friends have come to the front with many suggestions, among them:

"The thieves counted the eggs and wouldn't have anything to do with a hen so closely associated with the jinx number."

"They were chicken connoisseurs and they knew that the flesh of a setting hen isn't good eating."

"They were humanitarians, and could not bear to doom the unhatched chicks.

"They didn't take the hen because they wanted the chicks to be hatched out, so they can come around again in three months and gather up a flock of spring chickens."

Kelly hasn't decided which suggestion comes nearest to the mark. He is inclined to favor the last, though, and is setting up a trap gun to welcome the thieves if they return.

NORTH DAKOTA STATE BANKS SHOW GAIN.

Bismarck, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There has been a big increase in the bank deposits in North Dakota during the last three months, according to a statement issued by State Bank Examiner S. Severton which shows deposits subject to check have increased $1,731,430.28, from $21,113,059.23 to $22,844,489,51. The demand certificate deposits jumped from $747,060.48 to $846,056.12, or $98,995.64.

Time deposits went from $22,629,145.50 to $23,715,742.92, or an increase of $1,087,597.12.

The increase in savings deposits was $61,983,36, being from $1,540,808.12 to $1,802,791.48.

MOST SICKNESS COMES FROM WEAK, INACTIVE KIDNEYS

Recent Reports Show Hundreds Suffer With Kidney Troubles and Don't Know It.

There are scores of nervous, tired, run-down people throughout the city, suffering with pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, weaknesses of the bladder (frequently causing annoyance at night), who fail to realize the seriousness of their troubles until such conditions as chronic rheumatism, bladder trouble, dropsy, diabetes or even Bright's disease result.

All this is due to weak, inactive kidneys. The kidneys are the filterers of the blood, and no one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly. It is even more important than that the bowels move regularly.

If you suffer with such symptoms don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of the new discovery, Croxone, which costs but a trifle, and commence its use at once. When you have taken a few doses, you will be surprised how differently you will feel.

Croxone cures the worst cases of kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism, because it removes the cause. It cleans out the kidneys, and makes them filter out all the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the bladder, and quickly relieves you of all your misery.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, it is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

HOPE FOR THE CONSUMER

Slight Decline in Prices Reported in the Produce Market.

Even Meats Have Tendency to Seek Lower Level.

Packers and commission merchants hold out some hope to the shrinking purse this week, for, lo! there has been a slight decline in prices! Slight it is, but every little helps. Even meats have dropped a cent here and there, and some vegetables show a lower level of prices. Only poultry maintains a defiant attitude, but this is claimed to be purely on the time-honored basis of supply and demand.

With the season of vegetables close upon the land, and the coal bills out of the way, it is expected that Mr. Consumer will have a show for his white alley for a few months now. Just why meats have declined, however, is not quite clear, but the point is that they have declined. The quotations show a drop of 1 cent for beef, 1 cent for pork loins and 1 cent for veal. Lard follows with a drop of a quarter of a cent, which, with judicious use, will make the construction of pie crust some cheaper. Mutton and lamb maintain a steady attitude as to price; perhaps because of the recent intimation that the supply of lamb and sheep is lessening year by year under the beneficent protective tariff, and increasing only in Wall Street and other speculative centers, where they are merely fleeced and not butchered for the market.

As to poultry, there is still a stiff and unyielding attitude. There is only one change in price, and that is in the matter of springs, in the frozen stock, and they have gone up 1 cent a pound. As to fresh dressed poultry, hens are entirely out of the market. None can be had, the dealers say, for hens are just now busy on the job of producing neat, oval-shaped nutrition commonly called eggs. So long as they are industrious they will have a lease of life, for eggs are bringing a nice price and the market is literally eating them up as fast as they can be found. Fresh dressed poultry in general is very scarce and hard to find. Frozen poultry is about cleaned out and is commanding higher prices all over the country. Live poultry is also scarce for the same cause that rules the supply of fresh dressed poultry.

Good Strawberries.

Concerning fruits and vegetables there are some changes imminent. Just now Louisiana strawberries are the feature. Those coming to the Duluth commission houses are of excellent quality. They are of the fanciest stock, and are sound, ripe and of good size; and best of all, in the past week have taken a sharp decline. The season for Cuban pineapples is about over, and next week they will be followed by Florida pineapples. Grapefruits are still coming in car lots, and are steady at the former quotations. They also are of fine quality.

The situation as to orange prices is still unchanged. Valencias will be coming in about a week or ten days from now, it is expected. Lemons are stronger and sure to advance in price very soon, and this is also true of apples. In fact, apples have advanced 20 per cent in the past week.

Green vegetables have begun to arrive from local points, and, as will be seen in the produce list, the prices are quite reasonable. Cucumbers and asparagus are especially reasonable. Lettuce, radishes and wax beans are strong, and so is Florida green-top celery, which is the only kind obtainable at this season. Receipts are light and the prices are consequently higher.

Market gardeners and those using the backyard for the cultivation of vegetables and muscle are reminded that this is the last week for onion sets, and they are expected to act accordingly.

Old cabbages have disappeared and the new ones are taking their place. The new cabbages are going at cheap prices.

Potatoes, both new and old, are going at very reasonable prices just now, and many other toothsome vegetables can be supplied to the table at prices that will not strain the exchequer.

Conducted by C. E. ROE.

Questions will be answered by Mr. Roe in this column.

Celery, Kohl Rabi, Parsley, Parsnips.

If you are fond of celery, try a little in the home garden this year. For summer and fall, the White Plume is the best variety. If you prefer it in the early winter, use Golden Self-Blanching. The late winter varieties grow larger and are harder to handle. The Winter Queen is among the best varieties as a keeper.

If you prefer to grow your own plants, get a 5-cent packet of seed and sow in your storm window garden or in a shallow box in the house. Cover the seed very lightly with finely pulverized soil and keep dark until the plants begin to show, then bring into the strong sunlight. Be careful that your seed box does not dry out.

When your plants are about one inch high, plant in the open ground just after a shower, or in a gentle rain if you prefer. It is well to shade the plants from the hot sun for two or three days. This can be easily done by using boards supported by blocks just high enough to clear the plants. Plants should stand only four or five inches apart in the row, but the rows should be four feet apart if you expect to blanch with earth. Where boards are used for blanching, fifteen inches between the rows is sufficient.

Earth blanching gives crisper celery with a finer flavor than the board method, but of course you require more space for the number of plants grown. Begin hilling up when plants are only five or six inches high. Draw the stalks of the plant close together, holding the leaves at the top while you pack the soil about the plant. This process should be repeated three or four times as the plants grow. Each time the earth should be hilled up so that only the top leaves remain visible. Be careful to have your soil finely pulverized, and do not hill up when the soil is too wet. If the soil is lumpy or wet it will rust the celery.

When the board method is used, one board should be placed on either side of the row as close to the plant as possible and firmly held there by stakes driven into the ground.

Celery plants may be set in the open ground at any time from now until July 1. Celery is not as sensitive to cold as most plants, and a light freeze will not injure the plants.

Kohl Rabi is very easily grown and is very delicious if used while tender. Sow in drills in the open ground and thin out so that the plants stand about four inches apart. If you want a succession, put in a short row now and another planting in about three weeks. In preparing for the table, remove the outer skin and cook as you would creamed cauliflower.

Parsley should find a place in every garden. A 5-cent packet of seed will give you more than you can use. Sow in the open ground as you do radishes, and do it now. When you want some for soup or as a garnish, cut off the leaves—they will keep coming all summer. If you want a winter supply, take up two or three plants, put in flower pots or boxes and set in your kitchen window.

If you want a good supply of parsnips for next winter and spring, put in your seed now. When plants are well up, thin them out so that they will stand four inches apart. Be sure that your seed is fresh. Old parsnip seed will not germinate.

If any of your early vegetables are up, stir the soil very gently about them and remove the weeds. Best results can be obtained only by keeping the top soil loose about the plants. If you are careful to do this, it will never be necessary to use water on vegetables in the open ground.

Questions and Answers.

Young Homecrofter—Is it injurious to the soil to put coal or wood ashes on it? Is it beneficial to the soil to put tobacco stems thereon?

Answer—1. Coal ashes are injurious and should not be used. Wood ashes may be used with benefit to the soil if they are used sparingly. 2. Tobacco stems should not be used on the soil. Tobacco water is efficacious in the destruction of certain bugs, but tobacco in any form is not beneficial to the soil.

M. E. CAMP MEETING.

Jamestown, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many prominent speakers have been secured for the annual Methodist Episcopal state camp meeting which will be held here June 20 to 30, the preliminary arrangements for which are in charge of Rev. W. H. Tullis of Hettinger.

The speakers secured this year already include Dr. H. C. Morrison, D.D., of Wilmore, Ky.; Dr. B. Caradine, D.D., of St. Louis, Mo.; Bishop N. Luccock of Helena, Mont.; Dr. Harvey Calkins of India, and Rev. C. F. Weigele of Miami, Fla.

WOMAN SCRATCHED HIM.

So Minot Man Ejected Her and Her Law Suit Failed.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dave Dinnie was acquitted of the charge of assault and battery, laid against him by Mrs. Alice Parish. Mr. Dinnie's testimony was to the effect that the woman had assailed him, scratching him about the eyes with her fingernails and he put her out of his office.

The woman's efforts to collect $17 which she claimed Dinnie owed her husband brought on the conflict.

Dinnie is prominently known in the Northwest as a horseman and as a member of the state normal board of control for the last two years.

New Minot Pool Hall Act.

Minot, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pool halls in Minot must hereafter be confined entirely to one room, partitions being tabooed under a new city ordinance, made effective today. Under the act the police commissioner has the power to revoke the license of any pool hall that fails to observe this law. The object is to do away with card rooms, etc., which it is claimed have flourished in some pool halls.

FIRST WIFE TAKES PECK

Former Columbia Professor in Charge of His Divorced Wife.

Thinks That She Can Cure Him Through Christian Science.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 9.—In the pitiable circumstances of an utter and hopeless mental breakdown afflicting Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, who, for more than a quarter of a century held the chair of ancient languages at Columbia university, his first wife, Mrs. Cornelia Dawbarn Peck, has assumed complete charge of the helpless invalid. This with the consent of his second wife, whose financial resources are meager. The first wife has taken him to her home at Sound Beach, Conn. Putting aside all past differences which caused her to divorce him in September, 1908, the first Mrs. Peck has cheerfully assumed the task of nursing the former scholer in his declining days.

Will Try Christian Science.

No hope is held out by the specialists in mental diseases who have examined Prof. Peck while he has been at the city hospital that he can ever recover. His first wife is an enthusiast in Christian Science, and is firmly convinced that under her ministrations her former husband's reason can be restored. There is no doubt that even in his dazed condition of mind, he has taken great comfort in her presence. Where nurses and doctors have proved unable to control him—the presence of the first Mrs. Peck has invariably had a calming effect.

The year following the divorce decree granted Mrs. Peck against the Columbia professor he married Miss Elizabeth H. Dubois, a public school teacher of New York city, an instructor in classics at the Morris high school. At the time the marriage caused some comment because Prof. Peck in his prolific writings on women had some six years before declared that against the twentieth century "intellectual woman every man should set his face like flint."

Women Have No Resentment.

The present Mrs. Peck it is certainly known bears no resentment against the first Mrs. Peck because she has stepped in to care for the afflicted scholar. There has been a prefectly amicable arrangement between the two women. Indeed, since Prof. Peck's arrival at the City hospital the first Mrs. Peck has borne the brunt of the expense. The means of the professor's present wife are very limited. He had no private fortune and when he lost his post at Columbia had to depend almost entirely on his earnings as a magazine writer. While at one time these had been considerable, in his condition of waning health they dwindled to nothing at all.

On the other hand, his former wife received a financial settlement from Prof. Peck at the time of the divorce, and afterward she made divers contributions to her and on behalf of their daughter, Constance. In addition his first wife had property of her own. Both wives were at his bedside for a time, but a day or two ago Mrs. Peck No. 2 left this city for a summer retreat near here. Her whereabouts are known only to the hospital authorities..

The former wife—who hopes to do what the doctors say cannot be done, restore Prof. Peck to his mental powers—is not a professional Christian Science healer. But she has a religious philosophy of her own which she avers to have found wonderfully efficacious in the past, and she has full belief in her ability to cure her husband despite the verdict of the doctors, which is that he has "softening of the brain."

Sued for Breach of Promise.

Prof. Peck ended his long career at Columbia university following a suit for breach of promise of marriage brought against him by Miss Esther Quinn of Boston. She asked for $50,000 damages. This suit was dismissed, but she brought another suit for the same sum and that suit is still pending.

The scholar contested the action of the Columbia trustees bitterly and directed his resentment chiefly against President Butler, whom he sued for $50,000 damages for slander, a suit which, however, has never been tried.

He came to Ithaca as a guest of Dr. C. H. Gallagher of this city, at whose home he was staying at the time he was stricken.

CONTEST FOR WALLACE CUP

High School Representatives Will Compete in Oratory and Declamation.

Young People of Duluth and Superior Entered in Competition.

One of four high schools at the Head of the Lakes will be given the honor tonight to hold in trust for a year the Wallace cup, presented by Dr. C. J. Wallace four years ago as a trophy for supremacy in oratory and declamation.

The contest will be held this evening at the Duluth Central high school and the participating schools will be the Duluth Central high, present holders of the cup and twice winners; the Superior Central high, once winner; the Industrial high school of West Duluth and the Nelson Dewey high of Superior. Each school will enter its best talent in the contest and it is expected that the result will be close, as it is said that all the schools excel in material this year.

The rules of the contest forbid that any resident of either side of the bay shall act as judge, so much difficulty has been experienced in obtaining members of the court that will decide the contest. Supt. Flinn of Two Harbors and Supt. Phelps of Calumet, Mich., have given their consent to serve, and it is expected that Supt. Wilson of Ashland will be chosen today as the third member.

The contestants choose their own subjects. Two of them have chosen "A Plea for Cuba" for orations, and for readings two have chosen "The Lion and the Mouse." The coincident choices were without knowledge of the intentions or desires of others and will furnish interesting comparisons After the announcement of the judges' decision Dr. Wallace, donor of the cup, will present it to the winners, to be held in trust for the ensuing year. The program for the evening follows:

Solo—(a) "To You," (Sparks); (b) "His Buttons Are Marked U S.," (Brand), Frank Bartholomew.

Orations—"A Plea for Cuba," Lawrence Dow; "Henry W. Grady," John Davis; "A Plea for Cuba," Jack Heath; "For the Greater Republic—Not for Imperialism," Edwin Gordon.

Violin solo, Eleanor Kraft.

Readings — "The Lion and the Mouse," Stella Seligman; "The Lion and the Mouse," Dorothy Patton; "Ma'moiselle," Esther Fleiman; "Ben-Hur's Farewell to Iris," Gretchen Schnittger.

Chorus—"Serenade to Juanita," (Jouberte), Girls' Glee club, Nelson Dewey high school; solo, "To Be Near You," Marguerite McDonald.

BEST YIELD IS OF DURUM WHEAT

Interesting Crop Features Gleaned at Langdon, N. D. Sub-Station.

Langdon, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some interesting facts are shown about crops in the extreme northern edge of the valley by the summary of the fourth annual report of the Langdon sub-station, issued under the direction of Supt. Stewart. The largest yields of wheat were from durum last year, the amount being 35 2-3 bushels per acre. Velvet chaff went 32¼, rife 30 2-3, blue stem, 27.6, oats 80½, barley, 53. Potatoes went 165.8.

The largest yields of wheat were secured when from seven to eight pecks were seeded to the acre and for oats two bushels per acre showed the best results.

Dragging With Harrow Beneficial.

In the preparation of well tilled corn land for wheat better results were attained from dragging the land with a harrow than from either fall or spring plowing of the corn land.

Barnyard fertilizers increased the wheat yield seven bushels per acre and the corn fodder two tons per acre. These results differed from those at the agricultural farm and other substations of North Dakota, especially on the increased wheat yields.

Spring Work Delayed.

Hamilton, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Spring work has been especially late around Hamilton and Bathgate. The chief result will be a greatly decreased wheat acreage. The land could not be plowed last fall because of the heavy rainfall, and it was still so wet this spring teams could not be put on it when work was in progress in other parts of the county. There will be a greatly increased barley and flax acreage. Corn will also be a more popular crop.

Winter Rye Successful.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winter rye has been a successful crop in North Dakota. In practically all cases where care was exercised in the preparation of the land and in seeding the crop last fall the stand is fine and the condition of the plants most satisfactory.

Winter wheat was a less satisfactory crop. Because of the small amount of snow for protection last winter the wheat froze badly in some sections of North Dakota and the stand is very thin. The surviving plants are in good shape.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor motion pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and talking pictures.
EMPRESS—"The Bell Hop."

Amusement Notes.

The new Kinemacolor program opened at the Lyceum yesterday and some fine scenes from Skansen, Sweden, were shown. This quaint old city is Sweden's pride. On this same reel the latest street costumes were shown in Kinemacolor. "Offia, the Woman Spy," a two-reel Kinemacolor drama, is a detective story of gripping interest, its every feature portrayed in nature's colors and ending with the thrilling escape of the girl spy in a Bleriot monoplane. A two-reel "Broncho" black and white picture, "A Mother's Way," is an excellent Western picture showing several thrilling battle scenes. A Thanhouser comedy, "Express C. O. D." is a story narrating the successful story of "The Rabbit Millionaires," which is also a love story and which would never have been written if a particular package hadn't been shipped express C. O. D.

This program will continue today and and tomorrow with a change of program Sunday.

Those who have ever tried "light housekeeping" can best appreciate the humor of the playlet being presented by Miss Norton and Paul Nicholson at the Orpheum this week. The household arrangements in the tiny flat occupied by the young department store clerk and her young husband, are very funny. Mr. Nicholson says the hardest task he ever attempted was to learn to "flip" the egg which he fries over a kerosene stove. He carefully loosens it with the handle of "our toothbrush" and deftly turns it in the air, catching it in the tiny frying pan. His smoking jacket made of linoleum "so it would wash easily" is another amusing feature. The sketch as a whole is one of the best comedy playlets, the Orpheum has presented and it has been the hit of this week's bill.

Next week will be the last week of the Orpheum season and the theater will close for the summer a week from tomorrow night. The final bill will be headlined by "The Trained Nurses," Jesse L. Lasky's newest musical comedy.

• • •

"The Bell Hop," a farce comedy with music in two acts, is the offering for the last half of the week at the Empress. The bill was changed yesterday and the new attraction pleased three large audiences.

The chief comedy roles are in the hands of J. William Everett and Dan Friendly, who appear as the colored porter and the bell hop, and they keep things moving at a lively rate while they are on the stage. Between the acts Mr. Everett also has a specialty which scores a hit.

There are many good musical numbers by the principals and the chorus. In the first act Hazel McKee sings "The Little Girls From Home." She is followed by a male quartet in an amusing parody and a number by Dan Friendly and the chorus.

The best song numbers in the second act are the "Hop, Hop" number by Friendly and the chorus, and a Maypole dance with a solo by Miss McKee. An excellent Polish folk dance is also given by Babe and Ola Hudson.

The entire production is apparently built for laughing purposes only, and it was entirely successful in its aim yesterday. It will continue for the remainder of the week, with two performances nightly and a daily matinee. A moving picture film showing the matrimonial troubles of the Bar X hands, opens the performance.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

THE first municipal picture show of Iola, Kan., was given before an audience that packed the city building. The city is just rounding out its third year under the commission form of government, and the exhibition was designed to demonstrate the efficacy of the new rule. The pictures shown gave the taxpayers a look into the records in the office of the city clerk and views of the water, light and power plants, water supply and fire and street departments. Mayor Bollinger and Commissioners Glynn and Freeman were present to explain any record or film not clear to the spectators. Claremore, Okla., has requested that the exhibition be given in that city, as the people there vote on the adoption of the commission form of government soon. After the show, final details for the office of county farm adviser were completed.

Such an exhibition would probably attract a large audience in Duluth. It might aid the people in gaining further insight into their city government and the conduct of its affairs. It would be an educational feature of considerable value. The commissioners might find it well worth their time to at least investigate the idea, with a view to adopting the same plan some time in the near future, if it would be worth the expense.

DULUTHIAN'S SISTER DIES VERY SUDDENLY.

Hancock, Mich., May 9.—Mrs. Katherine Gallen, wife of Dr. George E. Gallen, a well-known physician of Hancock, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gallen was 33 years of age and is survived by her husband, one sister and five brothers, Mrs. Norman MacDonald of Calumet, Dr. William King of Ahmeek, Nicholas, Richard and Harry King of Calumet and John of Duluth. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard King of Duluth.

W. ROCKEFELLER IS PRETTY WELL.

Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., May 9.—William Rockefeller, whose health was so shattered last February that he nearly collapsed when the congressional committee investigating the money trust attempted to take his testimony, is believed to be now enjoying comparatively good health. The capitalist, who reaches his 74th birthday the latter part of this month, walked from his home here down to the Briarcliff lodge, where the executive committee of the American Bankers' association was holding its session and inquired where the crowd came from. When he learned of the nature of the gathering he made no effort to meet any of the bankers, as his throat weakness still troubles him. He seemed, however, much improved in general health.

"UNDESIRABLE" IS AMERICAN'S WIFE.

San Francisco, Cal., May 9.—Edna Loftus, the English music hall actress who was arrested recently in this city by United States immigration officials as an undesirable alien, will not be deported. Her release has been ordered, it being determined that she is the legally wedded wife of Harry R. Heinstrom, son of a Cincinnati millionaire.

The Loftus woman said that she would leave this country of her own accord and return to London.

WARNER BANQUET.

Aitkin People Will Honor Lawmaker Next Tuesday Evening.

Aitkin, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Tuesday evening a banquet will be given Representative C. H. Warner in the basement of the Congregational church, the ladies of the guild serving the repast. A program of toasts is being arranged and the speakers will include not only Aitkin's professional and business men, but several prominent men from St. Paul and Duluth.

New York, May 9.—When somebody chided Walter H. Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, at a dinner given him by his brother magazine publishers last night, for his action in deserting their ranks to enter the diplomatic field, he answered the thrust by giving the publishers some advice in a humorous vein.

"For these three weeks that I have not been an editor," he said, "I have been a reader, and so I can tell you publishers what is wrong with you. There are too many of you. I can't read all your magazines. My serious advice is that as many of you as possible die off. I can't think of a greater benefit you could confer upon your generation. It is strange how a moribund magazine clings to life, and I wish someone could invent a painless death for magazines."

FARMERS PLANT TREES.

Many Thereby Are Improving Their Places in North Dakota.

Rugby, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—There have been more trees planted in Rugby and Pierce counties this spring than for several seasons. Because of the large amount of moisture in the ground conditions are regarded as favorable to the growth. Farmers are making more of an effort than ever before to adorn their home surroundings and the property owners in the city have added many additional shade trees.

Thirty-four Ashland Graduates.

Ashland, Wis., May 9.—The high school graduating class for 1913, numbering thirty-four, is one of the largest that has ever passed out of the Ashland public schools. The members are busily engaged in preparing for the commencement exercises which will include the usual program and, in addition, the class play entitled "Varsity Coach."

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

ONE day, when Mr. Jones returned with what his weekly toil had earned, he found his little wife in tears and mood not suited to her years. It seemed the cook had bade "adieu," likewise the washerwoman, too.

Gold Dust as Strike Breaker

At first within the House of Jones there followed sad despondent moans. No hopeful word could reconcile, no honied kiss inspire a smile. "I never knew before" said she, "how horrid household cares could be."

"Upon my word I'm up at six and working still as midnight ticks. I scrub and run and wash and shine to keep the little things in line, and yet around me here and there I see undone another share. I almost feel as if I'd like to join the other ones on Strike. Some morning try it—get a mop; go through from cellar to the top, and I will venture you must see, the greater burdens fall on me."

Now Mr. Jones was passing wise and later, sprang a glad surprise. Through friends who praised the "GOLD DUST WAY," he brought a package home one day.

From tears to sunshine, Wifey now has found the good of "Knowing How" and striking servants fail to stir, the placid calm content of her.

"WINTER WHEAT, 91.9."

One item in the day's news of yesterday looms higher than the tariff, higher than the currency problem, higher than any other thing having a bearing on the material fact of prosperity.

It was this, taken from the market page of The Herald: "The average condition of winter wheat on May 1 was 91.9 per cent of a normal, compared with 91.6 per cent on April 1, 79.7 per cent on May 1, 1912, and 83.6 per cent, the average for the last ten years on May 1."

In other words, the winter wheat crop now approaching harvest is a record-breaker, and if all goes well from now to harvest the yield will be 513,571,000 bushels, compared with 399,919,000 bushels last year.

And conditions in the spring wheat territory are said to be ideal.

A few items like this will drown the moan of the calamity howler as effectually as the roar of a tornado drowns the mew of a disconsolate cat.

"About all the physical exercise some men get," says the Wisconsin State Journal, "is dodging automobiles and motorcycles." And 's enough, Mawruss.

MARCHING ON.

Only a few days delayed, and absolutely unimpaired in any particular, the Underwood tariff bill has passed the house and is now before the senate.

The country will pray that the senate will spend no unnecessary time upon it but will pass it as speedily as it can, and let business adjust itself to the new conditions it creates.

Always, in the past, the senate has guarded the gates of special privilege against tariff reduction sieges.

But because it always has is no reason why it will this time.

One very good reason why it won't is a little amendment to the Federal Constitution, adopted since last the senate participated in the making of a tariff law—and greatly helped toward adoption by the manner in which the senate did its work on that occasion.

This amendment provides that senators shall be elected by the people.

There will be much debate. The Republicans threaten to fight every step of the way, and to offer amendments multitudinously and debate them voluminously. The Democratic margin is narrow, and made narrower by a pair of sugar Democrats and possibly by a wool Democrat or two. Maybe there will be changes in the bill.

But there is a fair prospect that the bill will leave the senate almost as much a consumer's bill as it was when it left the house, if not quite as much.

The senators must be re-elected, if at all, by the people.

The people want this bill made into law.

So no great calamity is likely to befall this people's bill in the senate.

And now a German is kicking about the canal tolls. Why doesn't Europe make it unanimous and be done with it?

THE MOTHERS' PENSION LAW.

There seems to be danger that the purpose of the mothers' pension law, wisely enacted by the legislature at its recent session, may be so misunderstood that abuses will creep in.

The misunderstanding is due to the name that has been applied to it. It isn't really a mothers' pension law, but a child's pension law.

It is not intended as a new vent for public charity. It is not primarily devised to relieve poverty, however noble it may be to do that. And if it is taken by the judges who administer it to be simply a new way of doling out charity its purpose will be defeated and it will draw so heavily on the public treasuries that it may be repealed.

The law proposes machinery for carrying out a definite public purpose, which is that children shall not be needlessly separated from their parents.

Where a mother is dependent on her own labor for the support of her family, and is unable in that way to cope with the problem, often it is necessary to put her children in public institutions so that they may be supported and educated properly.

The purpose of the mothers' pension law is to make that unnecessary where it will be better for the child to remain under its mother's care, as it usually is.

Properly speaking, therefore, the only cases where pensions are proper under this law is where an indigent mother's children will have to be taken away from her or put to work unless the pension is allowed.

The theory of this law is that it is better for society to leave the child under its mother's care, and give her the money to care for it, than to put it in a state institution.

The pension, too, will enable poor mothers to keep their children in school when without it they would have to be put to work. It will provide "scholarships" such as private benevolence has bestowed in a few cases out of the many where it was needed.

But the law has a definite purpose, narrower and at the same time higher than mere charity. That purpose and no other should be served in its administration.

If Huerta is wise he will get one of those aeroplanes for his own use and put enough gasoline in the tank to take him across the border.

A CAMPAIGN NEEDED.

One of the most important things done by the legislature was to propose a constitutional amendment setting apart out of the permanent state funds a revolving fund of $250,000 to be used in improving state lands, with a view to rendering them more readily salable and at higher prices.

This wise and business-like plan will be impossible unless the people approve it at the polls in November of next year.

It takes a majority of those who vote at the election to carry it, and that's a hard thing to get.

Northern Minnesota, therefore, should conduct a campaign of education throughout the state that will inform its citizens of the need and wisdom of this plan.

And the campaign cannot begin too soon.

The people of the northern counties probably will need no campaign of education. They can see readily enough that to open new lands to settlement will prosper the whole state. The problem is right at home, and surrounds them on every side. There ought not to be a voter in Northern Minnesota who fails to vote "yes" on this amendment.

But as the problem is more remote to those who dwell in the cities and in Southern and Western Minnesota, it will be necessary to tell them about it and enlist their interest.

So a campaign of education on this subject should be begun, and it cannot be started too early or pushed too vigorously.

Now that the international peace delegates have been to Oyster Bay they can settle down to do good, efficient work.

THE FLY PROBLEM IN A NUTSHELL.

The Chicago health department has issued a bulletin on the fly problem which tells the whole story.

Editorials and essays innumerable, and of interminable length and profundity, could not possibly convey more information than the Chicago health department has put forth in these four words:

NO FILTH, NO FLIES.

That's the whole story of the fly problem.

PLUGGED EARS.

"I have heard mighty little criticism of the present law," said Republican Leader Sereno E. Payne in the tariff debate Wednesday.

Yes, he meant the Payne-Aldrich law—the enactment of which first turned the house of representatives Democratic and then the presidency and the senate.

A man who has heard "mighty little criticism" of the Payne-Aldrich tariff must have a mighty interesting pair of ears.

After all, why not annex Mexico bodily and make use of it as a penal colony?

INVESTING AND WASTING.

James J. Hill lately placed an order for four large steamers to be ready when the Panama canal opens. They will cost $15,000,000.

That's about the price of a single modern battleship of the kind the nations are competing to see which can have the most of.

The four Hill steamships, bought for the price of one battleship, will give useful employment to a large number of men. They will provide transportation for people traveling for pleasure and business, and they will carry goods from this country to other countries that need them, and bring back from those countries goods which this country needs. They will be actively employed, to the profit both of their owners and the world, for many years.

The one big battleship the price of them would buy will give useless employment to a lot of able-bodied men who will be doing nothing whatever for society and the world, and who ought to be busy in productive pursuits. If put to the use for which it is built, all it can do is to destroy human life and bring misery into the world. Planned to be the most deadly war implement in its time, by the time it is built other plans will have been evolved for a war implement still more deadly, so in a short time it will be ready for the scrapheap. In its short career it will be either utterly useless or terribly destructive.

Somehow Jim Hill's investment seems to us the more sensible of the two.

But who will rise as the Underwood of the senate?

QUESTIONS PUT TO THE PEOPLE BY THE LEGISLATURE.

By submitting eleven proposed amendments to the state Constitution; the legislature in its recent session put eleven questions, mostly of the highest importance, up to the people, as follows:

1. Do you desire the power to initiate legislation if the legislature fails to do the people's will, and the power to veto legislation which the legislature enacts against the people's will?

2. Do you wish to increase the number of supreme court justices from five to seven, thus enabling the court to keep abreast of its increasing work? And do you wish so to restrict the power of the supreme court in declaring laws unconstitutional as to require five out of seven to veto a law instead of a mere majority, as at present?

3. Do you wish to set apart, out of the permanent school funds, a revolving fund of $250,000, to be used in improving the state's land possessions so as to make them more readily salable and at higher prices?

4. Do you wish to repeal the constitutional requirement that the state treasurer print a detailed financial statement in a St. Paul newspaper?

5. Do you wish to permit the investment of the state school funds in first mortgages on improved farms?

6. Do you wish to establish in this state the principle that some of the people shall have less power in the state government than the rest of the people, by adopting the "seven-senators" amendment?

7. Do you wish to authorize a state bounty for planting useful forest trees?

8. Do you wish the power to discharge unfaithful servants in elective and appointive positions, including judges?

9. Do you wish to extend the terms of probate judges from two to four years, as all other county terms have been extended?

10. Do you wish to set apart for forestry purposes state land unfitted for agriculture?

11. Do you wish to authorize a specific tax on dogs, the money to go to owners of domestic animals destroyed or injured by dogs?

One or two of these questions may seem trivial. Most of them are of the highest importance. They should be studied carefully by every citizen, and every man who votes at the election in November, 1914, should pass upon them, either for or against.

There is ample time for the study of these questions, but it should be begun now, and not left to a few weeks of the 1914 campaign when many other problems will be pressing for consideration.

Representative Payne says he has heard but little criticism of the tariff law he wrote. There are some advantages, it seems, in being dead to the world.

A Country's Profits From Tourists.

Country Life: A magazine writer tried to express in dollars the value to a country of its tourists. Thus, France, he thought, derived an annual income of $500,000,000—say, roughly, 100,000,000 pounds from this source, and Italy a fifth of that sum. American tourists in England are credited with spending annually 5,000,000 pounds in the country. Switzerland's revenue from tourists last year is said to have been about 30,000,000 pounds. Florida gets more from its tourists than from oranges and all the other products of the soil put together. More than 1,000,000 pounds is spent each year in the Adirondacks, and about 8,000,000 pounds in the pine woods of Maine. The president of the American Civic federation calculates that American tourists in 1910 spent the equivalent to 70,000,000 pounds abroad.

An Automobile Library.

The most useful automobile in Washington county, Maryland, is the one that serves as a circulating library for the remote cabin dwellers who are too hard worked to seek literature themselves, says the Popular Mechanics magazine. The population of the county, outside of Hagerstown, is 30,000, spread over 500 square miles. For several years, Miss Mary L. Titcomb of Hagerstown, who conceived the idea, carried literature to the out-of-the-way places in a sort of cupboard on wheels, drawn by a horse. But this outfit was small, and the horse got tired on the steep roads. So, when a train ran over the wagon and left nothing but splinters, an automobile, provided with a special library body, took its place, and books are now taken to the doors of the readers by twenty-four routes, covering the whole county.

Doubling Human Life.

Richard Barry in the Century: In 1866 the public health conditions of New York were in so low a state that the average length of life of the inhabitants was thirty years. In 1912 these conditions had been improved so that the average length of life was sixty-six years. Thus the value of human life, reckoned in terms of time alone, had more than doubled in less than half a century.

How Ships Feel Their Way Through a Fog

From Answers, London.

The ship is one of Britain's large food carriers, with a mixed cargo of frozen mutton, grain and wool, bound from New Zealand to London, and, after forty days at sea, has reached the Bay of Biscay, where ships are numerous, and fog is a real danger.

I walk up to the second officer, who is standing in the center of the bridge, immediately in front of the helmsman, with his hand ready to the whistle lanyard.

"Have you seen or heard any other ships?" I asked.

"Yes, sir; there is a whistle blowing on the port beam." And he sounds our whistle according to the international regulations, which demand that a steamer when under way shall blow its whistle at intervals not exceeding two minutes' duration.

B-o-o-m! Our vessel gives out its warning cry, and, after a pause of a few seconds, I hear what might be its echo, but what I feel sure is the hooter of another steamer.

"Been like this long?" I inquire of the second officer, as I vainly try to pierce the pall of fog settled around us like a wall.

"Just set in before I called you, sir, and it appears to be getting worse."

"Put the engine to 'Slow,'" I at once order, as the faint sound of a foghorn from another steamer, apparently on our starboard beam, reaches me. Our ship before was making a good twelve knots, but immediately on the ringing of the engine room telegraph the throb of the engines becomes perceptibly slower, and the ship gradually loses its speed through the water.

I am just speculating as to when the fog is likely to lift, when, immediately after our whistle has sounded, I fancy I hear a faint sound right ahead. I glance across inquiringly at the second officer, but evidently he had heard nothing. As the lookout man makes no report, I decide it is the sound of our own whistle echoing in my ears. Our hooter sounds again, and I listen intently in the silence which follows.

Ah, no doubt this time!

"Steamer blowing right ahead, sir," reports the officer.

"Can you place it for certain?" I ask him, although I have already done so.

"Oh, yes; right ahead, sir!"

"Very well; stop her," I order.

The second officer rings the telegraph connection with the engine room, and the throb of the engines suddenly ceases, leaving absolute silence, except along our sides. We sound our whistle again and immediately we hear a long drawn reply from right ahead, and considerably louder than before, which tells me the other vessel is approaching us through the fog rapidly end on.

Gradually we lose our headway in the water until we practically stop, and I give the order to blow two blasts on the hooter, which is the signal laid down by the international laws on navigation to show that a vessel is stopped and the way of it.

We then hear two blasts from the steamer ahead, signifying that it has also stopped. Now comes a very trying time for us all. I give the order, "Dead slow ahead." Being unaware of the other's actions, neither ship can take the initiative of altering its course, and there is nothing to do but for each ship carefully to feel its way past the other.

With eyes straining into the wall of fog head, the few seconds which pass seem like so many hours. Shall we safely clear one another? Suddenly I see a faint glow of light on our port bow.

"Hard aport!" I cry. And, as the ship answers to her helm, a dim, red light appears shining from a huge steamer slowly gliding past with hardly a ship's breadth of water between us.

A sigh of relief rises from us all as I increase the ship's speed, and we all settle down again to the seemingly endless watching and waiting for the fog to clear away.

In Wall Street

Life: Money was very easy last Monday at the opening. As soon as the brokers arrived, some by ferry, some by tube, some by subway and some by motor cars, they could see that it was easy. Then came a cable from London which proved it. At 10:30 it was still easier. By 12:15 it was as easy as rolling off a log. Those who had money seemed to care nothing for it at all. Those who had none cared less. It was brought in in large bags and placed in the center of the floor. Strange to say, however, there were no takers.

"How do you account for the trouble?" one of the brokers was asked.

"The whole trouble," said he, "is that money is too easy. Until money is placed back where it belongs, no great revival of speculative interest can be expected." Shortly after lunch, however, money became harder, until, just before closing time, it went back to par and seemed satisfied.

On Tuesday there was much liberal profit-taking. These gains were taken philosophically. At the same time there was much loss-giving. It developed that the losses were not given so philosophically as the profits were taken. Statisticians went to work and found that the amount of losses exactly equaled the amount of gains, less commissions to brokers and interest to bankers. This proved that the transaction left the country at large in much better condition than before.

The profit-taking and loss-giving continued through Wednesday and Thursday, while the country was getting into better condition all the time. Those who won thought it was a very good sign. Those who lost thought the sign was not so good. Late Thursday there were numerous commitments. Just for a change all the bulls commenced to sell and all the bears commenced to buy. This confused the lambs to such an extent that several of them were wiped out entirely. At this everybody rejoiced. Prices of shares responded. One firm passed around the cigars and pocketed the proceeds.

Friday developed nothing of note and so they all hung around till Saturday, stopping only to eat and sleep. On Saturday they brought the bank statement in on a stretcher, but as the doctors decided not to operate, the brokers extended their best wishes to the patient and departed.

The Longest Siege.

London Chronicle: Crete deserves mention in our list of memorable sieges, for in Cretan history we find the longest siege on record, beside which Troy's ten years seem but a skirmish. In 1648 the Turks, attempting to conquer the island, laid siege to the capital city of Candia, which, however, did not surrender until September, 1669, after twenty-one years. Again in 1821, when the Cretans revolted, the defeated Turks were able to hold the fortified cities against all attacks, and many of them were still uncaptured when the powers intervened nine years later.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—To look at "Cousin Bob" Broussard, representative and senator-elect from Louisiana, as he goes about his congressional chores, one would never guess what a lot of funny things are running through his head.

Whenever Broussard has a few moments' time and turns his thoughts loose to roam where they will, they go scampering off like a pack of dogs and begin to round up strange animals from foreign lands. A cross section of Broussard's brain, taken in a moment of meditation, would look like part of circus parade.

"Cousin Bob," as he is known all through Louisiana, has a notion that the high cost of living in this country is due largely to the lack of variety in our animals. He would like to see the American landscape dotted with giraffes, camels, zebras, hartebestes, antelopes, hippotamuses, gnus and a lot more creatures that one now is obliged to pay to see.

A year or so ago he drew up a bill providing for the importation of the hippotamus to the delta country down in Louisiana. His idea was to get a large covey of the creatures and have them eat up the water hyacinths that clog up the streams. In this way they would improve navigation while waxing fat at no cost to anybody, and as they multiplied they could be sold to the butchers at so reasonable a rate that the competition would bring beef down to a price within reach of even the humblest bank cashier.

It was suggested to "Cousin Bob" that the hippos might tire of water hyacinth and romp across the country some night to eat up five or six vegetable gardens and thus cause untold vexation. Broussard said he had thought of this and that they could be fenced in and confined to a limited area like one's neighbor's chickens.

After drawing up the hippo bill, Broussard got interested in his project and saw no reason why he should limit his scheme to merely one or two animals. He pointed out that there was no sense in depending on hogs, sheep and cattle for our great sources of meat. A friend of his who had once eaten giraffe meat at a big freak dinner in New York, said it was as good as the white meat of a turkey. So "Cousin Bob" inserted giraffes in the bill. He is willing to bar beasts of prey that eat up little children, but he wants to see the government place skids under the beef trust by popularizing hartebeeste chops, zebra steaks and a lot of other excellent cuts of meat not now to be had in American homes and boarding places.

Broussard believes, also, that with giraffes grazing on the hillsides, and with other picturesque touches to make farm life inviting, the rush to the cities will be a thing of the past.

When "Alfalfa Bill" Murray presided over the constitutional convention in Oklahoma he ruled with a czar-like hand that made that of Joe Cannon in his palmy days seem palsied and tolerant. He named all committees, determined the order of business and recognized whom he saw fit.

One day a young member sought to get the floor in spite of Murray's evident intention not to recognize him.

"I demand the floor," he cried.

"But you have nothing to say," ruled Murray. "You made one speech when you first came here, telling all you knew, and you haven't learned anything since."

* * *

Murray's first political experience was when he was a youngster teaching school. He went to a county Democratic convention and was placed on a committee to draw up resolutions. When these resolutions were offered to the convention, a captious young member of the committee called Murray's attention to a word he had misspelled.

"Mebby I did," yelled Murray; "I'm no lexicographer, I'm a statesman."

If one desired to start Senator Vardaman talking, the simplest way is to point out to him a woman riding about the city in a costly equipage with a large foolish-looking dog for a companion. The woman and dog combination seems to Vardaman needless enough at best, but his wrath is stirred most of all when the dog happens to be one of those woolly ones with its hair clipped in funny designs. With the sight of one of those for a text Vardaman can talk with much vehemence for an hour.

Representative Martin B. Madden of Illinois is a connoisseur of art and has the walls of his office covered with fine etchings and engravings. Not long ago he went to a little art shop and left an order for a small engraving of "Apollo and the Muses." The clerk said they would order it. In a week Madden went back and the clerk informed him that there wasn't any such picture.

"Why 'Apollo and the Muses' is well known the world over," said Madden; "of course there's such a picture."

"What's the title again?" asked the clerk. "Apollo and the Muses?' Oh-h, clerk, "'Apollo and the Muses?' Oh-h, I thought you ordered a picture called 'Paul in the Musee.'"

Perique a Scarce Tobacco.

Pharmaceutical Era: The most unique tobacco raised in this country is perique, a product perfected by an involved method of sweating and curing which was developed by the Arcadians in St. James Parish, La. When picked, the tobacco is stemmed and rolled into loose twists which are placed under pressure until the juices are forced out and the leaves become black and sticky.

These juices in the "working" are reabsorbed, and during this process rum is blown into the mass. It is finally stored to cure, and at the end is of peculiar strength, with a characteristic aromatic odor. The perique district is confined to a small section of St. James Parish, on the east side of the Mississippi river. The total production of perique is only about 200,000 pounds a year, and there are about fifty perique manufacturers registered in the books of the internal revenue department.

Cubist Serenade.

Lo, the coalescing shadows like dim, spirituous plasms
Brim the numb, schismatic chasms
Whence pellucid Eve hath fled;
And beyond in pent emotion breathes the sane, persistent ocean,
Solitudinous and stead!

Rouse thee, then, my amorous lucence,
Fracture Sleep's blind ministration,
Hear by lyrical libation
E'er the sun thy casement sears;
For with salient expension doth my soul in its slack mansion
Stagger till thy face appears!

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Real Spring Tonic.

Laporte News: If some of our city cousins who are troubled with spring fever and rush for a doctor or take a lot of "dope" to "tone up their systems" would come up into Northern Minnesota and inhale a little of our health-giving atmosphere, enjoy a little sun and air and take some exercise in cultivating the wonderful garden crops that grow here, they would be much better off.

Real Roads Wanted.

Aurora News: Real roads to benefit real farmers is what Aurora is asking from St. Louis county. We do not want automobile roads or through roads to distant places, but roads over which the tillers of the soil may haul farm produce to market. This kind of roads is something which would add permanent wealth to this county and assist in the development of the wilderness.

A Query.

Stillwater Gazette: The shortest biography of any member of the house of representatives at Washington is of Congressman Lindbergh of Minnesota, who appears: "Republican of Little Falls." Granted he is from Little Falls, but is he a Republican?

Each Man for Himself.

Anoka Union: Who will take care and work for the non-partisan candidate? Party organization has been a valuable help.

Worth Repeating.

Virginia Virginian: Good roads for Northern Minnesota mean greater prosperity for the people. This, or something like it, has been said many times, but it will bear repeating.

The Place for Him.

Austin Transcript: A freak in the Illinois legislature has introduced a bill requiring newspaper men to pass examinations. He would have a state board of journalists to examine all would-be journalists and license those found fit. Put the freak in the insane asylum.

Another Resource.

Cass Lake Times: It is just beginning to dawn upon the settlers of Northern Minnesota that the country and climate are adapted to the growth of many varieties of fruit. There are many varieties of hardy apples, plums and berries that may be grown here with as much certainty and with far greater profit than in regions 500 miles farther south.

Good Advice.

Biwabik Times: Did you notice that the state land brought an almighty good price at the sale in Duluth? Better grab some of it before the price advances still further. You can rest assured that it will never be cheaper.

Birth of a Precedent

Pearson's Weekly: Two hundred years ago rustics were just as full of guile as they are nowadays, and Tom Thornborow was about as cute as any of them where his own interests were concerned, and one fine day he put himself in the way of his neighbor, Farmer Whitacre.

"John," he said, "let us have a deal. What do you say to this? That's a nice crop of rye you've got, and here's a £5 note. Supposing I hand it over now; will you undertake to give me two rye corns next Monday, four on Monday week, eight on Monday fortnight, and so on—doubling it every Monday—for a year?"

Farmer Whitacre was also cute; as a boy at school he had learnt the old tale of the horseshoe nails, and he knew that what his friend was asking for was more rye than was grown in England in a whole year. Unfortunately for himself, however, he also knew a little law. So he pretended to jump at the offer and pocketed the fiver with a chuckle, intending to teach the rascal Thornborow a lesson later on.

Farmer Whitacre laughed in his face.

"I'm giving you no rye corns, Tom," he said, proceeding to air his law; "the bargain's off; it's an impossible contract. Do you think I didn't know what your game was? You're too sharp; try it next time with somebody not quite so simple. And come to me later on for your £5 back."

Tom Thornborow refused to treat the transaction as a joke, and went off in high dudgeon to see his lawyer. The attorney—solicitors were called attorneys in those days—saw possibilities in the case, and a suit at law was the result, the action eventually finding its way into the court of common pleas.

Honest Farmer Whitacre's rye was swallowed up; all his worldly possessions went; the lawyer's harvest of fees took all in. For, much to his surprise, the case went against him. What the court said was, "though the bargain was a foolish one, it held good in law; there was a 'consideration,' and as for the farmer's contention that it was an impossible contract; it was only impossible in respect of his own inability."

"Thornborow vs. Whitacre" is still a "leading case" at common law. Every law student reads it, every lawyer quotes it to the client who has been foolish enough to enter lightly into a similar transaction. So long as there is a "consideration"—something given or to be done or abstained from on either side—something of value—the law courts don't bother themselves about its sufficiency; every man must look to his own affairs.

When a contract, however, is physically impossible at the time it is entered into, and both parties are aware of the fact, that is another matter.

An undertaking to jump over the moon, or to run from Manchester to London in five minutes, would be held void; and the same rule applies when the fulfillment of a contract to render personal services is prevented by an act of God.

Fortunes in Moving Pictures.

Charles B. Brewer in the Century: Mr. Edison first showed the world his completed invention (the cinematograph) at the world's fair in Chicago, in 1893; but it was nearly 1900 before this infant industry could be said to be fairly started, though one enterprising manager had a regular place of exhibition as early as 1894. Two years ago it was estimated that in a single year the country paid over $100,000,000 in admissions. There are no definite figures available, though the census officials contemplate gathering such statistics this year. It is probably safe, however, to place the present revenue from admissions close to $200,000,000.

A Candid Soul.

A Lesson in Slang.

Maurice Baring in the Metropolitan: Some day, when I have learned the American language properly, I mean to write a large book about it. In the meantime, the following condensed grammar for foreigners may prove useful for Americans going to England, as well as for Englishmen coming to America:

CHAPTER I.

Rule 1 (very important)—Whenever you say "in" or "by" in English say either "on" or "to" in American.

(Note: All English people say "on a ship," except British naval officers. If you say "on a ship" to a British N. O., if for instance you say: "Jones is on the Dreadnought," he will get very angry and correct you, and say "in the Dreadnought.")

There are 126 exceptions to this rule, the most important of which is this: "To be in trouble" is not translated "To be on trouble" in American.

Rule 2—The two most important words in American are "proposition" and "stunt."

Everything is either a proposition or a stunt.

Rule 3—The phrase to hand someone a lemon is symbolic of disappointment or failure. It doesn't mean a real lemon.

Rule 4—Any collection of objects, either animate or inanimate, is a "bunch."

Rule 5—In writing in American on theology, philosophy, literature, history, the fine arts, the technical terms of the game of poker should be used.

Worth Thinking About.

Life: We pay out in pensions every year more than the Balkan war cost the allies. For what we pay in pensions we could maintain a much greater army than Germany groans under. Our Civil war is costing in pensions, more than the wars of the world. It grows bigger every year. Germany has a vast armament in return for its money. We have nothing but a few votes.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS
By Dr. R. D. Scott.

Care of Teeth and Mouth.

For many years past a certain amount of care has been given to the preservation and repair of the teeth, but this consideration has been given more from the viewpoint of preserving beauty than from any desire to practice hygiene, and from this latter point of view, even at the present day, few can see the necessity of having their teeth kept in a healthy condition. Because a large proportion of the germ diseases afflicting mankind gain entrance to the body through the mouth and nose, the importance of oral hygiene becomes of almost first importance in the prevention of disease, and when we consider that aside from infections many disabling conditions, effecting stomach and intestine, have their origin in defective mastication and insalivation of food, resulting from decay or loss of teeth, the importance of regular dental examinations to supplement daily individual care becomes apparent.

That dirty or decaying teeth harbor a myriad of putrifactive germs, and frequently some varieties which attack living tissue, and are causative of human disease, has been known since early in the development of bacteriology as a distinct science, but many people do not yet realize the big part played by defective teeth in the production of such diseases as tonsilitis, pharyngitis, bronchitis and even pneumonia, or all sane efforts to keep well would commence with the hygiene of the mouth and teeth. Leaving the care of teeth and gums to our fellow-hygienist, the dentist, we consider the next important mouth structures, the tonsils; and although the useful character of these structures is still a matter of some dispute, it would seem probable that, when healthy, they arrest and destroy many disease germs inhaled with dust or eaten with food, and thus prevent their entrance into the body. When their efficiency is reduced, however, through frequent infections, it is well known that they may act as infections they are supposed to intercept.

DR. R. D. SCOTT.

Tonsilitis or Sore Throat.

Many of the germs arrested by a healthy tonsil produce serious inflammation and the pain of sore throat is nature's call for assistance in the struggle between the invading germs and the leucocoyte, so plentifully present in tonsilar substance.

When sore throats are taken early, before the germs have penetrated the glands, it is comparatively easy to destroy these germs by the use of antiseptic gargles or sprays, and thus allow the tonsil to recover itself; but if the tonsil be badly damaged from previous neglected infections, some of the germs are sure to enter the blood stream and give rise to their peculiar infection. It is, therefore, questionable whether such a tonsil is not a menace to health instead of a protection, and whether it would not be better for the owner to have it completely removed. So it will be seen that while the role of healthy tonsils is to protect the body from invasion by germs, when they become badly disabled they are a constant source of danger to the owner, and the importance of promptly attending to the first symptoms of sore throat will also be apparent.

The Pharynx.

Passing backward behind the tonsils is a fair sized cavity, freely communicating with the nose, mouth, larynx and gullet, known as the pharynx, and into this cavity also open two small tubes, one leading from each middle ear. It normally contains a small mass of lymphatic tissue, which, being of the same construction as tonsilar tissue, is often referred to as the third tonsil, and it probably serves in the same capacity regarding infections coming through the nose as the tonsils do in regard to those coming through the mouth. Be this as it may, nothing is definitely known as to its function, but when it becomes overgrown we have what is known as adenoids, a frequent source of many disorders of childhood, and when infected, the inflammation is extremely likely to involve the eustachian tubes and middle ear, the larynx, and on occasions even the bronchi and lungs. This third tonsil is not so easily reached as the two tonsils, properly so-called, and therefore cannot be cleaned up by the use of gargles, but usually requires the services of a nose specialist. Douching through the nose with a mild alkaline solution, or even with salt and water, will however often prevent a serious infection, if commenced in time, and as the healthy functioning of this gland is probably just as important as the health of the properly named tonsils, it is quite an advantage for one to learn how to thoroughly cleanse the pharynx at home. The practical point worth remembering is that the first appearance of sore throat always demands attention, if the integrity of these important gland structures we have been discussing is to be safely preserved, and the keeping of the mouth and teeth in a fairly aseptic condition will prevent many throat infections and more serious diseases.

Questions and Answers.

Wiedal Reaction.

H. B. writes: Please tell me what is meant by the Wiedal reaction in typhoid fever?

REPLY.

Blood taken from a person suffering with typhoid fever has a specific action on young, healthy typhoid germs, first causing them to lose all motion, and later, clump together in masses. As no other blood except that of typhoid patients will cause these effects typically, this has been used as a test to confirm the diagnosis of typhoid fever, where any doubt might exist.

A drop of the patient's blood is all that is required, and the reaction is watched through a microscope.

CHURCH WOULD BAR SALOON

Second Presbyterian Members Aroused By Plans for Building Near Church,

Will Ask Commissioners to Make Rule Covering the Case.

Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, and members of his congregation will ask the support of the members of other churches of the city to have the commissioners pass an amendment to the present ordinance which prohibits a saloon from locating within 400 feet of a school or public park. The amendment to be asked for will provide that churches be included under the law.

The agitation for this amendment started yesterday when A. Carlson, owner of the lot at 1531 West Superior street applied for a permit to construct a building on his lot. Mr. Carlson asked Rev. Mr. McGaughey about a month ago if the latter objected to his erecting a building at this point for saloon purposes and Rev. Mr. McGaughey claims to have told him that he most emphatically did.

"Our church has been located on its present site for the past forty years," said Rev. Mr. McGaughey this morning. "The saloons have been steadily encroaching upon us and if we take no initiative in this matter we will have one next door. We are not requesting this amendment for any selfish reason but as a protection for the churches of the entire city.

"It would not surprise me if this law was now being violated in regard to the Adams school. A saloon was recently opened on Superior street near the corner of Sixteenth avenue. It is doubtful if there is 400 feet between its doors and the Adams building."

If the proposed amendment is not passed by the city commission it is the plan of the members of the church to prepare an initiative petition and have it circulated throughout the city.

WANT SCALES AND A PATROL BOX

West End Hillsiders Will Ask Two Minor Improvements.

At a meeting of the West End Hillside Improvement club this evening the city will be requested to provide city scales in the vicinity of Piedmont avenue and Tenth street, and also to install a patrol box at this corner.

Residents of the community state that they wish to have the policemen visit the district oftener than is now the custom. They claim that under the present system the patrolmen get into the district only once or twice a day, whereas with a patrol box at that corner would provide for a regular hourly visit.

In asking for the scales the residents say that many farmers passing through the district would like to dispose of their wares to the people of that neighborhood. Without the scales it makes it necessary for the producers to go down town to have their loads weighed in order to conform with the law. This provision requires the rehaul up the hillside.

A number of subcommittees will also make their report at this meeting.

OBJECTIONS TO CRUSHED ROCK

Twenty-Third Avenue Property Owners Will Plead for Sandstone or Nothing.

Property owners on Twenty-third avenue west intend making strenuous objections to having that part of the thoroughfare north of Fourth street paved with crushed rock. They aver that they want sandstone or nothing.

The matter of letting the contract is to come before the city commission early next week. A delegation of the property owners will attend the meeting.

The paving plans for the street, as they stand at present, provide for brick between Michigan and Third street, sandstone between Third and fourth and crushed rock between Fourth and Tenth streets.

The principal objections to crushed rock the property owners say, lies in the fact that heavy rains are likely to damage the street by washouts.

SALVATION ARMY WILL HOLD FAIR.

An interesting fair will be held next week at the West end corps of the Salvation Army, 1631 West Superior street. The bazar will commence on Tuesday and continue all week, finishing Saturday with an auction sale.

A thirty minutes' program will be rendered each evening and a ten-minute address will be given by several pastors. The opening program will be given by the Swedish Mission choir, and the principal speaker will be Rev. M. E. Harmann of the St. Peter's Episcopal church.

The other choirs to participate during the week will be the Norwegian-Danish M. E. choir and, probably the most interesting feature of the entire week, the A. M. E. colored choir. Other pastors who will take part in the fair will be Rev. Edward Erickson of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Rev. Swaney Nelson of the Swedish Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Tyler of the African M. E. church, and Capt. Linde of the Superior Salvation Army corps. Capt. Fristrup of the local corps will be in charge.

K. of P. Convention.

S. W. Hill will leave Monday for St. Paul where he will represent Diamond lodge, No. 45, Knights of Pythias at the annual state convention to be held there Tuesday and Wednesday.

West End Briefs.

The Hoyme Hospital association will have a meeting Monday evening at the First Norwegian Lutheran church, First avenue east and Third street. Plans will be made for raising money to start constructing its hospital in the West end.

Miss Alice Brethorst, the returned missionary to China will give a lecture on China before the children of the West end at the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, this evening.

A chimney fire caused about $150 damage to the home of Alice Hayeroft, 1020 Twelfth avenue west, yesterday afternoon.

L. A. Simonson, 2102 West Superior street, is spending a few days in Two Harbors.

Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, has been called to Nebraska on account of the illness of his mother.

Pupils of the Adams school, Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street, will give a program of music and recitations for the mothers' club this afternoon.

Mrs. G. O. Black of 1803 West Superior street left this morning for a month's visit in Willow River.

OPTIONS TIE UP PRISON MACHINES.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 9. — The plans for the early resumption of operations at the state prison twine plant, recently destroyed by fire, were blocked when the prison officials were notified yesterday that options on all the second twine plant machinery in the country had been secured, presumably by agents of the twine manufacturers.

A representative of the prison left at once for New York to arrange for the building of new machinery. It was feared the new equipment would not be delivered in time for the manufacture of twine for this season.

APPEAL FOR AID FROM OHIO Y. M. C. A.

Ohio branches of the Y. M. C. A. which suffered damage in the recent floods have sent an appeal for aid to the Duluth Y. M. C. A. An effort is being made to raise $100,000 to be used in rebuilding and improving damaged property, and the local association has been asked to contribute.

A. H. Lichtey, secretary of the state executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. in Ohio, has written to Secretary Wade in this city explaining conditions and inclosing photographs showing the damage to association buildings at Dayton, Hamilton, Zanesville, Middleport, Cincinnati, Piqua, Bellevue and Columbus.

J. E. Hauter of the local association will receive cash contributions for the fund.

CHURCH IDEA IS CRITICIZED.

Decatur, Ill., May 9.—Bishop G. N. Weekly of Kansas City, in delivering the keynote address at the opening session of United Brethren general conference here, reflected sharply on the policy of measuring ministers' success by money raised instead of by the evangelistic work done. He criticized the church's theological schools, Donebeak seminary of Dayton and Otterbein university for the new ministers turned out in the last four years.

The commission on union with the Methodist Protestant Evangelical church will report favorably, according to the report of the bishops read by Bishop G. M. Matthews of Chicago.

HAS $100,000; KILLS HIMSELF.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Hugh C. Eakins, a recluse, reported to be worth $100,000, committed suicide in Fairmont park yesterday by slashing his wrists with a razor. He was 65 years of age and is said to have made his money dealing in Nashville, Tenn., real estate.

INDIAN PROBE.

Senate Committee Decides to Learn All About Them.

Washington, May 9.—Lo, the poor Indian, is to be investigated by the senate. At a meeting of the Indian affairs committee a resolution by Senator Townsend authorizing the committee to make a thorough inquiry into the Indian, his reservations, the way Uncle Sam treats him, and into almost everything else affecting him was adopted. The committee will begin its inquiry during this special session, and a sub-committee probably will inspect all reservations.

THEOSOPHISTS HAVE LOTUS DAY PROGRAM.

Lotus day, which with theosophists, is the anniversary of the death of Madame Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, was observed last evening by the Duluth branch of the Theosophical society at the lodgeroom in the Burgess block with a program of exercises in commemoration of the great leaders in the movement who have died.

The program consisted of an address on "Helena Petrovna Blavatsky" by the president of the local society, and other appropriate numbers.

ROOSEVELT MEETS NAVY EMPLOYES.

Washington, May 9.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt has promised a committee representing navy yard and naval station employes throughout the country that hearings will be granted before the introduction of either the Taylor or the Vickers-Maxim work systems in naval plans. N. P. Alifas, president of the association of yard employes of District No. 4, headed the delegation. Mr. Roosevelt said hearings probably would be held upon the return of Secretary Daniels, who is now touring South Atlantic yards.

Wan, Weary and Worn Out

If You Feel Fagged to a Finish and Utterly Used Up Here is Quick Relief.

S. S. S. Makes Your Blood Corpuscles Unite for Mutual Protection.

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a wonderful desire to lay down and just quit. Most of these people have been using nervines that spasmodically flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. is relatively just as vital and essential to well-balanced health as those of the grains, meats, fats and sugars of our food.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. SPEAKERS AT ANNUAL BANQUET CALL UP VISIONS OF GREAT FUTURE FOR NEW DULUTH

New Duluth Commercial Club Host to Many Business Men.

Magnitude of Steel Plant Made Basis for Encouraging Predictions.

That New Duluth is entering upon its destiny and that it would do well to look forward to the proposition of taking care of a big population and immense industries was the keynote of speeches given by speakers at the third annual banquet of the New Duluth Commercial club at the Kulaszewicz hall last night.

A delegation of about 150 business and professional men of Duluth, West End and West Duluth attended the banquet. A special train of three coaches left the city at 6:30 o'clock carrying the uptown contingent.

Following the invocation given by Rev. Father John Begley and the supper served by the ladies of the New Duluth Presbyterian church, E. E. Martell, president of the club, gave a short address of welcome to the guests and introduced Judge Alfred Jaques as toastmaster.

Judge Jaques opened his talk by stating that he was a member of the club and also a property owner of New Duluth. He said he would talk to the guests as though he was not a resident of that end of the city. "There is so much congeniality in New Duluth that even the water is intoxicating," said Judge Jaques. "I want to warn Commissioner Hicken not to drink too much of it." In introducing Mayor Prince he said: "At every gathering of importance in every city of any note the burgomaster is supposed to be present. He takes the initiative in speaking as well as other matters. I will call on our burgomaster, Mr. Prince."

Jollification Is Justified.

Mayor Prince congratulated the members of the club on the success of their third annual banquet. He said that never before had there been as much justification for a blowout of this kind or a jollification as the present time.

"There are substantial evidences on every hand why the people of this end of the city in particular should feel happy," he said. "We have springing up about us on every hand monster industries which will mean the life and growth of the city. I have lived in Duluth for ten years and never before have I felt so optimistic over its future growth. We are all impressed with the magnitude of the industry locating here.

"Since your last banquet the form of government of your city has undergone a change from the old ward system to the commission form. I wish to say that the members elected are working day and night in furthering the best interests of the city at large and are at your command and will do what it can impartially for any part of the city. We know you appreciate the magnitude of our duties and if you will give us time we will give the best government the city has ever had."

JUDGE ALFRED JAQUES, Toastmaster.

MAYOR W. I. PRINCE.

RT. REV. JAMES McGOLRICK.

JULIUS H. BARNES.

Judge Jaques brought out much laughter when he said there appeared a little inconsistency in the mayor's speech. "The mayor tries to tell us that they are working all the time, still its members insist that everything close up at 11 o'clock," he said.

Keynote Is Sounded.

Bishop McGolrick struck the keynote for the evening in his speech. He advocated home ownership, predicted a monster growth in population and a rise in land values for this section and said that the proper education of foreigners would make good citizens for the community.

"I like the people who work," said Bishop McGolrick. "They show industry and thrift." In speaking of the new form of government he said: "The city will grow under the proper management. I believe that the commissioners you have elected are men who will carry out your wishes. They will, I believe, impartially carry out the law and your orders.

"During the recent campaign I took the trouble of clipping out of the newspapers all the promises made by the candidates. I will promise to publish a synopsis of these within the next six months.

"In a recent trip to Chicago I had the pleasure of speaking to high officials of the Steel corporation. Mr. Gary told me that the people of Duluth did not realize or understand the opportunity that was being placed at their doors. He said that the Duluth plant would rival that of Gary and from a manufacturing point would be one of the most important in the entire country.

"I want to admonish you to support your industries by patronizing home products. It is the duty we owe our city and our neighbor.

"All this agitation for playgrounds is not necessary, nor do I believe that it is necessary for the city to employ any expert to teach our children how to play. I believe that if you have a good home surrounded by a plot of God's green earth and allow the boy or girl to work on this plot that it will do them a great deal more good than if they run about on the street or spend the leisure hours on some corner lot playing baseball. If the home is made what it should be there will be no doubt but that it will be the attractive point for the child.

"In order that your end of the city may properly prosper let there be no fault finders or to use the common phrase 'knockers.' Never was there a climate in the length and breadth of this country that can equal the climate to be found about Duluth. You must uphold your commissioners and assist them in their duties for they need your co-operation. Secure for yourself a home. The man who owns his own home makes the contented citizen."

"We have with us a peculiar individual this evening," said Judge Jaques. "This individual is so peculiar that every hair on his head wants to stand out in a different direction a good deal like the quills of a porcupine. I refer to Charles S. Mitchell."

Square Meal for Mitchell.

"I came here for the express purpose of getting a square meal on a complimentary ticket," said Mr. Mitchell, while the crowd laughed. Mr. Mitchell complimented New Duluth on its sociability and its home environment, and said it was the ideal location for social centers. He praised the commissioners and commission form of government, saying that it had wiped out sectional lines and that this was the first time New Duluth had been honored with the entre group of city officials with the exception of one member.

"I have the utmost confidence in the integrity of the members of the commission," he said. "They are all honest men and are bringing about the change in government in a very able manner."

He said the people living next to the steel plant least appreciated the enormity of the plant, little realizing that $12,000,000 was already spent and that a similar amount was to be expended before its completion. The city was growing so fast that the people were not ready for it, he said, and he admonished the residents immediately to make plans for the coming growth.

Frank Randall, president of the Rotary club gave a short talk on behalf of the club in which he said that the club wanted the co-operation of the New Duluth organization in its work. He said he liked the spirit of boosting which was found in its membership. This end of the city, he said, had its problems and the Rotary club was willing to give it any support within its power.

Duluth's Traffic Advance.

Julius H. Barnes gave an interesting talk on work being accomplished by the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club. He cited a number of instances where unjust rates were now being readjusted so that Duluth was no longer being discriminated against. He said that these transportation problems were so being adjusted that manufacturing establishments were now looking towards Duluth as one of the best places in the country for future locations. He spoke of the education of sons of members of the club in matters pertaining to civic welfare and that such an organization was now under way in the Duluth club. He mentioned the organization of the Remedial Loan association, the establishment of the legal aid bureau and the appointment of a street commissioner employed by the club, as some of the work of the public affairs committee of the Duluth club.

The program also included selections by Capt. W. Mahon, whose singing brought forth calls for several encores. Mrs. C. W. Peters gave a splendid vocal number and a male trio sang. The music during the supper was furnished by La Brosse's orchestra.

The uptown delegation was met at the train by a large reception committee of the New Duluth club members. Among those on that committee were E. E. Martell, U. C. Tower, Frank Brand, Melvin Becklinger, Noble Sampson, John Johnson, D. J. Kulaszewicz, Rev. Peter Knudsen, Otto Krueger, Walter L. Dash, Matt Prettner, Charles Strand, Charles Pearson and William Martell.

Among the uptown people who attended the affair were the entire board of city commissioners with the exception of Commissioner Voss; Chief of Police Troyer, City Assessor Scott, Judge Lanners, T. T. Hudson, Frank Crasweller, L. A. Barnes, W. B. Getchell, Felix Seligman, John J. Moe, J. H. Brigham, George H. Bate, J. P. Johnson, H. H. Peyton of Proctor, H. V. Eva, J. H. Peyton, J. O. Johnson, E. H. Olson, M. J. Filiatrault, James E. Foubister, S. W. Hill, Victor Jutin and C. S. Nixon.

TO UNVEIL MONUMENT.

Feature of Memorial Day Exercises at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—The Commercial club committee which has the dedication of the soldier's monument on Memorial day in charge has arranged the program. The monument will be presented to the city by C. L. Graber, commander of the local post. Mayor M. F. Murphy will accept on behalf of the city, and W. P. Davies will accept on behalf of the park board. The closing feature of the ceremonies will be a speech by George B. Winship, the donor of the monument. After the dedication exercises will come the regular Memorial day program, including the reading of the Gettysburg address, the reading of the orders by the adjutant, A. J. Pierce, the address to the unknown dead by Francis Templeton and the main address by Senator P. J. McCumber.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Boyce Drug Store under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Add a very small pinch of baking-soda to the contents of the can and heat it in a saucepan.

Heat separately an equal quantity of fresh milk, with a little cream in it if you prefer.

Just before serving mix the milk and soup together and serve them "piping hot". But they must not boil.

Here is a perfect bisque; a perfect soup-course. Why not enjoy it today?

WILL STAGE WEEKLY SHOW

Duluth Will Make Energetic Effort to Attract Summer Visitors.

"The Lark o' the Lake" Will Be Weekly Attraction.

"The Lark o' the Lake at Duluth" will be staged for the entertainment of Duluth people and visitors from the surrounding country every Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night during the six weeks beginning June 27 and ending Aug.

The general committee of civic and commercial organizations, in charge of the arrangements for week-end entertainment features for the summer, held a meeting last evening and outlined the general plan of entertainment.

Every Friday evening there will be a band concert, fireworks and carnival features. Every Saturday afternoon a program of water sports will be put on the boat club. On Saturday evenings, there will be a band concert, open air dancing at the boat club tennis courts and carnival features on Superior street.

The flying boat with "Gasoline Bill" Jones at the wheel will be a feature of the Saturday afternoon events. Mr. Jones will make several trips every Saturday afternoon and take passengers.

The general committee, which is headed by A. T. Banning, Jr., consists of representatives of the Duluth Commercial club, Retail Merchants' association, Rotary club, Duluth Boat club, West Duluth and West End Commercial clubs and several other organizations. The finances are in charge of W. N. Hart, C. H. Bagley and G. H. Bate.

An elaborate plan of advertising is being arranged and "The Lark o' the Lake at Duluth" is expected to attract thousands of visitors to the city during the summer season.

FARGO BUILDING BOOM.

Large Amount of Work Planned or Already Under Way.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is expected the work will soon be started on the Armory auditorium, which is to be 90 by 140 feet. The main auditorium will be on the second floor but on the level with Broadway and will have a seating capacity of 3,500. There will be galleries on three sides and a stage of liberal proportions that can accommodate any theatrical production. On the ground floor there will be the gymnasium, drill room, officers' quarters, men's club rooms, shower baths and other things for the members of the local militia company.

Plans are being prepared for the Deere-Webber building, which be of brick, steel and stone, 75 by 140. The excavations are about completed for the Powers building, the second and third stories of which are to be used by the Y. W. C. A. and so arranged as to give an office, dining room, gymnasium, fifty-two rooms, with sleeping porches on both the second and the third floors. The fifth floor of the improvement building, now occupied by the Y. W. C. A., will be converted into flats. The old Elks' hall is being made over into a dozen flats. The Morrell, Bonde and the Porritt blocks are progressing rapidly and other new ones will soon be started. Great interest is being taken in the attempt of the students at the North Dakota Agricultural college to erect a $50,000 boys' dormitory by donations of a bushel of wheat or its equivalent in value from public-spirited citizens of the state.

Wisconsin White Slave Probe.

Madison, Wis., May 9.—The Wisconsin assembly last night concurred in the Linley bill authorizing a legislative investigation of the white slave traffic and kindred evils in the state. Governor McGovern is expected to sign it. The committee will visit Wisconsin cities to take testimony on moral conditions. The committee is directed to frame legislation to meet the conditions found to exist.

Hit By Motorcycle.
Harry Ostrom was knocked down by a motorcycle ridden by Frank Max on West Superior street between First and Second avenues, about 1 o'clock today. Eye-witnesses stated that the boy stepped from behind a street car in front of the motorcycle, and that the rider was not at fault. The boy was taken into police headquarters, where an examination disclosed that a bad bruise and some scratches were the extent of his injury.

Duluth Man Killed.
The police received a telephone message today informing them that James Lyon of 2409 West Ninth street, this city, had been killed at North Crandon, Wis., by a train. The message did not give any details. A police officer was sent to the address this afternoon to deliver the message.

Removal Notice.
The Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, Henry I. Pinneo, general agent, has taken offices in 602 and 603 Providence building.

Temple Services.
"Mothers' Duties and Child's Rights" will be the subject of the sermon by Rabbi Lefkovits at Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, tonight.

Will Inspect Parks.
Mayor Prince and Commissioner Merritt have planned to make a tour of the park system this afternoon. They have a number of details which they wish to investigate.

Laboratory Is Needed.
The necessity of maintaining the state laboratory in Duluth is shown by a review of the number of examinations which have been made here during the year ending April 1. In that time the records show examinations to have been made for the city as follows: Diphtheria, 1909; sputum for tuberculosis, 542; typhoid, 156; water, 372, and milk, 324. The last legislature failed to make provision for the local laboratory, and in view of the necessity of having the laboratory, the city will likely vote sufficient funds to keep it in operation.

Motor and Fishing Parties.
The Island Lake inn is open. Good roads and also fishing.

Youth Under Arrest.
Severn Siverson, 18 years old, was arrested last evening in Superior on a charge of having passed forged checks in this city on several firms. He claims that a man named Henry Anderson forced him to write out the bogus checks and cash them, taking all but $1.50 away from him. He is alleged to have raised about $50 in this manner. He was not arraigned in police court this morning.

Returns From Coast.
Louis Rouchleau is back from several months spent in Los Angeles. Mr. Rouchleau stated that business is generally better in the Pacific coast country than it has been for some time. While in Los Angeles Mr. Rouchleau met a large number of Duluth people who were spending the winter there. Within the next few days Mr. Rouchleau plans to make a trip to the Cuyuna range.

Board of Electricity.
The state board of electricity will hold a meeting at Kalamazoo hall all day Saturday, May 17, for the examination of any applicants for licenses who may appear.

DENIES MAKING THE O'HARA AFFIDAVIT

Chicago, May 9.—Mrs. Maud Robinson, alleged author of the affidavit produced in the state senate charging Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara with immorality, was at the home of her oousin, Mrs. Nicholas Nomikos, 639 East Sixty-second street, last night, according to a statement made by Mrs. Nomikos. The latter said her cousin denied authorship of the affidavit, and declared that Mrs. Robinson left her home this morning to return to Springfield.

Marshal D. Ewell, one of the foremost handwriting experts in the country, today made a scientific examination, comparing O'Hara's handwriting with the "Duncan" and "Miller" signatures on the register of the Hotel Sherman. He stated that the signatures on the register were natural, no attempt at disguise having been made, and that they were in no wise similar to that of the lieutenant governor.

Woman's Realm

Mrs. George S. Richards of 212 Sixteenth avenue east was the guest of honor at a delightful tea given Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. S. Briggs, president of the Schubert club, 676 Summit avenue, St. Paul. Those present were the officers, board of directors and committees of the Schubert club and many of the prominent musicians of the city. Mrs. C. E. Furness, first vice president assisted, and Mrs. Elliott poured at a table decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. Briggs gave a very interesting report of the national convention of musical clubs, which she and Mrs. Richards had recently attended in Chicago. She said in part:

"That sixteen years of federation have given to the musical clubs of the United States a sense of national responsibility was perhaps the most vital fact impressed upon the 180 delegates and many visitors gathered together at the eighth biennial meeting of the National Federation of Musical clubs, held in Chicago last week.

"From Montana to Texas and Oklahoma and from California to Massachusetts representatives were drawn together by a common inspiration, a common interest, in a spirit of sincerity and earnestness which went far as a reinforcement of the statement which is often made, but less often heeded, that the musical interests of the country are rooted in its musical clubs.

"So gradual has been the growth, and in many cases so lacking in aspiration beyond the possibilities of a narrow circle, that the clubs themselves have been slow to recognize the fundamental value of their existence and the attending responsibility in meeting the demands they themselves have created.

"This was the keynote which sounded through the many addresses, beginning with that of the president, Mrs. Julius E. Kinney of Denver, and including many by men and women of national renown."

Next Biennial.

The next biennial meeting of the National Federation will be held in Los Angeles in 1915. The sum of $10,000 has been offered by the citizens of Los Angeles to be placed in the hands of the federation and awarded by it, to the composer who shall present the best American opera to be produced at that time."

After this Mrs. Richards was asked to give a brief report of the work of the Matinee Musicale of Duluth, which she did, and those present were much surprised to find that the Duluth Matinee Musicale numbered nearly 500 members, which is about the entire membership of the Schubert club. They were also greatly impressed with the series of artists' recitals given by the Matinee musicale without extra charge to its members.

Mrs. Richard was asked repeatedly by those present to explain how this could be accomplished, as the admission fee and membership of both clubs are nearly the same.

She explained that the membership was held by giving programs of highest standard only, by keeping down the running expenses of the club, and from the fact that all members—"musicians and officers alike—give freely without compensation, thereby enabling the club to use the greater part of its income from membership dues for evening artists' recitals.

Mrs. Richards, who has been the president of the Matinee Musicale of this city for the past two years, was the delegate from the Duluth club to the national convention and has been visiting in the Twin Cities for the past two weeks.

The cordiality which exists between the St. Paul and Minneapolis and Duluth musical clubs is marked and the reception given for Mrs. Richards was an expression of this feeling.

MRS. C. C. RUMSEY.

One of the most devoted of the attendants at the practice games of the polo players who are preparing for the international match in June is Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey. She was Mary Harriman and she inherited from her father, the late E. H. Harriman, a love of horse flesh. She has been a frequent exhibitor at horse shows and has always driven her own horses. Mrs. Rumsey is probably as good a judge of a polo pony as any of the players on the American team.

Progressive Dinner.

Miss May Wielde, Miss Greta Ferguson, Miss Edith Whitmore, Miss Juliette Gordon and Miss Marjorie De Forest will entertain at a progressive dinner this evening. Covers will be laid for ten, the first course being served at the home of Miss Wielde, 225 Fifteenth avenue east.

PICTURES AND TALK.

Bethel Entertainment for Children and Parents.

The young folks of the Bethel Sunday school and their parents are invited to an entertainment which will be given this evening at the Bethel, corner of Mesaba avenue and West First street. Dr. M. S. Rice of the First M. E. church will give a talk on "The Holy Land," illustrated with colored lantern slides, and there will be music and recitations.

The program will commence at 7:30 o'clock and will be free to the members of the Sunday school, their parents and friends of the Bethel.

AT "U" CIRCUS.

Miss Pressnell Performs at Cabaret Show.

Miss Myrna Pressnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Pressnell, 6 Munger terrace, who is a senior at the University of Minnesota, took part in the cabaret show planned by Dean Sweeney as one of the features of the university circus day.

She and Miss Kate Martin of Minneapolis had a number together. Miss Kathleen Hart, a well-known singer who has been heard in Duluth, gave a group of Irish folk-songs, and another interesting feature was singing by a band of strolling gypsies, among whom was Miss Isabel Vincent, daughter of the president of the university.

FOR MUSIC TEACHERS.

Entertainment Features for State Convention Planned.

Plans for the annual convention of the Minnesota State Music Teachers' association, which will be held in Duluth in July, were thoroughly discussed at the meeting of the executive committee called last evening at the Commercial club by Miss Mabel Fulton, chairman on arrangements.

Sessions will be held at the Spalding hotel, with the exception of an organ recital, which may be given at the First M. E. church. Three concerts will be given, entirely by local talent, during the convention and many social features will be mixed with the business sessions.

Most of the first day will be given up to business sessions with one of the three concerts in the afternoon and a reception and frolic program for that evening at the ball room of the hotel.

The second day will include an automobile ride in the morning followed by a luncheon at the Spalding, and Hal Woodruff of Minneapolis, chairman of the state committee, has planned the big state concert for that afternoon. The evening of the second day will be given up to the biggest program of the convention, which will consist this year entirely of chamber music.

A business session and election of officers will be the official program of the third day, followed by a boat ride and picnic supper.

Round table discussions and formal talks will be given place on the program being arranged by the state committee.

The next meeting of the local committee will be held Monday morning, May 19, at the Commercial club at 9:30 o'clock.

SPRING FESTIVAL.

Duluthians Enjoy Entertainment at Superior Normal.

A May festival and exhibit of work arranged by the training department of the state Normal schol at Superior, given this afternoon at that school, proved a most interesting event and local kindergartners were well represented among those who witnessed the program. The teachers in the training department under the direction of A. M. Royte, principal of that department of the school, arranged the program, which was of about two hours' duration and showed the work of all the departments of all the grades, including cooking, sewing, manual training and the regular branches of study.

Miss Vera Wantzel was chosen the May queen and Lyman Powell, Jr., was the herald for the afternoon. The program opened with a "Welcome to the Queen" with a pretty song and dance by all the children of the school. There were other out-of-door dances, such as "Sewing of the Seeds," "Reaping the Grains" and flower dances by the different grades and all songs were spring songs.

Miss Alta Owens, president of the Duluth Superior branch of the Kindergarten association, who has recently returned from the national convention held at Washington, D. C., was present with a number of other teachers from this city.

HONOR GUEST.

Deputy Supreme Commander Here.

Mrs. Jessie K. Fager of Canton, Ohio, deputy supreme commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees, was a guest of honor at the regular meeting of Duluth Hive No. 1, held this afternoon at Maccabee hall. Plans were discussed for the rally and class initiation to be held here next month.

Dinner and Shower.

A dinner and linen shower were given last evening by Mrs. George R. King, 104 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, in compliment to Miss Eva Adams, who will be married to Ewald Warner Lund on Wednesday of next week. The centerpiece was of jonquils and yellow candles and lavender ribbons added a pretty effect. Dainty May baskets of yellow were the place favors. Covers were laid for:

Mesdames—
F. J. Mooney, King.
Misses—
Eva Adams, Ruby Gorman,
Hazel Butchart, Eva O'Neil,
Gisa Perry, Mary Hart.
Mabel Cummings,

Silver Guild.

The annual business meeting and election of officers of the Silver Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Joseph Lonegren 1130 East Third street.

At Memorial Hall.

An entertainment given at Memorial hall last evening under the auspices of the Willis A. Gorman post fife, drum and bugle corps was enjoyed by a good-sized audience. Asa Daily was in charge of the affair and opened the program with a short talk on the corps and its object.

William Peer sang a group of patriotic songs and the Two Harbors quartet sang two numbers, "Larboard Watch" and "Who Built the Ark?" A number by the choir of Grace M. E. church was much enjoyed. Mrs. T. R. Hancock read two pleasing numbers, and Walter Sunderberg, drummer, and Miss Sunderberg, pianist, played a duet which closed the program.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Are Women Not Going to Extremes in the Matter of Dress?

There is so much being written and said nowadays about the follies, alleged or real, of women's fashions, that I think it behooves those of us who have the reputation of our sex at heart to take account of stock.

It has come to be that even the social evil and the terrible scourge of white slavery are laid partly at the door of feminine fashions. I have noticed lately where four or five public speakers, men, and in some cases women, of large reputation, who are seeking to solve the causes of the social evil, and to correct it, have scored the modern methods of dress bitterly. They have declared that women who follow the ultra fashions have put modesty behind them and have subordinated the natural instinct of women to the desire to follow in the paths laid down by the little god Fashion.

These speakers hav indicated that it is not a far cry from such laxity to a general loosening up of the moral standard in those who succumb to such a temptation. That is, the modern methods of dress—the peekaboo waist, short sleeves, flesh hose, tight-fitting skirts, some with slits exposing the person, and decollette gowns—not only tend to demoralize the male sex, from having them continuously flaunted before them, but are harmful to the women who wear them, in that they weaken their moral resistance.

It is a big and serious problem and one which all self-respecting women well may ponder. I have seen women dressed in a manner, on the public streets, that has attracted the gaze of men whom they pass in a way to make me shudder—and to blush for my sex, or that particular representative of it.

The modern style of skirt has much to commend it, and if it is properly made it need not be harmful. The skirt which is loosely made and yet has the clinging, draping effect around the bottom, yet giving the wearer room to move without exposing the figure at every step, is pretty, graceful and modest. I have seen many of these, and admired them. Others I have seen which, to me, are shocking, and to men must be positively vulgar and suggestive.

It is quite time the feminine sex was looking more to their responsibilities in the matter of dress, and ceasing to go recklessly on, regardless of the influence of what they may do upon others or upon themselves.

Outing and Dinner.

Miss Hilda Martinson was the guest of honor at an outing party given by the members of the White Rose club yesterday afternoon at Lakeside in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The outing was followed by a dinner at the home of Mrs. F. Whalen, 430 First avenue west. A basket of white roses and green candles daintily shaded were used as table decorations, and the guests were:

Misses—
Irene Lynch, Nellie Maher,
Rodena Mathews, Louise Trewartha,

Surprise Party.

Mrs. A. Wilson, mother of Mrs. H. E. Billings of 516 East First street, was surprised by some of her friends last evening. Mrs. Wilson has been spending the winter here and leaves for her home at St. Joseph, Mo., today. The house was decorated with red and white roses and carnations. Those present were:

Mesdames—
Frank Tate, Fred Evans,
Arthur White, Sam Schein,
Charles Rose, C. J. Kelly.
Misses—
Nellie Sullivan, Amy Rose,
Hallie Hills, Ethel Schein.

Go to Convention.

Rev. Carl Swenson of the Seventh Day Adventist church and Mrs. Swenson have left for New York to visit at the home of the latter for a few week and from there they will go to Washington, D. C., to attend the world's conference of the church, Rev. Mr. Swenson having been appointed delegate to represent this state.

For Bride-to-Be.

Miss Frank Murray, one of the teachers at the Monroe school, was the guest of honor at a tea given yesterday afternoon at the Glass Block tea rooms by a number of her friends. Covers were laid for twelve and a prettily arranged bouquet of jonquils was used as a centerpiece. Miss Murray's wedding to Phillip Allan of Michigan will take place during the summer at her home at Stapleton, Minn. Other affairs are being planned in her honor.

Church Meetings.

The Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church will hold its monthly business meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Lulu Grogan, 1712 Jefferson street, instead of at the church as was previously announced.

Give Card Party.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Clark of 1510 East Sixth street entertained last evening at three tables of five hundred. The prizes were won by Mrs. Rodney MacDonald and P. W. Milberg.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, who has been spending the winter at Havana, Cuba, with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mendenhall, is visiting at Winter Park, Fla., for two weeks. She will start north with Mrs. Adelbert Dutton, who has a winter home there, and is expected in Duluth about May 15. Mrs. Dutton will visit for some time in Michigan before coming to Duluth to spend the summer.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mendenhall have left their winter home at Cuba and are in New York for a few weeks.

• • •

Miss Alice Sjoselius has landed in New York and is visiting there for a few weeks. Her brother, George Sjoselius, will leave the last of this month for New York and they will return by way of the lakes.

• • •

Mrs. Herman Moe left last evening for her home in Minneapolis after a week's visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hoff of 1104 East Third street.

• • •

SCHOOL "STRIKE" OVER.

Disgruntled East Grand Forks Pupils Return to Studies.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eighty students of the high school who left their classrooms yesterday because A. O. Bowden, principal of the high school, had been suspended, are back in school today.

Last night the "strike" was called off when the board of education adopted resolutions commending the stand taken by Supt. H. E. Wolfe and condemning the action of the principal, Mr. Bowden, and of the high school children.

CLOQUET COUPLE WED.

Cloquet, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A quiet wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. C. W. Lowrie, when Miss Hattie Gilbert and Charles Nelson were married. Miss Edith Anderson of Barnum was bride's maid, and Earl Gilbert, brother of the bride, best man. Both young people are well known here, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Gilbert, and the groom the son of Mrs. Fred Nelson. After a short honeymoon trip to Duluth they will make their home here.

Cloquet Alumni Elect.

Cloquet, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a recent meeting of the alumni organization of the Cloquet high school, the following officers were elected: President, Edwin Erickson; first vice president, Genevieve Stapleton; second vice president, Harry Owens; third vice president, Loren Sheean; secretary, Edith Canfield; corresponding secretary, Ruben Swenson; treasurer, Walter Olin. Arrangements are under way for a reception and dance for the 1913 class, to be given some time in June.

HOSE SHOCKED A JUDGE

Costume of Woman Who Appeared in His Court Drew Rebuke From New York Jurist.

New York Evening World: Indignant is a meager word to apply to Mrs. Rachel N. Ducas after she arrived at her home, 14 East Sixtieth street, and had a chance to think over the remarks addressed to her in court by Supreme Court Justice Gavegan. And she was nothing loath to give vent to her feelings to a reporter who called on her in her apartments.

She held out a newspaper in which were reported stenographically Justice Gavegan's remarks, as follows:

"I am constrained to say this: I do not know who that young lady is, whether a witness or not—that her lower limbs are not sufficiently and decently covered to appear in court. I don't care who she is—coming into a public place or court in that condition. I think she should show a little more respect."

"Now you have read that, look at me," Mrs. Ducas demanded. "Here I am dressed as I was when the judge raked me over the coals so bitterly. Do I look as though I were improperly clad?"

Hear the Reporter Rave!

Mrs. Ducas, who is a slight, trim little lady, confessing to 30 years, although looking scarce more than 20, was garbed in a becoming tailor-made dress of black. The skirt was rather more loose than the prevailing style as seen in Fifth avenue or Broadway, and it swung not more than two and one-half inches above the ground. Her feet was encased in modish gray suede pumps with Cuban heels, and above them glimmered the sheerest of sheer gray hose.

Before continuing with the remarks inspired by his honor's comment, Mrs. Ducas gave the reporter a good, full minute to take in all the details of her costume. Then, bursting into a torrent of words, interspersed liberally with exclamations in her native French—she was born in Alsace-Lorraine—she declaimed in this wise:

"Mr. Reporter, dites dono. You are a man, even as the judge who said those horrid things of poor little me. So, allez, I shall explain!

Picked Out a Quiet Costume.

"Purposely I picked out this quiet suit of black that is tailor made to wear into the so somber court. See the skirt. Almost was I ashamed to appear in public with it, it is so loose and behind the times, for, as you must know, if you ever take yourself to the Avenue Fifth, that dresses of the style are, oh, so tight. And here my dress, which gets me into trouble, is at least twice around what the modish skirt is. Now, as for my hose. Ah, it is deplorable that the good judge, who so takes me to task, knows so little of the fashion. This thin, beautiful gray silk hose, which you may see if you care to look, Mr. Reporter, is what you call here all the raging. Every woman who is at all smart wears them, even so. You may call them sheer if you wish. So may the judge—I care not. But even if you can see through them, are they not chic?

"Lastly, take my shoes, the completing half of the lower part of my costume to which his honor objects so. Well, they are half shoes, to match perfectly the beautiful hose. And if the noble judge will but take the trouble to consult the well informed lady members of his family, they will tell him that the half shoes to match the beautiful sheer hose is what all the grandes dames on the Rue de la Paix, in that so dear Paree, are wearing at this very moment.

Both Quiet and Modish.

"Allors! Now I have shown you that my costume is both over quiet and very up to the minutely modish. It is quite possible that in my moment of excitement as my husband was testifying against me that my so full skirt perhaps slipped up one, two, three, four, five or six inches. Any skirt will do that, and without the owner's fault, as any woman knows. But why should the judge be so harsh on me?

"I will tell you this in quiet, Mr. Reporter. That Judge Gavegan must be an, oh, so old-fashioned man—way behind the fashions of us women. Of course, I am sorry if I hurt his feelings by my skirt slipping up perhaps to my knees, but, even so, don't you think he is of an old age?

"Ah, must you go? Well, even if monsieur the judge did deal harsh with me in speech, just the same he is a dear sweet for deciding the lawsuit for me. So, really, don't you think I should get the worry from what he thinks of my clothes?

declare they never expected him to accept their invitation."

Has Not Left Party.

He accuses two newspapers, one at La Crosse, the other at Milwaukee, of sounding the tocsin that the governor has left the Republican party, and adds:

"Well, he has not, nor has he accepted the invitation to attend the Progressive banquet in Milwaukee on June 6. He stands now precisely where he has always stood. His self-respect would not permit him to buy a ticket to a banquet ostensibly Republican, but in the arrangement of which he was not consulted."

The governor then points to the proposed banquet at Madison as a mere factional rally, and says that not harmony, but discord and factionalism are the prime motives back of it.

In conclusion the governor's statement reads:

"Whenever a gathering is proposed in the interests of real harmony by men whose acts show that they wish to promote peace and not to make war, I shall be one of the first to join hands with them."

eleventh-hour statement.

No move of any sort looking to appeal was taken by any of the four prisoners today. An effectual club against appeal is held by the district attorney in the form of nineteen indictments for bribery—a felony—recently returned against the quartet.

"If the prisoners appeal, I will bring them to trial on the bribery charges," is the attitude taken by the district attorney. No assurance has been given that they will not be brought to trial on these indictments anyhow, but each of the prisoners' lawyers is understood to have obtained the impression that the bribery charges will lie dormant in case there is no appeal.

Kept Witness Away.

The crime for which the four inspectors—highest uniformed officials in the department—were convicted was brought to light by the district attorney in his crusade against graft in the police department, begun after the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

George A. Sipp, a resort keeper, told Mr. Whitman that he paid regular protection money to collectors acting for Sweeney. When it came time for Sipp to testify before the grand jury it was found that he had fled the state. He was found at Atlantic City, brought back to New York and testified that Sweeney and his three codefendants had raised a fund and hired him to remain out of the state.

The convicted men will be taken to Blackwell's island this afternoon.

ment of Mexico, whether recognized or not by the United States, has adopted and will always adopt measures for the security of the inhabitants of the country, whether its own nationals or foreigners, and this has been demonstrated by the attention given to the just petitions of those who have been in any manner injured by past revolutions.

"The United States and all the peoples of Europe have proofs that the government of Mexico is specially pledged to give guarantees to everybody without distinction of nationality."

Rebels Win Battle.

Douglas, Ariz., May 9.—Federal forces lost in a battle Wednesday at Santa Rosa, near Guyamas, according to arrivals here. The government lost thirty-eight men killed and wounded and 42 taken prisoners, besides 150 rifles and ammunition. The state forces lost ten killed and twenty wounded.

Col. Alvarado and 700 well-armed men, more than half of whom were recruited from nearby mines, have left Cananea to assist the insurgents investing Guyamas.

Jap Offer Declined.

Four hundred Japanese residents of Sonora state have offered their services in arms to L. I. Pesquier, the insurgent governor, according to a code telegram received by the constitutionalist committee here. The offer was refused, the governor explaining that the struggle was one in which Mexicans only, should participate.

Fifteen Japanese formed a committee which called on the governor at Hermosillo, the state capital. They declared 400 Japanese were already armed. They composed, they said, all the residents of the state, mostly farmers and mechanics. They offered to furnish their own ammunition for a time. The governor thanked the committee for its interest in the welfare of Mexico, he said, but declined the offer on the grounds of the alienship of the proffered troops.

Two Hundred Killed on Train.

Nogales, Ariz., May 9.—Two hundred lives are reported lost in the train disaster at Don, near the Sinaloa-Sonora border, Wednesday. State troop leaders declare that the train, bearing 250 Federal soldiers, was not dynamited by stealth. It is said that the insurgents fired into the train, exploding a car of dynamite which the Federals were conveying to Guayamas.

Only fifty of the passengers are reported to have escaped death, and many were wounded. The troops were moving from San Blas, in northern Sinaloa, to Alamos, below Guayamas, from which point the insurgents feared they would proceed to reinforce the garrison defending the gulf port.

CARNEGIE TALKS TO PEACE PARTY.

New York, May 9.—Addresses by Andrew Carnegie and Dr. William Dunning of Columbia university, president of the American Historical association, were on today's program of the International conference which is arranging the centenary celebration of peace among English-speaking peoples. The sessions here will close tonight with a banquet at which Secretary Bryan will make the principal address.

Tomorrow the delegates begin their tour of American cities. They will first visit Boston.

Mr. Carnegie's address was delivered at a meeting of the American committee this morning, and Dr. Dunning was the speaker at a general session this afternoon, giving a historical review of the century of peace between the United States and the British empire.

ARRESTED FOR BOLD HOLD-UP

Prisoners Claimed to Have Beaten and Robbed Their Companion.

Albert Grossman was beaten and robbed at the foot of the stairs leading from the Lake avenue viaduct to St. Croix avenue about 10 o'clock last night. Joe Kruto and Albert Garbich are under arrest charged with the robbery, being corraled by Patrolman Ricketts at the top of the stairs as they were making their getaway.

It appears that the trio were together for some time before the hold-up, making the rounds of the various saloons. When they headed for the red light district Grossman claims that one of the other two grabbed him and threw him down while the other went through his pockets, relieving him of two $5 bills and a purse. The money described by Grossman was found in Garbich's pocket when he was searched at headquarters.

When he was attacked Grossman cried out. The men choked him and threw him to one side. His yells had attracted Patrolman Ricketts, who was hurrying to the scene when he bumped into the two men running away. He took them into custody and escorted them to the station without difficulty.

John Brundy claims that Kruto is one of two men who robbed him at Midway, between Minneapolis and St. Paul, last fall. Brundy had seen Kruto earlier in the day and was searching for him with an officer when the other robbery took place. Brundy came to the station after the two had been arrested and identified Kruto as the man for whom he had been looking.

The two prisoners will be taken directly before the grand jury now in session.

TARIFF BILL, PASSED BY HOUSE, FACES FIGHT ON FLOOR OF SENATE

satisfaction, exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed Democratic donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber, a faint ripple of applause followed, and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of congress.

Rush for Home.

With the bill, after a month's consideration, on its way to the senate, there was a rush of representatives for their homes last night. In the house adjournment will be taken for three days at a time, beginning next week, until June 1. In the meantime the senate finance committee will study the bill, while the house ways and means committee will organize committees preparatory to the transaction of business next month.

Republicans and Progressives, led respectively by Representatives Mann and Murdock, protested to the last against the measure, the lowest tariff bill ever written, and proclaiming, as the Democratic avalanche bowled them over, the virtues of different tariff commission plans.

Details of the Vote.

The Democrats who opposed it were Broussard, Dupre, Lazaro and Morgan of Louisiana, owing to the scheduled reduction of sugar 25 per cent, and sending it to the free list in three years, and C. B. Smith of New York.

Progressives who voted for the bill were Kelly and Rupley of Pennsylvania, Nolan of California, Bryan of Washington and Kent of California, formerly a Republican, but now an independent Progressive.

Progressive Leader Murdock and thirteen of his Progressive followers voted with the minority. Representative Copley, a Progressive, did not vote, answering "present" to his name.

In the final consideration of the measure, Minority Leader Mann made a lengthy speech on a point of order by Mr. Underwood to rule out the provision for a tariff board in the motion by Representative Payne of New York to recommit the bill. Speaker Clark sustained the point of order. Mr. Mann appealed from the decision of the chair and a roll call was taken on Mr. Underwood's motion to table the appeal, the Democrats winning 274 to 143.

Progressive Leader Murdock also moved to recommit, with instructions to provide for a non-partisan tariff commission, but he failed to get a roll call, and then the Payne motion to recommit, minus the tariff board provision, was lost 123 to 296.

Predict Vote in August.

The tariff fight now shifts from the house, with its overwhelming Democratic majority, to the senate, where the party's slim majority of six already has been reduced, as far as this bill is concerned, to four. Unless senators familiar with the progress of such legislation are mistaken, there is now little prospect of a final vote on the bill before Aug. 1.

The bill's passage through the senate will be fought at every step by a Republican organization apparently entirely in accord on this subject, and entirely willing to spend unlimited time and energy in an effort to defeat it. Leaders of the Democrats on the senate finance committee, which will handle the bill, expressed the belief that it would go through in practically the same form as it passed the house, and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

Plan Some Changes.

The subcommittees of the finance committee which have been investigating the schedules of the Underwood bill for the last few weeks, plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but the wool, sugar and other schedules which brought out the hard fighting in the house, are not to be touched, according to the present plan. The income tax and administration features, are to stand.

Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two senators from Louisiana will not accept the sugar schedule and that they might be willing to combine with others to defeat the whole bill. A change of two more Democratic votes would bring about the Louisianan's desire.

The Republican fight against the bill, however, will be conducted in vigorous style. Senator Smoot will offer amendments to every schedule in the bill. These will be debated at length and a record vote will probably be required on each.

La Follette Alone.

Senator La Follette is credited with an intention to enter into the fight independently. It was expected that he would offer a substitute bill, or at least submit many amendments. He has declined, however, to define his position on the Underwood bill, and said that he had not decided upon a course of action.

GIRL FIGHTS WITH THREE KIDNAPERS

Smashes Window in Taxicab and Attracts Notice of Police.

Chicago, May 9.—A daring attempt by three Italians to kidnap Viola Shifanio, a 20-year-old Italian girl, in a taxicab was frustrated today by the desperate struggle of the girl to escape.

The abductors, having ordered a taxicab by telephone, were driven by the chauffeur, Harry Peabody, to the Shifanio home at 857 Townsend street. They waited until the young woman entered the street when she was seized and bundled into the machine. One of the men covered Peabody with a revolver and ordered him to drive east on Chicago avenue.

The girl was struggling and screaming and at Orleans street succeeded in smashing the window of the taxicab, attracting the attention of four policemen.

Scratched Man's Face.

Antonio Moola, one of the abductors, the scratches on whose face bore evidence of the resistance of the girl, was arrested but his two companions escaped after running three blocks under a storm of bullets from the police.

Miss Shifanio's hands were cut in smashing the window of the machine. She said that she could not explain the motive for the attack. The men lived near her, she stated, but she did not know them. A similar attempt to kidnap her 16-year-old sister was made eight months ago. Moola declined to explain the motive of the attempted kidnaping or to give the names of his confederates.

RYAN OPPOSED TO GOVERNMENT ROAD

Does Not Want Federal Railroad Line Built in Alaska.

Washington, May 9.—Richard Ryan, one of the parties to the noted "Dick to Dick" letters in the administration of Former Secretary Ballinger of the interior department, appeared before the senate territories committee today, opposing a proposed government railroad from the coast to the interior of Alaska. He declared that Controller Bay, in which he is interested, affords the best terminus of a railroad to the interior for coal fields, and argued that the expense of extending the Copper River & Northwestern railway to the coal fields would be much greater than to build from Controller Bay.

Murdered Near Fairmont.

Fairmont, Minn., May 9.—John Stene, a farmer living near McNeerly, this county, was found dead in his house Thursday with a bullet hole in his head. Officers believe that he was shot by thieves, whom he surprised at their work some time during the night.

DULUTH'S DEMON HITTERS HOLD A GLEEFUL BATFEST

Grand Forks Is Defeated By Score of 13 to 3 in the First Game of Series---Three Home Runs Delight the Hearts of Fans.

Merrily the husky Flickertails and the valiant White Sox battled yesterday at Athletic park, and late last night several expert accountants with the mute assistance of an adding machine worked out the score as 13 to 3, with the Dooks riding on the large dimension.

The pastiming was on the order of the variety loved by the ardent follower of the game. Screaming swats enlivened the proceedings and caused men and several ladies to yell right out in meeting. During the course of the afternoon enough Bull Durum tobacco was distributed to make everyone happy as the guests at a newsboys' picnic.

These Grand Forks men are large and carry all the appearance of being real baseball players. Before the game started Mr. Foster, who manages the tourists as well as plays on first base, confirmed this impression. However the Flickers had little opportunity to prove this point and may be argued out this afternoon.

Mr. Wilson, the pitcher, or the man who pitches for the Grand Forks team, has a pleasant personality, so say his team mates. Aside from this and the uniform he wore yesterday, the young man had nothing in particular. But pitchers have their off days now and then.

While the Dooks were nicking Wilson for fourteen bingles, five of which were for extra bases, Mr. Johnson of Red Wing, Minn., was doing very well. While the visitors occasionally grew fresh with the cudgel, there were no really explosive efforts upon the part of the North Dakota threshing crew and when our Johnson was in difficulty he usually found means to extricate himself.

Mr. Johnson holds the distinction of being the only man on our side who failed to get a bingle. Up to a late hour of the game it looked as if Messrs. Smith and McCarthy would also go hitless. But Wilson was lenient in the matter of accommodating and Jack and Elmer collected before the slaughter was brought to an end.

Started Early.

In the foreign first there was little of excitement. Right away we started to accumulate. Our sterling leader picked out a very first ball pitched as a lovely one and hit smartly to left for one base. Promptly Mr. McGraw forced the Dook at second. A passed ball and a stolen base carried Frank to third. Elmer Miller hit one near the right field paling which netted two bags and scored McGraw. Samuel Sycamore Menlece came through with the first of four hits and Miller was in. With Rhoades down Smith strolled and Schreiber's single counted Samuel from second.

Old Sam Foster walked in the foreign second and Brandt was safe on a fielder's choice and Sam was likewise same at second when Mr. Johnson heaved wildly to get the fleeting manager at the second sack. Mr. Foster continued on to third, a muff by Rhoades permitting the invader to rest secure there. Jerry Edmund of Red River valley fame singled and the first run was in.

Excitement and two runs were manufactured in the visiting third. Wilson walked and Altman singled. Deitrick fouled out and then chase singled. Altman went to second on the hit and then started down to third. Menlece secured the ball and in a frenzied effort heaved it with powerful effort over the bean of our Mr. Rhoades. It was a beautiful throw, in a way, but the wrong way. Chase scored Wilson and Menlece must be given credit for counting Altman.

That was all for the giants of the golden wheat and accompanying gray back country. Ours came in bunches thereafter.

Our Barby walked in the fourth and then Miller cleaned up his sights, adjusted them for long range work, and poked one of the Cubist offerings of Wilson over the left field paling. She was a beautiful clout and well worthy of the cartoon of smoking that Elmer collected after breakfast today.

Sam Comes Through.

After making three straight hits and behaving excellently throughout the game, Samuel Sycamore Menlece came to the plate for his fourth start. Someone in the stand besought the tall Sycamore to cudgel one to the far ramparts of yon green field. One of the nicest things about Mr. Menlece of Woodland way is the obliging manner he maintains on and off the field.

Hearing the request of the faithful fans, he hunched his shoulders, clutched his bat down near the end and got a toe-hold in the batting box. The result of this preparation was a screaming triple down in the center field lane, the ball hopping and bounding near the extreme corner of the field where the pennant is to hang later in the season.

Following this valorous feat came Mr. Rhoades with his home run clout over the right center field rampart, and glee and great fun abounded.

This brings us along to the eighth. Only six runs were scored in this round. Only permit us to say that a double by Mr. Rhoades, a homer by Elmer Smith of Milan, Ohio, two singles and two walks figured in the run riot. She was great.

Taking it all in all the 1913 introduction to the Flickertails was truly delightful. Mr. Menlece's hitting stood out prominently, also the shoe string catch back of second base upon the part of Brother Altman. The sun shone brightly, a goodly crowd was there and Mr. Werden was in a genial and jocular mood.

MAROONS TAKE OPENING GAME

Superior Defeated By Score of 4 to 3 in Exciting Contest.

Tim Flood's royal Canadian tourists took the first game of the series from the Superior Red Sox yesterday afternoon at Hislop park by the score of 4 to 3. Peggy Rhoades opposed Moe for the most part and Peasley for the least part, only five hits being gathered off the flinging of the red legged flinger. But errors at critical times figured in the run getting of the Canucks and lost the contest. The game was interesting throughout.

WINONA TAKES FIRST GAME FROM APOSTLES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—Corbett held the little Saints to seven scattered hits here yesterday and the Winona visitors took the opening game of the series by the score of 6 to 1. For the first six innings of the contest it was a pretty pitching duel between Le Claire and Corbett. Then the local flinger weakened and the visitors romped away with the game, in the seventh round, three blows, a hit batsman and a walk being responsible for four runs. Carroll came to the relief of Le Claire and two more runs were gathered off his mound efforts.

The Giants played a nice game in the field and the visitors look like one of the strongest clubs in the new league. Lefty Davis has instilled dash and team work into his men and the former National and American league star has his boys on their toes all of the time.

VIRGINIA DROPS FIRST GAME TO MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—Minneapolis took the opening game of the series from Virginia here yesterday by the score of 5 to 4. Faeth and Ralph Comstock had a pitching duel, the former American association heaver having somewhat the better of the argument. While the Ore Diggers played a perfect fielding game and pulled off some clever stunts in the field, the errors of the Bronks did not count in the run getting and the hits of the visitors came at the wrong time. Some stupid play in the field by the visitors spoiled their chances of victory. The score: R. H. E.

Rally in Ninth.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Two men were out in the St. Louis half of the ninth inning, with Philadelphia one run ahead yesterday, when the visitors developed a batting rally which eventually gave them the victory by 5 to 4. Sheckard started the rally with a triple and singles by Oakes and Wingo and a double by O'Leary followed, putting three runs over the plate. In the home team's final effort, Walsh and Dolan, as pinch hitters singled, Capron running for the former. Sallee, who had taken Haamon's place in the eighth inning, was succeeded on the rubber by Perritt, who hit Paskert, filling the bases. The best Philadelphia could do was to score one run on Knabe's sacrifice fly.

Manager Dooin of Philadelphia disputed Umpire Klem's decisions on called balls in the second inning and was sent to the clubhouse. Score:

Three Hits Apiece.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 9.—Brooklyn defeated Chicago 2 to 1 yesterday, largely through Manager Evers' errors, two of his three misplays paving the way for Brooklyn's two runs. Both pitchers were effective, three hits each being all that Lavender and Rucker allowed. Chicago's solitary run was scored by Schulte on a hit by Pitcher, steal, Miller's wild throw and an out. Brooklyn's first tally came in the third, when Moran reached first on Evers' fumble and was forced by Cutshaw. The latter stole second and counted on an out and Wheat's scratch hit. Daubert scored the winning run on an error by Evers, a steal, Fisher's infield hit and Miller's sacrifice fly.

The game ended sensationally when Miller ran toward the grandstand for Archer's foul and doubled up Phelan stealing. Score:

Giants Are Blanked.

New York, May 9.—George Johnson, who has won four of the five victories scored by Cincinnati, shut out New York here yesterday, 4 to 0. He held the locals to six scattered hits and permitted only two men to get past first base. Johnson has won all the five victories scored by Cincinnati to date. The visitors supported their pitcher superbly and made four double plays.

Bates' triples beat New York. He tripled in the first and scored on Tinker's single. In the eighth, his second three-bagger drove in Grant and Clarke. Score: R. H. E.

Tigers Win.

Detroit, Mich., May 9.—Pitcher Jean Dubuc came into the game in the first inning as a pinch hitter, bounced a long single off the left field wall, scoring two runs, which were enough to defeat the visitors. The final count was Detroit 3, New York 1. Hall, backed by good support, held New York scoreless until the ninth. In this inning Hartzell doubled, advanced on Chase's single and scored on Sweeney's sacrifice fly.

Cobb was reported ill yesterday and Manager Jennings used three players in right field during the game. Gibson, a catcher, started the game, but was removed to allow Dubuc to hit for him. The pitcher then played the position until Louden, an infielder, replaced him in the ninth. Score:

Sixth Straight Victory.

St. Louis, Mo., May 9.—Philadelphia won its sixth straight game yesterday, beating St. Louis, 6 to 3. Although Hamilton pitched a good game, errors by the locals at critical stages of the game allowed Philadelphia to pile up six runs. Agnew made two costly errors at the plate on two perfect throws from the outfield by Johnston, who had the runners beaten by a good margin. Philadelphia scored two runs in the first on singles by Oldring and Collins and Baker's double.

St. Louis scored in the first after two were out on Williams' single and Pratt's double.

With the bases full in the third, Pratt's single drove in two more runs for St. Louis. Philadelphia tied the score in the fifth when Agnew dropped Johnston's assist, allowing Barry to score.

Use Three Pitchers.

Chicago, May 9.—Chicago played a batting game yesterday, driving three of the Washington pitchers off the mound and winning, 10 to 5.

Groom opened for the visitors, but weakened in the fourth inning and was relieved by Gallia, who retired to allow Schaefer to bat for him. Boehling took up the pitching in the sixth inning and retired when Gandil, who has been out the game several days owing to an injury, batted for him. Cashion finished the game.

Russell pitched for the locals and not a runner reached first base until the fifth when Morgan drew a pass. However, in the sixth inning, with none out, three singles, a triple and an infield out, gave Washington four runs. A single, an error and a sacrifice fly gave the visitors their fifth run. Score: R. Champs Lose Again.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 9.—Cleveland again won from the Bostons yesterday 3 to 2, in a pitchers' battle between Gregg and Bedient. Each pitcher had one ineffective inning. In the third a pass and two singles scored Boston's two runs. In the sixth Cleveland scored three runs on three singles, a base on balls and Ball's error.

Only three hits were made off Gregg, who fanned nine batters. Shortstop Wagner got back in the game yesterday.

Play Thirteen Innings.

Kansas City, Mo., May 9.—Barbeau, the first man up batted the ball over the right field fence for a home run in the thirteenth inning yesterday and enabled the locals to take an exciting 4 to 3 game from St. Paul.

The locals scored first. In the third, Williams walked and stole second. Barbeau then singled, sending Williams home. Two bases on balls and singles by O'Rourke and Hinchman scored three runs for St. Paul in the fourth. The locals tied the game in the eighth when O'Connor, batting for Covington, singled, and Walker and Flene followed with doubles.

When Catcher "Tony" James, who last year was a member of the Kansas City team, came to bat in the second inning, a gold watch was presented to him "from Kansas City admirers." James was preparing to make a speech when he recognized the watch. It was his own property, the donors having played a joke upon him. Score: R. H. E.

Hitting Contest.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 9.—In a free-for-all hitting contest, Minneapolis defeated Milwaukee yesterday by a score of 20 to 9. The game was again marred by a lot of wrangling, as a result of poor umpiring, Blackburne being banished off the field in the third by Umpire Handiboe.

A fist fight between Manager Clark of the Milwaukee club and Shortstop Altizer in the seventh inning nearly started a riot. Altizer in trying to steal third, cut Clark's forehead with his spikes. Clark immediately swung on him and several blows were exchanged before players and umpires separated the pair. The crowd swarmed in and tried to attack Altizer, but policemen stepped in and prevented any trouble. Both Clark and Altizer were put off the field, Slapnicka taking Clark's place and Ferris replacing Altizer. The score: R. H. E.

Senators Win Again.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—Columbus turned the tables on Louisville yesterday and won the second game of the series by the score of 6 to 4. The locals held the lead up to the eighth inning when the visitors batted in three runs, aided by an error. Edington who batted for Kimball started the visitors' successful rally with a triple, Perring made the first home run of the season on the local grounds. Osborn's two triples netted three runs.

Win Loose Game.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 9.—Krug's sensational catch of Bronkie's drive down the third base line in the eighth inning kept Toledo from tying the score here yesterday and Indianapolis won a loosely played game, 10 to 9. Twenty-four bases on balls, were given by the five pitchers while wild pitches by Gregg and Collamore allowed two of the local runs.

The score: R. H. E.
Indianapolis ...0 5 2 1 2 0 0 0 x—10 8 0

FIST FIGHT IN TUNNEL.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 9.—Cleveland and Boston players were exceedingly secretive today on the subject of an official investigation of the fist fight that took place in the tunnel leading to the clubrooms after Wednesday's game, and Umpire Connolly, deputed by President Johnson of the American league to look into the affair, probably will have trouble obtaining accurate information.

If the players taking part in the scrimmage were identified and punished by suspension, both the Boston and Cleveland teams would be disrupted, as twenty men are said to have participated, most of them being leading members of their teams.

CHINESE BALL TEAM TO PLAY ILLINOIS.

Chicago, May 8.—The Chinese baseball team of Hawaii arrived here today from Milwaukee on their way to Urbana, Ill., where they will play the University of Illinois nine tomorrow and Saturday.

NOTRE DAME MEN DENY CONTRACTS.

South Bend, Ind., May 8.—William G. Lathrop and Herbert Kelly, pitchers, and Rupert Mills, first baseman, members of the Notre Dame university baseball team, have made affidavits declearing that they have not signed contracts with any professional baseball club.

It had been reported that the men had signed with the Cincinnati, St. Louis and Pittsburg clubs. The affidavits were demanded by the faculty.

JEFFRIES ASKED TO BE SPARRING PARTNER.

San Francisco, Cal., May 8.—In preparation for their twenty-round bout May 17, Jess Willard has no less than five men as sparring partners, while "Gunboat" Smith so far has been obliged to content himself with only Bob Armstrong. The ex-sailor last night sent to Jim Jeffries this telegram:

"Do you want to come north and act as my sparring partner? Answer immediately."

The winner of the Smith-Willard fight probably will be matched with Luther McCarty for July 4.

Flood Gets a Twirler.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Timothy Flood anticipates new strength for the Winnipeg pitching staff at Superior, Wis., this week, where Ira Boley, with the Cairo club in the K. I. T. league during the last two years, will join him. Boley, says Flood, will be able to hold good in this league.

With Bud Moe as the only pitcher in real good condition, Flood declares he is badly handicapped so far as pitching is concerned. Peasly is badly crippled up, and Delderich is not in very good shape either. Flood also has lines out for another pitcher from the K. I. T. league.

Flood says he is well satisfied with the remainder of his lineup.

May Transfer Team.

Indianapolis, Ind, May 9.—That the Springfield team of the Central league may be transferred to Washington park in this city while the local American association team is on the road, was the rumor in circulation here today. The poor attendance at Springfield is given as the reason for the proposed transfer. Solmeyer, owner of both clubs, would not discuss the proposition today.

Should the transfer of games be made there will be a conflict with the Federal league here, as its schedule provides for games while the American association team is away from home.

Shooting Tourney Ends.

Americus, Ga., May 9.—The annual tournament of the Georgia Gun club ended yesterday. The trophy in the professional class went to Homer Clark of Allendale, Ill.

Reilly Offered Managership.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 9.—Barney Reilly, former Yale baseball star and for the last three seasons a member of the local Western league club, received an offer yesterday to manage the Wichita Western league team. He had not decided whether he would accept the offer.

Reilly is under suspension by the St. Joseph club because he refused to play here this season at the terms offered him. He formerly played with the Chicago Americans.

Tipple Goes to Columbus.

Rockford, Ill., May 9.—Dan Tipple, with Pittsburg last fall, yesterday agreed to the terms of the Columbus American association manager and will report at once.

Track Team Leaves.

Lawrence, Kan., May 9.—Seventeen members of the University of Kansas track team left here last night for Lincoln, Neb., where on Sunday afternoon they will meet the Nebraska university athletes in their annual dual meet.

Coaches Mosse and Hamilton accompanied the Kansans.

Chavez Outpoints Marino.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 9.—In a ten-round bout that went the limit here last night, Benny Chavez of Trinidad, Colo., won from Eddie Marino of New York on points. The boys are bantamweights.

Dundee Will Meet Dxion.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 9.—It was announced here last night that negotiations had been closed for a twenty-round bout here July 4 between Johnny Dundee, the New York featherweight, and Tommy Dixon of Kansas City.

Autoists Will Appeal.

Baltimore, Md., May 9.—Important action affecting automobilists the country over was taken at a meeting here yesterday of the executive board of the automobile association when it was determined to appeal to the United States supreme court for relief from the double tax action imposed in many states upon motor owners. At present they are required to pay a personal tax and in addition, in some states, a heavy registration fee, the latter running from $10 to $25 a car.

Lewis Suspended.

Chicago, May 9.—A suspension of three days' duration was handed to Phil Lewis of the Milwaukee club by President Chivington of the American association yesterday for using improper language during the Milwaukee-Minneapolis game yesterday.

Quits During Match.

New York, May 9.—George Lurich, Russian heavyweight wrestler, quit in his catch-as-catch-can match, two out of three falls, with Raymond Cazeaux of Bordeaux here last night.

Boxing Match Postponed.

San Francisco, Cal., May 9.—The "Gunboat" Smith-Jess Willard twenty-round boxing contest, scheduled for the afternoon of May 17, has been postponed until the night of May 20.

Gets Decision Over Cross.

St. Louis, Mo., May 9.—Harry Trendall of St. Louis was given the decision over Leach Cross, the New York lightweight, after eight rounds of snappy fighting last night. The New Yorker did most of the leading and landed his left almost at will, but could not place his right uppercuts.

River Rough for Racing.

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—The Charles river was so rough early today that the Harvard, Princeton and University of Pennsylvania crews, which will race tomorrow, were unable to hold their regular morning practice. The coaches believed, however, that the eights would be able to practice quick starts on the upper reaches of the river.

Sociability Run.

Kansas City, Mo., May 9.—Twenty-five motor cars carrying members of the Kansas State Automobile association and their friends left Kansas City, Kan., this morning on a sociability tour to Omaha. The association is endeavoring to encourage the improvement of the roads along the Omaha-Kansas City "scenic route."

D. E. Watkins, secretary of the association, will speak in the interests of better roads at each stop made.

Australasian Player Arrives.

New York, May 9.—Horace Rice, another of the Australasian tennis players, who will compete here next month in the Davis cup preliminaries, arrived from the west today. Capt. S. N. Doust of the team arrived from London yesterday.

LOCAL SPORT NOTES

This evening the Lakeside Athletic club will put on its star athletic program at the club gymnasium in the Lakeside district. The show is open to the public and the officials expect the entertainment of this evening to eclipse all of the former athletic meets that have been put on under the auspices of the new organization. Jimmy Brady and Jim Nelson are down on the program and Abe O'Neil and Kid Azine are also booked to contribute. Walter Miller will take on one of the huskies of Duluth and several other features will be on the sport bill of fare.

* * *

Frank Bryant is going against the half mile record this evening at the Auditorium rink. The little Duluth crack is in the best condition of his career at the present time and is confident of hanging up a very good mark in his trial against the clock. Following the time trial of Frankie there will be an obstacle race in which some of the best skaters of the city have entered.

GILBERT ATHLETES GETTING IN TRIM

High School Team Preparing to Enter Various Range Contests.

Gilbert, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school boys' team is practicing daily, arranging for a schedule in the Range High School league. Last Saturday they were defeated by the Eveleth boys. This Saturday at 1 p. m. they play a return game in Eveleth and are going over determined to win. The probable lineup will be: C., F. Sullivan; p., R. Gahon; 1b., T. Nolan, captain; 2b., T. Erchul; 3b., F. Erchul; s.s., T. Sheehan; l.f., W. Krcilin; c.f., Fredmon; r.f., A. Rock; subs., Hasking and E. Masterson.

Lee Pemberton is coaching the boys and they are rounding into form. An athletic entertainment was given Wednesday night to raise funds to buy uniforms.

Other branches of athletics are also receiving attention. Perry S. Pray is coaching the track team for a field meet which will be held at the high school grounds May 30. Teams from the Gilbert, Genoa and Elba schools will compete. The tennis club is being coached by M. B. Elson, and it is planned to have a tennis tournament before the close of the school year.

FORBES PHONE COMPANY MEETS

First Farmers' Telephone Line in St. Louis County Soon Ready.

Eveleth, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Forbes Telephone company, the first farmers' telephone system to be built in St. Louis county, had a meeting of stockholders Wednesday to attend to various matters having to do with its construction.

F. E. Lister of Virginia, district manager of the Mesaba Telephone company, presented matters relative to connections at Forbes with the lines of the Northwestern company which would give the farmers along the new rural line connection by long distance with the outside world.

Attorney N. B. Arnold, a Virginia lawyer, also a Forbes farmer, was present. Mr. Arnold is looking after the legal work of the new company and is a stockholder. Sol Sax of Eveleth, who is also developing a fine farming property near Forbes, was present in the capacity of a stockholder.

Construction Progressing Nicely.

The construction work on the new line was reported going on nicely. A large portion of the poles have been set and a wire is being strung. In a short time the instruments will be installed and communication will be established. The central station will be at Peterson & Co.'s store. The toll rate on the Mesaba telephone line from Forbes to Eveleth, which was started at 15 cents last fall when the station was put in at Forbes, has been reduced to 10 cents. The concession was secured through the efforts of the Eveleth Commercial club and the assistance of Mr. Lister.

FIX GILBERT GROUNDS.

Getting Ball Park in Shape for Approaching Games.

Gilbert, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work is being pushed fixing the ball grounds for games in the Trolley league. Two games are scheduled for this week, Saturday and Sunday, and it is hoped to have the grounds improved and the grandstand built in time for the first home game. Gilbert has some promising material and should be able to put a fast team in the game. The close score of last Sunday's game at Biwabik indicates that the boys have the stuff and must be reckoned with. Manager Flannigan has the support of the public and a good sum has already been raised to help the season's expenses. The council has donated some money and from present indications the attendance and enthusiasm necessary to make a winning team will be in evidence. The new uniforms have arrived and will be used for the first time Saturday.

Saturday night a benefit performance will be given at the Lyceum theater. Ted Butler and Bob Scheibel, who recently appeared over Sullivan & Considine's circuit in the West, will give a refined singing and comedy-talking act. It is possible that some local amateur talent will be on the boards.

RESINOL QUICKLY CURED HER BABY'S SEVERE ECZEMA

Had Not Had a Good Night's Rest in Eight Months.

Chelsea, Mass., Jan. 19, 1913.—"My son had been troubled with eczema for about one year. It first appeared when three months old. I tried everything that was recommended and also different prescriptions, but of no avail. For eight months my child did not enjoy a good night's rest. I was finally told to try Resinol. This I did, and from the first application the child got relief and put in a good night's sleep. In three days there was no sign of eczema—today he has as fine a complexion as any healthy child and is entirely cured." (Signed) Mrs. T. S. Brown, 54 Crescent Ave.

Resinol positively stops itching instantly and speedily heals eczema, and other skin humors, dandruff, sores, burns and piles. Prescribed by doctors for 18 years. Sold by every druggist. Resinol Ointment in opal jars, 50 cents and $1.00. Resinol Soap, 25 cents. For generous free trial, write Dept. 19-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

ELY ENJOYING BUILDING BOOM

Active Work Has Started on Two New Business Structures.

Ely, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mark Zoretick has started digging the foundation for his store which he plans on moving from the present site to the property recently purchased from John Cowling at the corner of Sheridan street and Third avenue east, a splendid corner location.

The First National bank began yesterday moving the present bank building from the corner of Chapman street and First avenue east in order to make way for the new bank building to be erected during the summer. The new building will be of brick and the most modern and thoroughly equipped in the city. The city has given the bank the right to use one side of the avenue with the present building during the period of construction, William Mitchell has begun excavating for the erection of a dwelling on Harvey street between Third avenue east and Fourth avenue.

CAN REDUCE TIME.

Range Electric Road Expected to Add Heavy Feed Wire.

Virginia, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gilbert end of the Mesaba electric road will be improved shortly by the addition of six miles of heavy copper feed wire. The additional feed lines will assist the cars on the Gilbert-Virginia run and will help to cut down the running time.

The road bed is being fixed up, now that the frost is pretty nearly out of the ground and by the time the summer is here the track will be heavily ballasted and in as fine condition as any track, considering the physical conditions of the land it goes through.

The company expect delivery of three new passenger cars soon and it is expected that these with the addition of the extra trailers can handle the baseball crowds for all the range games.

M. Taylor; Vera Swift, Miss Gertrude Schann; Ima Kidd, Miss Theresa Probst; Ann Sowforth, Mrs. Charles Sarff; Phyllis Tate, Miss Elizabeth Buckbee; Elviry Ketchum, Miss Ruby Cummings; Professor Pipplin, Mrs. Charles Sarff; Squire Grumps, Mrs. Carl Morton; Mrs. Squegee, Miss Ella Cummings.

ARRANGING PROGRAM.

Eveleth Committee Preparing for Observing Memorial Day.

Eveleth, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. O. Greening, Charles McNamara and J. P. N. Ward have been chosen by the Commercial club to make arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial day. They have already taken up the work and will soon announce the program.

The general features will be the same as last year, in which the bands, the militia, civic societies, school children and the public generally will be expected to participate. A good speaker will be procured also, and if possible the observance of this sacred day will be made more impressive this year than ever before.

FUNERAL SATURDAY.

Of Mrs. Lyons of Grand Rapids Who Died in Duluth.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Martha E. Lyons, aged 36, wife of Robert Lyons of this village, who died Wednesday in a Duluth hospital, will be held Saturday afternoon from the Presbyterian church with burial in Itasca cemetery.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lyons leaves six children, Milton, Dora, Margaret, Stella, James and Myrtle, the youngest about 1 year old, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, and one sister, Miss Orr, all of Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS CALLS DULUTH MINISTER.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Presbyterian church has invited Rev. Mr. Sutherland, pastor of the Lakeside Presbyterian church of Duluth, to become its pastor.

Mr. Sutherland has preached here several times since Rev. Leo Burrows left the pastorate, and has been very pleasing to the congregation. He is married and has two children. There is little doubt but that he will accept the call.

PLAN LYCEUM COURSE ON WESTERN MESABA.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Boosters' club decided to join Hill City in a Lyceum course next winter and to urge Deer River and Coleraine to come into the plan, making a four-town circuit, Hill City having already signed for the course, which is to consist of five entertainments, with a sixth optional, under the payment of a small guarantee.

The date of University week here will be June 9. The guarantee called for by the university is $288, and course tickets will be put on sale shortly to cover this sum.

Chisholm Church Bazar.

Chisholm, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements to make the bazar, to be given under the management of the ladies of St. Joseph's Catholic church, in the Neally block, beginning May 20, are progressing nicely and it is expected that it will be the most successful ever held in Chisholm. There will be several booths in which fancywork, aprons and other articles of wearing apparel are to be sold. Sandwiches, ice cream and cake will be served every afternoon and evening.

VIRGINIAN IS HURT.

James Daily Injured When Sidewalk Collapses in San Francisco.

Virginia, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local friends of James W. Daily of this city have been advised that he was slightly injured in San Francisco a few days ago when a sidewalk over a vaacnt lot collapsed as about 100 people emerging from a theater passed over it. Mr. Daily was badly bruised while several others were more or less hurt. Mr. Daily had just arrived in the California metropolis from Sonora, Mexico, and as soon as he is able to travel expects to sail for Alaska.

TO START PROCEEDINGS.

Chisholm, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board awarded C. F. Lorenson the contract to paint the high school fence, for $135. Fred P. Hanley was the only other bidder. Secretary B. R. de Lorimier was instructed to call for bids for the purchase of the houses on lots acquired recently by the school board for the new school building.

It was decided to institute condemnation proceedings against property holders holding out against the sale of lots and preventing the erection of the building.

SIX IN HOSPITAL.

Chisholm's Late Scarlet Fever Epidemic About Ended.

Chisholm, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are but six scarlet fever patients at the detention hospital and each is convalescing with good prospects of being released about the end of the month. The fact that but one death took place at the hospital during the late epidemic reflects great credit upon Health Officer Schmidt and Nurse Laura Jackson, both being kept at work constantly.

ELY WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Wm. O'Rourke, Old Resident, Victim of Tuberculosis.

Ely, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. William O'Rourke died at her home here last night from tuberculosis. She was 32 years of age and had made her home here for about twenty years. She leaves her husband, a conductor on the Iron Range railroad, two sons, besides her parents and other relatives at Two Harbors. The funeral arrangements have not been definitely made.

The 1-month-old child of Joe Erchull died at the home at the Chandler location last night. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Her Husband Called Home

Biwabik, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—William O'Rourke, an Iron Range road passenger conductor on the Virginia run, was called to his home in Ely last night by the death of his wife.

SCARLET FEVER AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many cases of Bright's Disease, particularly in young people, have a history of scarlet fever. It seems to leave the kidneys in such a condition in many cases that Bright's Disease later on is a common sequel. It is important to note that some of the quickest recoveries made in cases of Bright's Disease by Fulton's Renal Compound have been cases in which scarlet fever was a precursor.

One physician reported recovery in two cases in his practice. He hardly believed results could be had in such cases, as he felt there was a definite change in the kidney that could not be overcome. He was so surprised to have these two cases recover that he came to our office and reported them in person. He did not permit us to use his name, but H. W. Knoll, a San Francisco business man, with offices in the Merchants' Exchange, was in our office when he called. The physician said in his presence: "If every doctor in the country knew what I know as to the result Fulton's Renal Compound gets in Bright's Disease there would not be a building in San Francisco big enough to manufacture it." Knoll's address is as above and he will confirm this to anyone writing him. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug Co.

Ask for pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

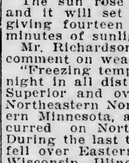
EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 90° and 100°. ○ clear; ◑ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.



The rain that the weather man predicted as probable last night or today did not materialize and he has broken away from the prediction. The mercury went to 30 deg. last night, which is 2 deg. below the freezing point, and Duluthians shivered. Fair weather is predicted for tonight, with another drop of the mercury to below freezing.

The sun rose this morning at 4:39 and it will set at 7:28 this evening, giving fourteen hours and forty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Freezing temperature prevailed last night in all districts adjacent to Lake Superior and over Ontario, Manitoba, Northeastern North Dakota and Northern Minnesota, and snow flurries occurred on Northern Lake Michigan. During the last twenty-four hours rain fell over Eastern Canada and Eastern Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Western South Dakota, Montana, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Northern California and Florida. Chilly weather and northeasterly winds may be expected at the Head of the Lakes during tonight and Saturday."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 9.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight with freezing temperature; Saturday fair and slightly warmer.

Iowa—Generally fair in northeast showers in south and west portions tonight or Saturday; cooler in southeast portion tonight; frost in northeast portion.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday, becoming unsettled in west portion; frost in east portion tonight.

South Dakota—Showers tonight or Saturday.

Montana—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Saturday.

Upper Lakes—Moderate northerly winds and cool and generally fair weather tonight and Saturday.

Guard Against Optimism.

"We must not lose sight of the possible therapeutic value of this preparation, and on the other hand it is necessary to guard against too great an optimism in respect to its merits. Without presenting in detail the condition of patients under observation, we are in a position to state that the facts thus far observed do not justify that confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by widespread publicity.

"In our opinion harm may have been done by this undue publicity, insofar as it has lessened the confidence of tubercular persons in well recognized methods of treatment, or interrupted their use; and we are constrained to advise against any lessening of those well known measures which not only had effected cures, but which have reduced the incidence of the disease.

"We are aware that Dr. Friedmann does not wish to be judged scientifically on newspaper statements, and he undoubtedly would disclaim responsibility for certain of those which have appeared. Nevertheless, it is on those that the public bases its opinion until replaced by reliable and unbiased scientific pronouncements supported by convincing data.

Long Treatment Needed.

"In our series of patients, Dr. Friedmann has almost exclusively made use of the intramuscular method alone in pulmonary cases, and a very considerable proportion of them have either developed no considerable infiltrate at all or have suffered from abscess formations. It is evident, therefore, that a very considerable portion of these patients may expect their treatment at the hands of Dr. Friedmann to extend over a long period.

"Concerning the cultures submitted to us, we may state that a series of experiments is under way. The bacillus has been found to be an acid-fast organism, having properties quite different from those of any tubercule bacillus with which we are acquainted.

"It appears to be identical with an organism cultivated from a few loopfulls of the material used for injection, which Dr. Friedmann permitted us to place on culture media in his presence. We requested Dr. Friedmann to furnish us with a large amount of this material, for examination, but this he has declined to do. We can state, however, that living acid-fast bacteria are being injected by the intramuscular and intravenous method, although we are ignorant of what medium they are suspended in, or what additional substance or substances may be contained in the final mixture."

Gives History of "Cure."

The report covers exhaustively the history of the Friedmann "cure," so far as the facts have been available to the public health service, from the time of its announcement in Berlin in November, 1912, and reveals the efforts of the public health service to gather material from Dr. Friedmann for its investigation.

Reluctance Not Liked.

On the whole, Dr. Friedmann's reluctance to furnish certain details, "were not satisfactory from a scientific standpoint," but, the report says, "in view of the great importance of the matter to tuberculosis patients throughout the country, and in the hope that a valuable remedy might have at last been found to not only cure tuberculosis patients but to prevent the disease, the conditions imposed by Dr. Friedmann were accepted. An additional reason for taking advantage of opportunities to make every study possible was the assurance by Dr. Friedmann of its harmlessness when injected into human beings."

One of the conditions imposed by Dr. Friedmann, according to the report, is that he would furnish detailed information of the methods of preparing his remedy when the public health board recognized favorable results in patients.

Limited By Conditions.

The board found that under all the conditions imposed it would have opportunity only to study a culture of the bacteria said to be used in some way by Dr. Friedmann in the preparation of his treatment, to test its pathogenicity on the lower animals, and observe the effect of treatment by him of tuberculosis patients with his finished remedy. These limitations the investigators found unsatisfactory from the scientific standpoint.

The report is careful to say that Friedmann's reticence has in no way been allowed to interfere with the judgment of the board of the effects which it has observed.

Inquiry Not Finished.

The government investigation is not finished, as the tests being conducted in the hygienic laboratory here and the observations of the persons inoculated will be continued.

Immediately after the presentation of the public health service report, a resolution was unanimously adopted declaring it to be the judgment of the association that "no specific cure for tuberculosis had yet been discovered to warrant the confidence of the public or the medical profession." The resolution recommended to all that present methods of treatment be continued. Dr. Friedmann was not mentioned by name in the resolution.

IS MANAGING EDITOR.

Menominee Woman Only One on Daily Paper in Michigan.

Menominee, Mich., May 9.—The only woman managing editor of a daily paper in this state is believed to be Miss Katherine M. Stiles, daughter of Probate Judge John Stiles of Menominee and member of the state central Democratic committee. Miss Stiles, who has been engaged actively in newspaper work in Marinette, Wis., and Menominee for several years, was working as a reporter on the Menominee Herald-Leader when the position of managing editor was vacated several months ago. She was chosen to the position temporarily and has held it ever since.

She received her first newspaper experience in writing for papers while attending St. Mary's academy, conducted by the Sisters of Notre Dame, whose mother house is in Milwaukee. She later took a journalistic course at the University of Michigan and since has pursued newspaper and magazine work.

HUGHES WILL SPEAK.

Duluthian to Deliver Aitkin Memorial Day Address.

Aitkin, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney R. M. Hughes of Duluth has been secured by the committee on Memorial day observances to deliver the address here. The program will be in charge of the local G. A. R. and W. R. C. and the school children will participate.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

Baraga County, Mich., Indian Convicted of Murdering Parent.

L'Anse, Mich., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury in circuit court here last night convicted Henry Shelafoe, a Chippewa Indian, of the murder of his father, John Shelafoe, Dec. 28, last. Young Shelafoe shot his father dead with a rifle when the later interfered and prevented his son from killing a bartender in a Baraga saloon. Shelafoe's counsel offered temporary insanity as a defense. Sentence will be pronounced next week.

We show the stomach little or no consideration until one day we find that it has gone on a strike. We sit back in despair. The stomach is rebellious to the degree in which we have abused it.

The symptoms seem to show that something is wrong with the stomach. The trouble in reality is in the blood which your careless habits have made impure. The proper treatment then is to build up and cleanse the blood. A thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this well. You can take them with every confidence that they will make your blood rich and pure.

Our new diet book will be sent on postal card request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 or they will be sent, postpaid, by the

Make Your Own Hair Stain

This Home Made Mixture Darkens Gray Hair and Makes It Soft and Glossy.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum.....1 oz.
Barbo Compound.....a small box
Glycerine.....¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GRAND FORKS TRACK MEET

Many Expected at North Dakota Annual Contest May 16 and 17.

Some Teams From Minnesota May Enter Contests.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The twelfth annual North Dakota interscholastic field and track meet, declamation contest and debate, and the annual high school conference, will be held here May 16 and 17, with indications that the attendance will be large. The events scheduled for the two days follow:

Friday, May 16.

8:30 a. m.—Meeting of North Dakota High School Athletic league.
10 a. m.—Preliminary contests in weight events.
12 m.—Luncheon for visiting high school representatives.
1:30 p. m.—High school conference.
2 p. m.—Preliminary contests in track events.
2 p. m.—Preliminary contests in declamation event.
3 p. m.—Final debate for state championship between Grafton and Surrey.

Saturday, May 17.

9 a. m.—High school conference.
12 m.—Luncheon for visitors.
1:30 p. m.—Interstate athletic field meet.
7:30 p. m.—Final declamation contest.

This is the first year that Minnesota schools have been eligible to send teams to the track and field meeting, and it is expected that five or six teams from that state will compete.

In the high school conference the speakers will be W. E. Hoover of Fargo, Lynn McMullen of Valley City, and Miss Helen Davies of Grand Forks, all other subjects to be discussed informally. The work of the high school board, together with the receipt of reports of the high school inspector and the high school examiner, will be the principal features.

FARM LABOR SCARCE.

St. Paul Employment Bureaus Cannot Fill Orders Received.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—Harvest is some months away, but farm laborers are at a premium. St. Paul employment bureaus report a scarcity that amounts to a famine.

Wages, living conditions, labor-saving devices have alike proved unable to aid the farmer in his search for a "hired man."

In the past thirty days only two farm hands have been sent to Minnesota farms by the state free employment bureau in St. Paul. The lone pair represent the entire contingent of the unemployed who sought work on the farm.

Demand for farm laborers is greater than ever. Applications received at the free employment bureau outnumbered by two to one, those of a year ago.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Stop Experimenting

There are but few depilatories sold. You think there are hundreds because you have used the same identical preparations under several different names. This is easily explained. Women stop using

So-Called Hair Removers

when they learn that they are harmful. Therefore, th y can not be sold under the same name for any length of time. Then the identical, worthless, harmful concoctions are given new names and advertised again as totally different preparations to who innocently buy them over and over again under different names, and this will continue as long as women are so unwise as to experiment with unknown, so-called hair removers.

De Miracle

Has Stood the Test of Time

De Miracle has been sold as De Miracle for over eleven years, and its name has never been changed. It is acknowledged the world over by eminent authorities as the one safe, perfected hair remover, therefore it is the only depilatory you can use without experimenting.

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive, tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours.

Avoid Permanent Disfigurement

by refusing substitutes. If your dealer will not supply you send $1.00 direct. Free information how to determine which depilatories are harmful and worthless sent in plain, sealed envelope.

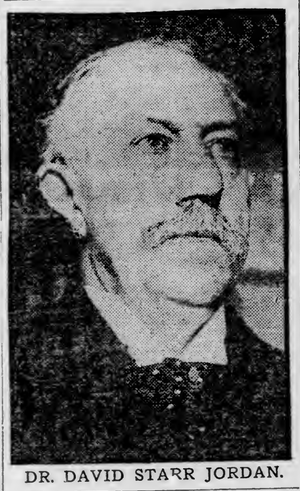
DR. JORDAN WILL ADDRESS CLASS

President of Leland Stanford to Speak at N. D. A. C. Commencement.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Agricultural College commencement exercises this year will be rather notable in that the largest class in the history of the college will be graduated and the baccalaureate address will be delivered by David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university.

The class exercises begin in the middle of the last week in May, but the graduation commences with the music department Saturday, May 31. The address by David Starr Jordan will be Sunday afternoon, June 1. His subject will be "The Fight Against War." Monday, June 2, will be devoted to the seniors. Class exercises and a class play will be given to be followed by the senior ball in the evening.



DR. DAVID STARR JORDAN.

Graduation June 3.

Tuesday, June 3, is graduation day. The chief address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. R. A. Beard of the First Congregational church and his subject will be "Making Good." Following this Dr. J. H. Worst, the head of the college will present the diplomas to the thirty-one members of the graduating class. There will be a commencement procession preceding the exercises and a luncheon following.

Field day exercises will be held in the afternoon. In the evening from 7:30 to 9 the president's reception will occur and this will be followed by the annual alumni ball, which will be attended by many former students from all over the state.

DULUTH SHRINERS START

Leave St. Paul With Mill City and Other Fez Wearers.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—A special train of eight sleepers, two dining cars and a buffet car left St. Paul at 9 a. m. today over the Rock Island line with Minneapolis, St. Paul, Calgary, Winnipeg, Duluth, Fargo, Grand Forks and Aberdeen Shriners en route to the imperial council of the Mystic Shrine at Dallas, Tex.

This train, arranged by Osman temple, St. Paul, is known as Osman temple escort train to imperial guard C. E. Ovenshire of Minneapolis. The engine at the head and observation sleeper at the rear of the train, are decorated with special lighted Shriner emblems. The crew from the engineer to the flagman, are Shriners.

BOY'S WOUND FATAL.

Infant Child of Mill City Suicide and Murderer Dies.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—Robert Beck, the 7-month-old son of Henry Beck, who was shot late last night by his father, just before the latter killed himself, died last night. Mrs. Beck, who was also injured by a bullet from her husband's revolver, is much more seriously hurt than at first supposed. Her attending physician says the bullet lodged in the woman's body and there is grave fear that she may not recover.

ST. PAUL SLOW.

"September Morn" Hangs Week in Store Window Before Recognized.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—"September Morn" Paul Chabas' painting, the exhibition of which recently called forth a storm of unfavorable criticism in Chicago and Milwaukee, has been hanging in the window of a downtown art shop here for nearly a week, is just developed. How long the picture will remain exposed to public gaze, is a matter of conjecture. The heads of several women's clubs announce that immediate action will be taken to stop the exhibition of the picture.

"I will place the matter before the club today, and I believe steps immediately will be taken to have the picture removed," said Mrs. Laura Gloeser, president of the Bethel Women's club. Several other clubwomen have expressed themselves in a similar manner.

CONVICTED IN DULUTH.

Old Sweetheart of William West Working for His Release.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—Miss Dorothy Cantler, until recently cashier for several years in a local restaurant has engaged counsel on money she earned in the restaurant and will try to effect the release from the penitentiary of her sweetheart of years ago who was convicted in Duluth about ten years ago of burglary and grand larceny and sentenced to fifteen years in Stillwater. The couple were schoolmates in Buffalo, N. Y., fifteen years ago. After graduating West came to Minnesota and seven years after seeing Miss Cantler they met in Duluth and became engaged to be married a year hence.

In the meantime West returned to Bemidji, where he was employed in the office of a lumber company, his fiancee going to her home in Buffalo. Later West lost his position, and went to Duluth. His funds, saved to pay the wedding expenses, were reduced to $100 during the time of his forced idleness.

Lost Money Gambling.

One night he lost the last money he had in a gambling house. His marriage was set for one month later.

When Miss Cantler arrived at Duluth to be married she found her lover in jail. He had confessed to robbing a store to secure clothing for his wedding.

Instead of receiving a light sentence, as anticipated the Duluth court sentenced him to ten years imprisonment for burglary and five years additional for grand larceny.

Although heart-broken, the girl stood by the man, and when he was taken to prison at Stillwater, she came to Minneapolis and secured a position as cashier in a restaurant under an assumed name. During all this time she has saved her money with which to fight for West's release. She recently left the restaurant and is devoting her efforts to see her long-cherished hope realized.

West's attorney claims that he is serving two sentences for one crime, and a hearing under habeas corpus proceedings has been set for May 23. One sentence has already expired and it is alleged by the attorney that his present imprisonment is unconstitutional.

HONOR FARGO DOCTOR.

Dr. McGregor Heads North Dakota State Medical Society.

Minot, N. D., May 9.—The annual convention of the North Dakota Medical society closed here last night. The following officers were elected: President, Murdock McGregor, Fargo; first vice president, R. N. Beck, Lakota; second vice president, Victor H. Stickney, Dickinson; secretary, H. J. Rowe, Casselton; treasurer, C. S. Crane, Grand Forks.

Dr. John Grossick of Grand Forks was elected delegate to the American Medical association.

The society voted to meet next year at Grand Forks.

IMPROVING MISSOURI.

Government Will Spend $5,000 North of Mandan, N. D.

Mandan, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—About $5,000 will be expended by the Federal government at Rock Haven, a short distance north of Mandan on the Missouri river. A new set of concrete ways are to be constructed there, taking the place of ways built about fifteen years ago, and which have practically rotted away.

The new ways will accommodate boats up to 200 feet in length for dry docking purposes, and it will be the principal stopping place between Pierre, S. D., and the headwaters of the stream.

Capt. James Charlesworth of the Federal boat, Mandan, and O. P. Lilly, will be in charge of the operations at Rock Haven.

MAKES POLICE ALERT.

New Grand Forks Ordinance Puts Coppers on Mettle.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks policemen cannot shut their eyes to anything in the way of law breaking under a new city ordinance, effective yesterday. This law makes it a duty of the police officers to ferret out any information relative to suspicious places, to anticipate trouble and cause arrests to prevent such trouble, to give an accurate accounting of all money or property taken from the persons of prisoners, etc.

The law makes it the duty of the police officer to report to the mayor and the city attorney, as well as to the chief of police, any law breaking which may come under his observation. Each police officer is made individually responsible for conditions on his beat.

PASSES SEVERAL BILLS.

Wisconsin Assembly Votes $75,000 for San Francisco Fair.

Madison, Wis., May 9.—The Judson Hall bill, making the university regents elective, was killed by the assembly Thursday, 64 to 20, after considerable debate.

Bills passed by the assembly included:

Authorizing county and city superintendents of schools and truant officers in counties containing cities of the first three classes to issue child labor permits.

Appropriating $75,000 for Wisconsin's representation at the San Francisco exposition.

Providing that fines for violations of fish and game laws shall go into the general fund of the county.

Prohibiting untrue, misleading and deceptive advertising.

For special committee to investigate the state forest reserve.

Providing that appeals from decisions of the railroad commission must be taken within ninety days and making the commission's decision the law of the land until set aside by the courts.

After a long fight the senate today non-concurred in the Rosa joint guardianship bill, which proposed to give the mother equal rights with the father in the care and custody of any minor child.

SUPERIOR MEN WILL SPEAK AT HAYWARD.

Couderay, Wis., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A teachers' institute for Sawyer county, in charge of County Superintendent Mrs. Harrington, will be conducted in the high school building at Haywood on May 9 and 10. President McCaskel of the Superior Normal school and Instructor Hembt of the same institution will be the principal speakers at the meeting.

Fargo School Affairs Harmonized.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harmony of Fargo's educational affairs is assured for an extended period by the resignation of the four hold-over members of the board who were opposed to the retention of Supt. Hoover. Supt. Hoover was re-elected and will no doubt now be retained for a long period of years if he cares to remain. This year's graduating class will number fifty-seven and is the largest ever turned out by the local high school.

Milwaukee — Albert J. Eidsmoe, former cashier of the First National bank at Crandon, who was indicted by the grand jury two years ago on the charge of embezzling funds from the bank to the amount of $36,000, appeared before Commissioner Bloodgood on Wednesday and gave bail for his appearance May 19.

Janesville — David Walrath, 89 years old, a resident of Rock county since he was 2 years old, is dead.

Wautoma — Frank Wiler, a 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiler of this village, accidentally shot the 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mischka in the head with a 22-caliber rifle, killing him instantly.

Fond du Lac—The annual ordination services of the Fond du Lac diocese of the Episcopal church will be held at Grace church, Sheboygan, on June 1. Those to be made deacons are Cuthbert Collorbon, Harry S. Ruth, Arthur C. Burton and Earl E. Schmeisler. The Rev. William H. Jordan and the Rev. Arthur G. Wilson will be ordained to the priesthood.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—The first licenses under the new cigarette law were granted at Tuesday night's meeting of the city council. Those receiving them were George Downham, A. O. Lystad and Karnes & Barry.

Bemidji—William Dugas was fined $100 by Judge A. M. Crowell in the municipal court Tuesday afternoon for selling liquor without a license.

International Falls—Mr. Gracie of Rainy River, Ont., has been here on business connected with the settlement of the estate of his brother Chester, who was killed at Virginia last week.

Mankato—Melvin Engelsen committed suicide by shooting Monday afternoon. The Engelsen family lives on the Diemer farm, about one mile south of Bingham Lake. He had been despondent for a few days previous, but the idea that he would attempt to do himself harm was hardly thought of.

Crookston—The county board decided to pay a bounty of 5 cents on crows and gophers, the county bounty on crows being payable only between May to Sept. 15.

Moorhead—James Lewis of Dilworth, who was arrested last week on complaint of Rasmus Haugsted, president of the village council of Dilworth, charged with illegal liquor selling at that village, appeared before Judge Torson and pleaded guilty. He was fined $70, including costs, which was paid.

Brainerd—The school board organized by electing these officers: President, R. R. Wise; vice president, George D. La Bar; secretary, Louis Hohman; treasurer, William Barron. The treasurer's bond was fixed at $30,000.

Hinckley—School District No. 32, west of town, voted bonds of $250 to improve the present school buildings.

Little Falls—The firemen elected these officers: Chief, G. W. Emder; secretary, Henry Bentfeld; treasurer, Joseph Moegleln.

St. Cloud—The volunteer fire department has been abolished by the city commissioners, and in place of it a paid department of six men has been installed as follows, at the pay indicated: L. Moosbrugger, fire chief, market master, building inspector, $65; V. Lorinser, assistant chief, $65; Leo Nuerenburg, driver, $65; T. Lacher, fireman, second driver, $65; George Fowler, fireman, third driver, $65; T. Tenvoorde, fireman, $65.

Stillwater—Alex Bernstein, a clerk at the old state prison, was rescued in a drowning condition from the St. Croix Wednesday, when his canoe upset. He is a good swimmer, but he was a considerable distance from the shore and got chilled. His shouts for help resulted in men from the tug Baby and the pilediver Arcola going to his assistance.

Ada—Jason Weatherhead, editor and publisher of the Herald, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks with an attack of acute articular rheumatism, is improving.

Red Wing—A. P. Pierce, after serving the city of Red Wing for eighteen years as mayor, retired from official duties Wednesday. He did not seek the office in the present campaign. J. J. Werrin, his successor, will take the oath of office upon his return from the East.

Rochester—Bert Bovee was arrested here Monday afternoon by J. B. Lawter, a detective with the Pinkerton agency of St. Paul, it being charged that Bovee is wanted at Marshall on a charge of forgery. Bovee was located on the farm of Irwin Tolbert, where he has been working for some months. The prisoner is well known here, having worked in this section at various times for years.

DARK PLOT IS ALLEGED

Claimed That Young Wife Was Forced Into Life of Shame.

Threatened With Black Hand, While Husband Sues for Divorce.

A Black Hand plot, in which a 19-year-old Italian girl, dark-eyed and pretty, is claimed to have been forced to lead a life of shame in a range town roadhouse by her husband, who is seeking a divorce from her on the ground of desertion in order that he may be free to marry the woman he loves, may have been unearthed in an unsigned letter which one of the district court judges has received from friends of Jensie Talerico, a former West Duluth Italian girl, who is defendant in a divorce case at this term of court.

The anonymous epistle states that Tony Talerico, husband and plaintiff in the divorce action, forced his young wife into a life of shame and has caused her to live apart from him in order that he might receive a divorce from her. It is also claimed that she has been threatened with the Black Hand in case of non-compliance. The letter further alleges that Talerico has been living with another woman in Duluth and that he is seeking the divorce in order that he might be free to legalize his relations with the woman.

How much credence to place in the unsigned letter to the court is a question which is today more or less perplexing Judge J. D. Ensign, who at the morning session of court today heard Tony Talerico present his action for divorce. Talerico testified that his wife had deserted him and that she was now living with a former sweetheart.

According to the story of the husband, it was love for a forbidden sweetheart that asserted itself so strongly in the young wife that she was prompted to desert him and follow the man, who, several months before, through love for her, had shot her stepfather when he had interfered with their relations.

Old Story Recalled.

In June, 1909, when Jensie was but a miss of 15, she had an ardent lover and admirer in John Morobito. When Mike Talerico, her stepfather, refused one day to allow John to pay his respects to the girl, Morobito became angered.

The stepfather and lover met at a christening party and quarreled over the affair. Morobito left the house first and lay in wait behind a vacant house for Talerico to pass.

When Talerico came by Morobito pounced upon him and a struggle ensued in which the stepfather was shot twice through the abdomen, and the lover had one of his ears practically bitten off.

Morobito escaped before officers arrived and was never caught. Talerico was taken to a hospital, where after hovering between life and death for several weeks, he was finally nursed back to health.

When Talerico recovered, he requested the authorities not to make any further effort to find Morobito, as he was no longer willing to prosecute. It was known at that time that Morobito was at Mountain Iron.

After the stepfather recovered, he arranged for the betrothal of Jensie to his brother, Tony, who was eight years her senior. The wedding took place on Jan. 24, 1910.

Three months after the wedding, Tony testified in the divorce action today, she deserted him. He claims that she is now living with Morobito on the range.

GETS FINE CATCH OF BROOK TROUT

R. W. Pinder of 126 Sixth avenue west, reached Duluth this morning with the finest catch of brook trout which has been seen in the city this season. He had all the law allows, fifty, and every one of them was a beauty. The smallest measured twelve inches and the prize winner tipped the scales at three pounds before having been dressed.

Mr. Pinder got his string at "Pete" Hanson's place, about two miles from Cusson, Wis. He had some luck with flies, although it is rather early for that kind of fishing, but landed most of them whith what he terms "garden tackle," or the regular, old-time bait commonly known as worms.

Several good catches have been made this year but none of them has been in the running with the creel with which Mr. Pinder returned. He is a traveling salesman with the E. F. Burg company of this city and is one of the oldest fishermen in this part of the state.

SUPPORTING A FARM PAPER

Roy H. Beebe of Ashland, Wis., editor of the Lake Superior Farmer, is in Duluth today getting information for use in his paper. Mr. Beebe publishes the only farm paper in this section of the country and says he is making quite a success of it. The paper is devoted to the settlers of Northern Wisconsin, Northern Minnesota and Northern Michigan, and deals principally with settlers' problems. Mr. Beebe is in the land and colonization business at Ashland and the paper is a side issue with him.

"We are making great strides in establishing the dairy industry on a firm basis in Northern Wisconsin and I would recommend the Ashland plan to other communities," said Mr. Beebe today. "We have arranged to loan money to farmers for the purchase of pure blooded stock, and we give them plenty of time to pay for it. We have agreements from the farmers to continue pure breeding and thus hope firmly to establish the community breeding plan necessary for the proper development of the dairying industry.

"We are bringing in Guernseys and Holsteins in great number and the dairy industry will show a great development in Northern Wisconsin in the next few years. The co-operation of business men is necessary to bring about the development of any community, and Ashland business men have responded nobly to the appeal for their assistance.

"Northern Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan are just entering on their farm development. In establishing my paper last winter, I collected much information, and I now have in my office the names of 10,000 settlers in the northern part of the three states. That does not represent all of the settlers by any rate, but it is an indication of the manner in which cutover lands are being settled. Colonization companies, agricultural schools and other agencies are now working along the right lines, and working in co-operation, and great results will be shown in the next few years."

STRIKE CLOSES CARNEGIE MILL.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 9.—The Superior Steel Company of Carnegie, a suburb, was compelled to suspend operations last night because of a walkout of the 1,400 employes in the mill. The grievance of the men has not been made clear, but it is believed to be over working conditions.

BURKE VISITS SUB-TREASURY.

New York, May 9.—John Burke, treasurer of the United States, and John Shelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, made their first official call at the local sub-treasury today. Their visit, it was said, had no reference to forthcoming deposits of $10,000,000 of government money at the various reserve centers.

Mr. Williams spoke hopefully of the prospects for currency reform, but declined to outline the policy of the treasury department in that connection.

KIENITZ WANTS MAXFIELD'S JOB.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Kienitz, inspector in the state labor bureau, and editor of the Cambridge Independent Press, is the latest candidate for commissioner of immigration, and is said to have backing which makes him one of the leading candidates for the place. Kienitz has not made formal application for the berth, but it is understood that influential friends have interested themselves.

To Young Couples Who Contemplate Marriage:

This time of the year we particularly invite young couples to pay us a call before purchasing an outfit. We shall very much appreciate the privilege of showing you through our stock and giving you the benefit of what information we can. If it is more convenient, call us by phone for an evening appointment—we shall be very glad to meet you and give you an estimate. You will be under no obligations to buy unless you think we are right.

Our Easy Payment Plan

Our payment plan is established for the benefit of our customers.

You can buy a nice, good, substantial outfit by paying us a reasonable amount down to suit your pocketbook and then a convenient amount every month.

The Big House With the Little Rent

Can Save You Big Money!

When it comes to prices we will not take a back seat for any concern in the entire city. As you may know, the operating expenses of a retail firm have a tendency to govern the selling price of goods. The greater the operating expense, the higher the prices, and the lower the operating expense, the lower the prices, and so on. Rent is the largest item of expense, but as we control our building, THE ANDERSON FURNITURE BLOCK, our expense account is down to the very minimum and our prices are according. We'll be very glad to meet you

HAD MEETING OF WITNESSES

Harvester Company's Action Is Told of at St. Paul Hearing.

Government Brings Out Statement That Company Pays Bills.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Testimony showing that farmers and implement dealers who were to testify in the government suit against the International Harvester company now in progress here, had held a meeting with the general agent of the company at Winona, Minn., recently, was given today in the hearing here before Special Examiner Robert S. Taylor of Duluth.

O. L. Benson of Cannon Falls, a farmer, called as a witness for the defense, under cross-examination by E. P. Grosvenor of government counsel, stated that he went to Winona recently to talk to the general agent of the International company, and that there were a number of other dealers and farmers there at the time.

Expects to Be Paid.

When asked concerning the topic of the talk at Winona, he declared they discussed improvements in International machines during the last ten years. He declared that his expenses on the trip to Winona were paid, and that he expected to be paid for his trip to St. Paul.

On redirect examination by T. J. Doyle of the International counsel, Mr. Benson declared that at the Winona meeting there was no suggestion as to what the witnesses should testify, but that the company's agent was trying to find out what the farmers and dealers knew that would be of value at the hearing.

A number of witnesses, mostly farmers from Wisconsin and Minnesota, testified today concerning improvements which have been made in the last ten years in International machines.

"I Don't Have to Tell."

"How much do you intend to charge the International Harvester company for appearing as a witness here?" William Schwager of Utica, Minn., was asked.

"I don't have to tell you that," was the reply to the question, which was asked by Mr. Grosvenor, who sought to show that witnesses were being freely paid for their services.

"Who asked you to come here and testify?" Grosvenor questioned.

"Mr. Wright, the International agent at Winona," was the reply.

"You were told that you would be paid for your services?"

"At least my railroad fare would be paid," answered Schwager.

Grosvenor then startled those present by asking the witness to point out the attorney for the defense who had given him his instructions. Schwager turned and pointed to T. J. Doyle of Omaha, who had directed examination of the witness.

"You're excused. Go to the pay window and get your money," Grosvenor said.

"Well, I guess that doesn't make any difference, does it?" snapped Schwager as he left the stand.

EXAMINATIONS FOR GOVERNMENT JOBS.

Notices of a large number of examinations to be held June 2, 4 and 5 have been sent out by the United States civil service commission. Information regarding the examinations can be obtained from and application made to Edward M. Barker, superintendent of the registry department at the postoffice, who is local secretary of the examining board.

Among the positions now open and for which examinations will be held are as follows: Physician for service in the canal zone, $150 a month; nautical expert, $1,000 to $1,800 a year; assistant in animal pathology (male), $1,400 to $1,800 a year; practcal papermaker (male), $1,000 a year; testing machine operator, $1,800 a year; superintendent of farm and transportation, $900 a year; map colorist, $600 to $720 a year; dental interne at the government hospital for insane at Washington, D. C., $600 a year; laboratory assistant in ceramics (male), $1,200 a year; laboratory apprentice (male), $480 to $540 a year; physical laboratory helper (male), $600 to $720 a year; dentist (male) for Indian service, $1,500 a year; physician (male), Panama canal, $1,800 a year; aid (male) in the coast survey, $900 to $1,200; modelmaker (male), $1,500 to $1,800 a year.

SISTER IN LONDON.

Latest Respecting "Man of Mystery" in Rochester Hospital.

Rochester, Minn., May 9.—That "Richard Roe," the man of mystery at the state hospital here, has a sister residing in London is the latest information gained by officials of the institution from "Roe," but as to her name he cannot say. Roe continually has made it known, when questionad as to his parentage, that his parents are dead, but that he had a sister living. By pointing to a map the man has made known his belief that his sister resides at London.

While keenly disappointed in the postponement of the proposed operation on his skull, "Roe eagerly awaits the time for the ordeal, which he confidently believes will restore his memory and possibly speech.

HOUSE TALKS ABOUT ATTACK UPON SIMS

Millionaire Who Hit the Congressman May Be Arrested.

Washington, May 9.—The house met an hour earlier than usual today to take up and act upon the case of Charles C. Glover, the millionaire bank president whom a special house committee found guilty of contempt for assault upon Representative Sims of Tennessee in Farragut square on April 18. The incident was the sequel of criticism made by Mr. Sims upon Mr. Glover in connection with real estate transactions in Washington.

A special committee of the house recommended that the speaker issue a warrant for Mr. Glover's arrest to answer the contempt charge. Democratic Leader Underwood announced that the matter should be discussed and disposed of at today's session.

When Representative Davis called up the resolution there was only one request for time to oppose it. Representative Campbell of Kansas asked for an hour to speak against the committee's recommendations. An arrangement was finally made to allow five hours of debate on the resolution and Representative Davis opened the discussion with an explanation of the committee's report.

OLD GUARD SCOFFS AT CHICAGO MEETING

Cummins and Others Hope to Reorganize Republican Party.

Washington, May 9.—While many progressive Republican congressmen, headed by Senator Cummins, were leaving today for Chicago for a conference on the reorganization of the Republican party, some of the "old guard" leaders dubiously were shaking their heads.

"When the time comes to reorganize the Republican party," said Senator Gallinger, an old-time leader, "I think we must follow the men who helped build the party and not those who helped to wreck it."

The progressives, however, went away hopeful of results. They will confer tomorrow and Monday, although some of those numbered in the progressive ranks will not attend. Senator Bristow said his senatorial duties would prevent him from going, and Senator Norris said he did not believe he had taken any interest in the conference. Mr. Cummins was unable to give a list of those expected to attend, but the conference will include several Western members of the house.

Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee already has called a reorganization conference here for May 24.

STATE SCHOOL COST IS $8.20 PER PUPIL

Figures for the Coming Year Are Made Out at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minnesota will spend approximately $8.20 for each child enrolled in its public schools during the next two years, beginning Aug. 1.

This is estimating the enrollment at 450,000, an increase of 3,917 over that of July 31, 1912.

During the same period and out of this amount the state will spend $23.25 for each high school pupil enrolled, estimating the enrollment at 34,000, slightly above that of last year.

These facts are shown by the legislative appropriations for the current biennial period.

The increase of the appropriation over that of 1911-12 is $341,225. Of the total amount appropriated for high and grade schools and for the industrial and teachers' training departments of these schools, including aid under the Putnam and Benson acts for agriculture, it is estimated that $196,000 will be required to pay for industrial departments in schools receiving $2,500 under the Putnam act, and $242,000 for departments receiving $1,800 annual aid under the Benson act.

The regular high school aid is estimated at $790,000, graded school aid at $347,500, and aid for training departments at $168,500.

MARSHALL COMES BACK AT HARVEY.

Washington, May 9.—Vice President Marshall today replied to Col. George Harvey's statement that his recent public speeches were meant to incite the "predatory poor."

"If anybody will produce a public utterance of mine advocating the curtailment or distribution of honest wealth except by a fair inheritance tax, I will go to Wall Street and personally apologize," said Mr. Marshall. "In the course of a long professional career, I have learned that the witness who had knowledge of fraud invariably got mad when he was interrogated as to the fraud."

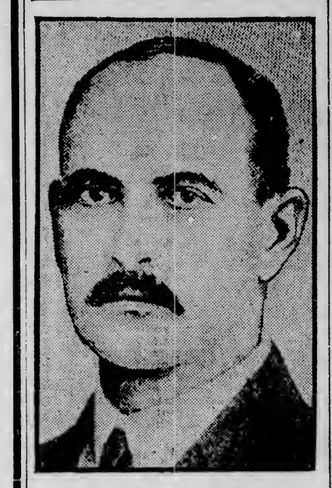
HOUSTON TO VISIT DULUTH

Secretary of Agriculture Will Speak at Bankers' Convention in July.

Good Program Being Arranged for Annual Meeting of Association.

Secretary of Agriculture David A. Houston will be one of the speakers at the annual convention of the Minnesota Bankers' association to be held in Duluth July 10 and 11, according to an announcement made by George H. Richards of Minneapolis, secretary of the organization.

Minnesota bankers have made a feature of agriculture and development at their meetings in recent years and Mr. Houston's appearance on the program will serve as a great attraction to the bankers of the state. The occasion will probably be the first on which Minnesota will have an opportunity of entertaining a member of President Wilson's cabinet.



DAVID A. HOUSTON, Secretary of Agriculture.

Congressman Winfield Scott Hammond of the Second Minnesota district will also be on the program for the bankers' meeting. The program has not been completed, but Mr. Richards promises that it will be one to attract every banker in the state who can possibly arrange his affairs so as to attend.

Railroads

GREAT GAIN IN RAILROAD REVENUE

Gross Earnings of Five Roads Show a Remarkable Increase.

St. Paul, Minn., May 9.—Gross earnings of five representative railroads centering in St. Paul, for the first three-quarters of the 1913 fiscal year, compared with earnings in the corresponding period in 1912, show overwhelming increases that discount the hard times cry of the pessimist.

Never in the history of the Northwest have these systems felt such record-breaking increases.

According to railroad officials, the figures signify what is in store for the commercial and industrial activities during the fall months. They say the remarkable gains are reactions from the bumper agricultural yield of the previous autumn, and forecast a big fall business.

ASK SHIPPERS TO AID RATE RAISE.

New York, May 9.—Traffic committees of commercial associations in seaboard cities held a conference today with traffic officers of Eastern railroads—to discuss the proposed 5 per cent increase in freight rates which the railroads are to ask of the interstate commerce commission. The conference was called at the request of the railroads in pursuance of a plan to take counsel with representatives of shippers and ask their co-operation in bringing about the desired increase. It is understood that the application to the interstate commerce commission will be made on Monday next.

Got Carlton Contract.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dale & Bumgardner of St. Paul and Robert McMenemy, well-known railway contractors, who have done much grading and construction work for the Northern Pacific railway and the Soo Line on the Cuyuna range, have been awarded the contract for removing 500,000 yards at the Carlton yards of the Northern Pacific railway.

Superior

Teachers Organize.

H. A. Schofield, principal of the Superior high school, was elected president of the Lake Superior Educational association at the organization meeting of the association last night at the Blaine school. J. A. Merrill was chosen vice president; Miss Elizabeth McCormick, secretary, and S. E. Boots, treasurer. The organization started off with seventy-five members, all teachers in schools of the city and in Douglas county.

Given Year in Prison.

George McCoy was given a sentence of one year in the Waupun state prison by Judge Smith for stealing a diamond from Jack Fay. McCoy pleaded guilty to the charge. Arthur Verta also received a year at Green Bay reformatory for stealing an overcoat.

Valuation Cut.

Valuation of Highland town property placed by the assessors was clipped $60,000 by the Douglas county board at its meeting yesterday. The town had protested against the assessed valuation being placed at $275,000 and the board lowered it to $215,000.

Young Women Injured.

Miss Jessie Norton of Billings park fell on the pavement as she was alighting from a Billings park car yesterday afternoon, and sustained a fracture of the leg. She was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

POLICE MUST SALUTE MAYOR.

Appleton, Wis., May 9.—Members of the Appleton police force must hereafter salute the mayor and superior officers when making reports or passing on the street when on duty. This is one of the new rules adopted by the fire and police commission, which went into effect today. Patrolmen are not allowed to talk to each other or walk with each other except on official business.

OPEN MEETING AT LESTER PARK

Commissioners Will Visit Suburb and Study Its Needs.

An open meeting for the residents of Lakeside and Lester Park will be held by the Lester Park Improvement club next Thursday evening at the Lester Park Methodist church. The entire city commission will be present to talk over matters of improvements in this end of the city with the people of the district.

At a meeting of the club last night the committee of the planting of trees on various thoroughfares reported. The committee advocated the planting of trees on London road and various side streets. C. W. Jerome, chairman of the committee suggested the planting of white pine or spruce trees.

Among the speakers who will address the meeting next Thursday will be John H. Norton, C. P. Craig, James A. Wharton and Bert Fesler.

ARE READY FOR THOSE MINSTRELS

Large purchases of eggs, cabbage, beets and large over-ripe tomatoes on Michigan street today have aroused the apprehension of members of the Commercial club minstrel troupe.

The Commercial club minstrels will be put on at the club tonight, the performance to be given only for members and their ladies. The performers cannot believe that any of their fellow members would be so ungracious as to heave good products of the soil and expensive hen fruit in the direction of the stage, but they will be prepared for any emergency.

"We will give a clean, high-grade performance and anybody who tries to start anything will be promptly squelched," said Oscar Edward Amtsbuechler, whose besmudged likeness adorns the minstrel show announcements.

"We have collected together thirty of the liveliest, huskiest members of the club for our minstrel troupe and if any of the ancients of the organization think they can get away with an attempt to break up the show, let them try it."

There was a big sale of throat conditioners to the minstrels today, and every man said he was in fine voice. There will be singers, orators, acrobatic dancers and plain jokesters in the minstrel body, and the managers of the show promise members of the club an entertainment they will remember for all time.

Hunter Killed by Wife.

Libby, Mont., May 9.—While hunting gophers near Libby Wednesday afternoon, Ed. Harding was shot and instantly killed by his wife, who accidentally discharged a small rifle.

Most Popular Proposal Ever Made to Music Lovers

Grafanola Favorite, with 26 selections, including the great sextet from Lucia and the famous quartet from Rigoletto, for which two selections alone many people have paid $13.00—enough of the best music for an entire evening's entertainment. Keep your boys and girls home evenings by giving them and yourself good music and entertainment from the world's greatest artists.

The motor is a powerful three-spring; the speed is regulated by a graduated scale. The reproducer, which is the same as in the $200 machine, is operated beneath the lid, and the sound waves are led through the tone arm to the tone chamber, which is entirely separate from motor mechanism and is scientifically constructed, patterned after the Violoncello; here the tones are amplified and thrown out through the opening, subject to control at your will by the partial or complete closing of the "Tone Control Shutters."

If you have been waiting for the perfected talking machine, don't wait any longer, it's here. If you cannot come in, write for catalog and particulars of our other offers.

MARKET IS VERY TAME

Prices Stiffen in the Face of the Government Report.

Wweat Options Close at a Fractional Advance for Day.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 9.—While the market as to trades on the Duluth board was tame today, the prices stiffened at the start and retained their starch until the close of the session. The close came with May wheat ⅜c over the opening, July at ½c up, durum unchanged and flax lower. Oats closed ⅛c up, cash wheat was ¾c under July prices and rye and barley remained unchanged. There were very few trades in any cereal during the entire session.

Flax Goes Down.

Both May and July options in flax took a drop today. It is believed that the market is rather oversold and that those who are long in it are trying to unload. May closed at 1½c under yesterday and July took a similar drop.

The general trend of the wheat market all morning was upward. This was something in the way of a surprise, following on the heels of the government's crop report of yesterday afternoon, which showed the largest probable yield of winter wheat in many years, adding to a natural bearish condition caused by the splendid reports of crop conditions from Russia, Argentina, and all parts of North America. The only explanation vouchsafed is that shorts have to cover and their efforts are holding up the market. One leading firm in Chicago is reported as buying all the July wheat it can get its hands on, and bidding for more.

There is no export business. New York has wired that steamship companies say there is not a load booked. Duluth exporters say that there is nothing immediate from here.

May and July in spring wheat and May and July in durum wheat opened even with yesterday's close. There were few trades and only a few quotations in any of them. May soon went ⅛c to ¾c over the opening, July climbed ¾c to ½c. May durum went up ½c but July held even.

Broomhall of London estimated wheat shipments for the week, exclusive of North America, at 8,400,000 bu, against 7,624,000 bu actual last week. Of this Europe will take about 7,200,000 bu.

Arrivals in United Kingdom about 4,000,000 bu. Total shipments last week 11,072,000 bu, last year, 11,744,000 bu. Broomhall predicts a fair decrease on passage.

India wheat shipments, 1,640,000 bu; estimated next week, 936,000 bu. Australian wheat shipments, 800,000 bu.

Argentine wheat shipments are reported to be 2,760,000 bu, against 3,688,000 bu last week and 3,440,000 bu last year. Other shipments: Oats, 1,860,000 bu, last week, 1,900,000 bu, last year, 2,350,000 bu; corn, 3,596,000 bu, last week, 2,321,000 bu, last year, 3,145,000 bu.

Visible supply: Wheat, 2,240,000 bu, last week, 3,360,000 bu, last year, 4,448,000 bu, two years ago, 3,444,000 bu; corn, 5,950,000 bu, last week, 3,910,000 bu, last year, 4,726,000 bu, two years ago, 391,000 bu.

Boston wires: Foreign markets are all below us and it looks like very dull times in export business for the present.

Estimated decrease of stocks in Duluth elevators for the week are: Wheat, 2,250,000 bu; flax, 135,000 bu.

Duluth grain stocks at the close of business last night, showing changes in five days are reported as follows: Wheat—Western and winter, 24,000 bu, increase, 5,000 bu; spring, 9,306,000 bu, decrease, 1,652,000 bu; durum, 425,000 bu, decrease, 30,000 bu; bonded, 2,787,000 bu, decrease, 69,000 bu; total, 12,542,000 bu, net decrease, 1,746,000 bu; corn, 47,000 bu; oats, 1,041,000 bu, decrease, 346,000 bu; rye, 19,000 bu, decrease, 43,000 bu; barley, 649,000 bu, increase, 46,000 bu; flax, 4,381,000 bu, increase, 42,000 bu; total of all grains, 18,679,000 bu; net decrease, 2,047,000 bu.

"The flour market is exceedingly quiet," said A. D. Goodman of the Duluth Universal Milling company today. "The quietness is needless, too. The flour buyers are waiting for tariff developments, which is useless. They think that prices may go lower. I don't see how they will. We are on practically an export basis now and are under Winnipeg. But the buyers will not take any more than they are actually compelled to."

Bradstreet's weekly correspondent gives the following American clearances:

Wheat and flour, 3,214,000 bu; last week, 2,663,000 bu; last year, 3,149,000 bu; since July 1, 1912, 200,911,000 bu; previous year, 139,973,000 bu. Corn, 472,000 bu; last week, 271,000 bu; since July 1, 38,312,000 bu; previous year, 32,730,000 bu.

"I have just returned from an extensive trip through the Southwestern and Western states and find the excellent promise of wheat crop reported a month ago fully maintained. Northwestern and southern counties in Kansas have made a decided improvement with a smaller loss of acreage than was expected, as much of the late seeded wheat, which was considerd doubtful in April, is now showing up with a fair stand. Some of the southern counties in Kansas and northern counties in Oklahoma were hurt the verge of a serious loss from cinch bugs and high drying winds. Fortunately rains came in time to relieve the situation and were so abundant that the spreading of cinch bugs was checked. Wheat is well advanced, the soft being in boot. Cutting will be about ten days earlier than usual. The whole Southwest and Western states have now ample moisture to mature the crop."

Primary markets report the following receipts and shipments:

Wheat—Receipts, 611,000 bu; last year, 463,000 bu; shipments, 882,000 bu; last year, 424,000 bu.

Corn—Receipts, 507,000 bu; last year, 688,000 bu; shipments, 403,000 bu; last year, 485,000 bu.

Clearances reported today follow: Wheat, 242,000 bu; flour, 30,000 bbl; wheat and flour combined equal 177,000 bu; corn, 12,000 bu; oats, 5,000 bu.

Adding the figures in Broomhall's report of shipments, exclusive of America, and Bradstreet's report of American shipments of wheat it will be found that the estimated world's shipments this week aggregate 11,614,000 bu, against 10,307,000 bu last week.

The Modern Miller of St. Louis says: "The winter wheat crop is making seasonable progress under almost ideal weather conditions. The outlook is so uniformly good that nothing short of a calamity to the crop can prevent a large yield. Rains are alternating with warm weather and sunshine and cause rapid and healthy growth. Some localities report that recent rains practically assure a crop. Other sections report that another good rain will mature the crop.

"The crop is unusually far advanced for this time of the season and every indication is for an early harvest. In Texas and Oklahoma wheat will soon be heading. There are reports of field pests but nowhere is serious damage apparent. The crop is generally too far advanced for much of a setback from this source.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Improve on Scarcity of Offerings.

Chicago, May 9.—Scarcity of offerings today bettered wheat prices. In anticipation of the bearish report on winter crop conditions issued yesterday by the government, the trade had sold heavily and today little wheat was brought out even at the upturn which soon followed the opening. July showed the widest range at the beginning, first figures, being ⅛c lower to ¼c higher at 88⅞@89⅛c. An advance to 89⅜c followed.

A flurry was caused by a sudden advance in May from 88⅞c to 90½c on buying of more than 250,000 bu by leading houses, and the execution of many stoploss orders. Sympathetically July was carried up to 89⅜c. Reactions came quickly, however, and the market was soon around the figures prevailing when the flurry came.

Export sales later stimulated prices a little but a recession followed. The close was firm with May ⅞@1c up, at 89½c, and July ⅛c up, at 89⅛c.

Corn values were helped by additional reports of damage to the crop in Argentine from too much rain and cold weather. Offerings were light. July opened unchanged to ⅛c off at 55⅜c to 55⅞c and went up to 56⅛c.

Fears of oat crop damage from dry weather in Illinois and Indiana lifted prices. July opened unchanged at 34⅞c and advanced to 35@35⅛c.

Offerings and demand were both light in the provision pit. The market was irregular, opening prices being 2½c lower to 5c higher with these

DECLINES IN STOCKS

New Low Record Is Established By Delaware & Hudson.

Rise at Midday Followed By Recession and Close Easy.

New York, May 9.—Failure of the market to respond to the exceptionally favorable crop report of yesterday, encouraged bear traders today, and when it became apparent after the opening that there was increased outside buying, selling pressure was applied.

The result of this selling was not large, and when it became obvious that long stock was not being dislodged, traders reversed their position. Efforts to cover sent up the list smartly, and before noon Reading, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific sold a point above yesterday's close.

Weakness of certain stocks was based on developments specifically affecting these issues.

Talk of the financial requirements of New York Central and expectation of a large falling off in the monthly tonnage figures of the United States Steel influenced the course of these stocks.

Bonds were easy.

The volume of business was light at the opening of the market today and changes were small. A majority of the active stocks started the day on a level with last night's close or slightly above. Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were exceptions, the former receding a point and the latter ⅝.

Eastern railroad stocks turned heavy, New York Central, Pennsylvania and New Haven making their lowest figures of the movement. What little strength was evident elsewhere at the opening disappeared under this selling and many stocks fell to about half a point under yesterday's closing.

Recessions followed the midday rise in prices, a reaction in New York Central to 99¼, and American Telephone to 127⅝; both low records influencing some professional selling. Rumeley preferred broke nearly 4 points on the official announcement of the intended delay in acting on the dividend.

Business shrank to insignificant proportions between 1 and 2 o'clock, dealings aggregating only about 7,000 shares. No fluctuations of consequence occurred.

The market closed easy. Prices were less rigidly held in the closing hour. Steel, Reading, Amalgamated and several others worked lower. Delaware & Hudson joined the list of investment shares which established new low records.

MARINE NEWS

GRAIN RATE IS WEAKER

Surplus of Ore Boats Results in Offers of Cheaper Tonnage.

New Pittsburg Boat Arrives in Harbor on Maiden Trip.

Grain shipping has been rather dull the past two days and shippers are not in the market with offers as good as those made formerly.

Yesterday and today the shippers were offered boats at 2¼ cents, but only two accepted. The best offers that are being made for boats with a demurrage guarantee is 2 cents and $100 a day. The shippers are inclined to think that they will not have any trouble moving the rest of the grain at rates no higher than those offered at present.

Reports from the East state that coal shippers are hard after tonnage and have been the past four days. Small tonnage can get 5 cents over the usual rate, and charters have been made for Lake Michigan ports at an advance of 5 cents. Wild cargoes are not needed by the owners any more and are not being taken.

The steamer Percival J. Roberts, Jr., one of the new boats built last winter by the Pittsburg Steamship company, came into the Duluth port for the first time last evening. She arrived light for ore.

The nine striking firemen of the steamer Lyman C. Smith, who were thrown off the boat by police Wednesday evening, will libel the boat when she makes her return trip. They have placed their case in the hands of Attorney John H. Norton. The steamer Smith is expected to return in about ten days.

RUMORS OF A HUGE MERGER

Report That Large Lines of Passenger Boats Will Be Combined.

Rumors are being circulated along the lakes that a gigantic merger, the aim of which is to secure a monopoly of practically all the passenger and package freight steamers on the Great Lakes, is being formed. The rumor started in the financial circles at Ottawa yesterday.

Whether there is any truth to this rumor, is not known, but it is the belief of large owners in Cleveland, that the project is being seriously considered.

The new boat or shipping combine, it is understood, was to include the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation company and most of the large American lines.

The rumor declares that the merger is to be capitalized at $40,000,000.

LITTLE ORE ON LAKE ERIE DOCKS

Stocks on May 1 Smaller Than in Former Years.

Lake Erie docks during the closed season, Dec. 1, 1912, to May 1, 1913, shipped to interior furnaces 4,597,062 tons of iron ore. Heretofore the same docks have never shipped 4,500,000 tons in the same period. The May 1 dock balance this year was 5,456,774 tons, compared with 5,717,801 tons in May 1, 1912, and 6,687,325 tons May 1, 1911.

The May 1 balance compares favorably with the smallest balances since 1908. May 1, 1909, the dock balance was 5,370,268 tons, but one dock that, since 1911 has been classed with the shipping docks was then classed as a lake front furnace dock. Considering the growth of the ore storage facilities the last few years the dock balance this year is probably proportionately smaller than that of five years ago.

	May 1, 1912.	May 1, 1913.
Buffalo	309,121	139,624
Erie	585,150	449,455
Conneaut	229,462	135,100
Ashtabula	2,121,373	2,105,816
Fairport	357,705	357,995
Cleveland	1,186,695	1,164,999
Lorain	287,294	398,884
Toledo	357,034	407,593
Huron	255,496	294,837
Sandusky	2,471	2,471
Totals	5,717,801	5,456,774

Of the 866,000 tons of ore shipped by the upper lake docks in April, 1913, 235,440 tons were delivered at Lake Erie docks, 8,771 tons at Detroit and 18,119 tons at South Chicago and Gary. The total receipts according to these figures were 262,330 tons.

Bulletin to Mariners.

H. Coulby, president and general manager of the Pittsburg Steamship company, this morning sent out the following bulletins, through H. W. Brown, the local agent:

"The white and green occulting light at the intersection of Livingstone and Ballards' Reef channels marks the east side of Livingstone channel and should be left to port by down-bound vessels. Government engineer reports that much of the trouble in entering Livingstone channel is due to the fact that the boats do not begin to make the turn quite soon enough, and that if they continue down Ballards' Reef channel until they actually range the lights in the Livingstone cut, they will have gone too far down before making the turn."

"Government engineer advises this morning that the Pathfinder has been released. That lighthouse authorities advise him position of lights in Livingstone channel was corrected yesterday and that the rules approved by the Secretary of War require all down-bound freight traffic to use Livingstone channel."

Steamer Is Repaired.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 9.—Repairs on the steamer Turret Crown were completed yesterday and the lighter Reliance put back the lightered cargo of grain during the night. The Turret Crown will get away today.

The tug Habin returned yesterday afternoon from Detour point, Lake Huron, where she released the steamer Fleetwood, which ran ashore during Monday night's fog. The Fleetwood was taken behind Summer island where a diver stopped her leaks and she then resumed her trip.

BOATS CAN LOAD DEEPER THIS YEAR.

The water in both the Poe and Canadian locks at the Soo is one foot deeper at the present time than it was all last summer.

Shippers will be now able to load heavier as the recommended drafts for the Poe lock have been placed at 19 feet and the Canadian lock at 19 feet, 6 inches.

The high water mark of the present time was reached last September for the first time during the 1912 season.

FIRST TRIP TO THE SOUTH SHORE.

The steamer America of the Booth line will leave tomorrow morning on her first trip down the south shore. The announcement was made yesterday by Louis P. Hogstead, local division superintendent of the line. The steamer will run only as far as Cornucopia on this trip, but will make the complete run to Ashland next week.

Plenty of Grain Cars.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 9.—Considerable increase in the number of cars provided by the railroads for taking grain from the local elevators was reported this morning. The New York Central road, which was short cars last week, yesterday had 500 grain cars on the tracks, more than the elevators could load. Similar conditions were reported on the Lackawanna, which has been supplying from 250 to 350 cars daily, and the Lehigh Valley which also has furnished an ample supply.

The complaint last week by local grain shippers, that the New York Central and one or two other roads were not providing cars, was acted on immediately by Commissioner Martin S. Decker, of the public service commission, with the result that all the roads now have an abundant supply of cars.

Boats Are Too Big.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 9.—Henry Franklin Morse, son of Charles W. Morse, really believes he got too much for his money the other day when he came to Cleveland and purchased three boats of the Gilchrist fleet.

Unfortunately the boats range from 260 to 280 feet long. The largest boat that can pass through the Welland canal is one 250 feet long. To permit the boats' passage through the canal, down the St. Lawrence to the Atlantic ocean where they will be used in coasting trade to Cuba, ship carpenters in Milwaukee are trimming them down to 250 feet.

Schooner Sinks.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 9.—The schooner Unadilla, downbound with 600,000 feet of lumber, in tow of the steamer Robert C. Wente, ran on the wreck of the steamer Richardson, three miles off the north harbor entrance yesterday morning and sank in fifteen feet of water. Her crew of five was rescued by life savers.

May Dynamite Vessel.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 9.—The schooner Iron City of Tonawanda, which was sunk in the St. Clair river last Saturday by the steamer Thomas F. Cole of the Pittsburg Steamship fleet, will probably be dynamited. As she is now lying at the head of Russell's island, with only her spars above water, she is a menace to navigation. She extends two-thirds of the way across the channel.

Turret Crown Leaves.

A dispatch received this noon from the Soo states that the steamer Turret Crown left this morning for Meaford, Ont., where she will discharge her cargo of wheat and will then proceed to the Collingwood drydock for repairs.

Mataafa Damaged.

H. W. Brown, local agent for the Pittsburg Steamship company, received a telegram from the Soo this morning stating that the Mataafa was slightly damaged while going through the locks. She is on her way here for repairs and is scheduled to arrive tomorrow evening.

Indus Is Released.

Mackinaw City, Mich., May 9.—The steamer Indus of the Interlake Transportation company, bound from Lake Michigan to Lake Superior, light, which ran ashore on Scott's point, Lake Michigan, Sunday evening, was released by the wrecker Favorite Wednesday night and arrived here under her own steam yesterday morning.

The steamer's No. 2 and No. 3 tanks are punctured. The steamer and tug are waiting orders as to where the vessel shall be taken for docking. Capt. Sinclair, representing the underwriters, is aboard the vessel.

ALONG THE LAKES

The Buffalo lightship is now at her season post, off Point Abino. She is supplied with a new submarine bell.

• • •

The lighthouse tender Grocus, which was damaged when rammed by the dredge Burton at Toledo last week, has been repaired and is again placing buoys up Lake Erie.

• • •

A Canadian syndicate has bought the steam barge Lyman G. Davis, one of the oldest vessels on the lakes. She was built about fifty years ago. The Davis had been used in the lumber trade by the Thayer Lumber company.

• • •

Judge Greiger, of the United States court at Milwaukee, yesterday took under consideration the libel suit involving the collision of the steamers Norman B. Ream and Senator. The suit is for $110,000 and was instituted in December, 1909.

• • •

General Manager Wallace of the American Shipbuilding company last night announced that his company has secured a contract to build a boat that will carry the biggest tonnage of any vessel flying the British flag, according to a Cleveland dispatch received last night. It is said the boat will be for a big Canadian firm dealing in grain and that the Port Arthur dock will get the job.

• • •

The water is reported higher at the Soo and indications are that it will average a foot higher for the season than in 1912. This will mean a big increase in the carrying capacity from the Head of the Lakes. The recommended draft for the Poe lock is 19 feet, and for the Canadian lock it is 18 feet 10 inches upbound, and 19 feet 3 inches downbound.

• • •

A new dock with a shore line of 300 feet and extending out into the lake 720 feet will be built at Cleveland by the C. & Q. and D. & C. navigation companies. It will cost about $150,000. The new dock will be ready for the opening of navigation next spring.

• • •

During the week ending May 3, 130,693 tons of anthracite coal was shipped from Buffalo, of which 44,025 tons cleared for the Duluth-Superior harbor. Chicago is next on the list with 23,100 tons.

• • •

The steamer Alaska and the barge J. B. Loxen are in drydock at Port Huron, Mich. The hull of the barge is being recaulked, while the Alaska is being overhauled.

SEVENTH STREET Property Owners

Notice is hereby given that a meeting will be held by the Commissioners in the Council Chamber of the City Hall of the City of Duluth on Monday at 8 o'clock A. M. at which all property owners interested in the improvement of Seventh street from Fourth avenue west to Chester park are invited to be present.

C. S. PALMER, Clerk.

WILD HORSE HERD SEEN IN MONTANA

Shy as Deer and None Has Ever Been Captured.

Great Falls, Mont., May 9.—There are in the foothills of Fergus county, not far from Stanford, a herd of wild horses numbering thirty or forty, headed by a coal black stallion. The band has been seen by scores of persons, and its general haunts are well known, but no member of it has been captured.

Aside from the leader, the members of the band are not attractive. In fact, most of them are scrubby in appearance. But they are all alert, sure-footed and fleet, and when the mad body is feeding in the hills they keep their sentinels to apprise them of danger.

The band has been known to exist in those hills for many years, and oldtimers believe that its origin harks back to the earliest appearance of white men in this section. They are said to show even greater apprehension on the approach of human beings than do the ordinary deer. Old settlers say, too, that a few years ago there were nearly twice as many as are now in the band, and some believe they have split into two bands and one has wandered to other localities.

In former days when the cowboys were numerous in these parts, there were frequent attempts to capture some of the band, but the wild horses were always too alert and fleet-footed and no one recalls ever having heard of any being taken. Of recent years they have been allowed to go undisturbed.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Alma J. Parkin, Descendant of Noted Sioux, Is Called.

Bismarck, N. D., May 9.—Mrs. Alma J. Parkin, one of the earliest pioneers of the state and a direct descendant of Two Lance, hereditary chief of the Sioux tribe of Indians, a woman who was directly in touch with the stirring scenes of early settlement and who, by marriage to a white husband, was a connecting link between the white settlers on one side and the remnants of proud Sioux on the other, died at a local hospital late Wednesday night. Mrs. Parkin is known to thousands of army officers, old settlers and travelers, who have stopped at her ranch while going to and coming from the Standing Rock reservation. She was highly educated and one of the most respected women in the state. Special trains will be run to Cannonball, where her funeral will be held Sunday.

WILL FIGHT FOR RIGHTS

Chippewas Vote to Hire Attorneys to Prosecute Claims.

Superintendent of Logging O'Neil Gives Figures on Value of Timber.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chippewa council was addressed by William O'Neil, superintendent of logging, who gave data showing that in ten years he superintended cutting for them 1,089,000,000 feet of timber.

At this point the interpreter raised a big laugh by saying, "Mr. O'Neil, you've got me; I don't think we have any figures in the Chippewa language to express that."

"The estimate of the balance of timber to be cut is 300,000,000 feet," he said, "$7,486,641 has already been turned in and estimated by July 1, 1916, when work is to be completed, there will be $2,453,000 more received. Of seed trees on the first reserve about 49,000,000 are estimated at 292,000. Timber on the ten sections around Cass Lake is estimated about $420,000 and timber on Star Island is estimated worth $120,000. The total value of the timber cut and to be cut it is estimated will have brought when due $10,872,000. The expense to date of the superintendent's office has been $4.12 out of each $100 received. All logging contracts expire July 1, 1916."

Congratulates Chippewas.

After giving his report the senator congratulated the Chippewas on forming such an organization. He told them how the soldiers of the Rebellion never got justice after the war till they organized the Grand Army of the Republic. After Superintendent O'Neil concluded his remarks and left the hall a motion to endorse his work was carried.

G. E. Marshall, first supervisor, also addressed the convention and explained various matters concerning questions asked by the Indians. The big fight of the convention was on the adoption of the resolution which included the great many claims Indians have and amounting to approximately $15,000,000. The purpose of the resolution was in effect to employ attorneys on the contingent fee basis to prosecute all the claims.

J. I. Coafey of the Fond du Lac band asked to have the name of his band stricken from the resolution. He called for aye and nay vote and lost out, 53 to 32. He offered several amendments but lost all and finally the big resolution was passed with only three negative votes.

The first fruit of the union of the Chippewas was born for they now present a united demand for what they want and all want it and know they want it and ask in unison.

Select Executive Committee.

The council yesterday afternoon selected an executive committee under its newly adopted constitution as follows: Henry Selkirk of White Earth, John English of Red Lake, Frank Parshall of Leech Lake, Mooze-O-Moo of Winnibigoshish, a chief; John S. Smith of White Oak Point, J. I. Coffey of Fond du Lac, Joe Louis of Grand Portage, Day-Bwa-Win-Dung, a Nett Lake chief; and Mee-Ge-See, a Mille Lacs chief, being one for each of the respective bands in the tribe in the state.

The resolutions committee brought in resolutions by which the officers and members of the executive committee were to be allowed pay when at work for the general council. The officers themselves opposed these resolutions and they were not adopted. A resolution to pay the chiefs of the bands $15 per month met a similar fate. A resolution for a board of education to consist of one member from each reservation that has schools was adopted. This resolution carries an appropriation of $5,000 from the tribal fund from which members of the board of education are to be paid. They are to pay weekly visits to the schools and report to the president of the tribe. The executive committee is to fix the amount of compensation.

LOOK OVER WORK.

Duluthians Inspect Railroad Spur to Volunteer Mine.

Negaunee, Mich., May 8.—W. W. Walker of Duluth, general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, president of the company operating the Volunteer mine at Palmer, E. P. Lewis of Duluth, assistant general manager of the South Shore road, and V. D. Simar of Marquette, chief engineer for the South Shore, visited the Volunteer mine early in the week to inspect the spur which the railroad is extending into the stockpile.

The spur, which has been in process of construction for a few months past, is nearly completed.

FAITHFUL DOG HAUNTS HIS MASTER'S GRAVE.

Mankato, Minn., May 9.—Strange animal instinct led Martin Appert's dog to find his grave in Calvary cemetery in this city, and since then he has watched the place. Appert was a farmer living near Kasota, and died three weeks ago in a hospital in this city and was buried in Calvary cemetery. The dog was not here until several days after the man's death, but managed to locate the grave and has spent every night there, not leaving until the sexton arrives in the morning, and then going to a house nearby for food. The dog is a handsome Scotch collie.

ALLEGED MALPRACTICE CASE IS DISMISSED.

Larimore, N. D., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The suit of J. Reynolds of this city against Dr. W. H. Witherstine of Grand Forks, charging malpractice, was dismissed Wednesday afternoon by Judge C. M. Cooley.

Recently this case was tried at Grand Forks, the jury returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. From that decision a motion for a new trial or the dismissal of the action was made, and the final order yesterday by Judge Cooley resulted.

LIGHT AND POWER FOR CUYUNA RANGE.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cuyuna Range Power company Thursday for the first time utilized its water power from its new dam on the Crow Wing river. In the morning the pumps and sandsucker of the hydraulic mining proposition of the Pittsburg Steel Ore company at Little Rabit lake, nine miles east of Brainerd were driven by electricity generated by water power. Last night the villages of Deerwood, Cuyuna, Crosby and Ironton were brilliantly lighted and not a flicker or fluctuation of any kind was observable in the light furnished. Within a short period this company will light Brainerd.

Three Brainerd Weddings.

Brainerd, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three weddings just celebrated in Brainerd were: Bruno Olsson, Crosby manager of the Mahlum Lumber company, to Miss Annie L. Anderson, who will make their home in Crosby; Walter Eugene Paul of the M. & I. railway general offices of Brainerd to Miss Maud Ethel Mandery, a stenographer; Alexander Nykonen, a shop man, to Miss Minnie French. At Jenkins, Mark Cottingham, M. & I. agent at Backus, was married to Miss Mabel Schultz.

GIVEN NINETY DAYS FOR CATCHING BASS.

Red Wing, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Millard Youmans, in default of $100 fine, was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail for having bass in his possession during the closed season. Game Warden B. F. Selz confiscated a string of seventy-two.

DULUTH WOMAN'S MOTHER HAS STROKE.

Aitkin, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Calvin Berry suffered a stroke of paralysis at her home Tuesday evening shortly after returning from a lecture. Her son, Chester Berry of Ironton, and her daughter, Mrs. John Harrison of Duluth, were summoned to their mother's bedside Wednesday.

PALISADE BUSINESS BLOCK TO BE BUILT.

Aitkin, Minn., May 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract has been let for a new business block at Palisade by J. O. Werntz of Palisade and James Loftus of Blooming Prairie. The building will be two stories, covered with iron and full basement and will stand on a lot adjoining the bank.

Collector Byrns' New Job.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 9.—Charles J. Byrns, who for nearly three years past has been collector of customs of the Superior district, has accepted the position of special representative for the state of Michigan of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. Mr. Byrns will conclude his work as collector on July 1, at which time the four districts of the state will be consolidated into one, with headquarters in Detroit.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.

Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

RATES ARE LOWEST.

The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.

A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.

"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.

This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN CANADIAN LANDS?

If so, please bear in mind that Canada is 3,000 miles wide and in some respects much larger than the United States. It is of the utmost importance to you whether or not you buy land and settle in the right location. Among the half million people who are going to Canada in the year 1913, thousands will make the mistake of their lives in locating where conditions are unfavorable.

IT WILL COST YOU ABSOLUTELY NOTHING

to inquire of the undersigned where good lands, markets, much more favorable and warmer climate than here, prices, and rainfall exist.

Literature, guaranteed field notes of land, information about new towns, business opportunities, the effect for and against on the different sections by the PANAMA CANAL—all yours for the asking.

ASK OFFICIAL VALUATION OF ALL IMPORTS

Denison and McAdoo Suggest Amendment to Tariff Bill.

Claim Plans Would Cut Out 50 Per Cent of Litigation.

Washington, May 10.—An amendment to the tariff bill to authorize the secretary of the treasury to proclaim values of imported goods for the purpose of assessing ad valorem tariff duties, irrespective of fluctuating foreign markets, thereby approximating the ad valorem system to the advantage of specific duties, was proposed today to Chairman Simmons of the finance committee and Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee by Assistant Attorney General Denison and Secretary McAdoo.

Both leaders looked upon the proposal with interest, and the tariff bill may accordingly be amended in the finance committee before it enters the senate for debate.

President Wilson has been apprised that such an amendment would cut down litigation, take much work from the board of appraisers, and is believed by its proponents to be absolutely necessary for the successful working of an ad valorem tariff bill.

Bar Contingent Fee.

Another amendment proposed would make it unlawful for any person to take up appeals from appraised valuations on a contingent fee basis. Assistant Attorney General Denison said today that the amendment, with the provision already in the bill requiring a fee of $1 for all protests and appeals, would curtail customs litigation 50 per cent.

With the senate in adjournment until Tuesday, the Republican fight against consideration of the tariff bill by the finance committee without public hearings will be continued, the Republican leaders endeavoring to win votes for the Penrose amendment to instruct the committee to open its doors.

Some Democrats are reported as disapproving the decision not to hold hearings, and upon them the opposition bases its hope to override the majority.

Democrats Will Caucus.

Senate Democrats are planning to caucus on the tariff bill in the near future, to thresh out the much-disputed wool and sugar schedules and other features that have developed isolated party opposition. There will also be settled the question of excusing senators from supporting any particular section of the bill.

GERMANS SUPPLYING MOROS WITH RIFLES

Captain of Constabulary in Philippines Talks of Natives' Arms.

Seattle, Wash, May 10.—Capt. R. O. T. Mann of the Philippine constabulary, who has arrived from Manila on the steamship Sado Maru, says the Moros, in their recent outbreak in the Southern Philippines, used Russian-Japanese war rifles supplied to them by a German firm of speculators who had bought the old rifles after the war. The arms were sent to Singapore by the Germans, Capt. Mann said, and the Moros crossed from Jolo and obtained a supply.

The captain said 2,000 of these rifles were in the hands of the Moros when they revolted several months ago, and it is proving difficult to gather them in.

BARBERS STRIKE WITH PATRONS HALF SHAVED

Brooklyn Strikers Get Recruits From New York Shops.

New York, May 10.—The barbers' strike which has been in progress in Brooklyn for a week, has been carried to Manhattan, where novel means were employed to get the men out. Three thousand striking barbers, headed by a brass band, marched across Brooklyn bridge and paraded along the Bowery to Fourteenth street, gathering recruits. As shop after shop where patrons were receiving shaves and haircuts was invaded, the barbers laid aside razors and scissors and quit work. Tom Sharkey, former heavyweight fighter, was among the victims, as a barber who had half shaved the face of the pugilist threw away his apron and ran into the street.

HAITI PRESIDENT VICTIM OF POISON

Other Members of Auguste's Family Revived With Difficulty.

New York, May 10.—Poison administered in his food caused the death on May 2 of President Auguste of Haiti according to a dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, printed here, based on news received in Kingston by mail from Haiti. Other members of the president's family were affected and revived with difficulty, the advices stated. The death was reported at the time to be due to natural causes.

Another statement from the same source is that seventeen persons were killed during the abortive uprising, following the election of Senator Oreste as president.

SPANISH HEIR IS SIX YEARS OLD TODAY

CROWN PRINCE ALFONSO.

Madrid, May 10.—The crown prince of Spain is celebrating his sixth birthday and there is great rejoicing throughout the kingdom. Little Prince Alfonso was born May 10, 1907. He is a sturdy youngster, but not very strong mentally, according to report. His brother, Prince Jaime, is deaf and dumb.

TELLS STORY ABOUT O'HARA

Maud Robinson Testifies Before Illinois Senate Committee.

Names Mabel Davidson Inbush, Daughter of Wisconsin Ex-Governor.

Chicago, May 10.—Miss Maud Robinson, author of the affidavit calling into question the moral conduct of Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara today told her story to the Ettelson committee appointed to investigate the allegations.

Asked point-blank by Senator Ettelson if her relations with the lieutenant governor had been unduly intimate, the witness replied in the negative.

In her testimony Miss Robinson brought in the name of Mrs. Mabel Davidson Inbush of Madison, Wis., daughter of a former governor of the Badger state.

On Train With O'Hara.

She said that she came from Springfield to Chicago on the train with O'Hara and Thomas Vredenburgh. They went to the Hotel La Salle, where she checked her baggage and where they met Mrs. Inbush, a widow. Then they visited the cafe of the Hotel Sherman for dinner.

Vredenburgh, she said, left the table, and when he returned handed her the key to a suite of rooms saying he had registered the quartet as "J. F. Miller and wife," and "F. D. Duncan and wife."

Went to Cafe.

After the meal the party adjourned to the Lambs cafe, where she said they met Harry Gibbons, a court bailiff and friend of O'Hara, whom the latter says he telegraphed to meet him in Chicago when he found himself in the party on the train.

After a number of drinks the witness declared that she, Mrs. Inbush and Vredenburgh went to the Hotel Sherman, leaving Gibbins and O'Hara talking on the sidewalk in front of the Lambs cafe. Later that night, she

134 AUTOMOBILES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Three Garages in Chicago Are Set Afire By Gasoline Explosions.

Chicago, May 10.—Three South side garages containing 134 automobiles were destroyed by fire yesterday and today with a loss of nearly $1,000,000. The fires were caused by explosions of gasoline, and Fire Attorney Joseph Murray has ordered an investigation.

Fifty-six electric automobiles, valued at $170,000, were destroyed yesterday when a garage owned by Robert Bland, 416 East Forty-seventh street, was burned. Early today flames consumed twenty-eight automobiles valued at $75,000 in the garage of the American Motor Livery company, 4729 Cottage Grove avenue. Several hours later fifty automobiles valued at $200,000, were destroyed when the Oakland Automobile Livery garage, 826 East Thirty-ninth street was burned.

Fifteen workmen were in the Oakland Automobile Livery garage when the explosion came, and escaped by running into the street. The flames spread so rapidly that the workmen found it impossible to save any of the machines.

BUILDER OF U. S. BUILDINGS FAILS.

New York, May 10.—Ambrose B. Stannard, a contractor, erecting postoffice and Federal buildings in various parts of the country, went into bankruptcy today with debts of $812,000 and assets of $171,000. Of the liabilities, the government's claim on uncompleted buildings are secured by surety bonds.

BRYAN MEETS CHINDA AGAIN

The Japanese Ambassador Then Calls on State Department's Lawyer.

Washington's Reply to Tokio May Be Delayed Until Monday.

Washington, May 10. — Secretary Bryan and Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, got down to business today at an early conference over the California alien land bill. Japan's protest already had been formally presented, and the ambassador was waiting to learn what the United States proposed to do about the bill already passed by the California legislature and awaiting Governor Johnson's signature.

It was evident that there was no disposition to delay the question, and it appeared to be the intention of Secretary Bryan to give to the Japanese ambassador a prompt assurance of what his government might expect the United States to do about the legislation Japan considers offensive.

Went to See Moore.

The conference lasted an hour and at its conclusion Viscount Chinda paid a short visit to Counselor Moore. No statement was forthcoming as to what had taken place, but it is known that having presented the views of his own government in objection to the California legislation, as well as that of Arizona, the ambassador withdrew to await a formal answer from the state department.

Before that is given Secretary Bryan wishes to confer with President Wilson, and as the latter was on a trip to Mount Vernon indications were that it would be late in the day, if not Monday morning, before the conferences between the secretary and the ambassador could be resumed.

RATES ON COAL FROM ILLINOIS SUSPENDED

Commerce Commission Forbids Advance Before Sept. 9.

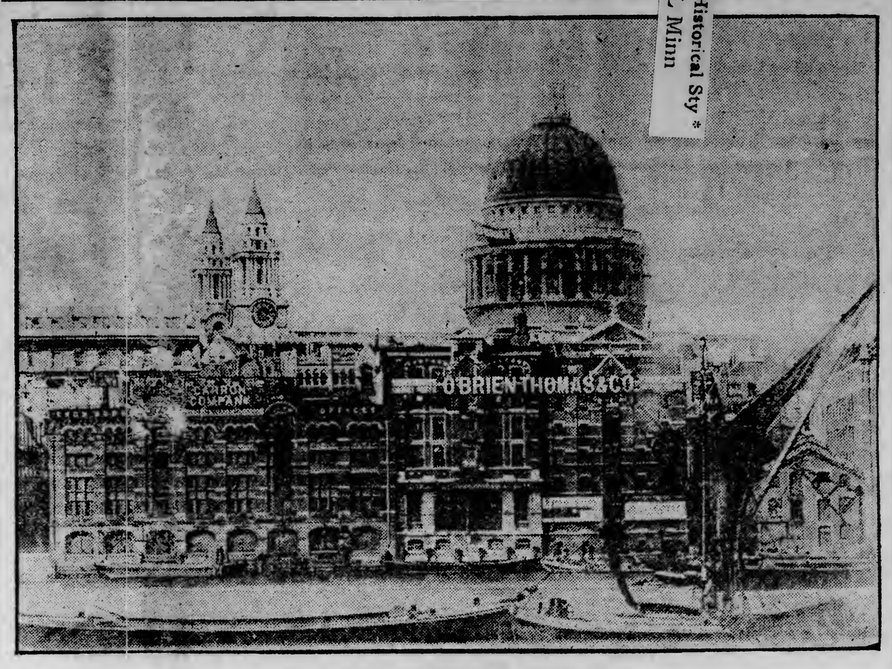
Washington, May 10.—Substantial increases in freight rates on bituminous coal shipped from Illinois mines to Wisconsin, Minnesota and other states, proposed by the Chicago & Alton, today were suspended by the interstate commerce commission until Sept. 9.

MOTHER OF SEVENTEEN WOULD ADOPT THIRD.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—Nineteen children, seventeen of her own blood and two adopted, have been reared by Mrs. May C. Koch of this city, yet she has undertaken the task of bringing up another. A petition signed by Mrs. Koch for the adoption of an 18-month-old girl, Helen Shirley, was before Judge McCormick in the superior court today.

"While I believe I already have done my duty," said the petitioner, "I might just as well rear an even score of them."

SCENE OF SUFFRAGETTES' DYNAMITING ATTEMPT



ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, LONDON.

St. Paul's cathedral in London, which the militant suffragettes of London, England, tried to blow up with a bomb May 7, is one of the sights of London. It stands in Cheapside, near Ludgate circus. Services are held here for the king when he is ill, and it is the center of activity of the Church of England in the English capital.

JEALOUS WISCONSIN MAN SHOOTS THREE AND HIMSELF

H. P. Stankey Follows Woman to Montana and Attacks Her.

Missoula, Mont., May 10.—Unsuccessful wooing, it was definitely learned today, was the cause of the tragedy at Dixon Thursday night when H. P. Stankey shot H. A. Wellington, the latter's wife and Hazel Cook, a 14-year-old boy, and then killed himself. Wellington died instantly, the boy passed away early today and the woman, who was wounded four times, has little chance of recovery.

Stankey lived at Mondovi, Wis., Mrs. Wellington's former home. He had been rejected as a suitor by the young woman, and when she married Wellington here two months ago, Stankey left Mondovi for the West, vowing, it is said, to kill them both.

After he had shot down the couple and the boy, Stankey stood over the woman as he raised the pistol to his own head. His body fell across her.

Woman Gave News.

Though she was shot four times, Mrs. Wellington dragged herself three quarters of a mile to the nearest ranch to tell of the tragedy. The woman collapsed after her arrival.

The shooting occurred on the Wellington ranch three miles from Dixon and the news was brought into that place by neighbors to whom the injured woman went for assistance.

Mrs. Wellington, before she collapsed, declared the man suddenly appeared at the house, and when Wellington went out to meet him, began firing. Wellington dropped in his tracks. When Mrs. Wellington attempted to come to the aid of her husband the man forced her back into the house, and as she struggled with him he fired four shots at her. Stankey then saw the boy and fired a shot at him.

TEACHER RESCUED FROM EAST RIVER

Kindergarten Worker Is Unable to Explain Her Situation.

New York, May 10.—A young woman rescued unconscious in the East river last night, regained consciousness at a hospital this morning and was identified as Miss Alice Mills, a kindergarten teacher and a cousin of Richard C. Ellsworth, publisher and part owner of the Brooklyn Times. She was unable to explain how she got into the water.

"I don't know anything about it," she said incoherently.

She left her boarding place last evening to visit a friend in Newark, N. J. There were many bruises on her body.

OIL MEN GET A REHEARING

Standard of Indiana's Application Granted By Missouri Court.

Writ of Ouster Against Alleged Trust Member Is Suspended.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 10.—The Missouri supreme court today granted a rehearing in the ouster suit against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and appointed John Montgomery of Sedalia commissioner to take testimony as to the good faith of the company in severing its connections with any trusts.

The court also made an order suspending the writ of ouster against the company.

The court's action today brings relief to the village of Sugar Creek, near Kansas City, whose very existence was threatened by the order of ouster against the Standard, because the closing of the company's refinery there would take away the employment of practically the entire male population.

Sugar Creek and Kansas City citizens made protest to the supreme court, contending that the Standard's removal would deprive important industries of fuel and work untold damage to citizens.

Court Was Divided.

The application for a rehearing of the ouster was made by the Standard on several grounds. One of these was that the court, in its decision ousting the company, stood five to two, the three new judges who had been elected since arguments were heard in the case and who were not present during these arguments, voting to oust the company. The old judges, before whom all the arguments were heard, stood two to two, and the company asked a rehearing on the ground that the new judges had not had a chance to hear the arguments.

The Standard also set up that it had severed its connection with the "Oil trust," so-called, in good faith, and offered to prove to the court that it had done so.

FAMOUS BOWERY CHARACTER DEAD

Tongs Make Truce for Funeral of "Mayor of Chinatown."

New York, May 10.—"Chuck" Connors is dead. The picturesque character of the old Bowery, best known perhaps as the "mayor of Chinatown," died of heart disease in the Hudson street hospital today.

The secrets of Chinatown's dark hallways, subterranean passages and hidden shows had been his for many years. Slant-eyed veterans of its warring tongs, the Four Brothers, the Hip Song tong and the On Leong tong, declared a truce when the news of his death became known, and they will march shoulder to shoulder in a parade to honor his memory.

"Chuck" Connors was 61 years old. Most of his life was spent in Chinatown. Of late he had made a living as a guide to sightseers, visiting his stamping ground.

LEAVES PRISON TO BURY HUSBAND.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 10.—On a special permit granted by Attorney General McReynolds, Mrs. Emma Goff, a Federal prisoner serving a three-year sentence in the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing, departed today in charge of a woman guard to attend the funeral of her husband in Naco, Ariz. Word of her husband's death was received yesterday.

German Coal Strike Fails.

Beuthen, Germany, May 10.—The strike of 60,000 coal miners in this district, which began on April 21, has been called off by the Men's Trades Union owing to the hopelessness of attaining success.

MORE BOMBS ARE PLACED BY WOMEN

Explosives in Liverpool Railway Station and Reading Postoffice.

Farrington Hall at Dundee, Scotland, Destroyed By Fire.

Historic Edifices Throughout England Are Closed to the Public.

London, May 10.—Two more of the now famous bombs with which the militant suffragettes are attempting to scare the British parliament into giving the parliamentary franchise to women, were discovered this morning. One of them was found in the passengers' waiting room at the busy Lime street railroad station in Liverpool, and the other in the sorting room of the postoffice at Reading.

The fuse of the Liverpool bomb had been lighted by the perpetrator of the outrage, but had died out before it reached the gunpowder. The bomb consisted of a tin box filled with gunpowder and iron nuts, and the long fuse was laid in the center.

The Reading machine was wrapped in a bulky parcel, to which the attention of the postoffice authorities was attracted by a sound of ticking. The police were called in, and on examination found that the parcel contained an electric battery connected with explosives and accompanied by quantities of suffragette literature.

Addressed to Official.

The parcel was addressed to a municipal official of Reading now on

PEACE TREATY WITH ENGLAND ENDS SOON

Secretary Bryan Expects Renewal By Sometime in June.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary Bryan said today that while the British government had not been directly asked to renew the arbitration treaty which expires by limitation in June, he expected it would effectually be renewed in time to preserve it. Last January Secretary Knox invited Great Britain to exchange ratifications of the Taft peace treaties, which were substantially amended in the senate, and this offer yet remains opens. An exchange of ratifications of that treaty would virtually be a renewal of the expiring one.

STREET CAR STRIKE ON CINCINNATI LINES

More Men Quit Work, But Company Denies Serious Trouble.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10.—Additional men quit work today in response to the strike order issued yesterday against the Cincinnati Traction company, but the company claimed it was not inconvenienced and that schedules on all lines, except possibly two or three small lines, were being maintained. No disorder of any kind had been reported, except that which came from men turning in cars at the barns and joining the strikers who went out last night.

Rezin Orr, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Railway Men, who is in charge of the strike, said he expected many more men would quit work during the day.

WILL IGNORE HUERTA TALK

Washington Is Not Expected to Recall Wilson From Mexico City.

President of Southern Republic Bitterly Repudiates the Official.

Washington, May 10.—President Huerta's reminder to Ambassador Wilson of the limitation imposed upon him in his official intercourse with the Mexican government is not expected to change the status of the American ambassador.

Mr. Wilson has been doing business with a de facto government in the City of Mexico, and although he has not been able to extend political recognition, as desired by the Huerta element, he will continue to transact the necessary business of the American embassy at that capital for the present. It is not anticipated that he will be given his passports nor that he will be recalled, in view of the almost certain confusion that would follow among the large American colony of Mexico if the ambassador were to leave the country summarily. The state department considers Mr. Wilson's work in the in-

MONEY FOR GOOD ROADS

County Commissioner Kauppi Will Spend $40,000 In His District.

Highways Leading to West Duluth Will Be Improved.

A sum aggregating over $40,000 will be spent on county roads leading out of the western end of the city by Commissioner Charles Kauppi this summer. Highways just ontside of the city leading to Hermantown, Midway, Solway, Industrial, Floodwood and other townships in the vicinity will be improved, the expenditures ranging in sums from $400 to $3,500 each.

Among the roads close to the city which will receive the benefit of county improvement are the Getchell road, $2,000; Thomson and Pine Hill roads, $1,600; Midway and Pike Lake road, $3,000; Hermantown, $1,000; Midway and Martz to the Nopeming hospital, $700, and Martz, $400.

Mr. Kauppi said last evening that his plan was to place the work in the hands of farmers of the district. He expected that within a few days, after they had their planting done, that crews would be started on many of the highways.

"Help is scarce and hard to get at this time of the year," said Commissioner Kauppi. "The farmers will soon be through with their planting and will be looking for something to take up their time. I believe that there is no better way of spending the money than to let the farmers earn it in road building and repairing."

The commissioner predicted that within two or three years the roads leading into the city would be a credit to the community. He stated that his district would probably be able to get a larger appropriation for next year and the following year.

The other roads to be improved and the amounts to be expended on each are as follows: La Vaque, $800; Canosia, $1,200; St. Louis River road, $700; Industrial, $2,000; Schultz and La Vaque, $800; Swan Lake, $2,500; Arkala, $1,300; Kelsey, $500; Stevens, $3,200; Swan Lake through Floodwood, $3,500; Lake, $500; Solway, $400; Gowan and Prairie Lake, $1,000; Prairie Lake, $1,000; Shipley, $2,500, and Stony Brook, $800.

WORK GOING TOO SLOWLY

Commercial Club Dissatisfied With Progress of Eighty-First Ave. Fill.

White Way Is Planned for Central and Grand Avenues.

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club expressed their dissatisfaction with the progress being made in the filling of Eighty-first avenue ravine, at the meeting of the club last night. It was claimed that at the present rate of progress the contractor would not have the job completed until Aug. 15, whereas the contract calls for its completion on June 15.

"The contractor had only three men on the job last week and this week has had eight men on the job," said J. J. Frey. "It is imperative that the contractor place more men at work if we expect to have the street completed so that the street railway company may lay its rails to New Duluth this summer."

While no action was taken on the report last night it was proposed to take the matter up with Commissioner Murchison and if the work was not pushed faster than at present to take action to have any extension of time refused by the city commission.

The club also discussed informally a proposed "white way" for Central and Grand avenues. The embryo plans are for the new system of lighting from Roosevelt to Cody street on Central avenue and from Central to Fifty-seventh avenue on Grand. It is proposed to consider the proposition as a special order of business on May 23.

The club also discussed the proposed concrete bridge over Miller's creek at Lincoln park. No action was taken for the present.

Lodge Program.

Pocahontas Lodge No. 313, Royal league, will entertain at the Commercial club rooms Tuesday evening for members of the West Duluth council and their wives. A program of music and other features is being arranged. A committee of women is planning the program.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PLANS

St. James Parish to Provide Educational Facilities for Children.

Building Costing $40,000 to Be Erected Near Church Edifice.

A $40,000 school for the St. James Catholic parish will be built on the parish property south of the parsonage on Fifty-seventh avenue, this summer. The plans are now being drawn by W. J. Sullivan, architect, and will be ready for the contractors within two weeks.

The school is expected to be ready for use at the opening of the September term of school. The building will be arranged for six school rooms, an auditorium with a seating capacity of

REV. D. W. LYNCH.

1,200 people and the basement, which will run the full length of the building, will be arranged for a modern gymnasium.

Rev. Father D. W. Lynch, pastor of the St. James' church, has had the school plans under consideration for considerable time. These have been in the embryo since he completed paying off the debt of the church amounting to about $20,000 when he took hold of the church seven years ago.

The St. James' church was erected during the time Father Feeley was in charge of it. The handsome edifice with its splendid furnishings has cost the congregation about $35,000. Over half of this had not been paid off when Father Lynch took charge.

The parish owns ten lots on Fifty-seventh avenue of which six are vacant. The latter are located south of the parsonage and on these it is planned to construct the parish school.

In making the plans for the school the gymnasium was one of the first things considered. Rev. Father Lynch believed that this feature of school life was one of the things necessary to make it attractive. The school population of the Catholic people of this end of the city is believed to be sufficient to fill the school at its opening in the fall. The local parish has about 1,000 communicants.

HOME ENTIRELY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Lack of Water Supply Prevents Firemen From Combatting Flames.

The home of James Dass, 528 South Sixty-fifth avenue west, was totally destroyed by a fire caused from an overheated stove in the kitchen at 6 o'clock last evening. Mr. Dass was sitting on his front porch when the flames were discovered by neighbors who turned in the alarm.

The department responded but the distance of the house from any water connections made it impossible for the firemen to save any part of it. After they had got the engine near a pool of water so as to get a supply the house was beyond hope of saving.

The loss is placed at $3,000 with $1,100 insurance.

PLEA FOR SALOON TRANSFER WITHDRAWN

The application for the transfer of the saloon license at 216 Central avenue to 330 North Fifty-seventh avenue west has been withdrawn. A petition against the same transfer was filed with the old council and practically all of the signers state that they are still opposed to having a saloon at that location.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. P. Swangie, 10 South Fifty-eighth avenue west. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. T. F. Olsen and Mrs. Rollins.

Mrs. B. H. Smith will be leader for the afternoon. She will present the subject of "Patriotism." Following the business session a home cooking sale will be conducted by the members.

Sermon on "The Home."

Rev. W. L. Staub, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, will preach a special sermon tomorrow morning on "The Home" in honor of the observance of Mothers' day. A special musical program will also be given by the choir.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

Bids for New Duluth Catholic Church Will Be Called for Soon.

Congregation Has Purchased Ten Lots, Having Space for Expansion.

The plans for the St. Elizabeth's Catholic church of New Duluth will be completed within another week and will be ready for the contractors. W. J. Sullivan of West Duluth is now completing the plans and will turn them over to the committee within a few days.

The new church for the suburb will be constructed on the lots recently purchased by the congregation. These lots provide a site 250 feet by 140. The price paid for them was $1,750.

It is proposed to erect the church on the corner lots. It will have a frontage of forty feet and will be ninety feet deep. It will be modern in every particular and have a seating capacity of 350 in the main auditorium and about 100 more in the gallery.

Rev. John Begley, assistant pastor of the St. James' Catholic church, will be pastor of the New Duluth church. He also heads the building committee. The other members of this committee are E. E. Martell, D. J. Kulaszewicz, Harry Hutter and Jerry Lockhart.

The New Duluth church is one of the three churches to be erected by the money recently donated by Thomas Feigh. Mr. Feigh donated $30,000 for the construction of these churches and $10,000 of the amount will be used for the building in the suburb.

While the church will only occupy about two of the ten lots owned by the congregation it is planned to later erect a parsonage and a parish school on the other property. In the meantime the vacant property will be used by the children for playgrounds.

CITY KEEPING STREETS CLEAN

Business Men Pleased With Course of Division of Public Works.

West Duluth merchants are much pleased at the cleaning up process going on in this end of the city. The streets are being regularly swept and flushers are being used to get the dirt off the pavement.

Patrick McGraw, the local street commissioner has a crew of men regularly doing the work and has drawn a considerable favorable comment from the business men on his work.

"The principal streets are now pleasing to the eye" said Ed Dormedy this morning. "This end of the city has for years been waiting for just such systematic work as is now being done. The department has I understand supplied this end of the city with a street sweeper as well as a flusher for the work."

Mothers' Meeting.

The last of a series of mothers' meetings was held yesterday afternoon at the Ely school at which teachers and the girls of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades entertained. A program of music and recitations was given by the children and addresses by J. R. Bachelor, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., and S. L. Potts, manual training instructor at the Industrial high school.

Mr. Batchelor spoke on "Playgrounds and the Value of Play." He maintained that organized play was of great value to the children and believed that the city would benefit by employing an expert to teach the children to play in the proper manner.

"Manual Training," was the subject discussed by Mr. Potts. He told what the West Duluth high school was doing in instructing the children in this work and maintained that the work taught in this branch of school life fitted the pupil for a useful vocation in after life.

CALLBREATH TURNS GUNS UPON PINCHOT

Roosevelt and Taft Are Assailed for Their Policy in Alaska.

Washington, May 10.—"Gifford Pinchot, more than any other man, has been responsible for tying up Alaska," James F. Callbreath, secretary of the American Mining congress, told the senate territories committee today. He added that Former President Roosevelt's executive order of 1906 withdrawing Alaska coal lands from entry "warranted a revolution." He favored the bill before the committee for government aid in the construction of Alaska's railways, but opposed a system of government lease of coal lands.

George H. Patrick, counsel for the Alaskan Northern railway, contended his company should have an opportunity to penetrate the interior of Alaska without fear of competition with a government-aided road. He assailed the Taft administration, which he said had used its whole power to crush the Alaska Northern.

LAGER BEER

Can Be Made at Home for One Cent a Glass.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10.—Through a recent invention of an expert brewmaster of this city, a sparkling and foaming Lager Beer can be made right at home for one cent a glass. He has concentrated Barley, Malt and Hops, the principal ingredients of Beer, so that simply by the addition of water and sugar, a genuine and pure Lager Beer can be made. Easily made in any kitchen, no apparatus, no experience necessary, a few minutes does the work. It is claimed by many that the Beer that by his method is better and purer than the best Brewery Beer, and above all saves the Brewer's enormous profits. The question of the legality of his method has been carefully investigated by the highest authorities and found to be legitimate in every respect. He has written a very interesting booklet giving the "Secrets of Brewing Beer at Home," and by writing to A. S. Shuh, Brewmaster, 1120 Sycamore St., Cincinnati, Ohio, he will be more than pleased to mail his booklet absolutely free to any one sending their name and address.

HUERTA TROOPS ARE ROUTED BY REBELS

Federals Are Reported in Full Retreat From Guaymas.

Nogales, Ariz., May 10.—After desperate and decisive fighting last night, the Federals withdrew to Guaymas, leaving the state troops in control of all points north of the gulf port. The government troops were utterly routed, according to telegraphic advices and refugees arriving from the state troop base below Ortiz.

An unconfirmed report was received by wire today that the state troops had occupied Guaymas, with the Federals in full retreat southward.

Eight hundred insurgents under Juan Cabral took the aggressive in the center of the state's advance. So persistent was the insurgents' advance, forming its semi-circle of fire, that the Federals soon began to retreat.

Gas Tank Explodes.

An acetylene gas tank in the office of Heimbaugh & Spring, 1103 Tower avenue, exploded and caused a great deal of excitement on the street yesterday afternoon. The fire resulting from the explosion caused slight damage and was quickly put out by the department.

Serious Charge.

Matt Flynn, 43 years, and George Brown, 23, are being held for examination. The men were arrested yesterday in a Fifth street rooming house in company with Alma LaRoux, 14 years old. Bail was set at $300 and in default of this the men were remanded to the county jail.

Lightbody-Veblin.

The wedding of Miss Marion Lightbody, daughter of S. W. Lightbody of Hammond avenue, to Harold Veblin, will take place at the home of the bride's parents this evening, Rev. C. J. Armstrong of the Pilgrim church will perform the ceremony.

Property Owners Divided.

Property owners of Grand avenue frontage are divided as to the material wanted for the paving of the thoroughfare. At a meeting held last night at the Commercial club they were unable to decide whether they wanted asphalt and concrete or crushed rock and cement. Another meeting of the property owners has been called for the near future.

HEARING ON SEVENTH STREET IMPROVEMENT

The city commission had advertised a hearing to be held in the council chambers at 9 o'clock Monday morning on the proposed improvement of Seventh street between Fourth avenue west and Fourteenth avenue east. Bids have been received for grading and gravelling and for crushed rock macadam.

J. A. Johnson was low bidder, offering to do the work for $63,340 with either gravel or crushed rock macadam. Concrete curbs and gutters will be put in. The estimated cost of the work was $82,000. The bid is nearly $20,000 under that figure, but part of the reduction is due to the decision to reduce the width from forty feet to thirty feet from Seventh avenue east to Fourteenth avenue east.

Train Kills Stock.

Pembina, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fourteen head of cattle were killed by a Northern Pacific passenger train near here. The herd of cattle, gathered on the track near a bridge, was struck by the fast train, and only nine of the fourteen carcasses have been recovered, the others being thrown into the river, which is about twenty feet deep. Although the train was badly jarred no other effect was felt.

SUPERIOR CENTRAL WINS CUP

Orator and Declaimer From Across Bay Victors In Four Cornered Contest for Wallace Trophy.

MISS DOROTHY PATTON,
Duluth Central's Declaimer.

LAWRENCE DOW,
Duluth Central's Orator.

MISS STELLA SELIGMAN,
One of the Winning Team.

Superior Central high school was adjudged the winner in the annual interscholastic oratorical and declamation competition for the handsome Wallace cup, in the auditorium of the Duluth Central high school last evening.

This is the second time since the donation of the trophy that the Superior high school has gained possession of it, Duluth winning it a like number of times.

The cup, presented by Dr. C. J. Wallace of Duluth will become the permanent possession of the school winning it the greatest number of times in ten years.

The winning representatives were Edwin Gordon, orator, and Miss Stella Seligman, reader. They were presented with gold medals donated by Bagley & Co.

The Subjects.

The subject of the winning oration was "For the Greater Republic—Not for Imperialism," while Miss Seligman recited a selection from "The Lion and the Mouse." The winners had a most finished style, and Miss Seligman in particular showed much dramatic ability.

The Duluth Central high school was represented by Lawrence Dow, who delivered the oration, "A Plea for Cuba," and Miss Dorothy Patton, who gave a dramatic reading from "The Lion and the Mouse," finished a close second.

The decision of the judges, C. L. Phelps, principal of the Calumet school; W. E. Flinn, superintendent of the Two Harbors schools, and Z. P. Wallin, principal of the Spooner, Wis., school, gave Superior 544 points and Duluth 531, according to percentage of points provided for under the rules of the contest.

The other contestants were: Nelson Dewey high school—Jack Heath, orator, "A Plea for Cuba;" Miss Gretchen Schnittger, reader, "Ben Hur's Farewell to Iris."

Industrial high school—John Davis, orator, "Henry W. Grady;" Miss Esther Fieldman, reader, "Ma'moiselle."

The contest last evening was one of the most successful ever held, both in point of the work of the contestants and in the attendance, there being over 1,000 people present.

The musical part of the program consisted of solos by Miss Marguerite McDonald and Frank Bartholomew; a violin solo by Miss Eleanor Kraft and two chorus selections by the Girls' Glee club of the Nelson Dewey school. All numbers were contributed by students in the high schools.

terest of Americans, quite aside from any diplomatic functions, of great importance.

Repudiates Ambassador.

Mexico City, May 10.—Henry Lane Wilson, United States ambassador to Mexico, has no official standing in Mexico in the eyes of the present administration. This is not a matter of record but was unofficially stated by Provisional President Huerta. He said: "As a personal friend I am always glad to treat with Mr. Wilson, but diplomatically he has no standing."

This has not been made clear in official declaration, but the public and the press generally have not failed to place this interpretation on the situation.

Ambassador Wilson reported the incident to the state department at Washington, although he may possibly have confined himself to the official declarations by Provisional President Huerta, which leaves him a quasi standing as a diplomat.

The newspaper, El Pais, in an editorial, bitterly censures the attitude of the United States, declaring that it should view the policy of non-recognition of Mexico frankly, and withdraw from Mexico not only Ambassador Wilson, but its consular officers.

"What Will Washington Do?"

Keen interest is being displayed by the government and the public generally in what action the United States government will take as a consequence of the virtual repudiation of Ambassador Wilson by Huerta. The president has made no statement either to Ambassador Wilson or to the public qualifying his statement that Mr. Wilson "diplomatically has no standing," but Foreign Minister De La Barra, who always has been regarded as anxious to replace dissensions, displayed an eagerness to minimize the incident.

Senor De La Barra said the declaration of President Huerta did not mean the severance of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States. He drew a fine distinction between the diplomatic representative who performs the full functions of his office, and one who confines himself to routine matters, and said he apprehended no serious consequences from the incident.

Not Willing to Go Limit.

Those close to the administration say they would not be surprised should the United States take Mexico at her word and recall Ambassador Wilson, but the opinion prevails that President Huerta is not prepared to go so far as to hand the ambassador his passports. That President Huerta, during his conference with Mr. Wilson, used much emphasis in explaining the position of his government, and that his remarks were characterized by a bitterness and warmth which clearly reflected his deep resentment against what he termed the unreasonableness of the Washington government in withholding recognition of the Mexican government, has been established, though Ambassador Wilson has refrained from discussing it.

his vacation. The police express the belief that it was timed to explode in his residence during his absence. The clock work arrangement was in perfect working order. In view of the possibility of further attacks by the "wild women" on the churches, many historical edifices throughout the country, which during the season are usually visited by thousands of American and other tourists, have been ordered closed except during the hours of service.

The duke of Marlborough yesterday closed Blenheim palace to the public, following the receipt of an anonymous letter revealing the existence of a suffragette plot to destroy the palace.

The National Union of Women's Suffragette Societies is organizing an immense national suffrage pilgrimage. Each of the seventeen federations will arrange for processions from all parts of the kingdom to London.

Farrington Hall Burned.

Dundee, Scotland, May 10.—Farrington hall, the residence of Henry McGrady, former lord provost of Dundee, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Indications point to the militant suffragettes as the authors of the outrage.

Flames broke out simultaneously in half a dozen places in the great mansion which was a beautiful specimen of architecture. It was being prepared for occupation during the summer by the owner and his family.

Publisher Held For Trial.

Manchester, Eng., May 10.—James Whiteley, secretary of the printing firm responsible for the last issue of the "Suffragette," was brought up in police court today and remanded for trial. The magistrate allowed him bail on his promise not to publish any further editions of the militant newspapers.

Newcastle House Set on Fire.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Eng., May 10.—"Funholme," a large unoccupied house here, was fired today by an "arson squad" of militant suffragettes, but they were alarmed by the approach of passersby and decamped, leaving behind them petroleum and other inflammable materials. The fire was extinguished.

TELLS STORY ABOUT O'HARA

said, the lieutenant governor called at the apartment.

It was at this point that Senator Etteson asked the direct question as to her relations with O'Hara.

Miss Robinson testified that she came to the hotel on Jan. 15 and remained there three days.

Signed for Liquor Man.

Witness said that she signed the affidavit at the request of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, who assured her that it never would be made public, but would be used only to coerce O'Hara into steering his vice investigation away from Davis.

She said that the paper was meant as a club to be held over O'Hara, according to assurances given her. Later Davis asked her to sign a second affidavit against O'Hara, but upon advice of Fred Gartimer, a lawyer friend of Springfield, she declined to do so.

"Why did he want you to sign it?" inquired Senator Ettelson.

"Because he said that Davis might not keep his promise to keep the affidavit secret."

Throughout, Miss Robinson spoke in a clear, unhesitating voice.

No Improper Relation.

"I wish emphatically to deny that there was any improper relation between myself and Mr. O'Hara or that the subject was even discussed," she kept repeating between the interrogations of Chairman Ettelson. "Neither did Davis offer any money in connection with my signing the affidavit."

"Were you ever married?" asked the senator.

"Yes," witness replied. "My husband was Foster Shriver of Springfield. I was granted a divorce from him last April. I am now living with my mother, and do dressmaking at 713 South English avenue at Springfield."

Thorough Investigation.

The committee of four senators appointed by the legislature to inquire into charges of an affidavit signed by Miss Maud Robinson against Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara, head of the "white slave" commission, met here today.

The affidavit was placed in the hands of the legislative committee last Thursday by Deputy Sheriff R. M. Sullivan of Sangamon county and, although the document was not made public, it is said to contain allegations of immorality on the part of the lieutenant governor.

"The investigation will be searching and will go to the bottom of the whole affair," said Senator Samuel Ettelson, chairman of the committee, before the hearing began. "I do not know whether it will be public or not. That is something that will be left to the committee as a whole."

Thomas Vredenberg, said to have been the fourth member of the opera party which included two women and the lieutenant governor, was in Chicago yesterday but is reported to have returned to Springfield.

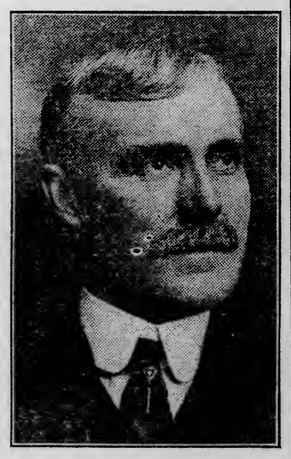
The committee, it is said, plans to subpoena Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, Thomas Vredenberg, Deputy Sheriff Richard M. Sullivan of Sangamon county, Harry Gibbons, county treasurer; William L. O'Connell; Miss Maud Robinson and several others.

Admits Her Signature.

Miss Robinson admitted late yesterday that she signed the affidavit, but in admitting that she signed the paper, denied positively that anything alleged in the paper would justify her arrest, or that she committed perjury in signing it. The contents of the affidavit have not been made public.

"I have done nothing that I could be arrested for," said Miss Robinson.

CITY EMPLOYES HONOR FORMER OFFICIAL



O. G. OLSON.

O. G. Olson, former member and president of the board of public works, was agreeably surprised at his home, 457 Mesaba avenue, last night by a great number of the city employes and their wives in honor of the fifty-third birthday anniversary of Mr. Olson.

Several of the friends present made short speeches in which they expressed their appreciation for the many kind acts and courtesies received at the hands of Mr. Olson during his incumbency on the board of public works.

In further token of the esteem and respect in which Mr. Olson is held by his many friends of the city government, a beautiful gift was presented to him.

About fifty people were present and the evening was spent most enjoyably with music and refreshments.

Years of Study By Electrical Engineers to Save Hours of Labor in Woman's Work

SAVING millions of footsteps, making home tasks easier, multiplying the moments of leisure—this is what cheaper electricity and successful invention have done to banish the saying that "Woman's work is never done." In hundreds of thousands of homes one great labor-saver is the ELECTRIC IRON, that has turned a long drudgery into a short, easier task. A special feature of these irons is its "even heat," which means quick ironing, and quicker ironing means less labor and less electricity. An added convenience, quick heating, is assured by a special arrangement of air spaces that send the heat directly down into the ironing. The electric iron also holds this heat so well, and distributes it so evenly on the ironing surface, that a good bit of the ironing can be done with the current turned off. No separate stand—merely tip the iron back on its own heel stand.

POLICY OF THE NEW PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE ANNOUNCED

The policy of the new public affairs committee of the Commercial club is announced in the May issue of Public Affairs, the bulletin of the club. In connection, the bulletin gives a little sermon on service. Public Affairs says:

"Chairmen of the sub-committees of the public affairs committee will call their committees together within the course of a few days and begin their plans for the year's work. Several weeks will elapse before the vacation period begins to affect attention at committee meetings and effective work may be done during that period.

"This year, as last, meetings of the whole public affairs committee will be held each month and ample notice will be given. All members of the public affairs committee should endeavor to attend, and the meetings are always open to all members of the club.

"The docket of the public affairs committee will be kept up to date during the coming year. Every subject coming before the committee will be entered upon the docket and its disposition noted. Sub-committees will be expected to report finally or to report progress on all matters at the meeting following reference to them.

"In accordance with the policy of rotation, which has always applied in the appointment of the public affairs committee, President Knox has appointed many members who have never previously served on the committee.

"The Commercial club of Duluth has been fortunate in the efficiency of its organization, in the numerical strength of its membership and in the public support it has received, but it has been particularly fortunate in the character of the service it has received from its membership. Service of the kind the city of Duluth and the Commercial club has received from the members of the club is the hardest thing to obtain in civic endeavor in many cities. The fact that busy men of affairs have given freely of their time and effort in the work of the Commercial club has enabled the club to accomplish much that would otherwise have been undone.

"The attendance of the members of the new public affairs committee at the first meeting indicates that they have a high sense of their duty to the community. The man who pays his dues in the Commercial club and avails himself of its social features only isn't fulfilling his duty to his city. The man who shows his public spirit by actively taking part in civic movements is bearing his share of the burden that falls on the citizenship of a progressive community.

"The members of the public affairs committee have a duty to perform. They will be expected to sacrifice something to the work. They will gain no direct reward. But they are given an opportunity of doing their part in the upbuilding of their city and they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have assisted in moving Duluth forward toward her destiny.

"Faithful attendance at meetings, unselfish attention to duty and lively public spirit in co-operation with his fellow-citizens will bring to the members of the public affairs committee their own reward."

WEST VIRGINIA PROBE DEBATED.

Washington, May 10.—Senator Kern's resolution for a Federal investigation of conditions accompanying the strike of the West Virginia coal miners was debated in the senate for more than an hour, but was not acted upon. A vote probably will be reached at the next session, on Tuesday. Senator Kern is hopeful that the resolution will be adopted, but some senators were inclined to doubt the ability of the majority leader to put it through.

Senator Kern made a short speech in which he attacked Governor Hatfield of West Virginia in a sarcastic vein.

MRS. INBUSCH DENIES STORY

Says She Was Not in Party With O'Hara at Chicago.

Declares She Never Knew Maud Robinson—Suspects Political Plot.

Chicago, May 10.—A special to the Journal from Madison, Wis., today denies that Mrs. Mabel Davidson Inbusch was a member of the Vredenburgh party as related in the O'Hara hearing by Maud Robinson. The special says:

"She admitted acquaintance with Thomas Vredenburgh, and also admitted the possibility that she might have been in Chicago at the time in question.

"'If I was in Chicago at that time, however,' said Mrs. Inbusch, 'I was staying with friends and not at any hotel. I have nothing whatever to do with this affair. I know nothing of it except what I have read in the newspapers. I have not been summoned, and see no reason why I should appear as a witness at Chicago. I have never stayed at the Hotel Sherman, and never visited there with Mr. Vredenburgh, nor do I know Mr. O'Hara. I never knew Maud Robinson, nor have I been in Springfield in two years.

Conspiracy Against Father.

"'I believe that the bringing of my name into this is part of a political conspiracy against my father, just as the charges are being used against Mr. O'Hara by the saloon keepers and dive keepers who resent his investigation.

"Mrs. Inbusch talked after her father had refused to make any statement. The former governor said he knew nothing of whatever of the matter, and then introduced his daughter, who he said was willing to talk.

"Vividly good looking, with heavy brown hair piled high on her small head, big, snapping brown eyes and a naturally commanding manner, Mrs. Inbusch entered with high spirits her protest against the use of her name. Her admission that she might have been in Chicago on Jan. 17, 18 and 19 followed her first statement that she was at home in Madison at that time.

"'I go to Chicago so often,' she explained, 'that I can't say just when I go. I stay either at the Hotel La Salle or with friends.'"

O'Hara Not Called.

After being in session about an hour, the hearing adjourned until later in the afternoon. Lieutenant Governor O'Hara was not present at the hearing, but was in the hotel waiting to appear in response to a subpoena.

Midland Votes Bonds.

Fort Smith, Ark., May 10.—The stockholders and directors of the Midland Valley railroad at a meeting here voted a bond issue of $15,000,000 to pay all the present indebtedness of the railroad and also to provide funds for an immediate extension to Denver, Col., and Shreveport, La., the terminals of the line planned originally.

Sailors Not Arrested.

Liverpool, Eng., May 10.—Detectives went on board the steamer Merion on her arrival here from Philadelphia and Queenstown, and made prolonged inquiries into the circumstances of the death of Engineer Lindsay, whose body was found in the Delaware river after the vessel sailed from America on April 27. No arrests were made. It had been stated that two of the crew were under suspicion.

Case Is Dismissed.

The case against William H. La Salle, barber, arrested on a charge of stealing $250 from May Durley's room on West Helm street, was dismissed in police court yesterday afternoon. The woman would not prosecute, stating that she had loaned the money to the barber.

Had Small Revolver.

Raphael Intrynor was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He had a small .22-caliber popper in his pocket, with a box of cartridges which would not fit the cylinder. He pleaded guilty and got $10 and costs or ten days in the county jail. He said that he was taking the revolver downtown to have it repaired.

Trespass Is Charged.

Joe Marley, alleged deaf mute, was arrested last night on a charge of trespass. The police state that he is suspected of having removed some plumbing from the house at 101 First avenue east. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried Tuesday morning. Marley is one of the regulars of the police court grist.

Auto Demonstration.

This afternoon C. G. Obermeyer, agent for the Carter car, gave a demonstration on Superior street of the hauling power of the car he represents. He left the St. Louis hotel at 3 o'clock this afternoon in a Carter touring car to which he hitched six wagon loads of lumber from the Scott-Graff Lumber company, and dragged them along Superior street to Ninth avenue east and back again. The total weight hauled by the auto was 36,000 pounds or eighteen tons.

Theft Is Alleged.

Dan Harwood was arraigned in police court this morning on a warrant sworn out by James A. Sheridan charging him with stealing $21.50. The money is alleged to have been taken while he was in the employ of the Duluth Van and Storage company, collections to that amount not having been turned in. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Tuesday afternoon.

Don't depend upon drugs to build you up; they'll never do it. Don't you know that all such symptoms are crying out the fact as loudly as they can that the nerve cells of your body are robbed of their power—their vitality? Don't you know that it is nerve power that operates every organ, every function of the body? Don't you know that the basis of nerve power is health? Then why not get it? Get it today! There are thousands of able-bodied men walking the streets of Duluth whom we have saved from nervous breakdown, weak kidneys and catarrhal suffering. Why go sickly and discouraged through this life while help is within your reach?

If you are feeling dull, have lost all ambition, and work has lost it pleasure for you, that's a sign that there is something wrong, and nature is crying for help. Don't refuse yourself the treatment which you know is as necessary as your bread and butter.

We are specialists in Men's Diseases only, and we are as successful in the cure of these diseases as we are in the cure of all and any men's ailments. Men, if you want a cure, no matter what your trouble is and how long you had it, come to us and you will not look any longer for the restoration of your health. BUCKING HORSES AT THE WINNIPEG "STAMPEDE"

Like every other feature at "The Winnipeg Stampede" the "Bucking Bronchos" are "the Real Thing." They are naturally irreclaimable fighters, and their savage and reckless efforts to throw their riders cannot be corrected. They may be temporarily conquered after a prolonged and often dangerous struggle requiring extraordinary agility, skill and courage on the part of their riders, but with every effort to mount comes a renewal of the contest between stubbornness and instinct on one side, and brains and nerve on the other, and in it the nobler animal does not always win. In the performance of the "Bucking Bronchos" and their cowboy and cowgirl riders, it will be noticed that among the quadrupedal concentration of chain lightning, no two resort to the same tactics of defense. One will permit himself to being saddled and mounted before letting out the pent up devilry with which his hide is stuffed. Another will quietly submit to being saddled, but that is the limit to sufferance. To still another the very sight of a saddle is a signal of war. This one will start off humping his back like a mad cat, and landing stiffly on all fours with the force of a pile driver. This one will lie down and stubbornly refuse to budge. Still another will rear and fall backwards in reckless fury. A fourth will kick, strike and bite, or all this and more too with a savage viciousness rendering him more dangerous than would be a hungry lion.

The horses used in this portion of "The Winnipeg Stampede" are not green horses just gathered from the range for this celebration, but are outlaws that have defied man's efforts in fame, from various parts of the United States and Canada. They have been turned loose on the range in one band and have come in contact with no human being since "The Stampede" was held last September. The management has in the meantime been on the lookout for horses of this nature, whose owners have given up in despair of ever trying to gentle them for practical use. During the past few months they have purchased eleven head to be added to the already large number that are at present on the range north of Medicine Hat, Alberta, on the extension ranch of A. P. Day, who is the arena director of "The Stampede."

These horses are natural born "buckers" and require no spurs or quirts to do business, when once an attempt is made to ride them. They are all in good healthy condition and are put on grain feed sixty days before the opening of the celebration, and exercised over the prairies, so they will be in first-class condition as to wind and endurance when they are led out for aspirants for the title of champion bucking horse rider of the world, to ride at "The Stampede" in August.

TERRITORIAL PIONEERS MEETING AT ST. PAUL

Anniversary of Minnesota's Admission to Union Is Celebrated.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual reunion of the Minnesota Territorial Pioneers to celebrate the fifty-fourth anniversary of Minnesota's admission to the Union, opened here today. About 300 delegates from all parts of the state are present. The Woman's Relief corps served dinner.

Minnesota was admitted to the Union May 11, 1858, but as this day falls on Sunday this year, its observance was planned for today.

The Territorial Pioneers include the finest settlers in the state and their descendants.

The Women's Pioneer club, the St. Croix Valley Old Settlers and the Forty-Niners are represented at the meeting.

E. F. Beresford, John A. Stees, Charles F. Staples, George A. Brackett and George H. Hazzard, secretary, are in charge of the details.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Not in session; meets Tuesday, 2 p. m.

Territories committee continued its hearing on Alaskan problems.

HOUSE.

Met at noon.

Majority Leader Underwood, Progressive Leader Murdock and Minority Leader Mann conferred on committee appointments.

Motorists Meet at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Automobile association met here this afternoon with representatives from the local associations of Grand Forks, Litchville, Wahpeton, Lidgerwood, Fargo and Bismarck present. It is planned to induce every local association in the state to join the state-wide organization. Officers will be elected and arrangements made for the entertainment of the Glidden tourists when they spend Sunday, June 13, in Fargo and conduct them across the state.

J. E. DAVIES IN DULUTH

Prominent Figure in Wilson Administration Visits the City.

Will Be Commissioner of Corporations Under the New President.

Joseph E. Davies of Madison, Wis., appointee to the office of commissioner of corporations of the United States, secretary of the Democratic national committee and Western manager of the Wilson campaign last year, is in Duluth today.

Mr. Davies is owner of Duluth property and is in the city in that connection. He came in this morning from Ashland and will leave again late this afternoon for Madison.

"Everywhere I go I hear expressions of gratification over the course of President Wilson and his administration," said Mr. Davies this afternoon. "The facility with which the tariff bill is being put through congress and the character of the bill itself are extremely pleasing to the people of the West and President Wilson is gaining a firm place in the estimation of the people. The course of the administration thus far gives promise of an epoch-making period in the history of the country."

JOSEPH E. DAVIES.

Mr. Davies expressed his personal gratification over the tariff bill framed by the Democratic administration and declared that Oscar Underwood of Alabama and A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania have gained distinction that will endure.

Mr. Davies' appointment as commissioner of corporations has not yet been confirmed, but the senate is expected to act on it soon. It is a most important post and one that will give Mr. Davies a great opportunity for service. It was held by James A. Garfield and was the stepping stone by which he went into the cabinet. Later it was held by Herbert Knox Smith, who resigned last fall, and the present incumbent is Luther Conant, Jr., of New York.

Mr. Davies stands high in administration circles. He worked hard as national committeeman from Wisconsin and secretary of the Democratic national committee for the election of President Wilson. As Western manager in charge of the headquarters at Chicago he bore the brunt of the battle in the West, and he proved himself capable and energetic in discharging his trust.

"Everybody having any connection with the administration feels that he owes a debt of gratitude to The Duluth Herald," said Mr. Davies. "The Herald's staunch support of Woodrow Wilson in the pre-convention campagin had a strong influence all through the West, as well as in Minnesota, and no small share of the triumph in the nomination and election of President Wilson goes to The Herald."

TWENTY-FIVE LIQUOR SELLERS INDICTED

Moorhead Men Are Accused of Selling Liquor to Minors.

Moorhead, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indictments were reported this morning against twenty-five leading saloon men of this city, including the proprietor of the Comstock hotel, charged with selling liquor to minors.

The cases were worked up by E. Walker, a retired farmer, who became indignant over sales to his minor son. The sons of other well known people, some of them students in Moorhead and Fargo, are named as witnesses. If the practice is not stopped, Walker threatens to name Fargo and Moorhead girls of tender age who have been served with liquor and wines by saloon men.

CANADIAN ROAD OFFICIALS HERE

Col. A. D. Davidson and William Schupp Arrive in Duluth.

Col. A. D. Davidson, land commissioner of the Canadian Northern railroad, and William Schupp, insurance commissioner for the same road, arrived in Duluth this afternoon.

Col. Davidson has just returned from England. He was in England when he received the news of the death of his daughter, Mrs. T. S. Darling, formerly Miss Edith Davidson, and returned as quickly as he could get back.

OBITUARY

Rev. Leander Trowbridge Chamberlain. 70 years old, noted divine and author, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. F. C. Hayward, in Pasadena, Cal., May 10. He was 78 years old. From 1863 to 1867 Rev. Chamberlain was successively paymaster, naval storekeeper and judge advocate in the United States Pacific squadron. After the Chicago fire of 1871 he was a superintendent of relief operations. He founded the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences and was president of the United States Evangelical alliance and secretary-treasurer of the American and Foreign Missionary union. For thirty years he lived at Chelsea, N. Y.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOAT CLUB

Officers and Directors Will Be Elected Next Tuesday Evening.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Boat club will be held at the main clubhouse next Tuesday evening. The annual election of officers will take place at this time. It is not expected that there will be any change in the present officers, though there may be a change in the board of directors.

In addition to the election of officers there will be an entertainment for the members, the reading of reports by the heads of the several departments and a resume of the plans for the season that will be officially opened during the latter part of the present month.

It is expected that the present season will be the best in the history of the club, from every point of view. Big plans for summer sports are being worked out at the present time and some inkling of this feature of the coming summer is expected to be given at the Tuesday meeting.

If J. F. MacGreggor, who has been confined at his home for some time, is able to attend, it is expected that he will be formally installed as the new secretary of the club.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

RUNNING RACES.

North Dakota Fair Will Reinstate Them This Year.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Five thousand three hundred dollars will be divided in purses at the North Dakota state fair races here on July 22, 23, 24 and 25, according to the official program. The card is featured by a $1,000 early closing event.

Running races, tabooed last year, are to be staged again, as a lively demand for that class of races has been evident.

Here are the events:

Tuesday, July 22—3:00 pace, early closing, $1,000; 2:19 pace or 2:14 trot, $500; half-mile dash, running, $200.

Wednesday, July 23—2:15 pace or 2:10 trot, $500; 2:09 pace or 2:04 trot, $500; five-furlong dash, $200.

Thursday, July 24—2:24 pace or 2:19 trot, $500; 2:17 pace or 2:12 trot, $500; six-furlong dash, $200.

Friday, July 25—2:13 pace or 2:08 trot, $500; 2:22 trot, $500; one mile running, $200.

Entries for all events except the early closing features will close on July 7 with an entry fee of 5 per cent and 5 per cent additional from winners.

PETITION JOHNSON TO REINSTATE STOVALL.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—Petitions requesting President Johnson of the American to reinstate George Stovall as manager and first baseman of the St. Louis team are being circulated here today. Several thousand people, it is claimed, already have signed the petitions.

The petitions state that "if extreme punishment should be visited on Stovall for an impulsive act, which he, himself, sincerely deplores, the team that he has built up would be left without a leader and the favorable sentiment created by his efforts would go for naught. His suspension alone has been a heavy punishment both to him and to the St. Louis team."

Tiger Marksmen Win.

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—Princeton won the intercollegiate gun championship here today with a sweeping victory over Yale and Dartmouth. The team scores were: Princeton, 407; Yale, 312; Dartmouth, 294.

Capt. White of Princeton was high guns with 87 birds. Newton was Yale's high gun with 70 birds, and Swenson was Dartmouth's best with 75 birds to his credit.

Church Convention at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state convention of the Christian church will be held in Fargo June 19 to 22, coincident with the dates of the convention of the same organization in Minnesota. Leading national speakers will be heard at both. At that time the organization for this state will be incorporated.

For Bigelow Memorial.

New York, May 10.—A subscription of $5,000 toward the erection of a memorial to the memory of the late John Bigelow has been received by the auxiliary committee of the Union college alumni having the project in charge. This was the first gift to the fund and it was made by Melville Hanna, brother of the late Mark Hanna.

Navy Officer Is Suicide.

Annapolis, May 10.—With a bullet hole through his heart, Lieut. Richard Hill, U. S. N., 28 years old, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, was found dead in his room at a boarding house here. A coroner's jury and a naval board of inquiry found that death was due to suicide.

Ontario Newspaper Plant Burned.

Chatham, Ont., May 10.—The newspaper and job printing plant of the Chatham Daily Planet was destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 with $50,000 insurance. Alexander McDougall, a press man at work on the second floor of the building when the fire started, is missing.

Fort William Strike Clash.

Fort William, Ont., May 10.—A serious clash occurred Friday between 200 laborers who are on strike at the Canadian Car and Foundry company's works and 180 men who have been employed to take their places. It is claimed that the strike-breakers were attacked by the striking laborers, the former running to safety. Several were injured but none seriously. Work was suspended for the day and patrolmen guarded the property.

Spooner Cleans Up.

Spooner, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Spooner had a general cleaning day on Friday under the auspices of the Civic Improvement club. School was let out for a half holiday so that old and young could assist in cleaning the back yards and alleys.

To Camp Near Bemidji.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks Y. M. C. A. boys' camp will be maintained at Lake Plantagenet, near Bemidji, July 8 to 21. For several years the local boys have had their annual camp there, having permanent headquarters.

Fargo Health Officer Quits.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city commission accepted the resignation of Health Officer Olson, who is planning an extended absence, and named Dr. William Scanlon to that position.

Fargo College Commencement.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—Fargo college commencement exercises will be held this year from June 14 to 18. The event will be of more than usual interest because of the prominence of the speakers selected by President Cregan. They include Rev. Dr. Walters of the First M. E. church here, Prof. Squires of the North Dakota university, Mr. Mulenbach, the college's first graduate, who now lives in Chicago, and the eloquent Dr. Gordon of Winnipeg.

PORT ARTHUR CARS HALTED BY STRIKE

Fort William Service Also Is Held Up By Men's Walkout.

Port Arthur, Ont., May 10.—Every street car in Port Arthur and Fort William stopped running at noon today, owing to a decision the men made at midnight last night to strike for an increase of 4 to 6 cents an hour and new working conditions. There has been no disorder so far.

PRAISE METHODS OF HARVESTER "TRUST"

More Witnesses for International Are Heard at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Further corroboration of testimony already given relative to the "fair and businesslike" methods of competition employed by the International Harvester company was given today when the hearing before Special Examiner Robert S. Taylor of the government's suit to dissolve the alleged "trust" was resumed.

Implement dealers handling independent lines and appearing as witnesses for the defense have testified to an open market, and have asserted that machines manufactured before the organization of the International are outclassed by those placed on the market by the combination.

Among the witnesses were C. A. Haas of Minneapolis, northwestern general agent of the Janesville Machinery company, which comes into competition with the International in the sale of several kinds of tillage tools, especially disc harrows, and A. P. Stephens, a farmer of Baldwin, Wis., who furnished a list with the cost of all farm machinery he used.

GREAT NORTHERN HAS TITLE TO ORE DOCKS.

Title to the ore docks at Allouez bay was today transferred from the Allouez Bay Dock company to the Great Northern railroad. This is in line with the new policy of the Great Northern road to do away with subsidiary corporations as far as possible.

LOCKOUT IN BUILDING WORK.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 10.—A lockout involving approximately 2,500 men employed in building trades will begin next Monday, according to statements by members of the Building Construction Employers' association. Many buildings in course of construction have been delayed by the contractors not being able to arrive at a satisfactory basis of agreement as to jurisdiction. The builders now say they will employ non-union labor to complete their contracts.

CHINA ACCEPTS POWERS' LOAN.

Pekin, May 10.—The bankers representing the five powers—Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Japan—relative to the loan of $125,000,000 to China, have been notified by the minister of finance of China's final acceptance of the loan. The first advance will be made at once.

Postcards to Be Green.

Washington, May 10.—Penny postal cards will be green hereafter, as is the practice in many foreign countries. Postmaster General Burleson has signed an order for the change.

Funk Heads Rumley Co.

New York, May 10.—The election of C. S. Funk as president of the Rumley company, manufacturers of agricultural implements, was announced by the interests financing that corporation. Mr. Funk was for six years general manager of the International Harvester company.

Settle Gettysburg Route.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee in charge of the trip of the North Dakota veterans to the Gettysburg reunion has determined on the official route. The Flickertail veterans, probably 300 in number, will leave here June 27 or 28 over the Northern Pacific to St. Paul. They will travel over the Milwaukee to Chicago and over the Pennsylvania east of the Windy City.

Manahan Among Speakers.

Madison, Wis., May 10.—It is announced that Congressman James Manahan of Minneapolis, James A. Frear of Hudson and I. L. Lenroot of Superior will be the speakers at the Republican state banquet here on May 14. S. H. Cady of Green Bay will preside.

Triplets Born in Le Sueur.

Le Sueur, Minn., May 10.—Triplets were born recently to Mrs. George Puffpaff, residing near Lake Jefferson in Le Sueur county. All are girls. Mrs. Puffpaff and her three new daughters are doing splendidly according to report.

SHRINERS GAY.

Hold Celebration in New Orleans on Way to Dallas.

New Orleans, La., May 10.—Many delegations of Shriners, en route to Dallas for the annual conclave, started their yearly festivities here yesterday and today had a parade. The visitors last night were enlisted in the aid of raising a milk fund to be used in feeding New Orleans babies this summer. Milk cans were carried about the streets and citizens commanded to hold up their hands at the points of toy pistols.

Californians Bear Gifts.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—Carrying with them half a carload of oranges, 10 packages of raisins, 10,000 packages of figs and 100 cases of wines, all of which will be given away, a party of Shriners representing Los Angeles, San Diego and Hawaii left here last night on their annual pilgrimage to Mecca, which, in the present instance, is Dallas, Tex. The party has a special train of eleven cars. Instead of bearing the regulation signal lights on the rear, the last coach has an electrically illuminated legend: "I love you, California."

FORTUNE IN FEES.

San Diego dispatch in the Los Angeles Examiner: Held eighteen months as witnesses in a smuggling case before the United States district court at Los Angeles, three Chinese, Doc Yook, Wah Sung and See Chew, were taken recently from the San Diego county jail to Los Angeles by Harry Piace, deputy United States marshal.

According to custom of paying detained witnesses $1 a day, these Celestials will have a roll of about $540 each when they get released, or $1,620 in the trio.

They were held in detention following an order for their deportation, so they probably will not have an opportunity of spending the money in this county, which will prove all the merrier for them when they arrive in the new republic, where an American dollar is reputed to be able to buy a carload of yen.

In addition to having accumulated such wealth in idleness and on full feed they will have free transportation home, where it is presumed they will disembark as relatively rich as several Mr. Croesuses. Their conquest of an American jail may then become a legend of the rice fields and a tradition of pride in the generations of their families.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

THE city commissioners and the park board of Muskogee, Okla., are working out a plan to beautify the city by making lawns of the vacant lots. The city proposes to sow Bermuda grass on all of the vacant property over which it exercises control and a committee has been appointed to canvass the owners of vacant lots in the downtown districts and get them to agree to sow grass on those lots this spring and keep it closely cropped.

Before the city sows Bermuda grass seed the officials will make it a point to see that all yards and vacant lots have been cleaned up. When that has been done the appearance of the city will be considerable improved. Making lawns of vacant lots is an excellent program if it can be carried out, but much preliminary work is necessary. Tin cans and old lumber are not fertile any more than they are pretty and when certain property owners have to be forced to remove eye-sores of the first sort, it is difficult to imagine what kind of degree of moral suasion would have to be used on them to have them sow grass seed and maintain lawns.

BROOK TROUT CAUSE CANCER, IT IS SAID

Society for Study and Prevention of the Disease Is Planned.

Washington, May 10.—Plans for the formation of a society for the study and prevention of cancer are announced here by Frederick L. Hoffman, a director of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which closed its annual meeting yesterday. The new health body will work along lines already found effective by the tuberculosis fighters, much of the effort being of an educational nature.

Mr. Hoffman announced that there would be a meeting in New York next week of a committee to formulate definite plans for the society.

Mr. Hoffman said that while much is still to be learned concerning the disease, certain known facts make the work of prevention to some extent possible. He added that from corsets worn by women, heat on the lips from the stem of a clay pipe, growths caused by tar by those in the pitch industry, the eating of too hot food and of brook trout are among the known and probable causes of the disease.

SOCIALIST GAINS ON VOTE RECOUNT

Harriman May Get on Los Angeles Ticket After All.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—A mistake in vote counting may change the political situation here in connection with the mayoralty election next month.

At the primaries last Tuesday John Shenk, Progressive candidate, and H. H. Rose, Independent, obtained places on the ticket, while Job Harriman, Socialist, was eliminated. The recount has uncovered an instance where Rose had been given 932 votes which should have been credited to Harriman. As Rose's vote by precincts was 21,137 and Harriman's 20,353, this increase for Harriman, if not offset in the entire official recount, will give the Socialist a place on the ticket.

AAD TEMPLE PATROL WILL TAKE PART IN COMPETITIVE DRILL IN FARGO

OFFICERS OF PATROL OF AAD TEMPLE, NOBLES OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE.

The members of the patrol of Aad temple of Duluth, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, are rapidly completing preparations for the pilgrimage which they and other local Shriners will make to Fargo on June 5. The patrol will take part in a drill contest which will be held there during the two days that they and other Masons will spend in the North Dakota metropolis, and with the object of bringing back the bacon, the patrol is drilling almost nightly. It is rapidly being whipped into a degree of perfection which, it is believed, will "cop the coin."

The officers of the patrol, whose pictures appear above, are among the most active in getting things ready for the visit. Fargo will have three days of a Masonic home-coming and a Shrine festival, and many features are being arranged for the entertainment of the city's guests. Shriners from all parts of the Northwest will attend and there will be many patrols present to take part in the big parade of the morning of the opening day and in the drill which will take place during the meeting.

High School Notes

During the chapel period Monday morning the students of the high school were treated to an interesting and instructive lecture on Carleton college by Prof. L. T. Hedley, instructor of philosophy at that institution. The address was accompanied by lantern slide views showing the several buildings and the college campus. Every activity in which the students are interested was discussed with slides depicting the life of the students. The speaker stated that Carleton collage has many valuable instruments used in the study of the sciences and other studies included in the curriculum, and pictures of these were shown with explanations of their use and purposes. An interesting talk by Prof. Hedley, setting forth the advantages of a college education preceded the lecture.

The A and B honor lists for April were read in chapel Monday morning by the principal. The lists were unusually long, and were the last of the monthly honor lists, the next roll to be read at the end of school, being the records for the whole year. Principal Young brought before the students the fact that but one month remains in the school year, and he urged the boys and girls to work hard and direct their efforts toward the completion of their work, so that at the end of the year their studies may not be found within the pale of condition.

The regular weekly meeting of the stump was held Thursday afternoon in Prof. Olsen's room. In the absence of President Jesse Cohen, the session was moderated by Irving Grover. The monthly election of officers resulted in the unanimous re-election of President Cohen, Vice President Grover, and Secretary-treasurer Oliver Vivian.

The bill pertaining to the fortification of the Panama canal was next brought before the club for discussion, but as none of the framers of the resolution were in attendance, the bill was put back on the calendar.

Plans relative to the annual banquet, will e held next Friday evening were discussed. Albert Armstrong, chairman of the social committet is at the head of the committee on arrangements. Steps will be taken to perpetuate this feature of the club's activities.

The members of the Zenith board met Monday afternoon and perfected plans relative to a dance which will be given by the board at the Oatka branch of the boat club on Friday evening, May 23. A slight deficiency in the fund available for the Zenith has occasioned the raising of the necessary money, and the dance proposition, suggested by several of the seniors, was given the support of the board. The coming function was announced yesterday by Principal Leonard Young and the students are manifesting a great deal of interest in regard to it.

The senior trigonometry students have perfected the organization of a club which will be known as the Thallan society. Its purpose is to create in the students a broader and more active interest in higher mathematics. The following officers were elected at the first meeting: President, Miss Agnes E. Wells; vice president, Mabel Harker; secretary and treasurer, Frances Dever. An initiation will be held Friday, May 23, when several juniors will be instructed in the Thallan secrets.

• • •

A novel plan will be instituted by the girls in the junior class in an effort to raise money to put the class finances on a substantial basis. The idea embraces the making and donating, by the junior girls, of candy which will be sold to the students next Friday. A large number of girls have consented to produce the candy and as the other classes are evincing an unusual interest in the affair, it is generally conceded that the sale will aid materially in filling the coffers of the class.

The first of the interclass baseball games was played Thursday afternoon between the sophomores and juniors and resulted in a 20 to 6 victory for the third-year students. The game was fast and brought out some good playing. For the first few innings the play was comparatively even, but after that the upper class men began to solve the southpaw delivery of Williams, the sophomore twirler, and took advantage of his offerings in a manner most convincing. The senior-freshmen game which was scheduled for last Wednesday and postponed on account of the weather, will be played on Monday afternoon at the Twelfth avenue and London road diamond. The first-year men are working hard in preparation for this important game and as some good men are included in the freshmen squad, they are entertaining high hopes of victory.

The regular monthly meeting of the Commercial club was held yesterday afternoon in the commercial department. President Ray Jacobson presided. The routine matter was disposed of and then preparation for turning the club over to the juniors were discussed. One, or possibly two more meetings will be held before the society disbands for the year.

The first of the final examinations for the second semester have made their appearance and the rest of the "exams" in the various studies may be expected at any time before the end of the school term.

According to the annual report of the Y. M. C. A. for the year which closed April 30, there was a total of 1,597 members enrolled in the institution. At the close of the year in 1912 there were 1,479 members, making a gain of 118 during the past twelve months. The 400 members of the boys' department are not included in this list.

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In most any community there's a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. It was her experience and recommendation that led so many expectant mothers to derive the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

It is applied externally to the abdomen, stomach and breasts, allays all pain, avoids all nausea, and prevents caking of the breasts.

It is quickly and wonderfully penetrating so that the muscles expand without strain, and prepare the system so thoroughly that the crisis is passed almost without the slightest distress.

No better advice can be given the expectant mother than to suggest the use of Mother's Friend. She takes courage from the start. The days will be cheerful, the nights restful.

You can obtain Mother's Friend of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. Do not forget to be supplied with this great help to motherhood. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 233 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their instructive book for expectant mothers.

TEA PARTY ON WHITE HOUSE LAWN.

Washington, May 10.—Washington society, official folk and their friends were entertained from 5 to 7 o'clock last evening at tea on the lawn fronting the south side of the White House by President and Mrs. Wilson.

Threatening skies spread apprehension through the groups of the fashionably dressed, but the expected shower never came. The president and Mrs. Wilson received the guests, while their daughters, members of the cabinet and their families mingled with the visitors. After the first formalities of the reception the president moved about on the lawn greeting his friends. Vice President Marshall, Chief Justice White and members of the supreme court, diplomats and many members of congress were present, but the invitation list contained only a part of the congressional circle, two other garden parties being set for May 16 and May 23.

MODART CORSETS
"THE IMPROVED FRONT LACED".

—ARE—

HEALTHFUL CORSETS

A CORSET should be comfortable from the moment it is put on. It should fit snugly under the arms and across the back. There should be room, plenty of it, for bust and diaphram. It should lace in front to avoid all pressure of heavy steels on the spine. It should retain its lines until it is worn out, so it must be made of very good materials and must be boned with extra flexible steels, rubber covered to prevent rusting. To be acceptable it must have graceful shapely lines to improve the appearance of its wearer and conserve her figure.

MODART CORSETS

have these qualities—every one of them. Fourteen different styles meet the requirements of differing figures—but—you cannot realize the improvement in your appearance until you try on a MODART. Let our Corset Department select a proper model for your figure, fit it on and you be the judge of the improvement, for it will be apparent.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Great Circus Held for Benefit of the Men's Union.

Professors Are Given a Patent on Gyro-Action Exercising Apparatus.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every year there has been held at the university one great show which has characterized that year. Four years ago an indoor carnival was given, then the mammoth May fete which has been characterized as the greatest thing of its time ever produced at any college. Last year the "Aggies" held a county fair on the agricltural college campus, and this year it is the circus.

The world's greatest circus was produced on Northrop field on Friday and Saturday nights an dSaturday afternoon of this week. The athletic field was completely taken up with the main tent and the numerous smaller tents of the side-shows and booths.

The big event of the show was the menagerie. Every fraternity and organization on the campus entered a beast. The beasts exhibited rivaled anything ever seen by prehistoric man, and much beyond anything ever conceived of by the post-impressionists. The prizes, a silver cup and a banner, have not as yet been awarded. In the three rings under the "main top," the acrobats, clowns, equestrinne bare-back riders, bicycle riders, and dare-devil performers, all performed in thrilling circus fashion. During the perfomance a group of cabaret singers passed through the tent singing and selling peanuts.

Dr. J. L. Cooke of the department of physical culture, managed the circus for the Men's union, to whom the proceeds will go. The money will be used to furnish the new men's building.

Profs. Newkirk and Zellner of the engineering department have just been granted a patent on a gyro-action exercising apparatus. The device is a by-product of their study of the gyroscope, and is said to be of great importance to modern engineering in that it is a practical application of the natural laws of rotation. These men have made an extensive study of the gyroscope and the monorail car, miniature steamships and monorallways have been made by them for experimental work.

A revival of the good old-fashioned basket social and bowery dance is the latest form of entertainment devised by the general social committee of the senior class. This will be in the nature of a class picnic, and will be held on the campus of the agricultural college. In the afternoon games will be played by the children, and in the evening the orchestra will play real bowery music. Several new dances will be exhibited that night for the first time, having been originally devised by some of the most proficient Tango artists on the campus.

Plans for university extension courses for next year include the beginning of an entirely new field of state university training which will include young men and women actively engaged in business. Twenty-five bankers and business men have been asked to direct about 2,500 people, employed in the Twin Cities, in acquiring greater knowledge and efficiency along practical business lines. This will be done in co-operation with faculty members of the economics and political science departments and conducted along the same lines as the business extension courses of the school of commerce of Northwestern, New York and Cincinnati universities.

The object is to give practical training in the various phases of modern business and to help employes gain promotion without having to put in so much time at labor to gain the necessary knowledge. Minneapolis being the metropolis of the Northwest, offers very favorable opportunities for the study of the organization and efficient operation of great mercantile and commercial establishments. Courses will be offered in accounting, commercial law, money, banking and finance, stocks, bonds and investments, economic resources and foreign trade, taxation, problems of modern business organization and administration, advertising and salesmanship, fire and life insurance and merchandising. The courses will be under the supervision of bankers, merchants, wholesalers, salesmen, prominent attorneys, the Minnesota Society of Public Accountants, and professors of the univertity.

• • •

A great popular professor contest is being conducted among the seniors. Every senior has one vote, some took more, naming his choice as to who is the most popular professor on the campus.

• • •

A man of national prominence is being sought by President Vincent for head of the school of architectural engineering which will be established next year.

• • •

At the last meeting of the board of regents a new course in music wag proposed, which will lead to the degree of bachelor of arts in music. The course will include four years' study of musical subjects, special attention being given to violin, piano and pipe organ. If the new plan is adopted, a number of instructors will be secured and the new course opened in the fall.

• • •

At the big May day party last week Miss Katherine Leland of Minneapolis was elected Queen of the May. Miss Dorothy Davis of Duluth was third in the running.

• • •

The Minnesota Magazine yesterday elected Miss Barbara Pecor of Duluth to the editorial board. Election to the "Mag" is the highest recognition of literary merit at the "U."

NEW AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING BUILDING IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Will Be Ready for Summer School at University of Minnesota Next Month---New Shops Will Accommodate 700 Students By Crowding.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new agricultural engineering building of the University of Minnesota will be completed for use by the summer school which opens June 16, if plans announced by Dean A. F. Woods of the college of agriculture, Prof. A. V. Storm in charge of the summer session, and Prof. J. T. Stewart in charge of agricultural engineering, are carried out. Painting is now being done as rapidly as possible and wiring for electricity will be the next step.

This is one of the few buildings in the United States constructed solely for instruction in agricultural engineering. This work has been so cramped in the past that students who fell behind in blacksmithing and carpentering could not put in extra hours but were compelled to remain during vacation for the completion of their required work. The new shops will make it possible to accommodate 700 students by extreme crowding, but its seventy forges and seventy benches will more comfortably accommodate 350 students per week and make it possible for slower students to put in extra hours.

Although the building is intended ultimately for the sole use of the division of agricultural engineering, the congested condition in other divisions, due to the rapid growth in number of students, makes it necessary to use a considerable part of the first floor for instruction in other lines. This floor has one small classroom, accommodating about thirty-five students at a time and five larger classrooms accommodating from eighty-five to 165 students. The second floor has two large classrooms and one small room, in addition to a number of offices. The third floor is entirely devoted to well-lighted rooms for instruction in mechanical drawing and will accommodate at least 200 students.

The basement is well equipped with rooms for testing materials of construction of special machinery and with shower baths and other facilities for students returning from the forge-rooms, carpenter shops and similar work. The forgerooms are in a separate low wing, cut off from the remainder of the building in such a way that the smoke from them will not be troublesome.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

(From the Woman's Home Journal.)

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in the morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effectual.

OLD PRACTICE IS ABOLISHED

A law, which was passed at the last session of the legislature and one which affects every business man in the country, is that of causing chattel mortgages, bills of sales of chattels, and conditional sales contracts to be filed with the register of deeds instead of with the village, township or city clerks, as has been the practice in the past.

The law becomes effective on July 1 and all city, village and township clerks are required to put their records in shape and take them to the register of deeds on June 30 next. After the law becomes operative the papers will go direct to the register of deeds for filing and will no longer be accepted for filing in the local offices. The law does not cover the filing of assignments of wages and since they are not required to be filed to make them legal the practice will no doubt in time become inoperative. At present nearly every transaction of this nature goes to the village or city clerk for filing but only through a practice instituted several years ago. Chattel mortgages and conditional sales contracts have always been filed to perfect and protect them legally, but bills of sale and assignments have only been filed at the option of the owner.

The new law is bound to be of considerable annoyance in the beginning, but after once understood and as soon as it becomes a practice it will work the same as it does in other states. North Dakota, for instance, has had the law in effect for several years and bankers, business men and others requiring a copy for their files, instead of going to the city clerk for their information, have fallen into the habit of taking a copy, uncertified, at the time the mortgage is made and this method perfects their files for handy reference.

The law effective July 1 provides a fee for the register for taking care of the new business and for certified copies, should any be wished.

Tobacco Habit Easily Conquered

A well-known New Yorker who had wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit can be easily banished in three days without any return of the craving.

The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits. No more of that nervous feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette or chewing tobacco to pacify the morbid desire. The author, Edw. J. Woods, 534 Sixth Ave., 899 E New York City, will send his book free on application, to anyone who writes to him.

SEVENTH STREET Property Owners

Notice is hereby given that a meeting will be held by the Commissioners in the Council Chamber of the City Hall of the City of Duluth on Monday at 9 o'clock A. M. at which all property owners interested in the improvement of Seventh street from Fourth avenue west to Chester park are invited to be present.

C. S. PALMER, Clerk.

D. H., May 9-10, 1913. D 782.

WILL CONTRIBUTE $900 TO LABORATORY

The city will contribute $900 towards the maintenance of the state laboratory in Duluth. The health department will continue to pay $600 per year for the service and Comissioner Merritt is willing that $300 a year should come from his department, as daily an analysis of city water is made to insure the purity of the city drinking supply. Health Director Webster estimates that $2,000 would be required to establish a city laboratory, while the cost of maintenance would be about $3,000 a year, including the services of the bacteriologist.

MOVIES CAPTURE CHICAGO THEATERS

Colonial, McVickers and Olympic Give Up the "Legitimate."

Chicago, May 10.—The rapid contraction of the legitimate theatrical field in Chicago, largely reflected in the expansion of the "movies," has been emphasized by the Colonial theater being leased for five years to a firm presenting film productions. The Colonial is one of the most pretentious playhouses in Chicago. Day before yesterday the historic McVickers theater went the same road. The big Olympic theater preceded them in the exhibition of moving pictures recently.

These developments are the result principally of an agreement recently entered into by some of the principal theatrical magnates who sought to curtail the competition which has resulted in the over-construction of theaters, not only in the metropolitan cities, but in similar centers throughout the United States. Chicago is regarded as "a good show town," but last winter there were so many theaters in operation that only productions of unusual popularity could attract paying audiences. Passes were abolished, but it didn't help much. Recently Powers theater, the scene of many high-class plays, placed on sale for 50 cents all seats unsold at 7:30 o'clock.

CLUB MINSTRELS SCORE A HIT

Amateur Production at the Commercial Club Entertains Big Audience.

Snappy chorus work, good singing and well thought out comedy, were features of the Commercial club minstrel show given at the club last evening for members and their ladies. The room was filled.

The company was billed as the Amtsbuechler and Strassburger Minstrel association and was made up of members of the club. Hans B. Haroldson was interlocutor and the end men were G. Roy Hall, W. H. Bell, O. E. Amtsbuechler and Stanley Lamb.

The dining room of the club was transformed into a theater. The show opened with a typical minstrel scene, and, after the opening chorus, a program of solos was given, with interpolated "gags," in which the end men created amusement at the expense of other members of the club. Miss Valborg Gunderson gave a violin solo and R. L. Vilas entertained with a sleight-of-hand performance. J. A. Sinclair gave an impersonation.

The last scene represented the annual meeting of the club. The officers of the clubs and committees were impersonated by the minstrels and the speeches were a scream.

LAKESIDE AFTER IMPROVEMENTS

Residents Want Pavements and Seven-Minute Car Service.

The Lakeside Improvement club held its first meeting since February at the old town hall last night, but it made up for lost time by disposing of an accumulation of business.

The first step was taken toward having Superior street paved from the golf grounds to Sixtieth avenue east. President W. M. Gravatt appointed a committee to confer with the property owners and learn their views.

Another committee was appointed to confer with officials of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad in regard to a right of way for the widening of Superior street from Forty-fourth to Fifty-fourth avenues.

The club wants a seven-minute service in the morning and a ten or fifteen-minute service during the day on the street railway instead of the present ten-minute service during the morning and twenty-minute service during the day. A committee will take the matter up with the Street Railway company.

Another committee will endeavor to have the gutters improved, especially on Superior and Robinson streets between Forty-third and Forty-seventh avenues.

Meetings of the club will be held every two months during the summer. The committees appointed last evening will report at the next meeting.

WILLIAM DEARY DIES.

Former Resident of Duluth Succumbs in Potlatch, Idaho.

William Deary, 60 years old, who resided in Duluth about fifteen years ago, died yesterday at Potlatch, Idaho, where he had been in business since he left this city.

Mr. Deary was one of the pioneer residents of Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, having come here when but 20 years old. He entered the lumber business and soon became a powerful factor in this part of the country. He was in business in Duluth for many years.

After leaving Duluth Mr. Deary entered into the lumber business in Idaho and at his death was manager of the Potlatch Lumber company, one of the largest in the West. Henry Turrish of this city is president of the company and was at the bedside of Mr. Deary when he died. He will also attend the funeral.

Mr. Deary is survived by a widow and three children. They are: Marie, who is attending school in the East; William, a student in an Eastern college, and Helen, who is at home. He is also survived by Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood of this city, a cousin by marriage; Patrick and Henry Agnew of Superior, brothers-in-law, and Mrs. John Chisholm of Superior, a cousin by marriage.

URGE WILSON TO VETO SUNDRY BILL.

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson told some of his callers yesterday that he would sign the sundry civil bill as it passed the house and senate, but strong pressure is being brought to bear to induce the president to change his mind. Mr. Wilson's own friends and advisers are divided on the issue and some have told him they side with President Taft, who vetoed the same measure because he regarded it as class legislation because of the provision in it exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecutions from funds set aside for the enactment of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The impression that came from some of the president's callers was that while he would sign the bill, it would be with a protest outlining his objections against the attaching of any such legislation in the future to supply bills.

BRYAN PRAISES THE WILSON PEACE PLAN

Secretary of State Talks at Banquet of Treaty Commission.

New York, May 10.—W. J. Bryan, speaking at a dinner given last night in honor of the foreign members of the international conference that is arranging the celebration of 100 years of peace among English-speaking peoples, declared that "the new peace plan offered by President Wilson to all nations is the latest and longest step toward peace.

"It contemplates time for investigation and deliberation," he said, "and this makes the possibility of war remote."

Mr. Bryan's subject was "Progress Toward Peace." He said that the part of the United States in the cause must, of necessity, be large, because "more than any other nation it has a population which is attached by blood to nearly all other nations."

Peace for all time between the United States and Great Britain, was the keynote of other addresses of the evening, delivered by Lord Weardale, chairman of the English delegation; Sir Edmund Walker of Canada, Sir George Houston Reid of Australia and Judge George Gray of Delaware.

The function marked the last of many that have engaged the delegates here during the last week. Flags of Great Britain, the United States, Canada, Australia and Belgium, where the Treaty of Ghent was signed in 1814, decorated the banquet hall.

Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, was toastmaster. At his left sat the new British ambassador, Sir Arthur Cecil Spring-Rice, and on his right, M. Da Gama, the Brazilian ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps at Washington. The members of the diplomatic corps, Ambassador Page, members of the foreign delegations, United States senators, judges from several states and the governors of two states were at the speakers' table.

CREW OF STEAMER PERISH IN FIRE.

Vancouver, B. C., May 10.—Hemmed in by flames which started from some unknown cause, the crew of the steamer Ophir, which sailed from Vancouver Thursday night and tied up near Ladner, in the Fraser river, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the vessel. The Ophir was a wooden steamer of 200 tons dead weight capacity, and owned by the Lincoln Steamship company. She was employed in carrying freight to points on the Fraser river.

JEWEL ROBBERY IN MEDICINE HAT.

Medicine Hat, Alta., May 10.—While one man stood on guard in front of the jewelry store of Stoddart & Nicholson, his companion entered a rear window and helped himself to $10,000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones and rings. The robbery was not reported to the police for several hours. No clew that might lead to the apprehension of the men has been found.

See Father in Movies.

Madrid, May 10.—Queen Victoria took her children to a cinematograph exhibition of pictures taken during King Alfonso's visit to Paris. The young princes and princesses recognized their father and applauded him loudly. This manifestation delighted the audience, who roundly cheered the royal party.

NO MENACE TO RETAIL MERCHANT

Tariff Will Not Hurt His Trade, Says Secretary of Commerce.

That the proposed tariff will not have a detrimental effect on the retail drygoods business is the basis of a letter received yesterday by John J. Moe & Sons company. The letter was sent by Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield to the headquarters of the National Retail Drygoods association, a copy of which was forwarded the local merchant.

The letter is as follows:

"Dear sir: I have your kind favor of 24th, and appreciate the courtesy of it. I am only able, amid many cares, at the present moment to say to you that I think there is no occasion for any alarm on the part of the retail drygoods trade as to the effects upon them of such adjustments as may follow the passage of the pending tariff measure. So far as any apprehension may exist it arises from a lack of understanding of the economic conditions necessitating reduction in the tariff. There seems no reason to me for expecting any present period of depression.

"On the contrary, the figures which will be made public by this department within a day or two, showing an increase in our sales of manufactured goods abroad of over $144,000,000 in the last nine months, would seem to show not only a gain in competing power with foreign manufacturers, but a business actually existing based upon that competing power which should fill every American with encouragement. Your very truly, (Signed)

"WILLIAM C. REDFIELD,
"Secretary."

CONFIRMATION AT MISSION CHURCH

Thirty-Seven Children in Class for Services Sunday Morning.

Confirmation services will be held for a class of thirty-seven children at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. A special program of music will be given by the choir and the confirmation society. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon communion services will be held and in the evening Rev. J. J. Daniels, pastor of the church, will preach a special sermon to the young people. The Sunday school will commence at 9:30 o'clock sharp tomorrow forenoon.

WOMEN TO RAISE FUND FOR HOME

Norwegian Institution for Aged Planned By West End Society.

Under the leadership of Mrs. John J. Moe, 2207 West Third street, women of the Norwegian churches of the city have instituted a movement for raising funds for the purchase or construction of a home for aged Norwegian people. The "Aftenro" (Evening Peace) society has been formed with Mrs. Moe as its president and this society is taking the initiative in establishing the home.

The first step in raising the funds was taken during the recent bazar given by the society last week at the Foresters' hall. Nearly $300 was netted for this purpose by the affair.

The society proposes to purchase or secure through donation a site for the home near the outskirts of the city. The home will, according to present plans, be devoted exclusively to Norwegian aged people.

Mrs. Moe, who is the originator of the idea, as well as president of the society, has interested women of the Norwegian Lutheran churches, the Unitarian church and the Norwegian-Danish Methodist churches of the city in the scheme. Among the women who are giving their assistance in making the scheme a success are: Mrs. H. Hovde, Mrs. Odin Halden, Mrs. H. P. Bjorge and Mrs. Anton Ringsred.

PASTOR WILL VISIT PRESBYTERIAN CONFERENCE.

Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church will leave Monday for Chicago where he will visit "The World" the exhibit being made by the joint missionary societies of America which is held there this month.

The local pastor will be gone about three weeks. While away he will visit the Pan-Presbyterian conference at Atlanta, Ga. The meeting of the four great Presbyterian societies of America will be held jointly in the Southern city.

E. E. Williams, 1709 West Second street, and Rev. Frank Higgins, better known as "The Lumberjack Sky-Pilot" are the regular delegates to the convention from the Duluth Presbytery. They will leave for the convention the latter part of this week.

SOCIETY WILL CONVENE HERE

Members of Scandinavian Benefit Association Will Meet in Duluth.

Plans for entering the sixteenth annual convention of the Scandinavian Help and Aid society were made last evening at a meeting of the lodge. A general committee and sub-committees were appointed to take care of all the necessary arrangements.

The convention will be held at the Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street on June 3, 4, 5 and 6. It is expected that there will be about 100 regular delegates as well as several hundred members of the order present.

The entertainments proposed for the visitors include a boulevard drive followed by a "sillsexan" at the hall on June 4. On the evening on June 5 a banquet is planned to be held in the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue and First street. A boat ride up the river and a trip to the steel plant are also proposed.

The executive committees appointed are: Oscar Peterson, chairman; Louis Lavine, John Carlson, Charles Edgren and Joseph Olson.

The other committees are as follows: Banquet, Joseph Olson, chairman; Charles Boostrom, Edward Olson, Gust Anderson, Charles Edstrom and Gust Carlson; entertainment, Charles Mork, chairman; Louis Lavine and Charles Boostrom; reception and hotels, Gust Carlson, chairman; Carl Hogstrom, and K. A. Franklin; program, Louis Lavine, chairman; Gust Anderson and J. W. Hellstrom.

This will be the second time that the local lodge has entertained the grand lodge of the order. Six years ago the convention was held in this city under its auspices. The local lodge has the largest membership of any single lodge of the society in the country, its membership totaling over 350.

Song Service.

A special song service will be given tomorrow morning at the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. Mrs. David Adams is in charge of the program. Aev. George E. Silloway will preach a "Hother's Day" sermon.

BABY WILL BE SAFE WITH MOTHER AT CHURCH.

Mothers of the West end will be relieved of the care of babies while attending the special Mothers' day services tomorrow morning at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street. Miss Myrtle Craig, superintendent of the Sunday school's cradle roll, has made arrangements to take care of the babies, several of the young ladies of the congregation having volunteered their services.

The Sunday school has an enrollment of between forty and fifty babies and a special invitation has been sent out by Miss Craig to the mothers to be sure and bring the little ones. The Mothers' day sermon will be given by Rev. J. A. McGaughey at 10:30 o'clock.

Dies of Tuberculosis.

Carl Stahbrodt, 30 years old, died yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stahbrodt of Hermantown, following a long illness of tuberculosis. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence with interment in the Union cemetery of Hermantown.

Will Confirm Class.

A class of nineteen members will be confirmed by the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. This service will be held in the Bethany Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. Communion service will be held in the evening, when the class confirmed will partake of the Lord's Supper for the first time. There will also be a reception of members at this service. Sunday school will be held as usual at 12 o'clock, but no morning service will be held.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. Franklin Brown, 2716 West Second stret, entertained last evening at her home at a bundle shower in honor of Miss Eva Mae Adams, whose wedding to Ewald W. Lund will take place next week. Twenty guests were present. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Special music and a sermon will be given at the Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street in observance of Mothers' day. Rev. Swaney Nelson will preach.

L. A. Simonson, 2102 West Superior street, has returned from a short visit at Two Harbors.

Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of the St. Peter's Episcopal church will hold English services at the church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The services will be in Swedish in the evening.

Pupils of the Adams school entertained at a literary program in the school yesterday afternoon for the Mothers' club of the Adams school district. The program included recitations, songs and fancy drills.

Don't fail to take a cleansing, purifying spring remedy. You'll feel a great deal better. Hollister's R. M. Tea—a tonic, a purifier, a physic. 35c. Lion drug store.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD WILL ENTERTAIN

Camp No. 5 Woodmen of the World is making elaborate preparation for the entertainment of all the members of the Woodmen of the World and Woodmen Circle of Duluth and Superior and their friends at their hall, in Old Masonic temple, Wednesday evening. Addresses by prominent speakers of both orders and musical and elocutionary numbers have been arranged.

Among the out-of-town guests will be: Gen. John W. Geiger, head consul, jurisdiction of Iowa Woodmen of the World and Mrs. Mary E. La Rocca, chairman supreme board of managers, Woodmen Circle.

The evening's festivities will close with an informal dancing party.

The committee having the arrangements in charge consists of: Sovereigns T. A. Sloan, J. A. Logan, George Beck, Jr., Fred Miller, Richard Marden and Oscar M. Holmes.

GLOVER APOLOGIZES AT BAR OF HOUSE

Millionaire Is Arraigned for Contempt for Striking Sims.

Washington, May 10.—Charles C. Glover, the Washington banker who recently attacked Representative Sims of Tennessee on account of a speech delivered in the house, was brought before the bar of the house late yesterday and reprimanded by Speaker Clark for violating the privileges of the house. A resolution authorizing the banker's arrest had been adopted a few minutes before with only a few dissenting votes.

When brought in by the sergeant-at-arms, Glover read an apology saying that his act was committed under great stress of feeling and that he did not know he was affronting the house.

This was the first time in nearly forty years that an outsider had been arraigned before the house for contempt. The assault occurred in Farragut square on April 18, when Representative Sims and Mr. Glover met for the first time after the former had made a speech in the house severely criticizing Mr. Glover in connection with the proposed sale of certain District of Columbia real estate to the government.

Offered an Apology.

During the debate on the report of the committee which investigated the incident, Mr. Glover waited in the office of the sergeant-at-arms. He was brought in as soon as the resolution was adopted, and arraigned before the speaker's rostrum. When asked whether he desired to make a defense and be represented by counsel, the banker admitted the facts as recited in the resolution, but earnestly disclaimed any intention of violating the privileges of the house.

"I express deep regret and offer my apology," he concluded.

Then Representative Crisp of Georgia offered a resolution authorizing the reprimand. He urged that reprimands had always been the penalty in such cases, except in an aggravated case many years ago.

Speaker Clark delivered the reprimand solemnly and deliberately.

"The freedom of speech and immunity from question on words spoken in the senate and house," he said, "lie at the root of our institutions. Assaulting a member of congress for words spoken in debate might compel a good man, who does not want to kill anybody, to perform that very act."

RAWN INSURANCE MUST BE PAID.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—A verdict for $20,300 was returned in favor of Mrs. Ira G. Rawn, widow of a former vice president of the Illinois Central railway and later president of the Monon railway, against one of a number of insurance companies she is suing to collect on policies of her late husband. Rawn died at his home near Chicago, the widow contending he was shot by burglars, the insurance companies that he committed suicide. The verdict was the second in favor of Mrs. Rawn. The trial of the first case resulted in the jury granting the widow $14,600.

TELLS OF ESCAPE BY SEWER FROM PRISON

Glyde Stratton, Notorious Convict, Admits His Identity.

Peoria, Ill., May 10.—Clyde Stratton, the notorious convict who made a sensational escape from the government prison at Leavenworth on March 29 by crawling through a half mile of sewer, and who is now under arrest at Pekin, Ill., on a charge of burglary, has confessed that he is the man wanted at Leavenworth prison. Stratton further admitted that he was familiar with the details of the robbery of the diamond merchant Logue in Chicago, and that he was an automobile bandit in Chicago for four days.

Stratton's identification was effected through the efforts of Sheriff A. F. Fluegel at Pekin. Stratton was arrested a few days ago near Danvers, Ill., where he and a companion were accused of robbing a store at Mackinaw, Ill. The booty taken from the Mackinaw store was found in their possession. It was identified by the proprietor of the store. Stratton and his companion were then removed to the Tazewell county jail at Pekin.

Sheriff Fluegel looked over the pictures in his rogues' gallery and found one of Stratton. Stratton at first refused to talk, but finally admitted he was the man who crawled through the sewer and escaped from the Leavenworth prison.

Tells of His Career.

Stratton, in talking of his career, said:

"I was sent up from Indianapolis by the Federal court for robbing a post-office at McCool, Ind. I had been in the prison but a short time when I decided to make my escape through the sewer. I had confidence in this method after I had previously made my getaway from the Columbus, Ohio, state prison on two different occasions.

"My first arrest occurred at Mansfield, Ohio. I was sent to the reformatory in 1904, but I escaped shortly afterward. Two companions started to make the trip through the sewer at Leavenworth, but after going some fifty feet, turned back. I made my way through the 18-inch sewer for half a mile, and finally came to the end. The sewer gas seemed to affect my two companions, but it didn't affect me, and I didn't feel any the worse for the trip. I secured a suit of clothes from a farmer and made my way to Chicago within a few days."

Released in Chicago.

Stratton talked of the Logue robbery in Chicago and of the raids by the automobile bandits. He admitted knowing Webb, and said that he tried the business for four nights, but couldn't get away with it. He was arrested in Chicago as a suspect, but was released. He then made his way to Peoria. He admits robbing a farm house near Allentown, Ill., a store at Tremont, Ill., a store at Mackinaw, Ill., and a store at Danvers, Ill.

Sheriff Fluegel said it was the intention of the Tazewell county authorities to hold the prisoner and try him on the charge of robbing the Mackinaw store.

SUPT. HEETER'S MOTHER DEAD.

North Manchester, Ind., May 10.—The mother of S. L. Heeter, the Pittsburg school superintendent recently acquitted in court of charges made against him by a domestic at his home, and now under investigation of charges of immorality, died yesterday at her home here. Her son has been at her bedside for several days. She has been ill for several months, but became worse when she learned of her son's trouble. It is believed here the matter hastened her death. She was 68 years old.

DEMOCRATS DELAY ORGANIZATION.

Washington, May 10.—The Democratic congressional committee last night acquiesced with the proposal for the postponement of a permanent organization pending conferences to consider an increase in the representation of senators on the committee. This decision was reached after a session devoted chiefly to speeches urging the necessity for the harmonious action of the Democrats in the next congressional campaign.

Some of those instrumental in bringing about the meeting urged the importance of providing for a great campaign of publicity in support of the Underwood tariff revision bill. They favored sending to the country, through the country newspapers, statements regarding the party record on the bill, and, among other things, the differing views of the minority in the house on the tariff.

Mail Steamer Wrecked.

Wellington, New Zealand, May 10.—The British mail steamer Indrabarha, which sailed from London Feb. 12 for Auckland, was wrecked yesterday on the Manajata coast. No details have been received here.

J. F. WEISSMILLER IN THE WHOLESALE PIANO BUSINESS

Well Known Piano Dealer Who Recently Quit Retail Piano Selling Opens New Establishment at 26 Lake Avenue North.

J. F. Weissmiller, who quit the piano business a short time ago after having been identified with that line in Duluth for several years, has re-entered business, this time, however, in the wholesale end. Mr. Weissmiller stated that when he quit business he fully intended to wind up his affairs in Duluth and place his collections in the hands of competent parties to handle for him, but he believes there is room for a successful wholesale piano house in Duluth, and recent developments here have opened such an opportunity ror him.

"I have made arrangements with the Baldwin Company to continue to handle the world renowned Baldwin line," said Mr. Weissmiller further, "comprising the Baldwin, Ellington, Hamilton, Howard and Monarch pianos and player pianos, the same as I had in the retail store, and in addition a number of other highest grade instruments, both pianos and player pianos, and will have selling connections second to none in the Northwest. My friends and those who have done business with me in the past will be largely benefited by this new arrangement for, selling at wholesale entirely outside of Duluth, I will be enabled to sell pianos and players locally at wholesale prices. I can do this for the reason that local sales will not be in any wise competition for the outside dealers who will buy pianos from me at wholesale.

"Taken, all in all, I think the new arrangement will prove very satisfactory to all concerned and the people here will be afforded an opportunity of buying high class pianos and players at wholesale prices.

"I shall maintain a complete organization and all collections and other business arising from my former retail store will be conducted from my new office and salesroom at 26 Lake avenue north."

CHILD BROKE OUT ALL OVER BODY

Small Ulcers on Face, Head and Arms. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Skin as if Nothing Had Been the Matter.

Leesville, Ohio.—"One of my little girls when four months old was vaccinated and it broke out in small ulcers all over her body.

There were a great many on her face, head and arms, particularly at first. They rose like bladders of water and every place her clothes happened to touch and break them, they got irritated and would rise in a mass. I can assure you it looked very unsightly and also made her fretful and cross and kept her from sleeping very long at a time, day and night. They must have pained her very much as she was all of a work while sleeping and mostly woke up crying.

"I had read about the good Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment had done for other little ones, so I decided to give them a trial and in two weeks' time my little girl's skin was as clean as if nothing had been the matter with it.

"Two summers ago my husband broke out all over his arms, shoulders and legs with eczema. Every time he washed or sweat a little it would burn and get as red as fire. He finally got two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. They completely cured him." (Signed) Mrs. M. J. Toose, Mar. 28, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

ON THE IRON RANGES

EVELETH REALTY CHANGES HANDS

Several Deals Reported in Range Village During Present Week.

Eveleth, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local real estate market is very active this spring. Residence properties are changing hands every day and a number of inquiries for modern dwelling houses moderately priced are still unfilled.

The following properties have changed hands this week:

Charles Pearod sold his residence on Jones street to V. E. Boardman, principal of the high school; consideration $3,000.

S. Lappi sold his house at 618 A avenue to Martin P. Friske, 619 A avenue; price $1,600.

Nels Aronquist, who has been living in the Adams location, has purchased a home in the city, at 703 A avenue.

Tony Pettinch has bought a house at 509 Lesser street from William Chappel, and Mr. Chappel has purchased the E. K. Medler residence on Jones street. The former house sold for $1,850 and the Medler property sold for $2,250.

Ed Burns of the Adams location has purchased the residence property at 511 Hill street from Anton Bauban, paying $250 for the same.

Bergan & Perham this week also sold the vacant lot on Pierce street, two doors from the city hall, for W. R. Van Slyke. The purchaser intends to improve it with a building. This firm has also sold the past week forty acres of land at Zim for the Iron Range company, to Eugene Nagle, who intends to develop the property into a farm.

John Elg has sold his house and lot on Harrison street to Erick Jackson.

FIVE KEEWATIN PEOPLE "FLOATED"

Forced to Leave Itasca County—"Kid" Neff Is Bound Over.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of the State vs Theodore (Kid) Neff, Charley Mason, Jessie Wilson, Verna Barr, Hope Starr, and Ollie West, all of Keewatin, charged with operating a house of ill fame, was heard Friday in Justice Kearney's court. All six entered pleas of not guilty.

Neff was bound over to the October grand jury, and the other five were ordered to leave the county within one week, or to prepare to face the grand jury in October. They preferred to do the former, and left town yesterday afternoon.

STAGING FALLS; ONE MAN KILLED

Two Injured Friday Evening in Lucky Boy Mine at Ely.

Ely, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Abraham Pietikalinen was killed and two of his companions injured when a bolt in the staging upon which they were working at the Lucky Boy mine gave away last night.

The men were timbering the shaft of the mine when the staging fell.

Mr. Pietikalinen was 30 years of age and had been married just one month. His two companions were not so badly injured although both were taken at once to the Shipman hospital. One of them walked to his home after his injuries were dressed, the other is confined at the hospital where his condition is improving.

VIRGINIA SPENT MUCH.

Virginia, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the fiscal year ending last month this city spent the large sum of $379,140.26, according to figures furnished by the clerk.

Among the heaviest items of expenditure were $50,548.36, for the new library; $35,182.13 for cement work completed during the previous year 1912 and $97,970.95 for street paving. All these items are for permanent improvement work and increases the value of the city. The upkeep of the city fire and police departments required $34,149.55 during the year and the parks cost $24,478.39, while $18,569.68 was charged to other permanent work throughout the city. The sewer department ate up $8,278.57 and the library upkeep was charged up as $6,612.82. The incinerator plant cost the city $7,920.44 and this total was criticized as being too high at a recent meeting of the council. The details of the incinerator plant expense were: $6,791.47 for salaries, $1,010.51 for general supplies including coal, and $118.46 for building.

The street expense was a heavy item for the twelve months being nearly $40,000. The exact figures are labor $13,058.41; teaming, $7,209.50; with $3,455.16 for cleaning, and $3,350.52 for sidewalks and $1,400 for sewer work.

GREET NEW PRIEST.

Nearly All of Hibbing Italians Welcome Father Gili.

Hibbing, Minn, May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Father Dante Gili, the new priest of the Italian Catholic church, who arrived from Duluth Thursday night with Father Zarrilli of Duluth to take charge of the local parish, got a great reception. It seemed as though nearly all the Italians in Hibbing were at the Missabe depot to greet the new priest.

There was a big crowd on the station platform and autos formed a procession to the Della hall, where a reception was held in Rev. Mr. Gili's honor. A banquet was followed by short talks, in which the new pastor was assured of the good will of his congregation.

Rev. Father Gili lately arrived here from Italy.

$3.50 Recipe Free For Weak Kidneys

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K-94 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

ONLY "CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED

Gently Clean Your Liver and Constipated Bowels While You Sleep.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

DEER RIVER MAN MAY BE DROWNED.

Deer River, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. H. Cook, manager and head of the White Cedar Lumber company, is reported drowned in Squaw lake, and a posse headed by C. M. King has left to search for the body.

Mr. Cook conducted a cedar yard and sawmill at Spring lake, and left with a man by the name of Haines a week ago to look after some logs. They had to use a boat.

Yesterday Cook's coat, containing a check book, was found on the shore of Squaw lake. It was taken to Spring lake, where Mrs. Cook was told the story. He had been seen on the lake Monday in a squall.

Mr. Cook was about 60 years of age, and had a wife and three children. Haines is reported to be a settler in the Happle river country.

No report has yet been received from the searching party.

Illegal Netters Freed.

Virginia, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roland Robinson, Gust Sell and Peter Dardell, arrested for illegal netting in lakes near Cotton, were arraigned before Judge Carey yesterday afternoon. This being the first offense committed by Robinson and Sell, their fines of $100 were remitted. The case against Dardell was dismissed by Judge Carey.

One Accused Man Released.

Virginia, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Yurwanik, the Hibbing railroad man, who was arrested with Adolph Kleppe, a brakeman, charged with criminally assaulting the 13-year-old Chisholm girl, who was sent to the Sauk Center, Minn., home for wayward girls this week, was released from custody yesterday afternoon on orders received by the Hibbing authorities from Assistant County Attorney Boyle. Kleppe is being held in the Duluth county jail on a statutory charge. It is possible Yurwanik will be used as a witness in the case.

LEAVES COUNTY JOB TO PRACTICE LAW

ARTHUR E. TEMPLETON.

Arthur E. Templeton, for the past two years clerk of the probate court under Judge S. W. Gilpin, has resigned his position in order to re-engage in the practice of law.

He will become associated with Victor L. Power, mayor and prominent attorney of Hibbing. Mr. Templeton severed his connection with the probate court today and is now making arrangements to move his family to Hibbing.

Mr. Templeton spent thirteen years in the practice of law in Massachusetts and Rhode Island and a few years in the newspaper work. He has been clerk of the probate court since Judge Gilpin has held the office of probate judge.

No announcement as to who his successor will be has yet been made by Judge Gilpin.

PIANO CLOSING OUT SALE!

Our entire wholesale piano stock at 628 and 638 Garfield avenue must be closed out and everything sold quickly.

Those who wish to buy good, well-known makes of pianos or player pianos, either for cash or on monthly payments, can now save big money by purchasing at this sale.

For example—

Pianos that are usually sold at retail for $375.00 we are closing out at $237.50; $750.00 Player Pianos, $468.00 Kimball 65-Note Player Piano Music—retail price from $1.00 to $1.75, we are closing out now for 10c a roll.

Our Mr. John Korby will leave the city, and his home at 601 Woodland avenue, corner of Twenty-first avenue east and Sixth street—furniture and all—must be sold quickly—a big bargain.

Our sale is a real one and not an excuse to sell cheap pianos at $1.00 down and $1.00 a week. While we haven't one cheap piano in our stock, our wholesale closing out sale makes any piano purchaser able to own a good, high-grade piano, one which will last him a lifetime, for the price of a cheap piano.

Come early while a good selection can be made.

KORBY PIANO CO.

FIRST SERVICES IN NEW CHURCH

The new St. Paul's Episcopal church will be opened tomorrow morning for the first service with Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector, conducting the services at 11 and 7:30 o'clock. In order that the members of the church may have the first opportunity of obtaining seats at these services tickets have been issued and those not holding tickets will not be admitted until after 10:55 o'clock. Special services have been arranged and special music.

All week the last arrangements have been made to put the church in readiness for use, and hangings, and linens are all in place.

WILD DUCKS ARE HEADED NORTH

Flocks of wild ducks are frequently seen on the bay front and the St. Louis river at the present time. On the river especially the ducks are very numerous and the local game wardens are constantly watching out for any violations of the game laws. The ducks are headed for the northern lakes.

MODERN BLACK ART.

La Crosse Woman Says Up-to-Date Clairvoyant Got Her Money.

Chicago, May 10.—Clairvoyancy in a business suit, and the spirits of the black art invoked by typewriter and telephone, formed the body of a story told by Mrs. H. L. McEldowny of La Crosse, Wis., the state's star witness in the case against James M. Ryan, alias "Prof." Charles T. Crane, a clairvoyant accused of swindling Mrs. McEldowny out of $15,500. She came to Chicago to confer with State's Attorney Hoyne, who is investigating the clairvoyant ring.

"I went first to see the 'professor' out of curiosity," said the La Crosse woman. "I had always been interested in the occult, and expected some of the mysterious equipment of which I had read. Instead I found a man in a business suit. There was a typewriter, a telephone and a card index system such as one might find in any business office. His advice was good for a time, and in the end he gained my confidence completely. He had made several good investments for me, but in the end I lost my money."

WANTS BOARD ABOLISHED.

Senator Owen Says Indian Commissioners Are Useless.

Washington, May 10.—Senator Owen led an attempt before the senate Indian affairs committee to abolish the board of Indian commissioners. The board is appointed by the president and its members serve without compensation. Mr. Owen and other senators claimed that it was useless, but gave up the fight only after a long argument. The Indian appropriation bill, carrying about $10,000,000, was under consideration by the committee. It probably will not be reported to the senate until late next week.

DULUTH BOYS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Hear Speech From Mayor Prince and Review Activities of the Past Year.

RICHARD CULLUM.

IRVING MOORE.

GEORGE MARTIN.

The boys' department Y. M. C. A. has many social events during the year but the big event that is always looked forward to is the annual banquet. Last evening marked the eleventh that the club has held, and it in every way held up the reputation made in the past.

The banquet was served in the big clubroom which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. A committee of women prepared the banquet and it was served by twenty-five high school girls. At 6:30, the guests were seated and while they did justice to the menu the Y. M. C. A. orchestra rendered a program of music. H. C. Fulton, toastmaster opened the program by calling on Richard Cullum, president of the boys' department, who responded to the toast "Our Club." In well chosen words he spoke of the boys' department as an organization that helped to develop character. His talk was interspersed by stories that were thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd.

Howard Sukeforth responded to the toast "The Member's Part." He showed that every boy had a part in the club, and that the only worth while members were those who "got right into the game and boosted."

Jacob Garon spoke on athletics. He referred to the emblem of the Y. M. C. A. and said that a boy could better develop the mind and the spirit part of the triangle if he had a good body. Athletics built up a strong body, and the boys' department in its program made ample provision for that. He referred to the baseball league now being conducted among the grade schools.

Charles Le Richeaux spoke on "Summer Plans." He said that the banquet was not the closing of the season, it was simply the closing of the winter term and the opening of the summer work. The boys' department, he said, would be just as busy during the summer as winter. He then outlined the very attractive program of summer activities.

Mayor Speaks.

Mayor Prince, guest of honor, was then called on for a speech and in a few terse remarks he told the kind of boys that were worth while.

B. A. Wade, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on other boys. He said that every member of the boys' department should realize the privileges that were his and pass them on to the other fellow.

Irving Moore spoke on the popular topic of Camp Miller and as a result of his talk many boys made up their mind to attend this year. He told of the many good times that the camp affords and that this year the camp would be located on the new camp grounds at Sturgeon lake and that the club house would be built, using the money that was raised by the Hustlers three years ago.

Toastmaster Fulton then called for what he considered the only toast of the evening. It was to the ladies, and was ably responded to by George Martin. In his remarks he expressed the thanks of the club to the women who so kindly gave their services in planning and conducting the banquet.

Edward Scriven told of the plans for the Boys' conference to be held three days following Camp Miller. It will be for the boys who are to be committeemen for next season, and for the purpose of making the plans for the year. During the evening telegrams of greeting were received from the following graduates of the club: Lyman Taylor, Harvard Rockwell, Lawrence Jaques, Mortimer Stanford, Julius Nolte, and William Eklund of the University of Minnesota. Charles Little and Ledru Bevis of the University of Illinois, and Russell Duncan, Ely Salyards, Duncan Frick, Kimball Finkenstead, and Palmer Bevis, Hotchkiss school, Lakeville, Conn., also sent messages.

Readings were given by Miss Agnes Johnson, who had to respond to three encores. Maurice Lavick gave a violin solo. Moving pictures and pictures of the camp were given, followed by the presentation of the hustler emblems and medals. John Fee received the gold medal for having earned the largest number of points. He won 153. Ralph Brown received the silver medal with 138 points; Luther Olson, the bronze medal with 115. Oliver Maggard, who got 114 points, received a Y. M. C. A. pin. The Pathfinder team won the most points, and the hustlers of that team came to the banquet free as guests of honor. They were Ralph Brown, Roy Lonegren and Jaspar Barncard. They elected one of their number to go to Camp Miller for one week free. Hustlers who received the Boys' department emblem were: Charles McQuire, 91; Oliver Maggard, 114; Lester Stenerwald, 91; Norman Sweeney, 95; John Fee, 153; Luther Olson, 115; Willard Thorpe, 90; Roy Lonegren, 91; Ralph Brown, 138; Jaspar Barncard, 95; Towne Peterson, 93; Earl Shaw, 93.

ROTTEN TEETH, FOUL BREATH, UGH!

Bad Teeth—Loose Teeth—Gum Disease —Foul Breath—All Due to Carelessness or Ignorance.

Thousands of mouths like this are seen every day. The trouble is known as Pyorrhea. These soft, colorless, bleeding, foul-smelling and spongy gums, loosened and decayed teeth can be made firm, strong and healthy by

A SIMPLE HOME METHOD.

Stop Despairing! Don't Give Up Hope of Saving Your Teeth.

A simple home treatment—the result of 21 years of research—will today bring you the relief and comfort you desire. Stop spending money with dentists who do not help you. Don't waste your money on drug store remedies that are invariably, as you know, disappointing.

Write to Dr. Willard today. His 21 years of practice, study and research have finally enabled him to give you a simple, painless, speedy, inexpensive remedy that you can use at home. It is pleasant, convenient and remarkably simple—so that there is no further need for you to undergo the long, painful or expensive dental treatment. Bridges, Crowns and False Teeth are unsightly and never satisfactory, and through his treatment of the causes of bad and decaying teeth, gum disease and foul breath they will be unnecessary.

If you are suffering with Pyorrhea, Rigg's Disease, gingivitis, gumboils, overlapping, protruding, receding, twisted or loose teeth; soft, colorless or spongy gums; if your breath is foul, if your teeth pain while eating; if you are subject to bad tastes—then, for your own sake, send for Dr. Willard's book and learn how easy his method is—how painless and speedy—how this simple remedy will quickly and permanently give you sound, healthy teeth.

Just sit down NOW and write Dr. Willard for his great book. A few minutes will convince you that his common-sense, simple Home Remedy will cure your ailments. Don't wait: There is no pain connected with it. We have received scores of letters from people saying they would have given hundreds of dollars had they known of Dr. Willard's Home Treatment in time. TAFT DENOUNCES POPULAR VOTE PLAN

Says Congressmen Pay Too Much Attention to Constituents.

New Haven, Conn., May 10.—Former President Taft, Kent professor of law at Yale, in his third lecture on "Some Questions of Modern Government," denounced the initiative and referendum as "very much like legislation during the French revolution—the work of political cranks and directly contrary to the spirit of the Constitution."

He dealt at length with the income tax and advocated a graduated income tax, which would include all incomes of more than $1,000, on the ground that "everybody ought to contribute something in order that he may feel more responsibility in the government because of his payment."

Prof. Taft discussed the characteristics of present-day men in congress, declaring they pay too much attention to what their constituents want.

REACHED HEAD OF LAKES FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO

Fifty-seven years ago today George M. Smith arrived in the Duluth-Superior harbor on the old steamer City of Superior.

"I was just 5 years old, then," said Mr. Smith. "At that time there was no such place as Duluth. My parents settled in Superior and we moved to Duluth later."

Farmers Form Telephone Company.

Sheldon, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Sheldon - Owego Telephone company is a new organization just formed here by the farmers east, south and southeast of this place. Every farmer in the district mentioned is a stockholder and the company will have its lines in operation by July 1.

Farmer Probably Murdered.

Triumph, Minn., May 10.—Members of the family found the body of John Steen, a farmer, lying in his hog yard. He had been shot through the head and bore every evidence of having been murdered.

MARINE NEWS

DOCK MEN MAY STRIKE

Day Workers Vote To Demand An Increase In Wages.

Are Waiting for Night Men To Take Some Action.

Officials at the Great Northern ore docks at Superior this morning denied the report that the dock employes had demanded an increase in wages and that a strike is likely to occur.

A report is being circulated that about 200 employes at the Allouez dock held a mass meeting last evening at the Woodmen hall at Superior and there voted to demand an increase in wages. The officials were to be given the alternative of either increasing the wages, or facing a strike.

James C. Morrell, superintendent at the Allouez docks, stated this morning that no demand had been made on him as yet and that none of the employes had come before him with any strike threats.

The men at the docks were all given an increase two weeks ago, but with the ore coming in at a rate of nearly 2,000 cars a day, the men are of the belief that a much larger increase is due them. This was the consensus of opinion at the meeting last evening. About 200 men were at the meeting. There are about 400 men employed altogether, the remainder working on the night shift.

The night men are now receiving $2.40 a day and it is understood they want $2.75. The day men are receiving $2.25 and they want $2.50. The men began the season at $2 and the night men at $2.25.

The men are believed to be waiting for a meeting of the night men, who will also be asked to take a vote on the question. It is understood that the day men do not wish to go ahead without consulting the night men on the matter.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CANADIAN PORTS

Better Facilities for Handling the Great Grain Traffic.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 10.—Improvements to be made this season in Fort William and Port Arthur, the great grain ports at the Canadian Head of the Lakes, are of considerable interest because they relate directly to the facilities for storing grain at the two upper-lake ports and, consequently, the more rapid shipment of the wheat cargoes at the opening of navigation.

The necessities for the additions contemplated in the grain handling facilities at these ports and the improvements to be made are outlined in a report by United States Consular Agent George H. Freeman at Fort William, substantially as follows:

"The present system of grain elevators in the two cities, with 27,000,000 bushels capacity, is inadequate to meet the demands. During the past winter many million bushels were stored in freight cars and lake freighters. This shows the shortage and great need of storage facilities. One new elevator will be the 3,000,000-bushel Dominion grain elevator, while one railroad intends increasing its elevator capacity from 7,000,000 bushels to 40,000,000 bushels. Dockbuilding plans include 1,500 feet on both sides of a slip and a head-end of about 800 feet."

With the addition facilities at the two Upper lake ports more rapid movement of grain can be attained at the opening of navigation, say local handlers, and with the Canadian wheat stored for the winter in elevators instead of boats or cars, there ought to be less trouble over damaged cargoes at this end.

AGAIN USING THE LIVINGSTONE CHANNEL.

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—Vessels of the downward fleet are again taking the Livingstone channel route through the lower Detroit river, the stranded steamer Pathfinder of the Interlake Steamship company having been floated off the east bank above the dry work section Thursday morning.

Following the release of the Pathfinder, the tug, which has been doing patrol service at the head of Livingstone channel will be removed.

Cleveland vessel owners and managers are reported to be considering the matter of submitting a request to the war department that the traffic rules for the lower Detroit river be modified to permit downbound steamers with tows to take the Amherstburg channel route.

Enlarging Coal Docks.

Sandusky, Ohio, May 10.—Plans providing for improvements to cost more than $1,000,000 were announced by General Supt. Chester C. Hand of the Pennsylvania railroad docks, to Federal Engineers J. I. Wheeler and R. B. Perry, here Thursday to ascertain local harbor needs in the matter of financial assistance from the War department.

The work, Mr. Hand says, is to be undertaken within the next sixty days, and as the capacity of the docks is to be doubled, if not trebled, a 24-foot instead of a 20-foot, channel as at present, will be an absolute necessity before the 1914 navigation season opens.

The docks afford the main outlet for coal from mines along the Norfolk & Western railroad for Great Lakes shipment.

Engineer Injured.

Peter Hyatt, engineer on the W. P. Schneider, sustained painful injuries yesterday afternoon when his right hand was caught in machinery on the boat. The flesh was torn from the back of the hand but no bones were broken. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

HEAVY ORE SHIPMENTS

Twenty Cargoes Leave Local Port in Twenty-Four Hours.

Since yesterday noon twenty-one ore boats left the Duluth and Superior harbors loaded with ore for points in the East.

During the past few weeks, ever since the marine season has been open, the ore shipments have been rather slow and many boats were compelled to lie idle both here and in Superior before being loaded. The ore was coming in slowly from the ranges and a result the docks were unable to load the boats according to schedule. Those that were loaded often fell below the contract loading agreement made with the boat owners.

From now on it is believed that the ore shipping will remain at normal and very little trouble will be experienced by the boat owners.

Ore is coming in freely from the ranges and it is believed that the daily average of 7,000 cars will be reached within a week or so. About 5,500 cars are now being received each day at all the docks.

The ore boats that left the local harbors since yesterday noon are: H. C. Frick, A. C. Minch, H. B. Nye, Mariposa, H. Phipps, Santiago, J. L. Ellwood, James Watt, John Fritz, Percival Roberts, Jr., T. F. Cole, J. W. Gates, Franz, Morgan, Agawa, Thomas Lynch, Maricopa, Bryn Mawr, W. B. Schiller, J. P. Morgan, Jr., S. Parks.

As was expected very little grain left the local harbors during the past week. This was because the congestion at Buffalo was becoming worse and shippers were anxious to have the delays done away with. From now on a fairly steady grain shipment is expected. The rates have remained stationery the past few days.

Lumber shipments have been rather light and the reason for this is the increase in rates now charged by the boat owners.

HUGE FREIGHTER FOR CANADIANS.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 10.—Canada in 1914 will have a steel bulk freighter 625 feet long, 59 feet beam and about 30 feet deep, plying the Great Lakes in the grain trade.

The Western Drydock & Shipbuilding company of Port Arthur, Ont., a subsidiary of the American Shipbuilding company, Thursday obtained the order from one of the largest shipowning companies on the Canadian side of the lakes.

The largest Canadian ship now on the lakes is the Emperor, which has capacity for 330,000 bushels of grain. At the Collingwood Shipbuilding company's plant a ship with a capacity of 350,000 bushels is under construction. The ship ordered Thursday will have capacity for 450,000 bushels of wheat.

Wreck Is a Menace.

Vessel masters have been complaining for some time past that the wreck of the W. C. Richardson, lying just off Waverly shoal, outside Buffalo, is a dangerous menace to navigation. The contract for removing the wreck was awarded last summer to Hinckley & Sampson of Oswego, N. Y., the firm's bid of $1,000 being the lowest of several opened by Col. J. A. Warren, district engineer in Buffalo.

The wreckers appear to have made no progress in removing the wreck and have been granted several extensions of the time limit which the original contract set for completion of the work.

The Richardson was lost Dec. 9, 1909, and costly but futile attempts were subsequently made to recover the vessel by the Great Lakes Towing company and Wrecking Masters H. W. Baker of Detroit, and James Reid of Sarnia.

Loses Her Barge.

North Tonawanda, N. Y., May 10.—The steamer Wente and barge Exile arrived here yesterday without the barge Unadilla. The Unadilla ran onto the wreckage of the steamer Richardson and punched a hole in her bottom. She was beached off the Buffalo breakwall. The Exile also ran into the wreckage. Two lighters are at the Unadilla which is owned by Capt. David Gerlock of Marine City, Mich.

Record Coal Cargo.

Fort William, May 10.—Steamer Snyder, Jr., arrived Thursday from Cleveland with the largest cargo of coal, 13,000 tons, ever brought to the Canadian Head of the Lakes. An attempt will be made to break the unloading record at the new C. P. R. docks.

Sheltered at Alpena.

Alpena, Mich., May 10.—The wrecking tug Schenck of the Soo, is in the river here for shelter. The tug has the disabled steamer W. S. Mack in tow. The Mack lost its rudder, wheel and shoe in a collision with the Turret Crown near Round island, Lake Superior, early Sunday morning. The Mack will be taken to Lake Erie for repairs.

The barge Pennington, in tow of the steamer Clyde, which has been in the bay for repairs, has cleared for Dollar Bay with coal. The Pennington was leaking badly and the flues of its boiler blew out, making pumping impossible.

The steamer Cherokee, which went ashore at Sturgeon point early Sunday morning, has been released by the Reid Wrecking company's tugs, Sarnia City, J. M. Reid and Fisher. The Cherokee is in the harbor here and its consorts, the Goshawk and Holland, are also here.

Longshoremen's Officers.

The following officers of the Duluth Longshoremen's union, No. 12, have been elected for the ensuing year: William Clew, president; George Bothwell, recording secretary; Richard Belt, financial secretary; Joseph Perry, marshal; Alphonse St. Jacques and William Paradise, trustees; Bernard Spofield, inspector. Mr. Clew was selected as delegate to the international convention to be held in July at Boston.

Old Tug Sold.

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—To some of the tugmen of the lakes, who had supposed the tug John E. Monk was resting in a vessel boneyard, news of her sale to John Fraser of Amherstburg will have added interest. Mr. Fraser bought the vessel from Capt. David Hackett and J. N. Mullen and is reported to have paid $1,000 for her.

LAW FIXES WEIGHT FOR BUSHEL SALES

Purchasers May Check Up on Dealers in Commodities.

Chapter 560 of the General Laws of 1913 fix the standard weights of a bushel of various commodities sold by weight and purchasers if they wish may check up and see that they are getting the proper weight.

The law provides that violations of the law shall be considered misdemeanors and provides a fine of $10 to $100 or imprisonment of ten to 100 days.

The law fixes the number of pounds in a bushel as follows:

Corn in ear, 70; beans, (except lima beans, scarlet runner pole beans and white runner pole beans, and broad Windsor beans), smooth peas, wheat, clover seed, Irish potatoes and alfalfa, 60; broom corn seed and sorghum seed, 57; shelled corn, (except sweet corn), rye, lima beans, flaxseed and wrinkled peas, 56; sweet potatoes and turnips, 55; onions and rutabagas, 52; buckwheat, hempseed, rapeseed, beets, green apples, walnuts, rheubarb, hickory nuts, chestnuts, tomatoes, scarlet runner pole beans and white runner pole beans, 50; barley, millet, Hungarian grass seed, sweet corn, cucumbers and peaches, 48; broad Windsor beans, 47; carrots, timothy seed and pears, 45; parsnips, 42; spelt or split, 40; cranberries, 36; oats and bottom onion-sets, 32; dried apples, dried peaches and top onion sets, 28; peanuts, 22; blue grass, orchard grass and red-top seed, 14; plastering hair, unwashed, 8; plastering hair, washed, 4; lime, 80; but if sold by the barrel the weight shall be 200 pounds.

WEBSTER DROPS ANOTHER HEAD

Meat Inspector Schneider Second to Go Under New Regime.

L. B. Schneider, meat inspector under the former administration, has been notified by Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, that he is no longer connected with the health department. Leo Bernhart will be appointed as meat inspector to replace him.

This is the second change in the subordinate positions of the department, the bakery inspector having been informed several days ago that he would not longer be on the pay roll. Joseph Pratts is slated to succeed him. Both new appointees held the same places during the former tenure of Dr. Webster as health commissioner. Other changes are expected to follow.

(BY BRUCE.)

During at least part of the present season Mr. Monty Woods of Bottineau, N. D., has been considered a flighty youth, speaking strictly in the baseball sense, and one accustomed to do some cavorting before the game has run its course. Yesterday the rotund and petulant Mr. Woods of North Dakota traveled the full route against the Flickers and behaved so nicely during the course of the frolic that the modest coin was reached with a Duluth tally to 1 victory.

Versus Mr. Wells of Western league training and no-hit fame was the opposing twirler. Neither Mr. Rhoades, who got to Mr. Wells for a total of seven hasties, nor Mr. Meniece of Woodland can understand just why Mr. Wells should be puzzling. During the course of the matinee Rhoades of Galesburg got a triple and two doubles and Meniece came through with a most beautifully executed home run slap over the right field rampart.

While this and more was transpiring and ably building the baseball plot Mr. Woods was traveling the airtight route. Upon entering the ninth some of the tabulators in the grand stand saw visions of a two-hit record for Brother Woods. But in the final effort with the war club the laborers from the land of the golden wheat fell upon our port side flinger and gathered three blows and one run before the lights were turned off.

Fielding Stunts.

Aside from the aforementioned busting of the pill to unexplored corners of the park, some sparkling stunts in the field brought applause from the assemblage.

In the third our Elmer Miller hit one of those Texas league things, possessing exceeding altitude but lacking longitude, into the center field patch. Mr. Brandt came galloping in and sticking out his left fin speared the pellet a few inches from the ground. Mr. Miller paused after rounding first base and looked dejected and also disgusted. It was a case of bold daylight robbery.

Along in the fifth inning Buster Brandt hit one of those swift traveling boys to right field. Smith of Milan leaped gazelle-like, heavenward and descended with the pill in his hands. Also, Mr. Miller, the sterling youth of Sandusky, Ohio, went back for one and gracefully pulled it from the rarefied atmosphere while traveling with the ball.

After hitting the home run Mr. Meniece was presented with a slight token of esteem. An enthusiastic fan purchased two bags full of educated peanuts and propelled them en masse through a hole in the netting to the tall sycamores. Little acts like this, brothers, cement the feeling between fan and player and also promote indigestion according to the osteopaths.

But back to the game.

The Way of the Game.

Nothing doing in the Flickers' first. A sharp double play cut down the visitors in the second and then we merrily started. Rhoades of Galesburg started the proceedings by ably tripling down the lane in right center. Rhoades rounded up at third slightly before the ball, winded but radiant. Smith singled and Rhoades was in. Smith taking second on the heave to the plate. Lilly Schreiber singled into right and Smith counted. McCarthy singled, Schreiber going to third. The double steal was worked, Schreiber counting and the Irishman taking second and then going onto third on the fun heave to the plate by Lyman. Woods walked and then O'Brien lofted one to center, the eagerness of McCarthy to make his getaway from station 3 resulting in that distinguished gentleman, Mr. Werden, declaring him out.

Our runs came in clusters, as did the one score of the opposition. Let us pass onto the fifth. It so happened that Benjamin Franklin McGraw was passed and then our Elmer Miller lifted a single into the left pasture. With the paths thus nicely graced with fleet runners, the king pin hitter of the new Northern, also of the old Northern, strode to the plate with trusty old Sal under his arm. Mr. Meniece loves and infinitely trusts old Sal. She be, he she, his trusty friend and the confidant of many of his little secrets. Well did old Sal do the work, for Samuel hit the second ball pitched to him far over the bottled beer sign in deep right and Joe, the young ground tender, marked up three runs at the end of the inning.

Mr. Rhoades got his third hit, a double, in the seventh, but nothing of moment occurred aside from this. We did nothing in the eighth, for, truth be told, we had accomplished quite enough for one afternoon.

In the ninth Jerry Edmunds, a trifle bowed in the legs but thoroughly dependable, hit to left for two sacks. Messrs. Deitrich and Altman went out from Mr. Woods to Samuel at first. At this point Chase saucily doubled to right, and the one and only run of the Dakota delegation was in. Foster singled through short and things perked up somewhat. Mr. Morse, who pitches in regular turn, was ordered from the dugout to hit for Brother Brandt. He tried but failed, our Mr. Woods rudely striking out his fellow craftsman. There is little feeling in this game of baseball:

PEGGERS DROP ONE-SIDED GAME

Superior Hits Maroon Pitchers Hard and Takes Second Game, 20 to 2.

Superior won yesterday's game, 20 to 2, with Winnipeg by hitting all of the opposing pitchers far and often. Withers started the mound work for the Red Sox but was recalled when the Canadians started to hit his offerings. Schauer then came to the mound and held the visitors in check during the remainder of the game. The only feature of the game was the hitting of the Red Sox and the box work of Schauer.

WINONA TAKES ANOTHER CONTEST FROM ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—Charley Jones and crew lost the second game of the series to the Winona Giants here yesterday by the count of 13 to 3, the errors of the locals figuring largely in the runs of the visitors. The hits of the Winonas were coupled at critical times with the errors of the Apostles' infield, and many of the runs of the visitors were unearned. The curves of Mike Kramer proved rather easy for the hitters of the opposition.

BRONCHOS TAKE SECOND GAME FROM VIRGINIA.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—The Bronks took the second game from the Virginia Ore Diggers yesterday by the score of 5 to 1. Sherrin was on the mound for the Unglaub organization and he kept the hits of the opposition widely scattered. Virginia played a clean and fast game in the field, but the swell flinging of Sherrin prevented any serious batting rally. Watkins proved rather easy for the Bronks, being touched up for eleven hits. Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—Fred Luderus, who had not made a hit since last Saturday, when his double in the ninth inning defeated New York, turned a possible shutout for Philadelphia into a victory over St. Louis yesterday by making a home run with two men out and Lobert on third base in the seventh inning, the final score being 3 to 1. Alexander held St. Louis down to two hits, but one of them, a single by Konetchy, was made in the first inning with L. Magee on second base as the result of a pass and an out and enabled the visitors to score.

Brooklyn in Second Place.

Brooklyn, May 10.—Brooklyn took second place in the pennant race yesterday by making it three out of four with Chicago, 7 to 5. Pierce lasted less than an inning for Chicago, Brooklyn scoring four runs on three passes, a triple and an error. Reulbach went to the seventh, being taken out to make way for a pinch hitter. One run on Fisher's double and Otto Miller's triple was all the locals got off him. Humphreys finished the game and allowed two runs, Stengel's triple and an error scoring one in the seventh, while Wheat tallied in the eighth on his scratch hit, Daubert's sacrifice and a force-out. Chicago fought a strong up-hill battle despite the long lead. Curtis succeeded Stack for Brooklyn in the third. In the seventh with bases full, he passed W. Miller and Clymer, forcing two runs. Two force-outs stopped further scoring. The Chicagos lost their great chance in the eighth when two doubles and a single in succession produced only one run.

Reds Even Matters.

New York, May 10.—Cincinnati evened up the series with New York by taking the last game of the series 3 to 1. Marquard, who pitched for New York had one bad inning, the sixth when the Reds scored three runs. Bates, who won Thursday's game with a pair of triples, led off with a three-bagger and scored on Tinker's double. Tinker went to third when Shafer fumbled on Hoblitzell and scored on a wild pitch. Marsans singled and on Eagan's grounder to Shafer, Hoblitzell was thrown out at the plate. Grant then walked, and Clark scored Marsans with a single. Fromme pitched great ball for Cincinnati, the Giants scoring their lone run in the second when Herzog hit a home run into the left field bleachers.

Make It Four Straight.

Boston, May 10.—In defeating Pittsburg 5 to 4 yesterday Boston made it four straight victories for the season. The team has now won as many games from Pittsburg as they captured from that team all last season. It is many years since the local National league club won four straight games from any team. The contest was an exciting one in which Boston out-batted Pittsburg. The latter, assisted by two errors by Devlin, led 3 to 1 up to the eighth inning. Boston in this session took the lead 4 to 3 through a base on balls, Connolly's single, Sweeney's double and a single by Titus. Pittsburg evened matters in the ninth when Hyatt, batting for Camnitz, hit safely and scored on Carey's double to left. Victory came to Boston in the last half of the ninth when Devlin doubled, was sacrificed to third and scored on Rariden's sacrifice fly.

Two Straight From Senators.

Chicago, May 10.—Chicago made it two straight from Washington yesterday by bunching hits with the errors of the visitors and Gallia's wildness. Scott held the visitors to five hits, only two of which were bunched. Manager Griffith thought it was too cold to pitch Johnson yesterday and said he would probably use him today. Borton started to play in the first half of the first, but owing to a slight injury to his wrist he retired in favor of Fournier. Score:

Champs Beat Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 10.—The first victory of the first Western trip was won by Boston yesterday, 3 to 1. Each team batted hard, Boston getting thirteen hits and Cleveland seven off O'Brien, three of which were scratch hits. With the score 1 and 1 in the eighth and two out, Lewis singled, Gardner doubled and Engle singled, bringing in the winning runs for Boston.

It was stated here yesterday that President Johnson had simply wired to ask Umpire Connolly to ask if the fracas between the members of the Boston and Cleveland clubs after Wednesday's game was serious and Connolly replied that it was not. All the Boston regulars, except Manager Stahl, were back in yesterday's game. Score:

Highlanders Win at Last.

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—Detroit not only failed to hit with men on bases, but played miserably in the field and New York took the third game of the series, 9 to 0. The Highlanders mixed their hits with the Tigers' misplays and won with ease.

Warhop, whose greatest ambition is to beat Detroit, was taken out of the box in the third inning. Willett had singled, Bush drew a base on balls and the little pitcher had given Louden two wide ones when Ford went to the rescue. Thereafter, Detroit was never threatening.

The fifth was New York's big inning. Wolter reached first on Louden's fumble. Hartsell hit to Deal who threw to the stand, Wolter scoring and Hartsell reaching third. Cree went to second on the play. Cree reached third when Deal dropped Stanage's throw on an attempted steal. Chase walked. Sweeney singled scoring Cree. Chase and Sweeney then stole second and third. Midkiff sent Chase home with a hit to right. On Midkiff's attempted steal, Louden dropped Stanage's throw and Sweeney came home. Bush's fine fielding was the only bright spot in Detroit's defensive play. Score:

Claims Woman's Privilege.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—St. Louis broke Philadelphia's winning streak yesterday, beating the Athletics, 7 to 3. St. Louis knocked Houck out of the box in the first inning and hit Wyckoff hard. St. Louis scored five runs in the first on singles by Shotten and Pratt, two bases on balls, an error, a sacrifice fly and Brief's triple. In the fifth, singles by Williams, Brief and Wallace and a sacrifice fly netted the locals two more runs. Philadelphia scored in the second on Baker's double, an error and an infield out. In the sixth, Collins and McInnis singled and scored on Walsh's triple. The unusual spectacle of seeing umpires reverse a decision of seeing umpires reverse a decision three times, came up in the seventh inning. With two out and a runner on first for Philadelphia, Oldring hit to Wallace who threw to first. After fielding the ball, Bryon fell. Umpire Ferguson called Oldring out, and then reversed his decision. The Browns then appealed to O'Loughlin who called the side out. The Athletics then surrounded O'Loughlin and after consulting Ferguson, he called the Browns safe on Baker's double. Score:

Brewers Conquer Millers.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 10.—Patterson weakened after the fifth inning yesterday and the home club won a one-sided game, 11 to 2. KENTUCKY DERBY OLDEST TURF EVENT

Renewal of Classic Draws Large Crowd and Many Entries.

Louisville, Ky., May 10.—The thirty-ninth renewal of the Kentucky derby, one of the oldest classics of the American turf, gave promise today of living up to its precedents both as to class of contenders and in point of attendance.

With fair weather and a fast track, indications were that the 3-year-old thoroughbreds would offer a stirring exhibition for the thousands who renewed their annual pilgrimage to Churchill Downs.

Foundation, Ten Point, Yankee Notions, Jimmie Gill and Prince Hermis were named early today as certain starters. Foundation, owned by C. W. McKenna, appeared the favorite. The winner will get about $7,000.

Always the meeting ground for society and sport, this Year's Derby promised as brilliant an assemblage as any of its predecessors. Prominent social leaders and followers of the turf from the Eastern and Southern capitals and from the West, supplemented the large contingent of the Bluegrass state's devotees of the thoroughbred.

Admittance was free, according to Derby custom.

The official list of probable Derby starters:

Name.	Weight.	Jockey.
Ten Point	117	J. Loftus.
Foundation	117	J. Glass.
Yankee Notions	117	C. Ganz.
Prince Hermis	117	C. Borel.
Jimmie Gill	110	C. Peak.
Leechares	114	R. Goose.
Donerail	117	E. Taplin.
Flying Tom	114	M. Buxton.
*Go Well	112	G. Gross.
*Sam Hirsch	114	B. Steele.
*Lord Marshall	117	J. Kederis.
*Floral Park	112

*Doubtful starter.

YALE AND PRINCETON IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—Both Princeton and Yale athletes were in fine trim for the annual track meet today. The full strength of neither team has been fully tried out in competition this year. The Yale squad which spent the night in New York and came here before noon, was confident of victory as it placed much dependence in the pole vaulters, Val Wilkie, the quarter miler, and in Potter, who was looked upon to win the hurdle events. The weather was quite cool with a strong northwest wind blowing.

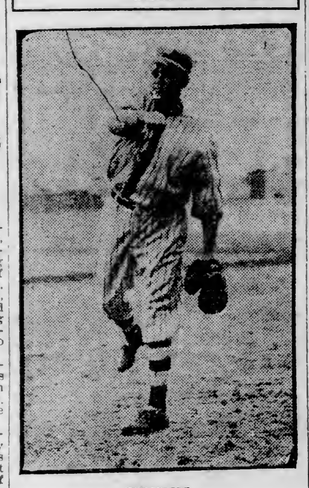
INDIANAPOLIS IS SCENE OF BASEBALL WAR.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 10.—With the opening of the Federal league season here and the transfer of the Louisville-Indianapolis game of the American association to this city on account of Derby day at Louisville, Indianapolis today probably will witness the start of a baseball war between the two leagues.

Preceding the game the Federal league club, which meets Chicago, has arranged an automobile parade through the downtown streets and to their new field, where Governor Ralston will pitch the first ball. It is generally conceded that the Federal game will draw the largest crowd, as baseball fans are curious to see what Manager "Whoa Bill" Phillips has to offer. The Indianapolis association team has not been playing up to expectations lately and yesterday's game drew an attendance of only 300.

Although denied by President Sol Myer, the rumor that the Springfield, Ohio, Central league club is to move here is still a live subject.

BROOKLYN STAR BEHIND THE BAT



ERWIN.

MUCH INTEREST IN COLLEGE BASEBALL.

Philadelphia, May 10.—Unusual interest was manifested in today's Yale-Pennsylvania baseball game. The New Haven team has won twelve straight games and has been defeated only once, by Pennsylvania. Two weeks ago on the return game Yale beat the Pennsylvania 13 to 5. The star twirlers of the two nines have been picked to do the pitching in the third contest.

May Break Track Records.

Cambridge, Mass., May 10.—The first dual field and track meeting between Harvard and Cornell, to be held in the Stadium this afternoon, was expected to produce a new world's record for the mile run.

John Paul Jones, captain of the Cornell team, has trained especially to this end and will attempt to better the record for the distance, 4 minutes, 15 2-5 seconds, held by himself. He will compete also in the two-mile run.

The Cornell squad arrived in Boston this morning from Ithaca. The meet is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m.

Awaits Umpires' Reports.

Chicago, May 10.—President Chivington of the American association, sent word yesterday afternoon from Louisville, where he is ill, that he would wait details from the umpires regarding the fight between Dave Altizer of the Minneapolis club and Manager Clark of Milwaukee before taking action on it. Telegrams merely confirming the press dispatches were sent to the president yesterday, but the umpires will make their formal reports by mail.

WINNIPEG IS DUE SUNDAY FOR THREE-GAME SERIES

The fans of Duluth are awakening to the fact that there is a real baseball team in this town and that some real baseball is being played at Athletic park. The White Sox have been seen in three games on the home lot, winning two of these contests and one in Superior, and in all of the games some great pastiming has been hung up for the aproval of the fans.

Starting with the game of tomorrow, the Winnipeg team with the famous Tim Flood, will be with us for three games. Flood has a real baseball team, despite some of the reverses of the early season, for some of the stars of last year are still with the Canucks, and in addition, De Haven, one of the cleanest and cleverest infielders of the league, is holding down second for the Peggers.

In Freer, Kurke and Kirkham, it is generally believed that the Winnipegs have one of the best outfields in all the league. Then there is Clothier at third, and he is one of the sweetest players in this part of the country.

Flood Has Experience.

Tim Flood is rated as one of the best infielders in the country. Formerly of big league fame and then the second-sack guardian for the St. Paul team of the American association and also former manager of the Toronto team, Tim has had baseball experience that would fit him admirably for the task of plotting the Peggers to a high place in the race.

Two new pitchers, Boley and another whose name has not been disclosed as yet, are due to join the Maroons while here. These two boxmen are from the Western league and have been purchased by Flood. The management of the Winipeg team is going to get the best pitching staff in the league, according to the information that has been sent out from the stolid metropolis of Western Canada.

The forthcoming series of three games with the Winnipeg team is expected to prove the most interesting baseball of any that has been played here to date. Outside of the fact that its pitchers have been going bad, Winnipeg has one of the best ball clubs in the new circuit, and before the season is many days older it is generally believed by those who follow baseball closely that this assertion will be proved.

Pitchers Going Well.

O'Brien has his pitchers going great at the present time. It is probable that Rube Johnson will start tomorrow against the invaders, although Henry Clay Blancke, who is showing remarkable form the present year, may be sent in against Moe, the star of the Peggers, who will be used here.

With fair weather tomorrow it is expected that the Sunday attendance mark of the Minny and short-lived See-Eye league will be shattered in the opening contest between the Maroons and our valiant White Sox. O'Brien has his whole team up on its toes and some snappy, lively and clever baseball is being played.

Another thing that is sure to be appreciated by the fans is the fact that the games are being played very rapidly. Yesterday's contest was completed in a trifle over an hour and a half and the game before that was played in an hour and fifty minutes.

Perry Werden has the right idea and keeps the players on the move. There has been no stalling during the present season here, and if this practice is continued it is bound to win the appreciation of the fans of Duluth, for clean and snappy baseball is just what we have wanted for many seasons past. It seems we are getting it now.

PLANK HAS MADE A GREAT RECORD

Connie Mack's Star Has Been Great for a Dozen Years.

Alone in the baseball field, Eddie Plank is the only player to outguess Father Time.

Now 38 years old and spending his thirteenth season with the Athletics, the southsider who won't wear out, is pitching the best ball of his career.

As Frank Leroy Chance put it, Plank is not winning games solely through his experience, but because "he has the best fast ball of any major league portsider today."

The Philadelphia Ledger says the marvel of it all is that a man of 38 years could open the throttle and show such extra-fare train speed.

"While his crossfire, change of pace and control impressed me as remarkable," says Chance, "yet I would call his fast ball as the best thing he has. You'll have to put Plank down as the most wonderful pitcher in the game today."

Raw at Start of Career.

Plank came down to Philadelphia a rawboned country youth in the spring of 1901. He pitched overhand then, and Mack saw that he would have to correct his style of pitching if he was going to stick. It was Matt Kilroy and Chic Fraser who coached Plank and made him try a new style of delivery.

Kilroy, once one of the greatest portsiders in baseball, taught the Gettysburg farmer boy all the tricks he knew, and Plank was an apt, willing pupil. He pitched great ball from the start, and has been one of Mack's mainstays ever since. Here is Plank's remarkable record of games won and lost:

Year.	Won.	Lost.
1901	17	11
1902	20	15
1903	23	16
1904	26	17
1905	24	12
1906	19	6

Is Great Record.

This is certainly the best record made by a lefthanded pitcher, at least in modern times. His percentage of victories for twelve years is 636. The longevity of a portsider is smaller than that of a righthander. Few lefthanders can stand the strain of ten years of pitching in the fast set. The majority of southpaws are through before they have spent a decade in the majors.

But here is Plank, 38 years old, and pitching topnotch ball in this thirteenth season. Already, he has won three victories, with no defeats. A glance at his record would indicate that he is improving rather than going back, for in the last two seasons he has won 45 games and lost only 14. These are the two best seasons of his career.

ANOTHER AVIATOR TO TRY ATLANTIC FLIGHT.

San Francisco, Cal., May 10.—James V. Martin, who holds a pilot license for the air and a master's license for the seas, announced here yesterday on his arrival from the Hawaiian islands, that he will attempt next August to cross the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland in competition for Lord Northcliff's prize of $15,000 for the first aviator to make the passage inside of seventy hours. With him will be his wife, formerly Miss Lillian Irvine, who says she was the first English woman to fly.

The air-line he will attempt to follow is 1,635 miles long and he expects to make a non-stop flight, in an especially-built French biplance.

HOLD INTERCOLLEGIATE ROWING CONTEST TODAY.

Cambridge, Mass., May 10.—The 'Varsity crews of Princeton, University of Pennsylvania and Harvard will match their aquatic strength and oarsmanship over a 1¾-mile course in the Charles river basin today.

The schedule calls for a start at 5 o'clock. The race opens the intercollegiate rowing season and is arranged to give the crews practice for the long-er contests at New London and Poughkeepsie, six weeks hence.

It will be the first time that the crews of the three universities have met at rowing for many years. The crews were made up as follows:

Pennsylvania: Stroke, J. Alexander, 7, W. Madeira; 6, J. V. Merrick; 5, R. Garvin; 4, S. B. Crane; 3, P. Blatz; 2, H. Butler; bow, H. Shoemaker; coxswain, R. W. Preston.

Princeton: Stroke, C. S. Putnam; 7, R. Ranch; 6, J. S. North; 5, W. M. Chester; 4, W. M. Bashinsky; 3, W. J. Curtis; 2, R. Pyne; bow, W. E. Bunzel; coxswain, E. Congleton.

Harvard: Stroke, W. B. Pierne; 7, E. D. Morgan; 6, A. M. Goodale; 5, L. H. Mills; 4, B. Harwood; 3, G. M. MacVicar; 2, F. H. Trumbull; bow, O. Reynolds; coxswain, C. T. Abeles.

MUCH SPORT AT PRINCETON.

Baseball, Track Meet, Gun Shoot and Tennis on Day's Program.

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—With three baseball games, a track meet, a gun shoot and a number of tennis matches on the program, athletics will reign supreme here today. Activities will open with a baseball game between the Princeton Tiger and the Yale Record, the humorous publications of the two institutions.

This will be followed by the intercollegiate gun shoot, with Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Princeton as contenders. Princeton's annual interscholastic tennis matches will also be held.

Yale Expects to Win.

New Haven, Conn., May 10.—The Yale track team, thirty-eight strong, left last night for New York and today will go to Princeton for the annual meet with the Tigers. Yale expects to win by a slight margin. The spring meet last Saturday developed unexpected strength, especially in the field events. Potter, the best hurdler in college, is the only man in the squad who is not in the best condition because of recent illness.

IRONWOOD BALL GAME.

Reorganized Tiger Team Will Play Temple Theater Nine.

Ironwood, Mich., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tiger baseball team has been reorganized. Games have been scheduled for most of the season. The nine will open the season in Ironwood tomorrow, meeting the Temple theater nine. These constitute the Tiger team: Raymond Mullen, manager; Richard Banfield, captain; Searant, catcher; Jareski, Stevens and McRae, pitchers; Carlson, first base; Preble, second; Waters, third; Banfield, shortstop; Jennings, Panter and Shea, fielders; Dixon and Richards, utility.

WOODLANDS TO MEET THE CLOTHING TEAM.

The Twin Ports of the Duluth-Superior league will journey to Woodland Sunday to play the Woodland nine.

The Woodlands have organized for the season, with Max Mitchell, manager, and Carl Hon, captain. Manager Mitchell has signed up several stars, and reports that he has a strong team for the present season.

The probable line-up for Woodland Sunday will be: Hammerback, c.; Hon, p.; Lingwall, 1b.; Summers, 2b.; Hoff, 3b.; Case s.s.; Fitzgerald, l.f.; Regall, or Eagle, c.f.; J. Dyrke, r.f.

According to Manager Larson, Currie and Farrell will be on the firing line for the clothiers.

Any strong teams wishing games with the suburbanites may communicate with Manager Mitchell at the Oliver Iron Mining company, or call Melrose 3299.

"Evers' Day."

New York, May 10.—Today was "Evers' Day" at the Polo grounds, Johnny Evers' first appearance on the local grounds as manager of the Chicago club. Secretary Fester of the New York club gave it out early that a high water mark for the sale of tickets for the year had been set and indications were that, notwithstanding the chill breeze, New York would turn out in overwhelming numbers to welcome him.

Every box seat and nearly every reserved seat in the upper grandstand was sold days ago and there remained to be sold today only the bleachers and a portion of the lower grandstand.

JUNIOR CLASS TAKES HONORS

The juniors of Duluth Central high yesterday won the annual class day field and track meet, the third year men hanging up 30 points, their nearest competitor being the dignified seniors with a mark of 24½ points.

Mat Brown did not participate in the contest.

The summary:

Running jump—Shields, junior, 5-2; Wade, junior, 5; Davis, senior and Smith, freshman, tied for third place with 4-11.

Shot put—Duclett, junior, 34-16; Osman, senior, 33; Wernst, senior, 32.

Discus throw—Banks, senior, 85 feet; Anderson, senior, 77 feet; Osman, senior, 76 feet.

One hundred yard dash—Smithies, junior, 10:3; Cameron, sophomore, 10:4; Hruthford, freshman.

Half-mile run—Anderson, senior, 2:26; Moore, sophomore, Hruthford, freshman.

Quarter-mile run—Smithies, junior, 59 3-5; Moore, sophomore; Kerr, sophomore.

LOCAL SPORT NOTES

Walter Glass, who rowed in the junior four of the Duluth Boat club last season at the Northwestern regatta, has been elected captain of the freshmen eight of the University of Syracuse, the crews of which are coached by James Ten Eyck, father of the coach of the crews of the local club.

In commenting upon the election of the Duluth lad, the papers of Syracuse pronounced him one of the best freshman oarsmen who have ever been seen at the university. Walter stroked the freshmen eight in the class race, and it was the grand work he did in this contest that won him the captaincy of the crew.

That clean boxing is appreciated when staged under the right kind of conditions, was proven last evening at the Lakeside Athletic club's gymnasium in the Lakeside district, when two bouts and an athletic entertainment were staged under the auspices of the club.

Abe O'Neil, one of the coming boxers of the local colony, and Young Azine, a Duluth boy who has shown lots of ability, boxed a pretty bout.

Arthur Ryberg, president of the club, and Walter Miller donned the gloves and gave the members of the organization a fast and good bout. The little wrestler is not only an artist on the padded carpet, but he can also go some with the gloves.

Ted Hempstead won from Kid Brown, and John Oakes, the wrestling printer, was defeated in the wrestling contest by Young Strong, who ran true to his name.

Frank Bryant last evening broke the world's half-mile roller skating mark when he made the distance in 1:32 flat, the former mark being one-fifth of a second over this. It was held by Clarence Hamilton. The little Duluth boy was in rare form and gave the spectators a grand exhibition of speed skating. Bryant took the corners of the rink in masterly fashion and showed a remarkable sprint on the last lap.

BROOKLYN TEAM RANKED AS SERIOUS CONTENDER

Otto Miller, Former Duluthian Is One of Many Young Stars With the Dodgers.

Brooklyn this year threatens to develop a "Big Four" from its veterans, and upon the success of the quartet rests, in a great measure, the Dodgers' chance for an honorable position in the first division.

Only three of the heavy guns are active athletes, for the place of honor is reserved for Manager Bill Dahlen. His broad shoulders will have to bear the brunt of battle, no matter how the race may terminate; for this reason he should be considered the main asset while the fighting is good. Dahlen's chief aids are Nap Rucker, Zach Wheat and Jake Daubert.

Daubert is the greatest first baseman in the game since Hal Chase decided to go after the scalps of Eddie Collins, Larry Doyle and Johnny Evers. In fact when the boy prince was at his very best he had very little advantage over Dahlen's prize. Hal might make plays that Jake would never accomplish, but he was far more erratic in his play. He was not the steady plugging, always brilliant pastimer.

Chase's superiority was solely attributable to greater speed in covering the territory and in shifting his hands. Hal was of finer clay than Jake and therefore more susceptible to injury. While possessed of more speed, he was not a whit better base runner, and if the records of the several years are to be credited, Daubert had a shade the better on batting form.

Rucker Is Pitching Marvel.

Volumes have been written of Nap Rucker. He is the backbone of Brooklyn's pitching department. Some vertebrae, too, this fellow, who is generally regarded the left-handed pitching marvel of the age, if not of all time, says a New York writer.

Rucker cannot show the brilliant records of the wondrous Eddie Plank, but then he never had behind him such a gallant array as Connie Mack's Athletics. He has always been unfortunate enough to be hooked up with a ruck runner. For this reason Greater New York is pulling for betterment of conditions in Gowanus.

Everyone would like to see just how few games the wonderful southpaw would lose with a fairly competent team. Both McGraw and Chance declare Rucker a perfect mechanism. They come pretty close to knowing what they talk about in baseball.

Zack Wheat didn't have an exceptionally good season in 1912, but nevertheless he may be considered one of the finest little gardeners in the National league. He is fast as chain lightning, both on the bases and in the field. He is a natural .300 hitter.

A mighty good judge of a fly ball, Zach can either come in or go out fast, and he is possessed of a mighty fine whip. He is traveling at top speed this season, and if nothing in the line of accidents overtakes him, he should prove the hero of a very fine outfield.

Youngsters on Team.

A number of other players on the Brooklyn team may give any three of the active members of the "Big Four" a run for the laurels. But for the most part these are all young and inexperienced men, from the standpoint of strict analysis.

"Red" Smith, the third baseman, might be termed a veteran, for he is starting his third campaign. Last year, really, was his first real trial. He acquitted himself well—so well that many believe him one of the very greatest third sackers before the public. But he should be submitted to another season's test before qualifying in the big fraternity.

Bill Dahlen, as intimated above, is the pivot of the situation. For several years Bill has had apparently good teams, so far as paper calculations go. He never got very good results. He did not appear to worry a great deal, either.

For the first time in his managerial career Bill Dahlen is now taking himself seriously. The change of attitude has made itself manifest in the team's play. Dahlen has a young, vigorous and aggressive team. He has a wonderful young catcher in Otto Miller and plenty of good pitching to back up Rucker. He has plenty of speed.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE AMATEUR GOLF PLAYER

New York, May 10.—To the struggling amateur golfer, who, regarding his game as well nigh hopeless, has in desperation ransacked the professional's shop in an endeavor to collect a new set of clubs likely to serve him better, some satisfaction may be gleaned from a few words of advice offered by Edward Ray, open champion of Great Britain. Until the perfect set is got, the champion says, it must be obvious to all that it will be necessary to buy and test many clubs. As a natural result a large percentage of the weapons will find a resting place in lockers, though it not infrequently happens that drivers and irons long since thrown aside in disgust are sometimes brought forth and produce such results as to cause the owner to wonder what in the world he has been thinking about all the time.

The happy resurrection of clubs fallen from grace often happens with regard to putters. No type of club, says the Sun, is so often tried, discarded and tried again as a putter, which one day seems possessed of some magic power and the next worse than useless. Although a great deal of this shifting about is after all mere fancy, yet it is equally true that no man ever works his way into the low handicap class without having first purchased and tried scores of clubs. His path to proficiency is literally strewn with them. There is likewise little doubt that much of this experimenting is due to ignorance of what is best for one's style of play.

Often a club that at first appeals to the player and then fails to come up to expectations has been discarded all too hastily in favor of a new purchase. Then again when a favorite is broken it rarely matters how exact the duplicate may be, the new member of the kit rarely performs its work quite as satisfactorily as the old, though if given a little time it is likely to become an equally willing servant.

Balance Important.

The golfer when selecting a club should be careful to get one that suits his style, for he, best of all persons, is the one to know what amount of "feel" he requires in the shaft. If his swing be of the slow, deliberate kind, then a stiff shaft is useless. It's not sheer weight that produces the long ball, rather accurate timing, and to bring that about the golfer should use a club that he can swing without effort.

Every golfer knows, or should, that the shaft is the most important part of the club and therefore when a purchase is being made care should be taken to see that it is right. Good hickory is becoming scarcer every year, and the purchaser must not complain if asked to pay an additional half dollar for a club which has a perfect shaft. No matter how good the head may be, it is useless if the shaft is poor, and the worthless shaft is that without life, a shaft which, pressed on the ground, stays where it has been forced. A good stick should always resume the original shape when pressure is put upon it.

In considering scared or socket clubs, Ray prefers the scared, believing that there is less give in the neck, but the professional ranks are pretty evenly divided on the question. Where an amateur often makes a mistake is in the question of the grip, in Ray's opinion. The amateur may possibly come to the conclusion that his grips are too thin, and brings them to the professional to have them thickened, but in doing so he is displacing a certain amount of weight, the head of the club now feels lighter and the balance is partly destroyed. He soon brings it back, not understanding the reason, to have a little weight added and when this is done the club is totally different and is soon discarded.

It is of course a good thing for the club makers that fancy is rife in the game, for the trade would soon be at a standstill if it were not. It is rare that a club breaks. However, there is a limit to the life of even a golf club and shafts do not keep their virtues for a lengthy period. They lose their nature and feel dead and the owner often wonders why it is that he does not get the length he used to get. In a putter almost anything can be forgiven.

Touching on the number of clubs carried Ray believes that the fewer there are in the bag the better. If there are two irons or two mashies of equal power it is sure that whichever is taken is the wrong one. Ray advises that there should be one set and that is the one to be used alone unless it happens that extra clubs are taken along in case of one of them breaking. Ray would not have a club in his bag outside of the regulars except for the purpose of providing against breakage.

Ray's advice on clubs will naturally be of interest in this country for the reason that so many people look forward expectantly to the visit of the open champion and Harry Vardon to America in August and September. Furthermore, the competitors in the British open championship at Hoylake in June will be more than ordinarily followed by Americans this year in view of the representation from America going over to compete. Here such men as Ray and Vardon, James Braid, J. H. Taylor, Aleck Herd, George Duncan and Arnaud Massey are to be met by our pros and if possible conquered.

There is even now considerable talk on this side of the ocean as to how this man plays that shot or that Briton negotiates the other. Vardon's famous push shot has been copied the world over and many an American has tried to master it.

Vardon admires the way Braid plays this particular shot. "If you want to see the push shot played to perfection," says the former British champion, "there is nobody better to watch than Braid. Addressing the ball with his hands a little in front of it he takes the club back in a more upright manner than for the ordinary stroke. Then, at the moment of impact, his arms lengthen, or at any rate straighten, and he pushes them through as he gives the object a mighty thump."

If there is one particular spot in which Braid shines brightly it is when he has met with trouble. In fact, so many pictures have been taken and so much written about Braid's brilliancy in recovering from a trap or the rough that those who have never seen him play are inclined to the idea that only his ability to recover has made him a great player. In fact, Braid rarely gets into difficulties, but when he does one of the finest pieces of golf imaginable immediately follows.

There is only one condition that makes Braid fearful of trouble, and that is where it happens that he has no room to swing his club. Given that room and he will recover from almost anything. It is thrilling. The trouble may be rank grass or rocks or a railway track, and as he takes the club up the spectatore realize that something has to go and that the ball will go with it. He brings his niblick down with terrific power, and while in a bunker his shot is as perfect as human agency can get it. Braid's ability to steer clear of trouble has robbed golf of many a shot that might be classed as magnificent.

An Ideal Shot.

Then there is J. H. Taylor, "John Henry," whose specialty is a full iron shot or mashie shot. His cut stroke with the last-named weapon is a picture and has often been declared ideal. He stands with the face of his club turned slightly away from the ball. It seems as if he always aims to the left of the pin and cuts the ball. That being his natural method, his excellence at the cut mashie stroke is understandable. He is never caught trying to coax the rubber core; he gives it a forceful blow every time.

Arnaud Massey, former French and British champion, introduces a remarkable amount of "stop" into his lofted shots and obtains the influence by means of a swing peculiar to himself. At the top of his swing he gives the club a flourish which sends it over his head. Then he brings it back again and down in the same track as that which it occupied when going up.

Herd and Duncan are masters of the spoon. When Herd calls for his spoon, it is a foregone conclusion that he will reach the green. He gets a lot of cut in his spoon shot and makes the ball drop right up by the hole. He swings for it in just the same way as for the oleek, but giver his body a slight turn at the hips before the club starts to come down, and so obtains the effect of a slice.

Vardon is a great admirer of Duncan's spoon play. "I have seen him use the spoon on many occasions in a manner which I do not thing anybody else could have attained," says Vardon. "In any case, if it were a matter of a contest among professionals for supremacy with the spoon, Duncan's one formidable rival would be, I believe, Herd. Both men employ cut, which is an invaluable and necessary action with this club, and they introduce the influence very cleverly. Duncan has a perfect swing, but he is so extraordinarily quick that it is very hard to tell how he executes his shots."

LATEST HAPPENINGS IN AUTO WORLD

AUTO DEALERS ARE SWAMPED

Good Spring Weather Brings Out Flood of Orders for New Cars.

Many Allotments Out and Even Demonstration Cars Are Sold.

It is a question of how many machines the factories will allow them just now, the auto dealers of the city say. With the fine weather that has been enjoyed almost all of the spring and the consequent fine roads in all parts of the city and out from it and from the range towns, the agencies of all makes of cars in the city have been crowded with orders and allotments are about gone. Some of the garages have not even a stock car left, and others are holding on desperately to the cars they keep for demonstration purposes. The roads throughout St. Louis county are in wonderfully fine shape considering the season of the year, so autoists report. The roads have been tested pretty thoroughly and all speak well of their condition.

• • •

It should be remembered by autoists that in a very short time there will be telephone plug stations about every two miles along the Miller trunk road, between here and the ranges. The Zenith Telephone company is putting these in and will rent portable telephones to autoists and to farmers who live along that highway or near enough to it so that they may utilize the instrument. The cost is small. It will be a boon to tourists, because in case of damage to a car, requiring more than "first aid to the injured" treatment, one of the party involved may take the instrument, walk along until he sees the plug on some telephone pole, connect up with the city and get service at the earliest possible moment. It is believed that many autoists who like to or have to take trips to the ranges or out on the Miller road will avail themselves of this convenience.

J. T. Peacha, manager of the Interstate Auto company, has just returned from a trip to the Kissel Kar factories at Hartford, Wis., and Milwaukee, Wis. He was there to try to coax more machines out of the management, his allotment being exhausted. His mission was successful to some extent and some cars are on the way here. Mr. Peacha says that the new factory at Milwaukee is running and will turn out seventy-five cars this month. It is a three-story brick structure with 28,000 square feet of floor space, and only one model will be manufactured in it, the others to be manufactured in the Hartford factory.

Mr. Peacha says that the new car for the fire department will be here next week. It will be for the use of Assistant Chief Wilson and will be a combination car and chemical carrier. The factory is putting in special work on it and Mr. Peacha says that it will be such a beauty that it will open the eyes of Duluth people.

• • •

While at the factory Mr. Peacha met two government officials who were there figuring with the Kissel company for 100 motor trucks for the New York city postal service. They are to carry mail only between the docks and the postoffice at Forty-seventh street, so that a slight idea of what amount of mail passes along that way may be obtained. Eighty of the trucks are to be of three tons capacity and twenty of them are to be of a ton and a half. They must be ready for delivery Sept. 1.

• • •

While Mr. Peacha was away he made what he believes to be the best contract he has made since he got into business. He obtained the agency for this part of the country for the famous Batavia tire. It is the prime tire of the East, but has not invaded the West this side of Chicago until now. Said Mr. Beacha about it:

"The Batavia tire is the highest priced but the very best tire in the world today. Every tire is guaranteed for 5,000 miles usage. It is made in Batavia, N. Y., and all one has to do to be convinced is to see a sectional view of it. It is absolutely a non-skid tire. It lacks the knobs of other so-called non-skid, depending on vacuum cups in the tire. It is worth looking at anyway."

• • •

C. R. Rust of the Rust-Parker-Martin company, wholesale grocers, returning from a ride in a Chalmers Six that had chemical rubber in its tires, was a most enthusiastic man yesterday morning. Mr. Rust has been looking for a satisfactory substitute for air in the pneumatic tire for a number of years and told E. J. Filiatrault, president of the Chemical Rubber Company of Minnesota, that he never thought the time would come when a filler could be invented that would be as resilient as air, and he added he was agreeably surprised after riding on chemical rubber.

The car was driven over the roughest roads at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, and the chauffeur was instructed to hit each and every bump on the road, in order that the resiliency of the filler could be properly determined. Mr. Rust stated that he could not distinguish the slightest difference between the riding qualities of air and that of chemical rubber.

Mr. Rust immediately ordered his four tires filled, and assured Mr. Filiatrault that chemical rubber was just what he har been looking for, and suggested the sending of all doubtful prospects to him and giving permission to use his name as often as he pleased in recommending the new filler.

Mr. Rust's judgment on a matter of such vital importance to automobile owners, will carry much weight, as his experience in the automobile business, by reason of the number of cars the firm operates and maintains, as well as his own cars, has made him something of an expert in a matter of this nature. Mr. Rust's tire troubles have been heretofore a standing joke amongst his fellow motorists.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Indianapolis, Ind., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entry lists for the third annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes race, which will be held at the Indianapolis motor speedway, May 30, have closed and thirty-one cars, representative of the best the United States and Europe have to offer, are now registered for this event.

The list of entries is proof of the fact that racing interest is steadily growing, and that this year's event will be the greatest speed contest ever held at the Indianapolis motor speedway, if not in the world. Seven more cars are entered this year than were entered last and twelve more will line up for the Indianapolis race than will participate in the French Grand Prix, which is the greatest race held in Europe. The fact that the Indianapolis motor speedway has steadily gained in popularity, until now it is the center of the world's motor interest, is probably the reason why the European races have lost much of their luster, while the manufacturers and drivers have turned their eyes towards America. All of the foreign cars entered for the Indianapolis race have been Grand Prix favorites, and the drivers who are coming to this country rank as the best in Europe.

Some Surprises.

Last minute entries poured into the office of the speedway management, some of them being pleasant surprises. Entries for the three car Case team were mailed from Taylor, Texas, where the team is at present. It has been thought for some time that the Case cars would be entered, as Louis Disbrow, old-time race pilot and head of the Case team, was more than anxious to compete. The team has been making the rounds of the dirt tracks and the showing made is said to be so satisfactory that entry in the 500-mile race was held advisable. This season Disbrow is going after the bacon. His partners will be Bill Endicott and Joe Nikrent, who have been driving space-eaters for years. The team is one of the strongest in the field, and if the cars are as fast and as light as reports say they should be well up in front when the checkered flag falls.

Three Isottas, the big Italian speed creations which have figured prominently among the world's record breakers, have also been entered, and it is assured that Harry Grant and Teddy Tetzlaff will be at the wheels of two of these cars while the driver for the third has not been nominated. Owing to a strike in the Isotta factory at Milan, Italy, there has been more or less misunderstanding regarding these entries. It was the original intention that three Isottas should be entered, and Tetzlaff, Grant, R. C. Gilhooley, and Trucco, an Italian, were among the possibilities as drivers. Then it was learned that owing to the Milan strike it would be almost impossible for the Isotta factory to ship but two cars in time for the Indianapolis race. Tetzlaff and Grant were nominated as drivers, while Gilhooley, who tried out an Isotta on the Indianapolis motor speedway several weeks ago, and who has been in Europe arranging for the shipment of the crs, was named as relief. This information was considered definite and was made public, but at the last moment advices were received which said that three entries would be made after all, but the question of the driver for the third car was not settled.

Another foreign entry which is filling the hearts of motor enthusiasts with joy is that of a Mercedes, to be driven by Ralph Mulford. This is the same car which Ralph De Palma drove last year and with which he came so near winning the 500-mile race. It has been rebuilt to suit the requirements laid down to govern this year's event, and in its new form has a piston displacement of 450 cubic inches, which is larger than that of any other car entered. The entry was made by E. J. Schroeder of Jersey City, a millionaire sportsman, who owns the car.

Following is list of the officials of the race: William Schimpf, chairman contest board; David Beecroft, representative contest board; Lafayette Enos, honorary referee; A. R. Pardington, referee; F. E. Edwards, chairman technical committee; Charles P. Root, starter; Joseph Firsty, director of timers; John Cox, director of scorers; Ellis Hunter, Will J. Dobyns, scorers.

Board of judges: Howard Marmon, H. B. Joy, Henry Ford, Roy Chapin, F. A. Selberling, H. S. Firestone, Howard Coffin, J. N. Willys, W. H. Brown, Thomas Hay, J. L. Gavin, C. A. Pfeffer and George M. Dixon.

Umpires: George Weidley and Harry Hammond; John P. Dods, announcing director; J. A. Barclay, director of signals; Carl Walerick, clerk of course; John G. De Long, assistant starter; A. S. Heiskell, assistant scorer; H. C. Bradfield, chairman press reception; Dr. Frank R. Allen, surgical director; Frank L. Moore, superintendent gates and roads; W. S. Gilbreath, paddock manager; E. B. Pierce, superintendent.

Price Cutting.

Developments of interest to the entire automobile industry are expected to follow the publication of an article on price cutting by Henry B. Joy, president of the Packard Motor Car company. Mr. Joy boldly contended for the right of the manufacturer to fix the price at which his product shall be sold to the public.

An interesting sequel has just come to light in the shape of a letter addressed to all Packard dealers, and signed by Alvan Macauley, general manager of the Packard Motor Car company. This letter says:

"We have had a call recently from a special agent of the department of justice, who was inquiring with reference to our policy of maintaining our 'square deal' one-price policy.

"It's very possible that as our dealer you may be interviewed in this connection; and this is to say that you have nothing to conceal, and should you be visited by any official in regard to this matter, you are at liberty to state the facts as fully as you please."

Combination Tours.

Combination interstate tours which include both motor vehicles and railroad train are a feature of the present year, accounted for by the growing desire of the average American to see more of his own country in a limited space of time.

"There are various reasons for this plan," comments Chairman Howard Longstreth of the A. A. A. touring information board, "the principal one of which is that our disconnected state road systems do not permit the continuous travel possible in Europe from one country to another. But we are making a steady advance, and in the next decade will have made substantial progress towards a comprehensive country-wide network of interstate roads."

It is a certainty, however, that this year will see more transcontinentalists than ever before. A. A. A. members who are planning tours across the continent this summer will be interested to know that those vital portions of the "Midland Trail" in Western Colorado and Eastern Utah are being rapidly improved in the crossing to the Pacific coast through the heart of the Rockies. Doubt is being removed through liberal appropriations by the Colorado legislature, and the enterprise of the cities and towns along the line. Utah commissioners have been over the route with their engineers, and the 140 miles between the state line and Green river will be taken care of, utilizing about ninety miles of the old railroad grade. By the middle of july the states of Colorado and Utah will give the world an example of the most rapid piece of road building ever attempted for a like distance.

Farmers and Autos.

"A better buyer of the automobile than any other class, the farmer has turned it to better account than any other class," says President George A. Kissel of the Kissel Kar. "While a means of pleasure to himself and family, he adapts it to actual earning capacity. It has conquered distances for him—put him hours nearer his market—saved him dollars and saved him time.

"Towards the latest important development of the automobile—namely, the truck or commercial car—the farmer has now cast his eye. Thus has mechanical power attacked animal power in its final stronghold. The reasons are not in the least complex. Economy, reliability and a great saving of time are three, and all are easily demonstrated.

"The truck is all these because it doesn't eat its head off when it's idle; because it doesn't appropriate valuable land for pasture; because it is ready to work constantly without rest; because it requires much less space to house; because it can travel from three to five times as fast as a horse; because it carries bigger loads, and for numerous other reasons equally convincing.

"The farmer is no longer a mere rustic, sweating his way to a bare living, but a man of business as keenly alert to modern opportunity and progress as his city brother. Mechanical power was his emancipator. It brought him infinitely better living conditions at home, and later a closer contact with the outside world."

Started on "Spark."

A story, which fortunately is fully verified, comes from Williamsport, Pa., of the performance of two Cadillac cars which under ordinary circumstances would be hailed as unbelievable.

Recently a combination barn and garage burned in Williamsport. There were a half dozen motor cars and several horses in the structure. The horses were burned and so were the cars. But after the fire had been extinguished and the ruins cooled off, several men entered the barn to ascertain the damage.

The bodies had been burned off the cars, the wheel spokes charred, etc. One of the men threw on the switch of one of the Cadillacs and was greatly surprised when the motor started to purr, having started on compression.

The motors of the other cars were tested. None of them would start on the switch, but the other Cadillac did start with one turn of the crank while the other cars could not be moved. Although the steering mechanism of both Cadillacs had been damaged, both cars were run out of the structure on their own power and taken to another garage to be repaired.

Quick Sales.

There have been many discussions of record sales of automobiles, salesmen from all over the country citing instances of how in a remarkably short time they have convinced prospective purchasers of the merits of the cars they represented. While some really high speed action has been developed in the convincing process, Walter S. Levey, a salesman in the San Francisco headquarters of J. W. Leavitt & Co., Pacific coast Overland distributors, seems to have carried off all honors so far recorded. Mr. Levey sold an Overland car not long ago in just five minutes from the time the customer entered the salesroom. He tells of his experience in a letter to the Willys-Overland company of Toledo.

"My record-making prospect entered the salesroom at exactly 10 o'clock one morning," writes Mr. Levey. "I know what time it was for I was standing in the middle of the salesroom looking at the dial of my watch. After a word of greeting Mr. Prospect and I turned to a Model 69 T, standing nearby, and the gentleman asked if this was the $985 car he had seen advertised. I told him it was and began to enumerate some of the many features of the 1913 Overland. He asked but one other question, 'How long will it take to have my monogram painted on each of the rear doors?' Then he walked to a desk, sat down and wrote a check for the full price of the car. As he stepped out of the door to the sidewalk I looked at my watch again. It was exactly five minutes after 10 o'clock. The whole transaction had been consummated in five minutes."

If congress creates a committee on post roads, another important move will have been made towards the logical participation of the national government in the highways progress of the country. Such action is quite probable in the special session now in progress in the adoption of a resolution introduced by Representative R. L. Henry of Texas, who is chairman of the committee on rules.

It will be remembered that following the first Federal aid good roads convention called by the A. A. A. national good roads board, held in Washington, January, 1912, there followed, as the result of the action of the nation-wide assemblage, the passing in congress, put forward by Representative Henry, of a resolution which created a joint committee of the two branches to make inquiry into the subject of Federal aid in the construction of post roads. This committee has not yet concluded its labors, but it is known that it has accumulated a vast amount of information which will be available in reaching a definite plan for Federal roads work.

In the second Federal aid gathering called by the A. A. A., held in March last, and again participated in by general good roads bodies from all over the country, and including the national grange executive chairman, the resolutions committee asked congress to create a standing roads committee, the matter having been advocated in an address prepared by Representative C. B. Slemp of Virginia. Once more Representative Henry has taken the initiative in his introduction of a resolution providing that the house create a committee on post roads, which would have the same relation to the good roads proposition as the rivers and harbors committee has to waterways legislation. In the past, good roads measures have been referred to various committees, with the usual result of secondary consideration in the miscellaneous work of these committees. In the growing consideration of good roads matters by congress, there is an unmistakable advance in the contention that the national government should concern itself along broad lines relating to the inter-state phase rather than any plan which would require the nation to do work very properly devolving upon the community. President Wilson aptly expressed the logical thought when at the American road congress he described roads progress as "threading the energies of a nation together" and then commented upon the "fundamental importance that the United States should think in big pieces, should think ultimately as a whole."

Count California Japs.

Sacramento, Cal., May 10.—A new bill, providing for a census of the Japanese population of California and for the gathering of information and statistics concerning the class and acreage of lands held by them, has been introduced in the senate by Senator Caminetti, under suspension of the rules.

WHY IT SHOULD BE A 54 HUDSON

They have not produced a Six by merely adding two clylinders to a good Four. A good Six cannot be built that way. These forty-eight specialists that built this car were experienced in all the details of motor car building, having been trained in 97 European and American factories, started out to build the Six without being hampered by old manufacturing equipment and old ideals. They had a new conception, the result of a combined wider knowledge than was perhaps ever before centered in the designing of a motor car.

Laymen will have their ideas as to how automobiles should be built, but, think you, anyone else less experienced than these experts could build better? You naturally have more confidence in the diagnosis of a skilled physician than you would in the conjectures of a hundred laymen. Why not put equal reliance in these forty-eight experts? Their reputation is staked on the 54 Hudson. That is sufficient guarantee for most buyers.

But there are also Hudson Sixes in every section. They are doing the most abusive service that any automobile, regardless of cost, ever did. And they are standing up.

THE HUDSON 54 WILL NOT DISAPPOINT YOU.

They are fully equipped with electric lights, electrically self cranked, with the famous Delco system. They have every motor car luxury included, speedometer, clock, top, curtains, rain-vision wind shield, demountable rims, 12-inch upholstery, etc., equipped with a five-passenger phaeton body—$2,450.00.

Don't you think it is worth inspecting before deciding on your purchase?

At the Lyceum

The fourth week of Kinemacolor will open at the Lyceum tomorrow with the strongest week's program that has been shown yet. Tomorrow and Monday the program will include "The Violin" a touching story of an old musician's love for his violin. It is a master piece of Kinemacolor, full of pathos and excellent acting. The picture has a force and a grip from its faithful human touch, the contrast of youth and age, poverty and riches. On the same day's "Niagara Falls" in Kinemacolor will be shown. Some wonderful effects are obtained in this film which gives extraordinarily beautiful views of the clouds of spray and of the sun shining through the mist, giving rainbow effects.

On Tuesday and Wednesday "Other People's Children" which is the first production in a new series of Kinemacolor pictures, will be shown, and while the young folks revel in the story as it unfolds, their elders find just as much pleasure in its simple charm. The first of a series of pictures of Paris called "Rambles in Paris" will also be shown on these days and show in Kinemacolor the world famous public squares, gardens, parks and historic buildings. The views include the Tuileries and Luxembourg gardens the Louvre and other points of great interest. A wit once said "When good Americans die, they go to Paris." This is the first of a series of rambles through Paris, the series will continue for a number of weeks.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the most gorgeous production ever made in Kinemacolor will be shown, "Jack and the Beanstalk," which is in three reels. This famous children's story will show in detail the adventures of Jack from the time he sells the cow for a handful of beans, until he regains his father's possessions. You see Jack entering the Giant's castle, his running off with the hen that lays the golden eggs and his many trips up and down the beanstalk. The above three days will be children's days at the Lyceum and special care will be given to the little ones, no matter how small or how many.

There will be matinees daily continuous from 1 to 5 and the evening performances will run from 7 to 11 o'clock.

• • •

Among the early attractions at the Lyceum will be Blanche Bates in "The Witness for the Defense," Chauncey Olcott in "The Isle of My Dreams," Rose Stahl in "Maggie Pepper," Maude Adams in "Peter Pan" Eddie Foy in "Over the River," Frances Starr in "The Case of Becky" and Raymond Hitchcock in "The Red Widow."

At the Orpheum

The third and most successful season of the Duluth Orpheum theater will be brought to a close next week with a splendid bill of vaudeville, headed by Jesse Lasky's newest musical play, "The Trained Nurses."

Since the opening of the season in October the Duluth public has enjoyed in large numbers, the weekly bills of vaudeville fare presented at the local theater by this world-wide vaudeville management. During the season some of the best acts on the vaudeville stage have been presented and many of the new features and novelties of the vaudeville world have been offered for the pleasure of the Duluth patrons.

The musical play, "The Trained Nurses," which will be the feature act of the closing week, has as its stars Clarke and Bergman, two well known vaudeville players. The book is by William Le Baron, the author of "The Antique Girl," the music by Leo Edwards, a song writer of much success, and the lyrics are by Blanche Merrill. Being a production of Jesse Lasky's it is assured of elaborate and beautiful scenic equipment and costumes. The scene of the play is set in the sun parlor on the roof of a private sanitarium in New York city and is most elaborately designed. The wedding finale is said to be one of the most beautifully dressed numbers ever presented on the vaudeville stage. Among the musical numbers which have had much vogue in the cities where the piece has been presented are "Humty Dumpty," "I've Had a Lovely Time," "I Can't Be True," "Wedding Bells," and other most pleasing numbers.

Fred Watson and Rena Santos will appear in a song and dancing act that is said to be bright and engaging and most pleasing in the material selected and in the manner of presentation. These performers have long been associated in vaudeville and their act has been kept continually up-to-date and has won merited approbation. A most delightful fifteen minutes of song, dance and story is provided by the two.

The "Kill Kare Kouple" is the unique title that John and Winnie Hastings have chosen for themselves and John, himself is said to be one of the funniest men in vaudeville. He is an excellent eccentric dancer, he plays the piano and sings songs. His partner, Winnie Hastings is a pretty and clever young actress and a cornet player. They will appear on the last bill of the season.

The "Fiddle-Up Girl," Miss "Mike" Borkin will be remembered by the Duluth vaudeville patrons. She is the girl with the violin who wears the white costume of the girl of the far Western plains. Miss Borkin is the daughter of a Montana mining man. She has had excellent training in America, and studied for five years abroad. Her vaudeville career has met with much success and she will be welcomed on her return visit to Duluth.

The Dorlans, athletes, will appear on next week's bill assisted by their trampoline. "A Terrible Night" is the name of their act, and they go whizzing through the air with a rapidity and sureness that makes their act one of much interest.

Another old friend of the Duluth patrons will return for the week's engagemnt, in Lew Hoffman, who will be better remembered as "The Man With the Hats." Mr. Hoffman bills himself as the "Hat Maniac," and the things he can do with hats are among the things that were not dreamed of in the philosophy of a gentleman of Hamlet's acquaintance. Mr. Hoffman is an eccentric juggler who specializes in hats and the pieces of headgear which he carries with him respond instantly to his slightest touch, and the act is a most amusing one. "The Hat Maniac" will be remembered by many of the Orpheum patrons of last season.

The Talking Moving Pictures will continue to be a feature of the bill, new subjects being shown. The interest in this most marvelous of Edison's inventions continues. There will also be the usual numbers by the Orpheum orchestra. The bill will be presented every afternoon and evening during the week beginning with Sunday afternoon's performance, and the performance next Saturday night will close the season at this popular vaudeville theater.

The managers of Thomas A. Edison's Kinetophone have just executed another remarkable achievement, one which will take its place in the annals of theatrical history and will long be referred to as a managerial coupe de resistance.

William J. Gaynor, mayor of Greater New York, and his cabinet, composing Police Commissioner Waldo, Fire Commissioner Johnson, Street Commissioner Edwards and Secretary Adamson, consented to pose for the talking moving pictures.

The film shows the five executive heads of New York city grouped about a huge table in the cabinet room of the executive chambers. The members of the mayor's official family, one by one, arise and deliver a brief argument in defense of their respective departments and the good that has been done to make New York's police, fire and street departments envied and respected by every other city in the world.

The film record is concluded with a brief address by Mayor Gaynor, which is delivered in his characteristic, straight-from-the-shoulder, man-to-man style of oratory.

The picture of Mayor Gaynor and his cabinet for talking moving pictures not only is of decided amusement value, but is the first historic reference for future generations that has been made. It will be placed in the archives of the New York Historical society.

At the Empress

The Empress theater management will offer its patrons for four days' commencing with the matinee Sunday a program of high class vaudeville. The bill contains more people than the usual musical farce comedies that have been playing there. There is Charles Lindholm and his company of players who will present a very funny comedy, "The Man From Minnesota." Then there is Eddie Badger, a novelty musical comedian, the De Grey quartet and the big three-scene stage picture of the "Singers De Luxe."

"The Man From Minnesota" is a Swedish farce comedy sketch full of fun and comic situations. It covers considerable territory for a one-act skit. The story has to do with one Charles Lute Fiske of Ottertail county, Minn., who goes east in answer to a matrimonial ad. The story involves also a homely maid servant, an infuriated jealous husband, a young-man-about-town and an innocent wife who believes her husband is out of the city. The action of the sketch is rapid and there is something doing all the time.

Charles Lindholm will be seen as "Charley Lute Fiske," a part he created in "Society and the Bulldog" at Daly's theater, New York. The cast supporting Mr. Lindholm is an excellent one.

An act rivaling Charles Lindholm and company for first honors is "The Singers De Luxe." The act is indeed a novelty. The three pretty young girls with their plensing voices present several selections. They carry a complete scenic equipment. The first scene shows the Hotel Waldorf, New York, the second scene gives Central park, New York, while the last is a reproduction of the castle of Zalzer, Thibet. "The Singers De Luxe," May, Marie and Marion, make many changes of costumes wearing the latest American and Parisian creations. The electrical effects are reported to be marvelous and the music of the haunting and entrancing variety.

Another big act is the De Grey quartet. These singers are said to have an excellent line of clever songs. Their renditions of popular and classic selections are given with perfect harmony. Their songs range from comedy to opera. For a singing act it is sure to please.

Eddie Badger is an eccentric musical comedian. Eddie can play any kind of an instrument and his repertoire is large.

• • •

For the last half of the week the Empress will have the tabloid musical comedy "Palmer's Cabaret Review." This attraction consists of scenes from the many cabaret shows now making such a big hit in the biggest hotels in the East. The musical numbers are all catchy, while the dancing specialties are of the Texas Tommy and Tango variety. The chorus is large and good looking. The principal people are clever and good entertainers.

• • •

There is a snap, a dash and ginger to the work of Messrs. Hough, Adams and Howard's latest success, "Honeymoon Trail," which will visit this city within a fortnight. Manager Mort H. Singer has introduced some new dancing numbers executed by the famous La Salle broilers, that makes these nimble-footed dancers go some.

• • •

It has become a theatrical axiom that each musical comedy production of Mort H. Singer is his best and greatest, and in "Miss Nobody from Starland" this rule is said to hold more than good. Mr. Singer having broken all precedents in the quality of the offering, the costliness of his production, the brightness of his stars and the other things that go to make up a brilliant musical comedy.

• • •

Among the many entertaining features of "Whose Little Girl Are You?" which will be seen at the Empress with Morris and Thurston playing the principle roles, is a Texas Tommy dance done by Miss Thurston and Mr. Ackerlind. The show is full of specialties of every description which are introduced during the farce much in the same manner as the old Hoyt farces. The song hits are "Whose Little Girl Are You?" "Queenie," "Game of Tennis," "Ragging the Baby to Sleep" and a half dozen others.

• • •

The most enthusiastic notices were accorded the musical comedy, "A Stubborn Cinderella," which is now playing to capacity audiences, and which is to be seen at the Empress soon.

Percy Hammond, of the Evening Post, and Chicago's foremost critic, said: "'A Stubborn Cinderella' is far and away the best of the copious output of the Adams, Hough and Howard outfit, authors of 'The Time, the Place and the Girl,' 'The Girl Question' and 'Honeymoon Trail.' Its characters are more attractive, its story more interesting and consistent and its wit more spontaneous. The piece is beautifully dressed in silk and satin, and its dancing numbers, thanks to Mr. George Marion, are without exception poetic and graceful."

MISS "MIKE" BERKIN,
The "Fiddle-Up Girl" at the Orpheum Next Week.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Henri Bernstein's new play, "The Secret," which has set Paris talking, is to be produced in this country by Charles Frohman. Parisians who have heard of this move are wondering what will happen to the play after it has been "adapted" to suit American tastes.

• • •

Arnold Bennett has dramatized his story, "Buried Alive," and has produced it under the name, "The Great Adventure." It has been playing in the provinces of England for some time and was recently brought to London. The dialogue has been pronounced brilliant, but the play itself so prolix that it is not likely to be a success in its present form.

• • •

A magnificent new theater, costing more than half a million dollars, is to be erected by a syndicate in London to perpetuate the memory of Sir Henry Irving.

• • •

"Her Next Divorce" is the name of a new comedy which the firm of Harris & Selwyn will produce. The author is C. W. Bell, a Canadian attorney, and Laura Hope Crew will be the star of the cast.

• • •

Madame Nazimova is planning a short visit to Europe this summer—the first she has made since she first came to America seven years ago. The visit will have to be very short, for she is to play "Bella Donna" until late in July. Her season in it is to resume in September.

• • •

A new comedy by Winchell Smith and called "The Amateur Detective" is to be tried out by Cohan and Harris next week.

• • •

Primrose and Dockstader's minstrels are not expected to close until late in June. The company goes through the Northwest. The show is now playing New England time.

• • •

Sam Bernard is going abroad this summer in search of a new musical play for American consumption. "All For the Ladies," however, will be used by Mr. Bernard as his vehicle for the greater part of next season.

• • •

Stella Hammerstein, daughter of the indomitable Oscar, has written a play and will produce it herself. Also she will act in it.

• • •

Miss Hammerstein's maiden dramatic work is a playlet entitled "Getting the Goods," written in collaboration with Mrs. Frank Sheridan. The principal character is a young newspaper woman, which is the role Miss Hammerstein will act when her initial effort is placed on the stage.

• • •

George MacFarlane, the noted baritone of the Gilbert & Sullivan Opera company, has signed a contract to remain under the management of the Messrs. Shubert and William A. Brady for the next five years. It is probable that MacFarlane will shortly be put before the public as an individual star in a new musical offering.

• • •

Will H. Philbrick may be starred by Mr. Whitney in a rewritten version of "The Wild Goose," a Willard Spenser operetta. If the script is altered in time the piece is to be presented at the Lyric, Philadelphia, in May.

• • •

Richard Carle is the latest legit headed for the two-a-day path. Carle and ten girls may appear in a big singing and dancing act, Carle to draw down $2,500 a week for the offering.

• • •

Thomas Wise's vehicle "The Silver Wedding" closed in Chicago last Sunday evening.

• • •

Emily Stevens will appear at the Plymouth theater, Boston, in "The Child," a new production by Elizabeth Apthorp McFadden, who wrote "The Product of the Mill." The new piece was first tried out in Texas last December by Margaret Anglin for one performance. It appealed to Harrison Grey Fiske, who is putting it on for metropolitan appearances.

• • •

One of the English actresses to decorate a Broadway production next season will be Gertrude Robins. Miss Robins is an exceedingly attractive and accomplished young woman, who is at present appearing in London in one of Charles Frohman's companies.

• • •

At one of the largest salaries ever paid an American act George Beban will soon appear in London in the playlet, "The Sign of the Rose." Mr. Beban and his company, which is a large one, will sail from Montreal on May 12. On May 26 he will begin an engagement at the Palladium.

• • •

John Hyams and Leila McIntyre brought their tour of thirty-six weeks in "The Girl of My Dreams" to a close on Saturday night. The piece has been on the "road" for three years, and has attained success beyond the management's fondest hopes.

• • •

Over in London some of the papers have taken up the American idea of interviewing celebrities. One publication picked out Anna Pavlowa, the Russian dancer. The interviewer asked her if she went in for athletic sports. What she really replied may never be made public, but as translated from Russian into French and then into English and printed in the paper it was to the effect that as she had to practice dancing two hours every day and dance about two hours and a half at every performance she had as much athletic exercise as any woman required.

• • •

"Within the Law" is to be given in London with Beerbohm Tree playing the role of Joe Garson. Its premiere is scheduled for May 20.

• • •

Louis Mann is going into vaudeville. He will use a condensed revision of his play, "Elevating a Husband," for this purpose, practically the entire second act being embodied in the tabloid arrangement.

• • •

Lew Field's summer show will be called "All Aboard," and is now in rehearsal. Its first performance in New York will be June 2. Besides Fields himself the cast includes Jose Collins, George Monroe, Lawrence d'Orsay, Carter de Haven and his wife, Rositzka Dolly and William Philbrick.

• • •

Fuller Mellish closes his season with William Faversham next week and will appear during the summer in Toronto, where he is to become a member of Jessie Bonstelle's dramatic company.

• • •

Florence Rockwell, the Shakespearean actress, will conclude a long season as leading woman with Robert Manteil within a fortnight. Miss Rockwell has established herself as one of the strongest dramatic actresses on the standard stage by her excellent work.

• • •

Olive Briscoe is preparing a new musical novelty which she will present in vaudeville during the present season. Miss Briscoe is an attractive artist who is one of the later recruits to vaudeville. A series of "impressions" of the higher form of entertainment, written by herself, is announced for early publication.

• • •

Ian Maclaren, a well-known English actor, who has done excellent work in England and America, has been especially engaged to play Cassius in the special production of "Julius Caesar" which Tyrone Power is now presenting. Mr. Maclaren recently closed a long season in "The Daughter of Heaven," in which he played the role of the emperor to the empress of Viola Allen.

• • •

Jose Collins, who has closed a successful engagement in "The Merry Countess," will begin rehearsals in New York next week for the Weber and Fields revue which will be established at the Forty-fourth Street theater in New York. For a few weeks Miss Collins and Maurice Farkoa will appear in vaudeville, having made their debut at the Palace Music hall in New York last week.

• • •

Wallis Clark, the English actor, has been engaged for an important role with Constance Collier in a new play, entitled "Frisco Sal," which had its premiere last week. This play was prepared for Miss Collier and will be presented for a limited period, after which it will be closed for the summer, to inaugurate Miss Collier's season in New York early in the fall.

• • •

Dorothy Parker, daughter of Louis N. Parker, the author of "Disraeli," "Pomander Walk," and "Joseph and His Brethren," has completed the sketches which will illustrate the published version of the last-named play. Prior to Miss Parker's assumption of a stage career—she had never appeared professionally until she played the heroine of "Pomander Walk"—she achieved much success as an illustrator. Many of her drawings were published in London Sketch and similar publications. To illustrate her father's most successful play, Miss Parker has drawn character sketches of Joseph, Jacob, Reuben, Simeon, Potiphar, Potiphar's wife and Asenath as they were enacted in "Joseph and His Brethren" at the Century theater. Her sketch of Asenath is that of herself in the character of the high priest's daughter whom Joseph marries.

• • •

Viola Allen has sailed away for Europe, the first of the big stars to undertake the annual pilgrimage. Miss Allen will also be the first to return, inasmuch as she contemplates spending only from six to eight weeks on the other side.

• • •

May Irwin usually closes her season suddenly and unexpectedly as soon as she hears the call of the St. Lawrence country, where she spends her summers. This season, however, the call of laughter is so strong that it is likely to drown out the call of the St. Lawrence until very late in the season. Never has a May Irwin play been more hillariously received than has "Widow By Proxy"—and that's saying an awful lot.

Your Herald ad. should "stay in print" until it does the task you've set for it.

GOOD ADVICE FROM A STANDPATTER.

The Des Moines Capital, one of the stanchest standpat newspapers in the Middle West, has become reconciled to the impending doom of the system of prohibitive protection it has championed so long, and gives some good advice to those of its own faith.

"The past fifteen years," says the Capital, "have been characterized by almost universal complaint against the American protective tariff. A large number of Republican candidates for office shared the honors with the Democrats in attacking the schedules. Republicans built up popularity by their opposition to the tariff. Orators who attacked the schedules, the millionaires and the trusts have been the popular orators for fifteen years.

"Now the presidency and both branches of congress are in the hands of those who say that the tariff must go. We beg of the country to be patient. As Lincoln said, 'Nothing can be lost by taking time.'

"There is alarm among the manufacturers and on the farms in regard to the proposed changes. Some of us have thought of the dangers before they arrived, and are therefore prepared for them. Free trade may be the means of bringing great prosperity to the country. Who knows? The people voted to try the new plan. We urge manufacturers to wait and see. * * * Business may go on just as usual. There is not much wool in a suit of clothes, and the disappearance of the wool tariff may not cut much ice. We have always believed in a protective tariff, but for a long time the doctrine has not been popular, and we have not been disposed to put in much time discussing the tariff. We are not going to begin it now. The case is in the hands of the jury, and we are not a member of the jury."

Marvelously sensible, this, for a high tariff advocate. It is advice that it will profit all protectionists to heed.

Two points in it compel comment. The speculation on what free trade would do to the country is highly academic, because free trade is proposed nowhere. The Underwood bill is not a free trade bill. It is not even a tariff for revenue bill. It is a protection bill.

The Democrats took over the control of the country with the definite agreement that while they believed in a tariff for revenue only, and some of them in free trade, they recognized that the protective system had continued so long that it was thoroughly entwined in the business structure, and therefore that it probably would be disastrous to uproot it in one operation.

So the Democrats promised only to reduce the tariff, not to destroy it. They promised to retain protection, and they have done it wherever it was needed, and in an ample degree.

In point of fact if the Republican party, carrying out its traditional tariff policy, had passed a generation ago such a bill as this, and had stuck to it, American industry would have flourished on a much healthier basis because competition would have kept it on its mettle and forced it to establish itself on its merits. It would have had a sturdy garden growth instead of a rank hothouse growth. There would have been fewer unduly rich people, and fewer miserably poor. There would have been somewhat more people producing from the soil and somewhat fewer non-producers in the cities. There would perhaps have been a little less bulk wealth in the land, but a much higher average wealth.

The Democrats are not proposing free trade. They are not installing a tariff for revenue only.

They are applying a protective tariff on a sane basis, and they are compelling industries that have become too strongly addicted to the subsidy habit to taper off.

They are passing a bill which provides protection as it should be, in place of laws providing protection that has sapped the national vigor and bred a horde of vicious conditions.

The other point in the Capital's article to which exception should be taken is in the statement that "the case is in the hands of the jury, and we are not a member of the jury."

The case was in the hands of the jury during the fifteen years of agitation against tariff abuses of which the Capital speaks. The jury rendered a verdict last November, and the authorities are now executing the sentence.

And the Capital was on the jury then, too, but it was one of those whose stubbornness hung the jury for so long.

The Capital no doubt remembers the story of the order for dinner sent out by a hung jury: "Eleven meals and one bale of hay."

When the jury was out, the Capital was entitled to a bale of hay.

Now, in the light of its new and more sensible attitude, it is entitled to a square meal of Democratic prosperity, which it is going to get.

West Duluth will now be expected to raise a monument in honor of its up-to-date John Gilpin.

THE N. M. D. A. AT HINCKLEY.

By the way, the spring convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held at Hinckley Friday and Saturday, June 5 and 6.

It is time, therefore, to be planning to have every county and every community in the territory of the association represented there.

Every county and every community should be represented at Hinckley by its best boosters. A vast amount of good comes of these meetings. They help amazingly to keep the association active and energetic and full of purpose.

The real work of the association, so far as accomplishing tangible results is concerned, is not done at the conventions. It is done at the sessions of the legislature, at the immigration headquarters, and all over Northern Minnesota by the good roads committee.

What is done at the conventions is to get Northern Minnesota together to talk over its needs and advantages and to plan further campaigns for the common good of all its parts.

The association's work is done by a storage battery, as it were, and the conventions are where this storage battery is recharged twice a year. This keeps it going, full of vigor and purpose.

Therefore the convention is important. It should be attended by every Northern Minnesota booster who can get there.

Matters with the association will be easier henceforth. The biggest and hardest of its jobs—reapportionment—is achieved. The matter of finance has been made smoother by the enactment of a law permitting the counties making up the association to appropriate the money needed to keep it going.

But there is much left to do. Idle acres must be settled. Roads must be built to make it possible to settle them. The problem of public aid in the clearing of cut-over lands must be solved. Those who have settled on Northern Minnesota lands and are building up the state must be encouraged and helped.

You will be doing a good deed for Northern Minnesota if you will go to Hinckley next month and put your shoulder to the wheel.

BEING A MIXER.

A Congregational minister in New Jersey has resigned his charge for a peculiar and unusual reason. And there is a good deal of human interest in the story.

This man's theology is unchallenged, his sermons are liked and his private life is stainless. His fault is that he is not a "good mixer." His congregation resented a dignity and formality of manner which, to their minds, amounted to aloofness.

Says the New York World, discussing the case: "The capacity to 'mix' with people has become an important attribute of success for men in other walks of life besides the ministry. As society grows more democratic it exacts a more gracious attention from all who serve it in any capacity. Time was when a professional man could indulge in a brusqueness or coldness of manner with perhaps a gain of personal prestige. To an extent, mannerisms are still condoned in doctors and lawyers. But they are little tolerated in ministers in an era which has witnessed a decline of theological authority, and not at all in the general run of men."

The World puts a finger on one cause of the demand that a preacher be a good mixer when it speaks of the "decline of theological authority." When the word from the pulpit was the final and unassailable authority, and it was all but impious to doubt it, ministers might be coldly aloof and superior—in fact, they needed to be to preserve a pedestaled position that would conceal their humanity and make their utterances appear something more than anything that common clay could be expected to make. When congregations got the habit of thinking as freely as their ministers—more freely, indeed, since many ministers dared not think for fear of departing in some jot or tittle from their hard and fast creeds—this ended once for all.

A minister, these days, must be more than merely a good preacher and good man. He must have warm humanity. He must not merely speculate in the realms of cold dogma; he must deal concretely with human things and human problems. His creed is useless unless he interprets it in terms of human life.

Doubtless this unfortunate man did all this. He might have been able, in his closet crucible, to transmute the crystallized creeds of his faith into living human terms. But he was no mixer, so he has lost his charge and his former congregation is seeking another pastor.

There are few callings, these days, that do not call for mixers. Normal humanity, happily, is gregarious. It mixes freely, and it is suspicious of those who refuse to mix. It suspects in them an arrogation of superiority which it is quick to deny. Often this does gross injustice. Many men—and women, too—arouse such suspicions when all that is the matter with them is shyness. Instead of arrogance and superiority their trouble is distrust of self. The shy person, holding himself aloof for fear his company is not welcome, in self defense often adopts a haughty air that is a mere shell for a tender, sensitive, humanity-loving but timid soul.

It isn't wise, nor is it fair, to shun these people. If it really is arrogance, it is easy to ascertain the fact. If it is mere timidity, the shell of tremblingly assumed hauteur soon melts under the warmth of human contact. The man who holds himself aloof ought to be given a chance, be he preacher or just a neighbor, to find out that there is joy in human companionship and that it is fun to be a mixer and to mix. If he only uses the chance to show that he thinks himself of finer clay, he can quickly be dropped. If he is merely a timid soul whose aloofness was merely shyness, he will thaw out and become one of the rest.

Maybe that preacher didn't have a fair chance.

By being the scene of a $10,000 jewelry robbery, Medicine Hat shows the sincerity of its intention to get a reputation for something besides weather.

WALK!

May we remind you, if you need reminding, that the season for pleasant country walks has returned?

Get out in the country, and on foot. Don't go in an automobile, even if you have a chance. Walk. An automobile is good only to use in picking out a proper route for a walking trip, and it isn't necessary even for that.

You will see summer in the making. Under the half-bare trees you will find tender spring blossoms. You will find the uplifting croziers of the ferns. You will find the fresh, pale green shoots of the summer's glory.

It's worth while. It will teach you what a beautiful world you live in. It will bring you home tired and hungry and ready for a sound night's sleep from which you will awake in the morning with renewed zest for your day's work.

It will stir your blood into new life, and send it coursing through your veins to sweep away the migraines and humors of a winter of inactivity.

Go out and see how summer is made, and get acquainted with your world.

Go out and put your leg muscles to the use for which they were made.

Go out and put your eyes and your mind to the wholesome uses for which they were given you.

Go out and walk and bring home new energy of mind and body, freshness of vision and thought, and a real appreciation of the joy there is in living.

Huerta refuses to recognize Henry Lane Wilson as an ambassador just because Uncle Sam doesn't recognize Huerta as a president. But there are those even in this country who don't think Henry Lane much of an ambassador, anyway, so where does that leave Huerta?

THE WISER CHOICE.

What would you do if Andrew Carnegie offered to endow you with an income of $5,000 a year for life?

You'd grab at it? Probably you would. Probably most of us would.

Yet a girl afflicted as few living beings are afflicted has refused such an offer.

The other day Helen Keller, who is blind, deaf and dumb, visited Andrew Carnegie, and he made precisely that offer. And she gently but positively refused to accept it.

"I feel that I am able now to provide for myself," she said, "and I want to make my own little place in the world. I do not want to feel dependent on any one. I want to give back to the world some service for all that has been done for me, and to feel that it is my own contribution."

Asked why she had accepted aid toward her education and now refused aid, she said that at that time her family was too poor to help her, but that now there is no excuse for her calling upon outsiders.

Hers was the wiser choice.

She chose self-development, independence, the privilege of giving to society the best there is in her. This girl who has overcome the direst afflictions that can be visited upon humanity and has made herself not only self-supporting but capable of lending a hand to others, has put to shame thousands of full-facultied people who would have "grabbed at" that offer and ceased to endeavor because their brute wants were cared for.

It is true that a pension of $5,000 a year would not necessarily prevent the beneficiary from doing good in the world, and that it might be a help in his endeavors for the common good. But it would destroy the spirit of independence which is the surest staff for a useful walk through life.

By doing away with the necessity for work, in altogether too many cases it would mean doing away with work.

And work is man's salvation.

Not many of us, it is to be feared, would have the will to refuse an offer so tempting.

But the world would get vastly more good from the few who would refuse than from the many who would accept.

Being called before the bar of the house for contempt ought to pretty nearly qualify Millionaire Glover for vaudeville.

MOTHER'S DAY.

Tomorrow has been set apart as Mother's Day.

Not that anybody advocates confining your consideration for and appreciation of your mother to one day in the year.

But a pretty and growing custom dictates that one day in the 365 be set apart for mother's sake; and the least you can do is to recognize it by giving her your thoughts on that day.

Outwardly, the fashion is to wear a flower in her honor—a bright one if she is living, a white one in her memory if she has lain her tired body down in that last sleep which comes to all.

That's little enough to do, surely.

And if you are fortunate enough to be able to wear a bright flower for a living mother, you can do much more.

You can buy her a present.

You can tell her what is in your heart.

You can stop to make her happy by telling her that you are repaying her with love for her loving thought and care for the boy or girl who was you once upon a time.

To her, that will be a rich reward; though you will know that if you devoted every moment of the rest of her life to making her comfortable and happy you couldn't begin to repay her for what she has done for you.

And if she lives elsewhere, as so many of our mothers do, you can write her a letter and tell her that you are going to write oftener hereafter.

It's a little thing to do, to write your mother a letter; but you are so busy that you forget, and above all you forget what it means to her.

Tomorrow is Mother's Day. Remember it.

Now comes a New Jersey man with the announcement that he has discovered perpetual motion. He must have been studying the old political machine in that state.

PARTNERS.

Says the Breeder's Gazette: "Cooperate with the boss, and say 'we,' not 'he.'"

Good advice. To it the Kansas City Star adds advice as good: "There is just one way for a man to work up into a partnership in a firm. That is to make the firm's business his business. Then he has a virtual partnership which, if mutually profitable, is bound to be recognized eventually."

True enough. When a wise employer sees a valuable employe taking a personal interest in the firm's welfare, he argues rightly that that employe's interest will be increased and its permanency assured if he has a share in the profits he helps to make.

So it becomes a profitable arrangement for both employer and employe.

It helps a good deal, too, if the employer also exhibits occasionally a sense of the common interest.

If you want a really exciting day some time, just start out in the morning to follow literally all the advice that is given you.

ROAD TAXES AND ROAD MAKING.

Congress is talking of big appropriations for roads.

That's good.

But congress, at the same time, should be considering carefully how the money it appropriates will be spent.

There are few greater needs in this nation than more and better roads, but it needs quite as much a better system of spending road taxes than it has now.

It is quite as important that the taxpayer shall be assured that he will get a dollar's worth of roads for each dollar he pays in road taxes, as it is that liberal appropriations shall be made for roads.

When results balance expenditures it will be much easier to get adequate appropriations.

Recent road legislation in Minnesota has greatly increased tax levies for road purposes, but it has not increased at all the assurance that results will be proportionate to expense.

Yes, Melinda, it is very easy to teach your husband how little he really knows. Just send him to a closet to look for something that "must be there."

AS TO GRAPE JUICE.

Because Mr. Bryan, as a subordinate in an administration fruitful of innovations, provided the innovation of a wineless dinner for foreign ambassadors mostly accustomed to wine with their dinners, there has been discussion enough to solve all the national problems.

But nobody has put the right of it more conclusively than the Boston man who said this:

When Mr. Bryan, as secretary of state, gives a dinner to the embassy from the king of the Cannibal islands, he should kill a fat young boy and have him served roasted at the dinner. The fact that Mr. Bryan abhors murder has nothing to do with the matter. It is provincial to carry such personal prejudices into dealings with foreign diplomats, and he would, very properly, be pooh-poohed and paragraphed should he allow his personal convictions to influence his actions.

So far as we are concerned, seeing that the diplomats have survived the affliction of a grape juice dinner, we are willing to rest the case where the Boston man left it.

But it would be a mean suspicion to think that the new bill was impossible as long as Joe Cannon remained in congress.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE TOURIST TRADE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In The Herald last evening I noticed a little article telling of the amount of money spent by tourists in various countries. The figures were impressive.

I am glad to see that Duluth has finally awakened to the value of cultivating the tourist trade. We have the best talking points of any city in America as a summer tourist center, and the efforts that are to be made this summer to attract visitors are most commendable. We are to have a series of six week-end entertainments staged for the benefit of people living within a radius of 100 miles of Duluth. I hope the Duluth people will do everything in their power to make these a success. They should be followed up with band concerts, excursions, circuses, carnivals, and all forms of outdoor and indoor entertainments. Make this city the Paris of the continent during the summer. Let Duluth people get the carnival spirit during the summer, and make the months of June, July and August one continuous round of pleasure. It wouldn't hurt us to have a Mardi Gras parade. If we can establish a reputation all over America for being the liveliest city on the continent during the summer, it will do as much to boom business as the steel plant. It doesn't mean a round of dissipation. It can be all clean, outdoor amusement.

BOOSTER.

Duluth, May 10.

The Little Things of Life

Gower, Mo., Enterprise: The lady who rules our destiny was looking over a newspaper at the breakfast table one morning this week, when she suddenly looked up and made this remark:

"The little things of life are the measure of a man's soul."

Asked the wherefore of the remark, she said she had been reading of the splendid relief work being done for the tornado and flood sufferers in surrounding states and wondered if the men who responded so bravely to large charitable demands, as readily came to the relief of the every day suffering and destitution at his next door.

There is food for thought in this.

In the face of an appalling catastrophe a wave of generosity flows over the land that often fills the coffers of the sufferers to overflowing. There is a magnetism in the movement which makes a man of means write a check for $1,000 without batting an eye—provided he is allowed to sign a subscription list that will appear in his favorite newspaper the next morning.

Without discounting the magnificence of the way in which the American public comes to the relief of its flood, famine and fire sufferers, isn't it true that most men and women would rather give to a big, popular charity than assist a poor, struggling neighbor, however worthy he may be?

The man who establishes libraries, that have his name over the portals; the men who endow colleges, and have their names emblazoned over the main entrance to the halls of learning; the men who head the lists of all popular charitable enterprises, are doing a great work which should not be discouraged. But are they going to have a more joyful entrance into the kingdom of heaven, or occupy a seat closer to the throne than the unassuming person who holds out his right hand to the needy widows and orphans he meets in everyday life, and never lets his left hand suspect what his right is doing?

Verily, brethren, "The little things of life are the measure of a man's soul."

A Lucky Mistake.

Strand: A young doctor may stumble into the good graces of a patient by a fluke, as in the story fathered, like so many stories, upon Abernethy. After a convivial gathering Abernethy was summoned to the aid of a well-to-do lady. When he pulled out his watch and put his fingers on the patient's wrist he could not count the pulse. "Drunk again," he muttered. The next morning he was requested to make an early call to see the lady, who received him most effusively.

"Doctor," she said, "you are the first honest doctor I have had. I was drunk." And ever after she was one of Abernethy's staunchest adherents and best patients.

Has Record for Published Songs

From the London Mail.

Clifton Bingham, the song writer, author of "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Asthore," "Dear Heart," and "In Old Madrid," died at Bristol a few days ago from an apoplectic seizure at the age of 53.

Precisely how many songs Mr. Bingham wrote nobody knows, but the number is certainly more than 2,000, and in addition his output of Christmas card verses was enormous. Of his songs more than 1,600 were published, set to music. He once said that he wrote on an average from 70 to 80 ballads a year.

Wherever the English language is spoken his songs are sung and many of his compositions have been translated. He was a born ballad writer.

"Songs must come from the heart," he said, "and go to the heart." "Back to the Old Love" was written on a visiting card, and another song on the top of an omnibus at Brighton. More than one song was written in an underground train, but most of them were composed at a little desk which his father gave him.

He kept a book in which hundreds of ideas for verses were written, and if ever he had fallen short of ideas himself he always had the selection of those sent to him by admirers. "When you have the thought and one line," he said, "the other lines come almost as a matter of course." One of his most famous songs, "The Promise of Life" was written without hesitation and without a correction. "Love's Old Sweet Song" was written at 2 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Bingham was the son of a Bristol bookseller, and when his father died he helped his mother in the business. Then he went into journalism. He had long been writing verses, and eventually he was able to devote himself wholly to composition. For his first accepted song he received a guinea. He has himself described his first "professional" visit to London.

"I went up to see a publisher to whome I had sold many 'dying child' lyrics. When I presented myself to him he stared at me in amazement. 'Good gracious,' he cried, 'judging from your songs I thought you were an old man with one foot in the grave.'"

The music of "In Old Madrid" was written by Mr. Trotere before the words were composed by Mr. Bingham. The score lay in Mr. Bingham's desk for months, and repeatedly the author received postcards from the composer asking: "What about my music?" At last the inspiration came and the words were written.

Love's Old Sweet Song.

Once in the dear dead days beyond recall,
When on the world the mists began to fall,
Out of the dreams that rose in happy throngs
Low to our hearts love sang an old sweet song;
And in the dusk when fell the twilight gleam,
Softly it wove itself into a dream.

Just a song at twilight,
When the lights are low,
And the flickering shadows softly come and go
Tho' the heart be weary, sad the day and long,
Still to us at twilight comes love's old song
Comes love's old sweet song.

Even today we hear love's song of yore,
Deep in our hearts it dwells for evermore,
Footsteps may falter, weary grow the way,
Still we hear it at close of day.
So to the end when life's dim shadows fall,
Love will be found the sweetest song of all. —Clifton Bingham.

First State in the Union.

Chicago Record-Herald: The late Frank S. Black, former governor of New York, was noted for his humor as well as for his eloquence, illustrated in "The Man On the Barrel Head" and other speeches.

During the Roland B. Molineaux case Mr. Black one day had occasion to deprecate the praise of a certain witness.

"Oh, we can all," he said, "find some viewpoint or other wherefrom to lavish superlatives. I was once examining a young man who had applied to me for the place of stenographer.

"'What state are you from?' I asked.

"'I'm from the first state in the Union, sir,' he replied.

"'New York state, eh?'

"'No, sir; Alabama, sir.'

"'But,' said I, 'Alabama isn't the first state in the Union.'

"'Alphabetically speaking, sir; alphabetically speaking,' said the young man."

Praise for Bank Clerks.

Leslie's Weekly: W. J. Burns, the detective, says a good word for bank clerks. In the more than twenty years of his connection with the government secret service he has not "turned up" a single counterfeit.

"All the credit for discovering counterfeit money," says Mr. Burns, "belongs to the bank clerks of this country. There is not a person, young or old, who does not owe a debt of gratitude to the indefatigable bank clerks who are always 'on their job,' and whose keen discernment keeps our currency clear of counterfeits."

"Our Mother"

"Our mother," this the sacred name,
That stirs our hearts today.
Her sweet face comes before us
In that home so far away.
In fancy, we're a child again
Where, playing round her knee,
She watched us, buoyant, innocent,
And smiled our joy to see.

Till our weary feet grew tired, and then
She'd fold us to her breast,
Singing some quaint, old-fashioned tune
To lull us into rest.
At times 'twas "Castles in the Air,"
Again 'twas "Bonnie Doon."
Oh! what we'd give once more to hear
Her softly to us croon.

Or when there came life's sterner hours
And eyes were dim with tears,
In living tones she bade us hope
Through all the coming years.
Her fond "good-by—God bless you, dear,
Wherever you may go."
How oft they've helped us with their cheer;
Oh! only angels know.

Sweet hallowed name, to thee this day
All loving thoughts we bring;
To thee, if near or far away,
Our tenderst memories cling.
We pledge thee, all the wide world o'er,
To thee, the honor given;
"Our mother," this from shore to shore,
Till the echo sounds in heaven.

—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Souden.

Duluth.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

•••The organization of an athletic club was completed at West Duluth yesterday afternoon at the office of C. T. Prescott. The plan is to have a general organization open to all, to foster all kinds of outdoor sports, such as baseball, football, tennis, shooting, boating and track athletics. A baseball club has been formed already with the following members: W. H. Cruikshank, L. A. Barnes, W. H. Burch, C. J. Burch, H. Price, C. T. Prescott, S. Prescott, A. F. Reese, Hal Cooley and W. SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Hand That Rules the World.

Each year added thousands are falling in with the happy idea of the Philadelphia woman who suggests that we dedicate one Sunday in May to the memory and to the praise of our mothers. It is pleasant to think of the multitudes who, on Mother's day, with love in the heart and a white carnation in the buttonhole, are visiting the old home, writing good letters there, or in other ways are honoring the love that surrounded their earlier years.

To the music of the word mother the heart of humanity responds. Transcending all races, ages and creeds it represents a great and blessed fact. We are all of us conscious that not only physical life, but, in large part, mental and spiritual life have been a mother's gift.

We went to school first at her knee. Through her eyes we first surveyed this great and perplexing world. She taught us more than the university has taught us since. She soothed our pains and healed our bruises better than the doctor could. She introduced us to the Heavenly Father of us all in a way it was not given even to the minister to do.

Where on this round globe is there anything quite so unselfish as a good mother's love? Who else is so splendidly oblivious to personal ease and pleasure? Whose life is so continual a process of self-giving? But mother's sacrifice is not a burden grievous to be borne. It is her glory and her joy.

How little she cares whether her name be mentioned or ignored so long as the children be honored! Yet in how many cases she is the quiet figure in the background that has made success possible. People hurrah for the mayor, the congressman, the rising man of affairs, not realizing how often the real secret of the triumph is hidden away with some little unknown woman immersed in the sweet ministries of home.

Some of the greatest of the sons of men have had the grace to acknowledge the debt. Said Lincoln, "All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother." Said Benjamin West, "A kiss from my mother made me a painter." Said Gen. Grant of his mother, "She gained nothing from my position I have filled or honors that may have been paid to me. I owe all this and all that I am to her earnest, modest, and sincere piety."

They say that man is mighty,
He governs land and sea.
He wields a mighty scepter
O'er lesser powers that be.

But a mightier power and stronger
Man from his power has hurled,
For the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the power that rules the world.

You might have a world without palaces or cathedrals or camps or courts, but a world without homes would be a wilderness. And mother makes the home. She is the center and soul of earth's divinest institution. This side of heaven there is no love that comes quite so close as hers to the love that never faileth.

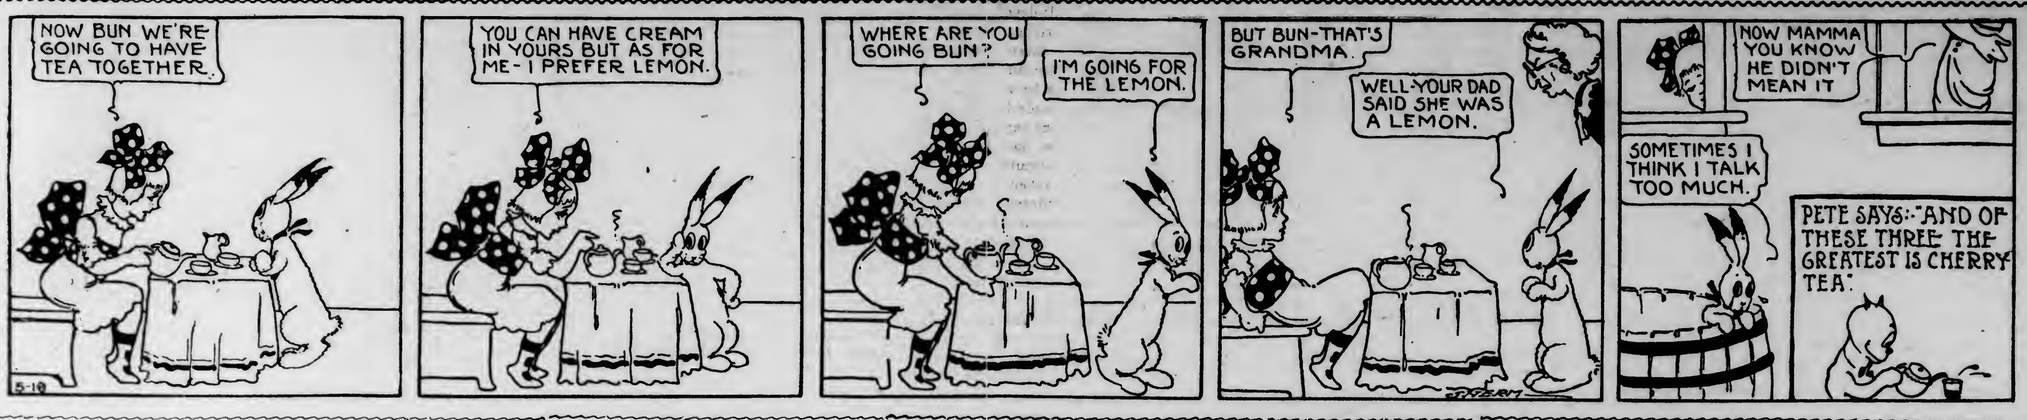
Happy the child who senses both his obligation and his privilege and makes what return he may toward a debt that is beyond the power of payment!

THE PARSON.

The Raphael Wasn't a Raphael.

New York Herald: Some time ago an American millionaire coveted a painting by Raphael that hung in the gallery of an Italian home. The family refused to part with it, declaring the government would not allow the treasure to leave the country. But the Millionaire determined to buy it, and then the owner offered to paint a snow scene over the canvas and ship it to New York, where it could be cleaned and restored. This was done, but the cleaners used turpentine, which removed not only the snow scene, but the Raphael painting as well, and revealed a fine portrait of Marconi underneath.

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW JOKE REVAMPED —By SHERM



JAPAN AND CALIFORNIA

By SAVOYARD.

Washington, May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Article VI, clause 2 of the Federal Constitution reads as follows:

"This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges of every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding."

Now, is the government at Washington "authorized" to make a treaty with a foreign government that deprives a state of its reserved rights, warranted under the Constitution of the United States? Elihu Root says it has that authority. Theodore Roosevelt held that a plain provision of our Constitution could be nullified by a treaty with an alien government. If Root and Roosevelt are right we could have an established religion in this country and marry church and state as in England—by treaty.

And Roosevelt, the bully, threatened California with fire and sword—for if that is not what he meant his manifesto was truculent bravado—if that commonwealth dared to exercise the right every state has under the Constitution to regulate her common school system. And California suffered herself to be bullied by this blusterer who turned Andrew Aguecheek at the contemplation of an impossible war with insolent Japan.

* * *

Japan made the United States eat a leek, and Roosevelt made California eat a leek. A Jap in the common schools of California, established for white pupils, is as offensive to the decent folk of that state as a negro would be in the schools for whites in South Carolina, or Mississippi, and if "by treaty" a Jap can go into the common schools of the Pacific coast, by treaty a negro can go into the common schools of our cotton states. If Root and Roosevelt are right in their interpretation, the Constitution of the United States can be utterly annihilated by treaties entered upon with foreign peoples—the president and the senate could abolish our government.

We have adjudication on the subject. The late Stephen J. Field, associate justice of the supreme court, handed down an opinion in which he advanced the philosophy that any treaty that did not conform to the Constitution of the United States was no treaty at all, but a nullity, and absolutely void.

* * *

Now, as for a war with Japan, there is no danger of such a thing, for Japan knows whom to kick down stairs. We have money enough to wage "bloody war" a double decade. Japan can't raise money enough to fight a twelve-month. Besides, if she was fool enough to make war and got the advantage the first few months, we would crush her and sell her to the highest bidder. She might occupy the Philippines, she might take Hawaii, she might seize Alaska. That would be the beginning. At the end we would regain all these and possess Port Arthur, Korea and Japan.

But there is going to be no war with Japan. England would serve notice on Japan that blood is thicker than water, and give her ally to understand that as a preliminary to the shindy Japan would be called upon to lick the British navy. And that is "one of them impossible things."

But scared as Roosevelt was of Japan, I do not see why he didn't keep the fleet in the waters of the Pacific when he sent it over there.

* * *

The conflict in California is irrepressible. Stronger than governments, stronger than armies, stronger than navies, is that principle planted in the hearts of all of us that we call caste. It is everywhere, though it may be latent until instinct warns. California was bullied in the school matter. She may be persuaded in the land matter. Wilson is not Roosevelt, and he is not going to ride a high horse.

Of course, if there is a way out of the difficulty that will compose the thing without wounding the dignity of Japan, that is the thing to do, and it was to find that way that Mr. Bryan went to California. I hope he will succeed.

* * *

But a good way out of it would be to notify Japan that her treaty with us is not worth a rap wherever it may be invoked to trespass upon the reserved rights of the sovereign state of California.

And besides that, Japan knows full well that she would find a tougher customer in the great republic of America than she had on her hands when she fought the empire of Russia.

There will be no war, but I wish the canal were finished.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS

By Dr. R. D. Scott.

With this article the Health and Happiness department will be suspended for the summer months.

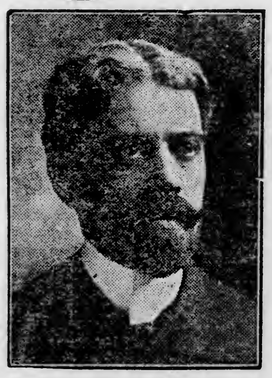
Social Workers.

The new profession which has sprung up within the last few years, the members of which are known as trained social workers, has developed opportunities for women of intelligence and character who wish to be self-supporting, and at the same time helpful members of society. A writer in the New York Times says: "It is only within a few years that this work has been put on a scientific basis and within that time hundreds of college graduates and other educated women have been trained and are now earning from $40 to $100 a month; in some cases more."

The supply is not yet equal to the demand, and there is an insistent demand from charity organizations for women trained in this work. Schools of philanthropy have been established in a few cities, notably in New York and Chicago, and these are beginning to turn out capable graduates, but a college diploma is not required of candidates, provided they can pass a satisfactory examination, showing they have made some serious preparation for the work and are more or less familiar with industrial history and conditions, civics and economics, and are capable of writing an intelligent and grammatical exposition of a theme. Character, of course, is always an important consideration in the distribution of these positions; and this means more than simple morality, for the successful social worker must be possessed of poise and good judgment. The full course of training given at the college covers a period of two academic years, and consists of practical field work, together with inside class work. The graduates of the New York school, which is the pioneer institution, have no difficulty in obtaining good positions as executive secretaries of charity organizations, such as children's aid societies, housing commissions, anti-tuberculosis societies, directors of boys' and girls' clubs, departments of civic Y. M. C. A.'s, religious organizations, etc., and to women of high ideals and philanthropic instincts, such work is peculiarly attractive, aside from the fact that the remuneration is adequate. The trained social worker is becoming a big factor in all activities designed to better the condition of the shiftless poor, and promote health, efficiency and happiness of the masses who earn their bread "by the sweat of their brow." And now that the work is being put on a thoroughly scientific basis, it should become attractive to the more highly educated college graduates and others who are interested in the welfare of their fellows.

Liver Medicines.

It is common to hear people talk about torpid liver, lazy liver, etc., and find them drugging with all sorts of stimulants supposed to cure or help "biliousness," and, while it is fortunate that most of the advertised remedies of this sort do not act directly on the liver, but only as purgatives on the bowels, it is to be regretted that they frequently contain, in considerable quantities, one of the most potent liver poisons known,—alcohol. It is, therefore, a pretty safe rule to avoid all liver medicines which are also advertised as tonics. The best liver medicines are regulation of diet, outdoor exercise and care in avoiding constipation, and when these are used with common sense this big, useful organ will rarely refuse to perform its function in a satisfactory way. Any purgative will act upon the liver, indirectly, by clearing the bowel and depleting the portal circulation, i. e., the system of blood vessels carrying blood loaded with food from the stomach and intestine to the liver, but it should only be in cases where there has been indiscretion in eating that medicine so strong as a purgative is ever used. Purgatives, when taken frequently, pave the way for chronic constipation, and this is the greatest enemy to liver health, aside from the constant use of alcohol.



DR. R. D. SCOTT.

To keep the liver healthy is to insure freedom from many ills to the rest of the body, and it is plain that liver health cannot be attained by drugging, but is comparatively easy to maintain through hygienic living. To learn not to eat in excess of body requirements, to exercise in the open air so that the abdominal and back muscles are put into play, and to avoid even mild constipation are the essentials of liver hygiene. Practice these and avoid alcohol and liver stimulants, because they do more injury to the working cells of this organ than any possible benefit they may confer on other organs, and there should be little trouble in always possessing a healthy liver—an able watch-dog for the rest of the body.

Questions and Answers.

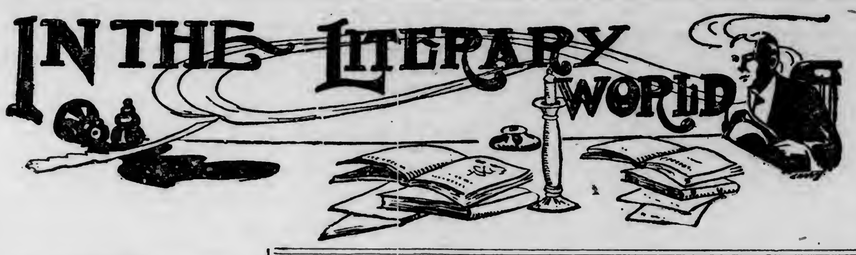
Scrofula and Consumption.

H. H. writes: "Are people afflicted with scrofula or those who come of families in which this disease has been prevalent, more subject to consumption of the lungs than others? 2. Is there any cure for scrofula?"

REPLY.

Scrofula is a term seldom used by present-day physicians, because it is known that what used to be called scrofula was nothing but a form of tuberculosis affecting the glands principally, but the entire system secondarily, through the lowered resistance produced. So the answer to your first question would be yes, and to the second the same answer applies. The method of cure is practically the same as for gland tuberculosis—building up the body's resistance with nourishing food, fresh air, regular rest and adequate, moderate exercise.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD



The Philosophy of Socialism.

THE LARGER ASPECTS OF SOCIALISM. By William English Walling, author of "Socialism As It Is." New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50 net.

As the author intimates, this volume might have been called "The Philosophy of Socialism." It is an intelligent survey of the trend of social affairs, in which perhaps the most interesting among many interesting things is the assertion that pragmatism is Socialism. The author calls upon modern science to prove the truth in Socialism, and declares that Socialism is developing in harmony with the tested principles of science.

If you can achieve the viewpoint of the book, you will see life through a new lense. Whether you believe the lense to be true or merely a diverting oddity is another question. It is a pleasant intellectual exercise, anyway, to read the volume while endeavoring to stay perched on the viewpoint from which it was written.

Applying pragmatism to Socalism, or vice versa, does not make Socialism less shocking to the conventional-minded. It comes pretty near to meaning, for one thing, that there can be no absolute moral code, for moral codes must differ with "time, place and the individual." That's pragmatic enough, and Mr. Walling makes it Socialistic, also. The conventionalist will find some balm for his hurts in this: "But to a given human being at a given time and place, a moral decision may be all but absolute."

Mr. Walling dwells with affectionate interest on the startling sex ideas of Ellen Key, thus possibly affording new fuel for the easily inflammable minds of those who see "free love" in Socialism.

An Early Herrick Success.

THE COMMON LOT. By Robert Herrick. New York: The Macmillan company. 50 cents net.

Another addition to the Macmillan Modern Fiction Library is this early success of Mr. Herrick, who has written a number of volumes of strong stories of modern American life. "The Common Lot" includes some of his best work, and he has written at least one book since that is by no means as good. It is a story of real American life, with its main thread the warping of a young architect's ideals by greed, and his recovery to moral health through the influence of a good woman.

A Pretty Tale for Girls.

POLLY OF LADY GAY COTTAGE. By Emma C. Dowd, author of "Polly of the Hospital Staff." Boston: Houghton-Mifflin company. $1 net.

Those who were charmed by Polly as the sunshine and cheer of the hospital staff will be delighted with this continuation of her adventures. In this story Polly is seen in the home of her beloved Dr. Dudley and his wife, who was Miss Lucy, the head nurse. She still goes regularly to the hospital, but many new and wonderful things happen to her. For one, she finds her "truly relations," who were hinted at in the previous story.

The Bee Business.

HOW TO KEEP BEES FOR PROFIT. By D. Everett Lyon. New York: The Macmillan company. 50 cents net.

A very practical handbook which gives an entertaining insight into the life history of the bee, tells the novice how to start an apiary and how to care for it, and points out various methods by which bee-keeping can be made of increased interest and profit.

A Lasting Favorite.

Many will appreciate the republication of this splendid book in the financially accessible Macmillan's modern fiction library, in which time-tested favorites are being issued from time to time. It is a book to have by you always, as heartening as a genial, wholesouled, humorous companion. It is instinct with vitality—the life-giving sun, sweet breezes and growing things, the melody of birds and the beauty of flowers.

Rural Self-Help.

CO-OPERATION IN AGRICULTURE. By G. Harold Powell. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50 net.

This is a highly practical and informing addition, on a very important subject, to the Rural Science series, of which L. H. Bailey is editor. It is a searching study of the principles that underlie the organization and management of American co-operative associations, and besides full descriptions of many co-operative experiments, including conspicuous successes and conspicuous failures, it includes many sensible and helpful deductions from these experiences. For instance: "To persist, an agricultural organization must be the child of necessity, and must crystallize around a vital economic question. It must be primarily an organization for industrial purposes, not a society of altruistic idealists formed solely on the principle of universal brotherhood. Its reasons for being must be deep-rooted in the necessity of improving and cheapening cultural methods, of developing better business, of improving the system of handling, distributing and selling the products of the farm, and of strengthening its relationship with society as a whole." These and other general principles are developed fully and logically, and are abundantly fortified by examples. The subject is covered fully, sympathetically and wisely withal.

Syndicalism.

AMERICAN SYNDICALISM—THE I. W. W. By John Graham Brooks, author of "The Social Unrest," "As Others See Us," etc. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50 net.

For many months, but especially within the last year, the newspaper reading public has been made more or less familiar with the name of the Industrial Workers of the World. They have been growing more and more prominent in the various labor difficulties that have sprung up, and in some instances, as in the "fight for free speech" in various Pacific coast cities, they have brought home new problems of the relation to man to government and the forces of the masses as related to the power and mandates of the law. Accompanying these incidents there have come to light the terms, comparatively new in this country, "syndicalism" and "sabotage," and in the main they have bred distrust and hatred where they have not been passed over in ignorance.

All this is treated in Mr. Brooks' book, and though it may seem to some readers that he deals with unjustified sympathy with the forces and principles that underlie the work of the I. W. W., it must be admitted that he is as ready to recognize faults as he is to claim virtues. His account of the origin of the syndicalist movement, both abroad and in this country, is clear and convincing, and gives an important view of labor conditions. He also makes plain the position of the I. W. W. in this country when he says that the organization "taps labor strata not only lower than those of the trade union, but still lower than those from which Socialism generally gets recruits." He emphasizes the significance of the fact that most of the members of the I. W. W. are young men, less than 30 years of age, and he points out the impatience and energy that must characterize any body of men so composed, and founded on the existence of dissatisfaction among mankind.

Mr. Brooks sees the dangers and evils of sabotage, both theoretical and applied, and commends the action of the labor unions and Socialists in putting the ban on that kind of teaching and practice. He says well that "labor has got at last quite organic strength enough to choose and hold fast to constructive plans. Every house devoted to destruction is a weakening of its cause."

As to what the I. W. W. is actually accomplishing in this country today, Mr. Brooks says: "In most of its present activities in the United States, the I. W. W. is pretty exhaustively described by the word 'Shocker.' It startles the preoccupied by its new and unwonted approach. Like the stroke of a suffragette's hammer upon plate glass, it gets instant attention from every one within hearing."

That it is accomplishing this end, nobody can doubt. Nor can there be any doubt that it has assumed proportions that promise increasing need of attention. It would be well if every person who is likely to come in contact with this element could and would read what Mr. Brooks had to say. It would at least help to a clearer understanding of what lies behind the syndicalist movement and the efforts of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Money in Farming.

MAKING THE FARM PAY. By C. C. Bowsfield. Chicago: Forbes & Co. $1 net.

"In common with thousands of others I am strongly impressed with the belief that the subject of better farming in America is the most important now occupying the attention of the commercial world," says the author, and he thereupon goes ahead to tell how to make the farm pay. He does not devote h's attention wholly to the farmers who were born on the land they cultivate. He also considers the position and possibilities of the city man on the farm, and declares that urban training does not prevent success in the tilling of the soil.

Chapter by chapter Mr. Bowsfield takes up the various divisions of farm work—the different crops, the care of the products, the care of stock of all kinds, poultry and its breeding and the handling of eggs. He tells how things could and should be done, and at the same time seeks to make life in the country attractive by showing the practicability of it. One sentence is particularly striking:

"The little-farm proposition is appealingly strong both to the man in the country and the resident of the city. It is, in fact, the hope of the American farmer, and of the business world today. Better homes and more social enjoyment, with greater contentment and happiness, will come to dwellers in the country when they grasp the eternal truth that they have the noblest vocation on earth, and one that may be made to yield an income fully as large as that of the average city business man."

A Montana Story.

THE UPHILL CLIMB. By B. M. Bower, author of "Good Indian," "Chip of the Flying U," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.25 net.

Nobody who has read "Chip" or any of the numerous short sketches of ranch and cowboy life by this author needs any assurance that the story of "The Uphill Climb" will have plenty of the fullblooded life of the plains and the stoutheartedness that entered so largely into the building up of that section of the country. All the vivid qualities that made the earlier stories fascinating are to be found here, with the addition of some gentler elements.

The story opens with a situation that cannot help but awaken the reader's interest. It begins with the awakening of Ford Campbell, a cowboy, from a sleep that followed a long orgy with convivial mates, only to find that in the midst of his spree he took unto himself a wife in the person of a young woman who suddenly appeared in town and declared him to be a man of whom his companions had never heard; and that his wife vanished after the ceremony as quickly as she had come. His efforts to identify the bride lead to some amusing complications, and by that time the story is well under way.

"The Uphill Climb" is bound to hold the interest, and is worth reading, from the fact that it is so very well written.

Thoughts and Health.

HEALING INFLUENCES. By Leander Edmund Whipple. New York: The American School of Metaphysics. $1.25 net.

Of the power of the mind in determining to at least some extent the physical condition of the body, nobody today has any doubt. Mr. Whipple has written largely on the subject, and this new contribution to that class of literature is bound to be of interest to those who have been attracted to the subject of mental healing, or its near kin, spiritual healing. Mr. Whipple discusses the various phases of the relationship of mind and body, taking them up under the following headings: The True Healing Power; Mental Processes and Healing Results; The Relation of Thought to Health; True and False Conceptions of Mental Science; Metaphysics and Health; The Idea and Its Image; Symbolism in Mentality, and Spiritual Healing.

Among the Magazines.

That our school must be more closely related to life is the emphasis of a strong group of articles in the current magazine number of the Survey. New types of "school ma'ams" and their work are interestingly described. One is the "visiting teacher" who supplements class room work with social service in the home, as pointed out in an article by Eleanor Hope Johnson of the New York Public Education association. Mary Flexner, one of the "visiting teachers" on the staff of the association tells concretely what this social service is. The significant work of the "vocational counselor" is interpreted in an article by Meyer Bloomfield, director of the Boston Vocation bureau, and Laura F. Wentworth of the vocational guidance department of the Boston public schools. "House-keeping Centers in Settlements and Public Schools," and what they can do to train girls for home making, are discussed by Mabel Hyde Kittredge, who started the first such center in New York.

One gets a very good idea of what topics are uppermost by glancing over a copy of Life. This week, for instance, we have woman suffrage, the Democratic administration, the opera, the latest books, spring, the art of the Futurists, newspapers, the minimum wage, Wall Street, the tariff and the pretty girl. All of these subjects are treated either pictorially or in brief paragraphs.

* * *

Dr. Ferdinand Brown saw fit to coin a word as a title for his article in Sports Afield for May, but its expressiveness is sufficient excuse and it should be generally adopted. "Observations and Conclusions of Duckology" treats of the past, present and future plenitude of the American waterfowl that are beloved of sportsmen, and presents ample basis for the writer's prediction that in a few years the now despised mud-hen will have become wonderfully attractive, not to gunners alone, but to fastidious diners who scorn wildfowl less aristocratic than the canvasback or mallard. "Four Thunder Moutnain Tenderfeet" relates the experience of a party of prospectors who strove to be in the forefront of a mining rush and were snowbound all winter for their pains. Frank Rainey tells of "Living Like the Birds and Bears," which in his particular case meant getting lost in the Salmon Arm country in British Columbia and starving until rescue came in the shape of a couple of squaw-men and their off-colored families.

* * *

There are no stories of the white slaves in the Popular Magazine, and the writers never seem to have heard of an instance of marital infelicity. It is good to pick up a magazine of this kind, with stories of the healthy sort, stories of big enterprises undertaken by men, stories of the stock exchange, of the army and navy, of baseball and other sports, an occasional love story, too, with the curtain falling upon the marriage scene, not rising upon it. One cannot, for instance, read "The Disturber of Balances," Francis Lynde's novel, which is printed complete in the first June number, without being the better for it. It tells of the struggles of a man who contemplates a great irrigation project in the West. Then there is Edwin Balmer's enlightening story of the navy, "The Battle Below the Water," and George C. Shedd's charming story of an American correspondent in France; and Rupert Hughes' comedy of a picturesque burglar who gets away with a 10-story storage warehouse.

The current issue of Harper's Weekly contains an article by William Inglis entitled "Playing With Dynamite," which deals with California's attitude toward Japan in regard to the alien land bill. Other articles in this issue are: "Casting the Horoscope," by A. Maurice Low, which discusses the doleful political predictions now being made in Washington; "Doings in the Fourth Dimension," a mathematical exposition by Charles Johnston; "The Truth About New York Singing-Teachers"—showing how few are competent—by Pierre V. R. Key; "Europe's Ablest Diplomat," a sketch of Sir Edward Grey, by Sydney Brooks; "The Little Things That Count," an article by H. W. Dauson, M. E., which demonstrates that the secret of the value of the modern automobile lies in the standardization of its parts. This issue also contains the usual editorials, cartoons, book review, finance, drama, and humor features.

FIRST AMONG AMERICAN ILLUSTRATORS

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

CHARLES DANA GIBSON.

Charles Dana Gibson is the first among American illustrators. He was born at Roxbury, Mass., in 1867, and was a student of the Art Students' league, New York. He first attracted attention in the field of illustration with his "Widow" series of cartoons. He followed these with "The Adventures of Mr. Pipp," in which he satirized certain types of Americans with gentle grace. In the course of his work for Life he came to be recognized as the originator of a type of female beauty which became known as "The Gibson Girl" and became famous throughout the world. Gibson's "Girl" was the forerunner of the athletic society girl of today. When he reached the front rank as an American illustrator Mr. Gibson went abroad where he lived for several years perfecting himself in his art. He announced before going that it was his intention on his return to devote himself to work with the brush. But since he became again a resident of New York he has resumed his black and white work with continued success. Mr. Gibson has a winter studio in New York and a summer studio in Maine. Mr. Gibson married in 1895 Irene Langhorne of Richmond, Va., one of the famous beautiful Langhorne sisters.

BISHOP'S CLUB ENDS YEAR'S WORK

Eighteenth Season Marked By Many Activities Along Educational and Social Betterment Lines.

MISS CORA DAVIS.

MRS. AURELIA V. KELLY.

MISS THERESA LYNN.

CLOSING the eighteenth season of work, the Bishop's club held its last meeting for the year on Tuesday evening at the clubrooms in Cathedral hall, with Mrs. Aurelia V. Kelley, president, presiding. Reports of the work done in the various departments during the year were given by chairmen of the committees, and officers were chosen for next year.

During this past season the Bishop's club has studied South America from an historical and geographical standpoint, the art and literature of that country being rather meager. The Book of Proverbs has been used for the Bible study, a portion being read at each meeting followed by an interpretation talk by Bishop McGolrick.

The committee for distribution of literature, which has charge of the sending of books, magazines and papers to the jails, poor farm, hospitals and other institutions where it will be enjoyed, reported the distribution of over 400 books and magazines during the year.

The sewing circle of the club met every Monday afternoon during the year and made and mended garments for the little orphans at the St. James home, their work being a big saving for the sisters and causing a good deal of happiness for the little folks out there.

Garden Work.

A garden work committee, consisting of Mrs. A. M. Russell, Mrs. Fred Kennedy, Miss Nettie Fiebiger and Mrs. C. Nunan, has tended to the distribution of trees and shrubs to the children in the parochial schools, and through Bishop McGolrick, arranged for the free distribution of seeds for flowers and vegetables. This committee follows up its work in the fall with the giving of prizes for the best products from home gardens.

Mrs. Kelley has been head of the club for the past two years and to her the club voted its hearty appreciation and thanks for her efforts for its success and her generous giving of time.

The officers who will head the work of the club next year are: Mrs. John F. Killorin, president; Miss Mae Hammell, first vice president; Mrs. F. A. Sermon, second vice president; Miss Susan Pfau, third vice president; Miss Lillian Kenney, secretary; Mrs. A. S. Jackson, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Halley, historian, and Mrs. E. J. Donahue, librarian.

Miss Theresa Lynn, chairman of the entertainment committee, arranged a program which followed the business session of the club and a social hour closed the last meeting until fall.

History of Club.

Miss Cora Davis, historian for the past year, read a history of the club, cleverly prepared in the meter of Longfellow's Hiawatha, which follows:

"By the shores of Gitche Gumee,
By the shining big sea water,
Stood the old Cathedral clubrooms,
Founded there by our good Bishop.
There was I, a little maid born,
Such a tiny little maiden,
Such a weak and tiny maiden,
But I had a loving guardian,
He, a kind and loving Father,
He, a great and noble teacher,
And he watched o'er me and tended,
Watched o'er me and smoothly guided,
Warded off my infant ailments,
All dissensions, heart-aches, friction,
Stilled my restlessness by saying—
'Hush, my child, there's work in plenty'—
Lulled me into slumber singing—
'We must always think of others,
Think of those who need us badly,
Those in trouble and affliction—
We must always think of others.'

"At my home on Tuesday evenings,
Gathered great and noble women,
Talked on broad and learned subjects,
Talked on art and love and music,
Sounds of music, words of wonder
'Learn and study,' was the motto
'Learn and study,' always onward.

"Thus the years flew by, and now I
On my eighteenth birthday stand here
Wondering, gaze into the future,
Pondering, must review the past year.
Have I been in all things faithful,
To my teachings and my duty,
Have I done all in my power,
For improvement, love and beauty?
I have studied hard and learned much
Of American, the Southern,
Of its mines, its schools, resources,
How its people built their houses,
What their lives should say to others,
Talked of them and to them also,
Till they seemed to me like brothers.

"Of the past I've had some knowledge.
Yea, unto the Proverbs olden—
How a fall doth follow proudness—
What a wondrous thing is wisdom—
Why a lying one is hated,
Why a man should hoard not riches—
Talked of these and learned the lesson
Of the ages—wit and wisdom.

"Then my friends, these noble women,
These renowned and noble women,
These great, wise, beloved women,
Made a plan for my improvement,
From their strength of heart they made it,
From their earnest love they made it,
And they made it very wisely,
For they said unto each other—
'We must go and bring in others—
Into the wide world we'll wander,
Gather in new friends to meet her,
Meet and teach the little maiden.'

"Forth into the wide world went they,
And they gathered people round me,
Gathered all who showed an interest,
All who wished to meet the maiden—
And these clamored in loud chorus—
'Lo, her home doth need improvement,
Kalsomining and enlarging,
Let us do it—we'll not rue it.'
So they gave a wonderous bargain,
Bargain sale of caps and aprons,
And they made them, bought them, sold them,
Auctioned them to highest bidders,
And their coffers gleamed with guineas,
And their souls with satisfaction.

"But they slept not yet, nor rested,
For said they—'There's one more duty,
We must care for God's wee orphans,
That their lives may know some beauty.'
And they taught me how to help them.
And I tucked and hemmed and basted,
Garment after garment piled up,
Not one little scrap was wasted.

"Thus the year of use and pleasure,
Has gone by, and I with sorrow
Do now thank you for past interests,
And do pray for the tomorrow."

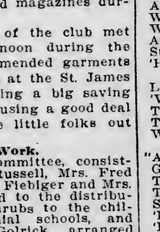
OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Is Charity for Amusement's Sake Worthy the Name?



Having just noticed in a certain city that a series of entertainments had been planned for the month of May for the benefit of organized and other charities in that city, a question has been raised in my mind which I feel impelled to discuss today.

I do not wish to be skeptical or critical, especially where such a worthy thing as the act of helping those less fortunate than one's self is concerned. But I cannot help believing, after thinking it over from several angles, that there is something more or less hypocritical about some of these so-called charitable affairs. I may be wrong, but that's the way I feel about it.

In these series of entertainments of which I speak there are included a garden party, a musical, I believe, and last, a ball. The first event is to be staged in the flower garden of a splendid semi-country home. The social elect are expected to come and to patronize the booths where punch and creams and ices and cakes are served and make small talk, the ladies with each other, and the men to make merry with the maids. In other words, it is the typical society affair, where everyone in this set gathers and has a typically pleasant evening. They contribute, as a matter of course, to the fund for sweet charity, most of them neither knowing nor caring much the while. The musical, of course, is a social event, and the ball, the institution which is most used in the name of charity, is like all others of its kind.

Now the point I am driving at is this: None of these events is a spontaneous giving, from the heart, of those who promote and participate in them, to those less fortunate than themselves. In each instance those who go expect to get enjoyment out of it, and do get it, the sort they like. And, having more money than they know what to do with, anyway, they would just as leave pay for their pleasure as not. Charity? Well, condescending, if charity at all, and certainly not overly blessed as that of which it is written, "Charity suffereth long, and is kind, is not puffed up," etc. No, certainly it does not answer that description.

It is, to be sure, hypocritical. It is not charity of the real, heart-giving sort. Would I stop it if I could? Probably not. Whether it sincerely means to do so or not, it is practical and often fills the bill. It has that much to commend it, anyway.

TESTIMONIAL CONCERT FOR MISS VALBORG GUNDERSON

A TESTIMONIAL concert is being planned for Miss Valborg Gunderson, who has recently come to Duluth from Superior to make her home here, and Monday, June 2, is the day chosen for the affair. Arrangements are being planned by members of the Matinee Musicale and other friends of the young artist, who has delighted Duluthians so many times with her work. Miss Gunderson has decided talent, a keen understanding and artistic ability to interpret the works of the great masters. She has received all of her training from Fred G. Bradbury of this city.

Mrs. Bradbury and Mrs. J. B. Erd will assist Miss Gunderson on her program, the three artists playing the trio number which was given twice with tremendous success before the Matinee Musicale this past season.

Miss Gunderson will also play groups of solo numbers with Mrs. Bradbury, pianist, as her accompanist and there will be a vocalist for the concert.

Among the women who are interested in the concert are Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, Mrs. John A. Stephenson, Mrs. W. C. Winton, Mrs. F. L. Cowen, Mrs. K. A. Van Loo, Mrs. S. R. Holden, Mrs. C. A. Parker, Mrs. H. H. Myers, Mrs. H. B. Paull, Mrs. T. L. Chapman and Lella Sparks.

Mrs. George R. Stone, Mrs. Arthur N. Collins, Miss Marjorie Ferguson, Miss Wilhelmina Fitger, Mrs. Guy Finch.

MISS VALBORG GUNDERSON.

CHILDREN'S HOME BOARD ORDERED TO ENLARGE LAUNDRY ROOM

THE absolute necessity of enlarging the Children's Home is a problem which the members of the board of directors of that institution are now facing. The state inspector has notified the board that the laundry room is too small for the machinery installed and more space must be arranged. The need of a detention ward for children entering the home and those who must be quarantined, on account of contagious diseases, is also imperative and after a serious discussion of the situation yesterday morning at the regular monthly board meeting held at the residence of Mrs. K. A. VanLoo, a committee was appointed to go into the matter thoroughly and report at the next meeting as to requirements, ways and means, etc.

The sum of $456 was raised by the annual spring rummage sale held last week for the benefit of the home, that amount including a number of checks sent in, and Mrs. M. L. Fay also donated $20 towards the building fund.

Mrs. W. G. Hegardt, Mrs. Z. D. Scott, Mrs. F. F. Bolton and Mrs. Arthur Collins joined the associate membership of the home during the month and the board of directors acknowledges the following donations with thanks:

Mrs. T. J. Davis, one bushel apples; George S. Munsey, lamb stew, 16 pounds; Mrs. Brinkman, 2 cans fruit, 2 pair stockings; Mrs. N. B. McNutty, 1 gallon maple syrup; from 1720 East Superior street, 2 coats, fruit and jelly; Trianon dairy, milk; girls Sunday school class, Fond du Lac, flowers; Master Donald MacGregor, 4 boxes grape nuts, 6 boxes corn flakes; George A. Gray Co., 2 dozen dolls; Duluth Glass Block, 1 wheelbarrow, 1 express wagon, 2 go-carts; T. A. Scarlett, garden seeds; Mrs. C. Swenson, 12 cans jelly; Myrtle Rice, 1 picture, scrap book; Mrs. J. Flaig, magazines and children's clothing; Mrs. W. C. Pond, 5 picture puzzles; Mrs. P. B. McTague, 3 dresses for girls; Mrs. J. E. Meyers, baby's clothing; Mrs. Ward Ames, books; Mrs. Chester A. Congdon, $25; Mrs. M. L. Fay, $25; G. G. Barnum, $10; Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, $5; Mrs. A. M. Miller, $5; Mrs. Gust Carlson, $5; Mrs. W. H. Cook, $6; Mrs. T. F. Cole, $10; Mrs. J. T. Pugh, $1.

During the month the ladies of the Unitarian church spent an afternoon at the home doing mending.

mission work of the distribution of flowers and bandages to those who are ill and all members were urged to attend to this. An invitation was also extended by the president, Mrs. Ella M. Robinson, to the members to meet at her home on Park Point, June 3 with the members of the Superior branch.

Mrs. R. T. Bennett entertained the members with an interesting reading of "Patchwork," and Miss Laura Davies reported on the work of the Loyal Temperance legion, which meets every Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First M. E. church.

Five new members were added to the Central union at this meeting, and much enthusiasm is felt in the work of this new branch.

PIANO RECITAL.

Faith Helen Rogers Will Give Farewell Program in Duluth.

ONE of the treats of next week will be the piano recital which Miss Faith Helen Rogers will give on Tuesday evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, assisted by Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury and Miss Valborg Gunderson.

Miss Rogers' powers as a pianist are well known here and she has not been heard on a concert program for more than a year so this opportunity will be readily accepted by music lovers as a chance to hear her once more before she leaves for a year's concert tour.

She has received only the highest praise for her work in her appearances in other cities, the St. Paul Pioneer Press last summer printing the following:

"Miss Rogers plays with remarkable force and with good technical authority. Her interpretations are clear and sympathetic and there is an air of poise about her work that makes it most attractive."

Her program for Tuesday evening will include the "Norse Sonata," by MacDowell, dedicated to Grieg, of which Lawrence Gilman said:

"Night had fallen on a day of deeds.
The great rafters in the red-ribbed hall
Flashed crimson in the fitful flame
Of smouldering logs;
And from the stealthy shadows
That crept 'round Harald's throne
Rang out a Skald's strong voice
With tales of battles won:
Of Gudrun's love
And Sigurd, Segmund's son."

"MacDowell has placed these lines of his own on the first page of the score of the 'Norse,' which is dedicated to Grieg. Here, evidently, is a subject after his own heart, presenting such opportunities as he is at his happiest in improving—and he has improved them magnificently."

The Lizt concerto in E flat will also be one of Miss Rogers' numbers, with Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury at the second piano for the orchestral accompaniments.

Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist, whose playing is always a valuable addition to any program, will also appear, playing a group of three numbers, which include the Schumann "Cradle Song," arranged by Mischa Elman for the violin and which he played at his concert here last winter.

The program as arranged follows:

I.

Caprice—"Alceste".....Gluck-St. Saens
"Norse," Third Sonata.....MacDowell
1. "Mesto, ma con passione".....
2. "Tristamente".....
3. "Allegro con fuoco".....

II.

"Arietta".....Grieg
"The Lark".....Balakiref
"The Doll's Serenade".....Debussy
Etude, Op. 25, No. 6.....Chopin
Barcarolle.

III.

"The Swing Song".....Ethel Barnes
"Scherzo".....Drdla
"Cradle Song".....Schumann
Arranged by Mischa Elman.
Miss Gunderson, Violinist.

IV.

Concerto in E flat.....Liszt
Orchestral parts on second piano by Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury.

WILL BE HEARD IN SONG RECITAL

ALTA HALLOCK.

MISS ALTA HALLOCK, well known in musical circles of Duluth, having sung on many programs, will appear in her first recital on Tuesday evening, May 20 at the Endion M. E. church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street. She will be assisted by the Scotish Rite quartet and Miss Emily Smith, violinist, and Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten and Miss Vera Bronson, accompanists.

Miss Hallock has been a student of Mrs. Flaaten's for several years and will finish her course at the conservatory this summer. She has a soprano voice of full, rich quality, and an intelligent understanding of music, which gives her work a finish that is pleasing.

The program will be announced later.

Proceeds of Sale.

Proceeds from the rummage sale held yesterday by the women of the Endion M. E. church at the vacant store, 212 West First street netted $218 and a few pieces of men's clothing and hats were left over for sale this morning so a few more dollars were added to the fund. The rummage sale has become an annual event in the church work and the women feel that they are helpful not only as a means of raising money but to those who get good garments at a very low cost.

GAVE RECITAL IN WASHINGTON

Miss Nora Harrison who has been a resident of Park Point for a number of years, recently moving to Superior with her parents to reside in that city, has just returned from Washington, D. C., where she has spent the past three winters studying piano music with John Porter Lawrence.

Last month Miss Harrison appeared in a recital at Washington given by Mr. Lawrence for her and another pupil, Mrs. Helen Lauhon at which she played a big Grieg concerto with Mr. Lawrence at the second piano.

Mr. Lawrence played a Beethoven concerto and assisting artists were Nellie Shir-Clinn, soprano; Alton Kaspar, cellist, and Josef Kasper, violinist, all of them well known musicians.

Shortly before leaving Washington, Miss Harrison also played before the Federation of Women's Clubs held there and was well received.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Interesting Afternoon Planned By Trinity Pro-Cathedral Auxiliary.

THE Trinity pro-cathedral branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church will entertain at its sixth birthday party on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the guild room of the church. The monthly business meeting of the Philathea class of the Lakeside Presbyterian church will be held at the home of Miss Estelle Hicken, 4629 Cooke street, Monday evening.

CARDINAL GIBBONS ON THE SACREDNESS OF MARRIAGE

Baltimore, Md., May 10.—Cardinal Gibbons delivered an extempore address on the sacredness of marriage at the wedding of Miss Louise Warfield, daughter of Former Governor and Mrs. Edwin Warfield, to Count Vladimir Ledochowski of Poland.

"The marriage contract," said the cardinal, "is the most solemn and most sacred of all contracts. Other contracts may be dissolved; other treaties may be violated. The marriage contract cannot be violated, cannot be annulled. It can terminate only in death.

"You, sir, (addressing the count), fully appreciate the obligations you today assume. This young lady who is about to become your bride confides in you. She looks to you as her protector. Her loving, innocent confidence placed in you is a precious jewel. It is your solemn duty to see that this jewel shall not fade but shall grow brighter.

"This lovely woman leaves a comfortable home, loving parents and friends to go with you to a foreign land. She goes as a stranger to a strange land. It was my pleasure to be the friend of your great uncle, Cardinal Ledochowski of Poland, when he was the prefect of the propaganda. He was my friend.

"You, my dear child (addressing the bride), are about to depart from the home of loving parents. May flowers strew your pathway. May divine blessing rest upon you. May you be happy."

Sunday Services in Duluth Churches

MOTHER'S Day tomorrow will be fittingly observed in all the churches of the city, with special sermons and musical programs. Most of the pastors have arranged to preach on some phase of motherhood during either the morning or evening hours of worship.

Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits of the Temple Emanuel preached on "Mother" at the regular weekly service last evening. He said in part:

"Mother's love is the most constant sentinel at the cradle; the tenderest nurse at the bedside, and the most faithful guardian at the grave. In life's fierce combat mother's love is our bravest champion; in defeat, our strongest comforter; in our conquest, our proudest applauder, and of our fame, the most exultant publisher.

"Drop a tear upon the mound of her who was snatched from the babe that confidingly nestled at her bosom, but breathe a prayer of blessing on every cradle and nursery where a mother's love rules and guides, quickens and protects. Breathe a prayer of thanksgiving for every mother who has a child to love and bless, and for every child that is privileged to be loved and blessed by a mother's love—the holiest, purest and sweetest gift of God to man."

PICTURESQUE FIGURE GONE

Paris, May 10.—With the death of Jean Constans, formerly ambassador of France at Constantinople, a picturesque figure disappears from the political and diplomatic world.

He is perhaps best remembered as the minister whose uncompromising attitude had so much to do with forcing Gen. Boulanger to flee from Paris early in 1889 and spend the remainder of his life in exile. M. Constans' strong personality stood out in bold relief against the elegant silhouettes of his attaches, but under his rude exterior lurked a refined and acute mind. He was minister of the interior throughout the troublous Boulanger epoch, coming in for a large share of the obloquy heaped on the government by the impassioned supporters of the general. This, however, left him quite unperturbed, and he accepted his successes with the same spirit of calm. On the fateful 28th of January, Gen. Boulanger had hardly finished buckling his valise when a zealous detective rushed breathless to the ministry of the interior. Although it was 1 o'clock in the morning, the official insisted on the minister being awakened, and, when he appeared, blurted out breathlessly:

"Gen. Boulanger is leaving."

"All right," said M. Constans, coldly. "But, your excellency, he will escape . . . he is perhaps even now at the Gare du Nord."

"Well, what of it? You surely don't expect me to go to the station and see him off."

So saying M. Constans turned his back on the detective and went back to bed.

In spite of this imperturbality, M. Constans admitted that one man had succeeded in astonishing him. Emile Loubet, afterwards president of the republic, did this.

"When I felt the ministry of the interior," said M. Constans, in telling the story, "I handed over to my successor the key of the safe containing the secret service money. It was then the beginning of March, and I had a nice little sum, more than a million, in bundles of 10,000 francs. M. Loubet did a thing which I should not have believed possible . . . "

Here M. Constans stopped and asked:

"Do you know what he did?"

Some one ventured a guess.

"Not at all," resumed M. Constans, "M. Loubet signed me a receipt for the sum without even opening the safe to see if it was there."

Well-Known Bookseller.

The passing away of Honore Champion has recalled the days when for several weeks this well-known bookseller entertained unawares the empress of Russia. Day by day he showed her majesty the libraries and museums of Paris, calling her Mademoiselle Hesse. She concealed her identity from her guide until the last, planning, however, to surprise him when the opportune moment came.

M. Champion was one of the last representatives of the old school of French booksellers. He began his career at a time when the seller of books instead of being in a maze of wholesale and retail discounts, de luxe editions, fine binding and eagerness to bring out a "best seller," was to a great degree the collaborator and friend of his clients, and it was almost as a colleague that Champion was treated by the philologists and members of the Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres, who met every Friday after the session of the academy in his store on the Quai Malaquais. The late duc d'Aumale in particular had a very high opinion of the knowledge and character of Honore Champion and never missed an opportunity of showing his esteem. One day he sent for him and said:

"Champion, a young lady of very high family is coming to Paris shortly and she wishes some one to guide her to the museums, libraries and collections. Her name is Mademoiselle Hesse; that is all that I can tell you. Will you be her guide?"

Champion readily agreed and he piloted the mysterious young woman for several weeks until she left, after thanking him very warmly.

The bookseller had forgotten all about the incident, when one day the empress of Russia happened to pass his door, driving in state on her way to the academy. He gazed on the glittering equipage with an idle eye, when, to his great astonishment, he saw the empress smiling and waving her hand energetically in his direction. He then realized that the empress was no other than Mademoiselle Hesse. Before her marriage the empress was the grand duchess of Hesse and she it was whom he had escorted through the art treasures of the capital.

Interesting Exhibit.

An exhibition of the works of the celebrated Revolutionary painter, Jacques Louis David, and his pupils, has been opened and proves of very great historical as well as artistic interest.

Anatole France counts among his cherished possessions a book of sketches made by David for his state picture of the coronation of Napoleon. He found it during his wanderings on the quays of Paris, which are lined by the stalls of the second-hand bookmen. Rummaging in a box he unearthed the sketch book, and at once asked the price. "Five cents," said the stallkeeper. France paid without bargaining.

Married in Handcuffs.

Pierre Nollet, under sentence of twelve years' servitude for complicity in the murder of M. Clerc, an engraver, at Versailles under circumstances somewhat similar to those of the Steinheil case, has been allowed by special permission of the government to marry his sweetheart, Mademoiselle Jeanne Boulicot, before leaving for the French penal settlement in Guyana.

Nollet was married in handcuffs. Two inspectors accompanied him to the mayor's offices, where the ceremony was performed. The inspectors acted as witnesses. The bridal couple were allowed to kiss once before and once after the ceremony. Neither the months he has already spent in prison nor the prospect of twelve years' penal servitude seems to have affected the prisoner. With head erect and smiling, he went through the formalities of marriage with the air of a free and happy man.

Amusement Receipts.

Statistics just published show that in the year 1912 the receipts of the various places of amusement in Paris amounted to over $13,000,000 as against $11,500,000 for 1911

The Hines Lumber company takes over about 600,000,000 feet of standing timber in Price, Iron and Ashland counties, Wisconsin, besides the sawmill and others holdings of the Atwood Lumber company, Park Falls, Wis.

Considerable holdings of the Mississippi River Log & Boom company, the Chippewa Logging company, the Soo railway and other concerns are included.

The Hines company will operate the holdings and expects to cut about 40,000,000 feet of timber a year. The Soo Line has contracted to furnish rails for fifty miles of logging lines into the woods.

CHIPPEWAS END THEIR COUNCIL

Adjourn Cass Lake Meeting to Meet Next Time in Bemidji.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 10.—After selecting Bemidji as the next meeting place, the first general council of all the Chippewa Indians in Minnesota, closed a four-day session here last night. Last night's session was devoted to passing resolutions, one of them expressing confidence in John R. Howard, agent of the White Earth agency, now under investigation at Washington.

Ben Caswell, former superintendent of the Cass Lake Indian school, explained that Mr. Howard, who was blamed for writing certain letters regarded as detrimental to the council, had only acted as agent for five White Earth Indians and in writing voiced their sentiments.

$5,000 to Keep Up Work.

The sum of $3,000 was voted from the tribal funds for the maintenance of the organization.

Chief Supervisor Holcomb read a telegram from the Indian department stating that his request for funds to defray the expenses of delegates had been protested because the Fond du Lac council had not been elected by a regular council. Supt. Howard of the White Earth reservation also wired that no general council has been held there in three years, and that the Pine Point band has protested against payment of delegates' expenses, owing to questionable representation.

The amount asked for was $300. Mr. Holcomb immediately wired that the amount be sent regardless of requests.

START FIRE IN BOX CAR.

Is Charge Against Two Young Men Arrested at Cloquet.

Carlton, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Demarch and Edward Dawson are in the county jail here, one having been sentenced to serve a term in the reformatory in St. Cloud and the latter bound over to await the action of the next grand jury. The charge against them is setting fire to a box car in Cloquet. They having been caught with a fire in the car. The reason that Dawson's case was continued was that he was intoxicated at the time and pleaded guilty to what the other had told him, and hence was bound over to the grand jury. They are both young men and claim their homes are in Nebraska and Missouri.

Killed By Manure Spreader.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 10.—Edith, the 5-year-old daughter of Rudolph Kuhnert, a farmer living twelve miles from here, was instantly killed Friday by a manure spreader her father was driving, and a 4-year-old daughter was so badly injured that she probably will die. The children caught on the rear of the machine, unknown to their father. Turning on the gear, the top of the older child's head was severed while the younger one was seriously cut about the head and face.

MANY CHARGES ARE PREFERRED

Iron County, Wis., Saloon Man Accused of Several Infractions of Law.

Hurley, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. F. Ryan, town chairman of Mercer, a saloonkeeper, is accused of several law violations by D. J. Shea, John Petzka, C. A. Austin and J. T. Kindrigan, who came here and procured a warrant for his arrest, which Sheriff Duffy left yesterday to serve.

There are ninety separate charges against Ryan as follows: Three for selling liquor to minors; one for keeping his saloon open on election day; one for electioneering within 100 feet of the polls; one for violation of the corrupt practices act, and two for embezzlement. In the last charge M. E. Brandt, town clerk, is also made a joint defendant in the complaint.

HALF AUNT OF HUSBAND.

Mill City Woman Asks to Be Relieved From Marital Mixup.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10. — Married when she was 13 years old to her half-nephew, who was 20 years old, Mrs. Jennie Golden has filed action in district court to have the marriage annulled, so the relationship of their 4-year-old daughter, Margaret, may be straightened and she be not compelled to go through life as second cousin to herself. Christian Golden, the husband, also wants the marriage annulled.

Willoughby Babcock, attorney for the woman, said that Golden did not learn of the degree of their relationship until recently, on account of the second marriage of Mrs. Golden's grandfather.

The state laws do not permit marriage of relatives within the fourth degree and the Goldens are said to be related within the second degree.

"The petitioner is the half-aunt of her husband," the petition recites "in that she is the half-sister of her husband's father."

Ramsey County Indictments.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—The Ramsey county grand jury, after only three sittings, last night reported indictments against eleven men on sixteen different counts and no bills in two cases covering nine defendants. Alonzo J. Robertson, colored, who shot his wife on a business street here recently, was indicted for first degree murder. Grand larceny in the first degree was charged against Charles Barnett, Bartley Larkin and Pat Larkin. Five secret indictments also were reported

$8,416 Verdict Upheld.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—A verdict for $8,416 returned by the Ramsey county court in favor of George Ahrens agnaist the Milwaukee railway, was upheld by the supreme court Friday. Ahrens, former brakeman, lost his left foot in an accident at Herndon, Oct. 12, 1911. He sued for $25,000.

Complete Highway Plans.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—Plans for adequately financing the Capitol National highway were completed here Friday. Reports of commissioners of Ramsey, Dakota, Rice and Steele counties showed further aid would be needed in Rice county which has appropriated $6,000, whereas $8,000 is necessary. It was agreed to ask congressmen to secure government aid for the road, if possible.

OLD FISHERMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Grandson of Original Chief Buffalo Drops Dead in Boat.

Bayfield, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Joseph Dollar, an aged Red Cliff fisherman, was held at Red Cliff this morning, Rev. Father Agathe officiating. The old man dropped dead while returning to Red Cliff from Bayfield in his fishing boat with his 15-year-old stepson, last Wednesday. Joe Dollar was over 70 and lived all his life in this section. He was a grandson of the original Chief Buffalo.

TO OBSERVE RULES.

Sherman Will Not Send Inquiries to Realty Dealers.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—Under the administration of Fred D. Sherman, the immigration department will not send lists of inquiries concerning state lands and opportunities to real estate agents. This announcement was made by Mr. Sherman:

"I shall adhere strictly to the rule of the board which says that these lists shall be sent only to village recorders, county auditors and commercial clubs," said Mr. Sherman. "Real estate men who want them will be obliged to copy the names."

CANADIAN HATCHERY.

May Be Established Upon the Lake of the Woods.

Spooner, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—An inspector for the marine and fisheries department of the Canadian government is now at the Lake of the Woods to ascertain whether sufficient fish spawn can be secured at the lake to warrant the establishment of a fish hatchery there.

J. J. Carrick, a member of the Dominion parliament and James A. Mathe of the Provincial parliament are both interested and are doing everything in their power to make it a success.

It is planned to have a hatchery for white fish, pike and lake trout and probably sturgeon.

The white fish spawn about freezing time of the lake and this of course hinders the work of securing the eggs of this species, but no difficulty should be experienced in the case of the other kinds.

FIRES SECTION HOUSE.

Admits Crime and Blames Drink for His Action.

Iron River, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Thyberg, employed on the railroad section at Eliot, set fire to the section house a few days ago while intoxicated, and when arrested and brought here admitted the crime blaming drink for his action. He is charged with arson and was taken to the county jail.

DEVILS LAKE TROLLEY LINE SEEMS ASSURED.

Devils Lake, May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Progress is being made in the collection of funds for the construction of an electric street railway system here. The business men are supporting the proposition very liberally, and it is now practically certain that the line between Devils Lake and the Chautauqua grounds will be electrified.

WILL BUILD SILOS AROUND HINCKLEY.

Hinckley, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will probably be many new silos built in the country surrounding Hinckley this summer. Those who have silos are strong in their recommendations of them and others are beginning to be interested.

WIFE FINDS PEARL; SO DOES HUSBAND.

Malden Rock, Wis., May 10.—Ten minutes after Mrs. Charles Hannan found a pearl valued at $300 in a clam shell here yesterday, her husband found one worth $1,500. The Hannans are from Cassville, Wis.

JUDGE WINDOM TO SPEAK AT BARNUM.

Barnum, Minn., May 10.—The Men's Bible class has secured as the first speaker for Sunday, May 11 at 3:30 p. m. W. L. Windom, municipal judge of Duluth, who will speak in the Trading company's hall on "The Financial and Moral Cost of the Liquor Traffic to Barnum."

Plan Knowlton Memorial.

Fargo, N. D., May 10.—A Knowlton memorial gate is to be erected at Fargo college on the entrance to the campus. The students on the hill, who have always been so loyal to Dr. Knowlton, have all responded to the idea, and will co-operate with citizens, friends, and alumni in honoring the great teacher.

Fire Injuries Fatal.

Enderlin, N. D., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The injuries received by P. A. Skramstad, when his residence near here burned, proved fatal. He was unconscious when rescued by his daughter. The residence, valued at $5,000 was a total loss. The deceased was a wealthy farmer and one of the early residents of this section.

WILL USE IRON ORE ON COUNTY ROADS.

Ashland, Wis., May 10.—The county board made a radical change in road building when it abolished the use of crushed granite and, on the advice of the state highway commission, will use iron ore. The crushed rock was a third of the expense of the road and, by discontinuing it, the county's money will go much farther in road building. The county had an unfinished contract with a Superior firm for crushed rock but was released from its contract upon the payment of about $700, saving the county $10,000.

RED CLIFF INDIANS ARE TAKING PLEDGE.

Carlisle, Wis., May 10.—The Red Cliff Indians on their reservation in Wisconsin have taken the first move toward bettering themselves and improving their homes. A lodge has been formed and those who pledge themselves to live by its rules and regulations must abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and farm their allotments.

Many More Game Wardens.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—The game and fish commission has enlarged its force of special deputy game wardens by about one hundred. The commission has decided that the presidents of all regularly organized sportsmen's associations shall be appointed as deputy wardens. The new deputies so created shall receive rewards of $10 for conviction in every case of law violation.

New Sawyer County Towns

Couderay, Wis., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The creating of the new town of Round Lake out of part of the towns of Hayward and Lenroot in Sawyer county, makes the new town the third which has been created in the county this spring. The town of Edgewater was created out of part of Couderay and Draper out of part of Winter. The large number of settlers who have moved into the county the last few years is cause of the new towns being created.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

NORTH BUTTE MAKING MORE MONEY THAN OTHER MINES

To Further Reduce Expenses By the Use of Electricity.

Butte-Duluth Is Preparing to Enlarge Its Leaching Plant.

Butte, Mont., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Butte is now producing on an average 2,500,000 pounds of copper a month and is earning considerably more than its dividend. During the past six or eight months the operating expenses have been considerably reduced, and in the next six months the management expect to be in a position to further reduce the expenses by the use of electricity. For some months the installation of an electric hoist at the Granite Mountain has been under consideration, and the directors have finally decided to adopt the suggestions of General Manager Pope and install the same. The exact details have not yet been decided on, but it is understood the new hoist will have a sinking capacity of 4,000 feet and will be the largest in use in any mine in the world. The electric hoists in the mines at Johannesburg are not only the largest in use in any part of the world, but they are giving perfect satisfaction, and it is on reports from these properties by competent men that the North Butte is going to adopt the electrical hoist in the Granite Mountain. Just when the new equipment will be installed it is as yet impossible to say, but inasmuch as it is generally understood that the Speculator shaft will be closed down for retimbering somewhere about the first of the year, it is believed that the new apparatus will be installed before that time. The work of sinking the Granite Mountain shaft to a depth of 2,800 feet will be completed early in September, and then connections will be made with the Speculator on the 2,200, 2,400, 2,600 and 2,800-foot levels and the ore will be hoisted through the Granite Mountain shaft. On the levels above connection has already been made. There is not a mine in the district today making as much money as the North Butte property, and the indications are that the earnings will be considerably increased in the next few months. If the hoisting capacity only warranted it, the North Butte could produce very easily at the present time 3,000,000 pounds of copper a month.

Butte-Duluth.

The Butte-Duluth Mining company of which Capt. A. B. Wolvin of Duluth is the principal stockholder, is preparing to enlarge its leaching plant to a capacity of 1,000 tons of ore a day. More than a month ago J. D. Fields, who installed the small leaching plant for company, had a statement credited to him to the effect that the company could produce the pure copper direct from the ore at around 6 cents a pound. This statement has been issued by the company claiming that the cost per ton at present is $2.35 per ton, divided as follows: Mining and transportation, 25 cents per ton; acid (3,000 pounds per day) at .014 cents per pound, 52 cents per ton; power, 30 cents per ton; milling labor, 85 cents per ton; overhead charges, 23 cents per ton; miscellaneous, 20 cents per ton. This cost report is dated from April 10 to May 1, and it is stated that the plant has handled eighty tons a day at the above average cost.

Concentrator For Radersburg.

The Radersburg district needs a concentrator and for this purpose Wilfred Bennett, president of the Black Friday company, announces that he is going East to enlist capital. The company has been involved in litigation which amounts to something like $400,000, and this has been settled. Up to the time the litigation was started the Black Friday was the best producer in the Radersburg district, and in less than two years has produced nearly a quarter of a million dollars in gold. The mine is now down to the 700-foot level and the body of ore carries a value of between $40 and $50 a ton in gold. It is the intention of the company to sink to the 800-foot level and get under this body of ore and also to drift on the 400-foot level, where a high grade body of ore has been uncovered. The Black Friday mine has been closed since the suit was started nine months ago. The property is equipped with electric power and has all the machinery necessary to carry the shaft down to a depth of 1,600 feet. Mr. Bennett says that if he succeeds in raising capital in the East to erect a concentrator there can be no question as to the future of the Black Friday.

Butte-Zenith.

The Butte-Zenith City Mining company, largely controlled by Duluth capitalists, is now down to a depth of 460 feet on the property being worked some five miles west of the city. Preparations are being made to cut a station at that depth and after a sump of sixty feet is sunk crosscutting on the veins running north and south on the shaft will be started. The veins are very clearly defined on the surface and extend from the Anaconda hill, while the hard granite is very similar. Up to within a few weeks the shaft sinkers did not encounter sufficient water to warrant the installation of a pump, but just after a depth of 400 feet was reached the water commenced to flow so freely that a pump had to be installed. As the veins are close to the shaft Manager Newton expects to determine the value of the property in the course of the next few weeks.

Anaconda Mines.

The work of connecting the different mines of the Anaconda company for draining purposes on the 2,800-foot level is proceeding without interruption and it is expected that during the next three months every mine on the hill will be connected. At the present time the only mine with connection with the High Ore at 2,800-foot level is the Anaconda.

To Work Alder Gulch.

William C. Watson of San Francisco, After nearly a dozen years of investigating the geographical conditions, has decided to explore the country in and around Virginia City in this state, in the hope of uncovering the original bed of Alder Gulch, which when it was lost was recognized as the richest gold property in the world. For several years Mr. Watson has been exploring the country north and east around the low mountains, and after having satisfied himself that he was on the right track, traveled from the Pacific to the Atlantic enlisting men of means to assist him in the work. He brought experts to Virginia City from both the East and West, and all have concurred in his views as to the lost Alder Gulch bed. He has located fifty full-sized claims, covering a strip of country over seven miles in length. A few days ago Mr. Watson was in this city on his way to Virginia City, and he said that he had at last succeeded in organizing one of the strongest combinations of capital in the entire country for the purpose of prosecuting the work. He has had constructed the largest drill ever constructed in this country, and in the course of the next week or two it will be put in operation. Mr. Watson says that he proposes to thoroughly test the ground from one end to the other, and to have its exact value fully determined before the work of driving a tunnel is started. He says that he is satisfied that in the course of time he will uncover the largest and richest placer gold deposit ever encountered in modern times. In the early days Alder Gulch turned out millions of gold, and suddenly the rich-bearing ground was lost. Since that time many attempts have been made to recover the lost rich ground without success, and the present venture of Mr. Watson is being watched with a great deal of interest.

Boston & Corbin.

The Boston & Corbin concentrator is treating 200 tons of ore every day, and it is reported that the concentrates sent to the East Butte smelter not only pay freight and treatment charges, but return a handsome profit. The ore being treated at the concentrator is being taken from the 900 and 1,200-foot levels of the Bertha shaft, and it is stated that the amount of measurable ore is sufficient to keep the concentrator in operation for the next five years.

ELY IS BUYER OF GIROUX ON SLUMP

Production at Capacity, Savings Unusual and Costs Reduced.

Ely, Nev., May 10.—The recent remarkable break in Giroux stock has been the talk of the camp, and, while many theories have been advanced, nothing from this end of the line can be ascertained as to the cause. Some are of the opinion that it is simply the prelude to a merger with the Coppermines company, and that Giroux was forced down in order to equalize the difference between the two propositions, whereby another company is to be formed to take over the holdings of the Giroux and that of the Gumaa Thompson interests, which include a number of companies of local importance besides that of the Coppermines.

There would appear to be no local reason for the slump, for the mines are producing more heavily now than at any previous time. During April the average output of ore was in the neighborhood of 1,000 tons daily, and the ore being taken out is of unusually good grade.

It is also known that the savings in the concentrating plant are averaging better than 80 per cent, which is far better than the average of any other ore in the Ely district, and will compare most favorably with the best extraction in any camp in the United States at the present time. Recently a large number of miners and also unskilled workmen have been laid off by the company for the reason that their services are no longer needed. The property is at last equipped, and the underground workings are in such shape that developments can be continued and the production maintained with a much smaller force of men than previously, which means a largely reduced cost of production.

During the slump in the market price of the stock, large buying orders went out from residents of the district, and there were no orders to sell, which illustrated the faith of home people in the property. The trouble with the Giroux seems to be the limit set upon the production by the Nevada Consolidated, which treats its ores. The management could produce 25 or 50 per cent more ore at a very small additional cost, but the Nevada Consolidated is not willing to give up more than one section of its concentrating plant to the treatment of Giroux ores. The cost of transportation and reduction is also an item of much expense to the company, and while a rate charged may be reasonable for custom work, it emphasizes the necessity of the company treating its own product. If there is really any foundation for the merger talk, it certainly ought to materialize in the near future.

CALUMET & ARIZONA IN FINE CONDITION

Development Carried on With Good Results in All Directions.

Bisbee, Ariz., May 10.—Calumet & Arizona underground conditions are declared by recent visitors who have given inspection to be the very best the company has ever enjoyed. There is more ore in sight. There is increase in value rather depreciation over the entire average. Development is being carried on with good results in all directions. There was never a period in the history of the several properties of the company in the Warren district when this condition of affairs warranted more enthusiasm as to long life and increasing resources for many years to come than that now prevailing.

Mining is being carried on with equally satisfactory conditions. Costs of ore extraction have been constantly reduced through the advancement of the engineering work underground. Its greatest ore body, one of the greatest in the district, by many claimed to be the greatest, is on the extreme outer ledge of the operating area, and has the elbow room to go much further on present holdings and there are none who may say that as big or bigger things may not attend the extension process. This ore body has not been followed to its extremity. It goes up to the line of the Warren mining company. How much further it may go is purely a matter of speculation, but in the very nature of things it does not stop at the line. If surface indications count for anything, it goes on into the Warren very materially. In fact, it makes the Warren holdings for the larger part look certain of developing one of the great mines of the camp.

Warren will ultimately, in the view of most everybody, become a holding of the Calumet & Arizona. Big and rich as that company is, there are nevertheless limitations to what it can do. It has taken over Saginaw this year, and it has done a number of other important things requiring considerable expenditures but bringing in no immediate returns. The latter come later, so also will the ability to take over Warren and put it under the development for which it beckons, without straining the conservative policy in the matter of keeping always within its means that the Calumet & Arizona management has followed.

The new smelter is making rapid advance to completion. By all who examine it, this new plant is declared to represent the very highest in efficiency that has ever been assembled. It will enable the maximum results at minimum costs. Its operation is looked foward to on all sides as certain of establishing a new mark for engineers and construction men to strive for.

PEWABIC TO OPERATE ITS MINES ON A LARGER SCALE

Pickands, Mather & Co. Have Resumed Operations at Vivian Mine.

Corrigan-McKinney's Dunn Mine May Have New Lease of Life.

Large orders for ore having been booked, the Pewabic Mining company of Milwaukee will operate its properties on a larger scale this season than for some years past. The company owns the Pewabic and Walpole mines at Iron Mountain, Menominee range. Whereas last year 275,000 tons of ore were produced, 450,000 tons will be shipped this season. The Walpole is an integral part of the Pewabic, although it has been idle, while the rest of the workings have been in commission. The company's working force is being increased to the extent of 100 men, most of whom will be employed in the Walpole shafts.

The machinery overhauled and the railroad tracks put in repair, Pickands, Mather & Co. have resumed operations at the Vivian mine at Quinnesec, four miles east of Iron Mountain. Twenty-five thousand tons or ore will be produced this season. The United States Steel corporation's Chapin mane at Iron Mountain is shipping 5,000 tons daily. Four-fifths of the product comes from the stockpiles. High water in the Menominee river recently has interfered with operations at Quinnesec Falls, where the Steel corporation is installing a hydro-electric plant in connection with its hydraulic works. The stream rose to a point where it completely covered the cofferdam. Operations are in progress again. Contracts for two 12-foot penstocks and for sixty galvanized iron towers for the transmission line to the Chapin mine have been awarded to the American Bridge company.

The ore remaining in stock at the Corrigan-McKinney company's Crystal Falls mine has been shipped this season. There is, however, no present intention of restoring the property to the producing list. The Crystal Falls has been idle for several years. The shaft is in poor condition and, while the state tax commission estimates the ore remaining in the mine at half a million tons, the ore lies at a depth greater than 1,000 feet, and it is a question whether it would pay to go to the expense of taking it out. The property has produced in its day nearly 1,800,000 tons. Much of this ore carried the largest percentage of phosphorus of any product ever mined in the Lake Superior region, it running about eighteen hundredths of 1 per cent—nearly twenty pounds of the metal phosphorus in a gross ton of ore weighing 2,240 pounds.

Dunn May Revive.

Provided ore is found in considerable quantity in the adjoining forty-acre tract, a new lease on life is in store for Corrigan, McKinney & Co.'s Dunn mine, in the Crystal Falls field. An option on this forty—the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 36, 43-33—has been procured from the Michigan Iron & Land company and exploration from the bottom levels of the Dunn is in progress. It is known that the ore mass of the north and westerly direction and dips into the M. I. & L. tract; the question is whether the deposit is large enough to warrant development. The Dunn, itself, is practically exhausted. The mine is 1,500 feet deep and up to the boundary line about all the ore has been taken out. The ore in the adjoining forty can be mined profitably from the present workings, provided the deposit is sufficiently large, while it is questionable whether the development of the tract from the surface would pay.

M. A. Hanna & Co. now having development work in the Carpenter and Ravenna properties well advanced, that big Cleveland concern is preparing to open the Monongahela tract, in the same locality. The Monongahela comprises the east half of the northeast quarter of section 36, 43-33, in the Crystal Falls country. It contains a deposit which is a continuation of that being opened at the Carpenter. A prospective mine is the property the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company is exploring in section 12, 42-33, north of the big Mastodon find of the Longyear interests and in proximity to that of the Steel corporation in section 12. Ore has been encountered by the diamond drill and in at least one hole is more than seventy feet thick. The old Lotta property in section 28, 44-31, is being given another test. The exploring firm of Scott & Luntz is at work there and is operating a diamond drill. The Lotta is owned in fee by ex-Senator M. H. Moriarty asd ex-Mayor R. B. Webb of Crystal Falls, from whom the explorers have procured an option.

The Florence Iron company of the Ladenberg-Thalman interests of New York has resumed exploratory work in section 36, 41-33, north of Crystal Falls. A diamond drill is in commission. Exploration was in progress most of last year, being suspended temporarily during the winter. While all of section 36 is traversed by the Hemlock formation, this latter is long and narrow and the overburden is heavy. Exploration thus is tedious work. It is considered highly probable that somewhere in the lands being tested ore exists in quantity. Some five miles to the northwest Pickands, Mather & Co., are developing the Warner property. A shaft has been sunk, a good start made in opening underground workings and a substantial plant of machinery installed. The Warner will ship for the first time this season. The mine lies between the Gibson and Michigan properties and produces an ore similar to that procured at the Hemlock, a mine of Pickands, Mather & Co., to the north.

Bengal to Be Shipper.

Another new shipper of the Pickands-Mather interests this season will be the Bengal property, in the Iron River-Stambaugh district of the Menominee. It is expected to forward 50,000 tons. The Bengal is provided with a steel shafthouse and a fine plant of machinery. Escanaba, Mich., men, headed by D. E. Glavin as president, have organized the Delta Land & Exploration company and will, it is reported, engage in prospecting work in the Stambaugh field. The company owns in fee a considerable tract in that locality. Oglebay, Norton & Co. of Cleveland are building twelve additional dwelling houses at the Lenox mine, and six more at the Berkshire. Corrigan, McKinney & Co. are erecting a machine shop and other buildings at the Tully mine. The visiting nurse system has been adopted by several of the Iron River mining concerns, which have combined in procuring the services of a young woman to direct the work. The Steel corporation, the Huron, Mineral and Wickwire companies and Oglebay, Norton & Co., are interested.

Important litigation involving a tract of Iron River land explored by the Gleason Mining & Exploration company and now being operated by the Davidson Ore company has been instituted in the Iron county, Mich., circuit court. Rev. Father Mytnarezyk, a Roman Catholic priest, formerly of Iron River and now living in Ohio, is the plaintiff. It appears, according to the bill of complaint, that the tract formerly was owned by Edwin Honeywell. It was deeded to the clergyman in 1891, and four years later was transferred by Father Mytnarezyk to Constancy Zyskowski of Iron River, the mineral rights at the time being reserved. It is alleged that subsequently the new owner of the surface rights wrote to the priest, asking that the mineral reservation be rescinded for the reason the latter was of no value and yet the reservation stood as an obstacle to the sale of the realty at a satisfactory figure. Father Mytnarezyk complied. Even prior to the cancellation of the mineral rights, it is alleged, Zyskowski had given an option to the Gleason company. This concern conducted exploratory work, discovered a deposit of ore of not less than 2,000,000 tons and leased the property at a royalty of 10 cents a ton. Afterwards the tract was sub-leased to the Davidson Ore company at a royalty of 50 cents a ton and s reported bonus of $80,000. A mine has now been developed and considerable ore has already been shipped. Father Mytnarezyk asks that the quit claim deed running to Zyskowski be set aside on the ground of misrepresentation; that title to the property be placed in his name, and that the lease be annulled and the plaintiff be left free to dispose of the land as he sees fit. An injunction to prevent the Davidson Ore company from paying further royalties to the Gleason interests also is asked. It is expected the case will be considered at the October term.

Shaft May Be Abandoned.

As a result of damage due to fire, it is doubtful whether the No. 9 shaft of the Steel corporation's Tilden mine at Bessemer, Gogebic range, will ever be used for mining purposes again. A blaze that originated in a small pile of lagging on surface communicated to the shafthouse and, in turn, to the engine and boiler houses. All three structures were destroyed and, in addition, the fire worked down into the shaft, burning much of the timbering. As the shaft is sunk in the hanging, the destruction of the timbers resulted in a serious caving of the walls for much of the distance to the bottom, No. 9 is a vertical opening, sunk to a depth of 650 feet. Because of its location, it has been necessary frequently to replace part of the timbers on account of the unstable condition of the ground and at all times close timbering has been required. For these reasons and because repair work would be costly, it is considered probable the shaft will be abandoned and a modern steel-lined shaft opened in the footwall to replace it. The Tilden has two other shafts—No. 6 and No. 10—and the production of ore will not be greatly hampered.

Excellent progress is being made with the work of sinking the new steel and concrete shaft at the Anvil-Palms property of the Newport Mining company at Ironwood, and some fine records are being established. The shaft will be one of the most substantial in the Lake Superior region. It is being put down to open a large body of high grade ore, the existence of which has been determined by diamond drilling. The shaft is 18 feet by 10 feet, 10 inches in dimensions. It is vertical and of three compartments. Steel sets are being installed, each set self-supporting.. One-man "jackhammer" drills are used. Extensive building operations have been started. Among the structures to be erected will be a miners' change house, a shop building and an office, all of fireproof materials, and half a hundred dwelling houses. The Newport company is shipping heavily from the Newport mine this season, the indications pointing to an outgo approximating 1,000,000 tons. Some ore is being forwarded by rail to the company's blast furnace at Mayville, Wis. At the Ashland mine at Ironwood, the Hayes Mining company has the work of rebuilding the No. 9 shaft well advanced, the steel lining is being installed. From the fifth level, at which point the work was started to avoid the frost higher up, the shaft has been completed to below the tenth level.

Cleveland-Cliffs Improvements.

As is usual each season, the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company has in progress on the Marquette range a considerable amount of building work. Brick additions are being erected to the miners' change house at the Cliffs shaft mine at Ishpeming and to the power house at the Morris mine at North Lake. In the Gwinn district, the program calls for the construction of a power house, a sub-station, a combination office and warehouse and several dwelling houses at the Mackinac property and a power house at the Gardner mine. The Cleveland-Cliffs company is employing 550 men in the Gwinn district at present and is shipping from the Stephenson, Austin and Princeton properties. Operations are not being pushed, since the bulk of the 3,000,000 tons of ore the company will send out this year will come from the Ishpeming and Negaunee fields. Meanwhile the Gwinn mines are being prepared for extensive production. Electricity is used almost entirely as the motive power in the district, although the steam plant at the Stephenson continues in commission. This mine latterly has been handling 2,000 gallons of water a minute. The big air compressor at the Princeton was badly wrecked recently as it was being changed from steam to electric drive. It is supposed that the steam pressure suddenly rose to an exceptionally high point and the relief valves failed to operate. The machine has been replaced by one sent from Ishpeming.

Pumping has been stopped at the United States Steel corporation's section 21 mine at Ishpeming and the workings are filling with water. The pumps have not been removed. The mine has not been operated for several years. It is owned in fee by the corporation and its ores will be conserved. The Cascade Mining company of the Longyear interests is not expected to ship any ore this year from the Isabelle mine, which it is opening in the Cascade district of the Marquette range. No mining will be done until a depth of 800 feet is attained and lateral avenues are opened. The present depth of the shaft is about 175 feet. A spur track of the Negaunee has been built by the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. Another mine in course of development on the Marquette range is the Lucky Star at Negaunee. The ore here lies at a depth of 1,000 feet. A large power house will be erected this summer. The Lucky Star is owned by the Athens Mining company, the stock of which is held by the Breitung company and the Cleveland-Cliffs corporation, the latter possessing a minority interest.

Three hundred 50-ton ore cars built at the Milwaukee shops have been sent to the Menominee range by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. While the wheels and running gear are of steel, the frames and hopper are of timber, a method of construction declared to insure longer life than were steel used exclusively and at the same time one that permits of longer trains. The cars, have, however, been found to be too high to go under the pockets at some of the mines and to be too high for convenient steam-shovel loading. This defect doubtless will necessitate a return of the cars to the shops for correction.

INSPIRATION HAS PLENTY OF WATER

Heavy Expense of Pumping Water Nine Miles Is Avoided.

Globe, Ariz., May 10.—Most important recent developments by the Inspiration Copper company are the results obtained by the sinking of a well at the junction of Pinal creek and the Miami wash assuring the company of an abundant supply of good water. Lane, Boulder & Co., of Los Angeles, contractors, sank a 24-inch well 110 feet and struck a flow of water that rises within thirty-six feet of the surface and by pumping a flow of 1,760 gallons a minute was obtained.

That the supply is ample was demonstrated when after the pumps had been kept going for an indefinite time, the water in the well was lowered only thirteen feet. The value of this discovery may be judged when it is realized that it will obviate the necessity of pumping water from the company's dam below Wheatfield's where it would have been necessary to have installed a large pumping plant and would have entailed a heavy expense of pumping the water to the concentrator, a distance of nine miles, to an elevation above the dam of 600 feet.

After this flow of water was struck the rig was moved to the Klost ranch half a mile farther up the wash, where another well is being drilled.

The railroad at the Inspiration has been completed to the concentrator site and cars are being operated over that section. The warehouse at the concentrator for cement and other supplies has also been completed.

The Miami Copper company is rapidly recovering from the effects of the recent accident caused by the collapse of a large shrinkage stope in the mine. Operations at the mine and mill are being gradually increased and production will soon become normal again. The fine new change house went into commission last Sunday and also the auxiliary shaft that has taken the place of No. 2 shaft which has been abandoned.

BEST REPORT OF ANACONDA

Earned Profit of $15,856,334 During the Last Fiscal Year.

Butte, Mont., May 10.—The report of the Anaconda Copper Mining company for the year ending Dec. 31, 1912, which was made public this week, is in many respects the best the company ever made. Such is the condition in which the report shows the Butte properties to be, and such were the profits of the company, that not only can every stockholder feel satisfied with results, but every citizen of Butte, whether connected with the Anaconda company or not may well feel secure in the future of Butte as a mining camp and Butte as a city.

During the last fiscal year the company earned a profit of $15,856,334. The company's total assets are given as $125,077,851. From the sale of copper, silver and gold and other incomes, the company received $67,262,040. Following are some of the salient features of the report:

"Twenty-two shafts were operated during the year, through which the ore was hoisted.

"There was done in the mines of your company during the year, in the form of drifts, crosscuts, upraises, winzes and shafts, 34.1 miles of development work and a large tonnage of ore in excess of the amount extracted was added to the ore reserves.

"The shafts of the different properties were sunk during the year to additional depths aggregating 4,736 feet.

"The Modoc, Anaconda, St. Lawrence, Stewart and Tramway shafts were sunk to a depth corresponding to the 2,800-foot level of the High Ore mine, at which depth the new drain tunnels connecting all mines with the High Ore shaft will be established.

Satisfactory Development.

"The developments generally have been satisfactory, but especially so in the ground tributary to the Leonard, Tramway, Badger, State, West Gray Rock, Original, Stewart and Gagnon shafts. On the bottom level of the last three mentioned shafts, a continuous shoot of ore of good grade and width was developed for a length of over 2,800 feet.

"The work of installing the new cylinders on various hoists, preparatory to using compressed air, electrically developed, for hoisting purposes, was carried on continuously, and the main hoisting engines at the Diamond, High Ore, Original, Tramway, West Gray Rock, Mountain View, Pennsylvania and Leonard shafts were operated by compressed air, and in addition the auxiliary engines at the Green Mountain, Diamond and Tramway shafts were installed.

"The main engines for the West Stewart, Modoc, Mountain View and shaft, Berkeley, Badger State and West Colusa shafts, and the auxiliary hoists for the Leonard, West Colusa, Pennsylvania, Anaconda and Mountain View shafts are now on the ground, and will be installed as rapidly as possible.

"The engineers in charge of this work are satisfied that the new method of hoisting is resulting in large economies; but it will be impossible to omit, but the comparative savings until the system shall have been completed and the use for boiler plants eliminated.

"Much greater progress could be made in installing the hoists were it not for the fact that considerable inconvenience is occasioned when more than two of the large producing shafts are out of commission at the same time.

Electric Pumps at High Ore.

"The full installation of electric pumps at the High Ore shaft was completed, and the results were absolutely satisfactory, for in addition to the economies effected, the fact that no heat is introduced into the underground workings is an item worthy of serious consideration.

"Electric haulage is being installed generally in all the mines with marked success.

"A system of ventilation is being perfected generally throughout the different properties, by the introduction of fresh air carried into the mines through shafts independent of the main working shafts and by the installation of large exhaust fans at different other shafts, by which the heated air is drawn in large volume to the surface. During the year a thorough investigation of underground sanitary conditions was made by a specially appointed commission of scientific men, whose report was most favorable, and everything is being done by the officials of your company not only to maintain this condition but to better it if possible.

"The mines of the company produced during the year 4,576,289.24 tons of ore and 3,667.51 tons of precipitates, or a total of 4,579,956.75 tons.

"The reduction works treated for all companies during the year 3,880,203.37 dry tons of ore and other cupriferous material at Great Falls. Of this, 4,486,872.68 tons of ore from company mines, 581,031.97 tons of purchased ore and 1,337.52 tons of precipitates and cleanings from the old works were treated, from which there was produced 222,763,670 pounds of fine copper, 9,792,694.52 ounces of silver and 52,563,891 ounces of gold at Anaconda; and 71,710,491 pounds of fine copper, 1,312,132.45 ounces of silver and 8,750,576 ounces of gold at Great Falls or a total production of 294,474,161 pounds of fine copper, 11,014,736.97 ounces of silver and 61,314,467 ounces of gold.

SHUTDOWN MAY RESULT

Should Labor Troubles at the Lake Copper Mines Increase.

Hancock Mine Is Slowly Rounding Into Shape for Production.

Houghton, Mich., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual parade of mine workers in the Portage Lake district took place Sunday. About 1,600 men were in line. The parade was an orderly affair, and the marchers contented themselves with a mere show of strength, the only outward expression of any grievance being in the banners carried, which protested against the use of the "one-man drill," and asked for an eight-hour day and medium wages. It is said that the local union, which seems quite independent of the Western Federation of Labor, will later make a formal demand for shorter hours and the abolition of the "one-man machine," which latter is by union men referred to as the instigator of our present troubles. There are about 15,000 mine workers in Houghton county, of which number probably not more than 3,500 are organized under the Western federation. The mining companies of the district stand united against the labor organization and are not disposed to arbitrate any possible trouble, and intimate that the mines will be closed for a year, should labor conditions become more intolerable than they now are. There is little doubt that an eight-hour day would be granted, if sufficient help could be obtained to man the mines, and no doubt an eight-hour day will be granted eventually and voluntarily when conditions are right.

Isle Royale.

The Isle Royale Copper company has resumed work on the site of the new No. 7 shaft, which is planned to sink at a point approximately 3,000 feet south of No. 6 shaft on the Isle Royale lode. Previous attempts to sink this shaft were unsuccessful, due to the unusually heavy overburden in this area. The new start is being made about 400 feet away. The company is pushing development work in this formation at the rate of 2,000 feet per month. About eighty machine drills are in service. Production is holding steadily around 1,600 tons of rock daily, with a resultant yield of 550,000 to 600,000 pounds fine copper per month, indicating an average yield of about fifteen pounds fine copper per ton of rock milled. About 700 men are employed.

Hancock.

The Hancock is slowly rounding into shape for production. Development work on the thirteenth level is showing copper ground of excellent quality in the No. 4 lode. This formation is showing further good rock on the fourteenth level and in the upraise between this level and the sixteenth. A drift on the Pewabic or No. 8 lode, on the forty-ninth level is in fair average ground for a distance of 125 feet. Crosscuts on the thirty-second, forty-fourth and forty-third levels are now driving to intersect this lode. Development work generally has been highly encouraging, considerable ground has been blocked out in several lodes on several levels, and the mine is already in shape to produce upward of 500 tons of rock daily. Production at this rate is promised by midsummer.

Adventure.

The Adventure is confining all activity to exploratory work in the horizon of the Evergreen lode, where a diamond drill is seeking the westerly continuation of the several copper bearing lodes recently encountered in the South Lake shaft a short distance away. The drill has been idle the greater part of the time since work was started three or four weeks ago, idleness not being explained. The drill hole, which is the first of a series planned in this area, reached bed rock at a depth of 388 feet. Work in the so-called Adventure lode was suspended some time ago, owing to unsatisfactory results generally. A number of copper bearing veins, located in the previous exploratory campaign, were drifted upon with varying results, none apparently carrying copper in sufficient quantity to induce further work at this time. The formations are extremely erratio both as to width and mineralization, and are faulted so badly that considerable trouble is experienced in keeping the drifts within the lode. These lodes may or may not be an extension of the so-called South Lake lodes. There is good reason for the belief that they are extensions of these veins, but whatever their identity there is no comparison so far as value is concerned.

Michigan.

The Michigan continues in idleness for want of working capital. There is small likelihood of a resumption of operations this summer. Negotiations looking to the sale of a considerable tract of standing timber are in progress, and there is a possibility that the timber may be disposed of and yield the working capital desired. The mine on the Calico and Branch veins, which was abandoned a few years ago, is being worked on shares by tributors who are able to make a small profit for themselves and the company at the expense of the mine, which must necessarily be scrammed in this effort. Considerable mass copper and "barrel work" is being obtained, and there is now on hand about fifteen tons which the tributors will share equally with the company. The future of the company seems now to lie elsewhere than in the Calico and Branch veins, and when funds are in hand a new start will likely be made in the several horizons east of the Calico lode. This area was extensively diamond drilled a few years ago, and several copper bearing formations were located, one of which, thought to be the Ogima lode, yielding copper cores of exceptional richness. A test pit was sunk and abandoned at shallow depth about a year ago.

Oneco.

The Oneco has turned to exploratory work in the territory east of the Oneco lode, into which a cross-cut is being sent from the eleventh level of the exploratory shaft. Work in the Oneco lode is confined to drifting on the third and twelfth levels. The shaft remains bottomed at a depth of 1,250 feet. Considerable drifting has been done on these and the eleventh levels, with results that are altogether discouraging. The formation is extremely spotty, and showings of commercial ground are few and far between. The area under investigation east of the shaft may possibly carry the extension of the several copper bearing lodes opened in the New Baltic acreage, all of which carry copper at comparatively shallow depth, and like the Oneco lode are bunchy so far as may be seen within a rather limited area opened.

"NIGGER HILL" IS NOW HAVING BOOM

Mining District Between Helena and Butte Looks Mighty Good.

Helena, Mont., May 10.—The most overlooked mining district in Montana is "Nigger Hill" district, which, according to Frank Cooney, is destined to become one of the most important in the state and which is already showing more activity than ever before.

Mr. Cooney has just returned from the "Nigger Hill" district, which lies between Butte and Helena in the west range, and reports that the contract has been let to Butte men for driving the tunnel of the Big Dick mine a distance of 1,100 feet.

The tunnel is already in 500 feet. When the contractors cut in 600 feet further the tunnel will be under the shaft, which is now down 300 feet. From the tunnel an upraise will be cut to connect with the shaft, which will give the Big Dick shaft a depth of 450 feet, making it the deepest mine in Western Montana, with the exception of the Iron Mountain.

It was about five years ago that the Big Dick mine was closed down on account of water. The company's plans in cutting the tunnel is to drain the mine as well as to develop the property at the same time. This tunnel is a crosscut tunnel. When complete the company will drift on the veins and take out the ore, which is known to exist in large bodies.

Mr. Cooney is very enthusiastic over prospects. The Big Dick mine has produced, on smelter returns, $100,000, an average of $1,000 a car. Ore from one of its biggest veins assays $30 in gold, 15 ounces in silver and 10 per cent lead.

The Julia property is working thirty men a mile away and other properties in that locality are adding to their forces, determined to enlarge the operations. Among other activities there Ivey and Bennetts of Centerville are sinking a shaft on the Daisy L property and are already down 100 feet.

MAY BE SECOND CRIPPLE CREEK

Little Gold Camp of Radersburg in Montana Looks Good.

Townsend, Mont., May 10.—That the modest little camp of Radersburg, in Broadwater county, Mont., is destined to become a second Cripple Creek is the belief of the mining men of that district, who point to the fact that gold was discovered at Cripple Creek fifty years ago, but it was not until thirty years later that the camp became firmly established and this was done by deep exploration.

Radersburg was mined in early territorial days. For forty years that little burg has occupied a modest place on the mining map. It has not been abandoned nor has it had a boom. Great depth was never attained in her mines. But with the assistance of proper capital some of the mines of that district will be properly developed and therein lies the hope of mining men interested in Radersburg properties.

At an incline depth of only 800 feet the Keating discloses the mineral and geologic earmarks of a really big gold mine. On the Ohio-Keating the 800-foot shaft and drifting is proving the vertical and horizontal continuity of enlarging ore bodies and increasing gold values. Litigation that closed down the Black Friday has been settled and this high-grade mine will resume operations at once. Willard Bennett, president of the company, has gone to St. Paul, where, with associates, arrangements will be made for extensive operations. The Black Friday shaft is down 600 feet, but will be extended and two veins worked. Eventually it will require 100 men to man this rich property.

Some weeks ago the Rawls mine passed to a strongly financed company, and Tom Parker, a thoroughly competent superintendent, is installing an electric hoist and otherwise equipping the mine for an era of heavy production.

Another piece of good news is that Manager Frank Donaldson has raised $75,000 for extensive development and equipment of the Rena mine, which has produced several carloads of ore in the course of preliminary exploration. A large pump will be installed, the shaft extended and the vein worked through lower levels.

Among the new properties making an excellent record is the Republic, which is being opened under the direction of George Winslow, who has many other local interests. He has a number of men at work on the Republic and the showing of ore, for the depth attained, is said to be phenomenal. Duluth capitalists are heavily interested, and the indications give reasonable assurance that they will reap rich returns.

BUTTE'S MINERAL ZONE EXTENDING

Evidences That Copper Exists at Depth in District Southwest.

Butte, Mont., May 10.—Recent development in the shaft sinking of the Butte & Minnesota company and of other properties that lie to the southwest of Butte go to show that the rich mineral zone that has made the Butte hill the world's most famous mining ground, extends to the southwest as well as across the flats to the south and east. In the Butte & Minnesota shaft an ore vein carrying silver and gold values has been cut. The theory, based on the experience of hill properties, is that these values lie closer to the surface and that with depth are rich copper bodies.

Take the Badger State mine, for instance. This property is today the show mine of the Anaconda company. The Badger State was sunk on a typical silver vein, with manganese outcroppings, and its chief values to the 1,200 level were zinc. First zinc would be encountered and then copper, until finally, at the 1,600 level, came the rich copper ore, some of it assaying between 50 and 60 per cent copper, and the nature of the ore being glance and bornite.

The district southwest of Butte may, in the near future, develop another Badger State mine.

LEACHED COPPER BEING SHIPPED

First Carload Is Shipped By Capt. Wolvin From Butte.

Butte, Mont., May 10.—Capt. A. B. Wolvin has "spotted" a car for the shipment of his first commercial refined copper from the Butte & Duluth leaching plant. This carload will be sent East at once. It weighs about 50,000 pounds and, with copper selling at 15¾ cents a pound, will bring approximately $8,000.

This shipment is significant in that it practically marks the beginning of a new epoch in red metal mining. It is the start of extracting copper on a commercial basis from low-grade ore by the leaching process.

This copper is said to have been produced at a cost around 6 cents a pound.

Following is the operating cost of the Butte & Duluth from April 10 to date, the mill treating about eighty tons daily: Mining and transportation, 25 cents per ton; acid (3,000 pounds per day at .014 per pound), 52 cents per ton; power, 30 cents per ton; milling labor, 85 cents per ton; overhead charges, 23 cents per ton; miscellaneous, 20 cents per ton.

ALL GRAINS ARE HIGHER

Wheat Has an Advance in Face of Bearish News.

Flax Is Dull During Session But Closes Fractionally Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 10.—Immediately after the opening of the market this morning spring and durum wheat and flax began to advance slightly. It is believed that the market has been so much oversold that this is the cause of the advance in the face of bearish news. European markets were closed today because of a religious holiday there and therefore little could be learned of the attitude of that part of the world. Broomhall, London, reported, however, that there are better cargo offerings in Europe. The rise in the price of the cereals was not phenomenal and the market remained quiet and steady throughout. Not many trades were made. The usual Saturday close of noon was also some restriction.

Northwest wheat, which has become practically cash wheat, closed yesterday at 88⅝c and in the only quotations in its column today advanced ⅛c to ⅝c closing at the last named level. July wheat opened even and its high point for the session was ¾c to ⅞c up. It closed at the ¾c rise. September wheat opened at an advance of ⅛c, went up ⅝c and closed at that point. July durum gained ⅛c over yesterday in the day's transactions.

Flax Reacts.

In the flax market there was little done but the market rose a little. The only reason assigned is that the rise is merely a reaction from the decline of the two days prior to this session. July gained ¾c and September gained ½c over yesterday's close.

Van Dusen crop report, issued today, says: Weather conditions have been generally favorable during the past ten days for farm work. Showers have benefited the grain already sown and have not materially delayed the completion of seeding.

In the lower half of the spring wheat belt, seeding is fully completed under very favorable soil conditions, and the outlook is excellent at this time.

In the northern part of the spring wheat country, wheat seeding is about 80 per cent finished. An unusually large amount of grain has been disced in on stubble, requiring favorable conditions for maturing the crop. With the right kind of weather results are frequently good, however. Indications point to a moderate reduction in the wheat acreage and a moderate increase in coarse grain acreage, but it is too early to give definite figures.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Gains Strength From Purchases By Shorts.

Chicago, May 10.—Purchases by shorts gave strength to wheat today in the deferred months. May was weak after the flurry of yesterday. Heavy rain in Liverpool left the market largely to local influences. Some little export demand was the source of part of the strength shown. Opening prices were ⅜c lower to ⅛@¼c higher. July started unchanged to ⅛c up at 89½@89⅝c and went to 89⅝@89¾c.

Values improved still further under active demand. The close was firm with July at 89⅞@90c, a net gain of ⅜@½c.

Fair buying of corn helped prices a little, steadiness being imparted by continued lightness of offerings. July opened a shade higher at 56⅛c and sold up an eighth of a cent.

Further advance was made, helped by strength of cash corn. The close was steady with July ⅛@¼c net higher at 56¼c.

Oats showed firmness on good demand. July began ⅛@¼c higher at 35¼c and later touched 35⅜@35⅝c.

Very moderate offerings and a slackness of demand were features of the opening in provisions. July products started at $19.22½ for pork, $10.75 for lard and $10.95@10.97½ for ribs. The opening range was unchanged to 5c lower.

New York Grain.

New York, May 10.—July wheat closed at 97⅞@97¾c.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 10.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points on scattered covering for over the week-end which was probably prompted by the continued failure of the weather map to show any material precipitation in the Eastern belt. There were no cables owing to the holidays abroad, and trading here was very quiet.

Futures closed firm. Closing bids: May, 11.47; June, 11.56; July, 11.59; August, 11.36; September, 11.08; October, 11.02; December, 11.03; January, 10.99; March, 11.06. Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 12.00; middling gulf, 12.25. No sales.

BUSINESS VERY LIGHT

General Run of Active Stocks Make Fairly Good Showing.

Speculation Lacks Support of London Buying Owing to Holiday.

New York, May 10.—Stocks of the coal carrying roads were depressed at the opening of the market today by announcement of the government's decision to institute further proceedings under the anti-trust law against certain members of the group. Jersey Central fell 3 points; Reading and Delaware & Hudson 1¼ and Erie 1. The remainder of the list was inactive with a heavy undertone.

Making of several new low records in which important railroads and industrial stocks figured had little effect on the general list. Prices everywhere were shaded but the dealings were so light that not much significance was attached to the selling.

The market closed easy. Dealings on the long side of the market were hampered by continuation of the liquidation of investment stocks. Speculation lacked the support of London buying owing to the holidays abroad.

The general run of active stocks made a fairly good showing although the trend was mildly downward. Business was of insignificant proportions.

While not featured by any big deals, the local realty market during the past week was a fairly active one, as indicated by the heavy volume of real estate transfers put on record during the past few days. Trading in residence lots was the principal business done. Some good acreage deals were put through however. Dealers report a brisk demand for properties of all kinds and anticipate a good season ahead.

At Gary, lot selling has been continuing at a brisk pace. During the coming summer, a wonderful transformation is expected to take place there. Already numerous new houses are under way and many others are contemplated.

The Steel Plant Investment company advises the sale of fourteen lots at Gary during the past week. NOW BOOSTING FOR WINDSOR

M. S. Burrows Tells of Future of Little Town Chosen for Canadian Steel Plant.

Wearing "boots" instead of "shoes," sporting a Canadian accent that is broader than the Ohio river in March, and smoking a briar pipe, M. S. Burrows arrived in Duluth yesterday from the "back home" district.

Mr. Burrows is now a Canadian in costume, speech and enthusiasm. He is a six-cylinder, 90-horse power booster for Windsor, Can., which lies across the river from Detroit, and which has been chosen as the site for the Canadian plant of the United States Steel corporation.

Duluthians may not have known it before, but Windsor is the center of the universe. The sun shines brighter there than in any other spot in America. The birds sing sweeter, and the flowers bloom more beautifully. And while Windsor trots along ahead of the procession in natural advantages such as these, the town can't be seen for dust in the industrial parade. It's going to have a steel plant employing 16,000 men; it is getting a new factory every fifteen minutes, or maybe it is every hour. You can't rent a house, or a room, or a woodshed, or a tent in Windsor. Detroit is "some town", but in a few years it won't even be a suburb of Windsor.

Mr. Burrows admitted that there are only about 15,000 people in Windsor at present, but in five or ten years, Detroit's 600,000 will look small.

Speaking seriously, however, Mr. Burrows admitted that he was in the real estate business, with offices in Windsor, Detroit, and Montreal, and that the little Canadian city would experience a real boom in the next few years. "It is the center of a wonderful manufacturing district," said Mr. Burrows. "Detroit is becoming one of our greatest manufacturing centers, and is destined to be our greatest, I think. Windsor will get its share of the growth and more, for Canada is in a position now where the United States was twenty-five years ago. Perhaps the northwestern boom has been overdone, but you can't escape the fact that the immigration is tremendous, and Canada is going to have a wonderful growth and development.

M. S. BURROWS.

Windsor is going to be one of the big cities of Canada.

"Duluth looks good to me again, and I believe this city is going to get the growth it has been expecting for years."

BUILDING IN NEW YORK EVERY HOUR

Statistics for Metropolis Show One Structure Completed Every Fifty-Nine Minutes.

Every hour that passes in this city means another building has been added to the vast number within the limits of Greater New York. According to those who have an appetite for collecting statistics of this sort a new building of some description is completed in this city every fifty-nine minutes. There are any number of cities in this country which cannot boast of as many new buildings in a year as New York puts up in a week. New York cannot be in the throes of any great business depression if it can afford to build a new building every hour that passes. Unless there were a demand builders would not be rushing construcion in this manner.

DULUTH LEADS COUNTRY IN GAIN IN BUILDING ACTIVITY

Shortage of Labor Causing Contractors Some Worry.

West Duluth Is Enjoying a Mild Building Boom.

Duluth still holds its lead over other cities of the United States in the percentage of gain in building permits. It was at the head of the list at the end of the first three months of the year. The end of the first four months also shows Duluth in the lead in percentage of gain in the building permits for the first quarter of this year over the corresponding four months in 1912.

The figures, which have been compiled by the American Contractor, put Duluth to the head of the list with a gain of 376 per cent. During the first four months of the current year, the local building inspector issued 345 permits calling for work to cost $2,229,725. The 1912 figures for the corresponding period were 329 permits for buildings valued at $468,808.

The present shortage of labor is causing more or less worry among contractors. Day laborers in the city are now commanding a wage of from $2.50 to $2.75 a day are said to be scarce at that figure. A number of jobs are being conducted with short crews and building contractors are finding considerable trouble to get men outside of the regular trades.

• • •

West Duluth is enjoying a mild building boom. Some of the projects under way there are as follows:

• • •

O. T. Strand, clothing merchant, will erect a one story brick building at 228 Central avenue. It will cost $6,000.

• • •

Charles Korth has plans out for handsome brick residence to be built on the south side of Roosevelt street at the corner of Fifty-first avenue west. It will cost $7,000.

• • •

The Filiatrault building at 5411 Ramsey street is being pushed to an early completion. It is a brick structure and will cost $6,000.

• • •

Work on the new $30,000 Colonial theater at 321-325 Central avenue is progressing nicely. It is planned to have the job completed by Aug. 1.

• • •

Following were the building permits issued during the week:

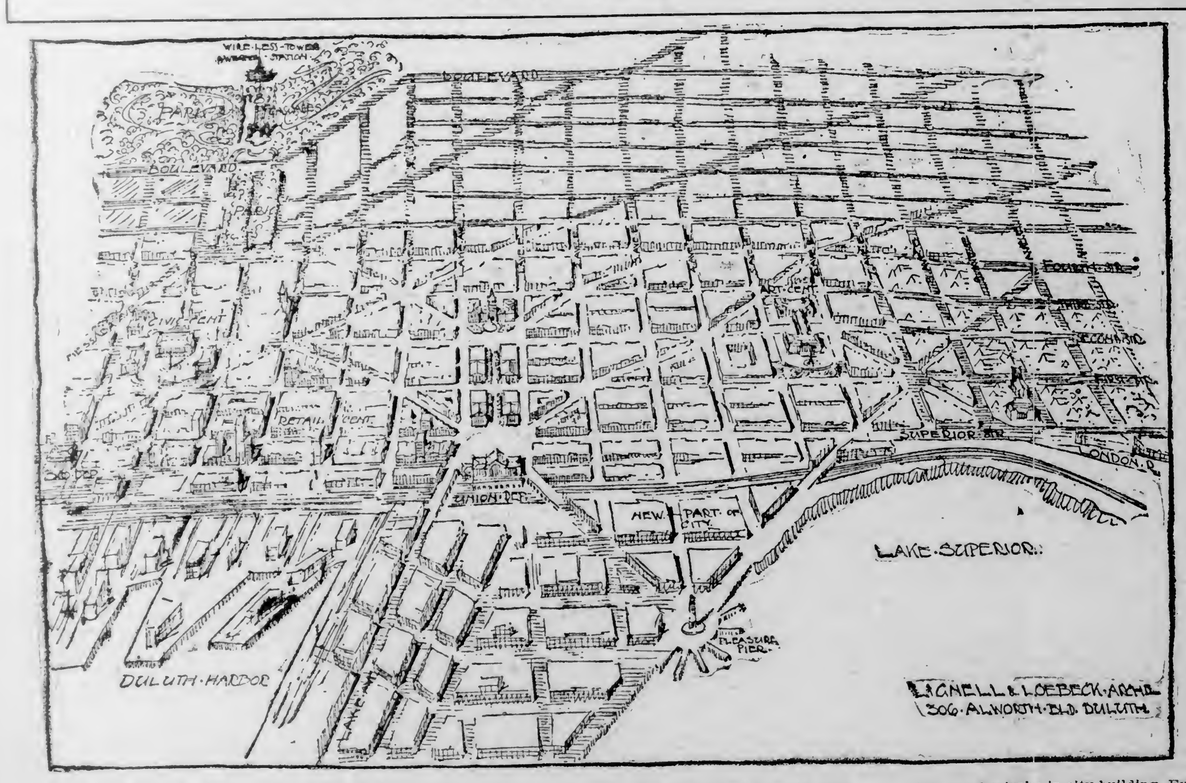
BIRDSEYE VIEW OF CENTRAL PART OF DULUTH AS IT MIGHT LOOK WITH WISE CITY PLANNING



(By Robert Loebeck, Architect.)

This sketch shows a birdseye view of Duluth after applying the principles of wise city planning which are nothing more than business principles expressed in streets.

Duluth extends in a north and northeasterly direction. The former in some future time probably the most important is not represented by a traffic artery. Its introduction would have the additional advantage of ascending the hill gradually.

James Hill will develop the ambition to land his passengers in the front yard of Duluth as his competitor the Soo line does. This will give an opportunity to beautify Duluth in a more than ordinary manner.

Diplomacy with the Hill of St. Paul and the hill of Duluth therefore has been the base of this "Duluth Beautiful." There might be other possibilities. Search for them! Do it for Duluth, and as soon as we get the right solution we will have besides a model steel plant a model city.

There is however no philanthropy in this proposition though it seems almost sure that a philanthropical millionaire will set the stone a-rolling and prove up the old proverb "A fool can make money; it requires a wise man to spend it."

Improvements like this are bitterly needed. No phantasmagoria, not even originality can be claimed. On the other side not only of the herring pond but also of the Panama canal our Pan American brethren have developed into crackerjacks in city building. Even in Manila they are "at it."

"The last are bitten by the dogs." This holds good for any old game. "Delenda est Carthago" of old man Cato translated into Duluthian English means "Duluth must be replanned! which as its prototype should be repeated incessantly until the decisive punic war against public disinterestedness will be won and the Zenith City as Rome of old be in shape to perform the zenith functions of the metropolis of the Northwest.

MILLIONS FOR FIRES; NOTHING FOR PREVENTION

America spends more than any other nation in fire extinguishment—but spends comparatively nothing in fire prevention.

Fire losses and the cost of fire prevention in the United States amount annually to $450,000,000, or more than the total American production of gold, silver, copper and petroleum in a year.

The cost of fires each year is one-half the cost of all the new buildings erected in a year.

The annual per capita fire waste in the United States is $2.51, in Europe 33 cents. Cause: The latter has better construction, less carelessness, increased responsibility.

If buildings in the United States were as fireproof as in Europe the annual cost of fire losses and protection would be only $90,000,000.

Fires in the United States cost over $500 a minute.

New York City spends $10,000,000 a year for fire extinguishment and $15,000 a year for fire prevention.

EASY TO BUY A HOME

Now Possible for Almost Any Man With Steady Income to Become Property Owner.

That two-thirds o the homes being built today are sold on the monthly-payment plan, is declared to be a fact by a local real estate authority. Investment and contracting companies have built a great number of them and disposed of them at rental rates.

In other words, houses are built according to the directions of prospective buyers, who pay for them by paying their regular rent. In some cases homes are bought with borrowed money, and instead of being paid for in regular monthly payments to builders, mortgages are being erased by regular payments of prospective owners. By many conservative and experienced investors, the latter plan is considered the better for the prospective home-owner.

Practically every man with a family has a desire for a home of his own, and there is many a man with a family cooped up in a hotel or boarding house that might be living in a home of his own if he only knew how easy it is to get one. It is not necessary nowadays to have saved up the thousands or to be in a lucrative position to buy and maintain a home. With a few hundred dollars one can now buy a lot, have a house built, move in, and for probably the same amount of monthly payments that he formerly was paying as rent, buy the house on the monthly plan system, just as if he were still renting.

The Plan Is Popular.

This method of home buying has become generally popular and usually, if dealings are arranged with legitimate and reputable contractors and investment companies, it is a safe undertaking and a profitable investment from the fact that any new house or new home building district is bound to increase in value as the influx of people continues.

There are innumerable things to be considered in this manner and method of home buying, however. One should not pay exorbitant rates of interest to builders or investment companies for money to buy a home. It will rob the investment of its possibilities to the buyer, by making first cost of his home too high, and it is unfair and unnecessary. If a dependable building company will not build your home reasonably and at fair profit, then borrow the money, give a mortgage on your partly-acquired property, and pay the principal and interest as you are able.

By hundreds, who have tried both, this is considered by far the better plan. By paying interest on the money you borrow, which you are compelled to do at any rate and by either method, you can pay on the principal as you are able and continue the loan as long or erase it as quickly as you may. By this method, the often-distasteful monthly-payment plan is avoided, though the obligations are, in most instances, the same.

HOLD DEDICATION OF PHIPPS INSTITUTE

Suppression of the White Plague Among the Poor Is Its Object.

Philadelphia, May 10.—The Phipps institute, a million dollar gift from Henry Phipps of New York to the University of Pennsylvania for the study and prevention of tuberculosis among the poor, was dedicated here today. The institution, one of the best equipped in the world for its special work, is situated in one of the slum sections of the city.

Medical men and sociologists from all parts of the United States, scientists and philanthropists, attended the dedicatory exercises, held in one of the open air wards. Dr. Edgar F. Smith, provost of the university, presided, and addresses were made by Dr. Lawrence F. Flick of this city and Dr. Herman M. Biggs of New York.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Mr. Phipps, and a similar honor upon Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, founder of the Adirondack Cottage sanitarium.

ST. PAUL GARDENER COMMITS SUICIDE

Frederick Schroeder, Sued By Man Hurt By Team, Kills Himself.

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frederick Schroeder, 54 years old, a retired market gardener, committed suicide at 5 a. m. today by blowing away the back of his head with a shotgun, at the rear of his home at Lake Como.

Mrs. Schroeder said today that about a year ago Schroeder's team ran away from him and injured a pedestrian, who is now suing him for $5,400. Worry over the suit caused him to end his life, Mrs. Schroeder thinks.

PEACE DELEGATES TOURING CITIES.

New York, May 10.—Practically all of the visiting delegates to the international conference looking to a celebration of 100 years of peace among English-speaking peoples began today a tour of the chief cities of the East as guests of the American committee. Boston is the first point of the tour. There they will spend Sunday.

BOILER EXPLODES NEAR EMBASSY.

Paris, May 10.—A boiler explosion occurred next door to the residence of Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador, this morning, killing one and injuring three other workmen. The ambassador and his family are in Rome attending the international agricultural conference. The boiler was attached to an engine employed driving piles for a new building.

BRYAN CONSIDERS NICARAGUA PLAN.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary Bryan is not yet prepared to decide what support, if any, the United States will give to Nicaragua in case of efforts to float a new loan to liquidate its foreign debt and rehabilitate its finances. The Nicaraguan minister of finance told the secretary today that bankers contemplating the loan demanded the moral support of the United States. Mr. Bryan arranged another conference for Wednesday, at which it is expected he will outline the government's attitude.

JUDGE CRITICIZES COURTS' COURSE.

Columbus, Ohio, May 10.—Indorsing the dissenting opinion of the late Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court in the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases, brought under the Sherman act, in which he declared there was abroad "a harmful tendency to bring about amending of constitutions and legislative enactments by means alone of judicial construction," Judge R. M. Wanamaker of the Ohio supreme court, in a dissenting opinion regarding the home rule amendment of the state Constitution, said:

"Would not the people have more confidence in our courts if our courts showed a little more confidence in the people?"

According to the opinion of the majority of the state supreme court, the new "home rule" amendment of the Constitution is not self-active, and that action of municipalities or legislative action is necessary before it will be effective.

Less Unfilled Tonnage.

New York, May 10.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation on April 30 totals 6,978,762 tons, a decrease of 490,194 tons over March.

This marks the fourth consecutive monthly decrease in this year and was more by 300,000 tons than had been generally estimated.

Railroads

M. & I. RAILROAD TO BUILD CUTOFF

Several Miles to Be Built, Shortening Entrance Into Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., May 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota & International railway, stated today that his company planned the construction of a cut-off from Leaks, running in a southwesterly direction to a connection with the main line of the Northern Pacific just west of the Northern Pacific hospital, a distance of 5.8 miles.

The building of this line will improve the Minnesota & International Railway company's entrance into Brainerd, do away with the necessity of turning passenger trains on the Y, and afford a practically level grade between Brainerd and Leaks as compared with a high grade with many and heavy curves over the old route through the Northern Pacific shop yard and across the river at East Brainerd.

It is expected that work on this cut-off will be started within a few weeks and that it will be completed and ready for use by fall.

C. W. Mowery of St. Paul is engineer in charge and has located here. It is expected that the grading contracts will be let next week.

Mr. Gemmell also stated he is calling for bids for brick for a four-stall addition to the roundhouse at North Bemidji and for a brick machine shop. The increased facility is required in order to take care of the company's growth of business.

IMPROVING THE SOO TERMINALS

Road Preparing for Heavy Ore and Grain Traffic.

That it may successfully handle the ore business this summer and the heavy grain rush this fall, the Soo road has started work on the improvement of its Superior terminals.

The roundhouse at Spruce avenue is to be enlarged from a 12-stall engine house to a 20-stall structure. The additional stalls are made necessary by the expected heavy ore shipments from the Cuyuna range.

The ore dock is now open and shipments are being made daily.

PRESIDENT GRAY VISITS DULUTH

Denies Rumor of Independent Steel Plant in Superior.

Carl L. Gray, president of the Great Northern Railway company, arrived in Superior yesterday afternoon and after spending the remainder of the day there and this morning in Duluth, he left at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon for St. Paul.

Mr. Gray was accompanied in his private car by R. Budd, chief engineer of the Hill system, and his secretary. The visit, according to Mr. Gray, was purely a business one.

D. M. Philbin, general manager of the Great Northern ore properties, met Mr. Gray this morning and they went on an inspection trip of the terminals. Mr. Gray refused to make a statement regarding the probability of the Hill interests engaging in the steel business, independently of the Steel corporation. He denied, however, the report that a steel plant is to be erected by the Hill interests in Superior.

In Superior yesterday Mr. Gray announced that a grain elevator is to be erected at St. Louis bay on the site of the present merchandise docks. The matter is now being considered, he said, and will depend partly on this as that the trip was made across the bay.

Mr. Gray's private car was attached to the Gopher State express for St. Paul at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

Bad Roads Necessitate Good Cars and Cars Force Good Roads.

"It is curious," said W. L. Blake of the Electric Service & Repair company, agent for the Hudson car, today, "that these bad roads about which Americans complain so bitterly are really one of the causes for the superiority of American automobiles. If we had smooth, solid highways it is quite possible that our present marvelously efficient automobiles would not have been produced.

"Take a case I just heard about. One of our patrons, H. F. Alexander, president of the Alaska-Pacific Steamship company of Tacoma, who drives one of our new Hudson Sixes, has just returned from a tour that took him through Washington, Oregon and California down into Mexico. In this trip he met all kinds of roads, from the smooth, wonderful oiled boulevards of Southern California, to the sand of the Mexican deserts and the rocks of the many mountain passes.

"Yet throughout the entire trip of about 1,500 miles, over probably as varied road condition as can be found in the entire world, this well-designed American car experienced not the slightest difficulty. A small amount of tire trouble was absolutely all that was encountered. From what I know of European cars, I should say that none of them of about the same power and size as this American machine that could have made the trip.

"Now there is coming a reaction in the other direction, and the influence of the motorists is being exerted for good roads. So we have the curious anomaly of the bad roads producing the good automobiles, and now the drivers of the automobiles are demanding the improvement of the roads."

SANTA FE ROAD MAN PROMOTED.

San Francisco, May 10.—Edward Chambers, formerly assistant freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe railroad in San Francisco, has been elected by the board of directors to be a vice president of the company in charge of traffic, with headquarters at Chicago. His new duties will begin June 1. Mr. Chambers was ten years freight agent for the Santa Fe at Los Angeles, and later assistant freight traffic manager here for eight years.

Through Freight Service.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 10.—Through freight service from Grand Forks to points on the Soo line, between Forest River and Kenmare will be afforded under arrangement being worked out here. It is believed that local shipments to that line will increase about 100 per cent as a result.

REOPEN LAND IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary Lane has recommended that more than 300,000 acres in South Dakota, previously withdrawn from entry to be classified whether coal or non-coal land, be restored to entry. The land restored is part of a tract much of which was found by the geological survey to be coal-bearing.

Geologists report the coal is lignite, in beds varying from two to ten feet in thickness. The land has been appraised at $10 an acre when it lies more than fifteen miles from a railroad, and $20 an acre if within fifteen miles of a railroad.

French Gambling Aimed At.

Paris, May 10.—After an animated debate, the chamber of deputies, by a vote of 275 to 264, adopted a resolution in favor of further consideration being given to an amendment by Deputy Jacques Plus to the gambling bill. The amendment seeks to revoke all gambling licenses granted under the law of 1907. Its acceptance would involve the closing of many clubs and summer resort casinos.

Second Degree Murder Verdict.

Fond du Lac, Wis., May 10.—John Lavalle, charged with the murder of Peter Guenther in a saloon brawl, Nov. 23, 1912, was found guilty today of murder in second degree. Lavalle was a bartender and evidence showed both men had been drinking at the time.

Wilson Takes Half Holiday.

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson took a half holiday and motored to Mount Vernon with Mrs. Wilson and a family party. The president slipped away from the White House and was skimming over the quiet Virginia roads almost before his departure became known.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.

Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

RATES ARE LOWEST.

The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.

A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.
This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have a neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. FOR SALE HOUSES. (Continued.)

A great many people do not understand how to proceed in getting a home and to save middleman's profit. Time has passed when one with from $75 to $500 cannot get a home and save rent. Let us talk it over.

ACRES, FARM LANDS AND CITY HOMES IN DESIRABLE LOCATIONS.

$1,800—$50 cash, balance same as rent, takes a 5-room house in Woodland and 110 by 115-foot lot; house nearly new, with gas, water in it and sewer in the street; we have several of this kind of deals in all parts of the city.

$1,250—Small house and 25-foot lot on East Ninth street car line; city water and gas; would sell 50 feet for little more; terms can be arranged.

$3,500—Double brick house, stone foundation, city water, sewer and gas; 50-foot lot and very good location; rentals will pay for house in a few years; easy terms.

$7,000 for an absolutely modern house; central East end; requires about $2,500 cash.

$3,500 buys a house worth that amount, and the lot, 66 feet by 100, is worth in cash money $1,200; and only $500 cash is required; nine rooms and stone foundation.

LOTS! LOTS! LOTS!

Our central lots ought to appeal to anyone, as it saves car fare, enables you to go home for meals and be close to your home in case a member of the family is sick. It will pay you to talk with Larsen. We loan money on real estate and write fire insurance.

Get together, three or four of you, and buy 40 acres of land and save from $30 to $100 per acre. Don't work for the other fellow all the time.

STEEL CORPORATION'S DEFENSE TO "TRUST" CHARGES IS BEGUN

President James A. Farrell Is the First Witness Examined.

Tells of Rise From 15-Year-Old Laborer to Head of Concern.

New York, May 12.—Taking of testimony for the defense in the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation under the Sherman law, was begun here today with James Farrell, president of the corporation, as the first witness. The case for the government was completed in February. It is expected that it will take another year to complete the case for the corporation.

Questioned by C. A. Severance, counsel for the corporation, Mr. Farrell, who is now 50 years old, described his remarkable rise to his present position. He said he entered the steel business at the age of 15 years as a laborer in a steel mill in New Haven, Conn. At 19 he went to Pittsburg and worked as a "wire drawer." At 21 he became foreman of the mill, and at 23 a salesman. From this position he was promoted to salesmanager at the age of 29, and four years later became general manager of the Pittsburg Wire company.

Executive Officer in 1903.

This company subsequently was taken over by the American Steel & Wire company, one of the present subsidiaries, and he became foreign sales

PEACE DELEGATES ARE IN WASHINGTON

Round of Entertainment Will Keep Them Occupied.

Washington, May 12.—The British, Canadian and Australian delegates to the conference to arrange for the celebration of the 100 years peace between Great Britain and the United States, begun by the treaty of Ghent in 1814, arrived today. They faced a round of entertainment that was almost appalling.

Met at the station by the Washington committee of 100 they were taken into waiting motor cars and hurried off to a hotel. With only a brief few moments to erase the stains of travel, the result of their trip from New York, they were scheduled to met Secretary Bryan, and at noon President Wilson was waiting to receive them. Luncheon at the residence of Col. Robert M. Thompson was to follow. Then the visitors were to rest.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the crowning event tonight, a banquet at which advocates of peace from both great countries will speak for a further reign of amity. Senator Root is to be toastmaster. The Carnegie endowments for international peace will be hosts to the visitors. Many distinguished members of the visiting party are on the program.

WOODY TIGER OUSTS BEAR AND POSSUM

"Official Toy" of the Administration Makes Its Debut.

Washington, May 12.—"The Woody Tiger" has made its debut as the official toy of the Wilson administration. As this new monarch of childhood entered the front door of the White House escorted by Mrs. Wade Hampton, the originator of the novel idea, "Teddy Bear" and "Billy Possum" mascots of previous times looked on with brimming eyes. The new toy is rather fierce looking and somewhat resembles a Princeton tiger in miniature. Mrs. Hampton will present ten other tigers to the children at the children's hospital fete this week.

BEGIN STUDY OF AID FOR EUROPEAN FARMS

The American Commission Hears Reports From Other Nations.

Rome, May 12.—The American commission for the study of the European systems of agricultural co-operation and farmers' credits began its work this morning when the members heard the reports of German, Hungarian, Austrian, French and Belgian delegates. All expressed the satisfaction of their respective governments with the decision of the United States to send a commission to Europe, adding that they were instructed by their governments to inform the American commissioners that all possible assistance would be given toward the accomplishment of their task.

During the sitting the members of the American commission presented a silver loving cup to David Lubin of Sacramento, Cal. Mr. Lubin first presented the scheme for the foundation of the International Institute of Agriculture to the king of Italy. Mr. Lubin offered his thanks, but declined to accept the gift, saying that all the merit for the success of the institute was due to its president, Marquis Rafaele Cappelli, and therefore the cup should go to him. Marquis Cappelli declared he would take the cup not for himself, but for the institute.

WILSON NOT WORRYING

Expects No Trouble Over California's Anti-Alien Legislation.

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson believes negotiations between Japan and the United States over the alien land legislation in California are not in an alarming stage, but that the interchange of views thus far had been along frank and friendly lines, calculated to remove the appearance of discrimination against Japanese subjects.

The president, discussing the subject informally today, took the position that the Webb bill would not violate the treaty between Japan and the United States. He intimated that Japan's protest was not founded upon a claim that the treaty would be broken in any way, but upon the feeling that there was an effort to discriminate against Japanese on the ground of their alleged ineligibility to citizenship.

The president revealed that the question of naturalization had not yet entered the discussion with the Japanese ambassador, but that of course, underlying the bill, it was realized that Federal courts had not finally passed upon the question of eligibility.

Veto or Referendum.

It was upon the basis that Japanese were not accorded the privileges of citizenship that the appearance of discrimination written in the bill had arisen, and it was intimated at the White House that for the present the hope was that the legislation in California either would be vetoed by Governor Johnson, or delayed by a referendum to permit some smoothing of some features of the situation.

President Wilson endeavored to make it plain that the greatest frankness had prevailed between the two governments, even to the abandonment of many diplomatic formalities. The con-

WILL MEET TO TALK OF RATES WEDNESDAY

Commerce Commission to Hear Eastern Railroad Men.

Washington, May 12.—A conference between the interstate commerce commission and representatives of the Eastern railroads will be held here Wednesday morning to consider informally a proposed advance of 5 per cent in freight rates. It has been suggested that the advance be uniform throughout what is known as Eastern territory—that part of the country lying east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio rivers.

Announcement was made recently by President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad that application would be made to the commission by the fifty-two Eastern railroads for permission to increase their freight rates 5 per cent.

If it should be found by the commission that there is prima facie reason for a consideration of the application, it is likely an order for an inquiry may be issued. That method would save the railroads the expenditure of nearly a quarter of a million dollars in preparing and issuing new tariffs. If such tariffs were filed they would be suspended by the commission pending an investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed advances.

If the commission should conclude to hold public hearings upon the application, the probability is that the proceedings would not be held before next autumn as the commission now has before it more business than it possibly can dispose of before the summer recess.

STRIKE FUND RECORDS SHY

More Than $10,000 Not Accounted for in Lawrence Strike.

Complaint By Contributors Leads to an Investigation.

Boston, May 12.—No satisfactory explanation of the disposition of $10,800 out of a total of more than $68,000 subscribed for the benefit of the striking operatives and their families during the textile strike at Lawrence a year ago has been made, according to the finding today of Winfield S. Slocum, who as master investigated the strike expenditures.

Mr. Slocum filed his report with the supreme court today.

Joseph Bedard, secretary of the committee to solicit funds for the strikers, deposited $10,800 in his own name in the Lawrence Trust company, and later drew checks for $2,800 to Vincent St. John of Chicago, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World; $3,000 to Thomas Powers, a textile worker of Providence, and $5,000 to Desire Steur of Lawrence.

It was claimed that these disbursements were returned to the strikers' fund, but Slocum finds that the money was not returned.

Contributors Complained.

Neither Joseph J. Ettor nor William D. Haywood, leaders of the Industrial Workers, received any part of the fund. Proceedings against Bedard and other members of the strike fund committee were brought by Attorney General Swift, at the instigation of three Boston contributors, who complained in a bill in equity that the money "had been improperly used for private and personal ends."

An expert accountant found that $1,500 had been spent in sending children of strikers from Lawrence to New York, Philadelphia and other cities; $1,363 for "agitation," and $1,712 for "law." About $10,800 was paid to Joseph Shaheen, treasurer of the strike committee; $8,000 to Angelo Rocco and $5,000 to August Detolleneare. The three men had direction of the relief work. The accounts of Shaheen fail to show the expenditure of $2,500, and in Rocco's accounts there is an item for $226 for which no voucher could be found.

AMERICAN STAGE TO HONOR DIVINE SARAH

Actors, Managers and Critics to Give Gold and Silver Wreath.

New York, May 12.—Arrangements for presenting to Mme. Sarah Bernhardt a laurel wreath of gold and silver from the dramatic profession in the United States and the allied arts, in recognition of her work in the elevation of dramatic art, were perfected at a meeting here Sunday. Representatives of the managerial side of the profession, as well as of the acting body and the dramatic critics, were present, and an honorary committee was named, the membership of which includes notables in the theatrical world and in music, art, science and literature.

Mme. Bernhardt is to sail soon for Europe, and the formal presentation of the wreath is to be made in Paris during the coming summer. A presentation in token of the contemplated gift is to be made to the noted French actress within the next few days in this city.

FIRST STEP TOWARD REUNITING THE G. O. P. IS TAKEN AT CHICAGO

Progressive Republicans Decide to Ask for Party Convention.

"All Who Believe" Are to Be Asked to Be Present.

LOOK TO BULL MOOSERS.

Chicago, May 12.—After the conference of Progressive Republican leaders here today, Former Governor Hadley of Missouri said that a "coalition of the Republican party and the Progressive party is not only desired, but is being sought." Mr. Hadley explained that this end was being sought by the attempted reform of the Republican party so that "conscientious Progressives" who left the party last fall could rejoin.

Chicago, May 12.—First steps toward "reuniting the Republican party," were taken at a conference of Republican United States senators and other leaders of the party held here today. The conference decided to call upon the Republican national committee, at its meeting scheduled for May 24 at Washington, to issue a call for a national convention this year.

To reorganize the party "along progressive lines," Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Former Governor Herbert S. Hadley, together with the other leaders at the conference, agreed that the proposed convention shall change the basis of representation in future conventions, and make other radical changes so that the party shall stand "for constructive and progressive activities in the affairs of government."

Invite "All Who Believe."

"Does the suggestion to reunite the party mean that those who joined the Progressive party are to be asked to come back?" Senator Cummins was asked.

"It means, just as I have said before, that the convention would be a sort of Lord's supper and all those who believed might partake," replied Senator Cummins.

After the conference, which adjourned after being in session for two days, the following statement was given out:

"At an informal conference of Republicans from eleven states held at Chicago May 12, 1913, it was voted that it be submitted to the national Republican committee as the opinion of those present that a national convention of the party should be held this year at as early a date as may be practicable, for the purpose of considering the expediency of changing

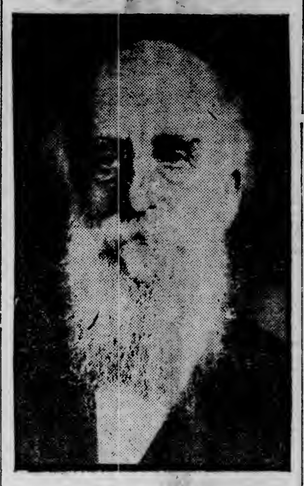
VINCENT ASTOR'S THROAT IS SORE.

New York, May 12.—Vincent Astor's throat affection is not serious and is causing no worry, according to a statement made at the offices of the Astor estate today. It was confirmed that he had found it inadvisable to continue his entertainment of members of the senate committee on military affairs at Fernclife, his country estate, but no plans for an operation either here or at Fernclife were announced.

IS DECLARED A FOE TO THE CAUSE OF PEACE



DR. LYMAN ABBOTT.

New York, May 12.—Dr. Lyman Abbott has just been declared a foe of peace. He was one of the vice presidents of the Peace society which met in St. Louis recently. Because he had signed a petition of the Army and Navy league to congress asking an increase of the navy, he was expelled from the society. Dr. Abbott is the head of the Outlook and he is probably as much of a peace man as his contributing editor, T. Roosevelt. He says he believes the way to bring about peace is to be prepared for war.

FOUR ARE POISONED BY TAINTED FOOD

St. Louis Man Is Dead and Brother and Sisters Very Ill.

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—John Sommerkamp, 44 years old, is dead and his brother and two sisters are dangerously ill from ptomaine poisoning which resulted from eating tainted food Sunday.

The four lay unconscious on the floor of their flat for four hours Sunday night. After midnight one of the women regained consciousness and rang the bell of the flat above. The family upstairs found her lying in the hallway. They found John Sommerkamp dead and two others unconscious.

SENATE AND HOUSE IDLE

Real Fight on Tariff Bill Will Begin on Tuesday.

Wilson Expects No Serious Amendments Will Be Made.

Washington, May 12.—The tariff revision fight, shifted from the house, will be renewed in the senate tomorrow when the Underwood bill comes up for reference to the finance committee. The senate was not in session today.

The house met today to dispose of what some party leaders refer to as "chicken" feed, with the announced purpose of adjourning almost immediately for three days, a beginning of regular adjournments for similar periods until the first week of June. The idea is to mark time during the tariff fight on the senate side of the capitol and preparation of currency legislation.

Meantime the Democratic majority of the ways and means committee, as the committee on committees, will meet almost daily to frame the personnel of the regular committee of the house.

Wilson Is Confident.

President Wilson does not expect that the tariff bill will be amended in any important particular. He has not suggested that any schedule be reopened; has not been informed that the senate contemplates changing the work of the house and is confident that the measure will pass the senate. So certain is he that such an end is in sight that he probably will make known informally his views on currency this week.

The president expressed these views today, but did not express himself as to whether there should be public hearings in the finance committee.

The house was in session six minutes. Even minor legislation failed to materialize and the series of three days adjournment was begun. The house will meet next Thursday and thereafter on Mondays and Thursdays until the first week of June. Many members have gone home with an understanding between the leaders of the parties that no legislation involving any disputed points meantime shall be brought up.

SECOND JURY TO TRY QUINLAN IS SOUGHT

First Trial of Industrial Worker Ends in Disagreement.

Paterson, N. J., May 12.—Selection of a second jury to try Patrick Quinlan, Industrial Workers of the World leader, indicted for inciting silk mill workers to riot, was begun here today. The first jury was unable to reach an agreement and was discharged. Quinlan was at liberty under $7,500 bail. When his trial is concluded, William D. Haywood and others are to be tried on a similar charge.

Col. A. D. Davidson Says It Will Be Established June 7.

Means a Daylight Train From Chicago to Duluth.

Says Canada Will Have Great Rush of Immigrants This Year.

Through service between Chicago and Winnipeg via Duluth, will be inaugurated over the Canadian Northern and Omaha railroads June 7, according to Col. A. D. Davidson, land commissioner of the Canadian Northern railroad, who is in Duluth today.

Col. Davidson says that the detailed schedule is not yet ready for announcement, but that it will provide for a train each way every twenty-four hours, one train leaving Winnipeg in the morning and arriving at Chicago the next morning, and another train leaving Chicago each morning and arriving at Winnipeg the following morning.

The service will give Duluth a daylight train from Chicago and from Winnipeg, service that it does not now have. The train from Chicago to Winnipeg will pass through Duluth about 6 p. m. and that from Winnipeg to Chicago about 8 p. m.

Col. Davidson said today that development in Western Canada this year will exceed any year in its history.

"The grain is all in now and everything is looking splendid," he said today. "The immigration has started and the first rush indicates that a great

SUFFRAGETTES BURN BOAT HOUSE

Fire Started By Women Does Damage Equal to $10,000.

London, May 12.—One of the bands of militant suffragettes assigned to interfere with the pastimes of the men of the British Isles, celebrated Whitmonday, which is a general holiday here, by burning down the headquarters of the Nottingham Boat club, on the banks of the River Trent. The structure, which contained many valuable racing and other skiffs, was destroyed, the loss being $10,000.

Another suffrage riot took place in Hyde park Sunday afternoon. The men's league for women's suffrage had been given permission to hold a meeting. Several prominent workers addressed a crowd of several thousands from a truck but the crowd kept up a running fire of interruptions, shouting "go home and make bombs," and remarks about the burning of churches and the attempt to blow up St. Paul's.

After a half hour's endeavor to get a hearing, the league gave up and the speakers were about to withdraw when the crowd broke through the police ranks. The wagon was overturned and partly wrecked. The police had difficulty in protecting the speakers and eventually had to escort them to the station for safety.

FATAL FIRE FOLLOWS NIGHT OF REVELRY

Chicago Man Is Burned to Death While Pinned Under Table.

Chicago, May 12.—Imprisoned beneath a heavy table and suffering from a fractured skull, Conrad Benson, 87 years old, burned to death in a building at 728 Kinzie street today after a night of revelry. Three women and two men, who were with the victim when the fire was discovered, were arrested.

When firemen entered the building Benson was still alive. Flames drove back the rescuers, who turned the hose on the victim. When the flames were extinguished Benson was dead. At his feet lay fragments of a kerosene lamp, which is said to have caused the fire.

The police believe the fire followed a fight in which Benson was struck on the head with the lamp.

MAY DECIDE STATE RATE CASE JUNE 9

Washington, May 12.—The supreme court recessed today until May 26 without announcing decisions in the state rate or other important cases before it. It is understood an attempt will be made to decide all before final adjournment for the summer on June 9.

MILWAUKEE'S MILK ORDINANCE IS VALID

Washington, May 12.—The validity of the Milwaukee, Wis., ordinance requiring milk brought into the city to be produced from cows subjected to the tuberculin test was upheld by the supreme court today.

NO MORE RIOTS AT FORT WILLIAM.

Fort William, Ont., May 12.—Quiet today reigned here where last night rioters in sympathy with the street railway men's strike engaged in a battle with the police which resulted in the death of one man and the serious injury of another. Traffic, however, still is crippled as the result of the strike. The men ask shorter hours and higher wages.

ALL PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Sixteen Prisoners Protest Their Innocence When Arraigned in Court.

Murder Charge Against Former Inmate of County Poor Farm.

Sixteen prisoners who were indicted by the May grand jury in its final report made Saturday afternoon, were arraigned this morning before Judge Dancer in district court. All professed their innocence to the charges brought against them and had the court enter pleas of not guilty. Those arraigned were:

Peter Perilli, charged with murder in the first degree. Perilli, it is claimed, struck Michael Lenovich over the head with an iron cuspidor after having become angered at Lenovitch for calling him "Macaroni." The blow was fatal, Lenovitch dying shortly afterwards. The killing took place on March 26, at the poor farm, where both men were inmates. Perilli is 67 years old and his victim was about 50. As Perilli is without funds, Judge Dancer this morning appointed J. C. H. Engel as his attorney.

Elmer C. McLean for grand larceny, first degree. McLean is accused of having relieved Adolph Monty of $470 on the night of March 15. McLean denies the robbery and has engaged Attorney T. J. McKeon to conduct his defense.

The grand jury found a no true bill in favor of Joe Blais, McLean's alleged accomplice in crime. He has been discharged from custody.

"King of the Bowery" In.

Gust Furman for assault in the second degree. Furman, at one time known as "King of the Bowery" and who is often called "The Terrible Swede," is accused of splitting open the head of Gust Thompson with a beer bottle, while the two men were in a St. Croix avenue rooming house on the night of March 3, last. Attorney Manthey was appointed by the court to defend him.

For enticing a female into a house of ill fame, John Moody, negro, pleaded not guilty to the two indictments returned against him. In one of the counts he is charged with having induced one Elizabeth Newton to go into the St. James hotel for immoral purposes, and in the other he is accused of having committed the same offense with regard to Dorothy Torvund. The two girls were in the employ of the police and laid a trap into which it is claimed Moody fell. Moody will be defended by J. Louis Erwin, colored attorney.

Fred Davis, George Marshall and George Byron are up for burglary in the third degree. The three men are accused of having broken into the home of O. L. Mather, 201 South Twenty-first avenue west, with the intent to commit larceny on March 27 last. The court appointed George B. Sjoselius as their attorney.

Arthur J. Moss, for assault in the second degree. Moss, a printer, it is claimed in the indictment returned against him, threatened to kill Reno Marie Crandall on April 23 last. The complaining witness is involved in a strange tangle, Moss and Albert H. Crandall, a local street car conductor, each claiming her as his wife. Attorney A. T. Banning will defend Moss on the assault charge.

Mike Foley, for grand larceny, second degree. Foley, it is claimed, stole two sample grips containing seventy pairs of children's shoes, valued at $60, from T. W. Palmer on March 31 last. The court appointed C. C. Colton as his attorney.

Mathew Engels, charged with assault in the second degree, and James Fitzgibbons, accused of third degree assault on Delaus Rensaa in the Gus Egdahl saloon, on Sept. 3 last, both denied their guilt. E. J. Kenney was appointed attorney for Engels and T. J. McKeon for Fitzgibbons.

Burglary Charge.

Stans Nowak for burglary in the third degree. Nowak, aged 20, is accused of having broken into a building at 1516 East Seventh street. He was arrested on May 5 last, when the police claimed that he was selling his loot in Superior. Judge Dancer appointed Walter Gonska as his attorney.

Peter Tomasewski for robbery, first degree. Tomasewski, with two unknown accomplices was indicted on a charge of having on April 9 last held up Joseph Warner and relieved him of $200. S. F. White has been appointed as his attorney.

Walter H. Allen for grand larceny, first degree. On April 11 last, Allen is accused of having made a sight draft for $200 on the American Exchange National bank of this city to the Texas company of Houston, Tex., indorsing the name of A. N. O'Brien on the draft. Allen informed the court that he would select his own attorney.

The grand jury Saturday indicted Otis Hance, negro, who is accused of being the proprietor of an opium joint at 224 Lake avenue south. Fannie Peyton, also colored, who was arrested in the raid which the police made on March 31, last, was discharged in police court. Hance will be arraigned later.

County Attorney Warren E. Greene moved, before Judge Dancer, for a dismissal of the larceny charge against Walter Mattson, owing to the failure of witnesses to appear before the last grand jury in this case. Mattson, it was charged, knocked down one Felix Loss in St. Croix alley and was in the act of extracting $2 from the pockets of his victim, when a blue coat arrived on the scene and nabbed him. Loss failed to appear before the grand jury, although subpoenaed.

The county attorney also asked for the dismissal of the adultery charge brought against Tillie Walters and George Johnson owing to the dearth of evidence in the case and the apparent unwillingness of Frank Walters, husband of the woman, to appear and testify. The case did not go to the grand jury.

GARDEN SHOW IS PLANNED

Agricultural Display Will Be Held With Industrial Exposition.

A. B. Hostetter Reports That Curling Club Gives Ample Space.

An agricultural products and live stock exposition will be held next fall in connection with the Industrial Exposition which will be staged for the second time this year.

At a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club, A. B. Hostetter reported today in favor of the holding of an agricultural exposition. Mr. Hostetter's report was favorably acted upon and the exhibit will be made.

Mr. Hostetter said that he and G. H. Bate of the Rotary club inspected the curling club building and found that it would give space for an agricultural show and still leave more room for the industrial exposition than it had at the Auditorium last fall.

Mr. Hostetter outlined the plan for the agricultural show in a general way. He would provide for the exhibit of market garden products by offering prizes for the best display by market gardeners for three days of the week, the gardeners to have the privilege of selling their products after they had been scored for the day. On alternate days with the gardeners he would have the tables used for exhibits from home gardens, schools and boys' and girls' gardens.

He would also have a flower show arranged by the Flower society with a premium list covering seasonable flowers from outdoor gardens. An exhibit of home vegetables and fruits put up under the homecroft and school classes of instruction is also provided for.

One or more of the curling spaces in the big rink would give splendid accommodations for an exhibit of Guernsey cattle in Mr. Hostetter's opinion. He said there is ample opportunity for ventilation and that the space could be suitably arranged. He said the railroads might be enlisted to encourage exhibits from their territory and also to give special rates for the exposition.

Mr. Hostetter also suggested that the gallery of the club be utilized for a restaurant in which only home grown products would be served. He made other suggestions for the exposition as a whole and said it would be developed on novel and interesting lines so that it would attract visitors from all of the surrounding country.

The agricultural committee also discussed the subject of markets at its meeting today, but no definite action was taken.

CITY FORCED TO RAISE WAGES FOR LABORERS

Unable to Get Men for Street Work on Present Scale.

Men Find the Eight-Hour Day Has Its Drawbacks.

Roderick Murchison, commissioner of public works, today announced a general raise of wages of laborers and teams employed in his division.

Beginning May 15 common laborers will receive 30 cents per hour; skilled laborers will get 35 cents per hour, and teams will be paid at the rate of 65 cents per hour. This is a raise of 5 cents per hour for each division.

Those classed as skilled laborers are the men who relay pavements, do concrete work, make the more difficult repairs, work at the rock quarry, etc.

The eight-hour day is the rule adopted by the city in doing all its own work. Most of the men start at 8 o'clock and quit at 5 o'clock, with one hour at noon.

No effort is to be made to attempt to dictate to contractors who have city contracts as the number of hours their men shall work. The men who have the contracts will regulate that feature themselves. The employes of the contractors are all working ten hours. It was stated today that they prefer the longer day because they are able to earn greater wages. Some of the men hired by the city have expressed the same views for the same reasons. If they put in two more hours every day their pay checks would be swelled materially at the end of each month.

Raise Necessary.

The raise which becomes effective May 15 is necessary because of the shortage of laborers. If the city did not grant the increase it would find itself in a quandary, as enough men could not be secured to carry on the work this season. The contractors are bidding for men and are getting some. If the old scale were maintained the works division would be greatly retarded and hampered, as the men would not stay.

Railroads

DECIDES AGAINST TWO RAILROADS.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 12.—Judge Grindeland has decided that the Soo and Great Northern railroads must build connecting a "Y" between their tracks here in accordance with the orders of the state railroad commission from which the roads appealed. It is expected the roads will now appeal to the supreme court and until the case is settled the heavy transfers of freight from one road to the other will continue to be handled by team at much expense and delay.

TELEGRAPHERS IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., May 12.—Upwards of 400 delegates to the biennial convention of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, representing a membership of 40,000 in the United States, Canada and Mexico, assembled here today for a session which is expected to continue for a week. While the main organization is in session, the women's auxiliary, composed principally of wives of members of the order, will hold meetings. Mrs. E. B. Smith of Atlanta, Ga., is the president. H. B. Perham, president of the order, said he would be a candidate for re-election.

CONDUCTORS AND LADIES GATHER.

Detroit, Mich., May 12.—Approximately 5,000 delegates to the biennial conventions of the Order of Railway Conductors and the ladies' auxiliary of the order have reached Detroit to attend the sessions scheduled to begin this afternoon. Candidates for election to the various offices to be filled have opened headquarters and an active campaign is under way. St. Louis and San Francisco are in the race to secure the next convention.

In addition to the transaction of business during the ten days' meeting, an extensive program of entertainment has been arranged for the delegates.

Grand Trunk Earnings.

Earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway system for the month of April, 1913, as compared with the same period last year, were:

Gross receipts—
April 1 to 30, 1913 ..... $ 4,721,195
April 1 to 30, 1912 4,173,577

Increase ..... $ 547,618

Aggregate receipts—
Jan. 1 to April 30, 1913 ..... $17,308,798
Jan. 1 to April 30, 1912 15,029,361

Increase ..... $ 2,279,437

This year 11,761,555 tons of freight and 4,645,589 passengers have been carried.

Building Code.

A public meeting will be held at the city hall this evening for considering the proposed building code. Copies of the proposed code can be had upon application at the city clerk's office. The code covers all provisions in building and provides that the plans be approved by the fire chief as well as the building inspector.

Pastor Resigns.

Rev. L. K. Grimes, pastor of the Hammond Avenue Presbyterian chruch for the past six and a half years, announced yesterday his intention of resigning in order to accept a call to the Hawthorne Presbyterian church of Portland, Or. The resignation will take effect July 1. A meeting of the congregation will be held June 2 to act on the resignation.

Conference on Morality.

At a meeting of the clergymen of all denominations of the city to be held tomorrow afternoon in the public library, moral conditions of the city will be discussed. Remedial measures will be advocated which it is expected to ask the commissioners to adopt. The pastors of the city say that the moral conditions are becoming serious in the city.

Perishes in Tent Fire.

Escanaba, Mich., May 12.—Veda Bean, aged 3, was burned to death, and Emma, aged 6, was fatally burned in a tent which caught fire near Metropolitan, John Bean, the father, whose wife died two months ago, was camping with them.

WIDOW SOLE HEIR OF PATTERSON

Former County Commissioner Left Estate Valued at $25,000 to $30,000.

The will of the late Edward M. Patterson, former county commissioner, who died a few weeks ago, was admitted by Judge Gilpin in probate court this morning. Under its terms, all of the estate, consisting of between $25,000 and $30,000, goes to his widow, Mary Patterson.

Judge Gilpin this morning appointed Mrs. John Anderson administratrix of the estate of her husband, John Anderson, section foreman at Mesaba, whose death occurred recently. Anderson left $1,700 in cash, which will be divided between a widow and ten children.

Frank Kusnierek was appointed general administrator of the estate of his father, Anton Kusnierek, who died recently leaving an estate consisting of two city lots and a small amount of personal property.

CROSS-EXAMINES BELLE SCHREIBER.

Chicago, May 12.—Cross-examination of Belle Schreiber, chief witness against the negro prizefighter, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, was resumed in Federal Judge Carpenter's court here today. Attorney Bachrach, representing the defendant, had much difficulty in trying to get the witness to fix dates. She was certain about only one, that one being Oct. 15, 1910, when the pugilist is alleged to have brought her from Pittsburg to Chicago for immoral purposes.

KAHN ASKS BRYAN ABOUT LAND LAWS.

Washington, May 12.—Representative Kahn of California conferred with Secretary Bryan today, and intimated that he was seeking information relative to laws in other countries barring the Japanese and other aliens from owning land.

"There is no doubt about California's right to enact the alien land act," said Representative Kahn, "but I have nothing to say about the expediency of placing such a law on the statute books at this time."

SAYS LICENSE HELPS SALOONS

Dr. M. S. Rice Preaches His Annual Sermon on Temperance.

Quotes Figures to Show That Saloon Is Economic Evil.

Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First Methodist church, last evening preached to a large audience his annual temperance sermon. He took for his subject the phrase "The Saloon Must Go." He confessed that the phrase is one which he likes to utter, which gives him a feeling of satisfaction to voice; "for" said he "I must firmly believe it and I hope for its fruition before long." During the address he commended the saloon law enforcement of Commissioner Hicken.

Dr. Rice took for his text the twelfth verse of the second chapter of Habakkuk: "Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city with iniquity."

The pastor declared that a law permitting the running of saloons under license is one that builds a town with blood and establishes a city with iniquity. He declared that license, low or high, is not a move in favor of temperance but a weapon in favor of the saloon, for through it, when other arguments fail, the liquor element appeals to the cupidity of people, pointing out the supposition that in case saloons are forced out of business taxes will be higher because people will have to pay the difference already paid by the saloon keepers for licenses. Dr. Rice denied this. He said that with saloons out there will be less policing necessary and less taxes levied to support jails, penitentiaries, insane asylums and poorhouses, which would more than offset the difference. He declared that license is not a temperance movement but the dodge of a coward.

He referred to a letter recently received from the prosecuting attorney of Marion, Ill., in which the writer declared that during his career as attorney there he has been connected on one side or the other with 57 murder cases and that 65 out of that number were caused by the use of liquor; also that his personal investigation has shown that of the murders committed in his county 97 per cent were caused by the use of liquor.

Figures Are Quoted.

Dr. Rice avoided the accustomed use of sob-stories general among temperance lecturers, and got down to figures to prove his case. He quoted numerous figures and challenged contradiction. He took the state of Kansas as an example, and declared that before Kansas was a prohibition state its total deposits in banks was less than $30,000,000, while last year the deposits were more than $200,000,000. Out of the 105 counties in the state, he said, last year the jails of 67 did not contain a prisoner and were used for corn-cribs; 52 did not have a prisoner in the state penitentiary and 85 did not have a patient in an asylum for the insane.

He quoted the brewers' handbook of last year in which he says it is shown that less than 1.100 of 1 per cent of a gallon of liquor per capita paid a government tax for shipment into Kansas last year, while over 64 gallons per capita paid government tax in Wisconsin.

On the per capita basis he declared that the statistics of last year showed wealth of $1,700 per head in Kansas, and the death rate has declined from 17 in each 1,000 before prohibition, to 7½ per 1,000 last year.

Dr. Rice declared that the saloon business is a criminal business for it is the cause of murder, theft and almost every crime in the calendar besides being the cause of breaking up homes and making women and children unhappy and destitute. He expressed the most intense hatred for the business and declares that he would never overlook an opportunity to strike at it.

Dr. Rice commended heartily the course pursued by Commissioner Hicken in making the saloons obey the laws. He said that the commissioner is an anomaly in politics: He is a man who keeps his word.

"But" he added. "Commissioner Hicken is handicapped. He can only make the saloon obey the law on the statute books and does it. What I want to see is the saloon wiped out."

NEW JEWISH CLUB WILL ADMIT CHRISTIANS TO FULL MEMBERSHIP

E. A. SILBERSTEIN, President.

DR. SAMUEL GROSS, Secretary.

The Young Men's Hebrew association of Duluth was permanently organized yesterday afternoon at the Forester hall, with a charter membership of 100 Hebrew young men of this city.

The new organization set an example in drawing up its constitution yesterday by inserting a clause permitting "any male person of good moral character over the age of 18 years to become an active member." This means that Christians, as well as Jews, will have a full vote in the organization.

It is the belief of those at the head of the new organization that very effective work can be done in this way to eradicate whatever racial prejudice still exists. Christians of good moral character will be allowed to become members, have the full privileges of the gymnasium and other features and a voice in the association's government. It is expected that a large number of non-Jews, who have friends among the race, will take advantage of this clause and join the association.

Purposes of Society.

The Y. M. H. A. will have for its object, according to the constitution, which was adopted during the meeting, the following features:

"The establishment of a reading room and library.

"The fitting up of a gymnasium for physical culture and the teaching of the science of physical improvement.

"Lectures on historical, scientific, literary and social topics.

"Entertainments of a social, dramatic and musical nature.

"The establishment of a Jewish unity.

"The general promotion of the interests and progress of the Jewish community."

During the afternoon the following officers were elected: E. A. Silberstein, president; Nathan Kris, first vice president; Max Oreckovsky, second vice president; Dr. Samuel Gross, recording secretary; Harry Davis, financial secretary; Harry Levy, treasurer; Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, L. S. Loeb, H. Y. Josephs, directors for two years, and Louis Zalk, I. Freimuth, Joseph Oreckovsky and Victor Kohn, directors for one year.

Dr. Lefkovits, who was elected temporary president at the meeting three weeks ago, presided yesterday. Loy Levin acted as secretary.

Dr. Lefkovits announced that tentative arrangements have been made for clubrooms over the Odeum and Lyric theaters. There are three large rooms there, which will be arranged for a gymnasium, library and reading room, shower and locker rooms and small kitchen.

Contributions.

The original committee reported that every Jew in Duluth, who has so far been approached, has contributed liberally to the Y. M. H. A. fund. Subscriptions ranging from $25 to $200 have already been received. The donors are to be given patron memberships in the association. Provision is also made for associate memberships for Jewish boys from the ages of 12 to 18. They will be charged $3 a year, while the active members will pay $6 a year.

An active membership campaign is now planned and it is expected that about 100 more members will be secured within the next two weeks. Including the patron members, it is thought that there are now about 150 members in the association.

Mr. Silberstein, the newly elected president, declared during the meeting that he will start work at once and make plans for the opening of the association rooms as early as possible. This is expected to be about June 1.

MINNESOTA'S SHARE OF HUGE ROAD FUND

Out of the $3,000,000,000 expenditure for good roads, proposed by Former Senator Jonathan Bourne in a plan submitted to the joint congressional committee on the matter of Federal aid in the construction of post roads, Minnesota would come in for $25,900,000 on the apportionment among the states.

Mr. Bourne's plan is to divide the proposed fund so that $1,000,000,000 would be spent for road construction and $2,000,000,000 for maintenance, both extending over a 50-year period. He proposed to apportion the construction fund among the several states on the basis of area, population, assessed valuation and road mileage.

The states are expected to deposit in the United States treasury their 50-year 4 per cent bonds for the amount due them under the apportionment. The Federal government will then loan the states the par value thereof for road construction. The government, provides the bill, will raise its fund by the sale of 50-year-non taxable 3 per cent bonds.

It is figured that by crediting each state every year with the excess 1 per cent interest paid by the state to the government over what the government pays on its bonds and by allowing 3 per cent interest to compound annually on this 1 per cent, a sinking fund would be established which would pay off the principal of the bonds for the states at the end of fifty years and relieve them of this burden.

THINKS TARIFF BILL WILL PASS

E. B. Hawkins Also Predicts Early Return to Protective Regime.

E. B. Hawkins, Republican national committeeman from Minnesota, returned to Duluth Saturday evening after spending five months at his winter home at Tarpon Springs, Fla.

Before returning to Duluth Mr. Hawkins spent several days in Washington. He says he believes the tariff bill will go through the senate and that wheat will be added to the free list. Mr. Hawkins does not believe the new tariff bill will be in effect long. He says the people will not sanction the radical reductions made by the Democratic administration and the long free list included in the new bill, and that the control of congress will again be placed in control of protectionists within four years.

The placing of iron and steel on the free list will not affect the iron industry in this country, according to Mr. Hawkins. He says foreign manufacturers have their capacity output absorbed by their own countries. The demand in foreign countries exceeds the local supply, he says, and heavy shipments from the United States are needed to meet it. It is extremely improbable that foreign manufactures will be able to invade the American market, in his opinion.

"The tariff changes will hit the farmer hard," said Mr. Hawkins. "Free trade for flour, beet sugar and probably wheat means the loss of millions of dollars to the farmers. A rapid importation of these products from the over-supplied foreign countries must naturally result after the tariff passage. The blow of an over-stocked market must necessarily fall on the producer. In addition, I do not believe that the cost of living will be lowered to any great extent.

"The placing of wool on the free schedule will, I believe, be another important factor in the peoples' decision concerning the real meaning of the tariff change. The clipping of the duty from wool must mean a great financial loss to the stockmen and manufacturers of the Eastern and Southern states. And it is very possible that the sale of the manufactured goods will be maintained at prevailing prices."

Mr. Hawkins says the Duluth steel plant will attract many auxiliary industries, and that Duluth is in for a great industrial development.

ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP DISSOLUTION.

George H. Crosby, W. A. McGonagle and William Harrison as stockholders of the Torreroca Mining company, are cited in an order to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued restraining them from further proceeding with the proposed dissolution of the company, which is made returnable before Judge Bert Fesler in district court on May 17.

The order was issued Saturday at the instance of Harold C. E. Spence, who has a claim against the company, which he declares, its officers have refused to recognize. He asks the court for an account and the delivery of a certain portion of the company's capital stock.

North Dakotan Kills Wife.

BIG CROWDS SEE AUTOMOBILE TEST

C. G. OBERMEYER.

C. G. Obermeyer, agent for the Cartercar, who contracted to draw six wagonloads of lumber of the Scott-Graff Lumber company from the St. Louis hotel to Ninth avenue east and Superior street and back again on Saturday, was not allowed to take that much hitched on to his machine, but he took a good load at that. The authorities forbade so long a string of vehicles hitched to each other believing that they would block traffic. Three wagonloads were allowed, but they were piled high and the total load was about 32,000 pounds.

The Cartercar hauled them as easily as though the wagons were empty, and made a deep impression on the thousands that crowded the route.

SERVICE IN NEW CHURCH

St. Paul's Congregation Worships in Beautiful Edifice for First Time.

Dr. A. W. Ryan Preaches on "The New Temple."

An impressive sermon and beautiful music marked the initial services at the New St. Paul's Episcopal church, Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street, yesterday morning. The handsome edifice was filled to its capacity.

The worshipers were impressed with the stately simplicity and dignity of the early English Gothic design and coloring. The tonal effects of the organ in its melody is especially beautiful. Among the musical numbers of the opening service were included the processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldier" (Sullivan); the Custance introit, "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven;" the Custance communion service in E flat; the Tours, "Gloria in Excelsis," and two solos, the Buzzi-Peccia "Gloria" and Pattison's "Come Unto Me," to which Miss Mary Syer Bradshaw's beauty of voice added charm.

"The New Temple."

In his sermon Dr. A. W. Ryan spoke on "The New Temple," and touched on the importance of a high sense of responsibility in the individual life and the duty of each man and woman to bring the best, both material and spiritual, for consecration to the Most High. He said in part:

It is with singular significance that we meet today to open this noble church on Whitsunday. It is the day which the church keeps in commemoration of the pouring out of God's Spirit on His first disciples. That was the Spirit which brooded over the waters of the chaos of the world while it was in the making; the same Spirit which has made the day and the night, the sea and the land, the sky and the broad waters, plants and animals and man, with all his undeveloped powers. But it reads that He brooded over the waters. What a mystical lesson that reads to us. He shall brood over us imperfect men and women and bring to the surface and to perfection what latently resides within us, and at the last present us worthy before our Judge. May He brood over this church; may He bring out beauty and truth and goodness. And may He fit us for that other kingdom whose wonders we can not fathom and whose peace we can not now understand.

"We are entering on the enjoyment of our new temple today. There are many thoughts which throng in on our hearts and imgalinations and long might we contemplate what it all means for us—or rather may mean if we enter intimately enough into the inner essence of the day's value. When David of old had built for himself a house of cedar, he regretted that the Lord was still worshipped in tents and he set himself to overcome this gross discrepancy of life. He was not allowed to build himself, but he set himself to the task of gathering that which might make that temple a wonder and rich in its adornments. His generosity was shown also in his act when he started to offer sacrifice for his sin, he bought the threshing-floor of Arauna, the Jebusite, not being willing to have his religion come cheap for him.

Inspiration in Temple.

"Instead of having a wretched place for God's worship it is stimulating beyond compare to have a real, great temple in which to worship him. It is grand to have the religious atmosphere about us, to have lines that all point heavenward, to have colors that are quieting and silencing, to "worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." That we have here and yet we must add to it much that is intangible. We must worship in spirit and in truth. We must add the spiritual element and we learn as little children, or, sad to think, we shall never enter the kingdom of heaven. At least we can think, with pride of this fact, that here we have a temple that will comport with any spiritual culture, any idealism that the future can possibly bring forth. We have wrought religion into these stones, let us find the religion that is written like the words on the wall for us to read.

"Let us import the ideas of home here, entangling ourselves as soon as possible with all the activities, the font, the confirmation privileges, the holy altar, the services in the church, the Sunday school, the work of even the humblest kind that here we may have memories, have associations that are precious and which shall link us on with the heavenly when that comes to us. Let us love, that we may be loved. Let us be at perpetual peace here with all who name the name of Christ, our most holy redeemer. Let us seek the mystical and hidden secrets of this religion of ours that they may accompany us out into life, out into death even, that everywhere and always we may be prepared for the worst that can assail us.

"And let us seek here peace not so much for ourselves as assurance in the faith that we have and the One whom we here worship."

GIVES RELICS OF GEN. WASHINGTON.

Washington, May 12.—Numerous valuable relics connected with George Washington's public career have been presented by W. Lanier Washington of New York city to the board of regents of the Mount Vernon Ladies' association. The board is holding its annual meeting at Mount Vernon. The relics will be displayed for the first time this week.

Mr. Washington also has sent the board a reproduction of the only oil portrait ever made of Gen. Washington's mother. He is the owner of the portrait. Another valuable gift is the original patent of deed, signed by Lord Culpepper to 5,000 acres of land which subsequently descended to Washington and of which the present Mount Vernon estate is a part. The document is dated 1674 and is in a good state of preservation.

DULUTH WOMEN SAVE MUCH MONEY

Instead of so much meat a great many Duluth housekeepers are now serving "Minnesota" Macaroni twice a week. They say the men folks are not only glad to see them save the meat money, but like the delicious nut-like flavor of "Minnesota" Macaroni much better than meat.

To those who do not know what a big difference there in macaroni as sold at the stores, the rich, delicious, flavor of "Minnesota" Macaroni will be a revelation. It is four times as nutritious as beefsteak, is much easier to digest and costs only about one cent a dish.

Try the handy "Minnesota" Cut Macaroni, which is cut into uniform pieces—it cooks more evenly and is quicker to prepare. Adv.

OLIN YOUNG WILL LEAVE CONGRESS

Ishpeming Man Says He Is Convinced McDonald Won Election.

Washington, May 12.—Representative Olin Young of Ishpeming, Mich., announced in a speech in the house late Saturday his intention of resigning his seat. He discussed the contest instituted by William McDonald, a Progressive, saying 458 votes intended for McDonald had not been counted for him, and he did not feel justified in holding his seat.

The state board of canvassers issued a certificate to Mr. Young, declaring he had received an apparent majority of 281 after 458 ballots cast by mistake for "Sheldon William J. McDonald" had been thrown out. Mr. Young declared the 458 electors intended to vote for McDonald, and that he did not feel justified in holding the seat.

Mr. Young discussed at length the legal question involved in the canvass of the vote, saying the board of canvassers, in throwing out 458 votes cast and the state courts in upholding the decision, had acted in strict accordance with the Michigan election laws. He said he had delayed taking action to await a full investigation of the case.

He Is Now Convinced.

"I am now convinced," he said, "that if the 458 votes in dispute were counted for the contestant, the verdict would not be in my favor. I am convinced that those 458 electors intended to vote those votes, I do not care to hold a seat that may be questioned by honorable and disinterested men. I therefore have prepared my resignation and will forward it to the secretary of state of Michigan, and will file a copy with the speaker of the house."

In a husky voice, Mr. Young reviewed his associations during his ten-year service in the house, and expressed his regret at leaving.

Progressive Leader Murdock and Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois, a Progressive, replied to Mr. Young and argued in favor of giving Mr. McDonald the seat. In the discussion several members declared Mr. Young's resignation would in no way affect the right of Mr. McDonald to prosecute his contest.

ADVISORY COUNCIL.

Duluth Citizens Will Work With Superintendent of Farm School.

An advisory council of Duluth citizens interested in agricultural development and education to act with Mark Thompson, superintendent, in working out the policy of the new Duluth demonstration farm school has been named by Dean A. F. Woods of the state agricultural college.

The council is named with the idea that under its direction the work of the county agricultural agent, demonstration farm school and other agencies may be correlated so that the best results may be obtained. In making the appointments, he also makes a tentative assignment of special subjects to which each member might give his attention.

The members of the council are: Right Reverend James McGolrick, chairman on account of his interest in all forward educational movements; J. B. Cotton, with special reference to community co-operation and credits; George C. Stone, suburban transportation and marketing; C. P. Craig, live stock community breeding; Millie Bunnell, agricultural statistics and publicity; J. L. Washburn, roads and highways; A. H. Crassweller, homecroft and household economics; John G. Williams, agricultural extension and education; Mark Thompson, farm development and management, and A. B. Hostetter and Fred P. Ward, with special reference to county agent work.

DR. HOVIS PREACHES MOTHER'S DAY SERMON.

The most significant words of the English language are "mother," "home" and "heaven," according to Rev. William F. Hovis, pastor of Endion M. E. church, who yesterday preached a "Mother's day" sermon, in which he paid a high tribute to motherhood.

He took for his text, "He caused a seat to be set for the king's mother."

"Of the three great words, 'mother, home and heaven,'" he said, "the first is the greatest, because the holiest kind of a home is the one built about a mother, and all we know of heaven is found in such a place. It is therefore very fitting that we set apart a day and pay some formal tribute to the grace of motherhood."

He also spoke of the influence of the mother over the life of the child and declared that the home with the mother in the center is the nucleus of the nation.

FAMOUS FOR BEAUTY OF HER HAIR

Mrs. Esther Emery Has Hair Which Reaches to Her Knees. Was Once Threatened with Baldness. Tells How She Made New Hair Grow.

"People say I have the most beautiful hair in the world," says Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting in the city. I don't know about that, but certainly I am proud of my hair, for it has grown so in just twelve short months till now it reaches my knees. Last year it was anything but beautiful. I thought I was growing bald. A year ago my hair was thin and scraggly and coming out at an alarming rate. Little bald spots appeared all over my scalp, which was covered with dandruff and itched like fury all the time. I cannot tell you how many hair tonics I tried to save my hair and make it grow again. Some of them helped by taking out the dandruff for a while, but it came right back again and my hair grew thinner than ever.

"My success is no secret and I think that any man or woman can do the same with their hair if they persevere as I have done. A friend, knowing my condition, sent me a clipping from the New York Herald which advised people who were growing bald to use a prescription consisting of 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona (de Composee) and ½ dr. of Menthol Crystals. I got these things from my druggist and mixed them myself. I allowed the preparation to stand several hours before using. Then I applied it each night and morning, rubbing right into my scalp with the finger tips till the skin fairly glowed. The results were immediate. When I combed my hair next morning only a few straggling hairs came away instead of the handful I was accustomed to gather. The dandruff left me this time for good, for I have never seen a speck on my head since. In less than a week tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp and these grew so rapidly that soon I looked like a different woman. They have kept right on growing until they are as you see them now. A physician has told me that Lavona contains the pure juice of a rare South American shrub that possesses marvelous qualities for forcing a growth of hair and certainly after my own experience I can well believe it. Did I use more than the first treatment? Oh, certainly I am using it today. I go to any drug store and have 8 oz. put up at a time. It lasts about a month and costs very little. I'm not going to stop anyway until my hair reaches the floor."

DANCE HALLS ARE BARRED

Will Not Be Allowed Within 600 Feet of Parks.

Dog Catcher Will Be Employed to Hunt Unlicensed Dogs.

No dance halls, roller rinks or other public amusement places will be allowed within 600 feet of any public park.

The revision of the dance hall ordinance which has been completed by City Attorney Harvey S. Clapp embodies that provision as one of its salient features. The ordinance will probably be introduced at the meeting of the commission which is scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon. That it will pass seems assured as the individual members of the commission have expressed themselves as favoring such a regulation.

The amendment will put out of commission the dance halls and amusement places which are now located adjacent to several parks. It will prevent any of them from being re-established within a radius of a block of any public park. The program means that the application of N. O. Sundby for a license to conduct a roller rink at 1328 East Sixth street, next to Chester park, will not be granted. His application is the first of that nature which has been made.

Dog Ordinance.

The city attorney has prepared a dog ordinance which will be effective. It provides for a dog catcher whose business it will be to impound all unlicensed canines in the city of Duluth. Those not claimed by their owners within a short, specified period, will be put of existence. For years past the fees from dog licenses have run considerably under $1,000, while they should be several times that amount. The dog catcher will more than pay for himself when he is put on the job. He will also rid the city of what has become a positive nuisance.

An ordinance regulating moving in the city limits is also expected to be introduced at the meeting this forenoon. It requires all who move from one residence or flat to another shall secure a permit from the proper city authorities. The permit will show the old and new locations. This will enable the officials to keep track of undesirables, particularly immoral women, and have a check on dead beats who help their game along by continually moving from one place to another.

A resolution defining the duties of the several commissioners will be read at today's meeting. In the main they will remain as they are at present. The building inspector's department will be placed under the division of public affairs, with the electrical inspector under the building inspector. The plumbing inspector will remain with the health department under the division of public safety. Street lighting will be added to the division of public utilities. An arrangement will be made whereby the building inspector's office will work with the city assessor insofar as the building inspector can help the assessor arrive at the values of buildings.

ONE CAR BURNED IN CINCINNATI STRIKE

Violence Follows Effort of Traction Company to Run Lines.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 12.—One car burned, four deserted in the downtown section and the crews either beaten or forced to run to cover, is the result of an effort made by the Cincinnati Traction company today to operate cars on its lines. An Avondale line car was set afire. Several men who threw gasoline over it were pursued by a crowd, but escaped.

Someone cut trolley ropes while a combined assault was made on cars by strikers or sympathizers and several car crews were roughly handled.

In the West end to John street cars attempted to work their way to the center of the city, when a heavy wagon was driven in front of them. Before the police could move the wagon from the tracks, a crowd boarded the cars and rocks and bottles were hurled through them and few of the crew of sixteen men managed to escape bruises or cuts.

The traction company announced that it would continue to make attempts to operate the cars, and further trouble is feared.

No reply has been received by Mayor Hunt to his letter to President Kealey Schoepf of the Cincinnati Traction company demanding that the company arbitrate its dispute with employes. The mayor in the letter, which is considered as practically an ultimatum, said that he would begin court proceedings to place the company in the hands of a receiver and to annul its franchise if his proposal was not accepted by 6 o'clock tonight.

LAST BILL OF ORPHEUM SEASON

Popular Vaudeville Theater Has Strong Program for Closing Week.

The last vaudeville bill for the current season of the Orpheum theater opened yesterday afternon.

The program is in many ways the liveliest and most entertaining bill of the season. There isn't a weak spot on it, and the headline act is about the best of the many big musical acts yet seen here.

The program consists largely of music and dancing, and its free of any tiresome acrobatic acts.

Henry Berman and Gladys Clarke who are featured in "The Trained Nurses," are two of the cleverest and most thoroughly pleasing musical comedy stars seen at the Orpheum in many a day. Bergman has a very nimble pair of legs, a pleasing personality, and a good voice, and his partner is a very dainty and graceful little bit of blonde prettiness. "The Trained Nurses" is an elaborately staged and costumed musical comedy boiled down to about fifty minutes. There is a chorus of ten good looking girls, and two other principals in addition to the stars, George W. Callahan and Mae Bronte. The company carries its own musical director, a young woman who is also garbed in a nurse's costume. There is an attempt at a plot, but it is lost in a maze of musical numbers, which are well staged and well sung. The climax is a ragtime dance wedding which is a very clever novelty. The two stars of the little company would be a hit on any vaudeville bill appearing simply as a "team," but with the Lasky production behind them they are able to provide nearly an hour of excellent entertainment.

Clark and Bergman are not the only clever "team" on this week's bill. There are two others, Fred Watson and Rena Santos and John and Winnie Hennings. John Hennings has an eccentric dance that is one of the hits of the bill, and he is also a comedian of original methods.

Miss Santos, of the other "team," has a freak voice. By the use of either falsetto notes or a throaty whistle she is able to reach notes far above the range of ordinary soprano singers. Her partner is a nimble dancer, and the two have some very attractive musical numbers.

Miss "Mike" Berkin has returned. Miss Berkin is a Montana girl who has made quite a vaudeville reputation as a violinist in a few months. She appears in a white cowboy costumo, and plays a program of widely varied selections, including a ragtime medley. Schubert's "Serenade" and Dvorak's "Humoresque." It must be admitted that the ragtime medley was the most enjoyed number, judged from the applause.

The closing act is a real novelty by the Dorians. It is a pantomime comedy called "A Terrible Night," and shows the experience of an acrobat in a strange bed. The bed is a trampoline disguised, and the man's tumbling and the amusing stage surprises keep the audience thoroughly entertained.

The opening act is a clever little juggling turn by Lew Hoffman. "The Hat Maniac," and two new sets of films and records by the Edison Kinetophone complete an excellent bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE EMPRESS

Change From Usual Tabloids at the Popular Playhouse.

For a change the Empress management the last half of this week presents a novel vaudeville program, which readily scored at the opening performances yesterday. Tabloid musical comedies have been holding the boards for two weeks, and the vaudeville program was welcomed as a change by the regular patrons.

Heading the bill is Charles Lindholm & Co. in the comedy Swedish sketch, "The Man From Minnesota." Mr. Lindholm is a very able Swedish comedian and his dialogue during the action of the sketch was exceedingly funny. He is very ably supported. Mr. Lindholm is well known for his Swedish character impersonations, and in "The Man From Minnesota" he has an excellent vehicle.

Probably the hit of the bill was furnished by the De Grey Quartet, consinging act. They incidentally introduce all the latest popular songs. Their imitation of a calliope brought them several encores. All four men have good voices and they seem to know the class of music a vaudeville audience likes.

The Singers De Luxe, three young women, who call themselves May, Marie and Marian, present a very novel singing act. They incidently introduce some beautiful gowns and a very beautiful stage setting. The act was popular with yesterday's audiences.

The motion pictures, as usual, are interesting. The vaudeville bill will continue until Wednesday evening, inclusive, and a new program will open Thursday for the last half of the week.

KINEMACOLOR AT THE LYCEUM

The third week of the Kinemacolor and pictures De Luxe opened at the Lyceum yesterday and the theater was filled almost continuously during the afternoon and evening. The program for yesterday and today is headed by some splendid pictures of America's greatest scenic asset, "Niagara Falls," and the Kinemacolor process shows to great advantage in these pictures of America's pride. A two-reel dramatic subject, entitled "The Violin," is a touching story of an old musician's love for his rare instrument and his sacrifice in selling it to save his granddaughter's life. This is an excellent story full of pathos, well acted and ending happily. The black and white pictures are an American film, "Youth and Jealousy," with all of its scenes laid in the picturesque mountains of California, a Thanhouser story. "The Girl Detective's Ruse," tells the story of a clever girl running down a band of counterfeiters in a rather sensational manner. Another side splitting Keystone reel, "A Fishy Affair," and "The Bangville Police" furnish plenty of comedy. Two new soloists were added to the Lyceum singers, Mr. Adams and Mr. Peterson rendered "Sands of the Desert" and "Down in New Orleans" in an excellent manner. Miss Lockard sang "Goodby Everybody." There will be a change of program tomorrow.

ATTENTION, WOODMEN!

MINE TO RESUME AFTER FLOOD.

After having been flooded with water for six weeks the M. A. Hanna company's mine at Barrows Minn., is again ready to resume mining operations. Richard Bergum, townsite agent for the company, was in the city this morning and reported that the mine would begin hoisting ore this week.

The mine was flooded six weeks ago while the pumping was being transferred from an engine in the mine to one on the ground above. The plug in the underground pump was taken out by the engineer, causing the stoppage of the pump and while making the trip up the ladder and making another descent the water flooded the mine and covered the engine so that the men could not get to it.

A number of surface pumps were put at work and a locomotive loaned by the Northern Pacific furnished steam for them. Late last week Supt. Archibold offered $50 to the man who would go into the mine and replace the key in the mine engine and this was won by Ed Krueger. The replacing of the plug allowed the full machinery to be set in operation, pumping out the water.

GRAND MASTER OF I. O. O. F. COMING

Herman Phillips to Confer on Arrangements for Convention.

Herman Phillips, grand master of the I. O. O. F. of Minnesota, will be in the city tomorrow to confer with the committees which have charge of the arrangements for the state convention which will be held in Duluth Jnue 10, 11 and 12.

Dr. W. H. Konkler is chairman and L. A. Simonson is secretary of the general committee. The members of the arrangements committee are: William Bernard, chairman; T. W. Hugo, B. Silberstein and R. D. McKercher.

The preliminary arrangements for the convention have been practically completed and the grand master will go over them with the Duluth men who have them in charge. The convention will be one of the biggest to be held in Duluth this season and elaborate preparations are being made by the local Odd Fellows for the entertainment of the visitors.

WOUNDS TWO MEN THEN KILLS SELF.

Negaunee, Mich., May 12.—Frank Catrecola, an ex-convict and supposed black-hander, was the chief cause of a disturbance Friday night which resulted in his own death and the serious injury of two others—Brune Tasson and Mike Tasson, miners at the Rolling Mill location. Bruno Tasson was shot through the left side of the neck in close proximity to the windpipe.

Nick Tasson was shot in the hand while trying to take the gun from Catrecola, who fearing that he had killed Bruno Tasson, fled from the scene. Shortly afterward he was found behind the Rolling Mill schoolhouse with a bullet hole in the right side of his head. He is supposed to have killed himself. He was dead when discovered.

FIND CLEW TO SIEGEL MURDER.

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—A key to the mystery of the murder of Elsie Siegel, granddaughter of Gen. Franz Siegel, a Civil war hero, in New York's Chinatown June 18, 1909, is believed to have been found in Oakland. In searching the rooms of Lee Dor, a Chinese who was arrested recently by the Federal authorities, charged with having opium in his possession, the officers found a complete set of press clippings describing the death of the Siegel girl, and a number of photographs of beautiful white women.

Prior to this discovery, the prisoner had been released under $1,000 bonds. His whereabouts is now unknown.

The Chinese suspected of strangling Elsie Siegel was Leon Ling.

DRILLING NEAR AITKIN.

Exploratory Work Starts on Hungerford Place Adjoining Village.

Aitkin, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. McMillan and associates, who have a mining option on the Hungerford place adjoining the village of Aitkin on the west, have placed a drill on the property and the exploration is being done under the direction of M. P. Botsford. This is the first drilling done in the immediate vicinity of Aitkin. Olson & Berg of Brainerd, who are doing the work, moved their drill here from Rice River near Hassman.

Doctors Against Fee-Splitting.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota physicians will make a spirited fight against the practice of fee-splitting which, while they say it does not prevail to any great extent, still exists. The state society, at its meeting in Minot last week, adopted resolutions covering that question.

$85,000 Fire In Sharon.

Sharon, Pa., May 12.—Fire, believed by the police to have been of incendiary origin, early today destroyed all the buildings on one side of Silver street for a block. The loss is estimated at $85,000.

Indian Boys Some Athletes.

Minnewaukan, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fort Totten Indian school boys nearly carried off first honors in the Benson county field meet, held here Saturday. They gave the Minnewaukan team a hot contest for first place, being finally defeated with ten points less than the white boys of Minnewaukan. Minnewaukan gained 57 points; Fort Totten Indians gained 47; Esmond carried 7 points and Oberon carried 5.

Nineteen Enter School Meet.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nineteen schools have entered the annual North Dakota and Minnesota school meet which will be held in Grand Forks next Friday and Saturday. This is the first year that Minnesota schools have been eligible to compete, and Hallock, Fosston, East Grand Forks and Crookston have entered teams. The North Dakota schools that will send teams are Grafton, Drayton, St. Thomas, Langdon, Hannah, Park River, Inkster, Devils Lake, Larimore, Williston, Minot, Velva, Pembina, Fargo, and Cavalier.

Citizens Subscribe Liberally.

Park River, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The building for the county agricultural school here will cost $20,000. Citizens added $7,000 to the amount allowed by the county. Walsh and Benson are the only two counties in the state that have taken advantage of the new law permitting the agricultural schools. The contract will be let June 1.

Boy Accidentally Killed.

Dickinson, N. D., May 12.—William Harris, 13-year-old son of W. A. Harris of Chicago, who was visiting his uncle, Fred Harris, near Oakdale, Dunn county, was killed by the accidental discharge of a rifle Saturday. He did not know the gun was loaded, it is said.

Tramps' Close Call.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—Eight tramps were saved from burning to death by four companies, early Saturday, when a fire destroyed a vacant house near the Mississippi river. The eight men were asleep in the house and their four companions had started a fire in the yard to prepare breakfast.

Four Have Close Call.

Harvey, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. Pottast, E. B. Neiss, F. J. Seeba and Henry Nelson, were nearly killed when their car struck a rock on a steep hill, the front fork being broken and the machine turning turtle at the side of the road.

FORT WILLIAM RIOTER KILLED

Another Man Wounded During Clash With Police in Ontario Town.

Fort William, Ont., May 12.—One man was shot to death, another was fatally wounded and several more were cut and bruised in a battle between police and sympathizers of the striking street car employes here late last night.

The trouble started when the company attempted to operate one of its cars. A mob gathered and attacked the car and those manning it, breaking windows and finally tossing the car from the tracks. The police attempted to repulse the crowd, but their efforts were futile.

Peter Landi was taken into custody and placed in a branch station. Armed with clubs and stones, the crowd gathered and attempted to rescue the prisoner. The police fired a warning volley into the air. The mob continued to press closer.

One Falls Dead.

Several shots then were fired by the police and the rioters during which one man, Lindi Gerrety, fell dead in the street. The police were reinforced and the crowd dispersed. The other man who was shot down has not been identified. He may recover. The mob consisted mostly of foreigners.

Fifteen hundred men paraded the streets Sunday afternoon in sympathy with the strikers who walked out yesterday demanding increased wages and better working conditions.

DULUTH MAN HONORED BY MASONIC FRATERNITY

William E. Richardson of this city was yesterday honored by being elected to the office of grand junior general of the Grand Imperial council of the Imperial and Ecclesiastical and Military Order of Constantine, a Masonic organization, which yesterday closed its forty-first annual convention at Dallas, Texas.

PLAN REUNION OF OLD COMPANY K

A reunion of all the available members of old Company K, M. N. G., will be held in Duluth soon if plans do not miscarry. A meeting of local men who were members of that crack organization of days gone by, will be held tomorrow evening at the armory to make plans for the reunion. The call for tomorrow's meeting is signed by H. R. Armstrong, Fred Engels, Alfred E. Watts, H. C. Bellinger, Thomas Moore and Peter Hart.

In the old days Company K was the crack company of the Second regiment, and among other achievements won first prize in an international drilling contest in Chicago. It was organized in 1884 and was in existence until 1890, when the Third regiment was organized at which time it became Company A of that regiment. Company K took part in suppressing labor troubles at the West end and at Cloquet and other points. It was not a "tin soldier" company but saw much service. If the reunion idea takes hold it is hoped to induce Henri De Witt of Red Wing, formerly captain of Company K to attend.

HOMELESS CATS CAUSE COMPLAINTS

"The cat came back" all right but in many quarters after May 1, the purring pet came back to an empty house. It is claimed that a large number of people who moved on the annual migration day failed to take Tabby or Tom, perhaps through carelessness or maybe because of the old belief that it is bad luck to move a cat. It is claimed that in some cases such heartless carelessness has been found as leaving cats locked in basement without food or the opportunity to forage for themselves.

The Duluth Humane society has received many complaints from former neighbors of such inhuman people because of the yowls and wails of anguish which the deserted cats give voice to.

Hatton, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. E. N. Hegge of this city, secretary of the North Dakota Dentists' association, has completed the program for the annual meeting, which will be held in Fargo on May 16 and 17. Dr. Lars Frenz, the noted Finnish specialist, is the principal speaker.

Several Twin City authorities and other Minnesota dentists are on the program.

Fighting 'Phone Franchise.

McClusky, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming it has an exclusive franchise for twenty years, dating from 1909, the North Dakota Independent Telephone company is strenuously opposing the granting of a franchise for a local telephone exchange to the Lincoln Valley company. The council has deferred action until all the legal phases of the matter can be officially investigated.

POLICE RAID CRAP GAME

Scattering When Officers Interrupt Rolling of the "Bones."

Players Are Fined $10 and Costs By Municipal Judge.

Joseph Kenny, proprietor of the Metropole hotel, Lake avenue south and Michigan street, was arrested early yesterday morning on a charge of keeping his saloon open on Sunday. At the same time a dozen men who were participating in a crap game in a room back of Barney's pool hall were taken into custody on charges of gambling.

Kenny was released on $125 bail to insure his appearance in police court this morning and the others were given their liberty on their own recognizance with instructions to appear at the same time. The officers nabbed eighteen men when they pulled the crap game but investigation disclosed that six of them were onlookers and they were released.

The detail which made the arrests consisted of Detectives Bradley and Peewe, Sergeant Roberg and Patrolmen Montgomery and Danielson. When they entered the room where the "bones" were being rolled to the tune of "seven come eleven" there was a scattering in all directions in hopes of escape. One man ducked under a table in the corner. The police sent one wagon load to headquarters and returned for the second. The man was still under the table, fondly encouraging the hope that he would be overlooked. When they were ready to go an officer walked over with the admonition, "Come on, now; it's time to go; we saw you all the time."

The defendants were all present when their names were called at 9:30 o'clock today. Those who pleaded guilty and paid fines of $10 and costs, each, were: William Fitzgerald, John Rooney, Frant Grant, Richard Rance, George Miller, Henry Warner, Frank Callahan and John A. Curtis. William S. (Rasty) Wright entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $40 and costs. His assessment was heavier as he had been previously arrested on the same charge.

Joseph Kenny, charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday, entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for Friday afternoon.

M. J. DURKAN IS SUMMONED

Well Known Duluth Citizen Dies at Advanced Age.

The funeral of M. J. Durkan, 74 years of age, who died Saturday afternoon, took place at 8 o'clock this morning from his home, 208 South Sixteenth avenue east and at 9 o'clock from the cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Second avenue west and Fourth street. Interment was at Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Durkan was a resident of Duluth for twenty-four years, during most of which time he was in the undertaking business. He established the firm of Durkan & Crawford. Two years ago he retired because of failing health and the business was taken over by James L. Crawford, now located at Second avenue west and Second street.

He was a member of the Duluth lodge of Elks and of the Knights of Columbus. Members of both orders attended the funeral services.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Maria Durham, of this city. F. S. Kelly of Duluth and Mrs. M. May of Superior are cousins.

WILSON NOT WORRYING

ferences thus far between Secretary Bryan or President Wilson and the Japanese ambassador were described as being those of "one gentleman to another."

Formal and Friendly.

Intimation that the Japanese protest itself was couched neither in vigorous nor aggressive language, but was formal and friendly in character, came from the president himself during his talk today, and it was pointed out that the phrase "a very earnest protest," employed by Secretary Bryan in his message to Governor Johnson, was the description of the note which the American government had entertained, rather than the emphasis of the Japanese ambassador.

The president was disposed to talk freely of the subject, and appeared confident that a satisfactory adjustment would be accomplished.

Completing the Record.

The fact that Secretary of State Bryan has addressed an appeal to Governor Johnson of California to veto the anti-alien land law, inasmuch as the governor had unofficially at least, repeatedly declared his purpose to sign the bill as it passed the legislature, is taken in official circles here as indicating either that some powerful influences have been brought to bear upon the governor in the interest of delay, or, and more probably, that the Wilson administration is perfecting its record.

In this action there may be a double purpose. First, to satisfy Japan that the Federal government has done all it can to prevent the legislation under its constitutional limitations, of which many diplomats contend Japan should have been aware when it entered into treaty relations; and secondly, to place upon the state authorities of California the responsibility for any serious outcome of the alien land legislation.

As the legislature is near the end of of its session, it was said that Johnson's reply would be forthcoming today or tomorrow. If he yields to Secretary Bryan's appeal, the element of urgency will be removed, as Japanese land owners in California will not be in immediate danger of loss of their property and the state department can at its leisure embark upon negotiations with the Japanese embassy for a new treaty to replace that of 1911 and provide some permanent means of adjustment of the rights of the citizens of one country resident in the other.

Suggestions Made.

It has been suggested that possibly by a fiat declaration that neither country shall admit the right of citizens of the other to hold land in its territory, the Japanese may be satisfied.

Should Governor Johnson decide to sign the bill notwithstanding Federal opposition, legal proceedings are almost certain to follow the first attempt of the California authorities to escheat the property of the Japanese land holders. Probably the issue could be made up immediately by some such land holder undertaking the transfer of his land to another Japanese in California.

Telegraphed to Governor.

Secretary Bryan, in the name of President Wilson, telegraphed Governor Johnson Sunday night, notifying him that the Japanese ambassador had earnestly protested against the bill passed by the California assembly, and urging that the governor postpone action by withholding his signature. Secretary Bryan's telegram, which was framed after a conference with the president Saturday, was made public at the White House. It was as follows:

"The president directs me to express his appreciation of your courtesy in delaying action on the land bill now before you until its provisions could be communicated to the Japanese government and considered by it.

"His excellency, Baron Chinda, has, on behalf of his government, presented an earnest protest against the measure. As you have before you but two alternatives, viz: to approve or to veto, it will avail nothing to recall to your attention the amendments suggested to the legislature, and as the president has already laid before you his views upon the subject, it is unnecessary to reiterate them.

No Question of Treaty.

"He passes over questions affecting treaty rights, for two reasons: First, because the bill passed by the legislature is avowedly intended to conform to treaty obligations; second, because any conflict complained of would be a matter for the courts; but the president feels justified in expressing again his desire that action on the subject be deferred for this session, and he expresses the desire the more freely because the legislature can be reconvened at any time if the welfare of the state requires it.

He is fully alive to the importance of removing any root of discord which may create antagonism between American citizens and the subjects of Oriental nations residing here, but he is impelled by a sense of duty to express the hope that you will see fit to allow time for diplomatic effort. The nations affected by the proposed law are friendly nations—nations that have shown themselves willing to co-operate in the establishment of harmonious relations between their people and our

"If a postponement commends itself to your judgment, the president will be pleased to co-operate in a systematic effort to discover and correct any evils that may exist in connection with land ownership by aliens."

The decision of the administration to urge Governor Johnson to use his power of veto to postpone any land legislation was reached after a series of conferences between the president, Secretary Bryan and John Bassett Moore, counsellor of the state department, and frequent calls at the department by Ambassador Chinda.

the basis of representation in future conventions, so that the delegates shall proportionately represent Republican voters, and not general population, to the end that the will of the members of the party may be more accurately determined; also for the purpose of changing the rules relating to delegates and members of the national committee, so that the primary election laws of the various states shall be recognized and have full force; and also for the purpose of making such other changes in the methods of conducting national conventions and campaigns as shall conduce to giving the utmost possible effect to the principles and policies of the party.

Other Action, Too.

"It was further the opinion that such a convention might properly and usefully take any other action desirable to reunite the party, and to give assurance that it stands for constructive and progressive activities in the affairs of government, to the end that the common welfare may be advanced.

"It was the unanimous belief of those present that the changes suggested should be made forthwith, and that the national committee be urged to take such steps to such an end."

A committee composed of Robert Luce, former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, Senator Borah, Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, W. F. James, state senator of Michigan, and James A. Troutman, state senator of Kansas, had been appointed to draw up a statement expressing the sentiment of the conference. This committee drew up the foregoing and it was adopted. That concluded the conference.

Senator Borah said that while at first he had been somewhat skeptical about the benefits to be derived from a national convention this year, he finally concluded to join in the unanimous belief that such a convention should be held. Mr. Hadley said he was in entire sympathy with the movement.

Much interest centered about the significance of including in the statement the phrase about "reuniting" the party. Senator Cummins explained that "it meant just what it said," but that no lengthy talk had been indulged in about "inviting" members of the Progressive party to return to the Republican ranks.

Sydney Anderson There.

Others who participated in the conferences were United States Senators A. J. Gronna of North Dakota, C. I. Crawford of South Dakota, and L. Y. Sherman of Illinois, and Representatives J. W. Good of Iowa, Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa, Everis A. Hayes of California, Louis C. Crampton of Michigan, and Sydney Anderson of Minnesota.

The attendance of Senator Gronna of North Dakota is said to have the disapproval of Senator La Follette, who is not in sympathy with the gathering. The two have been strong political allies, and it is reported that the determination of Senator Gronna to attend has caused dissension.

agent. His next step upward was the presidency of the United States Steel Products company, another subsidiary of the so-called trust, which he was elected in 1903. He became president and director of the parent corporation, his present position, in 1911.

For the purpose of refuting the allegations of the government that the International Harvester company enjoyed unfair advantages in the purchase of steel from the corporation, because the two corporations had interlocking directors, the witness produced tables intended to show that the amount of steel sold by the corporation to the Harvester company was insignificant. The largest amount in any one year was 25,000 tons in 1911, according to the tables.

Mr. Farrell produced tables to show that freight rates on steel products, charged by the corporation on its own railroads, had forced reductions on competing roads, whereas on roads not competing with the corporation's roads the rates had been advanced.

Described Export Trade.

The witness described the export trade of the Steel corporation and said it did business "from Iceland to the Fiji islands," with 268 foreign agencies distributed in sixty countries. The value of the corporation's foreign trade had increased from $31,000,000 in 1904 to $92,000,000 in 1912, he added.

This volume of trade, he said, could never have been developed had the corporation not been formed, as it would have been impossible as subsidiaries to have maintained foreign agencies on such an extensive scale.

"In the last eight years we have furnished the steel for every steel structure that has been built in Buenos Ayres," Mr. Farrell said, "and this has been in competition with German, English and French competitors."

The Tennessee Coal & Iron company was being developed, he said, with the purpose of manufacturing steel for the Mexican and South American trade.

volume of immigration from the Old World, Eastern Canada and the United States will pour into the Western provinces this year to further the development of that country. I look to see an immense crop and an immense increase in commercial and industrial prosperity.

"I do not need to tell Duluth people what the development of Western Canada means to Duluth. The fact that Duluth is linked to Western Canada by a direct line has already proved to Duluth's advantage. We have been bringing four trains a day of grain to Duluth during the winter and a flow of traffic through a port has its commercial advantages. Of course, the movement was to relieve the Canadian Head of the Lakes, and the grain was in bond, but the traffic passing through Duluth, adding to the commercial importance of the Duluth gateway."

Asked as to the report that the Canadian Northern would build a cut-off that would allow traffic to move from Duluth to Baudette without crossing the border, thus obviating the loop through Canada from Ranier to Baudette, Col. Davidson said that there was no information to give on that subject.

GILBY WOMAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Clothing Catches Fire When She Strikes Match Near Gasoline.

Gilby, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Striking a match near a leaking gasoline lighting plant here, Mrs. S. O. Stone caused an explosion in her home that set fire to her clothing, resulting in death several hours afterwards. A second explosion almost wrecked the house, the entire tank being blown up. Two men had just left the basement, supposing they had extinguished the fire from the first explosion.

Another Is Almost Killed.

Westhope, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Striking a match and attempting to peer through the bunghole of a barrel that had been filled with liquid air, Henry Kissner of this place was almost killed by the explosion resulting. Only his presence of mind in running to a plowed field near by and rolling over and over in the loose dirt saved him from death, as his clothes were flaming as a result of the explosion. His face was badly burned and his hair was singed off.

DULUTH BOAT CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Important Business on Program for Gathering Tuesday Evening.

It is especially desired to have a large attendance of members of the Duluth Boat club at the meeting of tomorrow evening. As the election of officers for the ensuing year is on the list of important business, it is necessary and very important that there be a large and representative number of the club members present.

One of the most important matters is that of the entertainments of the present summer. As the program that has been tentatively planned by the officials of the club is one of the most ambitious that has been gotten up for several years, it is deeply desired to have a large number of the members on hand to take a voice in the discussion.

The meeting will be at the main house of the club.

NORMAL SHIPMENTS OF COAL ON LAKES.

F. G. Hartwell, president of the Berwind Fuel company, at the Spalding today, stated that in his belief the shipments of coal up the Great Lakes during the next few months would be about the normal amount. He also stated that the supply on hand at the present time was about the usual tonnage. Mr. Hartwell declared that the entire coal situation, at least insofar as his company was concerned, was little different from that of other years.

STILWELL INDICTED ON BRIBERY CHARGE

New York State Senator Acquitted By Senate Again Accused.

New York, May 12.—State Senator Stephen J. Stilwell, recently acquitted by the senate of bribery charges preferred by Gorge A. Kendall, president of the New York bank note company, was indicted today for bribery by the grand jury, before which he appeared last Friday.

ARE CUTTING ORE PRICES

Reduction of Twenty-Five Cents a Ton Said to Have Been Made.

Cutting of ore prices by the independent companies is creating an interesting situation in the iron market.

The prevailing price for Bessemer ore of 61 per cent is about $4 a ton, subject to certain conditions such as the amount of phosphorus. The independent mines in Northern Minnesota and Michigan are said to be making contracts at $3.75, or 25 cents under the market.

Whether a price war will develop remains to be seen. The independents were not disposing of their stocks as rapidly as they wished and made the cut so as to make their product inviting.

SHRINERS ARE DALLAS' GUESTS.

Dallas, Tex., May 12.—Dallas became host today to thousands of visitors attracted here by the thirty-ninth annual convention of Shriners. Twenty-six special trains arrived today and many more are en route.

Welcoming of the visiting Shriners was the feature of today's session. Tomorrow the big parade will take place, and on Wednesday the business sessions will be concluded. A thousand mile tour of Texas will be begun by the majority of visitors on Thursday.

"DAKOTA DAN" AGAIN.

Suit to Recover Melrose, Mass., Claim Comes Up May 26.

Dickinson, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the last chapter in the present trial of "Dakota Dan" Russell's claim of a share of the Russell estate at Melrose, Mass., set for May 26, interest in the action has been increased locally. "Dakota Dan" Russell, formerly a resident of Dickinson, represented in his first action by Leslie Simpson of this city, has been fighting three years for the estate, and Mr. Simpson believes he has a good chance to win in the present suit.

ASK REVIEW OF PURE FLOUR CASE.

Washington, May 12.—The fight for "pure" flour has been carried to the supreme court by the department of justice. Attorney General McReynolds and Assistant Attorney General Adkins have filed with the court an application for a review of the decision of the Eighth United States circuit court of appeals, which denied the right of the government to condemn flour bleached by electricity by the Alsop process.

ROWDYISM IN STREET CAR

Conductor Beaten and Baby Knocked From Mother's Arms.

Four Young Men Were Drinking Beer on the Car.

During a row on a West Duluth car last night, Conductor Arthur Point was severely bruised from blows received and an infant in the arms of Mrs. R. C. Schnieder, 104 South Forty-eighth avenue, was knocked to the floor. The trouble started when the conductor objected to four young men drinking beer from bottles on the car.

Lawrence Carey was put off the car at Roosevelt street, turned over to an officer and charged with disorderly conduct. Roy Drake was arrested and taken to the central station, charged with the same offense.

In court before Judge Lanners this morning, both pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for Wednesday, May 21, at 2 o'clock. Both young men claimed that they were not doing any of the fighting but that it was two others who had done the "roughhousing." They were released pending the hearing, on $25 bail each.

* * *

Tom Plumkitt was arrested late Saturday night, charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty this morning when brought into court and was given a sentence of twenty days in the workhouse.

* * *

John Bavich was arrested yesterday morning for being drunk and disorderly. He is alleged to have used some vile language on the street. In court this morning he pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for 2 o'clock Wednesday, May 21. He was released on $10 bail.

* * *

Bernard Echs was carrying around with him a set of brass knuckles when arrested yesterday by a local patrolman. He was released last night on $10 bail, which he forfeited by nonappearance in court this morning.

WANT STORES TO CLOSE EARLIER

Union Men May Present Request to West Duluth Merchants.

West Duluth merchants will be requested to close their business places at 6 o'clock in the evening on every day but Saturday. The request will come through the members of labor unions of this end of the city.

The formal demands will be out within a few days. It is claimed by labor men that there is no more reason for the stores of West Duluth to keep open than there is for the stores uptown. They also aver that when the people become accustomed to it that there will be no more hardship on the working people than there is in the larger stores closing.

"Our women can do their shopping during the day time," said a member of the Longshoremen's union yesterday. "The stores here have become accustomed to remain open until late at nights, working hardship on the young women who are their clerks. In most instances the trade is light during these after hours.

"When the people of this end of the city begin to realize that they are working a hardship on the clerks by doing any shopping in the evening, they will stop it and shop during the day time. Of course the unions expect opposition, but if the demands of the union men are not heeded by the merchants then we can take our trade and the trade of our friends to those people who observe the closing hours. While this may not amount to a great deal it will probably have its effect."

PAYS TRIBUTE TO MOTHER-IN-LAW.

"Mother-in-laws" received a tribute at the sermon preached last evening by Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street. He said that while the mother-in-law was the subject of many cheap jokes, that she was the person always called in time of trouble. He said in part:

"We have all heard our share of the fool stories concerning mothers-in-law, but as a matter of fact, they are entitled to our respect and reverence.

"When the wife has fallen sick and the home has been in need, the mother-in-law comes. Her hand soon brings order and as a nurse she is unexcelled. When the little fellow is taken sick and his mother is almost distracted, mother-in-law takes the child and ministers to him. His mother takes heart likewise and all because mother-in-law is there.

"She may be mother-in-law to you; she is mother to some one else. She is grandmother to your children and is worthy of a place in the world's affections rather than to be made the butt for the cheap jokesmith and his ilk."

SERMON ON "MOTHER" AT MERRITT M. E. CHURCH

Rev. C. W. Emery, pastor of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street, paid a tribute to "Mothers" in his sermon yesterday. In part, he said:

"The mother has a double responsibility. She is not only the progenitor of the race, but the first guardian of the kingdom of God.

"For mother is the title to be most honored of any human name. We should respect that name more than any other word in our vocabulary and our thought of mother should be the purest and the most sanctified.

"The true mother is she who has the highest Christian ideals and who instills in the minds of her children the spirit of these ideals."

Anna Olson Dies.

Anna S. Olson, 23 years old, died last evening after an illness of several months of tuberculosis. Miss Olson had made her home with her uncle, O. G. Olson, 5807 West Eighth street. She leaves a brother, Gust Olson, living in this city and her father, a brother and sister living in Sweden.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 10 o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Interment will be in the Union cemetery.

CASE IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

In probate court today, Judge Gilpin dismissed the petition to set aside the final decree which had been entered in the estate of Ernest A. Koening, brewery master, who died in this city about two years ago.

The petition was filed recently by Attorney Moritz Heim, acting for the German consul, who represented the mother of the dead man. It was claimed that prior to Koening's death he had borrowed $1,700 from his mother in the old country and that in settling up the esate no allowance had been made for this claim.

After the petition was filed, Koening's widow in this city agreed to give a mortgage on the property which has reverted to her to satisfy the claim of the mother. A stipulation was then entered into whereby the petition was to be dismissed. The court then ordered the dismissal.

Attorney J. A. Hanks represented the estate in the case.

BRIDGE LEFT OPEN WITHOUT DANGER SIGNAL

A prominent Duluth automobile owner protested today strongly against the dangerous situation that is permitted to exist at the Robertson street bridge, Superior, which all automobilists going from one city to the other are obliged to cross.

This Duluth citizen states that the other night the bridge was open with only a small chain stretched across the span, and that there was positively no light to warn drivers of the open draw. The Duluthian states that had it not been for the fact that he had very powerful brakes, much stronger than the ordinary kind, he would have driven into the water.

According to his statement, the bridge tender informed him that he was given no light, and that the only lantern there was he used for his individual wants.

Unless the condition there is changed, the Duluth man is of the opinion that a serious and perhaps fatal accident may result.

OBITUARY

A. D. Brown, 65 years old, a millionaire manufacturer of St. Louis, died in San Antonio, Tex., May 10, after an illness of several weeks.

Peter Lynch, 73 years old, for thirty-two years foreman in the Omaha railroad shops at St. Paul, Minn., died Saturday at his home in that city. Mr. Lynch was born in Pennsylvania. He had been a resident of Watertown, Milwaukee and Hudson, Wis.

Sidney Patrick Cartwright, aged 50, is dead at Banff, Alta. He was the possessor of the Victoria cross, the most coveted honor of the British soldier. Cartwright was decorated with the cross for bravery during the British campaign in Ashanti, Africa.

The dowager duchess of Newcastle died in London May 10, aged 71. She was the mother of Lord Francis Hope, former husband of May Yohe. Since the death of her second husband, Tom Hohler, twenty years ago, the duchess has devoted her life to charity, residing most of the time in the slums of Whitechapel.

James C. Flynn, once prominent in Minnesota politics, and a member of the legislature, and identified with lumber and mining interests of the state, is dead at his home at the Hampshire Arms in Minneapolis. He was 69 years old. His body will be taken to Little Falls for interment. Mr. Flynn was an active supporter of Knute Nelson in the latter's controversy with C. F. Kindred in 1883 for a seat in congress, and was identified with the candidacy of Gen. W. D. Washburn for the United States senatorship. He was a veteran of the Civil war.

SUNDAY BALL NOT ALLOWED

Amateur Teams Are Barred From Two City Fields.

Sunday baseball will not be allowed on the grounds at Forty-seventh avenue east or Thirty-fifth avenue west. The other ten ball fields in the city under the supervision of the park department can be used every day in the week.

The Lakeside residents have strenuously objected to Sunday ball in their suburb and the stipulation was made when the use of the Thirty-fifth avenue grounds was granted that they would not be open Sundays. After considerable loud talk, the officials stopped a game yesterday at the Lakeside grounds.

Casselton Death Unexplained.

Casselton, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Death from causes unknown was the finding of the coroner's jury which investigated the case of Carleton Gilbert, whose body was found in Swan Creek in this city. Gilbert disappeared April 1, and his body was found the day following in the creek.

HAVE PAVING PROBLEM

Commission Is Considering the Improvement of Grand Avenue.

Exorbitant Price Asked for Lots Adjoining Lester Park.

A petition for the paving of Grand avenue from Vernon street, east of the ore docks, to Fifty-fourth avenue west, was ready for presentation to the city commission at its meeting this afternoon.

The petition was ordered circulated by the old council under an agreement whereby the assessment of each fifty-foot lot would not exceed $175.

How the commission will look upon this agreement is doubtful and will depend to a large degree upon the nature of the improvement. That it will approve of it does not appear likely if the burden of the difference is to come from the city's coffers. If the balance comes from other sources it is a different matter. A permanent job, such as sandstone, brick or creosote blocks, laid on a five-inch concrete base, would cost $400 to $500 for a fifty-foot lot, which is a long ways from $175. In any event the city pays for the storm sewers and street intersections, which would be a large sum on an improvement of that magnitude. The commissioners do not approve of temporary work on a highway such as Grand avenue, which is one of the two available arteries of traffic between West Duluth and the central part of the city. The opinion has been expressed that it would not be good business to have a cheap improvement on a thoroughfare of that nature.

Stiff Price for Lots.

A petition was sent in by a committee of the Lester Park Improvement club asking the city to acquire by condemnation or purchase the seven lots recently occupied by the amusement company, which ran the pavilion and dance hall at that location. The members of the club state that it would be a desirable acquisition to the park. The price asked by the owners is over $29,000, which is deemed unreasonable. Should it be decided to secure the property it will be through condemnation. If the ordinance prohibiting amusement places of all kinds within 600 feet of a public park is passed, as seems likely, it may have some bearing upon the value placed upon the property by the owners.

Residents in the vicinity of Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues east and the Duluth & Iron Range right-of-way have a petition against the operation of P. McDonnell's mixing plant in that locality. They assert that the smoke and gases constitute a nuisance which is detrimental to health and comfort.

A resolution awarding the contracting for the improvement of Seventh street from Fourth avenue west to Fourteenth avenue east to J. A. Johnson for crushed rock macadam will be introduced. His bid was $63,340. Before the contract can be finally awarded the resolution must lay over a week. The property owners appeared before the commission and were unanimous for the crushed rock as against gravel. Concrete curbs and gutters will be laid but the sidewalks will not be constructed for a year. It will be late before the job is completed and a year hence the numerous fills which are necessary will have settled. The date specified for completion is Nov. 1.

FARGOANS PUNISHED.

Pair Caught in Liquor Raid Given County Jail Sentences.

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burton and Aronson, who were arrested Saturday night in a raid, pleaded guilty today. Aronson got six months and Burton three months in jail. They conducted a taxi-cab line and since Moorhead's saloon men stopped deliveries on this side, Burton and Aronson had done a large business. Over forty cases of beer, 100 bottles of liquor and a dozen bottles of champagne were seized at the time of the raid. Proprietors said this would have been disposed of Saturday night and Sunday.

N. P. MUST PAY STATE $240,010

Wisconsin Law Is So Interpreted By the Attorney General.

Madison, Wis., May 12. — Attorney General Owen informed Secretary of State Defald, in a formal opinion today, that the Northern Pacific Railway company is obliged to file its resolutions certifying to its increase of capital stock and to pay fees which will amount to $240,010. It is likely the state also will demand interest upon this amount.

The increases of its stock since 1870, the date of incorporation, have been from $10,000,000 to $250,000,000, and under the ruling the state may demand $1 per thousand on the increase and $10 for filing the amendments. It is expected the collection of the fees will be bitterly contested in the case.

REBELS EXECUTE 25 MEXICAN OFFICERS

Mexican Is Stoned to Death By Americans in Arizona.

Nogales, Ariz., May 12.—Twenty-five Mexican Federal officers, including an infantry and artillery colonel, who were taken prisoners during the last week's fighting above Guaymas, were shot at a public execution by order of the Constitutionalist commanders. The execution is admitted officially by state authorities at Hermosillo.

The official statement also admits the loss in killed of 200 state troops during the two days' fighting, which resulted in the driving of the retiring Federals into the first station north of the gulf port town. Fighting at this stand continues.

The reported deaths of Chief Bule, commander of the insurgent Yaqui Indians and of Col. Guiterrez of the state troops was announced in the report.

Mexican Stoned to Death.

Globe, Ariz., May 12.—One man was stoned to death and another seriously hurt in a race war early Sunday at Miami, near Globe, between Americans and Mexicans. A crowd of Americans were the aggressors. Three of them are in the county jail here.

A gang of Americans determined to run the Mexicans out of town, and the first they encountered were Jose Pieres and M. Ortez. The Mexicans were chased through the streets until they dropped with broken heads. Pieres died soon afterward and Ortez was taken to a hospital.

O'HARA'S STORY IS SUBSTANTIATED

Cook County Treasurer Testifies in Hearing of Charges.

Chicago, May 12.—When the state senate committee investigating an allegation of immorality against Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara resumed its hearing today, William L. O'Connell, treasurer of Cook county, was sworn as a witness.

O'Connell's testimony was confirmatory of that of the lieutenant governor on Saturday. It was through the former that O'Hara received his first intimation of the Maud Robinson affidavit. O'Connell said that he was visited by Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, a friend of Samuel Davis, a liquor dealer of Springfield, Ill., with information of the existence of the affidavit.

In effect Sullivan's communication was that unless O'Hara curbed the vice investigation at Springfield, the affidavit would be made the basis of public charges. This document made no direct charge of immorality, but related circumstances which might be construed as supporting such a charge.

O'Connell talked the matter over with O'Hara and in the end advised O'Hara to let the alleged "frameup" against him run its course.

"Unload" Gun Kills Child.

Ironwood, Mich., May 12.—Playfully pointing an "unloaded" rifle at his 5-year-old sister, Esther, on Chris Strong's farm five miles south of Hurley, Saturday, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Henrickson pulled the trigger and the weapon went off, the bullet penetrating the child's brain causing instant death. The funeral was held here this afternoon from the Finnish National church, interment being made at Riverside cemetery.

RECOVER FOUR BODIES.

Corpses of Two Victims of Wassau Catastrophe Being Sought.

Wausau, Wis., May 12.—The bodies of four of the six victims of Sunday's motorboat catastrophe have been recovered. Those of Gertrude and Eleanor Jehnke are believed to have been carried down the Wisconsin river by the swift current which is prevalent at this point. Scores of boats are on the river dragging for the two bodies.

Montana Politician Convicted.

The following clipping from the Washington Post concerning the election of Miss Catherine Carter of Washington, D. C., as May queen at La Salle seminary, in Boston, will interest many Duluthians, as Miss Carter visited her aunt, Mrs. Page Morris, in Duluth last summer, and was one of the popular visitors here:

"Miss Catherine Carter, daughter of Mrs. Virginia S. Carter, 1362 Quincy street northwest, who is a student at La Salle seminary, in Boston, was this year the choice of the girls of the seminary to rule over their May day revels, held on the school lawn last Thursday. The honor of being elected May queen at the La Salle seminary carries with it the added distinction of being the most popular girl in the school. Miss Carter is a member of the senior class of the seminary, which ranks among the leading preparatory schools for girls in the United States."

Miss Mary B. Statham, Mrs. Morris' sister, is visiting friends in Washington, D. C., and is doing some literary work while there. She expects to return to Duluth in June.

DISCUSS SUNDAY SCHOOL THEMES.

Aitkin, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A county convention of the Sunday schools of Aitkin, Butts, Attica and Wealthwood was held Sunday at Cutler and the following program carried out: Devotional exercises, Miss Sadie Neish; "The Sunday School Vision," J. J. Wittrup; "Teaching Missions," Miss Theresa Holden; "Cradle roll—How? Why?" Mrs. S. J. Warren; "Home Influences and the Sunday School," Mrs. H. Toole; "Training Classes," Mrs. J. Carmichael; "Home Department Work," J. M. Tucker.

Vesuvius Active

Naples, May 12.—The activity of Mount Vesuvius, which has been apparent for several days, reached a climax Sunday when part of the crater collapsed. The trembling of the mountain could be distinctly felt. After the explosion observations showed that a tunnel 250 feet deep had been formed. From this dense sulphurous clouds and white smoke ascended.

OPPOSE CENSUS OF JAPANESE.

Sacramento, Cal., May 12.—It has been agreed by the majority leaders in the legislature that a bill introduced by Mr. Caminette, providing for a new census of the Japanese population of the state and the collection of certain other statistics concerning resident aliens of that nationality, shall be refused passage.

Administration leaders hold that the information sought by Mr. Caminette, through his census bill, is not pertinent now. His resolution providing for the appointment of a commission of five to present California's case before the president and congress is doomed to defeat.

DELAY PICKING OF ANHUT JURY.

New York, May 12.—Selection of a jury to try John N. Anhut, a lawyer indicted for bribery in connection with attempts made to release Harry K. Thaw from the Matteawan asylum for insane criminals, was postponed today until Thursday at the request of the prosecution. Thaw will testify at the trial.

When Do Social Favorites Find Time for Work?

On scanning from time to time the so-called society columns in the newspapers of two or three large cities, I have frequently been struck forcefully with the recurrence of the same names time and again. Of course this is to be expected, since the number of the social elect, of "four hundred," in each city, is supposed to be quite limited, and their frivolous doings are supposed to monopolize the columns of the paper devoted to social activities. Why not? Why, of course, the common people love to read of the brilliant entertainments of those who have reached the top of the social ladder. Affairs of other sets among the common folks do not, of course, matter.

The question that occurred to me in this connection is this: When do these people find time to work? You may hasten with the reply that, for the most part, they don't have to work, and don't work. That was my first thought, I will admit. But the fact is that many of them do work, some of them, perhaps, not because they have to, but because they have responsibilities, official or financial. Perhaps it may be the management of a great fortune, which involves labor—mental labor, at least—of the most exacting kind. Or it may be official or administrative duties.

I should say, of course, that I am speaking now largely of men. Women society leaders, of course, generally have nothing to do but to attend to their social duties. But many men, who are leaders in politics, finance or business, figure largely in the society column night after night, or even day after day. In Washington, the nation's capital, where the cares of office are supposed to weigh heavily upon cabinet officials, senators and congressmen, and other lesser officials, society is almost a business, or a part of official duty, so exacting is it in its demands. Yet I fail to see anything but childishness and a waste of time in it when a member of the cabinet takes the time to act as host to a garden party, as happened recently, or took the day off to be a member of a house party in the country, as also happened. This is as it always has been, or at least in recent years, and I can't see how they do it.

People with nothing but time on their hands and money to gratify their desires without stint, are not to be blamed so much for going the limit in the social swirl, perhaps. Life is probably dull and monotonous for them, at times, as it is. But why people of brains and responsibilities should allow society to become any more than a means of recreation from work is more than I can understand.

Serve it as a delightful purée simply by adding hot water; or make a delicate bisque by adding hot milk according to the easy directions on the label.

Give it another pleasing effect by dropping in each plateful a few little cubes of bread toasted crisp (croutons) or add a novel flavor by a little grated cheese sprinkled over it.

You can make it extremely inviting by serving it in bouillon cups topped with whipped cream; or make it extra hearty by adding noodles or vermicelli or boiled rice.

In fact it is a half a dozen soups in one; and every one is welcome and delicious.

CITY BONDS.

The city of Minneapolis the other day advertised for bids on improvement bonds to the amount of $582,786, part of a large sum the legislature has authorized the Twin Cities to issue.

Not a single bid was received, either Eastern or local.

Which leads the Pioneer Press to reflect that this experience shows this to be a poor time for the cities to try to borrow money.

"It means," says the Pioneer Press, "one of two things, and probably both. It indicates that the bond market is not what it was, or else purchasers are becoming impressed with the amount of debt the city has been accumulating. Both probably are true. The present is not an advantageous time for securing loans even for improvements that are urgently needed. A rush to sell the many St. Paul issues authorized by the legislature might very easily result in the same condition that is confronting Minneapolis—inability to find buyers. It is a particularly poor time to borrow money for uses that are not imperative."

There have been indications for some time that the practice of indiscriminate issuing of public bonds is in danger of being overdone.

Issuing bonds is an easy thing to do, because it is taking money—apparently—out of somebody else's pocket instead of out of your own. It is like a spendthrift who acquires credit: his impulse is to use it freely on the slightest pretext.

It is not astonishing that bond-buyers are taking note of the extent to which the various communities are following the practice of issuing bonds for this, that and the other thing. Easy as it seems to issue bonds and "let the next generation pay for it," there is a limit to it, and the limit is in sight when difficulty is experienced in marketing bonds.

Some of the trouble may be in the general bond market, and doubtless is, but not all of it. Until the cities handle bond issues as carefully as they have to handle cash in the treasury, city bonds, especially those of cities having large bond issues outstanding, will become less and less desirable as investments.

Issuing bonds seems an easy way to raise money for public purposes, but it is a privilege easily abused. And it isn't so easy when it is remembered that when interest is paid it costs twice as much to make an improvement by twenty-five-year four per cent bonds as it does to make it with money raised by taxation.

It is not that bond issues should be condemned indiscriminately, but this Minneapolis experience is warning that cities heavily in debt cannot continue to issue bonds indiscriminately and expect to sell them.

Before getting so insistent on recognition from the United States, Mr. Huerta ought to secure recognition from a majority of his fellow citizens.

WOOL.

Wool is the very citadel of the tariff special privilege, and there is nothing more pleasing in the public life of today than the fact that it is being raided and the citadel is being carried.

William Lindsay, United States marshal of Montana, a Republican and an ardent believer in a high protective tariff, in an interview in the Helena Independent gives an answer to those who protest that the lowering of wool tariffs will sow the seeds of ruin.

He declares that free wool will not put wool prices lower—to the producers—because the country has been on a free wool basis for several years, and has been forced there by a combination of Eastern wool dealers and manufacturers.

"Wool growers are now and have been for a number of years," says Mr. Lindsay, "at the mercy of a combination of wool dealers and manufacturers who, because of the constant agitation of the tariff question, have been able to manipulate the price of wool to suit their own need or greed.

"Were it not for the general prosperity of the country and the decreasing production of wool in the range states, the manufacturers of wool might hammer prices down to a lower level under the proposed tariff measure, but under existing conditions I doubt if the prices of wool can be forced much lower than they are at the present time."

Certainly the wool manufacturers have used the sheep raisers as catspaws to pull the chestnuts of special privilege out of the fire of politics. The best bulwark of the rotten tariff system of Old Guard Republicanism has been the combination between wool manufacturers and wool growers. If the wool manufacturers have been ungrateful enough to accept the aid of the wool growers, and then have contrived to bludgeon them out of additional profits by holding down the price of raw wool, we can be sorry for the wool growers without failing to appreciate the fitness of the punishment thus meted out to the wool growers for helping the manufacturers to gouge the consumers.

Now France and Spain are flirting desperately. Does this portend some more changes on that poor old map of Europe?

A VERY TAFTIAN TALK.

Judging by the tone of his talks to the students of Yale on problems of government, Professor Taft is worth very much more than his $5,000 a year—to somebody.

In the third of a series of lectures on "some questions of modern government," made last week, Mr. Taft provided illumination enough and to spare of the reasons why he was repudiated by the people.

In denouncing the initiative and the referendum, he said that they are "very much like legislation during the French revolution—the work of political cranks and directly contrary to the spirit of the Constitution."

Speaking of the income tax, he advocated one that would reach all incomes of more than $1,000—presumably so as to lift some of the burden from the shoulders of the multi-millionaires who agree so perfectly with the ex-president and put it on the shoulders of the plain folks who lost no time in getting him out of the presidency at their first opportunity.

To put a suitable headpiece on this structure of Toryism, President Taft added that the trouble with most present day congressmen is that "they pay too much attention to what their constituents want."

A fearful and horrible crime, that of paying heed to the wishes of the people.

Certainly it is one of which Mr. Taft may acquit himself, with no voice to disagree with him.

A kindergarten teacher was fished out of the East river in New York, and she didn't know how she came to be there. Probably saw a school of small fry in the water and acted on instinct.

THE PARCEL POST JUSTIFIES ITSELF.

What of the parcel post, which the nation demanded for many years but did not get until this year?

After four months of operation, officials of the postoffice department say that it is already a great success.

Its business is increasing at the rate of ten million packages a month, and there are strong indications that its expansion will soon be at a much more rapid pace.

Merchants are planning to extend their business, by its means, into new fields, and the number of packages of farm products sent by it is growing steadily.

This news, though not unexpected, will please those who fought for this service against odds for so many years.

President Wilson's new postmaster general is thoroughly in sympathy with the parcel post, and therefore he is construing very liberally the regulations relating to it. That's wise, and it will be appreciated. The parcel post should be made of the utmost benefit to the people, and to that end the less red tape there is mixed in it the better.

The barbers of Brooklyn are on strike. The public will be thankful the strikers struck instead of trying the sabotage game.

EMBONPOINT.

Do you know what embonpoint is? It means the possession of a generous supply of flesh; not just enough to cover one's bones, but a really generous supply. The French use the word when they want to say a person is "in good condition," or as we say, "well fed."

We use the word in this country, too, but not just the same as the French use it. When we say a person is becoming "embonpoint" we mean that he (or more likely she) is getting disgracefully and uncomfortably fat.

Which demonstrates one of the weaknesses of mankind, and one that is painfully and distressingly strong in this land of the free. It is a weakness for calling things by the prettiest names, instead of saying bluntly what we mean. And the worst of it is that we twist other words out of their right meanings in order to get a pretty name for something not entitled to it, and finally come to regard the unlovely act as no worse than the one to which the pretty name originally belonged.

Where does that tendency begin to develop in the individual? Nobody knows exactly. It certainly doesn't exist in the boy, who chooses the most disreputable sounding titles he can find to designate his games and his mates. But after he has grown up he begins to tack high-sounding titles upon depraved or unworthy acts, and by this means sometimes actually cheats himself into thinking that the acts themselves aren't so bad after all. So he goes and does one of them and is grieved and surprised when other people decline to use the same name for it that he did.

Alcoholism, for instance, sounds like an unfortunate disease. But when we say a man died of drunkenness it isn't so attractive, though the meaning is the same. An embezzler is likely to get off easily in public opinion until it occurs to somebody that he is really a thief, by whatever other name he may be called. We sometimes say a man was "not himself" when we really mean that he had poured liquor into his system until he had lost even his normal intelligence.

Of course everybody—or nearly everybody—knows what we mean by the various expressions. But it cannot be denied that we use these glossgiving names so frequently and persistently that by and by some of the gloss from the name rubs off on the thought of the action it is used to designate. And there is where the mischief comes in.

Sometimes it brings a wholesome realization of the truth to call a spade a spade. It serves to overcome a tendency toward mental and moral embonpoint.

Judging from the amount of talking he has been doing to Secretary Bryan somebody must have done a very good job of putting the Chin in Chinda.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

PAYING HIS RESPECTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your editorial of this date under heading "Reform's Rocky Path," "The Worst Obstacle to Socialism Is the Socialists and the Worst Thing About Woman Suffrage Is the Suffragettes."

Sure!

Likewise the worst obstacle to sleighing is snow; the worst obstacle to fishing is fish; the worst obstacle to preaching is preachers and the worst obstacle to heaven is angels!

Also the worst obstacle to The Herald's editorial page is the blatherskite that wrote that nonsense.

According to his logic, the way to advance a good cause is not to advocate it.

It might be well to mention that neither woman suffrage nor Socialism is "reform." They are both revolutionary movements, but then its useless to argue with a bonehead. Very truly yours, J. A. JOHNSON.

Duluth, May 8.

It is misleading to confuse the harebrained zealot whose excesses of thought and language bring discredit upon Socialism, with the humanity-loving idealist who sees in the Socialistic philosophy the hope of mankind and who seeks to advance it by reason. It is also misleading to confuse the torch-bearing, bomb-throwing suffragette who is doing more than anybody to defeat equal suffrage, with the high-minded idealist who recognizes that there can be no real democracy until all restrictions upon the ballot, including that of sex, are removed.—The Editor.

BEST ADVERTISING DULUTH HAS EVER HAD.

Editor The Duluth Herald:

It has been my privilege to see page proofs of the first 44 pages of The Herald's special number, "Duluth, the City of Industry." I must say that this great issue far surpasses my most sanguine expectations, and will be the best advertising that Duluth and Northern Minnesota have ever had.

The number is splendidly illustrated—in fact it is nearly all pictures. Yet the facts about Duluth are there too, truthfully, tersely and convincingly told.

It is to be hoped everybody in Duluth will send the "Duluth, the City of Industry number" broadcast. The Commercial club will send 4,000 copies to men in other states who are thinking of settling on Northern Minnesota farm lands.

HERBERT V. EVA, Secretary,
Commercial Club of Duluth.

Repentance.

Life: Repentance was at one time one of the larger virtues, but that was when it was comparatively easy to maintain it without expense. At present Repentance is going out, because of the expense. To repent over something you have done involves such a loss of time and energy that only the few who are too poor to care about anything else can well afford it.

For some time there has been a popular impression that Repentance was for sinners. On the contrary, it is only practical for saints.

The only form which Repentance now can take is Philanthropy. When a man has made so much that he doesn't know what to do with it, by becoming a philanthropist he can use his Repentance to the best advantage—namely, for advertising purposes.

It Is the World's Biggest Scrapheap

From Harper's Weekly.

The wreckage of hundreds of thousands of tons of steel and iron that was piled up after fire and earthquake had devastated San Francisco was called the biggest scrapheap in the world. Yet it shrinks into insignificance in comparison with the amount of scrap material that the railroads of America accumulate every year.

The scrapheaps of the railroads grow larger and larger every year, owing to the steady expansion of business. They are composed of used-up locomotives, machinery and material of every sort and description. Even at the small prices a ton or a pound at which this metal waste is sold it brings in millions of dollars every year.

Of all the vast amount of material that a railroad purchases every twelvemonth, 90 per cent eventually finds its way into the scrapheap. In no other business are the odds and ends that are no longer serviceable collected with so much care. Everything, from the frames of tin lanterns to the ponderous driving wheels of locomotives, reaches the scrap dock in the end.

But before anything is "scrapped" it has to be passed upon by about a dozen experts. They look it over to see if there is a possibility of its being used in any other way before it is sold to the junk man. On one of the Eastern railway systems, a few years ago, a large quantity of steel freight car bolsters were found to be unavailable for the type of car for which they were originally intended. One by one the mechanical experts shook their heads and voted that they be sent to the scrapdock.

But one of the examiners suggested drilling an extra hole in the condemned bolsters and using them on a different class of truck than that for which they were intended. This was done at little cost, and their journey to the junk pile was delayed.

After the material gets to the scrapdock another set of experts goes over it. There was a time when the junk dealers knew more about the value of scrap metal than the railroad men. The dealers bought craftily and at low prices, because the scrap was sorted into only a few classes when it was offered for sale. After buying the material the dealers re-sorted it and made big profits. Many of them grew very rich.

Nowadays the Railway Storekeepers' association is as wise to the value of the scrap as the dealers. The members of the association have been studying it year after year and discussing it at their annual meetings. At present scrap is classified into more than a hundred different grades and varieties. Each has its market price. There is no longer a chance for speculation or guessing. The railways are getting more for their waste material today than ever before. The average is between $15 and $16 a ton.

When the car scrap is picked up and loaded on the cars it is only roughly sorted. Its final sorting and classification occurs when it reaches the scrap docks. The manual labor of unloading and handling this material used to be a very heavy item of expense. Now big electro magnets attached to movable cranes save much time and money. One of these cranes will do the work of fifty men.

Stories for Baby Jimmy

Benjamin S. Brown in Home Progress: When 20-month-old Jimmy, slavish imitator of 4-year-old sister, clambers into your lap, settles himself comfortably with your arm around him, looks up into your face with perfect trust, and says "To-ry"—what shall you tell him?

Some Jimmies love the sweet music of mother's voice, no matter what she tells—even if she reads George Eliot, or "Rambles in Rome." But maybe your Jimmy slides to the floor after a moment, unless he gets ideas from your words.

Our Jimmy happens to be of the restless variety. And we have learned what kind of stories he wants. Mother, who is watching him all day long, remembers how he will take a piece of soap in hand and run to the bathroom—or carry a cup to the kitchen sink—or will reiterate "bye bye" upon seeing his coat and cap—or will run to the cracker box when hungry—or will seek a piece of paper on which to write, if he finds a pencil—or will call "Bye bye, grandma," if one mentions his grandmother.

Therefore, mother's stories to Jimmy consist of successions of simple words, each of which suggests an idea to his mind, and each word associated in his mind with the one just before it. Thus the baby can follow the strong thread of her story—which, indeed, is little but the thread. Big sister likes plenty of little beads of ornament and variety on her story thread—and a great big bead for a climax. Mother's stories, then, are told to Jimmy something like this:

"Once upon a time there was a little boy named Jimmy, and he was playing on the floor in mother's room. This little boy found a piece of soap on the floor, and he took it to the bathroom, and put it back where it belonged in the rack on the bathtub."

"Once upon a time there was a little boy who had a silver cup to drink water out of. And when he was thirsty he would bring the cup to mother and ask for a drink, please, and she would go with him to the kitchen and get some water in the cup, and the little boy would drink the water."

Every week or so Jimmy gets a larger dose of "plot" in his stories. When he was 18 months old, he was merely led along from simple, easy word to easy, simple word—at that age his very simple "ideas" were, in strict truth, the very simple "words" of his vocabulary. At 20 months he had pictures in his mind that could be lighted up by the grouping of two or more words. So, as his experience broadens, his conceptions become more complex, and larger numbers of words group themselves for him into a single mental picture. For a few months yet, perhaps—until he is past 2 years old—he must be content merely to pass from one idea, from one picture, to another. After a while he will be able to hold all the pictures of a story together in his mind until the last word of the story is spoken; to combine all these pictures and make them contribute their effect to the climax, and conclusion.

Logic.

Life: Logic is a method employed by some people to convince themselves that they are right upon any question in which it would be extremely inconvenient for them to be proved wrong.

Logic is indulged in almost exclusively by professors and young married men. Old married men know better. They usually employ silence instead.

Logic is generally used as a substitute for experience. It has essayed upon several occasions to compete with ridicule, but has generally failed to come to time after the first round.

Logic shrinks before poetry, invention, art and character. It is the last resort of mediocrity.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Bassett Moore, counselor for Mr. Bryan's department of state, is one of the leading authorities of the country on international law. He has written books on the subject that are the final tidings. Furthermore, he was assistant secretary of state in 1898 and was secretary and counsel of the Spanish-American Peace conference at Paris in that year. From all this, even the most skeptical reader will grasp the idea that John Bassett Moore knows, something about international law and the relations of nations one to the other. He knows where the various nations are and what comprise their rights.

Having that in mind let us now go back several years—back to 1885 when Secretary Bayard was running the state department. A friend of Bayard walked into the office one day and said:

"I have a young man I want to get a job for in the state department, but I'm not sure he can get through his civil service examination. See if you can't throw a little influence his way. He's a fairly bright young man, but I'm afraid he can't pass in geography. He doesn't know one country from another."

The young man contrived to slip through and got a job in the state department, regardless of his lack of information about geography.

Representative L. Lazaro of Louisiana is, strictly speaking, not Representative Lazaro at all. Only one generation back the family name was something entirely different. Lazaro's father was born in Russia. His name—as one recalls it—was Bellanovitch, or one similar—Lazaro Bellanovitch. When he came to this country he brought along his entire name, and it proved a great burden. No matter where he went or what he tried to do for a living, none of his associates could pronounce his name, and many would not even try. He feared he might eventually be known just by a number. So that he determined to have no more of the long name and one night he took it out and lost it. No one ever knew what happened to it, but it was never heard of more. Then his first name became his last name.

Thus, we have a man in congress today, successor to Pujo, of the money trust investigators, known as Lazaro.

When Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo starts to do anything he goes right ahead. Also, he has a good outfit of nerves.

As an illustration of this one may recall an incident in the construction of the Hudson Terminal building, in New York. The building was put up in seven months, which, for a twenty-two story structure is moving along first rate. It was necessary to avoid delay at any hazard, because nine-tenths of the floor space was leased to be ready at a certain date before the building was half way up. The contractors had it figured down almost to the hour just when they should have each story erected, in order to finish the job on time.

When they got to the roof there was a hitch, and the work began to fall behind. McAdoo, being head of the company, tried to find what the difficulty was, but the roof was a long way up in the air, and information from there was fragmentary.

"I'm going up to the roof to find what's the matter," announced McAdoo

His friends thought he was joking, for it was a windy day, and the only floors in the building consisted of an occasional plank laid between two steel beams.

There was a little hod elevator up and down, but McAdoo did not choose to ascend in that way. He watched two workmen fitting a chain around a big steel girder, and when they started the machinery to lift the piece up twenty-two stories, the tall, gaunt figure of William Gibbs McAdoo was calmly seated on the girder.

He walked about the perilous beams at the top story until he had got the information he desired and then asked to be sent down.

"You won't dare go the way you came," said a foreman. "On the down trip they're apt to give what's known as the 'zoop,' which is a sudden drop that makes you feel as if you had dropped your stomach and your nerve down into your shins."

"Zoop or no zoop, I'm going down the way I came up," declared McAdoo. And he placed his foot in the big iron hook at the end of the long chain. A workman sought to climb on and throw his arms around McAdoo to keep him from falling off.

"Go ay-way," said McAdoo. And he swung out into the air twenty-two stories above the uncushioned pavement.

By the time he reached the street, nearly all the newspapers in New York had men on the scene. The foreman up on the roof had telephoned down below that McAdoo had gone nutty.

It took him the rest of the day explaining that he was neither killed nor crazy. His compensation was that he got the information he went after, the work speeded up and the building was completed on time.

His Lack of Will.

Chicago Record-Herald: "I used to think my husband had such a strong will," she complained.

"He has never seemed to me," her friend replied, "to be a man who was lacking in will power. Is he a slave to drink or to tobacco or anything like that?"

"Oh, no. He gave up smoking three years ago, and I got him to go on the water wagon at the first of the year. He hasn't tasted any kind of liquor since."

"It seems to me you ought to be proud of him. A man who can give up smoking and absolutely refrain from tasting any kind of strong drink must have a will that is extraordinary."

"Perhaps it is as you say, but I have been trying for more than a year to get him to give up the habit of nodding in the affirmative when he says yes at the telephone. He just can't seem to quit it."

But Why the Wheelbarrow?

Belleville Intelligencer: While the orchestra played Mendelssohn's wedding march, William C. Siebentritt wheeled his bride, Miss Laura Violet Hexman, who came to the altar in a prettily decorated wheelbarrow.

The State Legislature

Press Views on the Session.

Good to Northern Minnesota.

Aurora News: The session of the state legislature just closed was good to Northern Minnesota. Many laws desired by the people were passed and much progress was shown. The only cloud was the enormous appropriations that were made.

State Population.

Brown's Valley Tribune: It would be well to place public utilities under a state commission with a law that would define the duties of such commission to sift and squeeze out the water of all such companies and corporations and then fix a reasonable maximum basis of profit, permitting the concerns to charge lower rates and less profits if they desired to do so. We do not believe that the state should go to the extent of interfering with competition between concerns.

Best in Years.

Sauk Center Herald: In the Herald's opinion the 1913 Minnesota legislature was the best the state has had for some years, from the standpoint of work accomplished. When the legislature assembled, grave fears were entertained that, owing to the large number of new members in the lower house, the enactment of legislation of value would be difficult of accomplishment. Fortunately these fears were groundless, and the state's lawmaking body came through with an excellent record of work well done.

Each Man for Himself.

Crosby Crucible: The shades of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and other patriotic citizens of the past glory of this nation, were put out of a job when the state legislature passed the non-partisan county officers, law. Hereafter the candidate will have to point to his own worth to get a job—he cannot rely on the party pull, the nation's heroes or the thrilling colors of Old Glory to land him into a place he is not fitted for.

One View of Progress.

Menahga Journal: The number of freak measures passed by the late legislature exceed by hundreds the number enacted during the several sessions of the past ten years—so that is what you call progressive legislation, is it?

Whole State Benefited.

Roseau Region: The whole state was benefited by the work of the legislature that adjourned last week. Not only was the progressive sentiment given a substantial advancement, but many good measures of interest to the agricultural needs of the state, to the laboring people, to the public schools, to the industries were adopted. The legislature was especially good to Northern Minnesota. Acts encouraging settlement and protecting state's timber interests were passed, and above all the reapportionment of legislative districts gives this section of the state a power in subsequent legislatures that it is entitled to. This whole section will rejoice over the recognition given it and the entire state will be the gainer therefrom.

The Tax Increase.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: There is a terrific outcry about the appropriations made by the late lamented legislature. An increase of taxes always hits hard. Yet these same newspapers are lauding to the skies the various items of legislation which made these increased appropriations necessary. It seems a settled fact of political economy that one cannot have his cake and eat it too. The critics should give a bill of particulars if they wish to make their complaints forcible. Which particular appropriations were bad?

Times Do Change.

Anoka Union: Twenty years ago thousands in appropriations would suffice. Today nothing but millions will do, and the people are burdened with high taxes.

The Dawn of a Better Day.

(This poem was read at a banquet of the Cotton Garment Manufacturers of New York the last week of March. The author, a representative manufacturer, dedicated these verses, reflecting a new attitude toward employes, to his business associates.)

Do we purchase Toil at the lowest rate
As we buy our cloth and thread?
Do our workers labor long and late
For the price of their daily bread
In gloomy lofts where shadows frown,
In foul, unwholesome air,
Till Want and Weariness drag them down
Where—we neither know nor care?
If such things be, they must pass away
Ere we hail the Dawn of a Better Day.

Have they wrought us harm in the darker days,
Have they kept the whole truth hid?
Have they told false tales of our works and ways
And of wrongs that we never did?
Be not too wroth at the hiss of shame,
But pass old slanders by.
And cleanse your skirts of the taint of blame
Where e'er the blame may lie.
Old feuds, old sores be forgot for aye
In the hopeful Dawn of a Better Day.

Let us wipe the slate of the bitter score,
Let us turn the blotted page,
And grant that we owe our workers more
Than the dole of a living wage.
They give us more than their time and skill
In the health and strength they spend;
And earn the right to the kindly will
And helpful hand of a friend.
We must give them more than the coin we pay
Ere we hail the Dawn of a Better Day.

So, here's a task that we may not shirk.
For the toiling thousands plead;
We must give them comfort while they work
And help in every need;
We must lend them strength if their souls are weak
And teach them how to live;
Nor let us, all too meanly, seek
Return for all we give,
As we lift our eyes for the gladdening ray
Of the golden Dawn of a Better Day.

If this light that leads us shall not dim
They will see, ere the course is run,
That the worker's weal and the weal of him
Who owns the shops are one.
Then each shall have his rightful gain
Ungrudged—and great and small
Shall give their best of hand and brain
For the good of each and all—
And we'll stand together, come what may,
In the brighter Dawn of a Better Day!

The Dropsical Old Fraud.

New York Sun: That dreary, dropsical old fraud, the Congressional Record, contains in the number of May 2 among other ironical comments on its name a speech which purports to have been delivered in the house April 24 by the Hon. Edward L. Hamilton. As a slight contribution toward the study of comparative vanity and humbug we have taken the trouble to make a census of the demonstrations of emotion which Mr. Hamilton's masterpiece elicited according to him and after his discriminating editorship: "[Laughter]," 16; "[Renewed laughter]," 2; "[Laughter on the Republican side]," 9; "[Laughter and applause on the Republican side]," 5; "[Laughter and applause]," 1; "[Applause on the Republican side]," 13; "[Prolonged applause on the Republican side]," 1. There are forty-seven brackets of approval in less than five pages of matter. If Mr. Hamilton of Michigan is as good a mixer as he is a sprinkler he is sure of his district as long as he lives.

In this same specimen of the dropsical old fraud the Hon. John I. Noland, M. C., of California fills forty-six pages with divers letters to himself remonstrating against the proposed reduction of the duty on sugar. "I desire to ask your attention," "any legislation which will destroy or prevent the expansion of the beet sugar industry," the cut and dried formula of an "acceleration" are obvious. The printing of the names and letters may please the Protestants and Mr. Nolan's name is reverberated therein some hundreds of times. Why should the United States have to pay the bill?

Must the Congressional Record be always the same old, swollen dropsical, padded, lying fraud?

VERIFY IT

The Proof Is In Duluth, Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Duluth citizen is in itself strong proof for Duluth people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Duluth citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved weak kidneys and now states the result was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

William Bain, shoemaker, 1402 E. Fourth St., Duluth, Minn., says: "Whenever I have any trouble from my back, I find that Doan's Kidney Pills cure me. All I said about them in a public statement I gave some years ago, holds good. My kidneys were disordered and my back hurt me a great deal. I had heard and read of Doan's Kidney Pills being good for that trouble and finally got some. I used two or three boxes and I improved in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Bulbs and When to Plant Them.

No flower garden is complete today unless it contains some of the many plants which grow from bulbs. There is an infinite variety to choose from—some hardy, some tender, and all beautiful. By using care in selecting and planting one may have a continuous succession of bloom from May 15 until our hard frosts come in the fall.

Most of the hardy bulbs should be planted in September and October, but there are few of them which may be planted in the spring with excellent results.

Among the latter are dahlias and gladiola, both of which should be planted now. The horticulturist has worked wonders with the dahlia. Twenty-five years ago the dahlia was a stiff, prim flower, suitable for a set border only, and blooming late in the fall. Today we have five or six well defined types and several hundred varieties. Many of them begin to bloom early in July and continue until cut off by the frost. The cactus dahlias rival the Japanese chrysanthemums in beauty, grace and variety of color and shading. They are not only very showy for massing in the open ground but are very beautiful and effective for cutting. Dahlias should be planted in soil that has been spaded deep and well pulverized but where the drainage is good. The crown containing the eyes should be about three inches under the ground. If you have started dahlias in pots, do not transfer them to the open ground until about June 1. The plants are very sensitive to frost. If the roots are put in the ground now they will not appear above ground for two or three weeks. In the fall, lift the roots and store in a cool dry cellar. Do not separate until spring and then be careful to leave an eye on each root. The eyes grow well up on the neck of each root.

To obtain the best results gladioli should be planted now. Their blooming season is rather late, but they make September glorious with their brilliant spikes of bloom, ranging through all of the colors of the rainbow. After the first frost lift the bulbs, stalks and all and store on a dry shelf in your cellar. In the spring, remove the stalk and the old bulb of the season before and plant the fresh bulb. Like the dahlia the gladiola is very sensitive to frost.

All of the following lilies are hardy here and may be planted either spring or fall: Lily of the valley, tiger lily, blackberry lily and lilium elegans. The last named variety gives great masses of flame-colored lilies in June and is as hardy as an oak.

Lilium auratum and lilium candidum should be planted in August to give best results and both should have some winter protection. The former is the beautiful gold banded lily of Japan and the latter is the beautiful white Madonna lily.

I had almost forgotten the Hemerocallis and the Funkias, commonly known as day lilies. We have about a dozen varieties now—yellow, orange, white and blue. They are all hardy and fragrant and may be planted either spring or fall.

While Iris may be planted in the spring they are more satisfactory when planted in September. The Japanese Iris is a little too tender to give good satisfaction in this latitude and should always have winter protection but the German and Siberian families are perfectly hardy and many of them are almost as beautiful as orchids. They are so easy of culture, so beautiful and so fragrant that every one should grow them.

To get the best results peonies should be planted in September. There are now over 1,000 varieties of this marvelous flower—some early bloomers, some late. Many of them rival the rose in frangrance and exquisite shadings. They are not only perfectly hardy, but grow in strength and beauty with each succeeding year. I have fifteen varieties and I should like to have 100.

The Dutch bulbs, i. e., tulips, hyacinths, jonquils and hardy narcissus should be planted in October or just before the ground freezes in the fall. These bulbs are cheap now, and as they give the first spring flowers they should be liberally planted. In buying Dutch bulbs, one should always get from a reliable source, as there is a great difference in the quality of these bulbs.

In an article such as this it is difficult to cover the ground satisfactorily. If you have bulb problems and will bring them to me, I will try to help you solve them.

MOTHER AND CHILD SEVERELY BURNED

Flames in Clothing of Little Girl Extinguished By Parent.

Elinora, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Szostak of Twenty-eighth avenue west and Sixth street, was severely burned while playing about a bonfire in front of her home Saturday afternoon. Her clothes were aflame when noticed by her mother. Rushing to her child the mother put out the flames and was badly burned about the arms and shoulders.

Mother and child were taken to St. Mary's hospital and both are expected to recover. The child had been playing with other children of the neighborhood at the fire. The child had approached too close to the flames and her clothes catching fire enveloping her. The mother had witnessed the accident and ran to her daughter's aid immediately smothering the fire when she gathered the child in her arms.

CHILDREN WILL ENTERTAIN PARENTS

School children of the Emerson school, Eleventh avenue west and Third street, have planned a splendid program to be given tomorrow evening. Invitations have been extended to all the parents of the district and those interested in the work of the school to attend the entertainment.

The following program will be given:

Song—"Voices of the Wood" ..... Girls' Chorus.
Stepping exercises ..... Second Grade.
Dramatization—"Pandora and the Box" ..... First Grade.
Reading—Selected ..... Mrs. Harry Douglas Bostwick.
Folk dances ..... Seventh and Eighth Grade Girls.
Vocal solo—Selected ..... Miss Gladys Reynolds.
Flag and hoop drill ..... Fifth Grade.
Play—"The Town Meeting in Killingworth" ..... Eighth Grade.
Scarf drill ..... Sixth Grade.
Dumb-bell exercise ..... Seventh Grade.
Play—"The Golden Goose" ..... Fourth Grade.
Indian club drill ..... Eighth Grade.

PASTOR CONTINUES ORGANIZATION WORK.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, who for the past three months has been pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, will leave within a few days to continue organization work for the Augustana Synod of Swedish Lutheran churches of America. He will spend about two weeks visiting new congregations in Northern Minnesota and will go to Chicago in June to attend the annual conference of the synod.

E. E. Ryden, a theological student from the Augustana Theological college of Rock Island, Ill., will arrive this week to have charge of the local congregation. He will remain in Duluth until next October.

Rev. Mr. Hanson will spend considerable time following the annual conference in reorganizing an English church at Omaha and will later visit Western cities for the same purpose. He will probably return to this city in the fall in response to the call recently extended him by the local congregation.

The call to fill the local pulpit requests him to take charge on Jan. 1, 1914. At that time his contract as field superintendent for the Augustana synod expires. While Rev. Mr. Hanson has not given an official reply to the congregation he is said to have intimated that he will accept.

CLASS CONFIRMED BY REV. F. O. HANSON.

A class of nineteen members took confirmation vows from Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the English Trinity Lutheran church at the Swedish Bethany Lutheran church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following the examination in the afternoon the class took its first communion last evening. Mrs. A. Lofgren gave a solo selection at the former exercises.

At the evening services Rev. Mr. Hanson received a class of other members into the church. This brings the number of the congregation well over 100.

The members of the confirmation class admitted to the church were: Alma Hanson, Ernest Sundholm, William Willner, Alvin Carlson, Berghold Haldren, Carl Sorenson, Arthur Stenberg, Adolph Gullekson, Gustaf Gullekson, Clifford Lind, Mabel Fredstad, Beda Wahl, Lillian Nickelson, Florence Madison, Esther Berg, Hazel Sundholm, Esther Sampson and Anna Hanson.

LYONS FUNERAL.

Details of Fatal Accident Not Yet Known By Parents.

The body of James Lyons, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, 2409 West Ninth street, who was killed in an accident near Crandon, Wis., was brought to the city Saturday evening. The funeral was held this morning from the Polish Catholic church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Fifth street. Interment was made in the Polish cemetery.

The nature of the accident has not as yet been learned. Mr. Lyons, the boy's father, will leave this evening for Crandon to investigate the accident. The boy left here about two weeks ago for the purpose of securing work in that locality and no word had been heard from him until his folks were notified of his death.

Luther League.

The Luther league of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will entertain tomorrow evening at a social following its regular business meeting. A program of music, followed by refreshments, will be given. Among selections to be given are a recitation by Miss Ruth Anderson; song, quartet, and a reading by Miss Hildegard Miller.

Church Program.

"The Social Relation to Young People" will be the subject of an address to be given Friday evening before the Young People's union at the Central Baptist church. A program of music will also be given.

Entertains for Bride.

Miss Rita Hunt, 19 Chestnut street, entertained Saturday evening for Miss Clara M. Bartison whose wedding will take place this month. The guests were Misses Helen McCue, Matilda Clementson, Elizabeth Coleman, Julia Naddy, Elizabeth Allenger, Katherine Malony, Mabel Hedberg, Bridget Newcomb, Ruth Bowers, Mrs. Edward Dunleavy and Mrs. Lorinda Hunt.

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will meet Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the church instead of on May 21 as planned. Mrs. Milton Fish will be leader. Three papers will be given on the subject "History of the Mormons." Mrs. Leigh Gunther will read a paper on "Geographical and Natural Resources of Utah;" Mrs. McBride will read a paper on "Comparison of Mormonism and Dowieism with revival under Wesley and Finney" and Mrs. White will read a paper on "Sketches of the Lives of Mohammet, Joseph Smith, Buddha and The Christ."

Birthday Party.

Milton Murphy, 1116 Garfield avenue entertained at a birthday party at his home Saturday evening. The guests were Misses Evelyn Liberty, Lillian Newlander, Mildred Leslie, Hilda Leslie, Helga Jacobson, Rosena Cyr, Mrs. Mayme Robillard and Messrs. John Carney, Elmer Nelson, William Bodin, Arthur Liberty, Roy Wallin, Clifford Carlson, Arthur Olson and Leo Butterfield.

Surprised By Friends.

Mrs. William Martineau, 316 South Twenty-sixth avenue west, was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Progressive pedro was played. Mrs. Martineau and Mrs. E. J. Burns won the prizes. The guests were Mrs. G. Gelineau, Mrs. A. J. Mulligan, Mrs. J. F. Lee, Mrs. E. J. Burns, Mrs. E. Longlois, Mrs. T. Robinson, Mrs. G. Royer, Mrs. J. Martineau, Mrs. W. Humerchous, Mrs. A. Swan, Mrs. W. Swan, Mrs. A. White, C. Anderson, W. Anderson, T. Robinson and W. Martineau.

Luncheon for Niece.

Mrs. W. Barren, 2809 West Second street, entertained Saturday at a luncheon in honor of her niece, Mrs. J. U. Marsman of Saskatoon, Can. The guests were: Mrs. E. Bortz, Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. J. A. Seeley, Mrs. W. A. Hood, Mrs. W. Anderson and Miss Tinie Barrnen.

Peter Karlinski Dies.

Peter Karlinski, 57 years old, died at his home on Fourth street and Thirty-second avenue early Sunday morning. He leaves a widow and several children. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the Polish Catholic church. Interment will be made in the Polish cemetery.

West End Briefs.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the First Swedish Methodist church, is recovering rapidly from an operation for appendicitis. He expects to be able to get out of the hospital this week.

The Sunday school board of the Grace Methodist church will meet Friday evening at the home of R. R. Forward, 2701 West Fourth street. The meeting was scheduled for tomorrow evening, but later postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Crawford, 2415 West Third street, are spending a few days visiting relatives in the Twin Cities.

Miss Verna Lindsay, who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Mae Baillie, 322 Twenty-third avenue west, has left for her home in Hibbing.

The Rosary Society of the St. Clement's church will be entertained in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. A. Farrington and Mrs. Moriarity will be hostesses.

John Seglin returned yesterday from a short business trip to Minneapolis. He is planning to open a hardware store on Superior street between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenues.

FISHERMEN DELIGHTED

No Changes Made in Fishing Laws By Minnesota Legislature.

Bills Proposed By Joint Committee of Two States Are Dropped.

Fishermen at the Head of the Lakes are delighted with the failure of proposed legislation regulating the fishing industry. At a hearing here by a joint committee of the Minnesota and Wisconsin legislatures, and later at St. Paul and Madison strong protests were filed on behalf of the fishermen, who claimed their business would be ruined. The protests were evidently effective.

W. D. Tomlin, secretary of the fishermen's organization, has received a letter from Senator George C. Carpenter of Buffalo, who was chairman of the joint committee, notifying him that the proposed legislation had failed to pass. Hence the law remains as it was during the last two years.

The joint committee proposed a closed season on white fish for six years, a change in the lake trout closed season and changes of meshes of nets for herring fishing. The changes were vigorously opposed by the fishermen. Secretary Tomlin personally registered the protests at St. Paul and Wisconsin fishermen took it up with their legislators. Secretary Tomlin says he was given great aid in his efforts by Senator H. W. Chendle.

Secretary Tomlin now has up with Senators Nelson and Clapp the question of the rights of Minnesota fishermen in common boundary waters. He claims they have been unjustly arrested by Wisconsin game wardens and fined by Wisconsin justices of the peace and have been unable to fight the cases through on account of lack of funds.

MAY GRAND JURY MAKES FINAL REPORT

The May grand jury finished its work in district court late Saturday afternoon, returning eighteen indictments and two no true bills. In all the grand jury returned twenty-nine indictments and three no true bills, a report having been made earlier in the week.

Those indicted Saturday who are in custody were:

Peter Perelli for murder, first degree. He is charged with killing Michael Lenovitch at the county poor farm on March 26.

Elmer McLean for grand larceny, first degree.

Mike Foley for grand larceny, second degree.

Otis Hance, colored, for conducting an opium joint.

Gust Furman for assault, second degree.

Walter H. Allen for grand larceny, second degree.

Arthur J. Moss for assault in the second degree.

Fred Davis, George Marshall and George Byron for burglary.

Stans Nowak for burglary in the third degree.

James Fitzgibbons for assault in the third degree.

Mathew Engels for assault in the second degree.

John Moody for white slavery. Two indictments were returned against Moody, who is a negro.

Arraignments are expected to be made today before Judge Dancer.

EXPEND $2,500 TO CLEAN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—The week beginning June 2 has been set apart by Mayor Henry W. Kiel as "clean-up week." The city will spend $2,500 in a systematic cleansing. Residents will be asked by the police to do their share. A week before June 2 circulars in English, Italian, German and Hebrew will be circulated by the police calling on citizens to collect their rubbish so that the municipal ash wagons may gather it.

ASKS COURT TO THINK AGAIN.

Washington, May 12.—In an attempt to prevent some of the law's delays, Attorney General McReynolds has joined in a petition of a committee of the American Bar association, asking the supreme court to grant a rehearing of its decision that a Federal appellate court may not correct verdicts of juries when they believe insufficient evidence has been introduced to support them. The court, 5 to 4, held that a reversal by an appellate court violated the seventh amendment of the Constitution, and a retrial by a jury was necessary to overturn the original verdict.

SOCIALISTS TO SEE CONDITIONS.

Chicago, May 12.—Victor L. Berger, former Socialist member of congress from Milwaukee; Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, and Adolph Germer of Illinois, have been appointed a committee of the Socialist party to investigate the conditions of miners in West Virginia, and make a report to President Wilson. The committee was named at a meeting of the national committee of the Socialist party.

Imports May Break Records.

Washington, May 12.—Imports of manufactured materials this year into the United States will exceed those of any previous fiscal year, if the figures of the first nine months, ending with March, can be taken as a criterion. Statistics by the department of commerce show that eight of the ten important articles forming the bulk of such imports are in excess of previous high-water marks.

NELSON FAVORS M'ADOO'S PLAN

Senator for Years Urged Interest Charged on U. S. Funds.

Washington, May 12.—Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota is heartily in accord with the purpose of Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department to charge the banks interest at the rate of 2 per cent on their government deposits, beginning July 1. What the Minnesota statesman for several years had been trying to secure through a mandatory statute, the new secretary of the treasury is to secure through the exercise of his executive discretion. The statute would be the better form, however, for then no succeeding secretary, assuming the 2 per cent rate to be unjust, would have the right, in his discretion, to go back to the old practice.

"When congress was enacting the Vreeland emergency currency law, in 1908," said Senator Nelson, "I tried my best to induce the adoption by the senate of an amendment providing for interest at 2 per cent on all government deposits in national banks, but Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, which had jurisdiction over the legislation, would not consent. All I could secure was a provision, which is now the law, levying interest on the so-called inactive government deposits in the banks. Under that provision the government has, since the passage of the Vreeland act, been collecting a small sum yearly on these inactive deposits. The great bulk of the government money, however, is made up of what is known as the active deposits, and on these no tax has been levied. Secretary McAdoo's plan would include the deposits of both kinds."

It is pointed out at the treasury department, in support of Secretary McAdoo's plan, that 2 per cent is what the banks pay each other for deposits. For instance, if a Western bank should send $10,000 of its friends to its New York correspondent, which is the custom, it would be paid at the rate of 2 per cent a year by that bank. If the banks can afford to pay each other 2 per cent on deposits, it is the belief of Secretary McAdoo that they can afford to pay 2 per cent to the government.

MICHIGAN FRUIT CROP DAMAGED.

South Haven, Mich., May 12.—After careful estimation of hundreds of orchards in the Southwestern Michigan fruit belt, well posted fruit growers declare that one-half of the promised bumper crop of everything but late fall apples was killed by the freeze of Friday and Saturday nights. There will be no early strawberries or pears, they say, though the latter varieties were less seriously affected.

Smudging was resorted to in many places, but generally proved ineffectual, as the frosts had penetrated the orchards before they could be warmed.

The damage along the Lake Michigan shore was less severe than in the interior.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

COVINGTON, Ky., is destined to become a "spotless town." Here is what the health officials accomplished in six hours: Arrested two men for expectorating on the floors of street cars; adopted resolutions placing the ban on the bread boxes outside of groceries; instructed doctors to report transfer of tuberculosis patients; compel taxpayers to connect property with sewers; prohibit littering of streets with paper.

Municipalities will get results when they do something more than pass resolutions and issue warnings which are little better than "bluffs." When the officials demonstrate that they mean to do as they say they will get action. In many cities a considerable part of the public is educated to the threats which have been so common in the past and take them at their true rather than their pretended value. So long as that policy continues, so long will a large percentage of the people pay no heed. Where the law is clear and orders are followed by arrests, not once but all the time, it will not be long before those who have done nothing to observe regulations will abide by them without question or delay. Covington has evidently started out to make good its "bluff."

CRAZY IN SAND HILLS.

Man Hailing From Superior Found Wandering in North Dakota.

Lisbon, N. D., May 12. —(Special to The Herald.)—Iver Vis was found in a demented condition in the sand hills near the southern edge of Ransom county and until after several days' medical treatment could not tell his name or home. He claimed to be from Superior, Wis., and after he recovered sufficiently to make the trip was sent to that place.

RICH MINNEAPOLIS MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Henry Friedlander's Body Found With Bullet in Head.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—The body of Henry Friedlander, aged about 56 years, and said to be wealthy, was found in an alley here today with a bullet wound in the side of his head. It has not been determined by the authorities whether he was murdered or had committed suicide.

THUNDER BOLT KILLS FIVE MEN.

Collinsville, Okla., May 12.—Five employes of the Texas Pipe Line company were instantly killed today by a stroke of lightning. Two others were probably fatally injured. The men were driving to the company's oil field, three miles from town when the bolt struck them.

THE ACID TEST BRIGHT'S DISEASE

10 grammes Picric Acid.
10 grammes Citric Acid.
Water to make one litre.

Equal quantities of this re-agent and specimen from case of Bright's Disease, in test tube will, in 24 hours, show the percentage of albumen. Put the patient on Fulton's Renal Compound. Test every few days for twenty days and you will know to a certainty whether the albumen is decreasing or not. (As the albumen decreases the microscope commonly shows the casts also to be disapearing.) Thus that Fulton's Renal Compound lessens the escape of albumen and permits recovery in many cases of Bright's Disease no one need doubt. (Usually takes from ten to twenty days to begin to show.)

The new agent is a mild infusion without opiates or heart stimulants. The substance of the formula surrounds each bottle. Its action being on Renal degeneration prescriptions do not conflict. Commonly gets recoveries alone where there is a fair heart and recuperative power.

With failure admitted in chronic cases on the orthodox treatment, relatives of patients having Bright's Disease owe it to themselves and the patients to put the above to the test. Fulton's Renal Compound can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug company.

For pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease, write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

H. W. COFFIN PASSES AWAY

Well-Known Resident of Glen Avon Dies After Operation.

Come to Duluth More Than Twenty-Six Years Ago.

Herbert W. Coffin, 55 years of age, a well known resident and real estate dealer of Duluth, died Saturday night at Rochester, Minn., following an operation.

The body was brought to Duluth and the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon with services at 2:30 p. m. at the residence, 1925 Woodland avenue.

Mr. Coffin has been a resident of Duluth over twenty-six years. He was born at Alton, N. H., Jan 29, 1858, and graduated from the Westfield Massachusetts Normal school. He came West in 1879, going to Mankato, Minn., where he was principal of the Franklin school for several years. He resigned from school work to go into business, and came to Duluth in December, 1886. Ever since that time he has been prominent in the real estate, loan and pine lands business. For fifteen years he was associated with Amos L. Warner and after Mr. Warner's retirement from the firm, Mr. Coffin conducted the business.

Mr. Coffin was married in Mankato, in 1882 to Mary E. Shirk, who with one daughter, Miss Esther Coffin, survives. Mr. Coffin also leaves a brother and sister, Edgar A. Coffin and Miss Florence Coffin, living at Seattle.

Mr. Coffin was a director of the Y. M. C. A. of Duluth and was intensely interested in its work. He had been an elder of the Presbyterian church for twenty-two years. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin were members of the First Presbyterian church of Duluth for six years and transferred their membership to the Glen Avon Presbyterian church on moving to Woodland. It was largely due to their efforts and enthusiastic support that the Glen Avon congregation was able to erect a new church a few years ago.

Mr. Coffin organized the company which financed the old Chamber of Commerce building, now the Manhattan building, and he was largely responsible for its erection.

During all of the time he lived in Duluth he was a very active but modest worker in almost every branch of philanthropy, and had many private charities, of which only his intimate friends knew.

HARVESTER "TRUST" EXPERTS GIVEN RAP

North Dakota Man Says His Own Employes Did Better Work.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The expert service" of the International Harvester company received a rap today during the hearing of the government's suit for dissolution of the company under the Sherman law, when Albert Sylvester, a dealer of Church's Ferry, N. D., testified on cross-examination that one expert sent to his firm last summer by the company was "not as good as their man" and they were forced to "let the expert go."

The defense in the hearing here has attempted to bring out from dealers that the "expert service" has been bettered and that improvements on the machines have been extensive in the last ten years.

That the International proved the salvation of the farmers of North Dakota last summer, was the testimony of A. O. Sather, a dealer of Starkweather, N. D. Mr. Sather explained that Minnesota prison twine is used in North Dakota, but that under the law it can be sold to firms outside Minnesota only when there is a surplus. The heavy crops prevented such a surplus last year, he declared, and Dakota dealers were left without twine at the last minute. He declared that in such an emergency he called upon the International agent and the latter sent him a carload of twine by express, saving the crops for the community. On cross-examination he said that he paid the express and increased the price to farmers one-half cent.

Dealers from North Dakota and one from Montana, G. H. Hulmer of Miles City, were on the stand today. Three witnesses were excused because their names were not on the list furnished to the government ten days in advance.

WANTS ALASKAN COAL FOR THE NAVY

Jemmett Tells Senate Committee About His Theory.

Washington, May 12.—Government coal reservations in Alaska for the exclusive use of the United States navy were advocated today before the senate territories committee by F. G. Jemmett, treasurer of the Alaskan Northern railway.

Mr. Jemmett declared it cost the government about $8.50 to take eastern coal to San Francisco and Seattle. If the Alaska fields were developed, he said, the cost would be materially lessened and the Pacific coast naval stations would be able to keep unlimited supplies on hand. Mr. Jemmett argued that practically all the coal taken around the Horn for navy use was carried in foreign bottoms which would be unavailable in time of war.

MARY GARDEN SAILS FOR EUROPE WITH PLANS FOR FUTURE IN DOUBT

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

MARY GARDEN.

Mary Garden has sailed for Europe with her future, so far as America is concerned, shrouded in considerable doubt. It is said her contract for the American season was with Andreas Dippel personally and his separation from the management of the Chicago company may make a change in Mary's plans. But she has little doubt of the attitude of the American people toward her and wherever she sings she is sure of a splendid welcome. Mary makes more friends on the operatic than on the concert stage, however; so it is to be hoped that she will return to sing again in opera. Mary's forte is not singing and she has disappointed as many concert audiences as she has delighted operatic ones.

ALLEGED FIXER FOR CRIMINALS ON BOND

Week's Delay Granted in Hearing Against Bertsche in Chicago.

Chicago, May 12.—A preliminary hearing of two charges against Barney Bertsche, saloonkeeper and politician, accused of being "go-between" and "fixer" for a variety of criminals, was postponed today for a week. The defendant, who is at liberty under bonds of $30,000, is alleged to have been concerned in the swindling of Mrs. Hope L. McEldowney of La Crosse, Wis., and with wire tapping swindles.

Bertsche, a former convict is accused by State's Attorney Hoyne of having arranged protection for a ring of pickpockets, safe-blowers and wire tappers. He was arrested in a spectacular raid early Sunday morning and booked on a charge of conspiracy after detectives had beaten down the door of his home and overpowered him.

The state's attorneys charge that Bertsche arranged for the importation of a ring of confidence men on the claim that he could afford protection to them. Numerous other politicians, as well as some members of the police department, are involved in the conspiracy, according to the state's attorney.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

NORTH DAKOTA U BALL TEAM'S TRIP.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The University of North Dakota baseball team this afternoon will play the North Dakota Agricultural college at Fargo, leaving tonight for Collegeville, Minn., where the St. John's team will be met Tuesday. Wednesday the Flickertails take on Hamline, and on Friday they meet St. Thomas. Returning to Fargo Saturday, they will play Fargo college.

Included in the University of North Dakota squad are Heising, Lowe, James, Harper, Sagen, McCutcheon, Burfenson, Swenson, Robinson, McIntosh and Hancock. The team has played only two games so far, being defeated, 1 to 0, by the Moorhead normal, and winning, 7 to 2, against the Mayville normal.

Players Fined.

Chicago, May 12.—Third Baseman Olson of the Cleveland club and Catcher Nunmaker of the Boston team were each fined $25 today by President Johnson of the American league for their part in the free-for-all fight between members of the two nines the other day in Cleveland. Olson and Nunamaker were considered leaders in the battle and no one else of the dozen or more players reported to have participated in it was penalized.

Yale Wins Track Meet.

Princeton, N. J., May 12. — Yale nosed out Princeton by the score of 60½ to 56½ in their annual track meet on University field Saturday afternoon. The high wind and cold weather made fast work impossible, but the meet was characterized by a number of close races. Yale captured eight first places as opposed to five for Princeton.

FARGOAN'S HARD LUCK.

Clothes and Valuables Burn While Demonstrating Traction Engine.

Hazleton, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Taking off his coat, vest and raincoat to don a pair of overalls while he experted on a traction engine proved a serious loss to George D. Hagle of Fargo. While he was at the other end of the field a stubble fire reached the starting point and burned his clothing. He had left his watch, mileage, money, accounts and other valuables in his coat.

Willow City Burglars Sentenced.
Bottineau, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Entering pleas of guilty, both Fred Williams and S. Cote were sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary for burglary committed at Willow City. Williams was taken at once to the state prison, but the sentence on Cote was suspended on condition that he take the temperance pledge and report regularly to the parole officer. He had turned state's evidence.

WOOD PULP AND PAPER FREE FROM EUROPE

Canadian Reciprocity Act Applies to All Favored Nations.

Washington, May 12.—The customs court today decided that European nations are entitled to the free entry of wood pulp and paper under "the most favored nation" clause of their commercial treaties with the United States, because the free entry privilege is granted to Canada under the only operative clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

DEAD HUNCHBACK IS FOUND IN HAYSTACK.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of an unknown hunchback, entirely nude, was found in a haystack near here. A post mortem held today did not reveal the manner of death. The body had apparently been dragged face downward to the place it was concealed.

Bowman, N. D., Banks Consolidated.
Bowman, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Bowman County State bank has absorbed the State Bank of Bowman, Messrs. Bye and Paulson retiring. The latter goes to Arizona and the two former will start another bank in this state. The plans had been under discussion for several months and the change was not unexpected. Bowman, in addition, has a national bank.

Kenmare to Have White Way.
Kenmare, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A white way will be the latest acquisition for Kenmare. Mayor Cole took the matter up with the local business men and the plan was quickly financed. Several business blocks will be included and the lighting system will be turned on at an early date, placing Kenmare in line with other progressive cities of the state.

Favor County Commission Plan.
Minot, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Radical changes in the method of governing counties is proposed by the board of commissioners of Ward county, which would establish a system similar to the municipal commission plan. The Ward commissioners propose that the county board shall be made up of the various county officers, giving them each a department to care for. There would be a commissioner on roads and highways, a commissioner on the poor, etc.

Wells County, N. D, Fair.
Fessenden, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—July 3, 4 and 5 have been fixed for the dates of the Wells county fair. This will be the seventh annual exhibition and it is expected to be the best in the history of the organization. As a result of the numerous purchases of new dairy herds in this county the Holstein exhibit will probably be the feature. An attractive race program has been arranged.

Pioneer Grist Mill Razed.
Marinette, Wis., May 12.—The first power grist mill built in Marinette county has just been razed, after having been out of commission for a number of years. It was built and owned by Gustav Patz, a farmer who settled twenty miles west of Marinette in 1870. For many years farmers from miles around had their grain ground in this mill. It was an interesting structure. All of its machinery was made by hand.

Lewis Loses Appeal.
Washington, May 12.—The appeal of the Lewis Publishing company from the dismissal of its suit aginst the postmaster at St. Louis, Mo., to compel him to receive all copies of a certain magazine at the regular second-class pound rate, was dismissed today by the supreme court.

North Dakota Woman Hurt.
Harvey, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Caught in the wheels of a buggy from which she was thrown when the horses took fright at a locomotive and ran away, Mrs. W. L. Martin was dragged some distance before she was freed. One knee was fractured, the bones being chipped, and one ankle was also dislocated, while she was bruised from head to foot. Mr. Martin, who was driving, escaped without injury.

Typhoon Hits Manila.
Manila, May 12.—The worst typhoon experienced in eight years struck the islands Sunday, causing many deaths and wrecking several small steamers and numerous lighter craft. The known fatalities at sea total fifty-eight but the total death list from the storm is swelling with increasing reports. It is believed no Americans lost their lives.

GABY DESLYS SAILS SUDDENLY FOR PARIS

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

GABY DESLYS.

Gabrielle of the Lilies has departed these shores. She has sailed presumably for her dear Paris. Gaby has been appearing at the Winter Garden with great success for some months. It was supposed she would remain here indefinitely. Suddenly she announced her intention of going away. Her decision was coincident with the news that King Manuel of the late kingdom of Portugal had decided to get married. It will be recalled by all but those with very short memories that Manuel was supposed to have lost his throne through his devotion to Gaby and his neglect of his duties as a sovereign. There may be some association between the facts named above. But whatever the reason, Gaby has gone away.

BUT ANYWAY EDNA GOT THE PUBLICITY

EDNA GOODRICH.

Edna Goodrich, the actress, has just been ordered by the court to pay for $10,000 worth of gowns which she had from a Paris dressmaker. Her defense was novel. She admitted receiving the gowns but did not admit that she had agreed to pay for them. The court regarded this as frivolous and ordered her to pay. Miss Goodrich is preparing to appear next season in a dramatization of Longfellow's "Evangeline." The Longfellow heirs have approved of the project and the play is now in preparation.

"BEST ADVERTISING DULUTH HAS EVER HAD"

That Is What Major H. V. Eva, Secretary of the

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Says of The Duluth Herald's Great Special Number,

DULUTH, THE CITY OF INDUSTRY

OUT MAY 26th. Here is his letter:

Commercial Club of Duluth

Editor, The Duluth Herald.

Dear Sir:—

It has been my privilege to see page proofs of the first fourty-four pages of the Herald's Special number, "Duluth, the City of Industry." I must say that this great issue far surpasses my most sanguine expectations and will be the best advertising that Duluth and Northern Minnesota has ever had.

The number is splendidly illustrated—in fact it is nearly all pictures. Yet the facts about Duluth are there too, truthfully, tersely and convincingly told.

It is to be hoped everybody in Duluth will send the "Duluth, the City of Industry" number broadcast. The Commercial Club will send 4,000 copies to men in other states who are thinking of settling on Northern Minnesota farm lands.

Harold V. Eva
Secretary.

So Says Commissioner Blake in Report on Conditions.

Graft, Disease and Filth Are Declared to Be Rife There.

Albany, N. Y., May 12.—"Stories of the torture of the prisoners in the middle ages sound like descriptions of luxuries in comparison to the tales that have been told me of the lives that some of the prisoners in Sing Sing live."

This striking indictment of conditions alleged to exist within New York state's oldest penal institution is contained in a report of an investigation of the prison made by George W. Blake, a special commissioner appointed by Governor Sulzer to investigate prison affairs.

The commissioner described conditions as "frightful." The prison cells, he says, are dark, small, damp, filthy and infested with vermin. In them men contract rheumatism and go out crippled for life. Into none of the cells on the lower tiers has a ray of sunshine entered for eighty years.

Some Are Favored.

Certain prisoners, Mr. Blake asserts, through political influence or by the payment of money, receive favors.

He has evidence, he says, showing that because of influence exerted by men well known in various walks of life, money has been wrung from persons seeking clemency for prisoners.

"The commissary department of the prison," he says, "is run along incompetent if not dishonest lines. There is criminal carelessness, if not downright grafting."

Mr. Blake charges that Col. Joseph F. Scott, who was removed recently as superintendent of state prisons, was aware of the existence of certain of these conditions, but made no effort, so far as the investigator was able to learn, to minimize them.

Warden Arraigned.

John S. Kennedy, warden at Sing Sing, is charged by Mr. Blake with having violated the law. "He has permitted the creation and continuance of unbusinesslike methods," says the report, "and has caused the state to lose thousands of dollars in a way that points directly to graft. He has made no attempt to protect inmates from disease and vice, or put forth any effort to produce better conditions in this prison.

"The worst feature of the prison management cannot be discussed in any public document," says the report, "but the subject is of such vital importance to the welfare of the state that no time should be lost in submitting it to the attention of men competent to present a method of bettering a condition that breeds disease of the mind and body, and that should touch the heart of every man with any human instincts."

B'RITH ABRAHAM ORDER MEETS.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—Delegates representing a large majority of the 386 lodges of the order B'rith Abraham attended the first session of its twenty-first biennial convention here. The convention will be in session until Wednesday.

In his annual report, Grand Master Dorf recommended a revision of the endowment system in the order to confirm the more modern ideas of financing fraternal insurance. He also urged the abolition of the office of assistant grand secretary, and the addition of three members to the executive board, namely: A fourth deputy grand master for Massachusetts; a fifth for Louisiana and other Southern states, and a sixth for California.

EXHIBIT ON CARE OF BABY

Display to Increase Knowledge of Infant Life and Mortality.

Will Be Shown at Masonic Temple Beginning Monday, May 19.

Beginning next Monday, May 19, there will be presented in the auditorium of the Masonic temple a traveling exhibit sent out by the society officially known as the American Society for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality whose headquarters is at Baltimore. The purpose of the exhibit is to increase knowledge in the scientific care and culture of babies. The exhibit is absolutely free and will be open to the public for three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The first two days of the week, Monday and Tuesday, will be reserved in large part for the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades.

If you have a baby or have ever been a baby, you are especially and particularly invited to attend the exhibit. Among the fascinating facts that will be brought to your attention are the number of babies born a minute, the percentage of deaths, the factors that tend to his best development, hereditary and economic, his proper feeding and care, the causes of death; in fact there will be nothing remotely touching upon the health and care of this universal monarch but will be vitally shown.

Care of Babies in Duluth.

The exhibit which will be shown at the Masonic temple has been assembled by the women of Baltimore, the home city of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality, and has been sent throughout the country to communities where there is a live interest in the subject. In Duluth during the past three years the Scottish Rite Masons of the valley of Duluth have assumed the care of such infants as needed attention, whether from the carelessness or ignorance of parents, insanitary living conditions or general poverty.

For this work they have engaged the services of an expert nurse known as the consistory nurse, who visits the infants at their homes, instructs the mothers in the proper methods of taking care and handling their babies, giving the mothers pre-natal instruction, preparing the food, holds mothers' meetings in their neighborhood, and instructs the "Little Mothers" who during the summer have the responsibility of the baby thrown on them to a great extent.

The reduction in the mortality among infants from preventable causes, reported in the city statistics, is in a considerable measure due to this system of careful and intelligent instruction. Quietly and steadily this work has been going on with but two persons actively prominent, the representative of the Scottish Rite Bodies and the consistory nurse, Miss Elizabeth Heikkila. The work is confined to babies up to and including three years of age. At this time of year the nurse has under her care or supervision forty-five or fifty babies.

It is to further this work, stimulate the public interest, increase the intelligent care of children that the exhibit has been arranged. The public is most urgently invited to attend the exhibit which will be open afternoon and evening, the hours each day being, 3 to 5:30 every afternoon and in the evening from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Features of Exhibit.

The exhibit as it will be shown in Duluth will be as follows:

Contributory factors, hereditary and economic; "Every Baby Has the Right to be Well Born."

Contributory factors, environmental; "Where and Why Some Babies Die."

Soothing syrup bottle model in base of exhibit.

Prevention through Federal, state and municipal activities; "Conservation, May it Begin with the Baby."

Prevention through philanthropic activities; "Some Baby Life-saving Stations."

Maternal nursing versus artificial feeding; "The Right Food for Baby."

Baby hygiene; "How to Keep Baby Well."

Exhibit gift of Baltimore babies.

Purpose of exhibit.

Causes of infant mortality.

Flash-light death rate sign, extent of infant mortality; "Watch the Light Flash."

Babies' cemetery; causes of death. Model.

Model, "One in Seven;" "Relation Between the Death Rate and the Birth Rate."

Model of receiving home for mothers and infants, property of the Russell Sage Foundation.

Photographs of preventive undertakings in various cities in the United States.

As has been stated the Scottish Rite Masons have begun the work, arranged for the exhibit, provided the hall, and the public is invited to show an intelligent interest or to seize the opportunity to learn more about babies and their care than they ever knew before.

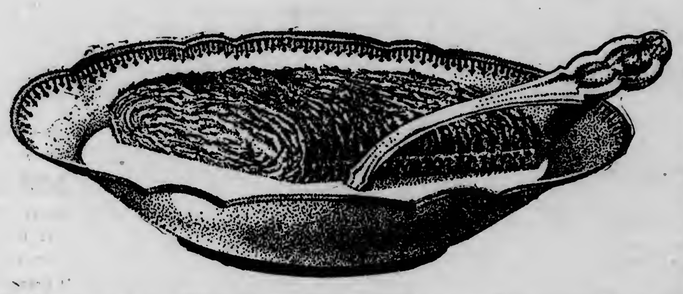
Shredded Wheat Biscuits

for the health and happiness of her family, simplifying her housekeeping problems and relieving her of worry and care. In making Shredded Wheat Biscuit we steam-cook the grains of whole wheat, draw them out into delicate, filmy shreds, form them into little loaves or Biscuit and bake them a crisp, golden brown. Because of its biscuit form you can do so many things with Shredded Wheat which you cannot do with other breakfast cereals.



For breakfast heat the Biscuit in the oven a few moments to restore crispness; then pour milk over it, adding a little cream; salt or sweeten to suit the taste. It is deliciously nourishing and wholesome for any meal with stewed prunes, baked apples, sliced bananas, preserved peaches, pineapple or other fruits. At your grocer's.

MOTHER LOVE IS DISCRIMINATING

Rev. George R. Gebauer Says True Love Is Bestowed on Children.

"Discrimination Love" was the subject of the Mother's day sermon given at the First Unitarian church yesterday by Rev. George R. Gebauer. He said in part:

"In nature we have divine impartiality; it's a good will which knows neither saints nor sinners, but only men that need sunshine and rain. Jesus makes this universality of good will fundamental in all human relationship. Our intercourse with mankind should be based upon a like impartial good will which includes all men irrespective of their deserts. Except we possess this all-embracing kindness, except we can love the man even in the worst sinner, we are lacking in the divine life, that lets its sun shine alike on the evil and good.

"Yet, as we believe that the divine love is not merely universal but special, that the fatherhood of God just means a relationship of discriminating love, which gives to each the thing he needs, so we realize that mere good will in our dealings with others is not enough. We must have not only impartial but discriminating good will.

"Mother is the one name to which, it seems to me, the heart of every American especially responds; for mother generally represents the larger part of parenthood. Certainly there are no words which could do justice to a true mother of men. No flower no matter how beautiful will symbolize that love, for the flower fadeth and dies, but a mother's love never falleth.

"Now, in the true mother there is the same deep love for all her children; it is impartial, yet it is discriminating. That love will not utter itself in the same way to all children. The wise mother will treat her children strictly 'alike' in love by treating each one 'differently.' She would only treat them uniformly, if they were uniform in their mental and moral make-up, not to say anything about their age and physical development. Each child demands its own kind of justice, its own kind of love, its own kind of reproof or discipline. And if the child does not receive that discriminating treatment, then it may turn in despair from the home to the stranger and cry out in bitterness: 'Oh, my mother does not understand me!'

"It is a sad thing when the child is not understood; its inner life is blighted.

"Mothers, on this day of honor remember that you owe to your children not merely love, (this is something you can not help but give), but that you owe to them discriminating love, made wise through constant watching, through loving study of your child's character. Do not expect from John what only Willie can give, and do not give to Willie what only suits John. God has given you the greatest duty, make yourself worthy of it, otherwise the day of honor is a day of reproach to you."

ICE IMPERILS TWO STEAMERS.

Montreal, May 12.—The fate of the Titanic was narrowly escaped by the steamer Chiltern Range in a collision with an iceberg to the east of Newfoundland banks on her voyage from Hull to this port. The bow plates of the steamer, a British freighter, were badly bent by the glancing blow struck when she collided with the berg, and only the fact that she slid off the ice mass and escaped contact with any sharp section of the underlying portion of it saved her from disaster in Capt. Rae's opinion.

Torsdal Near Disaster.

New York, May 12.—A narrow escape from a collision with an iceberg off the Newfoundland banks is reported by the Norwegian freight steamer Torsdal, which has arrived from Newport, Eng. From the Torsdal's decks on her way across the banks, eight icebergs were sighted. One of these was encountered in the night. It loomed up out of the dark, dead ahead. The steamer swerved just in time, barely missing the berg.

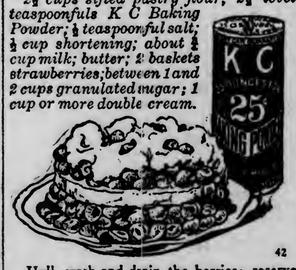
Strawberry Short Cake

For dinner every Sunday and once or twice on week days is not too often to serve this delicious dessert as long as strawberries last. The whipped cream for the top is not absolutely necessary, but it makes a short cake more attractive to the eye as well as to the taste.

K C Strawberry Short Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

2½ cups sifted pastry flour; 2½ level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful salt; ½ cup shortening; about ¾ cup milk; butter; 2 baskets strawberries; between 1 and 2 cups granulated sugar; 1 cup or more double cream.



42

Hull, wash and drain the berries; reserve a few choice berries to garnish the top of the cake; cut the rest in halves and mix with the sugar. Beat the cream and set aside to chill. Sift together, three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; work in the shortening; then mix to a soft dough with the milk. Spread the mixture in two layer cake pans. Bake about twenty minutes. Turn one cake out on a hot plate, spread liberally with butter, pour on part of the berries; cover with the second cake, also spread with butter, pour over the rest of the berries and put the whipped cream above, with the whole berries here and there.

The Cook's Book contains 90 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

STATEWIDE CONFERENCE

Opponents of State Control of Public Utilities Will Organize.

A state-wide conference of opponents of state control of public utilities will be held at the Spalding hotel, Saturday, May 24. Local arrangements are being made by the Stirrup club, and the conference will be held under the auspices of the Stirrup club of Duluth, the Saturday Lunch club of Minneapolis, the Current Topics club of St. Paul, and other similar organizations.

Speakers already said to be secured for the conference and banquet to follow are: Henry Rines of Mora, speaker of the house; W. I. Nolan of Minneapolis, house floor leader for the Rines' organizations; Former Governor John Lind, Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth and Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul. An effort will also be made to have Congressman Lenroot of Superior attend the conference. Harvey S. Clapp will be toastmaster at the banquet.

The avowed purpose of the conference is to start agitation in opposition to Governor Eberhart's plan to call an extra session of the legislature for the enactment of legislation providing for a state public utilities commission. Opponents of the plan say it is in the interest of the Twin City Rapid Transit company.

C. F. Keyes of Minneapolis is chairman of the movement to create sentiment against the governor's plan. He has appointed the following committee to assist him: T. T. Hudson, A. G. McKnight, Duluth; J. W. Bennett, J. O. Sylvester, St. Paul; Frank T. Wilson, St. Paul; Benjamin Drake, Jr., L. E. Jepson, E. M. Morgan, W. H. Newton, F. M. Powers, T. W. Stevenson, Minneapolis

The committees from the Stirrup club to arrange for the conference and banquet follow:

Publicity—D. H. Day, W. E. McEwen, Edward Armstrong.

Program—T. T. Hudson, Frank T. McNally, W. E. McEwen, A. G. McKnight.

Finance—F. Seligman, T. T. Hudson, Elmer Blu.

Tickets—Dave Fredin, Carrol F. Graff, Richard Jones, John L. Larsen, W. L. Smithies, R. M. Weaver, B. N. Wheeler, L. H. Whipple, W. T. Wilkie and J. R. Zweifel

RE-ENLISTS AFTER EIGHT YEARS' SERVICE

Henry N. McClure of 2707 West Second street returned this morning from Minneapolis, where he re-enlisted in the United States navy.

Mr. McClure was honorably discharged last January as first-class gunner's mate after eight years' service.

According to the new arrangements Mr. McClure will act as outside man for the local navy recruiting office, similar to the army recruiting office. He will work under Chief Quartermaster Erickson.

WANT $20,000,000 WARSHIP BUILT

Navy General Board Tells Plans for Battleship Construction.

Washington, May 12.—Congress will be asked next year to appropriate for one battleship, a mammoth dreadnaught displacing 40,000 tons and costing about $20,000,000, according to tentative plans of the navy general board. This year the navy department asked for three battleships and got one, as it did last year when the estimate called for two.

During the debate on the naval bill this year, members of congress particularly interested in the navy became satisfied that with two extreme factions, one advocating appropriations for two or three first-class battleships a year, and the other with "no battleships" as a slogan, an overwhelming majority in both houses could be counted upon to vote for a single dreadnaught. This situation has been impressed upon the general board, and as a result the permanent building program may be revised to a one-dreadnaught basis, with provision for adequate colliers, destroyers and other auxiliary crafts.

One Monster Ship.

This one battleship, however, will be a monster, if the board's plans materialize. With a displacement of 40,000 tons, she would be just about one-fourth larger than any ship yet authorized by congress, and would easily rank as the largest and most formidable craft of war in the world.

The plans contemplate giving the dreadnaught engines that would drive her through the water at the rate of twenty-five knots an hour—faster than the unarmed "grayhounds" of the navy could travel a few years ago—without sacrificing anything in armor or powerful batteries or seaworthiness. Just what the armament would be has not been announced, but it certainly would be equal to that of the last ship authorized, which is to carry a main battery of twelve 14-inch rifles, mounted in four turrets, three guns to a turret.

Delegate, But No Expenses.

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson is authorized to send delegates to the international conference on education at The Hague this year, by a joint resolution passed by the house. No appropriation was made for expenses.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, May 12.—Unseasonably high temperatures are not expected to prevail during this week over any portion of the country, according to the weekly weather bureau bulletin.

"Temperatures will rise from day to day," the bulletin said, "over the eastern half of the country, and on Tuesday from the lake region and Ohio valley eastward, but probably to only normal conditions. The plateau region and the extreme northwest will be cooler by Monday night, with frost in the latter section, and by the middle of the week it will be cooler in the plains states, the Upper Mississippi valley and the upper lake region. In the south, normal temperatures will prevail.

"No precipitation of consequence is indicated over the eastern portion of the country. Showers will occur early in the week over the northwest and central west, and probably by the middle of the week in the central valleys and greater portion of the lake region, followed by generally fair weather during the second half of the week. In the South Atlantic and East Gulf states, there will be local thunder showers during the first half of the week, followed by general fair weather during the latter half. In the West Gulf states generally fair weather is indicated."

BACKACHE A WARNING ALL SHOULD HEED

It Is One of the First Signs of Kidney Troubles, If Neglected, Serious Diseases Follow.

No one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly and keep the blood pure. When they become clogged up and inactive, nature has a way of warning you.

Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; becomes nervous, tired, and feel all worn out; puffy swellings show under the eyes or in the feet and ankles; and many other symptoms are noticed. If they are neglected, dropsy, diabetes, or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous, but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt cure of all such troubles than this new scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the clogged up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poison out of the blood and drive it from the system.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. Three doses a day for a few days are often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache, relieve rheumatic pains, or overcome urinary disorders.

SIX LOSE LIVES AT WAUSAU, WIS.

Motorboat Upsets, Father and Four Children Are Among Victims.

Wausau, Wis., May 12.—Six persons were drowned in the Wisconsin river here last night when a small motorboat containing ten people struck a submerged old bridge pier near the head of Lake Wausau while in a heavy current and capsized.

The drowned:
HERMAN ROEHL
GUSTAVE JAHNKE.
ELEANOR JAHNKE.
GERTRUDE JAHNKE.
WALTER JAHNKE.
GUSTAVE JAHNKE, JR.

The last four named are children of Gustave Jahnke.

Four persons were saved, R. Radcliff, Walter Roehl, Henry and Gilbert Jahnke.

Rudder Is Broken.

The boat struck a sunken log, breaking the rudder. The boat was in a heavy current and drifted over a partially submerged pier, capsizing the motorboat. The body of Gustave Jahnke, Jr., was recovered last night. The wife of Jahnke witnessed the accident from the shore.

A pier the bridge of which washed away last summer had been left under the new bridge, partially submerged. The boat struck this pier, a panic resulted and the craft was capsized. Radcliff and Walter Roehl held to the boat and were towed ashore with it. Gilbert Jahnke seized his young brother, Henry, and managed to keep himself afloat until he drifted ashore. Boatmen dragged the river after the accident, recovering one of the bodies, that of Gustave Jahnke.

A number of persons saw the accident but they were powerless to render assistance owing to the swiftness of the current. The bridge is near the head of Lake Wausau.

Gustave Jahnke is prominent as vice president and superintendent of the Wausau Fixture & Furniture company and was an old resident of Wausau. His wife, who declined to accompany the boating party to make room for the children, is prostrated by the shock.

Wisconsin Tax Commissioner Sees Defect in Income Tax Law.

Madison, Wis., May 12.—State Tax Commissioner Thomas S. Adams, the executive in charge of the collection of the Wisconsin income tax, one of the leading income tax experts in the country, and who was called into consultation by the framers of tho national income tax law, believes the national income tax exemption should be reduced from $4,000 to nearer the Wisconsin figure. Wisconsin has the only effective income tax in America today, and its exemption, which Prof. Adams believes scientifically correct, averages $1,228. The national tax figure of $4,000 Prof. Adams believes discriminatory and class legislation.

"In my opinion the $4,000 exemption is too high," Prof. Adams said. "The reasons may be briefly stated as follows:

"1—The tax should touch a larger and more representative element of the population. The $4,000 exemption savors strongly of class legislation.

"2—The average income in the United States at the present is probably less than $1,000 per family. Every individual who has an income in excess of $2,000 is in reality part of the aristocracy of the country, so far as aristocracy is measured by wealth. He is way above the average. To exempt such a man is to increase the tax burden, collected through the customs or the internal revenue on tobacco, beer and the like, of the working classes. The exemption of people with incomes above $2,000 is not in the interest of the working classes of this country or those elements of population who may legitimately claim exemption from income taxation.

A Fair Compromise.

"3—The administratory considerations all favor the high exemption—this must be frankly admitted—but administrative considerations are not controlling. A fair compromise between administrative considerations and considerations of public policy would probably result in an exemption of $2,500 or $3,000.

"The experience with the Wisconsin income tax indicates that such a tax could be administered without prohibitive cost to the United States. This is particularly true if some ingenuity were exercised in securing co-operation between Federal and state or local officers now in position to know with some degree of certainty what persons would likely be affected by an income tax. Ultimately many of the states of this country will follow Wisconsin in imposing state income taxes. It is highly desirable that in such states the Federal and state officials should work hand in hand. Most of the continental income taxes are used, not only for national, but for local purposes as well. The assessing boards or bodies give representation to both the local and state or national governments. This is the ideal administrative condition. We should look forward to it in the United States."

UNCLE SAM LIKES THOS. COOPER'S WORK.

Fargo, N. D., May 12. — (Special to The Herald.)—The federal government is endeavoring to conscript Thomas P. Cooper, secretary and manager of the Better Farming movement in North Dakota. Mr. Cooper was formerly of the Minnesota Agricultural college. He has made such a success with the Better Farming plan that he has attracted national attention.

Several other states, noting his success here, want him for work along lines similar to those conducted in North Dakota, but as his plans require three to five years to work out he will not consider a change.

Baudette, Minn., May 12. — (Special to The Herald.)—The general store of I. M. Iesje, in old town, burned at 4 Sunday morning. The loss is total and estimated at $17,000, partly insured. The Cathcart hotel and International Cedar company store were both on fire but were saved.

HALT PROBE INTO ST. PAUL COLLISION.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—Because of the condition of the men injured in the crash of the automobile squad wagon with the hose cart of Engine Company No. 6 of the fire department Saturday, the investigation of the cause of the accident probably will not be made today, according to Reuben Warner, president of the fire board.

Frank Etter of Engine Company No. 5, although improved, at St. Joseph's hospital, is still in a serious condition, and will not be able to leave the hospital for several days. M. J. Harnett and Lieutenant Thoeson were less seriously injured, but both will be confined to their homes for several days.

Mr. Warner and Chief Niles of the department both declared that the fault could not have been with the squad wagon.

Five other members of the party escaped serious injury.

Acquit Prisoner's Slayer.

Marinette, Wis., May 12.—After deliberating twenty-seven hours, the jury in the case of Peter J. Christ, keeper of the county workhouse, charged with murdering Howard Leaf, returned a verdict of not guilty. Christ killed Leaf, who was a prisoner in the workhouse, during a quarrel. He pleaded self-defense.

Cannot Change Stillwater Line.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—The state railroad and warehouse commission Saturday issued an order dismissing the petition of the Minneapolis & St. Paul Suburban Railroad company for permission to abandon its trolley tracks through North St. Pau and to run its Stillwater line over the tracks of the old Chicago division of the Soo Line.

Throw Eggs at House.

Spiritwood, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.) — Great indignation was aroused here by the acts of vandals, who, in the darkness, hurled numerous eggs at the residence of Mrs. William Harrison. Officials have investigated the matter and it is likely that arrests for malicious mischief are to follow, as considerable damage was done.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Candon, N. D.—Because the board of education decided not to re-elect him to the superintendency of the local schools, S. H. Hedrick tendered his immediate resignation. This was accepted and several shifts were made in the positions of the other teachers to complete the work of the term.

New Rockford, N. D.—In a competition between former State Engineer Atjinson and Engineer Crabbe for the plans and supervision for the sewer system here, the latter was awarded the work. Plans will be gotten out soon and the contracts let in time to have the system completed during the summer.

Belfield, N. D.—In addition to the proposed water works and the construction of a number of new business blocks, Belfield is having many new residences this spring. Some are rather pretentious, but the majority are bungalows and cottages and there is more activity here than at any time after the first year the town was established.

Mayville, N. D.—Ten girls and three boys will graduate from the high school May 29: Sarah Anderson, Cridia Andrew, Dorothy Cummins, Helen Elkeen, Emma Evans, Inez Henry, Henry Kjos, Ellen Lura, Kalrna Olstad, Francis Sommerfeldt, Cecil Smith, Sigrid Soren and Maude Warren. Attorney J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks will deliver the commencement address.

Ellendale, N. D.—H. Litenberger of Fosston, Minn., one of the creamery inspectors of that state, and P. Jacobson, a practical buttermaker of Ginger, Minn., have purchased the Ellendale creamery from S. V. Saunders. They will make many improvements. Mr. Jacobson will be the resident manager.

Oakes, N. D.—The thirteen former members of the Knights of Pythias who were residents of this place, and twenty-one new ones, were organized into a local lodge by grand officers of the organization. The work was done by the Lisbon team and there were visitors from Ellendale, La Moure, Milnor, Cogswell and other parts of the state.

Munich, N. D.—Pitching into a mud hole, a horse owned by J. Eitzen of this place was killed by suffocation. In some manner the horse, hitched with five others to a big plow, was thrown into the mudhole in a general tangle of the three teams. The animal's head was held in such manner that it chocked to death in the mud.

Oakes, N. D.—A new brick business block, two stories with basement, is to be erected by F. A. Espeland, a local grocer, on lots recently purchased opposite the city hall. It will be pressed brick front and sides.

Lidgerwood, N. D.—About $1,000 will be expended by the Lidgerwood Automobile club in the improvement of roads in the district tributary to the city this summer. Most of that fund already has been raised.

Courtney, N. D.—Medina, Stutsmen county, was selected by the Congregation Ministerial association of the Jamestown district as the place for the 1914 meeting. Dr. C. C. Creegan and Dr. E. H. Stickney were the principal speakers at the meeting here.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The city park board has received two carloads of trees from Lake City, Minn., and work will be started shortly on fixing up the treeless boulevards of the city.

Ardoch, N. D.—Dr. John Montgomery of this city has gone to Atlanta, Ga., where he will represent the presbytery of Pembina at the assembly of the Presbyterian churches of the United States, May 15 to 25. He is accompanied by Mrs. Montgomery.

Fargo, N. D.—Fargo council No. 65 of the United Commercial Travelers will take a band with them to Crookston to the grand council meeting which will take place the second week in June and they expect to have a band of not less than seventeen members who will make music on this occasion.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—Paul Walters, aged 52 years, committed suicide at his home Saturday night by cutting his left jugular vein with a razor. Walters was employed by the Milwaukee Malting company. He is said to have had domestic troubles. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Ripon—Business men and citizens from Oshkosh and points between here and Wausau attended a meeting at which an attempt was made to have the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road extend the Berlin line from here to Wausau.

Sheboygan—The Slavonian Catholic church at Sts. Cyril and Methodius will have a new chime of balls this summer, the chimes having already been ordered from Leibach, Austria. The bells will be hand rung.

Eau Claire—The Kaiser Lumber company has closed a deal for the Shaw plant, one of the oldest limber concerns in this section.

Neenah—Mrs. George Le Tourneau, teacher in local schools for thirty-six years, has given notice that this will be her last year as a teacher.

Madison—Because his fellow members would not excuse him and he did not care to resign, and having a feeling of homesickness for the assembly, Carl Hansen, the Manitowoc member who left Friday in disgust, resumed his seat Saturday. Mr. Hansen was also influenced by numerous telegrams from home asking him to remain.

Kenosha — Mrs. Sarah Hoskinson Mitten, 48 years old, widow of Dr. Allen P. Mitten of Seattle, Wash., died at the Pennoyer sanitarium here Friday. Mrs. Mitten was a native of Wisconsin and is survived by one son, Robert Mitten, a student at Racine college, and Marian Mitten of Manitowoc. The body was taken to the old home at Grand Rapids, Wis., for burial.

Fond du Lac—The Milwaukee road affected a settlement with Clus Thompson, a farmer, by paying him $10,000 for injuries sustained on Nov. 19, 1910. Thompson at the time of the accident was unloading coal from a car that had been "spotted." A switching crew ran a car against the one Thompson was in, the impact throwing him to the ground and causing injuries to his spine. Suit was started for $40,000.

Port Washington — Frank Wilson, proprietor of the Wilson house, widely known in the state, died suddenly of heart failure. He had been in the hotel business for forty years, twenty-five years here. He was 63 years old. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Neenah—Chief Red Fox, a Sioux Indian, is in this city with wife and child, on his way to join his tribe on the reservation in the Dakotas. He has been instructing various Boy Scout organizations throughout the South.

Janesville — Charles B. Conrad has offered the city athletic park, a tract of three acres, for a public playground for $1,000. This action is due to the sentiment being shown to establish a municipal playground.

Madison — Twenty-six coeds at the University of Wisconsin have secured positions as teachers throughout the state.

Bayfield — Seven girls and two boys constitute the high school graduating class this year, as follows: Dorothy Helen Boutin, Rose Vivian Brown, Verna Chape, Essie Margaret Conlon, Amy Ruth Lambert, Rachel Sybel Lambert, Ella Axzemia Richards, Harrold F. Stark, Harry W. Wilson.

Banish All Skin Troubles

A Remarkable Remedy That Works Wonders Against Even Weeping Eczema.

Get a Bottle of S. S. S. To-day. It is Certainly a Wonder.

If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, or what you will, there is but one sure, safe way to cure it. Ask at any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the East. It is one of those rare medical forces which acts in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are marshaled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy to-day, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar, write to The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Their medical laboratory is famous and is conducted by renowned experts in blood and skin diseases. Their advice is entirely free and always strictly personal.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—Twenty-eight students of the Universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Chicago, in the geology and mining classes, spent Friday here studying mine methods and the geology of the district. The party was in charge of C. K. Leigh, professor of geology at the University of Wisconsin and went from here to the Marquette range.

Escanaba—Leslie Carmody, the 7-year-old son of Mrs. Anna Carmody, of this city, has been missing since April 16, and all efforts to locate him have been unsuccessful. Not even a clue can be found. Mr. and Mrs. Carmody were divorced about a year ago, and the boy was given into the mother's care.

Houghton—William McNamara, died at his home in Trimountain Friday morning after a short illness.

Calumet—Simon Jacobsdn, aged 62, died at his home on a farm near Swedetown Thursday night following a lingering illness. Death was due to cancer. A widow and six children survive. The funeral was held Sunday morning from the home.

Negaunee — Alfred Westerlund is building a new one story flat in the Collins addition and is making good headway.

Hancock — Rev. Edward Eckstrom, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church of this city left last week for Illinois, where he will locate. Rev. Eckstrom has been in charge of the local church for four years.

Marquette—W. J. Stevens, a former resident, is dead in California. He was 54 years of age and leaves a widow and three children. The widow is now at La Jolla, Cal., with her daughter, where interment will be made.

Calumet—The Red Jacket school was fumigated because a case of diphtheria was discovered among the children. Two or three cases of diphtheria have been discovered during the past month and every precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Ishpeming—The big two-story barn of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, located four blocks from the Ishpeming fire hall and in what is known as the Barnum location, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin. Twelve horses perished in the flames and large quantities of fodder were burned.

Houghton—June 6 and 7 have been selected as the dates of the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Dental association which will be held here in the Amphidrome. There are about fifty dentists in the Upper Peninsula connected with the association, most of whom will attend the meeting.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Mankato — At the meeting of the East Mapleton Telephone company the following officers were re-elected: President, M. J. Mullin; secretary, John Treanor; lineman, Asa Treanor; treasurer, F. Ohm; board of directors, H. K. Wishart, C. Shule, F. Carey, C. J. Griggs and Clark Ward.

Wahkon—In appreciation of the many acts of kindness shown to the family by the people of this village during the long illness of E. B. Mayo, Mrs. Mayo has presented to the village of Wahkon the thirty-gallon champion chemical fire extinguisher that was kept for the protection of the property of the Mille Lacs Manufacturing company. The extinguisher is in first class order.

Roseau—The officers of the new town of Norland are: Board of supervisors, J. B. Erickson, chairman; Martin Brenhaug, J. E. Risberg; town clerk, John E. Roadfeldt.

St. Cloud—Raymond Victor, aged about 11 years, had a narrow escape from drowning when he fell into the water at the new power house. A man, whose name could not be learned, was present when the youth fell into the water and pulled him out of the stream after he had been battling with the strong undertow caused by the waterwheels of the plant.

Little Falls—Articles of incorporation of the Little Falls Gas company have been filed. C. A. Sprandel and E. E. Collins are the incorporators. The corporation is capitalized at $100,000, to be divided into shares of $100 each. The officers are: President, S. P. Brick; vice president, C. A. Sprandel; secretary, E. E. Collins; treasurer, G. F. Kirscher.

Roseau—The board of county commissioners accepted the tender of the corner of the west side of the block opposite the old courthouse and designated the same as the new courthouse site. The new site selected has a frontage of 200 feet on Pearl street and 300 on Ekman avenue.

Red Lake Falls—Next Tuesday, May 12, is the date for the special election called for the purpose of voting on the proposition to issue and negotiate refunding bonds to the amount of $54,000 to take up the city's floating indebtedness.

Baudette — The infant son of Mr. Sands of Baudette died Thursday afternoon of diphtheria. The little one was ill only a short time and his condition was hopeless from the start. He was only 9 months old.

Grand Marais—Thomas McCausland of Carlton, who has earned a statewide reputation as a road builder, has been sent here by the state highway commission to take charge of the construction work on the Lake Shore road.

Hill City—The Hill City Baseball association elected the following officers for the year: J. A. Foxgrover, honorary president; R. L. Abrahamson, president; H. V. Eastman, treasurer; A. C. Abrahamson, secretary; J. J. Sailer, manager.

Perham — The Potato Warehouse company has closed the warehouse for the present, as there is no market whatever for potatoes.

Gary—T. O Gullingsrud is busy hauling out lumber for a new and elaborate residence which he will have erected this summer. He was in for the first loads Monday morning and said that he is going to buy all his material for the house in his home town, Gary.

WINNIPEG WINS FIRST GAME FROM WHITE SOX

Before Mammoth Crowd Tim Flood's Peggers Win Opening Game of Series By the Score of 6 to 5--- Thrilling Plays Feature the Contest.

(By Bruce.)

Yokohama Nelson came, like Caesar, saw and also conquered. Mister Nelson climbed the rattler with Duluth as his destination and only yesterday clocked in as one of the regulars of the Winnipeg Maroons. Brother Nelson, late of the Western or some such tony organization, pitched for the Peggers and defeated our side by the count of 6 to 5.

Tim Flood's quest for pitchers has been a long and arduous one, and is so at the present time. This Yokohama Nelson is the latest and the first one who has won for Timothy for some time. During the course of the affray the Yokohama one was nicked for ten blows and only whiffed two protesting batters, but he was cool in pinches and maintained throughout a tantalizing air.

Yesterday's pastiming resembled in general outline the nearest thing we have had to the big stuff our little hearts have craved for. The crowd was very much to the grand big biz, and several times during the course of the fading afternoon Harry Blume was seen to smile. And in keeping with the crowd and the heart interest was some sparkling playing during the soiree.

In the seventh round Claudine Clothier hit a Texas leaguer thing in the general whirligig direction of right field. Our Mr. O'Brien was after the thing and hopes were dark blue. Aping the whirling dervish our brave leader turned, up shot heavenward one gloved paw and lo and behold the ball stuck. Large applause.

Four Doubles.

Four sparkling double plays enlivened the proceedings and felicitated or disturbed matters, depending upon the viewpoint of patron. And in addition the heavy artillery of several of the demon hitters of both teams raised thrills, hopes and great expectations. Taking the contest from all sides and dissecting it thoroughly one is amply justified in pronouncing her some game.

Henry Clay Blancke started with high hopes and everything in the pitching vocabulary. His curves were breaking nicely and he had a nice hop on the ball. And then a gent by the name of Dunleavy began by calling them balls when they were obviously strikes, and this eye bleariness upon the part of absent-minded Dunleavy so nettled and disturbed the artistic temperament of Henry Clay Blancke that he began to heave thoroughly and disgustedly on the outs with control.

Most of the time Dunleavy, who maybe means right—who knows?—had our Henry Clay in the hole. Thus in the fourth inning our Mr. Blancke of Sandusky was forced to groove one for Kirkham. When last seen, the pill was clearing the rampart of right field. And so it can be seen what an unp with bum orbs can do to a pitcher with a blunted sense of humor and an artistic temperament.

Johnson Flagged.

Reuben Johnson was called upon to take up the burden of flinging in the seventh round, and mild-mannered citizen and humble tax payer that he is, Mr. Johnson was at times also grieved at the lack of discernment upon the part of Mr. Dunleavy.

Our leader singled in our first on the first ball pitched, which is getting to be a habit with him. McGraw died for advancement of the Harp, and Miller went out at first. Here Samuel Sycamore Menlece slapped one deep into center field, and the first run of the day was in.

Our Henry Clay Blancke had 'em eating out of his hand until the fourth. Mr. Kirkham was up and with two and three, our Clay grooved one. The sad result has been previously related. But, list', 'tis not all. Kahle strolled and Johnny Evers De Haven doubled. Clothier doubled and both runners came over. Kirk sacrificed and Monsieur Bachant walked. The situation looked something like the Japanese situation in California. Here Nelson hit to O'Brien, who used his bean as it was originally intended, tagging Bachant on the fly and then chucking to first in time to stop Nelson.

Hope in Fifth.

In the fifth things perked up somewhat. Henry Clay Blancke was passed, though it is not generally believed that it was done intentionally. Darby got his second hit of the afternoon, a Texas leaguer bound to right and Blancke advanced. McGraw laid one down and they tried unsuccessfully to get the pitcher at third and missed. O'Brien was nipped off the second sack and then Miller hit to deep center and Henry Clay hastened home.

Kirk walked to start the foreign sixth and then Mons Bachant whiffed. Kirk pilfered second and Nelson surprised everyone, including himself, by singling to right, sending Kirk to third, the pitcher going on to second on the chuck to Rhoades. Wilkes slapped one saucily to Miller and Kirk was in. After Freer had walked Kirkham slapped one through the shortfield and the second run of the inning was in.

Their last came in the eighth and proved the winning count. Mr. Wilkes followed the established custom and walked. Why hit when one can walk? Simple, isn't it? Freer singled and Willie Wilkes advanced. Kirkham whiffed and then Kahle hit one out to Smith and Milan territory for two bases. Wilkes counted quite easily but Freer was stopped at the plate on a great and well executed heave by our Elmer.

Not satisfied with preventing scores Smith strode to the pan in the home eighth and smote the pill far over the paling in right. Why move the fence back, board of directors? And then a dramatic situation developed. Schreiber singled and McCarthy lofted to center. Johnson forced Schreiber at second and O'Brien walked. Muggsy McGraw came to bat and swiped the pill a clean crack that sent it far into center field, two runners crossed the precious pan thing ahead of the fleeing McGraw, but he was nipped in the act of crossing the stone square through an excellent relay, Freer to De Haven to Bachant—or at least Mr. Dunleavy said he was out.

Miller singled in the ninth and with two down and one on and Schreiber at bat, our Elmer of Sandusky allowed himself to be caught off the second base station and the game was over.

SUPERIOR WINS FROM FLICKERS

Red Legs Take First Game of Series By 4 to 1 Score.

Superior won yesterday from Grand Forks by the score of 4 to 1, making a good start in the opening game of the series. Chicken was on the mound for the home crowd and was opposed by Morse. The man with the after 9 o'clock name had the better of the battle, keeping the hits of the Flickers well scattered, though in several instances sharp fielding kept the feathered monakered one out of exceeding difficulty.

THE WINONA GIANTS DEFEAT UNGLAUB'S TEAM

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—The Winona team won the opening game of the season here yesterday by the score of 12 to 6. Snow, the sensational young pitching star of the Davis bunch, was on the slab, and he kept the hits of the Bronchos well scattered. Leverett, formerly of the American association, started the game for the Millers, but was driven to cover and gave way to McClure. The home team played a ragged game in the field.

The score: R. H. E.

Winona Won Saturday.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—Clouting the pill for a total of twenty hits, Lefty Davis' Winona bunch made it three straight from the Colts Saturday afternoon at Lexington park, the final count being 15 to 11. The game was a weird affair both sides doing some heavy hitting.

Neidenfeur proved easy picking for the Winonians, who clouted thirteen hits off his delivery in four and a third innings. Carroll relieved him in the fifth inning with one man out and two on the bases after six runs had been registered. He was wild and walked Baxter, filling the bases. A single and an error sent three more runs across the plate. Score: R. H. E.

VIRGINIA TEAM WINS FROM APOSTLES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—Virginia won from St. Paul yesterday afternoon in one of the best games of the season, the Ore Diggers vanquishing the little Saints by the count of 7 to 3. Faeth was on the mound for the visitors and he pitched a nice game throughout. His curves were breaking nicely and the visiting twirler also had a hop on his fast one that proved a puzzle to the hitters of the Jones aggregation.

Mike Kramer, who has proved the winning pitcher to date for the home team, was on the slab for the home team and was nicked for a total of ten hits. Both teams played cleanly in the field and some pretty baseball was dished out to the fans during the course of the afternoon.

The score: R. H. E.

Made Clean Sweep.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—A triple by Chase and a single by Grodnick in the twelfth won the final game of the series with the Virginia team for Minneapolis Saturday, 6 to 5. Comstock took up the pitching after a pinch hitter was sent in for McClure, who succeeded Lellvelt. He performed in great style. The Virginians got all of their runs in the sixth inning. Lellvelt was released by Mike Cantillon after the game. Score: R. H. E.

NOTES OF THE SOIREE

As has been stated in The Herald, this Winnipeg team looked by far the best organization that has been seen here the present season—this leaving the pitchers out of the calculation. Tim Flood has a real ball team in eight out of the nine positions. If his twirling staff rounds to he is going to be up in the race. Bachant behind the bat looks like a live one. In the fifth round he made a snap throw to second and caught O'Brien off the bag in a manner mildly reminiscent of Otto Miller.

By far the largest Sunday crowd of some years was out to witness the contest. The new and spacious grandstand was filled to the guards, both of the bleachers were filled and the crowd swarmed out on the field. It looks like the new league is beginning to be appreciated and that we have come to the real baseball stuff. It was necessary to make ground rules.

O'Brien has not made an error on the home grounds during the present season and to date the Orator has accepted eminently successfully twenty-two chances at the second sack in the five home games that have been played. Also with the war club the Dook has been going great.

Yesterday's home run by Elmer Smith of Milan marked the third this sterling player has made in the last four games. He got a peach yesterday, one the day before and then one two days before that. Some poling that.

It seems that two-base hits up against the right field wall are one of the specialties of Dusty Rhoades, the reformed pitcher. He poled one yesterday, one the previous day, one the day before that in addition to a triple, one the day before that in addition to a home run—all of which proves that some pitchers can hit.

Though we lost the game the Sox battled uphill after the fourth round and came within an ace of tying her up. In the ninth Miller slapped a beauty over the left field fence, just on the wrong side of the foul line. If he had—but what's the use.

HE IS GOING GREAT

DARBY O'BRIEN.

Chicago Wins Opener.

Chicago, May 12.—Ed Walsh returned to the game yesterday after a long rest, and Chicago defeated Philadelphia in the opening game of the series 4 to 3.

The locals won the game by bunching hits after costly errors by Berry and Baker.

Walsh weakened in the seventh inning and the visitors bunched three hits behind a base on balls and almost tied the score.

The feature of the game was McInnis' home run, Strunk's triple and the fielding of Barry and Weaver. R. H. E.

Champs Win in Tenth.

Detroit, Mich., May 12.—After tieing the score in the ninth by a lightning rally which produced three runs, Boston took a desperate ten-inning struggle from Detroit yesterday by a 5 to 4 count. Neil Ball, running for Carrigan, slid home with the deciding tally when Hooper bounded an infield hit to Vitt. It was a fast, thrilling, splendidly played game from start to close, and the result was in doubt until Speaker brought the game to a conclusion by dashing in left center and capturing Crawford's line drive. Louden was on third and Bush on second when Speaker made the catch.

Boston scored in the first on a wild pitch. In the same inning Lewis doubled Vitt off first after catching Crawford's fly, and in the fifth the same fielder doubled Cobb at the plate by a magnificent throw after capturing High's drive. Three hits helped Detroit to produce two runs in the sixth, another trio of hits gave the locals two more runs in the seventh. Speaker's infield single, a pass to Lewis, Gardner's triple and Engle's fly to Veach enabled the world's champions to gain an even footing in the ninth. The score: R. H. E.

Senators Lose.

St. Louis, May 12.—George Baumgardner kept up his Sunday winnings by defeating Washington yesterday afternoon 7 to 3. Both teams secured their runs by a mixture of hits, passes and errors. A single, an error, a sacrifice and another error in the first inning netted the visitors a run. A hit batsman, a stolen base, and an error in this inning evened up for the home team.

St. Louis went ahead in the third inning when Schaefer dropped a throw and Williams drove the ball into the stands for a home run. A double, a pass and three singles in the fifth gave Washington two runs and tied the score.

In the eighth inning, after St. Louis scored three runs on a pass, two singles and a double, Hughes was relieved by Gallia. St. Louis added one more run on an out and an error. R. H. E.

Largest Baseball Crowd.

Cleveland, May 12.—One of the largest chowds that ever witnessed a ball game here saw Cloveland defeat New York yesterday 7 to 2. This was Frank Chance's first appearance on a Cleveland diamond.

Schultz who started the game for New York was driven from the box in the first inning when Jackson hit a home run with the bases full. In his other three times at bat, Jackson secured a double and two singles.

Klepfer who succeeded Schultz was ineffective. This is the sixth consecutive victory for Pitcher Falkenberg, who has not been beaten this season. In the fourth Falkenberg forced in New York's second run, but struck out the next batter. R. H. E.

Teams Break Even.

Louisville, Ky., May 12. — Louisville and Indianapolis broke even yesterday in the first double-header of the season, the locals winning the first game 8 to 0 and the visitors the second 5 to 3. Loudermilk pitched superb ball in the opener, but the visitors found Woodburn and Northup's offerings for five hits and all of their five runs in the eighth inning. Schardt twirled masterly ball in the pinches The largest crowd that has ever attended the local park witnessed the games.

Play Ten Innings.

Kansas City, May 12.—Kansas City won yesterday after a ten-inning pitchers' battle. The first score in the fifth. Drake received a base on balls, advanced on Kritchell's sacrifice, went to third when Pannehill made an infield out and scored on a scratch hit by O. Williams. Minneapolis evened up in the eighth when Brown, batting for Hunter, singled, took second on Smith's sacrifice, third on a wild throw by Moran, and scored on Altizer's double. Successive singles by Kritchell; O. Williams and Coulson brought in the winning run for Kansas City after two were out in the tenth. R. H. E.

Win With Four Hits.

Toledo, May 12.—Although held to four hits, two of them infield scratches, the Columbus club again defeated Toledo by mixing long sacrifice flies with bases on balls in the eighth inning. Shelton scored the first run for Columbus by stealing home after a pass, sacrifice and out. Davis was hit often but was effective in the pinches. McDowell made a sensational catch of a foul behind first base in the seventh inning and doubled Bonin. R. H. E.

JOHNSON NEARS A WORLD'S RECORD.

Chicago, May 12.—Walter Johnson, the speedy pitcher of the Washington club, added nine more innings to his record in holding his opponents runless, by shutting out the locals Saturday, 1 to 0. This gives him a total of 52 2-3 innings pitched in which his opponents have been unable to score. The record for runless innings is held by "Doc" White, pitcher of the Chicago Americans. White pitched 56 innings without allowing a score nine years ago.

ON LOCAL DIAMONDS

The Fitwells yesterday defeated the Northern Pacific round house team by the score of 10 to 0 in five innings. Talbot had little trouble with the railroad batsmen. Delburn of the Fitwells pitched part of the contest for the railroaders and held his team mates well during the last three innings of the game.

• • •

The Lincoln Athletic club team of this city made its baseball debut yesterday and defeated the Binghams of Superior upon their grounds by the score of 15 to 14. Wagner and Anderson worked for the winning team and Emundson and Nolin for the Binghams.

• • •

The Maroons yesterday defeated the American Pool hall team by the score of 11 to 9. Lundstrom and Ahern worked in the battery points for the winners, Adams, Azine and Taylor being in for the losing team.

GRAND FORKS WINS STATE TRACK MEET.

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—Grand Forks won the interscholastic track meet held here Saturday with 37½ points, while Fargo, their nearest competitor, finished with 31. The day was cold, but a fair sized crowd witnessed the sport.

Gilby and Ferguson were the big point collectors for Grand Forks, each winning two firsts, with Elton winning the mile run in a sprint from Farrand of Fargo.

Grand Forks won the relay race with but very little trouble. The score for the day follows:

Grand Forks, 37½; Fargo, 31; Langdon, 19; Valley City, 8; Jamestown, 6; Grafton, 2; La Moure, 4; Casselton, 3; Larimore, 3; Oakes, ½.

SERIES OF THRILLS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York, May 12.—Followers of major league baseball, particularly those chiefly interested in the National league situation, have been treated to a series of thrills during the past week. These must have been pleasurable if their sympathies lay with the Brooklyns whose surprising rise of the week before was continued with a spurt which took them from fourth place to second, or the reverse, if any one's hopes were fixed on the Pittsburgs whose remarkable slump was accelerated with a jolt downward to within a few points of the Bostons, who profited chiefly by the Pirates' fall. Stallings' braves, by the way, also gave their followers a welcome surprise by dropping but one game and winning four in a row.

The sensation of the week in the American league, was furnished by the New Yorks. Chance's erratic band, after having been maltreated consistently by the Eastern clubs, jumped West, and in the bracing air of Detroit, reeled off three victories out of four starts, winning more games in one series than they had all season before. On the other hand, the Boston world's champions, after winding up their none too successful Eastern campaign by dropping a game to Washington, landed in Cleveland, when Birmingham's men were going at a fast clip and in four playing days were thrice overcome.

A glance at the National league situation as a whole shows Philadelphia, although fought to a standstill by St. Louis in the recent series, still going at a speedy clip and showing no signs of collapse.

Association Resume.

Chicago, May 12.—Personal encounters between players, testified last week to the bitterness of the battle in the American association. The games played did little toward scattering the leading teams, except to give Columbus a fair start on the rest. The next few days may see a shift again, the race is so close.

Unofficial figures on the standing, including the games of Saturday, show that Columbus, which is in the lead is only a few points ahead of Kansas City and Minneapolis. This is in consideration of the fact that the season is young and the Blues and Millers form the rear guard of the first six clubs, makes the race interesting.

President Chivington, it is reported, will take vigorous action to maintain order among the players as a result of the fistic exhibitions indulged in by Harry Clark of Milwaukee and Dave Altizer of Minneapolis.

TRIPLE A TEAM LOSES TO CLOQUET.

The Triple A team of this city yesterday lost a well-played game to the Cloquet nine by the score of 2 to 0. Jack Schmirler was in the box for the locals and he held the Cloquet aggregation to three hits. Cunningham worked for the Cloquets and but two hits were gathered off his delivery. Schmirler was not given the best of support, errors figuring in the run getting of the winning team.

Stones Defeat Poets.

The Stones yesterday won from the Longfellows of the Duluth and Superior league by the score of 12 to 1. E. Carlson was on the mound for the winners, and while he was hit frequently, he succeeded in keeping the hits of the poets well scattered. Hanson pitched for the losing side and was hit hard. Both teams played a ragged game in the field.

Lellvelt Released.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—The unconditional release of Pitcher Lellvelt of the local Northern league team was announced last night. Lellvelt, who was turned over to the Northern league by Manager Cantillon of the local American association club this spring, is reported to be in poor health. He formerly played with the Detroit Americans.

ON THE IRON RANGES

ALICE MAN IS TRAIN VICTIM

Former Bessemer, Mich., Resident Is Killed While Returning Home.

Finnish Hermit Found Dead in His Shack Near Bengal.

Hibbing, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Henry Toivenen, 38 years old, was found early this morning in a ditch beside the Great Northern railroad tracks, a short distance from the Third avenue crossing in the village of Alice. In his pocket was a broken whisky bottle. He was addicted to the habitual use of intoxicants and the presumption is that while returning to his home in an intoxicated condition last night walking on the track, he was struck by a passing ore train.

A watch in his pocket had stopped at 7:20. The skull was crushed, one arm broken and there were bruises about the right shoulder. The body was removed to Barrett's undertaking parlors to be prepared for burial. No inquest will be held.

Toivenen had been a resident of Hibbing for about twelve years and was formerly an employe of Sandberg Bros.' North avenue grocery. He came here from Bessemer, Mich. He leaves a wife and family of five children. The family formerly lived in Brooklyn addition until their home there was destroyed by fire last winter, since which time they have lived at Alice. Arrangements for the funeral are being made.

Found Dead in Shack.

The lifeless body of David Wiland, a Finnish hermit, who for several years made his home in a shack in the woods about three miles west of Bengal, was found in bed at his home yesterday morning by A. Haitto, proprietor of a local saloon. Wiland was about 70 years old and had lived the life of a recluse for a number of years. He was quite well known to a number of the old time residents of this section.

Haitto returned to Hibbing last night and reported the finding of the body to the coroner of Itasca county. It is probable an inquest will be held today. Wiland had evidently been dead for several days. He had no relatives in this section so far as known.

VIRGINIA'S LID SCREWED TIGHTER

New Chief of Police Alert for Law Violators of Every Sort.

Virginia, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city is closed so tight now that it is difficult to see just how it can be closed up any tighter without absolute prohibition, and the new chief of police has issued a proclamation stating his determination to further enforce the already well-obeyed liquor laws. Acting under the mayor's orders he declared that he will see to it that no liquor is sold within the city limits after hours.

In order to better get a chance at any possible evaders of the law, the new police officer says he wants the shades left open so that entire bar is exposed to view after closing time.

The new chief is also going after the automobilists and says he will grab the first man he can catch running his car over ten miles in the restricted districts, although the warning boards state that eight miles an hour is the limit.

The chief says that in the residence districts drivers of cars must keep within the state speed limit of fifteen miles an hour.

FOR GENERAL CLEAN-UP.

Chisholm Art and Study Club Plans on Improving Village.

Chisholm, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies' Art and Study club appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Charles R Woods, Mrs. Frank L. Austin, Miss Minnie Carlson and Miss Nelle Z. Peterson to wait on the village council, at its meeting Wednesday, to ask its co-operation as well as that of the board of health in conducting a general clean-up day for the entire city. The children of all the schools will also be asked to assist in this work.

The committee will also ask the council to consider the advisability of securing an option on the vacant lot opposite the Rood hospital and near the Missabe depot for a park.

The Northern Minnesota convention of Women's clubs will be held in Virginia May 20 and 21, and the Chisholm club will send many delegates.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED.

For District Sunday School Convention at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The program for the district Sunday school convention to be held in the local Methodist church next Sunday follows:

Afternoon session—2:30, devotions; 2:45, "Prof. Athearn's Lectures at the State Convention," Miss Bryan of Grand Rapids; 3:10, "Some Things I Heard Concerning the Adult Bible Class," Mrs. C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids; 3:30 paper, "Every Member of the Church a Member of the Sunday School," Rev. A. A. Meyers, pastor of the Grand Rapids Methodist church; 3:45, "The Missionary Work, Mrs. M. M. Hursh, of Cohasset; 4:15, "Temperance Work," Rev. E. C. Burgess, of Cohasset; 4:30, business meeting.

The evening session will begin at 7:45, Rev. A. A. Meyers having charge of the opening exercises. The addresses of the evening will be given by Rev. E. La Roe, and Dr. M. M. Hursh of Cohasset.

PETERSON GOES TO COLERAINE

Succeeds Godfrey as General Mining Superintendent of That District.

Chisholm, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is said A. Y. Peterson, assistant general superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining company for this district has been placed in full charge at Coleraine with the title of general superintendent succeeding M. H. Godfrey, who was general superintendent here for several years.

Nothing can be learned of Mr. Godfrey's plans although there has been a rumor for several months that he had been offered an attractive proposition by other large mining interests and it is presumed that he has decided to take advantage of the offer.

Godfrey Has Offer.

Mr. Godfrey's absence from this mining section will be greatly regretted as he has a host of friends. When he was transferred to the Coleraine district three years ago a banquet was given him by the business men of Chisholm. Mr. Peterson's leaving Chisholm will mean a great deal to the interests of Chisholm in many ways. He has been actively connected with the school board for several years retiring as president a year ago on account of increased personal affairs.

The change will mean also that Miss Nelle Z. Peterson, a sister of Mr. Peterson will also leave Chisholm and her services on the library board and the Ladies' Art and Study club will be also greatly missed. She is at present president of the Ladies' Art and Study club and is secretary of the library board.

The Peterson home is at the Meyers location although for a couple of years Mr. Peterson has been at the Monroe office as assistant to A. J. Sullivan, general superintendent for the Chisholm district.

HATCHERY IS BUSY.

Tower Fish Propagating Plant Getting Results.

Tower, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work at the local fish hatchery is progressing. The eggs are beginning to hatch and the young fry are being returned to Lake Vermilion waters. Last Friday ninety-six quarts of eggs were brought here by John Mattson from Pipestone Falls near Ely to be hatched. The eggs were from a larger variety of pike than is found here and the game and fish commission hope thereby to improve the quality of the fish in Lake Vermilion. Mr. Iverson is in charge of the hatching and reports that he expects as good a percentage of hatching eggs as last year when 17,000,000 fish were added to the lake waters.

FEEDS MEN ON FISH.

Wall Hollow Logger Runs Afoul State Anti-Netting Law.

Virginia, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. G. Norberg, logger of Wall Hollow, was arrested a few days ago by Game Warden George Wood and pleaded guilty to netting fish and was fined $10 and costs, or thirty days in the county jail at Duluth.

Norberg employs a considerable number of men in his logging camps at Denham lake on the Canadian Northern railroad and is alleged to have been in the habit of feeding the men partially on fish netted from the nearby waters.

NETT LAKE NOTES.

Duluth Contractors Are Building Larger Indian School House.

Nett Lake, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hansen & Nossum, contractors and builders of Duluth, are building a school house here for the Indian children, as the old school is too small.

The Indians had their medicine dance last week.

There have been thirty-six cases of measles—none fatal. There are now seven cases and some of these are convalescent.

A. B. Reagan, agent of the Nett Lake reservation, is back from Kansas.

L. C. Wasson, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., has been transferred to Nett Lake, as farmer.

NAUFFTS GETS CONTRACT.

Duluthian Will Build Wings to Nashwauk High School.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of education has awarded the contract for building two wings to the high school to Theodore Nauffts of Duluth for $42,264. Other bidders were: McLeod & Smith, Duluth; Dauplaise Bros., Bowe-Burke company and J. R. Quigley & Sons of Duluth; Shalberg & Baum of Coleraine and Bailey-Marsh company of Minneapolis.

A. J. Lindsay of Ashland, Wis., was the successful bidder for the moving of the Keewatin school preparatory to erecting a $150,000 structure. The cost will be $3,765.44. J. A. Hazelcamp and A. A. Mitchell company, both of Hibbing, bid $4,305 and $4,973, respectively, while J. A. Loffberg of Grand Rapids put in a bid of $4,629.

HIBBING PEOPLE KICK ON PAVING.

Hibbing, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—People interested in the Fourth avenue paving are not unanimous in regard to material, quite an element being opposed to bitulithic and it is expected a strong protest will be presented to the council tomorrow night against the use of that material.

BUHL TO CELEBRATE.

Buhl, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans are rapidly materializing for the dedication of the new village hall next Thursday. Many outsiders have been invited while every local resident is supposed to be on hand and help greet visitors. An orchestra will furnish music and there will be other features.

FIRST CHISHOLM GAME BIG MAGNET

Fifteen Thousand Fans Watch Hibbing Win By Score of 2 to 0.

Chisholm, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chisholm lost the second game of baseball of the season and the first played at its handsome new park to the Hibbing team yesterday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0 before an attendance of fully 1,500 people. The game was a pitchers' battle and both clubs played practically errorless baseball. Kieffman's home run over the left field fence, scoring Carroll, won for Hibbing in the eighth after Jensen for Chisholm had refused to allow the visitors to pass first base and had held them without a hit for seven innings, pitching gilt-edge baseball. Williams allowed but four hits. He was magnificently supported by both the Hibbing infield and outfield. A. Kieffman's unassisted double play featured the fielding for Chisholm. It came in the eighth with two men on and narrowly missed being a triple, Carroll beating the ball to third by a narrow margin. The fielding honors of the day went to Carroll Booth of Hibbing, who had six assists and two putouts and fielded his position faultlessly.

The weather was cloudy, the grounds a trifle slow and the wind favored the pitchers. Chisholm was never near to scoring.

Eveleth Beats Virginia.

Eveleth, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The locals did some great stickwork over the Virginians here yesterday, winning by a score of 14 to 5. The batteries were: Virginia, Hole and Jeritzer; Eveleth, Foster and Murphy. A big crowd came from Virginia with the Mahoni team.

CALUMET PEOPLE ORDERED TO LEAVE.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case against Thomas S. Quinn, Emma Davis and Anna Carlson, all of Calumet, charged with conducting a house of ill fame, were heard by Justice Kearney and they were ordered to leave the county, and not to return as in case of their return the state will continue the prosecution.

SECTION THIRTY MINER IS KILLED.

Ely, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—While working in one of the lower levels of the Section Thirty mine, Tony Dogceltz was struck by a chunk of ore and instantly killed. He was 35, has a wife and eight children and was employed for several years by the Oliver Iron Mining company in this district prior to going to work at the Section Thirty mine, about six weeks ago.

HIBBING SCIENTISTS NOW USING CHURCH.

Hibbing, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local Christian Scientists who have been holding services in the room over Congdon's drug store, yesterday for the first time, met in the Swedish Methodist church at 10:45 a. m., and will hereafter hold regular services in that edifice.

TOWER BRIEFS.

Tower, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Oddfellow, a tug used in the towing business for years in Lake Vermilion is again in commission and will be used to tow timber products from Pike river.

Gunnard Roland and Gus Carlson spent Sunday here with relatives and friends.

Large numbers of fishing parties are arriving here daily.

I. Goodwill of Goodwill's summer home reports that he expects to resume the summer schedule for his launch the Sally, on June 1, when daily trips will be made arriving at Tower at 11 a. m. and departing for Goodwill's at 1 p. m.

Saturday evening's train from Duluth brought about fifty tourists, fishermen and visiters to Tower.

Miss Mamie Murphy arrived here Sunday for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murphy.

Itasca Board Votes Money.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 12.—(Special toThe Herald.)—The county commissioners advertised for bids for the construction of approaches to the new bridge over the Mississippi, west of town, and for the stretch of road beyond the bridge, the contract to include both approaches and road.

County Surveyor O. J. Lidberg was appointed to the newly created office of County Superintendent of highways. The commissioners voted $50 to the local Civil war veterans for a Memorial day observance and an equal sum to Nashwauk for the same purpose.

Gilbert Social Affair.

Gilbert, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A union meeting of the Presbyterian bodies and societies of Gilbert and Eveleth was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. L. L. Wilcox. A social was indulged in. The Eveleth ladies present were Mesdames R. J. Hancock, Albert Dorcy, Mitchell, Schultz, Ward Goard, William Harvey, Westoway, Polkinhorn, Sherman, Seasted and Jesmore; Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell and Kingston. The hostesses were Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. S. B. Dunn.

Mrs. Robert Lyons Buried.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Robert Lyons was held Saturday afternoon from her home and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. A. A. Meyers, pastor of the Methodist church, and the music was by a quartet composed of Mrs. W. C. Gilbert, Miss Holmes, O. W. Holmes, and Robert Gilbert. The pall bearers were Charles Weston, Frank Meyers, John Billildeau, Will Wheaton, Lester Lofberg, and John Zinlinger. Burial was in the Itasca cemtery.

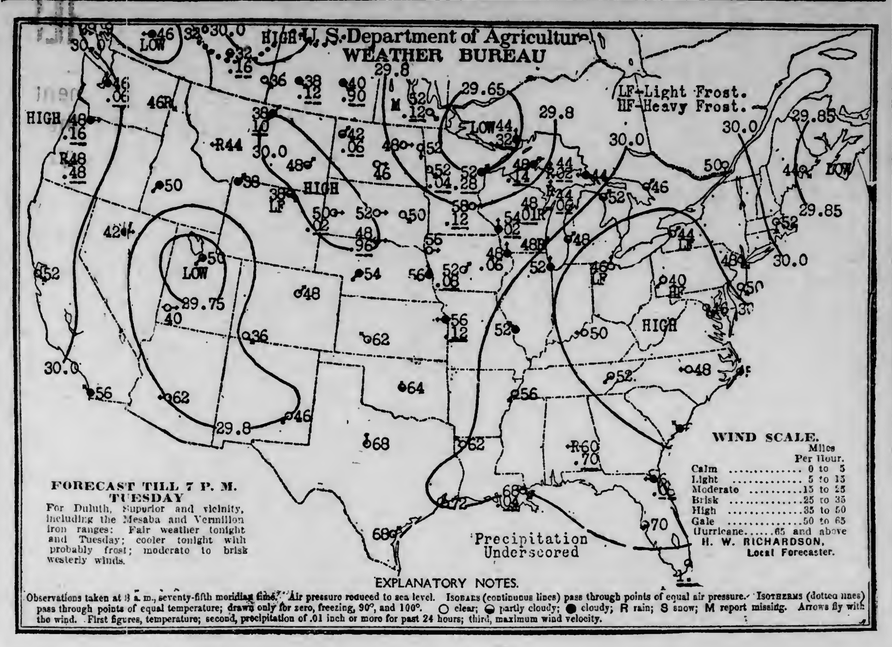
RESINOL CLEARS AWAY PIMPLES

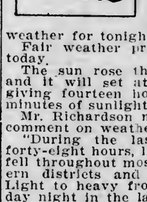
And Blackheads. Restores Health to Unsightly Complexions.

Pimples and blackheads disappear, unsightly complexions become clean, clear, and velvety, and hair health and beauty usually follow the regular use of Resinol Soap and an occasional application of Resinol Ointment. These soothing, healing preparations do their work easily, quickly and at little cost, when even the most expensive and complicated "beauty treatments" utterly fail.

The nearest drug store is sure to have Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. Why not get some today? You can't begin too soon to get rid of those ugly, embarrassing complexion blemishes. The Resinol medication is so gentle, yet so effective, that it can be used freely on the tenderest skin. Doctors throughout the country have prescribed Resinol for eighteen years. You can test it free by writing to Dept. 20-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a generous trial.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER





A beautiful Sunday wound up with a hard spring rain last night and the garden bugs (the human kind) rejoiced. Today dawned fair, but scattering clouds threatened during the day. The weather man doesn't hold out any threats, promising fair, cool weather for tonight and tomorrow.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:35 and it will set at 7:32 this evening, giving fourteen hours and fifty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours, light to copious rains fell throughout most of the Northwestern districts and East Gulf states. Light to heavy frosts occurred Saturday night in the lake region and Ohio valley and in the upper portions of the latter district last night. Cooler weather prevails in Saskatchewan and Northwestern states and frosts are probable tonight in North Dakota and Minnesota."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 12.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Lower Michigan—Showers tonight; Tuesday generally fair and somewhat cooler.

Upper Michigan—Showers in east; generally fair in west portion tonight; Tuesday fair and somewhat cooler.

Wisconsin—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler Tuesday and in west portion tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler tonight with frost in north and west portions.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler tonight in northwest and north central portions.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight with probably cooler in east and central portions.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler in east portion tonight.

Montana—Unsettled weather with probably showers tonight or Tuesday; warmer in northwest portion tonight.

Upper lakes—Brisk southwesterly to northwesterly winds. Showers tonight, Tuesday fair and somewhat cooler weather.

DENIES THAT HE NETTED ANY FISH

Rev. K. E. Forsell Explains His Arrest By Game Warden.

K. E. Forsell writes from Lake Dinham, taking exception to portions of a Virginia dispatch published on May 7 referring to his arrest and fining for netting fish. He says he is not a Lutheran clergyman, is not a graduate of Harvard, and the game warden did not seize any fish. The net which was handed over to the game warden was 65 feet, not 100 feet as stated. Continuing, Mr. Forsell says:

"Mr. Forsell does not own any land on Dinham lake, and he is not building a summer home there. The land belongs to Mrs. Forsell. He was fined $100 and costs and the costs were piled up to $17.45, and he heard it stated in court by the highest official there that $14 of the costs goes to the game warden. The game warden-at-large Mr. Wood, asked one of Mr. Forsell's neighbors if the preacher had any money and was informed that he had not, that he was a poor man, had a very small salary and a family, wife and three small children to support, and was spending his vacation up here and was spending what little money he had saved up on improving his homestead at Lake Berg. It was through the graciousness of the court and undoubtedly the good word of Mr. Wood, that the sentence of $100 was suspended, but he had to pay the costs of $17.45.

"What are the facts in this case? I shall state them very briefly. I had two men working for me who lived in my cabin on my homestead at Lake Berg and boarded themselves. One of them made a net for me. I had paid for the twine. He said it was too poor for any use. The net twine was rotten. He did not charge me anything for it and I did not pay him anything. The net was never turned over to me. I stayed in another cabin at Lake Dinham, about a mile away. The men caught some fish and gave me some. They also gave other neighbors some. I knew they speared some and took some by net. They told me so. I never saw them fishing. The net that was turned over to the game warden and his deputy was not mine. It had been left at my cabin. That I knew nothing about until afterwards. I did not know where the net was until one of the men told me and I went with Game Warden Wood and his man and found the net and handed it to them. I answered the questions he asked me truthfully, and had to go with him to Virginia and pay a fine of $100 and costs of $17.45 or go to jail for ninety days. The judgment of $100 fine was suspended.

"One of the men who worked for me, a poor, honest law-abiding man, not the one who made the net, a man who has been in this part of our glorious free country but six weeks, a man who never put out a net, but simply was with the other man and ate some pickerel and suckers, had to go along and was soaked in the same way and to the same extent.

"Now, I leave it with the public to judge, was I justly and fairly dealt with by Mr. Wood? Have I deserved such treatment as that? Did that other man deserve it? Is that the intent and meaning of this fish law? If so, I bow my head in humble submission. If not, then something ought to be done to right the wrong and punish the guilty. Very respectfully,

"K. E. FORSELL."

END LIVER TROUBLE WITHOUT CALOMEL

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-colored tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

CITY-OWNED PHONE.

Mitchell, S. D., to Vote on Bonds for Building Plant.

Mitchell, S. D., May 12.—A special election for June 10 has been ordered by the city council for the purpose of voting on $60,000 bonds to be used in the construction of a municipal telephone plant. The franchise held by the Dakota Central Telephone company expired Sunday, and on account of a disagreement over rates, will not be renewed. The rate controversy is at present being considered by the state railroad commissioners and is up before the Federal court at Sioux Falls, S. D. The Dakota Central company refuses to vacate the city and has obtained a court injunction restraining the city council from interfering with its plant or ordering it to vacate the streets.

CHURCHMAN FAVORS CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

Helena, Mont., May 12.—Bishop John Patrick Carroll declared himself emphatically in favor of capital punishment in the course of a sermon delivered at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

"The only deterrent to check the hand of murder is capital punishment," asserted the bishop. "Politicians err when they decree that life shall not pay the penalty of life. Records show a material increase in the taking of human life during the past few years, and it can only be ascribed to the fact that so many states are doing away with the law which provides that the murderer pay the penalty of his crime with his own life.

"Suicide," he continued, "is all due to a lack of courage and a want of hope in a future existence."

NORTH DAKOTA A. C. PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of the resignation of Arthur Reuber as directer of athletics at the N. D. A. C., Howard W. Wood of Potsdam, N. Y., has been chosen as his successor. Mr. Reuber is a Rochester, Minn., boy, and a graduate of Northwestern university. He has been very successful here and quits athletics to enter private business. The new coach is well known in the West and did professional work last season in South Dakota.

DULUTH ARCHITECTS TO DESIGN BUILDING.

Roseau, Minn., May 12.—Lignell & Loebeck of Duluth have been employed as the architects for the new courthouse building, commission to be 5 per cent of the cost of the building.

Mr. Lignell met with the board at its last meeting and submitted plans for the building, which, with a few changes suggested by the board, were accepted. The architects will complete the plans and specifications and the county auditor will soon publish notice to let the contract. The cost of the building will be within the $25,000.

Fargo Man Honored.

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Fargo man, C. F. Chase, has been selected as the engineer in charge of the international fanning mill contest to be held at Winnipeg July 10-11. Mr. Chase is an agricultural engineer at the North Dakota Agricultural college, and his selection is regarded as an honor for that institution. There will be entries from the leading fanning mill manufacturers of both the United States and Canada. The efficiency of the machines in eliminating weed seeds will be an important factor in deciding the winner.

Wahpeton to Have White Way.

Wahpeton, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wahpeton will have a white way system of lighting for the business district soon as a result of the action of the city council in approving the plan. Some time ago a committee of business men was appointed to raise funds for the construction of the system. The fund has almost been completed, and now the council has voted to supply current for it.

Corn Contest Alluring.

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The corn contest under the auspices of the Better Farming movement is attracting a great deal of attention. There are thirty-one prizes ranging from $10 to $100 each put up by the association. In addition, Ransom, Ward, Wells, Stutsman and other counties also offer prizes if contestants from those counties win.

Sold Short Weight Butter.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 12.—C. A. Nelson, president of the Clover Leaf Dairy company, 420 Twentieth avenue north, has been fined $30 by Judge C. L. Smith for having sold cartons of butter stamped "three pounds" that were short four and one-fourth ounces.

North Dakota Rider Killed.

Bowman, N. D., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—James McGee, thrown from his horse and striking a fence post with his head, died in a local hospital. His body was taken to Monticello, Minn., his former home, for burial.

McGovern Vetoes Bill.

Madison, Wis., May 12.—Governor McGovern Saturday vetoed Assemblyman Burke's bill providing that cities of the first class may extend water mains on public highways, or tunnel under steam or electric railway crossings, creeks, rivers and culverts within such country. The governor says the bill fails to state the purpose for which such tunneling is done.

Grain Markets Have Little Flurry But Fall Back at Close.

Dullness With Undertone of Strength Features the Market.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 12.—After enjoying a little rise all along the line this morning the grain market closed at or around the closing price of Saturday. Dullness but an undertone of much strength characterized the market, and not many trades were made during the day. Cash wheat closed the same as July. July closed ½c under the opening but ⅝c over Saturday, and September closed ⅝c over Saturday also. Durum, July option, closed ½c over Saturday's close with few quotations.

July flax closed ½c up and September ½c up.

Oats had a bulge of ⅝c on the strength of reports of dryness and rye and barley remained unchanged.

In the absence of cable news, the European markets being all closed on account of this being a religious holiday over there, each American grain market was influenced chiefly by local conditions today, and in spite of bearish news, showed considerable strength in each cereal during the early hours. Telegraphic information from other American markets showed that the feeling is stronger on the buying side than on the selling, and there is a disposition of shorts to cover should any advance of a determined character be started. This has kept the market strong and with a tendency upward. Chinch bug reports and news of dryness in some oat centers, causing oats to soar to some extent, created in the wheat market a sympathetic feeling, contributing to the strength.

On the Duluth market during the opening hours May wheat was stagnant. July opened even with Saturday, went up ¼c, but struck a steady level at from even to ⅛c up. September opened ⅜c up but followed the course of July. May durum held around even to ⅛c up and July durum was steady at Saturday's close to ¼c off.

Flax is rather inactive, July being ½c to ¾c over Saturday.

The Winnipeg Telegram today prints the following reports on Western Canada crop conditions: Practically all spring wheat is now sown in the three Western provinces. Early sown wheat is now showing green. The wheat acreage is unchanged in Manitoba; there is a 15 per cent increase in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Oats and barley acreage is increased generally 10 per cent; the flax acreage is greatly reduced. Coarse grain sowing now is in progress. Wheat has ample moisture everyhwere for a good start."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Harden on Forecasts of Visible Supply.

Chicago, May 12.—Wheat prices hardened today because the United States visible supply statement was expected to show a decrease. World shipments were larger than looked for but the effect was offset by the fact that supplies on passage exhibited a falling off. Chances for a lowering of domestic crop prospects encouraged the bulls. The opening was unchanged to ⅛@¼c up. July started at 90c to 90⅛c, a gain of a shade to ⅛@¼c, touched 89¼c and rose to 90¼c.

Oats strength carried the market a little higher, but optimistic reports about the wheat crop in Ohio and Oklahoma brought about a reaction. The close was easy with July ¼@⅜c net lower at 89⅝c.

Scantiness of receipts made corn firm. July opened ⅛c higher at 56⅜c, sold at 56¼@56⅜c and then advanced to 56⅝c.

Later the market eased off somewhat with wheat. The close was easy at 56⅜c for July, a net gain of ⅛c.

Oats went higher all around owing to lively demand for May, which bulged more than a cent to 38c. July wheat started a sixteenth to ¼@⅜c up, at 35⅝c to 35¾c, reached 36¼c.

Plentiful receipts of hogs weakened provisions. First sales were unchanged to 2½c down, with July $19.25½ for pork; $10.75 for lard and $10.82½ for ribs.

STOCKS ARE DEPRESSED

Bearish Sentiment Rules Session and the Close Is Heavy.

Fifteen Stocks Sell at Low Figures for the Year.

New York, May 12.—With early speculation so dull as to give promise of the smallest day's business of the year, traders found it difficult to attract a following on either the short or the long side by concentrating on special stocks.

The holiday abroad and the possibility of important decisions today by the supreme court restricted business. Some selling was caused by the spread of labor troubles and last week's unfavorable steel tonnage figures, but prices soon steadied and the later movement was alternately up and down within a narrow range. American Sugar lost 2 and Beet Sugar half as much. Bonds were steady.

Trading at the opening of the stock market was the dullest for many weeks. The drift of prices was downward, although the losses in most cases were restricted to small fractions. Exceptions were Rumely and Can, preferred, which lost a point each.

Reading and Union Pacific moved up ½ and Steel ⅜, but the buying soon stopped and the market eased off. Transactions in the first hour were under 25,000 shares.

A thin market prevailed for inactive stocks and wide fluctuations occurred between sales. Coal shares continued to reflect uneasiness. Jersey Central broke 20 points to 300, and Pennsylvania sold at 111, a new low record. Pressure was also effective against Harvester preferred and the Virginia-Carolina Chemical issues.

The stagnation in business in the afternoon was relieved for a while by a selling movement in which the active list declined half a point or more.

Reading sold 1¼ and Lehigh Valley 1½ below Saturday's close.

The market closed heavy. Bearish sentiment was increased by the steadily falling level of investment shares, many of which established new low levels. In all there were fifteen stocks of various classes which sold at low figures for the year. Prices did not vary much in the final hour, but the list continued depressed and ended around the lowest of the day.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 12.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of one point. Crop positions were relatively easy owing to reports of scattered showers in the Eastern belt, but the old crop evidently was influenced by continued nervousness over the shipments from the local stock. Business was not at all active, being restricted by the holiday in Liverpool, but the market held steady during the early trading and ruled about not unchanged to 3 points higher.

Futures closed steady; bids: May, 11.51; June, 11.60; July, 11.64; August, 11.40; September, 11.15; October, 11.06; December, 11.07; January, 11.05; March, 11.12.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands; 12.10; middling gulf, 12.35; sales, 500 bales.

BETTER ICE CONDITIONS

Rain, Wind and Warm Weather Breaking Up the Field.

Incoming Boats Report No Trouble With Floating Ice.

With the heavy rains of last night and the strong southwest wind today, the ice conditions on the lake have greatly improved.

The ice is gradually drifting out under the present wind, while considerable of it melted as a result of the rains last night. It is expected that the ice will disappear in the next few days, should the present winds continue.

Incoming boats report no trouble whatever in getting to the Head of the Lakes. They have all been making the regular summer schedules during the past two days, for the first time since the openirg of the season.

Six of the nine strikers of the steamer Lyman C. Smith, who were thrown off the boat by the police last Wednesday evening, have signed up with other boats and are now on their way to Eastern ports. The three remaining, Harry Moss, Sam Wilson and John D Hanson, propose to libel the boat upon her return to Duluth. They have already filed affidavits with United States Commissioner Thomas H. Pressnell.

Officials at the Great Northern ore docks at Superior report that the men are all at work and that they have heard nothing of a strike. There are 400 men at work on day and night shifts. It is understood that the men have digeussed the matter, but have taken no action as yet.

BARGE UNADILLA FLOATING AGAIN

Boat Which Sunk at Buffalo After Striking Wreck Is Raised.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—The barge Unadilla, which was beached near the life-saving station early on Thursday morning after striking the Richardson wreck, was floated Saturday afternoon. Her deckload of lumber was transferred to canalboats and a diver was sent down to examine her hull. The diver placed a temporary patch over the hole, and the vessel was pumped out.

No estimate can be made of the extent of the damage suffered by the barge until her lumber cargo is unloaded at Tonawanda.

Hinkley & Sampson, the firm holding the government contract to remove the wreck of the steamer Richardson, condemned as a menace to navigation, are today making a supreme effort to salvage the vessel. Under the direction of the members of the firm, sections of the cofferdam, to be placed around the wreck, were taken today from the foot of Genesee street to the Richardson, three miles out of the Buffalo harbor. Experts have been brought to Buffalo for the work and it is said that today the contractors will begin what they hope will be a successful attempt to raise the wreck that has baffled the skill of many salvage companies.

On account of the damage done Thursday morning to the barge Unadilla when she struck the wreck, it is said that the United States government insists that the Richardson be removed at once. If the attempt by Hinkley & Sampson to raise the wreck is not successful, it is rumored that the Federal authorities will blow up the Richardson.

GRAIN RATES ARE HOLDING STEADY

Shippers Willing to Pay Only 2 Cents With No Restrictions.

Grain rates are steady, although shippers now refuse to charter tonnage with a demurrage clause. The boat owners ask 2¼ cents, with a guarantee of dispatch.

Several vessels, it is reported, have been offered at 2 cents with a demurrage clause, but the shippers will not guarantee more than one elevator loading. These were readily withdrawn. Shippers here and in the East with tonnages up to 350,000 bushels, are in the market for a 2-cent rate, unrestricted.

About 3,000,000 bushels of grain are still afloat at Buffalo, with night and day shifts working constantly in the endeavor to get this large fleet out of the way. The way things are now working in Buffalo, it is understood to be safe to put in a boat without guarantee, as she should get out within a very reasonable time.

The ore movement is gradually improving and another large fleet left the Duluth harbor since Saturday noon. An exceptionally large number of ore boats have also arrived, and they are now loading at local docks.

Although the coal movement in the East is rather slow, and shippers are complaining to the railroads, the demand for tonnage is good. Small tonnage can still get 5 cents over the rate to Lake Michigan points. This is very good and is accounted for by the fact that the boats can obtain considerable downbound freight for the return trips.

PLANNING THE NEW WELLAND SHIP CANAL.

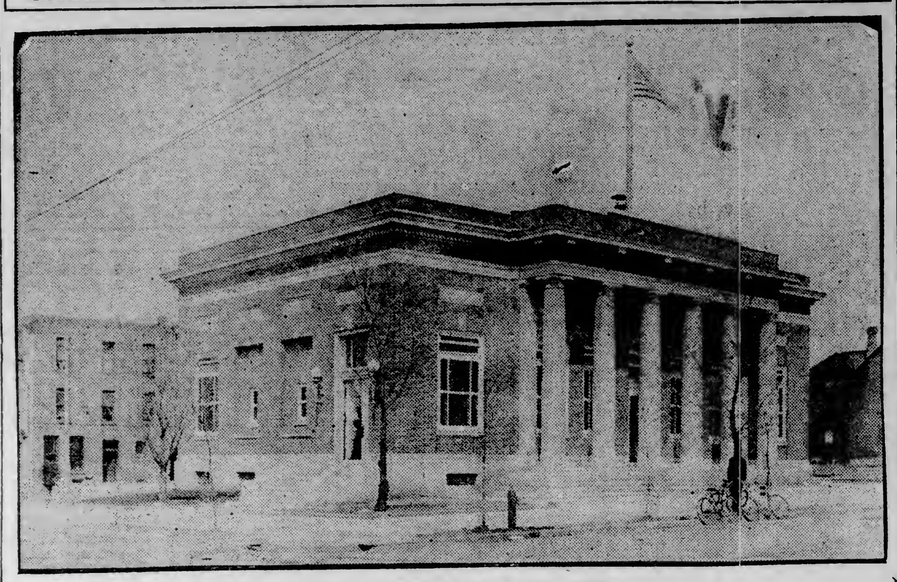
St. Catharines, Ont., May 12.—Alfred Noble of New York and W. J. Boden and D. W. McLaughlin of Ottawa are here making examinations of proposed route of the new Welland ship canal which is to cost $50,000,000. Noble, who was engaged by the dominion government to make the examination, will say whether the route agreed on by the engineers is the proper one, after which contracts will be immediately let.

Drydock Kept Busy.

Port Huron, Mich., May 12.—The Reid Wrecking company has work ahead at its drydock which will keep it busy for at least three months.

The steamer Colonial, recently purchased by the Reids, and the steamer Edward Smith of Buffalo are the first that will be given attention. The Colonial will be rebuilt throughout, while the Smith needs a lot of repairs. The company expects to employ 100 ship carpenters and caulkers and 100 laborers.

UNCLE SAM'S ONLY BUILDING ON MESABA RANGE OPENED



VIRGINIA'S NEW $60,000 POSTOFFICE.

Virginia, Minn., May 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Federal building erected here by the government at a cost of about $60,000 has been in use since May 1 and in every way has come up to expectation. It is one of the most up-to-date postoffices in the state and the only Federal building upon the Minnesota iron ranges. It is of red facing brick and stone trimmings and as near fireproof as possible, the floors being of steel and concrete and the walls solid brick with steel lath beneath plaster.

EXCURSION BOATS TO OPEN SEASON JUNE 10.

The steamers Plowboy and Columbia will open their excursion season on Tuesday, June 10.

The announcement was made by Capt. H. D. Clow of the Clow & Nicholson Transportation company. Should the weather permit, it is probable that the excursions to Fond du Lac will be started on Decoration day. The boats will make their regular trips to Two Harbors, Port Wing and Fond du Lac during the summer.

The Plowboy is now undergoing slight repairs at Eleventh avenue west and the Columbia at Fond du Lac, where she has been docked during the winter.

BERWIND COMPANY HAS NEW LAUNCH.

A new Berwind Fuel company launch was launched at Superior Saturday afternoon.

The boat was named the Berwind by W. K. Link, superintendent of the company. Among those present at the ceremony were: F. G. Hartwell, president of the Berwind Fuel company, who came to Superior from Chicago, and G. A. Tomlinson of Duluth, president of the Superior Shipbuilding company.

The Berwind is a 35-foot cruiser, finished in mahogany and provided with every modern appointment. It was built by the Atlantic Boat company of Amesbury, Mass.

The vessel will be used at the company's docks in Duluth and Superior.

New Ice Breaker.

Port Arthur, Ont., May 12.—The icebreaker J. T. Horn, a sister boat to the St. Ignace, was launched from the Western Drydock & Shipbuilding company's dock here Saturday noon. The launching was witnessed by a big crowd of Port Arthur and Fort William people.

The St. Ignace, owned by Captain Whalen, is now in the Port Arthur harbor. The boats are constructed so that they may ride the ice and crush it, while deep under water at the bows are specially constructed propellers which assist in smashing the ice. They also suck out the water, making the crushing effect of the overhanging bow more effective.

It is claimed that with these two boats, a channel can be kept open between here and the Soo all winter with ease.

New Canal Boats.

Tonawanda, N. Y., May 12.—Two new canal boats were launched at the Follette yards on Ellicott creek Saturday afternoon. One was christened the Burton A. Allen in honor of Burton A. Allen of New York. The other boat was not named. The boats will be used by the Follette Transportation company of New York in the grain trade between Buffalo and the metropolis.

Steamer Crippled.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 12.—While abreast Round island, upper St. Mary's river, the steamer A. G. Brower lost her shoe and rudder yesterday afternoon and will be brought to the Soo for repairs. The Brower was upbound with coal for Duluth. It may be necessary to tow the vessel to its destination.

Many Accidents.

North Tonawanda, May 12.—There has been an unusually large number of mishaps to Tonawanda vessels so far this season, for seven of the local lumber and ore carriers have met with accidents since May 1.

Lake and River Changes.

Lake Superior—Portake river entry; temporary lights to be established—About May 10, 1913, the following temporary lights will be established on the inner west revetment at the southern entrance to the Portage river, Lake Superior:

Portage entry revetment temporary south light, a fixed white light, of about forty-five candle power, about fifteen feet above the water, on a black steel frame and post, on the southern end of the inner revetment.

Portage entry revetment temporary north light, a fixed white light, of about forty-five candle power, about fifteen feet above the water, on a black steel frame and post, on the northern end of the inner revetment.

Lake Superior—Duluth-Superior harbor, St. Louis river range lights, color to be changed—About May 15, 1913, the color of St. Louis river range lights, on the eastern side of the channel at Grassy Point turn, St. Louis river, Duluth-Superior harbor, will be changed from white to red.

Detroit River—Ballards reef and Livingstone channels, gas-buoy No. 79D; characteristic of light changed; additional light—The Canadian government has given notice that the light shown from Gas-buoy No. 79D, moored at the junction of Ballards reef and Livingstone channels, Detroit river, has been changed from fixed to intermittent white, visible over the whole horizon.

An intermittent green light showing upstream only has been established on this buoy two feet below the main light.

St. Mary's River—Sault Ste. Marie Canadian canal; buoy replaced by gas-buoy—The Canadian government has given notice that the black spar buoy heretofore moored 950 feet 142 deg. from the outer end of the south pier at the lower entrance to the Sault Ste. Marie Canadian canal, St. Mary's river, has been replaced by a black gas-buoy showing a fixed white acetylene light.

Lake Erie—Buffalo harbor approach; Buffalo lightvessel; fog signal to be changed—About May 15, 1913, the fog signal on Buffalo lightvessel No. 56, Buffalo harbor approach, Lake Erie, will be changed from a 6 to a 10-inch steam whistle sounding one blast every twenty seconds, thus, blast 5 seconds, silent interval 15 seconds.

ALONG THE LAKES

Because the largest Canadian boat contemplated for 1914 will be too large to enter the Welland canal, it will be used between the Canadian head of the lakes, Port Colborne and Georgian bay ports, and to carry bonded grain between Duluth and Canadian ports.

• • •

• • •

Detroit is designated a regular stop on a through freight route from Montreal to Port Arthur, according to the plans announced yesterday by L. A. W. Doherty, lake traffic manager of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation company of Montreal.

• • •

Steamer John Duncan, after lying at Milwaukee several seasons, is again in service, passing down the river yesterday. High rates this year led her owners to take her out.

• • •

United States local inspectors in Milwaukee have revoked the marine engineer's license of Frank C. McCauley of Milwaukee, they having found the latter guilty of violation of section 4445 of the Revised Statues.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SALE OF TIMBER LANDS—

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 27, 1902 (32 Stat., 400), as modified by Section 27 of the Act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat., 855), that the pine timber on certain ceded Chippewa Indian lands in the State of Minnesota, will be offered for sale to the highest bidder by sealed bids for separate sections, and in addition thereto for groups of ten sections. The offering will include 90 per cent of the pine timber on certain subdivisions in T. 144, 145 N., R. 26 W.; T. 144 N., R. 27 W., Ts. 144, 146 N., R. 28 W.; Ts. 144, 145, 146, 147 N., R. 29 W.; Ts. 142, 145, 146 N., R. 30 W.; T. 143 N., R. 31 W., embracing land in the Minnesota National Forest, and all of the pine timber on certain subdivisions in T. 64 N., R. 4 E.; Ts. 63, 64 N., R. 5 E.; T. 64 N., R. 6 E.; Ts. 49, 50, Rs. 17, 18 W.; T. 51 N., R. 18 W.; Ts. 65, 66, R. 21 W.; T. 65 N., R. 22 W.; T. 64 N., Rs. 23, 24 W.; T. 147 N., R. 25 W.; Ts. 144, 147, 148, 158 N., R. 26 W.; Ts. 141, 142, 148, 157 N., R. 27 W.; Ts. 143, 148, 159 N., R. 28 W.; Ts. 146, 153, 154 N., R. 30 W.; Ts. 144, 152, 153 N., R. 31 W.; Ts. 153, 157, 158 N., R. 32 W.; Ts. 161, 168 N., R. 33 W.; Ts. 157, 158, 159, 160, 163, 167 N., R. 34 W.; Ts. 148 150, 159, 160, 161 N., R. 35 W.; T. 159 N., R. 36 W.; Ts. 143, 144, 145, 146, 148, 159, 160 N., R. 37 W.; Ts. 148, 159 N., R. 38 W. Printed lists giving description of the lands on which the timber to be sold is located, and copies of the Rules and Regulations for the sale and removal of the timber, may be obtained on application to the register and receiver of the district land office at Cass Lake, Minnesota, or upon application to Mr. William O'Neil, superintendent of logging, Cass Lake, Minn., or to the commissioner of the general land office, Washington, D. C. Bids for the timber will be opened at the district land office at Cass Lake, Minn., commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., on July 30, 1913. In order to receive consideration, bids must be filed at said district land office before the hour fixed for the opening of bids. A deposit in the form of cash or a certified check equal to 20 per cent of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid, which deposit will be retained and credited as part payment of the purchase price should the bid be accepted and the agreement and regulations be complied with, or be forfeited if the bid is accepted and the required bond and agreement is not furnished within ten days from notice by telegraph of the acceptance of the bid. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

FRED DENNETT, Commissioner.

Approved April 14, 1913.
LEWIS C. LAYLIN, Assistant secretary.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and delivered by Charles Gilberg and Emma Gilberg, his wife (spelled in mortgage Emma Gellberg), mortgagors, to St. Louis County State Bank, a corporation, mortagagee, dated April 2nd, 1910, and recorded in the Register of Deeds' office, for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 4th day of April 1910, at 9:15 o'clock A. M., in Book 274 of Mortgages, on Page 188, which said mortgage, with the debt thereby secured, was thereafter assigned by said St. Louis County State Bank to Mary A. Whitney, by written instrument dated July 13th, 1910, which said instrument was recorded in the office of the said Register of Deeds on the 14th day of July, 1910, at 8:00 o'clock A. M., in Book 228 of Mortgages, on Page 246, which said mortgage, with the debt thereby secured, was thereafter assigned by the said Mary A. Whitney to the St. Louis County State Bank, a corporation, by written instrument, dated April 5th, 1913, which said instrument was recorded in the said Register of Deeds' office, on the 15th day of April, 1913, at 11:00 o'clock A. M., in Book 304 of Mortgages, on Page 201.

Such default consists in the non-payment of the principal sum secured by said mortgage and interest thereon. There is claimed to be due and is actually due on said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of Five Hundred One and 42-100 Dollars ($501.42), principal and interest, and no action or proceeding at law, or otherwise, has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, to-wit:

The Northerly Seventy Feet (Nly. 70 ft.) of the Southerly Seventy-five Feet (Sly. 75 ft.) of the West One-half (W½) of Lot Three Hundred Thirty (330), in Block One Hundred Forty-three (143), Duluth Proper, Second Division, according to the recorded plat thereof, which said premises, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the Sheriff's office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, on Tuesday, the 3rd day of June, 1913, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and the interest, and Fifty Dollars ($50.00), attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption within one year from date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, April 21st, 1913.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY STATE BANK, Assignee of Mortgagee.

F. C. ELSTON, Attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee, No. 500-503 Torrey Building, Duluth, Minnesota.

D. H., April 21, 28, May 5, 12, 19 and 26, 1913.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS—

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Education of the City of Duluth, at its office in the Central High School building, up to four (4) o'clock P. M. of Monday, May 26th, 1913, for the erection and completion of the "Robert E. Denfeld Industrial High School," to be located upon Blocks 94 and 95, West Duluth, Sixth Division, all to be according to plans and specifications which may be obtained at the office of F. G. German, architect, 410 Exchange Bldg., Duluth, Minn., or at the Builders' Exchange, Lyceum Bldg.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Mark envelope "Bid R. E. Denfeld High School" and address same to the undersigned.

CHAS. A. BRONSON, Clerk, Board of Education.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, May 5, 1913.

Notice is hereby given, That on June 18, 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1914, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at time of sale.

Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON, State Auditor.

D. H., May 12, 19, 26, June 2, 1913.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.

Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

RATES ARE LOWEST.

The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.

A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.

This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION PLANS MODEL TOWN ADJOINING ITS DULUTH PLANT

FARRELL SAYS U. S. STEEL CORPORATION HAS DONE MUCH GOOD

President of Alleged Trust Continues Testimony at Hearing.

Tells of Handling Business That Nobody Else Would Take Up.

Talks About Tariff and Pig Iron From India and China.

New York, May 13.—The United States Steel corporation was pictured as an industrial benefactor by James A. Farrell, its president, when he resumed the witness stand today as a witness for the defense in the government suit to dissolve the corporation.

As an example, he said that were it not for the policy of the corporation "to do a general business regardless of conditions," the cotton crop of the United States this year could not be marketed. He explained that the corporation supplied practically all the cotton ties used for binding cotton baled in the country and that there was no profit in their manufacture.

"Our competitors," he said, "have shown no desire to manufacture cotton ties, so it devolved upon us to supply the demand. It is not an attractive business, but last year we supplied the compress men in the South with 1,900,000 bundles at 85 cents a bundle. If we should stop manufacture, the cotton crop this year would lie on the ground.

MURDER VICTIM IS MINNEAPOLIS MAN

Body Identified as That of Henry Gies, an Engineer.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The nude body of a hunchback, found near here Sunday, has been identified as that of Henry Gies, supposedly of Minneapolis. The man came here April 23 and registered at an East Grand Forks hotel under that name.

He was an engineer and left the hotel April 29 to take a job as engineer of a traction engine on a farm. He had then only $5 with him.

A post mortem examination showed he was killed by being struck on the head by some blunt instrument. The body was entirely nude and had been hauled for some distance to the place of concealment.

BUFFALO UNION MEN PUT SOCIALIST OUT

Oust Him From Membership for Slander and Hurting Cause.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 13.—At a stormy session of the United Trades and Labor council which lasted from 9 o'clock last night until early this morning, W. Frank Cattell, a Socialist, was ousted from membership in the council. The formal charge against him was that he had made slanderous statements about the council's business agent.

Union leaders declared at last night's meeting that Cattell precipitated strikes at a time when the unionists successfully were working out plans to secure betterment for the workers.

CHICAGO ALDERMEN MAKE WAR ON NOISE

Authorize Health Department to Find Means for Quiet.

Chicago, May 13. — A campaign against needless noises has been started, the council having authorized the health committee to find ways and means to reduce the racket which one speaker asserted has given Chicago the reputation of being one of the noisiest cities in the universe.

Alderman Willis O. Nance, chairman of the committee, said that unnecessary noises are responsible for discomfort, deafness and even death.

"Noise is admitted by physicians to be detrimental to health, and in the case of nervous individuals is not infrequently fatal," he said. "Unquestionably it has much to do with the production of deafness. Industrial efficiency is probably reduced 25 per cent in some localities by useless noise."

DAUGHTER OF EDITOR WILL WAIT FOR FIANCE

ELIZABETH CROSBY NOYES.

DR. WILLIAM ROSS THOMPSON

Washington, May 13.—The engagement of Elizabeth Crosby Noyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Noyes of Washington, to William Ross Thompson has been announced. Miss Noyes' father is the editor of the Washington Star. Miss Noyes' sister, Ruth, was married in February. Because of her youth, Miss Noyes' parents have made it a condition that she is not to marry within a year. Miss Noyes is one of the most popular members of the younger social set at Washington. Dr. William Ross Thompson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Thompson of Washington. As Mr. Thompson has not yet graduated from college, the marriage will not occur for a year.

MRS. DRUMMOND TOO SICK TO FACE TRIAL

Suffragette Leader Must Undergo Operation, Say Doctors.

London, May 13.—"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette, is in a state of collapse and will be unable to appear at the resumed hearing at Bow street police court today on the charges of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act, which has been brought against her.

A doctor testified in court that owing to her illness she had been moved to a nursing home. He said it would take two weeks for her to get into condition to undergo an operation which was necessary, and another two months before she would be able to be tried. The other "conspirators," who comprised Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the analytical chemist, Clayton, all surrendered to their bail.

Contending that it is illegal to suppress newspapers in advance, James Ramsay MacDonald and James Kier Hardie, both members of parliament, have announced their readiness to undertake the responsibility of printing the Suffragette, for the absolute suppression of which the government is striving. They declare they are ready to stand by the consequences.

Mr. MacDonald is opposed to militancy, but is fighting for free speech.

Public Baths Men Meet.

Baltimore, Md., May 13.—Experts on hygiene and public bathing from leading cities of the United States are in atetndance at the second annual conference of American Association for the Promotion of Hygiene and Public Baths, which opened here today. The meetings will last until Thursday afternoon.

TARIFF FIGHT ON IN SENATE

Penrose Opens Fray With Demand for Public Hearings.

Debate on Question May Last for Several Days.

Washington, May 13.—The tariff fight was resumed today in the senate on the motion of Senator Penrose to refer the Underwood bill to the finance committee with instructions for public hearings.

Chairman Simmons of the finance committee was busy early in the day urging all Democratic members to be on hand in case the question should come to a vote, and he felt confident that the Republicans' first move against the majority would be checked.

Some Republicans, who have declared that they would not support the Penrose amendment, argue that hearings on a tariff for revenue bill would avail nothing, and that were the bill written from a protective standpoint they would favor hearings.

Senator Penrose and other Republican senators planned to talk on the amendment at length when the senate convened, and it looked as though it might be some days before a vote was reached.

Wilson Will Not Interfere.

President Wilson has taken the position that he ought not commit himself in any way with respect to numerous minor amendments to the tariff bill being suggested by Democrats. Secretary Redfield had a half hour's talk with the president before the cabinet meeting today, and declared he believed unimportant changes would be made, but that if the president consented to certain ones he would be besieged with requests to open up other schedules.

Senator Simmons said today the finance subcommittee were making some changes, but that they were not material.

Reduction of the proposed duty of 12 per cent on structural steel to 9 per cent is said to have been considered.

MRS. HUNSIKER WARSAW BRIDE.

Warsaw, May 13.—Mrs. Clara Hunsiker, formerly Miss Clara Jansen of Cleveland, Ohio, was married today to Col. Dimitry d'Osnobiopine in this city. Mrs. Clara Hunsiker was formerly the wife of Col. Millard Hunsiker, president of the American Society in London.

No Americans Killed.

Washington, May 13.—No Americans were killed or injured in the latest typhoon to sweep over the Philippine islands, although there were a number of casualties among the natives and great damage was done to property. Governor-General Forbes reports that the principal damage was in the north.

UNION IS THE FIRST ISSUE

Cincinnati Street Car Men Reject Terms of Arbitration.

Say Recognition Must Be Granted—Car Service Tied Up.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 13.—The new union of Cincinnati street car employes today refused to arbitrate with the Cincinnati Traction company under the conditions offered by the latter, and decided to continue the strike. Recognition of the union before arbitration is insisted upon by the union men.

No attempt was made to operate cars by the Cincinnati Traction company today. The arbitration proposal accepted by the traction company and through Mayor Hunt delivered to the strike leaders came up at a meeting of the union today, and a vote was taken on its acceptance.

President W. D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Car Employes of America, before the meeting, said the men themselves would decide whether to call the strike off.

The arbitration proposition was made to Mayor Henry T. Hunt by Kelley Schoepf, president of the traction company, after the latter had been in conference for many hours in the afternoon with the board of directors of the company. The company asked for an arbitration board to be composed of one member representing the traction company and one representing the street car men's union, these two to choose a third. In case they could not arrive at a decision as to the third member, a United States judge was to make the selection. The company also asked that their men return to work today.

No union representatives were at the meeting, but W. L. Hagan of Detroit, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of America, Bezin Orr, organizer of the local union, and a committee which is in charge of the strike, were later in consulation with Mayor Hunt. They objected to the proposal of the traction company on the ground that it did not meet the vital principle of recognition of the union.

ST. PAUL OFFICER NOT FLAT THIEF.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Miske, former policeman, arrested last week charged with the theft of valuables from a building which he was set to watch, today is a free man, the three persons who lodged the charge having withdrawn the complaint. The county attorney asked for his unconditional release.

EVERYBODY WALKS ON GLUCOSE AND SALTS

Government Issues Bulletin on What Sole Leather Contains.

Washington, May 13.—Americans, with the possible exception of the barefoot boy, today are walking around on not less than 12,000,000 pounds of glucose and epsom salts which constitute adulterants in sole leather. The assertion is made by the department of agriculture, which has just concluded investigations of the leather industry and has issued a bulletin entitled "The Composition of Some Sole Leathers."

The adulterants add nothing to the wearing value of the leather, says the department, and where present in a large quantity may shorten the life of the leather. The loading is done to increase the marketable weight of the leather.

HEETER BACK TO FACE CITIZENS.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 13.—S. L. Heeter, superintendent of the public schools of Pittsburg, is expected to arrive here today from North Manchester, Ind., to appear before the citizens' committee which is investigating charges of alleged immorality, when it resumes its session after having taken a recess for ten days. The committee took the recess when the superintendent was called to Indiana to the bedside of his mother, who died last week.

TO SPEND $1,300,000 TO PROVIDE COMFORTABLE HOMES FOR WORKMEN

Beautiful Townsite of 800 Lots Platted in Park Style and 350 Apartment Houses and Homes Will Be Erected.

Bathroom and Basement in Every Apartment—Clubhouse and Tennis Courts for Men—Aim to Eradicate Slums.

Duluth's steel plant is not to be surrounded with slums, insanitary tenements, blind pigs and saloons.

Adjoining the plant to the north, and on the property of the United States Steel corporation will be erected a model town.

Work will be begun this summer on 350 buildings, some of which will be apartment houses and some dwellings, and at least 100 will be erected this year. The total cost will be about $1,300,000 and this sum has already been appropriated by the United States Steel corporation for the purpose.

These facts were announced today by George L. Reis, vice president of the Minnesota Steel company. Mr. Reis has been working for some time to secure this appropriation, realizing the absolute necessity of providing decent housing accommodations for the men who will be brought to Duluth to operate the plant. The plans for several types of houses have already been drawn, and the specifications are now being prepared for the contractors, and with the final approval of the corporation's directors, nothing stands in the way of immediately beginning the work of caring for the employes of the new steel plant.

In Other Cities.

The decision to erect these houses was brought about by conditions existing in the vicinity of other steel plants where the corporation has not attempted to solve the housing problem. It has been the experience in other cities that slums spring up in the vicinity of the plant. The need of inexpensive houses for working men results in cheap shacks without proper sanitary provisions being thrown together by speculators. Government reports show that in some of these slum districts as many as forty or fifty people have been found sleeping in four or five rooms.

Mr. Reis and the corporation directors evidently felt that conditions would be even worse in Duluth unless

BRAKEMAN LOSES FOOT IN USELESS EFFORT

Tries to Save Baby That Mother Already Has Rescued.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—A baby was snatched from under the wheels of a Milwaukee passenger train last night, and incidentally W. C. Morrison, brakeman, today is in a hospital, seriously injured.

"Well, boys, I guess I'll finish my last run," said Morrison as he climbed aboard a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train at the station here to complete his trip from Aberdeen, S. D., to St. Paul. None of the crew saw him again, nor missed him until the train pulled into St. Paul.

"Where's Bill?" inquired the conductor.

"I don't know," replied the baggageman; "he usually rides in my car, but I haven't seen him since we left Minneapolis."

"Bill" was lying in a cot at the hospital. His right foot was cut off at the ankle. He did not finish his last trip.

Morrison was injured when he tried to save the life of Elsie Harvey, 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. C. E. Harvey of Chicago. The baby had crept in front of the train, which was leaving the station. He leaped in front of the engine, but the mother had grasped the baby before he could reach her. He tried to stop, slipped and fell directly under the pilot. The front wheels passed over his right leg, near the ankle.

MORE THAN 200 SEEK PAROLE.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 13.—More than 200 applications for parole, six of them from bankers, were listed for the consideration of the Federal board of parole which began a meeting at the Federal penitentiary here today. Three applications from prisoners made eligible under a recent amendment to the parole law, granting clemency to certain life prisoners who have served fifteen years, were to be heard.

The following bankers made application: M. P. Emerich and Paul C. Gall, Indianapolis, Ind.; James Serihowski and Jacob W. Hill, Pittsburg, Pa.; W. J. Hogue, San Angelo, Tex.

Plan to Rejuvenate Republican Party Not Much Favored.

Members of Chicago Conference Plan to Work Hard.

Washington, May 13.—Republican senators who attended the progressive Republican conference in Chicago returned today determined to exert all influence at their command to induce the national committee to call a reorganization convention in the fall.

When the national executive committee meets here May 24, these senators will report the sentiment from many states as expressed in the Chicago conference. Senator Cummins said today that written appeals from many states would be laid before the national committee setting forth reasons for a reorganization convention.

"We feel greatly encouraged," said he.

The suggestion that attempts be made to induce Republicans who joined the Progressive party to return to their old allegiance was discussed today by house Progressives, and Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois, speaking for them, issued a statement declaring that "the only course for the progressive Republicans to pursue is to come into the Progressive party, where they belong."

NEGRO LYNCHED BY MOB OF GEORGIANS

Murderer of Farmer Is Taken From Jail and Hanged.

Hogansville, Ga., May 15.—Samuel Owensby, a negro, who yesterday shot and killed Brooks Lane, a young farmer, was taken from the Hogansville jail late last night and lynched. He was hanged to a tree near the jail and his body riddled with bullets.

Lane was killed on his plantation near Franklin, Ga. His trouble with the negro was said to have resulted from a discussion over the trading of a cow.

MAYOR'S JOB NO SINECURE

Division of Public Affairs Much Broader Than First Supposed.

City Attorney Prepares Ordinance Classifying Departments of City Government.

The duties appertaining to the division of public affairs are more numerous, wider in their scope and even more important than was first supposed when the new commission assumed the reins of the local government.

Branches which it was not first supposed would be placed under that division have been so located in the resolution which has been prepared by City Attorney Harvey S. Clapp. The resolution provides for the distribution of administrative duties among the various divisions and was drawn after the situation had been gone over several times by the members of the council.

The public affairs division, under the direction of Mayor Prince, will embrace several sub-departments which have been subjected to much discussion. The aim was to so arrange them that no time or effort should be wasted; so that the employes would not go over practically the same ground two or three times when once should suffice, and so that the information gathered should be available for other departments which might find use for it.

The definite fixing of duties will enable the commission to make better and surer progress. It will eliminate the doubt which might arise before this was done, causing delays and uncertainty. The arrangement can be shifted at any time should it be found that any advantage can be gained by so doing. The resolution will be introduced at an early meeting of the commission. Copies have been furnished the commissioners, in order that they may scrutinize it carefully before acting upon it. The resolution as drawn reads as follows:

"Resolved, That the following be and the same is hereby made the distribution of administrative duties among the divisions of the government of the city of Duluth:

Public Affairs.

"Section 1. To the division of public affairs there is hereby assigned the duties appertaining to the management, supervision, control, direction and regulation of public buildings and the property appertaining to such buildings, except those buildings and property particularly used in connection with the business hereby distributed and assigned to some other division or divisions; of parks and playgrounds; of public markets; of public libraries; of public charities and corrections; of the inspection of weights and measures; of the inspection of buildings and the enforcement of the housing ordinances; of the inspection of plumbing; of the inspection of elevators; of the inspection of water and electric meters; of the inspection of public wiring; of the public welfare; of the regulation of public service corporations operating steam, electric or gasoline railroads, or telephone or telegraph lines connecting the city of Duluth with other municipalities; and of all other public business not otherwise distributed by this ordinance: Provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be taken to deprive the commissioner in charge of the division of public safety of those duties and powers necessarily incident to the powers and duties assigned to the division of public safety by section 4 hereof.

Finance.

"Sec. 2. To the division of finance there is hereby assigned all those duties appertaining to the management, supervision, control and direction of the offices and departments of the treasurer, the auditor, and the assessor of the city of Duluth, and of the public finances.

Public Works.

"Sec. 3. To the division of public works there is hereby assigned all those duties appertaining to the management, supervision, control, direction, maintenance, improvement, repair and cleaning of streets, alleys, avenues, highways, wharves, docks, culverts, sewers, tunnels, subways, public grounds except parks, water courses, bridges except the aerial bridge, and other public improvements except those improvements assigned by this resolution to other divisions: Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be held to limit or abridge the duties and powers assigned to the division of public safety by section 4 hereof.

Public Safety.

"Sec. 4. To the division of public safety there is hereby assigned the duties appertaining to the management, supervision, control and direction of the police department, the health department and the fire department, and of the properties used by said departments; the inspection of milk; the sanitation, policing and protection of the city from violations of the law; and the relation of the city to other municipalities in matters relating to public safety.

Public Utilities.

"Sec. 5. To the division of public utilities there is hereby assigned all those duties appertaining to the management, supervision, control and direction of any public utilities now owned or that may hereafter be acquired by the city and used or to be used for the purpose of supplying any commodity or furnishing any service to the people of the city, together with all the property, plants and equipment and instrumentalities connected with such utilities, and used in any such business; and of the aerial bridge; and of the lighting of streets; and the establishment and maintenance of drinking troughs and fountains of all kinds."

VREDENBURGH MAY START NEW TROUBLE

Lumberman Not Ready to Close O'Hara Investigation as Yet.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—A conference of the committee of four senators selected to investigate the charges made against Lieutenant-Governor O'Hara will be held late today or tonight to determine whether additional testimony shall be taken before the investigators submit their report to the senate.

Thomas Vredenburgh, the young Springfield lumberman prominently named in the case, today conferred with lawyers and, it was rumored, had determined on a course of action of his own. Friends of Vredenburgh declared that he had been made a scapegoat in efforts to clear O'Hara, and insisted that they would not quietly submit to the senate committee's closing the investigation without further interrogation of witnesses.

The attitude of Vredenburgh and his friends may have an effect on the final outcome of the inquiry.

Members of the Press club testified yesterday to O'Hara's presence at the clubrooms on the nights of Jan. 17 and 18. Records of the club were produced showing purchases made by the lieutenant governor.

DANIELS TO SEE ALL NAVY YARDS.

Washington, May 13.—Secretary Daniels returned today from a two weeks' trip, which included visits to all of the South Atlantic navy yards.

Secretary Daniels said he would make no decision as to the abolition of any of the navy yards until he had visited all. He plans now to inspect the New York yard May 31, the New England navy yards in June, and in July will visit those on the Pacific coast, stopping at the Chicago naval station. He expects to visit the Panama canal in the fall, when he will also visit the naval station at Guantanamo, Cuba.

BUSCH WHEELED TO AUTOMOBILE.

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer, arrived in St. Louis today from Pasadena. He walked down the steps of his private car to a wheeled chair, in which he was taken to an automobile. Members of the Busch party knew nothing at the time of an attempt of an armed man to board their car just as it was leaving Kansas City last night. Bert Miller, a flagman, was on the rear platform. He struck at the man with a flag and the latter dropped from the train.

MARINE NEWS

NEW BOAT FOR RIVER TRADE

Passenger Steamer Licensed to Carry 2,500 Will Be Brought Here.

Owners Negotiating for Picnic Grounds at Fond du Lac.

A new passenger steamer, licensed to carry 2,500, will this summer make excursion trips from Duluth to Fond du Lac.

Plans, it is understood, have been made by a large Detroit transportation company for the new passenger service, which is expected to start about June 15. The boat will be one of the most modern and best equipped on the lakes. It was used formerly by this company for excursion trips from Detroit to Belle Isle.

The boat is now being repaired and generally overhauled before being sent to Duluth. The exact schedule for the excursions trips is not yet known.

A representative of the navigation company is in the city at present arranging for the leasing of a large tract of land at Fond du Lac for picnic grounds. A dock will be built and a pavilion erected as soon as possible.

The representative would not give his name nor that of the company for publication. They are anxious to complete all the details before giving the matter any publicity, he said.

The new excursion steamer will work in opposition to the steamers Plowboy and Columbia, especially the latter, which makes regular trips to Fond du Lac. The two boats are owned by the Clow & Nicholson Transportation company.

ORE CARRIERS NOT DELAYED

Good Dispatch Obtained at Duluth and Superior Docks.

Ore boats are not being delayed at local docks and from now on it is expected that every carrier will be able to get away within twenty-four hours after reaching the harbor.

This is the regular schedule of the boats and will be in force the remainder of the summer.

The ore movement from the ranges is rapidly increasing and it is now estimated that 8,500 cars of ore arrive in Duluth and Superior every day. This amount is expected to increase by about 1,000 cars before the middle of next month.

Every boat that left the Duluth and Superior entries since late last night carried ore. Altogether since yesterday noon twenty-two ore boats left for the East.

The grain movement is rather slow and this is accounted for by the fact that boat owners want 2½ cents with dispatch, while the shippers ask for 2 cents without a demurrage clause. Only one grain boat left within the past twenty-four hours. The congestion at Buffalo is rapidly being relieved and it is expected that the normal shipments will then continue.

The coal shipments are normal, while lumber has rather fallen below the expectations of local shippers. The change in rates for the latter is given as the cause.

AIDS TO MARINERS

Capt. Albert Swenson of the United States hydrographic office has received notice of the following lake changes from the United States bureau of lighthouses and geodetic survey:

Lake Huron—Sturgeon point light, changed from fixed white to flashing white every three seconds. The light will be unwatched.

Wisconsin—Lake Superior, west end—Superior bay entrance—Superior entry south breakwater light station to be established about June 1, 1913. The light will be seventy feet above water, shown from a cylindrical concrete tower, surmounting a cylindrical concrete dwelling and fog signal building, located on easterly end of south breakwater. The light will be occulting white, of about 4,500-candle power.

The illuminant will be incandescent oil vapor.

The fog signal will be a first-class air siren, giving a blast every fifteen seconds.

The present Superior pierhead range lights and steam fog signal will then be discontinued.

Wisconsin — Lake Superior, south shore—Characteristic of light at Outer island station to be changed and intensity increased, about June 5, 1913. Intensity to be increased from 18,000 to about 410,000-candle power. The characteristic to be changed to show a flashing white light every forty-five seconds.

Michigan—Lake Huron—Intensity, illuminant and characteristics of light at Thunder Bay island station to be changed about May 20, 1913, as follows: Intensity to be increased from 5,600 to about 50,000-candle power by the installation of incandescent oil vapor as illuminant; characteristic to be changed to flashing every thirty seconds.

Lake Huron—Georgian bay—The Canadian government has given notice that the beacon on Black Rock, Parry sound approach, Georgian bay, Lake Huron, has been destroyed. This beacon will be re-erected as soon as practicable.

Lake Huron—Georgian bay—The Canadian government has given notice that the beacon on Cameron island, Parry sound approach, Georgian bay, Lake Huron, has been destroyed by a storm. This beacon will not be replaced.

Lake Erie—Cleveland harbor—The intensity of Cleveland west intake crib night, Cleveland harbor, Lake Erie, was increased from 16 to about 300-candle power by the installation of a sixth order lens. On the same date a six-inch steam fog-whistle, which sounds one blast every thirty seconds was established at the station.

MALIETOA GROUNDS BUT RELEASES HERSELF

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Driven out of her course by the strong wind prevailing last night, the steamer Malietoa, upbound, went aground above Round island in the upper river just after she had straightened her course for Lake Superior.

Assistance was called from the Soo, but by pumping out her water ballast she succeeded in releasing herself before the tug Sabin reached her. The steamer Brower, which lost her rudder Sunday afternoon, is still awaiting the arrival of steamers to assist her to Duluth.

ALONG THE LAKES

The Northern Navigation company passenger ship that will be launched May 24 will be called the Norenic.

• • •

The steamer Turret Crown has discharged her cargo at Meaford, Ont., and is now undergoing repairs at Collingwood. The steamer ran aground at the Soo last week.

• • •

Lockport, May 13.—An inspection of the new barge canal locks, the work above them, and the entire state yard here, was made yesterday morning by Superintendent of Public Works Duncan W. Peck, who came to Lockport direct from the guard locks at Pendleton by auto, accompanied by Assistant Superintendent Charles McDonough of Buffalo, Supt. Edward Rogers of section two and other canal employes.

• • •

The grain shippers at the Canadian Head of the Lakes are estimating that more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat will be shipped from Canada next year.

• • •

Vessels of the downbound fleet are again taking the Livingstone channel route through the lower Detroit river.

Straightening Channel.

Detroit, May 13.—Work of straightening the Fighting Island section of Detroit river channel, an improvement long urged by President William Livingstone and the Lake Carriers' association, probably will be under way within sixty days.

Lieut. Col. Mason M. Patrick, district engineer, will open bids June 16 for excavation work covering a portion of this improvement for which about $140,000 is available. The work involves dredging and straightening the channel west of Fighting island, in which vessels now make five turns. Completion of the dredging will reduce the number of turns to two.

It is estimated that approximately 565,000 cubic yards of material will be removed. There is little or no rock in that section of the channel. When the improvement is completed the channel will have a width of about 800 feet and depth of 20 feet, which will permit of its use by vessels on both the up and downbound courses.

Record Coal Cargo.

Milwaukee, May 13.—The arrival here Saturday of the steamer Willis L. King from Ashtabula, Ohio, with a cargo of 12,497 tons of coal broke the tonnage record for the Milwaukee port. This boat had a close second for the top notch place in the steamer W. J. Filbert which came into port Friday with a cargo of 11,822 tons.

CANADA'S BOOM ONLY CHECKED

Former Duluthian Says Nothing Can Stop Permanent Growth.

W. J. Hayes, former advertising manager on The Herald, now located in Winnipeg, is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Hayes, is an enthusiastic boomer for Western Canada. He states that the present money stringency in Canada does not mean that Northwestern Canada is having a setback in its boom, but that the banks have tightened on their loans in order to stop wildcat investments.

"Settlers are flocking into the country faster this spring than they have in former years. The boom in Western Canada is by no means over. While the presetn money stringency appears to have given it a setback, it in reality will do more to sanely develop the country than anything else.

"Numerous wildcat investments and unreliable valuations placed by a few realty dealers have caused the bankers to tighten up when it came to securing loans. This, I believe, will tend to keep boom prices of land within limits to be reached by those with moderate means who are looking for investments."

Mr. Hayes has large interests in Redcliff, the new industrial center which has had such a rapid growth.

WILL AVOID MONTHLY RUSH

Commissioner Merritt Has New Plan for Collection of Accounts.

Gas and Water Bills to Be Paid in Various Districts on Different Days.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, has been busy for the last week evolving a plan for the payment of water and gas bills which will save the monthly rush incident to the present arrangement.

As it now is all bills must be paid into the office of the water and light department on or before the twelfth of each month if the discount is to be allowed. Many people appear to find it necessary to wait until almost the last minute to pay their bills. They crowd the office of the department and long waits are frequently necessary. The clerks take care of them with all possible dispatch but being only human each of them can wait upon but one individual at a time. An idea of the business transacted there the last day may be gained when it is stated that approximately $16,000 was collected yesterday. This total was made up by hundreds of bills, probably as many being less than $1 as were over that amount.

Distribute the Load.

The last day gets the peak of the load, to use an expression common to engineers. Commissioner Merritt will distribute the load so that the burden will not have to be shouldered all at once. Such an arrangement would not only be greatly appreciated by the public but would greatly facilitate the work in the department. The bookkeeping and office work would be more equally divided and the routine simplified.

Commissioner Merritt wishes to make his department as serviceable to the people as possible. Instead of having the people come to the department, he will send the department to the people as far as that can be done. Arrangements will be made to have branch offices established in different parts of the city. The people can go to them to pay their water and gas bills. This will make it convenient and easy. At the same time it is proposed to divide the city into districts, probably three or four, as seems best. One might be in the East end, one in the West end, and one in West Duluth, while the present office would handle the central section. The date for the payment of bills would be different in each district, thus distributing the work of the department through each month instead of bunching as at present.

CHARGE PEONAGE IN COAL MINES.

Washington, May 13.—Charges of peonage, "medieval feudalism," and oppression of workers in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek coal fields of West Virginia were laid before Senator Kern today by representatives of the state federation of labor and miners' unions. The senator expected to use the charges in support of his resolution for a congressional investigation of the situation.

HARMONY IS IMPOSSIBLE

Rabid Bull Moosers See No Chance of Return to G. O. P.

Duluth Has a Large Body of Irreconcilable Insurgents.

"The Progressive party has come to stay!"

Out-and-out Bull Moosers in Duluth—those who swallowed the Progressive bait, hook and sinker last year—had only one reply to an inquiry as to their views on the efforts of Progressive Republican leaders to harmonize the Progressive and Republican parties.

The Bull Moosers who went the limit in splitting away from the Republican party will not talk harmony. They declare that the Bull Moose and the Elephant cannot go in double harness and that such talk can only tend to confuse the issue.

"The two parties will not harmonize," said one of Duluth's leading followers of the Bull Moose this morning. "The Progressive party cannot accept the tenets of the Republican party and the Republican party cannot accept the platform of the Progressive party. The real Progressives are no longer Republicans. They repudiated the brand last year and the Progressive party is now a party by itself. Of course, if the Republicans want to come into the fold, there will be no objections, but as for Progressives becoming Republicans again—it can never be."

Several Duluth men who followed Roosevelt last year, but clung tenaciously to the idea that one could be a Roosevelt man and a Republican at the same time are pleased with the efforts of Cummins, Hadley and other "Progressive Republicans" to reunite the warring factions. They are constitutional Republicans and they still standup to cheer when somebody waves the banner of the grand old party, even though they inserted the knife into the corpulent person of the Republican nominee for the presidency last year. They would welcome traveling under the Republican banner again if they could successfully cover up their actions of last year, and not compromise their regularity.

However, Duluth has a large body of irreconcilable insurgents, who are still insurging for all they are worth. They scoff at the mention of harmony. Emulating their war-like leader, they are for war to the finish, whether the finish be of the Republican party or the Progressive party. They want to see some kind of a finish, anyway.

MARRIED MEN VS. BACHELORS.

Champions of the cause of "single blessedness" at the courthouse have challenged the benedicts in the county's employ to a baseball game.

The challenge has been accepted and arrangements are now being made for the exhibition. It is planned to settle the dispute for supremacy on some Saturday afternoon.

Stanley Gilpin is rounding up the single men and Bob Johnson is looking after the interests of the benedicts.

DENY REPORT OF NEW STEEL PLANT

New York Dispatch Says Hill Will Not Manufacture Steel.

Announcement of a denial on the part of the Great Northern Ore company of any intention of embarking in the steel-making business was sent over the broker's wires from New York today.

The denial points out that the charter of the company would not permit it to engage in the manufacture of steel, and also calls attention to the large amount of capital that would be necessary for such a venture.

In spite of the denial coming from the ore company, the probability of the Hill interests erecting a steel plant at the Head of the Lakes will continue to be considered. There is nothing to prevent the Great Northern people from organizing a subsidiary company for the construction and operation of the plant. James J. Hill's recent acquisition of bank control in St. Paul has been taken as a step toward lining up the financial situation for the venture of the Hill interests into mining operations, and it may have a similar bearing on the rumors of a Great Northern steel plant.

SHRINERS GET DOWN TO BUSINESS AFFAIRS

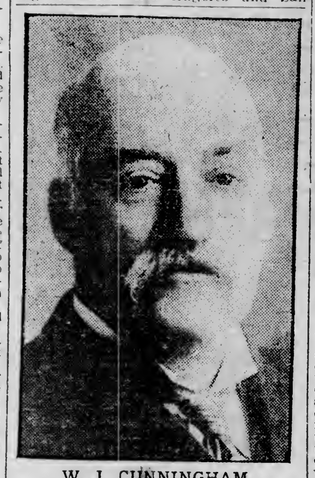
Imperial Council Holds Sessions at Dallas Meeting.

Dallas, Tex., May 13.—Thousands of Shriners and their guests from many sections of the country had reached Dallas this morning for the second day of the order's annual convention.

Business sessions of the imperial council began today and cities in the race for the next convention began to exert their full strength.

Abba temple of Mobile, announced it would ask the imperial council for permission to conduct a class of novices in one of the locks at the Panama canal.

Characteristic campaigns are being made by nobles for the place of meeting in 1915. Los Angeles and San Francisco seem to have an advantage over Memphis or Atlanta because of the Panama Pacific exposition. Before the first formal meeting of the imperial council this morning, all delegates paraded and tonight the principal parade will be given.



W. J. CUNNINGHAM,
Of Baltimore, Imperial Potentate of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The imperial council is expected to pass upon applications for shrines made by Halifax, N. S., Montgomery, Ala., and Shreveport, La.

Pyramid patrol of Bridgeport, Conn., and Boumi patrol of Baltimore, have been designated by Imperial Potentate Cunningham as his official escorts. The latter is the tallest group of men attending the convention.

KELLEY EMPLOYES MAKE GOOD CATCH OF TROUT

Leaving Sunday morning on their motor cycles four Kelley Hardware lovers of fishing sped out twenty miles into the country and after two hours' early morning fishing returned with thirty-eight fine trout. They claim the water was low and the day just right for fishing. Those on the early morning trout spin were: Harvey Smith, Alonzo Eveland, Carl Hanson and Herbert Helmer. The only bait that proved effective was milk fed worms such as the Kelley company sells.

INDIAN COUNCIL MISREPRESENTED

Agent Howard and Detective Harper Not Indorsed By Chippewas.

Mahnomen, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—John W. Carl, acting chairman of the Indian convention, held at Cass Lake last week, takes exceptions to the statements which appeared in several Twin City newspapers to the effect that Agent Howard and Detective Harper were indorsed by the Cass Lake Chippewa council, and in a letter to the secretary of the interior makes the following statement:

"I inclose herewith extracts from Minneapolis newspapers stating that the Chippewa general council, held at Cass Lake last week, had indorsed Agent Howard and Mr. Harper.

"This is a most outrageous misrepresentation; for the resolution which was introduced and passed unanimously by the council, set forth that Agent Howard and Mr. Harper deserved the severest criticism for their methods in Chippewa matters, and it asked the chairman to take such action as he deemed proper in the matter. As I was then acting chairman of the council, I appointed a committee to draw up a resolution in criticism of the methods of Agent Howard and Mr. Harper, and for keeping the Chippewas in constant turmoil, but after discussing the matter the committee thought it might embarrass the report of Chief Supervisor Holcombe, who is now investigating Mr. Howard's administration as Indian agent, and with the consent of the council the report to it was accordingly made.

"It was only out of consideration for Mr. Holcombe that the committee appointed by me did not draw up a drastic resolution in condemnation of Agent Howard and Mr. Harper."

FIRST SMELTER IN AMERICA

DULUTH MAN ON HISTORIC SPOT.

The accompanying picture may look crude but it is historical in the iron and steel industry. It is a picture of one of the first if not the very first smelter ever constructed on the American continent, and the man whose picture is included is a Duluthian, Charles Eliasson, who represents the interests in the Southeast of Uno Lindstrom of Duluth. The smelter was constructed 165 years ago, and is ten miles east of Morgantown, W. Va. The picture was taken last week and has just been received by Mr. Lindstrom. Considerable difference between the smelter of that day and those of modern times, like the ones in Duluth, will doubtless be noticed. The old smelter has long since gone out of commission.

PARK RAPIDS LOSES PIONEER RESIDENT

Jerry Steel, Who Came to Minnesota Forty-Seven Years Ago, Called.

Park Rapids, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Jerry A. Steel, one of the pioneer residents who died Sunday morning suddenly at his home, aged 66, was held this afternoon from the Congregational church of which he was long a member and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Steel retired Saturday night apparently in normal health but early Sunday his wife discovered he was in distress and her son summoned a physician, but Mr. Steel was beyond human aid.

Born In New York.

Jerry A. Steel wa sborn in Schoharie, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1847, was married to Miss Mary M. Bourst in 1864; came to Minnesota in 1866, settled near Rochester and came to Park Rapids in the fall of 1882 and took up a claim one mile east of the present village. Later he purchased a home in the northcast of the village and resided there until his death.

He early joined the Congregational church and was always a consistent Christian. His genial and cheery temperament made him a friend of all. Always taking a lively interest in the public welfare he held at different times offices of trust and responsibility.

He was a member of the M. B. A. society and carried a policy of $1,000 on his life. The members of the local lodge acted as the escort at his funeral.

He leaves beside his wife three sons and one daughter, one son being in Alberta at the time of his death.

Scaled Like a Fish

Mr. P. J. Weimer of Connellsville, Pennsylvania, a sufferer from Eczema, writes:

"I scaled like a fish—had two doctors, but got worse all the time—after using only three bottles of D.D.D. I can truthfully say I am cured."

This D. D. D. Prescription is a mild wash scientifically compounded from wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients which penetrate to the disease germs. This cooling wash destroys the germs and throws them off, leaving the skin smooth and healthy.

We guarantee the first full-sized bottle. You are to get it and decide if it is worth the price. If not, pay nothing.

FARRELL SAYS U. S. STEEL CORPORATION HAS DONE MUCH GOOD.

recent floods needed steel piling to strengthen the levee at New Orleans. We got a rush order for 515 tons on Thursday and in spite of the fact that we were very busy, we delivered it on Tuesday next, eighty-six hours before the high waters arrived. We always give preference to government work."

The cost of production of steel was greater in America than in Europe, Mr. Farrell testified. He said the wages paid abroad were 37 per cent to 38 per cent lower than here; freight rates were lower and shipping facilities for export trade were better.

Far Eastern Pig Iron.

Pig iron could be manufactured in India and laid down in Calcutta at $7.88 a ton, he added, and there was at present under way in a sailing vessel from that port to San Francisco the first cargo of Indian pig iron ever brought to this country. The freight was $5.50 a ton, and under the new duty the tariff 11 cents. Thus the pig iron would be laid down in San Francisco at a cost of about $11.50. Chinese pig iron could be laid down in San Francisco, under the new duty, for $10.78. The present market price for pig iron on the Pacific coast is $21.50.

"Did you tell Mr. Underwood about that?" asked Judge Dickinson, counsel for the government.

"I don't think it would make any difference with him," smiled the witness.

JURY REFORM BILL FINALLY PASSED.

Trenton, N. J., May 13.—The assembly, by a vote of 39 to 15, passed the Egan jury reform bill after it had been amended by attaching a state-wide referendum. The measure without the referendum was the so-called chancellor-sheriff bill, which President Wilson agreed to as a compromise when he was in New Jersey two weeks ago. Debate developed the fact that the amendment had been suggested by Joseph H. Tumulty, secretary to the president.

The bill provides for the appointment by the chancellor of the state of a jury commissioner in each county to act in conjunction with the sheriff in drawing juries. These commissioners are to be of opposite political faith to the sheriff.

HELP FOR THE DRINKING MAN
SECURED BY THE NEAL TREATMENT

The man who drinks is often disgusted with himself. He vows he will never drink again. But his self "created habit" is stronger than his "will power." His many "good resolutions" do not hold him. Why? Because his body has become a storehouse for "alcohol poison." This poison is constantly seeking to multiply itself, and the victim, in his lucid moments, longs and cries for help. Now the best help for such a man is the "Neal Help." For in three days the "Neal Treatment" neutralizes the poison and removes it from the system.

The "Neal Treatment" is a pure, harmless vegetable compound, taken through the lips. No "hypodermic injections" are needed, and the patient is surprised to find the treatment so simple, mild and effective. The "Neal home" is also a "real home" where all the comforts of home are provided. Private rooms, "Registered Physician, Trained Nurse" and everything the patient may require that is conducive to health and healing.

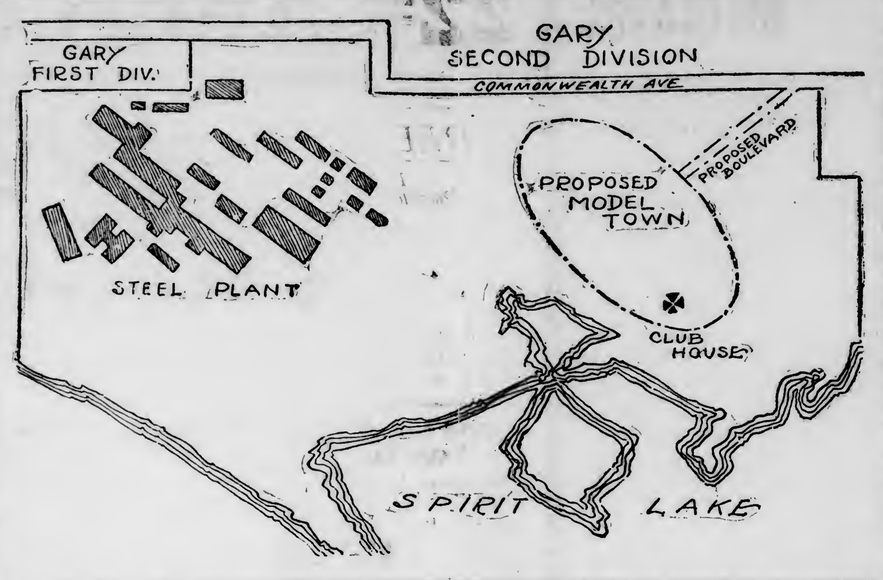
MAP SHOWING LOCATION OF MODEL TOWN



STEEL CORPORATION PLANS MODEL TOWN.

prompt steps were taken to remedy them. The steel plant is located so far from the central part of the city that it would be impossible for the men to find homes. A few of them might be taken care of in West Duluth, but without a street car line to the plant, without even a good wagon road, and with the extra charge of a railroad fare, it was seen that most of the men would have to be housed in the immediate vicinity of the plant. Most of the men employed at the plant are skilled workmen, drawing good wages, and they will not consider coming to a city where they cannot find homes for their families, and modern conveniences. The other men, if they came, would under ordinary conditions, have been compelled to find lodging in cheap shacks or be crowded into hastily constructed boarding houses.

Solving the Problem.

This was the problem the corporation faced, and it has taken prompt action to solve it, and solve it in a big and permanent way.

Immediately to the north of the plant the corporation has set aside a large level tract of land, lying on a high plateau overlooking Spirit Lake. It is perfectly drained, and is an ideal location for a townsite. This property has been platted in park style, not simply laid out in square blocks. There are 800 lots in the tract, each lot 50 by 150 feet. There are no twenty-five foot lots and no short lots.

This property will be provided with water and sewer connections, the streets improved, and sidewalks laid. It has been laid out under the direction of Morrell & Nichols, landscape gardeners of Minneapolis. A tract of land has been set aside for a clubhouse, on a bluff overlooking Spirit Lake, and on this site club rooms will be erected for the men. Tennis courts will be laid out adjoining the club rooms.

Basement Under Each House.

Every house erected on the site will have a basement and a bathroom. Altogether about 350 buildings will be erected, and 100 of these will be built this summer if it is possible to get the work done. Most of the buildings will be apartment houses, containing two, four and six apartments. The apartments will be of all sizes, some with just two rooms, some with four, and some with six, but each apartment will have a basement of its own and a bathroom. There will also be a number of separate houses for the skilled workmen.

The buildings will be of brick or of brick veneer, with slate roofs. The plans for them have been prepared by Dean & Dean of Chicago.

The houses will be rented at the lowest possible figure to the employes of the plant. Whether or not the employes will be given an opportunity to buy the houses has not yet been decided, but for the first year or two at least they will be merely rented at a figure sufficient to insure a fair return on the investment and provide for upkeep and repairs.

It is believed that these houses will go a long way toward solving the labor problem in the Duluth plant. It is impossible to induce experienced workmen to move their families to Duluth until they come and look over the ground themselves. When they find no available houses with modern conveniences at a fair rental, they return. It is believed that if they find comfortable, new dwellings ready for their families at a fair rental, they will remain and be content to make Duluth their home.

Entrance to the new townsite will be from Grand avenue. A broad boulevard will be constructed from the northwest corner of the steel company's property to the townsite.

PASTOR IS KILLED BY HIS AUTOMOBILE

Brother and Sister of Kansas Methodist Minister Are Badly Hurt.

Attica, Kan., May 13.—Rev. Robert Carlisle, pastor of the First Methodist church at Atlanta, Kan., was killed and his brother and sister, J. A. Carlisle and Ethel Carlisle, both of Winfield, Kan., were injured seriously early today when their automobile skidded on a sandy road and was overturned near here. The pastor was crushed beneath the machine. The other two were pinioned under the car thirty minutes before rescued.

Wisconsin Man Catches Daughter and Racer in Illinois.

Waukegan, Ill., May 13.—"My daughter has just eloped with a man in a racing car and they are on their way to Waukegan to be married. Stop them. I will be there as soon as possible in my automobile."

The foregoing telephone message was received shortly after midnight by the Waukegan police from John Olle, a wealthy foundryman at Racine, Wis. Several hours later an automobile dashed up to the city hall and Joe Jaegersberger, 28 years old, and Amanda Olle, 18 years old, stepped from the car and inquired for a minister, explaining that they desired to be married as soon as possible.

They were detained, and an hour later Olle arrived.

"Am I in time?" he anxiously inquired.

"Yes, we have the couple inside," replied a policeman.

Olle was angry, and after a heated interview with Jaegersberger the father took his daughter home.

Jaegersberger, who is a daring automobile driver, lost a leg a year ago in an accident at Columbia, S. C.

ACTIVE LEADERS IN STEEL INDUSTRY VISIT DULUTH

Superintendents of Other Mills Inspect the Local Plant.

A party of the superintendents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation reached Duluth early today on a trip of inspection of the new steel plant. On arriving here the members of the party went to the office of G. L. Reis, vice president of the Minnesota Steel company, and shortly after 11 o'clock left in a special train for the steel plant.

Most of the day was put in at the steel plant. This evening the members of the visiting delegation of steel men will be the guests of Mr. Reis at the Northland Country club, where they will dine and spend part of the evening. While at the Northland club it is planned to have some of the citizens of Duluth meet the steel men.

Special to Ranges.

A special train will take the party to the mines on the Mesaba range sometime tomorrow, probably in the afternoon, according to the present plans of Mr. Reis. It was stated by Mr. Reis that at least a day would be spent on the ranges.

"The superintendents of the various subsidiary companies are here to inspect the Duluth plant and to become fully informed on its structural advantages, its coming importance in the steel world from its geographical standpoint, and also to become thoroughly familiar with the sources from which the new plant will draw," said Mr. Reis.

"As superintendents of other plants of the Steel corporation it is of advantage to these men to be thoroughly familiar with the Duluth plant. The trip is merely one of inspection, but illustrates the interest that is being manifested in the Duluth steel mill by the officials of the various companies of the United States Steel corporation."

Members Of Party.

The following steel officials are members of the party:

Thomas MacDonald, superintendent Carnegie steel plant at Youngstown, Ohio; J. S. Cursiler, superintendent of the plants at Newcastle and Sharon; W. P. Gleason, superintendent at Gary, Ind.; W. A. Fields, superintendent of the Illinois Steel company's plant at South Chicago; E. R. Mathews, superintendent at Joliet; M. M. Suppes, superintendent of the National Tube company at Lorain, Ohio; H. H. Barren, superintendent of the American Steel & Wire company at Pittsburg; F. A. Crockard, vice president of the Coal, Iron & Railroad company of Birmingham, Ala.; H. H. Bassett, superintendent of the blast furnaces at South Chicago; C. C. Lowell, superintendent of the coke department of the Illinois Steel plant at Gary, Ind.; C. A. Meissner, chairman of the coke committee of the United States Steel corporation of New York; W. A. Forbes, secretary of the coke committee of the Steel corporation of New York, and G. C. Hassel of New York.

TAXICAB GRAFT FOR THE GOTHAM POLICE

Commissioner Waldo Starts Inquiry Into Free Ride Stories.

New York, May 13.—Police Commissioner Waldo today began an investigation of reports that men high in the uniformed police force were presented with free transportation by the Yellow Taxicab company under the guise of charge accounts. These accounts, according to the company's books, were never paid, although each of the men was sent a receipted bill every month. Two inspectors and two captains were the first to be questioned by Mr. Waldo.

The district attorney has found evidence tending to show that certain city employes have been presented with taxicab rides which would have cost them $25,000 annually. The company has many private stands in the streets.

READJUST WAGES ON BASIS OF PRICES

Republic Iron & Steel Company and Employes Reach Terms.

Youngstown, Ohio, May 13.—The last bi-monthly wage settlement of the scale year of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and representatives of the Western Bar Iron association and the Republic Iron & Steel company, was arranged yesterday at Fort Wayne, where the annual convention of millworkers is in session.

Examination of sales of sheets showed an advance in the selling price of bar iron, and an advance of another point was granted the workmen, making the base rate for June and July $1.50 and advancing the puddling rate from $6.60 a ton to $6.75 a ton, with a 1 per cent increase for finishers. This is the highest puddling rate received since 1907. Fully 15,000 workmen affiliated with the organization are affected.

JEMMETT OPPOSES ALASKAN PROPOSAL

Says It Would Be Folly for Government to Own Railroad There.

Washington, May 13.—Government construction, operation or ownership of a railroad in Alaska would be folly—F. C. Jemmett, representing bondholders of the Alaska Northern railroad, told the senate territories committee so today. At the same time he declared private capital would extend the road now existing out of Seward to the Matanuska coal fields, if the navy department would create a naval coal reserve there and operate it through the bureau of mines or by contract.

CHURCH TOWER FALLS AND KILLS THREE MEN

Lightning Starts Fire and Stratford, Ont., Officers Lose Lives.

Stratford, Ont., May 13.—The tall spire of the Knox Presbyterian church, 160 feet above the curb, was struck by lightning early today, and in the ensuing fire the chief of police, the fire chief and a patrolman were killed and a fireman probably fatally injured.

The three men who were killed were buried beneath the burning belfry when it toppled and fell; the fireman was struck a blow on the head from a flying timber.

The dead are:

J. A. McCARTHY, chief of police.
HUGH DURKIN, fire chief.
MATTHEW HAMILTON, policeman.

The injured man is Sidney Vanstone. The steeple, visible for a great distance, lit up the heavens and burned without hindrance, as the streams of water fell many feet short of the church. McCarthy, Durkin and Hamilton, dragging a hose, had scrambled up a ladder to the roof when the belfry toppled and fell upon them. It came down showering embers far and wide. McCarthy and Hamilton were killed instantly. Durkin died on his way to a hospital.

The blaze spread to the main part of the building and burned itself out. The loss is about $50,000.

BOY DROWNED; NOT KIDNAPED.

Burlington, N. J., May 13.—The body of Albert Smith, a 6-year-old boy who disappeared from his home here, was found in a creek today. It is believed he was accidentally drowned. The boy disappeared last Friday, and on the theory that he had been kidnaped, searching parties had been looking for him night and day. The authorities are convinced that the boy fell from a rowboat while playing.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Annette: (1) Sometimes a druggist endeavors to discourage the making of home-remedies because he thinks it interferes with his business. I never suggest the use of anything that is not sold in first-class drug stores. (2) To make kardene spring blood-tonic and liver-remedy get 1 ounce of kardene, mix it with ½ cupful of sugar and add ½ pint of alcohol and 1½ pints of hot water. This formula makes a full quart of tonic, of which you should take 1 tablespoonful 5 minutes before each meal and before retiring. As an all-around tonic this has no superior. It will restore your lost appetite and tend to strengthen and build you up. It purifies blood and your pimples and ugly blotches will soon disappear.

Virginia: A good "liquid-powder" or face-wash which when on seems a part of the skin is made by dissolving 4 ounces of spurmax in ½ pint of hot water or witch hazel and adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This home-made complexion-beautifier whitens the skin without the use of powder and is particularly recommended for the use of anyone who has a sallow, dark or oily skin.

Constance: To remove dandruff and stop falling hair, apply once a week a quinine hair-tonic, made by dissolving 1 ounce of quinzoin in ½ pint of alcohol, adding ½ pint of cold water. Rub into the scalp and hair with the finger tips until absorbed. This treatment will promote the growth of hair and tend to make it luxuriant and glossy. (See answer to Molly.

Molly: It is not necessary to shampoo the hair oftener than twice a month if you use a shampoo that will thoroughly cleanse the hair and scalp. An inexpensive shampoo that makes the head feel good and helps the hair is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cupful of hot water. Pour on the hair and rub well. You will find that this makes a good lather—and plenty of it—thoroughly cleanses the hair and scalp and relieves irritation and stimulates roots to helpful action.

Viola: Yes, healthy eyes are clear and sparkling. If yours are dull, red and inflamed you need an eye-tonic. Get an ounce of crystos from your druggist and dissolve it in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye every day is all that is required. The eye-tonic will not smart or burn and will give relief when the eyes are tired, inflamed or sore. It strengthens the eyes and will benefit you if you wear glasses.

Laura: Your friend is right in saying that I know a certain wrinkle-remover which can be made at home at very little expense. It is a vegetable product and is unlike creams containing oils or animal fat as it neither grows hair nor makes the flesh loose and flabby. Just dissolve an ounce of almozoin, which you can get from any druggist, in one-half pint cold water and add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove wrinkles apply a thick coat of this cream-jelly and leave on over night. This protects the skin and allows all the blood action to be used in constructing new texture. Then wash it out of the pores and massage thoroughly with more of the cream. It makes the skin soft and velvety, while it is unequaled in reducing large pores.

Student: It will be good news to you to learn that what you eat is now thought to have little to do with obesity and that if enough exercise is taken, even a fleshy woman may eat what she wants. To half starve yourself means to look haggard and altogether unlovely. Don't drink while eating, even water, and don't drink alcoholic beverages at any time. The best flesh-reducer I know of is parnotis. Get from your druggist an original 4-ounce package of parnotis, take it home and dissolve it in 1½ pints hot water. Take one tablespoonful 3 times a day, before meals.

O. T.: Your eyelashes will grow long and have a pretty curl if you apply pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. Thin eyebrows can be made to come in thick and glossy by putting pyroxin on them frequently with the finger. You can buy pyroxin in a small, original package, but be careful and don't get any where hair is not wanted.

Olga N.: The disfiguring hairy growth can be permanently banished by using a delatone paste. Get a small, original package of delatone and mix enough of the powder with water to cover the objectionable hairs. Let remain 2 or 3 minutes, then remove and wash the skin. This simple treatment dissolves the hairs and leaves the skin free from blemish.

GEN VON LEWINSKI KILLED BY LUNATIC

Prussian Military Attache to Bavaria Murdered in Street.

Munich, Bavaria, May 13.—Maj. Gen. Von Lewinski, the Prussian military attache to Bavaria, was killed here today by a supposed lunatic named Straffer, who fired three revolver shots at him. A sergeant of police also was killed by Straffer.

The assassin attacked Gen. Von Lewinski on a crowded street, first firing several shots at him and then turning his weapon on the police sergeant, a man named Pollender, who dashed to the officer's assistance. The policeman was killed by a shot through the heart.

The general still was alive when picked up. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, but died shortly afterward.

The assailant meanwhile was seized by a crowd of people who tried to lynch him, and succeeded in seriously injuring him before he was rescued by the police.

Bold Milwaukee Thief Taken.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—A bold daylight robbery was committed at a local department store Monday afternoon by a young man giving his name as Clay Ryman, aged 24, who grabbed a velvet jewel case containing $1,500 worth of diamonds from a young lady clerk and made a dash for liberty. After a chase for several blocks the thief was captured by a patrolman. The diamonds were recovered.

WHERE MEN GET CURED OF BAD HEART, STAGNANT CIRCULATION, VARICOSE VEINS AND OTHER DISEASES.

There are thousands of men walking around who are a picture of disease. They are all fagged out and dragged down by it. The cause of it may be some secret suffering. Others again are the very picture of health, but they suffer nevertheless from imperfect circulation of which knotted veins are the result.

The veins are dark blue, because of the poisonous waste matter, while the arteries are bright red. When this vein-blood, heavy with poisons, again reaches the lungs, it exchanges its carbon-dioxide, a heavy and very poisonous gas, for pure oxygen and returns again through the arteries. When some part of the body is injured by sickness, excesses, kicks, blows or overwork, the veins are injured and retard free circulation. The poison-loaded blood, instead of returning to the lungs for a fresh supply of life-giving oxygen, piles up against the injured part, poisoning the walls of the veins, swells and dilates them, hardens them and sometimes expands them to an enormous extent. In men, the legs and other vital parts are usually attacked by this self-generating poison, which after first poisoning the veins, attacks the vital parts themselves, causing weakness and wasting. Walking becomes difficult, hard knots form which open easily and form "VARICOSE ULCERS," the patient is easily exhausted, becomes nervous and depressed, his memory weakens and all ambition leaves him. Later the poison will take an upward course, and, entering the pelvis, will poison the pelvic nerves. Stagnant circulation will result in nervous diseases, in diseases of the rectum, prostate and associated parts, and is not strictly local, because nerves, blood vessels and lymphatics are all connected. What affects one affects all, just as a broken wire or short circuit in any part of a serially connected electric system has an effect on any and every part of that system. We found in former years that cutting and dissecting out these veins did not cure the patient, the deep-seated nerves that control the functions and nutritions of the organs still caused trouble and more pain than before. We therefore invented the "Dissolving Process," a method as superior to the old way of cutting and blood-letting as the modern electric light is superior to the tallow candle of by-gone ages. We can explain the practical application of the dissolving process to any man if he will give us the necessary statements about his case, although we would rather examine and demonstrate to him than talk or write about it. The specialists who can guarantee to cure this and all other diseases without cutting, without chloroform or any of the ordinary old-style hospital methods, will surely be wanted by any man who is suffering from it. That is what we can do, and guarantee to do! Consultation free from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

IRONWOOD WIDOW DIES.

Wife of Late Dr. McCabe Is Called, Leaving Five Children.

Ironwood, Mich., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. M. F. McCabe, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents, died at her home yesterday at the age of 46, after suffering intensely for the past five weeks from apoplexy. A second stroke seized her last Friday from which she never rallied.

As Katherine Hartigan she came to this city about a quarter of a century ago from Telsh mountain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hartigan. She was married to Dr. M. F. McCabe and they made their home here, the doctor passing away about four years ago. His death was a great strain on Mrs. McCabe, who was left with five children who survive, Frank, Jerome, Marion, Ruth and Gertrude. Besides the children Mrs. McCabe is survived by her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hartigan, and five sisters, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. D. E. Sutherland, Mrs. John M. Bush, Mrs. E. H. Libby of Iron River, Mich., and Mrs. J. B. Patrick.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning from St. Ambrose's Catholic church and will be conducted by Rev. Father Morairity.

NEW RULES AT CITY HALL

Employe May Be Required to Give Service in Two Divisions.

Each Commissioner Will Have Absolute Charge of His Own Department.

The rules which have been prepared for the administration and conduct of city business provide that an employe of one department may be directed to attend to certain duties in some other division.

Each commissioner has charge of the administration of the duties of his division, but they may arrange for combining work where it appears necessary. The inspector of plumbing and the building inspector are directed to perform such work for the assessor as they may be directed to do by the commission of finance. Additional rules will follow later.

Those drawn by the legal department after conference with the commissioners are as follows:

"Rule 1. The administration of the affairs of each division of the government of the city of Duluth shall be regulated by the commissioner in charge of that division, except as otherwise provided by the charter of the city of Duluth, or by ordinance or resolutions or rules or regulations adopted by the council.

"Rule 2. The duties of the officers and employes of the city of Duluth, except as otherwise regulated by the charter of the city of Duluth, or by ordinances, resolutions, rules or regulations adopted by the council or by the commissioner in charge of the division in which such officer or employe is engaged, shall be those duties necessary and proper to the respective offices or employments held by such officers or employes.

May Have Two Bosses.

"Rule 3. Whenever the council shall require an officer or employe to perform duties in more than one division, such officer or employe shall be governed by such rules and regulations as may be made by the commissioner in charge of each division in which such officer or employe is required to perform duties, or such rules and regulations as may be made jointly by the commissioners at the head of the divisions in which such officer or employe is required to perform duties, unless the council shall otherwise prescribe the powers and duties of such officer or employe.

"Rule 4. The commissioner in charge of one division may, at the request of the commissioner in charge of any other division, direct an officer or employe of the one division to perform duties in such other division, which duties shall be performed subject to the rules and regulations made by the commissioner in charge of such other division, or by rules and regulations made by the two said commissioners jointly.

"Rule 5. Except as otherwise provided by the charter or by this council, the manner, times and forms in which each division, sub-division and department and the officers of each division, sub-division and department shall handle and adjust accounts with the division of finance and shall be regulated by the commissioner in charge of the division of finance.

"Rule 6. The inspector of plumbing of the city of Duluth is hereby directed and required to perform such duties in connection with the office of the assessor of the city of Duluth as he may be directed to perform by the commissioner in charge of the division of finance, and to perform such duties in connection with the division of public works as he may be directed to perform by the commissioner in charge of the division of public works; subject, however, to the provisions of Rule 3.

"Rule 7. The building inspector of the city of Duluth is hereby required to perform such duties in connection with the office of the assessor of the city of Duluth as he may be required to perform by the commissioner in charge of the division of finance; subject, however, to the provisions of Rule 3.

SUMMIT WEAVERS WIN THEIR STRIKE.

Summit, N. J., May 13.—The weavers of the Summit mills, who went on strike two months ago, have returned to their looms. It is understood that they signed an agreement that they would have nothing to do with the Industrial Workers of the World or any other organization. The strikers win an eight-hour day, an increase in wages and the right to appoint one of their number a committee to adjust differences with their employers.

Caught in Wisconsin.

Mott, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—After fleeing from this section just ahead of the officials, then escaping from officers at Elizabeth, Wis., two hours before the arrival of the Hettinger county officials, S. Waterman was finally brought back here to answer to a serious charge preferred against him at New England, where he is an employe of the Milwaukee road.

ROTARY CLUB DELEGATES

Representatives of Duluth at Buffalo Convention Are Chosen.

Rotarians of the West Will Assemble at Duluth for Lake Trip.

Delegates to the annual convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs to be held in Buffalo the week of Aug. 17, were elected at the regular meeting of the local organization, held last evening at the Spalding hotel.

The delegates elected are G. H. Bate, secretary of the organization; Frank Randall, president, and A. J. McCulloch. A. H. Davis, J. T. Armstead and J. B. Crane were named as alternates. George Sherwood was chosen committeeman and J. H. Opperman his alternate.

Plans are to be made to hold a general gathering of all the Rotarians in the western part of the country in Duluth just before the convention. They will be invited to spend two or three days here, after which the entire number will go to Buffalo by steamer. It is expected that special rates will be given the party.

Trade Excursion Committee.

During the evening a trade excursion committee was appointed to work in connection with the trips planned by the Commercial club. J. H. Opperman was named chairman and S. T. Dingman and A. E. Ouellette the members of the committee.

B. Silberstein was named as chairman of a committee to complete the plans for the illumination of the aerial bridge. William Burgess was appointed chairman of a good roads committee to work in conjunction with the Commercial and Automobile clubs of this city.

An invitation was extended to Mark Atkinson, editor of the Mesaba Ore at Hibbing, to attend the next meeting of the Rotary club and explain his proposed club to the members. Recently Mr. Atkinson published an editorial in the Ore, in which he advocated a club to consist of representatives from all the cities on the range and Duluth, and that this club work for the interests of Northern Minnesota.

During the evening, Cassius Bagley gave an address on "Diamonds," in which he told of the mining of the gems, the manufacture and final distribution. The history of the stone, from the discovery of the first stones until the present time, was also included in the address. A tray containing $4,000 of rough diamonds, was displayed by Mr. Bagley during his talk.

COOK WILL TALK TO POSTMASTERS

Postmaster A. P. Cook has received a complete program for the eighth annual convention of the Tri-State Postmasters' association to be held in St. Paul, June 11 and 12.

The convention will open at 10 o'clock on the morning of the first day, with an address of welcome by Mayor Kellar of St. Paul and a response by O. J. Simmons of Austin, Minn., president of the association.

Both days will be given over to a series of addresses by the various postmasters of Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Mr. Cook is also scheduled to read a paper on the afternoon of the second day on "Problems Which Have Arisen in Connection With the Postal Savings Bank."

The reports of the various committees will be made in the morning of the second day and the annual election of officers held that evening.

FIRST CRIMINAL TRIAL OF TERM

Men Charged With Entering Mather Home Will Face Court.

Fred Davis, George Marshall and George Byron will be brought to trial by County Attorney Warren E. Greene in district court tomorrow morning. The men were jointly indicted by the May grand jury on a charge of third degree burglary. They are accused of breaking into the home of O. L. Mather, 201 South Twenty-first avenue east. George B. Sioselius will appear as their attorney. The case will be tried before Judge Dancer and a jury.

Yesterday afternoon, arraignments were made before Judge Dancer on two more indictments returned by the May grand jury. Albert Garbich and Joe Kuto pleaded not guilty to the charge of robbing Albert Grossman on the night of May 8 at the foot of the stairs leading from the Lake avenue viaduct to St. Croix avenue. It is claimed that they relieved their victim of two $5 bills and a purse. N. H. Wilson was appointed as their attorney.

Silver Siverson was arraigned on an indictment charging him with forgery in the second degree. He is charged with having on April 26 last passed a check for $15 on E. E. Fuller of the Wormser hat store. Siverson pleaded not guilty. C. E. Magney was appointed by the court to defend him.

AAD TEMPLE MASCOT AT DALLAS CONCLAVE

"HENRY" AND THE GOAT.

Down at Dallas, Tex., this week Aad Temple of the Mystic Shrine has a rather unusual representative in the shape of a goat. A picture of His Nibs is shown in the above picture with that of Henry Van Brunt, custodian of the local Masonic temple.

When Jesse Norton of Aad temple left for Dallas last week, he forgot to take the goat with him as he had intended. By quick work on the part of Mr. Van Brunt it was dispatched to him by express at St. Paul, where it was taken on the imperial special.

If the goat gets back alive from Dallas it will be taken to Fargo next month by Aad patrol

LESSON FOR DREAMERS IN CALIFORNIA CASE

London Paper So Interprets Developments in the Situation.

London, May 13.—"If it be true that Japan wishes to carry the California land question to The Hague tribunal, we may shortly obtain a fruitful lesson in the practical limits of arbitration," says the Pall Mall Gazette today in discussing the situation which has arisen between the United States and Japan in regard to the California alien land ownership bill.

The newspaper continues:

"If the Chinese and Japanese are to have free entry to the Pacific coast, it means eventually the extirpation of white labor from that region. All the arbitration in the world will not persuade the people of the Western states that it is their duty to give up their bread and butter to an alien race, and we can imagine how much likelihood there is of the government at Washington taking measures to inforce such an award upon its own subjects. We should rather like to see the experiment for its usefulness in bringing dreamers back to hard facts."

TWO KILLED IN FREIGHT SMASH.

Ottawa, Ill., May 13.—A rear-end collision of two freight trains on the Rock Island railroad at Seneca early today resulted in the deaths of two men. Several cars of merchandise were demolished and a number of cattle killed. A dense fog was the cause of the wreck. The dead are:

HERALD'S SPECIAL EDITION IS ADVERTISING DULUTH

"Duluth the City of Industry" number of The Duluth Herald, which will be off the press on May 26, is already attaining a wide scope of publicity. The proposed edition is the theme of news items and editorials of the state press. There is already no doubt about a big demand for the issue, and it will be well for those who want copies of this great industrial number to send in their orders early.

In a recent issue of the Brainerd Daily Dispatch the following comment was made regarding the industrial number of The Herald:

"The Duluth Herald will on May 26 print an edition of 100,000 or more copies which will pay particular attention to Northern Minnesota in an agricultural, mining and industrial way. The Cuyuna range will receive its due share of publicity, and the pictures will be views taken this week by one of the staff photographers, Mr. McKenzie, under the direction of George Reid.

"Mr. Reid, who is in charge of the special edition, said the keynote of the whole number will be 'No hot air. The truth about Duluth and Northern Minnesota is good enough. Facts, just facts will be given.' It will be the greatest pictorial representation that this section of the Northwest has received in years.

"In the wealth of illustrations there will be fifty mining pictures, about half of which will be from the Cuyuna iron range. There will be six pages of agricultural scenes. Numberless illustrations will show every phase of Duluth and twelve pictures will portray the steel plant. Panoramic pictures taken by Gallagher will be shown.

"In their tour of the Cuyuna range Mr. Reid and Mr. McKenzie took underground mine, pit mine, the hydraulic mine and townsite pictures, showing every phase of development in mining industry on the youngest range in Minnesota. These will be placed on display at the St. Louis hotel in Duluth for a period of about eight days.

"The Duluth Herald has always been a good paper for Brainerd and the range, giving both much publicity. When the tonnage tax threatened the peace and security of this section, The Herald took up the cudgels against this kind of proposed legislation and did its part to have the iniquitous measure killed."

OBITUARY

John S. Wise, former congressman from Virginia, died near Princess Anne, Md., May 12, at the summer residence of his son, United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise. Mr. Wise was born at Rio De Janiro, Brazil, 73 years ago. His father, Henry A. Wise, was United States minister to Brazil at the time.

JOHN S. WISE.

Frances Shaw, for thirty years a resident of Minneapolis, and widely known as an author, died in Minneapolis, May 12, after an illness of nearly two years. Miss Shaw's ancestors were among the founders of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, and came to America on the Pilgrim ship that followed the Mayflower. Her brother, George K. Shaw, at one time was editor and publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Maurice Evans, a theatrical manager, formerly of Chicago, died suddenly of heart disease in his apartment in an uptown hotel in New York May 13.

NEW CLERK OF PROBATE COURT IS NAMED

A. R. Morton, local attorney, will be the new clerk of the probate court to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Arthur E. Templeton last week.

The appointment of Mr. Morton was announced today by Probate Judge S. W. Gilpin.

Mr. Morton has been a resident of Duluth for the past two years, coming here from Pittsburg. He has been associated with the law firm of Baldwin & Baldwin ever since he came to Duluth.

He will assume charge of his new duties on Monday next.

TEN DAYS ONLY A "STARTER"

Lawrence Lafferty Has Six Year Term Ahead of Him.

The nominal sentence of ten days in the county jail for the crime of grand larceny, second degree, which Judge Cant in district court yesterday afternoon handed to Lawrence L. Lafferty, who was convicted by a jury on March 18, last, does not mean that Lafferty will go free after that time.

When the ten-day sentence is up, Lafferty will be turned over to the Minnesota state prison officials, who want him on a charge of breaking his parole. In June, 1909, Lafferty was sentenced from this court on a highway robbery charge, having held up a man at Mountain Iron.

When arrested here on Feb. 9 last, after he had attempted to pull off a hold robbery in a Lake avenue saloon, he was on parole from the St. Cloud reformatory. He still has six years to serve under the old sentence and as soon as his time is up at the county jail he will be turned over to the prison officials.

BETTER PAY IN PRIVATE LIFE

Officers of British Navy and Army Withdrew From Government Service When Offered Big Salaries.

London, May 13.—The secret of the retirement of Sir Percy Girouard from the imperial service to join the board of directors of the great shipbuilding firm of Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., is out.

Sir Percy is a Canadian by birth, and he is about to return to the dominion to advise on the suitability of docks and other engineering works in connection with future shipbuilding. He will also consult with the dominion ministers in regard to the dry docks to be built at Halifax, Quebec and Esquimalt. It is understood that the private tenders for these docks having proved unsatisfactory, the Canadian government have decided to build them themselves.

Sir Percy Girouard was born in Montreal. He joined the Royal Engineers, and making railway construction a specialty, rendered splendid service to Great Britain in Egypt and South Africa. He built the railway which took Kitchener to Khartoum; reorganized the Egyptian railways, and when Kitchener went to South Africa to conclude the South African war, he immediately sent for the French-Canadian, who became commissioner of railways in the Transvaal and Orange River colony, rebuilding what had been destroyed during the war. A few years in Nigeria and East Africa as chief of the administration of those colonies, and Sir Percy resigned to go into the shipbuilding business.

His withdrawal from the government service gave rise to a controversy as to whether the imperial government paid its servants sufficient to retain them when big salaries were offered by private concerns. Many a man who would have rendered invaluable service to the country has been attracted by the salaries offering in private life, and most of the big shipbuilding yards and other engineering works are now headed by former officers of the navy and army.

Americans Protest.

The habit of English newspapers of dubbing every American who, for any reason, worthy or otherwise, is considered worth headlines, "an American millionaire," has at last aroused a protest from Americans living in England.

The habit was never better exemplified than in a recent case of the disappearance in London of an American visitor. Every paper in London and most of those in the country came out with big headlines, in every one of which the words "American" and "millionaire" were conspicuous. News agencies are constantly sending out stories of the adventures of "American millionaires," who, upon investigation, prove to be someone whose name is not known outside his own home town, and who had in all probability saved for years the few dollars that enabled him to come over to England.

This habit of the English has its inconveniences for Americans traveling or living in the country. There are always two prices at the hotels and other places for the "rich" American and the touring Englishman. This is what aroused the protest of an American living in the country. He prayed the papers to stop it, saying he found his cost of living very much greater than his English neighbor.

The man who has the greatest grievance, however, is an Englishman who has married an American "heiress," so called. His name got into a list of foreigners who had married fortunes in America, and was duly published in England. He now explains in a letter to the papers that his wife did not bring him a fortune, and that the prevailing belief in her great wealth is causing them great embarrassment, not the least of which is found in the constant stream of demands from the needy.

CRIME IS LAID TO MEMBER OF JURY.

Globe, Ariz., May 13.—While serving as a member of the coroner's jury which was investigating the death of Jose Perez as a result of Sunday's race clash at Miami between Americans and Mexicans, Joe Lilliard was placed under arrest for alleged complicity in the murder of Perez. Lilliard's place on the jury was filled and the inquest continued. There have been no further hostilities since the arrest of three Americans after one Mexican had been stoned to death and another badly hurt, but feeling still runs high in the mining camp.

Woman's Realm

Plans for the annual May luncheon, and for the annual membership campaign to be held the last week in May were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Young Woman's Christian association held this morning at the association building with Mrs. W. A. McGonagle presiding.

The annual campaign for members will be held the last week in May and a luncheon was planned for Saturday, May 31, at the Y. W. C. A. building for the board of directors and the committees when the plans for the canvass of the city will be perfected. Miss Frances Crittenden of Minneapolis, city secretary of the Northwest territory will be in Duluth at that time to assist in the working out of the campaign.

The general committee in charge of the campaign will consist of Mrs. McGonagle and the finance committee, Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mrs. George H. Claypool and Mrs. Watson S. Moore.

The luncheon which has come to be an annual event in the life of the association will be served on Monday, May 26, at the building and an invitation is extended to all to have luncheon there on that day. The business men of the city are especially invited. The usual cafeteria method of service will be suspended and the luncheon served by girls of the association.

New General Secretary.

Arrangements have about been completed with Miss Bertha Rowles of Topeka, Kan., to take the office of general secretary of the local association to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Nettie E. Trimble last winter. Miss Rowles will arrive in July.

Reports were also given on the National convention of the Young Woman's Christian association held in Richmond, Va., last month, which was attended by Mrs. McGonagle, Mrs. F. H. White and Mrs. Claypool.

Mrs. White, in speaking of the convention, told of several points of special interest which stood out from the general meetings.

Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson spoke on "What the Association Means to the College Girl" at a meeting with Miss Elizabeth Dodge of New York, who spoke on What the Association Means to the City Girl,' before 7,000 interested people," she said.

Miss Wilson claimed that the association gives the college girl a purpose in life and education, only too often lacking without it, and urged that the association work is indispensable and that it should be introduced in all colleges.

"Education is useless," said Miss Wilson, "unless it has a purpose and is closely related to life, and the average college girl is utterly lacking in high purpose. However, the association gives a real purpose to its members, and relates them to each other and to the great common purpose. The girl who goes to college and does nothing but study, denying the community spirit, is just as badly mistaken as the one who frivolers away her time. We need active Christians. One of the most important factors in the association work is the world vision which comes of belonging to an international organization and being one of so many gathered together for a common cause.

Opportunities for Work.

"Then, too, the association gives immediate opportunities for work. Many lines of social endeavor are carried on by college girls. One of the newest and most far-reaching is the rural work which the college girls are doing in the summer, and in the cities the association is becoming a substitute for the colleges, both in the spirit that pervades it and in the training that it offers.

"Mrs. R. H. Passmore of Minneapolis also spoke," said Mrs. White, "on finances telling of her work all over the country and suggested the asking for $100 instead of $5 as donations, claiming that as a rule women are apt to have too small a conception of the matter in hand. She urged the women to bear in mind that they were not begging in seeking funds for their cause but conferring a favor on those whom they approach in giving them a chance to help the great cause.

"The address by Miss Ooloogh Burner of New York, secretary to the national board of the association, was also an interesting talk. She made a strong appeal for closer union with the humanity and religion exemplified by the life and work of Jesus Christ and for a broader sympathy with the men and women that people the world.

"'Association with Christ,' she said, 'does not mean divorce from pleasure and diversion,' and she addressed herself particularly to the young girls who formed a large part of her audience.

Wonderful Pageant.

"The pageant given in the Horse Show building on account of the heavy rain, instead of in Bryan park where it was to have been held, was a magnificent thing in its symbolism and the force of its message. The tableaux and scenes followed each other in smooth succession of tableaux, song and story, giving the story of the association's service to womenkind.

"Colleges, normal schools and the city organizations of Richmond, Norfolk, Cleveland, Baltimore and New York were represented and presiding over it all was Miss Louise Holmquist, who, as the Association Spirit, spoke the lines that bound the separate scenes into a continuous brilliantly tinted film, giving the story of the association's achievements in all its departments.

"On the whole, it was a wonderfully inspiring convention and the attendance was big."

FALLIERES' SON-IN-LAW WANTS A DIVORCE

MR. AND MRS. J. J. E. LANES.

The son-in-law of ex-President Fallieres of France is trying to get a divorce from his wife. They are said to have preserved an armed matrimonial truce for some time before the new president came in because they did not want to spoil the term of Papa Armand with a scandal. Lanes got a fat job under the government and $100,000 for marrying Mlle. Fallieres. He may have to lose both as a result of the divorce.

Club women of the city will be interested in the following dispatch concerning the meeting of the Seventh district of the Federation of Women's Clubs, which will meet this week at Clinton, Minn.:

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The twelfth annual convention of the Seventh district of the Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Clinton, Minn., Thursday and Friday. Mrs. E. H. Loyhed of Faribault, state president, will make an address Thursday afternoon.

There will be three sessions on Friday and the program will include round tables on literature and civics.

Mrs. F. A. Hancock of Morris will talk on "What Women's Clubs Can Do for Civic Improvement;" Mrs. M. P. Mahoney of Graceville on "Spirit of the Young," and Mrs. E. F. Gates, Montevideo, on "Town and Country Clubs."

Mrs. H. Oliver of Graceville will lead a round table on "What the Club Means to the Home, School, Socially and Politically." Friday evening F. E. Weld, president of the Moorhead normal school, will give a lecture on "The Spirit of Modern Democracy."

ANNIVERSARY SUPPER.

Woman's Alliance Will Elect Officers and Arrange Details.

The annual election of officers and the discussion of plans for the anniversary supper on Friday evening will feature the regular meeting of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church which will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Brinkman, 2116 East Third street. A full attendance is desired.

A supper will be served at the church on Friday evening of this week in celebration of the twenty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the Unitarian church in Duluth and special arrangements will be completed at the meeting tomorrow. All members of the church and their friends will be welcome at the affair.

ADAMS-LUND.

Wedding Plans and Tea Party.

An event of tomorrow will be the wedding of Miss Eva Adams and Ewald Warner Lund which will take place tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Adams, 2314 West Second street. Rev. George E. Silloway will read the service in the presence of a few friends. Miss Ruby Gorman will be the bridesmaid and Stanley E. Adams the best man. A reception will be held from 8:30 to 10 o'clock to which a large number of guests have been invited.

Mrs. A. M. Worthington of 2619 West Third street entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Adams and Miss Gertrude Emerson who will be a bride of next month. Baskets of white lilacs formed the decorations and there were ten guests.

SCHOOL LUNCHEON.

Domestic Science Class Serves Twenty-one at 15 Cents Each.

Showing the results of practical training in domestic science the girls of the domestic science classes of the Eighth and Seventh grades of the C. C. Salter school yesterday served a luncheon at the school building with covers for twenty-one which cost just 15 cents a cover. The girls in the classes planned, prepared and served the luncheon under the direction of the domestic science teacher, Miss Frances Quillard, and their guests at the affair were Miss Quillard, Mrs. Mary T. Sparks, Miss Evelyn McIntyre, Frank J. Gottwold and J. A. Sund, the other covers being laid for the members of the class.

The table was daintily appointed in yellow and the menu, every bit of which was prepared by the girls, included canned fruit and conserves put up last fall and home-made candies which filled the dainty little yellow and white favor boxes. The menu consisted of cream corn soup and wafers, beef loaf and mashed potatoes, Parker House rolls and jam, canned peaches, cake, coffee and candy.

Are You Getting All You Can Out of Life These Days?

With the coming on of spring, I am moved by the universal instinct which propels alike the spring poets the great world round and the lads and lasses of every clime—that is, the spirit which inspires a little sentiment in every human breast. It is not of love, to which the young man's fancy so lightly turns these days, but of nature, that I would write, and of how much nature holds for us, and how little we get out of her for ourselves.

Perhaps it is not possible for city folks of ordinary means and in the average circumstances to get all there is to be gotten out of the beauties of nature at this season. Those city dwellers, of course, who have automobiles to carry them about the country, or horses to ride or drive, may explore these beauties that are closed to a large extent to most of us. And as the warmer weather comes on, they may go away to lake or seashore, mountain or countryside, to enjoy themselves to the full of what nature has to offer.

But the ordinary city man or woman, who is tied down to desk, or store or office, or bound by domestic duties, is handicapped in the process of following the poet's universal advice of communing with nature. But not altogether so. There are few of us, no matter what our circumstances, who cannot get in touch with the myriad beauties which surround us, either closely or at some distance. For instance, instead of sitting quietly of evenings or on Sundays at home, we may enjoy a street car ride to the end of the line, and then get off and take a tramp along the country road, or along the river, or to some point of scenic beauty which does not draw the crowd.

The parks are all right as far as they go, but, for my part, they never satisfy my cravings to get to some quiet place and listen to the birds or the ripple of water. It is astonishing how much comfort for sick hearts, how much rest for tired bodies, and solace for tired nerves there is in getting out into some quiet nook, away from the noise of the town, and communing with growing things which God has placed all about us.

We all owe it to ourselves to try to avoid getting into the rut, and to enjoy the things at hand. The mountain or seashore may be inaccessible for us, but the open country is not. And it offers something for us ever new and ever inviting, if we but have the eyes to see and the ears to hear.

I Asked a

Bank President

"How can you afford time for music?"

"Because," he replied, "I figure I am a better banker when I take an interest in music. The business worries of the day fade away and are forgotten when I devote an hour to playing the Kimball Acmelodic Player Piano after dinner."

This banker is storing up a big reserve. When others, who have "burned the candle at both ends" are incapacitated, he'll be drawing the essential part that good music plays in one's life.

The Kimball Acmelodic Player Piano has the essentials necessary to reproduce hand-played music.

This instrument plays the full scale, 88 notes—plays Kimball or any 88-note roll—full, round, rich, mellow tone—selected materials, best workmanship, roll-guiding device, Acmelodic soloist, ten exclusive improvements, music roll library privileges.

We will take your "never-played" piano in part payment.

NEW MATCH NECESSARY

Old "Parlor Match" Will Go Into the Discard on July 1.

Local Manufacturers Have Long List of Laws to Comply With.

The old parlor match will go into the discard July 1, for a new Federal law and state laws in Minnesota and many other states will prohibit its manufacture or sale.

"A kind of a match" will be the successor to the parlor match, according to John B. Helmick, manager of the Union Match company.

"It will not be as good a match as the manufacturers are getting out at present, but it will be as good as the law will let us make, and the people will have to get used to it," said Mr. Helmick.

The Minnesota law, which is modeled after the Federal statute, prohibits the manufacture, storage or sale of white phosphorus matches of any sort that "strike anywhere." It also provides regulations for the packing and storing of all kinds of matches.

Mr. Helmick said this morning that the Union Match company would continue to make matches after July 1, but the sale of its business is still to be determined.

"We will do what the law will allow us to do, but it is pretty hard to determine that," said Mr. Helmick. "We have a new Federal law, laws regulating the manufacture and sale of matches in almost every state, and city ordinances in many cities. We must make our business conform to those laws or go out of business, and it's pretty hard to make it conform in all cases. Many of the laws are what are popularly known as 'fool' laws. They will not gain anything for the public, and they certainly will not help the manufacturers.

"However, the regulation of the manufacture of matches is the purpose of the legislation, and we will conform. We can make a match under the new regulations. The matches will not be as good as the matches now on the market, but the public will have to put up with it."

Old Sulphur Match.

Some people can see visions of the old "sulphur match" of odoriferous memory being offered for sale again, but it will probably not be as bad as that. The new matches will probably more closely resemble the safety match of foreign manufacture now on the market.

The stringent regulation of the manufacture of matches is the result of revelations of the ravages of an occupational disease known as "phossy jaw." The disease is common among workers in match factories in some parts of the country, and the agitation over it has resulted in the legislation abolishing the white phosphorus match entirely.

LOSES HIS LIFE IN DEAD RIVER

Negaunee Young Man Drowns in Stream While Fishing Near Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., May 13.—Henry Curley, aged 29, a native of Negaunee, was drowned in Dead river, near Stone's Mill, about five miles from here, Sunday while fishing with August Haupt of this city.

The two had reached the river at daybreak. Shortly before the body was discovered, Haupt told a fisherman whom he met that he was with a companion, but had not seen him for about an hour. It was not until after news of the identification of the body reached the city that Haupt, who returned early in the afternoon, realized that his companion had drowned.

Fell in Upstream.

From the position of the body and the condition of the banks of the stream Curley evidently fell into the river several hundred feet upstream. The banks above Stone's mill are sandy and steep and the river in places has a depth of twenty feet.

The deceased was a graduate of the Negaunee high school. In addition to his father and mother, five brothers—John, Walter and Ray of Negaunee, Michael J. Curley of St. Paul, and Lawrence Curley of Chicago—survive him.

SERIES OF CRIMES LAID TO STRATTON.

Davenport, Iowa, May 13. — Clyde Stratton, under arrest at Pekin, Ill., who recently escaped from the Leavenworth penitentiary by crawling through a sewer, has been indicted for burglary, robbery and murder in Rock Island county, Ill.,

It is claimed Thomas Jefferson, held for the robbery of the bank of Silvis, Dec. 17, 1912, has confessed that Stratton assisted him to rob the bank by assaulting the owner, J. Lee Crowder, who later died of his injuries. Pekin authorities have promised to turn Stratton over to Rock Island county.

PLAN CENTRAL PLANTS.

Minnesota's New Creamery Law Drives Concerns Into North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Centralizing creamery plants are being rushed to completion along the eastern edge of North Dakota. A St. Paul concern will have one in operation here inside of a week. A building is being constructed at Grand Forks for one and other companies are investigating Fargo and Wahpeton. The Minnesota law forbidding the sale of unrefrigerated and unpasteurized milk that had been shipped more than sixty-five miles is the reason. That greatly reduced the supply of the centralizing plants in the Twin Cities and forced the establishment of branch houses. The cream shipping stations and agencies were practically forced out of business.

"BLIND-PIGS" IN PUSH CARTS.

New York, May 13.—Through the arrest of Morris Katz, a milk dealer, on a charge of violating the internal revenue laws, it became known that the United States revenue officers are endeavoring to break up a gang engaged in selling moonshine whisky, made in Brooklyn and distributed on the East side of Manhattan by push-cart peddlers. Katz is charged with selling whisky without first having paid the internal revenue tax. He was held in $2,500 bail.

According to government detectives the scheme has netted its promoters a small fortune. They say the whisky was brought into New York in milk cans, and as much of the milk sold on the East side is peddled from push carts, the gang easily disposed of its product without exciting suspicion.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor motion pictures.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and talking pictures.

EMPRESS—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

Amusement Notes.

A new program of kinemacolor and black and white pictures will be shown at the Lyceum today. The program includes "Rambles in Paris," and a two-reel comedy, "Mumps." Some of the most famous squares, gardens and park of Paris are shown. Among the scenes that will be shown on this reel will be the Church of the Sacred Heart and the Place de la Nation, one of the finest squares in the city. A beautiful panorama is given of the historic Tuileries gardens. The statue of Joan of Arc in the Rue de Rivoli. The Luxembourg gardens with their fine fountains.

Miss Lockard and Messrs. Adams and Peterson will be heard in new solos.

* * *

Miss "Mike" Berkin, who is appearing on the Orpheum bill this week, is taking her present tour of the circuit as a wedding trip.

Miss Berkin is the daughter of a prominent Butte mining man. She was married but a few weeks ago to a young mining engineer, and she and her husband are finishing "Miss" Berkin's tour on their honeymoon.

"It's not often a vaudeville performer gets an opportunity to take a tour with all expenses paid," said

MISS "MIKE" BERKIN, At the Orpheum.

"Miss" Berkin last evening. "My husband objected for a time, for he was afraid of being classed with husbands of actresses who travel with their wives and let the wives pay the bills. The only terms on which he would go were that he should pay all bills, and rather than cancel my contracts I agreed."

* * *

Clever comedy and pleasing singing are the order of things at the Empress the first half of this week. Vaudeville is holding the boards. Charles Lindholm and his company of artists are presenting "The Man From Minnesota." This little play is a tale of the peculiar adventures that befall Charley Lute Fiske, who answers a matrimonial "ad" that has been inserted by a homely old maid, who, during the usual correspondence, has sent her mistress' picture in place of her own.

Miss Hortense Searle, lyric soprano, Miss Marion Hoover, a mezzo soprano, and Miss May Hixon, a contralto, who bill themselves as Singers De Luxe, are all that the name signifies.

The De Gray Four, who appear as street urchins, have a good line of slang comedy and many clever songs.

With a single musical act, Eddie Badger is delighting Empress theater patrons. The Silent Actors are presenting some excellent feature photo plays.

Rosalind May, who plays "Nellie," the village pet, in the record-breaking success, Minnie Palmer's big cabaret review, "Along Broadway," and which plays at the Empress the last half of this week, has begun the study of French by the phonograph method. Her school is the spare dressing room of the theater, where Miss May communes daily with the talking machine. She listens an hour to the prepared record and then recites her lesson back into the cylinder, which is sent on to New York for a criticism.

HAS NEW VERSES IN THE GOSPEL OF MARK

Manuscript Found in Egypt Is Studied in London.

London, May 13.—Some long-missing verses of the New Testament are included in the manuscripts of the gospels discovered in Egypt six years ago and purchased by Charles L. Freer of Detroit, Mich., according to a study made of the Freer manuscripts by the Times.

A fac-simile of the manuscripts has been presented to the British museum by the University of Michigan, to which Mr. Freer assigned the task of publication, and according to the Times, there have been found in the Gospel of St. Mark several verses which occur in no other known manuscript of the New Testament, although they were known to St. Jerome, who quotes part of them.

In the Freer manuscript, after the passage in which it is said that Jesus upbraided his disciples for their unbelief, the text continues as follows:

"And they excused themselves, saying that this age of lawlessness and unbelief is under Satan, who through the agency of unclean spirits, suffers not the true power of God to be apprehended.

"For the cause, said they unto Christ, reveal now at once Thy righteousness. And Christ said unto them, the limit of the years of the powers of Satan is (not) fulfilled, but it draweth near. (The text here as elsewhere is corrupt.)

"For the sake of those who have sinned was I given up unto death that they may return into the truth and sin no more, but may inherit the spiritual and incorruptible glory of righteousness in heaven."

A large number of variations in other portions of the New Testament are also pointed out by the Times in the Freer manuscripts.

KANSAS WILL STOP BUYING ITS MEAT

State Institutions Will Each Raise Their Own Supply.

Topeka, Kan., May 13.—Governor Hodges and the board of corrections in charge of the penal and reformatory institutions of the state have decided that each of the institutions shall produce its own meats. A member of the board was sent to Kansas City to purchase 250 cattle and 200 goats for the penitentiary. At Wichita 200 cattle will be purchased for the reformatory at Hutchinson. There are cold storage plants at both the prison and reformatory, and cattle can be slaughtered and kept at each institution.

"The state now buys all of the meats used at the institutions," Governor Hodges said. "We have land at each institution that can be used for pasturage. Each has its own dairy, so why not beef too?"

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

THE park department of Fort Worth, Tex., has advised that sweepings from the city streets should be saved and used for fertilizer for flower beds throughout the city. Many cities throughout the country have adopted this plan, and it has proved successful. The trash and refuse matter which is taken from the streets may be collected and dumped upon a place prepared for that purpose. It should be left there to decay for a couple of years before it is used. If this plan is carried out any citizen will be allowed to go to this dumping ground and cart away the fertilizer with which to make flower beds. It is believed this arrangement would benefit the public parks.

The plan has never been tried in Duluth. Private persons have made the furnishing of fertilizer in this manner a sideline. It is probable that many citizens would take advantage of such an opportunity to get rich fertilizer and a considerable quantity could probably be used for flower beds in the parks.

Tiny Baby Dies.

Mattoon, Ill., May 13.—Adeline Russell, who weighed only seven and one-half ounces when born two weeks ago, was buried here yesterday. At the time of her death the baby weighed eight and one-half ounces. Adelia, her twin sister, who died at birth, was of normal size.

TWO MEN SHOT AT RIOT AT FUNERAL.

Bridgeport, Ohio, May 13.—During a riot among 300 foreigners attending a funeral in the Linwood cemetery here, two men were shot through the stomach and may die; another was probably fatally beaten, and a large number of others sustained cuts and bruises.

Sunday and Monday were observed by the miners of Belmont county in celebration of the feast of Pentecost. Late Monday afternoon festivities were halted long enough to attend the funeral of a miner killed last Saturday by a fall of slate. How and why the riot started has not been made clear.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MANY MEETS TO BE HELD

North Dakota Sunday School Association Secretary in Campaign.

Thirty-Six County Conventions Between Now and Aug. 13 Planned.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirty-six county conventions and institutes will be held between now and Aug. 13, under the direction of W. A. Snow, secretary of the North Dakota Sunday School association, according to the itinerary just announced.

The series opened with conventions at Leeds and Inkster today, and continuing till tomorrow.

The other conventions follow: May 15 and 16, McHenry county, at Towner; May 17 and 18, Kidder county at Steele, and Nelson county at Aneta; May 20 and 21, Sargent county at Milnor, and Ransom county at Lisbon; May 22 and 23, Richland county at Fairmount; May 24 and 25, McKenzie county at Alexander; May 26 and 27, Wells county at Hurdsfield; May 27, Rugby; May 28, Rondo; May 29, St. John; May 29 and 30, Cass county; May 30, Rolla; June 1, 2 and 3, Williams county; June 10, 11 and 12, state convention at Grand Forks; June 14 and 15, Griggs county; June 18 and 19, Pembina county at Cavalier, and Barnes county at Leal; June 21 and 22, Pierce county at Rugby, Rolette county at Rolla; June 24 and 25, Cavalier county at Langdon; June 28 and 29, Burke county at Portal; June 30, Bottineau county at Maxbass; July 4, Dunn, Emmons county; July 8 and 9, Ward county at Des Lacs; July 10 and 11, Mountrail county at Stanley; July 12 and 13, McLean county at Turtle Lake; July 17 and 18, Hettinger county at Bentley; July 19 and 20, Morton county, July 22 and 23, Emmons county at Tembrik; July 29 and 30, Adams county at Hettinger; Aug. 2 and 3, Dunn county at Manning; Aug. 5, 6 and 7, Stark county at Dickinson; Aug. 9 and 10, Oliver and Mercer county at Center; Aug. 12 and 13, Traill county at Hillsboro.

Officers of the North Dakota Sunday School association are devoting a great deal of their attention to the state convention which will be held in Grand Forks, and at the several county conventions will urge that the largest possible delegations be sent to the state meeting.

TWINE FAMINE IS NOT IMPOSSIBLE

North Dakota Farmers Are Already Thinking of That Contingency.

Fargo, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before all the seed is sown North Dakota farmers are menaced by a fear of a twine famine, as all the harvesting is completed in the other states before it is commenced in North Dakota which makes it more likely for a shortage to prove serious here, if any exists. Last year's experience has not been forgotten. Twine ran short in the middle of the harvest and solid trains were sent here by express on passenger service time to supply the waiting binders.

This year the state prison twine will be in greater demand than ever because of the strikes among the makers in the Eastern plants. For this reason the farmers are now contracting for their supplies and many of them will insist on early shipments so there will no danger of being left unprovided for when the harvest season arrives.

DICKEY COUNTY PUPILS PLANNING RALLY DAY.

Ellendale, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—A practical method of training the children of the public schools of Dickey county will be given May 29, which has been designated as Rally day by the school officials. There will be a stock judging contest in which every pupil of either sex between 12 and 18 years of age can enter and in order to secure good animals for the contests prizes have been offered those showing the best types of different breeds of horses and beef and dairy cattle. Prizes will be offered for the pupils making the best showing.

Professor Richards of the animal husbandry department at the North Dakota agricultural college will preside and prior to the judging both he and Professor Randlett of the extension department of the agricultural college will make addresses.

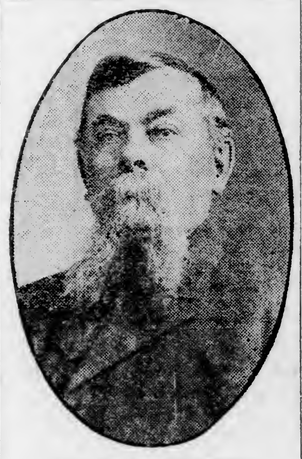
FARGOAN COMMISSIONER AT GETTYSBURG REUNION



COL. D. F. SIEGFRIED.

Fargo, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the time approaches for the departure of North Dakota veterans for the Gettysburg reunion interest in that historic event increases, and it is expected that at least 300 war veterans of North Dakota will attend. Col. D. F. Siegfried of Fargo, appointed commissioner for North Dakota by Governor Hanna to represent the state at the reunion, is in general charge of the arrangements and is working faithfully to insure a representative attendance as well as to see that the wishes of his fellow veterans are carefully attended to.

WORKS OLD GAME.

Alleged Apoplectic Falls at Right Time to Arouse Sympathy.

Fargo, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Credulous ones have "fallen" in this section for the old apoplectic fit game worked by an aged man who is said to have realized a nice living by falling on the street at the psychological moment and arousing enough sympathy to collect a nice sum.

As he falls to the street he is usually carried into some nearby store. A crowd collects, he recovers, then asserts he doesn't want to be taken to a hospital but would like to reach his home in an adjoining state if he had sufficient funds. Liberal people quickly supply the money and he proceeds to the next town to work the same game. New Rockford citizens were caught and other towns of the state are reporting.

PRINCE WILL SPEAK.

Duluth's Mayor to Address Bessemer Improvement Association.

Bessemer, Mich., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Bessemer Improvement association will hold its regular meeting this evening in the auditorium of the high school. The following program will be rendered: Selection, high school orchestra; piano duet, Mildred Hagen and Matilda Jensen; vocal solo, Clarence Pittman; talk on public playgrounds, Miss Sylvia Rell; violin solo, Myron Anderson; address on "Progress," Mayor William I. Prince of Duluth; vocal duet, Mrs. J. Z. Bayliss and Dr. Paradis; recitation, Edna Backow of Ironwood; vocal solo, Miss Ruth Spratt; selection, high school orchestra. After the program there will be a short business session followed by refreshments.

"JAG" FARM MAY GO.

Board of Control Not Satisfied With Results of Institution.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—The state inebriate hospital at Willmar will be abandoned if it does not show results within the next two years.

This is the decision arrived at by the state board of control, but the members are confident that such a course will not be necessary.

The last legislature wanted to abolish the institution, but the board pleaded for another trial, agreeing that at the end of two years they would consent to its abandonment if results did not warrant its maintenance.

The institution is caring for twenty men and five women. Its facilities are limited and only thirty-five can be accommodated.

The hospital is maintained by a 2 per cent tax on liquor licenses, the largest portion of this revenue coming from the big cities. The tax is about $50,000 annually.

INDIAN GIVEN LIFE.

Redman Who Killed Father Sent to Marquette Prison.

L'Anse, Mich., May 13.—Judge O'Brien for the second time since assuming the bench, imposed the maximum punishment in this state for murder when he sentenced Henry Shelafoe of Assinins to Marquette prison for life.

Shelafoe, a Chippewa Indian, shot and killed his father, John Shelafoe, in a saloon at Keweenaw Bay Dec. 26, 1912. He was convicted of murder in the first degree last Thursday night.

Peter Niemi, a lumberjack convicted of assault with intent to murder, was given an indeterminate sentence at Marquette.

Shelafoe will be brought back from Marquette shortly to appear as a witness in a suit brought by his mother against Joseph Chosa, proprietor of the Keweenaw Bay saloon, and the Michigan Bonding & Surety company, his surety. She is suing for damages for the death of her husband, basing the suit on the law against selling liquor to Indians.

BELIEVE MISSING BOY IS NOT ALIVE.

Escanaba, Mich., May 13.—The authorities have about concluded that Thomas S. Carmody, the missing boy, will never be found, and that he is dead. Hopes were raised for a few minutes recently by a telegram from the Omaha, Neb., chief of police, stating that the missing boy had been arrested there, but when the suspect proved he had not been out of Omaha in six months, he was declared not the right boy and released.

CLUB WOMEN TO MEET AT CARRINGTON.

Carrington, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The club women of the Fifth judicial district will meet here Thursday. It is expected there will be at least seventy-five delegates in attendance. After the reception of the delegates they will be welcomed by Mrs. T. N. Putnam and the response will be by Mrs. Wm. Moore of Sheyenne. There will be a chorus by the high school, followed by a parliamentary drill of forty-five minutes, with Mrs. Kate Blewett of Jamestown as president; a vocal solo by Miss Thiesen, and a talk on "How Club Women Can Help County Life," by Miss Minnie Nielsen of Valley City, president of the state educational association. Mrs. Andrews of Valley City will speak on "Ignorance, a Menace to Health."

SMALLPOX HITS TWO WISCONSIN PLACES

Couderay, Wis., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several cases of smallpox have broken out in the villages of Winter and Radisson, near here. The afflicted families have been quarantined, public schools closed and the health board have taken all precaution from having the disease spread.

GOGEBIC COUNTY JURORS ARE DRAWN.

Bessemer, Mich., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following jurors were drawn for the May term of circuit court in Gogebic county: Ironwood—C. A. Hanscomb, John W. Mullen, John Blakely, Samuel Davey, Max Stevens, James Chinn, John Olsen, Frank Echolm, Victor Holmgren, Thomas Lory, C. O. Anderson, R. B. Dixon, Markus Michelson, Andrew J. Fosberg, Otto B. Ross, Thomas H. Stevens, William Bray.

Bessemer—Albert J. Anderson, E. G. Peterson, Robert McKie, M. A. Dwyer, George Strelcheck, Joseph Blaha, Charles Lepisto, James L. Bruno, W. H. Fuller, Arthur Proctor.

Townships—Ironwood, Frank Bergland; Erwin, William Mattson; Bessemer, John Kilponen, John Hanousek; Wakefield, James Bodoh, O. H. Olson; Marenisco, Harold Graves; Watersmeet, Pat Kelly; Carlson, Martin Olson.

FAVOR CITY COMMISSION.

Valley City and Kenmare, N. D., Both Want That Plan.

Valley City, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The advocates of the adoption of the commission system are confident if the matter were submitted to a vote at the present time it would carry overwhelmingly. There has been a great deal of agitation over the matter and the recent lawsuits between citizens and the council to prevent the carrying out of certain contracts awarded for municipal improvements has intensified sentiment in favor of the commission system.

Kenmare Wants Commission.

Kenmare, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The amendment to the commission system by the last legislature permitting towns under 2,000 to adopt the plan proved popular in Kenmare and provisions are now being made for the adoption of the system. It is thought it will readily carry.

HILL OFFERS $50,000 TO MONTANA COLLEGE.

Helena, Mont., May 13.—In a pastoral letter to priests of the Helena diocese, Bishop Carroll announces that James J. Hill of St. Paul has pledged $50,000 toward a $200,000 endowment fund for St. Charles college, Helena, with the provision that Bishop Carroll raise the other three-fourths.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bottineau, N. D.—The new Catholic hospital being erected here is practically completed. The mother superior from Wild Rice, N. D., was here this week accompanied by the head nurse from Spring Valley, Ill. They inspected the building and announced it will be opened to the public some time in June.

New Rockford, N. D.—A "white way" is being demanded by the citizens of New Rockford, along with other improvements to be made in this city this spring.

Bowbells, N. D.—C. A. Dodge of Devils Lake and several others are anxious to establish an electric light plant here following the proposed effort of citizens to have electricity transmitted here from Kenmare for light and power purposes. Several applications were made but Mr. Dodge submitted the form of a franchise he would request.

Williston, N. D.—A break in the steering gear caused an auto in which Messrs. Helliand and Otesa and Misses Olson and Metcalf were riding to turn turtle. All the occupants were thrown out and the ladies were seriously bruised and injured by the fall.

Fargo, N. D.—Patrick M. Bowler, former patrolman, discharged by Former Chief of Police Con Keefe, about six months ago, charged with doing too much talking relative to police matters, has been appointed captain of police and detailed for night duty on recommendation of Police Commissioner Jordan.

Bismarck, N. D.—Secretary Wanner of the board of control has returned from the tour of inspection which the board had been making at Bathgate, Grafton, Devils Lake and Dunseith.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. Barbara Elliott died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Hemburg, aged 83 years. Mrs. Elliott was one of the oldest residents of the city, having been here since 1882. Since the death of her husband, George Elliott, Mrs. Elliott has lived with her daughters, and for the past four years has been a member of the home in which she died.

Bismarck, N. D.—The business men of Regan a new Burleigh county town held a meeting the other night and raised $1,125 towards erecting a town hall.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The Great Northern will give the men in its shops at Devils Lake Saturday half holidays during the summer.

Williston, N. D.—As a safety deposit box a shoe is a poor proposition in the opinion of Sam Boobes of Stanley, N. D., and it cost him $95. Boobes, upon retiring for the night in a local hotel, placed $95 in currency in the toe of a shoe. On awakening he found the shoe and money missing.

New Rockford, N. D.—Hugh Peoples, a big land owner and business man, was nearly killed in a runaway accident near here. The team attached to his buggy, jumping from the main road, carried Peoples down the side of a coulee, and at the bottom the animals cleared the water with a single leap. The pole dropped, however, and the buggy was smashed, Peoples being thrown to the ground and badly injured. One ankle was sprained.

Grand Forks, N. D.—As a result of the efforts of Dr. O. G. Libby, president of the North Dakota Historical association, Grand Forks was selected as the place for the 1914 convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical association, which has been in session at Omaha, Neb. The association has a membership of 900.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ontonagon — The village council has decided to enforce the collection of dog taxes. A supply of tags was ordered and the dog owners will be required to pay the village treasurer $1 tax on male dogs and $2 on females. After a reasonable length of time the marshal will gather in all dogs on which the tax has not been paid.

Baraga—The Baraga County Telephone company is arranging for several improvements in their system this coming season; a new extension will be built through the Falk settlement and also a new line to Pelkie via the Walland school, and several more subscribers will be added in the vicinity of Alston and Nisula.

Negaunee—At the meeting of the firemen the following officers were elected: Chief, Julius Johnson; assistant chief, Oral J. Lacombe; hose captain, John Kunz; assistant hose captain, Joseph Torreano; hook and ladder captain, Ed Brand; secretary, Andrew Johnson; treasurer, Dr. B. J. Miller.

Crystal Falls—The Republic Lumber company, a corporation that did a lively business in the vicinity of Crystal Falls for many years, disbanded last week and the property of the concern is for sale.

Menominee—Fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, destroyed the Spalding hotel at Spalding on Saturday. The value of the hotel was $7,000. It was owned by the Menominee Hotel River Brewing company. This is the second fire within twenty-four hours in Menominee county. The Daggett hotel, owned by Leisen & Henes Brewing company, burned to the ground on Friday.

Iron Mountain—Extensive improvements are planned at the Central M. E. church. A basement will be put under the entire church and the building raised two feet. A new steam-heating plant will be installed.

Ishpeming—The pool tournament at the Empire poolroom has been commenced, with seventeen contestants.

Marquette—The rears of two of the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company's dwelling houses, which face the South Shore right-of-way at Chocolay, and which are near the edge of a steep sand embankment on the second curve above the mouth of the Chocolay river, have been undermined by the river, and the buildings are threatened with being engulfed.

Hancock—Mrs. Katherine Hartman of Hancock has received from the United States a check for $841.29, back pay on a pension that should have been granted her six years ago, at the time of the death of her husband, the late Gustav Hartman, a veteran of the Civil war.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Janesville—Frank McDermott, aged 38, died from fractured skull received in a fall from a stair landing at a local hotel Sunday. Arthur Allen and John Glazier are held by the police pending investigation. McDermott was an unmarried farmer.

Beloit—Miss Kathryn Newell Adams, dean of women of Beloit college, since 1909, has resigned and will take a year in rest and travel. Miss Margaret Rogers, physical director for women, has also resigned her place.

Green Bay—The Abrams Lumber company is the name of a new firm recently incorporated by Green Bay men to operate at Abrams, Wis. The company is capitalized at $10,000. Enos Colburn is president and John Ketenoffen, secretary.

Marinette—Quarreling over the question of whether they should place a floor in the pig pen on their farm, Gerhardt Neudel, 50 years old, shot and killed his brother, George, 52 years old, near Luxemburg, Wis., last week. Both men were bachelors.

Florence—Frank Miller, owner of a big sawmill, fifteen miles west of this city, pleaded guilty to the charge of having deposited sawdust in Woods creek, contrary to the Wisconsin fish and game laws, and was fined $50 and costs.

Chippewa Falls—Wilfred, the 11-year-old son of Patrick Laughrae of Jefferson avenue, is in a critical condition at St. Joseph's hospital with a fractured skull, as a result of an accident at the fair grounds Friday afternoon.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

St. Cloud—J. F. Rader, formerly of Ogden, Utah, has accepted a position at the state reformatory as night cellhouse keeper. Mr. Rader is regarded as a valuable addition to the force as he has had several years' experience in this work at Ogden.

Little Falls—J. L. Miller of Carlyle, S. D., has rented the C. A. Lindbergh farm, now occupied by John E. Stevens. Mr. Miller has shipped 300 head of sheep here and will take possession of the farm May 15.

Mankato—Salve Torgerson, 86 years old, who resided on the Maple river, in Rapidan township, died Saturday from a complication of diseases. Mr. Torgerson is an old resident of Blue Earth county, and was well known and much respected. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters.

Moorhead — Twenty-five proprietors of saloons appeared in district court Saturday and pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling or giving liquor to minors. A grand jury returned thirty-one indictments charging this offense against Moorhead liquor dealers, twenty-five licensees being caught in the drag net.

Brainerd—Superintendent of bridges and buildings, Mr. Macfarlane, came from Duluth Saturday and inspected the work done at the local depot.

Deer River—Mrs. A. McNevin and two children have arrived from Duluth to make their home on their farm near Island lake for the summer.

Northome — Benjamin Spencer, an old and respected resident of Alvwood, died recently of apoplexy. The deceased was a native of Maine and was 79 years of age at the time of death. He was a veteran of the Civil war.

St. Hilaire—The St. Hilaire Spectator is now under new management, H. E. Ives, who ran it for the past twenty years, having sold the plant to Oscar Gunstad and Elmer Burkee, both young men of St. Hilaire.

Thief River Falls—The high school alumni will entertain about seventy-five members at the Holstein academy, May 29. All the graduates from the local high school since 1905 to the present class of 1913 will receive invitations to be present.

Spooner—W. J. Lynch and Christ Peterson were injured Friday at the mill by a timber which flew back from the trimmer saw. One had a piece of board driven through the arm and the other sustained a broken rib. Both were taken to the Spooner hospital, where Dr. Corrigan dressed the wounds.

Mahnomen — Charles F. Boostrom and John F. Root, from the state public examiner's office in the capitol, are here, going over the books of the county for several years back. Mr. Boostrom is chief deputy.

Stillwater—Dr. J. C. Von Cappellan has begun an action against the Omaha railway company for $350 for medical attendance for Walter Palmerston. It is alleged that Mr. Palmerston settled a personal injury case with the railroad and that the company agreed to pay Dr. Cappellan his medical bill.

Owatonna—At a special meeting of the members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church it was decided to build a new church to cost about $15,000. They have raised, to date, $12,300.

New Ulm—At a special meeting of the city council it was decided to purchase two lots at the corner of Broadway and Second streets north for an armory site. The property cost $3,800, of which $2,000 was raised by citizens and the balance voted by the city council.

Are You Subject to Constipation

Here Is a Simple Way of Correcting It Instantly Before It Becomes Chronic.

MRS. G. B. PRUITT.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salt mineral waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary value in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind a high sounding name, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effects when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like that of Mrs. G. B. Pruitt, Berea, Ky., who used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as a laxative tonic Mrs. Pruitt writes that it so strengthened and cleansed her system that she was quickly relieved of a severe cough which had troubled her for months. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-griping. Unlike harsh physics it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

"$260.00 Clear Profit"

A Duluth business man began a year ago to put $5 a week into a savings account.

He now has $250 to his credit, plus a little interest, and says that this sum is "clear profit," for he wouldn't have a cent of it now but for the savings account.

There are many business and salaried men in Duluth who could make good use of $260 a year hence, and the First National Bank invites them to start at once with their first five dollars.

LOUISIANA ELECTION JUDGES ARE FREED

Technical Point in Law Ends Charge of False Returns.

New Orleans, La., May 13.—Because the Louisiana election laws fail to impose upon commissioners of election the duty of making sworn relations of the votes cast on proposed constitutional amendments, the 168 indicted election officials of the city of New Orleans, who were charged with falsifying returns in the November election, will not have to face trial. The Louisiana state supreme court has handed down a decision to this effect.

The court held that, although the law provides penalties for failure to make true returns of the votes cast for national, state, parish and municipal officers, no such provision is made for the tabulation of votes on constitutional amendments.

SULTAN NO BETTER THAN OTHER MEN.

New York, May 13.—The sultan of Turkey, through his legal representative, has been notified that in an American law court his position is the same as that of his humblest subject. The question of the sultan's rights as a litigant arose in the supreme court, which has before it the Turkish ruler's suit to get possession of $10,000 insurance money on the life of H. S. Tavshanjian, a wealthy American merchant who was assassinated here in 1907. The defendants asked that the sultan give the customary security for the payment of costs. Justice Davis said he had received a letter from the Turkish consul general here, requesting that, in view of the plaintiff's distinguished rank, he be released from these obligations. In denying the request, Justice Davis said that it did not matter whether a plaintiff was a potentate or one of his subjects, and that kings, sultans and emperors should not import their domestic affairs into American courts.

DAVIES GETS JOB.

Law Does Not Require Confirmation By the Senate.

Washington, May 13.—There will be no contest in the senate over the nomination of Joseph E. Davies of Madison, Wis., as commissioner of corporations, although Republican senators announced recently that they would see to it that the nomination was held up until Mr. Davies relinquished the secretaryship of the Democratic national committee. Representative Fitzgerald of New York has called President Wilson's attention to the fact that the law authorizing the president to make this appointment does not require affirmation by the senate. The nomination will be withdrawn and Mr. Davies' appointment proclaimed.

STRINGENT SANITARY REGULATIONS PROPOSED

Water-Tight Garbage Cans With Covers Must Be Provided.

Not More Than Four Cows in Any Barn in Residence District.

Three Important Ordinances Are Given Their First Reading.

Ordinances providing stringent sanitary regulations and defining nuisances to be abated were given their first reading at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon.

Their provisions are more far reaching than those of any ordinances of a similar nature which have been in force in Duluth, and it is probable that opposition to some features will develop before they come up for final passage.

The sanitary regulations provide an air and water-tight garbage can, with a tight-fitting cover, for the premises which they control.

That the householder shall drain liquids from solids and wrap the latter in paper before depositing such garbage in the cans.

That the cans shall be kept covered at all times and garbage removed at regular intervals.

That between May 1 and Oct. 1 manure shall be removed twice a week or oftener if directed by the health department.

That water and fly-tight receptacles shall be provided for manure and shall be kept covered except when being filled or emptied.

That no barn shall be permitted in a residence district if more than four cows, horses or other animals are to be kept.

Hauling Manure.

That manure shall be hauled in tight vehicles and covered with canvas to prevent the contents from falling to the street.

That between June 1 and Oct. 1 no manure shall be used as a fertilizer unless it be mixed with the soil or so well covered that it will not become a breeding place for flies.

That no barn or stable shall be maintained within fifteen feet of any place used for sleeping quarters or where food is prepared, served or sold.

That all barns or stables housing more than four animals shall have water-tight floors and that connections shall be made with a sewer where one is accessible. If no sewer is accessible connection shall be made with a cement pit.

A delegation of property owners on Twenty-third avenue west between Michigan street and Piedmont avenue appeared before the council to urge the use of sandstone blocks on the avenue. They pointed out that the sandstone will wear longer, is better for steep grades and is less noisy than brick, the other material which is desired. The tentative plan has been to lay brick from Michigan stret to Third street, sandstone from Third street to Fifth street and crushed rock from Fifth street to Piedmont avenue. The commissioners will consider the matter further at the meeting which has been scheduled for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Sewers On Heights.

A delegation from Duluth Heights appeared before the commission to urge the construction of the sewer system in their suburb this season. They declared that it is a most urgent necessity and that they are entitled to the improvement. The commissioners informed them that with the present lack of funds in the permanent improvement revolving fund they could not see how they could order the work at this time. They took the matter under consideration and may advertise for bids in order that the property owners may know the cost of the sewer. Some of them intimated yesterday that if the cost per lot can be definitely ascertained they may raise the money to pay for the improvement in advance.

Three Ordinances.

Three important ordinances were given their first readings. They were the amended dance hall ordinance, prohibiting any dance hall or roller rink within 600 feet of any park and making the age limit 18 years; the dog ordinance, providing for pounds in the downtown section and West Duluth, with dog catchers to round up all unlicensed canines, and the moving ordinance, requiring the moving companies or draymen to secure permits showing all changes of location of families or individuals from one part of the city to another or from the city to outside points, or vice versa. No fee is required in the last case and the purpose of the ordinance is particularly to enable the authorities to prevent undesirable people, particularly immoral women, from locating in the city.

Coal Purchases.

Commissioner Hicken introduced an ordinance appropriating $8,000 for the purchase of coal for the fire department for the coming year. It was given its first reading. Mayor Prince asked if it would not be good business for all divisions to get together on the coal purchases with a view to getting better prices as purchases could be made in larger lots. The commissioners will investigate this feature and if it is found that any money can be saved by so doing, the ordinance will be amended or another introduced.

TAKES THE INITIATIVE IN ORDERING NEW PAVEMENT

Commission Does Not Wait for Property Owners to Petition.

Postpone Action on Another Saloon for New Duluth.

The first paving job to be ordered by the city commission without a petition was ordered yesterday.

The highway which it is proposed to pave in that manner is Twenty-ninth avenue west from Superior street to Third street. The estimated cost of sandstone blocks is $18,291.38; creosote blocks, $17,070.90, and of brick, $16,303.10. The resolution must lay over sixty days before further action is taken upon it by the council. If the property owners are opposed to the improvement they can circulate a petition so stating. If 25 per cent of the property owners, owning at least 25 per cent of the property, shall sign it, the council shall not order the improvement, unless another petition asking the improvement, signed by other property owners equal in number and interest to those on the remonstrating petition, shall be presented. In the latter case the council may order the street improved and the cost assessed to the property owners. Several small sewers have been ordered in under a similar provision of the charter.

The contract for the improvement of Seventh street from Fourth avenue west to Fourteenth avenue east will be awarded to J. A. Johnson for crushed rock macadam on his bid of $63,340. The resolution was introduced yesterday and will be passed at the meeting next week.

License Transfer.

Camillo N. Guforzato asked for the transfer of the saloon license of Charles Shubat at 713 West Superior street to himself at 1504 Commonwealth avenue. He desires to start another saloon at New Duluth. The suburb is isolated and it may be that the commission will deem that the two saloons now in that end of the city are sufficient.

The pay of the janitor of the city jail was raised from $50 to $60 a month, with the understanding that he will put in all his time.

The pool table license of Joseph Kenny at 109 Lake avenue south was not acted upon. Several other applications made at the same time were passed. Kenny is proprietor of the Metropole hotel and was arrested early Sunday morning on a charge of keeping his saloon open in violation of the closing regulations. At the same time a number of men were arrested for gambling in a room at the rear of the poolroom.

A resolution was passed stating that the commission will hold all subordinates strictly responsible for all purchases made by them. The requisitions must be made and approved by the head of each division. If this is not done the person contracting the bill will be held accountable and be obliged to foot it himself.

Hawkes Is Appointed.

T. H. Hawkes was appointed civil service commissioner to replace H. W. Cheadle, who declined the position for business reasons. The term is six years.

L. Hammel was granted a license to conduct a dance hall and roller skating rink at the Auditorium.

The ordinance appropriating $140 for a motorcycle for the police department was passed. It originally called for $260 but an allowance of $120 was obtained for two old machines now in the possession of the department.

The Fifth Ward Hillside Improvement club sent in a communication asking that the commission cover Buckingham creek. It was pointed out that it is little better than an open sewer and a menace to the health of the community. About a block above Michigan street is now enclosed. It was referred to the division of public works.

A petition was received protesting against the operation of P. McDonnell's mixing plant on the Iron Range right-of-way between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues east. It was referred to the division of public works.

Grand Avenue Paving.

A petition was received for the paving of Grand avenue from Vernon street to Fifty-fourth avenue west. The petition calls for sandstone or vitrified brick on a concrete base, with the provision that the cost to each fifty-foot lot shall not be more than $175. It was ordered circulated on that basis by the old council. As the cost will be so much in excess of $175 per fifty-foot lot it is not likely that the commissioners will order the improvement under those conditions. It would be too heavy a drain upon the city's finances, and it would be difficult to secure the money from other sources by private subscription. A fifty-foot lot would cost nearer $400 to $500 than $175. In any event the city pays for storm sewers and street intersections which would be no small sum in a stretch of about twenty blocks.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the printing of the official proceedings. The specifications are substantially the same as they have been in the past.

The Lester Park Improvement club petitioned the city to secure the seven lots just east of the park as an addition to the park holdings.

An ordinance to compel attendance of members has been drafted and will be introduced at an early meeting. Under it a minority can direct a police officer to bring in any absent member while the majority can impose a fine upon any absent member of the minority.

BIG GATHERING OF LAUNDRYMEN

Convention at St. Paul May 26—May Visit Duluth in 1914.

The Northwestern Laundrymen's association will hold its annual convention at St. Paul on May 26 and 27, the sessions to be held at the Hotel Saint Paul, and members representing laundries of this section of the nation employing over 11,000 persons, will take part. An elaborate program has been prepared in which the leading members of the association and national officers will take part.

It is claimed that there is a strong inclination among the members to break away from the idea of having the convention held every years in the Twin Cities and to switch it to Duluth for 1914. It is believed that the sentiment this way has been spread broadly enough to insure the bringing about of this. The constant work and interest of Duluth and Superior laundrymen for the association is believed to make them deserving of such a reward once in a while at least, aside from the desire of many of the members to see the famous cities of the Head of the Lakes. Many of those west of here have never seen Gitchee Gumee, and would like to.

Those who are expected to attend from Duluth and Superior and tributary territory are: E. H. Branton, Model laundry; David Seiro, Excelsior, Charles Lutes, Lutes laundry; Huedsch, Yale; Ed Reggelsberg, Peerless, of Duluth; C. E. Armstead and D. C. McDonald, Yale, Superior; Angus McLennen, Laurium, Mich., secretary of the state association; and Cy Williams of Marquette, Mich.

Boy Killed by Brother.

International Falls, Minn., May 13.—Herman Fisher, aged 11, was accidentally shot and killed Sunday evening by his brother, Martin Fisher, aged 9, while playing with a .22 caliber rifle. Coroner George F. Swinnerton decided that it was a clear case of death through accidental shooting.

That "SKUNKY" Taste in Some Beers

is caused by the action of Light.

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable so-called 'light-taste,' and also a repulsive skunk-like odor. Beer so affected is offensive to the palate of most consumers, and there is probably nothing that will influence them more against any brand of bottled beer than to have once tasted beer possessing this 'light taste' to a marked degree. The presence of this defect, however, is not always the bottler's fault, as the consumer himself very often lets the beer stand in the light. But the consequences must usually be borne by the bottler."

CHOKES A TROUT TO DEATH

Duluth Grain Trader Captures Fish in His Hands After an Exciting Chase and Just Misses Being Arrested.

A Duluth man came nearly being arrested for choking a fish to death last Sunday on the Brule.

The story was given to The Herald under the pledge of secrecy as to name and The Herald feels in honor bound to maintain a Hicken-lid silence on that phase of the matter. But the story of this Duluth man almost being arrested for the crime mentioned is "no kid;" it is a fact and he admits it. In the city he spends most of his time on the trading floor of the board of trade as representative of a large flaxseed firm. In fact those who were with him were all board of trade men. They went fishing on the Brule on Sunday and Mr. C—gee' the name pretty nearly slipped that time. Well since it has gone that far he may as well be designated as Mr. C. As was started before, Mr. C. followed up a small tributary of the Brule accompanied by another well known flax man. In a very shallow and miniature bay of the creek Mr. C. discovered a beautiful rainbow trout and tried to tempt it with a worm on a hook. But the trout would have nothing to do with the morsel—and it has been learned since that rainbow trout will not tackle a worm at this season of the year. In his anxiety Mr. C. cornered the trout, and as it would not bite he, in his exasperation, pulled a revolver and fired at it. The bullet failed to find its mark but the noise almost frightened the trout to death. It scooted up the shallow little cove and Mr. C. calling back to his companion:

"Damn the opening Kitch, so he can't get away"—oh, well, that name is given away now.

At any rate when "Kitch" answered: "I gotcha Harry;" Mr. C. gave chase to the trout. That fish unwisely sought to emulate the ostrich by burying its head in the sand. When it did that its tail waved sadly out of the water and Mr. C. plunged upon the trout, landing on all fours in the wet. He grasped the fish around the throat and after a terrific struggle mastered it and threw it up on the shore.

Just about that time a game warden came along and informed Mr. C. that the Wisconsin law forbids the catching of trout except by a hook and line, but when the story was related to him he laughed and said:

"Well if a man wants a trout bad enough to engage in a hand-to-fin contest with it, I guess we'll forget the law this time."

The trout weighed three and three-quarter pounds and measured twenty inches.

SEEK SUITABLE CURRENCY BILL.

Washington, May 13.—Although many prominent Democrats in the senate are opposed to currency legislation at the special session of congress, a serious effort will be made by the banking and currency committee to draft a measure which will, at least, pass through the stage preliminary to actual enactment.

Representative Glass had a brief conference yesterday with the president about the personnel of the house banking and currency committee, over which the former is to preside. It is expected that the membership of the committee will be announced in a few days and active work begun in preparation for the return of the full membership of the house on June 1.

SULZER SIGNS REFORM BILLS.

Albany, N. Y., May 13.—Three stock exchange reform bills were signed by Governor Sulzer yesterday. One makes it a felony to make false statements or advertisements concerning securities of the official standing of a corporation, company or association. The second makes it a felony to report or publish false transactions with intent to deceive. The third prohibits the New York Stock exchange from discriminating against members of other exchanges. This bill was asked for by the New York Consolidated exchange.

REPUBLICAN REORGANIZATION.

The Republican party is to reorganize—if it can.

And it is to be hoped that it can, and that it will emerge from the process stronger in purpose and closer to the people than it was before.

The best hope of the nation lies in two strong parties, not too far apart in numbers. In the fate of the Republican party, and in what that party did to the country in the late years of its long continued lease of power, we have witnessed a striking illustration of the peril in a lopsided political situation.

The second party can hardly be the "Progressive" or Roosevelt party. In theory, at least, that party is too close to the Democratic party in its new birth to be an effective opposing party; though the attitude of its congressmen on the tariff shows that it is still strongly tinctured with old guard Republican notions. It is a mere offshoot from the Republican party, Republican in its basic principles and too much entangled with the personality of a single individual, who created it and blew into it the breath of what life it has, to have a long history.

The Republican party can, if it will, become the minority party of the nation and as such perform a needed service. If the Democratic party should become drunk with power as the Republican party did, the reorganized Republican party will be in a position to resume the reins.

But that all depends on the character of the reorganization, and who dominates it.

It will be interesting to see who reorganizes the party.

The tiger Old Guard and the lamb Insurgency are both interested in the operation, and everybody will watch to see whether, when it is over, the lamb is inside or outside of the tiger.

If disorganization is a necessary preliminary to reorganization, certainly the Republican party is now in a splendid position for reorganization.

Because of the need of a strong and effective minority, representing positive principles of belief, the country will wish the effort well. There are certain very definite divisions between Democracy and Republicanism, such as that relating to the relative powers of nation and states, which should be represented in party divisions until they are settled; and for that reason no citizen will hope for anything but a successful reorganization of the Republican party.

To be successful, however, it must be made with humility. The reorganized party must not take the position that the people committed a great error in defeating it, because they didn't. The people punished it for its great sins, and the punishment was for the party's good as well as the nation's.

Now Pinchot is being blamed for the failure to develop Alaska. Too bad they can't find some unknown person to lay it on, and give him the benefit of the free advertising.

POSTMASTERS AND POLITICS.

Republican newspaper guerillas, whose eyes are glued to the center of political action at Washington in the hope of finding material there for carping criticism of the Democratic administration, are hard put to it for such material when they have to fall back on the order recently issued by Postmaster General Burleson requiring fourth class postmasters and candidates for fourth class postoffices to take civil service examinations.

In point of fact there could be nothing fairer, more practical or more public spirited.

Just before going out of office, ex-President Taft signed an order putting all fourth class postoffices in the classified list. This fastened in office, so long as the order stood, every occupant of a fourth class office, regardless of fitness, though most of them were appointed for reasons purely political.

That's one kind of civil service.

But it isn't President Wilson's kind.

His idea is that all candidates for postoffices in the second, third and fourth classes shall pass examinations and demonstrate their fitness. If those in office prove fit, they will stay. And those who are out and are trying to get in must prove that they are fit, or they will not be considered.

Furthermore, these examinations are open to Republican and Bull Moose and Socialist applicants as well as to Democratic ones.

The only people in a position to criticize this plan are those in office who know themselves to be unfitted for it, and those who seek office for party reasons and are unable to demonstrate their fitness to hold office.

After the examinations are held, places will be filled as other places in the classified list are filled. The names of the three men best qualified for each place will be certified, and from this list a postoffice inspector will pick the postmaster.

The postoffice inspectors are themselves under civil service, and as most of them came into office during the sixteen years of Republican rule, most of them doubtless are Republicans: though if any of them were appointed for political reasons the principle of the civil service rules has been violated.

Not only is there nothing wrong with this plan, but it is the best possible way to handle the situation, and in fact the only business-like way. So far as those now holding postoffice appointments are concerned, unquestionably if they succeed in passing the examinations their experience in office will count heavily for them. There is no politics in it; and that cannot be said for the Taft order which put the whole crew of fourth class postmasters under the civil service, including the motley horde of political postmasters who have constituted the purchasable Republican party of the Southern states.

Germany wants to be able to spend $645,000,000 for a war. But that's not saying she's anxious to spend it.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

The city commission has before it an ordinance, which it probably will pass, forbidding dance halls, roller rinks or other private amusement enterprises within six hundred feet of any public park or playground.

This ordinance will hit some institutions that are innocent enough in themselves, but susceptible to abuse.

Perhaps if they were allowed to remain in or near the parks, no harm would come of it; but the chances are against it.

The commission's idea, apparently, is that it is not wise to take any chances, and that it is safer to avoid even the appearance and the possibility of peril.

That idea, The Herald believes, is right. The ordinance should pass. If, later, the commission sees fit to establish dancing pavilions in one or more of the parks, to be operated by the city and carefully regulated to exclude abuses, that also probably will be right and wise.

The people of the American stage are to present a gold and silver wreath to Sarah Bernhardt. Perhaps if they have the inscription on it engraved in English it will inspire the "divine" one to learn enough of the language to be able to read it.

THE CONSUMER AT WASHINGTON.

Says the Kansas City Star: "The consumers of the United States include more than ninety million persons. Only a fraction of them are interested as producers in the tariff schedules. Yet in the thousands of pages of testimony given in the tariff hearings, the consumer was unrepresented. This was in accordance with precedent, for the consumer has been accounted to have no interest in the tariff."

The consumer never has been represented at tariff hearings, because his is not a special interest. He merely represents the nation's interests, that's all; for his well-being is the nation's well-being, and should be the final aim of all fiscal legislation, bearing in mind that often his interests as a producer, though secondary, are an inseparable factor.

The consumer is not incorporated, so he is not represented at tariff hearings.

The consumer employs no high-priced lawyers and lobbyists, so he is not represented at tariff hearings.

But the consumer has a vote, and that's why, though he had no agents to appear before the committee on ways and means, his influence in shaping the Underwood tariff bill was dominant.

Now it is said the supreme court "may" decide the state rate case by June 9. To avoid unpleasant shocks, please make note of that "may."

CALIFORNIA AND THE JAPANESE.

A survey of the discussion of the California legislature's attitude toward the Japanese discloses very little sympathy anywhere in the country with the California campaign of race hatred.

And a study of the California situation, as explained by reliable authorities, discloses no reason for such sympathy.

A casual observer, noting the tense antipathy toward the Japanese reflected by the California legislature, would surely imagine these things to be true:

1. That the immigration of Japanese coolies is increasing at an alarming rate.

2. That the Japanese now constitute a large percentage of the population of California.

3. That the absorption of land by Japanese had covered a formidable proportion of the state's area.

4. That the Japanese laborers accept wages on which white labor cannot exist.

In fact, however, none of these things is true.

1. There seems to be practically no Japanese immigration, and there has been a considerable movement outward, as there are fewer Japanese in California than there were five years ago.

2. Instead of constituting a large percentage of the population, the Japs are less than two per cent of the whole, a large proportion of their numbers being engaged in domestic work and small merchandising.

3. Japanese own only four-fifths of one per cent of the cultivable area of California—much less, apparently, than other races since their two per cent of the total population has acquired less than one per cent of the land.

4. Japanese workers seem to be commanding at least the average wage. The California board of labor statistics reports as follows: "The average wages for both Japanese and Chinese regularly employed and receiving board, $1.396 and $1.406 respectively, are higher than those for 'miscellaneous white' men, $1.311, and Italians, $1.108. 'Miscellaneous white' men were paid $1.889 a day without board, as against $1.623 paid to the Japanese."

The fact is that the Japanese government is living loyally up to its agreement to discourage immigration to this country, and the basis for California's attitude is so exceedingly slender that the nation cannot afford to let it affront a people whose chief offense is that they are industrious and enterprising.

What will Tammany think of this idea of the "Woody Tiger?"

AN ADMIRABLE INSTITUTION.

Congratulations to the Hebrew young men of Duluth on their new organization, the Young Men's Hebrew association, and the broad and public-spirited plans they have formed for it.

Such an organization can and we are sure will be made a powerful and wholesome influence for good in the community. It deserves the heartiest possible support.

Especially to be commended is the broad catholicity displayed in the rule which admits to full voting membership "any male person of good moral character over the age of eighteen years." That there is nothing narrow about these Hebrew young men is completely demonstrated by their willingness to accept as members on equal terms with themselves those of another faith.

The association's plans include the establishment of a reading room, library and gymnasium, and the broadening and intellectual development of its members by lectures, discussions and entertainments.

The Herald wishes for this new institution, and confidently predicts, a long life of usefulness and profit to its members and to the community as a whole.

Now that some Americans down in Arizona have stoned a Mexican to death, Huerta has a fine chance to get back by refusing to recognize the United States government.

J. P. MORGAN'S OFFER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I read the article in the paper telling about the promise of J. P. Morgan, the money king, to our president, Mr. Wilson, in the time of need. That was a fine sentiment, but I suppose it was money or financial aid he alluded to. Just the same, it shows even if they were not of one political mind, that he was an admirer of Mr. Wilson. He is not the only one that has an admiration for our president, for there are legions of them, but it takes more than money to help a country out in time of war, or any great calamity. It required money to finance the Revolutionary war, but it was patriotism and loyalty that did most for our independence. A country could be rotten with wealth, but if it was not for patriotism and loyalty of her citizens, where would trouble end? And this has been in evidence since the beginning of the world. Respectfully,

CHARLES A. HARRIS.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 10.

SOCIALISTS AND SUFFRAGISTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In a recent issue of your paper, editorially speaking, you say, "The failure of the suffrage bill in parliament is credited to the lawless acts of the militant suffragettes.

"It has been said, and well said, that the worst obstacle to Socialism is the Socialists.

"And the worst thing about suffrage is the suffragette."

I do not deny that there is much truth in your statements—even your statement about Socialism. But your statement is entirely too sweeping and all-inclusive. You make no qualifications or exceptions. You simply declare that "the worst obstacle to Socialism is the Socialists." Clearly your statement includes all Socialists.

You cannot mean that. Admitting that there are some—even many self-styled Socialists, who are a hindrance to the progress of the movement because of their obnoxious and insane tactics, yet it cannot be said, by any stretch of the imagination, that such is true of all Socialists.

If you know, you will have to confess that the great body of the Socialist movement in this and other countries, is a very sane, tactful and level-headed group of men and women. This is the type of men and women who are responsible for the great progress of the Socialist movement. The type who may be termed "obstacles" to the movement is only a small minority, but make themselves conspicuous by their exceeding amount of racket.

But to say that "the Socialists" are the worst obstacles to Socialism is too sweeping and inclusive. A moment's thought will convince you that the Socialist movement would not have been the organized, cohesive, compact force that it is today had it not been for the Socialists—the sane constructive Socialists.

Thanking you for the opportunity of calling attention to this manifest inadvertance and misleading conclusion, I am, yours very respectfully,

O. M. THOMASON,
State Organizer, Socialist Party,
Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.

Those who criticize this utterance are unduly sensitive. The parallel between the law-breaking suffragettes and the fire-eating Socialists who bring their two causes into disrepute must have been clear to most readers. It embodied, by inference, praise for the suffragist who promotes her cause by reason and the reasonable Socialist who unselfishly seeks to advance his cause by sane methods.—The Editor.

A Glance Backward

By Savoyard.

Washington, May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—I have always held that the ablest congress of the United States in both house and senate that I ever saw was the Forty-sixth—1879-81. And what a wreck does that insatiate monster, change, make when he comes to deal with the affairs of men! Not a single man of either house of the Forty-sixth congress is a member of either house of the Sixty-third congress, except Mr. Talbott of Maryland. Since the retirement of Senator Cullom, Isaac R. Sherwood of Ohio is the dean of the guild, he having been a member of the Forty-third congress when Mills of Texas was first sworn a juror to hold a grand inquest of the republic. But Sherwood was out of congress from March 3, 1875, till March 4, 1907.

The most brilliant tariff debate congress has had since the war of 1861-65 was on the Mills bill of 1888, the Fiftieth congress, and the only men now in either branch of the Federal legislature who were then members are Senators Gallinger and Lodge, both of whom were then members of the house of representatives.

• • •

In the debate of 1888 Mills was the Democratic leader and McKinley the Republican. I don't suppose there were ever two men more unlike in temperament. One had been in the Confederate army, the other in the Federal. Mills was fiery, McKinley cold; Mills was audacious, McKinley was cautious; Mills loved combat, McKinley sought quiet; Mills invoked controversy, McKinley courted tranquillity.

When Mills rose to open the general debate, McKinley got recognition from the chair and asked that the Republican side pay the Democratic leader the courtesy not to interrupt him while he was speaking. With defiance on his brow, and intrepidity in his heart, and challenge on his tongue, Mills exclaimed, "I invite interruption, I welcome it." And he did. If I were to pick the man I have met of greatest mental courage I should name Roger Q. Mills.

• • •

He looked the game cock he was—physically, mentally and morally. As long as he had the respect of Roger Q. Mills he cared not for the opinion of the rest of the world. In 1879 he had the courage to vote against Sam Randall, Democratic caucus nominee for speaker, and scores of his associates on both sides of the chamber envied him his superb independence. Randall punished him by giving him insignificant committee assignment, and he cared not a rap. And when Randall was mean enough to give Morrison, a minor chairmanship, "Old Bill" accentuated his scorn by refusing to assemble the committee, though it had a clerk that Morrison might have appointed at $2,000 a year. That was grit. And when Black put Morrison on the pension roll, he returned the certificate. That was integrity and patriotism. Morrison was a poor man. Warren of Wyoming is a many time millionaire—Warren has an application for pension!

The statesman—or the common fellow, for that matter—who does not know the meaning of the word magnanimity must be left to the hangman, and the latter should get busy at once.

• • •

Roger Q. Mills would have been speaker of congress with a single elevation of the eyebrow, and had he not been the proudest man in the world he would have been speaker of the Fifty-second congress. He, more than anybody else, made that congress Democratic, and it was the biggest majority any party ever had in congress.

Now look here—whenever you get stupidity to fetch and carry for knavery, why the gods themselves are powerless against that combination. If Mills had been chosen speaker in 1891, the triumph of tariff reform would have come twenty years earlier, and speaker he would have been had he made one little bit of promise—had he condescended to bend that backbone of his one little bit. But he would not have been the grand character he was had he stooped. Jupiter could, and did, nod. Mills never parted for a moment with absolute title to all there was of Mills—mental, physical, moral. I'm glad he was a Kentucklan.

• • •

As I intend to take for sketches men now in public life, some members of either house of congress of today, and print the stuff this summer, naught extenuating and setting down naught in malice, I may be forgiven for paying the foregoing tribute to Roger Q. Mills. Not as great an intellect as John G. Carlisle, he was a greater man. Had not the election of Ben Harrison to the office of president of the United States been bought in 1888, Millsism would have been writ large in the policy of the government and it would have been triumphant.

He was a knightly man, the proudest of the proud, and a heart more sympathetic for honest human struggle never beat in human bosom. He was not very approachable; he was a poor handshaker; he was distant; he was austere—but he was a man. I wish we may look on his like again. Not soon shall we see such a man.

The Minimum Wage.

"I don't have to. I get $8 a week."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The man responsible for the fifty-five story Woolworth building up in New York, N. Y., being the highest building in the world is Congressman George W. Fairchild.

Woolworth and Fairchild are old friends. Two or three years ago Woolworth dropped into the congressman's office to show him his skyscraper plans.

"How will this compare in height with the Metropolitan tower?" inquired Fairchild, casually, just to keep up his end of the conversation.

"It's about seventeen feet lower," replied Woolworth.

"In that case," asserted Fairchild, "you are making a fool of yourself."

Naturally Woolworth wished to know the particulars.

"Well," said Fairchild, "what's seventeen feet after you've already gone about 700 feet? If you make this the world's tallest building the chances are nobody will build a higher one for many years to come—maybe never. Don't build almost the highest building; make it the highest."

Fairchild thought no more about the conversation until he ran into Woolworth one day when the building was about ready for dedication.

"Well," says Woolworth, motioning to his cloud-jabbing structure, "there's the tallest building on earth, and except for you it wouldn't be."

Representative Stephens of California is fond of fishing. He likes it not only for the sport, but for the fish. The average fish seems to Stephens a thing well worth eating.

Some years ago Stephens had a near neighbor, a minister, who also doted on eating fish, and Stephens invited him to his home one Monday noon for a nice little fish dinner.

The minister passed his plate up for a second and a third helping, and then made bold to inquire:

"Tell me, Mr. Stephens, where did you ever get such a fine fish on Monday in time for dinner?"

"I'll tell you," said Stephens, "only on condition that there'll be no chastising and no trouble after you've gone home. Your son went fishing yesterday and caught this fish, but inasmuch as it was Sunday he was afraid to take it home. So he dropped in here and gave it to me. I was glad to have it. Remember, now, you're not to upbraid the boy."

An hour or so later Stephens overheard the minister talking to his son.

"I can't punish you," he said, "because I promised not to, but let me tell you that if you ever go fishing again on Sunday I'll whip you within an inch of your life. If you should go, though, and catch another nice fish like that, you bring it home."

The increased membership of the house of representatives has not only used up all the rooms in the house office building, but shoved some thirty-five or forty new members into an old building near the other end of the capitol, for some time used as a storehouse.

The new members are an expensive luxury, anyhow, and the government decided to furnish up these extra offices just with such old furniture as was kicking around the building. Every member helped himself while the supply lasted, and then ransacked the offices of his colleagues for better stuff than he could find elsewhere.

Representative Crosser of Ohio was early on the ground and got himself together a fairly respectable bunch of furniture. Then he left town for a few days. When he came back he found his office stripped bare. Not even a rug remained to mark the site of the furniture he thought was going to be his.

Vice President Marshall's boyhood ambition was to be a shoemaker, and he would have left school and apprenticed himself to that profession if his father had left him. Marshall's belief is that a shoemaker back in his home town in Indiana had more influence on his life than all the books he read in those days. This shoemaker was a German and had come to this country because the government-by-the-people appealed to him. He talked by the hour about the grandeur of liberty, quoting Carl Marx and others, while he mended the future vice president's shoes. All this set Marshall thinking in a direction that he has followed up.

Senator Chilton of West Virginia made his first political speech with his audience on the opposite side of a river from him. He had started to a meeting and got almost there when he found that a bridge was washed out. So the audience drew up along the bank, as close to him as they could and he started in.

"It really isn't a bad way to talk, at that," remarked Chilton. "I haven't made a speech since when I felt so free to speak my mind to the audience."

Representative Denver S. Church of California defeated a man named Carson Needham. Thus it was a race between cities. Church was named after Denver, Colo., and Needham after Carson City, where he was born in a prairie schooner.

"Taxpayer."

Kansas City Star: The man of large means, who regards himself with pride as an important taxpayer, usually assumes for that reason he ought to have more to say in the direction of the government than the man of small means.

Well, if he pays more taxes, he dodges more taxes. But let that pass. In his relations to the state compare his services with those of the man who hasn't had the gift of money-making.

The rich man doesn't furnish any more boys for military service in defense of his country; probably he doesn't furnish so many. He doesn't serve any oftener on the jury; indeed, he usually gets excused from jury service. If he pays more for the support of government, he gets more out of the government. He resorts oftener to the courts. He derives tremendous advantages from organized society. His business would be worthless if it were located in Central Africa.

Finally, he takes little interest in governmental affairs, and the chances are that he fails to vote when the poor man takes pains to go to the polls.

The man who swells up over the fact that he is a large taxpayer is usually not nearly so good a citizen, and ought not to have as much to say about the government, as the plain voter who does his duty by his family and the city.

So They Did.

Life: Casey—'Tis hard luck about Kearney. Oi hear he hod t' hov his leg cut off bechune th' ankle an' th' knee.

Cassidy—Ay! th' docthers decided thot to save th' whole leg they'd hov t' cut off part av it.

Fussy.

Life: Teacher—Now, Patricia, what is a common denominator?

Patricia—I don't know, ma'am. If it's common, it doesn't move in our set.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

The Demand for Roads.

Aurora News: The demand for farm roads is the loudest call coming from the agricultural sections of the county. Give the farmers roads over which to haul their crops after they have raised them and they will be amply able to provide excellent schools for their children.

Preparing for Crops.

Princeton Union: In all 20,000 new box and flat cars have been ordered by the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Omaha and Soo railroads in order to be in readiness for moving the 1913 crops of the Northwest, which, it is estimated, will be the largest in the history of the country. Whether this forecast proves to be true or not the railroads need the extra equipment, for in former years the farmers lost thousands of dollars from the inability of the railroads to furnish adequate transportation facilities for the crops.

It Has Come.

Austin Transcript: The commission form of government plan carried in Mason City 6 to 1, 1,380 for it and 241 against it. It surely is coming.

Boost for Minnesota.

Cokato Enterprise: Many Minnesota people are lured to the West and the Canadian Northwest by the ever-booming spirit of the people of that section of the country. Advertising looks good to the manipulators of the speculating wheel in the West, and so well and artistically done is it that many who have a looking-up business here in Minnesota are so completely enraptured by the glittering prospects offered in the pretty booklets that they hold an auction and journey westward to their own disappointment. All the free advertising some newspapers devote to various writeups of the wonderful prospects in store for the home-seeker influence people to leave Minnesota for the West. Minnesota has golden opportunities for all, and if we "must boost," let's boost Minnesota.

The Object of It.

Gheen Record: St. Louis county is to have its work farm for county prisoners, and it is hoped that many of those who will be put to work on it will be induced to learn the benefit to them of healthful work, and will go forth and continue the good work.

An Enthusiast.

Biwabik Times: You could search the world over and not find more perfect days. Northern Minnesota, after all, is the ideal place in which to live and do business.

Effect of Advertising.

Ada Index: As a result of judicious advertising of the advantages Minnesota offers to settlers nearly two-thirds of all the immigrant cars which were hauled by Northwestern roads this spring were bound for points in Minnesota. A few years ago nearly all cars were bound for Canada and other points in the West. As President Hill predicted, "Minnesota's turn has come."

Good Work Goes On.

Carlton Vidette: In session and out of session the agitation for good roads will continue and road building will continue to improve in the future, as it has been improving in the past.

How Beggars Are Made

Kansas City Times: "Say, mister, could you do a little something for a guy that's down and out?"

It was the same old plea, put in the same old way on a downtown street yesterday afternoon. The spring and the big bank clearings have brought an enormous number of professional mendicants to Kansas City. They are to be found on almost any street at any time.

Yet, if the words of one man can be believed the descent to beggardom is not sudden, but a series of downward steps. It requires time and training.

"No man becomes a panhandler immediately," said a professional "moocher" yesterday. "If a man just drinks enough of the red stuff he'll be tappin' pedestrians before long. That's the way I got here. It's only a short time ago I was a first-class clerk. It took just four steps to put me here. First, misfortune; second, drink; third, beggin' at back doors, and, fourth, professional panhandler.

John Doe,
Incorporated,
Capital Stock $20,000.

That was for me a few years ago—a human corporation. My salary represented the earnings at 4 per cent on my capitalization. I was a machine and was treated as such. Then one day one of the cogs in my machinery slipped. I became sick and when I got out of the hospital I had no job. I was obliged to seek help from a charitable institution after a while. That was my first step down.

"I sought to get at the joys of life through the bottom of a wine glass. Second step. I got a job and worked a couple of months. I went broke again and started in where I had left off. I bummed my way nearly across the continent and one day landed in a strange city ravenously hungry. I went to a back door and asked a housewife for food. Step No. 3.

"Then I met some professional hoboes. They taught me the ways of the trade. How to beat the charitable institutions was among other things. I soon learned begging as a deliberate business and here I am."

"Do you really want a job?"

"Well, I want it, but I guess I couldn't keep it now. I'm a bum for keeps. I'm just waiting now—waiting for nothing."

And the man shuffled off down the street.

Position of Advantage.

Washington Star: "How did you come to be sent to congress?" said the inquisitive person.

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "some of my most influential constituents concluded I could do better work for them on the floor than I could as a regular lobbyist."

That Maid of Athens Rag.

As Byron would have to do it today.

Maid of Athens, 'fore I go away
To the U. S. A.,
Hear what I say,
Don't be gloomy, listen to me, kid!
O, your beautiful eyes and hair,
I swear you're a bear.
Will you miss me? Come and kiss me,
You Athenian, Hell-hellenian maid!

CHORUS.

O, you swell Athenian skirt,
You're some dessert!
When we do that turkey-trot in Greece,
I can hear 'em holler out "Po-lice!"
Oh!.... Oh!.... Oh!.... Oh!....
Zoe mou sas agapo!
Maid of Athens, hug me tight,
Before you say "Good night!"

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

The $250,000 Minnesota state farmers' elevator at Duluth, for which the Alliance members made a winning fight at the recent session of the legislature, will probably never be built, as Attorney General Childs has given a decision which in effect declares that the elevator must be built from its own earnings, according to the wording of the law passed. This has made the Alliance furious, and through its president, Ignatius Donnelly, it will demand that Governor Nelson call an extra session of the legislature.

At the "silver dollar" contest held at the Merritt block, West Duluth, "My Story Marm," by Birdie Thompson was awarded the first prize, and "King Alcohol's Decree" by Leola Maras, the second. The judges were Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Kent and Miss Cox.

At a meeting of the Jobbers' union yesterday, a committee consisting of J. B. Sutphin, Charles A. Duncan, G. G. Hartley, D. C. Prescott and H. H. Hanford, recently appointed to investigate the subject of extending county aid to railroads, presented a report approving the application made by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road for county aid to the extent of $250,000.

Another application for county aid was filed yesterday with County Auditor La Vaque. It comes from the Minnesota Canal company and the amount asked for is $600,000 in bonds, for which the company agrees to issue a similar amount of its capital stock at par, unless this is waived, in which case $10 per horse power per annum will be charged for water power, whereas if the stock is taken $15 will be charged.

Capt. Samuel Shannon died yesterday morning at his room in the Williamson block after a two weeks' illness from pneumonia. He was about 50 years of age and was a fresh water sailor for at least thirty years. He was one of the most successful masters of the finest vessels on the lakes, including the Chemung, Owego, Nyack and others. He was one of the leading vessel agents of Duluth at the time of his death, and the vessels of all classes in port dipped and half-masted their colors immediately upon hearing of his demise. His sister and nephew arrived today from Ogdensburg, N. Y.

J. A. Hall has moved from Ironton to his old homestead at the East end.

Swan Baglund of 526 Garfield avenue, employed on the Pioneer Fuel company's dock, had his right thigh broken yesterday by a piece of coal which fell from one of the hoisting buckets.

E. H. Sinkey, formerly with the Crane-Ordway company at Duluth, left yesterday for his home at Franklin, Ohio.

A marriage license has been issued to Robert J. Ridgely and Nancy D. Plembrook.

Modern Housing Reform

Topeka Capital: Following Columbus, Duluth has lately made a survey of its housing conditions, the result of which is a city ordinance adopted in spite of ill advised opposition by some real estate interests, which took a narrow and mistaken view of the effect of such legislation, correcting some of the deficiencies in tenements and small dwellings.

So much discussion has been going on regarding housing conditions and the possible disturbance that reform of existing conditions in most cities would bring about, that it is of interest to note just what Duluth provides in its new ordinance.

These provisions are not many. First, tenements and single family dwellings must have sufficient lot space for light and ventilation of every room; rooms must have windows opening to the outer air and must be large enough for habitation. Every apartment of a tenement must have a sink with running water and a water closet either in a bathroom or a separate room. Every single dwelling house, if water main and sewer are available, must have running water and a closet in the house. There are some provisions of a reasonable character regarding fire protection.

These requirements do not appear to be hard upon owners of tenements, while they are evidently dictated by regard for health rather than to gratify foolish luxurious notions. They indicate conditions that ought to exist universally, if epidemics are to be discouraged in cities. Mainly what is here required by modern housing laws is light, air and decent sanitation of the simplest sort. Such regulations need no defense but make their own argument.

Protect Your Health By Using a Seeger Refrigerator

A great many lives are lost, a great many people suffer every year from food poisoning as a result of the idea most people have that keeping food in any kind of an icebox or refrigerator insures purity. Moist, stagnant air will not prevent contamination and the development of germ life, no matter how cold it is. Ask any doctor, health commissioner, or food inspector.

The illustration will show you how the SEEGER patented siphon keeps up a continuous and vigorous circulation of pure, dry air. The siphon forms the partition between the food and ice chambers. Notice how the slats slope up from the food chamber side and down toward the ice on the other side. Now, bear in mind, that the air around the ice becomes colder and heavier than that in the food chamber.

It condenses and falls to the deflector plate directly below the ice chamber. This plate crowds the air through the narrow passage between the edge of the plate and the refrigerator wall, where the air is suddenly thrown into the large space.

WILL RAISE FUND FOR HOSPITAL

Campaign for Contributions Will Begin Within a Week.

The campaign for raising money for the construction of the Hoyme hospital of the Hoyme Hospital association will begin within another week. At the meeting of the directors of the association held last night the committee, consisting of Rev. J. N. Nervig, president of the organization, and S. Morterud, was instructed to start getting subscriptions.

It is proposed to erect only one wing of the hospital on the start. The institution will be erected on the northwest corner of Twenty-sixth avenue west and Fourth street, where the association recently purchased 100 feet of frontage on the street and 140 on the avenue.

A large residence building now located on the lots will be sold and moved. As yet it has not been decided which wing will be constructed first but it is planned to expend about $40,000 in its construction.

The association takes its name in honor of the late Rev. M. Hoyme, the first president of the United Norwegian Lutheran church of America. Its officers and members of the board of directors are: Rev. J. N. Nervig, president; Dr. H. Hovde, vice president; Rev. J. H. Stenberg, secretary; Sievert Morterud, treasurer; Anton Ringsred, financial secretary; Richard Hanson, John Grunde, E. A. Dahl, Dr. J. M. O. Tufte and Dr. O. E. Heimark.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF GOOD TEMPLARS

Lodges at Head of the Lakes Will Hold Outing Sunday, July 20.

The annual picnic and excursion of the Independent Order of Good Templar societies of the Head of the Lakes has been set for Sunday, July 20. The committee in charge will attempt to secure the service of a boat which will not sell intoxicating liquors while the crowd is on board. It will also attempt to confine its sale of tickets to people of temperate habits.

It is planned to leave the city early and spend the entire day on the picnic grounds at Two Harbors. A band will be carried by the party. The five lodges of the West end and West Duluth, the Proctor lodge and the lodges of Superior will join in the excursion.

A program of games and sports is planned for the day. Basket lunches will be carried. A feature of the sports will be a baseball game between Duluth and Two Harbors members and a tug-of-war between the Duluth and Superior contingent.

The committee in charge are: L. A. Simonson, chairman; Peter Severson of Proctor, vice chairman; Conrad Wicklund, secretary, and P. George, treasurer; Louis Fosness, M. Nordlund and O. Peterson.

YOUNG OLD TIMERS PLAN ANNUAL PICNIC.

Another meeting of the Young Old Timers' association will be held Thursday evening at the Adams Athletic association's club rooms, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, at which the date of the organizations annual picnic will be set. Committees will also be selected to have charge of the affair.

At the last meeting held Thursday it was decided to hold the picnic at the Birchwood grove on Lester river. The organization held its other two picnics at this place. The members will make the trip to the place in automobiles and tallyhos.

Missionary Society.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, will meet tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church. "Siam and Loas" will be the subject of a paper to be read by Mrs. A. F. Swanstrom, and "Porto Rico and Cuba" will be the title of a paper read by Mrs. John Ledingham. The hostesses will be Mrs. George Craig, Mrs. Henry Nelson, Mrs. E. E. Williams, Mrs. Kern, Mrs. C. J. Luedke, Mrs. W. E. Coventry and Mrs. R. F. Pfleger.

The funeral service for Miss Anna S. Olson, 23 years old, 5807 West Eighth street, who died Sunday evening will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms and at 10:30 o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Rev. J. J. Daniels will officiate. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

Adams Banquet.

The Adams Alumni association will plan its annual banquet Friday evening at a meeting to be held in the assembly hall of the school. A large attendance is expected at the meeting.

Members of the organization have planned an indoor field-meet as a feature for the meeting. A number of the boys and girls will give athletic and other exhibitions during the evening.

The banquet will be planned for early in June. The committees to have charge of the affair will be appointed.

Harman-Macartney.

Miss Minnie E. Harman of the West end and Frank Edward Macartney of Virginia were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Grace M. E. church, 310 North Twenty-second avenue west. Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the church, read the service. Mr. and Mrs. Macartney will make their home in Virginia and will be at home after June 1.

Zion Church Notes.

The choir of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, will meet in the parlors of the church this evening.

RAILROADS OPPOSE NEBRASKA TAXES.

Lincoln, Neb., May 13.—Charging that they are discriminated against in the taxing of property, five railroads in Nebraska—the Union Pacific, Burlington, Northwestern, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha and the Illinois Central, appeared before the state board of equalization and taxation and recited that, while their property was assessed at 100 per cent of real worth, other property in Nebraska is assessed at only 50 per cent. Representatives of the companies produced figures to sustain their contention.

BRITISH CRUISER TO GUATEMALA?

Kingston, Jamaica, May 13.—The British cruiser Aeolus sailed from here Saturday evening, ostensibly for Belize, British Honduras. The real objective of the warship, it is understood, is Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, to enforce a settlement of the long-standing claims of British subjects against Guatemala. Recently Great Britain placed a time limit on this settlement, which expires May 15.

The latter part of April, Guatemala made an appeal to the government at Washington against reprisals by Great Britain for Guatemala's failure to pay the claims of the British bondholders. The Guatemalan minister, directing attention to the situation, pointed out that plans were under way for a large commercial undertaking, the proceeds of which were to pay Guatemala's British debts and reform her currency system.

BY BRUCE.

Little Polly Boly came yesterday from the distant country of the K. I. T. league, down in the Indiana and Kentucky region, and arriving ravenous he immediately proceeded to order head lettuce, tomatoes, hard boiled eggs, cod fish balls, dill pickles, oil of lavender and ice cream for his lunch. Mister Boly pitched for Winnipeg yesterday and left the game at the end of the fourth inning, Duluth winning by the score of 11 to 6.

Perhaps unused to the gilded extravagance of our city hotels and the free and easy system of the American plan, Boly did a gastronomic marathon and succumbed to the internal warfare of the warring tribes of dill pickles, oil of lavender and the hard boiled eggs.

This frolic of yesterday was one in which the bludgeon played the heroic role. Though our cousins from beyond the imaginary line got one more hit than our distinguished side during the passing of the bright and gusty afternoon, it must be said that our hits flocked better and were of a more sequential nature. We'd hit for a while, rest, and then go to hitting again. That is one of the best things the Sox do.

Mr. Johnson Shines.

After Monty Woods, who may run for mayor of Bottineau, N. D., if he has a good season, was retired to the dugout, Mr. Reuben Johnson took the mound and distinguished himself with the cudgel.

Officially Mr. Johnson was at the bat twice and these two trips yielded him a total of six bases, one sparkling double in the general direction of the bubbles sign in right, while the second hit sailed majestically over the paling in left for all of the bases to be had. While passing the Holland last evening Mr. Johnson was observed deeply engrossed in the writing room, and was no doubt sending tidings home to dear old Red Wing. Indeed she was a proud and happy day in the affairs of Mr. Johnson.

After the cod fish, dill pickles, hard boiled eggs, ice cream and oil of lavender had waged fiercely the tong war of indigestion, young Mr. Boly, who is nothing more than a boy and should not be afflicted thusly, retired and beat it in the direction of his caravansary and Mr. Moe mounted the hill. In the box, especially in our elevated knoll, the appearance of Brother Moe is somewhat awe inspiring. But after he worked for a few rounds the boys kind of got used to his ways and all was well.

There were so many runs on our side. One came in the domestic first when the Orator strolled and registered on the smashing double of McGraw to right center. The second harp of the White Sox string was chucked out trying to stretch his screamer into a triple. Miller was on through erroneous play and then the tall Sycamore hit into a double.

Mr. Kahl, who loves to hold conversational soirees regarding hits and fielding averages with the members of the fourth estate, hit for one home run in the fourth. As Monsieur Bachant had batted in Brother Wilkes in the third with a corking double to left, the score of the enemy assumed growing proportions.

Some More Scoring.

McCarthy walked in the third, was sacrificed, further advanced on an error and walk, and then countered airily home on Miller's two-base smite to deep right center.

In the fifth, after singing a little swan song at the bench, Bachant, who has friends in St. Boniface, slapped his second double of the gusty afternoon, down in the Smith pasture. Little Boly restrained the excruciating pains of the codfish, dill pickles, et cetera, long enough to slap a single to right. Wilkes also singled and one run was in. Freer sacrificed for the general good of the cause, and at this highly interesting point of the proceedings our Mr. Johnson came from behind the right field bleacher and immediately took up the thread of the baseball yarn.

Kahl hit, a long one to McGraw and Boly was in, all in, also. De Haven, who resembles Johnny Evers—in appearance—smote another to Muggsy and the round was over.

By stout-hearted hitting and brave hands around playing we gathered four perfectly good runs in the fifth and sixth. Johnson got his historic double in the fifth, was sacrificed and counted on Miller's second double of the afternoon. Menlece gingerly singled and Miller hobbled home.

Mr. Moe started impressively in the sixth by whiffing Smith and Schrieber. However, the strain was too great. McCarthy doubled and then Johnny Johnson homerunned over the pickets in left.

It is quite needless to descend into the depth of details surrounding our four runs of the eighth. A walk, wild pitch and several hits figured in. Then came Flood's last stand, which was about as hopeless as the rampage Custer held on the prairies with the young braves of Sitting Bull.

With Bachant down Manager Flood sent himself in to bat. As manager, Mr. Flood ordered, and as a player Mr. Flood obeyed. To the surprise of many he hit safely. Wilkes lofted out and Freer walked, then Kirkham singled and the manager was home. That is about all for this game.

SUPERIOR WINS FROM FLICKERS

Red Sox Take Slugging Match By Count of 10 to 6.

Superior yesterday won the fourth straight game of the stay at home series by trimming the Flickertails by the score of 10 to 6. Rhoades started well for Superior, but gave way to Schauer, who pitched steadily throughout the remainder of the contest. Meyers started for the visitors and was replaced by Wilson when the slugging Red Sox began to nick the offerings of the tall and lank boxman.

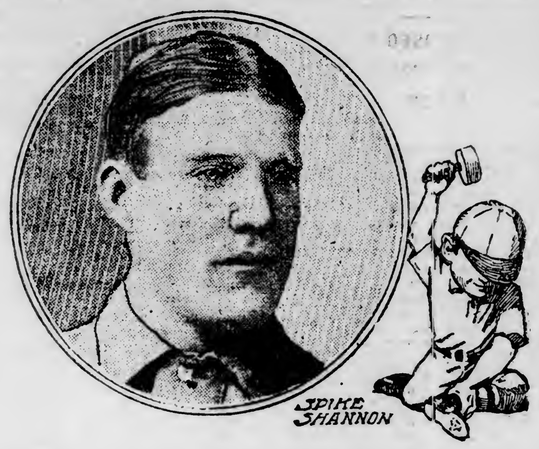
THE VIRGINIA PILOT



VIRGINIA SHOWS CLASS, BEATING THE APOSTLES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—Virginia defeated St. Paul yesterday by the score of 9 to 1, the visitors showing some real baseball playing and performing with speed on the bases and with mighty valor at the bat. Not a single error was registered against the visiting team, both Watkins and Sherman receiving faultless support. Carroll was hit hard by the visitors and in addition to this the errors of the locals aided in the run getting of the miners. Watkins started for the visitors but failed to show much. Sherman twirled a nice article of ball. Score: R. H. E.

COMSTOCK WINS CLOSE GAME FROM CORBETT.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—Minneapolis yesterday defeated Winona in the best game played here during the present season, this in the American association or Northern league, by the score of 1 to 0.

It was a great pitching duel between Ted Corbett of the Davis outfit and Ralph Comstock of the Bronchos. Both men gave a wonderful exhibition of twirling, Comstock holding the visitors to three scattered hits, while but five widely scattered blows were garnered off the delivery of Corbett.

In addition to the clever article of ball put up by the opposing pitchers, the two teams showed some great work in the field, the fielding of the visitors being especially fast and clever. The score: R. H. E.

Play Eleven Innings.

Philadelphia, May 13.—Philadelphia defeated Pittsburg in an eleven inning contest yesterday by 6 to 5, Lobert scoring the deciding run by reaching third when Wilson fumbled his single and Magee sent a sacrifice fly to Hyatt. Pittsburg took a lead of two runs in the first inning but the home team forged ahead in the fifth on Paskert's triple, Knabe's double and Magee's home run. A single by Bullock, three errors and two sacrifices gave the visitors two more runs in the sixth. Kelly scored in the eighth on his triple and Carey's single. A pass to Doolin and R. Miller's double scored the former in the eighth. Knabe's home run tied the score in the ninth. Mayer who succeeded Moore in the ninth, held Pittsburg safe, while O'Toole took Adams' place in the sixth. Score: R. H. E.

Cubs Get Three Hits.

New York, May 13.—New York yesterday knocked Lew Richie out of the box in five innings and won from the Cubs with ease. The score was 5 to 1. In the five innings Richie pitched, New York made ten hits for a total of 17 bases. Meyers started Richie's downfall in the fourth when he tripled, scoring Merkle and Herzog, and tallied himself on Shafer's single. Mathewson pitched his usual strong game for New York holding the Cubs to three hits. The Cubs scored their only run in the seventh when Zimmerman singled and came all the way home when the ball got away from Shafer. Manager Evers was put off the field in the fourth inning for protesting a decision at second base. Score: R. H. E.

Brooklyns Continue Streak.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 13.—The Brooklyns made it two straight from Cincinnati yesterday, winning 4 to 3. Brooklyn took a lead of three runs off Johnson by hard hitting in the second and fourth innings. Rucker had a bad inning in the fifth and before he could settle down the Reds had the score tied. Then Rucker pulled himself together and checked the enemy. Brooklyn came right back with the winning run in their half of the fifth on hits by Miller and Rucker, Herkhammer's wild throw and a wild pitch. Score: R. H. E.
Batteries — Brown, Johnson and Clarke; Rucker and Miller. Umpires—Rigler and Byron.

Cardinals Lose.

Boston, Mass., May 13.—Maranville, Boston's diminutive shortstop, continued his brilliant playing yesterday. His triple in the fifth inning with men on first and second bases put the locals ahead and his fielding kept them of the game broke in favor of the visitors and the locals were shut out, 3 to 0. Russell outpitched the veteran Bender, but the fielding behind the Indian more than overcame this, while that behind Russell was weak. Philadelphia earned but one of its runs, that was in the sixth when Oldring's double, a sacrifice and Baker's single registered a tally. Three times Chicago get men as far as third base, but failed to deliver a hit in the pinches, even though Manager Callahan called on his pinch hitters, Easterly and Borton. Score: R. H. E.

Barbeau for the locals hit the ball in the first over the right field fence for his third home run in the last week. Minneapolis, on singles by Hunter and F. Delehanty and a sacrifice in the fifth, made one run. In the sixth, Delehanty, after being hit by a pitched ball, came home on an infield hit, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly. Taking the lead in the eighth on a base on balls and doubles by J. Delehanty and Rossman, two errors and Williams' single, gave Minneapolis another run in the ninth. Score: R. H. E.

Pitcher Gets Revenge.

Toledo, Ohio, May 13.—Lefty George secured revenge for being ignominiously driven from the box last Saturday when he downed Columbus, 2 to 1, in a thrilling pitchers' duel yesterday afternoon. George allowed but five hits and fanned seven, while six hits were made off Cook. A pass to Shelton, a sacrifice and George's wild throw to first on Perring's tap gave Columbus its first run. Toledo took the lead in the fourth on a pass to Brady, Smith's error on McDowell's attempted sacrifice, Haugen's bunt, an out and Bluhm's single.

In the fifth inning, Shelton led off with a single and George's bad throw saved Benson, but a fast double play ended the visitors' chances to score in that round. Score: R. H. E.

Saints Win Out.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—Milwaukee yesterday lost a sensational game to St. Paul, 4 to 3, Watson, backed by marvelous support, holding the visiting team scoreless until the seventh, when Karger hit a home run with Miller on the bases. Watson was knocked out in the eighth, Slapnicka replacing him with two on. A double play prevented a run, but Miller doubled and won the game. Karger twirled fine ball for St. Paul. Score: R. H. E.

THOMPSON JOINS THE SENIOR EIGHT CREW.

Louis Thompson, considered one of the best of the men in the senior boat, joined the crew yesterday and will be a candidate for one of the positions in the eight. Fresh from the woods, Thompson is in the best of shape and should be better than ever during the present season. With the return of Thompson practically all of the men of last season are on hand. Coach Ten Eyck has high hopes of winning the senior eight race at St. Paul.

DEPOSED MANAGER WINS SALARY SUIT.

St. Louis, May 13.—The St. Louis American league baseball club must pay Jack O'Connor $5,000, the amount he would have received in salary had he not been discharged as manager prior to the opening of the 1911 season, a jury in the circuit court decided last night. The trial which had occupied the court all day came to a close with unexpected suddenness. The jurors were out only thirty minutes. O'Connor was called to the stand in rebuttal as the last witness. He denied the testimony of Sidney Cook and Julius Kronheim that they had from the grandstand overheard O'Connor give orders that enabled Napoleon Lajoie of the Cleveland team to almost tie the batting average of Ty Cobb for the 1910 season.

Must Give Up Athletics.

Philadelphia, May 13.—A kick on the head received in the Pennsylvania-Michigan football game last fall may prevent Walter Craig, the University of Pennsylvania athlete from taking part in any more competitions on the track or gridiron.

Craig played quarterback in several games last year and was a member of the University of Pennsylvania one mile relay team this spring. Recently he suffered several attacks of paralysis said to be due to the old football injury and physicians yesterday ordered him to give up all forms of competitive athletics.

Baseball Decisions.

Auburn, N. Y., May 13.—The following decisions were made today by the national board of baseball arbitration:

Services awarded—Player Appleton to Sherman, Tex.; C. T. Suttles to Pekin, Ill.; Player Tarleton to York, Pa.; P. H. Primley to Auburn, Neb.; Player Wallameis to Saskatoon; B. C. Williams to Cadillac, Mich.; Player Overton to Cairo, Ill.; Player Redmond to Huntington, W. Va.

Claims allowed—C. Forest against Kewanee.

Claims disallowed—Harry Mathews against Rome, Ga.; D. O. Hart against Portsmouth, Va.

College Baseball.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—Carleton, 9; Hamline, 3.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—St. Thomas, 7; St. Olaf, 7.

Hogan Knocked Out.

New Haven, Conn., May 13.—Young Shugrue of Jersey City knocked out "One Round" Hogan of California in the tenth round of a scheduled 15-round bout here last night. Shugrue had the advantage in all of the rounds.

BASEBALL'S GREAT $10,000 BEAUTY DUE WEDNESDAY

Virginia Team Led By Famous "Spike" Shannon Will Open the Next Series of Three Games With the Fast Going White Sox.

Tim Flood and his Maroons are making the last stand of the present series here today. With the coming of tomorrow's sun also arrives "Spike" Shannon, the man who shares with Clarkson and Kelly the honor of being one of the $10,000 beauties of baseball, and his Virginia outfit.

While Virginia has been going bad for the greater part of the present season, the team has been strengthened greatly during the past week, and during the present series with St. Paul the Ore Diggers have really showed speed and ability to play a fine game in the field and with the cudgel.

"Spike" Shannon, manager and center fielder of the Virginia team, was one of the most famous players in the history of the national game.

Before coming to Mike Kelley's pennant-winning St. Paul team, where he played with Miller Huggins, Charley Chech, Charley Jones, Germany Schaefer, Chief Meyers and others who have since made their mark on the scroll of baseball fame, Shannon played with the Indianapolis team.

It was here that he made his wonderful record as an outfielder. During all of the season before he came to the St. Paul team Shannon made the wonderful record of not dropping a fly ball.

After his season with Indianapolis, Shannon went to the Apostles and played on the team that for several years was the pennant-winner in the American association, and was considered one of the greatest teams in the large minors of the country.

Sold to Majors.

Then "Spike" was sold to the St. Louis Nationals. So great was the outfielding of Shannon with the Cardinals that the bright little orbs of Muggsy McGraw were turned to the star outfielder of the St. Louis outfit. Then came the world-famous trade in which Sandow Mertes, several players and $10,000 in cash figured. Shannon entered with class with the great Clarkson and Kelly.

After New York Shannon went to Pittsburg where he continued to be one of the greatest outfielders in the older league. An old injury to his knee, sustained while a star member of the famous Homestead, Pa., professional football team, made up of Brook, the great University of Pennsylvania star and some of the greatest college players in the world, and aggravated by running into a wall when chasing a fly while with the Giants, finally cause Shannon to seek rest for several years.

The former star of the big leagues states that his knee is as good as ever at the present time. At least he is out there in the pasture and is meeting to put his team in the running.

Hardgrove and Worman, two of the most popular players who ever pastimed in this city, are on the roster of the Virginia team. Worman pitched in part of yesterday's game, and Hardgrove has been the receiver of the Oro Diggers since early in the season.

Never has there been so much interest in baseball in Duluth as there is at the present time. Records of several years' standing went by the boards last Sunday, when one of the largest crowds ever assembled at the park witnessed the contest.

Virginia is here for three days and will be followed by "Lefty" Davis and the Winona Giants, that at the present time are setting the league ablaze with the quality of the baseball they are playing.

Duluth has long waited for the kind of baseball it is getting at the present time and apparently the people here are appreciating it.

PRINCETON VICTOR IN TRIANGULAR BOAT RACE

Cambridge, Mass., May 13.—Princeton showed strength and skill yesterday by outrowing Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania in a 1¾-mile dash down the Charles river basin.

It was a stern chase for the winners most of the way for their start was poor. Pennsylvania was overhauled at the half-way mark and Harvard a mile down the course. Then the Tigers gradually drew away and won by a scant length. Pennsylvania finished three lengths behind Harvard.

Time: Princeton, 10 minutes, 18 seconds; Harvard, 10 minutes, 22 seconds; Pennsylvania, 10 minutes, 34 seconds.

Harvard caught the water first at the start and had a lead of ten feet over Pennsylvania at the first quarter, while Princeton was half a length astern. It was a pretty race to the mile mark, when Princeton went to the fore and gradually increased its lead.

The victory was the first success that has come to Princeton in a triangular contest since rowing was resumed there four years ago.

Player Breaks Leg.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 13. — First Baseman Woesner of the local Southern Michigan Baseball team, broke his left leg yesterday while sliding into the home plate.

Waivers on Crandall.

New York, May 13.—Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Nationals has asked for waivers on Otis Crandall, the Indiana farmer whose pitching has so effectively saved so many "sick" games that he earned the title of "Doctor," according to reports published here today. The rescue pitcher extraordinary has also often proved a great pinch hitter and he has always had a warm place in the hearts of the New York fans.

Griffith Outboxes Moore.

Akron, Ohio, May 13.—Johnny Griffith, the local featherweight, and Pal Moore of Philadelphia, boxed twelve fast rounds here last night. Griffith appeared to have the better of the fight.

Hamline Wins Meet.

St. Paul, May 13.—Hamline university yesterday won the dual track and filed meet, defeating Carleton college, Northfield 82 to 49. In the 100-yard dash, Reger Anderson of Hamline established a new Minnesota conference record covering the distance in 9 4-5 seconds.

Outpoints Bronson.

New Orleans, May 13.—Young Denny, local welterweight, had slightly the better of a 10-round bout with Ray Bronson of Indianapolis here last night. It was a no-decision contest.

Wrestle to Draw.

Burlington, Iowa, May 13.—Nick Collins of Chicago and George Roumas, the Greek wrestler of Burlington went one hour and a half last night without a fall, and the match was declared a draw.

Reception for Crew.

Princeton, N. J., May 13.—A thousand Princeton undergraduates were at the railroad station early today to meet the New York train which brought

By order of President Hibben, the college bell on Nassau hall was rung for more than ten minutes after the arrival of the squad. This is the first time the bell has been tolled in honor of a victory since last June, when Princeton men won the deciding game of the baseball season.

First Baseman Burns Sold.

Burlington, Iowa, May 13.—George Burns, the big first baseman of the Burlington Pathfinders has been sold to the Ottumwa club of the Central association. Manager Rohn of the Burlington team resumes his position at first base.

Baseball Player Dies.

Lewiston, Me., May 13.—John J. O'Brien, for many years a player in the National, Eastern and New England leagues, died last night at the age of 43 years. O'Brien played second base. He led the New England league in batting one season. While manager of the Louisville club, he was credited with bringing out Jimmy Collins, the great third baseman of the Boston National and American league clubs.

Stahl Is Recovering.

Boston, Mass., May 13.—Jake Stahl, manager of the Boston American league team, is recovering rapidly from an operation performed on one of his feet last week. Physicians said today that he probably will be able to join the Red Sox in Chicago the last of this week. It had been feared that Stahl would be obliged to remain in Boston a month.

Player Seriously Injured.

Cleveland, May 13.—In sliding into second base in the ninth inning of yesterday's game with New York, Manager Joe Birmingham broke a bone in his instep and fractured the lower end of the tibia of his right leg, it was disclosed by an examination tonight. The injuries may keep him out of his position in center field for a month, it is thought.

Fight to Draw.

Philadelphia, May 13.—Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, and Frankie Bradley of this city, fought six rounds here last night. At the close the popular verdict was a draw.

New Running Record.

London, May 13.—A new world's amateur running record for fifty miles was made yesterday at the Stamford bridge athletic grounds by E. W. Lloyd who ran the distance in 6 hours, 13 minutes, 58 seconds.

The old record was made by J. E. Dixon in 1885 and was 4 minutes, 28¼ seconds slower than Lloyd's time.

TAFT ROASTS RECALL.

Delivers His Fourth Lecture on Modern Government.

New Haven, Conn., May 13.—In his fourth lecture on "Some Questions of Modern Government," at Yale, Prof. William H. Taft characterized the form of government advocated by the Progressives as "hair-trigger" and leading to anarchy and a despotism of the majority. Prof. Taft's statements were made in connection with his discussion of the recall of executive and administrative officers. He promised at a later date to discuss the recall of judicial decisions, which embodies the recall of judges.

"The objection to the recall is not that it takes away the office from the official," he said, "but that it is an obstacle to the efficiency of the government. Men do not administer government fearlessly, under government of which the recall is a part, but administer it so that their enemies may have no opportunity to make meritorious attacks upon them. Government is for the purpose of accomplishing something. Had men like Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Madison served under the recall, they probably would all have been recalled. Time has since said of them: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

"Such hair-trigger methods of government are said to be progressive. They are not; instead this is retrogression; it is going backward; it is adopting a feature of government a hundred years ago."

MANY BOYS TO ATTEND FAIR

Free Entertainment for 104 at State Fair Camp This Year.

Few Applications Received From Boys in Vicinity of Duluth.

The management of the Minnesota State fair complains that there have not been enough applications from farmer boys of this district for admission to the State Fair Farmer Boys' camp to be maintained during the fair next September.

The applications must be in the hands of Secretary J. C. Simpson, Hamline, Minn., before May 15, which is next Thursday, so those who have had the matter in contemplation and desire to apply will have to hurry. The application is to be mailed to the county superintendent of schools in the county in which the boy resides. These superintendents in St. Louis is tributary counties are:

St. Louis, N. A. Young; Aitkin, E. E. Hall; Beltrami, W. B. Stewart; Carlton, N. G. Nilsen; Cass, R. F. Ross; Cook, C. C. Monker; Crow Wing, Irma C. Hartley; Itasca, Estelle Whipple; Koochiching, A. E. Shelland; Lake, Helen C. Barton; and Pine, Robert H. Blankenship.

First Camp Successful.

The boys' camp idea was started last year and was so successful that it has been resolved to make it an annual affair. It is believed that farmer boys, being systematically shown the exhibits and what can be done on farms, will make the best boosters for better farming and more and better livestock. The management has decided that this year it will bring not only one boy from each county, but will select two boys from each congressional district, who were members of last year's camp, so that they may act as guides and assistants in looking after the welfare of the new boys. The camp will therefore consist of 104 boys from the farms of the state.

The selection of the boys will lie with the county superintendent of schools an dthe chairman of the board of county commissioners and one other to be selected by these two. The essays which will be judged in the competition must be of not less than 400 or more than 700 words and will be on one of the following subjects: Corn, cattle, hogs, clover or alfalfa, and their relation to farming in Minnesota. The essays must be in the hands of the local committee by June 1. First and second alternates will also be chosen.

Boys competing must be between the ages of 16 and 19 and must be bona fide residents of farms, and must perform work thereon. No boy who was a member of last year's camp or who has been regularly enrolled in any special school or college of agriculture can compete. Boys who have attended agricultural departments in high schools are not excluded, however.

The details of the matter are set out in a circular issued by the management and which can be obtained from the county superintendent or Mr. Simpson on application.

NEW RIVER COAL FIELD UNIONIZED.

Charleston, W. Va., May 13.—The miners of the New river coal field have completed the organization of a new district, to be known as the River & Winding Gulf District No. 29, United Mine Workers of America. A resolution was adopted censuring United States Senators Chilton and Goff of West Virginia for alleged opposition to the resolution of Senator Kern for an investigation of mining conditions of the state.

The new district contains 15,000 miners and all the mines have been operated as non-union since 1902. L. C. Rodgers was elected president; T. W. Campbell, vice president; A. B. Coalter, secretary-treasurer, and R. D. White, national board member.

DYNAMITE ON RAILS.

Attempt to Blow Up Pay Train Causes Excitement.

Uniontown, Pa., May 13.—An alleged attempt to blow up the Brownsville-Uniontown passenger train on the Monongahela railroad at Lecrone, near here, has caused much excitement and a rigid investigation is being made. A track walker found nine sticks of dynamite which had been placed under the joints of the rails. The jar of a train would have exploded the dynamite.

The passenger train was flagged a short time after the dynamite was discovered. The fact that the train carried $20,000 for the payment of miners of the Consolidated Connellsville Coke company at Mount Sterling, has aroused the authorities to action.

MEETING TO DISCUSS ROAD

Twin City-Duluth Highway to Be Considered at Rush City.

Interested Organizations Invited to Send Delegates to Gathering May 22.

A good roads meeting for the purpose of planning action on the highway between Duluth and the Twin Cities will be held at Rush City Thursday, May 22.

Curtis M. Johnson, secretary of the Rush City organization which is boosting for the highway, has sent out a notice of the meeting, calling upon all the communities between the Twin Cities and Duluth to send delegates.

The Commercial club and Auto club of Duluth, the Civic and Commerce association of Minneapolis, the Association of Commerce of St. Paul and the Auto clubs of the Twin Cities are also expected to be represented. Superior will also have delegates, it is expected, while others will be present from Carlton, Pine and other counties lying in the route of the proposed highway.

A good highway from Duluth to the Twin Cities has been under consideration for some time, but much difficulty has been experienced in getting the interested people together. There has been some friction as to the route out of Duluth and more friction as to the route farther south. It is expected the warring factions will all be represented at Rush City and that the differences will be adjusted and a definite route selected.

After the route is chosen, it will be necessary for the boosters for the road to get the county commissioners of the various counties to start proceedings under the Elwell law, and steps to that end will probably be taken at Rush City.

BRYAN PRAISES THE PEACE CENTENARY

Speaks at Banquet in Capital—Carnegie Also Gives Talk.

Washington, May 13.—"We are here to substitute the spirit of peace for the spirit of war. The ideals of peace are greater than those of war. We know of no cause that cannot be settled better by reason than by war."

These were some of the sentiments expressed by Secretary Bryan, who said he spoke for the president of the United States and for the administration under which he holds office. He was addressing the gathering at the banquet given last night by the Carnegie endowment for international peace for the delegates from Great Britain, who are here to prepare plans for the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking nations and the signing of the Treaty of Ghent.

Mr. Bryan said he wished to present three thoughts on the subject of peace between Great Britain and the United States: That proposed monuments along the Canadian border would testify to the merits and worth of the dead of a century ago; that these monuments would give the lie to the thought that man must have arms to be strong; and that the two nations would, in the days to come, set before the world a higher ideal than the ideal of war.

Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation, reported on behalf of his country, as also did the new British ambassador, Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice. These speakers were followed by representatives of Australia, Canada, Newfoundland and the municipality of Ghent where the treaty between America and Great Britain was signed.

Andrew Carnegie declared the United States ought to build fewer battleships and more embassies abroad for the housing of its diplomatic representatives.

GROSSED WIRES AND GAS LEAK TOGETHER

Church Is Blown to Pieces and Fourteen People Hurt.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 13.—Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously, and the first Christian church of Turtle Creek, a borough, was destroyed last night by a gas explosion. A score of persons had gathered in the church preparatory to an address to be given by Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee of this city. A small fire was discovered in the roof. Before firemen reached the scene there was a terrific explosion which caused the complete destruction of the edifice. Crossed electric wires and escaping gas are given as the causes.

GOOD ROADS WINS POINT IN HOUSE.

Washington, May 13. — The good roads campaign met another success when the house rules committee agreed to report for a good roads committee of twenty-one members, for which Representative Shackleford of Missouri is slated as chairman. It also agreed in favor of a public health and quarantine committee of fifteen members, probably to be headed by Representative Foster of Illinois.

ATTITUDE OF CALIFORNIA

Views of People on Anti-Alien Land Law Proposition.

Nothing Proposed in Violation of the Treaty With Japan.

Charles K. McClatchy, editor of the Sacramento Bee, has written the following letter to The Herald, giving the views of California upon the anti-alien land law proposition:

"In the first place we claim it is a problem the East does not understand, and which Easterners cannot understand unless they live in California and see for themselves. But I venture to say that no intelligent, home-loving Easterner could study the subject properly in California for one year and not be as strenuous as is any native Californian.

"California is not proposing in her anti-alien land law to do anything that she has not a right to do under the treaty with Japan. That was conceded by Secretary of State Bryan while here. The point he made was not that California had not a right to do what she is about to do, but that it would be very impolitic for her to do it; that it would be looked upon as an affront to the Japanese people; and he begged the legislature to postpone the matter for two years to allow the government at Washington diplomatically to accomplish, with the acquiescence of the Japanese government, that which California has determined to do for herself.

Procrastinated Too Long.

"One reason why California is determined upon this matter is that she thinks she has procrastinated long enough. She was turned from her purpose at the behest of the national government some years ago. The government at Washington wants her to turn from her purpose now on a promise that the president and the secretary of state will do what they can to get the Japanese government to acquiesce in some friendly arrangement that will suit California; but California does not believe that such 'friendly arrangement' will amount to anything and she has grown tired of being put off and put off and put off from doing that which it has been conceded she has a right to do.

"The question is not whether the Japanese are affronted or will be affronted by anything that California has done or will do, but rather whether the Japanese have any right to be affronted. California is not proposing to do to the Japanese anything beyond, or even as much as, the Japanese do to Americans. She is not proposing any law that goes one whit beyond the laws now in force in Washington and Arizona. She is proposing to treat the Japanese far better than they are treated by the Government of Victoria in Australia.

How Victoria Treats Japs.

"The following letter will speak for itself. F. T. A. Fricke, the writer thereof, is the representative in North America of the government of Victoria:

"'Government of Victoria (Australia), F. T. A. Fricke, Representative in North America, 687 Market street, San Francisco; Cal., May 5, 1913.—Charles K. McClatchy, The Bee, Sacramento, Cal.: Dear Sir—In reply to your inquiries, I desire to inform you that under the commonwealth immigration act and regulation all colored persons including Asiatics, Pacific island and blacks, are excluded from Australia. The rules, however, allow for the landing of all persons of the European race. There is an arrangement by which Japanese, Chinese, Indians, Burmese and Cingalese of the merchants, students and tourist travelers' class, who are holders of a passport from their respective governments may be admitted to Australia for a period of twelve months. With regard to other classes of colored persons, it is necessary that satisfactory arrangements be made for sureties on their behalf to the extent of $500 for their due departure from the commonwealth, and in the case of colored servants, a certificate of exemption is allowed on their employers giving undertaking for their due departure. Yours faithfully,

"'F. T. A. FRICKE.'

They Do Not Protest.

"You do not hear the Japanese government protesting to Great Britain and suggesting war because of the act of these Australians. They do not even protest against the statutes of Washington and Arizona, but they take the whole thing out on the devoted head of Californians—who are what might be called 'the goat' in this matter.

"These Orientals are a great menace—a menace in every way—a menace to the working classes—a menace to morality—a menace to the homes—a menace to our civilization. All you would need to do to prove this to yourself would be to visit Florin in Sacramento county, from which place the whites have virtually been driven and which is now practically a Japanese town.

"The only light in which the legislature of the state of California should view this matter is the light of justice and of right. If this proposed legislation be not just and right, and in the interest of the people of California, then it should never be enacted—not even through the intermediation of the national government.

"But if it be just and in the interests of the people of California, then it should be enacted by the state and enacted now.

"And we of California claim that it is just and right and in the interests of the people.

Burnett Immigration Bill.

"Another thought: The Burnett immigration bill, as introduced in this present session of congress by Representative Roddenberry, bars from admission to this country all aliens ineligible to citizenship.

"In this respect it is virtually identical with that provision of the proposed anti-alien law in California to which the Wilson administraton objects as of a nature to give offense to Japan.

"The Burnett immigration bill passed the last congress by a large majority but was vetoed by President Taft because it contained the educational or reading test, no objection being made to the naturalization test.

"The bill was repassed in the senate and only failed of passage in the house by the narrow margin of eight votes. During all that time there was no objection to the naturalization test.

"The bill is quite certain of passage.

"Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, told the Bee's Washington correspondent that the clause in question before it was put in the bill was submitted to Baron Chinda, the Japanese ambassador here, and was approved by him.

"But yet Chinda is now protesting against California's adoption of a phrase or requirement which he has approved in the congressional bill.

What It Provides.

"The Roddenbery bill, H. R. 1,958, enumerates numerous classes of aliens who shall be excluded from the United States, such as idiots, insane persons, paupers, etc., and also 'persons who can not become eligible, under existing law, to become citizens of the United States by naturalization, unless otherwise provided for by existing agreements as to passports, or by treaties conventions or agreements that may hereafter be entered into.'

"The only exception to this provision in quotation marks are government officials, ministers, teachers, and other professional persons, students, merchants, bankers, and travelers for curiosity or pleasure, with their wives and children under 16 years of age accompanying them.

"Compared with this positive closing of the doors against all citizens of Japan, with relatively few exceptions, the proposed land legislation in California sinks into insignificance, from an international point of view.

"The situation, in fact, has an element of the ludicrous.

"It is as if Japan should say to California, through her ambassador at Washington: 'We don't object to having the door of immigration slammed in our faces by congress because we can't be naturalized, but we can't stand California's refusal, for the same reason, to let us buy any of her land.' Yours respectfully,

"CHARLES K. McCLATCHY,
"Editor Sacramento Bee."

United States Tires are good tires

One or two strong points can no more make a strong tire than a good carburetor or a good transmission can make a good car.

The ideal tire is a combination of all the desirable features it is possible to put into a tire.

United States Tires have gained the enviable reputation among the trade and among the men who know tires of being good tires in every respect.

These good qualities can be summed up in a single phrase—

They cut down tire bills

Four-factory co-operative methods of manufacture have combined in this one tire all of the qualities that go to make up a good tire in a way that has never before been approached by any tire maker.

Mileage has been raised to an unprecedented point.

The fabric strength has been increased practically 50 per cent. by a process used exclusively by the United States Tire Company.

The tread is made of the toughest rubber stock known to the industry.

Flexibility and resiliency has been increased to a marked degree.

In fact United States Tires are giving a character of service that is a revelation to those who are using them for the first time.

Made in three treads, Plain, Chain and Nobby, and in three styles of fastening, including the famous Dunlop, straight side.

Cost no more than you are asked to pay for other kinds

United States Pneumatic Tires are guaranteed when filled with air at the recommended pressure and attached to a rim bearing either one or both of the accompanying inspection stamps. When filled with any substitute for air or attached to any other rims they shall forfeit our guarantee to purchasers.

VERY FINE BANKING HOME BEING BUILT

First National of Virginia Starts Erecting Its Concrete Structure.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work has been commenced on the First National bank building, which will be the finest building for commercial purposes on the range. The site is the same as the bank has occupied for a long time.

The building will be 50 by 120 feet; entirely of concrete and modern in every respect, including elevator service. The cost will be $100,000 or more. While the building is under construction the bank will have temporary quarters in a metal building outside the curb on Wyoming avenue.

This building and also the old vaults will be under the guard of a special watchman. The new vaults will be placed further back than the location of the old ones. The bank will probably be required to use the temporary building for six months, but will go into the new one before it is finished and as soon as the heating system has been installed. The plans were made by F. G. German and the contract work is being executed by Andrew Grande.

THREE ELY FUNERALS.

Funerals of Mrs. O'Rourke and Two Mine Victims Held.

Ely, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of the late Mrs. O'Rourke took place Sunday afternoon from the Roman Catholic church, Father Buh officiating. The church was crowded. The casket was laden with flowers, tributes to the popularity of the departed. Mrs. O'Rourke was an active member of the ladies' aid and the Tuesday Social club, and although a sufferer for several years she bore her sufferings with fortitude and cheerfulness.

The funeral of Abraham Pletikalinen who was killed in the Lucky Boy mining fatality took place Sunday afternoon from the Swedish church. Rev. Knuomaki officiating.

Tony Pogeerlty, the victim of the Section 30 mining accident, was buried Monday. His body was recovered Sunday morning at 5:30, having been buried for nearly twenty-four hours. The funeral took place from the Catholic church.

KEEWATIN CONTRACT GIVEN ASHLAND MEN.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The general contract for the new Keewatin high school was awarded by the school board to Thompson & Egan of Ashland, Wis., for $59,886. W. K. Zusqitz of Hill City secured the heating and ventilating contract at $10,298, and McClelland & Thayer of Duluth the electrical contract at $4,165. The plumbing contract went over until Wednesday night when the board will hold another meeting.

The proposed Keewatin building will cost complete about $100,000 and will contain ten rooms and an auditorium; it will also be equipped with every modern convenience adapted for school work.

Bray & Nystrom of Duluth are the architects.

ELY NEWS NOTES.

Ely, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Methodist church is to be raised two feet ten inches and a good serviceable basement is to be built. The need of a good basement has been felt for many years, more room being needed for the growing Sunday school and for the different organizations of the church.

The Tuesday Social club meets this week at the home of the Mesdames Miller.

The Rev. E. F. Stidd left Ely yesterday for Minneapolis to attend the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias as a delegate from the local lodge.

This evening a program is to be given in the Methodist church by entertainers from Minneapolis.

SUES RAILROAD CO. FOR EVELETH HURT

Iver Nelson Wants $10,000 From Iron Range for Blow on Head.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming the railroad was to blame when a piece of coal dropped from the dock at the Fayal mine at Eveleth last February and struck him on the head, Iver Nelson has brought suit for $10,000 damages. The plaintiff asserts that the platform was placed almost directly beneath the house and in such position that any coal that might happen to fall from the bucket would be likely to strike the operator beneath. Nelson further claims that the coal guard was defective. As a result of the blow on the head, Nelson claims his eyes are permanently injured.

Satisfaction of judgment has been filed in the action of John Lamuth vs. the Oliver Iron Mining company. Lamuth sued the company for $1,200 for injuries sustained by Albert Huska, a minor, while working at the Clark mine at Chisholm last November.

According to the evidence Huska was working as a trammer at the Clark mine in November, 1912, and the car of ore he was pushing became derailed and he was severely injured when the steel rail used as a pry to raise the fall crushed the wooden block beneath and the whole weight of car and contents were thrown on him. Judgment was given for $450 in favor of the plaintiff.

DISCUSS HIBBING JOB.

Various Ones Being Proposed for Capt. Wearne's Successor.

Hibbing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much interest here in the appointment of a successor to Capt. William Wearne, who recently resigned his place on the city water and light commission. Who will be named for the place has not yet been decided.

E. S. Woolfan has made application for the appointment and is the only one so far to indicate that he would like the place.

A petition was circulated and presented to the mayor asking that he appoint his brother, W. J. Power, to the place. The mayor declined to do and W. J. Power declined to allow his name to be used in connection with the appointment. He was not aware that his friends were circulating a petition asking for his appointment. Others whom it is said are being considered for the place are James Geary, Marx Rogalsky and J. A. McCarty.

AGAIN TO TACKLE IT.

Virginia School Board Will Try to Break Deadlock Wednesday.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board will hold its regular May meeting Wednesday when the question of rehiring Supt. Bliss will be on for discussion again. The board has been deadlocked, 3 to 3, since early in the year. The contention in the school board is said to be a part of factional battling that is going on, the opposing elements being those for and against city administration. A large attendance is expected at the school board meeting on account of the great interest there is in knowing what the board may do. The school superintendent does not hold office until a successor is elected and unless Mr. Bliss or some other is hired, Virginia will be without a school superintendent.

TWO MORE FIRED.

Policeman By Name of Chopp Loses Official Head in Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Dean, turnkey at the city jail, and Patrolman Frank Chopp have been given notice that they are not on the police pay roll any longer. Axel Carlson succeeds John Dean and C. E. Crossland takes Officer Chopp's beat. Chopp was appointed about a year ago and was the only representative of the Austrian nationality on the force. As in the case of the dismissal of the police chief and the fire chief, the men are relieved of their jobs without any reason being assigned. It is contended by many that the removals are in violation of the provisions of the city charter and that a man can not be removed without cause being given and a hearing allowed on charges.

TO INSPECT HIBBING AND ITS LOCATIONS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of health has fixed May 20 as the date for its official inspection of the sanitary condition of Hibbing and the nearby mining locations. On that day Health Officer Morsman, Assistant Health Officer Stuart and Health Inspector E. C. Junker will give the town a thorough going over and any premises found in an insanitary condition will be sufficient warrant for the board to take matters in its own hands and make the order necessary to correct such conditions.

SAY RECALL PETITIONS WILL SOON BE READY.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leaders in the movement to recall Mayor M. A. Murphy, now assert that they have more than a sufficient number of names on petitions to make the recall valid and that the petitions will be filed with the city clerk in a few days. After the filing the city clerk has ten days in which to check over the names and give his statement as to whether the names are those of qualified voters and if the council shall take cognizance of the petitions.

EXPECT DECISIONS IN PENDING CASES.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Within a few days it is expected that Judge Hughes will announce his decisions in the various cases that have been heard and taken under advisement and then the business of the present term of the court will be practically finished. There may be other witnesses heard in the divorce case of Albertina Johnson vs. August Johnson. The case of John Mustar, Sr., of Buhl against Joseph Grant et al, in which $22,500 is claimed as damage on account of injury by an explosion will not be heard until the August term of the court.

CITY TO BUILD CEMENT WALKS

Two Harbors Will Try Laying Walks and Rejects Two Bids.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Almost the entire time of the city council last night was devoted to the proposed improvements on Seventh and Eighth avenues, which will be graded and put into first-class shape this summer.

The city clerk opened the bids for the laying of the cement sidewalks on Eighth avenue. There were two bids submitted. Strom Bros. of this city bid 12⅝ cents per square foot, and J. D. O'Connell of Duluth asked 15 cents per square foot for doing the work. City Engineer L. S. Burnham submitted an estimate to the council in which he stated that the work could be done for 10 cents per square foot at the outside, if the work was done by the city by day labor. On the strength of Mr. Burnham's report the council rejected the two bids and passed a resolution authorizing the city to do the work by day labor. The work will be supervised by the street commissioner, Oscar Ecklund, and the work on the avenues will begin at once. The city believes it can save the property owners about $9 for every fifty feet by doing the work by day labor. Because the council thought the bids excessive, the bids for the grading of Eight avenue were also turned down and the city will also do the grading. The council figure that this work can be done by the city for approximately $2,000 less than the contractor who was the lowest bidder would do it.

Property Owners Appear.

Several of the property owners along Eighth avenue appeared before the council to discuss the proposed style on which the street will be built. There is a difference of opinion relative to the position of the curb and the sidewalk. Some of the residents want the sidewalk built out to the curbstone while others desire to have a parking between the curb and the sidewalk, like is on Fourth avenue. The matter was not settled, but the council will leave it largely to the property owners on Eighth avenue.

The council was advised that the county board is willing to expend $2,000 in improving Seventh avenue and will commence the work at once. This sum will aid the city considerably as it is expected that the sum will cover the cost of the grading of the entire avenue, at least.

Because it was not within police protection, the council refused to grant Mrs. Pete Lager a license to operate two pool tables in her store building on South avenue. The council's action in this respect was largely due to a great many complaints from residents living in the vicinity of the store. Mayor Towl also presented a communication to the council in which he stated that he did not think it advisable for the council to grant such a license.

The police force will be increased by two patrolmen during the summer months.

DOWLING OFFERS RUINS.

Duluthian Would Sell Eveleth Old Othello Theater and Site.

Eveleth, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The walls of the burned Othello theater which have stood just as the fire left them when the playhouse burned two years ago may be turned into a public market if the city accepts the offer of P. E. Dowling of Duluth to sell the property for that purpose. The walls are still in good condition and it is believed by those who have given the market question any thought that by a small outlay of money the place might be converted into a creditable appearing building. Inside the walls there would be ample room for shelter for teams and produce and rest rooms for families who come to town.

SWALLOWS WHISKY, THEN SHOOTS SELF.

Hibbing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Getting his landlady out of the house on a pretext, Nick Dugandzija, an Austrian miner, suffering from trachoma that was robbing him of his sight, took a big drink of whisky yesterday afternoon and, placing a revolver at his head, blew out his brains. He had lived here twelve years and until physical afflictions overtook him, was an industrious worker.

Conducts First Service.

Hibbing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Father Dante Gili, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, who arrived from Italy last week, conducted his first service at the church and in America Sunday. There was a large attendance at all the services. Father Gili is meeting many old friends from his native land among the Italian people of Hibbing and vicinity, and his people are doing everything possible to make him feel welcome in Hibbing.

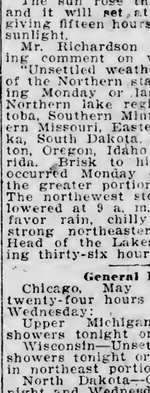
Wind roses show direction of the wind. First figure, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.



The mercury climbed up to 70 deg. yesterday, but dropped to 42 deg. again last night and a brisk wind today accentuates the chill in the air. The sky threatens rain, the weather man threatens rain, so there should be rain!

There was a freak snow storm in Duluth a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:33 and it will set at 7:34 this evening, giving fifteen hours and one minute of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions: "Unsettled weather prevails in most of the Northern states. Rain fell during Monday or last night over the Northern lake region, Ontario, Manitoba, Southern Minnesota, Iowa, Western Missouri, Eastern Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Southern Florida. Brisk to high westerly winds occurred Monday or last night over the greater portion of Lake Superior. The northwest storm warnings were lowered at 9 a. m. today. Conditions favor rain, chilly temperature and strong northeasterly winds at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 13.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Wednesday:

Upper Michigan—Unsettled with showers tonight or Wednesday.

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler in northeast portion tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; frost tonight.

Iowa—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler in west portion tonight.

South Dakota—Unsettled weather with rain tonight or Wednesday; colder tonight.

Montana—Showers tonight or Wednesday; colder in west portion tonight with probably frost Wednesday morning.

Minnesota—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler in northeast portion tonight.

Upper lakes—Moderate, variable winds except northerly on Superior. Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday.

STURGEON LAKE BOASTS OF DIANA.

Chisholm, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sturgeon lake has its Diana in Mrs. Ed. Davis, wife of a homesteader, according to Judge Masters, who has returned from that locality with a 400-pound bear which he says she shot and killed a few days ago near the Smith home. The bear had been prowling about the place and Mrs. Smith armed herself with a rifle and laid in wait several hours until bruin appeared, when she blazed away, dropping him in his tracks.

INVITED TO BUHL HOUSE WARMING.

Chisholm, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village authorities of Buhl have extended an invitation to the council members of Chisholm to the dedication of their new hall and to participate in the dance that is to be held in the big auditorium May 15. The invitations state that dancing will continue from 9 to 2, and refreshments from 11 to 1. The Buhl people are asked to give way to the visitors and to occupy the floor for dancing only when it is not filled by outsiders.

ENTERTAINS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Kate Mark entertained at cards last night in honor of the city school teachers who will not return here next year. Those present of the teachers who will not return were Misses Ruth Tolman, Nellie Cooper, Clara McCune, Gladys McAllister, Ella Chase, Lillian Bartz, Cora Berkness, Cora Tanner, Mrs. R. E. Hastings. Miss Borreson, city librarian, who is soon to leave for South Dakota, was also present. Others who were present were: Miss Alice Berkness, Miss Myrtle Connors, Miss Ella Ward and Miss Shea.

Hibbing to Have Wrestling.

Hibbing, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Johnson, the wrestling Duluth fireman, is here, and hopes soon to see a revival of the wrestling game in Hibbing, and would like to meet any of Hibbing's three Turkish mat performers, Kahn Alley, Tom Shaw or Sybil Kahn. Local wrestling enthusiasts are preparing to stage a big night of grappling as soon as the new Power theater is available.

Married in Duluth.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Friends of Frank Macartney and Mrs. Minnie Harmon have been advised from Duluth of their marriage. Mr. Macartney is the depot agent for the D. W. & P. railway and Mrs. Harmon has been a resident of Virginia for nearly two years. They left the city a few days ago and only a few knew of their intended marriage.

Arrested in Nashwauk.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Bellin, formerly a resident of Virginia but recently a resident of Nashwauk, was arrested here by Deputy Sheriffs Little and Moylan on a warrant charging a statutory offense sworn out by a young woman at Virginia. Bellin has been sought by the authorities for some time at various towns on the range.

Virginia K. P. Banquet.

Virginia, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ormonde hotel will be the scene of a K. P. banquet Friday evening to be given by Northern Light lodge, No. 127, and to which members of the order from many range towns have been invited.

IRISH AND GERMANS OPPOSE PEACE PLAN

Object to Celebrations Proposed in New York Schools.

New York, May 13.—Protesting against the suggestions made for the celebration of "peace day" in the public schools of the city on May 16, the United Irish-American societies and the German-American Citizens' league are urging Mayor Gaynor to use his power "to prevent the minds of the children from being poisoned by political heresies which are aimed not only at American patriotism, but at the harmony and peace which now prevail between various racial elements which comprise the great cosmopolitan people of the city and nation."

In a letter which goes into details in its attacks on the British-American plans to celebrate 100 years of peace in 1914, the societies state that they object to the "attempt which is now being made in our schools, of which 'peace' is a part of the plan to submerge the word 'American' for 'Anglo-Saxon,' and to adopt the peace principles of Rhodes and Carnegie, because by doing this we tear up the Declaration of Independence; as the imperialism of the peace movement is the Toryism which the declaration eradicated and the Revolution suppressed."

Takes That Weight Off the Stomach

Samuel's "3-P" Capsules Relieve That Bloated, Gassy Condition. You Feel Fine

If you wake up in the morning with a feeling as though a lump of lead laid on your stomach—have unpleasant dreams, sour, sickening feeling, or belch gas and eructate fermented, undigested food, feel blue, languid, no energy or get-up—that's INDIGESTION, and how quickly "3-P" capsules will make life worth living for you!

Thousands have found how needless it is to suffer the misery and pain of a bad stomach. We quote an expression from Rev. Charles E. Hill of Mt. Sterling, Ohio, who says:

"I think it proper courtesy to tell you of the benefits derived from your '3-P' capsules. Not only did they relieve stomach trouble, but in relieving it they seemed to give new vigor to body and mind. I am glad it was recommended to me and that I tried it."

A 25-cent package at any drug store will cause you also to praise it, because each little capsule contains: Pepsin, Papain, Glycero-Phosphates and other harmless ingredients, after the formula of a famous French specialist, put up in easy-to-take little gelatin capsules, which produce the same effect as the juices of a healthy stomach, besides strengthening the nerves.

Buy a package today or write The Samuel Chemical Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, for a free trial box.

BULL MOOSERS NOT FAVORING FUSION

Dollar Dinner in New York Becomes Political Meeting.

New York, May 13.—A dollar dinner given last night by the New York county committee of the National Progressive party and designated as a "conference," resolved itself into a discussion by the speakers of political issues. A letter from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who could not attend, was read, in which he indorsed the direct primary bill advocated by Governor Sulzer. Among those present was John Purroy Mitchel, recently appointed collector of the port of New York by President Wilson. The speakers, Congressman Walter M. Chandler, Leonard M. Wallstein, William L. Ransom, J. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, Amos Pinchot and J. J. O'Connell, discussed the coming municipal campaign, the general trend of their remarks opposing fusion with any other party.

CONVICTS WELCOME WARDEN CORDIALLY

Joliet Prisoners Remind Him of Father's Work for Prison.

Joliet, Ill., May 13.—Edmund M. Allen, new warden at the penitentiary here, whose father held the position twenty years ago, received a unique welcome today from the 1,445 prisoners.

When he arrived he was handed a letter which stated that the occasion "recalls to mind the same honor which was conferred upon your father a score of years ago. Many of us retain pleasant recollections of the wise and kindly manner in which he governed his unfortunate wards. With the precedent established by so noble a father to guide you, we feel that our welfare has been entrusted to one who will serve our interests as future citizens.

WICHITA POLICE HAVE TO BE FAST RUNNERS

Must Run 100 Yards in 16 Seconds or Lose Their Jobs.

Wichita, Kan., May 13.—Members of the Wichita police force must be able to run a hundred yards in sixteen seconds or less. This is a civil service regulation based upon the theory that offenders against the law usually are fast runners.

With the sidewalks lined with spectators, five large men who were candidates for policemen's stars tried to qualify in a hundred-yard dash on a principal street here last night. The mayor and the chief of police were the official timers.

One man crossed the finish line in fourteen seconds, two were one second slower, and the others failed to finish within the prescribed time limit.

BIG SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Hill City Methodist Church Class Boast of 111 Membership.

Hill City, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not only can the Methodist church boast of having the finest church edifice in Aitkin county, but she may soon boast of having the largest Sunday school.

F. W. Allin, superintendent of the school, was delighted Sunday with the attendance of 111. Mrs. W. W. Rabey is superintendent of the primary department, and with the many new families moving into town, Mrs. Rabey is confident that she can fill the primary room.

It was thought by some during the construction of the church that it was too large, but the morning congregation fills the main auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 200. The primary room will seat 100.

The Sunday school classes are all organized and are as follows: The old guards, teacher, Judge J. W. Fowler; Bible class, teacher, L. J. Ingram; Boy Knights, teacher, Rev. P. Suver; Queen Esther circle, teacher, Mrs. Frank Sprout; primary department, teacher, Mrs. Warren W. Rabey.

GIVEN BESSEMER JOBS.

Various Positions Are Filled By Mayor and City Council.

Bessemer, Mich., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following appointments were made by Mayor Andy Byrne and confirmed by the council:

City attorney, Levi S. Rice; city marshal, Dominic Ballone; superintendent of water works, George T. Williams; health officer, Dr. R. A. Paradis; street commissioner and pound master, Frank Jiskolwski; night watchmen, John Jankowiak and Joseph Chiambutti; chief of fire department, Edward G. Pascoe; cemetery sexton, John Burt; fire warden, Edward G. Pascoe; caretaker of city hall, Gabriel Johnson; city engineer, George J. Wealton; teamster of city fire team, Harry E. Patterson; teamster of city work team, Joseph Chart; city librarian, Miss Carrie Davis; caretaker of dumping grounds, John Hintz; member of board of public works, full term, C. E. Holly; library trustee, full term, Mrs. James E. Nemacheck; pumpmen, Joseph Blaha and Joseph Schwartz.

The fire department elected the following officers: Chief, Edward G. Pascoe; first assistant chief, Andrew Wiklund; second assistant chief, A. R. Guyer; foreman, Hugh J. McDonald; first assistant foreman, Alex Burt; second assistant foreman, Louis Voemastek; treasurer, E. R. Bayliss; secretary, W. L. Guyer.

Superfluous Hair Truths

Investigate all Claims

Claims are easily made but hard to prove. The success of De Miracle has not been attained by merely making claims but by fulfilling them, which is proven by the fact that De Miracle is the only depilatory that has ever been indorsed by reputable physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

Only Depilatory of Proven Merit

De Miracle has stood the test of time, having been sold for over eleven years, therefore it is the only depilatory of proven merit. Consequently, the only one you can use with absolute safety. The mere fact that questionable depilatories are short-lived should alone be sufficient warning to avoid their use.

De Miracle

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell

If you use De Miracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because De Miracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no odor whatever. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, an offensive tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours.

Only Guaranteed Hair Remover

Others advertise "Guaranteed," but give no guarantee. De Miracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package. Avoid permanent disfigurement by refusing substitutes offered by dishonest dealers merely for a few cents more profit. If your dealer will not supply you send $1.00 direct. Free information how to determine which depilatories are harmful and worthless sent in plain, sealed envelope.

FLOODS FARM LANDS.

Log Jam at Kenora, Ont., Blamed for Lake of Woods Overflow.

Warroad, Minn., May 13.—Water, which is overflowing the banks of the Lake of the Woods, is flooding farm lands in this vicinity and the lower portions of this city. An effort is being made to induce the Canadian government to cause logs in the dam at Kenora to be removed, that extensive damage here may be averted.

Officers of the Warroad Commercial club Monday telegraphed Former Congressman James A. Tawney, chairman of the international joint boundary commission, asking him to take up the matter with the Canadian government to bring about the desired result.

MANY BAD NICKELS FLOOD MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—Minneapolis has been flooded with large numbers of counterfeit coins within the past two days, the greater part of them being 5 cent pieces. Conductors on the street cars are apparently picked as the victims and hundreds of them were turned in to railroad companies Sunday and Monday. Government agents have redoubled their efforts to run down a supposed gang of counterfeit operators.

W. F. Bragg, arrested a week ago, charged with passing bogus silver dollars, is still held at the police station here, pending a further investigation. Since Bragg's arrest, an earnest effort has been made by the police and Federal officers to locate a counterfeiting plant believed to exist in the vicinity of Minneapolis.

WILL DECIDE WHEN GOVERNOR RETURNS.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—The possible dissolution of the state humane society because of lack of funds will not be considered until Governor Eberhart returns from New York. Then a meeting of the board of directors will be called to settle the question.

Louis Nash, former president of the society, says today he is still receiving letters asking him to reconsider his resignation, but that he is firm in his decision to quit.

To Examine North Dakota Books.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—Herbert M. Temple of St. Paul, certified public accountant has gone to Bismarck, N. D., to have charge of an extensive investigation into all state departments. The work was ordered recently by the state legislature. He will also work out a system of uniform accounts for counties.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart responds to the sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables them to preserve their health and strength, and they remain pretty by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

GET STRIKEBREAKERS FOR PORT ARTHUR CARS

Street Railway Lines Are Idle Pending Arrival of Men.

Fort William, Ont., May 13.—No cars are running on the Fort William-Port Arthur municipal street railway lines today as the result of the strike of the employes for higher wages and shorter hours. Fifty constables were sworn in to guard the cars, which probably will be started late today or tomorrow, when fifty strikebreakers from Winnipeg are expected here.

JACK JOHNSON'S DEFENSE BEGUN.

Chicago, May 13.—Presentation of evidence in defense of Jack Johnson, negro, charged with violation of the Mann act, began in Federal Judge Carpenter's court today. Charles Lupkin, chauffeur for the fighter in 1910, testified as to a trip which Johnson and Belle Schreiber took to Milwaukee in 1910, during which Johnson was ill. They lived at separate hotels, said Lupkin.

When you see a woman whose tailored suit fits her as if she had been melted and run into it, it is very likely that she is wearing one of our suits.

Our fitters are at your service, but our assortments of sizes including regular sizes — out sizes — between sizes—and odd sizes—is so varied that you probably will not give them much to do.

Many women find garments which fit them as a good glove goes on the hand for which it was made.

Trim, smooth, snug-hugging collars and lasting fit give our garments "class" in any well dressed company.

See the Wooltex Suits which, because of their style and tailoring, are conspicuously the best values advertised in the magazines at $25.

Try some of them on, then you will know yourself why the values appeal so strongly to good dressers.

The Embroidery Sale Continues

This is a most important sale for several reasons.

It includes all the novelty effects in our fine flouncings, all-overs, bands and galloons.

The regular prices were right—they're reduced a third for this week.

It's so timely—just when the brides and graduates want to buy.

JOY FOR BOYS ONCE MORE

"Wilcox Free Baths" to Be Conducted Again This Year.

Popular Swimming Place Will Be Opened for Season June 1.

Preparations will be made within a few days for placing the Wilcox free bath at the foot of Sixty-third avenue west in condition for the children of this end of the city. Lieut. Charles E. Wilcox of the West Duluth police station, who was instrumental in establishing the place three years ago, will begin getting the place in readiness so as to be opened about June 1.

The lieutenant secured consent from the city to use the water front at the foot of the street and has fixed up a splendid bathing place for the boys. The beach is sandy and slopes gradually towards the channel. The place was made by the government hydraulic dredge several years ago when the channel of the river was being deepened.

In a few days it is planned to place out the stakes and ropes within which limit the boys are expected to take their "dips." The greatest depth 300 feet from the shore within these lines is less than four feet making it perfectly safe for the youngsters to bathe within its limits. The beach is 400 feet wide.

The Western Boat club has secured a site just east of the baths and will construct its boat and clubhouse there. It is planned to make arrangements with the club to have its watchman also oversee the bathing ground.

Since the establishing of the bathing place it has been the most popular place in the western end of the city for the boys. On the warmer days from 300 to 500 boys gathered on the beach to enjoy the swimming.

Two spring boards will be installed as well as a slide at the baths this year if sufficient money can be secured to have the work done. It is probable that business men and residents of this end of the city will be asked to donate small sums for this purpose.

SUMMER AMUSEMENTS FOR WEST DULUTH BOYS

A series of outdoor amusements is being planned for the Boys' Clubs of West Duluth by Norman D. McLeod, who is in charge of its activities. Among these amusements are camping, hiking trips, baseball and other features.

It is expected to have all the apparatus belonging to the West Duluth Boys' club moved within a few days to the basement of the library. Meetings will be held there within a few days by the club's cabinet to plan the outings.

The girls' clubs, known as the Campfire Girls and the sewing class have been holding regular weekly meetings at the library since May 1. Miss Mae Anders of the Y. W. C. A. has been directing their activities. The Campfire girls are planning an outing this summer at one of the lakes. This will probably be held about the middle of July.

Delegates to Convention.

Mrs. J. D. Hoar, 621 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, and Mrs. Flora M. Clark will leave today for St. Paul, where they will attend the annual convention of the Order of the Eastern Star which will be held there tomorrow. Mrs. Hoar is worthy matron of the Euclid chapter No. 56, and Mrs. Clark is the lodge's regular delegate.

Superior

New Park Site.

Members of the Bryant Civic club of South Superior will decide this evening on the location of the proposed park for that section of the city. The meeting will be attended by Mayor Konkel and members of the commission.

Raise for Teachers.

Teachers of Superior schools were granted a raise of $5 per month at the meeting of the school board held last night. The salaries of the teachers will now range from $475 to $820. The increase will mean an added $5,000 to the payrolls. The board also voted $500 for summer supervision of playgrounds.

Two Men Sentenced.

George Brown, 23 years, and Matt Flynn, 51 years, pleaded guilty to assault upon a 14-year-old girl in a rooming house on Third street. Brown was sentenced to one year at the Green Bay reformatory, and Flynn to a year at Waupun state prison.

Falls From Bridge.

Elmer Thornberg, tower tender for the Great Northern, fell off the Nemadji river bridge while attempting to cross it riding a bicycle. The wheel struck a tie spike causing Thornberg to fall over the handle bars. He lit on the sandy river bank, and with the exception of getting badly shaken up, sustained no injuries. The drop was about thirty feet.

INSANE HOSPITAL ATTENDANT KILLED

Hit on Head With Mallet By Cousin of Gen. J. F. Bell.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 13.—Joshua B. Bell, a traveling salesman of Greenville, Miss., said to be a cousin of Gen. J. Franklin Bell of the United States army, was charged with murder by the Cincinnati police today, following the death last night of John A. Hoover, an attendant at a sanitarium at College Hill. Bell, who was a patient at the sanitarium, hit Hoover with a croquet mallet Monday, the latter dying some hours later.

The police believe Bell is suffering from a severe mental derangement, and the charge of murder will probably not be pressed.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

GREEKS WILL HOLD OLYMPIC GAMES.

Athens, Greece, May 13.—The Greek government has consented to give its support to a project to hold a series of international Olympic games here in the spring of 1914.

FORTY-FOUR ENGLISH POLO PONIES ARRIVE.

New York, May 13.—Forty-four polo ponies, the best that British gold could buy, were unloaded from the steamship Minneapolis today and sent to the stables of the Piping Rock Country club on Long Island, in readiness for the international polo matches in June.

The ponies, entered under a $50,000 bond, are valued at $100,000. Thirty red-sweatered grooms atended them on the voyage over. The ponies were fed selected hay and English oats and enough of this was brought along to last them during their stay.

Twenty-four of the ponies belong to the Duke of Westminster and G. W. Naylor, for twenty-one years the duke's studgroom, is in charge of the lot. It includes animals collected during the last two years from America, Australia, Ireland and England. Six of the ponies were here two years ago when the British team lost its second match to the Americans.

The British army officers who will ride in the international match at Meadbrook are due here this week on the Oceanic.

Washington, May 13.—Secretary Bryan left today for Harrisburg, Pa., to deliver an address before the Pennsylvania legislature.

JUDGE ENSIGN REACHES THE FOUR-SCORE MARK

Hon. J. D. Ensign of the district court, will be 80 years old tomorrow.

He is not planning any observance of the day and from present indications will be sitting on the trial of some law suit.

Although advanced in age, he is enjoying exceptionally good health. At the last term of court he presided at the trial of some case, nearly every day.

Judge Ensign was born in Erie county, N. Y., on May 14, 1833. His father was R. S. Ensign, whose death occurred in 1896. His mother lived to the ripe old age of 90. He comes from an old American family, one of his great grandfathers having served in the Revolutionary war.

The judge came to Duluth during the spring of 1870. He was prominently associated with the pioneer history of the city, and served as mayor for two terms. He was elected judge of the St. Louis county district court in 1889, twenty-three years ago.

HON. J. D. ENSIGN.

NUISANCES ARE DEFINED

Director of Health Prepares Draft of Proposed New Ordinance.

Home Poultry Yards May Be Licensed at 50 Cents Per Yard.

Dr. H. E. Webster has prepared a preliminary draft of an ordinance defining nuisances which, if passed, will give the health department the power to put a stop to numerous complaints which are now filed.

The ordinance will prohibit the accumulation of stagnant water or liquid filth of any kind on lots or in basements.

It will prohibit the burning of any garbage or refuse which gives rise to obnoxious odors or gases.

It will prohibit any deposits which will interfere with the free flow of water in gutters.

It will prohibit horses infected with glanders or any other contagious disease from using public drinking fountains.

It will require the tenants or keepers of lodging houses to provide proper receptacles for garbage or other refuse.

It will prohibit the grazing of cattle in the city limits without a permit from the health department and the consent of the majority of persons interested.

It will prohibit the keeping of geese, chickens, ducks, pigs, etc., without a permit from the health department, which permit calls for an annual fee of 50 cents.

It will require dealers in live fowls to keep them in a separate sanitary room.

It will require the agent or owner of any building to keep it closed to prevent the commission of nuisances therein.

It will hold the owner or agent responsible for the removal of garbage, filth, manure or other refuse on premises where people move in and out.

MRS. G. A. ANDRESEN PASSES AWAY

Well Known Duluth Woman Dies at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mrs. G. A. Andresen, aged 29, wife of G. A. Andresen, 112 Sixth avenue east, died Sunday night at 8 o'clock at St. Luke's hospital. She was born in New York city and her parents still reside there. For two years and a half she was a member of the First Baptist church of Duluth and was one of its most valued workers. She was highly respected and much loved by her many Duluth friends.

Mr. Andresen is manager of the coffee department of Gowan-Leming-Brown company, and the sympathy of a host of friends turns to him in his very sudden and deep bereavement. The funeral service will be conducted by R. Edward Sayles, the pastor of the First Baptist church, at the rooms of J. L. Crawford, the funeral director, 203 West Second street, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The bural will take place in Brooklyn, N. Y.

WILL PRACTICE LAW IN DULUTH

G. A. E. Finlayson, who has practiced law at East Grand Forks and in Polk county for the past fourteen years, has been attracted to Duluth by the future possibilities of this city. He will open law offices this week at 510 First National Bank building.

"I have had an eye on Duluth for several months," said Mr. Finlayson this morning. "I believe its prospects for the future are far greater than that of any other city in the Northwest. It presents a better field for the practice of law than the Twin Cities.

"I am very much impressed with the spirit of, and the splendid work that is being done by the Duluth Commercial club. Its advertising compaign is bringing the attention of the whole country to this spot."

Mr. Finlayson graduated in 1896 from the University of Minnesota and in 1899 was admitted to practice law in this state. While at the university he was a football star.

COURT DELAYS THE WEST CASE.

Stillwater, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Miss Dorothy Cantler went to Stillwater today expecting to see William West outside the prison walls, she was disappointed. Miss Cantler is a Minneapolis girl who has worked seven years in a restaurant to secure funds to fight for the liberation of West, to whom she was engaged to be married. Habeas corpus proceedings were postponed one week by Judge Stolberg of Stillwater.

West was convicted at Duluth of grand larceny and burglary in 1905, and sentenced to fifteen years. Miss Cantler believes he is serving two sentences for one crime. The habeas corpus proceedings were her first step to free West.

STATE K. P. AT ST. PAUL MEETING.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Knights of Pythias of Minnesota, more than 300 strong, are here today as delegates to the state grand lodge convention. They are supplemented by 300 Pythian Sisters, whose grand temple also opens today. While the business sessions of the Knights opened this morning, an adjournment of the session will be taken at 5 o'clock to enable delegates to participate in the parade in Minneapolis tonight.

Among the distinguished members present are Union B. Hunt, president of the supreme lodge insurance department, and Fred E. Wheaton, supreme keeper of records and seals.

LORIMER VISITS THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

Sits With Speaker McKinley During Debate on Direct Legislation.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—Progressive, Socialist and Democratic orators waged war on Republican speakers in the house of representatives today as a prelude to the final vote on the question of submitting the initiative and referendum to the people of the state. Eight set speeches in addition to many impromptu arguments were on the day's program, and the vote on the measure will not be taken before nightfall, with a possibility that it may be postponed until tomorrow.

Former United States Senator William Lorimer appeared in the house for the first time since his seat in Washington was declared vacant, and occupied a seat on the speaker's rostrum in response to an invitation from Speaker McKinley.

TEN CARS OF LIVE STOCK BURN.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 13.—A tank car filled with oil in the middle of a Pennsylvania freight train exploded six miles east of Fort Wayne late last night just as an eastbound stock train was passing on an adjoining track, and both trains were wrecked. The wreckage caught fire from the blazing oil and ten cars of livestock burned. A brakeman was injured.

DEATH SITS AT BANQUET BOARD.

New York, May 13.—A dinner in honor of Henry A. Wise, retiring Federal district attorney, was held last night without the presence of the guest, owing to the death of his father, John S. Wise, at Princess Anne, Md. Members of the Federal judiciary and citizens prominent in the business and financial world paid tribute to the former government prosecutor at one of the most solemn banquets ever held in New York.

Campanini Succeeds Dippel.

Chicago, May 13.—Cleofonte Campanini, former general musical director of the Chicago Grand Opera company, has been chosen general manager of the company to succeed to succeed Andreas Dippel, whose resignation was accepted recently.

GERMAN SINGER DELIGHTED AMERICA

ELENA GERHARDT.

Elena Gerhardt, the famous German singer, has departed for her home after a very successful season in the United States. She came here for the first time last year, announced as the greatest lieder singer in all Germany. She made good that reputation with the discriminating musical public of the United States and her success encouraged her to return next winter. She will be with us again next year. Mme. Gerhardt has sung with the great orchestras and has given a series of recitals in all the larger cities of the United States, and she can account herself a very welcome visitor whenever she wants to return.

"BEST ADVERTISING DULUTH HAS EVER HAD"

That Is What Major H. V. Eva, Secretary of the

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Says of The Duluth Herald's Great Special Number,

DULUTH, THE CITY OF INDUSTRY

OUT MAY 26th. Here is his letter:

Commercial Club of Duluth

Editor The Duluth Herald.

Dear Sir:-

It has been my privilege to see page proofs of the first fourty-four pages of the Herald's Special number, "Duluth, the City of Industry." I must say that this great issue far surpasses my most sanguine expectations and will be the best advertising that Duluth and Northern Minnesota has ever had.

The number is splendidly illustrated--in fact it is nearly all pictures. Yet the facts about Duluth are there too, truthfully, tersely and convincingly told.

It is to be hoped everybody in Duluth will send the "Duluth, the City of Industry" number broadcast. The Commercial Club will send 4,000 copies to men in other states who are thinking of settling on Northern Minnesota farm lands.

TELLS "VIEW OF FARMERS"

Crane of Great Northern Says They Distrust Harvester Inquiry.

Windom Dealer Tells His Experience With Farm Machinery.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the farmers consider the government suit for the dissolution of the International Harvester company "just a political scheme to help get some fellows into office," was the statement of Frederick R. Crane, in charge of the agricultural development work of the Great Northern railway, who today was called as a witness for the defense at the hearing here. E. P. Grosvenor, of government counsel, objected to the admission of this statement on the ground that no foundation had been laid to show that the witness had any knowledge of what the farmers think. The objection was entered.

Mr. Crane, on cross-examination, declared that all agricultural machinery had been improved from time to time, both before and after the International was organized. He said that he himself had a John Deere binder, an independent make, which had the same improvements as were made by the International.

Sold Line of Failures.

Jens Anderson, a dealer of Windom, Minn., said that he sold the Keystone binder in 1905, but that they were failures and he took them all back. He did not know, he said, when he took on the Keystone that it was controlled by the International, but after the harvest he was given a statement to that effect by the company. He refused to pay for the Keystone machines, he said, and the International took them off his hands, since which time he has handled International machines.

Witnesses called by the defense have testified the International has from 60 to 75 per cent of the business in binders and mowers, with smaller percentages of business in other implements and twine. The International's "fair and businesslike competition" permits of the free sale of independent machines, according to the testimony of implement dealers and farmers appearing for the defense.

Chicken Has Four Legs.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Patrolman John Thelan saw a four-legged chicken hopping about the porch on his arrival home last night he raised his right hand and declared "Never again!" Investigation, however, disclosed the fact that the officer was not "seein' double." The chicken was hatched Sunday and is normal in every way aside from the extra pair of pedal appendages.

THIRD ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN MADE

State Rests Its Case in Trial of Patrick Quinlan.

Paterson, N. J., May 13.—A third unsuccessful attempt to wreck an Erie passenger train was made here today. A train from Suffern, N. Y., to Jersey City was approaching the station when two men jumped on the platform between the second and third cars and attempted to uncouple them. Trainmen prevented them from doing so. The men made their escape. Later two men were arrested, but the conductor was unable to identify them and they were released.

The state rested its case today in the trial of Patrick Quinlan, the Industrial Workers of the World leader, indicted for inciting to riot, and the defense began. The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Engineers Helping Inspector to Abate the Smoke Nuisance.

Railroads and Steamship Companies Will Be Approached Next.

R. E. Patterson, who has been investigating the smoke nuisance under the direction of the health department, states that he has found a general willingness on the part of engineers, agents and owners of buildings to do all in their power to abate the nuisance.

In many instances surprise has been expressed at the statement that their stacks have been pouring forth black smoke. The men responsible have been inclined to doubt the accuracy of the declaration. But in each case Mr. Patterson set their doubts at rest by showing them photographs of their stacks which he had taken but a day or two previous.

Mr. Patterson says that many engineers and firemen have already shown a great improvement. In some instances he has explained the proper methods of firing to avoid the smoking and in others he has taken the firemen or engineers to other buildings to get a demonstration. He has shown them other men who have been firing as big or bigger, boilers, without causing a noticeable amount of smoke.

Before he is through he will take the matter up with the railroads and steamship companies. Some of them are bad offenders but he believes that all of them will be willing to co-operate with the city to put an end to the smoke nuisance. One railroad has already issued a bulletin stating that it will hold its engineers responsible for the smoking of their locomotives.

Mr. Patterson is collecting data from other cities which have dealt with the smoke nuisance and in the near future he expects to have material on hand from which may be evolved an effective smoke ordinance.

Wife Asks Divorce.
Minnie Hall, aged 38, in district court today filed an action for divorce on the grounds of desertion, against her husband, Richard Hall, 47, to whom she was married in this city on Feb. 5, 1903. Mrs. Hall states in her complaint that they lived together as man and wife until Jan. 25, 1911, when without provocation of any kind, he deserted her.

For Petty Larceny.
Ellsworth Brown, alias Wyatt, is alleged by the police to have stolen a small electric fan from the Happy Hour theater and to have traded it for two chop sueys. He was arrested last night by Capt. Fiskett and Detective Toewe on a charge of petty larceny. He was not brought into court this morning.

Find Skeleton In Woods.
Coroner McComb received a message from Brookston yesterday afternoon stating that a human skeleton had been found in the woods about three miles back of Brookston. The bones will be brought to Duluth this afternoon.

Convicted of Trespass.
Joe Marley, alleged deaf mute, was convicted in police court this morning of having trespassed upon the property at 101 First avenue east. The police suspect him of having removed and sold much of the plumbing which was stolen from the house. He got $75 and costs or sixty days in the county jail.

Woman Is Arrested.
Martha Stewart caused the arrest today of Mrs. Edward Winkler on a charge of slander. She claims that the defendant called her "a squaw, an Indian;" that she had applied other epithets to her in the presence of others and had said that she had been drunk for three years. Mrs. Winkler pleaded not guilty and her trial was set for Thursday afternoon.

Straight Jail Sentence.
Andrew Kohil came home drunk yesterday afternoon and drove his wife out of the house. When she called for the police he hid under the sidewalk in front of their home near First avenue east and Second street. Patrolman Peter Barber hauled him out. In police court this morning he admitted that he had been drunk and got a straight jail sentence of fifteen days in the county jail.

BRYAN TOASTS THE 'PEACE DREADNOUGHT'

Says Compass Is Heart, Shells Carry Good Will Fired By Love.

Washington, May 13.—Foreign delegates in this country preparing for the centenary celebration of the Treaty of Ghent departed today for Philadelphia, after being the guests of John A. Stewart of New York at breakfast at the Army and Navy club.

Secretary Bryan today bade the delegates from the British empire good bye in the name of the United States. In the course of his remarks he said the preparations of the peace celebration were in the nature of the building of the greatest super-dreadnought, and that it was called "Friendship."

"Its compass is the heart," said Mr. Bryan, describing the allegorical ship of peace; "its shells carry good will, its missiles are projected by the smokeless powder of love, its captain is the Prince of Peace. I want you to drink with me to the battleship 'Friendship.'"

Mr. Stewart, chairman of the American executive committee, said a meeting would be held in New York May 22, when plans would be formulated for raising several million dollars for the American features of the proposed celebration. Similar meetings are to be held by sub-committees in London, Toronto, Melbourne and Ghent.

SURVEY OF CITY'S SANITARY NEEDS

Commissioner Hicken and Dr. Webster to Get First Hand Information.

Commissioner Hicken and Dr. Webster, director of public health, will make a personal survey of the city to gain a more intimate knowledge of the sanitary needs of the city.

Dr. Webster states that clean-up week resulted in much good and that hundreds of lots were put in first-class shape. But others still remain in bad condition and more drastic steps will have to be taken to compel the owners to clean them.

A number of extra sanitary inspectors are now busy in the city and all owners, agents or occupants of premises which do not comply with the regulations will be notified to put them in proper shape at once. If that is not done they will have an opportunity to make their explanations in police court.

SEEK GIRLS IN VICE INQUIRY.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—Pursuing its white slavery probe, the county grand jury called several witnesses in an effort to locate two girls—Mabel Johnson and Clare St. Ives—said to be well known to society men of Los Angeles.

The police have been searching for the girls, whose stories the grand jury wished to learn, as it was believed they would involve prominent men of the city in prosecutions for the offenses against minors.

Witnesses examined included Edson Love and Dr. A. G. Sheringer. The latter is said to have been called in a professional capacity at the Jonquil, the resort conducted by Emma J. Goodman, alias Jessie Rosenberg, alleged procuress.

Miss Goodman pleaded not guilty to the two indictments charging pandering which the grand jury recently returned against her, and on May 22 her trial will be set.

STARTS PROBE OF MINE HORROR.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 13. — Coroner James T. Heffran of Washington county has started an inquest into the deaths of ninety-six miners who lost their lives April 23, when an explosion wrecked the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company at Finleyville, near here. It was brought out by many witnesses that the mine was known as a gaseous one. Every effort was used, it was stated, to warn employes away from entries where fire bosses had found gas. It is said an effort will be made to show that a mine driver caused the disaster when he went into a prohibited entry with an open lamp.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police are now convinced that Henry Friedlander, whose body was found yesterday in an alley, was robbed and murdered. Lillian Friedlander, the dead man's daughter, who is a student in a Minneapolis high school, told the police today that $750 worth of diamonds that her father had worn for many years were missing.

She also said that a billbook found empty near his body was filled with banknotes on Saturday night two days before his death. It was believed last night that Friedlander had committed suicide.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PARK POINT MISSION.

The Park Point mission annual meeting was held last evening for the election of officers and trustees.

The following were elected: J. C. Gude, warden; George M. Paulus, secretary; F. L. Engelking, treasurer. Trustees—John W. Redmayne, George M. Paulus, J. C. Gude, F. L. Engleking.

Reports submitted by the ladies' guild, the mission treasurer and the Sunday school, show the work to be in a healthy condition. C. A. Knippenberg has been superintendent of the work since Dean Wurtele left Duluth.

BRITISH CRUISER GOES TO SMYRNA.

Saloniki, May 13.—The British cruiser Gloucester left today at full speed for Smyrna after the receipt of an urgent summons from that city where disturbances are threatened.

LIMITS BADGER PHONE LINES.

Madison, Wis., May 13.—The assembly went on record today as opposing any duplication of telephone companies in rural districts by engrossing the Kneen bill, requiring companies to secure a certificate of necessity from the railroad commission before building. The present law prohibits the duplication in cities, but the Kneen bill extends the principle to towns.

The lineup of the senate on the Ekern-McGovern controversy is thought to be fairly distinguished by its action today in giving the circuit court power to renew any order of removal made by the governor or the supreme court in case such officer was appointed with the senate's consent. The vote was 15 to 12.

The nomination of Clem P. Host as state fire marshal was tabled upon motion of Senator Skogmo.

IRISH TENOR ENDS SUCCESSFUL TOUR OF THE UNITED STATES

MR. AND MRS. JOHN McCORMACK AND CHILDREN.

John McCormack, the Irish tenor, has sailed for home after a successful concert tour of the United States. Mr. McCormack worked his way up from a choir singer in Dublin to a place in the opera company at Covent Garden, London, and Oscar Hammerstein brought him to the United States, where he made a great success. Mr. McCormack is especially successful in his singing of old Irish songs and especially popular with Irish audiences in the United States.

LESSON FROM OHIO RESERVOIRS

After Twenty-Four Years the Conditions Which Caused the Johnstown Flood Are Found Uncorrected in Ohio.

By MORRIS KNOWLES,
Member of Pittsburg Flood Commission.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

Early reports of the recent Ohio floods gave many the impression that the disasters were due to the failure of reservoirs; and as these reports were not generally corrected later, this impression no doubt remains in the minds of some. An investigation made during the week following the disasters showed this to be incorrect; but the escape was so narrow in some instances that the lesson of the reservoirs is driven home almost as strongly as if they had failed, with enormous destruction of life and property.

Most of the reservoirs in question belong to the Ohio state canal system, having been constructed to supply water to the canal in dry seasons. In addition, the Columbus water supply storage dam on the Scioto river was reported to have failed, causing a panic in Columbus, and a number of power dams in various parts of the state were the subjects of similar rumors. But these rumors were either entirely without foundation, as in the case of the Columbus dam, or else the dams were relatively unimportant, so that for the purpose of this article consideration may well be confined to the canal feeder reservoirs.

The Ohio canal system, built in the second quarter of the last century, consists of two main divisions—the Ohio canal, or eastern route, connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio river by way of the Cuyahoga, Tuscarawas, Muskingum, Licking and Scioto river valleys; and the Miami and Erie canal, or western route, connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio river by way of the Maumee, Auglaize and Miami river valleys. In addition, the Muskingum river was slackwatered below Zanesville. Numerous lateral, feeder and tributary canals completed a system which had cost a total of approximately $16,000,000, and which comprised in 1850 over 1,000 miles of canals, more than 300 lift locks and half a dozen reservoirs.

In the case of each of the main canal routes water was lacking on the summit level during the dry season, and the reservoirs were constructed to supplement the normal flow at such times. The Portage lakes, just south of Akron, were dammed about 1848 to supply the summit of the eastern route; Loramie and Lewistown reservoirs about 1850-60 for the western route; and the Licking reservoir, or Buckeye lake, about 1832 for the Licking summit. In addition, Grand reservoir, the largest in the state, was built about 1841, to supply the northern slope of the Miami and Erie canal, entering just below the summit level.

During the middle of the last century, just prior to the Civil war, these canals were very active, and brought in a gross revenue, during some years, of over $500,000. In 1851 the gross earnings were over $799,000, and the net earnings almost $470,000. But later the decline came, as it did on all of the old canals, and as the canal section and lock dimensions were outgrown by the demands of modern traffic, a gradual abandonment of navigation occurred, until now, and for many years past, there has been no canal freight traffic at all. Some of the branch and feeder canals have been officially abandoned, and either left to deteriorate without attention or else filled up. Several of the reservoirs were dedicated by the legislature by several acts passed since 1894, to use as public parks and pleasure resorts, with the provision, however, that they must be maintained for canal purposes.

For the past few years, therefore, the only revenues from the canal have been from the leasing of lands for oil well drilling and from the sale of water or water power to private or municipal water works and industrial plants. An annual appropriation has been made, in addition, to assist in meeting the expense of maintenance. There has therefore been no great stimulus to comprehensive and thorough work, and probably a great deal of the maintenance has been of a very perfunctory character. The canals and reservoirs are in charge of a board of public works of three members, but neither this nor any other state body or official appears to have had the specific duty of inspecting or investigating these reservoirs from the sole point of view of public safety.

The earth dam at the Portage lakes had no spillway whatever. The high water washed out a crevice in one of the embankments and overflowed a considerable area of farm land. At the Lewiston reservoir waves dashed over the south bank. Both banks were despaired of and only the most strenuous work by a large force of men from nearby towns saved them. The Loramie reservoir overflowed and two crevices in the embankment were washed out. The Grand reservoir is one of the largest artificial bodies of water in the world, covering 13,400 acres. A large force of volunteers worked with the laborers, filling and placing bags of sand, while a company of state militia patrolled the banks. No breaks occurred at any point, but the situation was critical for two or three days.

These situations teach a lesson that ought never to need repetition. It may be stated with certainty that reservoir failures did not contribute measurably to the flood damage in Ohio. The trouble was caused entirely by excessive rain, attending excessive run-off and insufficient channel capacity to carry the water.

But even if the reservoirs did not fail with disastrous results, the margin was a narrow one and the lesson is equally plain. It has long been one of the most firmly established engineering principles that an earth embankment must not be overtopped. Twenty-four years ago the Johnstown disaster due to insufficient spillway capacity, impressed this upon the whole world. And it is an interesting parallel that this was caused by an old reservoir originally built by the state for canal purposes and later abandoned and used for pleasure purposes. Yet here in Ohio were four earth embankment reservoirs, one of which has no spillway and a far from sufficient discharge pipe; two of which filled up so that the banks were overflowed, and one which did not overflow but filled up sufficiently so that waves were driven over the embankments. Nor was the rainfall one beyond the range of probability. The March storm probably broke all records for combined intensity, duration and extent. But for small drainage areas such as these (13 to 114 square miles) the rainfall was not unprecedented. At least two storms have occurred in Ohio in the last forty years in which the rainfall in forty-eight hours was greater than that recorded in any forty-eight hours of the late storm, at any station, excepting Piqua, which is below the reservoirs in question. And in at least one storm in the same period, the rainfall for twenty-four hours was within .06 inch of the highest twenty-four hour rainfall of last month (5.55 as compared with 5.61).

The faults in these reservoirs, then were not due to lack of knowledge as to what to expect, but only to failure to apply knowledge already gained. In this case, of course, state ownership put an extra responsibility on the state to see that its property was not a menace to its citizens. But, in any case, the state is the only institution which can see that such structures are adequately provided with the necessary facilities to make them safe. Johnstown ought to have taught the necessity of examining reservoirs and dams, and of enforcing suitable standards of design and construction. Yet if we examine the statute books of Ohio we find no legislative provision of this kind whatever. Nor is there any gauging of the water resources; a very necessary preliminary to a full understanding not only of the potentialities of regulated flow, but the possible menace from uncontrolled waste.

But before we criticise Ohio for this, let each reader pause and consider the situation in his own state. With only two or three exceptions, conditions are precisely the same throughout the country. Even in Pennsylvania, which has probably suffered more grievously from dam failures than any other state, there is as yet no public knowledge of the design and condition of all dams, and no authority in any official or body to correct a dangerous condition, even if it were discovered.

Must we wait for another Johnstown or an Austin flood to change these things? Or will we learn from what might well have occurred in Ohio, and make a repetition of such disasters—at least of those due to ignorance or neglect—impossible? The lesson is plain. Will we profit by it?

SAVES FARGOAN.

Switchman Pulls Merchant Out of Way of Moving Engine.

Fargo, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—John E. Hogan, a Northern Pacific switchman, made a sensational rescue of E. P. Turner, a local stationer, as the switch engine was crossing the tracks on Broadway. Turner, who is slightly defective in hearing, was in the middle of the track, and just as spectators thought he would be crushed to death, Hogan, who was standing on the footboard of the engine, caught Turner and whirled him out of the path of the engine unhurt.

INTERSECTIONS WILL BE PAVED.

Commissioner Murchison of the division of public works today visited the street intersections at Twelfth avenue west and Michigan street and Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street, which will be paved with sandstone on a concrete base. No trouble will be experienced at Twenty-first avenue but at Twelfth avenue the situation is more difficult because of the many sewer, gas and water mains and conduits. The city has appropriated $2,500 to pay for the material and the street car company will pay for the labor. The work will be started shortly.

May Recover From Burns.
Minot, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Marie Almy, the last of the three children of Chester Almy to be rescued from the home when it was destroyed by fire, probably will recover from burns.

CLOSE IS SLUGGISH

Dull Finish to Dull Session of the Grain Market.

Wheat Is Lower at Close and Flax Slightly Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 13.—A sluggish finish closed a sluggish market this afternoon with the tendency wholly downward excepting in the case of July flax. May wheat, with no transactions to speak of, lost 1c; July wheat closed at a loss of ⅞c, the lowest point of the day, and September wheat shed ⅝c to ¾c during the session with marked inactivity to its credit or discredit. Other markets were affected similarly. July durum closed ⅝c to ½c off the opening, and cash wheat closed at the same figure as July. Oats lost ⅝c from its little bulge of yesterday, while rye and barley remained unchanged.

July flax did not have a great deal of activity, but managed to win an advance of ½c. May also gaining an equal amount. September closed as it opened, without a quotation recorded for it.

The market throughout was unusually dull and very few quotations marred the blackboard.

A combination of factors has made the grain market bearish today, and even though it was predicted by the wise ones in other markets that a rise is sure to come, the first part of the session at least, failed to see anything resembling even a check to the decline. It is believed that almost all covering of shorts is over with, Europe is believed to be over-bought and therefore there are no exports booked, better and better crop reports are coming in each day, and it is said that tired holders are letting go of their holdings.

The Duluth market was exceptionally slow in all options, there being a minimum of quotations.

Nothing happened in May wheat on the Duluth board all morning, not a single quotation being chalked up. July opened even and at noon had fallen off ½c, while September, after opening even fell off ¾c. May durum opened at yesterday's close and remained unchanged to ½c off. July durum opened even and fell off by noon ¼ to ⅝c. May flax remained steady and inactive, July flax went up ¼c and September flax failed of recognition entirely.

J. E. Nicols of Regina, Sask., was a visitor on the trading floor of the board of trade this morning. He was the guest of W. D. Newcomb, and those to whom he was introduced were much interested in his conversation regarding conditions in the territory in which he lives.

Mr. Nicol is not in the grain business, but in view of the fact that the raising of grain is the chief industry of the country surrounding Regina he is deeply interested in it. He said today that the seeding is all done in that section, the farmers having seeded early.

"The ground is in splendid condition for the development of the seed," said Mr. Nicol today; "but what we need is some warm weather. The season has been very backward, but we hope conditions will be changed soon so that we will get out another bumper crop. With a change of weather and a moderate amount of rain this will be brought about. Business is duller in Regina than it was last year, especially in real estate. We believe this to be the result of tight money. Settlers are coming in as fast as ever though and we feel that the depression is only temporary."

• • •

Apropos to the cold weather complaint: A dispatch was received on the board today from Winnipeg in which it was stated that the weather today is so cold there that people are wearing their winter fur coats.

The following European crop summary was received by cable this morning:

"United Kingdom—According to an official report the crop outlook is fairly satisfactory. According to an unofficial report the wheat plant is much discolored.

"France—Outlook fairly satisfactory although in the western region the condition of the crop is only moderate. Supplies of native wheat larger and arrivals of foreign wheat large. Fine weather is needed.

"Germany—Crop outlook favorable with weather reasonable. Native offerings larger and export demand smaller.

"Russia—Crop outlook in the south very favorable. In center and east drouth is confirmed. The recent frost was very severe and most authorities believe crop has been damaged. Supplies in the southwest light and in the southeast fairly large.

"Roumania—There have been good general rains which have benefited wheat crop. Planting of corn is about finished. Supplies of native wheat are small.

"Italy—Both corn and weather reports show improvement.

"Germany—According to an official report the condition of winter wheat for May is placed at 80 per cent, and rye at 76 per cent, as compared with 80 per cent for the same period last year. The area of wheat abandoned owing to winter killing amounted to 1.3 per cent."

European visible supply: Wheat, 87,408,000 bu as compared with 87,360,000 bu last week; increase, 48,000 bu.

Rycroft, Chicago, says: The usual rate of domestic consumption of grains this year applies equally to oats. Usually between 70 and 75 per cent of the crop is held for use and seed upon the farm where grown. This year it was officially reported on March 1 that the percentage which would leave the farm this year was one of the largest on record and when applied to the largest crop ever grown, indicated a domestic consumption upon a much greater scale than usual. The records of movement to date substantiate this. From Aug. 1 to May 10 the receipts at primary points have been 203,000,000 bu against 129,000,000 bu last year. This shows an increased movement of 74,000,000 bu in nine months, of which increased exports have taken care of 32,000,000 bu, leaving a net increase for domestic use of 42,000,000 bu. On the face of these receipts the visible supply is now 1,300,000 bu smaller than a year ago. The present price of May oats is about 22c below what it was a year ago, on the theory that there is still a world of oats on farms still to come out. The farm consumption has probably also been upon an enormous scale and these supposedly burdensome stocks may prove unsubstantial. With the visible supply small, domestic consumption upon a heavy scale, and the new crop getting started badly in large producing districts, the oats market is gaining friends.

REMARKS—Rain fell over Iowa, Southern Minnesota, South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri; heavy rain occurred at Sioux Falls, S. D. H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

§—Not included in the district averages.
‡—Maximum of yesterday, minimum of last night.
—Highest yesterday.
†—Lowest for twenty-four hours, ending at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time.

Note—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 inch or more. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Weaker on Good Crop Prospects.

Chicago, May 13.—Favorable crop prospects, both domestic and foreign, had a weakening effect today on wheat. Besides the good weather of the last twenty-four hours there was a forecast of beneficial rain in the American winter wheat belt. Predictions were current also that the European visible supply would show an increase. The opening was unchanged to ⅛c down. July started at 89⅜c to 89½c, a decline of ⅛c to ¼c, and eased off to 89¼c.

Lack of export demand induced a further break. The close was weak with July 7⅛@1c net lower at 88⅝@88¾c.

Expected showers helpful to recent plantings put the corn market on the down grade. July started unchanged to ⅛c lower at 56¼c to 56⅜c and descended to 55⅞@56c.

Improvement of Eastern inquiry led to a rally, but the market soon fell back. The close was weak at 55¾@55¾c, for July, ½@⅝c under last night.

Oats suffered from selling pressure due to promised relief from drought in Illinois and Indiana. July, which opened the same as last night to ¼c down at 36c to 36⅛c seemed inclined to keep within that range.

Neglect made provisions drag. First sales were a shade to 7½c lower with July as follows:

Pork, $19.20; lard, $10.75; ribs, $11.00.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Cheering Tone of the Foreign Markets Has Bullish Effect.

General List Averages Well Above the Close of Monday.

New York, May 13.—The more cheerful tone of the foreign markets when they reopened after a triple holiday had some effect on trading here and this influence was reinforced by moderate buying for London account. Uncertainty continued to characterize the dealings, however. Professionals operated in a hesitating manner, their reluctance to take a decided stand in the market being ascribed to various unsettled problems hanging over the market. In spite of this hesitancy, there was a firm undertone and when it became evident that pressure against several stocks failed to shake the general list, prices moved definitely upward. Union Pacific, Steel, Amalgamated, Chesapeake & Ohio and the coalers rose sharply.

Bonds were irregular.

There was no sign of reviving interest in speculation when the stock market opened today. The leading stocks started on a level or slightly above yesterday's close, although weakness of some of the less active shares gave the market an irregular appearance. Bethlehem Steel, Canadian Pacific and Jersey Central fell back a point or more each.

A drop of a point in Reading caused some sympathetic depression elsewhere, but the effect on the general market was trivial. Shorts took back their stocks and losses were speedily made up.

Completion of the forenoon demonstration against the shorts took the vim out of the market and speculation became sluggish and easier. Canadian Pacific returned to its lowest, but the general list averaged well above yesterday's closing figure.

The resiliency shown by the general market in face of the decline in Canadian Pacific caused a late demand for the standard stocks. Reading advanced to above 160 and there was distinct improvement in Union Pacific, Steel, Lehigh Valley and other favorite shares.

The market closed strong. Bull operators were encouraged by the ease with which prices advanced and promptly put out a wider variety of buying orders. Various important stocks were carried a point or so above yesterday's close. Among them were Union and Southern Pacific, Steel, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated.

Railroads

TWO ROADS LOSE REVENUE

Iron Range and South Shore Report Decreased Earnings.

All Other Lines Touching Head of the Lakes Have Increase.

The revenues and expenses of all the railroads in the United States for the first nine months of the 1913 fiscal year show that of the local lines, the Duluth, South Shore and the Duluth & Iron Range roads, the earnings were less than those of last year. All others show a considerable increase.

The Duluth & Iron Range road from passengers and freight received a total revenue of $4,859,560, while the total operating expenses were $2,347,441. The taxes paid by the road amounted to $235,237. The operating income amounted to $2,292,567, which is $51,-885 less than the first nine months of the 1912 fiscal year.

The South Shore road received a revenue of $2,246,129, while the operating expenses were $1,978,868. The road paid out $161,913 in taxes. The operating income is $239,631, which is a decrease of $123,982 from the income of the nine months in the 1912 fiscal year.

The D. M. & N. road gives as its income $2,692,853, an increase of $286,-601. The Great Northern's total income is $23,234,187, an increase of $2,550,519. The Soo road had an increase of $2,374,268; the Northern Pacific, $2,540,062, and Chicago Great Western, $747,445.

HUGE SUM FOR EQUIPMENT

Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern Will Spend $85,000,000.

Preliminary estimates just completed by the mechanical and traffic departments of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern companies show that fully $85,000,000 will be expended on equipment for the two transcontinental railway systems during the next three years. The Canadian Northern will require at least $50,000,000 worth of equipment, while the Grand Trunk Pacific has plans to expend $35,000,000 for similar purposes.

A summary of the new equipment required by the Canadian Northern on its transcontinental system from Quebec to Port Mann, B. C., show passenger locomotives, freight engines, sleeping cars, first-class coaches, tourist cars, second-class coaches, dining cars, observation cars, baggage coaches, mail cars, express cars, box cars, and all kinds of subsidiary equipment such as are necessary in the operation of the various divisions.

The Grand Trunk Pacific, which is to open its ocean-to-ocean system, from Moncton, N. B., to Prince Rupert, B. C., within two years, will require passenger locomotives, freight engines, sleeping cars, first-class coaches, second-class coaches, tourist coaches, dining cars, express cars and box cars.

GENEROUS OFFER FROM EMPLOYES

Men Want to Help Railroad Pay for Flood Damage.

Vice President Park of the Illinois Central railroad is in receipt of a request signed by a large number of employes of the road asking that they be permitted to contribute one day's pay to help in the repairs made necessary by the recent floods.

The letters came unsolicited, and are said to be without precedent in railroad work. Mr. Park, thanking the men, declined the generous offer. Those who signed the request also asked to be allowed to carry on a campaign to induce other employes to give a day's wages.

The request follows:

"In our several capacities as railroad employes we recognize the fact that great loss and damage has been sustained by the Illinois Central Railroad company on account of the cyclone at and around Omaha and the flood disaster, which has been more less general over its entire system, resulting in great damage to bridges, track and equipment, as well as serious delay to traffic; also the loss of many lives and homes in those localities.

"That the Illinois Central Railroad company may have our assistance, co-operation and support in rebuilding and repairing its bridges, track and equipment, we hereby appeal to you to join us in the contribution of the equivalent of one or more day's pay to that end."

GIVE 2-CENT RATE.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rates of 2 cents a mile have been granted for the North Dakota state fair, which will be held here during the week of July 26. These rates also will apply from points in Northern Minnesota. This is the first time since the passage of the 2½-cent passenger rate law by the North Dakota legislature that special rates have been granted for the state fair. Already the Great Northern and Northern Pacific have made the concession, and advices to the same effect are expected soon from the Soo Line.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, containing a power of sale, executed and delivered by L. G. Fassett, as mortgagor to Felthous Land Company, a corporation under the laws of the State of Minnesota, as mortgagee, dated the 13th day of February, 1913, and thereafter duly filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis in the State of Minnesota on the 19th day of February, A. D. 1913, at 8:30 o'clock A. M., and therein duly recorded in book "295" of Mortgages on page 30; and that said default consists of the failure of the mortgagor to pay to the mortgagee the sum of Forty-six and 39-100 Dollars ($46.39), that being the semi-annual installment of interest becoming due on the notes and indebtedness secured by said Mortgage on April 15th, 1913, said amount still remaining unpaid; and that the mortgagee has exercised the option reserved to the holder of said note and mortgage by the terms of the latter, and has declared, and does hereby declare, the entire indebtedness secured by said mortgage, immediately due and payable, and that there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon said indebtedness the sum of One Thousand, Four Hundred four and 62-100 Dollars ($1,404.62); and that no action or proceeding has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.
AND THEREFORE, By virture of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, which, by reason of the default aforesaid, has become operative, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the land therein described and subject to the lien thereof, the same being situated in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit:
East half of Northwest quarter (E½ NW¼) and Lot one (1) of Section seven (7), East half of Southeast quarter (E½ SE¼) of Section twelve (12), and East half of Southwest quarter (E½ SW¼) of Section fifteen (15), in Township Fifty-nine (59), North of Range Twenty (20); Northwest quarter of Southwest quarter (NW¼ SW¼) of Section Twenty-two, (22), in Township Fifty-eight (58) North, of Range Twenty-one (21), and West half of Northwest quarter (W½ NW¼) of Section Thirteen (13), in Township Fifty-nine (59) North, of Range Twenty-one (21), West of the Fourth Principal Meridian, containing Three Hundred Ninety-nine and 28-100 (399.28) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey, will be sold at auction to the highest bidder therefor for cash by the Sheriff of said County of St. Louis, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said indebtedness, together with the sum of Seventy-five Dollars ($75.), the amount stipulated in said mortgage to be paid as attorney's fees in case of the foreclosure thereof, and the other costs and expenses of the foreclosure proceeding; and that the said sale will be made at the front door of the Court House of said County of St. Louis, in the City of Duluth and State of Minnesota, at ten o'clock in the foren on on the 26th day of June, A. D. 1913, the said premises being subject to redemption from such sale for one year after the date thereof, as provided by law.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.

Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

RATES ARE LOWEST.

The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.

A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.
This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

FARMER USES POKER, REVOLVER AND RAZOR IN SERIES OF CRIMES

Kills Wife and Shoots His Daughter and Her Husband.

Cuts Throat With Razor Before Police Can Reach Him.

Two Homes Near Sparta, Wis., Are Scenes of Bloody Deeds.

Sparta, Wis., May 14.—Because of family troubles, William Hogue, aged 70, retired farmer, today killed his wife with a stove poker; shot his daughter, Mrs. Guy Wilson, three times with a revolver; seriously wounded his son-in-law with two shots from the same weapon, and then committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Mrs. Wilson is dying. Her husband may recover.

Hogue arose at 7 o'clock this morning, and after a dispute with his aged wife attacked her with a poker, striking her again and again.

Went To Daughter's Home.

Assuring himself that she was dead, the husband hurried to the home of his daughter a half mile distant. Answering her father's knock, Mrs. Wilson opened the door and was greeted with a fusilade of revolver shots. Three bullets struck her.

She fell to the floor dying, just as her husband, attracted by the shots, rushed to the rescue, and seized Hogue as he was about to fire again at the woman lying upon the floor of the hallway. The infuriated assailant fired twice in his son-in-law's face, escaped from the grasp of the wounded man, ran home ahead of a pursuing crowd, took a razor from a trunk, lay down beside his wife and cut his throat from ear to ear. He was dead when the police and citizens burst in.

Hogue and his wife had quarreled frequently regarding the disposition of their property, they being well-to-do. Growing out of the disputes, Hogue conceived a violent dislike for his daughter and son-in-law, believing that they were in collusion with his wife to deprive him of his estate. Last year Mrs. Hogue left her husband as the result of repeated quarrels. She returned six months ago, without, however, their relations becoming of the best. The quarrel this morning brought matters to a climax.

27,000 RAILROAD MEN GET RAISE IN WAGES

Agreement Is Ratified By Federated Shop Crafts.

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—Twenty-seven thousand railroad shopmen will receive increases of wages as a result of an agreement ratified by members of the Federated Shop Crafts and the Southern railway and allied railway companies and the Wabash system at the headquarters of the federation in Kansas City, Kan., last night.

The allied companies of the Southern railway are the Mobile & Ohio, Queen & Crescent, New Orleans & Northeastern, Virginia & Southwestern and the Georgia & Florida Southern roads.

Boilermakers, blacksmiths and painters of the Southern railway and allied lines hereafter will receive 41 cents an hour instead of 39 and 40 as in the past. Their helpers were granted a raise of one-half cent an hour. The car men received an increase of 2 cents an hour. All the shopmen are to work nine hours a day.

The contract may be terminated by either party giving thirty days' notice, and is binding on all labor organizations in the federation.

An increase of 2 cents an hour was granted to the 6,000 shopmen employed by the Wabash railroad.

It was announced that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has granted a raise of 2 cents an hour to its 500 boilermakers, but has not yet signed with the federation.

The federation is trying to obtain uniform shop rules in all the railway shops of the United States.

CANADIANS SEIZE AMERICAN VESSEL

Poaching Charged Against Fourth Craft at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., May 14.—Seized for poaching in Canadian waters, the American halibut schooner Valiant, Capt. John Courage, of Seattle, was towed into Vancouver harbor last night by the government patrol boat William Jellife. Capt. Newcomb of the patrol says he sighted the American vessel lying a little inside the three mile limit. He immediately gave chase and captured her after a run covering six miles.

Capt. Courage and his four seamen were brought to Vancouver. He is alleged to have denied that he had fish on board, but when the holds were torn open live halibut were discovered. The vessel is now lying in English bay awaiting proceedings for confiscation.

The Valiant is an eighteen ton gasoline schooner, carrying two dories. She is owned by the Pacific Net and Twine company. The Valiant is the fourth American fishing vessel seized for poaching by Canadian fishing patrols in recent years.

Freighter Crippled.

New York, May 14.—The freighter Chesapeake of the New York & Baltimore Transportation company was anchored off Barnegat on the Jersey coast this morning, waiting for tugs to tow her back to New York. Outward bound for Baltimore, she broke her tail shaft last night and signalled a passing steamship that she needed help from the city. She declined aid at the time, preferring to wait for tugs.

WORRY OVER NAVAL LEAK

Officials Have No Clue as to Who Stole Battleship Plans.

Those Taken Thus Far Are of Little Value, It Is Claimed.

Washington, May 14.—Detectives investigating the theft of plans for the electrical wiring of the dreadnaught Pennsylvania, declared today that publication of the "leak" probably would hamper their work and might prevent the solution of the problem. None of the clews so far developed, it is said, definitely involves any foreign nation.

The fact that the ordinance and steam engineering bureaus for many months have been missing plans and documents relating to American vessels and their armament has created alarm among officials, although none of the missing papers, Secretary Daniels declared, was important or contained secrets of advantage to foreign nations. Some say the losses probably were the result of carelessness of clerks, but the investigating forces of the government continued to endeavor to unravel the mystery.

Second Set Stolen.

The second set of plans of the new dreadnaught Pennsylvania, stolen from the bureau of steam engineering, were taken, it was learned today, between the evening of Saturday, March 22, and the following Monday. The plans were duplicates of those stolen March 4.

The navy department issued this statement:

"On the night of March 4 (inauguration day) when there were a large number of people in the state, war and navy building assembled to witness the inaugural fireworks, there were taken by persons as yet unknown, from the draughting room of the bu-

FEAR SERIOUS RIOTS IN CINCINNATI STRIKE

Cars Are Started By Strike-breakers Under Heavy Police Guard.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 14.—Serious trouble was anticipated today by city authorities, following the announcement that the Cincinnati Traction company had refused to recognize the recently organized union of its employes, who have effectually tied up the transportation of the city since last Saturday by their strike. The company today prepared to resume service on all of its lines, employing men who are not affiliated with the union. The union men last night voted unanimously to break off all negotiations with the company until the union is recognized.

Realizing the gravity of the situation, Mayor Henry Hunt last night issued a proclamation asking that citizens refrain from congregating in groups and from interfering with operation of the street cars. He also promised police protection to the cars which the traction company intends to start.

Since the tieup became effective Saturday, motorcars and trucks of all kinds have been at a premium.

Police Surround Cars.

The first effort to operate cars since the negotiations with the strikers were broken off was made by the traction company today. Surrounded by police on foot and mounted, three cars were started from the Avondale barns for the downtown district. In addition police and detectives were stationed along the route. No police rode on the cars. Mayor Hunt trailed the cars in his automobile.

Before the cars started the police were given instructions to act vigorously in case of trouble. They were told to meet force with force and to fight fire with fire.

BOMB SENT TO JUDGE TRYING SUFFRAGETTES

Recipient Soaks It in Water Before Opening the Package.

Two Bombs Found on Train and One House Is Burned.

London, May 14.—A business-like bomb, addressed to Henry Curtis Bennett, the police magistrate who is hearing the charges against the suffragette leaders, was delivered by a letter carrier at Bow Street police court today. The package was marked "immediate," but disliking the looks of it, the cautious court officer took it outside and plunged it into a pail of water.

When the package was opened it was found to contain a tin tobacco box bound with wire and filled with gunpowder, shot and a cartridge. Attached to the cap end of the cartridge was a nail, which if it had been struck would have fired the bomb and exploded its contenets.

Two Bombs on Train.

Suffragette bombs were found today in one of the passenger cars of a local train running between Kingston-on-Thames and London on the Southwestern railway, making the third outrage of this kind on the same line within two months.

On the arrival at Waterloo the conductor noticed in one of the compartments three parcels which aroused suspicion. On investigation two of them were found to contain tin canisters filled with combustibles and wrapped in suffragette placards. No explosion occurred and the bombs were handed over to the police.

A militant suffragette "arson squad" destroyed a large, untenanted residence, "The Highlands," at Sandgate-on-Sea, near Folkestone on the English channel, last night. Postcards addressed to the "dishonorable prime minister" and to the "dishonorable Reginald McKenna, home secretary,"

ARREST IS MADE IN ST. PAUL BOMB CASE

John Conte Suspected of Attack on E. A. Russell's Home.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Conte is being held in the central police station, suspected by the police of having thrown a bomb last night through the window into the home here of E. A. Russell, partially wrecking the structure. According to the police Conte previously had threatened the Russells and formerly was a suitor for the hand of Mrs. Russell.

Eight persons narrowly escaped death when the bomb was thrown. The occupants of the house, all of whom were seated on a porch, were thrown into the street by the force of the explosion, which was heard two miles away. None was seriously hurt.

According to the story Russell told the police, he recently received Black Hand letters warning him to leave his wife, and threatening both with death unless the warning was heeded. The bomb was thrown into the bedroom occupied by the Russells. An Italian with whom Mrs. Russell kept company prior to her marriage recently asked her to divorce her husband, the police say.

STEEL COMPANY COST FIGURES ARE JUGGLED, SAYS FEDERAL REPORT

Francis Walker Gives Statement on Probe to the President.

"Very High Profits" Are Shown in Handling of Ore.

Washington, May 14.—Part 3 of the report of the bureau of corporations on its extended investigation of the steel industry, dealing particularly with the cost of production; was submitted to the president today by Acting Commissioner Francis Walker. A discussion of the vast difference between "book costs" and "net costs" featured the report, figures being given to demonstrate that iron and steel manufacturing companies usually include in their statements of costs of production large profits paid to subsidiary ore and transportation concerns.

For Bessemer steel rails, for instance, the report stated that the average book cost of the United States Steel corporation was $21.53, while the actual net cost, excluding intercompany profit on transportation and material, was only $16.67. Similar differences were shown in the manufacture of other steel products.

Parts 1 and 2 of the bureau's report were submitted during the Taft administration by Former Commissioner Herbert Knox Smith.

MAKE MOVE TO RAISE RATES

Eastern Railroads Seek Reopening of Former Advance Cases.

Commerce Commission Has Petition Under Advisement.

Washington, May 14.—Eastern railroads took the first step toward an attempt to increase their freight rates, when representatives of fifty-two lines east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac conferred today with the interstate commerce commission on a formal application to reopen the "eastern advance case" which was decided against the railroads two years ago.

The application in effect is to rehear the request for increases which the commission denied about two years ago. The old application asked for a uniform 5 per cent advance on all through freight on the basis of the New York-Chicago rate. The case was a noted one, commonly known as "No. 3400."

Today George F. Brownell, vice president of the Erie railroad; George S. Patterson, general counsel of the Pennsylvania; Clyde Brown, general solicitor of the New York Central lines and Hugh Bond, general counsel of the Baltimore & Ohio, representing the fifty-two Eastern railroads concerned in the old case, appeared before the entire membership of the interstate commerce commission, to ask rehearing, which, if granted, would substantially be an application for a 5 per cent increase.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that the commission had received the petition and would take it under advisement.

POWERS' FORCES TO OCCUPY SCUTARI

Figures on the Bulgarian Losses in the War Are Given Out.

Vienna, May 14.—The international force which is to occupy the former Turkish stronghold of Scutari until the new Albanian government has been established, was landed at the port of San Giovanni di Medua this morning. It was enthusiastically received by the Albanians.

Killed, 330 officers, 29,711 men; wounded, 850 officers, 52,550 men; missing, 3,193.

A conference of the Austrian and Hungarian ministers was held yesterday to arrange for further demobilization, now that Balkan peace is assured.

DYNAMITE AND POWDER EXPLODE, KILLING THREE.

Cumberland, Md., May 14.—Seventeen hundred pounds of dynamite and seventy kegs of powder in a magazine of a coal company at Eckhart exploded today, killing three men and doing damage to houses in the community estimated at thousands of dollars.

DULUTH WILL BE ONE OF THE IMPORTANT POINTS ON CANADIAN NORTHERN

COL. A. D. DAVIDSON.

Col. A. D. Davidson Talks of Work and Plans of Great Railroad.

Member of Canada's Triumvirate Sees Rosy Future for City.

Duluth Not on Any Side Track or Stub Line.

Col. A. D. Davidson of Duluth, Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg and London talked today to a Herald reporter about Canada and the Canadian Northern railroad.

No man is better qualified to speak of these two subjects than Col. Davidson. As the right hand man of Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann in their world-wide enterprises and as the man who started the great American invasion of Western Canada, he knows the inside history of the development of the Dominion of Canada as probably no other man outside of his two distinguished associates does. They call the three of them the Nation Builders in Canada and in England.

Col. Davidson was the man who engineered the coup that enabled the Canadian Northern railroad to enter the heart of Montreal and acquire terminals there that are unequalled, at a net cost of nothing. He helped engineer a similar coup at Toronto. He was largely instrumental in having the Canadian Northern road take over the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific and make Duluth one of its important terminal points. He was the man who handled the immigration movement into Western Canada that made it possible for the Canadian Northern to operate its lines at a profit.

One of Triumvirate.

For these reasons and others Mr. Davidson stands as one of the triumvirate at the head of the Canadian Northern interests and what he had to say this morning is of vital interest and importance to Duluth.

"I have just returned from two months spent in England," said Col. Davidson. "I returned by way of Quebec, and will leave tomorrow night for Toronto, where Mrs. Davidson and myself will spend the summer. Sir Donald Mann has kindly given us the use of his city home there for the summer.

"In the first place I want to speak about immigration to Canada. We expect this year to receive between 450,000 and 500,000 immigrants. About 45

REPUBLICANS KEEP UP FIGHT

La Follette Takes Part in Attack on Democrats' Program.

Joins With Penrose in Offering Amendment to Tariff Bill.

Washington, May 14.—Senate Republicans were again ready today to prolong consideration of the public hearings issue they have raised as the opening wedge in their fight on the Underwood bill.

Senator Penrose's amendment to Senator Simmons' reference motion has now become the Penrose-La Follette amendment, the Pennsylvanian having accepted a proposal that manufacturers be required to answer sixteen questions relating to production and transportation costs here and abroad, and the percentages of duty that represent cost differences and profits.

Democratic leaders deny they have any fear of letting the public hearing amendment come to a vote. It was in the midst of the debate yesterday that Senator Bacon moved for an executive session, and that gave rise to rumors that the majority wanted more time to

FIRE SURROUNDS SASKATCHEWAN TOWN

Men, Women and Children Fight Prairie Fire at Andrews.

Saskatoon, Sask., May 14.—Many lives were threatened last night when a prairie fire surrounded the town of Andrews, west of here, destroying several buildings and cutting off the escape of the inhabitants. Men, women and children joined in fighting the flames, which were got under control after the postoffice, a general store and smaller buildings had been burned to the ground.

Firemen rescued a family living over the general store shortly before the building collapsed.

CHICAGO TO BUILD BASEMENT GARAGE

Mayor Harrison Announces Plan to Keep Streets Freed.

Chicago, May 14.—Plans for a mammoth municipal underground garage beneath Grant park, which fronts on the lake off the city's downtown district, were made public today by Mayor Harrison. They provide for the concrete housing of automobiles, each section to be constructed between east and west streets, to cost $125,000 and accommodate 225 machines.

"We are planning to spend some $6,000,000 to widen Michigan avenue," said the mayor. "The present system of parking automobiles in the boulevard practically ruins it, from the artistic standpoint. It is ridiculous to expend an enormous sum in improving the thoroughfare and then use it as a public garage."

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon and resumed debate on Penrose-La Follette amendment for public hearings on tariff bill.

JURY BLAMES LAWS FOR MINE DISASTER

Verdict Is Returned on Killing of Ninety-Six Men in Explosion.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—Placing the legal responsibility on the mine foreman and moral responsibility on the mining laws of the state, the coroner's jury, which investigated the deaths of ninety-six men in the recent explosion at the Cincinnati mine at Finleyville, returned its verdict last night. The jury blames ineffective and defective laws for the disaster.

SCARED WOMAN FINDS COON UNDER HER BED

Calls Neighbors and Starts Old-Fashioned Hunt in Marinette.

Marinette, Wis., May 14.—When Mrs. E. D. Fitzpatrick, looking for the proverbial man, glanced under her bed last night, she was startled by two shining eyes, which, upon investigation, proved to be those of a large raccoon. Alarmed, she ran from the house and sought assistance from neighbors. A coon hunt followed and resulted in the bagging of the animal by Prof. Bullock of a local educational institution. The coon had been chased by dogs, and entered the house by an open window, seeking refuge under the bed.

BACTERIA CAN'T LIVE ON THE BANK NOTES

Ink Used in Printing Them Is Germicide, Declares Rucker.

Washington, May 14.—Those who hesitate to amass wealth because of the warning to "beware of the billions of bacteria that lurk in every bill," need hesitate no longer, according to Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon-general of the public health service. He declared today that tests and examinations of currency, both washed and unwashed bills, showed them to be singularly free from germs. He attributed this to the ink used in printing the bills, which, he said, had proved to be an almost perfect germicide.

"The public health service was called upon to examine the soiled money returned to the treasury," said Dr. Rucker, "after it had traveled around the country and had passed through the hands of thousands of persons. To our surprise, it was found to be singularly free from bacteria, and the ink used in the bills is given the credit."

The ingredients used in the government's ink are not made public, the recipe for the manufacture of the ink for the bureau of engraving and printing being jealously guarded.

WATER TURNED INTO MAINS

New Duluth Now Has Adequate Supply for Fire Protection.

Householders Will Immediately Make Connections With the Mains.

New Duluth now has an adequate water supply for fire protection.

At 6 o'clock last evening the water was turned into the newly laid mains running through the principal streets of the suburb and a pressure of about fifty pounds to the square inch is given. Tests made by Charles Pearson, captain of the volunteer fire company, show that the pressure is sufficient to meet the needs of the suburb.

The water system will be extended throughout the suburb this summer. About two miles of mains has been laid and a large number of the people of this section whose homes front on streets with the mains have made plans for immediate connection with the system.

A tank having a capacity of about 100,000 gallons has been built on the top of the hill near the foot of Commonwealth avenue. This tank will be supplied with its water from wells near the river bank, one of which is supplying about 100 gallons per minute and the other about thirty-five gallons. Surplus water is being run into a reservoir tank at the foot of the hill, which has a capacity of 300,000 gallons.

The installation of the system has cost about $200,000. It is expected that it will cost the residents of New Duluth about the same sum before the majority of the homes are connected.

Many of the business men and residents have expressed their satisfaction on the completion of the system. They say that it will materially reduce their cost of fire insurance, it having been high in the past owing to the lack of this protection.

IN WEST DULUTH COURT

Andrew Rudiszcloski and John King were arrested on a warrant charging them with having stolen carpenter tools from Peter Powlukz of New Duluth. The theft is alleged to have taken place Monday. In appearing before Judge Lanners yesterday afternoon both men pleaded not guilty. They were released on $25 bail each to await a hearing of the case on May 22.

* * *

Judge Lanners left last night for St. Paul to attend the meeting of the Order of Eastern Star. He expects to return tomorrow or Friday.

Al Hunter, 22, was picked up shortly after midnight lying in front of the Grand Avenue theater by Officer Ek. He was charged with being drunk. He will be taken to the central court for hearing.

NO DEMAND FOR LATE CLOSING

Laboring Men Are Willing to Have Stores Closed Early.

That storekeepers of West Duluth who maintain their business places open until a late hour at night are not doing it for the accommodation of the laboring men is the allegation made by union men residing in this end of the city. They say that the trade after 6 o'clock in the evening amounts to very little and claim that the experience of merchants who have for some years closed early is that the business has not fallen off because of adopting the earlier closing.

Merchants who have closed early for several years claim that there was no loss of business by so doing. The hardware merchants, all of whom look their stores at 6 o'clock, say that the increased day business had made up for the loss of what little trade there was in the evening.

"The hardware and grocery stores probably cater more to the laboring man than any others," said Frank H. Wade of Wieland & Wade this morning. "We have had no requests to remain open for their benefit. The men purchase their tools and other necessities during the day or Saturday evenings. None of our trade has gone uptown since the early closing went into effect seven years ago."

FOREMAN AT MILL SEVERELY INJURED.

John Nettleton, a foreman at the Virginia & Rainy Lake sawmill at the foot of Fiftieth avenue west, was severely injured about the body and had three ribs broken in an accident at the mill yesterday afternoon. Mr. Nettleton had been attempting to replace a belt which had jumped off a wheel. He fell to the floor, striking against a table in his descent. He was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Ashley, 135 North Sixtieth avenue west.

Peterson Funeral.

The funeral for Andrew Peterson, 65 years old, 110 North Sixty-fifth avenue west, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Finnish Lutheran church, Sixty-fifth avenue west and Nicollet street. Interment will be in Pine Hill cemetery.

Membership Campaign.

A new set of by-laws was adopted and plans made for a campaign for membership was started at the meeting of the Norden Sick Benefit society at Victor's hall, last night. The local lodge has over 100 members at present and it is proposed to boost this to over 200 during the next two months.

Railroads

RAILWAY WORK GOING SLOWLY

Expected Construction in North Dakota Not Up to Expectations.

Fargo, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Except railway extension, the development and construction work in North Dakota is proceeding in a most satisfactory manner, contractors reporting more jobs at this time of the year than for many seasons and the carpenters and brick masons are busier.

There is disappointment over the delay in some of the promised railway construction work for which political conditions and the financial situation in the East are blamed. Work is progressing on the contracts for the extension of the Northern Pacific on the line north of Mandan from Stanton into Dunn county. But nothing is being done on the proposed line from Edgeley to the Cannonball, for which considerable material had been assembled at Edgeley.

Great Northern Proceeds Slowly.

The Great Northern is busy on contracts for its work along the Yellowstone river in McKenzie county but little progress is being made across the Berthold reservation to connect up with this line.

The Soo has done nothing on its proposed extension across the Berthold reservation, but is pushing the new line from Ambrose to Montana.

The Midland Continental is grading an extension from Jamestown to Wimbledon and the new short line from Fairmount to Veblen is making headway. The incorporation of a company at Dickinson for a line from that point to Mott gives hope to a great many settlers in the locality south of the Northern Pacific.

N. Y. C. TO UNIFY ITS SYSTEM.

New York, May 14.—Plans of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company for the unification of some of the important lines of the system to simplify the corporate organization and furnish a broader basis for the permanent financing of improvements, were announced by J. P. Morgan & Co. A special meeting of the stockholders will be held June 16 to pass upon the plans, already approved by the directors.

With the approval of the New York state public service commission, the New York Central railroad has been consolidated with or has absorbed by merger, several lines, principally in New York state, that it previously held under lease or controlled and operated separately. It is now desired to consolidate the enlarged company with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, more than 90 per cent of the stock of which the new York Central railroad already owns, and other New York Central lines west of Buffalo.

Erb Returns East.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—Newman Erb, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway company and party arrived here last night from a tour of inspection of the lines. Mr. Erb said he came from the East more particularly to study crop and business conditions in the Northwest, which he declared to be good. He came from South Dakota and left this morning for Chicago en route to New York.

Heavy Immigration.

The April passenger list of aliens through New York was 103,980, an increase of 33,531 over last year. For the first four months of this year the total number of immigrants handled was 268,067, compared with 202,977 last year, an increase of 65,000. Last year about 405,000 aliens entered the country through New York city.

NEW CONDUCTOR OF PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA PROVES HIS WORTH

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH STRANSKY.

Joseph Stransky and his wife sailed for Europe this week. Mr. Stransky is the conductor of the Philharmonic orchestra. He succeeded Gustav Mahler at the head of that organization; and with a line of predecessors including Anton Seidl, he had to meet severe comparisons. In his first season he was eminently successful in preserving the reputation of the old Philharmonic and adding to it in some ways. During the season just past which was his second he made an equally agreeable impression not alone in New York but in other cities which he visited. Mr. Stransky was described by some German papers when he first came here as a "distinguished dilettante." But he has proved to be a skilled conductor. Mr. Stransky was married in Germany when on his vacation last year.

FIRST WIFE TO HELP SECOND

Clara Kittelson Walhood to Testify for Antonio Vollen Walhood.

Strange Matrimonial Mix-up in District Court May Be Straightened Out.

"United we stand, divided we fall," is the motto which has been adopted by Antonio Vollen Walhood, Duluth hat trimmer, and Clara Kittelson Walhood, Bellefourche, S. D., the two alleged wives of Chris Walhood of Pekin, N. D. The former is seeking annulment of marriage on the ground of bigamy and the South Dakota woman is after a divorce.

Recently wife No. 2, or Miss Vollen as she chooses to call herself, came before Judge Fesler in district court with her story. While it tended to show a double marriage on the part of Walhood, there was no conclusive evidence on this point. The court held up the case for more evidence.

Today Attorney G. W. C. Ross for Miss Vollen secured an order from the court commissioning John W. Ralsch of Bellefourche, S. D., to take testimony from wife No. 1, who goes by the name of Clara Kittelson Walhood. It is understood that she has agreed to testify against her husband. The deposition will be taken and forwarded to Duluth.

It is claimed by Miss Vollen that Walhood was married to Clara Kittelson at Hudson, Wis., on Dec. 27, 1910. He was married to Antonio Vollen at Bessemer, Mich., on Jan. 3, 1912.

The records of the first marriage show a marriage contract between "Chester" Walhood and Clara Kittelson, while in the second instance it is "Chris" Walhood and Antonio Vollen.

The difference in the first names is expected to be explained by the testimony of the South Dakota wife.

FATHER OF INJURED GIRL BRINGS SUIT

Thomas Veitch Asks $11,000 Damages From Wholesale Grocery.

Before Judge Cant and a jury this morning, Thomas Veitch, father of Margaret Veitch, 16-year-old girl who was crippled for life in a coasting accident on Eleventh avenue west two years ago when a bobsled on which she was riding collided with a sleigh claimed to have been left standing in the street by the Gowan-Lenning-Brown company, is suing the firm for $11,000 damages.

He wants $10,000 damages for the loss of the girl's services and $1,000 for the expense he has been put to.

At the last term of court, a case for the benefit of the girl was brought by the father in which damages amounting to $26,000 were asked. The jury found in favor of the defendant. The suit was brought on the theory that the defendants were liable because the sleigh into which the bobsled bumped had been left in the street in violation of a city ordinance.

MANY DEFAULT ON WHEELAGE TAX

Special Detective Checking Up Delinquent Owners of Vehicles.

Although hundreds have taken out their wheelage tax licenses for 1913, many have still failed to comply with the ordinance. At the end of this month Edward Whalen, special detective of the legal department, will begin to check all the vehicles in the city. He states that warrants will be issued for the arrest of all who are delinquent.

Mr. Whalen was already started to go over the lists of those who have taken out their tags at the office of the city clerk and expects to be prepared to bring in those who are behind without losing any time. It is estimated that about half of the vehicles in the city are now being operated in violation of the wheelage tax ordinance. The revenue derived from this source will run to about $15,000 and is applied to the maintenance of streets and avenues in the city limits.

JURY DRAWN IN BURGLARY CASE

A jury was drawn in Judge Dancer's court this morning to try the three men who are accused of burglarizing the residence of O. L. Mather, 201 South Twenty-first avenue east on the night of March 27 last.

The defendants are Fred Davis, aged 38, St. Paul; George Byron, 28, Madison, and George Marshall, 28, St. Paul. Their attorney is George B. Sjoselius. County Attorney Warren E. Greene is directing the prosecution.

It is claimed that the burglars broke through a basement window into the vegetable cellar, broke a lock there, and at the top of the cellar stairs broke a glass door. They are accused of having spent most of the night in the house.

The principal articles taken were Mr. Mather's clothes. Other articles missed were some canned goods, a gold-filled watch case, a revolver, a flashlight, and a few other articles.

MAXWELL LAUDS DULUTH IN SOUTH

Apostle of Homecroft Movement Praises Zenith City at New Orleans.

George H. Maxwell, who started the local homecroft movement, gave Duluth considerable praise in an address at New Orleans last Saturday evening.

Mr. Maxwell delivered an address on school gardens before a large crowd of school children and during his talk referred many times to the extent of the homecroft movement in this city. The New Orleans Item in reporting the address, said in part:

"Paying special tribute to the gardens of Baton Rouge, George H. Maxwell, executive director of the Louisiana Reclamation association, and a great advocate of the homecroft system of town planning, delivered an interesting lecture on the benefits to be derived from school gardens at the Jefferson school social center meeting under the auspices of the school board of the Civic Federation of Women's Clubs Saturday evening.

"He emphasized the importance of training children to know the value of the land, and what could be grown and how a small plot of land might be made substantially to assist in the upkeep of a family. The city of Duluth, he said, which had been known as the dearest city in the United States, by the adoption of the homecroft system had become the cheapest town to live in in the Northern half of America."

PATROLMAN IS DISCHARGED

Jacob Hangartner Drunk on Duty and Is Summarily Let Out.

Patrolman Jacob Hangartner was taken from Superior street and Lake avenue late yesterday afternoon in a drunken condition and summarily discharged by Chief Troyer.

The policeman was pulled from his beat while in uniform and on duty and sent to the headquarters police station in the patrol wagon.

Yesterday was the second time that Hangartner was taken into the station drunk since the first of the year. The first time he was suspended for thirty days without pay. He had been on the force about a year.

This morning Patrolman Romeo Ducharme turned in his star, gun and other equipment, tendering his resignation to take effect at once. Patrolman Ducharme did not give any reason for leaving the force.

Since the commission took charge a month ago, four patrolmen have severed their connection with the department. Fred Grandmaison was discharged when he was found in a saloon after hours, having let himself in with a key furnished him by the bartender. Edward Crager, chauffeur, resigned about the same time. Hangartner was given his time yesterday afternoon and this morning Ducharme resigned.

Y. M. C. A. MEMORIAL TO HERBERT W. COFFIN.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Duluth held on May 13, 1913, it was unanimously voted that the following sentiments of appreciation in memory of Herbert W. Coffin be spread upon the records of the association, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and that a copy be furnished to the daily press of the city.

"He who always may be counted upon to meet an appointment merits the admiration and regard of all his fellows. This was a marked characteristic of Mr. Coffin and it was one of the factors that made him a vital force on the board of directors of the association. His interests were broad enough to include every activity of the association and his judgment was valued in the councils of the board.

"For twenty-two years Mr. Coffin was an elder in the Presbyterian church. His life was simple and unpretending and he followed the scriptural injunction, 'When thou givest alms let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth.'

"The members of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association feel that the association has lost a wise counselor and each member a friend."

TWO CHINAMEN ARE ARRAIGNED

Celestials Charged With Immoral Conduct Indicted By Grand Jury.

Three more arraignments were made before Judge Dancer in district court this morning on indictments returned by the May grand jury.

Albert Q. Lee, manager of the Tuxedo chop suey, and Kin Sue, a waiter, were before the court to answer to white slave charges. Two counts were returned against each. Dorothy Torvund and Elizabeth Luce, the two young women employed by the police department to lay a trap for the Chinamen, will be the star witnesses for the state. Both entered pleas of not guilty to both counts. B. M. Goldberg is their attorney.

Paul Morris pleaded not guilty to the indictment returned against him charging him with grand larceny, first degree. He is charged with having stolen $50 from one Nicola Radanchich on April 22 last. H. E. Fryberger was apointed by the court as his attorney.

"In some parts of the country the experiment is being tried of a woman jury."—N. Y. Globe.

Now we have a case that we'd like to put up to the women of Duluth. It's a case of neckwear showing that riot of colors called THE BULGARIANS, who have apparently captured American Fashion as well as Adrianople.

We'd like the ladies' judgment before we duplicate orders. We think — but what's the use of thinking—cravats won't sell unless the women approve of them.

What's your opinion, ladies?

The comparison of a suit a woman can buy for herself for about fifteen dollars with our COLUMBO $14.50 SUITS for young men is also a very interesting case for any jury.

PROBLEM IN FINANCE.

Canadian's Claim Against Uncle Sam Not Yet Figured Out.

Washington, May 14.—Theron Rudd, when he absconded with $5,000, less $183, awarded to a British ship owner for the seizure of his vessel on the Great Lakes two weeks before the outbreak of the War of 1812, not only impoverished the United States district court of New York of which he was clerk, but also started a controversy that has existed since. The case now has come up before the international tribunal for the settlement of pecuniary claims, which is in session here.

Henry James Bethune of Canada, is the claimant. He is the heir of the ship owner, and he has pressed his claim under many administrations and before many congresses. Its legality never was seriously questioned, but for some reason or other the legislation necessary to meet it always has failed. The $5,000, minus $183, plus 6 per cent compound interest since 1812, more than a century, reaches a handsome amount.

"Just how much is it?" a British member of the tribunal was asked today.

"My word!" he ejaculated, tearing up a bit of scrap paper on which he had jotted a small army of figures. "Don't ask me. But it makes a bally good bit."

A verdict and a check, it is expected, will be won by Mr. Bethune.

ONLY 30 PER CENT DIVIDEND IN 1912.

London, May 14.—Owing to the loss of the steamer Titanic, the laying up of the steamer Olympic for repairs, and because of labor disturbances, the annual dividend of the Oceanic Steam Navigation company, owners of the White Star line, is only one-half that paid last year. The dividend for 1911 was 60 per cent. The company paid a dividend of 30 per cent in March, but owing to the loss of the Titanic and other troubles no final dividend was recommended. A sum of $540,790 was written off on account of the sinking of the Titanic.

BITTER FEELINGS IN ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

Direct Vote Resolution May Be Delayed Until Next Week.

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—After yesterday's fight over the initiative and referendum resolution, final action on which was postponed to save it from defeat, members of the house of representatives were late in convening today. Effects of the bitter contest, which was not terminated until 1:30 o'clock this morning, were apparent on every hand.

Representative Karch today expressed the opinion that further consideration of the resolution would not be taken up before next week.

Had Majority on Roll Call.

The roll call last night showed the resolution had received 102 votes, the required majority, but on the verification of the roll Representative Kilens, Democrat, announced that an error had been made in recording him for the resolution; that he did not vote, and did not wish to be recorded. This left the resolution one short of the constitutional majority.

Before the vote was announced, the speaker put a motion postponing further action on the measure, and with the house in an uproar, declared it carried. He then declared carried a motion to adjourn until today.

Catholic Knights Rest.

Washington, May 14.—Delegates from thirty-nine states to the twelfth triennial convention of the Supreme Council of the Catholic Knights of America abandoned serious work today and started on a round of recreation. A pilgrimage to the tumb of Washington at Mount Vernon, followed by a dinner at a river resort, were two of the events on the program. The delegates will be received by President Wilson tomorrow. The business of the council thus far has been transacted in executive session.

EIGHT MORE PACKAGE CARS

Great Northern Improves Service From Duluth to the West.

Cars Will Run Daily, Regardless of Amount of Traffic.

The Great Northern railway has advised the traffic commission of the Commercial club of the addition of eight daily package cars from Duluth on the lines running to the West through Minnesota and North Dakota. This is a most welcome announcement to all shippers to this territory, for it should do away with all possibilities for delay and should place them in a position to meet all competitors in the territory on an equal basis.

It was about two years ago that the traffic commission worked out a scheme for direct package cars from Duluth to the North Dakota lines of the Great Northern railway and persuaded the railway to give it a trial. Prior to that time Duluth shipments were sent to the Hamline transfer near the Twin Cities and consolidated with shipments from those points into the package cars going from there. This gave the Twin City shippers an advantage. In their plea for package cars the Duluth interests were not able to show a tonnage that promised a paying revenue from the beginning; in fact, the amount was considerably below that, but the Duluth people asserted that if given the service they would very soon put it on a paying basis.

After considerable negotiation the cars were finally ordered on, and it was the more friendly attitude Duluth people were beginning to manifest toward the Great Northern railway that accomplished it. From the operating standpoint there was no inducement for establishing the service: it had to be brought about by friendly negotiation and with Duluth in a hostile attitude it would have been impossible.

Twenty-two cars were put on at that time. These left Duluth on fast freight trains and ran direct to the junction points from which the lines to which they were destined branch off. Some of these cars have been running daily but a number of them only three times a week, due to lack of tonnage for daily service in some cases, and in others to the fact that the service on some of the branch lines was tri-weekly.

Within a very few months after these package cars were installed the tonnage had increased several fold and the Great Northern people expressed themselves as well satisfied and conceded they were paying.

Asked for More.

The service to many of the points which was only tri-weekly was, however, not entirely satisfactory and with the growth of the traffic the Duluth people felt justified in asking for more. The traffic commission presented actual evidences of delays to the officials and asked that consideration be given to a further improvement of the service. The general officials of the road made a special trip to the territory to study causes of delay and find the proper means for correction.

One of the results is the addition of the eight daily cars to the Duluth service. These cars are to go out daily regardless of the tonnage available for them, the road taking its chances on that. They are:

One car serving stations from Red Lake Falls, Minn., to Warroad, Minn.

One car serving from Shirley, Minn. to St. Vincent, Minn.

One car from Redland, Minn., to Carlisle, Minn.

One car from Eldred, Minn., to Kent, Minn.

Freight which will now go in these four cars has previously gone to Redland and from there loaded into the cars for the several lines.

One car for Minot, N. D., exclusively. A car to Minot has been running prior to this time when there was sufficient tonnage for it; hereafter it will run daily regardless of tonnage.

One car for Devil's Lake, N. D., proper, for the Farmer's line for the stations from Grand Harbor to Fero and from Barton to Antler.

One car to go direct to Gassman, N. D., first station beyond Minot, and peddle from there to Williston, N. D., this car also to contain freight for the Crosby and Wildrose branches.

One car to go direct to Todd, N. D., first station west of Williston, N. D., and peddle from there to Havre, Mont. This car will also carry freight for the Plentywood branch in Montana.

SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION FAVORED IN SENATE

Favorable Report Ordered By Committee—Clapp for It.

Washington, May 14.—Senator Chamberlain's resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution to give the ballot to women was ordered favorably reported today by the senate woman suffrage committee. Chairman Thomas and Senator Owen, Democrats, and Senators Jones, Sutherland and Clapp, Republicans, voted for the resolution, while Senator Catron, Republican, voted against it.

When the resolution is reported by Chairman Thomas within a few days, an effort will be made to have it taken up during the present session if tariff legislation does not interfere.

OBJECTS TO CHILDREN AT SUNDAY GAMES

St. Louis Man Asks That Grandchildren Be Taken From Father.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—Charging that Lloyd Rickart, secretary of the St. Louis American league club, permitted two children in his care to attend Sunday baseball games, their grandfather today filed a petition in the supreme court at Jefferson City, asking that the children be restored to him. The children are Letitia and Barbara Breck, 12 and 14 years old. Their grandfather is Lewis B. Tebbetts. Mrs. Rickart is Tebbetts' daughter. Tebbetts last winter was removed as guardian of the children by the probate court.

The petition for the restoration of the children to Tebbetts says the conduct of spectators at the Sunday ball games is "loud and boisterous and at times such as to necessitate police interference to prevent people from rioting with the ball players and umpires."

It also is contended that the atmosphere of Sunday baseball games is unfit for young girls.

The petition says that Mrs. Rickart has not sent the children to school since the court placed them in her custody, and that they are not being sent to Sunday school or taught the religious belief of their mother, Christian Science.

ASK VREDENBURGH ABOUT O'HARA CASE

Illinois Senators May Find Some Startling Evidence.

Springfield, Ill., May 14.—Thomas Vredenburgh and Samuel Davis, both of Springfield, will be summoned to appear and testify tonight before the senate investigators who are inquiring into the charges of immorality made against Lieutenant Governor O'Hara. An executive session of the committee was held today, at which it was decided to hear the testimony of these two witnesses. Tonight's meeting will be open to the public.

Vredenburgh will be asked to tell the committee his version of the trip to Chicago and the extent to which Lieutenant Governor O'Hara participated in the events of that occasion.

Davis is the liquor dealer who secured from Maud Robinson of Springfield the affidavit involving Lieutenant Governor O'Hara in the affair. He will be examined relative to the motive that inspired him to procure the affidavit.

It is persistently rumored that the detectives who have been working on the case the last week have unearthed some startling evidence. It is said that Davis, in securing the Robinson affidavit, did not act upon his own initiative, but that his action was inspired by other interests.

BAXTER ACQUITTED OF MISUSING FUNDS

Former Ohio Superintendent of Banks Allowed to Go Free.

Columbus, Ohio, May 14.—Holding that the facts as stated in the indictment did not constitute the crime of converting money to his own use, Judge Kinkaid, in the criminal court, today ordered a verdict of not guilty in the case of Frank E. Baxter, former superintendent of state banks. Mr. Baxter was placed on trial yesterday on a charge of using $35,000 of the funds of the Columbus Savings & Trust company to pay off a note to the estate of the late John W. Gates, the transaction being made through the Bankers' Trust Company of New York. The funds, it was shown, were returned with 4 per cent interest.

BADGER LEGISLATURE FAVORS INITIATIVE.

Madison, Wis., May 14.—The legislature last night approved the proposed constitutional amendment providing for the initiative and referendum, the senate concurring in the assembly joint resolution favoring direct legislation. The measure will go to the people next year. The resolutions for constitutional amendments which received final passage provide for state loans for farmers and increasing the compensation of members of the legislature from $500 to $1,200 a term.

AMERICAN HEN MOVING SOUTH.

Washington, May 14.—The great American hen has made her way into the Plata country of South America, according to information received today by the state department, which declares the government of Uruguay has just imported 600 American hens for the improvement of the native stock. The fowls are to be distributed to experimental poultry stations. Alfonso Burke, an American, has been appointed chief poulterer of the Uruguayan republic.

DIPLOMAT QUITS TURKISH POST.

Constantinople, May 14.—The British ambassador to Turkey, Sir Girard Augustus Lowther, resigned his post today owing to ill health. Sir Girard, who was secretary to the British embassy at Washington from 1899 to 1901, married in 1905 Alice Blight, a daughter of Atherton Blight of Philadelphia.

Mr. Straw from Baltimore arrived yesterday in Duluth. He caught a bad cold last night and will be laid up in the hothouse of the Columbia Hatel for a week or two.

FOUR GERMAN TARS KILLED.

Heligoland, Germany, May 14.—Four German bluejackets were killed and three others seriously injured today by the explosion of a high pressure cylinder in the engine room of torpedo boat S-148, while the vessel was participating in maneuvers near here. The two torpedo boat flotillas returned to Heligoland with their flags flying at half mast, and landed the injured for treatment at the naval hospital.

To Cut Up Big Ranch.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—By a $2,000,000 deal, the consummation of which was announced here last night the famous "C" ranch in Texas, said to be the largest in the world, and owned by the late Nelson Morris of Chicago, will be transformed into ordinary farms. The deal was negotiated in Great Britain by O. W. Kerr of Minneapolis.

MOTOR FROM NEW ORLEANS

Mr. and Mrs. Coryate S. Wilson Make Novel Trip in Car.

Have Little Trouble in Journey of Over 2,000 Miles.

Coryate S. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson are back from a motor trip from New Orleans that started on the first of April. Precisely 2,193 miles were covered in twenty-one days of traveling, and during the entire trip the travelers were stuck but twelve times, eleven of these delays being occasioned below the Tennessee state line. After getting out of the morass country of Mississippi there was little trouble, the last delay of this nature being encountered this side of Marshfield, Wis.

Mr. Wilson used what he termed the "slip guard" to get the automobile out of places where it was grievously encumbered below the wheel line with rich oil Southern mud. The idea is to tie a rope to the machine and the other end to a tree, or to an iron stake. If there happens to be no tree present, and then slipping the slack of the rope around a powerful pole of some six or eight feet, and having an upright as the axis around which this revolves, use this means of leverage for extricating the machine. Mr. Wilson declares that by this means a man could easily outpull the strongest team of horses. Mrs. Wilson pulled the machine out of the mud by this means at one of the places where it was stuck.

"The trip was wonderful," said Mr. Wilson. "We came up with the seasons, so to speak. "Down in the far South there was the dog wood, the magnolia and all the foliage and flowers of early spring. Once out of the swamp land country of Mississippi the roads were great, this being especially true the further north we progressed. There are some old pike roads throughout Kentucky and Indiana that are great.

"Automobiling through the country is the best way to become familiar with it and also the people. Down in Mississippi we were towed across a river because that was the only means of getting to the other side. Another time we forded by driving up stream and then coming back to the opposite bank by a gentle slant. The water came over the running board but we managed to get to the other bank.

"During the trip we encountered little trouble with tires, or any breakdowns to the car. We stopped at Memphis, Jackson, Louisville, Mammoth cave, Lexington, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, Oshkosh and many other places along the route. Part of the trip up we followed the national automobile route that leads from Detroit to New Orleans."

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor motion pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and talking pictures.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

Amusement Notes.

The kinemacolor program at the Lyceum yesterday was headed by an interesting picture entitled, "Rambles in Paris," which is the first of a series of pictures of the famous city. This picture shows the magnificent Church of the Sacred Heart, the Place de la Nation, the markets, the Hotel de Ville, the Mansion House of Paris, the Tuileries gardens, the statue of Joan of Arc in the Rue de Rivoli, the Luxembourg gardens with their fine fountains, the Louvre, the French National gallery and many other interesting scenes in this beautiful city. A comedy of unusual merit is "Other People's Children," which is in kinemacolor.

* * *

The last week of the Orpheum season promises to be one of the best of the entire year at the Duluth theater.

With one of the best bills of the entire season, cool weather, and the desire to take advantage of the last opportunity for three months to see Orpheum vaudeville, the vaudeville lovers are out in force.

No more popular team has been seen at the Orpheum since it opened than Gladys Clark and Henry Bergman, who are featured in "The Trained Nurses," the headline act on this week's bill. It is a big and lively musical comedy in itself, but the two stars made it doubly enjoyable with their songs and clever nonsense.

A party of trained nurses from St. Luke's hospital were in the audience Monday night, and while the act hardly added anything to their professional knowledge, it seemed to give them keen enjoyment; probably because it is so different from what trained nursing really is. Trained nurses are not commonly seen leading orchestras, doing dance numbers, and changing costumes every few minutes, as they do in the sanitarium where the scene of the little plot is laid. But the real nurses were not captious critics, and none of them were heard to find fault with the actions of the stage nurses.

The bill will continue until Saturday night with a daily matinee, and after the Saturday evening performance the theater will be closed for the summer.

* * *

Vaudeville acts full of ginger, song and fun will close their engagement at the Empress theater with the two performances tonight. In the musical line there is Eddie Badger, an eccentric musical comedian. His many selections are given with the accompaniment of clever tricks. In the fun and laugh department, the honors go to Charles Lindholm and his large company of artists who present "The Man From Minnesota." The Singers De Luxe are three accomplished young women. The sole by Miss Hixon, who sings "I'm the Lonesomest Girl in Town," is a clever piece of singing and is pleasing theater-goers at the Empress. A comedy and musical feature is the slang expressions and singing of the De Grey Four.

Besides a splendid vaudeville show the Silent Actors offer some very good feature photo plays.

The matinee girl—the girl of unlimited adjectives and bon-bons—by no means confines her admiration to players of opposite sex; she is equally as fond of the favorites of her own sex.

Three-fourths of the patronage enjoyed by Miss Rosalind May when she appeared in "Along Broadway" in Chicago, was bestowed by women. She was voted a "dear" on the first night of the presentation of the cabaret musical comedy. Miss May will be seen sharing honors with Will Stanton and Hattie Kirchner in the musical comedy, "Along Broadway," to be presented at the Empress for three days, commencing with the matinee tomorrow. Miss May receives a great number of notes from girls and answers many of them. It is good policy to cultivate these admirers, all actresses know, for they are inveterate theater-goers, and where the women go the men must.

DRY ZONE CASES ARE APPEALED

Government Carries Famous Indian Liquor Cases to High Court.

Bemidji, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an effort to establish the legality of old Indian treaties under which "Pussyface" Johnson, then an employe of the Indian bureau, sought to close more than 1,000 saloons extending from a part of St. Paul and Minneapolis to the Canadian line, and under which he did close many saloons, the government has appealed to the United States supreme court the decision of Judge Willard.

Judge Willard held the Indian treaties invalid and granted a perpetual injunction restraining the government agents from further molesting the liquor dealers.

Official news of the appeal became known when a citation was received here by ex-Judge M. A. Spooner who, with Attorney E. E. McDonald of this city, obtained the injunction from Judge Willard on behalf of twelve Bemidji liquor dealers. Final judgment was given on the injunction proceedings in Minneapolis on April 20, 1911.

Attorneys Are Excited.

The government citation calls upon attorneys for the involved saloonkeepers to appear before the United States supreme court in Washington within sixty days.

Under the Federal law an appeal may be taken on a writ of error at any time within six months to review such judgment in the circuit court of appeals, or if there are grounds upon which a judgment is directly in line for appeal to the supreme court the time limit is at any time within two years after final judgment has been given.

So far as Judge Spooner is concerned, he will contend for the saloonkeepers, that the present appeal can not properly be made to the supreme court; that the only legal appeal was one to the circuit court and that the time limit for an appeal there has long since expired.

MERCHANTS CONDEMN ILL-ADVISED AGITATION

Deplore Blocking of Proposed Improvement in Great Northern Service.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Association Held at Holland Hotel.

The Duluth Retail Merchants' association, at its meeting last evening, commended the Northern Pacific railroad for the improvement of its service to and from Duluth, and condemned the attitude of those people who prevented a proposed improvement of the Great Northern service from the Western Mesaba range.

The resolutions expressing the sentiments of the association follow:

"Whereas, The merchants recently made a request upon the Great Northern Railway company for an improvement in the local passenger service between Duluth and Grand Rapids, Minn., and Mesaba range points, and

"Whereas, The Great Northern officials responded handsomely by making arrangements for a new local train between Grand Rapids and Mesaba range points and Duluth, which provided service whereby the people of those communities could come to Duluth, spend three hours ond forty minutes in Duluth and return home the same day, and

"Whereas, The merchants of Duluth were very much pleased with this evidence of friendly interest in Duluth on the part of the Great Northern Railway company, therefore be it

"Resolved, That this association regrets that the attitude of one of the citizens of Duluth should have operated to prevent the consummation of the plans above referred to.

"And be it further resolved, by the Duluth Retail Merchants' association, That a vote of thanks be extended to the Great Northern officials for their good intentions and that a request be made that efforts to establish improved service be not abandoned."

Tribute to Northern Pacific.

"Whereas, The merchants of Duluth have long felt the need of improved passenger train service between Duluth and Western points, and

"Whereas, This sentiment having been brought to the attention of the officials of the Northern Pacific Railway company, and

"Whereas, That company has responded in magnificent style, by the establishment of what is substantially through train service between Duluth and the Pacific coast, therefore be it

"Resolved, by the Duluth Retail Merchants' association, That a vote of thanks be extended to the president and other officials of the Northern Pacific Railway company for the prompt and liberal response to the request of Duluth interests for an improved service."

Enthusiastic Meeting.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic that the association has ever held. It took place at the Holland hotel following a banquet served to the members and their guests, and much business was done. About sixty members were present and several new members were admitted. The guests of the evening were City Commissioners Leonidas Merritt and Roderick Murchison. In addressing the commissioners, President J. J. Moe, who presided at the meeting, told them that the object of the association is co-operation, and that it is the desire of the members to co-operate with the city commission as an association and as individuals to make the commission form of government a success and beneficial to the city. Both commissioners replied, thanking the association for its offers of help, and expressing the belief that the co-operation from such a representative body of business men would be of inestimable value.

A little matter aside from that of regular business came up in compliment to Judge J. D. Ensign of the district court bench. On motion, it was decided to send to the judge today, which is his 80th birthday anniversary, a letter of congratulation and a handsome bouquet in token of remembrance and esteem of the association members. This motion was carried with enthusiasm, accompanied by general and hearty applause.

The association received and accepted an invitation from the Superior Retail Merchants' association to attend a banquet and meeting to be held at the Hotel Superior on the evening of June 3. At a recent banquet and meeting the members of the Superior association were the guests of the Duluth association and were very much elated over the entertainment and attention given them. It is believed that these gatherings of the two associations will do much to create a bond between the business men of the two sides of the bay.

Public Market Plans.

The members of the association believe that they have solved the market problem. The plan which met with enthusiastic indorsement last night was embodied in a report of the market committee and signed by Phil Bayha, E. Mendenhall and A. B. Stewart, who have worked hard on the matter. It has been indorsed by the city commissioners and by Chief Randall of the fire department. The report has also been indorsed by the Jackson Farmers' club, consisting of farmers on the Pike Lake road district and it is believed that most farmers and market gardeners will add their indorsement to it. The Jackson club, by the way, plans to invite the association out to their district as soon as the roads are in better shape, and show that they feel kindly toward the association for its efforts to get the city and farms in touch.

The report follows:

"After carefully going over the ground and corresponding with other cities regarding the market question, your committee has concluded that the open market meets the needs of our community better than any other plan available at this time. We find in many cities that farmers are granted permission to back their wagons up to the curb and display their produce along the curb on benches in the rear of them for blocks together in central sections.

"It occurred to us that First street in front of the Armory and Second avenue east along the west side of the Armory would be the best places offered in this end of the city. We found a vacant room on the First street front of the Armory with a stove in it, that with small expense could have lavatory accommodations installed. This would be a necessary convenience for the market men and their wives. We also found horse sheds on a vacant lot near by and there is a livery stable within one block.

"We have talked this location over with some of the farmers and they like it, but suggest that a shelter awning over the sidewalk would be a comfort and necessary.

"We saw Mayor Prince and told him of these plans and he is in hearty accord and told us that he and the other commissioners would be glad to work out any reasonable plan that our association would propose; we therefore suggest that a vote be taken on this proposition and if it meets with the approval of the majority, that our secretary be instructed to make this request in the name of our association, so that the improvements necessary for the farmers' comfort can be made promptly, so as to be fully ready for the coming crop."

A letter from A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of the agricultural department of the Commercial club, was received and read. He asked the association as to the extent of their cooperation in the proposed agricultural exhibit in the fall, and asked if the association would give premiums for home gardens, market gardens and children's gardens. The association decided that it would and put the matter into the hands of a committee.

Summer Entertainment.

A report was read by A. B. Squires, acting chairman of the committee appointed to co-operate in the proposed week-end entertainments to be established in Duluth for six weeks during the summer months. The committee reported that the affair looks as though it will be one of the greatest successes ever attempted by Duluthians.

The matter of the design of the trophy cup which the association will put up for the most artistically decorated water-craft in the annual Venetian fete, was taken up. It will be in the shape of a cup to be competed for each year and to be possessed permanently by the one winning it in three successive competitions. Secretary A. C. Pearson submitted a design which furnished the basis for ideas at any rate and was favorably commented on. However a motion made by E. A. Silberstein was carried, which was to the effect that the matter of design be put up to the school children of the city and a suitable reward offered as a prize. The amount of the prize was left unsettled for the time. A committee was named to see Supt. Denfeld to get the matter started.

A committee was appointed to consider the matter of getting circus license charges raised from $250, the present amount, to $500 or $1,000, and to have circuses prohibited from showing here on Saturdays or July 4.

The smoke nuisance was also discussed at length, chiefly for the benefit of the commissioners present.

DRUGGED WHEN MARRIED

Mill City Woman Proves Claim to Judge and Is Divorced.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—Testifying that she was drugged when married in the home of her mother, Mrs. Nellie A. Wulff told Judge Molyneaux that she did not know she was married until the morning after the ceremony.

She testified that she had met Paul B. Wulff, who represented himself to be a railroad conductor, two weeks before the date of the wedding, Jan. 4, 1913; that she remembered having a little drink on that day, and knew nothing more until the following morning, when, she said, he declared:

"You are Mrs. Paul B. Wulff, my wife."

They lived together just two weeks, she said. Judge Molyneaux allowed the divorce.

FORMER DULUTHIAN IS BORNE TO GRAVE.

Little Falls, Minn., May 14.—The funeral of Joseph Wozniak of Swan River, who died in a hospital Sunday night from erysipelas, was held this morning at Swan River, interment being made there.

Mr. Wozniak had resided in Morrison county for thirty-one years, and previous to coming to this county resided at Duluth for ten years. He had a fine farm a short distance east of the Swan River church.

He is survived by his wife and nine children, John and Peter, who are married and live in Pike Creek; Stanislaus and Edmund, who live at home; Mrs. Joseph Juffel of this city; Mrs. John Pierovitz of Swan River, Mrs. M. Wilcox of Duluth; Miss Barbara Wozniak, who teaches school at Flensburg, and Miss Blanch Wozniak, who lives at home.

IF DESIRED CAN STUDY NORWEGIAN.

Hillsboro, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The study of Norwegian has been made an elective subject in the Hillsboro high school as a result of numerous petitions presented by local residents. The Hillsboro school is the third in the state to take this step.

Greek, Latin, German, etc., heretofore given a place in the high school courses, are contended to be of less value than Norwegian to the average North Dakota high school because of the large percentage of Norwegians residing in the state.

DULUTHIAN'S MOTHER DIES IN LAURIUM.

Laurium, Mich., May 14.—Mrs. William P. Raley, aged 65, a resident of the Copper Country for nearly a half century, died at the family residence at 240 Tamarack street Sunday night, following an illness of four months.

She was born in Madison county, N. Y., and in 1886 removed to Eagle Harbor, where the family resided previous to ten years ago. Her husband died in July, 1911. The following children survive: William P., of Grand Haven, Mich.; Frank A., of Duluth; Hiram S., of New Haven, Conn.; Edwin N., of Laurium; James G., of Seattle, Wash.; Charles P., of Chicago; Austin G., of Laurium and Miss Mary Belle of Laurium.

Barred From Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—J. A. O. Preus, state insurance commissioner, yesterday refused to renew the license of the Independent Order of Brith Abraham, New York, to do business in Minnesota. According to the commissioner the report of the company for 1912 shows that $9,000 has been transferred from the mortuary fund to the expense fund and of this amount $6,416 was used for expenses. This action, he declares, violated the Minnesota law governing such companies.

Proposed for Annapolis.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14. — E. M. Thomasburg, a messenger boy living here with his widowed mother, and George Francis Mentz of Minneapolis have been named as candidates for cadetships at the Annapolis naval academy by Congressman James Manahan. A. W. Johnson of Slayton was named as alternate.

Election Contest Results.

Mohall, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six ballots which the board of canvassers of the recent city election in Mohall threw out because of alleged irregularities have resulted in four election contests. As it changed the result of three aldermen and the city treasurer.

Arizona Man Hanged.

Globe, Ariz., May 14.—John B. Goodwin, former soldier and the first man to pay the death penalty under the authority of the Federal government in Arizona, was hanged here Tuesday. Goodwin murdered Alfred Hillpot and Fred Kibbe, Globe merchants, on the San Carlos reservation. He was granted a sixty-day reprieve by President Wilson in March, but was refused a further stay of execution.

As a Special Feature for This Week in the Wash Goods Section We Have Arranged for a Special Display and Sale of the Finest

Cotton Dress Fabric Produced in America

Something New.

Something Entirely New.

Pamilla Cotton

Dame Fashion's Latest Fabric

Pamilla Cotton is the latest and finest printed cotton dress fabric produced in America. It is so different from any other domestic fabric of its type that it is destined to create a printed cotton precedent. Its superiority is easily apparent. Its weave is the finest. ¶ While in finish, feel and colorings, Pamilla Cotton is somewhat similar to the more expensive imported French cambric, or English nainsook, it is finer in weave and finish and comes 36 inches wide—four inches wider than the imported; in a much larger range of patterns and colorings to suit all ages, complexions and figures.

Never before has a new fabric commanded such immediate popularity among women who want something better, that has class, character, richness and long wear. ¶ Pamilla Cotton is both sun and tub proof. The colorings are elegantly printed and will remain in their original beauty of tones until garment is discarded.

The range of utility of Pamilla Cloth is almost limitless—for house, street, outing, party, school, graduation and dancing dresses, as well as for children's dresses and rompers, and there's no better material for men's pajamas. There is a rich softness to the finish of Pamilla cotton that gives it a characteristic appearance that is at once distinctive and attractive when made up into garments. The range of colorings is so large it permits of very fetching effects in garments either made up with contrasting colors or matched—on display in Wash Goods Section, yard.. 25c

TRADE AWAITS LOWER TARIFF.

Washington, May 14.—Government receipts from customs are beginning to show a material decline for May, although heavy importations usually are characteristic of the spring months. Treasury experts familiar with the temper of the business world during tariff revision periods declare that the condition is not unusual, as business interests then seem to mark time, holding importations to the lowest limit in order to secure the advantages of prospective lower rates.

Customs receipts for the first twelve days of May amounted to $7,428,298 as compared with $10,768,975 for the corresponding period of 1912, or a decrease of $8,140,697 in twelve days. Despite these figures, the total receipts from customs up to date, during the current fiscal year is $12,250,000 greater than for the preceding year, as a result of heavy receipts during the earlier months of the year.

Murderer Dies After Release.

Fond du Lac, Wis., May 14.—George Wightman, the aged slayer of Clarence Updike, died at his home late yesterday only a few hours after his parole by Governor McGovern. Wightman had been in bad health for some time. He had served fifteen years of a life sentence.

JACK JOHNSON FOUND GUILTY

Pugilist Is Convicted of Violating the White Slave Law.

May Be Fined $10,000 and Sent to Prison for Five Years.

Chicago, May 17.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight prize fighter, last night was found guilty of violating the Mann law in transporting Belle Schreiber from Pittsburg to Chicago in 1910. He was convicted on all seven counts in the indictment. The jury returned its verdict after an hour's consideration.

The maximum penalty under the finding is five years' imprisonment or $10,000 fine or both.

A motion of Assistant District Attorney Harry Parkin that Johnson be ordered confined in the county jail, was overruled by Judge Carpenter and the negro was released on a bond of $10,000. A motion for a new trial was filed at once by counsel for Johnson, and arguments on the motion were set for May 19.

Woman Was Witness.

Johnson was charged with having furnished Miss Schreiber with $75 with which to come from Pittsburg to Chicago. Miss Schreiber testified that, on her arrival here, Johnson had furnished a flat which she had devoted to immoral purposes. She also described trips around the country which, she said, had been made with the prizefighter and at his expense.

This was in 1910, just before the marriage of Johnson to Etta Duryea, the divorced wife of an eastern horse man. She shot herself to death eight months ago, leaving letters to her mother brooding over her social downfall and her neglect.

Two months later Johnson was arrested by the Chicago police on the charge of having abducted Lucile Cameron, the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cameron-Falconet of Minneapolis, Minn., who had been employed as cashier at Johnson's restaurant. Those charges were dropped and Johnson and the Cameron girl were married.

Grew Out of Cameron Case.

It was during the police investigation of Johnson's affair with the Minneapolis girl that facts were unearthed which resulted in the prizefighter's indictment by a Federal grand jury in connection with the Schreiber woman.

Four ballots were taken by the jury, the first ballot being four for acquittal and eight for conviction. James Bruce, a grain dealer of Marseilles, Ill., was foreman of the jury.

Two counts of the indictment were dismissed at the request of Judge Carpenter, who declared no good purpose could be served by airing the unnecessary details of the relations of Johnson and the woman.

Lucile Cameron Johnson, his present white wife, did not appear in the courtroom at any time during the trial, his attorneys fearing the effect of her presence. Instead, Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the negro's mother, sat constantly at his side. Only a few persons were in court when the verdict was reached, as a result of an order of Judge Carpenter that "scandal fans" be barred from the hearings.

"Golden Smile" Faded.

The suggestion of Johnson's "golden smile" which had been on his lips during the time of the jury's deliberations, faded when the clerk pronounced the word "guilty." Johnson sat solemnly in his seat until Attorney Parkin's motion that the fighter be taken into custody was denied, when he slipped quietly from his seat and made his way from the courtroom alone.

"I haven't a thing to say," he said. "My attorney will speak for me."

were left lying about on the premises. There was also a postcard bearing the words "We hope this is not a poor widow's house."

Evidence Shows Depredations.

Striking evidence of the extensive operations of the militant suffragettes and the bad effect on the women's cause of the outrages committed by them was given today on the resumption of the hearing at Bow Street police court of the charges against the suffragette leaders. They are charged with infringement of the malicious damage to property act.

Those who occupied the prisoners' enclosure were Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Miss Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenny, Miss Laura Lennox and the analytical chemist, Clayton. The case against "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond was postponed until July, owing to her illness.

Letter carriers and postoffice officials testified as to the great damage done to the mails by chemicals and other fluids poured into the public letter boxes.

Paper Losing Its Standing.

The former business manager of The Suffragette testified regarding the responsibility of the various prisoners for the different departments of that newspaper. He explained that his services were dispensed with by the militant society because Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst thought it better that only women should conduct the paper.

As to the loss of circulation by The Suffragette after militant acts had been committed, the witness said at first 30,000 copies were printed, but the sales were only 17,000. The circulation then dropped to 7,500, but 3,000 copies were circulated in other ways. Just before last Christmas he told Mrs. Pankhurst that this falling off was due to the letter box raids, but she shrugged her shoulders and said that could not be possible, because when the women were most militant they were most successful.

To Continue Publication.

Manchester, Eng., May 14.—T. Benson, the director of the National Labor Press, which has announced its determination of continuing the publication of the Suffragette, said:

"The fight is one of principle. Every edition will be censored by the management of the National Labor Press and any incitement to outrage excluded. The management believes that an attempt to suppress a newspaper before it is published affects the right of free speech. It means a big fight if it is issued."

Katherine Strange, proprietress of a tea pavilion which was burned in Kew gardens by the militant suffragettes, described a visit she made to Miss Rebecca Kerr after the destruction of the property. Miss Kerr told her that she took much too personal a view of the matter. No doubt, Miss Kerr said, the women employed in the tea pavilion, although they had lost their jobs, ultimately would be very glad that they lent a helping hand to their fellow women. Anyway, she continued, the only means of rousing the government was to attack private property, and this the militant suffragettes intended to continue to do until they had obtained the vote.

Decorations for "Heroines."

A medal manufacturer testified about the decorations supplied to the women's social and political union. He said that medals inscribed "For Valor" cost $1.50 each; "Hunger Strike" medals $2.36, and "Fed By Force" crosses $6.

The most distinguished decorations known as "Grilles" brooches cost $10.50, he said. Bars were supplied for addition to the ribbons on the medals when subsequent acts were considered worthy of special mention in dispatches.

DULUTH WILL BE ONE OF THE IMPORTANT POINTS ON CANADIAN NORTHERN

per cent of these will come from the United States. We estimate that each person coming from the United States brings an average of $1,000 in goods or money. Louis Hill places his estimate at $1,500, but I think that may be a little high. With 240,000 Americans that will mean about $240,000,000 coming into Canada from this country alone, this year. When a railroad spends $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 on equipment you newspaper men use big headlines to tell about it. Yet this immigration movement from the United States alone brings in an army of 240,000 men and $240,000,000 in one year.

European Immigrants.

"The average amount brought by immigrants from Europe is less, probably running about $250 to $300.

"The immigration of 500,000 people in one year naturally brings great problems to the government. For a country of 8,000,000 people to assimilate 500,000 foreign citizens in one year is a big problem. It is a larger proportionate assimilation than the United States ever had until after we had 40,000,000 people. But we do not look upon Americans as foreigners there. Their interests are largely the same as those of the Canadians.

Railroad Outlay.

"The railroads of Canada are spending a great amount of money and will continue to do so for many years to come. While we have this large immigration and the railroads continue to spend money so freely, the country must progress and prosper, provided we have normal crop conditions.

"Right at the present time the country is suffering from a tight money market. This is also true of Europe, and what affects Europe and Great Britain affects us, for nearly all of the borrowing for the development of Canada is done in England. When I left England money conditions were much better than they had been sixty days previously. That, in brief, covers business conditions in Western Canada. You have heard much of booms and setbacks, but those are the facts briefly.

One Year's Work.

"The Canadian Northern railroad will have its transcontinental line from Quebec to Vancouver completed a year from this date. The tunnel at Montreal through Mount Royal is 65 per cent completed, and we expect to have daylight through it by Nov. 1. It will be some months later before it is ready to permit the passage of trains. Vancouver will be the terminal on the Pacific coast and Quebec on the East. The line from Toronto to Montreal by way of Ottawa will be completed within a year. The chief gaps in the line at present are from Sudbury to Port Arthur and from Edmonton to Vancouver.

Branch Lines.

"From 1905 to 1910 the Canadian Northern road directed all of its efforts to building branch lines to build up sufficient earnings to carry the fixed charges while the expensive work through the mountains was being pushed. The road will have the best grades of any railroad crossing the continent. The heaviest grade between Duluth and Vancouver is a 1 per cent grade just as we leave Duluth. We can haul as heavy a train anywhere as we can out of Duluth, and that means about forty cars.

"The Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific road will in my opinion form a very important part of the Canadian Northern system. It is not just a stub line or a branch line. I earnestly advocated the purchase of this line, and I am therefore interested in its success especially. I would like to tell you more about this line, but the time is not quite ripe yet, but I mean what I say when I state that it will be a very important part of the company's system. Duluth is just about in the center of the United States from a traffic standpoint, and an immense amount of traffic either originates here or is destined to this port. It is a very important point from the standpoint of any railroad, and for that reason I was very anxious to see the Canadian Northern gain a foothold here. We have had no reason to regret it yet. Our only regret is that we did not come here earlier. Duluth is indeed going to be an important point on our line."

Col. Davidson confirmed the statement made to The Herald Monday that the Canadian Northern would in the near future run a through train from Winnipeg to Chicago by way of Duluth, running over the Omaha line from Duluth to Chicago.

"Nation Builders."

"Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann are now looked upon in England as two of the biggest men of the empire," continued Col. Davidson. "Of course their names are a byword in all parts of Canada, but they are almost as well known in England, and they regard them as nation builders over there. That is what they call them, in fact. Their interests are worldwide, almost. The Canadian Northern now has a line of steamers from Bristol to Quebec, and it is doing a good business. There are no steamers on the Pacific as yet, but under the agreement with the city of Vancouver a line will be established, and a large hotel built there. The company has gone into the hotel system quite extensively. It believes in building hotels along its line, and those that have been built to date have been profitable."

The Montreal Coup.

Col. Davidson then related the manner in which the road secured an entrance to Montreal, a coup which amazed not only the citizens of that city but the rival roads as well. Apparently the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk roads had a monopoly on available terminal property. The city was bottled up tighter than Duluth was believed to be when the Soo road came in. Back of the city was Mount Royal which cut off access from that direction, and behind the mountain was a fine level tract of land which was of little value because it was inaccessible from the city except by a long and tedious trolley ride. The Canadian Northern bought up an immense tract of land there, tunnelled through the mountain and entered the very heart of the city. The citizens of Montreal awoke one morning to find a new railroad in the very heart of the city. The company was able to sell enough of its property for residence lots to pay for what it retained for terminals, and it is believed that ultimately the tunnel and the terminals in the city will cost the railroad nothing. In addition to this the citizens of Montreal benefited by finding cheap residence sites.

A coup much similar was sprung on Toronto. At North Toronto the company purchased about 1,200 acres of land, platted 700 to 800 acres and sold them for enough to pay for its terminals.

Plan Was Unique.

"So far as I know," said Col. Davidson, "the Canadian Northern road is the only railroad that has gained entrance to a big city without cost to itself. Usually they scatter money broadcast in getting into a large city like Montreal or Toronto. In gaining entrance as they did the road caused hardship to nobody but on the contrary enriched the city as well as getting free terminals. They created values.

"Don't overlook the fact that the Canadian Northern is going to be a very important factor in the growth of this city. It is going to mean much more to Duluth than any of its citizens dream at present. Nothing pleases me more about the work than this very fact. I have always had a warm feeling for Duluth. My friends are here and it always seems like home to me. Nobody could have been kinder to me and to Mrs. Davidson than Duluth people have been in our recent bereavement, and if anything I can tell them about the Canadian Northern road is good news to them, I am pleased."

reau of steam engineering, completed plans of the electric wiring of the new battleship Pennsylvania. These plans showed the general arrangements of the decks and hatches, but would be of no particular value to any one wishing to obtain naval information not generally made public. A short time after similar plans were missed. The matter is still under investigation."

The rooms of the steam engineering bureau commanded a view of the fireworks and a number of visitors were in them on the night of March 4. For the most part these were members of the families of officials and clerks, and no one was admitted without a pass. The plans were ordinary blue prints lying on the drafting table, but were large enough to make quite a conspicuous roll.

Of No Particular Value.

The plans were very simple and such as could be prepared to guide any competent electrician. They did not refer to the fire control or turret mechanism, and therefore had no particular naval value.

The officials, however, were alarmed at the occurrence because it disclosed the possibility of the theft of really important secret plans.

rally opposition to the Republican attack. The Democrats point, however, to the vote of 48 to 34 on the motion for an executive session as an indication of strength against open hearings.

When the discussion was resumed at noon today, it seemed unlikely that a vote would be reached, as the Kern resolution demanding an inquiry into West Virginia coal fields was the unfinished business to be taken up at 2 o'clock.

A small army of manufacturers appealed for private audiences today with chairmen of the finance sub-committees in charge of the various schedules. More than a score of chemical manufacturers waited in the hall adjoining the room where the sub-committee considering the chemical schedule was in session. They were told to return tomorrow.

Another group, wool manufacturers, besieged Senator Stone's sub-committee, armed with protests against the cuts in manufactures of wool. Some will be heard before the sub-committee finishes its work.

When the fight was renewed in the senate it began with a clash between Senator Ransdell, who opposes the sugar schedule, and Chairman Simmons.

Hot Words From Michigan.

Senator Ransdell asked to have the clerk read a letter from Lewis C. Rowley of Lansing, Mich., who described himself as "an original Wilson man." Over spirited objection, the clerk read the letter, which described the leading Democratic exponents of free sugar as "accursed, unpardonable apostates of Democratic faith, licking the footsteps of the predatory rich, hell-bent on lowering the cost of living, even if the American standard of living and the standard of Democratic principles are lowered with it."

Before the reading was half concluded Senator Reed objected and forced a vote, which was lost, Republicans voting with some Democrats against it. The clerk continued to read the letter predicting death for the American sugar industry when the Underwood schedule becomes effective.

FOUND DEAD WITH BIG FISH HOOKED.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 14.—Fisherman's zeal resulted in the drowning of Siver Larson, aged 22 years, last night, when in his eagerness to land a promising "bite" Larson rose in the boat, and in the tussle with the fish, lost his balance, toppled over backward into the water and was drowned. He retained a death clutch on the pole, however, and when the body was recovered a large sized fish was tugging at the end of the line.

Loses Big Stock Check.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—While walking along the street here yesterday after selling a load of beef cattle at South St. Paul for $1,301, with the check tucked away in his outside coat pocket, L. O. Hage of Madison, Minn., sneezed and in pulling out his handkerchief lost the check. He notified the police and payment was stopped on the paper.

"BEST ADVERTISING DULUTH HAS EVER HAD"

That Is What Major H. V. Eva, Secretary of the

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Says of The Duluth Herald's Great Special Number,

DULUTH, THE CITY OF INDUSTRY

OUT MAY 26th. Here is his letter:

Commercial Club of Duluth

Editor, The Duluth Herald,

Dear Sir:—

It has been my privilege to see page proofs of the first fourty-four pages of the Herald's Special number, "Duluth, the City of Industry." I must say that this great issue far surpasses my most sanguine expectations and will be the best advertising that Duluth and Northern Minnesota has ever had.

The number is splendidly illustrated—in fact it is nearly all pictures. Yet the facts about Duluth are there too, truthfully, tersely and convincingly told.

It is to be hoped everybody in Duluth will send the "Duluth, the City of Industry" number broadcast. The Commercial Club will send 4,000 copies to men in other states who are thinking of settling on Northern Minnesota farm lands.

Woman's Realm

"Home Welfare" is the general topic for the annual convention of the Eighth district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held in Virginia, Minn., Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Six Duluth women, representing the four federated clubs of this city, will be among the speakers at the convention. They are Mrs. K. A. Ostergren, Miss Frances Earhart, Dr. Mary McCoy, Mrs. R. P. Boyington, Mrs. J. A. Keyes and Mrs. P. L. De Voist.

The chief social feature of the convention will be a reception on Tuesday evening following Dr. McCoy's lecture on "Eugenics," and a musical program has been arranged for this session. The delegates will be entertained at homes of the club women of Virginia during their stay there.

The program as arranged for the three sessions follows:

Tuesday Afternoon.

Opening session with reports and business.

General topic—"The Home Beautiful" in three papers.

"The Efficient Home"—Mrs. R. P. Boyington, Duluth Garden Flower society.

"Woman's Function in Home Economics"—Mrs. J. A. Keyes, Duluth Saturday club.

"How Best to Promote and Stimulate Patriotism and Loyalty to the Nation and Community"—Mrs. F. C. Whiting of Virginia.

"The Latest View, Educational"—Topic for general discussion from the floor dealing with the year's criticisms of educational systems and the public schools.

"Conservation of the Child"—Mrs. P. Olesen of Cloquet.

Tuesday Evening.

Lecture on "Eugenics" by Dr. Mary McCoy, Duluth.

Musical program and reception for delegates.

Wednesday Morning.

General topic—"Influences Affecting Home Welfare."

"Ideal Country Life"—Mrs. E. H. Loyhed, state president of federation.

"The Need of Women on State Boards"—Mrs. P. L. DeVoist of Duluth.

"The Influence of the Church on the Home"—Mrs. K. A. Ostergren, Duluth.

Among the women planning to go from here are:

Saturday club—Mrs. J. A. Keyes, the president; Mrs. John Jensvold, Mrs. W. G. La Rue, and alternates, Mrs. H. A. Grannis, Mrs. J. W. Harbison and Mrs. O. A. Oredson.

The Twentieth Century club will be represented by Mrs. C. H. Merritt, Mrs. Robert Spliegel and the president, Mrs. N. F. Hugo, or representative.

Mrs. R. P. Boyington will go from the Rose Culture society. Aside from her, Mrs. J. A. P. Neal will go as delegate and Dr. Mary McCoy as president alternative.

Mrs. K. A. Ostergren, the president of the Linnaea society, and Mrs. H. Segareus, the recording secretary, will go as its delegates.

PRIMA DONNA'S DAUGHTER COLLECTS AUTOGRAPHS

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

MME. GADSKI AND DAUGHTER.

Lottie Gadski, the daughter of the famous German prima donna, is the pet of the Metropolitan Opera company. Lottie is at all the dress rehearsals and she is in the audience whenever her mother sings. When Alexander Konta, the founder of the Modern Historic Records association, made up his mind to include in the society's imperishable records the autographs of the world's greatest singers, he made up his mind that the surest way to obtain them was to enlist the services of his little friend, Lottie. Lottie undertook the commission with the greatest zeal. With two folded sheets of parchment, decorated on the outside with the symbol and name of the association, she went to the dressing rooms of the artists and got them to sign their names.

COOKING DISPLAY.

Two-day Exhibit Planned at Manual Training High School.

An exhibition of cooking done by the girls of the seventh and eighth grades in the six schools in the central part of the city who get instruction in domestic science at the Manual Training high school, has been planned by the instructor, Miss Hally Hills for Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week from 2 to 6 o'clock at the school building. All people interested are cordially invited to call at the domestic science rooms of the manual Training high school, Lake avenue between Third and Fourth streets, and see what is being accomplished in this line. Breads, pastries, canned fruits, salads, desserts, cooked vegetables and special dishes will be prepared and on exhibition.

MAY FESTIVAL.

Crowning of Queen—Dances and Play.

Miss Edith Norman has been chosen for the May queen of the May festival which will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Whittier school at Twelfth street, Park Point, and her entrance and crowning will be the opening number of the elaborate program which has been prepared for the occasion under the direction of Miss Susan House, principal.

The first half of the program consists of solo and group dances including old folk and national dances. The second half of the program will be featured by a play, "The Birds of Killingsworth," musical numbers and readings.

PIANO RECITAL.

Miss Rogers Delights Music Lovers With Fine Program.

Miss Ruth Rogers in her piano recital last evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, delighted a large audience with her power of interpretation and brilliant execution. Miss Rogers plays with a repose which is admirable and one feels that she has great reserve strength at her command. The MacDowell "Norse Sonata" was the big number of the program and she gave it a most satisfactory and adequate interpretation. The piece is full of the vigorous strength and coloring of the Northland and Miss Rogers brought it out in true artistic style, exquisite tone quality and feeling.

Her playing of "The Lark" was one of the most enjoyed and the closing number, the Liszt Concerto in E flat, played by Miss Rogers with Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury at the second piano, was especially fine for the effective ensemble work and colorings. Miss Rogers gave the piece a pleasing handling with Mrs. Bradbury in her usual artistic work in the orchestral accompaniment.

Every number was heartily applauded and Miss Rogers was called upon to respond wth several encores.

Miss Valborg Gunderson added much to the delight of the evening with violin numbers which she gave with her usual charm and grace. She played the Barnes "Swing Song" and "Scherzo" by Drdla, with true understanding and fine tone quality, and her playing of the Schumann "Cradle Song" arranged for violin by Mischa Elman was exquisite. Mrs. Bradbury played her accompaniment.

WILL GO TO TORONTO.

Col and Mrs. Davidson Will Spend Summer There.

Col. and Mrs. A. D. Davidson of 1525 East Superior street will leave tomorrow for Toronto, Can. Sir William Mackenzie has sent his private car here for them and Sir Donald Mann has offered them the use of his city house there for the summer. Col. Davidson said this morning that they appreciated greatly the kindness of their Duluth friends to them during the past few days since the sudden death of their daughter.

BETHEL MEETING.

Miss Mauck Will Speak at Weekly Meeting.

Miss Mauck, superintendent of the Bethel Home, will be the speaker at the regular woman's meeting which will be held tomorrow at the Bethel, corner of Mesaba avenue and West First street at 2:30 o'clock and all women interested in the Bethel and its work are cordially invited to attend. A social half hour will follow the talk.

AT ST. PAUL.

FOR PROTECTION OF BIRDS

Minnie Maddern Fiske Urges American Women to Work for Prohibition of Sale of Aigrettes.

Minnie Maddern Fiske has been interesting herself in the work of the Audubon society, applying especially to legislation relating to the protection of birds. A letter received from Mrs. Fiske on the subject telling of the method of procuring the aigrettes, urges the women of America to refuse to wear aigrettes or certain furs, and to use their influence for the passage of bills prohibiting their sale in this country.

"The aigrette," she said, "is torn from the live mother bird in the nesting season and the little ones are left to starve. Intelligent, kind-hearted women wear these aigrettes, birds of paradise and other hat adornments because they are ignorant as to the manner in which they are obtained. No self-respecting woman—and, above all, no mother—with anything resembling a heart, will consent to wear aigrettes or certain furs once she has learned of the unspeakable horrors that attend their procuring. Ostrich feathers are humanely obtained and may be worn with a clear conscience.

"There is need for immediate action on the part of those interested in striving to put an end to this nefarious aigrette traffic in the United States."

Mrs. Fiske suggests that the officers of the Audubon society believe they can have a clause prohibiting the importation of aigrettes insereted in the revised tariff act, provided a wide campaign of publicity can be immediately inaugurated, anu she urges the women all over the country to do what they can.

"As to the aigrette," she writes, "American women can help this movement by notifying milliners that they will withdraw patronage if the sale of aigrettes or other plumes, barbarously obtained, is continued. Women entering a strange millinery establishment can be of the greatest service if, before making any purchases, they will inquire whether or not aigrettes are sold there.

"The matter is in the hands of the American women."

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Women's Clubs Have Openings For Many Good Works.

As I have pointed out once or twice before, I am a firm believer in the woman's club, that is, if it is taken in reason and moderation by its members. But I believe that such organizations can, like other institutions, become self-centered and selfish. When a club, or a church, or an order, or an individual, becomes so interested in itself that it can see no other needs outside, it ceases to become a very useful member of society.

I am glad, as a woman, that the members of my sex in this early part of the Twentieth century have vision and imagination, and are seeking, as a whole, to make themselves more useful to others. In this general movement the clubs are having a large part. I am free to say that any woman's club, in any city or town, which does not have initiative and vision enough to take some steps toward making its community a better place in which to live, is hardly worthy of recognition.

The woman's club, as a vehicle for imparting information on literary and current topics, for cultivating the mind and training women in studious habits and stimulating in them a healthy taste for culture and love for literature, is a very worthy institution, and a useful one. And the social features, which result from the bringing of a given number of congenial women together at regular intervals, where they may discuss not only the matters directly in hand, but others pertaining to the home, family and school and kindred subjects, are excellent.

But these are by no means all. The club, as an institution, must take its place as a factor in elevating the tone of civic life. It must lend its influence to the side of every movement which aims to improve society and better the health and morals of the community. Nor is this yet enough. It must take the initiative in such movements, and be the leader, rather than the follower.

I know of numerous instances where clubs have inaugurated and pushed through to success, clean-up and other sanitary campaigns; movements to abolish the evils of the liquor and white slave traffic, and to improve the status of working girls, and numerous other similar movements. It is a fact that when a body of earnest, sympathetic, womenly women set out to do a thing of this sort, they command the respect of all elements alike, and nearly always succeed.

Is your club engaged in some work of this kind? If not, don't you think it time it was catching the spirit of service?

ATTORNEY LOSES POINT.

District Court Judge Declines to Review Contempt Proceedings.

Little Falls, Minn., May 14.—Judge C. A. Nye in district court quashed the writ of certiorari secured by W. W. Barron in his contempt of court case, and the proceedings are remanded to the probate court of Morrison county.

Attorney Barron, at that time a resident of Brainerd, was fined $25 by Judge Shaw, Jan. 23, for contempt of court. The cause of the action was certain letters which Mr. Barron addressed to Judge Shaw in which he claimed to have been discourteously treated, and threatened to come to Little Falls and see why information which he wanted could not be obtained. The case about which Mr. Barron asked had not been closed at the time and the information could therefore not be sent.

Mr. Barron obtained a writ of certiorari on the grounds that the proceedings had been irregular and that he had not been given an opportunity to be heard in explanation. In quashing the writ and remanding the proceedings to probate court, Judge Nye states that the only question is whether or not the letters in question constitute a contempt, and that lies with Judge Shaw to decide.

IMPETUS TO WAR ON VICE

Clifford G. Roe of Chicago Will Visit Duluth Monday.

Branch of American Vigilance Society May Be Organized in City.

The war against vice in Duluth is expected to be given pronounced impetus next Monday when Clifford G. Roe, the Chicago warrior against vice, will visit Duluth again.

Mr. Roe will make two speeches in Duluth, and at the same time a decision will be reached as to whether a branch of the American Vigilance society will be organized here.

Clifford G. Roe was formerly district attorney of Chicago. During his term he uncovered startling vice conditions in Chicago, and his activity against the white slave traffic did not end with his term of office. He has continued the fight on the lecture platform and through his books and he is now lecturing and organizing under the auspices of the American Vigilance society.

Some time ago a meeting of Duluth people interested in the vice question was held and a committee appointed to investigate conditions in Duluth and make recommendations on the organization of a branch of the Vigilance society. The committee has completed its work and has made arrangements for Mr. Roe's visit on the occasion of its report. The report is expected to recommend the organization of a branch of the society and action on the subject will be taken at the meeting Monday evening at which Mr. Roe will speak.

Mr. Roe will arrive Monday morning and will spend the day in the city. He will speak to a meeting of women at the Y. W. C. A. Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and at a big mass meeting to be held in the evening at some place not yet selected.

Mr. Roe visited Duluth about two years ago and his lecture on the white slave traffic will be remembered for its startling summing up of conditions. He is an eloquent speaker and an enthusiastic worker against immoral conditions.

was contained in Acting Commissioner Walker's letter of transmittal, which follows:

Book Costs and Net Costs.

"The statements of cost of production, as shown by the cost sheets of iron and steel manufacturing companies, ordinarily include important items of profit accruing to the same manufacturing interests. This arises from the fact that the ore and coke used in making pig iron are largely produced by allied or subsidiary companies, which sell such materials to the manufacturing plants operated by the same interests at prices which ordinarily include a profit, and in the case of ore a very large profit.

Profits From Sale and Transportation of Ore.

"Thus, for the Steel corporation in 1910, the intercompany profit on iron ore was no less than $1.30 per ton out of an average ore price per ton of $4.18 in which there was, in addition to the profit of $1.30, a further considerable transportation cost and profit. Owing to the fact that about two tons of ore were required to make a ton of pig iron, this profit per ton in ore involves a profit of about $2.48 per ton in the cost of pig iron on this account alone. For similar reasons, even larger amounts of profit per ton are included in the costs of steel products. Hence, in order to obtain the net cost of manufacture for such concerns, it is necessary to eliminate these intercompany profits from the book costs, or costs shown on the cost sheets.

"Furthermore, some manufacturing concerns, and particularly the Steel corporation, have subsidiary companies engaged in the transportation of raw materials for manufacture. The costs of transportation, however, included in the book costs of these materials are based on the regular or going rates of transportation charged by the transportation agencies, and include large amounts of intercompany transportation profit. Thus, the profit of the Steel corporation from the transportation of its own ore in 1910, averaged over all its ore delivered at lower lake ports, was about $0.57 per ton. This profit mounts up to over $1.09 per ton of pig iron.

Net Costs of Pig Iron.

"The bureau, therefore, in its statements of costs of various products, gives not only the book costs, or costs shown by the cost sheets of manufacturing companies, but also the net costs excluding such intermediate profits of production and transportation. Thus, from certain average costs of all companies which are presented, the intercompany profits from the production of raw materials are excluded, while from the costs of the Steel corporation the intermediate profits from both production and transportation are eliminated. The importance of such eliminations of intercompany profit are apparent from the following comparisons: Taking again, for illustration, the costs of the Steel corporation, it appears directly from the records of that company that the average book cost of Bessemer pig iron in 1910 was $14.39 per ton (including an assumed normal addition to furnace cost of 50 cents per ton for general expense and depreciation), while the net cost, excluding intercompany profits on materials and transportation, was only $10.21. The intercompany profit deducted from the book costs, therefore, was no less than $4.18 per ton. If, however, only the intercompany profit on materials is excluded, the bureau computes the net costs at $11.21 per ton, as compared with the book cost of $14.39. The margin of profit over cost should, of course, be related to a different investment in each case.

Net Cost of Rails.

"Similarly, for Bessemer steel rails, the average book cost of the Steel corporation in 1910 was $21.53 per ton (including an assumed normal addition to mill cost of $1.39 for general expense and depreciation), while the net cost, exeluding intercompany profit on materials and transportation, was only $16.67. Deducting only intercompany profits from materials, the bureau computes the net cost at $17.82 per ton.

Profit on Ore Investment.

"The necessity of determining the net costs is clear when consideration is given to the very high profits charged on iron ore and on the transportation of iron ore.

"On the basis of the bureau's estimate of the average cost of ore property at the time of the formation of the Steel corporation, together with due allowance for subsequent investments of the Steel corporation therein, the average investment of the Steel corporation in lake ore was about $4.47 per ton of ore produced in 1910. This investment is computed on the basis of a 30-year supply in reserves of ore, all additional investment in ore reserves being excluded from consideration. The profit of $1.30 per ton which was charged by the Steel corporation in 1910 was equivalent, therefore, to a rate of 29 per cent on the computed investment in ore. Considering that the Steel corporation owns or controls the great bulk of the lake ore supply; that in consequence of the number of its mines, its risk of operating them is reduced to a minimum; that it has an assured market for the sale of its ore to its own manufacturing plants; and that its production of iron and steel is so extensive and diversified, and so widely sold throughout the world, that a very large output is always practicable, it is evident that the risk of this business is comparatively small, and that the profit is excessively high.

Profits of Ore Railroads.

"Similar conditions are found with regard to the profits from the transportation of ore. This appears at once when the extremely low ratios of operating expense to gross earnings of the Steel corporation's two railroads in the lake ore mining district in 1910 are stated, namely, 30 per cent for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, and 36.5 per cent for the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. The average ratio for all the railroads of the country in 1910 was 66 per cent. The business of these two railroads is almost entirely in the carriage of ore, and, for the most part, there is no existing or potential competition therein.

"The situation of these railroads as respects investment and profit from operations is such that the rate of profit from the ore traffic on the investment fairly attributable to the ore transportation business may be safely taken as not less than the rate of the total profit on the total investment. Moreover, in computing the total net earnings, these railroads admittedly made a little more than a necessary provision in 1910 for depreciation of the property on account of the ultimate exhaustion of the ore deposits from which their traffic is chiefly derived. On the basis of the total investment (including net working capital), and the total net earnings reported by these two railroads, the rates of profit in 1910 were, for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, about 23 per cent, and for the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, about 17½ per cent. Such high rates of profit from a business which is monopolistic in character, and also affected by a public use (common carrier), are obviously excessive. It should be noted, however that the extraordinarily high transportation rates on ore from which these profits were derived were considerably reduced by the Steel corporation in 1911, shortly after the publication of the first part of the bureau's report on the steel industry.

Relation of Investment to Net Costs.

"It is evident, therefore, that in order to compare costs with prices for the purpose of determining whether the margin of profit is reasonable or unreasonable, it is necessary to obtain the net costs of production, excluding these intercompany profits from materials and transportation. On the other hand, it is equally evident that when such net costs are used in determining the margin of profit, due account must be taken of the total investment employed, i. e., not only in the immediate manufacturing processes for which costs are stated, respectively, but also for the anterior processes of manufacture, production, and transportation, in so far as they are related to the cost of the product in question.

"Thus, if the net cost of Bessemer rails of the Steel corporation in 1910 namely, $16.67 per ton, is compared with the average selling price, namely, $27.45, the profit margin of $10.78 resulting therefrom must be compared with the investment, not only in rail mills, but also in the steel works, blast furnaces, ore and coal mines, coke ovens, and transportation facilities which were required to produce rails at such a low cost.

"Such a computation is, from the nature of the case, exceedingly complex, and however carefully made, the results obtained must be regarded as approximate. In making such calculations, the bureau has been careful not to understate the investment made, and consequently it is believed that the computed rates of profit are not overstated.

Profits on Investment for Rails and Plates.

"Some illustrations of the rates of profit on investment are as follows: For Bessemer steel rails the net cost of the Steel corporation in 1910 was $16.67 per ton, including certain estimated additional costs, as stated above; the average selling price was $27.45, giving a profit margin of $10.78. The investment in raw materials, transportation facilities, manufacturing plants, and net working capital required for the production of rails was about $65 per ton of product, according to the computations of the bureau. This indicates a rate of profit on investment of 16½ per cent on rails. On a similar basis, the bureau's computations indicate for plates a profit in 1910 of 10½ per cent on the investment. These different rates of profit illustrate furthermore certain differences in price-making conditions, which were somewhat competitive for plates in 1910, while notoriously noncompetitive for rails.

Periods Covered by Cost Statements.

"The chief statements of cost comprised in the full report include, first, average costs of a great variety of iron and steel products for nearly all the manufacturing companies for the five-year period of 1902 to 1906, and second, the costs of the Steel corporation in 1910 for a considerable number of such products. Owing to the elaborate character of the first statement and the great labor involved in making it up, it was impracticable to bring it down to a recent date. Nevertheless, by means of comparisons of average costs of production of raw materials for a large part of the total industry, and of typical plant costs for the manufacturing processes themselves (costs above material), it is made clear that there has been very little variation in the costs of heavy steel products in recent years as compared with 1902 to 1906.

Cost Variations by Localities and Plants.

"For the period 1902 to 1906 the average costs are shown for certain products by districts. This comparison shows, for example, a decided advantage in the cost of assembling materials for the plants located on the shores of Lake Erie, as compared with those located in the Pittsburg district, under the prevailing railroad rates on ore from Lake Erie ports to Pittsburg.

"For these same cost statements, comparisons are also made between the net costs (but without deduction of transportation profits) of large companies and small companies, which indicate a decided advantage in favor of the former. Thus, for Bessemer pig iron the net cost (including an assumed normal addition to furnace cost of $0.50) aervaged $11.61 per ton for the large companies and $14.62 for the small companies. This difference was due in part to the more complete integration of the large companies.

"Again, for the costs of the Steel corporation in 1910, the variations in costs for certain products are shown for individual plants (without disclosing their identity) which makes clear the wide variation in individual plant costs. Thus, for the net costs of the Steel corporation in 1910, the cost of Bessemer pig iron ranged from $9.20 to $13.47 per ton (including an assumed normal addition to furnace cost of $0.50 as before). These data are also combined in various groups, namely, by districts, by ranges in cost, and by volume of production. These comparisons tend to show the variations in efficiency according to districts and to other particular circumstances, and not to indicate some of the causes of such variations.

"The facts presented in this report, therefore, are obviously of great value with regard to various large questions of public policy and national welfare, such as reasonableness of prices, industrial efficiency, ownership and control of natural resources, relations of common carriers to manufacturing enterprises, and tariff legislation."

WHEAT ABOUT ALL SEEDED

North Dakota Farmers Have Sown About All of That Cereal.

Barley and Flax Seeding to Be Finished By June 1.

Fargo, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wheat seeding is practically furnished in North Dakota. Even if the farmers had more seed to put in they would hesitate to do so at a later date, as seeding after May 15 is a gambling proposition. There have been occasional years in which good yields were secured after that date, but they were the exception.

The agricultural experts are united in their advice against wheat being seeded later than this time. Practically all the wheat was seeded last week, but in a few sections of the state where farming operations had been delayed some more wheat was put in the first half of this week.

Many Plow for Corn.

Farmers have been doing a great deal of plowing for corn and barley and in the eastern half of the state much of the barley has been seeded. It will probably be June 1, however, before the barley and flax is entirely seeded all over the state.

There was widespread precipitation over the state during the past week, but in slight quantities. In a few sections of the state there were traces of snow which remained only a few hours. With the exception of two days the weather for a week has been cooler than the average.

STATE DENTISTS TO CONVENE AT FARGO

Dr. Lars Frenz of Finland Will Be Principal Feature.

Fargo, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota State Dental association will be in session here Friday and Saturday. The features of the session will be the addresses and clinics by Dr. Lars Frenz of Finland, an international expert in dentistry. Other speakers will come from Chicago, the Twin Cities, Winona and from over this state. There will be a banquet, auto ride and a vaudeville show for the visiting dentists.

Friday morning's program provides for addresses by Drs. James of Winona, Wilson of St. Paul, Toney of Mandan, and Frenz of Finland, with clinics by Drs. Prothero of Chicago, Pike of Minneapolis, Hartl of Minot and Kermott of Towner.

Friday afternoon Dr. Prothero will give an illustrated lecture and in the evening there will be an address by Dr. Orton of St. Paul.

Saturday's program includes Drs. Tinker of Minneapolis, Orton of St. Paul, Toney of Mandan, James of Winona, Wilson of St. Paul, Frenz of Finland, and Prothero of Chicago.

The association officers are Drs. Pattison of Fargo, president; Whitcomb of Grand Forks, vice president; Hegge of Hatton, secretary, and Dow of Church's Ferry, treasurer.

WORK RESUMED ON BIG CHIPPEWA DAM

Arpin Lumber Company Again Working on Great Radisson Job.

Couderay, Wis., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Arpin Lumber company of Grand Rapids, Wis., has resumed work for the summer on the large concrete dam being erected across the Chippewa river, near Radisson.

The company expects to complete the canal and dam this summer. It has not been definitely settled yet how the enormous power will we utilized, but it is expected that large paper and pulp mills will be erected at the foot of the canal in the near future. That the power will be used for operating some large manufacturing enterprise is an assured fact and will mean a great deal to Southern Sawyer county in its development.

RAPS FRIEDMANN 'CURE.'

Wisconsin U Bacteriologist Characterizes Tuberculosis Serum as Fraud.

Madison, Wis., May 14.—Dr. P. H. Ravenell, head of the Wisconsin state hygienic laboratory, professor of bacteriology at Wisconsin university, member of the National Medical society, and a board member of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Monday night denounced the Friedmann tuberculosis serum as the most "gigantic and preposterous fraud of a generation."

Dr. Ravenell is just back from Washington, where he studied the cases under supervision in the government laboratories.

Of ninety-four cases to which the serum was administered, he says, it was repeated in only five, of whom two died and three showed no signs of improvement.

"It is a humbug from beginning to end," declared Dr. Ravenell.

Preparations for the observance of Memorial day are practically complete. A program of speeches and music in addition to a parade in which all the school children will take part. The committee in charge is endeavoring to have the business houses close all day on this occasion.

J. E. Lynds, Ole Kolseth and J. R. Medley were appointed a committee to approach the city council on the proposition of installing public lavatories in the new fire hall.

The club discussed the feasibility of purchasing the bridge owned by the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company, at Scanlon over the St. Louis river for the purpose of making a short cut to Cloquet from the large farming district north of here. Ole Sather, mayor of Scanlon, was present at the meeting and spoke in favor of the purchase.

ESCH RAPS NEW BILL.

La Crosse Congressman Scores Underwood Tariff Act.

La Crosse, Wis., May 14.—Pronouncing the Democratic tariff bill a discrimination against the farmers of the Northwest, Congressman J. J. Esch, upon arriving home from Washington, said the measure now pending in the senate threatens the welfare of several industries and will yield insignificant benefits to the consumers.

Mr. Esch declared the bill reduces the protection on nearly every product of Northwestern farms. He predicts a great reduction in the flocks of sheep as a result of the free wool schedule. If the bill becomes a law and the duty is removed on sugar in three years, disaster will overtake the cane and sugar beet industries in this country.

The bill was drawn, Mr. Esch said, entirely on the principle of tariff for revenue only, and not with the idea of offering any protection to existing industries in this country.

DEMONSTRATION FARM FOR SHERWOOD, N. D.

Sherwood, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sherwood gets one of the Great Northern demonstration farms. There is one at Glenburn and two are located near Mohall. Frank Holt, an agricultural expert, looks after them and those in Bottineau and McHenry counties.

IS 90 ON FRIDAY.

A. L. Larpenteur to Celebrate Birthday in Good Health.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—A. L. Larpenteur, the oldest continuous resident in the state, will celebrate his 90th birthday anniversary next Friday at his home, The Anchorage, 341 Dale street. He will observe the day with a party and reception.

At 90 years Mr. Larpenteur is still hale and hearty and writes a firm, steady hand.

In concluding a letter on his forthcoming birthday to a local newspaper Mr. Larpenteur says:

"Minnesota, I love thee. I knew you before you had a name, and helped to nurse you into manhood. My contemporaries have all gone to sleep. I am alone left of the incorporators of this city in 1854, and of the incorporators of the Old Settlers' association in 1857. They, too, have all gone, and 'tis for me to chant the requiem. Noble fellows they were; requiescat in pace."

TO ENLARGE HOSPITAL.

Newberry, Mich., Institution Will Be Made Much Larger.

Newberry, Mich May 14.—At a special meeting of the Newberry state hospital board, held in Marquette, Friday night, matters connected with the construction of the buildings for which the legislature appropriated $85,000 were discussed and Charlton & Kuenzli, the architects who planned the original group, together with Edward Demar, who has been associated with them in this undertaking, were instructed to go ahead with the plans and to get the work of erection started as soon as the plans are ready.

The original appropriation bill carried nearly $200,000 for improvements and additions that would increase the capacity of the institution, which is already badly overcrowded, but the appropriation was pared to $85,000, which covers the construction of one cottage to be included in the quadrangle of buildings; one cloister to connect it with the others of the group; a bakeshop, an addition to the power house, which is inadequate in size to allow of the installation of new machinery to supply the increased demands of the institution; a tubercular ward cottage; an addition to the dining room, and a residence for the assistant physician.

SHOOTS AT WIFE.

North Dakotan Takes Exception to Her Card Playing.

Bismarck, N. D., May 14.—Ben Larson has been held to the district court on the charge of attempting to kill his wife. It is alleged that he fired two shots at her following a card party at their home during which he drank freely and became enraged because she played so poorly while his partner.

Duluthians to Visit Minot.

Minot, N. D., May 14.—Minot will be the goal of 100 Duluth business men who will leave the Zenith City June 1 on a trade extension trip into North Dakota.

The party will come by special to this city over the Great Northern from Grand Forks, after visiting the chief towns lying along the way and will return home by way of the Fargo-Minot cut-off.

The excursionists expect to make at least 150 towns during the six days the excursion will last.

North Star College Commencement.

Warren, Minn., May 14.—Commencement week program at North Star college follows: Thursday, May 15, hospital commencement; Friday, May 16, vocal and piano recital; Saturday, May 17, Miss Danielson's graduation recital; Sunday, May 18, 11 a. m., missionary sermon; 8 p. m., baccalauerate sermon; Monday, May 19, Grand Messiah concert; Tuesday, May 20, 3 p. m., recital; 8 p. m., class program; Wednesday, May 24, 3 p. m., college aid and recital; 8 p. m., commencement with address by Supt. N. A Thorson of Crookston

Division 'Phone Headquarters.

Hankinson, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northwestern Telephone Exchange has made Hankinson a division headquarters for this part of the state because of the advantages of this point for covering a large area. An expert will be located here and the local service improved.

Cloquet Home Damaged.

Cloquet, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire early Tuesday morning completely gutted the home of Edward Swenson on Chestnut street. The fire department was called at 2 a. m., but it was evident that the fire had been smouldering for some time, as the interior was filled with smoke. The blaze originated in the vicinity of the furnace. Damage to the building and contents amounted to about $1,800, fully covered by insurance.

Gambling Ruins Montanan.

Livingston, Mont., May 14.—Murray Gilbert, for years one of the most respected citizens of Park county and prominent in social circles, pleaded guilty yesterday to embezzling $1,500 from the Russell Elevator company of Clyde Park, of which he was an employe. He disappeared and was located in Portland, where he had gone into business. He blames gambling for his downfall.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Gwinn—A force of thirty men has started clearing ground for the Mackinaw-Gardner location at a point about midway between the two properties and two miles north of Gwinn. Victor Carlson of Gwinn has been awarded the contract for the erection of five frame dwelling houses at the location and J. S. Wahlman, the Ishpeming contractor, has started work on the erection of the captain's house.

Manistique—The handsome farm home of C. O. Bridges in the vicinity of Indian Lake, was destroyed by fire last week. The fire started in the garret. Mrs. Bridges was in the city, and Mr. Bridges was at work some distance from the house. Much of the household effects were removed.

Newberry—The South Shore freight depot at Newberry was badly gutted by fire last week and a considerable quantity of freight destroyed before the flames were brought under control. The building was old and as dry as tinder and the fire spread quickly, the entire roof being ablaze when the alarm was turned in.

Ishpeming—Trebilcock Bros. will send a crew to Michigamme about the first of the month to do some concrete work for the township. About 2,000 lineal feet of walks, 1,000 feet of curbing and 1,500 feet of gutters will be constructed. The firm also has a contract to put a concrete foundation under the fire hall, which is to be generally improved.

Hancock—Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Jacob Pelkola, who died in Atlantic last Saturday after a long illness, of heart disease. He was 32 years of age, married, and is survived by a widow and six children, all of whom live at home.

Houghton—Austin R. Karkeet of Loretto, Mich., and Miss Mary Connors of Commonwealth, Wis., were married at the bride's home. Mr. Karkeet is a graduate of the M. C. M. of the class of 1911, and is now engineer at the Loretto mine, where he and his bride will make their home.

Hancock—Wellington Sanborn of Alpena, Mich., was arrested by Game Warden St. Clair Wilson on a charge of catching undersized trout in the Little Elm river. He was arraigned Monday before Justice Eichern in Hancock and paid a fine and costs amounting to $19.50.

Laurium—The funeral of John Dunlop, aged 49, who died Sunday evening, will be held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Dunlop was born in Scotland, where he resided previous to seven years ago, when the family came to Laurium. Since his residence here he conducted a bakery. Besides a widow, a brother in Newcastle, Eng., and three daughters, Elizabeth, Agnes and Jessie, and one son, William, survive.

Houghton—Supt. J. A. Doelle of the Houghton public schools has received from the Smithsonian institution a collection of sixty rock specimens from various parts of the world.

Hancock—Dr. George McElveen, a former Hancock resident, died Sunday in Detroit, aged 46. He is survived by a wife, several brothers in South Carolina and two sisters. He was a cousin of Mrs. Schulte of Dollar Bay. The funeral was held Tuesday in Detroit.

Marquette—The Branch prison team won from a picked Marquette nine Sunday at baseball by the score of 12 to 1.

Negaunee—Frank Cotrecole, who killed himself Friday evening, was no Black Hander, and there was no kind of Black Hand letters ever known to be in his possession. It is also denied that he has been a convict. He was well liked by his countrymen.

Marquette—The funeral of Mrs. August Guhlke, who died Sunday evening, will be held Wednesday from St. Peter's cathedral. Interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Her death was caused by cancer, from which she suffered for more than a year. Her husband, one son and four daughters survive.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Minot, N. D.—John H. Lewis was chosen manager of the Minot Chautauqua at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chautauqua association.

Williston, N. D.—Thousands of gophers were exterminated during the past winter as a result of the lack of snow and the depth to which frost penetrated. Farmers have found that the pests have been frozen to death in their winter quarters, as they failed to dig below the frost line. The frost has done more to exterminate the pests in the one season than the farmers have been able to do in several years.

Fargo, N. D.—There were eleven applications for membership received by the Elks lodge of this city last Saturday evening and all of these were elected to membership. In addition to this there were several other applications received and these will be acted on at a special meeting to be held next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mayville, N. D.—Pastors of the Mayville district of the Hauges Lutheran church, in their annual conference at Mayville, declared themselves as being opposed to church sanction of the marriage of parties to a divorce when both parties are still living. The new officers for the coming year are: President, C. J. Johaanson, Horace, N. D.; secretary, O. J. Mestin, Lisbon; treasurer, S. S. Westby, Edinburg.

Fargo, N. D. — General Secretary Ralph R. Wolf left Monday morning for Cincinnati, where he will attend the employed officers international Y. M. C. A. convention.

Lakota, N. D.—State's Attorney S. G. Skulason, who left some time ago for Ontario, Cal., to accompany Mrs. Skulason and the children home from that place, where they spent the winter, has returned with the family. Since leaving Mr. Skulason was confined to bed for several days with blood poisoning in one of his feet. He visited for a few days with his brother, B. G. Skulason at Portland, Or.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The sale of the Frank V. Kent & Co. jewelry store to the A. E. Palmer company, was announced Monday, possession being given the new owners that morning.

Goodrich—Falling backwards from the top of a traction plow, Herman Kuehn of this place broke one hip and several ribs and was injured internally.

McClusky, N. D.—The state bounty on wolves has started a number of citizens on hunts. Bounties were asked during the past week on forty that were killed in Sheridan county. The state pays $2.50 for each scalp.

Dawson, N. D.—The barn, three horses and other livestock on the J. F. Campbell farm near here burned. The flames are thought to have started from spontaneous combustion of some kind, as there seemed to be an explosion which spread the fire over the entire barn at once.

Bowbells, N. D.—By fall Bowbells will have a local mill. T. O. Stromset has decided to put in a small plant here. Kenmare and Columbus and other towns of the state have mills that have proved successful.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Viroqua—In the league declamatory contest held at Viroqua between Sparta, La Crosse, Tomah and Viroqua high schools the first place was given to Mary Graves of Viroqua and the second to Ruth Enkhausen of Sparta. The joint oratorical and declamatory district contest will be held in La Crosse on May 16.

New Richmond—W. F. Meyer of St. Paul, conductor of the Omaha road freight train which collided with a passenger train at Baldwin, Wis., on April 27, causing the death of two members of the passenger train crew and injury of many others was arrested at Neillsville and brought to Hudson by Sheriff Charles Lee. He was arraigned before County Judge Otto W. Arnquist on a charge of manslaughter.

Oconomowoc—Louis J. Lehmann, 50 years old, was struck and killed by the westbound passenger train Monday night. Mr. Lehmann is survived by a wife and son. Louis Lehmann was for over twenty years in the dry goods business in Oconomowoc and was prominent in Knights of Pythias circles.

Fond du Lac—Edward M. McGowan has been granted a patent upon an automobile fender. Two arms carried, carrying a shield are released by a spring and catch any object in the car's path.

Beloit—F. N. Gardner, 70 years old, head and founder of the Gardner Machine company and for years before that manager of the C. Besly & Co.'s shops in this city, died of pneumonia. His son, Fred, also of the company is critically ill of pneumonia.

Sheboygan—John, 2 years old and Raymond, 6 years old, died of pneumonia on the day that their mother, Mrs. Anton Baumert gave birth to a baby girl. There are now twelve children in the family.

Waukesha—Mrs. Sarah Elmer, 56 years old, for many years a well known resident of this city, died on Sunday. She is survived by her husband, Joseph Elmer, three daughters and two sons, who are Katherine Elmer, Oshkosh; Annie, Lizzie, Joseph and George of this city. The funeral will be held Thursday.

Trempealeau—Oliver Grignon of this place was struck by a Milwaukee train here on Sunday and instantly killed.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Bemidji — The $4,000 secured from the state through the efforts of County Auditor Jay J. Jeterge, as a refund on the Dumas case as voted by the recent legislature, will be available about Aug. 1.

Moorhead — Concordia college will celebrate Norway's Independence day on the 17th of May by a picnic which will be held at the farm home of Oscar Christianson, who is a student at Concordia.

Detroit — The Northern Pacific conference of Congregational churches will be held at Detroit beginning Wednesday, May 14 and continuing to Friday noon.

St. Cloud — The son of William Murphy, on the East side, accidentally shot himself in the calf of the leg Sunday afternoon while shooting gophers at his home with a 22-caliber rifle. The bullet entered just below the knee and lodged near the ankle. A physician was summoned and the bullet was removed.

Rochester — The Elks of this city are to organize a baseball team, and already a game is being arranged for Rochester with the Elks of Winona.

Mankato — E. J. Kreg, chief electrician for the United States navy is in Mankato and has opened a recruiting station in the Federal building.

East Grand Forks — This city is putting men sentenced for drunkenness or for other offenses at work on city streets, in the parks or at any other city work.

Red Wing—Herbert Krieger, a young man employed at the bottling plant of the Red Wing Brewing company, was quite seriously injured when a bottle exploded, the flying glass frightfully lacerating his left arm above the wrist and severing the main tendon and artery.

Stillwater — The Minnesota board of parole met at the state prison Monday. A session was held at the new prison in the morning and at the old one in the afternoon. There were forty-seven inmates applying for release and two paroled men asked to be finally discharged.

Minneapolis — Passengers on a Milwaukee railway train prevented Inga Iverson, 27 years old, from jumping through a window of the train as it left Mobridge, S. D., according to information given Court Commissioner Bates Monday. The woman is in the Hennepin county jail pending examination and word from relatives. The woman was on her way from Seattle to Minneapolis.

Stillwater — The May term of the district court opened Monday with Judge P. H. Stolberg of Harris on the bench. The grand jury had only one minor assault and battery case to be considered and finished last evening. An inspection was made of the state prison.

NO SLUMS AT THE DULUTH STEEL PLANT.

The breadth and humanity of the "steel trust" and the scope of the splendid new steel plant it is completing in this city are both illustrated by the announcement made through The Herald last evening by Vice President George L. Reis of the Minnesota Steel company, of the company's plans for housing its workers.

Slums have grown up about many large manufacturing plants; none will be permitted to grow up around this one. Squalid houses on scanty lots, noisome alleys and insanitary dwellings, will be barred in the beginning; and to make them impossible the steel corporation will build its own community along lines of beauty, comfort and modern sanitary science.

There has been nothing finer or more promising in any of the announcements connected with the new steel plant than this.

In a wholesome and sightly location a townsite has been platted in park style, with every lot full size—if we ever built a town we'd make it a penitentiary offense to have a lot less than fifty by a hundred and forty—and with the grouping arranged for sightliness as well as comfort. On this site three hundred and fifty buildings will be erected, so that when the workmen gather to set the new plant in operation homes will be ready for them at moderate rentals.

For this purpose the steel corporation has made an appropriation of $1,300,000—evidence enough that no expense is to be spared to make the steel plant settlement a model town indeed.

The dwellings of the workers in this new industry will not only comply with Duluth's model modern building ordinance, but they will go far beyond its requirements. There will be light and air for all; and there will be yards for the children to play in and for the housewives to make gardens in. Workers in the steel plant will not merely exist—they will live.

The broad humanity involved in these plans, the recognition that its workers are human beings and must have proper human living conditions, is not only sound social justice, but it is good business. It is typical of the "steel trust," as Duluth and the range have come to know it,—this recognition of the close relationship between justice to the workers and good business policy.

It begins to appear that Ortie McManigal chose the wrong country for his work. The militant English women should be willing to pay him a good salary.

IS THE LEGISLATURE REPRESENTATIVE?

The two-headed legislature has been a feature of state government so long that in spite of its repeated failures the proposal to abolish it seems startling.

Yet the Kansas idea of doing away with the large and unwieldy bicameral legislature and substituting for it a small legislative commission representing the whole state continues to be the subject of discussion, and in the opposition to it there is as yet little reason, and altogether too much of the rather stupid argument that because we have always had the large bicameral legislature we must never try anything else.

The real issue involved in this discussion is whether or not the present legislature really is representative.

The strongest argument for it is that it IS representative, and if it is not, then what remains to be said for it?

In the next Minnesota legislature there will be sixty-seven senators and a hundred and thirty representatives. Each senator will be elected from a separate district, and in nearly every case that will also be true of the house members.

A citizen living in a senatorial district and in a house district electing one house member has a voice only in the selection of a single member of each branch of the legislature. If he thinks he has much influence in the legislature, he is mistaken. He has only a voice in selecting one-sixty-seventh of the senate and one-one hundred and thirtieth of the house.

Each representative and senator must represent his own district first, and the state as a whole only second. With the districts crowding for appropriations, is it any wonder that the taxes grow steadily higher? With each member of each branch responsible only to the small section of the state which elects him, is it strange that often the common interests of the whole state are neglected?

Says the Kansas City Star: "The men who serve in legislatures as a rule understand this feature. They ignore the public sentiment of the state because they know the public sentiment of the state cannot reach them. They can defy the whole state as long as the 'boys' at home can take care of the small districts electing them. Why should the people expect responsive legislation from a body of men not accountable to them?"

Why, indeed? They need not expect it, for they will not get it.

How long would legislative reapportionment have been delayed, for instance, if the lawmakers from Southern Minnesota had to get part of their votes from Northern Minnesota?

How would the seven-senators proposal fare, if the members from the country had to court the votes of dwellers in cities?

How far would any project designed to benefit the cities to the injury of the rural districts get if the city members had to look for votes in the country?

How long would proper attention to the need of developing Northern Minnesota be delayed if the members from Southern Minnesota had to campaign in Northern Minnesota?

A legislative commission of one or two from each congressional district, but voted upon by the whole state, would reverse the present situation and correct the present legislative weaknesses immediately.

Surely it is worth thinking about, then.

Even if the men who met at Chicago Sunday carry out their plans, there will be some doubt as to whether they persuaded the bull moosers to join them or decided themselves to join the bull moosers.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Heartiest congratulations and warmest felicitations to the Hon. J. D. Ensign, senior judge of the Duluth district bench!

Today he is eighty years old, and his eightieth birthday finds him still usefully and ably at work, still mentally clear and vigorous with a sprightly step and good health, still able to do his daily work with interest, enjoyment and with profit to the community.

For forty-odd years Judge Ensign has been a citizen of Duluth, and all these years his has been a striking, greatly respected and well beloved figure in the community.

It will be the earnest wish of every citizen, we are sure, that this one of the few pioneers who are still in active life may long be spared to the community.

The New York senate may be puzzled to imagine on what ground the grand jury found an indictment against Senator Stilwell. And then again, maybe it won't be so puzzled after all.

THE COMMISSION PLAN STILL SPREADS.

More and more cities are putting their municipal affairs on a simple, direct business basis, closely in the control of the people, by adopting the commission plan of city government.

The latest Short Ballot Bulletin gives some striking figures.

On April 1, the commission plan had been adopted by 246 cities in thirty-four states, with a combined population of 5,587,706.

This is an average of 22,308 to each community, and in the list there are nine cities of more than a hundred thousand people.

And still it spreads, advertised by its success wherever it is tried.

That laundrymen's convention at St. Paul ought to furnish a good chance to wash the capitol dome.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF THE PUBLIC.

Commissioner Merritt of the division of public utilities will earn the gratitude of many citizens when he puts into effect the plan he is working out of providing for the payment of gas and water bills in various parts of the city instead of at the main office.

Duluth is a widely scattered city, and there is but one gas and water office. To many it must often be a serious inconvenience to go to that office once a month to pay their bills. If Commissioner Merritt's plan works out as he expects it, at least three drug stores in various parts of the city will be selected to receive payments, and they will be picked with a view to the greatest possible convenience to the patrons of the department.

Those who pay by check will not be concerned in this innovation, but they do not constitute a very large percentage of the department's patrons.

Another matter Mr. Merritt has in mind should materially ease up the work of the department. This is to divide the patrons into three classes, each paying on a different date in the month. While this may be temporarily a little confusing to some of the users of gas and water, they will readily adjust themselves to it, and by spreading the collections through the month instead of congesting them into a few days the work of the office will be materially lightened.

Both these ideas are so practical that one wonders that they have not been brought forth before.

The reason probably is that Duluth didn't have the commission plan of city government before.

Somebody has remarked that "all women who pose are not models." May we not also add that the woman who poses is not a model?

A SOLUTION OF THE MARKET PROBLEM.

The long, vexing problem of city markets has been worked out by the Duluth Retail Merchants' association to what looks very much like a satisfactory solution.

Instead of immuring market gardeners in the gloomy interior of the Armory, instead of putting up elaborate structures for their use, the plan suggested by the merchants is that simple canvas covers be arranged next the sidewalk in the street on the avenue side of the Armory, and that the gardeners be permitted to back their wagons under this canopy and thus expose their wares for sale.

This plan is not new, but has been proved by practice in other communities, and everywhere seems to have worked well. Market gardeners to whom it has been presented have approved it, and the city authorities have given it their sanction and have promised to do what is possible to bring it about.

The advantage of the plan to the city is its cheapness. The advantage to buyer and seller is its convenience. Under it market places can easily be opened wherever they are needed, with a minimum of expense and a maximum of results.

The supreme court says a city has a perfect right to protect its people against diseased milk. There seems to be more doubt about the right of a state to protect its people against tainted rates.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

WEST DULUTH GIRLS WORK OVERTIME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In regard to a statement made in your paper of May 9, page 2, column 4, on "Women Who Work," I wish to state a few facts. Your paper states that Duluth retail stores will not be required to make any readjustment to come within the law; but I wish to call yours and the city of Duluth's attention to the West Duluth retail stores whose clerks work from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. five days of the week and to 10 p. m. Saturday, with the exception of one morning to 12 o'clock and one evening from 6:30, giving six hours off during the week. Not only do they work until 9 p. m., but oftentimes until 9:15 and 9:30 p. m., during the week on account of customers being allowed to come into the store at 9 o'clock to be waited upon. I hope that the people of Duluth will take this into consideration and see that the changes are made in West Duluth the same as other businesses in Duluth, where such changes have to be made.

Thanking you in advance for the publication of this letter I am,

A WEST DULUTH CLERK.

Duluth, May 13.

DISCOVERS A NEW POLE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

By the discovery of the North Pole and the South Pole, Perry and Amundsen placed their names in the "Hall of Fame." Now comes Chief Troyer, after many years of effort, with the report of the discovery of the "Metropole." After such an achievement the citizens of Duluth will undoubtedly repose the greatest confidence in the ability of Mr. Troyer. X. Y. Z.

Nopeming Sanitarium, May 13.

FEELING BETTER NOW.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Thanks for publishing my letter and also for your explanation. Your editorial looks better in the light of the latter. J. A. JOHNSON.

"The labor union," says the employer.
"Everybody," says everybody else.

Outside of That—

London Globe: Apart from the fact, "Anonymous," that the four lines of verse you offer are extremely scurrilous and that "Macaroni" as a playfull variant of "Marconi" is very depressing, we welcome you as a contributor to our column.

The Difference.

Judge: Matrimonial Agent—What kind of a husband do you want?

Girl—One who doesn't smoke, drink or swear, who brings me chocolates and takes me to theaters and restaurants every day.

Matrimonial Agent—You don't want a husband. What you want is a beau.

The Country as Seen By a City Man

By James J. Montague in New York American.

Far from the lulling song of the elevated trains, the glad cries of the traffic policeman to the patient truck driver, the pleasant perfume of the gas mains, and the joyous tumult of the subway crush is a strange, weird region called the Country.

Keep away from it! For miles and miles you may wander its monotonous green wastes and never hear the reverberating music of a penumatic riveter or the thrilling shriek of a trolley car rounding a curve. For days and days you may wait in vain for the hospitable greeting of a subway guard inviting you to step into his car and assuring you courteously that there is plenty of room inside. You will miss the kindly warning of the chauffeur as you crawl from beneath the wheels of his car; your heart will be heavy with homesickness for the freshly turned earth on the torn up streets, and the dainty plank walks around excavations for new buildings—walks roofed in with by two by twelves, on which falling steel scantlings beat a steady and exciting tattoo.

There are no flats in the country. There are no gala block-long displays of family washing swung between brick dwellings, like the fluttering pennants on a holiday-dressed man-o-war. No safes destined for the thirty-second story of a highly thatched skyscraper part their hawsers and some hurtling down to the pavement, to provide edification to all nearby populace save that portion that happens to be directly underneath. Never does a fire chief drive unconventionally down the sidewalk execrating the fleeing public as he sweeps by. Never does an ambulance on its splendid errand of mercy crash madly through a crowd and make business for the other ambulances that follow in its wake.

That blood-tingling thrill that follows a race for life across an avenue in the twilight hours is unknown. Unknown are the enlivening elbows of red-blooded, homing multitudes as they struggle happily to wedge into transit terminals. The soft, persuasive accents of the policeman begging you to accelerate your pace, so as to be in tune with the infinite flock of your fellows; the musical calls of the tug and ferryboats to one another in the watches of the night; the heart-stirring descent of a squad of central office men on delinquent poolrooms, the volley and thunder of the gunmen on their evening rounds, all these are left behind when you take your timid and unfamiliar way toward this strange, forbidding country.

Evil and savage beasts confront you at every turn. Horned monsters that cry "Moo" and leer at you with lambent fire in their fearsome brown eyes; reptiles that sit on legs chorusing "cheep, cheep," until you approach, and then plunge suspiciously into pools as if distrustful of your presence; long eared, white-tailed creatures that flicker across your path like flashes of light or peer at you silent and sinister from behind stone walls; winged creatures with plumage copied from women's hats, that chatter in the boughs of trees at sunset, and are up at the first blush of dawn to break your rest with their shrill piping.

From the earth and from the dank green woods come scents that startle and disquiet you—not the familiar smells of banana peels, and coal smoke and sewer manholes, but disturbing, unrecognized odors that proceed from tawdry, flimsy creations called flowers, that have their roots in the common dingy ground.

A mad poet—all poets are mad, but this one was madder than most of his fellows—once wrote:

"They come, the merry Summer months, with beauty, song and flowers,
They come, the gladsome months that bring thick leafiness to bowers,
Up! Up! My soul, and walk abroad; fling cark and care aside;
Seek silent woods, or rest thyself where peaceful waters glide;
Or underneath the shadow vast of patriarchal tree,
Scan through its leaves the boundless sky, in wrapt tranquility."

Pay no attention to this lunatic rhapsody. Keep away from the Country—especially in Spring.

The "Philadelphia Plan" For Vice.

New York World: Philadelphia is attempting to abolish vice by stationing policemen in front of disorderly houses to warn visitors not to enter, under penalty of arrest. When "the panic-stricken inmates packed their belongings and hurried away they were followed by plain-clothes men and their stopping-places noted."

This would be the simplest solution of the vice problem if it solved anything. Any city could employ its police force to close every house of ill-repute at an hour's notice. But what will be accomplished by driving the inmates into the streets? And assuming that they are eventually driven from the streets and out of the city, what will it profit to cleanse Philadelphia of vice by making the vice problem of other cities worse?

The Philadelphia plan of dealing with the social evil is not strictly new. It has been tried in New York with results which long ago convinced sincere reformers of the folly of diffusing local into general vice and calling it a "cure."

The Queen of the May

An Idyl of Modern Britain.

Wilberforce Jenkins in Harper's Weekly: I've got me a hodful of nice, solid bricks, a sledge hammer hard and a couple of picks; a crowbar or two and a jimmy of steel as straight and as true as a battleship's keel. I've got me a bagful of cobbles and coal, and paving stones hard as a petrified roll, all ready prepared for the glorious day when I'm to be Queen of the May, Mother, The Suffragette Queen of the May!

I've got me a bottle of acid so strong 'twould eat up a pitchfork from handle to prong to drop in the mail box to show brutal man what woman will do when she finds that she can. I've kerosene, gasoline, paraffin, too, all ready for tasks that a woman must do to show that she's here anu determined to stay, a Militant Queen of the May, Mother, The Suffragette Queen of the May!

I've practiced at throwing by day and by night at any old target that happened in sight, and got to a point where my aim is so fine I hit what I aim at three times out of nine; and windows of palaces, dwellings and shops go crashing before me in spite of the cops, wherever I wander, wherever I stray, enthroned as the Queen of the May, Mother, The Suffragette Queen of the May!

You need not expect me to dinner or tea. It's nineteen to one it's the cooler for me, and forth to the battle as leader I go to lead on my troops 'gainst the tyrannous foe; to work up Britannia, and compel her to note there'll never be peace till the women shall vote; my place at the fore in the heat of the fray, as Queen of the Beautiful May, Mother, The Suffragette Queen of the May!

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Michael Donohoe of Philadelphia has only ten children. A little while ago one of the ten conducted some quiet experiments with parlor matches and pleasantly set fire to the Donohoe house. The fire department promptly responded, as the papers say:

"Well, well," said one of the firemen, when he got into the house and saw some of the family scurrying about, "I thought from the outside that it was a private dwelling, but blamed if it ain't a schoolhouse."

Representative Phil Campbell of Kansas was asked by a colleague what kind of a man a certain other young congressman happened to be.

"I don't know him well," said Campbell, "but last winter I saw a mischievous boy throw a snowball at him. Instead of chasing the boy or throwing one back at him, he turned and stared at him, and exclaimed, peevishly, 'How dare you!' That's all I know about him."

• • •

When he was a member of the house, Postmaster General Burleson was constantly dropping in at the census bureau to get advance reports about things pertaining to Texas agriculture. When Census Director North was succeeded by Mr. Durand he told his successor:

"Now, there's a congressman over here from Texas named Burleson, who will be coming around after information that you may not always feel like giving out in advance. But you might as well do it. When he starts after anything he'll get it, and you'll save yourself a lot of time and trouble by handing him anything he asks for."

• • •

When C. H. Tavenner, one of the youngest members of the house, was campaigning last fall, he dropped into a little town where he was little known, and which he expected to be carried by his opponent. A native of the place came up and introduced himself.

"Things are coming your way nicely," said the native. "You're going to have a supreme cinch."

"Well, well," murmured Tavenner gratefully, "that's not only encouraging but surprising. I hardly expected to do much down here."

"Oh, yes," went on the man, "it's going to be easy. That fellow Tavenner doesn't know the people, and I guess he isn't much of a fellow, anyhow."

"I'm certainly interested in hearing all this," said Tavenner; "the only trouble is that I'm Tavenner."

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, the part Indian senator, is a diet hobbyist. Every little while he takes a notion to fast for a few days and gives his digestive organization a little vacation. At such times he will pass up the choicest foods the market affords whether he meets the food in public or in secret. After he has fasted for a time he then starts in and drinks great quantities of milk, to the exclusion of aught else until he cannot look at a cow without desiring to give a wild hysterical scream. His next stage after living on milk is to get back gradually to his regular vegetarian diet.

A few months ago, Owen dieted and carried on with himself, first losing and then putting on flesh and everybody desired to know what ailed him.

"Oh, I'm simply tuning up a bit," explained Owen.

Senator Culberson of Texas is an authority on Civil war history, and though he was wearing knee pants when the war broke out, he can trip up almost any veteran on the details of any engagement. If somebody speaks of John Smith being a captain in the artillery, when he was really in the infantry, Culberson spots the error instantly.

• • •

A dramatic little incident was enacted a few years ago in the course of a political speech Culberson was making to a crowd of several thousand people down in Texas. He had been talking with considerable fervor, when suddenly he stopped, and stared straight ahead toward the rear of the hall. After a moment or two the silence grew intense and the audience turned about to see what was up. They saw an old Confederate veteran walking with a crutch and a cane, glancing about him for a seat. Then out of the momentary stillness they heard Culberson's impassioned voice, saying:

"Won't somebody give that old veteran a seat! For four years he was so busy that he did not have time to sit down!"

Every time he receives a letter from a constituent who seems the least bit disgruntled, Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota immediately writes that man a letter asking his advice about something. And no constituent can long remain ill-humored toward a congressman who displays his sound judgment by seeking able advice on the great questions of the day.

Although he was the head of big agricultural schools before he entered the cabinet, Secretary of Agriculture Houston is not himself the graduate of any such institution. His specialty is the science of government and economics. He taught economics at the University of Texas.

Chief Flynn, of the Secret service, has a way of making friends with counterfeiters he has captured. One of these has saved his life three or four times by tipping him off to plots against him.

Real Civil Service Reform.

New York World: President Wilson has solved in the best possible way the difficulty bequeathed to him by President Taft's order placing fourth-class postmasters in the classified civil service. Postmasters now in office in this class, as well as candidates for appointment, are to be required to take competitive examinations to show their fitness for retention. This is just and it is practical.

In the long run the Taft order should benefit the service, as a firm step forward in civil service reform. But if unmodified it would for the present operate, and it was intended to operate, to keep Republicans in office and to keep Democrats out of office. Thousands of these postmasters are men who could never have been appointed under a merit system, who gained office for political reasons and who farm out the work to their clerks or relatives. There is no especial sanctity in the claims of such incumbents. With all the advantage of experience, postmasters who are fitted for the office should have no difficulty in proving the fact in the test of examination.

Choice of Evils.

National Monthly: A shoemaker in Kansas City had a sign above his door which read, "A Swindler." One day a gentleman came in and said:

"Why don't you put your given name on that sign instead of your initials? People will think you are a rogue."

"Why, dot would make it worse," said the shoemaker. "It is Adam."

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

"On to Hinckley."

Bemidji Pioneer: "On to Hinckley" is the cry that should ring out from every nook and corner of every county in the entire state of Minnesota, for on June 5 and 6 the summer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held in that city. Every live booster, who believes in the great future of Northern Minnesota should be there "with bells on," and he should begin ringing the bells today and keep on ringing them up to the opening day of the meeting. Great preparations are being made for this event, which is to be one advocating good roads and better agriculture.

Results Are Wanted.

Cannon Falls Beacon: We hope the Progressives in congress will not lose sight of the fact that it is results the people at home are looking for, and that credit is likely to be given those who support an honest tariff reduction plan regardless of whose plan it is. There seems to be a disposition on the part of Republicans and Progressive to play party politics with the tariff question; a course wholly unjustified by the state of the public mind.

They Will Come Back.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The reports of failures of farmers who left Minnesota to find the Eldorado in Northwestern Canada are again coming this way, only they are more pronounced, and the word received is, that if many of them could get back to the old North Star state, they'd "be tickled to death" to come and roam no more.

Grasping Opportunities.

Park Rapids Clipper: According to railroad statistics more immigrants have stopped in Minnesota this year than have gone through to states west and to Canada. Northern Minnesota Development association is receiving much of the credit for this change in bringing the opportunities of Northern Minnesota to the attention of homeseekers.

Tip For the State.

Ada Index: Good roads have more to do with farm values than anything else. A buyer is always favorably impressed if he drives to a farm on good roads, and he is disgusted if the roads are poor.

Unity of Effort Needed.

Sauk Center Herald: There should be unity of effort to secure for Minnesota a satisfactory public utilities law. The governor wants one, the legislature wants one and so do the people. The senate and the house have each a competent committee to draft a bill and they should act in concert, ready and willing at all times to receive advice from the governor and others who are interested in the matter. With all interested parties pulling together the state will be the gainer. There's no room for dissension and wrangling and there should be none.

All Can Learn.

Menahga Journal: It is hardly fair to make light of the experts from agricultural colleges who are endeavoring to improve conditions on the farm. There are few industries but what may be improved by modern methods and it is the farmer most of all, that will profit thereby.

Great Dairy Country.

Biwabik Times: Every expert that comes to this section says that it is the greatest clover country in the world; that clover means cows and that cows mean wealth. Those farmers to the south of Biwabik who are to put in a creamery are pioneers in a great industry.

No Place for Boys.

What can a boy do, and where can a boy stay,
If he is always told to get out of the way?
He cannot sit here and he must not stand there;
The cushions that cover that fine rocking chair
Were put there, of course, to be seen and admired.
A boy has no business to ever be tired.
The beautiful roses and flowers that bloom
On the floor of the darkened and dell-cate room
Are not made to walk on—at least, not by boys;
The house is no place, anyway, for their noise.

Yet boys must walk somewhere; and what if their feet,
Sent out of our houses, sent into the street,
Should step 'round the corner and pause at the door
Where other boys' feet have paused often before;
Should pass through the gateway of glittering light,
Where jokes that are merry and songs that are bright,
Ring out a warm welcome with flattering voice,
And tempting say, "Here's a place for the boys!"

Ah, what if they should? What if your boy or mine
Should cross o'er the threshold which marks out the line
'Twixt virtue and vice, 'twixt pureness and sin,
And leave all his innocent boyhood within?
Oh, what if they should, because you and I,
While the days and the months and the years hurry by,
Are too busy with cares and with life's fleeting joys
To make 'round our hearthstone a place for the boys?

There's a place for the boys. They will find it somewhere;
And if our own homes are too daintily fair
For the touch of their fingers, the tread of their feet,
They'll find it, and find it, alas! in the street,
'Mid the gildings of sin and the glitter of vice;
And with heartaches and longings we pay a dear price
For the getting of gain that our lifetime employs,
If we fail to provide a place for the boys.

A place for the boys—dear mother, I pray,
As cares settle down round our short earthly way,
Don't let us forget, by our kind, loving deeds,
To show we remember their pleasures and needs.
Though our souls may be vexed with problems of life,
And worn with besetments and tollings and strife,
Our hearts will keep younger—your tired heart and mine—
If we give them a place in their innermost shrine:
And to life's latest hour 'twill be one of our joys
That we keep a small corner—a place for the boys.

Miss Lois Kimball, a teacher in the Duluth schools, has been granted a year's leave of absence.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cameron from Ewen, Mich., who will make their home at Grand Rapids, Minn., were in Duluth yesterday.

Miss Annie Hays has gone to Helena, Mont., for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin of West Duluth have for a guest H. A. Stemple of Texarkana, Tex.

Miss Susie Austin of Lakeside is entertaining her cousin, Miss Cora Austin, also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freeman, all of Camden, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Johnson of 2231 West Third street are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Nash of Minneapolis.

Fred Wright of Saginaw, Mich., has purchased from the West Duluth Land company a parcel of land at the foot of Fourth street north and will start a boat building establishment.

The law firm of Pealer, Titus & Lemmon has been formed. Messrs. Pealer and Titus have lived in Duluth for several years, and Judge Lemmon comes from Idaho.

Gill & Wright, proprietors of the Duluth Roller mills, made an assignment yesterday to F. W. Paine of the Security bank. The firm's trouble is due to the glutted flour market, combined with the financial stringency.

A. C. Nelson, for several years ticket agent of the St. Paul & Duluth road in Duluth, died yesterday at his home in Taylorsville, Pa. Almost everybody in Duluth knew "Chilly" Nelson. Last fall he was granted a year's leave of absence owing to ill health and went to Mexico and Florida. He was a brother of Mrs. W. H. Fisher.

The vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church has extended a call to Rev. A. W. Ryan of Warren, Pa., in the Pittsburg diocese, on the recommendation of Bishop Gilbert of Minneapolis.

In the Next Generation

The Outlook: Perhaps it will come in the next generation—at least one hopes it will be the next. But the wheel is a huge one, and it takes a long time for it to come full circle. Perhaps our children are only the fathers or grandfathers of the men and women who are to realize our dream.

We are preparing it for them now; its elements are in our hands. Out of our recent skepticism, out of the materialism that has hampered us for so long, we are at last setting ourselves to shape an old, old vision, the brightest thing about which mankind has ever concerned itself—the enduring, growing vision of the City of God. In other words, having been rationalistic and scientific and worldly wise, we are now about to become religious once more.

It is curious that such a vitally important thing as religion should ever suffer eclipse. One wonders if it does. One would like to think that an obviously materialistic world was still religious at heart, holding to God by some other name, or serving him unconsciously. And perhaps fundamentally this is true. The essential relation between God and man cannot be lost without the destruction of the universe. Creation is religion. But, just as the full meaning of friendship implies reciprocity and is defeated by one-sidedness, so the term religion goes crippled unless it betokens a conscious response between Creator and creature. Individuals, many of them, have always been religious; but the world at large has not been religious for a great many years. It is a tremendous turning for which we are preparing the way.

AD CLUB MEMBERS HOLD MEETING

The Duluth Advertising club held its regular meeting last evening at the Commercial club.

Followfng a short business session, during which reports were made by several of the committees, C. H. Mackintosh spoke on "What's the Use of an Ad Club, Anyhow?" He said in part:

"To sum up the uses and purposes of an advertising club in the briefest form as they appear to me, they are: To do research work and share the information so gathered, not with our own members, but with every ad club in the country, and to collect information gathered from other sources and place it at the disposal of all our members. To sustain and advance the reputation of local advertising, not only by vigorously prosecuting fraud, but by keeping our own copy above reproach. If this can be done by our organization, no one will ever again have the audacity to use the title of this talk in Duluth."

Those present at the meeting last evening were: J. R. Hamilton, C. D. Steele, Charles H. Mackintosh, William Betting, B. E. Johnson, H. V. Eva, J. C. Nelpp, B. W. Robinson, F. N. Hoff, W. B. Brinkman, G. A. Lorenge, R. B. Lewis, Richard Close, R. S. Forgy, Roger M. Smith, C. A. Marshall.

HUNTINGTON SUED.

Director of Big Business Accused of Abusing Trust.

New York, May 14.—Henry E. Huntington, director of fifty big corporations, many of them on the Pacific coast, is being sued by former stockholders of the defunct National Steel & Wire company, who charge that he abused their trust and neglected their interests in converting stock of this company into the securities of the National Consolidated Wire & Cable company. The plaintiffs, led by William James Anderson of New York, demand that Huntington make good their losses.

Huntington, the complaint says, as managing director of the National Steel & Wire company, a Maine corporation with $10,000,000 capital, induced the stockholders to make him their voting trustee, and then, with Everett B. Webster of Boston, the president of the company, now dead, fraudulently concealed from them the financial condition of the corporation until it went into the hands of a receiver in 1907. Subsequently Huntington and Webster organized the National Consolidated Wire & Cable company, which took over the securities of the old corporation.

The plaintiffs ask that the conversion of their stock into securities of the National Consolidated Wire & Cable company, be set aside. Ogden Mills and Henry W. Munroe, who were voting trustees with Huntington, are made technical defendants.

SAVES ELDERLY PEOPLE FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Sleep Disturbing Bladder Weakness, Backache, Stiff Joints Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses Are Taken

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can avoid the tortures of backache, and rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night with disagreeable bladder disorders, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly relieves the most severe and obstinate cases.

Croxone relieves these conditions by removing the cause. It is the most wonderful remedy ever devised for ridding the system of uric acid. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. Croxone makes the kidneys filter the blood and sift out all the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up, inactive kidneys like water does a sponge, dissolves, and drives out every particle of uric acid and other poisonous impurities that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause rheumatism. It neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the bladder, overcomes unnecessary breaking of sleep and restores the kidneys and bladder to health and strength.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what else you have used. The very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

WOMEN WANT THE BALLOT

West End Society Almost Unanimous in Favor of Suffrage.

By an almost unanimous vote the members of the Duluth Scandinavian Women's Christian Temperance union voted in favor of woma.. suffrage following a debate in which the negative side of the question "Are We Opposed to Woman Suffrage?" was adjudged winner at the meeting of the organization held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Carlson, 1910 West Third street.

Mrs. P. L. Morterud upheld the negative side and read a paper ably prepared on the subject. She showed that woman suffrage had proved a success in states where it had been adopted, that the women had used good judgment in voting, and while it had made little difference in those states regarding the liquor question still the conditions surrounding the homes had been made better because of giving the women the right to vote.

"While the opponents of woman suffrage maintain that a woman's place is her home and that men should be the ones to dabble in politics it has been conclusively proved that women can use just as good judgment when it comes to choosing the men to run the government," she said. "Women as a class are as well, if not better, educated than the men; have more time to study the conditions surrounding the homes, and therefore should not be classed with children and idiots by withholding the right of suffrage from them. The government gives foreigners the right to vote after a residence of five years in the country. The most drunken bum on our streets has the power of casting a vote on election day, but the women whose every interest centers in the home and good government, are denied the right to cast a vote for the officials who are to be elected to enforce the laws of our city or state."

The affirmative side was upheld by Mrs. E. Gustafson who cited as some of the reasons why they were opposed to the suffrage the depredations made by its militant followers in England; that it would attract woman's attention from the home and that the men had always taken care of the political situation in the past and would probably be able to do so in the future.

Mrs. A. Fredin, Mrs. L. K. Heiam and Mrs. L. W. Linder were judges. At the close of the discussion they voted unanimously for the negative side. A vote of the women present disclosed 32 in favor of suffrage and two as opposed.

The women adopted resolutions indorsing the action of the five city commissioners and especially the work of Commissioner of Public Safety W. E. Hicken in the enforcement of the law. The resolutions will be forwarded to the commissioners.

PATROL BOX IN HILLSIDE DISTRICT.

Residents of the West end hillside district will be regularly visited by the minions of the law. Arrangements will be made at once to install a patrol box at the corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street, according to announcement made by Commissioner Hicken.

The request for the patrol box was made by the members of the West End Hillside Improvement club. The members averred that the district was visited only on rare occasions by officers and that the residents would feel much safer if the peace preservers made their appearances oftener. By the installation of a patrol box they were of the opinion that this object would be reached.

PRELIMINARY WORK ON BIG ORE DOCK.

Contractors are rapidly pushing the preliminary work connected with the construction of the new ore dock of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. Pits into which will be sunk the concrete foundations for the steel trestles are being dug and the pouring of cement will begin early next week.

The concrete work calls for 25,000 cubic yards of the material. The cement required for this is expected to arrive from down the lakes this week. About 30,000 barrels will be needed for the job.

The driving of piles for the dock foundation has been completed on the water and pile drivers will begin this week in driving the piles on shore. Most of these will be driven north of Superior street. It is estimated that 5,000 will be needed, all of which will be encased in steel to prevent early rotting.

School Program.

An entertainment was given last evening by the school children of the Emerson school, Eleventh avenue west and Third street, which was attended by a large number of the people of the district. The program included readings, recitations, drills and songs in which the various grades participated.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will speak on "The Social Relation of Young People" before the Young People's society of the church Friday evening. A program of music will also be given.

R. R. Forward, 2701 West Fourth street, will entertain members of the Sunday school board of the Grace Methodist church at his home Friday evening.

CHILDREN SHOW RESULTS OF WORK

Interesting Exhibit of Cookery and Manual Training.

The industrial and domestic science exhibit of West end children at the Bryant school, Vernon and Third streets, attracted a large crowd of people of that section yesterday afternoon and evening. The cooking display which was made under the direction of Miss McCollum, domestic science instructor, included bread, pies, cakes, cookies and various other articles made by the children.

Prof. Henry Hillman had charge of the manual training exhibit. These included library tables, magazine racks, footstools, book shelves, parlor stands and various other useful articles. Among the features of the exhibit was a library table made by Jasper Barncard of the Bryant school and a four shelved magazine rack made by Fritz Nelson of the Merritt school. Basketry and penmanship were also exhibited by the children.

ANNUAL BAZAR OF SALVATION ARMY.

The annual bazar held by the Scandinavian Salvation Army at its hall, 1631 West Superior street, opened with a large crowd last night. The program included musical numbers given by the choir of the Swedish Mission church and an address by Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of the St. Peter's Episcopal church.

The hall has been tastily arranged with booths. Among the features are booths representing Norway and Sweden. Others show grocery, sewing, candy and flower displays.

This evening the program will be furnished by the choir of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church. The principal address will be made by Capt. C. Lindhe of Superior.

Keenan-Groves.

Miss Edna Keenan and Raymond Groves, both of Two Harbors, were married last night at the parsonage of the First Swedish Methodist church, 314 North Twentieth avenue west, Rev. C. W. R. Wermine read the service. Mr. and Mrs. Groves will make their home in Two Harbors.

Experience Social.

The Epworth League of the Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will entertain Friday evening at an experience social in the parlors of the church. A program of music has been planned. The members of the society will tell how they made money during the past month for the organization.

The midweek meeting of the congregation will be held tomorrow evening. Philip Erickson will lead the meeting.

Johnson Funeral.

The funeral of Florence Johnson, 16 years old, 2307 West Third street, who died Sunday after a short illness of pneumonia, was held this afternoon from the Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. Rev. Swaney Nelson officiated. Burial was made in Park Hill cemetery.

SENATE IN FIGHT ON HARRIS APPOINTMENT

Republicans Do All They Know How to Obstruct Proceedings.

Washington, May 14.—Senate Republicans began their first big fight on President Wilson's nominations when the appointment of W. J. Harris of Georgia as director of the census, succeeding E. Dana Durand, was taken up in executive session.

For nearly five hours the senate played at cross purposes on the Harris nomination without ever entering into a discussion of the merits of the case. The Republicans forced roll call after roll call on a question of procedure and in support of tactics which the Democrats termed dilatory. Motions to put the nomination over until Friday and until next week were put and defeated, and finally when the membership on both sides had dwindled away to almost nothing, adjournment was taken with the Harris nomination still just where it was when the doors were closed shortly before 4 o'clock.

Republican leaders have served notice that they expect to keep up the fight against the confirmation of the nomination of Harris until July 1, when Mr. Durand has announced his intention to quit. Under the senate rules there is no question of their ability to filibuster to their heart's content, and if they are willing to go into long executive sessions day after day, they can prevent confirmation as long as their talking powers last.

A minority report against Harris was filed by Senator Townsend, and Senators La Follette and Cummins, also of the census committee.

Stewart Musical Director.

Boston, May 14.—George W. Stewart, director of music at the Chicago and St. Louis World's fairs, has received notice of his appointment as musical director of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. Mr. Stewart will appoint the judges who are to award the international prizes in music at the exposition.

Cockroaches Rats and Mice

Nothing is more disagreeable than a home infested with vermin. Destroy them with Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste, the standard exterminator for thirty-five years.

It kills off rats, mice and cockroaches in a single night. Does not blow away like powders; ready for use; nothing to mix. The only exterminator sold under an absolute guarantee of money back if it fails.

Sold by druggists, 25c and $1.00 or sent direct, charges prepaid, on receipt of price.

NEARER GALLOWS.

Ray Pfanschmidt Loses First Round in Court.

Quincy, Ill., May 14.—Ray Planschmidt, the 21-year-old youth found guilty by a jury of the murder of his father, mother, sister and Miss Emma Kaempen, a young school teacher living at the Pfanschmidt home, is one step nearer the gallows, for Judge Guy Williams in the Adams county circuit court has refused to set aside the verdict of the jury condemning him to death and to order a new trial.

The arguments on the motions for a new trial took up four days. In addition to the usual grounds alleged for a new trial, the attorneys for Ray Pfanschmidt produced affidavits that six of the twelve jurors expressed opinions before the trial that Ray Pfanschmidt ought to be hanged. Judge Williams, in refusing to grant the new trial, held that there was not sufficient clear and satisfactory evidence of bias on the part of jurors to enable him to disturb the verdict.

Judge Williams has set July 8 as the date on which to hear the argument on a motion to arrest judgment and to pronounce sentence.

Unless some other disposition is made of the cases, Ray Pfanschmidt on Friday of this week will be put on trial for the murder of Emma Kaempen and Charles Pfanschmidt. These cases are still pending against him. Technically, Pfanschmidt has been tried and found guilty only for the murder of Blanche Pfanschmidt. A jury was summoned this afternoon and Judge Harry Higbee of Pittsfield was called to try the cases Friday of this week.

WILKIE TO QUIT FEDERAL SERVICE.

Washington, May 14. — John E. Wilkie, supervising special agent of the customs service and for fourteen years chief of the United States secret service, will resign from the government service shortly. Mr. Wilkie will retire voluntarily to accept a commercial position in Chicago. His successor has not yet been chosen.

Former Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh appointed Mr. Wilkie to head the force that investigated the widespread customs frauds unearthed during the last few years. As chief of the secret service, Mr. Wilkie organized the emergency force of men that checkmated Spanish spies during the war with Spain. It is expected he will not retire until Secretary McAdoo has chosen his successor.

HAS HUBBY PINCHED.

Chicago Woman Objects to His Doing Housework.

Chicago, May 14.—Julius Lehman, a stationary engineer, had the choice of letting his wife do her housework without his assistance, or going to the house of correction.

Mrs. Lehman appeared in the court of domestic relations and testified that her husband insisted on scrubbing the floor, washing dishes and getting breakfast. Mrs. Lehman objected because she considered this was unmanly work for her husband, but said he had left her when she made him stop it.

Lehman testified he had done most of the work in the morning to let his wife have a little more sleep. The judge agreed with Mrs. Lehman.

B'RITH ABRAHAM ENDS MEETING.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 14.—The twenty-first biennial convention of the Order of B'rith Abraham closed today with the installation of the officers elected last night. All the principal officers, including Grand Master Samuel Dorf, were re-elected. Resolutions were adopted extending the thanks of the order to Representative Henry M. Goldfogle of New York, Former Representative William Sulzer, Judge Mayer Sulzberger of Philadelphia, Louis Marshall of New York, and Former President Taft, for bringing about the abrogation of the Russian treaty because Russia refused to recognize the passports of Jewish Americans.

GIRL GIVES KNIFE TO GUILTY LOVER.

Chicago, May 14.—When Harry Evans had been convicted of burglary in the municipal court, Garnett Fairfield, a cabaret singer, his sweetheart, who sat near, passed him her handkerchief. Evans extracted an open knife from the handkerchief and started for the door. Detective Boschulte was badly cut in the neck and Deputy Bohaber was stabbed in the chest before Evans was overpowered. The girl was arrested.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

WISHING to extend a cement sidewalk a distance of three or four blocks to the new fair ground and having no fund for the purpose the town of Hope, Ark., constructed the extension by selling each outlined block of it as advertising space. A plat was made of the walk, showing it divided into numbered squares. A few of the squares were retained on which to place a short history of the town, giving names of prominent men, various industries, population at different dates and the names of county officers at the time, and the remainder were sold for advertising. In most cases the advertising was done by forming the letters in the top coat before the final set, but a few of the advertisers furnished aluminum letters and numerals about three inches high. Although the sidewalk has now been laid for some time, the outlines of the letters are said to be as plain as when first made.

Duluth will not need to adopt such a method to have a sidewalk constructed. Where walks are deemed necessary they can be ordered in by the city commission and the cost assessed to the property benefited.

CRANKS AUTOMOBILE AND IT KILLS HIM.

Chicago, May 14.—A. S. Goodrich, believed to be a wealthy wholesale tobacco merchant of Milwaukee, Wis., was killed last night when he was struck by his own automobile. Goodrich is believed to have stopped as he approached railroad tracks, and failed to throw off the clutch before he cranked his machine. The car started and he was crushed between it and a telegraph pole.

'MID ICE AND SNOW, OUR TEAM WINS A CONTEST

Laplanders of the Good Ship Duluth Defeated Crew of Vessel Winnipeg By Score of 10 to 7 in Game Played in Altitude 87.

BY BRUCE.

Duluth Athletic Park, May 13, Latitude 87, Slightly North of the Pole—The day broke clear and cold. Sighting land, flanked on the northwest by a huge open body of chill blue water, filled with a monstrous cake of floating ice, the crews of the two ships disembarked and on the open space of land decided to play a game of baseball, which is the favorite sport of the warmer countries. The crew of the good ship Duluth defeated its rival crew from the vessel Winnipeg by the score of 10 to 7.

Sides were chosen and the merry pastime was waged. After the weary months of waiting for the warm weather some of the members of the two crews were somewhat stiff and chilled. Strange costumes garbed the players. Some of the members of the teams were adorned in blankets, while some fought the penetrating cold in thick mackinaws, such as are worn in the woods of Michigan and other countries of the far Northwest.

Indeed it was a strange spectacle. Off to the immediate north ebbed and flowed the huge lake. Far across the ice floes, crested by the beautiful white snow regarding which you of the southern countries have been informed by the rising young poets, the sunlight of the early and short day shimmered and glinted, throwing majestic and wan-colored lights.

'Tis the Pole.

Out of this haze, this curious maze of lights, there rose a dark, well defined object. Clearer the vision became. Capt. O'Brien shaded his gloved hand and looked long and intently. Then he yelled exuberantly and his exceeding vociferousness was echoed by his mates.

"'Tis the Pole," cried Cap' O'Brien.

"Aye, 'tis the pole," reiterated his shivering mates.

And so it was, there out of the mist rose a straight and high pole, which was overlooked, it is believed by Messrs. Peary and Cook, so busy were they with their magazine notes.

Capt. O'Brien declared it his intention to place a pennant upon the pole.

Capt. O'Brien had first mate Brackett start the flinging for our side. He went back to the warmth of the ship after two and one-third innings had been flinged. There were three on the bases when Cap' O'Brien motioned with his fur glove in the direction of the cake of ice against which the ship was anchored. Henry Clay Blancke, attired in a red shirt and other flannels not so apparent, mounted the cake of ice designated as the mound, and retired the Eskimos from the good ship Winnipeg by making two of them whiff. Good work, Henry Clay Blancke.

It is coincidental that there were also two men gone and three on the snow paths when little Poly Boly, he of bitter experience with the dill pickles, was sent to remove the chill. Diamond Dirk Dietrich came to the mound, and before the side was retired three runs were in.

Slam Bang Contest.

It isn't meant that we go into details regarding the game which was played amid the ice floes and the wind that blew from the far north. She was a hit and slam bang contest, and in this sort of going there is not a team to make its appearance in this part of the country to date that has shown the ability to beat the Sox, who remain champions of this frozen belt. It is rumored that several teams are to be imported from the south soon to play with our boys.

One dab of a double play was pulled in the fifth, saving Henry Clay Blancke, the poet pitcher, from excruciating difficulties. With Mr. Kahl, who declares he hasn't money despite his name, on first through the gift of a base, Mr. De Haven sacrificed. Then Mr. Clothier singled. It looked bad. Mr. Kirk slammed a low, fast traveling boy to right. Not for one moment did the boys from the two ships or the spectators standing on the smaller icebergs, believe that the ball would be caught.

But skipping blithely over the ice Elmer Smith got old Mr. Pellet down near the laces of his moccassins and then righting shot the pill to young Mr. Schreiber before Mr. Kahl could get back to the sack. Much applause from the Americans and Eskimos present.

Much merriment was occasioned in the seventh inning. Blue with chill Mr. Kahl ventured too far off third and was caught between the bases. A merry chase ensued, the sled dogs barking in chorus and the natives chanting in that strange refrain known as the rooter language. Mr. Kahl ran back and forth, pursued by most of the members of the good ship Duluth, and was finally tagged out by Second Mate Meniece.

Trouble in Third.

Two walks, for Brother Brackett was wild yesterday, and two singles gave the Winnipeg ship crew one in the second round. Trouble brewed in the third. Three of the visiting Eskimos were walked and two errors, one by Rhoades and one by Meniece, gave the beblanked crew three runs without a single hit.

They gathered their remaining three in the seventh when little Poly Boly, remindful of the scornful treatment of yesterday, hit the pill over one of the large chunks of ice in left field and reached home plate before the ball was recovered.

In our first O'Brien singled and then Miller and Meniece merry doubled. Total result, two runs. In the third Dusty Rhoades was hit on the heel like Achilles. Dusty has been spending his time in the after deck pouring over Greek mythology. He accompanied Archie Achilles through several chapters of miraculous escapes, and then decided he would try this heel thing to see if the dope was right. Therefore when he saw a low, wicked curve making right for him, he nonchalantly turned up his heel. He is limping yet. He'el not try it again. Joke, though mild. After Rhoades was hit came a double and some, then Woods, running for Rhoades, rushed across while a runner was being retired at second. Smith also, by fast running, counted on the same play. More applause and yodeling of sled dogs.

Errors, two hits, active sense, and one hit in the passive sense, resulted in three runs in the seventh. Two more clouts, or blows as they say in this country, comparing them to the velocity of the gales, and an error gave us two more in the eighth and cinched the game.

Both crews retired to their ships. Capt. O'Brien went out on the bridge last evening and took another look at the pole. The members of the crew of the ship Winnipeg weighed anchor last evening and set sail for the north, where in the region of the more open waters of the Hudson bay country, Commander Timothy Flood will resume his quest for another pole, as he declared that the hunting in the Lake Superior country was not good.

Let us spike the lie that says steam pipes are to be placed in the grand stand at Athletic park. City Engineer Wilson figured on the idea and then gave it as his opinion that the pipes would freeze, even if cuddled in asbestos and felt.

APOSTLES WIN FINAL GAME FROM VIRGINIA.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—The Little Saints closed the first series on the home grounds by defeating "Spike" Shannon's Virginia team by the score of 4 to 3 in a well played and interesting game.

Le Claire and Tony Faeth engaged in a pitching duel and the Apostle heaver had slightly the better of the argument. The Virginia team played the cleaner baseball in the field, but when hits were the most needed the local heaver tightened and pitched some great baseball.

Mike Breyette has apparently added strength to the Ore Diggers, for since the veteran has joined the team the Northern aggregation has been playing real baseball. The score: R. H. E.

Win Third Straight.

Brooklyn, May 14.—Brooklyn took its third straight game from Cincinnati yesterday, 9 to 3. The visitors got a lead of three runs in their first two innings by batting Allen hard, but Curtis blanked them the rest of the way. Brooklyn fell on Fromme's pitching in the second and scored six runs on seven hits, a pass, two steals, a wild pitch and an error.

That was enough to win, but they knocked Fromme out of the box in the fifth when two singles and Fisher's long triple scored two more runs. Betts, semi-professional from Cincinnati, finished the game and allowed but one hit, Fisher's second three bagger on which he scored with the help of Miller's sacrifice fly. A sensational one-hand catch by Bates of Daubert's line drive against the right field wall was a feature. The score:

Giants Defeat Cubs.

New York, May 14.—New York easily defeated Chicago here yesterday, the score being 8 to 2. Toney, the first Chicago pitcher, went well for two innings, but the champions hit him freely in the third, fourth and fifth. Clymer batted for Toney in the seventh, and Reulbach, who finished for Chicago, was hammered even harder than his predecessor.

Tesreau for New York was a trifle wild, but steady in the pinches. He struck out Zimmerman, the champion batsman of the National league, three times. The locals were speedy on the paths, stealing second base on Archer and Bresnahan. In four times up Meyer got two singles and a double and drew a pass. Merkle hit two triples and a single. Score: R. Lose Seventh Straight.

Philadelphia, May 14.—Pittsburg met with its seventh straight defeat in the East when Magee won yesterday's game here for Philadelphia with a home run drive into the left field bleachers in the eighth inning, the final score being 5 to 4. The visitors twice held the lead and they tied the score in the eighth inning on Carey's single and Wagner's double. Home runs played a big part in the event. Miller's four-bagger put Pittsburg in the front in the second inning, and home runs by Cravath and Magee took the lead from the visitors in the sixth and eighth sessions. Score: R. H. E.

Winning Streak Broken.

Boston, Mass., May 14. — Boston's string of victories was broken yesterday when St. Louis won 4 to 3. Perdue was effective in all but one inning, the fifth, during which the visitors scored three runs on three singles and a triple. Boston had scored its three runs in the preceding inning when, following two singles, Mann hit to left field. The hit got past Magee, and Mann scored with two men over the plate before him. Boston got two men on base in the ninth, with one out, but a pop fly and a strike out ended the game. Score: R. H. E.

Exciting Game.

St. Louis, May 14.—St. Louis won an exciting game from Washington yesterday, 7 to 6. After St. Louis had a five-run lead in the third inning, Washington tied the score owing to Hamilton's wildness and some fine base running. St. Louis scored four runs in the second when Cashion filled the bases with walks and Agnew tripled and scored on a double steal. A base on balls and a double by Austin scored a run for St. Louis in the third. Washington tied the score in the fourth on singles by Schaefer and Milan, an error by Williams of La Porte's fly, two bases on balls, a single by A. Williams, all of which netted five runs. G. Williams' safe bunt, an error and Pratt's single scored a run for St. Louis in the fifth. Washington again tied the score in the sixth on singles by Morgan and Shanks and an out. St. Louis won out in the seventh on a single by Williams, Pratt's double, a base on balls, and Wallace's infield hit. R. H. E.

Champs Win Easily.

Detroit, May 14.—Boston yesterday knocked Mullin from the box in less than three innings and defeated Detroit, 6 to 1. The locals scored their only run off O'Brien in the fifth when Moriarity doubled and came home on Vitt's single. Boston won the game in the first inning through a single by Hooper and an error, Yerkes' double and Gardner's sacrifice fly. Speaker tripled in the third and again in the seventh and each time he scored on a sacrifice fly by Lewis.

Lake gave way to Zamloch in the eighth and the recruit kept the champions from crossing the plate. In the second, Cobb made two unsuccessful attempts to steal home. On the first occasion Cobb apparently beat the pitch but the ball hit Stanage's bat and rolled foul. On the second attempt, he missed the plate and was retired before he could return to touch it. Continue Winning Streak.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 14.—New York won from Cleveland, 8 to 5, yesterday, when the locals went to pieces in the seventh inning and allowed four runs to come in. Chapman's error and two singles filled the bases. Blanding passed Ford and walked Daniels. Sterrett fanned and then Catcher Carisch threw to right field trying to catch Daniels off first base, two more runs coming in. Chase and Jackson each got three hits in four times at bat. Manager Birmingham directed the team from the bench, resting his broken leg on a stool. Score: R. H. E.

Evers Suspended.

New York, May 14.—Johnny Evers, manager of the Chicago National league team, was yesterday suspended for three days by President Lynch as a result of Evers' removal from the game with New York by Umpire Orth.

Breaks World's Record.

Louisville, Ky., May 14.—Frog Legs, a four-year-old colt, broke a world's record for running horses when he ran a mile and twenty yards at Churchill Downs in one minutes and thirty-nine seconds flat. The impost was 107 pounds and Jockey Peak was in the saddle. The former record of 1:40, held jointly by the horses Macy, Maid Marian and Six-Shooter, each of which set the mark at the old Washington Park track at Chicago.

College Baseball.

Collegeville, Minn., May 14. — The North Dakota university defeated St. Johns college yesterday. Score, North Dakota university, 6; St. Johns college, 4.

Australians Hold Practice.

Philadelphia, May 14.—The Australian tennis team which is preparing for the preliminary matches in the Davis cup series with the American team in New York next month spent several hours in practice on the Huntington Valley Country club's courts yesterday afternoon.

The Australians showed speed and have a graceful, easy stroke, with much power behind it. No scores were kept in yesterday's matches.

Four Players Released.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—Four men were released yesterday by Manager Jones of the local Northern league club. They are Pitcher Comer, Third Baseman Beel, Second Baseman Doyle and Catcher McGarry. It also was announced that Catcher Hurska, who played with Duluth early in the season, has been signed by St. Paul.

Gamblers Refused Admittance.

Boston, Mass., May 14.—A further step in the campaign to rid baseball of the gambling element among the spectators was taken yesterday when admission to the National league grounds was refused all persons whom the management claimed to recognize as gamblers.

Managers of visiting National league teams have declared that there was no more local opening at the diamond than on any other grounds in the league.

Bob Ewing Released.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—"Bob" Ewing, formerly pitcher with the Cincinnati baseball team of the National league, who this season joined the Minneapolis team of the American association, yesterday was released unconditionally, according to announcement by President M. E. Cantillon of the local club. Mr. Cantillon also announced that Barney Pelty, recently purchased from the St. Louis Americans, had been sold to the Baltimore club of the International league.

Kling in Good Standing.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 14.—The national baseball commission yesterday pronounced Player John G. Kling in good standing without the imposition of a penalty. This was done upon his representation that his failure to report to the Boston club of the National league for service during the season of 1913 was due to a determination to give all his time and attention to his business interests at Kansas City.

JULIUS BARNES HEADS BOAT CLUB FOR LAST TIME

The annual meeting of the Duluth Boat club was held at the main clubhouse on Minnesota avenue last evening, there being a large attendance of the members of the club present.

In his address, following his election to the office of president of the club, Julius H. Barnes declared that it was the tenth occasion of his being honored by being chosen as the head of the club, and stated that it would be the last time he would hold office. He declared that more time, more enthusiasm and greater energy were needed, and that he would step aside at the end of the present year.

Mr. Barnes pointed out that the Duluth Boat club was growing to be a greater organization than merely a private club; that it was coming to be regarded as something that stood for the best in the recreation of Duluth, and that of late years the club had taken the lead in many of the entertainment movements in this city.

Reports were made by Capt. Dan Mahoney, J. E. Horak, John E. MacGregor, who was unanimously elected secretary to succeed Albert Ames, and James E. Ten Eyck. Mr. Mahoney dealt with the general condition of the club, while Mr. Horak took up the field sport department. Coach Ten Eyck told of some of the plans of the rowing department. Secretary MacGregor read the financial report, which showed that total receipts of last year amounted to $27,023.21 while the disbursements totaled $29,957.44.

A. T. Banning went into detail somewhat as to the week end entertainments that are planned during the present summer for the out of town visitors.

Charles Applehagen gave several vocal solos, Ray D. Handy gave an interesting chart talk and Gust Haakenson gave a clog dance, while the entertainment was completed by Alex Lavin in a wire exhibition. Prof. Custance played the piano accompaniments.

C. A. Congdon was elected first vice president; W. J. Olcott, second vice president; J. L. Washburn, third vice president; J. E. MacGregor, secretary; I. S. Moore, treasurer; and the following board of directors: Watson S. Moore, Dr. Frank Lynam, A. C. Le Duc and B. E. Baker.

JIMMY ARCHER GIVES IDEAS ON BACKSTOPPING

Great Throwing Arm, Quick Judgment and Ability to Catch All Kinds of Pitching Are Qualities Named By Cub Star.

New York, May 14.—Almost from the first day my work as a catcher was recognized as being of a higher order I have had that terrifying question, "What is it that goes to make up a first-class catcher?" fired at me something like a hundred thousand times or so, I should say, writes James P. Archer, backstop of the Cubs, in an article for the American.

I call it a terrifying question because it is one that requires considerably more than a few minutes to answer. It is a question that opens up a world of thought and one that I never cared to answer in a flippant manner.

Always, when the question has been fired at me, usually by some baseball fan who never figured what a tremendous thing he was pushing out, I have answered in different ways, just as this idea or that came to me.

These replies may have satisfied my questioners and given them something new to think about, but they never quite satisfied me, and I always have wanted to outline my ideas in a concise, frank manner so that the baseball fan might have a better understanding of the catching department of the great game, a department that really has been neglected because so few young players have an ambition to shine behind the bat.

Ideas in Concise Form.

Hence there always is a dearth of material for the making of first-class catchers. This I consider most unfortunate, because the game needs catchers fully as much as it needs pitchers, and great catchers, to my way of thinking, are considerably rarer and much harder to find than great pitchers.

I hope to earn for the catcher—by this I mean all catchers and not myself alone—more respect and to gain a greater understanding. In short, I want to bring the fan to see what a wonderful lot of work and judgment and playing skill are necessary in the man behind the war club of the enemy.

Getting right down to the real basis of the situation, I will classify what I consider the leading requirements of a great catcher. Here they are in the order of their value:

1. Versatility in taking all kinds of pitching.
2. Judgment in meeting different situations quickly.
3. A great throwing arm.
4. Hitting ability.

Naturally having placed them in this order, I will talk first of the necessity of a catcher's versatility.

Pitchers Vastly Different.

Say you are catching on a major league team. On that team there may be as different as different times anywhere from six to a dozen pitchers, every one of them absolutely different in style, temperament, character, disposition and all else that goes to make up a man. If you would be a great catcher you must have the ability to catch not only every one of those pitchers, but catch them well. It is expected of you, and unless you can fill the bill you are not a great catcher.

The fans go out one day and see me catch Cheney's delivery for instance. Then they will say: "Archer is pretty good, but he never will be able to catch Reulbach." They have no basis for such figuring except that Reulbach has a more or less strong reputation for wildness.

Here's a simple method of curing that wildness, if it does exist:

Make the pitcher pitch to you, and don't let him merely pitch.

That's where the squat position behind the bat comes in great. When the catcher is squatted down his head comes about at a batter's waist. The catcher's head thus presents a fine target to aim at, and the lowness of his position tends to keep the delivery down well within the catcher's reach.

If the catcher stands up and outstretches his arms the whole presents too big a target and is apt to send a pitcher at once into a wild streak. Keep the target for your pitcher small and he will be more careful. Give him a big target and he is apt to take liberties with the distances.

Don't Worry Twirler.

Don't keep him pitching in between the two batting boxes alongside the home plate. Don't worry him, if he is inclined to be excitable and wild, by calling for a variety of balls from high to low and back again. Make him shoot them low and he will be steadied.

Let me emphasize another point that will steady a pitcher when his catcher is crouched low, especially if your pitcher is a curve ball star. The pitcher will say to himself: "This felow is down there low and will dig then out of the dirt"; hence he has more confidence. Many of them go down into the dirt, you know, and unless a catcher is right there he cannot get them.

Take Overall, for instance, one of the greatest of curve ball throwers. He has every confidence in me because he keeps them low and to the outside and he knows I'll dig 'em out. So, you see, he has no worries about it at all.

Big pitchers look terrible at times, and I used to be scared of some of them. But I've found that most of them are easy to handle and have yet to find one that should inspire fear in his catcher.

Of course, it is absolutely necessary for him to stick to his or your signals. But that's a simple matter after you have worked with your man for a short time. Just don't let him worry, but make him think that you are carrying the entire burden and all he has to do is to deliver the ball to the plate.

WILL ATTEND CONGRESS OF WORKERS AMONG BOYS

N. D. McLeod, secretary of the boys' department Y. M. C. A., and J. R. Batchelor, physical director, will leave tonight for Culver, Ind., to attend the general assembly of boys' workers.

This will be the greatest gathering of boys' workers ever held. Thirteen countries will be represented. The congress will last two weeks and prominent leaders in boys' work will address the conference. Following are some of the speakers and their topics: Prof. Hyde of Bowdoin college, "The Quest of the Best, Natural Badness and the Element of Goodness in It; Artificial Goodness and the Element of Badness in It;" Dr. Seerley, a series of lectures on "Genetic Psychology;" George W. Hinckley of Good Will Farm will give a number of talks.

Five commissioners were appointed a year ago to take various phases of boys' work, and they will make their report. The congress will be entertained at the Culver Military academy.

Mr. McLeod and Mr. Batchelor will spend several days at Chicago, to attend the world missionary exhibit, and also to visit playgrounds and boys' clubs.

JAMES J. HILL FINDS FAULT

Says Government Ought to Get Out of Reclamation Work.

Railroad Man Says Cost Is Higher Than It Should Be.

Washington, May 14.—"Hurry up and complete the reclamation projects already under way, and be sure you have competent men in the field," was the advice James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, gave to Secretary Lane at a reclamation hearing yesterday. He reiterated his statement that it cost the reclamation service more than twice what it cost other services and private enterprises to reclaim the desert land.

Mr. Hill based his statement as to the high cost of reclamation work upon a report of the census bureau. Director Newell of the reclamation service and Senator Walsh of Montana questioned him about having personal knowledge of the reclamation service work.

Compared With Canada.

"I never built an inch of irrigation works in my life," sai Mr. Hill, "but I know that when private enterprises in Canada can sell the land and water for $30 an acre and the water on reclamation projects in the United States cost $45 an acre, that there is some difference in the cost."

Director Newell replied that the government work was more permanent; that private enterprise was prone to take in too large an acreage for the water capacity, and further that the government could work only eight hours a day and private enterprise ten.

"That is another reason why the government should go out of the business," said Mr. Hill.

He added that he was "burdened" with complaints by settlers on the Milk river and the St. Mary's project in Canada about the delay for years in pushing the work to completion. To this Mr. Newell responded that much of the delay had been caused by diplomatic negotiations with Great Britain over water rights.

Montana and Reclamation.

Mr. Hill concluded with an appeal for help for the settlers and praise for Montana as a land adaptable to reclamation projects.

"You might reduce your freight rates; that would be one way to help them," suggested Mr. Lane.

"If we did so much further, we would have to ask for government credit," replied Mr. Hill.

During his testimony Mr. Hill said reclamation in the west "started in our office."

"Three railroads subscribed $5,000 each and hired a fellow from California named Maxwell, a rapid typewriter, to educate the people about reclamation," he said. "After three or four years two other roads came in, and before long we had the movement started."

Guest of Champ Clark.

James J. Hill and Governor Cox of Ohio were guests of honor at a luncheon given at the capital yesterday by Speaker and Mrs. Clark. Other guests were Senator and Mrs. James of Kentucky; Senator and Mrs. Owen; Former Senator Dubois, Representative and Mrs. Sherwood, Representative and Mrs. Davenport, Representative and Mrs. Johnson and Bennet Champ Clark. There was no speech making.

NEWSPAPER MEN ARE DEFENDED

Governor Eberhart Replies to an Attack By Mayor Gaynor.

New York, May 14.—Mayor Gaynor of New York and Governor Eberhart of Minnesota divided the speaking honors at the fifth annual banquet of the Swedish Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Astor. About 200 persons attended. Other speakers were the Swedish minister, W. A. F. Ekengren; Vilhjalmur Stefanssen, the polar explorer, and William R. Lundgren, owner of the new Swedish steamship line.

Mayor Gaynor made his usual attack upon newspapers and his remarks along this line were met with frigid silence by the diners, although the rest of his speech was loudly cheered.

Governor Eberhart began his speech by saying that he did not understand Mayor Gaynor's attacks upon the newspaper men.

"As a rule," he said, "I find the newspaper men great friends of mine. They always manage to take things I should have said and make them as they should be. You can't blame the poor newspaper men. After all, 'truth though crushed to earth, will arise again,' but news won't keep."

"I came to New York for the especial purpose of studying your system of government and your system of public utilities. I had a guide take me over your city and I was agreeably impressed, particularly in the downtown district, with its Wall Street, where the streets are so narrow and the buildings so tall that one railroad president cannot meet another without forming a combination."

The governor spoke about the Swedes in Minnesota.

"They are the greatest workers for prohibition in that state," he said. "That may sound strange to you who know that the Scandinavians abroad do drink a little more or less. Yet they come here and take up the work for temperance."

BROKAW IN JAIL; WIFE TAKES SON

New York Man Begs in Vain to Have Her Stopped.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 14.—Clarence Pierce Brokaw of New York, in jail here since Sunday on his wife's charge that he assaulted her with a skillet, appealed to the sheriff of the El Paso county to have Mrs. Brokaw taken from the train which is bearing her toward New York, together with the 8-year-old son of the couple. The sheriff refused to attempt to intercept Mrs. Brokaw, and informed the man his wife had a perfect right to take her son "Buster" to New York or anywhere she pleased.

More than a year ago Brokaw came to Colorado Springs, bringing the boy with him. The incident, then heralded as sensational kidnaping, followed a series of domestic difficulties in the Brokaw family, in which various charges were made. Later Mrs. Brokaw had her husband arreated, charging that he had broken two of her fingers. With Brokaw safely in jail, she packed her personal belongings and departed for the East.

BUILDING A CITY IN WILDERNESS

A Minneapolis Physician Founded Redcliff, Town of 2,000, Seven Years Ago.

"Here I will build a city," said Dr. R. R. Stoner of Minneapolis seven years ago as he stopped in the center of a prairie in Northwestern Canada.

Today there are 2,000 people in the town of Redcliff, which is built on the spot chosen by Dr. Stoner, and he says there will be 8,000 in another year.

Dr. Stoner arrived in Duluth last evening, and will be here two or three days on business connected with a new industry for his city. In 1906 Dr. Stoner, then a practicing physician in Minneapolis, headed for Northwestern Canada. He purchased 20,000 acres of land from the railroad and started his city.

"Redcliff," said Dr. Stoner, "is 175 miles east of Calgary in Alberta, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway, and just at the gateway of the Canadian Pacific irrigation project. There are now twenty large industries there or being built. It is in the natural gas belt. The industries now assured will employ at least 3,000 men. Redcliff is one of the most talked of towns in Canada at the present time."

U. S. INDUSTRIES MORE EFFICIENT.

Washington, May 14.—In a report prepared at the instance of Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce says that a comparison of seventeen industries in Great Britain and the United States shows that the manufacturing establishments in this country have higher efficiency, and that two and a half times as many wage earners and one-sixth more power are needed in the United Kingdom than in the United States to produce a net output of equal value. Average wages in the seventeen industries, the report adds, were only half as high in Great Britain, although the wage cost to obtain at equal value of net output was 19 per cent higher.

EDITOR WILL SPEAK HERE

Norway's Leading Journalist Will Talk to Fellow Countrymen.

Ninety-Ninth Anniversary of Independence Will Be Observed.

When Duluth Norweglans celebrate the ninety-ninth anniversary of Norwegian independence from Denmark on Sunday next at the Armory, they will have an opportunity of listening to an address by C. Hanbre, one of the most prominent of Norway's public men.

Mr. Hanbre is editor of the Christiania Morgenbladet, the largest daily newspaper in Norway. He is touring America for the purpose of arousing interest in the 100th anniversary celebration which is to be held at Christiania next year. On Saturday, he will speak at St. Paul.

At the local celebration at the Armory, between 3,000 and 4,000 people are expected to attend. A good sized delegation is expected from the range towns.

The oration of the day will be delivered by Rev. A. J. Hulteng, a prominent Norwegian minister of Grand Forks, N. D. Admission will be charged and the proceeds will go toward the $1,000,000 fund which Norwegian-Americans are raising as an anniversary gift to their country.

The program which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock is as follows:

PLAYGROUNDS ADVOCATES BUSY

Revival of Interest in Work Planned By Association.

For the purpose of bringing about a revival of interest in the playground movement and to select a site for recreation and social center work for children, a special committee was appointed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the playgrounds association at the Commercial club.

Those appointed to the committee were Eugene Van Cleef, J. R. Batchelor and Miss Jean Poirier. The committee is expected to select a site for recreation work, establish a social center and to educate the public in the need of such institutions in Duluth.

The committee will make a report at the next meeting of the association on May 29. This will be the annual meeting.

Job for Mrs. Longstreet.

Washington, May 14.—Denied reapportionment as postmistress at Gainsville, Ga., by the Democratic administration, Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, has been offered a position by former Union soldiers. Mrs. Longstreet said that Col. Albert E. Boone of Clarksburg, W. Va., had offered her a place in his office at $3,600 a year. "If I find that I feel fitted to do the work in the colonel's office, I shall accept his offer in the same spirit in which Gen. Longstreet accepted a commission from President Grant when he found himself an outcast in the land whose battle flags he had followed with supreme devotion," said Mrs. Longstreet.

For a Red Blotchy Skin

The Remarkable Action of a Famous Remedy and Some Facts About it.

Get Your Blood Purified With S. S. S. and You Won't be Tortured Like This.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S., the best known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

ARE GUESTS AT DINNER

Visiting Steel Makers Entertained at the Country Club.

Will Be Taken to the Ranges on a Special Train.

Visiting officials of the United States Steel corporation are in conference with Vice President G. L. Reis of the Minnesota Steel company and other local officials at the Wolvin building today. This evening they will be entertained at the Kitchi Gammi club, after which a special train will take them to the range for an inspection of the mines.

A busy day yesterday was wound up with a dinner at which the visitors were guests of Mr. Reis at the Northland Country club. The plans for the Duluth steel plant were gone over and some of the problems discussed.

The question of the supply of coal for the new plant is one that is being given particular attention by C. A. Meissner, chairman of the coke committee of the Steel corporation. The distance of the plant from the coal fields and the difficulties offered by the location of the plant away from the improved channel make the handling of coal a problem which is being given consideration by Mr. Meissner and local officials.

According to Mr. Meissner the coke-making capacity of the local plant will be 1,000 tons daily at the start, which is sufficient for a steel output of 1,000 tons daily.

Those present at the dinner last evening were:

K. C. Hoxie, chief engineer; P. R. Canney, electrical engineer; W. R. Pendery, coke engineer, and Vice President G. L. Reis; President F. E. House, Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company; Vice President D. G. Kerr, United States Steel corporation; Thomas MacDonald, superintendent Carnegie steel plant at Youngstown, Ohio; J. S. Cursler, superintendent of the plants at Newcastle and Sharon; W. P. Gleason, superintendent at Gary, Ind.; W. A. Fields, superintendent of the Illinois Steel company's plant at South Chicago; E. R. Mathews, superintendent at Joliet; M. H. Barren, superintendent of the American Steel & Wire company at Pittsburg; F. A. Crockard, vice president of the Coal, Iron & Railroad Company of Birmingham, Ala.; H. H. Bassett, superintendent of the blast furnaces at South Chicago; C. C. Lowell, superintendent of the coke department of the Illinois steel plant at Gary, Ind.; C. A. Meissner, chairman of the coke committee of the United States Steel Corporation of New York; W. A. Forbes, secretary of the coke committee of the Steel corporation of New York, and G. C. Hassel of New York.

FATHER AND BOY DIE.

Former Is Killed By Son Who Saves Child's Body.

Selma, Ala., May 14.—Seventeen-year-old Jack Bell, while on a fishing trip, shot and killed his father, according to the charge against him at the jail here, and then rescued the body of his 8-year-old brother from Broge Chitto creek. The elder son, it is asserted, had upbraided the father for his attentions to a young woman of the neighborhood in which they fished, and was quicker than his father in opening fire when both reached for their weapons. The little boy is said to have fallen into the water and drowned while the father and his first-born fought.

NEILL GOES TO GUGGENHEIMS.

Washington, May 14.—Dr. C. P. Neill, who has resigned as United States commissioner of labor statistics, has taken a position with the American Smelting & Refining company, to organize and conduct its labor department. In a statement, Dr. Neill said the offer came to him from President Daniel Guggenheim through William Loeb, Jr., manager-director of the Guggenheim corporations.

Dr. Neill recently was appointed by President Wilson commissioner of labor statistics. His former position of commissioner of labor was abolished when the new department of labor was created. Although his nomination first failed of confirmation because of a fight led against him by Senator Overman because of exposures regarding the cotton mill industry in North Carolina, published in one of his reports, President Wilson gave him a recess appointment, and later he was confirmed. His principal work under the Erdman act was done in co-operation with Martin J. Knapp, presiding judge of the commerce court.

Free to Men

Would You Like to Be a Strong, Husky, Healthy Fellow Once More?

New Method Without Drugs

The attached coupon entitles you to one illustrated copy of my pocket compendium and guide for the self-restoration of lost strength. (See description below.) Upon hearing from you, this valuable little book of private information for men will be sent by return mail in plain, sealed envelope. Please call or write today.

There is a new and marvelous method for restoring lost manly strength, for renewing vigor, which every man should know of, a self-restorer which operates without the use of drugs or medicines, a new way to treat yourself for your ills and weaknesses. See description below.

Please remember that a man is not one day older than he actually feels, and therefore no matter what your age, if you are young or elderly, married or single, large or small, if I can show you, reader, how you yourself, may actually add to your system, nerves and blood the very nerve force or vigor which may have been drained away and which is necessary to make you strong, vigorous and capable again, then I have shown you the real secret of perpetual strength, and how you can again be filled with vigor, and again be just as powerful in your influence and just as thoroughly manly in your capacity as the biggest, fullest blooded, most successful fellow of your acquaintance.

The new self-treatment for the restoration of manly strength, to which I refer above, is a little light-weight VITALIZING Appliance of my invention, which is now meeting with a tremendous demand, and being used by men everywhere all over the world. This little VITALIZER, weighing only several ounces, is comfortably buckled on the body and worn all night. It is so small and so compact that even a room mate would not suspect that you were wearing it. If, however, this VITALIZER is small in size, it is not small in power, for it generates a great, tangible FORCE, which can be measured on scientific instruments—a POWER which I call VIGOR or NERVE ENERGY, and it sends this marvelous FORCE into your blood, organs and nerves while you sleep. All you have to do is to lead a decent, manly man's life, free from excesses and dissipations, then use the VITALIZER, nothing more. If this is followed out and the VITALIZER does for you what these others say it does for them, then all the pain or weakness will disappear from the small of your back—possibly from the first night's use—and you will be restored to a strong, vigorous, manly, capable man, without a single ache, pain or weakness. Please remember, I am not asking you to buy one of these VITALIZERS, but merely request you to first send for the free book described below, a section of which is devoted to an explanation of this VITALIZER, and gives you its whole wonderful story, so that you may know what intelligent young and elderly men everywhere are saying about it.

STRONG MEN RULE THE WORLD.

This Is the Book You Get Free

My 86-page illustrated booklet (pocket size) was compiled by me to answer fully and correctly those questions which are asked privately by any man needing new strength and who seeks personal advice pertaining to the ailments and weaknesses he wishes to overcome. APPOINT CURRAN ON WATER BOARD

Hibbing Village Trustee Successor to Capt. Wearne, Resigned.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Village Trustee John Curran was appointed a member of the water and light commission at the regular meeting of the village council last evening, to succeed Capt. William Wearne, resigned.

A petition for the appointment of E. S. Woolfan, bearing about fifty signatures, and another for the appointment of W. J. Power, brother of Mayor Power, were received and placed on file.

Mayor Power recommended the appointment of Trustee Curran for the reason he said that he believed there should be at least one member of the council on the water and light board. He pointed out that a large share of the business of the city was transacted through the water and light board and that as its members were appointive and not elective, they were not directly responsible to the people. He also expressed the opinion that business would be expedited both for the council and the board by having a member of the council serve. He recommended the appointment of Mr. Curran and it was unanimously confirmed.

Mayor Vouchsafes Economy.

During a discussion over the terms of bills before the council Mayor Power said that a good many people were suffering acute anxiety that the council was going to spend too much money. He said the appointment of J. P. Murphy to the head of the recently created bureau of complaints, and information had apparently caused genuine pain in some quarters and the place had been designated as an extravagance. He declared the department was demonstrating itself one of the best Hibbing had ever had and it was consistent with good business in the conduct of the village's affairs and was being given a thoroughly efficient administration. He said the present council had spent and would spend no more money than had previous councils.

HIBBING BAND ASKS FOR HELP

Council Receives Request for an Appropriation for Organization.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Brown, chairman of a committee recently appointed by the Hibbing Commercial club, appeared before the village council last night, and asked for an appropriation for the support of the Hibbing band, which needs new uniforms and more money to defray its current expenses, and is to enter an agreement to give open air concerts twice a week during the summer months. The matter was laid over to the next meeting pending an understanding with the officers of the band as to how much money is needed and what service will be given in return.

An invitation was received from the village council at Buhl to attend the formal opening of the new village hall there which will be made something of a social occasion. The city officials of all the range towns have been invited.

Seek Police Jobs.

Applications for positions on the police force were received from D. F. Ryan and Arthur Tawvea. Dan Becco and Emil Starkey made application for positions as paving inspectors. The applications were filed. City Engineer Hawley recommended sidewalk repairs on Pine and Center streets and Third avenue, aggregating 2,990 yards. A petition from Frank Haben and others asking for sidewalk extension on East Washington street was referred to the streets and alleys committee.

PREPARE JURY LIST.

Chisholm Officials Comply With New Municipal Court Law.

Chisholm, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The jury of 100 names, drawn by the president of the village, the municipal judge and village recorder, has been made in conformity with a new law affecting municipal courts. The statute requires that once each three months and on the second Tuesday in February, May, August and November, these three officials or their deputies shall make up a jury list of 100 names of citizens to serve, unless excused by the judge, on all jury cases coming before the municipal judge. The names are placed in a box and drawn whenever a case requires it and the jurors are not excused until their names have been cancelled from the list.

The schools which are as yet without teachers are Busticoggin, Carpenter, Daigle, Hansen Lake, Horton, McCormick, Pool, Orth, Round Lake, Smith, and Third River.

PETERSON NOT TO SUCCEED GODFREY

Published Story of Mining Official Change Denied By Godfrey.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The newspaper story to the effect that A. Y. Peterson, superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining company's interests in the Chisholm district, was to succeed M. H. Godfrey as superintendent for the Oliver in the Canisteo district with headquarters at Coleraine, is characterized as street talk by Mr. Godfrey, over long distance telephone.

"I know nothing of any such changes as were indicated in stories published by the Duluth newspapers," said Mr. Godfrey. "I am quite sure I would know if anything of the sort were contemplated." He denied also that he had severed his connection with the Oliver Iron Mining company or contemplated so doing.

SEEKING BODIES OF THREE WINTONITES

Large Party Dragging Fall Lake for Victims of Triple Drowning.

Winton, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—About thirty-five men left here this morning for the head of Fall lake to grapple for the bodies of G. P. Tieney, A. Purnanen and Victor Purlte of Winton, who are believed to have been drowned some time Monday while fishing. They are well equipped with grappling irons and boats and hope to find the bodies before night.

The failure of the three men to return Monday night after leaving here Monday morning in a launch for the fishing grounds at the head of the lake, aroused suspicion and yesterday morning searching parties went out to learn what was the matter.

Find Launch and Canoe.

Addison Wright, a painter, came across the launch moored near the shore and not far away an upturned canoe while several articles belonging to the three men were found in the water. It is believed the men changed from the launch to the canoe to fish and that the canoe capsized and all were drowned.

All three had lived here for a number of years. Mr. Puranen was about 40 years old and married. In addition to working in the St. Croix Lumber company's mill, he ran a boarding house for workmen. Mr. Tieney was about 25, single, and employed as an engineer at the same mill. Mr. Purite was also a single man, about 30 years old, and had been employed at the Swallow & Hopkins mill.

POET VISITS HIBBING.

J. J. Somers, Who Toys With Muse, Renews Old Acquaintances.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. J. Somers, a former resident of Hibbing, now living at Minneapolis with his brother-in-law, T. E. Corcoran. Mr. Somers is known as "the undiscovered poet of the West," and he has just published a volume of poems called Western verse, which is a symposium of bits of verse he has written during the past thirty years. He was the author of a poem used by Mr. Corcoran in his recent campaign for city treasurer. Among his poems, dealing with local incident are: "Fighting Pal Brown," "Jim's Vacation at Hibbing," "Our Special Bill of Fare," "To the Maids of Taconite" and others. Much of Mr. Somers' verse was written while homesteading in the Moose river district of Ward county, North Dakota, and a good deal of it has been published from time to time in magazines.

ELYITE CONDUCTOR.

In Charge of Red Lake Training School; Hibbing Teacher Assistant.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., May 14—Four weeks of teachers' training school will open here June 2 in the Washington school. H. E. White, superintendent of the Ely public schools, will be the conductor of the summer school. He will be assisted by Charles Eginton, superintendent of the Staples public schools. Miss Anna M. White of the Tuttle school in Minneapolis and Miss Gertrude Sutton, supervisor of second and third grades in the Hibbing schools.

Auto Club Committee.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leon M. Bolter, president of the Itasca County Automobile association, has appointed the following committee on membership: Dr. D. Costello of Grand Rapids, N. D. Kane of Coleraine, D. M. Gunn, A. W. Sitz, and F. E. King, all of Grand Rapids.

Going to Fort George.

Chisholm, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex Hubbard and his oldest son, Isaac, leave this week for Fort George, B. C. Mr. Hubbard had a contract for hauling the mail in that section the past winter, hauling it nearly 200 miles on dog sledgs. He has taken up a fine homestead there for himself and son, who will take a sufficient outfit with them to permit of an extended stop.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today--You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4671 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

VIRGINIA PLANNING MUCH SEWER WORK

Ordinances Creating New Sewer Districts Being Considered By Council.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ordinances creating new sewer districts in Fairview addition in the north part of the city and one in Anderson's addition in the south part were advanced a stage by the council last night.

The city clerk was directed to request the state railroad and warehouse commission to hold a hearing in Virginia on the taking off of the "Merry Widow" train by the Great Northern. The clerk was also directed to write the councils and commercial clubs of Chisholm, Buhl, Kinney and Mountain Iron asking them to co-operate with Virginia in its attempt to require the Great Northern to maintain the service of the train.

The council was invited by letter to attend the opening of the new Buhl village hall Thursday night. The chief of police was directed to see that all places where cigarettes are sold have licenses.

City Has Big Balance.

The city clerk's and city treasurer's reports showed that the city has a balance over all in the bank of $284,-851.05 on May 1.

Bids will be asked for the construction of the two miles required to make the new road to Gilbert using a part of the Gilbert road and a cut off. The council is asked to contribute $1,000 toward the fund for Fourth of July expenses and this was referred to the finance committee. A second reading was given to the ordinance providing for the licensing of automobiles used for hire. These, while waiting, will not be allowed to stand on Chestnut street.

CANDIDATES ARE BEING DISCUSSED

Virginia's Threatened Recall Election Now Starts Tongues to Wagging.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Discussion is rife as to who will be named to run for mayor and the aldermanic jobs, if the proceedings on foot to recall Mayor Murphy and certain aldermen bear fruit. It is expected that petitions bearing the requisite 25 per cent of the votes cast at the last election will be presented to the council at the next meeting, May 20, and that body asked to order the election. The clerk must check over the petitions before the election can be called, to see that all signing are bona fide voters.

The mayor has refused to make any public statement regarding the recall but it is generally understood that he will stand again for election should the recall election be legally carried out.

No particular candidate has so far come forward as an opponent of the present incumbent, but several names of well known men are being freely mentioned.

CHISHOLM REAL ESTATE ACTIVE

Many Parcels of Property Change Hands and Quite Building Boom On.

Chisholm, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Real estate activity according to local real estate men during the past month has been the best in the history of the village. More transfers of town lots for both investment and building purposes have been made this spring than in double the period at any other time since the town started, not excepting the transactions that took place immediately following the big fire of 1908.

The records at the register of deeds office for the last fortnight showed that more village lot transfers were recorded in Chisholm than any other town on the Mesaba range.

Thirty-five lots have been either sold or bargained for sale so far this week.

Building New Homes.

A number of homes have been started the past week and the water department has received more requests for water connections so far this year than ever before in the history of the village, in fact the department was forced into making water taps at least thirty days earlier than any previous year on account of the anxiety to begin building operations. There is scarcely a street in town that has not one or more buildings now under actual construction.

Appropriate for Road.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Itasca county board appropriated $500 from the county bridge and road fund to aid the town of Bearville in constructing a highway beginning on the section line between sections 15 and 16, in township 61, range 22, between Bearville and Carpenter. A grant of $160 was made to the town of Harris for corduroy covering on the Hill City road, and $200 was voted to the town of Sago for a bridge across Swan river.

The hearing on the petitions of the International Boom company for a dam to be constructed across Popple river, at the town of Popple and that for a hearing on County Road No. 101, were continued until the next meeting of the board, June 10.

W. B. Taylor of Deer River was instructed to make a survey of section 24, township 145, range 25, for presentation at the next meeting, and the hearing on the survey of section 36, township 55, range 27, was laid over until June 10.

The bridge across Splithand brook was ordered condemned, and posted as unsafe. Petitions from the towns of Balsam and Arbo were ordered laid on the table.

Headache?-It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

SANITARIUM FOR ITASCA COUNTY

County Board Appropriates Money for Place to Treat White Plague.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the approval of the advisory committee of the Minnesota state sanitarium for consumptives, Itasca county will soon have a new tuberculosis sanitarium. The county commissioners, at their last meeting, appropriated $15,000 for the tuberculosis sanitarium fund, and unless there is strenuous objection on the part of the state authorities there is little doubt but that the camp will be built within a short time.

It is proposed to maintain the camp by taxation, not to exceed 1 mill on each dollar of taxable property.

Grand Rapids Ideal Spot.

Grand Rapids would be an ideal situation for the proposed sanitarium, and it is not improbable that an effort would be made to secure it, when the commissioners plan is approved. Grand Rapids is more than 1,400 feet above sea level, and with its many pine trees, a better location would be difficult to find. Already the suggestion has been made that the camp be built in the groves of pines either east or west of town, and the few grumblers have been silenced by the undeniable fact that inside the town limits is no place for a camp of such a nature. It is to escape the smoke and noise that such camps are built, and the building would never be built near enough to town to cause fear among those who dread the disease.

HIBBING FISHERMEN REPORT GOOD LUCK

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—Dr. H. R. Weirick, Dr. Riggs, Steve Geiser, Thomas Congdon and Arthur Folsom of Buhl have returned from a seevral days' fishing trip at Cass Lake. They brought back one of the finest strings of wall-eyed pike ever brought here and the friends of all are being liberally remembered. Dr. Weirick, who annually spends several days at Cass lake fishing, says the fishing is better at the present time than he ever knew it to be.

HIBBING PLANNING FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements have about been completed for the Memorial day exercises. C. E. Everett will be marshal of the day, while Judge Brady and W. H. Day will look after the finances.

The committee on speaker consists of B. T. Collins, E. L. Clymer and Herbert L. Blair. F. A. Moore, W. J. Ryder and Al Dyer constitute a committee on flowers, music and transportation.

An effort will be made to have Grand Exalted Ruler Mills of the Superior lodge of Elks to deliver the Memorial day address. Mr. Mills will be on the range the day following Memorial day to speak at the formal dedication of the new Elks' home at Virginia, and he will be invited to come to Hibbing a day in advance.

The program calls for a gathering at the Armory, where the address of the day will probably be delivered. The veterans will assemble there and in automobiles decorated with flowers will be driven to the cemetery with Company M and the Chisholm post of veterans of the Spanish-American was as an escort. The Hibbing band has tendered its services and will head the procession to the cemetery. The children of the public schools will join the line of march at the Jefferson school on South Third avenue.

Old soldiers who will be honored are Joseph Morgan, Nat Frazer, Thomas Dougherty and A. J. Pool.

Virginia K. P. Banquet.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Knights of Pythias will give a banquet at the Ormonde hotel Friday evening with visitors present from seven or eight cities of the ranges, including Ely. The attendance is expected to be more than 150. The committee on arrangements is made up of John K. Krogdahl, S. S. Dahl, Fred Lister and J. H. Cutis. S. S. Dahl is expected to act as toastmester. There will be music and speaking in addition to the dinner.

To Gravel Avenue.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Itasca County Automobile association told the village council Monday that they had received permission from the agent of the owner of a gravel pit, opposite Frenchtown, a mile east of Grand Rapids, to remove gravel that may be needed for the graveling of a road north and south out of town. The council ordered the street commissioner to begin the graveling of Hoffman avenue at once.

Engineer Donovan Dies.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—The body of Chris Donovan, aged 23, brother-in-law of P. Habley of Utica, a well-known locomotive engineer who died at the Hanley home Monday from internal abscess, was taken to Morton, Minn., yesterday for interment. Mrs. O'Shea, his sister, accompanied the body to Morton. The funeral of John Boros, who died Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon.

Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 50°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◔ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

RAIN

The weather man missed on his rain prediction for last night, but he may make good today. The mercury went down to 32 deg. last night, which was uncomfortable enough for anybody. The man on the hill sticks to his rain prediction for tonight or Thursday.

Half-bright, half-gray weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:32 and it will set at 7:35 this evening, giving fifteen hours and three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Disturbances centered over Kansas and Alberta caused light to heavy rains in the Central valleys, Middle West and Northwest during Tuesday or last night. Brisk to high northeast winds prevailed last night and this morning on Lakes Superior and Michigan. Freezing temperatures occurred this morning in Northeastern Minnesota, Southwestern Colorado, Southern Utah, Nevada, Northwestern Wyoming, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Western Manitoba. Conditions favor strong northeast winds, rain and chilly weather at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 14.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Upper Michigan—Showers tonight or Thursday; slightly warmer Thursday.

Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—Unsettled weather, with showers, tonight or Thursday.

North and South Dakota—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Thursday.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; cooler in east portion tonight; light frost in west portion.

Opening Game May 20-22.

The opening game will be played by the Senators and Highlanders and an invitation has been extended to Mayor Towl to pitch the first ball. The exact position that each of the men will play is not yet decided, but the following are the members of the teams which will appear in the lineup Monday:

Senators—Griffen, Hastings, Raubert, Johnson, T., Walstrom, Irwin, Westin, McCurdy, Gintes, Hastings, Robert; Clapper, L., Peterson, W.

Highlanders—Gustafson, Olsen, Pearson, Lambert, McDonald, Hanson, Johnson, A., Nordlund, Coleman, Anderson, Clapper, C., Dahl.

SWAN LAKE POPULAR.

Many Summer Homes Built Along Mesaba Range Sheet of Water.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. Staley, owner of the Swan lake boathouses, while here Monday spoke of the situation being very promising in his line of business at the summer resort. He has added a number of boats to his equipment and has about fifty row boats and launches. There are at present about twenty gasoline launches on the lake and a number of others including row boats will be added soon.

The south shore of the lake is lined with handsome summer cottages and others will soon be under construction in various places along the shore line. The lake is not only headquarters for Nashwauk people but many others from the Twin Cities and throughout the ranges make their yearly outing trips there.

Biwabik to Celebrate.

Biwabik, Minn., May 14.—The Business Men's club has appointed this committee to solicit funds and arrange for the celebration of the Fourth: Don C. Anderson, Max Glassner and John Sullivan. The plans include a base ball game, field sports with many prizes, music by several bands and the day to conclude with fireworks and a dance. An invitation will be extended to neighboring towns to unite in the celebration.

Expensive Glass of Beer.

Gilbert, Minn., May 14.—Judge Anderson yesterday afternoon fined Frank Hazoni, a local saloon keeper, $75 and costs for selling a glass of beer on Sunday. The accused pleaded guilty.

Pianos at Cost.

At the Boston Music Co. this week. Come and see us. 18 and 20 Lake avenue north.

Lutherans in Session.

Atchison, Kan., May 14.—The forty-fifth biennial convention of the General Synod of the Lutheran church opened here today with delegates from many states attending. The rapid growth of the Lutheran church, said now to have a membership of 70,000,000, and means to sustain this growth were topics touched upon by speakers. Rev. Junius B. Remensnyder of New York city, president of the synod, was to preach the synodical sermon late today.

Tap Day to Be Tame.

New Haven, Conn., May 14.—Yale's historic "tap day" exercises will be held on the campus tomorrow afternoon, but with probably less publicity than ever before. As a result of protest against the public selection of members of the senior secret societies by tapping them, the freshmen and sophomores have voted not to attend the exercises, and the members of the faculty have planned to hold their annual tea on the forestry school grounds, a milo from the campus, at the time.

Many people cannot afford to have weak nerves. It would mean loss of livelihood. To everyone the loss of nervous energy is a serious matter. Every action uses up nervous energy which in health is steadily renewed by the blood.

As soon as the blood, for any reason, loses this power to constantly rebuild the nerves, a nervous breakdown threatens.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and their tonic action strengthens weak nerves. They are sold by all druggists, fifty cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 or direct by mail. The booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," will be sent free upon request.

ASK ATTORNEY GENERAL.

As to Taxing Cash Surrender Value of Insurance Policy.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—The Minnesota tax commission has asked Attorney General Smith if the cash surrender value of a life insurance policy is taxable as a credit. The request for an opinion is the result of an inquiry received by the commission from a county auditor.

The question is a new one and has never been passed on by the attorney general, according to William J. Stevenson, assistant in charge of tax matters. If it is decided in the affirmative hundreds of thousands of dollars will be added to the tax rolls.

The law providing for the taxation of credits at a 3-mill rate, was passed by the legislature two years ago. The statutory definition of credit is "every claim or demand for money or other valuable thing."

Bank Cashier Sentenced.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 14.—Albert J. Eidsmoe, former cashier of the First National bank of Crandon, Wis., who was indicted by the Federal grand jury two years ago on the charge of embezzling funds from the bank to the amount of $36,000, pleaded guilty before United States Judge Geiger yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Lawyer Commits Suicide.

Chicago, May 14.—Willard F. Conkey, an attorney, shot himself in the temple last night, inflicting injuries from which he died within a few hours. Financial troubles are said to have been the cause.

MURDERER TO BE TAKEN TO PRISON

Pending Result of Appeal Thomas James Will Serve Time.

Thomas James, negro murderer, who on March 29 last was sentenced by Judge Dibell to life imprisonment at Stillwater as punishment for the killing of Rudolph Miller, white, in a Michigan street saloon last October, will be taken to the penitentiary some time next week by Sheriff Meining.

James would have been taken to Stillwater sooner, had the court not granted him a stay of execution of the sentence in order to give his attorney, Warner E. Whipple, a chance to perfect an appeal to the supreme court from the order of Judge Dibell denying James' motion for a new trial.

The appeal was not perfected in time for the April term of the supreme court and will not be heard now until the October sitting. In the meantime, it has been agreed that the stay of execution of sentence may be vacated and that James may be committed to prison at this time.

If the supreme court reverses Judge Dibell and grants the negro a new trial, James will be brought back to Duluth. If not, he will remain in Stillwater the rest of his life.

BEMIDJI MOTORISTS GOING TO FARGO.

Bemidji, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not less than twenty and probably as many as thirty automobiles will leave Bemidji on June 3 for a three days' tour, with Fargo, N. D., as the objective point. The first day's run will be as far as Detroit. The second day the party will proceed to Fargo and double back to Crookston to spend the night, and the home run will be made the following day. Cars from Blackduck and Crookston are expected to join the club cars from here.

BIG CLAIM ON ESTATE

Jury Hearing Story of Edward Miller and "Jim" Sheridan.

Miller Claims His Life-long Friend Owed Him $20,000.

A district court jury which was drawn in Judge Fesler's court this morning will decide whether or not Edward Miller is entitled to the $20,000 claim for services which he is pressing against the estate of James Sheridan.

The case is in the nature of an appeal from the order of Judge Gilpin of the probate court disallowing the claim in full. Judge W. G. Bonham is appearing for the plaintiff and claimant, Edward Miller, and T. T. Hudson is attorney for the estate.

"Jim" Sheridan, whose death occurred in this city on June 15 last, was a pioneer among the explorers on the Minnesota and Michigan iron ranges. He also spent many years of his life prospecting and exploring the gold and copper fields of Mexico and Alaska.

Miller, a life-long friend and fellow prospector of Sheridan's, since his death presented to the probate court a claim for $20,416 for services. He asserts that he devoted six years of his life to the work of exploring with Sheridan and that he accompanied the veteran prospector on his trips to the gold, silver and copper fields of Alaska and Mexico.

Miller takes the stand that had Sheridan lived, he would have squared the debt and that it was only his unfortunate and sudden death that prevented him from doing so. His claim is itemized as follows:

From Nov. 1, 1902, to Jan. 1, 1905, at $2,000 per annum, $5,416; the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 at $5,000 per annum, $15,000. Total $20,416.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR VISITORS

"Lark o' the Lake" Committee Busy on Its Plans.

"Get all the visitors you can for Duluth this summer, and then entertain them." That in brief is the motto of the "Lark o' the Lake" committee which held a meeting at the Commercial club this afternoon.

The committee is composed of representatives of the Commercial club, the Rotary club, the Ad club, the Boat club and the Retail Merchants' association, and the members are working to arrange six week-end entertainments for Duluth's summer guests.

The chief feature of these entertainments will be the flying boat, but there will also be programs of water sports, band concerts, excursions, ball games and every other kind of entertainment that might appeal to the visitors.

The chief subjects discussed at today's meeting were the distribution of the tickets, and the entertainment outside of the Boat club program. It was decided that the Boat club program would end with the afternoon sports. Those who choose may remain for the dancing, but the center of attraction will be shifted uptown during the evening, and an effort will be made to plan some form of street carnival for Saturday evening.

Most attractive advertising booklets have been prepared and a design adopted for all decorations.

Milk Rate Protest.

J. A. Little, head of the municipal rate bureau, filed complaint yesterday with the interstate commerce commission regarding milk rates in Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. The complaint was filed on behalf of a local creamery. Lower rates are also asked for milk in Northern Wisconsin.

Norwegians to Celebrate.

An elaborate program has been prepared for the annual Norwegian independence day celebration to be held Saturday at the Sons of Norway hall. The program has been prepared under the direction of Miss Josephine Lind. It will include splendid musical numbers and the principal address will be given by Alfred Gabrielson, president of District No. 1, Sons of Norway.

Vice Crusade Planned.

At a meeting of the ministers of the city churches plans were made for fighting vice conditions in Superior. An invitation will be sent to Clifford G. Roe of Chicago to address the members of the organization next Tuesday. Committees were also appointed to work in co-operation with similar organizations in other cities.

Park Site Selected.

Residents of South Superior unanimously decided in favor of the block between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets and Tower and Ogden avenues as the most desirable place for a park for that end of the city at the meeting held at the Bryant school. Members of the city commission were present and promised to take the matter under advisement.

Books Well Kept.

C. G. Alburn, a public accountant, who has been examning the books of the city as required by the charter, completed his task this morning. Mr. Alburn states that the books have been kept in excellent shape.

Le Clair Appointed.

E. A. Le Clair was this morning reappointed to membership on the Superior police and fire commission. The appointment was made public by Mayor Konkel.

Contracts Let.

The city commission let contracts for an aggregate of $22,706 for the building of sewers in the Ninth ward this morning. Most of the jobs are small ones and include most of the Billings Park district.

RUSSIAN PRINCESS IS APPEARING IN VAUDEVILLE SKETCH IN LONDON

MME. LYDIA YAVORSKA.

The Princess Bariatinsky, who is known to the stage as Lydia Yavorska, has gone into vaudeville. She is appearing at a London vaudeville house in a sketch called "Lolotte." She is known as the Russian Bernhardt. In one respect she is more versatile than the divine Sarah. She can act in Russian, French, German, Italian or English. The father of Prince Bariatinsky is a great friend of the czar. The son and his wife are not on good terms with the Russian police and though they are not exiled they spend little time in Russia.

OBITUARY

William Harvey Brown, naturalist, writer and soldier, died April 6 in Rhodesia, South Africa, according to word just received here. He was 50 years old. After Mr. Brown's graduation from the University of Kansas in 1880 he had charge of the United States national museum at Cincinnati; took part in the Eclipse expedition to St. Paul de Laonda, 1889-90, and on his return was appointed assistant osteologist in the national museum. Later he went to Africa on a collecting expedition for the Carnegie Institute. While there the Matabele war broke out and Brown enlisted with the British army. In recognition of his services in the war, he was given 13,000 acres of land in the concession that afterwards became Rhodesia. He remained there and became a naturalized British subject. He served as mayor of Salisbury.

Brown's parents live in California. His wife, who is a daughter of the late Frank H. Snow, former chancellor of the University of Kansas, will return with their three children to make her home at Lawrence, Kan.

William Henry Larrabee, editor, author and critic, said to have been the oldest graduate of Depauw university, died at his home in Plainfield, N. J., May 13. He was born at Alfred, Me., in 1829. He was graduated from Depauw when it was called Indiana-Asbury college, in 1845. In 1862 he did his first editorial work on a religious magazine, and later became associate editor of the Brooklyn Daily Union. He was an accomplished linguist, had traveled extensively and was the author of several books.

Marquette, Mich., May 14.—Car No. 1, bureau of fisheries, department of commerce, arrived in Marquette from Duluth with a consignment of about 100 cans of trout fry hatched at the governmenmt hatcheries in the Zenith City from spawn taken from Lake Superior waters near Munising. The car was coupled to the morning M., M. & S. E. train east and taken to Munising where the infant fish were placed in the shoals in unexposed waters surrounding Grant island.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS GATHER AT ST. LOUIS

Returned Missionaries Are Present at Church Meetings.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—The annual convention of Southern Baptists, with delegates present from all the Southern states and returned missionaries from Asia, Africa and Spanish-American countries, was scheduled to meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Third Baptist church.

Committee meetings incident to the assembling of the Women's Missionary union, an auxiliary of the Southern Baptist church, were held throughout the day, in preparation for the formal convening of the union tomorrow.

The opening session of the Baptist convention was scheduled to elect officers, appoint committees and hear the reports of the boards of foreign and of home missions and of the Sunday school board. The convention has no legislative powers.

PURANEN'S BODY FOUND IN LAKE

Corpse of One Victim of Triple Drowning Is Recovered.

Winton, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of A. Puranen, aged 40, employed in the St. Croix lumber mill here, who also runs a boarding house, was recovered from the head of Fall lake about 1:30 p. m. today by the parties grappling for the three men drowned here Monday.

Up to a late hour this afternoon the bodies of the other victims of the triple drowning had not been recovered.

GRAND FORKS CLUB WILL BE CHANGED.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be new faces on the Grand Forks club of the Northern league very soon. When the locals line up against Minneapolis this afternoon several changes are expected. Fishback, an outfielder, and Treplon, a second baseman, reported to Lohr at Superior yesterday and will be given immediate tryouts.

Just how extensive the changes contemplated will be, has not been announced by the club owners, but they say they will have a winning team in the field before long. Yesterday the club broke a ten-day hoodoo by pounding the Superior twirling staff to the four winds in the final game of the series there. It was the first of six games won by the club.

GRAND FORKS MEN VISIT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sixty local business men joined in a novel sight-seeing trip, going to the public schools of the city to see the work as carried on there. The visit was one of a series of "Know Grand Forks" trips planned by the Commercial club.

At one school the business men saw the building emptied of scholars at a fire drill. At another they saw the lower grades at work, and at still another, they were served with a lunch by the girls in the domestic science class, being seated in a dining room, the furniture of which was made by the boys of the manual training department.

UNITED STATES BALL LEAGUE BLOWS UP.

Reading, Pa., May 14.—After a season of only three days, the United States baseball league has disbanded. President William Abbott Witman of this city, gave up today. The first break came on Sunday when New York would not play in Newark because the club had not been paid the guarantee for the Saturday game. Washington and New York were dropped and it was decided to go along with six clubs, but yesterday only a few people were on hand for the games and this discouraged all connected with the league and they quit. Nineteen players are stranded here.

WOMAN PASSING BAD NICKELS?

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Government agents believe a woman passed many of the counterfeit nickels which appeared in the Minneapolis street cars Sunday and Monday. Two conductors describe a woman who took frequent short rides on the cars on those two days. No bogus nickels have appeared since Monday.

Barron Man Badly Burned.

Barron, Wis., May 14.—When the tar he was using to repair a tin roof caught fire from the gasoline torch yesterday, Fred Cuthbert, aged 28, was badly burned by hot tar on the left forearm and the left side of his body. His condition is serious but not fatal.

COMPETING WITH DANES

Minnesota Eggs Are Finding Ready Sale in English Markets.

Better Marketing System Insures Quality of the Shipments.

Minnesota eggs are in competition with Denmark eggs in the Liverpool market, according to Prof. N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry extension work of the Minnesota college of agriculture.

Prof. Chapman, who has the proud distinction of having two eggs shipped where only one was shipped before, is in Duluth today calling on the commission men. He makes it a point to watch market conditions in the country and in the city, and checking up on those who fail to observe the rules that will insure to each consumer twelve fresh eggs when he buys a dozen.

"We are shipping Minnesota eggs to Liverpool to compete with Denmark eggs in the English market," said Prof. Chapman today. "Representatives of the big packers and other large purchasers of eggs throughout the nation tell me that Minnesota eggs are the best to be obtained anywhere. That isn't because the eggs are better when they are laid but because we have worked out a marketing system that insures the character of shipments.

"A Minneapolis commission man told me the other day that out of forty cases of eggs candled in his place that day, only one bad egg had been discovered. That's a record of which any state may be proud. Of course the weather conditions have been very favorable, but the weather does not control. Prompt shipment, careful packing and absolute honesty on the part of everyone will make the Minnesota egg market supreme for the quality of its offerings.

"The poultry industry is a great, growing industry. The growth in the last few years has been 15 per cent a year, and that growth will continue. The farm without a poultry yard isn't a farm at all. The city home with a poultry yard has a strangle hold on the high cost of living. There is money, health and happiness in the poultry industry if it is intelligently conducted, and Minnesota people have acquired the habit of acting intelligently in the poultry business."

DONATE $500 FOR SILVER SERVICE

North Dakota Knights of Columbus Help Raise Desired Sum.

Fargo, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand lodge session of the Knights of Columbus held here voted to give $500 towards the fund being raised for the silver service for the battleship North Dakota. Through B. I. Keating a check for the money amount was presented to Governor Hanna, who is making an effort to clear up the deficiency which has existed for three or four years. The silver service was ordered and is still held by New York jewelers.

REASSESSES BENEFITS.

East Grand Forks Council Conforms to Court Ruling.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 14.—Special to The Herald.)—Acting under the decision of the Minnesota supreme court which set aside assessment that had been levied against considerable property in the city for paving benefits, the council reassessed the benefits, under a new law which places that task in the hands of the council proper, rather than in the hands of a special assessment commission.

In making the reassessment, the council took the same figures that had been submitted by the special commission, and against which some property owners made complaint. The paving fight has been under way about a year, being commenced even before the laying of the paving was begun. The job is now completed. The paving is in the principal business district of the city.

MANY ATHLETES WILL COMPETE.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eighty-two athletes representing seventeen high schools of North Dakota, have already entered for the twelfth interscholastic field and track meet, which will be held in Grand Forks Friday and Saturday, this week. Five Minnesota schools also will have teams here.

EAST GRAND FORKS BOY IS INJURED.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roy Peterson, aged 12, attempted to cross the tracks ahead of a rapidly-moving street car Tuesday night and was run down. One leg was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated. Peterson turned his wheel across the track about twenty feet ahead of the car, the motorman being unable to stop in time to prevent the smash.

OUR SUITS AT $25

Have Been the Talk of the Town.

There's good reason for it—the suits themselves.

Unquestionably they are in a class far above the ordinary—in fact such values would be impossible save for our co-operation with several hundred other of the best merchants in other dressy cities.

With them we have concentrated orders on a number of suits of distinctly uncommon styles—in a variety of all-wool weaves such as diagonals—striped worsteds and plain serges.

Because of this concentration, the Wooltex factory has been able to turn out the suits you've seen pictured in the Ladies' Home Journal, the Delineator and other fashion magazines to sell at $25.00.

The tailoring in these suits is superb—the assortment of sizes is such that you can probably be fitted with little or no alteration—but if alterations are necessary, competent fitters will do the work.

The success of our suits at $25.00 is such that ordinary $25.00 suits elsewhere can't compete with them.

You'd rather pay $25.00 for our suits than $16.50 for ordinary $25.00 suits elsewhere — because you want style—quality—and service!

Won't you see these wonderful suits tomorrow?

Special Sale of Towels

Warm weather will bring need of more towels and this should be your opportunity to lay in a good supply at worth-while savings.

25c for any of our 35c Turkish Towels—Choose from white, red, or blue borders

19c

For choice, one lot medium size 23c and 25c Turkish Towels.

All Linen Huck Towels Only 19c.—These are every thread pure linen. You usually pay 25c for them.

18-inch Machine Escalloped and Embroidered Centerpieces Only 10c. This is one of the best surprises you have had for a long, long time. 10c Round Centerpieces (18 inches in diameter), machine worked and escalloped, very effective. No need to tell you how much more they are worth—nearly everyone can use some of them for summer dining room, camp and porch.

12½c for Union Huck Towels—A big lot, a good size and quite surprising values, 12½c each, or $1.50 a dozen. Hotels and boarding houses will find this a snap. Those who are buying for summer cottages will do well to see them. 12½c

We Continue the Sale of Exquisite Embroideries

We knew you would appreciate an opportunity to buy our finest all-overs, our most beautiful flouncings, and the bands and galloons to match them at One-third their regular prices.

For the Bride and the Graduate!

Nevertheless we hardly expected such a response as has come to us yesterday and today, and for the benefit of those who have not yet shared, we mention the fact that the sale continues throughout the week.

We repeat, "all of our finest novelty embroideries, regular prices $1.25 to $12.00 the yard, on sale at One-third off the plainly marked original price."

Have You Your New Oxfords?

Let Us Show You What Other Good Dressers Are Buying.

There is such a difference in Oxfords that women who have declared they could not wear low shoes find great satisfaction in our new models.

They are designed on new lasts which clasp the foot in such a way that there is no sliding or chafing of foot or heel, and consequently no destruction of hosiery and peace of mind.

There are new models in Ooze—Suede—Patent—Nubuck and Gun Metal leathers. You will find white—black—browns—tans and other wanted shades.

Prices ranging $3.00—$3.50—$4.00 and $4.50 for most wanted styles.

Let Our Milliners Show You Some of Our New Hats

Friday we announced a first showing of mid-summer models in Gage hats, you who saw them found them charming indeed. Those of you who did not see them have a rare treat in store for you. Come in tomorrow, see with your own eyes how becoming some of these new models will be.

Our tasty milliners will assist you in selecting a hat which you may be proud to wear and we may be proud to have sold.

Of almost equal interest is the fact that our prices are less than you would expect to pay for hats of such style and quality.

The showing at $6.00, $8.00 and $12.00 is proof of that.

MANY CONGRATULATIONS FOR DULUTH'S MOST HONORED JUDGE

Judge J. D. Ensign was the recipient of many congratulations today, the occasion being his 80th birthday.

He spent the morning shaking hands with a number of his old friends and in receiving congratulatory notes from those who could not visit him.

The Duluth Retail Merchants' association today sent him the following letter accompanied by a floral tribute:

"J. D. Ensign, esquire, judge of district court, Duluth, Minn., honored sir: The fact that May 14, 1913, is the 80th anniversary of your birth was brought up before the meeting of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association last evening at the Hotel Holland.

"To be certain that this event in your life's history should not go unnoticed, it was moved, and carried unanimously, that you receive on this, your 80th birthday, the heartiest congratulations and warmest best wishes of our association, both collectively and individually. It is our hope that there will be many more healthful and happy years for you and yours.

"The flowers we send you with this letter are indeed but a slight token of the high esteem in which you are held by us, and are sent you, honored sir, as a remembrance direct from the bottom of our hearts.

"We are, yours, with the utmost respect,

"DULUTH RETAIL MERCANTS' ASSOCIATION,
"A. C. PEARSON,
"Secretary."

CAME TO DULUTH ON DAY JUDGE ENSIGN DID

In discussing Judge Ensign's 80th birthday today, Capt. Thomas H. Pressnell, deputy clerk of the United States district court, recalled that it was on this same day in 1869 that he came to Duluth. He was 70 years old last February.

Capt. Pressnell was then 26 years old and came here from St. Paul, where he had just returned from the East after taking part in the Civil war. He came to Duluth by railroad, which took him about thirty miles from St. Paul, by stage coach to Superior and by rowboat to Duluth.

After arriving here, Capt. Pressnell took charge of the Duluth Minnesotian, the first newspaper ever published in this city.

Dull, dry and brittle hair and premature grayness is caused by free alkali in all ordinary toilet soaps. Use Hygenol Cream of Green Soap and note the wonderful change. Sold by Lyceum pharmacy.

CITY BRIEFS

Dairyman Is Arrested.

P. J. Hickey, a dairyman, was arraigned in police court this morning on a warrant sworn out by N. M. Nelson charging him with the larceny of thirty milk bottles, valued at $1.53, from Bridgeman-Russell. He pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for Friday afternoon.

M. I. Stewart Company,
Successors to Thwing-Stewart Co., Printers, Designers, Lithographers.

Epileptic in Hospital.

Ole Thorson, bartender in a Bowery saloon, bit his cheek and tongue so severely last evening when he was taken with an epileptic fit that it was feared for a time that he would bleed to death. Dr. L. J. Murphy, police surgeon, was summoned, and after attending him at the police station he sent him to St. Luke's hospital.

New Iron Company.

The Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company, a new mining company, the principal offices of which will be in this city, filed articles of incorporation yesterday afternoon with the register of deeds. Its capital stock is given as $500,000, and its incorporators are John Wahl, G. A. Rydberg and L. J. Pitts.

Pasteurized Milk.
Costs no more than raw milk, and it's healthier Demand it. Phone us for our driver to call. Bridgeman-Russell Co.

Skeleton Brought to City.

The skeleton which was found in the woods about three miles back of Brookston was brought to Crawford's undertaking rooms in this city yesterday afternoon. It had evidently been in the woods for several years and no clue remained by which the identity might be established. It will be buried at the county's expense.

Sidewalk Bids.

Bids for the laying of plank and cement sidewalks during the coming season were opened this morning by Commissioner Murchison of the division of public works. Many blocks of walks will be laid in the city this year. Much of it will be put down by the city contractors, but any owner who so desires can have the work done by private contract. Up to noon the bids had not been totaled and the figures will not be available until this afternoon.

Steam Shovel at Work.

Contractor C. R. McLean now has a steam shovel working on the fill at Eighty-first avenue west. His crew of men has been greatly augmented and he is confient that he will have the job finished by June 15, the date the time for completion expires. Strong hopes are entertained that when this is done the extension of the street car tracks to New Duluth will be started and the work finished so that the operation of cars can be started this fall.

Knutson & Ferguson
And the Mesaba Labor agency have moved from 320 W. Mich. St. to 306 W. Mich. St.

Chinaman May Be Insane.

Game Fang, a Chinaman, 28 years old, was arrested last evening by Patrolman Noren when he invaded a private residence near Ninth avenue east and First street. The police state that the man is demented. They say that he has been hanging about St. Luke's hospital for several nights, obsessed by the delusion that he is to marry one of the nurses.

Two Days' Convention.

The Minnesota Federation of Commercial clubs will open a two days' meeting at Minneapolis tomorrow. Secretary H. V. Eva of the Duluth Commercial club will leave tonight to attend the sessions.

Non-Support Charged.

Henry W. Pomeroy was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by Charles Kauppi, county commissioner, charging him with having failed to support his two minor children for the last year. In police court he entered a plea of guilty but disposition of his case was continued until this afternoon for a further report of the circumstances.

Big Meeting at Lester Park.

The Lester Park Improvement club will hold a meeting extraordinary tomorrow evening at Lester Park M. E. church and will be addressed by some of the leading men of the city. Among the guests of the club will be Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss, Merritt, Hicken and Murchison. Among the speakers will be Judge Bert Fesler, Charles P. Craig, James A. Wharton and John H. Norton.

For Disorderly Conduct.

Sam Johnson was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct. He is alleged to have broken a window in a saloon owned by M. Danculovich, 523 West Michigan street, while intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty and hearing was set for May 15. Ely Ratkovich, proprietor of the Park hotel on Superior street, where it was stated the disorderly conduct had taken place, asserts that his name had been given erroneously.

BONDS IN EXCHANGE FOR POSTAL DEPOSITS

Depositors at the postal savings department may exchange the whole or part of their deposits for United States bonds, by applying on or before June 2.

The postoffice department at Washington is sending out circulars informing postal authorities of the next bond issue July 1. The bonds are to be sold in denominations of $20, $100 and $500 bearing interest from July 1 at the rate of 2½ per cent per annum. These postal bonds are exempt from all taxes, national, state or municipal.

Applications for these bonds must be made with Postmaster Cook on or before June 2.

MERCURY BELOW FREEZING POINT

Since yesterday morning the thermometer has dropped from 47 deg. to 31 deg., with indications at present pointing to a still lower drop.

The mercury this noon registered 31 deg., with a 36-mile gale blowing from the northeast.

H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, predicts a continuation of the present weather for another twenty-four hours. Reports from Washington, he said, state that the storm is general over the Northwest.

WISCONSIN STREET CAR BILL TO GOVERNOR

Assembly Refuses to Reconsider Action on the Linley Measure.

Madison, Wis., May 14.—The assembly today, by a vote of 48 to 36, refused to reconsider the action by which it passed the Linley bill, permitting cities to purchase street railways at any time, and the bill now goes to the governor.

By a vote of 46 to 39 the assembly rejected the joint resolution for a constitutional amendment authorizing the state to raise the debt limit above $100,000, where it now stands.

The Bowe joint resolution looking to constitutional authorization of state annuities was adopted. This would permit the state to grant old age pensions.

The McComb bill, forbidding a judge from sitting in any case in which a son, father or brother is either a party or an attorney, was engrossed.

The assembly passed the Manning bill, granting additional powers and home rule to all cities of the state, however incorporated; the Kiefer bill, applying the recall to all city officers, and the new Ackley bill for a normal school at Eau Claire. The vote on the latter was 69 to 16. It now goes to the governor.

In the Senate.

The Bichler bill for applying the Australian ballot to candidates for town or village officers was passed by the senate.

The Vint bill, licensing professional chauffeurs, was amended and again concurred in by the senate after having been recalled from the governor.

The Rosa bill, giving the mother equal rights with the father in care and custody of minor children, was refused consideration, having been nonconcurred in last week.

The senate engrossed the Kiler bill, revising the salary of circuit judges to $6,000. The Huber bill, providing that earnings of inmates of jails and workhouses shall be paid to their dependents, was passed, as was Senator Scott's bill requiring that candidates for teachers' certificates shall have completed two full years' work after graduation, the act to apply July 1, 1915.

Blame Faulty Gasoline Plant.

Gilby, N. D., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—No evidence of faulty work in the construction of the gasoline lighting plant that exploded and caused the death of Mrs. S. O. Stone was found by officials who made an investigation. They found that the plant had been in use five years, and had given but little trouble before. The affair was deemed purely accidental. The funeral of the victim occurred yesterday afternoon.

FARRELL SAYS TUBE COMPANY HAS RIVALS

Denies Subsidiary of Steel Corporation Is Monopoly.

New York, May 14.—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, continuing his testimony today as a witness for the defense in the hearings of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation as an illegal combination, testified that the National Tube company, a subsidiary, is not a monopolistic combination as charged by the government. He added that the company was now in competition with German manufacturers who shipped seamless tubes here in the face of a duty of 1 cent a pound.

BRING NEGROES TO KELLY LAKE

Great Northern Has Twenty-Three to Work in Roundhouse.

Hibbing, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—All kinds of excitement is reported at Kelly Lake, the big Great Northern yards near here, today over the arrival from Superior of twenty-three negroes to work in the company's roundhouse. It is said that they will be placed at work tomorrow and that the white men will quit. The blacks were brought to Superior from the South recently and held until a favorable time to ship them on the range arrived. It is also reported the negroes are but the advance guard of several hundred colored men that will be brought to the Mesaba range by stripping contractors to work in this vicinity. It is said the men are being hired in Alabama and other Southern states and transportation for them here has already been engaged. The scarcity of labor, it is said, has forced the stripping contractors to import negroes. So far as known the mining companies will not ship in black labor—not for the present. The men shipped here by the Great Northern are said to have been trained in Southern railroad roundhouses and are experts at wiping and other roundhouse duties, but there is no little objection on the part of whites to working with them.

VIRGINIAN HELD ON WOMAN'S COMPLAINT.

Virginia, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Bellim, charged with a statutory crime was held to the grand jury from municipal court in bonds of $2,000. Myrtle Barrett is the complaining witness. Both live in Virginia. Bellim has a wife and family.

SHRINERS END DALLAS MEETING.

Dallas, Tex., May 14.—With the election of officers and naming of the 1914 convention city, the Shriners brought their annual meeting to a close today. Inasmuch as the officers move up consecutively each year, the only contest was that of imperial outer guard. There were five candidates. William W. Irwin of Wheeling, W. Va., becomes imperial potentate.

More than 100 temples of the order were represented last night in a brilliant parade, which included two score Arab patrols with their bands. Besides these several thousand members of the order not in uniform passed in review before Imperial Potentate W. J. Cunningham of Baltimore.

The imperial potentate made his formal report at the first business session of the conclave. He reported a membership of 185,446, a net gain for the year of 12,790, divided among a total of 133 temples. The imperial council had funds on March 1 of $114,421.

Opsahl a Candidate.

Bemidji, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. J. Opsahl of this city, former member of the Minnesota house, has announced his candidacy for the position of immigration commissioner made vacant by the resignation of H. J. Maxfield.

Pour Booze in Sewer.

Salina, Kan., May 14.—A large quantity of beer and whisky seized by the police of this city in raids on joints during the last year, was destroyed yesterday. The liquor was poured into a sewer under orders of police court.

Body in Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 14. — The body of an unidentified man was taken last evening from the Niagara river below the American Falls. The only articles of clothing remaining were shoes and stocking and a black tie.

Tornado in Nebraska.

Scott's Bluff, Neb., May 14.—One man is dead, a boy badly injured and much property loss resulted from a tornado which swept the farming district four miles east of Scott's Bluff, Telephone wires are down and the name of the man killed has not been learned.

GRAND OPERA STAR HAS ANTI-FAT RECIPE

VINIE DALY.

Vinie Daly, formerly a star in Hammerstein's London opera company and a niece of Dan Daly, has just returned from Europe. At least part of Miss Daly has returned from Europe. The remainder she left somewhere in Germany. Miss Daly's too solid flesh has melted and she returns to the United States with a figure which any modiste would call svelte. Miss Daly went away a few months ago filled with grief because the diaphragm exercises and other condition stunts of an opera singer had made her fat. She has discovered that it isn't necessary, however agreeable it may be, to go to Wiesbaden or any of the other foreign places to drink the waters if you want to become thin. Diet and exercise, she says, will take your fat off in New York or Cincinnati as easily as in Baden Baden. But she had to go abroad to find that out.

HOW TO PUT AWAY FURS.

Avoid Crushing and Arrange to Have Them Hang If Possible.

Eldora Lockwood Dow in Woman's World: Always avoid crushing furs and arrange to have them hang if possible. Sprinkle them generaly with camphor flakes or moth balls and place them in a bag made as follows:

Take four full sized sheets of a printed newspaper, sew around three sides on the sewing machine, with a long stitch, making a double bag. Place within thoroughly brushed and aired furs. Turn a deep fold of the paper at the top, sew with machine, and catch at top with two large safety pins by which to suspend bag from hooks. Care must be taken to have the bag perfectly tight and unbroken. Or they may be put away in a box as follows:

After thoroughly cleaning and airing place furs in the smallest box that will hold them without crowding. The box should be lined with a piece of printed newspaper and a piece should be put over them and tucked in at the sides and ends. Seal the box securely by gumming 2-inch strips of newspaper to the box and cover where they meet. Painters' ink is one of the best moth preventives.

Dress skirts should be carefully cleaned, brushed until every particle of dust is out, and also hung in long slender bags. If this is not possible, try to fold only once and place tissue paper in the folds. Coats and wraps should not be folded; two may be inclosed in the same bag and hung from the same hook, but hung they should be.

Ostrich feathers, fur trimmings, caps, and gloves, small shawls, and all the troublesome little things must be clean; then orris and sandal wood powdered in sachets will keep out moths juts as well as camphor and mothballs.

Underwear that has any wool in it must be taken care of also; a clean trunk with tar or newspaper lining the bottom and sides and a piece to lay over after packing is perhaps the best for such things, as it is easy to look them over two or three times during the summer.

When putting away such things always have a piece of the paper between each fold of the garment and sprinkle generously with moth balls or camphor flakes. The trunk or drawer should be perfectly clean and brushed over with oil of red cedar. A small ball of cotton saturated with the oil may be put in the box, trunk or drawer, but care must be taken to avoid any clothing coming in contact with it, for it leaves an ugly stain.

MARKET ON LOWER LEVEL

Closes With Prices Fractionally Under Those of Tuesday.

Quiet Session in Which Flax Alone Holds Its Own.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 14.—After a quiet session the grain market closed, generally speaking, under the opening and yesterday's close. Flax, however, gained a trifle. July wheat closed ¾c under, September finished 1⅛-¼ down and July durum dropped 1c from the opening.

July flax closed up ¾c, September was unchanged and nominal, and October gained ¾c.

Cash wheat equaled July option at the close, oats fell off ⅝@⅝, and rye and barley remained unchanged.

The stagnation which has been prevalent for several days in the grain market was again very much in evidence this morning. Cables opened weak owing to the weakness of the American market yesterday, a lower and weaker tone at Buenos Ayres and favorable weather from the United Kingdom. Almost every foreign market closed lower than yesterday, dropping fractionally from the opening. The continued arrival of favorable crop reports is working havoc with the market and many believe that another stiff break is due before long.

On the local board this morning quotations were very nearly conspicuous by their absence, there were so few. Generally speaking the options on the Duluth market held steady most of the morning, showing no evidence of strength but a surplus of inactivity. In most of the options less than half a dozen trades were the result of the forenoon.

May wheat gained ¼c to ⅛c, July opened off an equal amount and September, with no opening figure, fell off ⅛c to ⅜c. May durum, with few quotations, held steady at 93c all morning and July durum was unchanged to ⅛c off.

May flax was ignored and so was September. July gained ¾c and October went up ⅞c to 1c during the early hours.

MARKET GOSSIP.

This week's issue of Price Current, published in Cincinnati, has this to say concerning crop conditions:

"The Southwest has suffered locally by drouth while the north sections in North Dakota have had excessive rainfall. Soil conditions throughout the surplus producing states are as nearly perfect as it is possible to expect, and with favorable weather during the next ten days the effect of the late season will be overcome. The anticipated movement of grain from farmers' hands after spring seeding and planting will not be excessively heavy for wheat, corn or oats. A moderate movement is indicated throughout Iowa and Wisconsin. Reports indicate that there is material reduction in the number of beef producing cattle on the farms at this date as compared with the same date last year."

Broomhall of London reports by cable this morning:

"According to an official report the wheat crop of Punjaub (consisting of the British provinces and not including the native provinces) amounts to 97,500,000 bu as compared with 122,400,000 bu last year.

New York wires: An increase of $600,000 in exports of domestic products in April was entirely due to the increase of $8,900,000 in the breadstuffs.

Broomhall's special international wheat review, received from London by cable this morning, is as follows:

"The market ruled easy during most of the week but since Thursday there has been a reactionary upward tendency, influenced largely by reports of dryness in the American spring wheat belt. The export movement from North America has not developed so quickly as anticipated, but increased shipments are expected the current week. The world's shipments during the next few weeks will be heavy but the actual requirements are so large that the heavy movement is not likely to prove burdensome, as stocks in all the principal receiving ports are abnormally light, the United Kingdom aggregating about 8,000,000 bu. Continental countries are consuming imported wheat on a large scale, France over 5,000,000 bu during April, and Germany is the only country which shows a disappointing consumption of foreign wheat but notwithstanding this, imports during April were large. Germany invariably imports most freely during May, June and July. After the recent heavy purchases have been shipped, I think the world's buyers of wheat must, of necessity, purchase a considerable portion of the requirements from America. Notwithstanding the liberal demand, the Danube will not likely be able to furnish the usual quantities during July and August. Russia may ship freely in September provided the harvest is good."

The United States department of agriculture has issued in its March and April circular, the following statistics regarding foreign crops:

"The general agricultural situation in Europe presents a less hopeful outlook than in April, 1912. Weather and other conditions at seed time last August were not entirely auspicious, and on the continent as a whole, several million acres intended for winter wheat were left unsown. Some contraction has been officially reported from the United Kingdom, France, Spain and Germany, but the really important curtailment is in the group of countries comprising Hungary, Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria, European Turkey, and Russia.

"Germany—Acreage sown to wheat last autumn smaller than usual. Both wheat and rye reported in good condition.

"Hungary—Area sown to winter wheat and rye 20 and 10 per cent less than normal.

"Servia and European Turkey—Acreage one-half to normal.

"Bulgaria—Two-thirds to normal.

"Roumania—Acreage two-thirds of normal."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Profit-Taking Takes Early Strength Out of Wheat.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 14.—Early wheat showed a strong tone, but later moderate profit-taking caused a break. Extreme dullness continued most prominent feature. May closed ⅜c lower than yesterday; July ⅜c lower, and September ½c lower. Local elevator stocks decreased 650,000 bu for four days. May opened 87¼c, high 87⅝c, low 86¾c, closed 86¾c; July opened 88¾@88¼c, high 89¼@89⅜c, low 88¾c, closed 88½c; September opened 89⅝c, high 90c, low 89⅛@89¼c, closed 89¼c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,571 tons. Demand strong at unchanged prices.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Easier on Lower Prices Abroad.

Chicago, May 14.—Lower cables today eased wheat. There was a sharp decline at Buenos Ayres and heavy Canadian shipments depressed Liverpool. Favorable weather in this country gave additional help to the bears. The opening was a shade to ⅜c down. July started at 88⅜c to 88⅝c, a loss of a sixteenth to ¼@⅜c, rallied to 88⅜c and fell back to 88⅛@88⅝c.

Prices later hardened. Experts declared Western Ohio did not promise a heavy yield. The close, however, was weak with July ¾@⅞c net lower at 87⅞c.

Corn sagged under a rush of offerings. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at 55⅝c to 55¾c, touched 55⅞c and reacted to 55¾c.

Afterward an upturn took place owing to statements that the rainfall in some places had been meager. The close though was weak ¼c net lower for July at 55½@55⅝c.

Abundance of moisture made oats weak. July, which started a sixteenth to ⅜@⅝c off at 35¼c to 35⅝c, sold at 35¾c and then declined to 35⅝c.

Higher prices for hogs lifted provisions. First sales were 2½c to 10c up, including July as follows: Pork, $19.35; lard, $10.82½; ribs, $11.05.

Cash close: Wheat—No. 2 red, 1.05¼@1.06; No. 3 red, 95c@$1.00; No. 2 hard, 91@92c; No. 3 hard, 90@91c; No. 1 northern, 90@92c; No. 2 northern, 89@90c; No. 3 northern, 87@89c; No. 2 spring, 89@90c; No. 3 spring, 87@89c; No. 1 spring, 90@93c; velvet chaff, 86@92c; durum, 92@98c.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

List Surrenders Practically All Gained By Tuesday's Upward Spurt.

Bear Selling Is Influenced By Discouraging Steel Trade Reviews.

New York, May 14.—None of the energy displayed in the marking up of prices in the financial trading yesterday was visible in speculation during the morning, today. Profit-taking offset the slight stimulus derived from the rise in foreign markets, but realizing sales were not pressed and prices rallied easly when offerings were withdrawn.

Bull traders were inclined to buy on recessions, basing their positions on the market's calm reception of New York Central's financing plan and the steps taken at Washington in the movement for higher freight rates. There was no sustaining inquiry, however, and movements were so small that the market could hardly be said to have developed a definite tone. Lack of outside orders was apparent in the narrowness of speculation, no transactions occurring during the morning in several stocks, which recently have been active.

Bonds were steady.

Stocks reacted slightly in the first dealings today from the higher level reached yesterday. All of the speculative favorites opened lower, although losses in most instances were only small fractions. Canadian Pacific, with a decline of 1⅞ and Virginia-Carolina Chemical with a loss of a point, were the heaviest.

Pressure was limited to the first few minutes' of business, the market thereafter advancing fractionally. Chesapeake & Ohio gained 1⅜ on confidence that the 5 per cent dividend rate will be maintained at the directors' meeting tomorrow. New York Central covered a range of only ⅜. Nearly all of the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, which was deducted from the price of Consolidated Gas was recovered, the stock rising over a point, to 131¼.

Some low-priced stocks seemed to be affected by the decline in Wabash to new low records. The common sold at 2⅞ and the preferred 8¼. Missouri Pacific reacted a point and other Southern and Southwestern shares were less firmly held. Speculation was at a standstill in other quarters.

All stocks had a manifestly easier tone in the last half of the session. Absence of demand and scattered liquidation of minor shares contributed to the market's depression.

The market closed weak. Speculative shares were offered more freely and the list surrendered practically all that it gained by yesterday's upward spurt. Liquidation of Pennsylvania, St. Paul preferred and the Wabashes, and discouraging steel trade reviews, influenced bear selling.

GRAIN DEMAND DECREASES

Congestion at Buffalo Relieved and Rate Goes Down.

Unless market conditions change materially within the next week or two, there is a likelihood of very little grain leaving the Head of the Lakes before July.

There is little demand for grain in the East, and as a result shippers are not chartering boats. It seems that large contracts were made last winter for Canadian wheat to be shipped in May, and that is why the grain movement from the Canadian Head of the Lakes has not dropped since the opening of the season.

With grain coming only from Fort William, the congestion at Buffalo is expected to end by Saturday of this week. The floating cargoes are gradually being disposed of and the railroads have also been able to handle their end of the shipping very satisfactorily during the past week.

Grain Rate Goes Down.

Any boat leaving the local harbor within the next day or two will arrive in Buffalo just about when the congestion is over. For this reason, it is understood, boat owners are offering boats at 2 cents without a guarantee. They expect to be able to unload their boats without any trouble from now on.

A change in the Eastern grain market, it is expected will readily make a demand from the local market, which means heavy shipments. This is not likely, however, for several days at least.

The ore and coal movements have reached normal and are expected to even increase before the first of the month.

The lumber movement is beginning to pick up. Several boats have been chartered by local shippers and a number of boats are on their way now to local docks for heavy lumber loads. Since yesterday afternoon five boats arrived from here for lumber cargoes. They are the C. F. Curtis, Norwalk, J. A. Francomb, Winnipeg and Myron. The Robert Holland and Fassett arrived with timber cargoes for the new Northwestern Coal company's dock.

IMPROVEMENTS IN TUGS AND DREDGES

Busy Time at Grignon's Shipyards Getting Boats Ready for Season.

Improvements are being made at present to a number of local tugs and dredges at the Peter Grignon shipyards at the foot of Twelfth avenue west.

During the past few months improvements costing over $25,000 have been made to the dredge Alice Vivian of the Zenith Dredge company. Extensive repairs were made on the whole craft, while a new 18-inch pump has been installed. The dredge will be used on the site of the new docks at West Duluth this summer.

The tug Richardson, owned by Capt. Ben Howard, has been entirely rebuilt during the past two months and is now being repaired for shipment to Lake Winnipeg, where it will ply during the summer. It will be shipped by rail on two cars, which are being arranged for the trip.

The tug Ethel J. is also undergoing repairs and a number of improvements. The craft is owned by Capt. Fred Winters.

Wrecking Master John Wanless has just finished fitting his fleet in preparation for the present season. The boats have all undergone general overhauling during the past few months.

The steamers Columbia and Plowboy of the Clow & Nicholson Transportation company are also undergoing repairs in preparation for the regular season, which is scheduled to open June 10. Capt. D. J. Clow will command the steamer Columbia and Joseph Webber will be the chief engineer this summer. Capt. W. Lloyd will be in charge of the steamer Plowboy, with Bert Barscadden as chief engineer.

New Passenger Line.

A new Chicago to Buffalo passenger and freight line is be opened June 21, when the Chicago, Milwaukee & Buffalo line, a subsidiary of the Crosby Transportation company, will begin regular trips with the steamer Minnesota.

The Crosby line bought the Minnesota from the Continental and Commercial bank, trustee for the Chicago & Duluth Transportation company. The boat is practically new, having been built in 1911 by the Manitowoc Shipbuilding company of Manitowoc, Wis. More than 300 reservations have already been booked for the first trip when the De La Salle council, Knights of Columbus, will go to Buffalo and return.

The new boat will leave Chicago every Saturday afternoon, and the round trip to Buffalo and return will take just a week.

New Tug in Harbor.

The Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company has just received a tug from the Soo branch of the company. The craft will be known as the Haffayampa. The boat is 73 feet long and 18 feet beam.

ALONG THE LAKES

The steamers Saturn and Uranus, formerly of the old Gilchrist fleet, now in the Algoma steamship line, have been renamed the J. Frater Taylor and W. C. Franz, respectively.

The steamer Persons cleared from the Globe elevators at Superior yesterday with a cargo of 285,000 bushels of bonded grain, the largest bonded grain cargo taken from this port so far this season. The wheat is consigned for Buffalo, whence it will be forwarded to Eastern points.

The steamer Pathfinder, which was docked at Buffalo last Thursday, was examined yesterday and found to be seriously damaged. Several plates will have to come off and it will be a number of days before she will be ready to take on another cargo.

The steamer W. J. Olcott, which is at the shipyard in Toledo, has a hole in her port bow which will necessitate the removal of four plates. She will leave the shipyard next week.

ICE BLOCKADE IS PROBABLE

Heavy Northeast Winds Driving Floating Fields Towards Harbor.

Continuation of Wind for Twenty-Four Hours Predicted By Forecaster.

Today's northeast gale may again tie up navigation in the local harbors.

The heavy wind is gradually carrying the ice this way, and should the wind continue for the next twenty-four hours, there is a likelihood of a repetition of the trouble that occurred two weeks ago, when twenty boats were jammed by the ice just outside of the harbor.

At present the ice is on the south shore, but the current is gradually carrying it this way. It is expected that the Superior entry will be blocked before tomorrow morning, should the wind continue, as the ice is drifting that way at present.

Several captains arriving in the local ports report that there are heavy ice fields along the south shore up to Outer Island. Under these conditions there is a possibility of the Ashland harbor also becoming blockaded.

H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, reports that the wind is blowing at the rate of thirty-six miles an hour. He is of the opinion that the wind will continue for at least another twenty-four hours.

The steamer America of the Booth line arrived at 8:30 o'clock last evening, being about eight hours behind her schedule. She was delayed considerably by a fog and the heavy winds. She left again this noon.

COMPETITION IS NOT EXPECTED

Capt. Clow Says 2,500-Passenger Steamer Could Not Navigate River.

Capt. H. D. Clow of the Clow & Nicholson Transportation company has his doubts about the new 2,500-passenger steamer, which is reported as coming here from Detroit to ply between Duluth and Fond du Lac as a pleasure boat.

"In the first place," said Capt. Clow this morning, "no boat with such a capacity will be able to go up the river. It is impossible for a boat with 700 or 800 passengers to make the trip, so 2,500 passengers are out of the question. The boat could never turn around after getting at Fond du Lac."

Capt. Clow stated this morning that his boats were unable to make the trip when the excursions were first started, and that considerable dredging was then necessary. He is of the opinion that as soon as those behind the project investigate local conditions more thoroughly they will abandon the plan.

Sierra Disabled.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Sierra's wheel became disabled as she entered the upper river last night while downbound to Buffalo from Duluth. Some trouble was experienced on Lake Superior by the wheel not working on the shaft but she was enabled to reach Round island where she came to anchor and sent to the Soo for assistance. The tub Sabin towed her into port this morning where she is waiting orders. She will probably be towed to her destination.

CROPS THRIVING AROUND BEMIDJI.

Bemidji, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a series of showers during the past forty-eight hours, reports have been received that crops are coming up in good condition and that the pastures and meadows are in excellent condition. Settlers continue to stream in. During the past ten days more than 100 have arrived at Kelliher from Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska points and other towns in this vicinity are receiving a like proportion of homeseekers. Land men say this year will break all records.

BEMIDJI HOST TO EDITORS OF STATE.

Bemidji, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—On June 13, 14 and 15 the Northern Minnesota Editorial association will meet in Bemidji. Governor Eberhart and other notables are expected to be present.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the editors and their wives is being planned by the Commercial club under the suggestions of E. C. Kiley of Grand Rapids, president of the association and A. G. Rutledge, secretary.

One of the features of the gathering will be motorboat rides on Lake Bemidji and trips by automobile to model farms.

FOURTEENTH TO CAMP JUNE 21.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The eighth annual reunion of the members of the Fourteenth Minnesota Volunteer infantry is to be held at Camp Lake View, Lake City, Minn., June 21, 1913. The reunion will be held in conjunction with the encampment of the Third regiment of the Minnesota National guard.

VOTE FOR LID ON SANTA BARBARA.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 14.—Santa Barbara, one of the best known resorts in the West, practically went "dry" in yesterday's election. Saloons were eliminated and liquor selling in restaurants also was abolished. It still will be possible to procure liquor at a few places, however, as a proposition to prohibit table licenses in hotels was defeated.

Missouri County Dry.

Nevada, Mo., May 14.—Vernon county, Missouri, outside of Nevada, voted in favor of prhibition by a majority of 1,313. Nevada will vote on the proposition June 10.

Fire in Hardinsburg.

Hardinsburg, Ky., May 14.—Fire that started in a bakery here early today destroyed fourteen business buildings. The estimated loss is $125,000.

Globe Indemnity Company.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Duluth, Minnesota, April 14, 1913.

Messrs. Clement McAllen and Joseph Callaway, Assignee of Adolph Harkwell:

Take notice, that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain land contract dated on the 26th day of September, 1910, made between The Kenilworth Company, as the seller, and Adolph Harkwell and Clement McAllen, as the buyers, whereby the undersigned has agreed to convey to said Adolph Harkwell and Clement McAllen, the following described real estate situated in the County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, to-wit: Lot 530, Homecroft Park, according to the plat thereof on file in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for said County of St. Louis, for the sum of two hundred thirty dollars ($230.00) payable twenty-eight dollars ($28.00) cash, and one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) on or before Saturday of each week thereafter, without interest, until the said purchase price is paid in full, in which said contract all the right, title and interest of said Adolph Harkwell was thereafter assigned by said Adolph Harkwell to you, the said Joseph Callaway.

That such default consists in the failure to make the payment of one dollar and fifty cents becoming due June 29, 1912, and the respective payments of one dollar and fifty cents becoming due on or before each Saturday thereafter to this date, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of sixty-three dollars ($63.00) at the date of this notice, no part of any of said payments having been made.

Now you are hereby notified that said contract, and all your rights thereunder will terminate thirty (30) days after the service of this notice upon you unless within said thirty days you shall comply with the conditions of said contract, and pay the cost of the service of this notice.

THE KENILWORTH COMPANY,
By WILLIAM McBEAN, Secretary.

(Corporate Seal, The Kenilworth Company, Superior, Wis.)

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.
Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.
The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.
RATES ARE LOWEST.
The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.
A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.
This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.
